PRZEMYSL SURRENDERS TO RUSSIAN TROOPS AFTER RELENTLESS SIEGE FOR MANY MONTHS

HARD FOUGHT BATTLE ON COUNTY DIVISION IN HOUSE TO END TUESDAY

Both Sides Are Professing Confidence as to the Result.

Fate of Economy and Efficiency Bill Still in Doubt.

All Appropriation Bills Are Referred Back to the Committee.

By a Staff Correspondent.

St. Paul, Minn., March 22.—Special to The Herald.)—The bill by Representative Samuel C. Scott of Hibbing to provide an easy method of dividing St. Louis county, by giving a vote only to those who live in the proposed new county, is a special order in the house for tomorrow afternoon. It has been a hard fought battle on both sides, and so far as the house is concerned tomorrow will see the end of it.

The Griggs-Healy county division bill is still in committee in the senate. In the house both sides profess confidence as to the result, though both admit that it may be close. Mayor Victor Power of Hibbing, former Treasurer McEachin of Hibbing and others are here to push the bill and pass it if they can.

Efficiency and Economy Bill.

The mystery of what is to happen to the efficiency and economy bill may be cleared up this afternoon. The bill was a special order for 2 o'clock. Well authenticated rumors had it this morning that when the bill was taken up many amendments would be offered, and that after they had come in a motion would be made to rerefer the bill

HEADS SENATE COMMITTEE ON BANKS AND BANKING

SENATOR HARRY F. WEIS
Of Le Sueur.

WILL NOT CALL EXTRA SESSION

President Issues Formal Announcement on the Matter.

Washington, March 22.—Formal announcement was made at the White House today that at present President Wilson has no intention of calling an extra session of the senate or of congress before the beginning of the regular session next December. It was said that the president sees no prospects of any contingency arising which would cause him to alter his present intention.

Several senators had suggested that the president will call a special session of the senate in October to consider ratification of the Colombian and Nicaraguan treaties. Other suggestions were that an extra session of congress be called during the summer to take up the question of giving the president authority to declare an embargo on the exportation of munitions of war and foodstuffs to the belligerent nations of Europe.

It was announced today that the president would not carry out either suggestion.

COLONEL OF PRINCESS PAT REGIMENT KILLED.

Ottawa, March 22.—Col. Francis Douglas Farquhar, D. S. O., commander of the Princess Patricia's Canadian light infantry and late military secretary to the duke of Connaught, governor general of Canada, has been killed in action at the front. A cable message to the chief of staff of the Canadian militia department conveyed the news late last night.

AIRMEN BUSY DURING NIGHT

German Zeppelins Drop Bombs on Cities of Calais and Paris.

No Damage at Former City; Few Persons Wounded at Capital.

Calais, via Paris, Feb. 22.—The third Zeppelin attack upon this city, timed at almost the precise hour that the aerial raid was made upon Paris early Sunday morning, was made ineffective because the whirring of the airship's motors gave adequate warning of their approach. The Zeppelins came from the direction of the sea, but received such a vigorous bombardment from French artillery that they retreated before they reached the city. It is supposed here that they intended making another effort to drop bombs in the harbor and on the railroad junction.

Raid on Paris.

Paris, March 22.—Zeppelin airships raided Paris early yesterday morning and dropped a dozen bombs, but the damage being done was unimportant. Seven or eight persons were injured, but only one seriously. Four of the aircraft started for the capital, following the valley of the Oise, but only two reached their goal. Missiles also were dropped at Compiegne, Ribecourt and Dreslecourt, but without serious result.

Paris remained calm while the aerial invasion was in progress. Inhabitants of the city exhibited more curiosity than fear of the results. Trumpets gave the signal that all lights must be extinguished when warned of the aircrafts' approach.

STORMS STOP ATTACK ON DARDANELLES

Last Bombardment Said to Have Been Without Results.

Two Russian Successes Feature of War on Eastern Front.

London Has No Fear of Attack By German Zeppelins.

London, March 22.—Storms again have intervened to give the Dardanelles forts a rest, according to information given out in London. A report of the Dardanelles fighting of March 18, received from Constantinople, declares that the vessels of the allies fired on this day 2,000 shells without silencing a single Turkish battery.

The recrudescence of Zeppelin activity with the throwing of bombs on Paris revived a flagging in the aerial warfare, but little fear is felt here that the Germans will follow up the Paris attack with a raid on London.

Russian Successes.

Russian successes at the extremities of a 600-mile front are reported today from Petrograd and these seem to mark the only operations more important than local engagements in either arena of the war.

SHOT HALTS STEAMER; MISTAKE; PROCEEDS.

New York, March 22.—The American steamer Santa Clara, outward bound, was stopped today by a shot fired across her bows in the lower harbor by the dispatch boat Dolphin, stationed there to watch outgoing steamers and preserve American neutrality at this port.

A mistake in the interpretation of signals and the failure of the Santa Clara to stop brought the Dolphin's guns to bear upon her. She was promptly released and proceeded.

The Santa Clara cleared Saturday for Havana. As she was passing quarantine today she displayed signal letters spelling out her name. The Dolphin's lookout apparently thought she had hoisted the wrong letters and a shot was fired to halt her.

As soon as the Santa Clara stopped a navy tug ran alongside and after a few moments' conversation with the steamer's captain she was permitted to continue on her way.

GERMAN SHIP HALTED WHILE ATTEMPTING TO SAIL WITHOUT PAPERS

Shots Across Bow Bring Odenwald to Stop at Porto Rico.

Believed to Have Supplies for Belligerent Ships at Sea.

San Juan, P. R., March 22.—The German merchant steamer Odenwald, which attempted to leave port yesterday afternoon without obtaining clearance papers, was stopped as she was passing out of the entrance to the harbor by two shots across her bow from a 5-inch gun and direct shots from a Maxim. She then returned and was taken in charge by the collector of customs.

Held Under New Law.

Washington, March 22.—The Hamburg-American liner Odenwald, stopped from leaving San Juan, Porto Rico, yesterday, by shots across her bow, is being held under the recent congressional resolution empowering the president to prevent supplies going from American ports to ships of the European belligerents at sea.

Secretary Garrison is making a thorough investigation of Commander Reid's case in connection with treasury department officials and the White House.

Under the resolution the president

SEAL CATCH IS WAY BELOW THE AVERAGE

Eight Steamers of Eastern Fleet Have Only Caught 500.

St. Johns, Nfld., March 22.—Wireless reports received today from the sealing fleets indicate that the outlook for the season is unfavorable. The eight steamers of the Eastern fleet, after working their way through the ice for some 250 miles up the eastern coast of Newfoundland, are now jammed in the heavy floes off Cape St. John, about 125 miles south of the entrance of the Strait of Belle Isle. Five hundred seals taken by the steamer Florizel last Saturday comprise the total catch to date. In the average season the eastern fleet captures about 30,000 seals by this date. The vessels of the western fleet so far have made no catch.

SAID TO BE KEY TO AUSTRIAN EMPIRE

Well-Fortified City in Province of Galicia Has Withstood Attacks of Czar's Forces Since Early in War.

Austrian Garrison Has at Times Inflicted Considerable Losses on Ru By Sorties From Fortress.

Petrograd, via London, March 22.—It was announced officially this morning that the Galician fortress of Przemysl surrendered to the Russians today.

London, March 22.—The British official press bureau this afternoon issued the following statement:

"Information has been received that the fortress of Przemysl has fallen and that the garrison has surrendered to Russian arms."

Falls Into Russian Hands.

London, March 22.—The great Galician fortress of Przemysl, which the Austrians had so staunchly defended since the early days of the war, fell into the hands of the Russian besiegers this morning. The last of the improvised field fortifications were captured some time ago and the final act of the drama began toward the close of the week when the commandant deliberately expended his reserve ammunition and sent the bulk of the garrison out on the forlorn hope of cutting its way eastward through the besiegers.

With the strong Russian line tightly drawn around the fortress, the effort apparently was hopeless from the start and 6,000 Austrian prisoners fell into the hands of the Russians while as many more fell, dead or wounded. The shattered remnants of the force fled back to the fortress and they now have fallen into the hands of the Russians.

The garrison of Przemysl originally numbered 60,000 or 80,000 men, but sorties and shells must have cut a considerable number of thousands from that total.

The besieging army is understood to number about 120,000 officers and men. This force will now march on the strong Austrian fortress of Cracow, 125 miles to the east of Przemysl, it being the announced determination of the Russian commander in chief to reduce the Polish capital as speedily as possible.

Siege Began Early in War.

The siege of Przemysl, an Austrian stronghold in the province of Galicia, has been under way since the early days of the war. It has been a bitter and relentless siege which has never been relaxed for a day since the Russians invested the city. Several attempts of the Austrians to raise the siege, the latest of which was made only a short time ago, have failed.

With the fall of Przemysl, the only

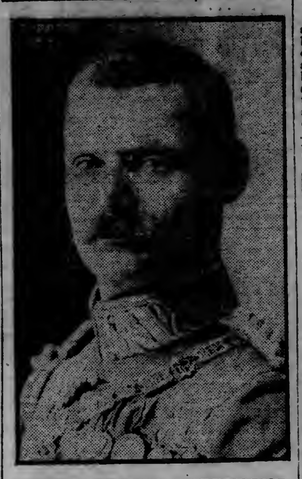
BAVARIAN CROWN PRINCE IS SERIOUSLY WOUNDED



CROWN PRINCE RUPPRECHT.

London, March 22.—Crown Prince Rupprecht of Bavaria has been seriously wounded by a shell, according to the Daily Telegraph's Boulogne correspondent.

Rupprecht of Bavaria is the eldest son of King Ludwig. He was born in 1869. He has been prominent in many of the battles in the western frontier. Last August he was reported to have captured 10,000 French troops and many guns in the fighting in the Vosges and to have repulsed an attack from Nancy and the south.

U. S. SAILORS LOSE LIVES IN BOSPORUS

Three Men Drowned While Going to Ship in Rowboat.

Constantinople, via Berlin and London, March 22.—Lieut.-Commander William F. Bricker of the United States converted yacht Scorpion and three sailors named Ford, Dowell and Leverings were drowned March 20 while attempting to reach the vessel with a rowboat. The Scorpion was anchored in the Bosporus, off Constantinople, near the Dolmabaghcheh palace. The rowboat was swamped in a heavy sea.

Regret at Washington.

Washington, March 22.—Great regret was expressed by naval officers over the death of Lieut.-Commander Bricker, who was well known here. Seaman Iven Dowell was from Annapolis, Md., where his mother, Mrs. Hattie Dowell lives. Charley Ford's home was in Oxford, Miss. Naval records here show no sailor named Leverings. No official advices on the accident had been received by the navy department early today.

WARNING AGAINST CONTINUED EXPORT OF AMERICAN WHEAT

Department of Agriculture Issues Word of Advice to Shippers.

Continued Great Shipments Will Endanger Supply at Home.

Washington, March 22.—Warning that the present heavy exports to European nations of American wheat and flour cannot be continued without endangering the wheat supply for food and seeding requirements at home, was contained today in the department of agriculture's agricultural outlook. In the opinion of department's experts, exportation at the same rate as during December, January and February until the coming of the new wheat crop would encroach upon normal domestic needs.

Investigation has disclosed that there was, on March 1, an apparent surplus of 91,000,000 bushels of wheat over the domestic requirements for food and seed that was available for export in the four months from March 1 to July 1. While the exports of wheat, including flour, during those four months last year were 36,000,000 bushels, it is pointed out that those exports during December, January and February last averaged almost 35,000,000 bushels per month and if that rate of export continued until the new crop is available it would amount to 140,000,000 bushels.

SUMMARY OF THE WAR NEWS

The siege of Przemysl came to an end today and the Austrian defenders of the Galician fortress surrendered to the Russian forces, which have been investing it for months. The fall of the fortress deprives Austria of her last important fortress in Galicia, with the exception of Cracow.

The German war office announced that the city of Memel, on the Baltic sea, in the northern tip of East Prussia, had been retaken from the Russian force, which captured it last week.

Operations in France and Belgium were of much the same character as recently. Fighting continues in Northern France, near Arras, in Champagne and in the Argonne.

The definite statement was made at the White House today that the United States would shortly present a note to Great Britain regarding the British and French plan for cutting off trade to and from Germany and Austria.

The most important development of the day in the European war was the official announcement from Petrograd of the surrender of the Galician fortress of Przemysl, which had been besieged by the Russians for several months.

Simultaneous offensive movements against the Germans, Austrian and Turkish armies from the Baltic to the Black sea have been undertaken by the armies of Russia, and in some sections definite progress is reported. In the extreme north the Germans are retreating from Memel, East Prussia, and the Russians are believed to have begun another drive at Tilsit.

In Poland there is activity all along the front, but apparently the general battle which Petrograd expects has not begun.

The Russian army in the Caucasus has announced a victory over the Turks in the fighting along the Black sea coast, in Turkish Armenia.

After several months of inactivity, hostilities have been resumed between Austria and her small neighbors, Serbia and Montenegro. A dispatch from Cettinje states that the Austrians made an artillery attack lasting several days against Montenegrin positions all along the front, but that efforts to follow this with infantry advances were defeated. An artillery battle between Austrians and Serbians also is reported.

On the western front no large movements are under way. The attack on the Dardanelles also has been stopped temporarily, owing to bad weather.

BERTHING CORRIGAN AT CAPITOL ELEVATOR.

The steamer James Corrigan will likely be berthed at the Capitol elevator by tonight if all goes well. At 2 o'clock this afternoon she was well up in the elevator slip, but had not yet been taken up close enough to load wheat, as is the intention. The ice has interfered greatly but the tugs Wisconsin and James R. Sinclair are working on the steamer.

The Corrigan was taken from the slip at the Peavey elevator on Friday morning by the tugs Minnesota and Wisconsin and it has taken hard work ever since to get her as far as she now is. The Minnesota lost her wheel Saturday noon, while at work in the ice and has been taken to drydock for repairs, and the Sinclair has been put in commission in her stead.

LONG SIEGE FOR ELECTION JURY.

Indianapolis, Ind., March 22.—Members of the jury, which is hearing the Terre Haute election fraud case in United States district court here, entered today on the third week of their confinement apparently in the best of health. With the exception of the trips out for their meals and long walks on Sunday, the twelve men are confined to quarters on the third floor of the Federal building. At least three more and possibly four weeks will be required to complete the case, but bailiffs in charge of the jury say there has been no complaint from the men.

United States District Attorney Frank C. Dailey expected to continue today testimony bearing on alleged fraudulent voting at the polls in Terre Haute on Nov. 3, 1914.

SECOND CHOICE IS OPTIONAL

Voters Need Mark Only First Choices, Says Palmer.

Second choice votes for commissioners at the coming election on April 6 are optional and a voter may cast a ballot for one or two candidates on the second choice, according to City Clerk Palmer, who said this morning that hundreds of men from all parts of the city have been approaching him in the last few days to ask that question.

"A voter does not have to vote second choice, unless he wants to," said Mr. Palmer, "but he must vote for two candidates on the first choice. That is obligatory, for the ballot will be void otherwise. If a voter wants to cast a ballot on the second choice, he can vote for one or two candidates, but not for three."

This morning City Clerk Palmer received 5,000 sample ballots and these are being distributed free to all the voters who call at his office.

City Clerk Palmer this morning urges the importance of the adoption of the first amendment.

"The city will save hundreds of dollars every year, if the first amendment is adopted," said Mr. Palmer "I expect about 11,500 votes at the election and to have this amendment become part of the charter, at least 6,960 votes, or three-fifths of the total vote cast at the election are needed. For this reason voters should not neglect the amendment, as a failure to vote means a negative ballot."

BAIL TOO LOW.

Prisoner Insisted on Leaving $280 in Place of $100.

WHEN Jailer Wanvick asked $100 bail of Dimitor Georgeff, aged 30, arrested on an assault charge Saturday night, the prisoner protested that that was not enough, and insisted upon leaving with Wanvick his entire roll of $280.

It was the first time in the history of Duluth's police force that the bail demanded was considered too low by the prisoner.

Rudyard Kipling would have called Georgeff "a first-class fighting man," if he had seen him in municipal court this morning, for the prisoner looked the part.

Peter Petkoff, 113 Second avenue east, appeared in court and exhibited a small hole in the back of his head, after which Georgeff was found guilty and assessed $27.50.

With a nonchalant air he peeled off two $20 bills, counted the remaining $240 while the court hangers-on and the newspaper men gaped at the sight of so much wealth, tucked the roll in his back pocket, and swaggered out.

HUSBAND WOULD "MAKE UP."

But Wife Has No Sympathy With Enoch Arden Role.

"R. E. Morse" is an old friend of his, declared John Swapinski, aged 40, at police headquarters yesterday, when arrested on a charge of wife desertion.

Swapinski has been away five years, according to the story told by his wife, and now he says he is repentant and wants to come back home. Since leaving his wife and four children at Cloquet in 1911 Swapinski has "seen the country" and has acquired a Van Dyke beard.

Mrs. Swapinski lives with her parents in Kenwood, and will appear against her husband in police court this afternoon. "If don't want him back," she told Patrolman Dinkel, "because he wouldn't stay. He came back once after he'd been away a year and stayed a month. He wanted me to 'make up' then, but it didn't last very long."

FORGOT SABBATH DAY.

Two Grocers Arrested and Fined for Selling on Sunday.

"Remember the Sabbath day," said Chief of Police Troyer to two grocery men yesterday and hereafter Sam Simon, 202 East Second street, and Charles Thompson, 132 West Second street, probably will heed this warning from the Scriptures.

Both paid fines of $3.50 in municipal court this morning for violating the Sabbath.

Members of the grocers' association have made complaint that various grocers operating small confectionery and merchandise stores were selling goods on Sunday, and police have been instructed to watch for offenders. Two proprietors were arrested last Monday on similar charges and paid fines.

"STAR—Good For One—Better for Two"

Men Who Chew Are Men Who DO

THE farmers, on whom so much of America's success depends, are almost without exception, tobacco chewers. And more farmers use STAR tobacco than use any other brand.

It speaks pretty well for STAR that men who know tobacco, many of them being tobacco raisers, prefer mellow STAR Tobacco—in the thick, tasty plug.

Imagine a ripe orange in a thin skin. That's just like a plug of STAR—so full of ripe, good "chew" that it can't dry out—made clean and kept that way.

And don't confuse STAR with any of those 14 or 15 ounce "pound" plugs. Each plug of STAR weighs 16 ounces. Ask the dealer to let you see the revenue stamp on the box. That will tell the story of honest weight.

So great is the nation-wide demand for STAR that a year's output of sixteen ounce STAR plugs is equal in weight to 416,666 bushels of wheat.

BIG SURPLUS OVER BONDS

Assets of the city of Duluth total $14,291,976.78, while the liabilities amount to $5,697,788.74, leaving a surplus in the capital account of $8,594,188.04, according to the annual report for 1914 of City Auditor B. J. Campbell completed this morning and which will be submitted to the council at its regular meeting this afternoon.

In his report to the council, City Auditor Campbell states that he has adopted the accrual system of entering transactions on the books, instead of cash receipt and disbursement basis, as in the past years. This report is the first of its kind in the history of the department and follows the systems used by the larger wholesale houses of the city, Mr. Campbell said this morning.

Accruing accounts include in the cash receipts all the moneys whether received or not and in the disbursements all the costs of operation during the year, irrespective of whether they had been paid in cash or are still liabilities of the city. In this way the city auditor is able to show the exact expenses for 1914 and not any that might go over for two or three years, as is the case in the payment of insurance or bond premiums. By the accrued system each year's share of an expense is charged separately.

City's Assets.

According to the report, the city's assets, amounting to $14,291,976.78, include the lands valued at $1,917,089.50; buildings valued at $354,427.50; bridges and streets, $4,991,169.26; sewers, $1,139,699.85; the water plant, $3,170,709.07, and the gas plant, $1,103,984.10.

The liabilities follow:

Water and light bonds	$3,401,000.00
Special assessments	94,415.00
General bonds	2,146,000.00
Gas and water advances	13,309.70
Retained on estimates	6,641.01
Park condemnation awards	33,919.88
Miscellaneous awards	1,988.90
Orders payable	13.42
Total	$5,697,788.74

Bonds Retired.

During 1914 the city retired $221,000 of the outstanding bonds. Taxes receivable for this year follow:

Capital account	$272,136.30
General fund	633,131.98
Special and trust fund	11,007.34
Total	$916,275.62

Of $916,276.62 receivable, $52,424.20 is on the books as uncollected from former years, while the remainder, $863,851.42, is the 1914 tax levy for this year.

SAY BILL WILL GIVE 10 PER CENT INCREASE IN RATES

Removal of Liability Limit Hits Shippers, Not the Roads.

Unless traffic men misunderstand the effect of the bill introduced by Senator Cummins of Iowa, and passed in the last hours of congress, known as the "Cummins liability bill," he has overshot his mark in his attack on the railroads and has hit shippers in every part of the United States a severe blow. And, the worst of it is, according to G. Roy Hall, traffic commissioner of the Duluth Commercial club, and others, there seems to be very little chance for misinterpreting the effect.

In brief the effect is that shippers will have to pay 10 per cent more freight rates on everything handled by the roads of the United States as soon as the Cummins bill goes into force, which will be July 1.

His bill provides that no railroad can place a limit on its liability. It is claimed that his motive in getting this bill through was to take a whack at the contract shipments of cattle; but the bill is so general in its character that it does more than that, and, unless something of an alleviating character is done by the railroads themselves—which, it is declared, they do not need to do—the shippers will find themselves automatically up against a stiffer charge than they have been accustomed to.

The railroads are not hit, while the shippers, and, consequently the consumers are, it is claimed.

Effect of New Law.

What happens to make the rate stiffer under the new law is this:

Under the common law governing common carriers, railroads are liable to the extent of the value of the goods in their charge; but since the railroads have adopted the "uniform bill of lading," there has been a provision limiting the liability. The rules governing the uniform bill of lading and the limit of liability provide that if a shipper does not want to have the liability limit apply on the goods he ships, he is expected to so inform the agent, and lack of such information is taken as meaning that he agrees to the liability limit provided.

Should he not wish the limit to apply he will have to pay 10 per cent more freight rate. That is where the rub comes in the matter of the Cummins bill. After July 1, when the new law becomes effective, the railroads will not be allowed to use the liability limit contract in the bill of lading, and the 10 per cent increase in rates goes on automatically.

As it is not a new rule, but has been established, the interstate commerce commission cannot suspend it, and it is up to the railroads themselves to give relief should they see fit to do so. In view of the fact that they have been trying to get a 5-per-cent increase in freight rates, and the new law places more than they have asked for at their disposal, traffic men seriously question whether or not the roads will take any relief action. Therefore, as a matter of fact, it is pointed out, Senator Cummins has played directly into the hands of the roads instead of hitting them as he evidently expected to do.

How Law Will Operate.

As an illustration of how the new law will act, the case of a hypothetical shipment of grain is used by Mr. Hall. It works out this way:

A shipper starts a carload of wheat eastward from Chicago. Under the present rules, permitting a limit of liability, should there be a loss of grain en route, the road will be liable for the wheat only at the price that prevailed when the car started east. But under the new Cummins act, for instance, should there be a loss of wheat, and, in the meantime, there had been an advance in the wheat market, the shipper could collect from the railroad at the price to which wheat had advanced.

That is merely an example of what would happen to the roads under the new law.

But the most serious phase of it, of course, is the effect it will have on shippers in the way of increased freight rates.

TWO NOTES ARE BEING PREPARED

U. S. to Make Representations to Great Britain and Germany.

Washington, March 22.—It was stated definitely at the White House today that a note to Great Britain making representations on some features of the order in council is being framed and will be dispatched to London in a few days. The basis of the representations was not disclosed.

Representations to Germany for reparation for the loss of the American sailing ship William P. Frye and her cargo, sunk in the South Atlantic by the German auxiliary cruiser Prinz Eitel Freidrich also are being prepared and will be dispatched to Berlin in two or three days.

The representations to Great Britain are expected to dwell chiefly on Great Britain's notice that she reserves the right to hold up all goods suspected of having an enemy origin or destination even though they are consigned to neutral ports.

GERMANY REFUSED ALL SUGGESTIONS

London, March 22.—"War might have been avoided by a European conference when and where Germany desired," Foreign Secretary Sir Edward Grey told an audience in London this afternoon. At the time he was acting as chairman of a gathering which was listening to a lecture on the strategy of the war. Continuing along this line the foreign secretary said:

"Germany, from her experience in the Balkan conference, knew she could count on our good will and that we were ready to do last July what we did before. But Germany refused every suggestion and on her rests for all time the appalling responsibility for the war. We now know that Germany had prepared for war and only those who have planned for war can prepare for it."

Amid loud cheers Sir Edward added: "This is the fourth time within living memory that Prussia has made war upon Europe, and we are determined it shall be the last."

THINKS BENEFITS WILL OFFSET THE DAMAGES.

That August F. Kehl and others, joint owners of an 80-acre tract near Palmers will sustain no damages as a result of the taking of land by the city for boulevard right of way purposes is the opinion of J. D. Stryker, real estate dealer, as expressed in his testimony this afternoon in district court at the trial of one of the appeal cases growing out of condemnation proceedings to acquire the strip of land necessary for a driveway from Duluth to the Lake county line.

Mr. Stryker was called by the city as a witness. He testified that in his opinion the benefits derived from such a road would offset the damages sustained by the property owner by the land taken.

This morning the jury took the 7:30 o'clock Duluth & Iron Range train to Palmers and in company with a deputy sheriff and the attorneys in the case visited the land in question. The jury returned to Duluth on the noon train.

EVERY DETAIL IS COMPLETE

Merchants Will Show the Greatest Displays Ever Seen in Duluth.

Fair Weather Is Promised for Opening of Spring Season.

"Don't be alarmed if you see a few clouds floating across the sky; they won't interfere with the Style Show. We're just getting the tail-end of a slight storm disturbance and fair skies will prevail by 5 o'clock this afternoon, when the shop windows are unveiled."—H. W. Richardson, local weather forecaster.

The frowns that marred the serenity of the Duluth merchants today when the skies became overcast shortly before noon, should vanish. Duluthians may go down town to see the style show open without taking their umbrellas. The sun will shine again this afternoon. The whole region west of Duluth is having fair weather and but the tail end of a storm disturbance is passing over the city. The merchants have worked for weeks to make the opening of the great show a success, and Mr. Richardson is pleased to announce "fair weather."

Everything Ready.

Everything is now ready for the reception of the public, which will usher in the three days' opening of the spring and summer season, which begins tomorrow. George A. Gray, chairman of the general committee, said today that every detail of the show had been worked out successfully and that both large and small merchants had co-operated splendidly. The spirit of harmony and singleness of purpose and ruled all the work of the committees from the beginning, and for that reason the plans had been worked out perfectly. Every merchant in Duluth, including the department stores, furniture stores, hardware stores, and all others, have made special preparations for window displays and interior decorations and exhibits.

At 5 o'clock bombs will be fired from fourteen corners on Superior street from Second avenue east to Twenty-third avenue west, heralding the opening of the event. At the firing of the first signal the windows of all the stores will be unveiled and the magnificent displays of spring and summer fashions will dazzle the eyes of the spectators. When the curtains go up, the doors will close and will not be opened again until 7 o'clock. At this time all the stores will be opened and the public will be invited to go in and look over the latest styles. No goods will be sold this evening.

The windows of the large stores were veiled yesterday and Saturday and the trimmers have been working night and day to arrange the most elaborate and artistic displays ever seen in Duluth. Merchants declare that they have never spent so much time or money in decorating their windows as for the opening of Style Week.

Beautiful and artistic backgrounds in novel and unique designs with the foreground set off with a bewilderment of stunning colors and designs will make Superior street resemble the shopping districts of New York and Chicago. Black and white with Colonial and Parisian fashions will combine to give variety and distinction to the displays and decorations.

Most of the wholesale houses will close at 5 o'clock also that their employes may see the sights and inspect the new fashions. Duluth is expected to turn out in great numbers and the streets will probably be crowded.

A "good front" is not the only thing that will feature the decorations and displays. The interior displays will be as artistic and elaborate as those in the window. Every conceivable fancy of the trimmer and decorator's art has been enlisted in making the stores attractive. Departments have been readjusted, the bright spring and summer colors have been arranged harmoniously, and pots of palms and flowering plants have been arranged to advantage. The stores will be a fairyland of color and splendor.

Merchandise the Feature.

Merchandise will be the chief feature of Style week beginning tomorrow morning and for the two days following, according to Mr. Gray. It will be the aim of all the stores from one end of the city to the other to show Duluthians how elaborate and up-to-date the dealers are in this city. Those who have not thought they could get all the things they want, in Duluth, will have a chance to inspect stocks, and clerks, floor walkers and department heads will show stocks in all their completeness.

"The styles this season have lent themselves remarkably well in carrying out plans for beautiful and attractive displays," said Mr. Gray. "There never was a season when variety, color and smartness were so combined as now. This, taken with the liberal expenditure of money and painstaking effort on the part of the merchants, insures perfect success for Style week.

"If the merchants meet with anywhere near the success they expect this week, Style week will be an established event in Duluth. We want to repeat it next year, and believe it is one of the best things possible for both the shopper and merchant."

DIFFERENCES ARE SETTLED

Compromise on Demurrage Rates for Refrigerator Cars Effected.

Shippers Are Satisfied and Hearing Has Been Called Off.

The differences between railroads, shippers and the interstate commerce commission as to charges for demurrage on refrigerating cars has been settled and the hearing that was to have taken place in Chicago, beginning today before an examiner for the interstate commerce commission, has been abondoned.

The traffic commission of the Duluth Commercial club and the various shippers here who were affected—notably members of the Duluth Produce exchange—have received demurrage tariffs from Duluth lines canceling the proposed order and being in line with the agreement entered into some time ago between the committees of the National Industrial Traffic league and the American Railway association. Later, it is announced, the roads will issue new demurrage tariffs, embodying the compromise rates agreed on by those committees. This adjusts the whole matter amicably and the inconvenience of a hearing and readjustment.

The reason of the mix-up was that some time ago the roads issued a new demurrage rule, which, because of the protest of the shippers, who considered the new rule unreasonable, was suspended. The old demurrage rule on refrigerating cars was that following their free use for forty-eight hours, $1 per day or fraction of a day per car was charged. The rule which the roads promulgated increased the demurrage charge to $3 per day or fraction of a day per car after the first two days, and after two days at this rate a demurrage charge would be levied of $4 per day or fraction thereof, for per car for each succeeding day.

The reason for this was, the railroads declared, receivers and shippers of perishable goods would hold the cars for an interminable time for the reason that at the rate of $1 per day or fraction of a day per cent demurrage, they could afford to do so, the convenience being worth that. As a result, the railroads pointed out, great inconvenience was caused by the tying up of equipment. However the shippers declared that the proposed rule was away out of reason, and the matter was set for hearing.

Now, however, it is believed that the compromise rule will work out satisfactorily to all parties concerned. This compromise rule is to the effect that a charge for retention of all refrigerating or other fully insulated cars held for loading or unloading, after the usual two days of free service, would be $1 per day or fraction per car for the first seventy-two hours, $2 per day per car for the next seventy-two hours, and $5 a day per car for each day or fraction of a day thereafter.

The Duluth traffic commission, as was announced heretofore, was in favor of the compromise rule, but against the proposed rule.

"JITNEY" DRIVERS HAVE ACCIDENTS

Two Breakdowns in West End and Passengers Have to Walk.

"Jitney" bus drivers are having their share of trouble. Trouble appeared in the shape of two breakdowns when carrying a heavy load of passengers from the West end this morning.

The first noticed was that of a machine breaking down at 7:45 a. m. at Seventeenth avenue west, while carrying a load of four young women and three men. The nature of the trouble was not ascertained, but the load was quickly discharged and the passengers made a hurry run of a block to catch a street car standing at Garfield avenue.

At 11:20 o'clock a "jitney" carrying another heavy load attempted to pass a street car near Twelfth avenue west. In doing so the driver either failed to notice or believed he could jump a cut made by workmen in the street. The result was the puncture of both tires. The auto discharged its passengers while the driver devoted an hour to making repairs.

The "jitney" business was good yesterday. At one time during the day at least sixteen automobiles were plying between Twenty-fourth avenue east and Twenty-ninth avenue west. Each car was loaded well beyond its capacity and in some cases there were as high as eleven passengers in a car made to carry not more than five under ordinary circumstances.

HELD FOR VIOLATING SMOKE ORDINANCE.

One of the first arrests to be made for violations of the city smoke ordinance was reported by police this morning. J. J. Le Borious, florist, was charged with violating the law at a greenhouse, which he operates at 2501 Woodland avenue.

A. L. Warner, a real estate man living at 2291 Woodland avenue, claimed that smoke from the greenhouse chimney was very much in evidence Saturday morning. For ten minutes the chimney belched forth the blackest of smoke, starting shortly after 7 o'clock, and again about an hour later the engineer failed to take proper precautions, he alleges.

Mr. Le Borious was arraigned in municipal court this morning and pleaded not guilty. He will be given a hearing April 7, following the motion of his attorney, Elmer McDevitt.

GETS $1,350 BALM FOR HIS INJURIES

W. J. Wright Recovers From Driver of Auto Which Hit Him.

For injuries which he sustained as a result of being run over by an automobile as he was crossing First street, between Fourth and Fifth avenues west on Nov. 22, 1914, William James Wright is entitled to recover $1,350 damages from John T. Black, Jr., who was driving the car. The automobile was owned by John M. Ford, who was made a joint defendant in the action with Black. When the case came to trial, the evidence failed to connect Ford with any responsibility for the accident and the action was dismissed as to the owner.

Wright sued for $8,150. He claimed that as a result of a fractured ankle sustained in the accident he will be permanently disabled. Ford testified that Black had taken the car out without his consent. The jury agreed upon a verdict at 6 o'clock Friday evening. The finding was sealed and opened when court convened this morning.

FARM HANDS NOW NEEDED

Farmers Urged to Secure Help While Men Are Plentiful.

Employment Agent Would Start a "Hire Now" Movement.

Now is the time to hire farm laborers.

This, at least, is the advice which employment agents throughout the Northwest are giving out. Agriculturists are being urged to take advantage of the plentitude of men and at the same time provide jobs for laborers now out of work.

Moisture conditions this spring are most favorable and there are indications that the crop for the coming season will be one of the largest in the history of the Northwest. With this prospect in view it is considered not unlikely that farmers who do not engage their help in advance may have difficulty in getting men after the planting season is under way.

"Minnesota farmers as well as Minnesota employers should start a 'hire now' movement," declared one employment agent. "Farmers will profit by not postponing an early start to their spring work. By doing this, they will prevent men who want to go on the farm from accepting other and perhaps undesirable employment. They will help to relieve the unemployed men in the cities, many of whom desire farm work. No trouble is ever experienced in supplying men for jobs on nearby farms. Only when the farms are so far way that the men cannot pay the railroad fare has there been any delay in getting men to fill requests for farm labor."

Our Spring showing of fine Platinum and Gold Jewelry, Silverware, China, Stationery, etc., is now complete. We invite your inspection.

WEST END

LIQUOR THE REAL ISSUE

Pastors See in Hicken and Murchison Candidates of Temperance.

That the spring election will have a great bearing on the temperance question in Duluth was the substance of speeches made by pastors of West end churches at the mass meeting held yesterday afternoon at the Bethany Swedish Lutheran church, Twenty-third avenue west and Third street. The meeting was attended by about 600 men and a few women.

A resolution indorsing Commissioners Hicken and Murchison as first choice candidates and W. L. Bernard and C. E. Evens as second choice candidates was unanimously adopted following the speeches. The gathering also adopted a resolution indorsing Judge W. L. Windom for re-election.

Rev. J. M. Nervig, pastor of the Norwegian Lutheran church, gave the first talk. He spoke principally on temperance and stated that the present election had a great bearing on this question. He said that certain of the candidates were being supported by the liquor interests and that this meant that they expected these candidates would look well after the liquor interests if elected.

Rev. F. O. Hanson of the Trinity English Lutheran church spoke along similar lines. In touching on the temperance question he told of progress that is being made by the prohibition forces. He maintained that the election of Commissioners Murchison and Hicken would mean a victory for the anti-liquor people.

Rev. J. J. Daniels confined his remarks principally to the administration of the city, saying that laws had been enforced and that the people wanted them enforced in the future.

CONCERT WILL OPEN STYLE WEEK

Third Regiment Band to Begin Program When Bombs Are Shot.

The opening of Style week will be announced with a free concert in the West end tonight. At 7 o'clock sharp the Third Regiment band will begin a program of music that will be continued until 9:30 o'clock.

Merchants of this end of the city have taken a lively interest in Style week. Every merchant has prepared a special display of goods, which will be revealed to the public at 5 o'clock with the raising of the curtains. The stores will all close at that time and remain closed until 7 o'clock.

When the stores open it will be but for an hour and a half, at which time the public is invited to view the styles for spring and summer.

No goods will be sold during the evening opening. It is expected that a great crowd will turn out. Every merchant has made special preparations for taking care of the visitors.

Swedish M. E. Notes.

Rev. Carl J. Andreen of Chicago, former superintendent of the Lake Superior District for Swedish Methodist church, will give an illustrated lecture on a trip to the Scandinavian peninsula, in the church, on Wednesday evening.

TEMPLE BAND IN LAST CONCERT

Solo Numbers and an Address Will Also Be Given Sunday.

The recently organized Temple band will make its first public appearance next Sunday afternoon, when it will present the last Masonic concert of the year at the Masonic temple.

The band, which was organized last fall, has played only at the Shriners' ceremonial and several Masonic affairs, but the concert to be given next Sunday afternoon will be the first before the public. A program is now being arranged by Charles Helmer, director of the band, who will also handle the baton at the Sunday concert.

In addition to the band concert, there will be several solo numbers, including a cornet solo by Mr. Helmer and an address to be announced later. T. W. Hugo, who is in charge of these concerts, is out of the city and is not expected back for a day or two.

The Temple band is composed of thirty members selected from all the Masonic bodies in the city, including the Commandery, Scottish Rite and Shrine. The players made their first appearance at the ceremonial last week and recently they appeared before the Masons of Superior at an entertainment given in their honor.

With the concert next Sunday, the annual winter program of free Sunday entertainments will come to a close after a most successful season. These concerts are given every second Sunday and have all attracted large crowds.

HOUGHTON COUNTY BEING CLEANED UP

Sheriff and Public Prosecutor After Law Violators.

Calumet, Mich., March 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—Sheriff James Cruse and Prosecutor William J. Galbraith of Houghton county are engaged in a clean-up campaign in the county which has never been equaled. Houses of doubtful reputation, gambling dens, slot machines, blind-pigs, even prize punch boards and dice games for cigars and drinks, all come under the ban. Many machines and gambling outfits have been seized and the proprietors are being prosecuted. This is an "off-election year" clean-up and for that reason is attracting a great deal of attention, as the rounding up of the underworld denizens is generally looked for on the part of the county officers during election campaigns.

Bigfork Telephone.

Bigfork, Minn., March 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—Local citizens have organized a company to build a telephone system to connect with the outside world and the following are officers of the company: James Reed, president; J. J. Durrell, vice president; Z. A. Corchron, secretary; Folmer Bjorge and C. C. Halsman, directors.

How to Safely Peel Your Face

If you wear an aged, discolored or weather-beaten complexion, the most sensible thing to do is to remove it—rather than patch it over or "doctor" it with cosmetics. The only way to really remove the complexion—aside from resorting to an expensive and painful surgical operation—is by means of ordinary mercolized wax. Spread the wax over the face at night, as you would cold cream; wash it off in the morning. This gradually peels off the lifeless and the half-dead outer skin, in minute particles—gradually the fresh young skin beneath beams forth. Then you have a clear, velvety, healthy-hued complexion such as no unnatural method can possibly produce. Chaps, freckles, blotches, pimples—all surface defects due to weather, ill-health or the ravages of time, of course, disappear with the discarded skin. Ask the druggist for an ounce of mercolized wax; you won't need more.

If you wear wrinkles or crowsfeet, the best thing to do is to bathe your face in a harmless lotion made by dissolving an ounce of powdered saxolite in a half pint witch hazel. Nothing else will so surely erase the unwelcome lines. —Advertisement.

EFFECT OF "JITNEYS"

Duluth Attorney Says They Will Cripple the Traction Company.

By Taking Cream of Business, Poorer Service Will Result.

If the "jitney" bus lines are patronized by Duluth people, it will mean poorer service and fewer extensions from the street railway company, according to H. H. Phelps, Duluth attorney, who believes that citizens should hesitate before patronizing the newest innovation in municipal transportation.

"I have no criticism to make of the men who are seeking to run bus lines in competition with the street railway company. It is a legitimate business and they have a perfect right to engage in it," declares Mr. Phelps.

"The people of this city, however, should stop and consider what it means to them to divide the transportation business on our streets. Duluth is not large enough to support two systems of street transportation. To divide the business means to cripple the street railway and crippling the company means poorer service and fewer extensions.

"The 'jitney' bus will run only short distances in the thickly settled parts of the city and take the cream of the business. That leaves the street railway company to make the long hauls with little or no compensating short-haul patronage.

"Such a business is ruinous to a transportation company and while the company itself will suffer the traveling public will suffer with it.

"We have an excellent street railway service. A man can ride from West Duluth to Lakeside or Woodland for five cents in a comfortable and well operated vehicle and in a reasonably short space of time. No bus line or system other than a street railway can give such service for such money.

"The company is responsible financially and can be made to pay for any damage it does to person or property. The bus lines have no financial backing. By reckless driving they might kill a whole load of passengers and not a dollar can be collected."

Arguments similar to those presented by Attorney Phelps have been made by various other prominent Duluthians since the inauguration of the "jitney" cars.

GEN. SCOTT HAS FOUR INDIANS

Chief of Staff Succeeds in Bringing in the Piutes Wanted.

Washington, March 22.—A laconic telegram came to the war department yesterday from Brig.-Gen. Hugh L. Scott, chief of staff, at Bluff, Utah, announcing that the general was bringing in the four Piute Indians who recently led a band of their tribesmen on the war path, when the Federal authorities attempted to arrest Tse Ne Gat for murder. The message, addressed to Secretary Garrison, said:

"Successful. Have four Piutes desired by Marshal Nebeker and am, at their desire, personally conducting them to Salt Lake to turn over to Marshal Nebeker. Am leaving everything peaceable behind us in Southern Utah. Should reach Sale Lake Wednesday."

"I heartily congratulate you. I appreciate your work in the highest degree."

Newspaper dispatches last night told of Gen. Scott's arrival at Bluff with the four Indians, Tse Ne Gat and his father, "Old Polk," Chief Posey and the latter's son.

The party rode in just ten days after Gen. Scott, unarmed and accompanied only by an orderly and two Navajo scouts, had started off on a snow-covered mountain trail for the distant hiding place of the Piutes.

The general went to the scene after the Indians had driven off a posse headed by Marshal Nebeker. One member of the posse and two Indians were killed in the battle.

Throughout a long and distinguished career, the general has been noted for his astounding success as a peace maker both with the Indians of the West and with the fierce tribesmen of the Philippines. This is only one of many times that he has gone unarmed to seek out and bring into camp a fugitive savage, who, though willing to fight to the death for liberty against a troop of cavalry, promptly succumbed to the persuasions of the eloquent chief.

Jewel, $35

The popularity of the Jewel has easily earned the name.

¶We call your attention to the New Columbia Grafonolas. These instruments contain the most phenomenal improvements ever made in sound reproducing instruments.

On the New Reproducer the needle or vibrating arm is now made of one piece, similar to the tuning fork; all springs and weights have been eliminated, the vibrating arm now working in pivot bearings like the escapement of a watch, there being absolutely no resistance for the record to overcome. The diaphram has been made larger, lowering the pitch. This is positively the most sensitive reproducer ever invented and is a revolution in the reproduction of tone.

The new tone arm is only half the size as heretofore used. This was found to bring out detail better, enabling you to use a lighter needle.

It is the only talking machine on the market today with a complete wooden tone chamber, patterned after the violin. Think of trying to get music out of a tin or metal violin! This new instrument entirely eliminates the sameness of sopranos in the higher registers and clarifies the diction of singers. This applies to the voices singly or in plurality, as well as to the full orchestra numbers.

The Aeolian company, the largest manufacturers of musical instruments in the world, in placing their orders for Grafonolas, wrote: "The class of merchandise which we handle made it essential that we should make no mistake regarding this matter, and a rigid test of the quality of your goods was made by our most qualified experts."

Marshall Field & Co., before placing a $75,000 order, spent months investigating the merit and tone qualities of all makes of talking machines and finally selected the Columbia Grafonola as being the perfection of sound reproducing instruments.

This New Grafonola Favorite, with 28 selections, only $59.10, and on easy payments. Other models from $17.50 to $500.00.

SEASON FOR LOGGING OVER

Kileen Camps Shut Down After Cutting 14,000,000 Feet of Logs.

Huge Drives Being Prepared; Inquiries Coming in for Lumber.

The logging season for 1913-14 is virtually over in Northern Minnesota and Wisconsin. Most of the camps are now broken up, and preparations are being made to start the huge drives down stream. The season, loggers say, has been short, but the output bulks up well with that of former years.

The Thomas Kileen company has just closed its camps near Goodlands and Warba after a very successful season, and things are being put in readiness to drive down 14,000,000 feet of logs as soon as the streams are cleared of ice. This is not expected, however, before the middle of April, although logging men admit that the weather is always a gamble. The logs will be driven down the Swan river thirty-five or forty miles and into the Mississippi.

"The cut of 14,000,000 feet of logs took just fifty-four days," said an official of the company today. "The cutting season was short, but progress was rapid and conditions good during the winter. The early thaws cut the season short, and the roads are said to be nearly all broken up at this time."

Mills Are Operating.

Lumber mills at the Head of the Lakes have been in operation for several weeks now, and a large output of lumber is being sawed. This stock is beginning to arouse speculation as to the lumber market for the coming summer. One lumberman said today that inquiries are coming in better now than for a year and that the market is looking better every day. Higher prices and a heavier demand is expected.

There is a good deal of speculation as to the effects of the war on the lumber market. Lumbermen believe that when the war is over there will be a heavy demand for lumber for export. The inquiries coming now indicate that buyers are in a receptive mood, and this augurs well for the future of the market.

SUBMARINE U-28 SEIZES TWO SHIPS

Dutch Boats With Provisions for England Taken Into Port.

London, March 22.—It was the German submarine U-28 which seized the Dutch steamers Batavier V., and Zaanstroom, according to the Daily News' Rotterdam correspondent, who says the U-28 has been for some days sheltering under the lee of the Maas lightship, taking toll from all shipping especially British.

"On Thursday morning," the correspondent adds: "The submarines put into operation the German admiralty's new plans and began to capture and confiscate neutrals and seize their provisions. The Batavier was stopped in the gray dawn, and while her captain was protesting the Zaanstroom appeared on the horizon.

"The Zaanstroom refusing to stop, the submarine fired on her. Both vessels were then ordered to follow the submarine to Zeebrugge, where they arrived at 12:20 o'clock. The Germans immediately began unloading the vessels, their only reply to the captain's protests being 'it is war.' 'Your cargo is provisions for England and the Germans can use the food just as well as England.'

Great Indignation.

London, March 22.—An Amsterdam dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph agency declares that great indignation is being expressed in Dutch shipping circles because of the Germans' action in seizing the Batavier V., and the Zaanstroom. The press calls upon the government to lodge an imediate protest at Berlin in an effort to end such procedure.

McCALL SENTENCED.

Receiver of Stolen Property Sent to Penitentiary on Indeterminate Plan.

Herbert S. McCall, better known in police circles as Bert McCall, was sentenced to the state penitentiary on the indeterminate plan by Judge Cant of the district court on Saturday afternon. McCall was found guilty recently on a charge of having received stolen property. He pleaded insanity as a defense, but the jury held that he was suffering under no delusion when he committed the crime in question. McCall will serve not more than five years at Stillwater.

Leonard Mcfugh appeared in court as attorney for McCall and asked for leniency. This was opposed by Assistant County Attorney Forbes, who called the court's attention to the fact that McCall was an old offender and that he had been tried at various times on charges similar to the one for which he had been convicted.

CAN'T KEEP GOODS SOLD BY "DRUNK"

Joe Popkin Ordered By Court to Return "Bargain" Furniture.

Furniture which Joe Popkin, second-hand dealer, bought from Axel H. Peterson for $18 must be returned by Popkin to Mrs. Thora Peterson, according to an order made in district court Saturday afternoon by Judge Cant.

The Petersons reside at 619 Twenty-third avenue west. Mrs. Peterson is suing her husband for divorce and at the time of the alleged sale Peterson was under orders of the court not to dispose of the furniture.

An affidavit by Max Schneider, formerly in Popkin's employ, was read and stated that Peterson came to Popkin's place of business March 8 and said he wanted to sell his furniture. Peterson, Schneider states, was under the influence of liquor.

Schneider says the household goods were worth $256.75, but that Popkin agreed to pay him $40 for them. In reality only $18 was paid. Schneider was sent to the house to get the goods. They were loaded on a wagon and brought to Popkin's store.

Mrs. Peterson then had Popkin cited to appear and show cause why a restitution of the furniture should not be made.

BRITISH SOLDIERS GREAT FIGHTERS

Mettle of Troops Well Displayed in the Battle at St. Eloi.

London, March 22.—Fighting qualities of the British soldiers were again demonstrated in the battle of St. Eloi, although it was of comparative unimportance, since it left the situation much as it was before, according to an account of the operations in the district given by a British eye-witness and made public yesterday afternoon by the press bureau. St. Eloi is considered to have some strategic importance, because it lies at the junction of two main roads, one from Ypres to Armentieres and the other from Ypres to Warneton.

"On the evening of the fourteenth," says the eye-witness, "after a very heavy artillery fire directed against our trenches along the eastern and southwestern sections, the Germans tried to rush our lines. The attempt succeeded as far as the latter sector was concerned, for the trenches had been plowed in and were absolutely untenable. To the east of the village, however, our infantry made a most determined stand. Their fire was so steady and well-directed that the loss among the assailants was terrible, our men sticking to their posts until the last, in fact until they were overwhelmed by sheer weight of numbers.

"The Germans then rushed supports to the trenches and also to a mound which they had blown up by a mine.

"The fighting in St. Eloi itself, as is usual in such cases was of the fiercest description. Upon gaining the place, the Germans erected barricades across the streets defended by machine guns. These had to be stormed one by one, our men coming on time after time, regardless of losses, until the village had been cleared of the enemy.

"When morning dawned, a search was carried on among the houses for wounded, and on this occasion, the Germans displayed a humanity which, unfortunately, they do not always show, for they refrained from firing on our bearer parties, which were engaged in carrying away the injured within quite close range.

"In spite of the generally monotonous character of the present stage of the war, there have been some dramatic moments. One such moment immediately preceded the attack on Neuve Chapelle on the tenth. When our infantry, waiting to assault, German shells were bursting over the trenches. As the minutes wore on while our artillery fire grew hotter and hotter, and the time for them to rush forward came nearer, their places became more untenable. They then jumped upon the parapets, brandishing their rifles toward the Germans and shouting remarks which were drowned in the roar of guns. When the rush actually was made, our losses were trifling. It was only in the subsequent advance that heavy casualties occurred."

EVIDENCE LACKING.

Mary Olson, Charged With Keeping Disorderly House, Is Released.

On motion of Mason M. Forbes, first assistant county attorney, Judge Cant in district court, Saturday afternoon, dismissed the indictment returned by the March grand jury against Mary Oleon, 4706 Jay street, charging her with keeping a disorderly house, on the ground that the evidence obtainable was insufficient to warrant a conviction.

It is understood that those who preferred charges against the woman had refused to testify against her. The police claim that she had been a disturbing element in her neighborhood for some time.

NO DANGER FROM CROWDS.

Building Inspector Attends Sunday Concert at High School.

Building Inspector Kielley, who attended the concert at Central high school yesterday afternoon, said last evening that there was no overcrowding or obstructing of the aisles and entrances. It had been claimed during the week that the fire ordinances were being violated and as a result the building inspector attended the concert yesterday to learn the conditions.

"While there was a large audience, and many were compelled to stand, the main aisles were kept clear at all times," said Mr. Kielley. "I attended the concert to see that the ordinances were complied with, but those in charge were careful to see that the main aisles were kept clear.

"Failure to comply with the fire ordinance is largely a matter of thoughtlessness, and, since the attention of those in charge of the concerts was called to the condition which had prevailed at previous gatherings they were careful in complying with the regulations governing unobstructed aisles."

NEGRO CHARGED WITH KILLING THREE WHITES

St. Louis, Mo., March 22.—Loving Mitchell, a negro arrested here last night on a warrant charging him with the murder of William F. Dawson, his wife and their 13-year-old daughter, Georgia, at Monmouth Hill, on the night of Sept. 30, 1911, was taken to Monmouth last night by Chief of Police Morrison and Mayor Brown of that city.

Before leaving Chief Morrison made the following statement:

"Dawson, his wife and daughter were murdered by three negroes, two men and a woman; revenge for attentions which the negro believed Dawson had shown their relatives, is believed to be the motive for the crime. The negro woman in the case I will arrest, perhaps a few hours after my return to Monmouth; the third man is now in the Joliet, Ill., penitentiary.

USE COCOANUT OIL FOR WASHING HAIR

If you want to keep your hair in good condition, the less soap you use the better.

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Just plain mulsified cocoanut oil (which is pure and entirely greaseless), is much better than soap or anything else you can use for shampooing, as this can't possibly injure the hair.

Simply moisten your hair with water and rub it in. One or two teaspoonfuls will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanses the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily, and removes every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get mulsified cocoanut oil at most any drug store. It is very cheap, and a few ounces is enough to last everyone in the family for months.—Advertisement.

If you want to keep your hair in good condition, the less soap you use the better.

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Just plain mulsified cocoanut oil (which is pure and entirely greaseless), is much better than soap or anything else you can use for shampooing, as this can't possibly injure the hair.

Simply moisten your hair with water and rub it in. One or two teaspoonfuls will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanses the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily, and removes every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get mulsified cocoanut oil at most any drug store. It is very cheap, and a few ounces is enough to last everyone in the family for months.—Advertisement.

BRITISH SOLDIERS GREAT FIGHTERS

Mettle of Troops Well Displayed in the Battle at St. Eloi.

London, March 22.—Fighting qualities of the British soldiers were again demonstrated in the battle of St. Eloi, although it was of comparative unimportance, since it left the situation much as it was before, according to an account of the operations in the district given by a British eye-witness and made public yesterday afternoon by the press bureau. St. Eloi is considered to have some strategic importance, because it lies at the junction of two main roads, one from Ypres to Armentieres and the other from Ypres to Warneton, says the eye-witness. "After a very heavy artillery fire directed against our trenches along the eastern and southwestern sections, the Germans tried to rush our lines. The attempt succeeded as far as the latter sector was concerned, for the trenches had been plowed in and were absolutely untenable. To the east of the village, however, our infantry made a most determined stand. Their fire was so steady and well-directed that the loss among the assailants was terrible, our men sticking to their posts until the last. In fact until they were overwhelmed by sheer weight of numbers.

"The Germans then rushed supports to the trenches and also to a mound which they had blown up by a mine.

"The fighting in St. Eloi itself, as is usual in such cases was of the fiercest description. Upon gaining the place, the Germans erected barricades across the streets defended by machine guns. These had to be stormed one by one, our men coming on time after time, regardless of losses, until the village had been cleared of the enemy.

"When morning dawned, a search was carried on among the houses for wounded, and on this occasion, the Germans displayed a humanity which, unfortunately, they do not always show, for they refrained from firing on our bearer parties, which were engaged in carrying away the injured within quite close range.

"In spite of the generally monotonous character of the present stage of the war, there have been some dramatic moments. One such moment immediately preceded the attack on Neuve Chapelle on the tenth. When our infantry, waiting to assault, German shells were bursting over the trenches. As the minutes wore on while our artillery fire grew hotter and hotter, and the time for them to rush forward came nearer, their places became more untenable. They then jumped upon the parapets, brandishing their rifles toward the Germans and shouting remarks which were drowned in the roar of guns. When the rush actually was made, our losses were trifling. It was only in the subsequent advance that heavy casualties occurred."

EVIDENCE LACKING.

Mary Olson, Charged With Keeping Disorderly House, Is Released.

On motion of Mason M. Forbes, first assistant county attorney, Judge Cant in district court, Saturday afternoon, dismissed the indictment returned by the March grand jury against Mary Olson, 4706 Jay street, charging her with keeping a disorderly house, on the ground that the evidence obtainable was insufficient to warrant a conviction.

It is understood that those who preferred charges against the woman had refused to testify against her. The police claim that she had been a disturbing element in her neighborhood for some time.

NO DANGER FROM CROWDS.

Building Inspector Attends Sunday Concert at High School.

Building Inspector Kielley, who attended the concert at Central high school yesterday afternoon, said last evening that there was no overcrowding or obstructing of the aisles and entrances. It had been claimed during the week that the fire ordinances were being violated and as a result the building inspector attended the concert yesterday to learn the conditions.

"While there was a large audience, and many were compelled to stand, the main aisles were kept clear at all times," said Mr. Kielley. "I attended the concert to see that the ordinances were complied with, but those in charge were careful to see that the main aisles were kept clear.

"Failure to comply with the fire ordinance is largely a matter of thoughtlessness, and, since the attention of those in charge of the concerts was called to the condition which had prevailed at previous gatherings they were careful in complying with the regulations governing unobstructed aisles."

NEGRO CHARGED WITH KILLING THREE WHITES

St. Louis, Mo., March 22.—Loving Mitchell, a negro arrested here last night on a warrant charging him with the murder of William F. Dawson, his wife and their 13-year-old daughter, Georgia, at Monmouth Hill, on the night of Sept. 20, 1913, was taken to Monmouth last night by Chief of Police Morrison and Mayor Brown of that city.

Before leaving Chief Morrison made the following statement:

"Dawson, his wife and daughter were murdered by three negroes, two men and a woman; revenge for attentions which the negro believed Dawson had shown their relatives, is believed to be the motive for the crime. The negro woman in the case I will arrest, perhaps a few hours after my return to Monmouth; the third man is now in the Joliet, Ill., penitentiary.

He was for years manager of the Hotel Prescott in Fargo and more recently for a Casselton hotel and has a wide experience as a hotel man.

The Name on a Piano

Take a half dozen pianos, each of different makes, destroy their name plates, and place them side by side and an expert could scarcely tell one from the other.

Yet there is a great difference—which would be apparent as the years go on.

Time would determine the quality beyond question.

It is assurance to the unexpert eye and touch that character is built into the wood and works.

The names that mean things in the piano world will be found from time to time in our advertising columns.

We have something to say about the

that is of paramount importance to every prospective purchaser of a piano. Something, too, to show that is absolutely convincing.

INTENTIONAL DUPLICATE EXPOSURE

SOCIETY ◘ WOMEN'S CLUBS ◘ MUSIC ◘ THE DRAMA

THE shopping district, that has been about as interesting as a wholesale or factory district since the curtains were put up at the show windows, will become the most popular spot in town, to women at least, when the bombs boom at 5 o'clock this evening and the curtains are taken down, showing wonderful spring gowns, hats, shoes and dainty accessories. Then, too, hardware and grocery stores and other shops that do not cater exclusively to women, will be on Style street.

This is one night in the year when husbands and fathers may admire styles, even rave over the creations the women of their families pronounce "perfect dears" and "too adorable for any use" without fear, for nothing will be sold. No, sir, if your pockets are bulging with bills ornamented with three or four figures and notes that would make a war lord long to rob you in order to buy a new equipment for his entire army, you won't be able to spend even a jitney this evening.

When the seventeen bombs on Superior street corners between Second avenue east and Twenty-third avenue west go off at 5 o'clock, followed by fourteen Japanese flag bombs which, when exploded, will unfurl American flags, the tantalizing curtains will be taught just what is their proper place and the "Leave your pocketbook at home" slogan will go into effect.

The stores will close at 5 o'clock to reopen at 7 o'clock for the grand display. Many wholesale houses will close at 5 o'clock so the employes may have an opportunity to have early dinners and get down town in time for the beginning of this display.

Even one store opening with its music, decorations and display of the newest goods is interesting, but when a whole city has an opening and each firm keeps its window decorations a state secret until a certain minute, the result is bound to be nothing short of wonderful.

NEW SPRING STYLES AS POSED FOR HERALD PHOTOGRAPHER

Despite the fact that the war has interfered with Parisian dictation in the world of styles, tribute is still being paid to famous designers of the French capital by her majesty, the American woman, this spring.

Paquin's Louise model, shown above, will be one of the features of Duluth's style week, as it is conceded to be one of the successful gowns offered this season. It is of black pussy willow taffeta, with the popular full skirt, full pleated.

A cream shadow-lace waist offers just the right background for the jet "strappings" which come over the shoulders and meet the black taffeta surplice in front.

With characteristic daring, Paquin has placed two brilliant roses against the black bodice—something rarely seen, but wonderfully effective. It is trimmed with rosettes of Belgian blue—the velvet girdle also is of this new shade. It is being shown by the Glass Block company and one of the employes of that store posed for the accompanying picture.

Personal Mention.

Peggy Peabody's Observations

Wives Should Know Housekeeping.

Matrimony is the only profession (it may rightly be ranked as such) into which every class of women rush without preparation for its duties. They are of the opinion, apparently, that some divine intuition will help them straighten out the few difficulties that may loom up on the domestic horizon.

The young bride in her day dreams always sees herself, daintily and freshly dressed, calm-browed and smiling-eyed, greeting her husband on his return at the end of the day. No visions of charred beefsteaks, soggy puddings, teething babies, poor servants, ever intrude themselves to spoil her illusions. But the young matron who brings no knowledge of the kitchen, of cookery and the thousand and one things to be known about housekeeping, finds that it is anything but easy before she has been at it a month.

Learn to cook. Unromantic as it sounds, it is the very foundation of married happiness. If you neglect this valuable attribute of a wife until after the knot has been tied you take grave chances of losing your husband's affections if not his support.

Though the American girl can in a year's time learn to cook acceptably, her experiments in the meantime may cost her dear. There are just 1,095 meals prepared in the course of a year, not counting the little supper parties to which young husbands delight to bid their friends. If a half or a third of the foods prepared during the year are utterly worthless as nourishment or, at best, unappetizing, one can readily understand that they can have only an ill effect on the patience, temper and digestion of the man.

All men like to eat and they also like to enjoy their homes in their own way. Wives seem sometime to have more concern in the furniture than for the comfort of the one who bought and paid for it. Whenever I hear a woman cautioning her husband about smoking in the parlor or the dining room, I think of the green grave of a young husband whose life was fairly pestered out of him. This unfortunate man had a luxurious home, yet he never took a moment's comfort out of it. He was forbidden to do this or that, and he worried himself into a serious illness.

A wife should at least know the A-B-C of housekeeping; the X-Y-Z of it comes with years of experience. She should try to enter into her husband's interests and pleasures. If that is impossible, let him enjoy his home in his own way.

HUCKLEBERRY FINN AS CUPID

Pianist Read Mark Twain in Russian; Met Him and His Daughter; Wedding Bells; America Will Benefit in Artistic Way From War.

Ossip Gabrilowitsch, the famous Russian pianist, who is in Duluth today, read Mark Twain's books in Russian, became an intense admirer of the great American humorist, finally met Mark Twain, later met Mark Twain's daughter—and then married the daughter. In the case of Ossip Gabrilowitsch, "Huckleberry Finn" started something more than a laugh.

The young Russian pianist is ranked by many students of music right close to Paderewski; as nestling next to the inspired Pole in the musical setting. By others he is classed as superior to Paderewski. Gabrilowitsch has had nearly sixty weeks of concert work, which, he declares, has proven the most successful work of his career. War will not permit him to return to Europe at the close of his American season—but war has not in the least cast its baneful influence over his artistic and financial success.

"When a boy, living in Russia," said the eminent pianist at the Spalding today, "I read one of Mark Twain's books in the Russian language. I was pleased—ah, more than pleased—thrilled. The humor was so exquisite. Then I read more of his books. When the American author was in Europe I took steps to meet him. His daughter was with him and what would be more natural than I should meet her. We were married; the admiration for the famous American author gave way before the love for his daughter.

Well Known in Europe.

"Mark Twain traveled extensively in Europe. He was as well known there as in his own country. His books have been translated to all of the languages of the world. A kindly man? Yes; one of the finest men that I have ever met. Not so humorous in his conversations, but serious. Mark Twain possessed a wide knowledge upon many subjects. He liked to talk of philosophy, science, politics and history. Sometimes, in the least unsuspected place, in the very midst of a serious discourse, a flash of humor would be interjected. The countenance of the humorist would be serious, but the naive humor of the remark would cause you to smile.

"Much of the work of Mark Twain was done in bed. He often said that he found a bed the most comfortable place to labor in. He would sit, propped up by pillows, with his pipe in his mouth, and write with a fountain pen. Mark Twain was a great reader and much of his reading, at least in his later years, was done in bed."

While many persons believe that war and great movements of history are the precursors of great poems and great compositions of music, Gabrilowitsch differs very decidedly in his view of the after effect of the present European war on music, literature and art.

"I believe that after the war the people of Europe will be so busily engaged in matters of industry and finance that there will be little time to devote to matters of art," said the pianist. "America, in my opinion will reap an artistic benefit as the result of the war. At a recent banquet in New York I was greatly surprised by the number of celebrities present. I believe that many of the musicians of Europe will come to the United States and that this country will experience a stimulus as a result."

Gabrilowitsch believes that some day, how distant he does not even guess at, Russia will produce some great composers. The musician believes that all the elements that go to make a great race of music lovers are there. Germany, he declared, is at present far ahead of all nations in musical production. "Some day," said Gabrilowitsch, "America will produce some great composers."

LAST ORCHESTRA CONCERT

Request Program Attracts Biggest Audience of Season Was Financial and Artisic Success.

The request program of the Duluth Concert orchestra that was given yesterday afternoon marked the close of the concert series and attracted the biggest crowd of the season.

Every seat in the large auditorium of the Central high school was taken and the walls downstairs and in the gallery were lined with persons who were willing to stand to hear the program. Doubtless greater interest was taken in yesterday's selections than in those on the preceding programs, as the majority of those in the audience had signified preferences for the request program and each one felt a special interest in the number he had asked to have repeated.

Four Soloists.

Miss Mary Gladys Reynolds, Mrs. Jay Frederick Finkelson, Charles Helmer and Roy Knapp were the soloists. Miss Reynolds, soprano, sang "One Fine Day" from Puccini's "Madam Butterfly," and gave as an encore "The Swallows." The enthusiastic reception that greeted her numbers at a previous program of the orchestra was repeated yesterday.

Mrs. Finkelson, violinist, repeated "Saeterjenten's Sondag," by Ole Bull, that she gave at the last concert. Mrs. Finkelson, who is one of Duluth's foremost musicians, responded with a serenade, a part of which she was compelled to repeat as a second encore. At both the concerts in which she has been soloist she played first violin with the orchestra.

Charles Helmer's trumpet solo, the aria, "My Heart at Thy Sweet Voice," from Saint Saens' "Samson and Delila," was one of the most popular numbers. He gave Lohr's "Little Gray Home in the West" as an encore and would have been brought back for even another selection if the audience could have had its own way.

FRED G. BRADBURY.

Roy Knapp, the fourth soloist, gave Suppe's "Light Cavalry" with great martial swing on the xylophone and marimbaphone. To this enjoyable number "Way Down Upon the Suwannee River" was given as an encore, without the assistance of the orchestra.

The orchestra numbers were:

Selections from "Tannhauser"...Wagner
"Military Symphony".....Haydn
"Whispering Flowers".....von Blon
"In a Clock Store".....Orth
"Woodland Whispers".....Czibulka
"Peer Gynt" suite.....Grieg

Toward the close of this last regular concert of the series that has been most successful both artistically and financially, Director Fred G. Bradbury announced that yesterday's program will be repeated in the high school auditorium Sunday afternoon, April 11, for the benefit of St. Mary's hospital. Tickets are now on sale at St. Mary's hospital.

It was announced on the printed programs that the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra will give concerts at the curling club June 4 and 5, under the direction of Mrs. Stephen H. Jones.

WILL REOPEN THE ORPHEUM

Oft Repeated Rumor Confirmed By Announcement From Chicago.

Duluth Is Promised "Full Orpheum Shows" for Spring Months.

Beginning Easter Sunday, the Orpheum will reopen with big-time vaudeville acts, and many of the leading two-a-day stars are expected to appear during the remainder of the theatrical season. The season is expected to last six or eight weeks, and the theater will then close for the summer to reopen in August.

This announcement, as made by The Herald Feb. 2 and repeated several times since, was confirmed by Sam Thall, western representative for the Orpheum circuit, in a telegram to The Herald today.

"Ideal," a swimming act now playing at the Orpheum in Minneapolis, will headline the opening bill. Mrs. Leslie Carter will follow in "Zaza."

The Orpheum has been dark for several weeks, following an attempt to present a five-act vaudeville show with pictures at popular prices. The steady demand for big-time vaudeville, the "regular" Orpheum shows, has met with response from the New York office, and Duluth theater-goers will undoubtedly give a hearty welcome to the players Easter Sunday. The passing of the Orpheum has been the keenest disappointment to Duluth theater-goers of any felt in years.

Seven-act shows will be booked and the same bills will be presented here as those seen in the Twin City Orpheum houses.

Manager Garver says that a number of Duluthians have pledged their support to the Orpheum, and if the remainder of the season is successful, the management of the circuit will continue to book regular Orpheum shows.

"THE CONFESSION."

Baldwin Players Appear in Drama Dealing With the Church.

"The Confession," which received its first presentation here Sunday matinee by the Baldwin Players at the Lyceum to a crowded house, probably is the most thrilling and appealing play presented by the capable stock company in several months. The title is derived from the secrecy, or the inviolability of the confessional of the Roman Catholic church.

On a night of storm in Gloucester, Mass., a murder is committed. Joseph Dumont, the murderer, comes to a Catholic priest, asking absolution, and confesses the crime. The priest's own brother, who had quarreled with the murdered man a few hours before, subsequently arrives at the priest's home, tells of the murder, and swears to his brother, the priest, that he is innocent. The priest's brother is arrested for the murder, tried, convicted; an appeal to the supreme court fails, and the governor, the last resort of the defense, refuses to give executive clemency.

Not until the final curtain does Dumont, dying of tuberculosis, confess to the governor that he had committed the crime.

Much that is beautiful and noble in the Roman Catholic faith, and especially the solemnity of the confessional, and its unbreakable seal of secrecy, are shown throughout the play with telling effect. The young priest, carrying in his heart the secret of Dumont, sees his brother, innocent of the crime for which he has been convicted, brought to the shadow of the gallows, but he steadfastly and prayerfully looks heavenward for relief in his terrible predicament—and relief comes at the last moment.

The company this week does altogether the best work accomplished for some weeks. Homer Barton, as the priest, Father Bartlett, does excellently Doris Olsson, playing the part of Rose Creighton, sweetheart of Tom Bartlett, who is convicted of the crime, shares with Barton throughout the play. In the estimation of the audience, while Helen Keers, mother of Tom Bartlett, always a capable actress, this week has a role worthy of her abilities. Walter Baldwin, Jr., as Tom Bartlett, does credit to his lines, and William A. Mortimer, as the real murderer (who killed under a mistaken impression that the murder victim had injured his sister), surpasses any of his previous work, as Joseph Dumont, a French Canadian fisherman. McLeod furnishes the comedy, assisted by R. B. Pell, the former as a hunchback boy taken from the slums of New York by the priest, and the latter as the priest's handy man and sexton.

Chris Young, capable, fine-spoken and of good appearance, plays John Peabody, judge of the court, and later the dignified governor of the commonwealth of Massachusetts. William Donovan makes a capital prosecuting attorney, M. P. Dustin, but his arguments seem overshadowed by De Stephani's arguments, as C. H. Blackburn, attorney for the defense.

The scenery is adequate. Especially well done is the storm scene, with the rain spattering against the windows and dripping from the roof outside the rectory door.

The play has numerous intense moments. It will be shown throughout the week, with Wednesday and Saturday matinees.

Next week's offering for three matinees and five nights will be "Little Lord Fauntleroy," with Muriel Cole taking the title role. The production of "Uncle Tom" has been postponed for several weeks.

Grand's New Bill.

With the new bill opening this afternoon, the New Grand continues its policy of well balanced and diversified programs. Incidentally it is heralded as one of the most entertaining bills in weeks.

Heading the bill is Ernette Asoria, who is assisted by Chevalier de Mar and Miss Eliante in an artistic and classic dance act. Described as a terpsichorean bedazzlement, this offering is described by the enthusiastic advance agent as "the acme of the art of representation through the medium of chorographic minidrama."

Loraine and Mitchell, in a revolving ladder display with beautiful scenic embellishment, perform many thrilling and hair-raising feats.

Steve Juhasz, better known as "the king of bunkology," is a tip-top entertainer who puts over a routine of comedy magic exhibitions that are out of the ordinary and original.

A versatile singing and dancing duo are Williams and Sterling in their comedy offering, "The Bug and the Buggy." Their patter is new and funny and in good taste.

"A Daughter's Strange Inheritance" is a photoplay in three reels and tells a beautiful story full of heart interest. "Mustang Pete's Pressing Engagement," a comedy; "For Repairs," a drama, and an educational film complete the bill.

Clara Kimball Young at Rex.

A young society woman is the star in the Broadway feature at the Rex today and tomorrow. The young woman is the possessor of more grace and beauty than Dame Nature generally bestows on any one woman. The St. Cyr Artists' Guild of New York, after passing on more than 800 beautiful women, awarded the prize of $1,000 and the honor of posing for the new picture, "Dawn," to the star of "My Official Wife."

The story of "My Official Wife" is woven around the fascinating Nihilist. Helen Marie, who is willing to go to any extreme to carry out her plans. Lennox, an American, is induced to pretend she is his wife in order that she may enter Petersburg on his passport. Lennox is shocked at first, but as he is deeply in love with the beautiful schemer, he decides to let things take their course.

Proposed Amendments

To the City Charter of the City of Duluth,

TO BE VOTED UPON AT THE

General Municipal Election, April 6, 1915

Amendment One.

Amend Section 31 of the Duluth City Charter so as to read as follows:

"Section 31. In all cases of work to be done by contract, or of the purchase of property of any kind, when the amount involved is more than $500.00, unless the Council by an emergency resolution shall provide otherwise, it shall advertise for bids in the official paper of the city. When such probable expenditure shall be more than $500.00 and less than $1,000.00 in amount, such notice shall be published once in said official paper, and when more than $1,000.00, the same shall be published in at least two issues of said paper. Contracts shall be let to the lowest responsible bidder, and purchases shall be made from the responsible bidder who offers to furnish the article desired for the lowest sum. The Council may, however, reject any and all bids; and nothing contained herein shall prevent the city from contracting for the doing of work with patented processes, or from purchasing patented appliances. The Council shall regulate the making of bids and letting of contracts by ordinance."

Amendment Two.

Amend Section 68 of the Duluth City Charter so as to read as follows:

"Section 68. As soon as said assessment is confirmed, the Council shall insert in the official paper of the city a notice briefly describing the improvement for which the assessment is made, and stating that the assessment is payable at the treasurer's office at any time within forty (40) days from the publication of said notice, and that unless the same is so paid within said forty (40) days, or an application is made to the Council for the extension of the time of payment, as herein provided, within thirty (30) days after the publication of said notice, a penalty of ten (10) per cent will be added to such assessment. Within said thirty (30) days after the publication of said notice, upon application in writing to the Council by any owner of real estate against which the assessment is made, when such assessment exceeds fifteen dollars ($15.00) for each four thousand (4,000) square feet of property benefited by the improvement, and upon payment to the treasurer of twenty-five (25) per cent of such assessment, and when the remaining portion of such assessment does not exceed the assessed valuation of such real estate, and when the applicant waives all defenses and questions as to the legality of such assessment, whether such defenses be interposed in proceedings by the State for collection of general taxes, or otherwise, the Council may, by resolution, extend the time for paying the remaining portion of such assessment into not exceeding three installments, payable in one, two and three years from the first day of October next following the date of the passage of such resolution. In case such assessment is made between October first and December thirty-first, and the applicant is granted an extension of the time within which to pay the same, the first installment of such extended assessment shall be due and payable on the first day of October next thereafter. Each of said installments of extended assessment shall bear interest at the rate of seven per cent (7%) per annum from the date original assessment would be payable without penalty. Such installments of extended assessments, together with the accrued interest thereon to the first Monday in January following, shall be considered to be delinquent under the next section of this charter when they shall severally become due and payable, but not before. Any such installment of extended assessments may be paid at any time prior to its maturity, with interest to date of payment only. The ownership of any property upon which application for extension of assessment is made hereunder shall be determined according to the records in the office of the Register of Deeds of Registrar of Titles of St. Louis County."

PARTNER OR FOREMAN?

Court Must Decide This Question in Suit Between Contractors.

Whether Thomas G. Miller was hired by W. F. King, a local contractor, as a foreman, or performed services in accordance with a partnership agreement is the question which a jury in Judge Ensign's division of the district court will be called upon to decide.

Trial of an action in which Miller is suing King for $375 claimed to be due for services performed as foreman on a gas and water extension job which King had secured under contract from the city, was started this morning.

The case was started in municpal court, but when the defendant filed an answer setting up the partnership agreement as a defense, the case was removed to the district court for trial. The defense interposed placed the case out of the jurisdiction of the lower court.

The defendant asks that a receiver be appointed to wind up the partnership affair. Miller claims that there was no partnership agreement and that he was working on a straight salary of $125 a month. The work covered a period between Aug. 22 and Nov. 26.

GARY HOPES TO COMPLETE STEEL PLANT THIS YEAR

Tells of Extensive Improvements Made By Missabe Railway.

"Construction work on the new steel plant at Duluth, also on the new cement plant at same place, together with work on the adjoining town site of Morgan Park, progressed actively until the early fall of 1914, when construction operations were materially curtailed because of the severe depression in the iron and steel industry. By the expenditure of about $3,000,000 additional these plants will be ready for operation. It is hoped business conditions may warrant the completion of the work during the current year."

The above statement, interesting to Duluthians, was made by E. H. Gary, chairman of the United States Steel corporation's board of directors in his remarks to stockholders accompanying the corporation's last annual report.

Spent Large Sum Here.

There was expended by the corporation during the year 1914, he said, for acquisitions of additional property, and for additions and extensions to plants and properties, the aggregate sum of $22,746,031. In addition there was spent the net sum of $424,981 for stripping the overburden from ore bodies preliminary to mining from open pit mines and for development work at the mines. At the Minnesota Steel company's plant, and on the railroad connecting it with all the trunk lines, there was expended during the year $4,094,363. From that it is pointed out by steel men that Duluth benefited considerably through the operations of the corporation last year.

The total amount expended since the time of organization, April, 1901, to January, 1915, on capital account for additions and extensions to properties and for stripping and development work at the mines reached the enormous total of $478,476,269.

Referring to other work carried through at Duluth, Judge Gary said:

Missabe Road Aetivities.

The Duluth, Missabe & Northern Railway company completed the construction of a new concrete and steel ore dock, 384 pockets, and track approaches, expending on the same in 1914, $1,002,459. This company also expended $502,123 for remodelling its dock No. 1 to enable limestone to be handled over it, and for additional coal handling equipment on its coal dock.

"During the year the various subsidiary railway companies acquired by purchase or construction, as additions to their complement of equipment, four locomotives, 3,630 steel gondola and hopper cars, and ten other cars, at a total cost of $3,990,939; and in the replacement of equipment, one locomotive, 205 steel gondola and hopper cars, and six other cars, at a cost of $242,618.

"There were acquired during the year by the United States Steel Products company, a subsidiary company, six additional steamships for service in the over-seas trade. One steamer was lost during the year, the full value of which was recovered from the underwriters. At the close of the year the company owned nine steamers engaged in the over-seas trade, and operates under special charters additional vessels, varying in number from time to time as its business warrants.

"At Jan. 1, 1915," he said, "the lease of the so-called Great Northern railway ore properties by the Great Western Mining company, a subsidiary of this corporation, was canceled in accordance with notice given in 1911 of the intention to exercise the option of cancellation on Jan. 1, 1915, and the properties not already surrendered were turned back to the lessors. During the period the properties were held by the Great Western Mining company (1907 to 1914, inclusive) that company mined and shipped from them 26,573,808 tons of ore which tonnage fully covered the total minimum required to be paid for under the lease during the time it was held.

"The average number of employes in the service of the corporation and the subsidiary companies during the entire year 1914 was 179,353, compared with 228,906 in 1913, a decrease of 21.65 per cent. The total amount of the payrolls in 1914 was $162,379,907, in comparison with $207,206,176 in the preceding year, a decrease of 21.63 per cent. The average salary or wage per employe per day, exclusive of the administrative and selling forces, was $2.28, and including all employes, $2.97 per day. These average rates were slightly higher than the averages for 1913, owing to the fact that the general advance in wages made in 1913 did not take effect until Feb. 1 of that year.

"On account of the disturbed and uncertain condition of the steel industry prevailing at the close of the year, the large number of employes who at that time were laid off because of mills being shut down or running only on part time, and also because of stock market conditions, it was decided not to offer employes the usual annual privilege of subscribing for stock under the plan which had been observed during each of the preceding twelve years. At the close of the year there were 40,719 employes who had subscribed during the preceding five years and who then either held stock certificates in their own names or were paying for subscriptions in installments.

"During the year there was disbursed by the trustees of the United States Steel and Carnegie pension fund the sum of $548,980. At the close of the year there were 2,521 namse on the pension rolls."

CLAIMS LIQUOR CAUSED HIS CRIME

Anthony Henricksen Gets Five Months for Issuing Worthless Check.

Anthony Henricksen, who pleaded guilty in district court recently to two indictments charging him with issuing checks on banks in which he had no funds, was sentenced on Saturday afternoon to five months at the county and city work farm by Judge Cant. The sentence imposed applied to one indictment. In the second case, sentence was continued until September.

One of the checks given was for the purchase price of the Oasis saloon and the other was for the purchase of supplies from a wholesale liquor house. Henricksen told the court that he was so drunk at the time he gave the checks that he did not know what he was doing. The transaction took place on Feb. 19.

Henricksen pleaded guilty before Judge Cant in 1911 to a charge of petit larceny, and was fined $100.

SAYS RAILROADS BEAT THE POSTOFFICE BILL.

Washington, March 22.—Postmaster General Burleson issued a statement last night reiterating the charge that certain railroads brought about the defeat of the postoffice appropriation bill in the closing days of the last congress because of the provision in it for changing railway mail pay from a weight to a space basis, and formally announcing his intention to renew ris recommendation for this change when the new congress reconvenes.

Cando Flour Mill.

Cando, N. D., March 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—Within a few months a flour mill will be established here. The Commercial club has the matter up and has replies from a number of people offering to put in mills with from 125 to 400-barrel capacity. It will be an easy matter to meet the requirements demanded by some of them and a mill now appears to be assured.

TWO CITIES CLAIM 30,000 POPULATION.

Fargo, N. D., March 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—Exclusive of the pupils in the city schools of Fargo and Moorhead, there are 5,332 students at the Moorhead normal, the Concordia college in Moorhead and the Fargo college, the North Dakota Agricultural college, the Dakota Conservatory, Oak Grove seminary, Sacred Heart academy and two local business colleges. The agricultural college leads with 1,311. The Moorhead normal is second with 1,039. These 5,000 students, added to the combined population of the two cities, gives Fargo and Moorhead about 30,000 people during the school terms.

FEW ITALIANS WILL GO BACK

Possible Call to Colors Not Expected to Be Attractive Here.

Attilio Castigliano, Italian Consul, Refuses to Discuss Situation.

Attilio Castigliano of Duluth, Italian consul for the Northwestern states, denies that he has received any word from his government concerning the calling out of reservists in this territory.

"No hint of this kind has come to me," said Mr Castigliano this morning, "and I cannot anticipate my government's action. I do not know if there are any reservists in this territory or not, for we do not keep a record of them and have no means of knowing. As a matter of fact it would be presumption in me to discuss any phase of the European situation until I have heard from my government."

For some time, in anticipation of Italy getting into the war on one side or the other, there has been considerable inquiry by business interests in this section of the state regarding the probable exodus of Italians from this part of the country to enter the Italian army. So far as inquiry has developed, it appears that it will be small, as most of the Italians in Minnesota, the upper peninsula of Michigan and Northern Wisconsin are heads of families and are not disposed to return, but to remain here.

Little if any effect on mine labor in the communities mentioned is expected should Italy enter the war. A number of Italians, who have time still to serve in the army, have gone back in the last six months, but it is not believed by Italians here that there were nearly as many as reported.

It is estimated that there are 20,000 Italians in Minnesota, and 50,000 in Upper Michigan and the Wisconsin iron country. Of those in Minnesota, it is declared, 3,000 live in Duluth, 4,000 in Minneapolis and 5,000 in St. Paul.

COUNTIES.

It isn't so many years since the typical American was a man who believed—and delighted in saying—that everything concerned in the American form of government was as nearly ideal as human ingenuity could make it. He made no exceptions either in national, state or local affairs. If it was American, that insured its excellence.

Within the last few years a great change has come about with the awakening of the people to the fact that while our method of government was indeed a great advance over anything known of at the time it was originated, there are many things in it that might profitably be changed. And the value of this awakening lies in the fact that the needed changes are being made wherever their necessity is called to the people's attention.

It is especially interesting just now to note that although the present size of St. Louis county is being made one of the principal arguments of those who want to split the county up into two or perhaps three pieces, other sections of the country are finding fault with the county system of government as it exists at present, on the ground that the counties are too small and that there are too many of them. The New York Times is making a special study of this question, and has found that in eight or ten states besides New York state, sentiment is rapidly growing in favor of abolishing the small county and instituting a system of greater units, each with extensive home rule privileges.

In New York state it is proposed to reduce the number of counties from sixty-two to only six, or eight at the most. In other states it is proposed that similar changes be made. At the coming constitutional convention for New York state the county question is to be one of the chief points considered, and an effort is to be made to adopt the newer system.

Several points against the present system and in favor of larger counties and fewer of them are made by the Times, which reminds us that "concededly, in its present form it is not worthy to be retained." The Times says:

> County government as it exists is a chaos produced by general laws, tempered and tampered with by special legislation. * * * Appeals are constantly made to the legislature.

The expenditures involved in the present system are cited, and the cost of maintaining so many separate governments that could as well be reduced in number. The Times continues:

> It is safe to say that at least one-third of the amount could be saved if the county system were broken up and a consolidation of offices and consequent reduction of incumbents effected, such as would follow the institution of a half dozen departments or enlarged counties in the place of the many now in existence.

Some difficulties of administration are briefly cited by the writer in the Times, who then says:

> Mere tinkering with the present system will not provide an adequate remedy for the deficiencies and misdeeds which are so apparent. It should be recognized that there are too many county governments, and that a consolidation which would make six or eight local administrations take the place of sixty-two must result in greater efficiency as well as economy.
> Not the least of the advantages of the new system would be that, with absolute home rule in each of the enlarged counties or departments, there will be no need of appeals to the legislature, which will be free to devote its whole attention to the passage of general laws.

Minnesota is ranked today as one of the most progressive states in the Union. It would be strange indeed to take now a step directly opposed to the most advanced ideas of American government, by dividing still further the counties which we may soon want to unite. The state's experience with the economy and efficiency plan, and with reapportionment two years ago, shows that it is very difficult, even for the good of the state, to secure legislation that is going to reduce the number of public jobs. To increase the number of counties now would be to insure added opposition to any plan of county consolidation that may be advanced within the next few months or years.

TO FOLLOW, INSTEAD OF LEAD?

Various plans are being offered to dispose, temporarily, of the economy and efficiency bill. These plans are offered as substitutes for those under which the bill would be disposed of permanently. But their very offering indicates what has already been made fairly plain in The Herald's dispatches from St. Paul—that there are several men in office in Minnesota who mean to keep those offices whether the state could do better or not.

Now comes the report of the Illinois efficiency and economy committee, recommending a complete reorganization of the state services, on the general principles followed in the organization of the executive departments of the United States government. Apparently this Illinois plan is much the same in principle and general provisions as that now before the Minnesota legislature. The Illinois plan, like that in this state, is the result of a comprehensive survey of the state departments, boards and commissions.

Maybe Illinois will adopt the plan—or maybe it won't. To adopt it would be the logical and sensible thing to do. It would mean better public service in public office, and more effective use of public funds. But meanwhile what is Minnesota to do? Is our own state to tag after others in this effort to better her government, instead of being the leader in the movement that she could just as well be?

Why doesn't somebody startle the public by offering a jitney lunch?

FREE BASEBALL.

Decatur, Illinois, is destined to get into baseball history in a fashion that will make it remembered when more sensational debuts are forgotten. It is to give its citizens free baseball, except on holidays, when the rules of the Three-I league provide that gate receipts shall be divided between the contesting clubs. At least Secretary Penniwell of the Decatur club has announced that enough money has been subscribed to insure that no admission fees will be asked there during the season.

Seriously, Decatur may have hit on something that is to go a long way towards restoring confidence in baseball in this country. The last few years have been marked by constant bickering between one management and another for the services of favorite players or for financial compensation for one thing and another. There can be no question that baseball has suffered from the unusual emphasis on the commercialization of the sport. People don't mind paying to be amused, but they are inclined to stop and think twice when they realize the extent to which they are paying.

Free baseball is an entirely different proposition. It opens the way to the furtherance of the democracy of the bleachers, and although a man may have contributed fifty or a hundred dollars at the beginning of the season to insure such a privilege to his fellow townsmen, the financial side of the affair will quickly be forgotten when once the people realize that free baseball, and first class baseball at that, is really at hand.

It isn't at all likely that any way will be found to give free league ball to many cities of the country during the coming season. Maybe that consummation will be long in reaching any place except Decatur. But it is reasonably certain that this season or the next is going to see a reduction in the admission charges in many cities, and that, as well as free games, is a step toward putting league ball on the same plane with the corner lot article in which your son and his mates are trying to beat the bunch from across town. And despite the lack of science, there really is no higher article of baseball than that.

What do you suppose the European peasants are thinking of as the time approaches for the spring plowing?

AS TO VAUDEVILLE.

There is talk of reopening the Orpheum as a vaudeville house. It is said that Manager Ross Garver is convinced that vaudeville should pay in Duluth, and that he has received encouragement in conversations with a number of "representative Duluthians." So encouraging have these talks been that Mr. Garver is almost persuaded to try to revive the two-a-day bills on which the place failed to thrive before.

When the Orpheum first opened in Duluth it got liberal patronage. In the first few weeks there were steady increases in the business done, and it looked as if the Duluth stand was to be a permanent thing on the circuit. Then interest began to wane, and business to fall off. People who chanced to be in other cities where the Orpheum circuit billed acts came home with stories of acts that they praised to the skies, but that never got to Duluth.

Then came a series of bills that all but duplicated those of previous years. It was explained that they were just being used to fill in, but it was noticeable that the quality of the entertainment given was steadily getting lower and lower, and the result was that the Orpheum went dark.

And that is just what will happen again, if the same circumstances are gone over again. Duluth will support good vaudeville, and has proved that fact. But Duluth will not support any makeshift proposition, and the sooner managers realize that the sooner they will stop wasting time and money by trying to shove off second class bills here as first class ones.

If Manager Garver can arrange for the booking of first class vaudeville at the Orpheum, he can be sure of doing first class business. For vaudeville is good entertainment, and Duluthians, like others, enjoy that and will welcome it. But they do not want substituted acts and makeshift bills, and by letting the Orpheum severely alone when it tried to palm off that kind of stuff on them, they have demonstrated their preference.

Now that spring is here according to the almanac, perhaps the weather will feel that it no longer needs to give us spring weather to remind us of the time o' year.

Schoolmaster Root

Editorial in the New York Times.

It is a pathetic spectacle that the Republican government of this state presents. Returned to power by a great majority after four years in the wilderness, in three months it has got itself into such a snarl that it cannot get out alone and, according to report, it has appealed to ex-Senator Root to come to Albany and untangle it.

The governor, charged with having made a mistake of $18,000,000 in his estimate of the deficiencies which must be covered by a direct tax, replies that he only made a mistake of $8,000,000. The senate and assembly are engaged in a civil war so bitter that one house will not even agree to a resolution setting an adjournment date because it was proposed by the other. But the fight between the senate and assembly is only a part of the warfare, for each house is itself divided into bitterly hostile factions. Mr. Sullivan, the leader of the independent Republicans in the assembly, serves notice that he will not enter any Republican caucus and will not be bound by any conference. Speaker Sweet and Senate Leader Brown, we are told, are "hardly on speaking terms." Legislation is apparently on the brink of paralysis.

We used to be told that the Republican party was the party of efficiency, and that factionalism prevented the Democrats from getting anywhere when in office. But the Democrats never presented a more saddening spectacle than this.

The climax of this demonstration is furnished by the helpless way in which all hands turn to Mr. Root, as if he were a magician, and beg him to come to Albany and pull them out of the hole; hypnotize the warring factions into friendship, still the clamor, and tell them what to do next. Perhaps the Republicans do need a strong man to coerce them into being good. Normally in such a case they would turn to the governor they elected, but he seems as helpless as they, and apparently they never think of asking him to use the rod on them; they bare their backs only to the switch of the ex-senator.

Mr. Root is thus invited to become the governor, senate and assembly of the state of New York, positions to which he was not elected. He spoke prophetically when he said that in laying down the senatorship he would not leave public life. So far as action, efficiency and capacity for government are concerned he is qualified for his new task. He seems to have given up the senatorship only to receive the offer of an even higher office. The position tendered to him is that of the government of the state of New York, executive and legislative.

The Early Rising Hypocrite

New York Tribune: There is no pride so overbearing as that of the person who gets up early in the morning. Catching you as you are sneaking into breakfast at 9:30, he speaks arrogantly of the long walk he has taken, of the many chapters he has read; he insults you with a description of the sunrise.

He tells you that it means everything to him to start the day right; that the early hours are worth all the others put together. Noticing that you are still sleepy, he informs you that he never in his life felt more energetic. Above all, he is provokingly cheerful. He laughs heartily. He claps you on the back. He is aggressively jocular.

Now, you know down in your heart that he is a hypocrite; that he is boasting of something that is really quite unusual with him. For people who have to get up early every morning never mention the fact except to deplore it. You know perfectly well that his spryness on this particular morning is due not to habit but to some special circumstance, his alarm clock went off at the wrong hour, or the man in the next room got up to take a train and made a noise with his luggage. There is a lame reason behind all this superciliousness; he is trying to make a virtue out of an accident.

You resent it. You realize that you are lazy and sleepy; but, then, that is your own affair. What right has he to make insinuations as to the sloth of your arising? What right has he to flout you with his stupid energy?

Never mind. Wait till you get up early some morning, wait till the day when some noise or other untoward occurrence causes you to desert your couch of repose about the time Aurora sets her rosy fingers to work—then won't you crow and strut, worse than any other cock of the dawn! Then won't you humiliate your friends and family with remarks about the fresh dew on the flowers and the singing of the lark!

Seeking Knowledge.

The hen stood on the garden lot,
Whence all but she had fled;
And didn't leave a planted spot
In the early onion bed.
With vim she worked both feet and legs
And the gardener says he "bets
She was trying to find the kind of eggs
On which the onion sets."

Easy Way.

Baltimore American: "I made Miss Oldgirl mad the other day."

"How so?"

"She said she would give me a few wrinkles, and I said I didn't care to take them, although I knew she had plenty to spare."

'Ma' Sunday on Marriage

Mrs. William A. Sunday in the Philadelphia North American.

> Never be in a hurry to marry.
> Never marry a man for his money.
> Never marry a man you can't respect.
> Never marry a man who you feel does not respect you fully.
> Never marry a man just for a home.
> Never marry a man who drinks.
> —Mrs. Billy Sunday's advice to girls.

Every normal girl looks forward to her marriage as the greatest event in her life. Every normal girl hopes in her heart some day to find a man to whom she can give her heart, her life, herself.

The truest happiness any woman can know is the happiness she finds in the love of her husband, her children and her home.

Mr. Sunday has time after time called attention to the appalling number of divorces in this country, and one of the chief contributors to the ever-increasing divorce evil is the fact that girls will rush headlong into matrimony. Why, you read frequently of marriage as the result of bets, or after big dinner parties, got up on the spur of the moment. Just think of that.

Many girls marry men today of whom they know nothing; marriages take place so often when both man and woman are entirely ignorant of each other and each other's real self. Then, after it is too late, when the first glamor of romance falls, they realize that what they first thought was love was merely misplaced fancy. Is it to be wondered at?

Girls, let me tell you this, and let me say it with the deepest earnestness, even if you are positive you love a man, make him wait before you marry him until you have had time and opportunity to see enough of him to know him. If he loves you truly he will wait. Don't be afraid of losing him.

Never marry a man for his money.

Never marry a man for his position.

Never marry a man you can't respect.

Never marry a man who you feel does not respect you fully.

Never marry merely because you are weary of the struggle for a living and want a home; some one to take care of you.

Don't make the man whom you truly love and who truly loves you wait until he is earning as much money as your father before marrying him. If you love him, you should be willing to marry him and forego many of the comforts to which you may have been accustomed.

When I married Mr. Sunday, we had no home. He was a professional ball player, and a good one, too, but the most important thing and the thing above all was that he was a Christian. But while he played baseball we had no home; we didn't even have a flat to live in. We lived in a hotel room. I accompanied him from city to city, wherever his team played. It was uncomfortable, often; but you see I loved him, and I didn't want to make him wait for me until he could afford to buy a home. It was years and years before we had a home of our own, but we were always happy together.

If the man who loves you is steady, industrious, sober and hard working, you can safely marry him and count upon happiness. The money question will take care of itself. It is your great privilege to be an inspiration to him in his work, and be his real and true helpmeet.

Your hearts only can tell you whether you truly love a man or not, but it shows pretty good sense in a girl when she attaches importance to the advice of her parents. They know more about men and life than you do; often they know more about the man who tells you he loves you than you. They are thinking only of your happiness.

You are throwing away your life's happiness when you marry a man who drinks. If your sweetheart drinks, tell him he must stop drinking if he wants you. If he keeps on drinking, he either loves liquor more than he does you or else that habit of his is stronger than his love for you. The business which pays the smallest dividends in the world is that of marrying men to reform them.

Many husbands and wives who, to all appearances, are living happily together, are yet strangers to each other in their own homes; strangers because they have not shown each other their real selves and thoughts.

My advice, then, is, first, be sure you truly love each other; second, keep your hearts open always to each other.

Learn each other's natures. Let there be no concealment between husband and wife. Faith and trust in each other are so important. Ofttimes a trivial concealment will, when found out, lead to misunderstandings and distrust. Keep your hearts wide open to each other.

Outjabbers the Jabberwock.

Springfield Republican: Congressman A. P. Gardner of this state is getting plenty of advertising out of his exploitation of the unpreparedness of the United States for war. One of the cleverest of the skits at his expense was perpetrated by Congressman J. Hampton Moore in verses which were read on the floor of the house. He used Capt. Gardner's nickname of "Gussie" in his lines, which appeared in the Congressional Record as follows:

The bad bazoo can split the air
And rumple up the sky;
The wild whangdoodle in its lair
Gives yells that terrify.
But we have little fear of those
When, scooting down the way
Upon its twenty thousand toes,
With fire just spouting from its nose,
The growling gussiegardner goes
A-gussying all day!

The proud pazazza makes us pause
Within the side-show tent;
Upon the jabberwock's red jaws
Our eyes in awe are bent.
But what's a mere pazazza's puff
(Although that breath can slay)
When, with its gullet spouting guff
(His larynx being rubber tough),
The growing gussiegardner gruff
Goes gussying all day?

The mad magoozlum roves the main
And swallows up the ships;
The savage sponkus gives us pain
With its one thousand grips.
But they seem Mother Peace's chums
When, with its warlike neigh,
With teeth a-champing in its gums
And ears that beat like muffled drums,
The horrid gussiegardner comes
A-gussying all day!

More Space.

Statesmen, Real and Near

By Fred C. Kelly.

Washington, March 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—John N. Tillman of Fayetteville, Ark., is an ambitious person with cleanly chiseled, statesmanlike features, red hair—red hair with a romantic backward sweep—and a disposition to do those things that he sets out to do.

Consequently, because he made a little agreement in his early boyhood to come to congress he is coming to congress.

More than thirty years ago a pair of youngsters, one of them Tillman, sat under a big oak tree and offhandedly made a boyish compact to meet some day in congress. The plan entered into lightly was not sealed in blood, Huck Finn fashion, or anything like that; still, as Tillman looked at it, an agreement is an agreement. He took the thing seriously and made up his mind to keep the tryst. Ever since that day under the big oak tree he has conducted himself as one having an appointment to fulfil and eager to be on the way.

Both the young men who framed the pledge became lawyers and each served his district as prosecuting attorney. Then one of the young men blew up, so far as sticking to his agreement was concerned. He quit thinking about congress and became a Presbyterian minister.

Now, almost anybody but Tillman might have felt that he was released from his covenant. Tillman, however, isn't that kind. When he tells anybody he will meet him in congress he carries out his part of the contract and goes to congress. If the other fellow wants to fall short of the arrangement, that is the other fellow's affair.

So Tillman never slacked up at all when the other party to the bond notified him that he had entered the ministry and that all political plans were declared off.

After serving as district prosecutor, Tillman became a circuit judge and then was honored by being elected president of the University of Arkansas—the same university he had worked his way through as a boy by means of sweeping floors and performing various other services of a humble nature.

That might have been enough honor for Tillman, and doubtless would have been, except for his agreement. He had told his friend he was going to be on hand at a certain place, and he meant to do just that. When he began his campaign last year he frankly told the voters about his boyish compact, and put it squarely up to them whether he should be able to keep his agreement or not.

"My daytime vision and my dream by night," he freely admitted, in a grand sweep of oratory, "has been the coveted privilege of representing this district in the nation's white-columned capitol."

What else was there for the voters to do? You couldn't go to the polls and force a man to break a pledge, could you?

Furthermore, Tillman has a line of talk that is extremely hard to resist. For example, he was speaking with great fervor one day of his training on the farm. And these words he did say:

"I know what it is to toil and to suffer. I know the grinding exactions of life on the farm. But it is not bad training to be forced out early on November mornings and toast your bare feet in the warm brown leaves where the cow slept; to be thrilled by the amorous kisses of the June sun as you trail the meek-eyed mule up and down the long, but hot corn rows; to get out before daylight and assault the feeble-minded calf, with his foamy lips glued to the full udder, his little tail wiggling in speechless bliss, and wrench him away from his partial mamma, submitting meantime to his butting or his kicks as you tether him to the rail fence, preparatory to securing the family's share of his mother's morning offering, and to coax the warm milk from the black-and-white Holstein and from a half dozen young Jerseys, full of fidgets and brainstorms; to convey while it is yet dark substantial refreshments to eighteen smelly razorbacks, odorous as an emancipation-day picnic; to administer to the lowly mule, to corn him and fodder him and finally to take your life in your hand, and with currycomb and brush to massage his flinching sides and manicure his treacherous hoofs."

When a man can summon so much eloquence in regard to the feeding of a few farm animals, what may he not be expected to say when he gets up in the house of representatives some day to discuss the state of the Union?

Cities and Debt

New York World: The net debt of American municipalities was more than doubled between 1902 and 1913, and nearly quadrupled between 1890 and 1913. Their total debt per capita was $14.79 in 1890, $20.74 in 1902 and $35.81 in 1913.

It is evident from these figures that the problem of public debt in the United States is chiefly a municipal problem.

That the aggregate debt of cities should increase greatly in the past quarter century was to be expected. It has been a time of enormous increase in urban population. In 1890 little more than a third of the people of the United States were living in cities or towns of 2,500 population or more. Now practically one-half the people are found there, and the urban tendency is still strongly operative.

But if city debt must have increased along with increase in city population, why should it have increased so much more than population, as the per capita figures show? Is this a reasonable fact, or rather evidence of a growth so rapid and heterogeneous as to overwhelm the forces for honest and efficient public administration through corrupt politics and ward graft? There is but one answer. Our cities must clean house politically or face bankruptcy.

Men of Ohio.

One of the neatest and most convenient publications of recent months is put out by the Cleveland Leader and Cleveland News jointly. It is called "Men of Ohio," and is made up of a collection of excellent prints of pictures of the most prominent men in the Buckeye state. Men who are known of throughout the country are included in the list, as well as many whose names are familiar only to those who have followed especially the affairs of Ohio within the last few years.

"Men of Ohio" is a valuable addition to the "morgue" of any newspaper, and is sure to serve as a handy illustrator of important news from that state for some years to come.

Reason for Change.

Washington Star: "My doctor says I mustn't worry," said Mr. Groucher.

"Well, I'd get another doctor," replied his wife. "First he says you mustn't drink. Then he says you mustn't smoke. Now he says you mustn't worry. He don't let you do anything that you will enjoy."

First Non-Partisan State Legislature

Suggestions and Comments From the State Press.

Recalls Worthy Bill.

La Porte News: How about the bill to cheapen the price of dynamite that was talked of some time ago? There are so many bills now being introduced before the legislature that some of the best and most worthy will be lost sight of entirely if attention is not frequently called to them.

Dodging Their Duty.

St. Cloud Times: The members of the legislature, upon assuming office, took an oath to support the Constitution of the state. In voting against the taking of a census of the state they violate that oath. The proposition to amend the Constitution so as to eliminate the census requirement is a subterfuge and will be defeated, and ought to be.

Plenty of Time Left.

Red Wing Eagle: The present Minnesota legislature is endeavoring to pass laws specifying how finely or how coarsely a man's tobacco must be cut or ground in order for him to be permitted to chew it. A companion law will most likely be one ordaining how closely our coffee mills must be set. If there is any other absurdity which our present legislature may have overlooked, remember there is time yet.

Wants to Hear the Heads Fall.

Elk River Star-News: The non-partisan legislature being under no obligation to any political party is in a good position to lop off many of those parasites drawing per diem without rendering any service in return. Get busy and let one hear the heads fall.

Legislature on the Jump.

Morris Sun: Since many of the rabbits in the state have been found to be afflicted with tuberculosis, the Battle Lake Review thinks that the legislature ought to create an official rabbit inspector with a fat salary. Perhaps they are waiting until they get the frog law whipped into shape.

Tough on the Children.

International Falls Press: Every member of the legislature who votes or works against an adequate appropriation for the forest service ought to be planted right in the midst of a forest fire with a family of children hanging on to his coat tails. He would then perhaps be a little more considerate of the settlers who are often living in a tinder box. Remember Baudette, Spooner and Hinckley.

Few Laws to Study.

Tower News: Judging by the returns so far from the state legislature, the new laws to learn will be few. Mostly this session has been on the windjamming order rather than a multiplicity of laws to cumber the statute books. After all, it is what they do rather than what they say that counts.

Quality the Important Thing.

St. Peter Free Press: Some people find fault with the legislature for being so slow in grinding out new laws, when as a matter of fact we ought to be thankful if this slow-poke policy were adhered to to the last hour of the session. There is absolutely no need for most of the laws usually passed and on the average the members that introduce the least number of bills are generally the most efficient. Never judge the quality of a lawmaker by the number of bills he introduces.

PRAYER.

Grant, Almighty God, that as Thou hast showed us by evidence so remarkable that all things are under Thy command, and that we who live in this world through Thy favor are as nothing, for Theou couldst reduce us to nothing in a moment—O grant that being conscious of Thy power we may reverently fear Thy hand, and be wholly devoted to Thy glory; and as Thou kindly offerest Thyself to us as a Father, may we be drawn by this kindness and surrender ourselves wholly to Thee by willing obedience, and never labor for anything throughout life but to glorify Thy name as Thou hast redeemed us through Thine only-begotten Son, that so we may also enjoy through Him that eternal inheritance which is laid up for us in heaven. Amen.—"Edwards."

I have none of this world's riches,
Naught of gems, or gold in store,
Small my meed of fame and favor,
Yet let no one call me poor;
For I'm richer than the richest,
When I hear a sweet voice call,
"Do you love me dearly, mamma?
For I love you best of all."

Though old friends may disappoint me,
Till I mourn their lack of love,
Though the idols I have cherished
May at last unworthy prove,
Yet I cannot be discouraged,
Nor my faith in heaven let fall,
While I hear, "I love you, mamma,
Yes, I love you best of all."

There's a brightness in the sunshine,
Childless hearts cannot discern;
There's a tranquil joy in living,
Only mother love can learn.
There's a balm for every sorrow,
While the baby lips enthrall,
With their sweet, "I love you, mamma,
Yes, I love you, best of all."

Dayton, Ohio.

Sure, He Needed a Thimble.

Judge: A bright little newsie entered a business office, and approaching a glum-looking man at one of the desks, began with an ingratiating smile:

"I am selling thimbles to raise money to—"

"Out with you!" interrupted the man. "Wouldn't you like to look at some nice thimbles?"

"I should say not!"

"They're fine, and I'd like to make a sale," he continued.

Turning in his chair to fully face the lad, the grouch caustically inquired:

"What'n seven kinds o' weather do you think I want with a thimble?"

Edging toward the door to make a safe getaway the boy answered:

"Use it for a hat."

The People and the County.

Hastings, Minn., Gazette: St. Louis is the largest county in Minnesota and Texas is the largest state in the Union. Both, with perfect propriety, might have been divided for the ultimate benefit of all concerned, but that day long since passed, and it is quite improbable that a majority of their voters would now consent to a partition, and most assuredly not without submission at the polls. Is the present legislature to continue this kind of business until the close of the "ninety working days?" Have the people no rights at all which their servants are bound to respect?

Twenty Years Ago

From The Herald of this date, 1895.

Mr. Cant introduced in the legislature yesterday a bill to appropriate $15,000 for an iron bridge across the St. Louis river at or near Fond du Lac as a part of the state highway known as the military road, to be built according to plans approved by the secretary of war and to be forever free from toll.

Last night W. E. Richardson entertained Frederick Webber, the visiting Mason, and the eleven members of the Court of Honor at his home at 126 West Third street. Informal speeches were delivered after dinner and an excellent time was enjoyed by all.

The Inman tug Record forced her way out of an ice-locked slip yesterday, and with a party consisting of Capt. and Mrs. B. B. Inman, H. G. Inman, C. W. Culver, Capt. Christy, John P. Gordon and others on board, took a trip out through the canal to try the ice in the lake. It was found to be as hard and solid apparently as in the middle of winter, being twelve to fifteen inches in thickness and not honeycombed in the least.

Bradley & Parsons, grocers, have rented the building on Grand avenue occupied by the Columbia club and will move their business from Hazelwood Park.

The large assembly hall at the Central high school was filled to suffocation last night by the friends and relations of the school children, who, to the number of nearly 500, took part in the physical culture exhibition. The exercises were under the direction of Max Alletzhauser.

The board of public works has declared the street railway bridge between Rice's and Connor's Points as unsafe. The street railway has discontinued the use of the bridge, and a steam ferry will be in use again in a few days to carry passengers to and fro, the same as last season.

At a meeting of the state board of game and fish commissioners held at St. Paul yesterday, the following officers were elected: President, W. S. Timberlake, St. Paul; vice president, William Bird, Fairmont; treasurer, A. F. Ferris, Brainerd; secretary, Fred Von Baumbach, Alexandria. S. F. Fullerton of Duluth, who was appointed to succeed W. P. Andrus as a member of the commission, was elected executive agent.

Duluth temperature at 7 a. m. today, 34 deg. above zero; maximum yesterday, 33 deg. above zero; minimum yesterday, 26 deg. above zero.

John A. Bowman, Sr., of Grand Rapids, Moses E. Clapp, W. H. Fisher and Donald Grant have gone to Venezuela to look up certain interests in that country held by Mr. Bowman.

A Fine Opportunity.

Kansas City Star: A young woman in Chanute, "just for fun," answered a matrimonial advertisement, and the Tribune prints the reply which she received:

Outworn State Governments.

Kansas City Star: Twenty years ago all that was expected of a legislature was to look after the state institutions and then to devote itself to the fight over the senatorship. The business was perfectly simple.

Under the complex conditions of modern industrial life states must face all sorts of problems for the regulation of industry and commerce. Child labor, industrial accidents, the work of women, minimum wage, the regulation of public utilities—these are the problems that claim attention.

Naturally the methods that were adequate for handling the old conditions have been outgrown today. Legislative jams are a call for the commission form of governments for states.

(Readers of The Herald are invited to make free use of this column to express their ideas about the topics of general interest, but discussions of sectarian religious differences are barred. Letters must not exceed 300 words—the shorter the better. They must be written on one side of the paper only, and they must be accompanied in every case by the name and address of the writer though these need not be published. A signed letter is always more effective, however.)

The Herald has received several communications regarding the candidates for city commissioner. No letters either for or against the candidates will be published in the Open Court.

ALASKA'S RAILROAD.

To the Editor of The Herald:
Will you kindly advise through your columns if the Federal government is engaged in or contemplates the construction of a railroad in Alaska, and of whom I can obtain full information relative to this subject. Thanking you in advance, I am, yours very truly,
GEORGE A. WASH.

Coleraine, Minn., March 18.

Write to Congressman Miller at Washington and he will gladly give you the information.—The Editor.

ONE BOUQUET AMONG THE BRICKS

To the Editor of The Herald:
You receive a great plenty of knocks I know. We ministers receive the same. I wish to convey to you my appreciation of your boost to the "Go to Church Sunday." It did much good I know. Yours very sincerely,
R. EDWARD SAYLES.

Duluth, March 18.

A FUTURE PRESIDENT.

To the Editor of The Herald:
I wish you would answer the following questions: I have applied for my citizenship papers and received the first one, am now applying for second. I came here eleven years ago and got married. I have one child—a boy. He is 6 years old and born in Eveleth. Now, sir, can that boy claim a right or is he entitled to be president of the United States of America, his father not being a citizen and his mother the same? Very truly yours,
ORNICK KOTICH.

Eveleth, Minn., March 20.

There is no law to keep the boy from being president. He was born in the United States and will be a citizen when he comes of age.—The Editor.

STOCK SELLING.

To the Editor of The Herald:
Recently an individual presented himself to me offering for sale the stock of a copper company now being organized with the mine located in Arizona. This individual claimed that the ore was on the surface, that it would be an open pit, steam shovel proposition, and that there were millions of tons easily available, etc.; that a certain Minneapolis bank had wanted to get a large block of the stock, that other capitalists were after it, but that the thing was too good to let such persons get a controlling interest; that it was desired to give the people a show; that there were only a limited number of shares left, etc., and that they would issue these at $1 per share, etc. As I understand it Arizona has been diligently explored by prospectors for years, so that nearly every foot of it can be inventoried by mining men. This being the case are you at liberty to print this and advise in your columns if there is a law in this state to protect innocent people who will doubtless be enticed into the scheme. I should very much esteem a brief statement bearing on the point. Sincerely,
R. F.

Duluth, March 19.

If his statements were untrue and he secured any money because of them, he could be prosecuted under the Minnesota laws covering the securing of money under false pretenses. There are several "blue sky" bills now pending in the legislature which will cover such a case if they become law.—The Editor.

HIS SCHEME FOR GETTING MEXICO.

To the Editor of The Herald:
I have just discovered a grand scheme for pacifying Mexico. It's just like this:
Be it resolved, That we do not protest against any outrages in Mexico, nor interfere either by word or by power, but just send secret spies and agitators in there to disturb the people so that they shall continue to fight each other indefinitely until they are all killed off, and the peace of death encompasses the country. Then, the specific hybrids being exterminated, the country will be entirely pacified, and we can all swarm into Mexico, take entire possession of the country and annex it to the grand United States of America without as much as spilling blood or risking a life.
Great scheme, isn't it? We will be like a lamb and speak like a dragon!
Yours truly, PROF. FELIX FAKE.

TIME TO GET BUSY.

To the Editor of The Herald:
I have noticed in your paper of some man in Minneapolis with an eye to business who is about to promote an industry to manufacture toys. He is doing his part in taking up what Germany is letting down. We have to admit the Germans are a very industrious people, who possess a plenty of thrift. However, with the various differences and residences of the foreign nations, it has been a bad wind blowing some good to the United States. But apart from the present necessities of war, we are slow in grasping the real advantages for the future. Now I am daring enough to ask what is the matter with Duluth.
We certainly have a large number of splendid men of ginger, and if we all possessed the same amount of thrift we should not mind the war a particle, but more especially mind our own business. Consequently our city would be booming today. After the war, possibly millions will be wanting to come to America. The question is, is Duluth prepared to receive its share of the crowd. If not, I consider it's time for all to be busy in preparing the proper inducements to attract the immigrants. Let us put on our thinking caps and be producers of something. To provide the people with homes and with a plenty of resources for labor. The present depressed times cause many excuses. Take for granted it is not because of the Democratic administration, or altogether the war, but we are to blame, lots of us for the present hard times.
Respectfully yours, JOHN JEWELL.

DERIVED PLEASURE FROM HIS PLAN.

To the Editor of The Herald:
Through the Open Court, which I know is read extensively, I would like to thank George Stevens, "the bird lover," for a valuable suggestion given through The Herald last fall on feeding the winter birds. All winter long, I have hung the bacon and pork rinds on branches of trees near the house. The consequence was I had a large flock of happy chickadees and woodpeckers. There have been very few snow birds this winter, but quite a few migratory birds—some with beautiful red crests. They have given me much enjoyment on my homestead. Thanking you for the space.

EVENING UP.

To the Editor of The Herald:
I am a poor girl and had a swelling on one side of my face. Doctors cannot do me any good. Could you tell me what I could use to thicken up the other side of my face so as to change my looks, as I am a good looking girl? You will oblige me greatly. Yours truly, MARY D.
Duluth, March 19.

When doctors have failed to find anything to reduce the swelling, The Editor hesitates about trying. You might write Dr. Brady, whose articles appear each evening in The Herald and explain your symptoms fully.—The Editor.

POEMS ASKED FOR.

The Herald acknowledges with thanks the receipt of the following poems: "The Butcher Boy," from Mrs. Moerke of Duluth. "Good-by, Christina Swanson" from F. W. Powers of Rainy River.

Good-by, Christina Swanson.

By yiminy boss, I got a lot of trouble,
I tell you I'm so mad some I can be,
My gal Christina she throw me down last Monday.
She try to make a rummy out of me,
She run around with every Yack and Yohnny,
I say "Christina, by golly, shame on you,"
She laugh to me right in my face,
I tell you I get sore,
There's no use monkeying round
I tank I'm through.
Chorus.
Good-by Christina Swanson,
I'm goin' to yump back to Wisconsin,
You have got har too much Yonson,
Twenty-sex for you,
Good-by Christina Swanson,
I won't stand for this here nonsen,
I'm going back to Hulda Carlson,
Pooh, pooh, for you.

I like Christina, I tank she was a lady,
But now bee gee I tank I was a fool,
In Santa Paul she got another fellar,
She says I am so crazy like a mule,
I get so mad that I scood like to shoot her,
I tell you, Yack, by yolly that's no yoke,
I say, Christina, I will skiddoo,
I got enough from you,
I'm goin' to yump before you got me broke.

WHY DINING CAR CHEFS PREFER KC BAKING POWDER

Those who have had cakes ruined by jarring the stove, slamming the oven door or a heavy footstep, may have wondered how the dining car chef can turn out such marvelous biscuits, hot breads and pastry when his oven is being incessantly jarred and jolted and shaken by the motion of the train.

To get pastry to raise and stay raised under these conditions, a baking powder must be used that continues to give off its leavening gas—that sustains the raise—until the dough is baked through.

Dining Car Chefs have found a baking powder exactly suited to their needs in K C and you will find it just as well suited to your requirements. K C is really a blend of two baking powders, one active as soon as moistened, the other requiring both moisture and heat to start the generation of leavening gas. No matter how moist and rich you make your cake, K C Baking Powder will sustain the raise until a crust is formed and all danger of falling is past.

K C Baking Powder is pure and healthful. It is guaranteed under all pure food laws, and is guaranteed to please you. And it is sold at a reasonable price—no baking powder should sell for more.

NOT EAGER TO WITHDRAW

Evens Says He Will Leave Candidacy in Friends' Hands.

Chris E. Evens, who returned last night from a two months' visit in California, refused to make any statement this morning regarding his withdrawal from the race for commissioner until he had conferred with some of his friends, although he intimated that he will remain in the campaign. In this event both he and William L. Bernard will run, as the latter said before leaving for the state legislature last week that he would withdraw only on the condition that Mr. Evens drop out.

Although more eager to talk about his trip to the coast and the San Francisco fair than of politics, Mr. Evens said that he had heard nothing about either his or Mr. Bernard's withdrawal, and that the matter was news to him when he reached the city last night, coming here by way of St. Paul. He plans to confer with some of his friends, he said, and will probably not decide until Wednesday.

"My friends nominated me and I have accepted," said Mr. Evens this morning. "It is not up to me to dictate to my friends, and I shall leave the entire matter to them. It looks as if I will be in the race, as they have nominated me for the office. However, if they decide that I should drop out, then I will gladly withdraw.

"I forgot all about the election when out on the coast, and it is pretty hard for a man to think of anything else while attending the fair at San Francisco. I was at both the Chicago and St. Louis fairs, but from an artistic standpoint the fair at San Francisco exceeds them both. It is a wonderful sight."

Women to Work.

London, March 22.—More than 7,000 women, representing all classes of society, already have responded to the government's appeal for female workers to take the places of men in business and industry, in order that more recruits may be provided for Lord Kitchener's great army. The offices of the Central Labor exchange were besieged by women Saturday. The majority of them were from the well-to-do middle class.

DEATH ENDS LONG ILLNESS

Mrs. Katherine McDonald Ryan, wife of P. A. Ryan, 524 Fourth avenue east, died at the family home Saturday evening after a long illness. She was 24 years of age.

Funeral services will be held Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock from the Sacred Heart Cathedral, with interment at Calvary cemetery. In addition to Mr. Ryan, she is survived by four sisters. They are: Mrs. G. B. Metske of Chicago, Mrs. Frank Bentley of Phoenix, Ariz.; Mrs. B. Meyers of Tulsa, Okla., and Sister Magdalene of the St. Barbara Institute, Detroit, Mich.

BURGLARS THWARTED.

Enter Phoenix Building But Get Only $1.87 in Pennies.

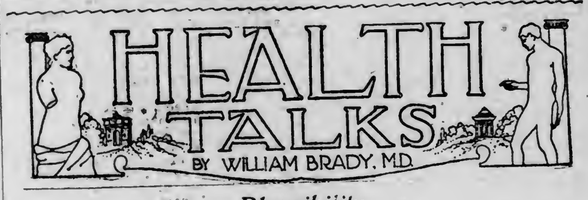
Two burglars, one clad all in blue and the other showing a marked preference for brown, entered the Phoenix building about noon Sunday and after prowling about various offices, were frightened away by the approach of a tenant.

When the alarm was raised, the pair were in the offices of Dr. C. W. Hoppman, dentist, according to a report received by police, and evidently looking for gold used in filling teeth.

Rather than leave empty-handed, one of the visitors picked up a package containing $1.87 in pennies as he was departing. Dr. Hoppman, who reached the office a moment later, reported the theft of the money a minute later when the police arrived. Nothing else was missed.

ROSEAU PHYSICIAN DECLINES POSITION.

Roseau, Minn., March 22.—Dr. George McGillivary, who was elected president of the village council, has declared that he will not qualify. This as lawyers interpret the law, leaves R. J. Bell president of the council, as the law relating to village officers provides that when elected and qualified they shall hold office until their successors are elected and qualified.



Plausibility

NOTHING in the way of medical "literature" is quite so misleading as the near-logic of the advertising man. Even educated physicians must be continually alert to detect the fatal weakness of the arguments put forward in behalf of the new remedies which are daily thrown upon the market. The layman, especially the man afflicted with a smattering of medical or physiological knowledge, "falls" for this logic, as the saying is, to his ultimate regret.

As a conspicuous example of such plausibility the so-called "internal bath" wins over many otherwise cautious or suspicious victims. Of course everybody knows that an enema is sometimes a suitable measure for emptying the bowel, but it is curious how certain invalids can be persuaded that an expensive apparatus is necessary for this purpose. Perhaps the great abuse of the term "autointoxication" helps in the sale of "internal bath" apparatus. At any rate the plausible arguments offered by its promoters serve to convince the prospect that he can't be well and happy unless he "bathes" where nature never intended that he should bathe, once a day.

Tainted Literature.

Another scheme for the extraction of money from the pockets of unfortunates who think they must be "shown" is the distribution of an innocent-looking text book of "hygiene" which is full of fairly accurate statements interspersed at safe intervals with misleading and untrue statements which are designed to persuade the reader that he can be helped only by—well, the name of the nostrum doesn't matter.

If you wish to study the psychology of logic you will find it typically exemplified in the circulars, booklets, imitation typewritten letters and advertising matter of the nostrum manufacturers, both "ethical" and "patent." It influences even the doctors themselves, for one of the shining lights in the great mass of "ethical" (that is, aristocratic) nostrums foisted upon practicing physicians is a mere mixture of clay, glycerine, scent and—plausibility. This costs the patient a pretty price—yet there are physicians who prescribe it as a poultice in preference to the standard and efficient flaxseed meal. In the end it is all the same, the consumer pays dearly for the plausibility.

Questions and Answers.

Artificial Respiration: If not too much trouble, will you please give brief directions for the performance of artificial respiration? And also state whether it is advisable to "roll the drowned person on a barrel."

REPLY.

The simplest, most effective method of making a dead man breathe is this: Place him prone on the ground, with his face turned toward one side, and the palms of his hands down beside his face. Kneel astride of his waist, press your palms downward upon his lower ribs by swaying forward the weight of your body, keeping your arms stiff. Release pressure and rest a few seconds. Then repeat the pressure, at the rate of sixteen times per minute, to imitate natural breathing. This will accomplish more than the spectacular arm pumping business can; it permits water to run out of mouth. Never try to roll a drowning man on a barrel—that will endanger his chances of survival. Every child should be taught this first aid method.

Stopping Hemorrhage: In case of a wound of an arm or leg in which there is severe bleeding, should the tourniquet be applied above or below the wound?

REPLY.

Practically the most effective way to control bleeding from a wound is by direct pressure on the bleeding part with a clean folded handkerchief or clean fingers. If that will not do, then bind the limb above the bleeding point.

TERRIFYING SPECTACLES

Correspondent Tells of the Fierce Battles in the Dardanelles.

Berlin, March 22, via London.—The correspondent at Constantinople of the Wolff bureau telegraphed today a description of the fighting at the Dardanelles on Thursday, March 18, in which the French battleship Bouvet and two British battleships were sent to the bottom. Here follows an abridgment of the correspondent's story of this engagement.

The efforts of the allies to force the straits of the Dardanelles reached their climax in an artillery duel on Thursday, March 18, which lasted seven hours. The entire atmosphere around the Turkish forts was darkened by clouds of smoke from exploding shells and quantities of earth thrown into the air by the projectiles of the French and British warships. The earth trembled for miles around.

Shell Town of Chanak Kale.

The allies entered the straits at 11:30 in the morning and shelled the town of Chanak Kale. Four French and five British warships took part in the beginning. This engagement reached its climax at 1:30, when the fire of the allies was concentrated upon Fort Hamidieh and the adacent fortified positions.

The attack of modern marine artillery upon strong land forts presented an interesting as well as terrifying spectacle. At times the forts were completely enveloped in smoke. At 2 o'clock the allies changed their tactics and concentrated their fire upon individual batteries, but it was evident that they found difficulty in getting the range. Many of their shells fell short, cast up pillars of water, or went over the forts to explode in the town.

Bouvet Sinks.

At 3:15, when the bombardment was at its hottest, the French battleship Bouvet was seen to be sinking at the stern. A moment later her bows swung clear of the water and she was going down. Roaring cheers from the Turkish garrison and forts greeted the sight. Torpedo boats and other craft of the allies hurried to the rescue, but they were successful in saving only a few men. Besides having been struck by a mine the Bouvet was severely damaged above the water line by shell fire. One projectile struck her forward deck. A mast also was shot away and hung overboard. It could be seen that the Bouvet, when she sunk, was endeavoring to gain the mouth of the straits.

This, however, was difficult, owing apparently to the fact that her machinery had been damaged. Shortly after the sinking of the Bouvet, a British ship was struck on the deck amidships and compelled to withdraw from the fight. Then another British vessel was badly damaged and at 3:45 was seen to retire under a terrific fire from the Turkish battery. This vessel ran in toward the shore. For a full hour the allies tried to protect her with their guns, but it was apparent that she was destined for destruction. Eight effective hits showed the hopelessness of the situation for this vessel. Then she withdrew toward the mouth of the Dardanelles, which she reached in a few minutes under a hail of shells. The forts continued firing until the allies were out of range.

Within Range of Turks' Guns.

This was the first day when the warships attacking the Dardanelles kept within range of the Turkish guns for any considerable length of time. The result for them was terrible, owing to the excellent marksmanship from the Turkish batteries. The allies fired on this day 2,000 shells without silencing one shore battery. The result has inspired the Turks with confidence and they are looking forward to further engagements with calm silence.

was authorized to "direct collectors of customs under the jurisdiction of the United States to withhold clearance from any vessel, American or foreign, which he has reasonable cause to believe to be about to carry fuel, arms, ammunition, men or supplies to any warship or tender, or supply ship of a belligerent nation, in violation of the obligations of the United States as a neutral nation."

Vessel to Be Forfeited.

It further provides "that in case any such vessel shall depart or attempt to depart from the jurisdiction of the United States without clearance for any of the purposes set forth, the owner or master or person or persons having charge or command of such vessels shall severally be liable to a fine of not less than $2,000 or more than $10,000, or to imprisonment not to exceed two years, or both, and in addition, such vessel shall be forfeited to the United States."

Officials would not disclose what grounds they had for believing that the Odenwald came under the terms of the resolution.

Report Made.

This report was received today from Lieut. Col. Burnham, commanding the Porto Rican regiment:

"Hamburg - American commercial steamer Odenwald attempted to leave this port about three this afternoon (March 21) without clearance papers. At request of collector of customs to prevent departure and in compliance with instructions in your telegram March 19, warning shots were fired with machine guns and one shot across her bows with five-inch rifle from El Morro. Ship then came to anchor under El Morro. None was injured. Ship returned to her anchorage in the harbor. In presence of collector of customs March 19, I personally informed and warned German consul and commander of Odenwald that force would be used if necessary to prevent vessel leaving without clearance."

in East Prussia, is definitely in the hands of the Russians but the place is of little strategic importance as it is surrounded by swamps, which, in view of the breakup of winter, make impossible any further advance from this direction. The Memel movement does, however, take the invaders into a part of East Prussia hitherto free from invasion and it may for this reason have some political effect.

At the other end of the line the Russians are advancing in Bukowina in the direction of Czernowitz. They are now due east of the city on the line of the river Pruth and they need only to cross the river again to be in possession of the capital of Bukowina.

French Statement.

Paris, March 22, via London, 3:40 p. m.—The official statement given out today by the French war department says:

"To the north of Arras, at Notre Dame De Lorette, a German counter attack on Saturday evening deprived us of some sections of trenches. We recaptured them yesterday.

"At La Boisselle, northeast of Albert, mine warfare continues. After having blown up one of the enemy's galleries we occupied the greater part of the pit formed.

During Sunday Reims received about fifty shells.

"In the Argonne we inflicted two serious reverses on the enemy. Near Bagatelle we blew up three mines and two companies of our troops stormed a German trench in which they maintained their positions despite strong counter attacks. Five hundred yards from there the enemy, after exploding two mines and bombarding our trenches, rushed to attack on a front of about 250 yards. After some very hot hand-to-hand fighting our assailants were hurled back, despite the arrival of their reinforcements. Our artillery caught them under its fire as they were falling back and inflicted very heavy losses on them."

German Statesment.

Berlin, March 28, by wireless to Sayville.—An official statement given out today by the German headquarters says:

"A fresh attempt to take the German position on the south slope of the Lorette heights was made last night, but resulted in failure. Another French night attack, this time north of Le Mesnil, in the Champagne district, also was without success. Furthermore, all the French efforts to win back the position at Reich Ackerkopf resulted in failure.

"The Russians yesterday were driven from Memel, on the Baltic sea, in East Prussia, after a short engagement, to the south of the town, followed by tenacious fighting in the streets. Under the protection of Russian troops a Russian mob looted the private property of German citizens in Memel. Carloads of goods were conveyed across the frontier. A special report on this looting will be published.

"North of Mariampol, Russian attacks have been repulsed with heavy Russian losses. West of the Orzye river, near Jadorosak, to the northeast of Przasnyysz and to the northwest of Ciachanow, Russian attacks by night and by day have broken down under the German fire. Russian prisoners to the number of 420 were captured."

Fierce Assaults Continue.

Petrograd, March 22, via London.—On the whole Galician front, from Cornitze almost to the Roumanian frontier, there has been for the last four days virtually a continuance of fierce assaults and counter-assaults, during which trenches and small villages have changed hands as many as four times.

Although this continued activity has brought about no change of real importance in the Galician situation, it is interesting as evidence that the Austrian artillery is still capable of real resistance against the Russian campaign in Eastern Galicia. The Austrian attacks continue with violence and persistence, and this in spite of the fact that they apparently have lost the security of their foothold at Stanislaus and in the Stry region.

Austrians Forced Back.

A study of the daily records of this fighting, as received in Petrograd, shows that despite their aggressive activity the Austrians are being forced to the south and closer to the Carpathian mountains through the passes of which two months ago they began an invasion, the purpose of which was to relieve the garrison at Przemysl and to recapture the territory lost at the outset of the war. The effectiveness of the Russian artillery apparently has played a considerable part in the checking of the Austrian drives in the direction of Przemysl. These efforts are still being continued, but Russian military observers declare the chances of success are diminishing for the reason that the main German and Hungarian forces are now too far from the Przemysl fortress to offer proper support to such a movement.

Stopped By Russian Fire.

Repeated Austrian attacks on a wide front near Gorlitza have been stopped by the Russian fire. After apparently abandoning hope of success in this region, the Austrians unexpectedly brought up reinforcements and delivered three fresh attacks in quick succession. Each resulted in failure. At the same time a Russian advance in the direction of Svednik resulted in the Russian occupation of a row of villages extending to the south of this town. Attack after attack by the Austrians to the south of Koslowka ended in failure with considerable losses.

PRZEMYSL SURRENDERS TO RUSSIAN TROOPS

important fortified town in Galicia which is still in the hands of the Austrians is Cracow, in northwestern Galicia, close to the German border.

Early Russian Plan.

In the early days of the war the Russian offensive campaign, as outlined unofficially, contemplated the invasion of Germany through East Prussia, on the north, and simultaneously into Silesia from Galicia. The Russians succeeded in penetrating Galicia, but the success of the Austrians in holding Przemysl and Cracow blocked attempts to invade Germany across the Silesian border.

The siege of Przemysl has been one of the most picturesque phases of the war in the east. The Austrian garrison defended the city with determination and vigor, and during the earlier months inflicted considerable losses on the Russians by frequent sorties. The only means of communication with the outside world was by wireless telegraphy and aeroplanes.

City Nearly Normal.

Although there have been several reports recently that the surrender of Przemysl was imminent, news from the city itself described conditions there as nearly normal, except for the regulations imposed by the military authorities. All supplies of food were taken over by the army officials, who issued rations to soldiers and civilians alike. The last direct word from Przemysl before the announcement of its surrender was that the Russian attacks were infrequent and that the defenders had little to do.

Przemysl was well stocked with ammunition and provisions when the siege began, although there was a sharp discrepancy between Russian and Austrian estimates of the length of time it would be able to hold out. There have been indications recently that hunger was an effective ally of the Russians, for it was reported that aeroplanes were making daily flights to Przemysl with cargoes of provisions.

Aeroplane With Food.

Last week the Russians brought down an Austrian aeroplane said to have been laden with tinned beef for the Przemysl garrison.

The fall of Przemysl was forecast in a Petrograd dispatch of last Wednesday, which said that the capitulation of the fortress was a matter of only a few days. Austrian soldiers captured by the Russians during unsuccessful sorties said that the garrison was existing on famine rations and that the hospitals were crowded. The outer defenses of the city were said to have been put out of commission.

Key to Austrian Empire.

Przemysl has been described as the key to the Austrian empire. The opinion has been expressed by Russian commentators that its occupation would facilitate operations against the interior of Austria, which hitherto had been attended by only insignificant results. Beyond Przemysl lies the great and prosperous wheat country of Austria.

The city lies sixty miles west of Lemberg, which the Russians captuerd several months ago. It is a thriving city of about 50,000 inhabitants, the large majority of whom are Poles. It is situated on the San river and is the seat of a Roman Catholic bishop and a Greek Catholic uniat bishop. It was founded in the eighth century, and in the seventeenth century was invaded by Tartars, Cossacks and Swedes, and was virtually destroyed. It was soon rebuilt, however, and became an important commercial and military center. Its chief articles of trade are grain and lumber. Milling and the refining of petroleum are carried on there extensively. The city was defended strongly by outer and inner forts, well equipped with modern artillery.

Searchlights were turned upon the clouds, anti-air craft guns opened fire, and aeroplanes arose to attack the Zeppelins, but their fire was handicapped by a heavy mist.

An official communication regarding the raid said it served only to show how well the defensive arrangements would work out when put to test. The statement follows:

"Between 1:15 and 3 o'clock this morning, four Zeppelins started toward Paris from the direction of Compiegne following the valley of the Oise. Two were compelled to return before reaching Paris, one at Couen (ten miles north of Paris), the other at Mantes (on the Seine thirty-six miles from Paris.) The other two were attacked by anti-air craft guns and only passed over outlying districts of the northwestern part of Paris, and neighboring suburbs. They withdrew after dropping a dozen bombs, some of which did not explode. The damage was unimportant. Seven or eight persons were injured, but only one seriously.

"The Zeppelins were fired upon by anti-aircraft guns. One appeared to have been hit. The aeroplane squadron took part in the action, but mist hampered pursuit.

"Summing up, the Zeppelin raid of Paris was a complete failure. It only served to demonstrate how well the defensive arrangements work. The population was calm. On their way back the Zeppelins dropped a dozen incendiary or explosive bombs on Compiegne, doing only unimportant damage. Three bombs were dropped on Ribecourt and Dreslecourt to the north of Compiegne without result."

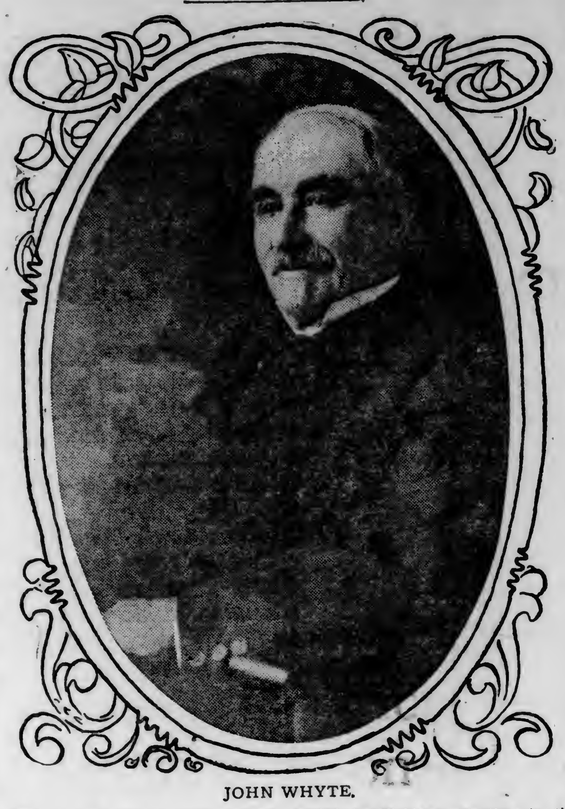
OUCH! LUMBAGO! RUB PAINS FROM SORE, LAME BACK

Rub Backache Away With Small Trial Bottle of Old, Penetrating "St. Jacob's Oil."

Back hurt you? Can't straighten up without feeling sudden pains, sharp aches and twinges? Now listen! That's lumbago, sciatica or maybe from a strain, and you'll get relief the moment you rub your back with soothing, penetrating "St. Jacobs Oil." Nothing else takes out soreness, lameness and stiffness so quickly. You simply rub it on your back and out comes the pain. It is harmless and doesn't burn the skin.

Limber up! Don't suffer! Get a small trial bottle of old, honest "St. Jacobs Oil" from any drug store, and after using it just once, you'll forget that you ever had backache, lumbago or sciatica, because your back will never hurt or cause any more misery. It never disappoints and has been recommended for 60 years.

PIONEER LUMBERMAN DIES AFTER LONG ILLNESS



JOHN WHYTE.

After a long illness, John Whyte, for fifteen years prominently identified with lumber interests in Northern Minnesota, died at his home, 1631 East First street, Sunday morning. He was 71 years of age, and had not taken an active part in business for several years.

Mr. Whyte was born in Marseilles, France, June 24, 1844, and during the early years of his life spent most of his time on the sea. He visited all of the large ports of the world during his service on ship board, and made several trips to obscure spots in the Pacific and South Atlantic oceans.

In 1878 he came to this country, and settled in Michigan, starting in the lumber business during the same year. Three years later he became associated with the Alger-Smith Lumber company of Detroit, Mich., and remained with that company up to the time of his death. He came to Duluth in 1909 as the Alger-Smith representative.

Mr. Whyte was well known in fraternal circles. For forty years he has been a member of Masonic orders. He is survived by a widow and three sons. The sons are Chester and Elmer of this city and Allan Whyte of Seattle, Wash.

Funeral services will be held from the family residence Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Rev. R. Edward Sayles of the First Baptist church will officiate.

ATTENTION, SIR KNIGHTS!

All members of Duluth Commandery, No. 18, and sojourning sir knights are requested to meet at the Masonic Temple, Tuesday, March 23, at 2 p. m., for the purpose of attending the funeral of our late Sir Knight John Whyte.

to the special comittee that reported it for passage, with a view to considering these amendments.

The friends of the bill, it was understood, were inclined to accept amendments leaving the grain inspection service under the railroad and warehouse commission and abolishing some of the proposed advisory boards, but not much besides. Opponents of the bill were expected to offer still other amendments, and it was even thought possible that some of the enemies of the measure might move to indefinitely postpone it on the spot.

If the move to re-refer it to the committee should prevail, future action would depend on how the sentiment of the house is gauged. If it appears that there is no probability of its passing, the committee may report in a resolution calling for a commission to study the question of reorganizing the state's system of civil administration and to report to the next legislature. If this is done, it will be the end of the bill for this session. Meanwhile the seven Gordon bills are a special order for Wednesday, and if the efficiency bill is put over they will again have the right of way by a sort of "after you, my dear Alphonse" system.

Appropriation Bills.

The house this forenoon took up the twenty-five appropriation bills that were to have been a special order for Saturday and were left in the air by adjournment over that day. After wrangling for awhile over the first bill, that appropriating $150,000 yearly for the forestry service, the house on motion of Representative C. H. Warner of Aitkin, and by a vote of 56 to 48, referred the entire list back to the appropriations committee for action. This leaves some of them pretty much up in the air, as they involve legislative issues which the house must decide. However, the argument that the committee should have investigated these bills and reported its findings to the house, instead of asking the house for its advice on them, prevailed and the whole list went back to the committee.

When the forestry bill was up, Representative Searles, as a friend of the bill, moved to cut the appropriation to $75,000 yearly, as it is at present, and Representative A. V. Anderson moved to make it $40,000.

Representatives Fred Bessette and S. J. Searls of Carlton led the fight for the bill, but the reference back to the committee prevented decisive action.

Reverse Report Overturned.

Representative Theodore Christianson of Dawson this morning succeeded in overturning an adverse report of the temperance committee on his bill forbidding saloon keepers to cash checks, and the bill was placed on general orders. The committee recommended it for indefinite postponement, but the house adopted Mr. Christianson's amendment to the report by a vote of 66 to 29.

Woman's Reformatory.

The bill creating a woman's reformatory and appropriating $30,000 for a site was recommended for passage by the state prison committee.

The house elections committee reported without recommendation Senator W. A. Campbell's bill providing that primary elections shall be held on Monday's instead of Tuesdays.

The Sawyer bill providing a corrupt practices system for speakership contests was reported out by the judiciary committee without recommendation.

The senate did not meet until this afternoon.

TRYING TO STIR UP TROUBLE FOR U. S.

Dr. Shailer Mathews Says There Is Concerted Movement in East.

Chicago, March 22.—That certain interests are constituting a well-defined movement in the United States, Japan and China to promote unfriendly relations between the first two nations, was the assertion of Prof. Shailer Mathews, dean of the University of Chicago divinity school, who returned to Chicago yesterday. Dr. Mathews has been in Japan with Dr. Sidney L. Gulick as representative of the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America.

"Extraordinary attempts are being made to involve the United States and Japan," he said. "False news has been spread persistently and widely. In Japan, it is believed there is a definite propaganda by an interested nation. The city of Peking has been and is a persistent source of these stories.

"There is no native anti-American spirit in Japan."

Dr. Mathews was received by Count Okuma, the Japanese premier, and Baron Kato, the foreign minister, following over with them the problems aroused by anti-American agitation in Japan and anti-Japanese agitation in America.

"From our conversation with representative men of affairs and diplomats we arrived at the firm conviction that there is some deliberate program behind the agitation.

"The program has the one object of weakening the peaceful relations of the two countries."

A CLEAR COMPLEXION

Ruddy Cheeks—Sparkling Eyes —Most Women Can Have.

Says Dr. Edwards, a Well-Known Ohio Physician.

Dr. F. M. Edwards for 17 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave to his patients a prescription made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets, you will know them by their olive color.

The tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, which cause a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter that one's system collects.

If you have a pale face, sallow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headaches, a listless, no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, you take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results.

Thousands of women, as well as men, take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets now and then just to keep in the pink of condition.

THIS is the caution applied to the public announcement of Castoria that has been manufactured under the supervision of Chas. H. Fletcher for over 30 years—the genuine Castoria. We respectfully call the attention of fathers and mothers when purchasing Castoria to see that the wrapper bears his signature in black. When the wrapper is removed the same signature appears on both sides of the bottle in red. Parents who have used Castoria for their little ones in the past years need no warning against counterfeits and imitations, but our present duty is to call the attention of the younger generation to the great danger of introducing into their families spurious medicines.

It is to be regretted that there are people who are now engaged in the nefarious business of putting up and selling all sorts of substitutes, or what should more properly be termed counterfeits, for medicinal preparations not only for adults, but worse yet, for children's medicines. It therefore devolves on the mother to scrutinize closely what she gives her child. Adults can do that for themselves but the child has to rely on the mother's watchfulness.

Central Drug Co., of Detroit, Mich., says: "We consider your Castoria in a class distinct from patent medicines and commend it."

Christy Drug Stores, of Pittsburg, Pa., say: "We have sold your Castoria for so many years with such satisfactory results that we cannot refrain from saying a good word for it when we get a chance."

Jacob Bros., of Philadelphia, Pa., say: "We take pleasure in recommending Fletcher's Castoria as one of the oldest and best of the preparations of the kind upon the market."

Hess & McCann, of Kansas City, Mo., say: "Your Castoria always gives satisfaction. We have no substitute for it and only sell 'The Kind You Have Always Bought,' the original."

The Voegeli Bros., of Minneapolis, Minn., say: "We wish to say that we have at all times a large demand for Fletcher's Castoria at all of our three stores and that it gives universal satisfaction to our trade."

Polk Miller Drug Co., of Richmond, Va., says: "Your Castoria is one of the most satisfactory preparations we have ever handled. It seems to satisfy completely the public demand for such an article and is steadily creating a growing sale by its merit."

P. A. Capdau, of New Orleans, La., says: "We handle every good home remedy demanded by the public and while our shelves are thoroughly equipped with the best of drugs and proprietary articles, there are few if any which have the unceasing sale that your Castoria has."

M. C. Dow, of Cincinnati, Ohio, says: "When people in increasing numbers purchase a remedy and continue buying it for years; when it passes the fad or experimental stage and becomes a household necessity, then it can be said its worth has been firmly established. We can and do gladly offer this kind of commendation to Fletcher's Castoria."

SUPERIOR

Death Came Suddenly.

The body of Joseph Fisher, aged 65, a woodsman, employed by the St. Croix Lumber company near Hines, Wis., was brought yesterday to Superior. Fisher dropped dead from heart failure Saturday afternoon. He complained of feeling ill and dropped his ax. Starting for the camp he had gone only a few feet when he fell dead. Relatives in St. Paul are expected to arrive today to take charge of the body.

Killed By Train.

Peter Goldelis, aged 23, a laborer, was killed in the Soo railroad yards Saturday evening by the northbound Minneapolis passenger train. The police are of the opinion that the man committed suicide while his friends scout the idea. The accident occurred near the company's yards at Twenty-eighth street, the man being hit by the pilot and thrown about forty feet. He lived about twenty minutes after the accident. The body was identified the yesterday morning by friends of the yesterday morning by friends of the man who said he had boarded at 1326 Cedar avenue. The funeral will be held from there tomorrow morning.

AUSTRIANS ATTACK MONTENEGRIN FRONT.

Havre, via Paris, March 22.—A dispatch from Cettinje says the Austrians conducted a heavy artillery firo on all the Montenegrin fronts on March 17 and 18. Several Austrian infantry attacks directed at points near Grahovo are said to have been repulsed by the Montenegrins, who suffered only slight losses.

Accepts Crookston Call.

Crookston, Minn., March 22.—Rev. P. E. Moen of Howard, S. D., has accepted the call extended to him by the United Lutheran church of this city and will preach his first sermon in Crookston July 10.

Case Further Complicated.

Washington, March 22.—France has conditioned her offer to buy the cotton cargo of the American steamer Dacia, before a prize court at Brest, on the establishment of the American citizenship of its owners. The American embassy in Paris today so informed the state department. As that question is now at issue, the case is further complicated.

Lorimer Pleads Not Guilty.

Chicago, March 22.—William Lorimer and three other officials of the former La Salle Street National bank today pleaded not guilty to Federal Indictments charging them with irregularities in the management of the bank. The others were Charles G. Fox, Thomas McDonald and Joseph H. Gallagher.

Quickly Relieves Without Distress

The congestion of waste and refuse from the stomach, fermenting in the bowels, generates poisonous gases that occasion distress and invite serious illness. Health and comfort demand that this congestion be speedily relieved and the fcul mass expelled.

The well-founded objection most people have to the violence of cathartic and purgative agents is overcome by using the combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin that is sold in drug stores under the name of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. A dose at night brings relief next morning, without discomfort or inconvenience. A free trial bottle can be obtained by writing to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 452 Washington St., Monticello, Ills.

Tonight From 7 to 10
Spring Style Exhibit at Duluth Shops
No Selling This Evening; Exhibition Only

Come down town this evening. The shops are radiant with new and lovely things, the gorgeous coloring of a thousand spring creations. This afternoon, at five, those mysterious curtains were removed from the show windows, revealing the first glad rapture of new colors—new styles—the elaborate beauty of window decorations never before seen in Duluth!

But the real show comes this evening with the Style Exhibit at Duluth Shops, open from 7 to 10 for inspection and exhibition only. It will be a gala occasion for all Duluth. From the fashion centers at home and abroad, from eastern mills and markets, Duluth merchants have brought an intensely interesting assemblage of new and attractive things.

The Spring Style Exhibit will continue during regular business hours Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, with the selling of new Spring goods. But tonight, for exhibition only, will be the real occasion. Come on down town and bring the family. They will all enjoy it.

This invitation is extended to you through the courtesy of The Duluth Herald in behalf of Duluth Shops.

THE VARIETIES OF POTATOES RECOMMENDED FOR MINNESOTA

By OTTO I. BERGH,
Superintendent of North Central Experiment Station,
Grand Rapids, Minn.

When purchasing seed potatoes for this year's crop we wish to urge the farmers to confine themselves to the varieties of potatoes named in the following list, which varieties are recommended by both the Minnesota State Potato Growers' association and the Minnesota Crop Improvement association, believing that such standardization will promote the potato-growing industry in the state by limiting the kinds and by raising and unifying the quality of the potatoes to be put on the market and thereby create a greater demand in the potato markets of the country for Minnesota stock. For these reasons we also suggest that the county fair boards, in making out their premium lists for this year, include only the seven groups named below.

Late Varieties.

OVAL TYPE.

1. Purple flowers and purple stock: Rural New Yorker, Carmen No. 3, Sir Walter Raleigh.
2. White flowers and green stalk: Green Mountain, Carmen No. 1, McKinley.

OBLONG TYPE.

1. Burbank.
2. Russet or Netted Gem, recommended only for special localities having heavy, rich or peat (muck) soils.

Early Varieties.

1. Early Ohio.
2. Triumph.
3. Cobler.

In order to help the farmers recognize the varieties of potatoes named above, we are giving the following brief description of each variety recommended:

Group 1, Late Oval Type—Rural New Yorker, Carmen No. 3 and Sir Walter Raleigh.

Tubers—Broadly round-flattened to short, oblong or distinctly oblong-flattened; skin, creamy white.

Flowers—Central portion of corolla, deep violet, with the purple growing lighter toward the outer portion; five points of corolla white.

Tubers—Moderately to distinctly oblong, usually broad-flattened; skin, a dull creamy or light russet color, frequently having russet brown splashes toward the seed end.

Sprouts—Base, creamy white, but occasionally tinged with magenta; leaf scales and tips, creamy white or tinged with lilac to magenta.

Flowers—White.

Group 1, Late Oblong Type—Burbank.

Tubers—Long, cylindrical to somewhat flattened, inclined to be slightly spindle-shaped; skin, white to light creamy white, smooth and glistening.

Flowers—White.

Group 2, Late Oblong Type—Russet or Netted Gem.

Tubers—Long, cylindrical to somewhat flattened, inclined to be slightly spindle-shaped; skin, deep russet or netted, giving a rather rough appearance.

Flowers—White.

Group 1, Early Variety—Early Ohio.

Sprouts—Base, leaf scales and tips more or less deeply suffused with carmine-lilac to violet-lilac or magenta.

Flowers—White.

Group 2, Early Variety—Triumph.

Tubers—Roundish; skin, creamy white, with more or less numerous splashes of red, or carmine, or solid red; maturing very early.

Sprouts—Base, leaf scales and tips more or less deeply suffused with reddish violet.

Flowers—Very light rose-purple.

Group 3, Early Variety—Cobler.

Tubers—Roundish; skin, creamy white.

Sprouts—Base, leaf scales and tips slightly or distinctly tinged with reddish violet or magenta; in many cases the color is absent.

Flowers—Light rose-purple; under intense heat may be almost white.

From the beginning, let everything about him be serene, let his clothes be light and loose, let his tiny lungs have air to grow on; and above all—let his little stomach get the habit of good digestion from the right food.

Cow's milk brings indigestion, colic, and worse—sickness. Your breast milk is the right food for your baby. If you have not enough, or if it doesn't quite agree, give him

Nestlé's Food

Where one mother used it seven years ago, five use it today. Because with the wider knowledge of babies' needs, mothers know that Nestlé's is so near mother's milk the baby won't feel the difference.

In Nestlé's the curd of the milk is soft and fleecy as in mother's milk. The best cow's milk is the basis of Nestlé's Food—milk from healthy cows in sanitary dairies, carefully inspected. To it are added the food elements that cow's milk does not contain, and that baby needs—the things that put roses in your baby's cheeks and make his little body strong and healthy.

It comes to you a dry powder in an air-tight can and to prepare it you simply add water and boil.

CATHOLICS WANT PEACE

Churches Observe Peace Day and Pray That War May End.

Prayer of Pope Read and Special Services Are Held.

Roman Catholic church throughout the world yesterday observed Peace Sunday in compliance with directions from Pope Benedict XV, who sent a prayer from Rome, which was read at the Sacred Heart cathedral last night by Father Hugh Floyd. Bishop James McGolrick officiated at the special vesper services and, in his sermon, invoked divine providence to give back to the world peace and tranquility.

The peace prayer was written by his holiness and was sent to every Roman church in the world, with a decree from Cardinal Gasparri, secretary of state for the Vatican, prescribing in detail the form of service for Passion Sunday.

Besides the reading of the papal prayer for peace at all masses, special services were held, as prescribed by Cardinal Gasparri. These included solemn high masses and special sermons urging the people to pray individually for a restoration of peace in Europe. The Blessed Sacrament was exposed to view in virtually all the churches throughout the day and in the evening special vespers services took place.

Cardinal Farley was present at solemn high mass in St. Patrick's cathedral in New York city; Cardinal Gibbons attended services in Baltimore, and in the cathedrals of other large cities, archbishops either officiated or were present at services.

SEES PROSPERITY ON EVERY HAND

Says Prosperity Has Arrived With Lots More to Come.

Washington, March 22.—"If there are hard times during the Wilson administration I have failed to find it," said Edward D. Easton, president of the American Graphophone company of New York, in an interview here today. "Never in thirty years' business experience have I ever found business so good. As far as my own contact with the commercial world is concerned we are now at the height of prosperity, and the best part of it is that we are going higher. Prospects everywhere, as far as my vision, are rosier than they have been for years.

"As a practical illustration of prosperity, the American Graphophone company is about to resume common dividends which were suspended under the Roosevelt administration. At that time business men everywhere found it necessary to retrench and to cut profits and dividends. This was especially true with manufacturers of luxuries, or things other than necessities. However, despite all the clamor of 'poor business' and 'hard times' we have found it possible to resume dividends at a higher rate than we were paying when forced to discontinue them under the Roosevelt administration; and what is more, I have just let contracts for the erection of a $250,000 addition to our plant at Bridgeport, Conn. We are paying higher wages than ever before in the history of Bridgeport, which is essentially a factory city, and are giving the men shorter hours for more pay than they ever saw before. Furthermore, on a trip to the Pacific coast, just completed, wherever I made my headquarters, I found evidences, not of returning prosperity, but prosperity that had arrived in huge chunks with lots more to come. As I contemplate this, it recalls to mind my original thought when I heard the news of Woodrow Wilson's nomination. This was that the Democrats had done the wisest thing they had ever attempted. Wilson is certainly the greatest president the country has ever had."

Edward D. Easton, who gave this interview, has voted the Republican ticket all his life.

WILL ASSEMBLE AT BRAINERD

State Convention of Sunday School Workers Next Month.

The fifty-seventh annual convention of the Evangelical Sunday schools of Minnesota will meet at Brainerd, April 8-11.

The organization back of this convention is the Minnesota Sunday association, through which the Evangelical denominations are co-operating to carry "The Bible by the hand of the living teacher to every man, woman and child in the state." The officers of the association are: President, J. H. Martin, Minneapolis; vice president, W. D. Willard, Mankato; general secretary, A. M. Locker, St. Paul.

Christian co-operation is the vital principle of this association and its scope is most comprehensive, being part of the great organized Sunday school movement which heads up in the World's Sunday School association—an army of 32,000,000 Sunday school teachers, officers and scholars.

The international association stands between the world's association and the state association. Each county in the state has its county association, and the counties are divided into from two to twenty-two districts, each holding at least one convention each year, thus bringing a Sunday school convention almost to the door of every Sunday school worker in Minnesota.

The annual state convention is the climax of this Sunday school convention system. The program of this year's convention at Brainerd, April 8-11 surpasses that of previous years, both as to the list of instructors and lecturers as well as to the choice and arrangement of subjects. Every phase of Sunday school work will be presented with Sunday school evangelism emphasized all along the line.

There will be twenty-six sessions of the convention. The program of the six general sessions will be strongly inspirational, while the twenty sessions of the "School of Methods" will be very practical. Methods which have been tried and proven successful will be presented by successful Sunday school workers.

There will be six sections of the "School of Methods"; administrative, religious education, elementary, teen age, adult, and Sunday school association officers. This arrangement makes it possible for a Sunday school to begin to train a leader for each of its departments by sending him as a delegate to this convention. Every Evangelical church in the state can afford to send at least three of its Sunday school leaders to this convention.

Among the convention lectures and instructors are: Miss Margaret Slattery, Boston; Prof. W. S. Athearn, Des Moines, Iowa; Dr. W. A. Brown, Chicago; Prof. W. A. Stearns, Fargo, N. D.; W. D. Stem, Des Moines, Iowa; Rev. F. H. Brigham, Neenah, Wis.; Rev. W. A. Snow, Fargo, N. D.; Dr. Adam Geibel, Philadelphia, blind pianist and musical composer; J. Lincoln Hall, Philadelphia, song writer and chorus leader.

IN DULUTH PULPITS

POWER COMES FROM SPIRIT

Dr. Hovis Draws Lesson From the Staff of the Prophet.

Shows Difference Between Real Virtues and Superficialities.

"The Magic Staff" was the subject of the sermon preached by Dr. William Forney Hovis, pastor of the Endion M. E. church yesterday morning. He spoke from the text, "Gird up thy loins, and take my staff in thy hands, and go thy way" (2 Kings iv, 39) and said in part:

"These are the words of a master to a slave. They present a picture and suggest a philosophy. The elements of the scene are—a man of God, a weeping mother, a dead child and a servant hastening with a shepherd's staff. In the background is a home of substance with its generous hospitality, its prophet's chamber, its fields of plenty, its toiling reapers. What a charming glimpse of private life! Here is a house of wealth with a sanctuary; a family abode with a place for the seer of God.

"The attempt to work a miracle ends in failure. The staff comes back without having done its work. The child is not wakened. But the rod is not to blame; it takes a prophet's hand to wield a prophet's staff; in the hands of the servant the master's symbol becomes a common stick. There is a law in this deterioration; a philosophy in this mysterious depletion of virtue. Gehazi had the right man's staff, but the dead child did not answer to its magic; he did not have the heart, the hand, the purpose of Elisha.

Depends Upon the Spirit.

"The thing that makes the prophet's staff significant is the spirit of the man. The value of the instrument depends upon the hand that holds it; what the unworthy hand touches it defiles.

"The right staff in the wrong hand means failure the world over. The dishonest man withers the rod of truth into rotten wood. The token of a prophet's power in the grasp of a hypocrite is a mockery. The thief must ever fall before the decree of high heaven blanched into a leper white as snow. There is a temptation to critisize the staff, but the real difficulty lies in the fact that its virtue has been impoverished and degraded by the grossness of an unworthy spirit.

"There must be some kinship of soul between the prophet and his staff or there will be no miracle.

"The ability to rise to the occasion of a great event in which a whole life seems crowded into a single ardent moment can only be acquired by long and subtle processes of preparation. Training accentuated by experience enables one to rule with well-controlled energy and well-directed capacity. It takes more than paper qualifications and a piece of parchment to render one competent to sit in council and to assume a position of highest trust. Sharp eyes, keen minds and brave hearts are largely the result of discipline. It is only by the most painstaking care that the man of culture becomes thoroughly equipped for the exigencies of any case.

"A great occasion is valuable to him only who has prepared himself to make use of it. The ability to act in the nick of time depends upon the thoroughness of previous training. Superficiality though it possess a glib tongue and a deft hand, cannot take the place of deep study and hard work. There is no such thing as mastery without apprenticeship, knowledge without study, achievement without toil. The politician may acquire power by bribing the caucus, influence by mortgaging his honor, wealth by fraud, and immunity from the penalty of crime by packing the jury, but by such acts he becomes a curse to society and a blasphemy against the dignity of his fellowman.

"There never was a time when the premium on true manhood was so high. The world has grown tired of graft and political chicanery. Offices of distinguished responsibility and eminent trust are seeking men of unsullied character whose mental faculties have been refined and developed and whose moral integrity is so stable that they can walk and live, unseduced, within arms length of a tempting charge, with nothing between desire and its gratification but the invisible law of rectitude.

Destination of Society.

"The offices of life are antecedent to any destination in society. To live is the profession man must learn. Education fails when it does not gird the loins with truth. Culture is worthless when it is made up merely of shreds and patches of useless arts. The book-worm may be a walking encyclopedia of ready reference and at the same time the very incarnation of practical stupidity. The real scholar is not the person who knows the greatest number of facts but the one who knows the relation of facts to the problems of human life.

"The purpose of all true culture is a girding of the loins, a preparation for the journey, a getting ready to begin. Education without moral balance becomes an instrument of evil. The truly educated man has learned not only to think clearly but to act rightly. Perverted knowledge and misdirected shrewdness can do more to demoralize society than poverty, ignorance, and incapacity. The value of any curriculum of study with its treasury of classic lore, its labyrinths of mystic annals, its mines of hidden riches, depends upon the purpose of the student who is morally related to every teacher, every lesson, every test. Education that does not open the eyes of the soul to the supreme purpose and end of life does not gird the loins with truth.

Man Greater Than Matter.

"A man should be greater than anything he has. It is an amusing irony to see a lackey try to wear a crown—his puny spirit turns the gold to brass. There must be some connection between a person and his livery or his very garb belies his genius. The marks of achievement are better scars—a diploma is nothing unless it be the escutcheon on which are charged the arms of culture. The institution may confer the degree, but the recipient must vitalize the staff. The world does not want the badge; it wants the thing for which the symbol stands. A fine house cannot make a fine tenant—some houses are greater than their occupants. It is a shameful thing when a man is outshone by his mahogany.

"The staff of knowledge is a wonder-working rod. If men knew its virtue they would never be without it. With it one may steadily himself as he climbs life's steeps or stand on dizzy heights; he may smite the rock of fortune and bring forth the waters of success; he may cleave the sea of hindrance and cross, dry-shod between protecting walls; but it only works its wonders when in a master's hands. Knowledge is power in the sense that wood is fuel. Wood on fire is fuel; knowledge on fire is power. Without the spirit of life to give it energy there is no more power in knowledge than there is in stones and stars. More knowledge is not power; it is only possibility. Action is power, and it reaches its highest manifestation when directed by knowledge. What he knows must find expression in what he does, and he learns what to practice by practicing what he knows.

"Credentials count for little. Degrees and titles are only names. References are cheap and can be purchased for a piece of silver. The world does not lay so much stress on the staff as on the man that owns it. The Shunamite mother will not rely upon the rod—she must needs have the prophet. Elisha, your staff is a dead stick when you are not behind it!

The Educated Man.

"The really educated man is one that can do something and the quality of his work determines the measure of its worth. Opportunities are thick as thistles in the way of him who can use the staff. Life pulsates with chances for the prophet. The land is not all occupied, the seats are not all taken, the secrets of life are not all mastered, the positions not all filled. Every clod you kick from your pathway, every flower that blossoms in the field, every leaf that quivers in the tree top, every bird that warbles on the twig, every brook that babbles on the pebbles, every sunbeam that plays about your door, every star that twinkles in the darkness, every rainbow that bends to fit the sky, every cloud that flits across the heavens, every dew drop that sparkles on the grass, is an opportunity to broaden knowledge and to come in touch with God. Every transaction that involves your fellowman is an opportunity to be polite, honest, agreeable, to inspire confidence, to make your honor priceless, and to gather a host of friends. He who has been at nature's penicl has seen God face to face. Without him your staff will always be a failure.

Scepter of Authority.

"The magic staff is the scepter of authority and the symbol of superhuman power. With it men have climbed great heights, have cleaved the rocks, and whipped the world into line. On it they have leaned when weary and with it walked uneven ways. It is a mighty rod that wilts in the hands of weakness. Gird up your loins and take the prophet's staff and go thy way! Scale the cliffs, break the bar, unearth the mines, awake the dead, unbolt the doors, and scan the limits of the astral spheres, and dwell in the midst of the celestial city that hath foundations whose builder and maker is God.' Who is equipped with the spirit of Christ has access to the munificent riches of almighty power. It is enough great Savior to feel 'I can do all things through Christ who strengtheneth me.' 'Thy rod and thy staff they comfort me.'"

SELF-ISOLATION AGAINST NATURE

First Baptist Pastor Declares Loneliness Develops Selfishness.

That man's nature craves companionship and that his isolation causes selfishness was the assertion yesterday of Rev. R. Edward Sayles in his Sunday morning sermon. Rev. Mr. Sayles spoke on "No Man Liveth Unto Himself."

"No man liveth unto himself in his sins," he declared. "The man trusted who speculates and wrecks the business entrusted to him causes the small investor to suffer with him. The man who drinks causes his children and wife to suffer with him. The man who is unclean in youth often causes both wife and children to bear his sins in later days. Much blindness among children is the visitation of the sins of the fathers upon the children."

"HUMANITY OF JESUS"

Pastor Talks on Orthodoxy and Belief of Unitarians.

Bible, Even If Infallible, Does Not Prove the Trinity.

"The Simple Humanity of Jesus"-was the theme of the sermon by Rev. G. R. Gebauer, at the First Unitarian church, yesterday.

"The standing reproach against Unitarians is that they deny the Christ, and where orthodox belief is still sincere and naive, people are apt to feel quite uncanny, if we reveal to them our simple belief," he said.

"To real orthodoxy and that is the only one worth while, Jesus still is the second person of the trinity, not merely the son of God, but 'God the Son.' It is a hybrid orthodoxy, which speaks of the 'divinity of Jesus' and hides beneath this term an appalling lot of downright heresy.

"The doctrine of the godhead of Christ is certainly stupendous, and would be considered absurd if it were a Hindoo dogma concerning Krishna. Hence at all ages there have been men, who undaunted by the traditional belief have asked the question 'how came you by this extraordinary doctrine?' And now, as in the past we are referred to the infallible word of God, the Bible, as the source of this doctrine. Now, Unitarians do not believe in any infallible scripture, though they recognize that the good old book contains such precious religious truth, and so the doctrine, even if found there, stands as far as they are concerned upon a very questionable foundation. But even if we accept, as did early Unitarianism, the Bible as the sole source of saving truth, we shall fail to find in it a fair statement of this doctrine.

"Let us take the story of the conception and birth of Jesus as true, and we have in him at best but a half-god, a Christian Hercules sent to slay the hydra of sin. But unfortunately the special fatherhood of Jehovah is in the same gospels discounted by the assertion that Jesus had for his grandsire on his father's side, David; the plain inference is that Joseph must have been his real father. When there is pointed out to us Jesus' sinlessness, as asserted by Him at a certain occasion, we find that the master can not possibly have had in mind absolute freedom from sin, or absolute moral perfection for how could he have said at another occasion to an admirer 'why callest thou me good, there is none good but God.' Besides this we have plain proof that the master would treat his enemies in a very human fashion. The very fact, too, that he could be tempted, proves to us that he was liable to sin and therefore human. His love for mankind certainly was divine, but his readiness to die for his truth and for the good of mankind, proves nothing but an exalted human character. Thus thousands would today be ready to die for the good of the world.

Miraculous Knowledge.

"Again we are referred as proof of his deity to his miraculous knowledge of things. He told for instance the woman of Samaria, 'all things she ever did.' Well, it was an excited woman who told this story, but even if true, it is duplicated today. In our time of telepathy and mind reading there is nothing so wonderful in the performance of Jesus. But how about his miracles of healing and the other marvelous performances? How about his raising Lazarus from the dead? If Jesus did all that is claimed for him, he certainly had extraordinary power, but after all the sick were healed before him in miraculous ways, and the dead were raised also. There is not a miracle performed by him that is not counterbalanced in the records of Moses, Elijah and Elisha, who were not considered gods. If he finally rose from the dead, as is claimed in the New Testament records, it was by the power of God, who raised him in order to show the Jews that they had killed a righteous man, who was sent to them with the new gospel of salvation, he was raised that his gospel might assume through his resurrection greater power. And if he rose to heaven before the sight of his friends, we may remember how Elijah was taken up to heaven in a fiery chariot. And if finally our attention is called to the statement that there are passages in the Bible who proclaim the trinity, we have to confess that we cannot agree with it. As far as I am able to see, there is not one passage which claims the deity of the Master as part of the triune God. The famous statement, I John v. 7, has even by Luther been recognized as a plain fraud and cursed as an interpolation, and it is no longer printed in the revised version of our Bibles. When in another place Jesus exclaims in the fulness of the spirit, 'I and the Father are one,' He simply means his moral harmony with the infinite, and he gives a very rational explanation of his claim to satisfy his enemies. Other passages claiming special divinity for him may also rationally be explained. But even if there be statements, which exalt Jesus to what seems to us more than human, they are more than offset by others of an opposite nature. Certain it is, that the early Jewish-Christian church had no notion of the trinitarian dogma and simply added to their monotheistic faith the belief in the messiahship of Jesus, sent by God to bring about the kingdom of heaven on earth.

"Unitarian believers stand on essentially the same ground as did the early Christians, though they have widened the conception of man and their relation to God, believing with Jesus, that we are indeed the children of God. And to us Jesus is simply the most exalted child of God, the man who knew himself the son of God, and in his simple humanity we see indeed in a higher, nobler sense than dogma teaches, the fatherhood and heart of God revealed. We believe that he belongs to us more perhaps than to those who adore Him as God and who forget in his metaphysical deity, his truly divine manhood."

EVERY MAN MUST CARRY A YOKE

Yoke of Sin the Heaviest of All Burdens, Says Dr. Ryan.

"Every man must carry a yoke of some kind, and all he can do is to choose the kind he is to carry," declared Rev. Dr. A. W. Ryan, rector of St. Paul's Protestant Episcopal church, in his Sunday morning sermon. Dr. Ryan's topic was "The Yoke of the Lord."

"One of the reasons why the church is unpopular with so many business men is because a man resents the restrictions that a church membership would place upon him. He avoids anything that smatters of a yoke, not realizing that he carries a burden of one kind or another all through his life.

"In the professional or business world nobody is without a yoke. Business or profession, ethics and demands, public opinion, an employer's wishes—these are but a few of the burdens that confront all of us. Heaviest of all is the yoke of sin, leading to blindness to the good things of life and to constant degradation.

"Jesus said: 'My yoke is easy and my burden is light.' Those who wear His yoke do not carry it alone. They are yoke-fellows with God and have the inner peace, which comes from duty well performed, and the knowledge that God is pulling with them at every step of the journey—a yoke-fellow whose presence brings comfort and victory."

MUSIC'S PLACE IN REDEMPTION'S PLAN

Pastor Stemple White Attributes More Conversions to It Than to Sermons.

Pastor Stemple White spoke last night to a large congregation on "The Place of Music in the Plan of Redemption," at the Seventh Day Adventist church, corner of Sixth street and Tenth avenue east.

"From Eden lost to Eden restored," said the speaker, "consecrated sacred music has played a wonderful part in the plan of redemption. Concerning creation, when God laid the foundation of the earth, it is written, 'the morning stars sang together, and all the sons of God shouted for joy.' The birth of the Messiah was announced to Judean shepherds by an angelic visitant who was accompanied by a heavenly host singing 'Glory to God in the highest, on earth peace, good will toward men.' As a climax in the great controversy between Christ and Satan, we behold in the visions of John in the Revelation, not only a company singing to harp accompaniment, a victorious song of Moses and the Lamb, but also an innumerable company redeemed from all nations in all ages, who join ten thousand times ten thousand, and thousands of thousands of holy angels, in gladsome, triumphant, praise to the Lamb who liveth eternal.

"As in literature, so in this line of art, is there both good and bad; that which is pure, transforming and uplifting, and that which is cheap, trashy and degrading. But that all music is inspiring to action, good or bad, is evidenced by its universal use in militarism, pleasure, sports, drama and religion. Many a soul has been converted to God through the power and simplicity of a clearly articulated gospel hymn. Lady Huntington's little crippled girl, whose sweet voice wrung the heart of man and beast, won more souls to the Master than many a clergyman who neglects his Bible to tamper in politics. And I really believe that it will be proven in the judgment day that more souls will have been saved through the simple but appealing gospel songs contributed to the world by Fanny Crosby alone, than the combined results of all the writers of grand opera. Which do you think a dying man would prefer to hear—some 200 voices singing the 'Messiah' to orchestral accompaniment, or 'Jesus Saviour, Pilot Me,' beautifully sung.

"Gospel singing is as much an act of worship as prayer, and the glad tidings can be told in song as well as sermon. The voice is a talent from God, for the use of which we must some day give account. Let us train and use what little talent we each may possess, in the work of God, that other souls may at last join in the song of eternal victory through Christ, and at last share in the overcomer's reward of eternal life."

Two songs, "Where Is My Wandering Boy," and the "Ninety and Nine," were sung by L. Baker, Miss Emma Ulvick and Mrs. H. P. Curren, and illustrated with stereopticon slides.

Mr. White will conduct a public Bible study at the church Wednesday night on "The Turk and Armageddon."

MASONS BUSY IN PRE-EASTER TIME

Templar and Scottish Rite Members Have Many Ceremonies.

Tomorrow evening the newly elected officers of Duluth Commandery No. 18, Knights Templar, will be installed at the Masonic temple, R. E. Denfeld, past commander, acting as installing officer. On Easter Sunday afternoon, the Knights will march from the temple to the First Methodist church, where Easter services will be conducted and a sermon preached by the church pastor, Rev. Sir Knight John W. Hoffman.

Many of the commandery men, and most of the officers present and past, will go to Minneapolis May 18 and 19 to attend the annual conclave and fiftieth anniversary of the grand commandery of Minnesota. Thirty-one commanderies will attend. A program of competitive drills has been arranged and handsome prizes will be awarded.

Archibald D. McIntyre, commander; Walter J. Johnson, generalissimo; Charles W. Wilson, captain general; Charles H. Fugle, junior warden; Isaac Black, junior warden; Cook Ely, prelate; John P. Johnson, treasurer; A. C. Le Richieux, recorder; John Smith, standard bearer; W. E. Kennedy, sword bearer; Maynard W. Turner, warden; Mason M. Forbes, third guard; James C. Dunbar, second guard; Herbert R. Spencer, first guard; Henry Van Brunt, sentinel.

Next week will be a busy one for Scottish Rite Masons. The spring reunion will begin on Monday, and degrees will be conferred on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. The Maundy Thursday banquet and the extinguishing of the lights will end the reunion until Sunday afternoon, when the beautiful ceremony of relighting the lights will take place at the temple.

Charged Wheat Theft.

Ray, N. D., March 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—Charged with stealing wheat from the farm of John Van Wagenon, Alex Buffam was finally located at Wild Rose and arrested. He rents a farm in this vicinity and had been employed by neighbors. The wagon on which the grain was hauled was traced to Temple, where it was learned the wheat was sold by Buffam. He was held under $1,000 bonds.

POWER COMES FROM SPIRIT

Dr. Hovis Draws Lesson From the Staff of the Prophet.

Shows Difference Between Real Virtues and Superficialities.

"The Magic Staff" was the subject of the sermon preached by Dr. William [illegible] Hovis pastor of the Endion M. E. church yesterday morning. He took his text from the text, "Gird up thy loins, and take my staff in thy hands, and go thy way" (II Kings iv, 39) and said in part:

"These are the words of a master to [illegible] a servant and suggest [illegible] The elements of [illegible] a man of God, a weeping mother, a dead child and a servant [illegible] with a shepherd's staff. In the background is a home of substance [illegible] its generous hospitality, its [illegible] chamber, its fields of plenty, [illegible] reapers. What a charming picture of private life! Here is a [illegible] with a sanctuary; a [illegible] abode with a place for the seer [illegible]

"Again we are referred as proof of his deity to his miraculous knowledge of things. He told for instance the woman of Samaria, 'all things she ever did.' Well, it was an excited woman who told this story, but even if true, it is duplicated today. In our time of telepathy and mind reading there is nothing so wonderful in the performance of Jesus. But how about his miracles of healing and the other marvelous performances? How about his raising Lazarus from the dead? If Jesus did all that is claimed for him, he certainly had extraordinary power, but after all the sick were healed before him in miraculous ways, and the dead were raised also. There is not a miracle performed by him that is not counterbalanced in the records of Moses, Elijah and Elisha, who were not considered gods. If he finally rose from the dead, as is claimed in the New Testament records, it was by the power of God, who raised him in order to show the Jews that they had killed a righteous man, who was sent to them with the new gospel of salvation, he was raised that his gospel might assume through his resurrection greater power. And if he rose to heaven before the sight of his friends, we may remember how Elijah was taken up to heaven in a fiery chariot. And if finally our attention is called to the statement that there are passages in the Bible who proclaim the trinity, we have to confess that we cannot agree with it. As far as I am able to see, there is not one passage which claims the deity of the Master as part of the triune God. The famous statement, I John v. 7, has even by Luther been recognized as a plain fraud and cursed as an interpolation, and it is no longer printed in the revised version of our Bibles. When in another place Jesus exclaims in the fulness of the spirit, 'I and the Father are one,' He simply means his moral harmony with the infinite, and he gives a very rational explanation of his claim to satisfy his enemies. Other passages claiming special divinity for him may also rationally be explained. But even if there be statements, which exalt Jesus to what seems to us more than human, they are more than offset by others of an opposite nature. Certain it is, that the early Jewish-Christian church had no notion of the trinitarian dogma and simply added to their monotheistic faith the belief in the messiahship of Jesus, sent by God to bring about the kingdom of heaven on earth.

"Unitarian believers stand on essentially the same ground as did the early Christians, though they have widened the conception of man and their relation to God, believing with Jesus, that we are indeed the children of God. And to us Jesus is simply the most exalted child of God, the first who knew himself the son of God, and in his simple humanity we see indeed in a higher, nobler sense than dogma teaches, the fatherhood and heart of God revealed. We believe that he belongs to us more perhaps than to those who adore Him as God and who forget in his metaphysical deity, his truly divine manhood."

EVERY MAN MUST CARRY A YOKE

Yoke of Sin the Heaviest of All Burdens, Says Dr. Ryan.

"Every man must carry a yoke of some kind, and all he can do is to choose the kind he is to carry," declared Rev. Dr. A. W. Ryan, rector of St. Paul's Protestant Episcopal church, in his Sunday morning sermon. Dr. Ryan's topic was "The Yoke of the Lord."

"One of the reasons why the church is unpopular with so many business men is because a man resents the restrictions that a church membership would place upon him. He avoids anything that smatters of a yoke, not realizing that he carries a burden of one kind or another all through his life.

"In the professional or business world nobody is without a yoke. Business or professional ethics and demands, public opinion, an employer's wishes—these are but a few of the burdens that confront all of us. Heaviest of all is the yoke of sin, leading to blindness to the good things of life and to constant degradation.

"Jesus said: 'My yoke is easy and my burden is light.' Those who wear His yoke do not carry it alone. They are yoke-fellows with God and have the inner peace, which comes from duty well performed, and the knowledge that God is pulling with them at every step of the journey—a yoke-fellow whose presence brings comfort and victory."

MUSIC'S PLACE IN REDEMPTION'S PLAN

Pastor Stemple White Attributes More Conversions to It Than to Sermons.

Pastor Stemple White spoke last night to a large congregation on "The Place of Music in the Plan of Redemption," at the Seventh Day Adventist church, corner of Sixth street and Tenth avenue east.

"From Eden lost to Eden restored," said the speaker, "consecrated sacred music has played a wonderful part in the plan of redemption. Concerning creation, when God laid the foundation of the earth, it is written, 'the morning stars sang together, and all the sons of God shouted for joy.' The birth of the Messiah was announced to Judean shepherds by an angelic visitant who was accompanied by a heavenly host singing 'Glory to God in the highest, on earth peace, good will toward men.' As a climax in the great controversy between Christ and Satan, we behold in the visions of John in the Revelation, not only a company singing to harp accompaniment, a victorious song of Moses and the Lamb, but also an innumerable company redeemed from all nations in all ages, who join ten thousand times ten thousand, and thousands of thousands of holy angels, in gladsome, triumphant, praise to the Lamb who liveth eternal.

"As in literature, so in this line of art, is there both good and bad; that which is pure, transforming and uplifting, and that which is cheap, trashy and degrading. But that all music is inspiring to action, good or bad, is evidenced by its universal use in militarism, pleasure, sports, drama and religion. Many a soul has been converted to God through the power and simplicity of a clearly articulated gospel hymn. Lady Huntington's little crippled girl, whose sweet voice wrung the heart of man and beast, won more souls to the Master than many a clergyman who neglects his Bible to tamper in politics. And I really believe that it will be proven in the judgment day, that more souls will have been saved through the simple but appealing gospel songs contributed to the world by Fanny Crosby alone, than the combined results of all the writers of grand opera. Which do you think a dying man would prefer to hear—some 200 voices singing the 'Messiah' to orchestral accompaniment, or 'Jesus Saviour, Pilot Me,' beautifully sung.

"Gospel singing is as much an act of worship as prayer, and the glad tidings can be told in song as well as sermon. The voice is a talent from God, for the use of which we must some day give account. Let us train and use what little talent we each may possess, in the work of God, that other souls may at last join in the song of eternal victory through Christ, and at last share in the overcomer's reward of eternal life."

Two songs, "Where Is My Wandering Boy," and the "Ninety and Nine," were sung by L. Baker, Miss Emma Trivick and Mrs. H. P. Curren, and illustrated with stereopticon slides.

Mr. White will conduct a public Bible study at the church Wednesday night on "The Turk and Armageddon."

MASONS BUSY IN PRE-EASTER TIME

Tomorrow evening the newly elected officers of Duluth Commandery No. 18, Knights Templar, will be installed at the Masonic temple, R. E. Denfeld, past commander, acting as installing officer. On Easter Sunday afternoon, the Knights will march from the temple to the First Methodist church, where Easter services will be conducted and a sermon preached by the church pastor, Rev. Sir Knight John W. Hoffman.

Many of the commandery men, and most of the officers, present and past, will go to Minneapolis May 18 and 19 to attend the annual conclave and fiftieth anniversary of the grand commandery of Minnesota. Thirty-one commanderies will attend. A program of competitive drills has been arranged and handsome prizes will be awarded.

Archibald D. McIntyre, commander; Walter J. Johnson, generalissimo; Charles W. Wilson, captain general; Charles H. Fugle, senior warden; Isaac Black, junior warden; Cook Ely, prelate; John P. Johnson, treasurer; A. C. Le Richieux, recorder; John Smith, standard bearer; W. E. Kennedy, sword bearer; Maynard W. Turner, warden; Mason M. Forbes, third guard; James C. Dunbar, second guard; Herbert R. Spencer, first guard; Henry Van Brunt, sentinel.

Next week will be a busy one for Scottish Rite Masons. The spring reunion will begin on Monday, and degrees will be conferred on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. The Maundy Thursday banquet and the extinguishing of the lights will end the reunion until Sunday afternoon, when the beautiful ceremony of relighting the lights will take place at the temple.

Charged Wheat Theft.

Ray, N. D., March 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—Charged with stealing wheat from the farm of John Van Wagenen, Alex Buffam was finally located at Wild Rose and arrested. He rents a farm in this vicinity and had been employed by neighbors. The wagon on which the grain was hauled was traced to Temple, where it was learned the wheat was sold by Buffam. He was held under $1,000 bonds.

CHURCH MUST ENTER FIGHT

Pastor Urges Members to Take Active Part in Politics.

Declares Cadet Corps Has Evil Influence Upon the Young.

Rev. Herbert Ford, pastor of the West Duluth Baptist church, Fifty-ninth and Grand avenues, said it was time for the church to take an active part in politics in a sermon on "Victorious Saints" yesterday morning. He said that while pugnaciousness was opposed by Jesus as an attitude towards one's neighbors he did not mean that the Christians should let the forces of evil triumph over them without a protest. In part he said:

Militancy of the Gospel.

"We are apt to minimize the militant aspect of the gospel. The submission and non-resistance theories have been overworked in some quarters. While it is true that Jesus counselled non-resistance in individual affronts, and he opposed pugnaciousness as an attitude toward one's neighbors, yet he never meant that we should sit down and allow the forces of evil to triumph over us or our neighbors without a protest from us. We need to call attention to the fact that complacency and contentment with present evils are not Christian virtues. We need to recall how Jesus seized a whip and drove the representatives of greed from the place of public worship.

"The church is not likely to improve upon his way of looking at evil; and like him we should seize the whip of the ballot and proceed to drive the representatives of greed and self-interest from the public crib. The time has passed for the church to keep silent on matters of social justice. We must not content ourselves with drawing a few brands from the burning, doing a little paltry relief work and then placing the crown of social services on our own heads. We have scarcely begun. We must likewise put out the fire. We should not allow the Socialist party, the labor organizations, and other movements, to lead us in the matter of getting down to underlying causes and seeking to remedy them. The church must actively co-operate with these other movements to secure for the worker his rightful place in the control of the industry. If we do not we shall justify the suspicion that we are preaching a god of injustice. Let us rather show to the worker and to the socially unfortunate that we and our God are on the side of justice, socially and individually.

Opposes Cadet Corps.

In his sermon last night, Rev. Mr. Ford criticised the military drill of students at Central high school.

"Peace-loving citizens of Duluth have been somewhat startled by the spectacle of military drill at the high school. I want to be counted among those who oppose this attempt to instill the war germ into our youth."

"Have we not seen enough of the evil effects of education in militarism in the present European conflict, without trying to do the same here in America? We wonder as to the cause of the war. It is not hard to find. It is in the policy of educating the people in the gloriousness of war. The profession of killing people is in some of the nations of Europe looked upon as the height of glory and virtue.

"We need to return to Charles Sumner, who was a century ahead of his time when he protested against the singing of military songs to the infants and the giving of plumes and swords to the children as playthings.

"I myself have seen university cadets drilling in the streets, and have watched the small boys of the vicinity imitate them with tin swords and paper hats. That university was exercising a terrible influence on the young by representing war as a glorious pursuit, and drilling in our high school will have the same effect. I protest against it. If war must be taught, out of necessity, let it be without guns or uniforms. Let it be taught in all its grewsomeness and horror, rather than falsely represented as glorious. To discourage war teach the youth its barbarity, cruelty, and monstrous wickedness. And may our public schools be foremost in giving such instruction."

SPRING STYLE EXHIBIT

This evening from 7 till 9:30 our store will be open for display of the new styles in men's clothes, furnishings, hats and shoes. The time will be devoted to exhibit only and no goods will be sold.

UNDER SNOW AT 8; GRASS AFIRE AT 3

Boys Start Blaze on Hillside Near Longfellow School.

The spectacle of a hillside which was covered with snow at 8 o'clock yesterday morning, ablaze at 3 o'clock, was seen yesterday afternoon. The sun's rays had dried up the snow during the forenoon hours and early in the afternoon small boys playing with matches set fire to the grass.

The fire spread with great rapidity and threatened some of the residences back of the Longfellow school. The large motor truck, as well as the other equipment of No. 8 fire hall, was called out and spent nearly an hour in fighting the flames.

Lodge Anniversary.

West Duluth lodge, No. 168, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, will celebrate the twenty-fifth anniversary of its founding at the Odd Fellows' hall, 602 North Central avenue, tomorrow evening. With the Curlers.

Three games will be played this evening in the West Duluth Commercial club event at the Western Curling rink. The games will be Mallory vs. Iltis; F. H. Wade vs. Olson and Quinn vs. Judson.

Two games were played in the event Saturday evening. Donald won his game from Evered, 14 to 10, and R. F. Wade won from Kreidler, 9 to 7.

Will Organize Branch.

The Scandinavian Salvation army will organize a branch corps this evening at 5527 Grand avenue. The meeting tonight will be conducted by Ensign and Mrs. V. Lundgren, assisted by the second corp's string band. It is proposed to hold meetings at the new hall every evening this week at 8 o'clock. All Scandinavians of West Duluth are invited to attend.

Solberg Funeral.

The body of Mrs. Olea Solberg, who died Friday at Sheldon, Minn., is expected to arrive in West Duluth this evening. It will be taken to her home at 113 South Sixty-first avenue west, from where funeral services will be held on the arrival of relatives from out of town. The arrangements for the funeral will probably be made tomorrow.

Nelson Funeral.

The funeral services for Anders Nelson, 50 years old, who died at his home in Proctor Friday, will be held tomorrow afternoon at 1 o'clock from the family residence and at 1:30 o'clock from the Proctor Norwegian Lutheran church. Rev. B. L. Opdahl will officiate. Interment will be made in Oneota cemetery. Mr. Nelson is survived by a widow and five children.

"Hard Times" Party.

Members of the West Duluth and Pocahontas lodges of the Royal League will be entertained at a "hard times" party at the West Duluth Commercial clubrooms tomorrow evening. It will take place following the business meetings of the two organizations.

The committee in charge of the affair consists of: Elliott J. Aman, Frank Winkel, Ray Batley and Henry L. Fedl.

Don't Let Your Truss Make Operation Necessary

Operation for rupture would hardly ever be heard of if it weren't for the mischief done by elastic and spring trusses.

Mighty few people ever have to be operated on when first ruptured.

But wearing makeshift trusses year after year is sooner or later almost sure to make work for the surgeon.

You know that from your own experience—you know you're worse now than a year ago—probably getting worse all the time.

If you keep on that way, how long will it be before you'll have to undergo a dangerous and expensive operation?

Aren't you willing to let us prove—by a sixty-day demonstration—how you can save yourself from all that?

Especially when you can make this sixty-day test without having to risk a penny?

60 Days' Trial To Prove How Good It Is

Here is something—a guaranteed rupture holder—which has saved thousands of people from ever having to be operated on.

It has so thoroughly proved its merits that we are willing to send it on 60 days' trial.

We'll make it especially for your case—make it to your measure—and practically lend it to you just for a test.

If it doesn't keep your rupture from coming out or from bothering you in any way, then you can send it back and it won't cost you a single penny.

Don't Send Any Money

Simply write for our free book—that will tell you everything you want to know.

It shows how our guaranteed rupture holder is made on an absolutely new principle. How it instantly and automatically protects you against every strain so your rupture can't possibly be forced out. And how in addition it provides the only way ever discovered for overcoming the weakness which is the real cause of rupture.

The book tells how our guaranteed rupture holder—the famous Cluthe—is so beneficial that physicians in all parts of America now recommend it instead of advising operation. How it has completely cured thousands of people whose cases seemed almost hopeless. How it does away with the curse of belt, legstraps and springs. How it is perspiration-proof and water-proof and will hold in the bath. How you can try it sixty days without having to risk a penny, and how little it costs if you keep it.

This Free Book Is Full of Facts Never Before Put in Print

This book sums up all we have learned about rupture during forty years of experience.

Exposes the humbug "appliances," "methods," "plasters," etc.

Explains why operation is nearly always a needless gamble with death—and why, even if you manage to live through it, you may have to keep on wearing a truss.

It shows why sixty-days trial is the only safe way to buy anything for rupture and how the Cluthe is the only thing you can get on such a long trial because the only thing good enough to stand such a test.

Don't fail to get this book—don't put it off—the minute it takes you to write for it may free you from rupture troubles for the rest of your life.

FEATHERED SINGERS REPLACING POETS

Junco Has Come; Is Sure Sign of Warm Weather.

Spring "has arriv" at last, and the open season for poets is hereby declared closed, much to the relief of Herald readers, who have been burdened with overflowings from the souls of budding versifiers.

When all other weather signs fail, the little slate-colored junco, earliest arrival in the bird family, is a sure indication of approaching warm weather.

Several members of the junco family were discovered by Duluth ornithogists yesterday afternoon, when taking their Sunday stroll. The junco is a small bird and, when flying, can be distinguished by a touch of white on each side of its tail. It is known in the South as the snowbird.

It is the last bird to leave Duluth in the fall and the first one to arrive in the spring, say bird lovers.

HIT BY CAR; WANTS $5,440 DAMAGES

Street Railway Defendant in Two Actions Started By A. Milostan.

Trial of two actions against the Duluth Street Railway company, in which Albert Milostan is seeking $5,440 damages incident to injuries which were sustained by his son, Leo Milostan, 20, on Oct. 1, 1914, when a motorcycle on which the younger Milostan was riding collided with a street car, was begun in district court this morning before Judge Bert Fesler and a jury.

The young man was riding a motorcycle on Twenty-third avenue west when he was struck by a car at the West Third street crossing. He was knocked unconscious and spent the next five days in a hospital. The father claims that the boy's brain and mental faculties have been impaired as a result of the accident and is demanding $6,000 for the son's benefit.

On his own account the elder Milostan is suing for $440 damages. The motorcycle which the boy was driving belonged to him and the parent also claims that he had to pay for medical services as a result of the accident.

The street railway company claims that it was not responsible in any way for the accident and that the young man had no one to blame but himself.

Andrew Nelson is plaintiff's attorney and Thomas S. Wood is appearing in court as counsel for the traction company.

HOLLING FUNERAL TUESDAY.

Pioneer Duluthian Is Dead—Lived Here Thirty Years.

Funeral services for Lorentz Holling, age 76, who died at his home, 4332 Gilliat street, late Saturday, will be held from the family residence Tuesday at 10 a. m. Mr. Hilling was a resident of Duluth for thirty years.

He is survived by a widow, three daughters and two sons. They are: Mrs. Edward Totman, Jessie Holling and Florence Holling, all of Duluth; Elmer of Sioux Falls, S. D., and Hugo of Detroit, Mich. Interment will be at Forest Hill cemetery.

VOSS MAN OF HIS WORD.

Commissioner Forgets Duluth While in Sunny South.

Commissioner Voss is keeping his word.

When the head of the finance division left on March 13 for his first vacation in twenty-eight years, he said that he was going to forget Duluth altogether while down in Florida. And during the last ten days employes at the city hall have not received a letter from Mr. Voss, not even a post card photo of himself standing in front of a grapefruit tree.

Mr. Voss is expected back a week from today.

SAWMILLS TO BE BUSY

Copper Country Plants Will Have Plenty to Do During 1915.

Larger Amount of Timber Cut Past Season Than Usual.

Calumet, Mich., March 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—Because of an exceptionally heavy cut of timber in the Baraga and Keweenaw bay districts last winter the sawmills of the Copper country will be kept unusually busy throughout the spring and summer and late into next winter, which will benefit a half dozen thriving towns. Ontonagon and other small towns in Ontonagon county will also be livened up this summer with the operations of the big lumber mills.

Baraga, Pequaming and L'Anse, in Baraga county, and Dollar Bay, in Houghton county, have large mills, which will be kept busy.

The Dollar Bay Lumber company's plant will cut about 3,000,000 feet of logs this summer, to start early in May.

Baraga's Busy Year.

The Baraga Lumber company will open its mills at Baraga April 1 and will cut some 8,000,000 feet of logs. Large quantities of timber were hauled into Baraga by teams and by rail during the winter to start early operations but the greater part of the cut will be rafted in during the late spring. The Nestor mill at Baraga will cut about 5,000,000 feet of logs this summer and another 5,000,000 feet next fall and winter. The company operates its own railroad to its timber belt. Hebard & Son, at Pequaming, will cut about 10,000,000 feet of logs in their mills. The Baraga and Pequaming mills will work night and day throughout the year.

Montanan Dies Praying.

Anaconda, Mont., March 22.—Judge Thomas Boland, 73 years old, wealthy, and one of the best-known citizens of Anaconda, was found dead in his room, the body being in a posture of prayer. Judge Boland for years was justice of the peace in Anaconda and was a candidate for police magistrate. At one time he was deputy assessor of Silver Bow county.

WOMAN WEAK AND NERVOUS

Finds Health in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Creston, Iowa.—"I suffered with female troubles from the time I came into womanhood until I had taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I would have pains if I overworked or lifted anything heavy, and I would be so weak and nervous and in so much misery that I would be prostrated. A friend told me what your medicine had done for her and I tried it. It made me strong and healthy and our home is now happy with a baby boy. I am very glad that I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and do all I can to recommend it."—Mrs. A. B. BOSCAMP, 504 E. Howard Street, Creston, Iowa.

are used annually in the manufacture of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which is known from ocean to ocean as the standard remedy for female ills.

For forty years this famous root and herb medicine has been pre-eminently successful in controlling the diseases of women. Merit alone could have stood this test of time.

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

TYPE OF OPEN AIR COTTAGE TO BE BUILT AT WA VILLE.

Bemidji, Minn., March 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—Bemidji is to have a new suburb, located on the east shore of Lake Bemidji, directly across from the normal school site and to be known as Wa Ville. Arrangements for train service have been made. A store is planned by F. G. Troppman, a local merchant, to care for the summer visitors and a public dining hall will be erected as soon as the weather permits. By a unique system, tickets at the Wa Ville dining hall erected under the direction of the T. B. Walker and Akeley interests, will be honored also at Bemidji hotels and other summer resorts. At least fifty new cottages are to be erected at Wa Ville, and workmen are now busy putting up ice for the summer visitors.

At Kabekona two sets of engineers are platting the lake shore into summer resort tracts, reservation being made for a road on the south side of the lake.

COMMENCEMENT AT NORTH DAKOTA A. C.

Fargo, N. D., March 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—The short-course students in farm husbandry, farm mechanics, home making and dairying at the North Dakota Agricultural college held their graduation exercises today.

President Vincent of the Minnesota university delivered the chief address Sunday afternoon. The classes were presented today by the heads of the different departments and the diplomas were presented by President Worst. The courses are of five months duration and are provided for the accommodation of those boys and girls who are unable to take the full nine months' course.

WERE "SHORT-CHANGED"

That's the Way North Dakota Assessors Feel About Census Law.

Fargo, N. D., March 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—The assessors feel they were "short changed" by the legislature when that body failed to properly enact the emergency clause to recent legislation. The Constitution requires that a state census must be taken on each year ending in a "5." The law provides this work must be done by the assessors, and the lawmakers concluded 2 cents per name, the amount formerly paid, was insufficient compensation. They made the price 4 cents, attached an emergency clause under the old rule, which was later found ineffective. As new legislation cannot become effective earlier than June 5, possibly not earlier than July 1, and the census must be taken in April, the increase in the enumeration fees will not apply till 1925, when it is unlikely many of the present assessors will be interested.

JUDGE WATTS OPENS RED LAKE FALLS COURT.

Red Lake Falls, Minn., March 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—Judge William Watts opened the March term of district court for Red Lake county here today. Those summoned for jury service will report for duty Tuesday. There are seventeen civil cases on the calendar, but no criminal cases, and there will be no grand jury. The petitions of people seeking naturalization papers will be considered today.

ADMITS SNARING DEER.

Copper Country Man Haled Into Court for Game Law Violation.

Houghton, Mich., March 22.—Snaring deer appears to be the latest wrinkle in game law violation in the Copper country. Matt Koski of Winona was taken in custody, charged with snaring deer and having in his possession fresh venison. The arrest was made at an old lumberjack's camp south of Hazel, close to a deer yard, which it is claimed was the scene of Koski's alleged operations. About this deer yard were found no less than twelve snares, all of which had but recently been set.

When arraigned before Justice Jerry Sullivan at Ashton, Koski entered a plea of guilty to the charge of killing deer out of season, but because of the fact that he had been out of work for an extended period, since the strike, in fact, and has a wife and family of six children, the court was lenient. He was fined $15 and costs, the justice accepting his promise to pay the same as soon as he can secure work and earn the money.

MOOSE LAKE HAS ORGANIZED BALL CLUB.

Moose Lake, Minn., March 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—Moose Lake has organized its baseball team for 1915. The team this year will be stronger than ever, as lots of good material is in evidence. S. O. Sisco is manager and Arnold Swanson was elected captain. Correespondence is solicited.

PLACING A. O. U. W. LOANS

Brainerd Banker Member of Committee Favoring Gopher Investments.

Brainerd, Minn., March 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—B. L. Lagerquist of Brainerd is secretary of the investment committee of the Ancient Order of United Workmen of Minnesota, which has the placing of investments of the order aggregating $450,000 or more. In July this year $90,000 will be invested.

The committee, as a rule, favors placing the money out on farm loans, bringing about 6 per cent interest, and they favor Minnesota for such investments. J. M. Diment of Owatonna, former state senator, is chairman of the investment committee; George M. Stowe of Wadena, clerk of district court, is a member and Mr. Lagerquist, assistant cashier of the First National Bank of Brainerd, is the secretary.

WALSH OFFERED JOB.

Washburn Attorney Tendered Position of Counsel for Federal Commission.

Washburn, Wis., March 22.—John Walsh of this city has been appointed one of the two attorneys for the new Federal trade commission of which Joe Davies of Madison is at the head. Representative Stevens of New Hampshire is the other. Mr. Walsh has thirty days in which to make up his mind.

Mr. Walsh returned Saturday from Washington, where he had a conference with Mr. Davies and the appointment was offered him. If he accepts, and in all likelihood he will, he will move to Washington to reside.

Mr. Walsh is a brother of United States Senator T. J. Walsh of Montana.

PERMITS MIXED SERVICE.

North Dakota Railroad Commission Grants Soo's Request.

Bismarck, N. D., March 22.—The railroad commission has given the Soo line permission to run a mixed instead of the present passenger train between this city and Wishek. The permission is conditioned upon the running time schedule being maintained at Mosango Junction with the Milwaukee both ways, and upon a time schedule not more than half an hour slower than the passenger train's time.

Railroad Commissioner O. P. N. Anderson has gone to Washington, D. C., to attend a meeting of the valuation committee of the National Association of Railroad Commissioners, of which he is a member, with the railroad physical valuation committee of the interstate commerce commission and a committee representing the railroads of the country.

SEVEN FARGO CANDIDATES.

Seek Three Positions to Be Filled at Coming City Election.

Fargo, N. D., March 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—There are five candidates for the two places on the city commission and two for the one place on the city park commission. Police Commissioner Jordan and Waterworks Commissioner Blakemore are each seeking re-election. H. C. Plumley, J. H. Dahl and Wayne Eddy are the other candidates. W. P. Porterfield, for five years a member of the city park board, seeks re-election and is opposed by Dr. Fjelde.

Citizens will be asked to vote on bond issues for a city market place, a garbage incinerator and a municipal abattoir. It is thought all three will carry. The market proposition was tried out last year and was so popular the people evidently want it on a permanent basis. The commission seeks authority to purchase a site and erect suitable buildings. The question of disposition of the garbage has been under discussion for some time, and the incinerator idea seems generally favored. Only unexpected opposition will defeat either of the three plans.

NATURALIZED CHINESE WILL FIGHT IN U. S. ARMY.

Calumet, Mich., March 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—Yet Loi of Hubbell, the only Chinese citizen of the United States of which Northern Michigan can boast, who was born and raised in this country, declares that if the United States becomes embroiled in the European war or has trouble with Mexico or Japan he will enlist with the volunteers and fight under the Stars and Stripes. Yet Loi, through correspondence with business representatives in China, has arrived at the opinion that China will not become embroiled with Japan or in the European fracas.

IS SHOT THROUGH BACK.

Young North Dakotan Accidentally Shot and May Die.

Belfield, N. D., March 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—While driving in a wagon with a 10-year-old brother, Percy Rozenkrantz, 22, was probably fatally injured. The boys carried a rifle in the bottom of the wagon, and this was accidentally discharged, the bullet striking the young man in the leg and lodging in his back. He fell out of the wagon, and the younger brother, who was not strong enough to lift him back, returned to the house a mile away and secured assistance, and Rozenkrantz was brought here. He has a small chance of recovery. He has a claim in McKenzie county and was assisting his father this winter.

RELEASED CONVICT AGAIN IN TROUBLE.

Bismarck, N. D., March 22.—Jack Dalton, one of the most notorious prisoners in the penitentiary, who was released recently upon the expiration of his sentence of two and a half years for burglary, is reported to be in the hands of the sheriff at Dickinson, having gotten into a row in that town. Dalton spent most of his time in the penitentiary in solitary confinement and had the reputation of being a bad actor. He is said to have invented a handcuff, a patent of some merit, while serving time in the penitentiary.

SYRUP OF FIGS FOR CROSS, SICK FEVERISH CHILD

If Little Stomach Is Sour, Liver Torpid or Bowels Clogged.

Mothers can rest easy after giving "California Syrup of Figs," because in a few hours all the clogged-up waste, sour bile and fermenting food gently moves out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. Children simply will not take the time from play to empty their bowels, and they become tightly packed, liver gets sluggish and stomach disordered.

When cross, feverish, restless, see if tongue is coated, then give this delicious "fruit laxative." Children love it, and it can not cause injury. No difference what ails your little one—if full of cold, or a sore throat, diarrhoea, stomachache, bad breath, remember, a gentle "inside cleansing" should always be the first treatment given. Full directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups are printed on each bottle.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," then look carefully and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." We make no smaller size. Hand back with contempt any other fig syrup.

WISCONSIN BRIEFS

Madison—The state industrial commission has filed a report of its investigations of old age relief with the members of the legislature, and it concludes that if old age pensions are established in Wisconsin the annual aid per dependent person should not be less than $150.

Milwaukee—Marcus Silber, aged 72, a Wisconsin pioneer died March 19. He was born in Kalisz, Poland, and arrived in New York at the age of 19 years. He later located at Waupun, where he, with his brothers, established themselves in business. In 1880 he settled in Milwaukee where he built up a large drygoods business on the northwest side. He retired from business in 1899.

Beloit—Escaping coal gas at the home of Prof. William Porter, Beloit college, nearly proved fatal to the dean of Beloit educators. When the gas was detected Prof. Porter was suffering greatly, and for several hours his condition was serious. Prof. Porter celebrated his 94th birthday on Jan. 10 last.

Appleton—Despite the fact that he is district attorney, Mark Catlin will again coach the Lawrence college football team. Arrangements have been made whereby he and Dr. W. J. Foot, a former Marquette university player, will have charge of the squad. Foot has assisted Catlin the last four years during which time Lawrence has had the state championship.

Milwaukee—Charlie Moy, a nephew of Charles Toy, proprietor of a Chinese restaurant, was fined $25 and costs on a charge of speeding a motorcycle on the Whitefish Bay road.

Madison—Wisconsin is entitled to send another Rhodes scholar to Oxford university in 1916. The examination will be held Oct. 5, 1915.

Fond du Lac—Fond du Lac has tendered the state fair board a permanent site for the state fair located in the heart of the Fox river valley.

New Richmond—Orville Fulten, the 4-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben H. Fulten was drowned in a pool of water caused by melting recent snows.

Janesville—Mrs. Louisa Stearns Best, the founder of the Janesville free library, died March 20, aged 75. Her body will be cremated in Chicago.

Milwaukee—A jitney bus failed to stop after striking Thomas Josick, aged 38, at Fifth and Wells streets, Saturday. Josick was severely bruised. The identity of the driver is not known.

DAKOTA BRIEFS

Hettinger, N. D.—Hettinger baseball enthusiasts have arranged for putting a good baseball team in the field for the coming season. The team will be composed of local talent.

Fargo, N. D.—The Northwestern National bank of Minneapolis will spend a huge silver cup as one of the trophies for which the contestants in the big North Dakota corn show will compete.

Goodrich, N. D.—James Frankel, formerly of St. Paul, charged with arson in connection with the burning of his mercantile store here, was found not guilty in district court when the prosecution abandoned its case.

Devils Lake, N. D.—Edward Richardson has received a report from Calgary of success of the Herron-Elder oil well which is located southwest of Calgary. Mr. Richardson holds stock in this concern which now has three oil wells in operation. It was reported there was 900 feet of crude oil in one of the company's wells.

Fargo, N. D.—The final tryout for the debating teams at Fargo college was held at Fargo college. The affirmative team as chosen will be Pollock, leader; Baldwin and Bascom. These men will go to Huron, S. D., to debate there with Huron college.

Casselton, N. D.—The whole west portion of the old Badger hotel in this place burned to the ground with a loss approximating $5,000.

Minnewaukan, N. D.—In district court here before Judge Neussle of Bismarck, sitting for Judge Buttz, Betsy Jones and her husband, Elmer Jones and her mother, Mrs. Hans Sogge, entered pleas of not guilty to a charge of first degree murder. The trio are held for the alleged brutal murder of an infant child and will be tried at Cando this week.

Minot, N. D.—R. T. Frost, Minot architect, is preparing plans for a $30,000 hotel to be built at Kenmare by Theodore Kahelick, proprietor of the Hotel Martin, at that place, soon.

FOOD SOURING IN STOMACH CAUSES INDIGESTION, GAS

"Pape's Diapepsin" Ends All Stomach Distress in Five Minutes.

Wonder what upset your stomach—which portion of the food did the damage—do you? Well, don't bother. If your stomach is in a revolt; if sour, gassy and upset, and what you just ate has fermented into stubborn lumps; head dizzy and aches; belch gases and acids and eructate undigested food; breath foul, tongue coated—just take a little Pape's Diapepsin and in five minutes you wonder what became of the indigestion and distress.

Millions of men and women today know that it is needless to have a bad stomach. A little Diapepsin occasionally keeps this delicate organ regulated and they eat their favorite foods without fear.

If your stomach doesn't take care of your liberal limit without rebellion; if your food is a damage instead of a help, remember, the quickest, surest, most harmless relief is Pape's Diapepsin which costs only fifty cents for a large case at drug stores. It's truly wonderful—it digests food and sets things straight, so gently and easily that it is really astonishing. Please, for your sake, don't go on and on with a weak, disordered stomach; it's so unnecessary.

PENINSULA BRIEFS

Calumet—William H. Richards, aged 41, a son of Thomas Richards, died Saturday. Mr. Richards was born and raised in this city. For about ten years he was employed by the Tri-mountain Mining company at Trimountain, and then went to Munising, where he was employed by the Munising Pulp company for four months.

SAWMILLS TO BE BUSY

Copper Country Plants Will Have Plenty to Do During 1915.

Larger Amount of Timber Cut Past Season Than Usual.

Calumet, Mich., March 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—Because of an exceptionally heavy cut of timber in the Baraga and Keweenaw bay districts last winter the sawmills of the Copper country will be kept unusually busy throughout the spring and summer and late into next winter, which will benefit a half dozen thriving towns. Ontonagon and other small towns in Ontonagon county will also be livened up this summer with the operations of the big lumber mills.

Lamoine, Pequaming and L'Anse, in Baraga county, and Dollar Bay, in Houghton county, have large mills, which will be kept busy.

The Dollar Bay Lumber company's plant will cut about 3,000,000 feet of logs this season, starting early in May.

Baraga's Busy Year.

The Baraga Lumber company will open its mills at Baraga April 1 and will cut some 5,000,000 feet of logs. Large quantities of timber were hauled into the mill yards and will be sawed during the winter to start early operations, but the greater part of the cut will be rafted in during the late spring. The Nestor mill at Baraga will cut about 4,000,000 feet of logs this season and employ 200 men next fall and winter. The company operates its own railroad to its timber belt. It hauls its men in logging camps, will cut about 10,000,000 feet of logs in its 16 camps this season and 75 teams and 75 men and 75 teams and 75 men will work in and haul through all the year.

Montanan Dies Praying.

Anaconda, Mont., March 22.—Judge Thomas Cleland, 78 years old, wealthy, and one of the best-known citizens of Anaconda, was found dead on his ranch, the body being in a posture of prayer. Judge Cleland for years was district judge of the district including Deer Lodge county. He was a pioneer of Montana, coming to the state in 1864. He was a member of the constitutional convention in 1889 and was a candidate for governor on the Democratic ticket in 1892. He was a candidate for justice of the peace in Anaconda and was a candidate for police magistrate. At one time he was deputy assessor of Silver Bow county.

WOMAN WEAK AND NERVOUS

Finds Health in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Creston, Iowa.—"I suffered with female troubles from the time I came into womanhood until I had taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I would have pains if I overworked or lifted anything heavy, and I would be so weak and nervous and in so much misery that I would be prostrated. A friend told me what your medicine had done for her and I tried it. It made me strong and healthy and our home is now happy with a baby boy. I am very glad that I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and do all I can to recommend it."—Mrs. A. E. BOECAMP, 504 E. Howard Street, Creston, Iowa.

are used annually in the manufacture of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which is known from ocean to ocean as the standard remedy for female ills.

For forty years this famous root and herb medicine has been pre-eminently successful in controlling the diseases of women. Merit alone could have stood this test of time.

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

TYPE OF OPEN AIR COTTAGE TO BE BUILT AT WA VILLE.

Bemidji, Minn., March 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—Bemidji is to have a new suburb, located on the east shore of Lake Bemidji, directly across from the mouth of Bemidji river and to be known as Wa Ville. Arrangements for train service have been made. A store is planned by F. C. Thompson, a local merchant, to cater for the summer visitors, and a club, dining hall will be thrown up as soon as the weather permits. By a unique system, tickets at the Wa Ville dining hall erected under the direction of the C. B. Walker and Akeley interests, will be honored also at Bemidji hotels and other summer resorts. At least fifty new cottages are to be erected at Wa Ville, and workmen are now busy putting up ice for the summer visitors.

At Kabekona lake, U. S. engineers are platting the lake shore into summer resort tracts, reservation being made for a road on the south side of the lake.

WALSH OFFERED JOB.

Washburn Attorney Tendered Position of Counsel for Federal Commission.

Washburn, Wis., March 22.—John Walsh of this city has been appointed one of the two attorneys for the new Federal trade commission of which Joe Davies of Madison is at the head. Representative Stevens of New Hampshire is the other. Mr. Walsh has thirty days in which to make up his mind.

Mr. Walsh returned Saturday from Washington, where he had a conference with Mr. Davies and the appointment was offered him. If he accepts, and in all likelihood he will, he will move to Washington to reside.

Mr. Walsh is a brother of United States Senator T. J. Walsh of Montana.

PERMITS MIXED SERVICE.

North Dakota Railroad Commission Grants Soo's Request.

Bismarck, N. D., March 22.—The railroad commission has given the Soo line permission to run a mixed instead of the present passenger train between this city and Wishek. The permission is conditioned upon the running time schedule being maintained at Menango junction with the Milwaukee both ways, and upon a time schedule not more than half an hour slower than the passenger train's time.

Railroad Commissioner O. P. N. Anderson has gone to Washington, D. C., to attend a meeting of the valuation committee of the National Association of Railroad Commissioners, of which he is a member, with the railroad physical valuation committee of the Interstate commerce commission and a committee representing the railroads of the country.

SEVEN FARGO CANDIDATES.

Seek Three Positions to Be Filled at Coming City Election.

Fargo, N. D., March 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—There are five candidates for the two places on the city commission and two for the one place on the city park commission. Police Commissioner Jordan and Waterworks Commissioner Blakemore are each seeking re-election. H. C. Plumley, J. H. Dahl and Wayne Eddy are the other candidates. W. P. Porterfield, for five years a member of the city park board, seeks re-election and is opposed by Dr. Ejelle.

Citizens will be asked to vote on bond issues for a city market place, a garbage incinerator and a municipal abattoir. It is thought all three will carry. The market proposition was tried out last year and was so popular the people evidently want it on a permanent basis. The commission seeks authority to purchase a site and erect suitable buildings. The question of disposition of the garbage has been under discussion for some time, and the incinerator idea seems generally favored, only unexpected opposition will defeat either of the three plans.

NATURALIZED CHINESE WILL FIGHT IN U. S. ARMY.

Calumet, Mich., March 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—Yet Lei of Hubbell, the only Chinese citizen of the United States of which Northern Michigan can boast, who was born and raised in this country, declares that if the United States becomes embroiled in the European war or has trouble with Mexico or Japan he will enlist with the volunteers and fight under the Stars and Stripes. Yet Lei, through correspondence with business representatives in China, has arrived at the opinion that China will not become embroiled with Japan or in the European fracas.

IS SHOT THROUGH BACK.

Young North Dakotan Accidentally Shot and May Die.

Belfield, N. D., March 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—While driving in a wagon with a 10-year-old brother, Percy Rozenkrantz, 22, was probably fatally injured. The boys carried a rifle in the bottom of the wagon, and this was accidentally discharged, the bullet striking the young man in the leg and lodging in his back. He fell out of the wagon, and the younger brother, who was not strong enough to lift him back, returned to the house a mile away and secured assistance, and Rozenkrantz was brought here. He has a small chance of recovery. He has a claim in McKenzie county and was assisting his father this winter.

RELEASED CONVICT AGAIN IN TROUBLE.

Bismarck, N. D., March 22.—Jack Dalton, one of the most notorious prisoners in the penitentiary, who was released recently upon the expiration of his sentence of two and a half years for burglary, is reported to be in the hands of the sheriff at Dickinson, having gotten into a row in that town. Dalton spent most of his time in the penitentiary in solitary confinement and had the reputation of being a bad actor. He is said to have invented a handcuff, a patent of some merit, while serving time in the penitentiary.

WISCONSIN BRIEFS

Madison—The state industrial commission has filed a report of its investigations of old age relief with the members of the legislature, and it concludes that if old age pensions are established in Wisconsin the annual aid per dependent person should not be less than $150.

Milwaukee—Marcus Silber, aged 72, a Wisconsin pioneer died March 19. He was born in Kalisz, Poland, and arrived in New York at the age of 19 years. He later located at Waupun, where he, with his brothers, established themselves in business. In 1880 he settled in Milwaukee where he built up a large drygoods business on the northwest side. He retired from business in 1899.

Beloit—Escaping coal gas at the home of Prof. William Porter, Beloit college, nearly proved fatal to the dean of Beloit educators. When the gas was detected Prof. Porter was suffering greatly, and for several hours his condition was serious. Prof. Porter celebrated his 94th birthday on Jan. 10 last.

Appleton—Despite the fact that he is district attorney, Mark Catlin will again coach the Lawrence college football team. Arrangements have been made whereby he and Dr. W. J. Foot, a former Marquette university player, will have charge of the squad. Foot has assisted Catlin the last four years during which time Lawrence has had the state championship.

Milwaukee—Charlie Moy, a nephew of Charles Toy, proprietor of a Chinese restaurant, was fined $25 and costs on a charge of speeding a motorcycle on the Whitefish Bay road.

Madison—Wisconsin is entitled to send another Rhodes scholar to Oxford university in 1916. The examination will be held Oct. 5, 1915.

Fond du Lac—Fond du Lac has tendered the state fair board a permanent site for the state fair located in the heart of the Fox river valley.

Beloit—The body of his wife, Anna, aged 26, was found hanging from a rope run over the top of a door by Peter Marks of Shopiere, Wis., seven miles from here. Temporary insanity is suspected. She left three small girls.

New Richland—Orville Fulten, the 4-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben H. Fulten was drowned in a pool of water caused by melting recent snows.

Janesville—Mrs. Louisa Stearns Best, the founder of the Janesville free library, died March 20, aged 76. Her body will be cremated in Chicago.

Milwaukee—A jitney bus failed to stop after striking Thomas Josick, aged 38, at Fifth and Wells streets, Saturday. Josick was severely bruised. The identity of the driver is not known.

DAKOTA BRIEFS

Hettinger, N. D.—Hettinger baseball enthusiasts have arranged for putting a good baseball team in the field for the coming season. The team will be composed of home talent.

Fargo, N. D.—The Northwestern National bank of Minneapolis will spend a huge silver cup as one of the trophies for which the contestants in the big North Dakota corn show will compete.

Goodrich, N. D.—James Frankel, formerly of St. Paul, charged with arson in connection with the burning of his mercantile store here, was found not guilty in district court when the prosecution abandoned its case.

Devils Lake, N. D.—Edward Richardson has received a report from Calgary of success of the Herron-Elder oil well, which is located southwest of Calgary. Mr. Richardson holds stock in this concern which now has three oil wells in operation. It was reported there was 900 feet of crude oil in one of the company's wells.

Fargo, N. D.—The final tryout for the debating teams at Fargo college was held at Fargo college. The affirmative team as chosen will be Pollock, leader; Baldwin and Bascom. These men will go to Huron, S. D., to debate there with Huron college.

Casselton, N. D.—The whole west portion of the old Badger hotel in this place burned to the ground with a loss approximating $5,000.

Minnewaukan, N. D.—In district court here before Judge Neussle of Bismarck, sitting for Judge Buttz, Betsy Jones and her husband, Elmer Jones and her mother, Mrs. Hans Sogge, entered pleas of not guilty to a charge of first degree murder. The trio are held for the alleged brutal murder of an infant child and will be tried at Cando this week.

Minot, N. D.—R. T. Frost, Minot architect, is preparing plans for a $30,000 hotel to be built at Kenmare by Theodore Kahelick, proprietor of the Hotel Martin, at that place, soon.

PENINSULA BRIEFS

Calumet—William H. Richards, aged 41, a son of Thomas Richards, died Saturday. Mr. Richards was born and raised in this city. For about ten years he was employed by the Tri-mountain Mining company at Tri-mountain, and then went to Munising, where he was employed by the Munising Pulp company for four months.

Houghton — Representative A. E. Petermann of the First district of Houghton county, has introduced in the state legislature a bill to empower Calumet township to raise $5,000 annually, by taxation, for specific purposes.

Marquette—G. W. Rose, representing the Federal census bureau, appointed Timothy T. Hurley, city market keeper, to take the manufacturers' census in the twenty-fifth district which includes Marquette, Dickinson and Menominee counties.

Houghton — Isaac Kuro, charged with larceny, was bound over to the April term of the Houghton county circuit court by Justice M. L. Funkey. Kuro, it is alleged, stole $67 from the proprietress of a boarding house, Mrs. Oscar Jarvinato of Quincy, Sept. 6, 1913, though he was not apprehended until December last.

Hancock—Amedee Corneller, who has been a councilman of the village for the past seven years and who resigned his position as trustee, is after the job now held by Commissioner of Public Works Thomas H. Gibson. The salary is $150 per month.

Houghton—K. S. Baker, district manager for the Upper Peninsula for the Michigan State Telephone company, states that General Manager A. von Schlegell will be in Houghton next Wednesday or Thursday, for the purpose of taking up the question of the telephone rates.

Calumet—Bert Larson of Calumet, a pitcher of the St. Paul American association baseball team, left Thursday for that city, to join the team en route for Fort Smith, Ark., to commence spring training. The team will be at Fort Smith for several weeks.

Houghton—Superintendent Wahl of the county infirmatory reports that he has ninety-nine intames under his care. This is the highest number of charges that have been accommodated at the infirmary for the past ten years. Three deaths occurred last week and two new charges were received.

Hancock—Matt Luota, an Otter Lake farmer charged with disobeying the school law in refusing to send his children to school, was arraigned before Justice Eichern. Adjournment was taken until March 26, upon application of Attorney Kiskilla for the defendant.

Negaunee—The fire loss for Negaunee during 1914 was $22,150 and only $9,600 insurance was carried leaving a net loss of $23,550, according to the report made by Chief Johnson to the council. Two-thirds of the total loss was caused by the Laughlin and Pearce blocks fire.

Ishpeming—Andrew Erickson, a resident of the Lake Angeline location for the last thirty years, has announced his candidacy for the nomination of treasurer on the Republican ticket.

FOOD SOURING IN STOMACH CAUSES INDIGESTION, GAS

"Pape's Diapepsin" Ends All Stomach Distress in Five Minutes.

Wonder what upset your stomach—which portion of the food did the damage—do you? Well, don't bother. If your stomach is in a revolt; if sour, gassy and upset, and what you just ate has fermented into stubborn lumps; head dizzy and aches; belch gases and acids and eructate undigested food; breath foul, tongue coated—just take a little Pape's Diapepsin and in five minutes you wonder what became of the indigestion and distress.

Millions of men and women today know that it is needless to have a bad stomach. A little Diapepsin occasionally keeps this delicate organ regulated and they eat their favorite foods without fear.

If your stomach doesn't take care of your liberal limit without rebellion; if your food is a damage instead of a help, remember, the quickest, surest, most harmless relief is Pape's Diapepsin which costs only fifty cents for a large case at drug stores. It's truly wonderful—it digests food and sets things straight, so gently and easily that it is really astonishing. Please, for your sake, don't go on and on with a weak, disordered stomach; it's so unnecessary.

MINNESOTA BRIEFS

Mahnomen—E. F. Broomhall, architect of the Mahnomen schoolhouse, was in town accompanied by the superintendent and one member of the school board of Carlton. An inspection of the Mahnomen schoolhouse was made by them, as Carlton is going to build this summer.

Moose Lake—There will be a farmers' short course here March 23 to 27. The work consists of feeding and judging horses and cows, farm management, alfalfa and corn growing, potato growing and domestic science for women.

Fergus Falls—Frank W. Preston of Spokane, Wash., visited this city recently en route to St. Paul to assume his duties as district superintendent of the Great Northern Express company between St. Paul and Whitefish, Mont., a position to which he was appointed Feb. 27.

Bagley—At a recent meeting of the directors of the Clearwater Creamery association, Carl Johnson of Trail was hired for butter maker for the coming season. The creamery will open for business on May 1.

Crookston—The district court in June will decide the case of the state against Hans Strommen, Hans Christianson and Herman Connery, alleged to have stolen a quantity of wheat and oats from a granary in the town of Reis belonging to C. C. Heath of Beltrami. Judge Gossman of the municipal court bound the three over to the grand jury.

Roseau—W. J. Clark, who has been farming as a tenant two and a half miles north of Fox station, has moved with his family to Epping, N. D. Miss Clark, who is attending the Roseau high school, will remain until the close of school.

St. Hilaire—Mabel Anderson, the 17-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. K. Anderson of Sanders, died at the family home March 17 from rheumatic fever. Besides her parents, she leaves five sisters and three brothers, among the latter being P. L. Anderson of Holt and two brothers who reside at home.

Moorhead—A movement is on foot to organize a Red River Valley baseball league and a meeting for that purpose will be held here April 1.

East Grand Forks—The clearing away of the debris and burned portion of the De Mars avenue bridge has been practically completed and actual construction work will be commenced in a few days. Most of the material is already on hand and an effort will be made to drive the piling while the ice is still in the river.

Red Lake Falls — Mrs. Marchildon, widow of George Marchildon, who died last fall, passed away at her home in this city March 16, age 51. The funeral was held Saturday from St. Joseph's church.

Fosston—I. O. Brandt and Henry A. Berg left recently for Florida, expecting to be gone about a month. Both are interested in land there. T. Hanson is taking Mr. Berg's place in the Fosston Co-operative store in his absence.

Onaemia—John Homme has purchased K. H. Burrell's interest in the hardware store here and the corporate name of the concern will be changed to Goulet-Homme Hardware company.

Wahkon—The old town board last week closed up the affairs of the township for the last fiscal year. The village of Isle having been separated from the town of Isle Harbor, F. S. Burroughs, a resident of the village, was disqualified for holding the office of supervisor and resigned. H. H. Penz is appointed to fill the unexpired term.

Better cookies, cake and biscuits, too. All as light, fluffy, tender and delicious as mother used to bake. And just as wholesome. For purer Baking Powder than Calumet cannot be had at any price.

Wrestling Boxing

THE DAILY ROLL CALL; A COLUMN OF SPORTS

BY BRUCE.

BATTLING NELSON is in Havana—infinite scope for speculation—and has given the up and down to Jack Johnson. When the assertion is reluctantly wrung from the Durable Dane, put it in your spring hat for future reference—the smoke is in shape.

One evening, not so long ago, while the steam pipes were hissing and the elements were doing a violent tango, we sat in the dressing room of the Dane and conversed about everything save literature and those subjects that are often discussed by persons uncertain of their meals.

"How I hate this Johnson," said Nelson. "He is a big bum." Let it be said that a big bum is the superlative degree of opprobrium, according to the tenets of Nelson culture. "Yes, the big smoke has done more injury to the boxing game than any fighter since the sport started. Yes, I hate him, like all of the rest of them—and yet I have to admit that Johnson is the greatest heavyweight we have ever had. "Lick Jeffries! In the best day Jeff ever saw. Say, the smoke knew more about fighting that they could ever begin to tell the big boilermaker."

As was stated at the beginning of this slight dissertation, Nelson is in Havana at the present writing. After looking Johnson over it is the opinion of the Dane that the smoke is in anything but rotten shape. If the followers of the game play form to win—and throw all this Hughey Fullerton dark and suspicious talk out of the window—why then there should be some opinions running for Johnson.

Class will generally tell, either at a German picnic or a prize fight. Uncouthness is the word to use in connection with Willard. All morals and table manners are being left out of discussion, mind: boxing is the subject under fire. Johnson is all class—all skill and science and a great ring general. The result runs for Sweeney.

The Lightweight Muddle.

TURNING the searchlight of close investigation on the lightweight situation, we find contradictions and peculiar tieups in the Fox trot of the dear old dope.

About seven hundred and a number thereabouts of the young and old lightweights of the country have received popular decisions over Freddy Welsh this fall, winter and spring. Receiving decisions over the present champion has come with the regularity of an announcement of a war with Mexico.

And yet in the end, to polish the surface off nicely, perhaps to leave followers of the game mystified, or perhaps in a moment of capricious humor, Welsh comes jauntily to the fore and makes Charley White look like the veriest tyro at the glove game.

Wait a minute—White is accredited with winning the popular decision over Willie Ritchie. In turn—take them as they come—Ritchie is credited with staking Leach Cross to a licking in the Garden. Then on top of this Leach Cross stopped Joe Mandot dead in ten rounds in New Orleans. Knocked the everlasting daylights out of Mandot. Then Charley White Stops Sammy Robideau dead—and after being classed as through and going ambling back to the home of the has beens, Welsh comes back and makes White look like an untrained elephant handicapped with heavy shoes.

This crowning feat of Welsh might lead some to the opinion that the leading man of Pontypridd is a simulater, and more—the cleverest of the lightweights, for, dears, Packey McFarland can no longer make the weight, unless he would submit to a surgical operation that would remove more than his appendix.

It Pays to Advertise.

WASN'T it John Milton who exclaimed "It Pays to Advertise." No it was not, but it doesn't make any difference. That's a good way to start. It was Charles Dickens or Theodore Roosevelt or perhaps Earl Grey or maybe One-eyed Connelly.

Neat little folders have arrived from the White Sox special that is carrying the members of the Chicago American brigade across the continent. The folders contain information, pictures, and many salutations. Newspaper men on board join kindly with Charles Albert Comiskey in the profuseness of radiating good cheer.

It was King Henry VIII who majestically declared he was advertised by his loving friends, and the same can be claimed by Old Roman Comiskey. Friends, fans and strangers, attracted by the fame of the noblest Roman of them all, crowd the White Sox park, no matter if the Comiskeyites are clinging tenaciously to the last rung of the ladder.

Keen followers of the game, or pessimistic peddlers of ill omened stuff, have been known to declare that there is no such commodity as sentiment in baseball. Mr. Honus Wagner, the well known Pennsylvania fisherman, is down on the records as mildly corroborating this assertation. Be that as it may, the love borne Charley Comiskey, which love takes the lovely form of dollar tickets, sticks out a jutting objection to the general statement that love ain't and never was.

In his own loving way Mr. Comiskey fully appreciates the value of advertising. His benign smile is seen on lithographs and peers peacefully from sporting pages in all quarters of this throbbing sphere. As a loving soul, Mr. Comiskey is exhibit A. It is a shame that Ida Tarbell doesn't turn some of that analytical power of hers and gushing goodness dope to the investigation of Commy. Miss Tarbell has lots of readers now; she would have lots more were her literary love the noblest Roman of them all.

FULTZ PLANS FOR BASEBALL PEACE

Suggests Board of Arbitration Between Federals and Organized Baseball.

New York, March 22.—With a view to settling the differences between organized baseball and the Federal league, President David L. Fultz of the Baseball Players' fraternity yesterday suggested that a board of arbitrators be appointed by the warring factions. His idea is that such a board should settle territorial rights as well as the rights to players.

In addition, it should outline broad principles for the future government of baseball and assist in the formation of a governing body of representatives of the National, American, Federal and minor leagues, the players and the public, acting through the Baseball Writers' association. In his opinion such an arrangement would stand approved before the courts, the players and the public; free the game from criticism and launch it upon an era of prosperity such as it has never known before.

LONG SEASON FOR FLICKERS

Grand Forks to Play Sixty-Two Games on Home Lot.

Grand Forks, N. D., March 22.—Grand Forks will open its Northern league season at home on May 6, and will play a series of fourteen games before hitting the road.

The Grand Forks team will play sixty-two games at home, eight of which are on Sunday. The Decoration day and July 4 holiday dates are billed for the home stand.

The team makes three trips to Winnipeg, playing there on two Saturdays. Ten games will be played at St. Boniface.

Winnipeg and St. Boniface each open at home, playing Duluth and Superior, respectively.

Yesterday Manager Fox and Director Kavanaugh each signed up a catcher. Fox signed Orvil G. Wolfe, who played last year for the Rockford team of the Wisconsin-Illinois league, and Kavanaugh signed Bradley McNeely of last season's Springfield Three-Eye league team.

ATHLETICS' MASCOT DEAD IN PHILADELPHIA.

Philadelphia, March 22.—Louis Van Zeelst, who acted as mascot for the Philadelphia American league baseball team for five seasons, died at his home here yesterday. He was 20 years old, but his growth was stunted by an accident twelve years ago.

The Athletics were in a slump in 1909 when Connie Mack saw the little figure watching a game from the stand above the players' dugout. He invited Van Zeelst to act as bat boy and later secured a uniform for him.

CHICAGO MAN LEADS THREE-CUSHION LIST.

Chicago, March 22.—With sixteen games remaining to complete the schedule play in the world's three-cushion billiard championship team, William Huey of Chicago was leading last night in the competition, having won seven straight games. On one occasion he made a high run of 13, the record of the tournament.

Huey has yet to meet George Moore, John Daly and Alfredo De Oro of New York, the other leaders in the tournament. Moore, who has lost one game in seven, has disposed of Daly, and is considered by the experts to have an even break with Huey.

DULUTH OARSMEN OUT ON FRIGID WATER OF CANAL

Ten Eyck Sends Pupils for First Row of the Season.

Jim Wray Will Coach Crews of the Minnesota Boat Club.

This is fact, not fiction—a squad of the oarsmen of the Duluth Boat club was out on the water yesterday.

Jimmy Ten Eyck is so exuberantly anxious to make this season the greatest by far in the rowing annals of the club that March 21 discovered him marshalling his rowing cohorts and getting them on the water. Rowing here in March is a feat unprecedented. Doctors, mothers and undertakers will watch the aftermath with extreme interest.

Kent, Hoover and Grant were out in lapstreak singles, and Troyer, Sutherland, Rowland and Old Reliable Quimby were out in a lapstreak four. Following the row in the placid waters of the canal, about thirty candidates went to the Oatka branch of the club and enjoyed a training table dinner. The heavy eating squad were the guests of Coach Ten Eyck.

Start Work on Water.

Today workers will be started putting up a float on the city side of the canal, just around the corner from the spot where the bridge lands. From the time the float is completed until the time ice may block up the small portion of bay that is open at the present time, the old oarsmen of the club will be sent out on the water. Rowing in March! It makes one shiver to think of it.

In the squad that Jimmy Ten Eyck is judicially nursing along there are 40 bantams, 37 juniors and 15 seniors. Wallace Quimby, captain of the rowing department of the club, and Bessenboschel are lost to the senior squad. Quimby feels that he has rowed long enough, while "Dutch" has advanced some other reasons for not going out for a seat this season.

Ten Eyck believes that he will make a great showing with his senior material. In addition to the senior eight, there will be the senior four and the quadruple four. It is stated that it is the present intention of James to row the senior four as a separate and distinct organization to that of the senior eight.

St. Paul Lands Wray.

While no encouraging news has been received from Winnipeg, hope bounds fervently along in the shape of an announcement from St. Paul that Jim Wray, Harvard coach of high toned ability, has been engaged to point the Minnesota Rowing club candidates.

To appreciate the ability of Wray, it is only necessary to lamp his record at dear old Harvard. From a rowing joke to one of the leaders of American intercollegiate rowing, is the progression achieved by Harvard under the tutoring of Wray.

Last season Wray coached the Grand Rapids club after rowing ceased at Harvard. The showing of Grand Rapids at the National is another glowing testimonial of the ability of Wray, formerly one of the greatest scullers produced in Australia.

As for Winnipeg, it is not anticipated that the Canadians will do much this season. A letter has been received from the officials of the Winnipeg Rowing club in which it was stated that many of the crack oarsmen were engaged in the sanguinary business of war. Just what Winnipeg will attempt to do the approaching season is not definitely known by the officials of the club as yet.

Big Regatta Assured.

Jimmy Ten Eyck declared today that the awarding of the national regatta to Springfield, Mass., assures a large number of entrants for the big event.

"Springfield is centrally located and in the very center of a great rowing district," said Ten Eyck. "The course is on the Connecticut river, which is wide and affords a very excellent course. Awarding the national to Springfield will undoubtedly result in a large number of clubs entering, for the Massachusetts city is in close proximity to many of the very best of the Eastern clubs."

FIRST GOLF OF SEASON

Northland Members Get an Early Start on the Links.

Like rowing, baseball, marbles and other vernal sports, golf is up and doing. Enthusiastic players have already gone over the links of the Northland Country club. Play is not generally in vogue as yet, but some of the deep-dyed enthusiasts have been out for sessions on the green and an exceptionally early start is promised this year.

Mr. Mullin stated today that the links were in better shape now than at a period a month later a year ago.

Improvements in the way of extending the third and fourth hole will probably be made this year. The ground directly west of there was cleared and seeded two years ago. This season the holes will be extended and an improvement worked in the course.

A large number of new members have been secured this winter. The approaching season is expected to prove one of the best in the history of the club.

THIS RED HEAD TO FIGHT RAY TEMPLE

RED WATSON.

Red Watson and Ray Temple are to mingle at Mike Collins' Hudson arena tomorrow evening. These boys are two of the classiest contenders in the country. Temple, before dissipation knocked the props from under him, was on a fair way to the lightweight title. The comeback of the former Milwaukee boy is being watched with interest. In Minneapolis Watson is the favorite, while in St. Paul, the present home of Temple, the fans are stringing along with the belief that the great cleverness and ring generalship of Temple will return him a winner.

SAULT DECLARED HOCKEY CHAMPS

Team Manager Planning for Next Year—Duluth Out of Favor.

Calumet, Mich., March 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—President Charles E. Webb of the American Amateur Hockey association has ordered the Cleveland Athletic club to forward to Houghton the MacNaughton silver cup trophy, emblematic of the hockey championship of the United States. Cleveland forfeited the cup and the championship this year by refusing to play the Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., team, winners of the championship in the Western division of the association. The cup will be sent to the Sault team by the president as soon as it is received.

There will be a big change in the makeup of the Western branch of the association another winter. Marquette, Mich., plans to build a $50,000 hockey and skating rink the coming summer and will organize a fast hockey team, which will be entered for the association schedule. Calumet, Houghton, the American and Canadian Saults and probably Laurium will also enter teams. Laurium already has a large rink, equal to the biggest rinks in the country, where the Calumet team, in the old professional International Hockey league, won the world's championship in 1905 against Pittsburg, the two Saults and Portage Lake.

The clubs of the Western branch are already organizing for next year. Calumet is after Muz Murray, captain of the Sault champions, and Wilson and Godin, also of the champions, as a nucleus for the copper metropolis team. Roy Reynolds, who has played with Cleveland, later with Houghton and this year with Calumet, is mentioned for captain and playing manager of the Laurium team. He is one of the most brilliant forwards in the game and, it is said, is the equal of Hobey Baker.

Both St. Paul and Minneapolis will have teams and will seek entrance to the league next winter. St. Paul has secured the services of Hobey Baker, the Brooklyn star, it is said. Minneapolis will build a hockey rink this summer.

Duluth's plans for next year are rather uncertain. Duluth dropped from the American association this winter and none of the association clubs are right now very anxious to have anything to do with the Duluth club. Duluth threatens to organize an international league with strong Canadian clubs.

RED WING STATE H. S. CHAMPIONS

Closely Contested Basketball Title Games Fought Out at Northfield.

Northfield, Minn., March 22.—Winning a hard-fought game from Mountain Lake in the finish of the annual inter-scholastic basket ball tournament at Carleton college Saturday night by a score of 30 to 18, Red Wing high school captured first honors in the tournament and the undisputed claim to the high school basket ball championship of Minnesota for 1915.

Both of the quints in the final contest played their second game in one day, Red Wing having beaten Virginia and Mountain Lake having beaten Bemidji in the semi-finals Saturday morning. In spite of this both teams went into the game with plenty of spirit and the contest was one of the finest ever played on the Sayles Hill floor.

The game opened with unusually fast playing on both sides. Red Wing began the scoring and demonstrated marked superiority over their opponents in the first period. A succession of cleverly executed field baskets left the score 18 to 3 at the end of the first half. Mountain Lake braced considerably in second half and scored several baskets before Red Wing was fairly started. Red Wing soon resumed their tactics of the first half, however, and piled up a total of 30 points to 18 for their opponents.

A total of nine games, six on Friday and three on Saturday, made up the tournament. The first game Friday morning between Mechanic Arts and Brecklnridge resulted in a victory for Mechanic Arts by a 31-to-22 score. The second game between Willmar and Mountain Lake went to Mountain Lake by 29 to 27. The next game Friday between Red Wing and Fosston went to Red Wing by a 27-to-21 score and the last game Friday afternoon resulted in a victory for Virginia over Lake City by 27 to 20. Bemidji beat Rush City Friday night by a 32-to14 score and Mountain Lake beat Mechanic Arts by 30 to 20. In the semi-finals Saturday morning Red Wing eliminated Virginia by a score of 28 to 11 and Mountain Lake triumphed over Bemidji by 35 to 28.

TWIN CITY BOWLERS COP HONORS IN BIG TOURNEY

West Hotel Team of Minneapolis Wins Five-Men Event.

Northern Association Meet Most Successful Held Here.

By far the largest and most successful bowling tournament ever held in the history of Duluth came to an end last evening, when the Northern Bowling association week of rolling terminated.

Bowlers from the Twin Cities won firsts in all of the events. The West hotel five-men team of Minneapolis copped the big prize of the tourney. The same team won the five-men prize last year.

Wilke and Reimer of Minneapolis carried off first place in the doubles. Martin of St. Paul, one of the veteran bowlers of the Northwest, won first place in the singles.

A social session was judiciously mixed with the rolling of Saturday evening. Dad Hull, the father of Minnesota bowling, was toastmaster, and the pin men enjoyed themselves until the wee sma hours of the morning.

The success of the tournament that ended last evening has inspired the local officials with greater ambitions for next year. It was declared today that the Northern tournament of 1916 will surpass the one that has passed in history. The success of the tourney just closed has definitely placed Duluth as one of the real bowling centers of the game.

While to some, the showing of Duluth bowlers was more or less of a disappointment, the local men were opposed by the class of the Northwest. The play here during the last week was on an equality with the brand of bowling exhibited at the I. B. A.

Following are the detailed scores of yesterday and Saturday play:

For Manly Men

We have purposely made up a tobacco to appeal to the strong, vigorous man who wants full flavor and fragrance combined with natural sweetness in his smoke or chew. This tobacco is PEERLESS. It was put on the market fifty years ago especially to satisfy the tobacco hungry man. It has filled the bill.

Firemen, policemen, out-of-doors men, two-fisted men in general, all say PEERLESS satisfies. Once they start using PEERLESS they cannot get the same satisfaction out of any other brand.

PEERLESS

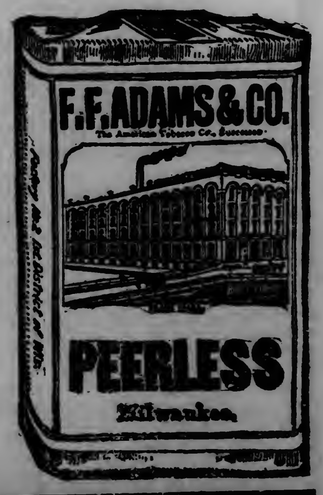
Long Cut Tobacco

has character to it. That's why it appeals to and pleases these men of sturdy character.

PEERLESS is made from pure Southern Kentucky leaf, aged for three to five years, so as to bring out slowly and naturally all the juicy mellowness and richness of the tobacco. That's why its quality never varies—and that's why hurried-up, hashed-up tobaccos can't compare with PEERLESS.

In the strenuous hours of work or in the pleasant hours of relaxation, be sure to have some of this wonderful tobacco with you.

Just try PEERLESS for a week—"Smoke it or chew it—but go straight to it." Sold everywhere in 5c packages.



Other sizes, 10c, 20c and 40c Packages, and 45c Tin Pails.

"A Rubber Chain Tread built on a Powerful Modern Tire"

Our total factory capacity has been doubled. Now we are ready to supply "Chain Tread" Tires in unlimited quantities at popular prices.

For several years we have built "Chain Tread" Tires for a limited trade, but heretofore we have not been able to produce "Chain Treads" in large quantities.

"Chain Tread" Tires

Safety experts acknowledge our rubber chain tread, built on this powerful modern tire, to be an absolutely marvelous anti-skid device.

We challenge any competitor's tire to show you the same combination of real anti-skid protection and low cost per mile. We challenge you to keep a tire record and prove it for yourself. Send your name and address, for a set of Free Tire Record Blanks, to

CHANGES ITS A. B. C. TOURNEY STANDING

Chicago and South Bend Bowlers Crowd Into Third Place.

Peoria, Ill., March 22.—Chicago bowlers yesterday went into the leadership of the doubles at the American Bowling congress. The high mark of W. Remias and F. Kafora was sent down the list into third place when E. J. Kelly and A. Toemmi of Chicago forged to the top with 1,281. Kurle Mann and Brinkman of the Cincinnati team No. 10 took second with 1,246.

P. Wilson and L. Willinger of Chicago are tied for first in the singles with 671, and they were given a scare by J. C. Barton of Baltimore, but the best Barton could do was to roll into second place with 664.

Late last night the Bucktails of South Bend, Ind., went into the top in the fives with 2,847, sending the Bob Plummers of St. Louis into second place. The Flor De Knispel team from St. Paul went into third place with 2,825. The Herman Regulars of Kenosha went into fifth place with 2,818.

HOCKEY SEASON COMES TO CLOSE

It looks as if the hockey season has come to an end. The American Soo management has refused to accept the proposition wired by the management of the Duluth Curling club, and as a result the local team will probably go out of training. The ending of the season may be followed by a banquet to the members of the team.

The season has been marked by but three defeats. St. Paul, Port Arthur and the Winnipegs were the only teams to win from the locals. In every instance the curling club septet came back and defeated the invaders, winning the round in all three of the series. It is believed that the record of the local team is one of the best in the country, and one entitling the team to serious consideration for the national title.

FARGO MAY PLAY ON MOORHEAD GROUNDS

Fargo, N. D., March 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Fargo team of the Northern league may yet play its ball games in the Moorhead grounds. Last year when Moorhead decided to drop out of the co-operation with Fargo in maintaining a team in the Northern, President Welter of the Moorhead Commercial club negotiated a lease for the grounds to Russell Murray, the manager of an independent team. Recently when the Moorhead fans learned Fargo was to go it alone and play the games at the state fair grounds on this side, they considered the ride so long they began making inducements to have the contests in the Moorhead park.

Manager Murray of the independent team will assign the lease if reimbursed for the $100 he paid for it and given a bonus of $500. He has sold $500 worth of season tickets among local fans and wants money to refund to them so he can retain their subscription. The Fargo management refuses to pay that much bonus and the Moorhead fans are to have a meeting tomorrow to see if some arrangement cannot be made. It may be possible they will raise the bonus required by Murray for the assignment of the lease. As Sunday games can be played in Moorhead and may be opposed in Fargo and as it will cost a considerable sum to provide a suitable diamond at the state fair grounds, some local fans would prefer to see the contests in the Moorhead park.

SPRINGFIELD GETS BIG REGATTA

Duluth Crews Will Row in August at New England City.

New York, March 22.—The gala championship of the National Association of Amateur Oarsmen has been awarded to Springfield, Mass., and Aug. 13 and 14 were set as the dates for the meet.

California, through John Regan, a member of the national committee, made an effort to secure the event, but the vote for Springfield was almost unanimous.

Other dates fixed were as follows:

May 22, American Rowing association at Philadelphia; 31, New York Rowing association, on the Harlem river, New York; June 19, Schuylkill regatta at Philadelphia; July 3, Hudson River Rowing association meet; 5, People's regatta at Philadelphia; 5, New England regatta at Charles Basin, Boston; 5, Western Massachusetts Rowing association at Springfield, Mass.; Aug. 13 and 14, National regatta on Connecticut river, Springfield, Mass.; Sept. 6, Middle States Rowing association meet, place not yet fixed; New England Rowing association regatta at Boston; 6, Detroit River Rowing association at Detroit; 15, Detroit River Rowing association at Detroit.

News and Gossip of the Automobile World

New York, March 22.—The latest announcement made by the contest board of the American Automobile association shows that Chairman Kennerdell has straightened out the controversy that has waged among the promoters at Tacoma, Sioux City and Omaha over the national holiday. Sioux City has been given July 3, Tacoma July 4 and Omaha July 5. Besides these, the A. A. A. has listed road races at Tucson, Ariz., on March 20; Visalia, Cal., on July 4, and at Denver on July 30. Big dirt track races are scheduled at Galesburg, Ill., on June 9; at Burlington, Iowa, on July 9; at Janesville, Wis., on Aug. 14 and at Kalamazoo, Mich., on Sept. 6.

Sale of seats for the fifth annual international 500-mile race at Indianapolis on May 29 has opened already. All requests for seats are being filed in the order of their receipt, several thousand applications being on file already. Seat tariffs in general remain the same as last year. The one notable change is in the gate admission, which is now $2 for all parts of the grounds. To offset this, the management announces that it has thrown open two stands on the south turn with seats at 50 cents each. The 15,000 additional seats that are being erected increase the total seating capacity to 75,000 and make possible a larger attendance than ever before.

Up to 1899 nothing but wood entered into the major portion of body construction. Letters patent were granted in 1899 for an all-metal body. This body construction was used on an electric automobile and proved satisfactory. Another body was made for a steam runabout and exhibited at the Washington park automobile show, Chicago, in 1899. The body was very rigid, being made of a three-sided integral base frame constructed of angle iron extending from the front around the rear.

Business conditions in Canada have revived to such an extent that the Studebaker automobile plant at Walkerville has had to increase its force by 200 men in order to take care of new orders for machines.

ON THE IRON RANGES

NEW MEN GIVEN CHISHOLM JOBS

New Fire and Police Chiefs Named By the New Council.

Chisholm, Minn., March 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—The village council took hold of village affairs Saturday afternoon when the first meeting was held and there was general change in offices in the gift of the council.

Applications for the marshalship were received from Frank Grams, A. L. Bergeron, James Leighty and Ed W. Johnson. It was proposed by Recorder Culver and seconded by Trustee Ulrich that A. L. Bergeron be appointed with power to hire and discharge all members of the police force. Trustee Graham objected to the clause empowering the chief to name the night and day sergeants and his objection was sustained. A. L. Bergeron was then duly appointed chief succeeding George Donahue. Trustee Graham proposed and Trustee Mahne supported James Leighty for day sergeant. Graham, Mahne and Ulrich voted yes, Fugere and Culver no. Trustee Mahne then proposed that S. E. Greenthal be appointed night sergeant. He was supported by Trustee Graham. Graham and Mahne voted yes, Ulrich, Fugere and Culver no. Recorder Culver then nominated Antone Gerzin night sergeant. He was supported by Trustee Ulrich. The nomination carried.

New Fire Chief.

Trustee Graham proposed that Fire Chief McAlpine be retained. On the motion being put to a vote it lost, Fugere, Culver and Ulrich voting no, and Graham and Mahne voting yes. Recorder Culver then moved that Assistant Fire Chief George Nitch be appointed chief. Trustee Ulrich supported the motion and it carried. Trustee Graham being the only dissenting vote.

W. Little acting captain was appointed assistant fire chief.

Trustee Graham moved that the present street commissioner, Flip Harrington, be retained. The motion was lost. It was then moved by William Ulrich, seconded by Recorder Cuvler, that Osman Abbey be appointed street commissioner and he was appointed by unanimous vote.

A. H. Kieffman, representing a large delegation from the Moose lodge, asked that the lodge be given permission to put on a society circus show on lots to be chosen during the months of June and July and that the license money be not charged. Simon Sapero asked that before the council gave permission the matter be investigated. The advance agent of the circus explained the nature of the shows, and after some discussion it was decided to grant the request.

Syme Village Attorney.

Alger R. Syme was appointed village attorney at a salary of $125 per month.

The last payroll, amounting to a little over $3,000 was allowed.

The bonds of the recorder, deputy recorder and treasurer were set at the same figures as last year.

The bonds of the justices of the peace and assessor were referred to the village attorney.

The meeting days of the council will be second and fourth Wednesday of each month and the time at 2 o'clock. The next meeting will take place Wednesday.

DENIES CHARGE HE SOLD "FROM THE HIP"

Deer River Man, Accused of Peddling Liquor From Bottle, Pleads.

Grand Rapids, Minn., March 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—Herbert McGilvery of Deer River, who was indicted by the grand jury was arraigned Saturday afternoon pleaded not guilty.

McGilvery had for many years been a bartender at Deer River, and it is alleged that since the closing of the saloons in Deer River, he had carried on a lucrative business selling liquor "from the hip." He is the first of a number from Deer River whom the authorities have their eyes on to be arrested.

Could Not Get Evidence.

It is reported that the grand jury investigated conditions at Deer River, many reports having come in from people there that the town was being run wide open, and that more liquor was being sold and consumed than before the saloons were closed. When it came to producing proof, however, or to appearing against the alleged offenders, nothing tangible could be offered, and no action was taken. It is expected, however, that the matter will not be dropped.

SPRUCE MINER HURT.

Rock Falling From Wall in Drift Injures John Halunalainen.

Eveleth, Minn., March 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—John Halunalainen, a miner working at the Spruce mine in this city, was injured Saturday morning by a rock which fell from the wall in a drift, striking him on the back while he was in a stooped position oiling a car. His injury is not thought to be serious, but he was at once removed to the More hospital. The physicians pronounced his injury as slight, but an X-ray examination was made to be certain of his condition.

AIDING BELGIANS.

Charitably Disposed People of Virginia Make Donations.

Virginia, Minn., March 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—Local people are responding freely to calls for aid for the suffering babies of Belgium, the committee in charge here being gratified over the responses received.

The St. Eleanor's court of Our Lady of the Lourdes Catholic church donated four boxes of food, the Knights of Columbus gave $25. A special collection for the Belgians was taken up at the Our Lady of the Lourdes church Wednesday evening and $17 received. The following societies each donated one box. Norwegian Ladies' aid, St. Paul's guild, St. Cecilia's guild; Alexander Reid employes, J. M. Thurston, people of Virginia (small donations), Mrs. Henry King, Mrs. Alexander Reid, Mrs. H. W. Fiehr, Mrs. William Field, Cleveland Avenue Presbyterian Sunday school, Cleveland Avenue Men's organization and Mrs. Eugene Laugier.

CHISHOLM WOMAN SUING FOR $3,000

Asks District Court Jury to Allow Her That Sum for Slander.

Hibbing, Minn., March 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—The slander case of Miss Wanda Zielinski of Chisholm vs. Alex Jancaski of the same place to recover $3,000 was tried in district court today, the case going to the jury about noon.

Miss Wanda Zielinski alleges that Jancaski "falsely and publicly" made serious charges against her in the Polish tongue.

Only one more case remains yet to be tried before the jury will be dismissed for this term, and it began this afternoon.

Claiming that he loaned $103 to Ivar Nigunen some time ago and that only $43 were repaid, Martin Nigunen is asking for the remainder of the money.

Gets All Asked.

Charles Hallock, intervenor in the case of Winston-Dear company vs. D. Silk, whose wages from Butler Brothers' Stripping company were garnisheed by the company for $247.36, for merchandise sold to the defendant, was owner of the goods as alleged in the intervening action, according to the decision of the jury. He was rendered a verdict for the entire amount.

EVELETH ORDERS AUTO SPRINKLER

Range City Will Expend Nearly $5,000 for Up-to-Date Machine.

Eveleth, Minn., March 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—The city council Saturday afternoon decided on the purchase of a White auto sprinkler and flusher for use on the streets. Two bids were received and after considering the prices and specifications of the two bidders the White was decided on. The machine will cost the city nearly $6,000 and will replace the teams now in use on the streets and do the work of flushing that has been done in the past by the use of hose and water from the fire hydrants. The machine has a tank of large capacity and a pump gives sufficient pressure to sprinkle the entire width of a street at one operation and to flush the street with force enough to clean it thoroughly.

TEMPERANCE FINNS HAVE BIG MEETING

Virginia, Minn., March 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—Yesterday was a memorable day for the Finnish Temperance society of this city. The twenty-second anniversary of the Virginia organization was celebrated at an enthusiastic meeting held in the society's hall at which speeches were delivered and felicitations exchanged over the growth of the organization. About all of the 200 members were present. During the past year eighty-two new members were secured. The principal address was by Rev. Mr. Lattala, pastor of the Unitarian Finnish church.

MONDAY MUSICALE CLUB.

Hibbing Organization Will Render Program in Public Library.

Hibbing, Minn., March 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Monday Musicale club will hold its regular meeting in the public library tonight. The program will be featured by numbers on the viola and violin by F. Evans of Buhl, and a piano number by Miss Edna Watson of Buhl.

The complete program follows:

Soprano and tenor duet, "Passage Bird's Farewell," (Hildach), Miss Gola Baker and Ralph Page; soprano, (a) "Vergevliches Standchen," (Brahms), (b) "Will-o-Wisp," (Spross), (c) Senta's Ballad from "The Flying Dutchman," (Wagner), Miss Ida Bogan; tenor, (a) "My Rosary," (Nevin), (b) "Story of the Sailor," (Campbell-Tipton), H. CLOQUET BEATS HIBBING.

Captures Indifferently Played Game in Sawmill Town.

Cloquet, Minn., March 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—In an indifferent basket ball game the Cloquet Alumni five defeated the Hibbing Alumni quint Saturday night 49 to 26. The first half was closely fought until the last few minutes, when Cloquet ran away from the visitors. At the end of the first half the score was 28 to 17 in Cloquet's favor. For Cloquet, M. Johnson was the most consistent point maker, and for Hibbing, P. Barker seemed to be able to find the net.

Cloquet was defeated by Hibbing at Hibbing about a month ago, and this means a game each. The teams lined up as follows:

Cloquet—		Hibbing—
Johnson	f	Schirmer
G. Campbell	f	Cobb
Patterson-O'Brien	c	Barker
E. Campbell	g	Burkman
O'Brien-Keller	g	Friday

TWO RAPIDS FUNERALS.

Thomas Powers, Pioneer, and Daniel Neveoux of Big Fork, Buried.

Grand Rapids, Minn., March 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—The funeral of T. S. Powers, who died Thursday of old age, took place at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon from the family residence. Interment was made in the Itasca cemetery.

The funeral of Daniel Neveux of Bigfork, who died Friday, was held at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon from the Catholic church, Rev. Father Buechler officiating. Mr. Neveux was 75 years of age and had been living in Big Fork with his brother, Thomas Neveux, for the last seven years. Prior to that time he had been living in the Western states and had not seen his brother for over fifty years.

SHORT FARM COURSE FOR GRAND RAPIDS

Will Begin Next Wednesday and Conclude on Saturday.

Grand Rapids, Minn., March 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—No little interest is being displayed in the farmers' short course to be given under the auspices of the agricultural department of the schools, which will open next Wednesday morning and run the balance of the week.

The work will be along the lines of corn and potatoes and instruction will be given to those in attendance along those lines as indicated by the program below.

An admission fee of $1 will be charged, to be refunded to any entrant being present at all the meetings. Thus there will be no expense for this course to the school district, as the expenses, as well as the prize money for the potato and corn and poultry shows, will be paid with money taken in as entrance fees, admissions to the poultry show and contributions by local business people and others.

Considerable interest is being taken in the poultry show and the corn and potato show. The former will be at the village hall and the entry day will be Friday morning, March 26. The corn and potato show will be in the Hughes building.

Wednesday, March 24—10 to 11 a. m. and 1 to 2 p. m., corn judging by Supt. Otto Bergh; 11 to 12 m. and 2 to 3 p. m., potato judging by W. J. Corwin.

Thursday, March 25—10 to 11 a. m. and 1 to 2 p. m., corn judging by Supt. Otto Bergh; 11 to 12 m., "Types and Varieties of Potatoes," W. J. Corwin; 2 to 3 p. m., "Potato Diseases," W. J. Corwin.

Friday, March 26—10 to 11 a. m. and 1 to 3 p. m., corn judging, O. Bergh; 11 to 12 m., "Making Spray Mixtures," W. J. Corwin; 2 to 3 p. m., "Feeding for High Production," Raymond Sisler; morning and afternoon, ladies' work at high school with Miss Norton.

Saturday, March 27—10 to 11 a. m. and 1 to 2 p. m., corn judging, O. Bergh; 11 to 12 a. m., "Plant Breeding and the Potato," W. J. Corwin; 2 to 3 p. m., discussion or lecture, W. J. Corwin; morning and afternoon, ladies' work at high school with Miss Norton.

All this work is to be given in connection with actual samples of corn and potatoes. Every man will be provided with a ten-ear sample of corn and a peck sample of potatoes.

Poultry Premium List.

A pen to consist of one male and two females—First prize, $1.50; second prize, $1; third prize, 50 cents. The above prizes will be awarded to the highest scoring pens of the following breeds: Plymouth Rocks, Wyandottes, Orpingtons, Leghorns, Rhode Island Reds. Prizes will be given for the best sample dozen of eggs as follows: Brown eggs—First prize, $1; second prize, 50 cents. White eggs—First prize, $1; second prize, 50 cents.

LICENSE ISSUE IN ELY ELECTION

"Drys" Will Again Try to Close Up Saloons of City.

Ely, Minn., March 22—(Special to The Herald.)—Local option will again be an issue in the city election April 6 as petitions have been filed asking that the question of allowing the saloons to run or to close them up be submitted to the voters. The question was voted on at the last election, the "drys" being beaten by 147 votes.

The candidates for office filed to date are: Mayor, I. G. Cox, H. Kornfeld, John A. Harri, George T. Ayres; municipal judge, John Schaefer, Thomas Jury; assessor, William Vuoti; treasurer, Arthur Toms; alderman, First ward, James H. White, Mike Somero; alderman Second ward, Frank Gosperlin, Fred B. James, Olof Knutson; alderman Third ward, Axel Hegfors, Paul Buccowich, John Preshren, J. D. Conan.

NEW ELY BAND PLAYS.

First Appearance on Streets Sunday Afternoon Draws Large Crowd.

Ely, Minn., March 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—The new City band made its first appearance on the streets of Ely on Sunday afternoon with twenty-one pieces. Several selections were played at each corner on the principal streets and were enjoyed by nearly 1,000 people. The band will make Sunday concerts a specialty.

TWO HARBORS WEDDING.

Popular Young Couple Join Hands and Fortunes in City By Lake.

Two Harbors, Minn., March 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—A simple but impressive wedding was celebrated here Saturday evening, when Miss Anna Peterson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. August Peterson, became the bride of Carl J. Swanson, also of this city, at the parsonage of the Swedish Lutheran church, Rev. Nelsenious officiating. Only a limited number of relatives and close friends were present. Hilda Peterson, a sister of the bride, was bridesmaid, and Victor Swanson, best man. After the ceremony the bridal party adjourned to the residence of the bride's parents, where a dinner and reception was held.

Both the young people are very popular, each having a large circle of friends. The bride was born in this city and with her parents has made it her home all her life.

Mr. Swanson has made Two Harbors his home for the last nine years, and up to a year ago was employed in the store department of the Iron Range railroad. He resigned a year ago to accept a similar position in the store of A. Haugan, which he still fills.

A number of friends of the bride gave her a shower Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Paulson, when she received many beautiful and costly gifts.

TWO HIBBING CONCERTS ARE WELL ATTENDED.

Hibbing, Minn., March 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—Hundreds attended the first spring band concert given at the Armory yesterday afternoon. The program was one of the most difficult attempted during the year by the band and was given with rare sympathy and artistry. Each number was enthusiastically applauded. The individual solos, vocal and instrumental, quartettes and encores decided hits. Director William Ahola had charge.

Probably the feature of the program was the selection "Atlantis," "The Lost Continent," by V. F. Safranck, was given in four parts.

A large crowd attended the victrola concert given at the public library yesterday afternoon, despite the pleasant weather which did much to keep many outside. During the winter's programs more than 125 people have attended on the average, each concert.

HIBBING AUTOISTS ALL OUT SUNDAY.

Hibbing, Minn., March 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—Automobiling again is sport here. Most all who usually store their cars away for the winter, brought them out Sunday, and with the many new ones in operation, an unusually large percentage of Hibbing outdoor lovers were "joy riding."

CHISHOLM PLAY WILL BE REPEATED.

Chisholm, Minn., March 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—"An Irish Eden," given last Friday, will be again produced this evening at the Rex theater under the auspices of the Young Ladies' Sodality of St. Joseph's church. The production is by local talent and good judges pronounce it the best of its kind that has ever been staged here. Miss Gertrude Gillis, a local news writer, is the leading spirit in the young ladies' club responsible for the successful outcome of the entertainment.

CHISHOLM NOTES.

Chisholm, Minn., March 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—The lecture given by Past Grand Chancellor Atwood of the Knights of Pythias, Friday evening, was largely attended and enjoyed by local Knights.

The Brotherhood of American Yeomen will hold a social and initiation of candidates at the lodgerooms Wednesday evening.

Grand Rapids Style Show.

Grand Rapids, Minn., March 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—Local milliners, drygoods and ready-to-wear garments merchants and others of Grand Rapids, headed by C. C. Peterson, a local merchant, are planning on putting on a style show Thursday evening, March 25, in the Grand theater.

Hibbing Wins Both.

Hibbing, Minn., March 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Hibbing quints won both games played here Saturday against the Gilbert high school and village quints. The Alumni won by a score of 23 to 13 and the high school defeated the Gilbert quint by a score of 16 to 12.

ELY MINER IS HELD TO DISTRICT COURT

Arrested at Virginia and Charged With Abducting 15-Year-Old Girl.

Virginia, Minn., March 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—Credo Siorlorini, a miner, working in the mines at Ely, was held to the grand jury today by Judge Carey on the charge of abduction and contributing to the delinquency of 15-year-old Benedictino Teiola, also of Ely.

It is alleegd the accused abducted the girl from her home and brought her here. They were arrested Saturday night as they were leaving a lodging house. The girl has been turned over to Range Probation Officer Everett. The miner was unable to give bail and will be held pending action by the grand jury.

ELY PIONEER BURIED.

Odd Fellows Had Charge of Funeral of William Carlson.

Ely, Minn., March 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—The funeral of William Carlson, an old resident, who died on Thursday, was held today from the Methodist church, Rev. Mr. Williams officiating. The I. O. O. F. lodge had charge of the funeral. Mr. Carlson also was a member of the Good Samaritans. Interment was made in the Ely cemetery.

The twin infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Spara, died on Sunday morning. The funeral was held at 10 a. m. today from the Catholic church, Rev. Father Buh officiating and interment was made in the Ely cemetery.

AFTER POOLROOMS TOO.

Petitions Circulated in Two Harbors to Close About Everything.

Two Harbors, Minn., March 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—The saloons that were voted out last week have all been closed and, so far as known, no blind pigs have yet sprung into being. The officers are on the lookout for them. Now it is proposed to close the pool rooms, soda water fountains and candy stores. Petitions to that end are being circulated and quite generally signed. A report had it the saloon men, piqued at being put out of business, were behind this latest "blue law" wrinkle, but this they deny.

Bury Two Harbors Child.

Two Harbors, Minn., March 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—The 12-day-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Salo of this city died yesterday. The funeral was held this afternoon from the residence on South avenue. Rev. J. D. Nelsenius, pastor of the Swedish Lutheran church, officiated and interment was made in the Two Harbors cemetery.

ADD NIGHT CREW AT MINE

Will Operate on Larger Scale This Season.

Soudan, Minn., March 22, 1915.—(Special to The Herald.)—A night crew has been added this week at the McComber mine, where development work is being rushed forward preparatory to enlarged operations this summer. Work is being continued on the 100-foot level, where a large tonnage of ore is now blocked out. The drift in which the crew is now working is in a distance of forty-one feet, cross-cutting the vein on the west side. In all 533 feet of shaft and tunneling work has been completed to date, and almost all in ore.

It is understood that larger machinery will soon be installed at this mine and that a contract has been let for a large boarding house to accommodate the increased working force.

SET RECORD FOR RETAIL TRADE

Saturday Biggest Day in History of Minneapolis Stores.

That last Saturday was the biggest day in the history of the retail trade in Minneapolis is the statement of Thomas J. Lahiff, manager of the Young-Quinlan company of that city, who is in Duluth today, arranging for an exhibit during Style Show week in Duluth.

"Are we downhearted? No" said Mr. Lahiff. "Our company broke all records for sales last Saturday, and I am told by other merchants that they did the same, so it is generally believed that more actual business with new goods was done Saturday than ever before. Of course it is possible that during big sales, more money has been taken in, but there was no profit in that. Business is big in Minneapolis, and that is not simply talk or whistling to keep one's courage up. It's time to quit worrying about dull business and get ready for the good times coming. Merchants in Minneapolis who cut down their buying 25 per cent last winter, have had to go east after more goods."

ATTEMPTED MURDER AT IRONWOOD, MICH.

Man Shoots Woman Twice and Wounds Self—Both Still Alive.

Ironwood, Mich., March 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—Following a quarrel Saturday evening at the home of Mrs. Gus Blycert on Ayer street, Devilla Iliff is said to have shot the woman twice with a revolver. Both are alive. One bullet entered her left breast, just above the heart, and the other entered the abdomen.

Iliff then turned the weapon on himself, the bullet passing completely through his body just above his heart. The police were notified and they removed both to Runstrom's hospital, where one bullet was removed from Mrs. Blycert, but the other bullet was lodged in the spine and as a result both of her limbs are paralyzed. Her condition is very serious.

Iliff, it is expected, will recover.

SOO BRAKEMAN IS KILLED AT CHELSEA.

Park Falls, Wis., March 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—Earl Kyle, age 26, a Soo freight brakeman, was instantly killed at Chelsea about 12:30 Sunday morning. Kyle's train was switching in the yards and while riding on the side of a car he was knocked off by a stock chute and thrown beneath the wheels. The head was entirely severed from the body.

He leaves a wife.

Obscene Letter Expensive.

Bismarck, N. D., March 22.—A jury in Federal court brought in a verdict of guilty in the case of Jacob Waggoner of Wells county, charged with sending obscene letters through the mail. Judge Booth imposed a sentence of thirty days in jail and a fine of $100. Another jury returned a verdict of guilty in the case in which Charles Glatt, a former clothing merchant of Bismarck, was charged with offering to accept a bribe. The minimum sentence is one year in the Federal penitentiary.

MILL CITY BANKS MERGE.

First National and Security National to Be Consolidated.

Minneapolis, Minn., March 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—The First National and the Security National banks of this city will be consolidated with a combined capital of $5,000,000 and combined deposits of $50,000,000, according to an announcement.

F. A. Chamberlain, now president of the Security National, will be president of the consolidated bank. F. M. Prince, now president of the First National, will be chairman of the board of directors of the new bank.

The entire working force of the Security National bank will go into the new quarters that the First and Security National will occupy in the completed First National-Soo Line building. The First and Security National will open for business in the new quarters probably Monday, March 29.

DIES AS SON IS BORN.

Iron Mountain Man, Ejected From Saloon, Expires When Found.

Iron Mountain, Mich., March 22.—While Oscar Johnson lay dying just outside the rear door of the saloon of Emil Carlson a son was born at his home a few blocks away. He was found by a brother who went to tell him the good news.

According to the police, an altercation arose in the saloon and Johnson was hit over the head with a club. It is claimed Johnson was struck while being ejected, after breaking glasses behind the bar. Police say he was allowed to lie in the alley two hours before attention was given him by a physician, called by the victim's brother.

TRAIN SERVICE RESUMED

South Dakota Railroads Again Operating After Heavy Storm.

Aberdeen, S. D., March 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—Trains began running on schedule time again last night, after being blockaded since Friday afternoon by the heaviest snow storm that has raged over Western South Dakota in several years, tying up traffic on the Milwaukee and the Chicago Northwestern railroads west of Missouri. Snow plows started work early Sunday morning and succeeded in liberating trains stalled on the Black Hills division of the Milwaukee road by 2 o'clock in the afternoon. No reports have been received of any material damage to stock in the storm-swept region.

SAN FRANCISCO REUNION.

Michigan College of Mines Alumni to Meet There in September.

Calumet, Mich., March 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—The annual reunion of the Michigan College of Mines Alumni association will be held at the Panama-Pacific exposition at San Francisco Sept. 20 and 21, immediately following the annual reunion of the American Institute of Mining Engineers, of which most of the alumni of the college are members. A register has been placed in the bureau of mines department of the Palace of Mines and Metallurgy at the exposition. The annual meeting of the alumni association will be held in Houghton on April 24.

STRIKE GOOD ORE NEAR BUTTE, MONT.

Calumet, Mich., March 22.—Matthew Kraemer, formerly of Ahmeek, in company with Charles McCoy of Butte, Mont., has made a splendid strike at the Reliance property, located about twenty miles from Butte. The two men have leased the property and recently drifted into a twelve-inch vein of high grade ore, assaying 419 ounces of silver, 2 per cent copper, 8 per cent lead and 80 cents in gold to the ton.

FORECAST TILL 7 P. M. TUESDAY

For Duluth, Superior and vicinity, including the Mesaba and Vermilion iron ranges: Fair weather tonight and Tuesday; lowest temperature tonight 20 degs to about 25 degs.; moderate variable winds, becoming westerly.

FAIR

The fog this morning—after one of the prettiest Sundays in months—gradually gave place to glimmers of the sun, which had a hard time driving its way through. But at any rate, the beginning of the spring equinox did not bring with it stormy weather—and fair weather is promised for tonight and tomorrow.

A year ago today was fine. The sun rose this morning at 6:07 and will set this evening at 6:23, giving twelve hours and sixteen miutes of sunlight.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"Freezing weather prevails southward to the central portions of Louisiana, Mississippi and Alabama. Light to killing frosts occurred last night in Louisiana. The temperature has risen somewhat over the greater portion of the Northwest. During the last twenty-four hours light snow or rain fell over Central and Northeastern states."

General Forecasts.

Chicago, March 22.—Forecasts for the twenty-four hours ending at 7 p. m. Tuesday:

Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota and Montana—Fair tonight and Tuesday; not much change in temperature.

Wisconsin—Fair tonight and Tuesday, except probably snow flurries in east portion tonight; slightly colder in east and south portions tonight.

Iowa—Fair tonight and Tuesday, preceded by snow flurries in southeast portion tonight; slightly colder in north and central portions tonight.

Lower Michigan—Cloudy tonight; Tuesday partly cloudy.

Upper Michigan—Partly cloudy tonight and Tuesday.

WHAT SCIATICA IS

There is something terrifying about the word sciatica. Yet sciatica is nothing but neuralgia of the sciatic nerve and neuralgia is an inflammation caused by lack of nourishment.

Application of dry heat as hot sand bags or flannel to the course of the inflamed nerve often quiets the pain but it does not feed the nerve. It is temporary relief, a good thing to know about, but not a remedy.

What causes the nerve starvation that results in neuralgia and sciatica, and how may it be corrected?

The most common cause is a run-down physical system and a frequent exciting cause is exposure to cold. Thin blood is often at fault. It is through the blood that nerves get their nourishment. Mortal man knows of no other way of getting nourishment to a nerve. Therefore when the blood gets thin and fails to feed the nerves they show their resentment by becoming inflamed. Try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills at this stage and see how the inflammation subsides as the enriched blood carries to the starved nerves the elements they need.

MAKE MORE USERS OF GAS

Reed Has Plan to Lighten Burden of Main Extensions.

Would Permit Owners to Pay in Ten Installments.

In order that several hundred families without gas connections in their homes may have the advantage of the use of gas, Manager D. A. Reed of the water and light department has submitted a proposal to the council whereby his department will pay the cost of making connections to be paid for by the property owner in ten annual installments, thus reducing the burden. He explains his plan in a letter, which will be read at the meeting of the city commissioners this afternoon.

Mr. Reed would pay the entire cost of these connections, and the cost will be divided in ten annual installments. The owner, however, would agree to pay 25 cents a month for interest and maintenance, as the water and light department is willing to maintain all these connections constructed under the proposed plan. He would also connect the pipes right into the house, owners being compelled at present to hire plumbers for that extra work.

In his letter Mr. Reed states that there are several hundred families in West Duluth and Lakeside especially, who would gladly accept such a proposal.

Other Business.

In addition the commissioners will this afternoon order the city clerk to advertise for bids on the printing of all the annual reports of the various city departments and a combined report of the entire city.

Commissioner Murchison will introduce an ordinance this afternoon appropriating $340 from the permanent improvement fund to pay the premium on workmen's insurance. The ordinance appropriating $800 from the general fund for a premium on the bonds for the two commissioners to be elected on April 6, will be given its second reading.

Contracts for furnishing the city with an automobile will be awarded to Leonard McNamara on his bid of $1,430 and to the United States Cast Iron Pipe and Foundry company for furnishing the city with cast iron pipe on its bid of $28,377.50.

Bids were opened this morning on furnishing the city with oil sprinkling machines and it is expected that a contract will be awarded this afternoon to the lowest bidder. The bids follow: Gallon Iron works, $440 for the machines and $15 for attachments; Studebaker corporation, $439-$199.75, and the Austin Western Road Machinery company, $495.75-$185.

A sanitary sewer will be ordered constructed in Ninth street, from Twenty-third to Twenty-ninth avenues west. The improvement will cost $1,367.14.

HURRY-UP PIANO SALE

Time is up. Manufacturers demand their sample pianos and player pianos to be returned if not sold. Too many manufacturers' instruments for me, and too many American highest grade, leading standard makes of pianos and player pianos for me to handle. I am up against it. I have no agents and no managers to send after you, but, believe me, they do not work for nothing in the first place. If you come down yourself you will save their fancy salary and commission. I mean business. I must sell these beautiful sample instruments or return them. Call or write at once—you can pay me the freight and drayage and pay the balance to the manufacturers in cash on monthly payments. What do I care as long as I get my freight money back. My proposition is a safe investment. Every instrument in the stock is guaranteed by the largest piano builders in the country who have many millions of dollars capital back of their guarantee. I do not handle any pianos which are put together by the windy story manufacturers, as I believe in selling real good, reliable makes of pianos, no matter if they are sold at unbelievable reductions. Our store is Duluth's piano market place now. No use to give out any prices, because bargains as so great that people will not believe unless they see them. Be sure and call or write if you cannot call. Look for the two awnings on our first and second floors.

ADVANCE IN GRAIN RATES

No Change From South Dakota to Duluth in New Schedule.

Railroads Say There Would Be Reductions in Some Sections.

Chicago, March 22.—Although the forty-one Western railroad systems are applying for increases in freight rates on certain commodities which, they estimate, would increase their revenues $10,000,000 a year, the new schedule which they propose would, in the case of grain, in some instances, result in actual reductions from the present rate.

F. B. Townsend, traffic manager of the Minneapolis & St. Louis road, so testified today in the interstate commerce commission hearing of the railroads' application for higher rates.

Mr. Townsend sought to justify the railroads' proposal to increase the rate on grain and grain products an average of 1 cent a hundred pounds on certain shipments to Chicago and 2 cents a hundred pounds to gulf ports. He dealt particularly with the effect of the advance on traffic from South Dakota, Minnesota and Iowa.

No Change to Duluth.

"From South Dakota," said Mr. Townsend, "there are no changes in rates to Chicago, Peoria, Minneapolis or Duluth. From thirty-four South Dakota stations to St. Louis the advance averages .544 cents on flaxseed, .617 cents on wheat and .558 cents on coarse grain being thus in each case about ½ cents per hundred pounds. From South Dakota to Kansas City there is an advance of ½ cents from sixteen stations and 1 cent from five stations while from thirteen stations there is no change on wheat. From twenty-one stations the advance on coarse grain is ½ cent while there is no change from thirteen stations.

"Actual reductions are effected by the establishment of a new line of rates from South Dakota to Omaha where commodity rates have never been in force before.

Rates in Minnesota.

"From Minnesota stations there is no advance in grain rates to Chicago, Milwaukee, Peoria, Minneapolis or Duluth. From 32 Minnesota stations to St. Louis there is a 1.1 cent advance on flaxseed, while from 31 stations there is a reduction of 1.6 cents per hundred pounds. On wheat there is an average advance of 1.8 cents from 23 stations to St. Louis and an average reduction of .8 cents from 39 stations. On coarse grain there is an advance of 1.2 cents from 38 Minnesota stations to St. Louis and a reduction of .5 cent from 7 stations, while there is no change at all from 19 stations.

"To Kansas City there is an average advance on coarse grain of 1.02 cents from 22 Minnesota stations, and an average reduction of 1.27 cents from 26 stations while from 16 stations there is no change at all on coarse grain. On wheat no change is asked from Minnesota to Kansas City.

Iowa Stations.

"From Iowa stations to Chicago an advance is asked on wheat averaging .9 cent from 112 stations, while there is no change from forty-six stations. On corn the advance averages .93 cent from 128 stations, while there is no change from thirty stations in Iowa. The same relative advance applies to Peoria as to Chicago.

"From Iowa stations to Minneapolis the advance on wheat is .8 cent from 118 stations, while there is no change at all from forty stations. The advance on coarse grain is .93 cent from 134 stations, while there is no change from twenty-four stations.

"From Iowa to St. Louis there is an advance of .9 cent from 118 stations on wheat and no change at all from forty stations, while the advance on coarse grain is .965 cent from 128 stations and no change is made at all from thirty stations.

"From Iowa to Kansas City the advance on wheat averages .76 cents from 31 stations and on coarse grain 1.23 cents from 122 stations. No advance is made from 36 Iowa stations on coarse grain to Kansas City."

Mr. Townsend's cross-examination was brief. A. E. Helm, counsel for the Kansas public utilities commission, wanted to know why the rates were advanced on grain from some stations and not from others.

"Some of the rates were out of line with others and we want to adjust them," replied Mr. Townsend.

In answer to further questions, the witness said the proposed increases from Iowa to Chicago, Peoria and St. Louis would be on paper only as there would be no actual shipments.

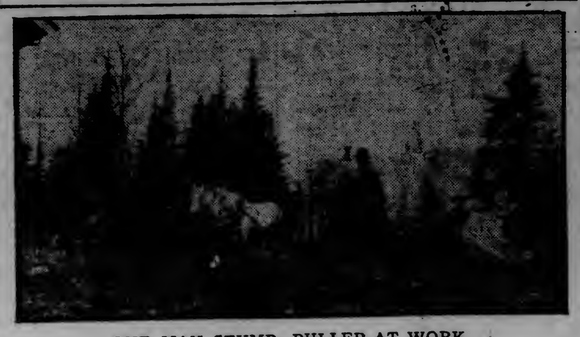
SHORT COURSE AT STATE FARM PROVED SUCCESSFUL



ONE MAN STUMP PULLER AT WORK.

Saturday marked the close of the second annual short course at the Northeast Experiment station of the University of Minnesota near this city. According to Mark J. Thompson, superintendent of the institution, the two weeks' session was well attended and it is his opinion that the results which will be obtained as a result of the various lectures and demonstrations will be of great benefit to the farmers of this community and agricultural students who attended.

In reviewing the work of the short course, Mr. Thompson today had the following to say:

"The program was worked out with regard to the meeting the main agricultural problems of the community. The first week was devoted to the dairy breed, each breed having one day assigned to it. The second week involved poultry, potatoes, some work on fruit growing and gardening and wound up with the subject of farm crops in general.

"A number of specialists from the state university took the leadership of each day's program, making it much stronger than that of last year. The usual plan of forenoon lectures, practical work of various kinds in the afternoon and evening illustrated lectures, was followed.

Community Programs.

"A new feature which was introduced this year was the holding of programs on certain days in different communities. For instance, the work on fruit growing day was given at the Arnold school house in the center of one of the small fruit communities of St. Louis county.

"The day programs were attended by about 50 per cent more than last year. The percentage of increase, however, was even larger with the evening meetings. One interesting feature was the increased attendance of adults from distant points of this neighborhood counties.

"In addition to the program proper a period in the early forenoon and another in the late afternoon was devoted to farm practice work, which included the operation of gasoline engines, feeding and care of cattle, horses and poultry, operation of farm machinery, farm planning, balancing of rations, and many details of ordinary farm routine.

"On Thursday afternoon, March 18, a general resume of the farm practice work was scheduled. Judging of seed, milk and cream, soil and seed, were tested for those desiring the service from the various communities. A series of contests were held culminating in a harnessing, hitching, unhitching and unharnessing contest which was won by William Henke, Jr., of Wolf and Arthur Jacobson of Two Harbors. A period of seven and one-half minutes was consumed by the successful team.

"Erick Homerud of Arnold won the premium offered by the American Guernsey Cattle club for the best scoring of Guernseys at the Jean Duluth farm. This contest was held on March 11. Grant Owen scored highest on Red Polls the day following, the Jersey and Holstein classes, an average scoring of 75 per cent was recorded. Harry Henricksen of Lakewood township won the prize of one bushel of disease-free potatoes offered by the Minnesota Crop Improvement association for the best scoring on potatoes. Similar prizes were offered for poultry judging.

"On Thursday afternoon, March 18, the advisory committee of the Northeastern experiment station met at the farm in order to confer with reference to plans for the coming year. It was suggested that new features, such as bee culture, sheep raising and the growing of small fruits, be added to the farm projects during the coming year.

Homecroft Work.

"It was further suggested that the homecroft work be further developed and that the educational work consisting of the winter two weeks' short course and one-day farm practice short courses be continued and enlarged. The committee went on record in favor of a road program as originated by the Federation of Farmers' Clubs to unite several disconnected farming communities with the experiment farm as a center. The projected auditorium recommended by the board of regents for the Duluth station was approved by the committee together with the building plans submitted. George C. Stone, Bishop McGolrick, Charles P. Craig, Millie Bunnell, Fred Ward and T. A. Owens were present at the meeting.

"Friday, the following day, was one of the biggest days of the session. Prof. C. P. Bull of University Farm spoke of the Minnesota Crop Improvement association, which promotes the growing of pedigreed seed. As a result of this meeting, the Tri-County Crop Improvement association was organized with headquarters at the experiment station. A membership of thirty was secured representing near twenty farmers' club of St. Louis, Carlton and Lake counties.

"The association plans to limit its activities in pedigreed seed culture to Minnesota No. 261 and Minnesota No. 281 oats and Minnesota No. 105 barley. With regard to potatoes each farmers' club represented planned to adopt the classification recommended by the Minnesota Crop Improvement association in their seed production work. It is planned this year to make nearly a modest start. The work has for its object the standardization of all farm crops and the improvement of the crops, together with that of livestock, thus making Northeastern Minnesota a center for the production of high-class seed, somewhat similar to the seed work of Northern Wisconsin. A few dollars invested in stock and one season of time starts a farmer in pedigreed seed breeding. Each farmer cooperates with the university in the propagation of the seed. Membership is open to all persons engaged in farm operations.

Guernsey Registry.

"Another feature of Friday's program was the completion of the organization of the grado Guernsey production registry, which, as in the former case, will have headquarters at the Northeastern experiment station. The policy of this organization is to list all grade Guernseys out of a pure bred sire producing a certain minimum of butter fat per year in order to encourage the further improvement of this breed of cattle. It is assumed that as a farmer from year to year sees his production per cow increased by developing his herd through the continued use of pure bred sires, he will eventually, in many cases, introduce foundation herds of registered pure bred cattle upon his farm. Eighteen cows have been listed to date.

"Following this meeting, President Ole Larson of the Federation of Farmers' clubs, addressed the visiting members of other farmers' clubs, not in the organization, and related the benefits that accrued from membership in the federation. The Lakewood club, the Clover Valley club, the Welfare club of Arnold and the Exeter club, through their representatives, expressed themselves as greatly impressed with the aims and purposes of the organization and planned to send delegates to the next meeting in order to affiliate with the federation.

Road Work.

"Before adjourning, the farmers' clubs assembled passed a resolution urging the board of county commissioners to construct the already legalized market road and a second road extending from Palmers to the Lismore road. A committee of three was appointed to convey these resolutions to the board at its next meeting. A further resolution was passed urging that legislative action be taken in order to make the tuberculin testing of cattle universal within the state. Another resolution was passed urging action by the legislature on the budget request for an auditorium and dormitory at the Duluth state farm in order that the meetings may be comfortably conducted and visitors and students properly accommodated.

"A general invitation was extended to the horticultural picnic to be held in one of this summer and it was further decided that the several farmers' clubs of St. Louis and neighboring counties would make the practice of assembling at the farm an annual occurrence."

WITHDRAW THEIR APPLICATIONS

Two Saloon Keepers Will Voluntarily Close—No Chance for Renewal.

Applications for the renewal of two saloon licenses were withdrawn this morning by Charles Carlson, 513 West Superior street, and William Carlson, 324 Central avenue, and as a result the two saloons will close without any action on the part of the city commission.

Two weeks ago Commissioner Hicken announced that he would refuse a renewal to Charles Carlson because the latter, he claimed, had sold liquor to women. Mr. Carlson's application for a renewal of his license was to have come up this afternoon, but he appeared at the city hall this morning and tore up his application, declaring that he would close up at once.

When William Carlson of Central avenue appeared at the city hall last Saturday with an application for a renewal of his license, he was told by Commissioner Hicken that it would never be granted. Asked why, the commissioner declared that employes of Mr. Carlson had been arrested and convicted on several occasions and that, according to the city charter, a conviction against a saloon keeper bars him from operating a saloon.

This morning Mr. Carlson also appeared at the city hall and withdrew his application.

Mr. Carlson has about two weeks to run his saloon before he will close up voluntarily. He is part owner of Carlson Bros.' liquor house, on West First street, where the arrests were made by the police last year.

The closing of Mr. Carlson's saloon in two weeks will make the nineteenth in the last two years.

ASKS RECEIVER FOR HOOFEDS

Stockholder Applies to Court, Declaring Indianapolis Club Insolvent.

Indianapolis, Ind., March 22.—Alleging that the Indianapolis Federal league baseball club is insolvent, Pliny W. Bartholomew, former judge of the superior court and a stockholder, brought suit today to place the club in the hands of a receiver. He alleges that in addition to an indebtedness of $75,000, the club is indebted to the stockholders for the non-payment of 6 per cent dividends on $50,000 worth of stock.

Judge Bartholomew alleges that the club is losing money every day. He further alleges that he has been informed that the corporation controlling the club is about to dissipate its property and assets by transferring the club to unknown parties without, in any way, providing for or securing the payment to its stockholders or debtors sums already due them.

The case will be heard tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock before Judge Vincent G. Clifford of the superior court.

Stockholders Will Meet.

A meeting of the stockholders of the club has been called for tomorrow night, when an effort will be made to clear up the financial troubles.

E. E. Gates, counsel for the league, said today that the creditors could be saved and he thought the stockholders paid, for there have been "good overtures made for the disposal of the club's interest to outside parties." Mr. Gates also said that unless Indianapolis citizens were able to lift the indebtedness from the club and place it on a firm financial basis, in all probability it would be transferred from here.

Chicago, March 22.—Prospects for settling the circuit troubles of the Federal league were bright today, according to a statement by James A. Gilmore, president of the league.

"A meeting of the stockholders of the Indianapolis club will be held at Indianapolis tomorrow," said Mr. Gilmore. "They will determine whether to accept the offer of the league to buy the franchise. If they conclude to sell, we will be able to go ahead with our schedule meeting without waiting for a decision in the Kansas City injunction case."

"The fact that some one has applied for a receiver for the Indianapolis club will not make the slightest difference in the negotiations," added Mr. Gilmore.

THE CURIOUS GAELIC ALPHABET.

Washington Star: A very curious and distinguishing characteristic of the Gaelic alphabet is that nearly every letter therof is represented by a tree. While the alphabet of ancient Gaelic comprised but seventeen letters, that of modern Gaelic has eighteen. But with the new, as with the old, forms the latter is represented by a tree. The exceptions are "g," "t" and "u," which stand for "ivy," "furze" and "heather."

The alphabet now stands: Ailm, beite, coll, dur, eagh, fearn, gath, huath, togh, luis, muin, nuin, oir, peith, ruis, suil, teine, ur, all of which is equal to saying: Elm, birch, hazel, oak, aspen, alder, ivy, whitehorn, yew, rowan or quicken, vine, ash, spindle tree, pine, elder, willow, furze, heath. In the old Gaelic alphabet the letter "h" (the huath or whitehorn) does not exist. The alphabet is called the beth-luisnuin, because "b," "l," "n" and not "a," "b," "c" are the first three letters.

MARKETS BREAK SHARPLY WITH BEARISH WAR NEWS

Wheat Sells Down Heavily, With Severe Liquidation and Light Inquiry.

Fears of Argentine Imports Lead to Further Drop in Flaxseed.

Duluth Board of Trade, March 22.—The market developed further weakness around the close and new low figures were set for the day. May wheat closed 3½@3⅝c off; July 3⅝c off, and September 4⅛c off. May durum closed 2c off and July 2c off.

Oats closed ¾c off at 57@57½c for on the track; rye 4c off at $1.11@1.12, and barley 2c off at from 65c to 76c.

At Winnipeg, May oats closed 1⅛c off at 61⅛c asked, and July 1½c off at 54c.

Puts on Minneapolis May wheat closed at $1.40¼, and calls at $1.48½.

The increasing probability of Italy entering the European war on the side of the allies led to the spread of bearish views on the part of traders, and the wheat market showed weakness during today's session.

Export inquiry was quiet, and has been so since the middle of last week, with exporters apparently showing a disposition to hold off in expectations of a further break in the American markets. Shrewd suspicions are being entertained that foreigners are paying more attention to the Argentine source of supply at present in the hope of securing some abatement in American asking prices. Flour trade was reported quiet all-round after the flurry of buying by Italy and France, commented upon during last week.

American visible supplies have not shown the decreases during the past two weeks that operators consider would be warranted to expect at this season, the inference being that farmers have been doing more selling than has been figured upon. The decrease had been figured upon. The decrease today was reported at 1,998,000 bu, or 800,000 below the figures of the preceding week. Primary receipts are being well maintained, considering the past heavy marketings this season and the reserve supplies still available on the farms. They were 980,000 bu today against 961,000 bu a year ago.

Clearances today were heavy, being reported at 1,606,000 bu, whereas they had of late been aggregating around 750,000 daily.

Spring wheat markets were relatively stronger than the winter wheat grades, due to the rapid shortening up of available supplies. At Duluth today cash No. 1 northern wheat sold at 4c over May and No. 1 durum brought the May price to 1c over.

May wheat opened ¼@⅜c off at $1.56½, sold off to $1.47⅞ and stood at $1.48⅛ at the noon hour. July opened ¾c off at $1.44¾, and sold down 1⅝c more. May durum opened unchanged at $1.56½ and declined 2c.

Break in Flaxseed.

Flaxseed again showed marked weakness attributable to a falling off in buying by crushers, the appearance of some liquidation, and the catching of the stop-loss orders. Uncertainty over the Argentine situation was the controlling factor. The market advanced 2c ing factor. The market advanced 2c ing factor. The market advanced 2c, around the opening, and then sold off, final prices showing declines of 2½@2⅝c in the day.

May flax opened unchanged at $1.95, and closed 2⅝c off at $1.92½ asked. July opened unchanged at $1.96¾, and closed 2⅝c off at $1.94. September opened unchanged at $1.96½ and closed 2⅝c off at $1.94 asked.

At Winnipeg May flax closed 3⅛c off at $1.73¼ asked, and July 4c off at $1.75¼ bid.

Broomhall cabled from Liverpool: "Easier American cables and freer Plate offers influenced sentiment, but the market was dull. Winters were about unchanged while Plates were 3d lower and the spot markets steady but dull with millers absorbing and stocks decreasing and light. Shipments to the United Kingdom were in excess of expectations. Indian offers continue firm.

"Corn spot market was easier with warm weather reducing consumption and distant positions stagnant. Plate offers were steady."

Liverpool weekly stocks were: Wheat, 1,864,000 bu, decrease, 112,000 bu; corn, 1,488,000 bu, decrease, 77,000 bu.

CHICAGO MARKET.

Decreasing Stocks in Liverpool Tend to Lift Prices of Wheat.

Chicago, March 22.—Decreasing stocks at Liverpool tended today to lift the wheat market here, but prices did not seem to stand much selling on the upturn. Apparent absence of any active export demand rendered the bulls cautious. So, too, did the generally fine outlook for the domestic winter crop. The opening, which varied from ¼c decline to ⅛c advance, was followed by a material advance all around and then a moderate setback.

Subsequently, news of the capture of Przemysl by the Russians led to a quick decline. Further breaks resulted from unconfirmed rumors that Italy had declared war. The close was heavy at a loss of 1¼c to 3½c net.

Unfavorable weather gave some strength to corn. Selling was only scattered. After opening a shade to ⅛@¼c lower prices rose well above Saturday night's level.

Later the weakness pulled the market down. Closing prices were unsettled at ⅝c to ¾c under Saturday night.

Oats hardened on account of reports of delayed seeding. Offerings were light.

Provisions went sharply down grade. Sellers seemed to be chiefly influenced by the enforcement of the embargo orders in Europe.

FLAX BULGE IS REACTING

Canadian Speculators Credited With Causing Bullish Movement in Seed.

Crushers Heavy Sellers at High Point, Breaking the Advance.

The upward spiral which the flax market started to take about ten days ago, seems to have come to an end, and the seed is volplaning, for the gas has given out apparently, or at least the engine is missing fire.

Some traders blame Winnipeg speculators for the boost in American seed, for word from there that was bullish in the extreme, prefaced the jump in prices. The proposition that seed from Argentine was going to have a hard time getting into this country, that no flax would be sown this year, and that the stocks now on hand in America would have to cover about two years' supply formed the basis for the bullish feeling.

It is evidently true that crushers had been buying additional supplies, but they were not so anxious that they were disturbing the market by offering fancy prices for it. Their purchases were small and unostentatious. That they did not want seed so badly that they were willing to pay high prices for it has been evident for some time, but they emphasized that fact by being heavy sellers when the price reached its highest point last Tuesday. They then evidently figured that they would profit more by selling the flax than they would by holding it for manufacturing. At any rate they began to sell and that marked the beginning of the slump that has been in force ever since.

It is felt that flax may command higher prices, but that there is no reason for feverish movement of the seed.

The closing prices for the past six trading days, compared with the same period a year ago, were:

Chicago Livestock.

Chicago, March 22.—Lack of improvement in the shipping demand not only operated as a handicap today on any effort to raise the price of hogs, but also led to a late sag. Cattle arrivals exceeded the number which had been looked for. There was no scarcity of sheep or lambs.

Hogs—Receipts, 32,000; slow at Saturday's average; bulk, $6.75@6.85; light, $6.60@6.90; mixed, $6.60@6.95; heavy, $6.35@6.87½; rough, $6.35@6.50; pigs, $5.50@6.65.

SPECIALTIES MAKE GAINS

Are Again the Central Figure of the Stock Market.

Reading's Continued Weakness Is Feature of Final Hour.

New York, March 22.—Specialties were again the central figure at the outset of this week's operations on the stock exchange. Bethlehem Steel once more overshadowed all other issues, selling up to 69¾, a gain of 3⅜ from last Saturday's close and a new high record price. Motor shares came next in prominence with gains of one to over three points. Local tractions and American Smelting and National Lead resumed their recent activity at substantial advances. The so-called lenders or former speculative favorites were comparatively backward.

Bethlehem Steel yielded more than half its early gain, largely as a result of selling for profits, but went higher in the second hour today, touching 70¾. Other specialties also moved feverishly while United States Steel and Reading rose and fell within more narrow limits. Outside developments which exercised more or less influence as market factors included additional gold imports from Canada, an important victory by the Russian forces in Austria and further weakness in French exchange, which was shown by a sharp rise in remittances to Paris. This latter situation was believed to represent heavy purchases here for French interests.

Bonds were irregular.

Further bidding up of specialties marked the mid-session, Bethlehem Steel advancing to 72. Rubber shares also rose substantially. Standard stocks continued to show hesitation, with renewed pressure against Reading.

Substantial gains in specialties with backwardness in leaders and heaviness in Reading comprised the main characteristics of today's market.

Reading's continued weakness was the feature of the final hour, losing over a point, while obscure specialties were advanced. The closing was strong.

SUMMER RESORTS.

PLAN THAT VACATION TRIP NOW.

And spend it on your own camp site at Ne-na-mik-ka-ta, Lake Vermilion. Ne-na-mik-ka-ta (Chippewa for easy portage) is on Pine island. It is located in one of the most desirable spots at Lake Vermilion.

Several people from Minneapolis, St. Paul, Chicago, Philadelphia and other cities have already purchased camp sites, and will build this spring. These camp sites offer a good investment, as lots on our Daisy island tract have increased 50 per cent in value in less than a year.

Duluth people should take advantage of this proposition. They should know about the park, the docks, the beaches, and the people who have purchased. Write or call for full particulars. Names of Duluth purchasers given upon request. Call us up, either phone 516, for appointment with our salesman.

COUNTY DIVISION BILL BEATEN IN HOUSE BY LARGE MAJORITY IS THE LATEST PREDICTION

PROPOSAL IS TOO UNFAIR TO SUCCEED

More Than Enough Members Pledged to Defeat Measure.

Otter Tail-Polk County Division Bill Is Killed By House.

Two New Varieties of Woman Suffrage Bills Are Introduced.

By a Staff Correspondent.

St. Paul, Minn., March 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Scott bill for the division of St. Louis county by a vote of the range people only is a special order in the house for this afternoon.

That means that after it has been discussed it will come to a vote.

As the situation stood this morning, the bill was due for defeat—possibly an overwhelming defeat.

While many of the members have felt reluctant about committing themselves on the bill because of the split in the St. Louis county delegation, the Duluth representatives said this morning that they had more than enough votes pledged to beat the bill.

The range members have worked hard for the bill, and they formed a nucleus for their contest by making some combinations on the speakership contest.

However, they have been handicapped by a proposal too unprecedented and too unfair to be very seriously considered by many of the members.

In all probability, if the bill is defeated in the house this afternoon,

U. S. HAS SENT AN INQUIRY TO JAPAN

Only Definite Thing That Can Be Said of Eastern Situation.

Washington, March 23.—President Wilson declared today that the only definite thing that could be said at this time on the Japanese-Chinese negotiations was that the United States had addressed an inquiry to Japan concerning her demands on China.

When asked whether Tokio dispatches were correct in saying the American government had inquired about "minor points," the president made it clear that he did not consider the points of a minor character.

Regarding another dispatch from Tokio stating that the United States had approved of Japan's explanation of the demands the president pointed out that the United States had neither approved nor disapproved—having, in fact, not received Japan's reply.

AUSTRIA-HUNGARY AND SERBIA TO EXCHANGE.

Nish, Serbia, March 23, via London.—Through the intermediary of the American minister to Serbia, Charles J. Vopicka, Serbia and Austria-Hungary have reached an agreement for the exchange of interned civilians. These are to include men under 18 years of age and over 50; all women and soldiers incapable of further military service because of sickness or wounds.

MANKATO MAN NAMED STATE OIL INSPECTOR

A. J. RUSH.

St. Paul, Minn., March 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—A. J. Rush of Mankato, who has been appointed state oil inspector, is a native of Ohio and has been a resident of Minnesota since 1885. He is 51 years old, married, and has three children. He will reside in St. Paul during his term of office. Mr. Rush was the Democratic candidate for state auditor last year.

ALL FORTS DESTROYED

Austrians Demolish All Guns and Ammunition Before Surrendering.

Further Details on Fall of Przemysl Are Made Public.

Vienna, March 23, via London.—Further details of the fall of Przemysl are made public in a late official statement issued by the Austrian war office, the text of which follows:

"When in the middle of the week provisions were running short Gen. Kusmanek (commander of the garrison), decided on a last attack. On the 19th early in the morning his troops sortied across the line of forts and withstood to the utmost, in a seven hours' battle, strong Russian forces.

"Numerical superiority finally forced the Austrians to retreat behind the line of forts. The following night the Russians attacked Przemsyl from several points, but the attacks broke down in the face of the fire of the heroic defenders.

"After the sortie of the 19th it was found that the provisions could last only three days and the commander received an order to surrender the fortress after these three days, and after all the war material had been destroyed. According to reports from an airman from the fortress, the commander did in fact succeed in destroying the forts including guns, ammunition and fortifications.

"No less praise is due to the sacrificing perseverance and last fight of the garrison than to their bravery during the storming of the fortress and the fighting on previous occasions. This recognition the enemy himself will not refuse to heroes of Przemsyl.

"The fall of the fortress with which the higher command reckoned for a long time has no influence on the situation in general."

STARTLED BY MESABA TOWN DISCLOSURES

Majority of Voters of Hibbing on the Village Payroll.

Bill to Limit Per Capita Expenditures Unanimously Favored.

By a Staff Correspondent.

St. Paul, Minn., March 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—Startling disclosures of the scale of expenditures that prevails in a few of the iron range communities were made last evening before the house committee on cities during a public hearing on the bill by Representative J. M. Harrison of Minneapolis to limit the expenditures of villages and cities of the third and fourth classes to $25 per capita yearly.

These disclosures were particularly startling to senators and representatives from communities whose average per capita expenditures are only a trifle over $5. To these, the bare fact that there was a demand for such a bill was a revelation in itself; but the facts and figures developed by C. O. Baldwin and W. D. Bailey of Duluth and Edward C. Gale of Minneapolis left them gasping.

That in the ten cities and villages in St. Louis county having a mineral valuation the average tax levy per capita for the past nine years has been more than ten times the levy in the six cities and villages where the residents pay the taxes they levy.

A Striking Comparison.

That in 1914 140 cities and villages in the state outside the range country, all put together, levied a smaller total in taxes for municipal purposes than

CONTRABAND FOUND ON STEAMER FINLAND.

Naples, via Paris, March 23.—Contraband ammunition was found aboard the steamer Finland by customs officials here according to reports printed in Naples newspapers. It is said that six customs guards are accompanying the steamer to Genoa for a thorough search there as it is believed the cargo contains more contraband than was found here.

The Finland is a steamer of 7,927 tons, which sailed from New York Feb. 27 for Gibraltar, where she arrived March 9, and then cleared for Naples and Genoa.

RUSS AGAIN DRIVEN OUT OF PRUSSIA

Latest Invasion of Germany Said to Have Met Fate of Predecessors.

Russian Forces Which Captured Memel Forced Back Across Border.

German Troops Pursuing Capture Russian Town of Krottingen.

The latest Russian invasion of Germany is said at Berlin to have met with the same fate as its predecessors. Today's official German communication contains the announcement that the Russian forces which captured Memel, at the northern end of East Prussia, have been driven back, and that German troops, pursuing them across the border, have captured the Russian town of Krottingen.

ON OFFENSIVE IN POLAND.

The Russians are still on the offensive in Northern Poland, but the German war office asserts that they have been driven back in every instance.

The initiative in France and Belgium yesterday was chiefly left to the airmen. Aviators of the allies attacked Ostend, and German aeroplanes dropped bombs on Reims. The German statement says a French aviator was shot down near Verdun, and that another French machine was forced to descend near Frieburg.

WAR NOT OF LONG DURATION.

The opinion is expressed by Field

BADGER COURT REVERSES ITS FIRST RULING

Supreme Bench of Wisconsin Decides Only Qualified Citizens Can Vote.

Holds That Constitutional Amendment Was Properly Adopted.

Previous to That Foreign Born Could Vote on Filing Intention.

Madison, Wis., March 23.—The supreme court of the state of Wisconsin reversed itself today and decided that foreign-born residents cannot vote in the state of Wisconsin without being fully qualified citizens. In taking this action, the court set aside its own opinion of two months ago, when it decided that the constitutional amendment, restricting the suffrage to full citizens, was not properly adopted, and today it held that the amendment was legally adopted and in full force and effect.

Voted on Declaration.

Until 1912 foreign-born residents of Wisconsin were permitted under the Constitution to vote on a mere declaration of intention, and in practice there were many thousands who never took out the second papers which made them full citizens. Beginning with 1912, under the new amendment these persons were required either to take out their second papers or forfeit the right to vote, and a great number, particularly of older men, who had lost their original records, were deprived of the ballot. In numerous cases the names of men who had voted for a half century or more were stricken from the poll lists.

Again Taken Away.

In January the state supreme court, passing on the amendment, declared it was not legally adopted, and restored the ballot rights to first-paper citizens. Today, on a rehearing, these rights were again taken away and the amendment restored to full force.

Many Barred From Voting.

La Crosse, Wis., March 23.—In the midst of the primary election here today election officers received telegrams from the state supreme court, ordering them to deny the ballot to foreign-born citizens not fully naturalized. From 300 to 500 first-paper citizens, who had expected to vote under the recent ruling of the court, were barred.

One Burned to Death.

Muncie, Ind., March 23.—The county infirmary burned here early today. One inmate was burned to death. Five others are missing. The logs on the buildings is about $75,000. The cause of the fire is unknown.

SUED NEW YORKER FOR BREACH OF PROMISE

MISS RAE TANZER.

New York, March 23.—The Federal grand jury has begun an investigation of the complaint made by James Osborne, former assistant district attorney, that Miss Rae Tanzer used the mails in furtherance of a scheme to defraud. Miss Tanzer recently sued J. W. Osborn for $50,000 for an alleged breach of promise to marry her.

CHRISTIANS IN GREAT DANGER

Villages Burned and Many People Killed in Northwestern Persia.

Fifteen Thousand Refugees Are in the American Missions.

New York, March 23.—The Persian war relief committee with headquarters in this city today received the following cablegram from Tiflis, Russia:

"All villages burned except three. Two Christian quarters of Urumiah plundered and a great many people killed. Women taken captives. Fifteen thousand refugees in the American missions. Great danger.

"The French mission has been destroyed. There are 10,000 refugees in Russia."

Attacked American Mission.

Urumiah is in Northwestern Persia, not far distant from the Russian border. A previous dispatch from Djulfa, Persia, received here March 21, was to the effect that the Turkish consul at Urumiah, at the head of seventy Askaris, recently attacked the American mission here. Priests and deacons, upon being ordered to leave the mission, were insulted and beaten, it was stated in the dispatch. Russian troops, it was also said, had been sent for to save the lives of Christians, whom the mission was unable to protect.

Urumiah has been in the throes of mob rule for weeks, according to reports received here by the Presbyterian board of foreign missions. A reign of terror, in which marauders and

CAPTURE OF FORTRESSES OPENS WAY

German Press Warmly Praises Defenders of the Galician City.

Best Forts in Dardanelles Narrows Are Still Intact.

Lull in Battle on Eastern and Western Fronts.

London, March 23.—The fall of Przemysl is characterized here as the throwing down of the last bar of the gateway into Hungary, and an early Russian advance in that direction is anticipated in England. The German press praises warmly the gallantry of the defenders of this Galician fortress while at the same time it does not attempt to minimize the effects of its surrender, and expresses uneasiness concerning the result on the long eastern battle front of the Teutonic allies.

Other Forts Intact.

The latest authentic information from the Dardanelles sets forth positively that only the secondary defenses of the straits have suffered from the bombardment of the allied fleet; the other forts in the narrows are intact. This report finds confirmation in the present status of the diplomatic situation in the Near East, which indicates that the Balkan states are no nearer intervention in the quarrel than they were when the battleships of the allies first appeared off the Dardanelles.

In spite of the optimistic tone of the Greek press it is not generally believed in London that the entente powers have made any further advances to the new Greek cabinet; while in Grecian circles there is growing an uneasy feeling that Bulgaria may again assert her primacy in Balkan affairs by taking the first step toward active participation in the struggle.

Lull on Both Fronts.

The lull along the western battle front now apparently is being duplicated in the east where nothing more than isolated actions are being reported.

Aviators of the allies have retaliated for the German raid on Paris by forays over territory occupied by the German army.

Interest in the blockade centers today in the attack of German aeroplanes on Dutch cargo ships, one of which flew the flag of the commission of Belgian relief. Holland is awaiting information from Berlin before making a formal protest in this connection.

WOULD HAVE WOMEN TAKE MEN'S PLACES.

Rome, via Paris, March 23.—A movement is under way in Italy to substitute women for men in the work of industry and commerce in case of complete mobilization. It is proposed that the women be paid the same wages as now received by male workers with the provision that part of it be turned over to the families of men called to the colors. The plan provides that the female workers shall surrender their posts to the soldiers when they are disbanded. An office has been opened where women may register and express an opinion as to what work they are best able to do in case of need.

THREE BRIDES OF SMITH DIED IN BATHS; MURDER CHARGED

Man, Said to Be of Independent Means, on Trial in Bow Street.

Women He Married Found Dead Few Days After Ceremony.

London, March 23.—Charged with the murder of three women, George Joseph Smith was arraigned in the Bow street court today. Public Prosecutor Bodkin declared Smith had made away with three of his wives, the crime in each case being committed shortly after he had married them. Each of these women was found dead in her bath; consequently the case has come to be known as the "brides in baths" case.

The public prosecutor gave the names of the three women and the dates of the alleged murders as Beat-

ARRESTED; CHARGED WITH KILLING WIFE

Harry Glascock Caught in Danville and Taken to Jail at Champaign.

Danville, Ill., March 23.—Harry Glascock of Champaign, charged with the murder of his wife, was arrested at the Big Four station in Danville this morning and later was taken back to Champaign by Sheriff Evans of Champaign county.

Claims He Is Innocent.

Champaign, Ill., March 23.—Harry Glascock, accused of the recent murder of his wife, Laura, was placed in the county jail here today by Sheriff A. M. Evans, who brought him from Danville.

Glascock maintained his innocence. Both his hands were badly burned. An attempt was made to burn the body of Mrs. Glascock and the burned hands are considered significant.

Glascock said he went to Chicago on the 6 o'clock train Saturday night and remained there until yesterday.

Although there is much feeling against him, he was placed in jail without much trouble.

MUCH ANXIETY IN CITY OF WARSAW

No Tea, Sugar, Flour or Tobacco to Be Had; People Depressed.

Lodz, Russian Poland, March 23, via London.—A German merchant of this city who has just returned from a trip to Warsaw, says a general feeling of uncertainty and anxiety concerning the future prevails in the capital of Russian Poland.

Provisions are very dear and for some days past there has been virtually no tea, sugar, tobacco or flour to be had. People are depressed. All officials have remained in the city and the Imperial bank is still doing business, but otherwise things are very quiet.

JUDGE WHO PRESIDED AT FRANK TRIAL DEAD.

New York, March 23.—Former Judge L. S. Roan of Atlanta, who tried and sentenced Leo M. Frank for the murder of Mary Phagan, died here today in the Polyclinic hospital, where he had been a patient since Feb. 26.

It was reported that death was due to cancer, but this the hospital authorities would not confirm or deny.

NEAR APPROACH OF ZEPPELINS GIVES PARIS A SECOND SCARE

Warned of Another Raid But Hostile Aircraft Fail to Appear.

Aerial Defenders of Capital Sharply Criticized By Press.

Paris, March 23.—Paris received warning last night of another impending Zeppelin raid, but no hostile aircraft made its appearance.

The weather conditions last night were most unfavorable for an aerial raid, in strong contrast to the weather which prevailed Sunday morning on the occasion of the last visit of the Zeppelins. It rained steadily and at times a strong south wind blew.

Only one Zeppelin was sighted on the French lines. It was first seen at Tracy-Le-Val, about eighty miles northeast of Paris in the department of the Oise, then at Creil in the Oise, twenty-five miles north of Paris, and later at Villers Cotterels, about thirty miles east of Creil and forty-five miles northeast of Paris on the Aisne. At Villers Cotterels the Zeppelin dropped a bomb.

TO BE BROUGHT HOME.

Body of Scorpion's Officer Will Be Buried in Chambersburg, Pa.

Washington, March 23.—The body of Lieut. Commander William F. Bricker of the gunboat Scorpion, drowned off Constantinople Saturday, will be buried in Chambersburg, Pa., his former home. W. H. Bricker, his father, today requested Secretary Daniels to have the body brought home as soon as possible.

As the European war has paralyzed Mediterranean shipping it is probable Commander Bricker's body will be brought home on the collier Vulcan, en route with supplies for the cruisers Tennessee and North Carolina, in Mediterranean waters. It has been suggested that the Scorpion might pass through the Dardanelles to deliver the body to the Vulcan.

JITNEY FLIRT NEW TYPE OF "MASH" PEST

Invite Girls Into Cars or Climb in After Them to Display Near-Wit.

Board walk flirts, the plain "ornery" street corner flirt, the street car flirt, the bathing beach flirt and the "movie" flirt are all well-known and more or less established, and each has his distinct brand of obnoxiousness, but now comes the latest of these "microbes of society." The "jitney" flirt is new because the "jitney" is new and hence he is here. Whether he will stay or not depends on many things.

Of course, "jitneying" is the newest of outdoor sports and especially on these warm days when many people take short joy rides just for the novelty of the thing. However, the "jitney" flirt was discovered last night, when young men would board these busses and then while riding along the street, whistle or call to girls to "come in and have a ride on us." At other times, when girls would board a "jitney," young men would follow and then, of course, flirting was quite easy. The girl either "stood for it" or got out.

A "jitney" flirt is really the worst species of the pest, according to several young women, who have experienced most of them. A girl can pass those on corners, board walks or beaches, or she can get up and take another seat at a "movie" show, but if one gets into a "jitney," she is almost compelled to bear his presence or get out of the car.

However, owners of "jitneys" here say that they will insist on order in their cars and that young men attempting to misbehave will be ordered out.

WOMEN TALK TO ADVERTISING MEN

Will Tell Ad Club About Truth in the Profession.

The Duluth Adversiting club will hold a meeting at the Commercial club tonight, following dinner, which will be served at 6:35, and there is promise of a very interesting discussion resulting during the meeting part of the evening.

The general subject will be "Truth in Advertising" and the matter will be discussed from the viewpoint of an advertiser and from that of readers of advertisements, by four leading members of the Woman's council.

W. B. Brinkman, manager of the George A. Gray company, will talk on the subject from the advertiser's point of view. Mrs. W. S. Woodbridge, Mrs. S. H. Holden, Mrs. E. A. Silberstein and Mrs. C. E. Spring, representing the Woman's council, will talk on "Truth in Advertising" from the angle at which they view it.

VICTIM'S NEGLIGENCE ISSUE OF SUIT

Jury Considering Damage Suit of Axel Bloomquist's Guardian Against Road.

A jury retired in Judge Dancer's division of the district court this morning shortly after 11:30 o'clock to decide what damages, if any, Erick Peterson is entitled to receive from the Duluth & Iron Range Railroad company for injuries which his ward, Axel E. Bloomquist, 19, sustained at Two Harbors July 1, 1913.

Young Bloomquist was attempting to crawl over the bumpers of a freight train in the Two Harbors yard when a string of five loaded cars was shunted on the siding. He was knocked from his position and fell beneath the wheels of a car. His leg was cut off eight inches below the knee.

The young man was employed by the company as a car checker. He claims that the manner of switching cars in the yard was contrary to law and hazardous to employes. The company, on the other hand, asserts that Bloomquist assumed the risk that he took and that his own negligence contributed to the accident. The defendant denies any liability.

Jesse Van Valkenberg is attorney for the boy's guardian and Howard T. Abbott appeared as counsel for the railroad company.

BOOCOCK'S BOOKS ARE FOUND IN GOOD ORDER.

New York, March 23.—Henry J. Cochran, vice president of the Astor Trust company, of which Howard Boocock, who killed himself and his wife last night, was treasurer, today issued a statement in which he said that an inspection of Mr. Boocock's books and accounts had showed them to be in order.

Mr. Cochran said it was the belief of Mr. Boocock's business associates that he had worried over illness. Mr. Boocock had recently undergone an operation.

SPRING MEDICINE

Hood's Sarsaparilla, the Great Blood Purifier, is the Best.

Spring sickness comes in some degree to every man, woman and child in our climate.

It is that run-down condition of the system that results from impure, impoverished, devitalized blood.

It is marked by loss of appetite and that tired feeling, and in many cases by some form of eruption.

The best way to treat spring sickness is to take Hood's Sarsaparilla. This old reliable family medicine purifies, enriches and revitalizes the blood. It is an all-the-year-round alterative and tonic, and is absolutely the best Spring medicine.

Get your blood in good condition at once—now. Delay may be dangerous. Ask your druggist for Hood's Sarsaparilla, and insist on having it, for nothing else can take its place.

FISHERMEN ARE GETTING OUT NETS

Fishermen along the north shore are beginning to show signs of activity.

A few of them have been fishing through the ice all winter, but there is now open water beyond Beaver bay. The ice field extends for a short distance beyond Two Harbors, and there is some ice along the shore as far north as Beaver Bay, but beyond that, it is said, there is open water, and the fishermen can get their skiffs out.

This side of Two Harbors some of the fishermen have been fishing through the ice and hauling their catch in on the ice.

GOVERNOR HAMMOND IS TO SPEAK AT AKELEY.

Akeley, Minn., March 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—The feature of the farmers' short course which began here today and will run the balance of the week will be the address on Saturday by Governor W. S. Hammond. Various addresses on livestock, home economics, farm crop work, etc., will be given daily. The committees in charge are:

President, M. H. Aygarn; secretary, W. P. Stapleton, and treasurer, Bert Rodman.

Chairmen of committees—Live stock, O. E. Butler; farm crops, James Arrowood, and home economics, Miss Florence Walrath.

The women will meet in one group to discuss foods, sanitation, textiles and other subjects related to the home.

(Beauty Topics)

By following this suggestion any woman can, in the privacy of her own home, remove every trace of hair or fuzz from her face: With powdered delatone and water mix enough paste to cover the not wanted hairs; apply and in 2 or 3 minutes rub off and wash the skin. This method is unfailing, harmless and quick in results, but care should be employed to get the genuine delatone.—Advertisement.

The heat that costs least

The right time to build, remodel or repair is now! Building material is low, skilled labor is abundant, trained architects have time to most ably plan and contractors to carry out work well and cheaply. The man who wants to build for himself or for bona-fide tenants can buy to lasting advantage, as all future rents or loans will necessarily be based upon the low valuations now available—and investments so made will yield proportionately higher permanent returns.

"Radiators are made in any shape to fit your plans or room spaces"

AMERICAN RADIATORS & IDEAL BOILERS

Raw material costs less than in 10 years past, labor is more productive, and with greater output (sales in 1914 were the largest in our history), we are able to put the price within reach of all. No one in the world offers equal value in heating devices!

Do you realize that this ideal heating outfit is the ONLY equipment you can put into a building that will never be worth less than you pay for it, and will in a century or so of use repeatedly repay its original cost through fuel savings? Can you possibly INVEST money better or more safely than that?

IDEAL Boilers and AMERICAN Radiators supply the heat that costs the least also because they make every pound of fuel yield double the volume of heat. They silently and steadily meet the sudden weather changes, warming all rooms, bays and halls genially alike. They protect the family health with cleanly warmth—no ash-dust, soot or coal gases reach the living rooms—which saves much wear on furnishings and decorations.

A No. C2118 IDEAL Boiler and 270 sq. ft. of 38-in. AMERICAN Radiators, costing the owner $140, were used to heat this cottage. At this price the goods can be bought of any reputable, competent Fitter. This did not include cost of labor, pipes, valves, freight, etc., which are extra and vary according to climatic and other conditions.

They are absolutely safe. They have every practical improvement, designed by experts in our factories in America and abroad. They bring quicker buyer or larger rental for your building, or secure a larger loan. They cost less or no more than ordinary types, yet are fully guaranteed.

IDEAL Boilers are safer and easier to run than stoves. Accept no substitute.

Made in sizes for flats, stores, schools, churches, public buildings, farm and city homes, old and new. Don't wait until you build—old heaters need not be disturbed until ready to put fire in the new outfit of IDEAL Boilers and AMERICAN Radiators. Start right away to benefit from the heat that costs the least—the heating which guarantees comfort and economy to the end of your days. Write us for "Ideal Heating" catalog (free.) Puts you under no obligation. Now is the time to buy. Iron prices now rule lower than in ten years past!

ORDERS PAYMENT FOR FOUR CARGOES

Prize Court Allows $600,000 for American Shipments.

London, March 23.—The prize court yesterday ordered paid $600,000 on American shipments of flour and wheat detained on board the Norwegian steamers Alfred Nobel, Kim and Bjornsterne Bjornson and the Swedish steamer Fridland. So far as known, this is the first money to be paid out by the prize court on American foodstuffs seized.

The owners of the cargo of foodstuffs on board the American steamer Wilhelmina, destined for Germany, are becoming discouraged over the delay of the prize court in giving the case a hearing. It now seems unlikely that the case will come up March 29, the date for which it was tentatively set after a previous postponement.

A. G. Hayes, attorney for A. L. Green & Co. of St. Louis, owners of the cargo, said today:

"The admiralty says it is expediting the Wilhelmina case. Weeks ago we offered to stipulate the facts. Sir Edward Grey, in his note of Feb. 20, said the case would be tried 'in due course.' If this is due course, prize court procedure is buncombe. It is difficult to avoid suspecting that the case, perhaps, is being intentionally delayed so that if the court ultimately decides that the foodstuffs may proceed to Germany, they will have rotted meantime. An American would find it hard to choose between indiscriminate destruction and regulated capture."

The steamers Alfred Nobel and Bjornstjerne Bjornson, loaded chiefly with lard, bacon and other products of Chicago packing houses, have been held in British ports since the middle of November. The Fridland, from New York Oct. 28, for Copenhagen with packers' products, was taken into Kirkwall Nov. 10 and the Kim, loaded with foodstuffs, was detained at Newcastle Dec. 10.

FORMER BANKER GIVEN FIVE YEARS IN PRISON.

Providence, R. I., March 23.—Edward P. Metcalf, former president of the Atlantic National bank, who was found guilty Jan. 23 on ten counts, charging him with misappropriation of funds of the bank, was sentenced in the United States district court yesterday to five years in the state prison at Cranston.

While a five-year term was given on each count, Judge Brown announced that he had taken into consideration the jury's recommendation that leniency be shown and that the sentences, therefore, would run concurrently.

Metcalf, in a statement to the court, said he had never intentionally harmed the bank.

The Atlantic National bank closed its doors April 14, 1913, owing more than $200,000.

LARGEST WARREN CLASS

Twenty-Eight Will Graduate From High School This Year.

Warren, Minn., March 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—The graduating class of the local high school this year is the largest in the history of the school—twenty-eight. Sixteen will complete the normal course and receive first-grade teachers' certificates enabling them to teach in the schools of the state. The five ranking highest are Frans Larson, Lucile Farrell, Caddie Robinson, Olga Blomsness and Adeline Lindestrand.

The following make up the class roll: Olga Blomsness, Ida Copp, Hilmer Erickson, Lucile Farrell, Chester Hanson, Clara Hervit, Hilda Hileboe, Clara Knutson, Frans Larson, Lucile Lundquist, Adeline Lindestrand, Esther Lindquist, Helen Mattwig, Bernice Melgard, Hilda Nelson, Saxton Nelson, Anna Peterson, Magnus Philstrom, Beda Peterson, Caddie Robinson, Beulah Robinson, Olga Rundtom, Martin Samuelson, Agnes Sands, Lois Sommers, Selpha Torgerson, Clinton Winchester and Lucile White.

NEW YORK BANKER KILLS WIFE AND SELF.

New York, March 23.—Howard Boocock, president of the Astor Trust company of this city, and prominent in New York society, shot and killed his wife last night as she was playing the piano for his entertainment in their home. The banker then committed suicide with the same revolver.

According to the police, the banker left no word explaining the murder and suicide, nor could any member of the household throw any light on the affair. The servants declared the couple were on the most affectionate terms.

The tragedy occurred shortly after dinner. The maid who served the meal told the police that Mr. Boocock seemed to be laboring under some excitement.

Mr. Boocock was a Yale graduate of the class of 1900. He was 40 years old.

DIFFER OVER SITE.

Hence Construction of Bemidji's Public Building Is Delayed.

Bemidji, Minn., March 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—The reason given by Commissioner Charles A. Lindberg for the inability of Bemidji to secure a postoffice building sooner is on account of the wrangling among the citizens on the site proposition. Several attractive sites had been offered and the citizens became divided on the site question, and according to Mr. Lindberg, the affair has been settled at Washington and announcement of the selection will be made soon.

Montana Murderer Sentenced.

Plentywood, Mont., March 23.—Charles Johnson, aged 30, pleaded guilty in district court here to second degree murder and was given an indeterminate sentence in the state prison at Deer Lodge of from fifteen to forty years, and is now in the penitentiary.

Johnson had been held here since last August for the murder with a knife of Mrs. Daniels, his sister-in-law, in her shack near Redstone, the latter part of August.

BRITISH STEAMER CONCORD TORPEDOED.

London, March 23.—The British steamer Concord of 1,825 tons was torpedoed by a German submarine in the English channel yesterday. The crew of twenty-six men were rescued by a patrol boat and landed at Dover. The vessel is reported to be still afloat.

To Rebuild Woolen Mills.

Litchfield, Minn., March 23.—The Litchfield woolen mills, which were recently destroyed by fire, will be rebuilt with larger buildings and better equipment than before.

Deaths Among Canadians.

Ottawa, Ont., March 23.—Ten deaths from wounds are given, and ten wounded, all privates, are recorded in the list of casualties among the Canadian expeditionary force issued here last night by the militia department. Among the severely wounded is Corporal J. Cope of Princess Patricia's light infantry regiment.

GAS FOR ALL IS AVAILABLE

City Council Adopts Proposal for Payments in Ten Years.

Street Improvements and New Reservoir Tank at Woodland Ordered.

The improving of Twenty-second avenue west, the advertising for bids for the construction of a 1,000,000-gallon reservoir tank at Woodland, the awarding of several contracts and the preparation of an amendment to the ordinance regulating the construction of gas connections in homes as suggested by Manager D. A. Reed of the water and light department in a letter to the council, were ordered by the city commissioners at their regular meeting yesterday afternoon.

The resolution ordering the improvement of Twenty-second avenue west, from Superior to Third streets, was introduced by Commissioner Murchison. The resolution authorizes the grading of the thoroughfare to a width of thirty-four feets from Superior to of thirty-four feet from Superior to malning two blocks.

The council directed Commissioner Merritt to advertise for bids for the construction of a 1,000,000-gallon reservoir tank at Woodland. In a letter to the council, Manager Reed asked for immediate action, asserting that it would be advisable to start construction work at once. The estimated cost of the tank is $14,000. It will be of concrete and will be located on Minneapolis avenue, between Anoka and Mankato streets.

A delegation of Gary residents, who asked for more sewer connections in that suburb, were promised by Commissioner Murchison that their requests would be granted and that work would be done as soon as the other improvements, now under construction, are finished. He said that sewers would be laid in Commonwealth avenue, from Crestline court to Ninety-sixth avenue west and in Ninety-sixth avenue west Crestline court to Rice street.

Gas Available for All.

Mr. Reed's letter, as outlined in The Herald last evening, suggesting that the council allow the water and light department to make gas connections for the less affluent property owners and to give them ten years in which to make full payment, was received with favor by the commissioners. As a result the city attorney was instructed to prepare an amendment to the present ordinance regulating the construction of gas connections, so that the department may be able to go ahead with its program. Mr. Reed claims that there are several hundred residents in West Duluth and Lakeside, who would gladly accept such an opportunity. The owner would pay the department 25 cents a month extra for interest and maintenance, as the city would always keep the pipes in repair and maintain them during the ten years.

Contracts for furnishing the water and light department with an automobile were awarded to Leonard McNamara on his bid of $1,430, and to the United States Cast Iron Pipe & Foundry company for furnishing the city cast iron pipe on its bid of $28,877.50. McNamara has agreed to allow $430 for the old E. M. F. car now owned by the water and light department, making the net cost of the new car $1,000.

A resolution introduced by Commissioner Merritt was adopted awarding the following contracts: Furnishing the city with wrought iron pipe to the National Hardware & Supply company on its low bid of $982.81; National Hardware company, 25,000 pounds of lead pipe, $1,160; Marshall-Wells, 1,000 pounds of solder, $203.50, and Marshall-Wells, 600 gas curb boxes, $448.50.

Assessments Confirmed.

A resolution was adopted confirming the assessments levied to defray the cost of constructing a sanitary sewer in Seventh avenue east, from Ninth to Thirteenth streets; the paving of Minnesota avenue, from Twelfth to Thirty-eighth streets; and the construction of sanitary sewers in Avondale street and Avondale alley, from Fifty-fourth to Sixtieth avenues east, and in Sixtieth avenue east, from Oakley to Wyoming streets.

The resolution introduced by Commissioner Merritt, awarding the contract for furnishing the city with lead pipe to the Duluth Plumbing & Supplies company on its low bid of $1,160, was laid over until next Monday, as it involves an expenditure over $1,000.

Incandescent lights were ordered installed at Forty-fourth avenue west and Rene street and at Forty-sixth avenue east and Regent street.

Sanitary sewers were ordered constructed in Ninth street, from Twenty-third to Twenty-fourth avenues east, and in Tenth street, from Ninth to Tenth avenues east.

The commissioner of public works was directed to enter into a contract with the Spindler Card & Window Service on its proposition of placing receptacles for waste paper at all downtown street corners free of charge and to maintain and empty them without any cost to the city.

City Attorney Clapp was authorized to pay Arthur Gauthier the sum of $30, covering damages done to his property at 218 Vernon street as the result of a sewer overflow on March 2.

Ordinances Read.

The ordinance appropriating $800 for the payment of the premium on bonds for the two commissioners to be selected on April 6 was given its second reading. First reading was given an ordinance introduced by Commissioner Murchison, appropriating $340 in payment for a premium in compensation insurance.

Liquor license renewals were granted the following: Frank Johnson, 1819 West Superior street; Frank Peterson, 1909 West Superior street, transferred from 1627 West Superior street; Charles Letts, 415 West Michigan street, transferred from H. B. Weinstein, 216 Lake avenue south; Gust Peterson, 2011 West Superior street; Hans Johnson, 613 West Superior street; Charles Langbridge, 22 North Fifth avenue west; George Larsen, 102 East Superior street, transferred from Norman Smith, same location; C. N. Inforzato, 1426 Commonwealth avenue, and Martin Nickelson, 517½ West Michigan street.

What to Do to Get Fat and Increase Weight

The Real Cause of Thinness

A Physician's Advice

Most thin people eat from four to six pounds of good solid fat-making food every day and still do not increase in weight one ounce, while on the other hand many of the plump, chunky folks eat very lightly and keep gaining all the time. It's all bosh to say that this is the nature of the individual. It isn't Nature's way at all.

Thin folks stay thin because their powers of assimilation are defective. They absorb just enough of the food they eat to maintain life and a semblance of health and strength. Stuffing won't help them. A dozen meals a day won't make them gain a single "stay there" pound. All the fat-producing elements of their food just stay in the intestines until they pass from the body as waste. What such people need is something that will prepare these fatty food elements so that their blood can absorb them and deposit them all about the body—something, too, that will multiply their red blood corpuscles and increase their blood's carrying power.

For such a condition I always recommend eating a Sargol tablet with every meal. Sargol is not, as some believe, a patented drug, but is a scientific combination of six of the most effective and powerful flesh building elements known to chemistry. It is absolutely harmless, yet wonderfully effective and a single tablet eaten with each meal often has the effect of increasing the weight of a thin man or woman from three to five pounds a week. Sargol is sold by Boyce Drug store and other druggists everywhere on a positive guarantee of weight increase or money back.

BOTH MAKING CLAIMS

"Drys" and "Wets" Confident of Carrying Clay County.

Moorhead, Minn., March 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—The "wets" and the "drys" are both making claims as to their ability to carry Clay county for or against license in the approaching county option election.

The "wets" insist that many voters who favored the prohibition side at the recent municipal election will now vote the other way, because they realize the electric light plant, the water works and the fire department, as well as a greater part of the municipal improvements, come largely from the licenses paid by the saloonmen and from the taxation of saloon property. With the saloons eliminated it will mean, they say, a greatly increased taxation, and this argument, they assert, will influence many voters.

In the small towns of the county, as well as the rural districts, they claim there are many voters who would favor the abolition of the saloons from their own localities as long as their supplies could be secured as conveniently as in Moorhead, but if their base of supplies is threatened, they will vote with the "wets."

On the other hand, the "drys" express the utmost confidence in their ability to win out, and insist the vote will be an unusually large and one-sided affair. They are planning to have a number of well-known prohibition speakers make addresses in the county. The election will be timed so as to interfere as little as possible with the activities of the farmers in order to get out as large a vote as possible.

A Splendid Kidney Medicine

In the year 1901, at the age of 11, I was a terrible sufferer of Kidney trouble in an aggravated form. My father sent to you for a sample bottle of your celebrated remedy, which he received promptly and he began giving me Swamp-Root immediately. The contents of this one bottle relieved me in a remarkable way and three large size bottles effected a complete cure.

I consider your Swamp-Root to be a grand medicine and I cheerfully recommend it to all sufferers of Kidney trouble, no matter how long standing, as it no doubt saved my life.

HENRY W. SMITH,
Sayville, N. Y.

Personally appeared before me this 30th of July, 1909, Henry W. Smith, who subscribed the above statement and made oath that the same is true in substance and in fact.

Prove What Swamp Root Will Do For You

Send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample size bottle. It will convince anyone. You will also receive a booklet of valuable information, telling about the kidneys and bladder. When writing, be sure and mention the Duluth Daily Herald. Regular fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles for sale at all drug stores.

Superiorites Give Program.

At Bethany Lutheran church, Twenty-third avenue west and Third street, this evening the members of the Luther Leagues of Superior will give an entertainment and it is expected that a large delegation will attend from across the bay. There will be quite an attractive program, and the Bethany Luther League orchestra will furnish music. Refreshments will be served in the parlors after the program.

"WINDOW SHOPPERS" ARE ESTIMATED AT 15,000

Reception By Merchants Draws Crowd That Congests Traffic.

No Goods for Sale, But Everything Is on Display.

Merchants Give Away Souvenirs and Provide Soft Drinks.

The efforts of Duluth merchants met with a magnificent response yesterday afternoon and last evening, when the style exhibit was opened.

Shoppers from every part of the city were down town, and the crowds were so great that traffic was congested at all of the principal street corners, and eager throngs jostled and jammed against each other in attempting to get to see the style displays. Entrance to some of the stores was impossible at times, and merchants say that there were between 15,000 and 20,000 people "window shopping" last night.

So well have the merchants advertised the style exhibit that large numbers from Superior and many range towns were in Duluth yesterday. All of the Duluth hotels spoke of the large number of range people registered, and the streets of Superior were emptied last night because of the exodus to Duluth. The interest of Duluth people was so great that it seemed as if everybody in the city made an inspection of the stores. The merchants feel that their efforts yesterday have met with the most generous response ever known in the city.

Streets Well Lighted.

The co-operation of the merchants was seen in every detail of the exhibit. Superior street from Second avenue east to the western part of the city was magnificently lighted, and the downtown sections of First street were also a blaze of lights. Strings of lights were stretched across the street corners and every street lamp was burning.

The shooting of the bombs at 5 o'clock, which heralded the unveiling of the store windows, was a great success. The bursting of the bombs could be heard in all parts of the city, and at this salute office buildings, stores and factories were emptied, and the people from all parts of the city poured into the streets, and then the show was on. All of the stores, big and little, as well as the factories, closed their doors so that their employes might inspect the displays, and automobiles and street cars brought crowds to join those already down town.

From 5 to 7 o'clock "window shopping" was the only occupation of Duluth. Such large crowds gathered in front of the windows that many were unable to get a glimpse of the displays until after dinner.

The window displays were a triumph for the merchants and trimmer. Spring styles in all their brightness and smartness were shown in profusion, and every article of merchandise imaginable was seen to advantage. It seemed as if every window along the business streets had been washed until it fairly glistened, and all the latest fashions were to be seen artistically arranged before backgrounds of spring design. There were brightly painted canvasses, lattice work with trailing vines and roses, flowering plants and palms.

No Goods Sold.

When the stores opened at 7 o'clock the streets were already crowded, and the shoppers began to throng into the stores. No goods were sold last night, but the clerks, all dressed up and smiling, were right on hand to show customers about and explain and display anything in stock. Carnations, roses, violets and many other souvenirs were given away. In some of the stores soft drinks were served free and orchestras played during the whole of the evening.

But despite these side attractions, merchandise was the real attraction of the evening. Shoppers were not content to walk through one or two departments, but chose rather to start on the first floor and then pay a visit to every floor above. So thorough was the inspection that the merchants feel that most shoppers made up their minds last night as to just what they will buy for Easter. It is thought that the time spent by the clerks last night will be amply rewarded by future sales.

One of the best results of last evening's exhibit, the merchants say, is the showing to Duluthians just what the stores have to offer. Those who have thought of buying goods in other cities have seen what they want here and will not think it necessary to go elsewhere for goods. The stores have never been so well stocked or shown a greater variety of late styles than at present, and the merchants have felt that the only thing necessary to promote sales is to show the goods that the stores here have in stock.

The merchants have worked to make an exhibit worthy of Duluth, and make this city an attractive shopping center. Perhaps one of the best results of the exhibit will accrue to the merchants themselves in suggesting what may be done permanently in the way of attracting shoppers by attractive displays. Co-operation of the merchants in keeping their windows artistically decorated, including both the large and small stores, would go far toward improving the appearance of the shopping centers, and be a big drawing feature. Merchants commented freely upon this phase of the exhibit today.

Selling Is Begun.

The exhibit yesterday was but the reception, which was to usher in the spring opening today, tomorrow and Thursday. Selling of spring merchandise began this morning, and the effects of the display yesterday was apparent. The stores will remain decorated during the three days, and it is expected that a good share of the Easter buying will be done during these three days.

The merchants probably feel more thankful to the weather man than to anybody alse for the success of the exhibit yesterday, and in him rest their hopes for the three-day opening. The weather last night was perfect, and fair and warmer weather today increased the popularity of Style Week. Fair weather is expected for the remaining period of the exhibit.

GOOD PRIZES FOR ESSAYS

Feature of Style Show That Is Attracting Interest.

Excellent Material for Contestants—Wide Latitude Allowed.

One of the interesting features of the "style show" is the essay contest on "The Beauty and Selling Power of the Best Decorated Window in Duluth." Three prizes of $25, $10 and $5, respectively, are to be given.

Miss Frances L. Earhart, chairman of the committee, urges Duluthians to get busy and prepare essays. They must be not more than 200 words in length and may be descriptive of any store window in any part of Duluth or the West end. The essays must be written on one side of the paper, and the name and address of the author should be written on the back. These should be sent to Miss Earhart at the public library and must be in her hands not later than Thursday noon. Other members of the committee are Miss Elizabeth Olcott and Mrs. C. S. Mitchell.

Miss Earhart believes that the shop windows offer an abundance of material for essays; for the shops were never so artistically decorated, and the best efforts of the window trimmer's art have been exemplified as never before in Duluth. The prizes also are attractive. The committee will judge the essays upon their merits, irrespective of the store and the author of the essay.

TO ENGLAND FOR STYLES

American Man Will Copy His Brother on Piccadilly.

"Everything Is English This Year," Says the Tailor.

America is neutral in the present war, but her majesty, the American woman, continues to look to Paris for her styles, and now the American man is looking to the English for the latest effects in masculine wear.

In front of a clothing store window last night there was a large crowd of men and boys watching a window wherein there was living models, wearing spring suits.

"Everything is English this season," said a tailor who was looking on, "and the more English the better."

"Smaller curves and more of them," said another men's outfitter, when asked to describe the styles to be thrust upon the gentle public this spring.

"A symphony in curves," he said. "Curves at the waistline, curves in the sleeves, curved lapels on coat and vest—curves every place but in the trousers."

With all the interest in women's styles, which pervades Duluth this week, mere man is beginning to wonder where he comes in and here is what the tailor and clothing store experts say:

For suits—
Patch pockets, wide and Englishy.
"Bull dog" lapels, very wide and rolling.
Form fitting as far as possible.
Sleeves narrow and shoulders high.
For overcoats—
Also patch pockets.
Velvet collars and turned up cuffs.
Lapels faced with silk; 42½ inches in length.
Short waisted and form fitting.

Tweeds, plaids, checks and stripes are at a premium, also, and all you must do is to paint a futuristic picture with curves, bull dog, patch, tight and form as your conglomerate motif and there you have it.

"Very simple," say the tailors.

SOME WINDOW DISPLAYS

Kelley Hardware Company:

A window that attracted unusual attention was that of the Kelley Hardware company. This was arranged in two sections, one being an exhibit of builders' hardware and the other a freak display of "hardware" hats and other women's apparel. Hats made of tin pails adorned with shaving brushes, feather dusters, etc. This exhibit caused shrieks of laughter when the curtain was drawn. The builders' exhibit was comprehensive, showing a wide variety of all grades of builders' materials.

The Glass Block Store:

Probably the most elaborate window display was that of the Glass Block Store, where neither expense nor time was spared in the decorations and exhibits. The background was of conventional scenic panels, and the floral decorations were baby rambler roses draped over pillars and pink orchids in urns. The arches bore scenic paintings of conventional design. The color scheme was in green, white and blue. Evening gowns were displayed in profusion and each window was displayed with a harmony of colors, gowns, footwear, gloves, hats and jewelry to match.

Silberstein & Bondy:

The Silberstein & Bondy windows were decorated so as to secure the rare combination of artistic scenery and practical display. The background was of neutral colors, harmonizing perfectly with the colors of the goods displayed. There was not enough decoration to detract from the attraction of the merchandise and at the same time the art work was sufficient to set off the display of goods to excellent advantage. Japanese cherry blossoms, ferns and palms were used in great profusion throughout the store, making it one of the most attractive centers in the city.

The I. Freimuth Store:

Merchandise emphasizing both style and quality was the chief feature of the window display at the Freimuth store. There was a special display for each main department and all shown in artistic settings. The evening gown display with a black and white panel background attracted wide attention. The displays of suits, cloaks, gloves, parasols and other garments for women were elaborate, and the men's furnishings were shown to great advantage. The floral decorations were very attractive both in the windows and the interior of the store.

George A. Gray company:

The fact that no two windows were alike at the George A. Gray store was one of the most striking features of the window display. Several lines of merchandise sold at the store were exhibited, but the arrangement was so artistic and in such good taste that each line was shown to great advantage. The evening gowns, suits and cloaks and millinery were among the chief articles of apparel shown. The backgrounds were elaborate and the store was decorated inside with many ferns, palms and flowering plants.

J. M. Gidding:

There was little effort at the J. M. Gidding store to display anything except merchandise. That was the one feature of the window exhibit aimed at, the result was strikingly carried out. Women's suits and gowns and other lines of women's apparel in the latest styles were shown, and the models were of the smartest put out by the Parisian designers.

The Leiser Company:

The Leiser store windows were among the most attractive. Here women's apparel was the big feature, showing gowns, millinery and miscellaneous goods.

Miller-Albenberg:

The Miller-Albenberg windows were elaborately trimmed, and two immense palms formed a center ground, around which there was an elaborate display of gowns, millinery and other women's apparel.

The Gately Store:

Both men's and women's garments were displayed at the Gately store, and all the latest styles were to be seen for Easter shoppers. The backgrounds were scenic panels and there was a profusion of plants and flowers, lending a fresh, springlike atmosphere to the whole display.

Kelly Furniture Store:

This store had one of the finest and most elaborate window displays of furniture ever seen in Duluth. Thousands of people inspected the stocks and 3,000 souvenirs were given away.

Kenney-Anker Company:

Among the clothing stores, the Kenney-Anker store had one of the most elaborate displays of men's and boys' clothing. Suits, overcoats and haberdashery of the latest spring style were shown, and the floral decorations added much to the attractiveness of the display.

Twin Ports Clothing Company:

The Twin Ports store displays ranked among the best. Spring merchandise was the chief feature of the display, and all the goods were attractively exhibited.

Columbia Clothing Store:

There were elaborate window decorations and displays at the Columbia Clothing store last night. A living model demonstrating all the latest styles in haberdashery was one of the chief features. The store was crowded throughout the evening.

The Oak Hall Clothing Company:

Everything in the line of men's wearing apparel was shown in the latest spring fashions at the Oak Hall store. Suits, overcoats, hats and all lines of haberdashery were featured.

The Big Duluth:

Two living models at the Big Duluth store demonstrating spring fashions were the biggest drawing card at this store. Crowds were gathered in front of this window all the evening.

Richman Brothers:

This store had an elaborate display of men's and boys' spring clothing.

TONIGHT'S ATTRACTIONS.

LYCEUM—Baldwin Players in "The Confession."
NEW GRAND—Vaudeville and motion pictures.
REX—Photoplay.
LYRIC—Photoplay.

Muriel Cole Will Return.

Next week will bring back to Duluth little Muriel Cole, the popular child actress, who has made two appearances with the Baldwin Players. Mr. Baldwin has engaged her to play the title role in "Little Lord Fauntleroy," which will be next week's attraction.

"I had planned to put on 'Uncle Tom's Cabin' next week," said Mr. Baldwin, "but I found that I could not get the production ready in time. I wanted to bring in a number of colored performers and a lot of extra properties, and found that I could not get them in time. Rather than skimp the production, I postponed it until after school lets out in June, when it will be given. Next week in place of 'Uncle Tom' we are going to put on 'Little Lord Fauntleroy,' which ought to be just as popular as a vacation attraction. We will bring Muriel Cole here to play the title part, and she should give a great performance. She was here for 'The Littlest Rebel' and for 'Mary Jane's Pa,' and our patrons know what they can expect of her."

The company is having a very successful engagement this week in "The Confession." The play tells of the struggle of a Roman Catholic priest who is confronted with the alternative of breaking the seal of the confessional, or of seeing his brother hanged for a murder of which he is innocent. The trial scene in the third act is one of the best pieces of work the Baldwin Players have done since their engagement opened in January.

Appeals to Magician to Remove Curse

Poorly clad, his breath smelling of liquor, and several days' growth of beard on his face, a man approached Steve Juhasz, the magician at the New Grand this week, and said in a voice full of appeal, "Mister, please can't you give me a dime. I'm dead broke and haven't had a bite to eat today." Mr. Juhasz eyed the man with distrust and then said rather severely, "What do you mean by claiming to be out of funds when you have money in your pocket?"

The tramp was somewhat taken back by this and began searching his pockets and protesting he was broke. Thereupon Mr. Juhasz slipped his hand into the fellow's pocket and took out a dime.

The tramp looked with astonishment as the coin was dropped into his soiled palm.

"A curse goes with that dime if it is spent for booze," said the magician as he proceeded down the street.

However he had not gone twenty feet when he felt a touch on his shoulder and turning about he found the panhandler at his elbow.

"Say," said he, "won't you please take pity on a fellow and take off that curse."

Headlining the bill is Ernette Asoria assisted by Chevalier de Mar and Miss Eliante. This wonderful offering has been described as "a terpsichorean bedazzlement."

Williams and Sterling offer their comedy "The Bug and the Buggy."

The three reel feature, "A Daughter's Strange Inheritance" tells a beautiful story. Two comedies and an educational film round out the program.

Commencing tomorrow the bill change entirely.

Belle Oliver, better known as "The Tetrazzini of Ragtime," heads the new bill. The famous Idanias Troupe of five young women in an European gymnastic exhibition; Rice and Franklin in their new comedy skit, "Won by Ten" and the Musical Macks in their offering, "A Night in California" are other vaudeville acts on the bill.

The photoplay feature will be a two reel Selig drama, "Retribution." One of the Helen Holmes railroad stories, "The Night Operator at Bruxton;" a comedy, "Father's Timepiece," and the Hearst Selig News of events will complete the bill.

"My Official Wife."

The story of "My Official Wife" at the Rex is woven around a beautiful Nihilist, Helene Marie, who, in order to get by the secret police on the frontier of Russia, induces Lennox, an American, to introduce her as his wife, in order that she may enter on his passport.

Arriving in St. Petersburg, Lennox is met by friends and is compelled to introduce Helene as his wife, also to register her as such at the hotel where he is stopping. Helene then discloses her identity. Lennox is shocked at first, but already deeply in love with the beautiful schemer, decides to let things take their course.

Helene meets her Nihilist friends and they conspire to assassinate the czar, she being chosen as the one to commit the deed. As the official wife of Lennox, she meets a number of the Russian nobility, and learns that the czar is to attend a fashionable ball on a certain date. She plans to be present. Lennox has arranged to leave for Paris the afternoon of the same day. Now that the consummation of her plans is so near at hand, Helene has no more use for Lennox and entices an officer of the Royal Guards to become her lover.

Submarine Motion Pictures.

But rarely does it happen that a motion picture theater manager can secure for his patrons a film so unique that its like has never before been shown in any theater. Such a film Mr. Furniss has in store for his patrons when the Universal Film company presents the enthralling Williamson submarine motion pictures March 29 to April 4, at the Lyric theater. These are the first and only motion pictures ever taken under the sea. They have amazed scientists and educators and interested, amused and thrilled the theater-going public, wherever exhibited.

Strange, beautiful, fantastic and thrilling were the pictures caught by the camera. Among them are scenes showing native boys and men diving for coins; coral reefs among which lie, forever still, the sunken wrecks of ships that once proudly sailed the main, a deep-sea diver laboriously exploring the skeleton of the wreck, a furious bloody battle between two men-eating sharks, and, as a thrilling and unheard of climax, a fight to the finish between a man and a huge blue shark.

The wonderful submarine invention of the Williamson Brothers made all this possible. Twelve years of labor were needed to perfect it.

Reflecting in its mannish, military lines, the effect the European war is having upon modes adapted for milady's wear this spring, the Tipperary suit shown here is one of the most popular designs of the early 1915 season.

HOUGHTON PUBLISHER IS BURIED BY MASONS.

Houghton, Mich., March 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—The funeral of John S. Penrose, business manager of the Houghton Mining Gazette, who died Sunday of pneumonia, was held this afternoon from the Masonic temple under the auspices of the Masons with interment in a local cemetery. He was a native of Mineral Point, Wis., aged 55, and came to the Copper country with his parents when 5 years old. Learning the printer's trade he worked in several printing shops in this section and was foreman in the Gazette office many years, until he became business manager.

Mr. Penrose's wife died about ten years ago, leaving him with one child, a daughter, now Mrs. Ray O. Lamb, of Richmond, Mich. He also is survived by three sisters, Mrs. Katherine Doyle of Hancock, Mrs. John P. Roberts of Calumet and Mrs. Henry Jackson of Marquette.

"Everything Is English This Year," Says the Tailor.

America is neutral in the present war, but her majesty, the American woman, continues to look to Paris for her styles, and now the American man is looking to the English for the latest effects in masculine wear.

In front of a clothing store window last night there was a large crowd of men and boys watching a window wherein there was living models, wearing spring suits.

"Everything is English this season," said a tailor who was looking on, "and the more English the better."

"Smaller curves and more of them," said another men's outfitter, when asked to describe the styles to be thrust upon the gentle public this spring.

"A symphony in curves," he said, "curves at the waistline, curves in the sleeves, curved lapels on coat and vest—curves every place but in the trousers."

With all the interest in women's styles, which pervades Duluth this week, more men is beginning to wonder where he comes in and here is what the tailor and clothing store experts say:

For suits—

Patch pockets, wide and Englishy.

"Bull dog" lapels, very wide and rolling.

Form fitting as far as possible.

Sleeves narrow and shoulders high.

For overcoat—

Also patch pockets.

Velvet collars and turned up cuffs.

Lapels faced with silk; 12½ inches in length.

Short waisted and form fitting.

Tweeds, plaids, checks and stripes are at a premium, also, and all you must do is to paint a futuristic picture with curves, bull dog, patch, tight and form as your conglomerate motif and there you have it.

"Very simple," say the tailors.

"WINDOW SHOPPERS" CAUGHT BY FLASHLIGHT

SOME WINDOW DISPLAYS

Kelley Hardware Company:

A window that attracted unusual attention was that of the Kelley Hardware company. This was arranged in two sections, one being an exhibit of builders' hardware and the other a freak display of "hardware" hats and other women's apparel. Hats made of tin pails adorned with shaving brushes, feather dusters, etc. This exhibit caused shrieks of laughter when the curtain was drawn. The builders' exhibit was comprehensive, showing a wide variety of all grades of builders' materials.

The Glass Block Store:

Probably the most elaborate window display was that of the Glass Block Store, where neither expense nor time was spared in the decorations and exhibits. The background was of conventional scenic panels, and the floral decorations were baby rambler roses draped over pillars and pink orchids in urns. The arches bore scenic paintings of conventional design. The color scheme was in green, white and blue. Evening gowns were displayed in profusion and each window was displayed with a harmony of colors, gowns, footwear, gloves, hats and jewelry to match.

Silberstein & Bondy:

The Silberstein & Bondy windows were decorated so as to secure the rare combination of artistic scenery and practical display. The background was of neutral colors, harmonizing perfectly with the colors of the goods displayed. There was not enough decoration to detract from the attraction of the merchandise and at the same time the art work was sufficient to set off the display of goods to excellent advantage. Japanese cherry blossoms, ferns and palms were used in great profusion throughout the store, making it one of the most attractive centers in the city.

The H. Fremuth Store:

Merchandise emphasizing both style and quality was the chief feature of the window display at the Fremuth store. There was a special display for each main department and all shown in artistic settings. The evening gown display with a black and white panel background attracted wide attention. The displays of suits, cloaks, gloves, parasols and other garments for women were elaborate, and the men's furnishings were shown to great advantage. The floral decorations were very attractive both in the windows and the interior of the store.

George A. Gray company:

The fact that no two windows were alike at the George A. Gray store was one of the most striking features of the window display. Several lines of merchandise sold at the store were exhibited, but the arrangement was so artistic and in such good taste that each line was shown to great advantage. The evening gowns, suits and cloaks and millinery were among the chief articles of apparel shown. The backgrounds were so elaborate and the store was decorated inside with many ferns, palms and flowering plants.

J. M. Giddings:

There was little effort at the J. M. Gidding store to display anything except merchandise. That was the one feature of the window exhibit aimed at, the result was strikingly carried out. Women's suits and gowns and other lines of women's apparel in the latest styles were shown, and the models were of the smartest put out by the Parisian designers.

The Leiser Company:

The Leiser store windows were among the most attractive. Here women's apparel was the big feature, showing gowns, millinery and miscellaneous goods.

Miller-Alhenberg:

The Miller-Alhenberg windows were elaborately trimmed, and two immense palms formed a center ground, around which there was an elaborate display of gowns, millinery and other women's apparel.

The Gately Store:

Both men's and women's garments were displayed at the Gately store, and all the latest styles were to be seen for Easter shoppers. The backgrounds were scenic panels and there was a profusion of plants and flowers, lending a fresh, springlike atmosphere to the whole display.

Kelly Furniture Store:

This store had one of the finest and most elaborate window displays of furniture ever seen in Duluth. Thousands of people inspected the stocks and 3,000 souvenirs were given away.

Kenney-Anker Company:

Among the clothing stores, the Kenney-Anker store had one of the most elaborate displays of men's and boys' clothing. Suits, overcoats and haberdashery of the latest spring style were shown, and the floral decorations added much to the attractiveness of the display.

Twin Ports Clothing Company:

The Twin Ports store displays ranked among the best. Spring merchandise was the chief feature of the display, and all the goods were attractively exhibited.

Columbia Clothing Store:

There were elaborate window decorations and displays at the Columbia Clothing store last night. A living model demonstrating all the latest styles in haberdashery was one of the chief features. The store was crowded throughout the evening.

The Oak Hall Clothing Company:

The Big Duluth:

Two living models at the Big Duluth store demonstrating spring fashions were the biggest drawing card at this store. Crowds were gathered in front of this window all the evening.

Richman Brothers:

This store had an elaborate display of men's and boys' spring clothing.

TONIGHT'S ATTRACTIONS.

LYCEUM—Baldwin Players in "The Confession."
NEW GRAND—Vaudeville and motion pictures.
REX—Photoplay.
LYRIC—Photoplay.

Muriel Cole Will Return.

Next week will bring back to Duluth little Muriel Cole, the popular child actress, who has made two appearances with the Baldwin Players. Mr. Baldwin has engaged her to play the title role in "Little Lord Fauntleroy," which will be next week's attraction.

"I had planned to put on 'Uncle Tom's Cabin' next week," said Mr. Baldwin, "but I found that I could not get the production ready in time. I wanted to bring in a number of colored performers and a lot of extra properties, and found that I could not get them in time. Rather than skimp the production, I postponed it until after school lets out in June, when it will be given. Next week in place of 'Uncle Tom' we are going to put on 'Little Lord Fauntleroy,' which ought to be just as popular as a vacation attraction. We will bring Muriel Cole here to play the title part, and she should give a great performance. She was here for 'The Littlest Rebel' and for 'Mary Jane's Pa,' and our patrons know what they can expect of her."

The company is having a very successful engagement this week in "The Confession." The play tells of the struggle of a Roman Catholic priest who is confronted with the alternative of breaking the seal of the confessional, or of seeing his brother hanged for a murder of which he is innocent. The trial scene in the third act is one of the best pieces of work the Baldwin Players have done since their engagement opened in January.

Appeals to Magician to Remove Curse

Poorly clad, his breath smelling of liquor, and several days' growth of beard on his face, a man approached Stevo Juhasz, the magician at the New Grand this week, and said in a voice full of appeal, "Mister, please can't you give me a dime. I'm dead broke and haven't had a bite to eat today." Mr. Juhasz eyed the man with distrust and then said rather severely, "What do you mean by claiming to be out of funds when you have money in your pocket?"

The tramp was somewhat taken back by this and began searching his pockets and protesting he was broke. Thereupon Mr. Juhasz slipped his hand into the fellow's pocket and took out a dime.

The tramp looked with astonishment as the coin was dropped into his soiled palm.

"A curse goes with that dime if it is spent for booze," said the magician as he proceeded down the street.

However he had not gone twenty feet when he felt a touch on his shoulder and turning about he found the panhandler at his elbow.

"Say," said he, "won't you please take pity on a fellow and take off that curse."

The current bill at the New Grand will close with today's performances. Headlining the bill is Ernette Asorin assisted by Chevalier de Mar and Miss Ellante. This wonderful offering has been described as "a terpsichorean bedazzlement."

Williams and Sterling offer their comedy "The Bug and the Buggy."

The three reel feature, "A Daughter's Strange Inheritance" tells a beautiful story. Two comedies and an educational film round out the program.

Commencing tomorrow the bill change entirely.

Belle Oliver, better known as "The Tetrazzini of Ragtime," heads the new bill. The famous Idianlas Troupe of five young women in an European gymnastic exhibition; Rice and Franklin in their new comedy skit, "Won by Ten" and the Musical Macks in their offering, "A Night in California" are other vaudeville acts on the bill.

The photoplay feature will be a two reel Selig drama, "Retribution." One of the Helen Holmes railroad stories, "The Night Operator at Bruxton;" a comedy, "Father's Timepiece," and the Hearst Selig News of events will complete the bill.

"My Official Wife."

The story of "My Official Wife" at the Rex is woven around a beautiful Nihilist, Helene Marie, who, in order to get by the secret police on the frontier of Russia, induces Lennox, an American, to introduce her as his wife, in order that she may enter on his passport.

Arriving in St. Petersburg, Lennox is met by friends and is compelled to introduce Helene as his wife, also to register her as such at the hotel where he is stopping. Helene then discloses her identity. Lennox is shocked at first, but already deeply in love with the beautiful schemer, decides to let things take their course.

Helene meets her Nihilist friends and they conspire to assassinate the czar, she being chosen as the one to commit the deed. As the official wife of Lennox, she meets a number of the Russian nobility, and learns that the czar is to attend a fashionable ball on a certain date. She plans to be present. Lennox has arranged to leave for Paris the afternoon of the same day. Now that the consummation of her plans is so near at hand, Helene has no more use for Lennox and entices an officer of the Royal Guards to become her lover.

Submarine Motion Pictures.

But rarely does it happen that a motion picture theater manager can secure for his patrons a film so unique that its like has never before been shown in any theater. Such a film Mr. Furniss has in store for his patrons when the Universal Film company presents the enthralling Williamson submarine motion pictures March 29 to April 4, at the Lyric theater. These are the first and only motion pictures ever taken under the sea. They have amazed scientists and educators and interested, amused and thrilled the theater-going public, wherever exhibited.

Strange, beautiful, fantastic and thrilling were the pictures caught by the camera. Among them are scenes showing native boys and men diving for coins; coral reefs among which lie, forever still, the sunken wrecks of ships that once proudly sailed the main, a deep-sea diver laboriously exploring the skeleton of the wreck, a furious bloody battle between two men-eating sharks, and, as a thrilling and unheard of climax, a fight to the finish between a man and a huge blue shark.

The wonderful submarine invention of the Williamson Brothers made all this possible. Twelve years of labor were needed to perfect it.

Reflecting in its mannish, military lines, the effect the European war is having upon modes adapted for milady's wear this spring, the Tipperary suit shown here is one of the most popular designs of the early 1915 season.

HOUGHTON PUBLISHER IS BURIED BY MASONS.

Houghton, Mich., March 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—The funeral of John S. Penrose, business manager of the Houghton Mining Gazette, who died Sunday of pneumonia, was held this afternoon from the Masonic temple under the auspices of the Masons with interment in a local cemetery. He was a native of Mineral Point, Wis., aged 55, and came to the Copper country with his parents when 5 years old. Learning the printer's trade he worked in several printing shops in this section and was foreman in the Gazette office many years, until he became business manager.

Mr. Penrose's wife died about ten years ago, leaving him with one child, a daughter, now Mrs. Ray O. Lamb, of Richmond, Mich. He also is survived by three sisters, Mrs. Katherine Doyle of Hancock, Mrs. John P. Roberts of Calumet and Mrs. Henry Jackson of Marquette.

Come and Be a Living Model

At last night's Style show we proved to the satisfaction of many hundreds of people that a modern ready-to-wear suit of the class we sell, needs few, if any, corrections on the part of our tailors.

A score of fashionable 1915 styles in men's and young men's suits were put on the same man serving as a model, and their fitting qualities were shown in addition to their beauty of design and pattern.

Now, why not come in during the remaining days of the STYLE SHOW and serve as a living model. We don't care whether you buy or not, you'll not be urged to do so. All we want to do just now is TO SHOW YOU. Bring your wife along if you have one.

Then figure out how much money you can save if you really find that these Columbia suits are the equal of high-class garments made by the merchant tailor.

Prices, $14.50, $20, $25, $30 and $35.

CONDITIONS IN TURK CAPITAL

Visitors Would Scarcely Recognize Constantinople as Solar Plexus of Country.

People of City Are Not at All Demonstrative on the War.

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)

Constantinople, Feb. 18. Though the Russian fleet is not prevented from occasionally appearing before the Bosporus, nor the French and British men-of-war from occasionally taking a pot shot at some point along the coast near the Dardanelles, it is difficult to realize that Constantinople is the solar plexus of a country at war with three of the greatest nations of Europe.

There are those who insist that the population of Turkey is apathetic towards the war. It is certain that the people of this city are highly undemonstrative. An event that would cause the streets of Berlin and Vienna to ring with cheers leaves those of Constantinople strangely silent. Through the Grand Rue de Pera marched yesterday a battalion of sturdy, well-equipped infantry, headed by a band. Later some very businesslike-looking cavalry passed along the same thoroughfare en route for the palace, where the sultan would give them colors. But the populace seemed merely interested. There was no cheering, and the men seemed to expect none. At one corner the people just clapped their hands a little—a very little.

Different at Movies.

But things were different at a moving picture show, of which Constantinople has a good many. The films first showed Turkish soldiers somewhere, then German troops in Poland and later Austro-Hungarians in Galicia. Each film was heartily applauded. At a charity entertainment even the Turkish women cheered the German emperor and the other monarchs of the nations at war with the Triple Entente.

Talaat Bey, minister of the interior, minister of finance, minister of marine and up to a few days ago minister of war, told The Associated Press correspondent a few days ago that the Turkish public never had welcomed any war with as much enthusiasm as the present one. The statement seemed extraordinary in view of observations made in the streets, in cafes, in restaurants, and other places where the quiet loving Turks congregated. But there is no doubt that the war, even if not extremely popular, is at least accepted as a sort of grim necessity. Bread is 26 per cent higher than it used to be, and cheese and olives, the two other staples of the Ottoman, have doubled in price. Food also is dearer, coal is extremely scarce and of poor quality and petroleum is high in price and hard to get. Despite all this the people of Constantinople seem cheerful enough.

Business Not Very Bad.

While the business of the small merchant has fallen off, it cannot be said to be very bad, according to inquiries made. In the grand bazar of Stamboul the only complaints were heard and these were due to the absence of foreigners off whose purchases the owners of bazar stalls exist almost exclusively. Business had been very bad all summer, owing to the war, and now sales were fewer yet, said most of the merchants interviewed. They hoped that the war would soon be over.

The tradesmen of Constantinople are better off. Because of the lack of factories in which the equipment of the army could be turned out in large quantities, the Ottoman government has divided its contracts among the small artisans, most of whom live in Stamboul. There is a street in which the leather workers predominate. In that street thousands of saddles, harness, belts, ammunition cases and shoes are made for the army. The practice is to supply these artisans with a pattern of what is wanted and to supply the material. After that everybody in the little shop works from early morning till late at night.

Make Bayonets.

There is another street in which most of the shops are occupied by metal workers. Rifles are beyond their range, of course, but bayonets and the like are not. So a hundred anvils ring day in and day out, under the iron that is being converted into the tools needed by an army. In the woodworkers' quarters they are turning out wheels and carts and parts of carts in a rather systematized fashion, and in another part of the real Constantinople an army of tailors is busy making uniforms from cloth that has already been cut.

In and around Constantinople is quartered a large force of military, kept in readiness for a possible attack on Turkey in Europe. While the attitude of Bulgaria gives rise to no apprehensions, that of Greece is doubted, to say the least, nor is there assurance that the forces of the Triple Entente will not attempt a landing near Constantinople. To meet this contingency is the duty of some six army corps stationed in and about the capital. Almost daily part of this garrison marches through the streets—well uniformed and equipped as a rule. The men make a good impression, as do also the officers. Now and then one sees men or an organization whose uniforms need attention badly, but these are mostly from out of the way stations where life is not calculated to leave much inclination to care for personal appearance.

Large Supply Trains.

Through the city also move large army supply trains and it may be said that the bridge of Galata is never without one. The wagons are well kept in a majority of cases and the animals appear decidedly too good for the hard work they are called upon to do. An occasional battery of field artillery, or platoon of machine guns completes the military aspect of the streets of the capital.

All in all, Constantinople is a rather restful place in these times of stress, say the oldest European residents. Needless to say, the many reports of riots and bloodshed are pure inventions. The capital has never been quieter than at present, or better managed.

At The Glass Block

That's Where She'd Been and Here's What She Said:

"My dear, I had no idea there were such clothes in Duluth! And at such prices! I can't afford it, but I'm just simply going to have that Covert Suit with the Belgian blue collar!

"Of course my first thought was that all those little suits were frightfully expensive! But, Gwen, they're not! They're reasonable! Can you believe it?

You See, She'd Visited All the Stores, and Knew Whereof She Spoke!

"My dear, let me tell you about the darlingest dress I saw! (And, by the way, you would look simply sweet in it, Gwen.) It's a little checker-board effect, in black and white squares—a new kind of suspender dress, with the loveliest white chiffon waist and sleeves and little pearl buttons all up and down the front!

"And, Gwen—it has the cunningest skirt—one of those new Colonial, grandmotherly skirts—the kind you see in the pictures of Martha Washington! Really, it's just bewitching! And what do you think it costs? Well, you wouldn't believe me if I told you!

"Anyway, you're going straight down to The Glass Block with me this minute—and you're going to see this little dress, and Gwen, if you don't say it's the most economical bargain you've ever seen—

"Well, hurry up—we can talk it over in the Tea Rooms!"

KOOCHICHING CLUB FORMED

Farmers and Business Men Organize to Develop County.

International Falls, Minn., March 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—To hasten the development of the agricultural resources of Koochiching county, a large number of farmers met with local business men here Saturday afternoon and organized the Koochiching Township Farmers' club.

A constitution was drawn up and signed by fourteen men interested in the development of the great agricultural resources of this country, while a committee appointed for the purpose expects to have from 50 to 60 new members ready to join at the meeting next Thursday. At that time a meeting will again be held in the high school building and all those interested have been invited to attend.

To Be Given Lunch.

High school domestic science classes will serve lunch for the club and visitors, and addresses will be made by a number of men who are authorities on questions of agriculture. A large number of Minnesota Farmers' Institute Annuals have been procured and will be passed out.

It is believed that this club will rapidly take rank among the best of Northern Minnesota and the men behind the movement, County Agricultural Agent D. B. Jewel and Edward Vancura, instructor in agriculture at the high school, are thoroughly capable of handling the job.

STATE LAUNDERERS MEETING AT FORKS.

Grand Forks, N. D., March 23.—The most notable event of the annual meeting of the North Dakota Launderers' association, which began here yesterday, was the address of J. A. Barkey of Chicago, president of the Launderers' National association, who spoke yesterday.

During the balance of Monday's session B. Wheton of the Model Steam laundry of this city, told "Why We Are in the Laundry Business"; C. F. Nottzger of the American Laundry Machinery Company of Chicago, gave an address; Lane Lyle spoke on "Fire Insurance and Appraisals," and W. A. Collins spoke on the value of the cost system.

The program for today follows:

Morning—"What a State Organization Means to the Owner of the Smaller Plant." W. A. Ross, East Grand Forks, Minn.; "The Sale of Flat Work Service," W. J. Tiffany, Aberdeen, S. D.; general discussion; new business; report of committees; election of officers; adjournment.

Afternoon—"At Home" day for the Grand Forks laundrymen. Plants will be open to the visitors.

GRAND FALLS RAID.

Officers Swoop Down Upon Disreputable Place, Making Arrests.

International Falls, Minn., March 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—Deputies from the Koochiching county sheriff's office went to Big Falls and raided a house of ill-fame at Grand Falls, near there. A number of men and women were arrested and one man made his escape, but was apprehended Saturday by the officers, and the entire number was tried in the justice court at Big Falls Saturday. The owner of the place was fined $25 and the others $10, and all were ordered from the county. This is only one of a large number of similar places in this county, and some startling developments in the line of raids are looked for in the near future.

IMPROVEMENTS ASKED.

Property Owners Petition for Street Grading and Sanitary Sewer.

Petitions for the grading of four streets and the construction of a sanitary sewer in Glendale street have been placed on file with the city clerk during the last two days. These are now being checked over by the department of public works.

The petitions ask for the grading of Kenilworth avenue, from Vermilion road to Livingston avenue; Sussex avenue, from Snively road to Kenilworth avenue; Second avenue east from Second to Sixth streets, and Twenty-first avenue east, from Fourth to Fifth streets. In addition, several sidewalks along these roadways are desired by the property owners. A sewer is wanted in Glendale street, from Forty-ninth to Fifty-fourth avenues east.

If these petitions are found to contain a sufficient number of names, Commissioner Murchison plans to order the improvements some time this spring.

MOTION FOR NON-SUIT

Is Being Argued in M. & O. Power Damage Case.

International Falls, Minn., March 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—The defense in the case of Algot Ericson against the M. & O. Power company in the famous overflow damage cases, Monday moved the court to dismiss the case. The afternoon was spent listening to the arguments of the defendant's attorneys in favor of the motion and today the attorneys for the plaintiff spoke against the motion.

Skin Sufferers

Your Relief Is Guaranteed.

The D. D. D. Prescription for Eczema, a mild, antiseptic wash, stops that awful itch instantly.

Druggists throughout the city have witnessed such remarkable cures with this remedy that they now universally recommend D. D. D.

SOMMER STILL CONTROLS CLUB

A. L. Steece Has Not Closed Deal for Superior Red Sox.

A. L. Steece of Minneapolis, who is reported to have a deal for the purchase of the Superior baseball club, was in Duluth part of today, leaving on an early train for the Mill City.

While Mr. Steece was uncommunicative regarding the status of the negotiations for the purchase of the club across the bay, W. J. Sommer made the statement today that the club is still in his possession. Mr. Steece, it was stated, is awaiting the return to Minneapolis of President John Burmeister before taking any further steps in the negotiations.

COURT AWAITS CONFERENCE.

Indianapolis Federal Ball Club Trouble May Be Settled.

Indianapolis, Ind., March 23.—Action on the demand of Judge Pliny W. Bartholomew, a stockholder of the Indianapolis Federal league baseball club that the club be placed in the hands of a receiver today, in superior court, was postponed until tomorrow, awaiting the outcome of the conference tonight between stockholders of the club and representatives of the league.

Efforts are being made to have Judge Bartholomew allow the financial matters of the club to be settled through the club's officials, as it now appears almost certain that the club will be transferred to other owners.

TWENTY CANDIDATES

International Falls, Minn., March 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—Twenty candidates for city offices at the election of April 6 had filed at the closing of the open period yesterday, several eleventh hour registrations coming as a complete surprise.

The fight for mayor promises to be a hot one as three strong candidates are in the field. H. F. C. Hitz, Frank Keyes and Former Mayor A. B. Colburn being in the ring. Other offices will be hotly contested and the political bed is already decidedly warm. The wet and dry question is also attracting much attention, for although the city is generally looked on as a wet one, yet the recent surprises in other places of late may be sprung here.

The In-between Month

March is a sort of in-between month. You can never be sure about the weather.

The calendar and the thermometer are frequently out of harmony.

It is a month where people have to be careful about their attire. They must have the things they need when they need them.

Is your wardrobe short of some requisite?

Do you need some articles to make you weather proof?

The stores are well equipped to supply immediate needs and the advertising columns of The Herald are a guide to the best merchants and manufacturers.

An event that would cause the streets of Berlin and Vienna to ring with cheers leaves those of Constantinople strangely silent. Through the Grand Rue de Pera marched yesterday a battalion of sturdy, well-equipped infantry, headed by a band. Later some very businesslike-looking cavalry passed along the same thoroughfare en route for the palace, where the sultan would give them colors. But the populace seemed merely interested. There was no cheering, and the men seemed to expect none. At one corner the people just clapped their hands a little—a very little.

Different at Movies.

But things were different at a moving picture show, of which Constantinople has a good many. The films first showed Turkish soldiers somewhere, then German troops in Poland and later Austro-Hungarians in Galicia. Each film was heartily applauded. At a charity entertainment even the Turkish women cheered the German emperor and the other monarchs of the nations at war with the Triple Entente.

Talaat Bey, minister of the interior, minister of finance, minister of marine and up to a few days ago minister of war, told The Associated Press correspondent a few days ago that the Turkish public never had welcomed any war with as much enthusiasm as the present one. The statement seemed extraordinary in view of observations made in the streets, in cafes, in restaurants, and other places where the quiet loving Turks congregated. But there is no doubt that the war, even if not extremely popular, is at least accepted as a sort of grim necessity. Bread is 25 per cent higher than it used to be, and cheese and olives, the two other staples of the Ottoman, have doubled in price. Food also is dearer, coal is extremely scare and of poor quality and petroleum is high in price and hard to get. Despite all this the people of Constantinople seem cheerful enough.

Business Not Very Bad.

While the business of the small merchant has fallen off, it cannot be said to be very bad, according to inquiries made. In the grand bazar of Stamboul the only complaints were heard and these were due to the absence of foreigners off whose purchases the owners of bazar stalls exist almost exclusively. Business had been very bad all summer, owing to the war, and now sales were fewer yet, said most of the merchants interviewed. They hoped that the war would soon be over.

The tradesmen of Constantinople are better off. Because of the lack of factories in which the equipment of the army could be turned out in large quantities, the Ottoman government has divided its contracts among the small artisans, most of whom live in Stamboul. There is a street in which the leather workers predominate. In that street thousands of saddles, harness, belts, ammunition cases and shoes are made for the army. The practice is to supply these artisans with a pattern of what is wanted and to supply the material. After that everybody in the little shop works from early morning till late at night.

Make Bayonets.

There is another street in which most of the shops are occupied by metal workers. Rifles are beyond their range, of course, but bayonets and the like are not. So a hundred anvils ring day in and day out, under the iron that is being converted into the tools needed by an army. In the woodworkers' quarters they are turning out wheels and carts and parts of carts in a rather systematized fashion, and in another part of the real Constantinople an army of tailors is busy making uniforms from cloth that has already been cut.

In and around Constantinople is quartered a large force of military, kept in readiness for a possible attack on Turkey in Europe. While the attitude of Bulgaria gives rise to no apprehensions, that of Greece is doubted, to say the least, nor is there assurance that the forces of the Triple Entente will not attempt a landing near Constantinople. To meet this contingency is the duty of some six army corps stationed in and about the capital. Almost daily part of this garrison marches through the streets—well uniformed and equipped as a rule. The men make a good impression, as do also the officers. Now and then one sees men or an organization whose uniforms need attention badly, but these are mostly from out of the way stations where life is not calculated to leave much inclination to care for personal appearance.

Large Supply Trains.

Through the city also move large army supply trains and it may be said that the bridge of Galata is never without one. The wagons are well kept in a majority of cases and the animals appear decidedly too good for the hard work they are called upon to do. An occasional battery of field artillery, or platoon of machine guns completes the military aspect of the streets of the capital.

All in all, Constantinople is a rather restful place in these times of stress, say the oldest European residents. Needless to say, the many reports of riots and bloodshed are pure inventions. The capital has never been quieter than at present, or better managed.

At The Glass Block

That's Where She'd Been and Here's What She Said:

"My dear, I had no idea there were such clothes in Duluth! And at such prices! I can't afford it, but I'm just simply going to have that Covert Suit with the Belgian blue collar!

"Of course my first thought was that all those little suits were frightfully expensive! But, Gwen, they're not! They're reasonable! Can you believe it?

You See, She'd Visited All the Stores, and Knew Whereof She Spoke!

"My dear, let me tell you about the darlingest dress I saw! (And, by the way, you would look simply sweet in it, Gwen.) It's a little checker-board effect, in black and white squares—a new kind of suspender dress, with the loveliest white chiffon waist and sleeves and little pearl buttons all up and down the front!

"And, Gwen—it has the cunningest skirt—one of those new Colonial, grandmotherly skirts—the kind you see in the pictures of Martha Washington! Really, it's just bewitching! And what do you think it costs? Well, you wouldn't believe me if I told you!

"Anyway, you're going straight down to The Glass Block with me this minute—and you're going to see this little dress, and Gwen, if you don't say it's the most economical bargain you've ever seen—

"Well, hurry up—we can talk it over in the Tea Rooms!"

SOMMER STILL CONTROLS CLUB

A. L. Steece Has Not Closed Deal for Superior Red Sox.

A. L. Steece of Minneapolis, who is negotiating a deal for the purchase of the Superior Baseball club, was in Duluth part of today, leaving on an early train for the Mill City.

While Mr. Steece was uncommunicative regarding the status of the negotiations for the purchase of the club across the bay, W. J. Sommer made the statement today that the club is still in his possession. Mr. Steece, it was stated, is awaiting the return to Minneapolis of President John Burmeister before taking any further steps in the negotiations.

COURT AWAITS CONFERENCE.

Indianapolis Federal Ball Club Trouble May Be Settled.

Indianapolis, Ind., March 23.—Action on the demand of Judge Pliny W. Bartholomew, a stockholder of the Indianapolis Federal league baseball club that the club be placed in the hands of a receiver today, in superior court, was postponed until tomorrow, awaiting the outcome of the conference tonight between stockholders of the club and representatives of the league.

Efforts are being made to have Judge Bartholomew allow the financial matters of the club to be settled through the club's officials, as it now appears almost certain that the club will be transferred to other owners.

TWENTY CANDIDATES

International Falls, Minn., March 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—Twenty candidates for city offices at the election of April 6 had filed at the closing of the open period yesterday, several eleventh hour registrations coming as a complete surprise.

The fight for mayor promises to be a hot one as three strong candidates are in the field, R. F. C. Iltis, Frank Keyes and Former Mayor A. B. Colburn being in the ring. Other offices will be hotly contested and the political bed is already decidedly warm. The wet and dry question is also attracting much attention, for although the city is generally looked on as a wet one, yet the recent surprises in other places of late may be sprung here.

Aching, Tender Feet

Don't endure foot agony. Here is quickest and surest remedy known. Two table spoonfuls of Calocide compound in warm foot bath." This gives instant relief; corns and callouses can be peeled right off; excess sweating or tenderness is soon overcome and bunions reduced. It acts through the pores and removes the cause. Large box of Calocide twenty-five cents at any drug or general store. Prepared at Medical Formula laboratories, Dayton, Ohio.

The In-between Month

March is a sort of in-between month. You can never be sure about the weather.

The calendar and the thermometer are frequently out of harmony.

It is a month where people have to be careful about their attire. They must have the things they need when they need them.

Is your wardrobe short of some requisite?

Do you need some articles to make you weather proof?

The stores are well equipped to supply immediate needs and the advertising columns of The Herald are a guide to the best merchants and manufacturers.

KOOCHICHING CLUB FORMED

Farmers and Business Men Organize to Develop County.

International Falls, Minn., March 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—To hasten the development of the agricultural resources of Koochiching county, a large number of farmers met with local business men here Saturday afternoon and organized the Koochiching Township Farmers' club.

A constitution was drawn up and signed by fourteen men interested in the development of the great agricultural resources of this country, while a committee appointed for the purpose expects to have from 50 to 60 new members ready to join at the meeting next Thursday. At that time a meeting will again be held in the high school building and all those interested have been invited to attend.

To Be Given Lunch.

High school domestic science classes will serve lunch for the club and visitors, and addresses will be made by a number of men who are authorities on questions of agriculture. A large number of Minnesota Farmers' Institute Annuals have been procured and will be passed out.

It is believed that this club will rapidly take rank among the best of Northern Minnesota and the men behind the movement, County Agricultural Agent D. B. Jewel and Edward Vancura, instructor in agriculture at the high school, are thoroughly capable of handling the job.

STATE LAUNDERERS MEETING AT FORKS.

Grand Forks, N. D., March 23.—The most notable event of the annual meeting of the North Dakota Launderers' association, which began here yesterday, was the address of J. A. Barkey of Chicago, president of the Launderers' National association, who spoke yesterday.

During the balance of Monday's session B. Wheton of the Model Steam laundry of this city, told "Why We Are in the Laundry Business"; C. F. Nottzger of the American Laundry Machinery Company of Chicago, gave an address; Lane Lyle spoke on "Fire Insurance and Appraisals," and W. A. Collins spoke on the value of the cost system.

The program for today follows:

Morning—"What a State Organization Means to the Owner of the Smaller Plant," W. A. Ross, East Grand Forks, Minn.; "The Sale of Flat Work Service," W. J. Tiffany, Aberdeen, S. D.; general discussion; new business; report of committees; election of officers; adjournment.

Afternoon—"At Home" day for the Grand Forks laundrymen. Plants will be open to the visitors.

GRAND FALLS RAID.

Officers Swoop Down Upon Disreputable Place, Making Arrests.

International Falls, Minn., March 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—Deputies from the Koochiching county sheriff's office went to Big Falls and raided a house of ill-fame at Grand Falls, near there. A number of men and women were arrested and one man made his escape, but was apprehended Saturday by the officers, and the entire number was tried in the justice court at Big Falls Saturday. The owner of the place was fined $25 and the others $10, and all were ordered from the county. This is only one of a large number of similar places in this county, and some startling developments in the line of raids are looked for in the near future.

IMPROVEMENTS ASKED.

Property Owners Petition for Street Grading and Sanitary Sewer.

Petitions for the grading of four streets and the construction of a sanitary sewer in Glendale street have been placed on file with the city clerk during the last two days. These are now being checked over by the department of public works.

The petitions ask for the grading of Kenilworth avenue, from Vermilion road to Livingston avenue; Sussex avenue, from Snively road to Kenilworth avenue; Second avenue east from Second to Sixth streets, and Twenty-first avenue east, from Fourth to Fifth streets. In addition, several sidewalks along these roadways are desired by the property owners. A sewer is wanted in Glendale street, from Forty-ninth to Fifty-fourth avenues east.

If these petitions are found to contain a sufficient number of names, Commissioner Murchison plans to order the improvements some time this spring.

MOTION FOR NON-SUIT

Is Being Argued in M. & O. Power Damage Case.

International Falls, Minn., March 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—The defense in the case of Algot Ericson against the M. & O. Power company in the famous overflow damage cases, Monday moved the court to dismiss the case. The afternoon was spent listening to the arguments of the defendant's attorneys in favor of the motion and today the attorneys for the plaintiff spoke against the motion.

Skin Sufferers

to it that the garment was mailed without incident.

Erick Ahlborn, age 20, a recent graduate of a hospital at Aurora, has not had a real honest-to-goodness nightie, or even a pair of pajamas, for his very own, since he was born, and he always has wanted one.

When Ahlborn left the hospital he took his pet nightie with him, and then the trouble started. The mayor of Aurora, aroused by this untoward act, which was an affront to the peace and quiet of the community of Aurora, wired local police to watch for the fugutive and to restore the nightie.

It was case of "keep your chee-lid but I want them poipers," according to Chief of Police Troyer, as he had been instructed to release Ahlborn as soon as the retiring robe had been safely deposited in the vault at Duluth headquarters.

Accordingly Ahlborn was released and the nightie is now on its way back to the hospital, where it will make glad the heart of the next patient to enter.

LAKE BOATS READY FOR LOADING GRAIN

Ten Vessels Inspected Now Waiting for Ice to Be Broken.

Loading of lake vessels with grain at the Head of the Lakes will be begun at once to relieve congestion in the elevators according to Capt. John Monaghan, inspector of hulls, for the port of Duluth. The holds of ten vessels have been inspected already and the work will be continued from now on until all the boats are in operation.

"Boats are now ready for grain cargoes at the Capital and Northwestern elevators," said Capt. Monaghan today. "The work will probably be delayed a few days until the ice is broken sufficiently to allow the vessels to get in position for loading. The elevators are eager to start the work as more room is needed for storage purposes. It is especially desirous to secure more room for the purpose of keeping the different grades of grain separate."

Capt. Monaghan expects to see navigation open up earlier than usual this spring. The weather is unusually favorable now he says for ridding the lakes of ice. The ice from Duluth to a short distance this side of Grand Marais is unbroken and not piled up to a great extent. If the present weather conditions continue for a week or ten days the ice will be honeycombed and can then be broken up easily. If a heavy storm should arise now and pile up the ice, it would take much longer to get it out of the way. Some seasons ice has been piled up thirty to forty feet high, and has checked navigation for some time. The weather could not be more favorable than it is at present, he says.

SEAMEN'S BILL IS A PUZZLE

Has Passenger Steamer Owners in Quandary By Conflicting Clauses.

A delegation of lake passenger steamboat managers is visiting the department of commerce at Washington to try to get a definite understanding on the seamen's bill. Unless some allowance is made, the passenger lines will be greatly embarrassed and possibly will be forced to delay operations on some routes.

As the bill was passed part of it becomes effective July 1, part July 15 and part Nov. 4. The provisions that particularly effect the passenger lines becomes effective in July, according to some interpretations. This would allow the steamship lines such a short time to rearrange the equipment of the vessels that they could not give full service at that time.

Orders for additional equipment placed now would not be filled for several weeks, as much of it has to be made to meet the conditions of each ship. What equipment will be necessary also is a doubtful matter.

RAILROADS

INSPECTS ROAD'S NEW STEAMER

Northern Pacific Agent Returns From Philadelphia Shipyard.

C. P. O'Donnell of the Northern Pacific railway returned from a meeting of the company's representatives throughout the country today, the object of this meeting being to inspect the new $3,000,000 steamship, Northern Pacific, recently constructed by William Cramp's Sons, Philadelphia, for the Great Northern Pacific Steamship company.

The ship will leave Philadelphia March 25 on its initial trip through the Panama canal, stopping at the principal points of interest en route. A unique feature of the trip will be a daylight ride through the Panama canal, and many will take advantage of this 5,000-mile cruise, visiting California's expositions and returning via Yellowstone park.

This floating palace, Mr. O'Donnell said, is built upon yacht lines and may rightly be called an "ocean greyhound." It is 524 feet long, 53 feet wide and 50 feet deep, or longer than the average city block and higher than the ordinary six-story building, and is one of the largest passenger ships flying the American flag. Every improvement known to naval construction has been embodied in the building of this floating palace, including a powerful wireless equipment, electric signals for locating submerged buoys, etc. Comfort and speed have not been overlooked, as the accommodations and furnishings are magnificent. The Northern Pacific will, after its arrival at San Francisco, be placed in regular service between San Francisco and Portland via Astoria, thus forming the last link in transcontinental train service of the Northern Pacific railway, from Chicago and Kansas City to the Pacific coast.

MORE LAKE TRAVEL IS LOOKED FOR

Passenger Men Expect an Increase in Tourist Travel.

"The approaching summer months should bring the largest number of lake and rail tourists that have made this point in a number of years," said J. I. Thomas, general agent of the Northern Pacific today. "Already the roads with a more southerly route are doing a rather large passenger business to Pacific coast points. With the coming of summer the northern rail routes should get their share of the business."

Mr. Thomas is of the opinion that the lake route will get a big share of the travel. Eastern agents of the Northern Pacific and other railroads have already reported most favorable prospects for a heavy travel to California points. In addition to the fair there are also an unusually large number of conventions slated to be held in the West during the coming summer.

"Taking the Panama fair, the fact that there will be practically no European travel this year, and that there are many conventions booked for the West, it looks to me," continued Mr. Thomas, "as if Duluth is going to get an unusually large number of tourist visitors this season. The fair is the magnet, of course, but this is a travel year, according to most of the railroad prophets, and Duluth, through the lake route, should be one of the principal passing points."

REGRETS AMERICAN'S DEATH; WILL SETTLE.

Washington, March 23.—Secretary Bryan announced today that regret for the killing of John R. McManus, an American, in Mexico City, by Zapata forces, has been expressed on behalf of General Zapata by General Palafox, in charge at Mexico City, and that negotiations for paying indemnity to the dead man's family were progressing satisfactorily.

HOSPITALS SCARCE ON ISLAND OF MALTA.

Valetta, Island of Malta, March 23, via London.—The governor of Malta has appealed to local residents to take convalescents from the hospitals into their homes, thus making room in the hospitals for the wounded, who are expected from the Dardanelles. The governor indicates in his communication on this subject that the present hospital facilities of the island probably will prove inadequate to the demands he expects soon will be made upon them.

MANY CENSORS.

Over 1,000 Employed to Look Over Letters and News From Britain.

London, March 23.—More than 1,000 persons are now employed in censoring news or letters entering and leaving Great Britain, according to a statement by the government, in reply to a question by Viscount Bryce in the house of lords.

Viscount Bryce's question asked for the names of all censors and urged that fuller information should be allowed to reach England on questions of foreign politics.

READY FOR TRACKS BY END OF AUGUST

City Will Begin Work on New Duluth Road in May.

Everything will be ready for the laying of the double-track street car line to New Duluth by the latter part of next August, declared Mayor Prince this morning in discussing the present status of the situation that arose when the commission passed a resolution two weeks ago ordering the completion of the line by Dec. 1 of this year.

"We plan to begin work early in May on the New Duluth highway," he said this morning, "and from what Commissioner Murchison tells me, the work will be finished by the latter part of August. The Northern Pacific road will shortly begin on its Smithville subway and once that work is under way, it will take but two or three months at the most to complete it.

"If all our present plans do not miscarry, we will have the entire roadway in perfect shape for tracks by the first of September."

During the spring and summer Commissioner Murchison plans to lay two miles of concrete roadway from the end of the highway completed last year to the tracks of the transfer company and to improve and grade the road running out of West Duluth till it reaches the new Northern Pacific subway.

NORTH SHORE FATALITY.

John Johnson, Sr., Perishes in Burning Home Near Carribou Point.

Grand Marais, Minn., March 23.—Sheriff Lien, Coroner Johnson and Dr. Gilbert went up to Carribou Point a few days ago to investigate the death of John Johnson, Sr., who perished in the burning of his home near there. A neighbor visiting the Johnson place found it in smoldering ruins. The badly burned body of the aged man was taken from the ruins. The origin of the fire is not known. Johnson was alone at the time of the fire.

UNUSUAL PIANO BARGAINS

The world's most famous makes and special selected sample pianos and player pianos must be sold or returned. The bargains like I have should wake up a dead man to buy. I am too old a businessman to pay for this space and advertise a cow for sale if I had a horse to sell. But I do advertise just what I have for sale, and if I have great bargains I say so. This time I am up against it with the largest stock of highest grade pianos in the city the manufacturers have sent to me for thirty and sixty days trial. They are American leading makes of instruments and I have agreed to pay the freight money if returned. Now it is up to me to dispose of them. Time is nearly up with all of them. Come down and see these beautiful pianos and latest improved player pianos. The bargains are so great on the high-grade instruments that you'd not believe it unless you see them. Write at once if you cannot call.

Lights and Shadows of Police Court

EUROPE may be in the throes of a gigantic war wherein no quarter is asked or given, but Duluth still may boast of considerate, kindly and thoughtful persons, for the man who stole $135 from Hemming Johnson last night left him "fo bits" for one more meal.

Johnson, who is 27 years of age, and from Hannaford, N. D., as he informed Police Lieutenant E. H. Barber, was very much "touched" by the kindness of the burglar in leaving him the fifty cents, but he wants to get back to Hannaford and doesn't know how he is going to do it.

He has been visiting friends at Moose Lake and Kettle River, and upon coming to Duluth last night, registered at a West Michigan street hotel. He went to bed early, locked the door "secure," and woke in the morning to find the door still locked, but the $135 gone.

Police are looking for a thief who can enter a locked door and depart, leaving it locked on the inside, as well as for a man considerate enough to leave behind him fifty cents in cold, hard cash.

VOUCHED FOR CAPTAIN.

But Fiskett Couldn't Say Same for Police Court Prisoner.

"How does Captain Fiskett behave?" asked Municipal Judge F. H. Cutting in court this morning, when Julius Lutz, aged 47, arrested for a minor offense, gave as a recommendation the fact that he lived near Police Captain A. G. Fiskett.

"He behaves all right, Your Honor," replied the prisoner, "at least as far as I know, and I've lived near him for a long time." Here Lutz stopped his narrative long enough to look out of the corner of his eye at Captain Fiskett.

Lutz explained that he had behaved well for a long time before this last offense, and reiterated that he lived near the genial captain. His case was referred to Probation Officer Hicks.

TIRED OF BEING PORTER.

So Otto Bruning Just Swiped $45 and "Blew Town."

"Oh! A porter's life
Is a life of care;
Dull care—dull, dull care."

In an effort to shake the dull care of a porter's life, as described in the verse which he paraphrases, Otto Bruning, aged 20, porter in a hotel at Fifield, Wis., stole $45 belonging to a traveling man from a bureau drawer and "hied himself to parts unknown."

Duluth proved to be a "part" very well known, as Bruning found out to his sorrow when he arrived here late yesterday, for Lieutenant Frank A. Schulte was waiting for him at the station, with a warrant for his arrest.

When brought to police headquarters Bruning admitted his guilt, and said he "just got tired of being a porter." He is being held for the city marshal of Fifield, who will arrive in Duluth this afternoon and take Bruning back to face a charge of grand larceny.

WHAT'S IN A NAME.

Frank Seymore Protests Against Suffering for Another's Misdeeds.

Frank Seymore, age 42, single, a resident of Canada, has been arrested three times by Duluth police, but Frank Seymore, who also is a resident of Canada, protested vigorously this morning in municipal court when charged with third offense drunkeness.

"I've never been in jail before in my life, your honor," he told Judge F. H. Cutting, and no cross questioning could disconcert him or make him change his story.

Police believe that the man is telling the truth, and now are searching their records for a more particular description of Frank Seymore the first, before his double is sentenced.

Frank Seymore the second is very much interested in the outcome of the search for a description. If he is proven not to be Frank Seymore, he will be fined $5 but sixty days at the workfarm will be his lot if he is Frank Seymore.

AMERICA'S WORST CITIZENS.

Duluth Police Now Have Records of 25,000 of Them.

More than 25,000 of the very worst citizens of the United States now are honored by Duluth police to the extent of having their names, records, descriptions, and in many cases, pictures, on file for constant reference.

Gustav Lahti, superintendent of the Duluth police bureau of identification, today finished the work of installing a new case, which will contain a double photograph of 1,560 persons who have offended the peace and quiet of this city at various times in the last ten years.

With each set of pictures (front and side view), there is a complete Bertillon description, and a criminal record.

There are between 5,000 and 6,000 pictures in Duluth's rogues' gallery at the present time, and more than 25,000 records, according to Superintendent Lahti. It is the largest and most complete criminal record ever available for the use of the city's police.

NIGHTIE SENT BACK.

Pilfered Garment Returned to Aurora and Pilferer Released.

One soiled nightie, otherwise in good condition, was parcel posted to the mayor of Aurora, Minn., by Chief of Police C. H. Troyer this morning. Lieut. F. A. Schulte helped tie up the package and Police Secretary John Connelly saw MUSTEROLE--QUICK RELIEF! NO BLISTER!

It Soothes and Relieves Like a Mustard Plaster Without the Burn or Sting.

MUSTEROLE is a clean, white ointment, made with the oil of mustard. It does all the work of the old-fashioned mustard plaster—does it better and does not blister. You do not have to bother with a cloth. You simply rub it on—and usually the pain is gone!

Doctors and nurses use MUSTEROLE and recommend it to their patients.

They will gladly tell you what relief it gives from Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Croup, Stiff Neck, Asthma, Neuralgia, Congestion, Pleurisy, Rheumatism, Lumbago, Pains and Aches of the Back or Joints, Sprains, Sore Muscles, Bruises, Chilblains, Frosted Feet, Colds of the Chest (it often prevents Pneumonia).

At your druggist's, in 25c and 50c jars, and a special large hospital size for $2.50.

Be sure you get the genuine MUSTEROLE. Refuse imitations—get what you ask for. The Musterole Company, Cleveland, Ohio.

PERUNA NEWS

Mr. R. G. Elliott, Desha, Va., writes: "I discontinued the use of your medicine about ten months ago, after taking only two bottles of it, and as none of my symptoms have returned, I consider myself entirely and permanently cured.

"At the time I wrote you, asking for your advice, I was in a terribly wretched and critical condition. My trouble was catarrh of the head. I had no appetite, could sleep but little, had constant headache, and was so dizzy I could hardly stand without support. Upon receipt of your advice I procured a bottle of Peruna and began its use according to directions. As I continued using the medicine, I continued to improve, and I can safely say I am perfectly well once more.

"I think your medicine is the best that can be taken by any one afflicted as I was. By it I believe my life was saved. I feel deeply grateful for the kind advice which you so freely gave."

HOW TO PREVENT ACID STOMACHS

AND FOOD FERMENTATION

By a Stomach Specialist.

As a specialist who has spent many years in the study and treatment of stomach troubles, I have been forced to the conclusion that most people who complain of stomach trouble possess stomachs that are absolutely healthy and normal. The real trouble, that which causes all the pain and difficulty, is excessive acid in the stomach, aggravated by food fermentation. Hyperacidity irritates the delicate lining of the stomach and food fermentation causes wind which distends the stomach abnormally, causing that full, bloated feeling. Thus both acid and fermentation interfere with and retard the process of digestion. The stomach is usually healthy and normal, but irritated almost past endurance by these foreign elements—acid and wind. In all such cases—and they comprise over 90 per cent of all stomach difficulties—the first and only step necessary is to neutralize the acid and stop the fermentation by taking in a little warm or cold water immediately after eating, from one to two teaspoonfuls of bisurated magnesia, which is doubtless the best and only really effective antacid and food corrective known. The acid will be neutralized and the fermentation stopped almost instantly, and your stomach will at once proceed to digest the food in a healthy, normal manner. Be sure to ask your druggist for the bisurated magnesia, as I have found other forms utterly lacking in its peculiarly valuable properties.—F. J. G.

LACQUERED satin, celluloid hat trimmings, pinked ruffles, lamp shade hats and parasols and hats that match are some of the up-to-the-minute things on display at the Style Show.

Coat suits, afternoon and evening gowns, dressy blouses, tailored and fancy hats and dainty neckwear are shown by all the stores and it is hard to tell which garment leads its class.

There are several indications that this will be a "shiny" season. Celluloid bands in black and white and bright colored celluloid flowers are used on tailored hats. Closely related to these are glazed flowers in chrysanthemums and asters that, being naturally stiff, may be lacquered successfully. A military frock of lacquered blue satin is bound with white and the bodice is fastened with white silk frogs. This material is as glossy as the stove polish ribbon that trimmed last summer's varnished hats.

Shades of the distant ages when undertakers did their part to help fashion along by pinking ruffles! One of the Superior street shops is showing an evening frock of deep pink taffeta, the skirt trimmed with three ruffles pinked in deep scallops and the low neck edged with a ruffle similarly pinked.

Ruffles of All Kinds.

Wide ruffles, narrow ruffles, full ruffles and scant ones, hemmed ruffles, pinked ruffles and those with picot edges, to be brief, all kinds of ruffles are shown. A quaint afternoon gown of blue chiffon with an old-fashioned design of white, pink and brown flowers has the skirt made of five ruffles or puffings, joined with a narrow blue cording. A flowered silk is trimmed around the bottom of the skirt with six narrow ruffles edged with narrow black velvet. Above the ruffles the skirt is caught up with black velvet straps, each strap finished with a pink rose.

One of the daintiest evening gowns is white moline, the upper skirt falling over another one of the maline banded with white satin. The bodice of this filmy gown is formed of the maline and a wide white silk girdle.

Another attractive evening frock has a knife pleated skirt and bodice of light blue chiffon cloth with a piquant dash given by a velvet girdle in bright yellow.

Sand, lava gray, battleship gray, black and white checks, and tweeds in tones of gray and brown are among the popular colors for the suits, most of which are semi-tailored. Battleship gray is used also for afternoon gowns and a model in taffeta and another one in striped chiffon cloth are shown by Superior street merchants.

Pink, a new shade of light blue, light green, yellow and flowered designs and white are used for the dainty evening dresses that are models of simplicity, if ruffles may be considered simple.

A very delicate shade of green is popular. Two evening gowns are made of silk and satin striped materials of this shade and a dainty cream net blouse has braided motifs of green.

Black and White Season.

As this is a black and white season many stunning models in black and white stripes are shown. Two white net gowns have each ruffle edged with black net about an inch wide.

Hats vary from the severely tailored ones to Flora McFlimsy affairs that call up visions of garden parties. Transparent crowns of net or chiffon, with pleated brims, that might be called flounces, if they were not supported by wire frames, are among the newest offerings. Poke bonnets have come into style to keep the almost hoop skirts company, and are shown in dark, serviceable colors for general wear and the delicate shades. Many pokes and flats have long silk or velvet ribbon streamers. Many streamers are trimmed with flowers, but one attractive black milan with soft blue feather trimming and pink silk rose buds around the crown, goes the other hats one better and has a feather and a bunch of the buds caught in a knot of the black velvet streamer.

Kid in Millinery.

Kid is used in millinery this season. A sand color turban is trimmed with a rose and foliage made of sand kid and a smaller rose and foliage, also of kid, is applied to the veil, at the chin line. A decidedly chic white tailored hat has a white kid crown and band and is trimmed with two white pins.

Parasols are shown with the other spring-like things and offer several decidedly new styles. A flowered green one has an over-drapery of bright green chiffon caught with black and white daisies and a red rose. A parasol of black and white stripe, combined with solid black, has the ribs bent back toward the tip, forming what would be a gutter if it were an umbrella instead of a parasol. A pongee parasol bordered with Roman stripe goes with a tailored pongee hat trimmed with stiff ornaments of the Roman stripe, for it is the latest thing to have your hat and parasol match. Examples of this are a black and white hat and parasol set and a set of dainty Dresden silk with pink predominating.

BIG AUDIENCE HEARS RECITAL

First Methodist Church Filled for Gabrilowitsch Appearance---Sane and Satisfying Program Delights Audience.

Since the wonderful development of the Matinee Musicale, numerically and artistically, comment on the increased attendance at musical affairs in Duluth has become almost trite.

Last evening the First Methodist church had less than 100 vacant seats for a piano recital by a man, who, while he has firmly established himself as an artist, has not yet become a fad or a curiosity. The audience, moreover, was stirred to genuine enthusiasm and insisted on two encores after the regular program had been completed.

The program chosen by Ossip Gabrilowitsch for his recital last evening was rather sharply divided into two parts.

The first part consisted of two sonatas following each other—a rather unusual arrangement—but the sonatas were so widely different that they did not tire. The first number was Beethoven's sonata in A major, and the second Schumann's G minor sonata. The first is one of Beethoven's best known works. Impeccable execution, beautiful tone, musical feeling, poetry of style are all possessed by the artist, but above all else he is sane and satisfying. He seems at his best in Beethoven, in whose works those same qualities are predominant.

The showy Schumann number was splendidly played with plenty of dash and fire.

What might be called the second part of the program, began with three Chopin numbers, the familiar nocturne in G major, the etude in C major and the A flat major polonaise. The beautiful melody of the former and the brilliance of the latter made the audience insist on an encore, and a Chopin ballad was given.

One of the artist's own compositions, Melodie, opus 8, followed. It has a dainty, oft repeated theme, of much beauty, but of no great depth.

The most popular number of the evening seemed to be "The Dance of the Elves," by Sapellnikoff, a number and a composer new to most of those in the audience. It was a beautiful and delicate little dance and he was forced to repeat it.

One of the most interesting numbers of the program followed, an arrangement of British folk songs by Grainger. The composer is as yet but little known in the West, but he has been doing some interesting work along his chosen line of arranging folk music, and the two samples given by Gabrilowitsch were much appreciated.

For the first of the two encores he played the Brahms rearrangement of the Gluck gavotte, commonly called the Gluck-Brahms gavotte. It has wonderful possibilities of rhythm, and the artist brought them out fully, but he played the number at higher tempo than is usual. Another Chopin nocturne was played before the audience was willing to leave.

The recital brought to a close a most interesting and valuable series of artists' recitals given by the Matinee Musicale this season. Never has the standard of excellence been so maintained, and never have the enthusiasm and attendance been equaled.

MISS CAREY RE-ELECTED.

Art History Class Will Study Egyptian Art Next Year.

Miss Gertrude Carey was re-elected chairman of the art history class of the Twentieth Century club at the meeting held yesterday afternoon in the library clubroom. It was decided to begin next year's work with a study of Egyptian art and a committee was appointed to draw up a course of study.

At the meeting yesterday Miss Carey spoke on architecture in general, giving examples of Greek, Romanesque, Gothic and Renaissance types. Mrs. W. C. Mitchell and Mrs. C. V. Greer gave talks on "Colonial Architecture."

Gabrilowitsch Says Duluth Boy Has Real Talent

"The boy's talent is truly pianistic," said Ossip Gabrilowitsch yesterday after hearing Master Louis Gomberg, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Gomberg, the young piano pupil of Mrs. D. H. Day, play Mozart, Schumann, Chopin, Schinoll, Burgmiller and Grieg numbers. "His pedaling is especially good and he has a fine sense of rhythm; I advise you to go ahead with him," he said. The great pianist thought Master Louis would have a natural technic.

Mrs. Day and her small pupil, who has taken lessons less than two years, will go to Chicago the middle of May for the young pianist to fill an engagement. From Chicago they will go to Pittsburg for a similar engagement, then to New York to visit Mrs. Day's brother.

Lester Park Club Studies Pageantry

"Pageantry" was the subject at this afternoon's meeting of the Lester Park Literature club that was held at the home of Mrs. U. S. Villars, 5414 East Superior street.

Mrs. Villars, who spoke of "Pageantry of Other Days," said no nation can live that forgets its past and pointed out the difference between the pageants of democratic nations that are given on rare occasions to express pride in great achievements and the pageants of monarchies that have pomp for the keynote. She touched upon the old pageants and told how the passion play that is given at Oberammergau once in ten years is the only great one that has survived.

Mrs. Thorwald Hansen who was to have spoken on "Modern Pageantry" was unable to attend on account of illness. Her place as leader was taken by Mrs. Robert Dryer.

CHICAGO YOUNG WOMAN SUCCESSFUL FLOUR BROKER

Miss Melanie Aline Lothes is the only woman flour broker and wholesale flour dealer in Chicago, and possible the only one in the country. When her father died in July she took up his business, and had printed on the announcements of his death that were sent to friends and business associates, the statement that his daughter would continue his agency for an important mill in the Northwest.

During the few months she has been in the flour business she has made a success of it. Every day she solicits trade from Chicago wholesale bakers and others who use flour in large quantities. When it was suggested that her father's name helped enormously she said, "Indeed, yes. Without it I couldn't have begun anything. But I have new customers and they are equally good to me."

Six years ago Miss Lothes' mother lost her sight and her father gave up his down town office and transacted his business from his home in order to be with her. In this way both Miss Lothes and her mother learned many details of the flour business and since she took the responsibility of the agency upon herself Miss Lothes has received valuable business advice from her mother.

Unlike the usual flour broker she buys and warehouses flour and she stands to win or to lose by the changes in the market quotations. Most of her customers buy by the car load. Amounts less than car loads are delivered from her own warehouse.

Last June, just before Miss Lothes became a flour broker, she was an artist, a graduate of the Chicago Art institute. A piece of her work took first prize at the institute and now is at the San Francisco exposition. It was a great disappointment to her to have to give up her chosen profession, she says, but she hopes to go back to it some day.

Peggy Peabody's Observations

Don't Over Furnish a Room.

What an amount of useless furniture and knicknacks the average house contains. If there was any beauty in much that is supposed to furnish and decorate a home there would be some excuse for its being, but when it is neither useful nor ornamental in the true sense, and insanitary into the bargain, it is not desirable.

A bare, colorless interior is not recommended. Still the inclination is rather to overdo the furnishing of a room even in these days of simpler designs, which are a vast improvement over some of the gingerbread work of a few years back. Thousands of homes are today filled with worthless pieces of furniture and objects of art, which are objects fast enough, but not of art.

I will admit that there is an attraction in a room filled with furniture and souvenirs of travel, curios and the like, each with its individual history. I have in mind several such parlors which, as a little girl, fascinated me. Some of these curios were well worth owning, but having had some experience with the duster I was constantly reminded of the time and labor necessary to keep this array clean.

Compare a crowded room of this style with one simply furnished and harmonious. The first lacks the repose, simplicity and comfort which are the essentials in home-building. Recently I viewed the interior of an artist's home. It was a beautiful complete whole. Everything in it was useful, every single thing was beautiful. You at once felt that this house would be easy to take care of, that it was immaculately clean, that the air was fresh and pure, and that you had room and time somehow to enjoy its very real comfort.

Sleeping rooms, of all places in the house, should be plainly and sparsely finished, though they need not be so plain as to remind one of the sleeping apartments in a public institution. There is a happy medium between that sort of furnishing and the kind which fairly jams the rooms some of my friends sleep in. They are boudoirs or reception rooms, not sleeping rooms. "Grim-cracks" ornament the gas jets, nearly every inch of wall space is hung with pictures, photographs and all manner of things. Everything is pretty, everything is convenient, but it is not the place to sleep in from a sanitary, restful point of view.

Certain things may be done away with in many homes that will add materially to its genuine comfort and beauty and contribute towards its easier and better keeping.

WEST END MERCHANTS UPHOLD THEIR END OF THE STYLE SHOW

A. B. WIDTH.

K. A. FRANKLIN.

West end business men vied with other sections of the city last night in displaying handsome new spring styles and celebrating the opening of the spring trade season in this end of the city. Every progressive business place in the district held open house while hundreds of people thronged the streets and stores, visiting from place to place viewing the offerings of the merchants.

Probably at no other time in the history of the West end were the windows of the stores so handsomely dressed. Latest designs and materials in women's apparel, as well as the season's offerings in men's and children's clothing were attractively displayed.

Music furnished by the Third Regiment band entertained the crowd while it surged back and forth along Superior street. Hundreds of young people followed the band from place to place and at times dancing on the sidewalk or street to its tempo.

To A. B. Width and Capt. K. A. Franklin, who had charge of the preparations for the celebration is given the credit for making the evening a decided success. Every detail was looked after to make the visitors feel welcome at each store, and at many of the business places cut flowers or useful souvenirs were distributed.

Among the business places whose windows attracted special notice from the public were those of the John J. Moe & Sons company, Bowman-Width-Heglund company, Franklin & Fares, Johnson & Thygeson, Hagstrom & Lindquist, the S. W. Hill Clothing company, Mork & Son, Morterud & Koneczny, Anderson Furniture company, Enger & Olson, Johnson & Peterson, and the Minnesota Tea company.

MANY M. W. A. WILL GATHER

Planned to Have Largest Meeting of Order Ever Held Here.

Leading Woodmen of Northwest Will Take Part in Program.

The gathering of members of the Modern Woodmen of America to be held tomorrow evening at Woodman hall, Twenty-first avenue west and First street, promises to be the largest of its kind in the history of the order in Duluth. A program, which will include a number of speakers among whom will be A. R. Talbot of Lincoln, Neb., head consul of the M. W. A., and James McNamara of Rock Island, Ill., head clerk of the order, Mayor Prince and others, has been prepared.

Tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock the clerks of all Modern Woodmen camps of Northeastern Minnesota will hold a meeting for instruction at the Lenox hotel, conducted by Mr. McNamara.

The evening celebration is being held under the auspices of Duluth Camp No. 2341. Invitations have been sent to every member of the lodge and each has been requested to bring a friend. A. M. Anderson, clerk of the local camp, said this morning that favorable replies have been received from more than half of the invitations sent out.

The meeting is for the purpose of starting a campaign in this section of the city to increase the membership of the order. Duluth camp was at one time the largest camp in Minnesota and is again going after this honor. It now has more than 900 members.

The committees in charge are: Entertainment—O. W. Olson, chairman, Edward Lowe, J. C. Anderson, A. M. Anderson, and William Fairclough. Reception—C. V. Hanson, chairman, Morris Gardon, N. N. Ole, George Johnson, C. E. Dice, C. J. Marsh, W. H. Leonard, James W. Preston, J. C. Quade, Martin Olson, Axel Bergren and John Peterson.

Edward Lowe, past-consul of the lodge, will be master of ceremonies. The program follows:

Selection ..... G. A. R. Drum Corps.
Address ..... Mayor W. I. Prince.
Vocal solo ..... Master Pier.
Address ..... C. E. Dice.
Piano solo ..... Mrs. F. P. Stevenson.
Address ..... Senator G. M. Peterson.

YARDMASTERS HEAR ISSUES

Candidates for Commissionerships and Municipal Bench Address R. R. Men.

Silberstein, Farrell, Norton, McFarlane, Louisell and Smallwood Speak.

Candidates for commissioners and municipal judge spoke last night before a gathering of more than 500 railroad men held under the auspices of the Duluth Yard Master's association at Woodman hall last night. Bernard Silberstein, J. A. Farrell and John H. Norton were the principal speakers.

Mr. Silberstein said that the issue of this campaign was not one of liquor but of good government. He said that attempts to create the impression that his supporters stand for a wide open policy was a slur on them. He said that he stood for a clean government, and for a square deal as opposed to bigotry and high-handed tactics. He denied that he stood for lawless saloons or that he favored "side doors" for saloons on Sunday, or for any other questionable practices.

Mr. Farrell said that supporters of Commissioner Murchison are trying to create the impression that the commissioner is the only one who knows anything about public works.

"What would Duluth do if he were to die," he asked.

Mr. Farrell declared that as long as the commissioner is seeking re-election on his record, he should stand for the opposing candidates picking this record to pieces.

Mr. Norton declared that persons accused of crime are now, many times, convicted on suspicions. He said that the people of Duluth would be given an opportunity of lifting this burden of oppression from their shoulders on April 6. He said law enforcement was wanted but not the kind that develops into fanaticism and persecution.

Other speakers were R. E. McFarlane, candidate for commissioner, and M. E. Louisell and Capt. W. H. Sellwood, candidates for municipal judge. The evening's program also included musical numbers and a short talk by James Murphy, chairman of the Silberstein-Farrell club and president of the Duluth Yardmaster's association.

B. Y. P. U. INSTITUTE AT CENTRAL CHURCH

Union's State Superintendent Will Speak—Revivals Begin Wednesday.

A Baptist Young People's Union institute will be held this evening at the Central Baptist church, Twentieth avenue west and First street. Rev. W. E. Risinger of Minneapolis, superintendent of B. Y. P. U. work in Minnesota, will speak, and a talk on "The Call to the Ministry" will be given by Rev. Carl E. Oberg. The meeting will be for all Baptist young people in the city.

Beginning tomorrow afternoon a series of afternoon and evening revival meetings will be held at the church. The meetings in the afternoon will be held for boys and girls at 4:10 p. m., and the evening meetings will begin at 7:45. These meetings will be held every day except Saturday until April 2.

ENTERTAINS DEGREE TEAM.

Yeomen Workers Are Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Horouff.

Mr. and Mrs. P. F. Harouff entertained the degree and drill team of Duluth Homestead No. 3131, Brotherhood of American Yeomen, last night at their home, 1 Exeter street. After a business session in which a ladies' degree team was organized to take charge of the secret work of the homestead during the month of May, luncheon was served to those present, who were the following:

Mr. and Mrs. John C. Wesenberg, Mr. and Mrs. William Bordelcau, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Schmalfeld, Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Jones; Mesdames Elizabeth Lee, Aldomah Cavanaugh, Jerry Lockhart, A. J. Murphy, Ida Hanks, Annie Porlier and Michael McBride; Misses Luella Fisher, Flora La Flamme, Edith Pelcher, Ida Potter, Lillian Potter, Agnes Johnson, Marie Olson, Blanche Coloumbe and Hermine Wernowski; Phil Thorstad, Cal J. Foucault, John Poirier, Wilfred Labrosse, Edward Fex and Allen Lockhart.

Edward Fex tendered his resignation to the team on account of leaving the city, which everyone present regretted, and a vote of thanks was given him for his faithful services.

LECTURE ON SCANDINAVIA.

Rev. C. J. Andreen, Former Religious Worker, Will Speak Here.

Rev. Carl J. Andreen of Chicago, Ill., who, for several years, was superintendent for Swedish Methodist work in the Lake Superior district, will lecture tomorrow evening at the First Swedish Methodist church, Twentieth avenue west and Third street, on a recent trip to Scandinavia. Mr. Andreen made a thorough tour of the Scandinavian countries and returned via England, France and Germany. He will illustrate his lecture by more than 200 stereopticon views taken during his travels.

Mr. Andreen is a fluent speaker and has given his lecture on Scandinavia in several of the leading cities of America to interested audiences.

In his work as superintendent of religious work on the Lake Superior district, Rev. C. J. Andreen made many friends in Duluth and vicinity through his ability and pleasing personality and it is expected that a large audience will greet him.

West End Briefs.

The missionary meeting of the St. Luke's Guild of the St. Peter's Episcopal church will be held Thursday afternoon instead of Wednesday as previously announced. The hostesses will be Mrs. C. E. Lonegren, Mrs. Arthur Farrar and Mrs. W. E. Harmann. Papers will be read by Mrs. W. E. Jones and Mrs. Lonegren.

Rev. H. A. Ofstie, pastor of the First Norwegian-Danish M. E. church, will give an illustrated lecture on "The Life of Christ," at the Swedish Mission church at Forty-seventh avenue west, Thursday evening.

The Rebekah Guild of St. Peter's Episcopal church will meet Thursday evening in the church. The hostesses will be Mrs. Olaf Johnson, Mrs. John Olson and Mrs. W. E. Harmann.

Rev. C. A. Eckstrom of the Bethany Swedish Lutheran church will leave tomorrow morning for Two Harbors for a short visit.

KILLED THEM BECAUSE HE "LOVED THEM SO."

Terre Haute, Ind., March 23.—Verne Alphonse Lewis, 14, murdered Mrs. Mary Balding and three of her children and attempted to kill the two other children on the night on March 14, because he "loved them so," and did not wish to see them "go away," according to a confession that police say Lewis made yesterday. The murderer crushed the skulls of his six victims with flat irons as they lay asleep. The two who survived his attacks are suffering fractured skulls and, physicians say, will die.

In his alleged confession Lewis says that he had learned that the Baldings were preparing to move away from Terre Haute, and that he "loved them so" he "couldn't bear to see them go away." Lewis was taken to Indianapolis late today for confinement because police say they feared mob violence. The Vigo county grand jury returned an indictment late this afternoon against Lewis for first degree murder.

ADMITS DOING KILLING.

Accused in Bessemer, Mich., Jail Has Made Confession.

Bessemer, Mich., March 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—Matt Hankisto, confined in the county jail here on the charge of murdering his companion, Matt Hankisto, no relation, near Wakefield on March 2, confessed to Prosecuting Attorney J. A. O'Neill, admitting that he and the dead man quarreled as they walked toward their camp and that he struck him with a sharp knife that severed the jugular vein. Unless the accused changes his mind, he will plead guilty in circuit court this week.

We Take Pleasure in Announcing for Tomorrow the Chief Tailored Apparel Occasion of the Season

The Complete Spring Showing of Women's WOOLTEX TAILORED COATS & SUITS

THIS superb assemblage of handsome new models has just arrived from America's foremost makers, and the women of our city who enjoy earliest glimpses of the new fashions, have a treat in store for them when they see this Wooltex exhibition.

Every garment in the delightfully varied collection expresses smart style-correctness; but the distinguishing characteristics that mark their superiority over usual ready-to-wear garments are:

Refinement of Style
Gracefulness of Lines
Elegance of Materials
Superlative Workmanship

The unusual niceties of custom-tailoring give to each garment an effect of elegance the moment it is taken in the hands, and this thorough and skillful workmanship creates the artistic and perfect-fitting lines which do not depend for their shapeliness upon the hot iron of the presser; but they are hand-moulded into each garment to live as long as the suit or coat is worn.

THE figure at the left in the picture, showing Wooltex suit No. 1712, is a smart model for the matron or the younger woman. The jacket has a peplum attached to the semi-circular waistline, trimmed with groups of buttons. Strictly tailored collar and revers, with five buttons. Skirt has yoke fastening with three buttons. Materials are poplin, barathea and gabardine.

NO. 1713 is a particularly smart suit for young and slender women. The new softly folded pleats, which are not pressed flat, give a distinctive effect; partial belt. Jacket may be worn open or closed. Two-piece circular skirt, with inserted triangle on each hip. Materials are imperial serge, gabardines and checks.

NO. 1708 illustrates a handsome new suit, adapted from a model by Paquin. Jacket is in uneven lengths, with belt across the centre in front and in back. Diagonal side pockets; trimming of cords of the material and embroidery. Rolling collar, with detachable over-collar of white silk crepe embroidered in pastel tint. Materials are gabardine, plain poplin and fine serge.

COAT No. 1314 is distinguished by a graduated double row of softly folded pleats, which grow wider toward the bottom of the coat, confined by a partial shaped belt crossing the back and ending under the arms. High rolling collar, trimmed with cords of the material. Full silk-lined. Materials are black and white checks, imported serge and mohair worsteds.

COAT No. 1313 is a youthful model for general wear. There is a pleasing suggestion of Norfolk effect, with broad belt and novel pockets. May be buttoned up close to the neck, or worn open. The collar of striped cloth may be worn high or flat. Materials are black and white checks, gabardine and barathea.

THE modish flare effect is charmingly illustrated by Coat No. 1300. A model that makes the figure look slender—becoming to a wide variety of figures. Panel back with folded girdle. Collar of black faille silk. Materials are mistral, box poplin and gabardine. Full lined with silk in matching or contrasting colors.

Wooltex coats, $16.50, $20.00 and $25.00.
Wooltex suits, $25.00, $30.00 and $35.00.

Come and see the exhibition tomorrow, while our fullest assemblage is here, and select for yourself new and becoming garments from this charming Wooltex collection.

ECONOMY BILL RECOMMITTED

Sent Back to Committee But Seems Doomed to Defeat.

Mesaba Villages Have Joined in the Crosby-Ironton War.

By a Staff Correspondent.

St. Paul, Minn., March 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—After receiving more than half a hundred proposed amendments to the efficiency and economy bill, the house yesterday afternoon referred it back to the special committee that unanimously recommended it for passage a couple of weeks ago.

Ostensibly, this was for the purpose of having the committee consider the proposed amendments and to whip the bill into shape to be considered again by the house.

To show good faith, Chairman Spooner immediately called a meeting of the committee, and the bill, with the pending amendments, were referred to a sub-committee consisting of Representatives Christianson, Bjornson, Wefald, Sanborn and Norton. This committee will begin at once to consider the amendments, and will have its report ready for presentation to the full committee within a short time.

Cause Regarded Hopeless.

Still, nobody has any idea now that the bill will pass. It has been evident for a week that its cause was hopeless. Republican partisanship, the lack of public pressure in behalf of the bill and the selfish interests of Republican officeholders that would be affected have compassed its defeat.

Whether the bill will yet be brought to a direct vote in the house is not known. The general impression in the house after its vote to recommit yesterday was that it thereby washed its hands of the measure. There is talk that after waiting a decent interval, and further sounding the sentiment of the house to see if there is any chance of passing the bill, a resolution will be brought in providing for an interim commission to investigate the whole subject and report at the next session. Chairman Spooner at the first public hearing on the bill announced that it was his intention to push such a resolution if the bill should fail.

Still, there is a strong insistence that the bill be brought to a vote in the house and the members put on record, no matter what its chance of passage, and this may yet be done.

The Principal Amendments.

The main amendments proposed yesterday afternoon are as follows:

By Mr. Spooner—Striking out the advisory boards created by the bill.

By Mr. Spooner—Striking out the council of education, consisting of the state board of education and the board of regents of the university, and leaving these two bodies separate.

By Mr. Spooner—Restoring the appointment of the boards of grain appeals to the governor, instead of the board of railroads and warehouses.

By Mr. Girling—Leaving the railroad and warehouse commission as it is.

By Mr. Girling—Leaving the public examiner where he is instead of putting him under the auditor's office.

By Mr. Girling—Leaving the superintendent of banks as he is.

When the amendments were presented, Representative Elmer E. Adams called up his resolution providing that th bill should be considered title by title and amendments acted upon in their proper order.

"That procedure," said Mr. Spooner, "is as impossible as it would be for every member of this house to stand on his head on his desk. The thing to do now is to recommit the bill, with all proposed amendments, to the committee, to be whipped into such shape that it can be considered by this house."

Sent Back to Committee.

"It has developed," said Representative Thomas H. Girling of Minneapolis, "that it is impossible for this house to consider this bill in the shape it is in. The committee should put it in shape before we try to act upon it."

Mr. Girling's motion that this be done was carried almost unanimously.

"This move," declared Representative Adams, "means the death of this bill. The motion might as well be for indefinite postponement." Cries of "No." "I move that the special order be continued until Friday."

"No man or set of men," said Mr. Spooner, "can do the necessary work in that short time."

"Make it Monday, then," responded Mr. Adams.

"The committee must have reasonable time for its work," said Mr. Spooner.

"It has had sixty days already," answered Mr. Adams.

"I'll gladly give the gentleman my place on the committee," said Mr. Spooner, "and let him do the work."

As soon as the motion to recommit had carried, Mr. Spooner announced an immediate meeting of the committee, with the result related above.

Whereupon the house proceeded to the regular order of business.

Constitutional Convention.

Representative Larimore's joint resolution proposing a constitutional convention is still becalmed in the committee on temperance and temperance legislation.

Yesterday afternoon the committee met and voted to recommend for indefinite postponement the A. C. Anderson bill for statutory state-wide prohibition, a copy of the Lubeck bill, defeated in the senate. The vote was 9 to 5, which meant a minority report.

Representative Larimore was present to urge action on his joint resolution,

ECZEMA ITCHED ALL THE TIME

Tortured for 12 Years. Jar of Resinol Ointment, with Resinol Soap Cured.

Dec. 11, 1914.—"I was tortured with eczema for about 12 years. From my ankles to my knees I was covered with blisters which would ooze a watery substance and then dry up and scale off something like fish scales. My legs and feet were fiery red and would swell up so that I could not get my shoes on. They would itch and burn all the time, and worse at night, when I would wake up scratching and bleeding.

Relieved Almost at Once

"I tried every remedy recommended for eczema but without any benefit. I can't say too much in praise of what Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap have done for me. It relieved almost at once, and a 50c jar of Resinol Ointment and less than a cake of Resinol Soap completely cured my trouble. I am in my 87th year." (Signed) D. L. Lindsey, 213 E. SERVING SECOND TERM AS MEMBER OF HOUSE but before it was reached a motion to adjourn was put and carried.

ANDREW OLIEN,
Representative From Clarkfield.

The following bills were introduced in the senate yesterday afternoon:

By Senator Richard Jones of Duluth, by request—Providing for the examination and licensing of cooks; a copy of a bill now pending in the house.

By Senator Sageng—A copy of the house bill by Representative Adams providing for the bonding of public officials by the state at cost.

By Senator Callahan—Requiring all cases of contempt of court arising out of violations of court injunctions in labor difficulties to be submitted to juries.

By Senator Fred D. Vibert of Cloquet—Requiring a public hearing before the state tax commission can increase the total assessed valuation of any county.

By Senator F. H. Peterson of Moorhead—Limiting the number of saloons allowed in any community to one for each 500 people.

Crosby-Ironton War Spreads.

The Crosby-Ironton war is spreading. It has developed that the Syverson bill providing for detaching a part of Crosby and attaching it to Ironton may affect many other adjoining villages, including Coleraine, Bovey, Taconite, Chisholm and Hibbing, and the forces of the opposition have been increased by delegations from some of these communities.

The senate committee on railroads, grain and warehouse yesterday afternoon introduced the bill presented to it by Senator Lende, throwing down the bars on memberships in the Duluth board of trade and the Minneapolis chamber of commerce. Both these bodies are forbidden to limit their membership or to charge more than $1,000 for memberships. They must admit anybody who will pay this fee, though they may reject applicants for proper cause, subject to review by the courts.

The senate yesterday afternoon advanced to general orders the bill by Senator George M. Peterson of Duluth requiring all trading stamp concerns to get a license for every place in which they do business. The license fee was cut from $500 to $100 on the recommendation of the judiciary committee.

Senator Peterson's bill amending the law relating to the legal weight of a bushel of various grains and vegetables, and forbidding such commodities to be sold otherwise than by weight, was passed by the senate yesterday.

Gordon's Census Bill.

Despite the opposition of Representatives Welch and others, Representative Sam V. Gordon yesterday afternoon succeeded in getting the house in committee of the whole to advance to the calendar his bill providing for the 1915 state census required by the Constitution, and appropriating $90,000 for that purpose.

By an overwhelming vote the house yesterday afternoon killed the much-misunderstood bill by Senator George H. Sullivan reducing from 3¼ to 3 per cent the percentage of butter fat required in milk, heralded as a "blue milk bill," and declared to be a bill to allow dairymen to adulterate their product, it was simply a bill to make the wholesome milk of Holstein cows legal. Holsteins give lots of milk, but it isn't rich, though it is widely recommended as food for infants. Senator Sullivan's purpose was to reduce the legal requirements so as to let Holstein milk get by; but the house beat his bill with only one or two votes in its favor.

While the house was performing this operation, the senate was advancing to the calendar Senator Sullivan's bill authorizing municipalities to regulate the sale of milk by requiring all containers to be labeled with the percentage of butter fat in each, after defeating an amendment proposed by Senator Andrews, requiring milk to have 3½ per cent of butter fat.

Southwick Bill Killed.

The Southwick bill making towns and counties liable for damages due to defective roads and bridges was killed by the house yesterday afternoon. As the law stands now, while communities are liable for damages caused by defective streets, nobody is liable for such damages for roads except the town and county officers individually.

The house in committee of the whole yesterday afternoon advanced to the calendar the senate bill by Senator Richard Jones of Duluth giving the state board of health authority to require proper sanitary conditions in lumber camps, including bathing facilities. This measure is a substitute for the bill Senator Jones introduced requiring lumber companies to furnish bathtubs. The bill provides that lumber companies required to act by the board of health cannot charge men a fee for the service.

The senate yesterday afternoon advanced to the calendar Senator Dwinnell's bill prohibiting hypnotic exhibitions, the unregulated use of hypnotism, and giving lessons in hypnotism.

STILLMAN H. BINGHAM.

the ten St. Louis county mineral communities, although according to the 1910 census the population of the former was 363,000 and of the latter less than 46,000.

That in 1913 the little village of Buhl levied for village purposes about $125 for every man, woman and child in the village. This is entirely exclusive of school taxes, which also were large.

That though this village cast but 172 votes at the last election, it has had an average of 116 persons on its payroll during the last thirteen months.

Hibbing's Big Payroll.

That in Hibbing, where there were 1,318 votes at the last general election, there has been an average of 852 persons, or a majority of the voters, on the village payroll during the last fourteen months.

That Hibbing, with more street lights than the city of Cincinnati, has in its "white way" 668 metal posts with 3,136 lights, and that the cost of installing this lighting system was $81,833, and the cost of operating it in 1914 was $19,822.

That Hibbing during the last year has employed forty policemen, while Duluth, with six times its area and ten times its population, has only eighty policemen.

That in Mountain Iron, with private buildings valued at less than $55,000, there are public buildings valued by the assessor at $158,000, since which time the village has partially erected a $20,000 library and has attempted to build a $30,000 village hall.

That the village of Gilbert, before it took in some mines, levied $7,000 annually, and that though in annexing mining property it only increased its population by one-third, in 1914 its municipal levy jumped to $80,000.

Hibbing's Huge Expenditures.

That the village of Hibbing in 1913 and 1914 levied a village tax of $750,000, and spent in the latter year $1,169,733.76, and had on Feb. 1 outstanding unpaid village warrants amounting to $1,252,596.13.

That in 1914 Hibbing levied, for municipal purposes only, a per capita tax of $85.36, based on the 1910 census, as against an average of $5.35 for the non-mineral communities of the state.

That the village of Hibbing spent during 1914 an amount equal to $132.44 per capita. In this village 97.88 per cent of the taxes are levied on iron properties, and 2.12 per cent on private property.

That the village of Chisholm in 1914 levied for village purposes only, not including building or maintaining schools, $319,482.80, and in eight months of that year spent $475,280.17. That on top of its levies Chisholm on March 1, 1915, had outstanding unpaid warrants amounting to $495,131.17. In 1914 its per capita levy, for village purposes only, was $41.58.

That the public improvements in Chisholm since 1908 have cost $1,002,086.25.

That the tax levied in Chisholm for village purposes in 1914 was more than twice as much as the assessed valuation of all the real estate in the village other than iron property.

Figures for Buhl.

That the village of Buhl in 1913 levied a tax amounting to $125 per capita.

That Buhl levied in 1914 a tax of $65,140.08, and spent $339,243.53; so that it had on Feb. 16 outstanding orders amounting to $123,079.93, and a bonded debt of $245,000.

That the per capita levy of Buhl for 1914 was $64.82, and that in 1913 its per capita expenditures were $237.55 per capita.

That the 1914 expenditures in Buhl were 2.1 times the assessed valuation of all the real and personal property of the village outside of the iron properties.

That the existing indebtedness of Buhl is 2.26 times as much as the assessed valuation of all property in the village outside the mines.

That in 1914 Buhl made street and sidewalk improvements the cost of which was more than half the assessed valuation of all the real estate and buildings in the village outside the mines.

Mountain Iron's Expenditures.

That in Mountain Iron the 1913 levy for village purposes only was more than $80 per capita, and in 1914 $69.42 per capita. That the 1914 expenditures were $120.21 per capita, or $1,232.80 for every vote cast at the November election.

That the village of Keewatin levied a tax of $101 per capita in 1914, and spent during the year $374.10 per capita.

That in July the village of Keewatin had on its payroll 161 men, while in the spring election of that year its total vote was 143.

That this winter Chisholm established a conservatory in her palatial high school and grew tomatoes that ripened at a cost of $300 each.

That the township of Stuntz—"well named," said one of the speakers—spent in 1914 more than $900 for every voter.

That the village of Keewatin established a municipal well and employed five men at $4 a day to see that well-diggers worked.

That Hibbing has [illegible] virtually every street to the village limits and nearly all of the alleys.

Chisholm's Ball Team.

That when Chisholm wanted a ball team she put her hired ball players on the municipal payroll—one light inspector, one milk inspector, one meat inspector, one sand inspector, one water tap inspector and two policemen.

That in Mountain Iron even the "blind streets" are paved.

That the village of Buhl uniformed the village band out of the village treasury and sent it through Northern Minnesota in a private car.

That if Minneapolis had as many city employes in proportion as Hibbing her payroll would carry fully 30,000 men.

That the new Chisholm high school, costing $268,000, will this year graduate a record class of ten or eleven pupils.

That many of the range schools are equipped with swimming tanks that would put the natatorium at Princeton to shame.

Some Model Flat.

That, to quote one speaker, "to give the little Lithuanian girls in Chisholm an idea of housekeeping, a model flat, life size, had been installed in the new high school. The living room is in mahogany and tapestery and rugs of fine texture. The dining room has a timbered ceiling from which is suspended a magnificent drop lamp which hangs over a fumed oak table. Each piece of the china service bears the real Haviland, Limoges, France, stamp. Silverware is all solid and nothing but cut glass goes. The kitchen is ideal for the little foreigner girls, being so different from what they are accustomed to at home. They learn to cook on electric ranges, to iron with electric irons, to clean with electric cleaners, to sew on electric sewing machines. The model flat bedroom is featured by its four-poster mahogany bed, with other furnishings in keeping."

That Mountain Iron voted $2,200 for sky rockets for a Fourth of July celebration. When they failed to go off the council voted to appropriate more for a real celebration, but was enjoined by an unpatriotic taxpayer.

That Hibbing employs a bright young man who devotes his gray matter to thinking up new jobs for the faithful.

That last year Hibbing paid $6,350.25 to grave diggers and lawn rakers in its municipal cemetery.

Other Extravagances.

"To one not acquainted with the methods on the range," said W. D. Bailey, "it would not seem possible for the villages to spend the amounts of money they have spent, but an examination of their accounts will reveal many extravagances not indulged in by other villages and which are almost inconceivable. One village, for instance, donated $1,900 for a firemen's tournament; another pays a bandmaster $100 a month for twelve months in the year; a junket for two officers of a village cost $600; one village has had for fourteen months an average of 120 salaried men on its payroll and an average of 862 employes for the same period of time, and one of the salaried officials was paid $6,388 for the year 1914; one village last year for music alone spent $3,100, and one village has a baseball park and athlete field which cost $10,975, and has spent for parks in two years $108,704; one village paid for printing alone in 1914 $9,414, and for a banquet $196; one village got so hard up, notwithstanding its excessive tax levies, that in the year 1914 alone it paid in addition to 6 per cent interest on its outstanding orders $9,550 discount thereon, and during six years and eight months it paid $31,186 discount on its orders, in addition to 6 per cent interest."

It had been expected that Mayor Victor L. Power of Hibbing, who is in the city, would appear before the committee in opposition to the bill, but he has been ill with the grip, and, though he was at the hearing, he left before it was half over.

Bill Opposed By Scott.

Representative S. C. Scott made the principal talk against the measure, his speech being mainly in defense of the expenditures charged against the village of Hibbing. His contention was that in a large degree these expenses had been made necessary by the mining companies. The open pits, he said, had encroached on the village, cutting off streets and roads and making it necessary to rebuild them. This cost an enormous sum, he said, and would largely account for the apparently tall figures of Hibbing expenses.

Mayor Michael Boylan of Virginia made a neat little speech before the committee, saying that he came there to show them that the range towns are not all alike. The Virginia city water and light plant, he said, made $100,000 last year, besides giving low rates, and there isn't a community in the state that can beat that. He spoke to some extent in defense of the officials of the communities attacked, and said that it was misleading to speak of expenses in proportion to voters, because so many of the residents are not voters.

"However, I am not opposed to the bill," he said. "While on the 1910 census Virginia's per capita expense is above the proposed limit, on the present population it will be well below it. I am simply here to urge an amendment that will take care of that, in case there should be no state census this year.

"I invite you all to Virginia, and you will see a beautiful little city without extravagance."

Amendment Adopted.

To meet this very situation in Virginia, International Falls and other places, Representative Harrison, author of the bill, submitted an amendment providing that any community can have a census taken by the state tax commission on its request and at its expense. This will amply take care of the population matter in case the Gordon bill providing for a state census fails to go through.

This amendment was adopted by the committee.

International Falls, the only community outside of St. Louis county above the $25 limit on the 1910 figures, would be hit hard if there were no census, but a census will show it well within the proposed limit, it is said.

Representative H. H. Harrison of Stillwater, after hearing the figures of expenditures in some of the range communities, said that it was evident that "something is rotten on the range when these things could be, and when St. Louis county towns without mines have a per capita expense of $2 or $3, and mining towns have per capita expenditures of $50 to $80."

At the conclusion of the hearing, the committee unanimously voted to recommend the bill to pass and to ask that it be made a special order in the house on next Monday afternoon.

STILLMAN H. BINGHAM.

COUNTY DIVISION BILL BEATEN

Senators Griggs and Healy will not push it to a vote in the senate. However, the Duluth senators have not been idle, either, and they agree after a very careful canvass of the members of that body that it would be impossible for the bill to get more than 25 votes out of the 67.

Otter Tail-Polk Bill Killed.

The house made short shrift of the Otter Tail-Polk county division bill this morning, killing it by a vote of 74 to 17, immediately on its return from the committee. The Duluth members voted against the bill and the range members did not vote.

The committee on towns and counties voted last night to report the bill back without recommendation. When the committee report came in this morning Representative Adams of Fergus Falls moved that the bill be indefinitely postponed, an unusual motion at that stage of the proceedings.

Representative John H. Boyd of Crookston, author of the bill, moved as a substitute that it be placed on general orders.

Mr. Adams pointed out that the bill allowed county division without a vote of the whole county, after the plan devised by the Power-McMahon county division organization in St. Louis county, and that the Otter Tail delegation in the house was unanimously opposed to it.

Representative T. T. Morken of Crookston said that he opposed it also, and Representatives J. T. Johnson and John B. Hompe of Otter Tail spoke against it. Representative Haislet of Butterfield said he had attended the hearings, and he believed the bill was at least entitled to a hearing on general orders.

Representative H. H. Harrison of Stillwater attacked the bill. "I am down on county division generally," he said, "because it means a multiplication of expenses. If Minnesota had only forty counties instead of eighty-eight, it would have less expense and would be better off."

The Boyd motion lost, 17 to 74, and the motion to indefinitely postpone, carried overwhelmingly.

Prohibition Bill Ended.

The house by a vote of 80 to 32 this morning sustained the majority report of the temperance committee indefinitely postponing the Anderson statutory prohibition bill. Representative Konzen of Hallock said he was pledged to support any temperance measure that came up, but, he added, "what's the use of acting on a bill the senate has killed? It's a useless waste of time. If we want to vote on prohibition, we can vote on the bill for a constitutional amendment, which would be referred to the people."

Suffrage Bills.

Two new varieties of suffrage bills came in this morning. In the senate, Senator Richard Jones of Duluth introduced a proposed constitutional amendment giving women the ballot. The Sageng woman suffrage amendment has been beaten by the senate and could not be considered again, but Senator Jones gets around this by proposing to amend a different section of the Constitution—that allowing women to vote at school elections. It broadens that by allowing women to vote at all elections. Representative Adolph S. Larson introduced in the house a bill proposing limited suffrage for women, allowing them to vote on president, for which a constitutional amendment is not necessary, he says.

Police Pension Bill Passed.

Representative E. R. Ribenack of Duluth put through the house under suspension of the rules this morning the bill amending the Duluth police pension law, which was favorably recommended by the committee on cities.

The special order on the Sageng bill prohibiting county boards from issuing liquor licenses outside of cities and villages was postponed until tomorrow.

The senate advanced to the calendar the bill requiring law school graduates to take bar examinations.

The house passed under suspension of the rules the Spooner bill providing for the abandonment of the old state prison and its sale or lease by the board of control.

The state tax commission is called upon, under a joint resolution by Representatives Andrews and Gordon, to revise the state tax system so as to promote home owning by ceasing to penalize improvements.

The house committee on roads and bridges killed a number of bills aimed at features of the Dunn road laws.

* * *

Bills Introduced.

The following bills came in:

Senator Hanson, requiring auditors to list separately for taxation mineral rights owned separately from the fee.

Representative Konzen, amending the anti-pass law to permit passes for land and colonization agents.

Representative Novak, providing for the use of school houses for public meetings.

Representative Burrows, joint resolution authorizing the governor to appoint a commission to confer with similar commissions from other states to arrange for interstate drainage projects.

bandits hold sway, has driven tens of thousands from the city and into the outlying province and has sent other thousands to the protection of the American flag, which waves above the Presbyterian mission there.

Ten Thousand Refugees.

Ten thousand persons were housed in the mission three weeks ago, according to information received here. These refugees included almost the entire native Christian population of the city, between 4,000 and 5,000, the two or three hundred American missionaries and teachers whose activities have been conducted under the board's supervision, and a heterogeneous aggregation of foreigners.

Danes, Swedes, Norwegians and other Europeans pressed beside Moslems in the headlong flight from the mob to the missions, according to the reports. The doors were open to all. All who could be accommodated within the buildings, it was said, were accorded the protection of the American flag.

PRIMARY ELECTION HELD IN WISCONSIN

Candidates Being Chosen for Minor Offices for April Election.

Milwaukee, March 23.—The primary election for the nomination of candidates for Branch No. 3 of the circuit and several branches of the civil court and for ten places on the ballot for school directors is being held in Milwaukee today, the successful nominees to go before the people at the regular election April 6.

The weather early was fine. The voting at the outset was light. Polls opened at 6 o'clock and will close at 8 p. m.

Outside of Milwaukee the voters are registering their preference for nominees for circuit judges in the Tenth, Sixteenth, Seventeenth and Nineteenth Wisconsin circuits.

For Branch No. 3 of the circuit court in Milwaukee county, two non-partisans and one Social Democrat are seeking nomination, the names of the highest two to be placed on the ballot at the regular election.

For the civil court branches Nos. 2, 6 and 7, there are several candidates, including Social Democrats and non-partisan, two to be nominated for each branch.

There being but two candidates for the office of county judge in Milwaukee, no primary contest is being made.

City tickets are being nominated in a few small places in the state.

Under a recent opinion of Attorney General Owen, approximately 5,000 resident foreigners who have taken out their first citizenship papers are entitled to vote. While the registration is 81,000, a vote of not more than 76,000 or 80,000 is expected on account of the off year.

Women in Milwaukee are privileged to vote for school directors, but only a few were early visitors at the polls.

INDIAN WOMAN, 105, DEAD IN INFIRMARY.

Toledo, Ohio, March 23.—Mrs. Victoria Cadaract, aged 105, died last night in Ottawa county infirmary, near Oak Harbor. Mrs. Cadaract was a Chippewa Indian and was the last known of the native Ohio Indians of the full blood.

Until ten days ago she lived alone in a cabin near Curtice. She was found there unconscious with a hip dislocated. She was never able to tell how the accident occurred. Mrs. Cadaract's husband died more than fifty years ago, leaving her with five small children. They fished, hunted and farmed in a small way.

BIG PLATE MILLS TO RESUME MONDAY.

Youngstown, Ohio, March 23.—Sheet iron manufacturers here whose plants have been idle under a truce with employes today announced that mills would resume operations next Monday. The truce will end Thursday, but more time is given on account of the third referendum vote on the question of accepting a lower wage scale by the Sheet and Tin Plate lodges of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Sheet and Tin Plate Workers. Sheet workers here feel sure the scale will be adopted by the referendum Saturday.

THE FALL OF PRZEMYSL.

In the fall of Przemysl has been accomplished another impossibility. Like Liege. Przemysl was regarded as almost impossible of capture, though its situation so far from general lines of travel had given it less fame than had come to the Belgian city. Now it has been captured, according to apparently authentic reports, and unless the judgment of military students is badly at fault, a new and important stage of the war is entered upon.

For Przemysl has marked a definite limit to the advance of the Russian army. Months ago it was generally understood that while the czar's northern force was driving through East Prussia, there was to be an advance through Galicia and into Silesia and by that route to Berlin itself. The East Prussia program met with a serious setback from which it has not yet recovered. The Galician route also appeared for months to be blocked, but now the barrier has been overcome and the Russians will find it comparatively easy to advance another step into Austria—probably at least as far as Cracow.

That the fighting at the Austrian city and forts, both by the attackers and by the defenders, has been of the fiercest nature has been demonstrated time and again in the daily reports from the war zone. Some idea of the condition to which the city was reduced may be gleaned from the facts that for months its only means of communication with the outside world was by wireless telegraph or by aeroplane, and that supplies got so low that food finally had to be brought in by the aviators.

What the effect of the fall of Przemysl will be as concerns the war as a whole cannot yet be foreseen. That it will be actually decisive does not seem probable, though it marks the first notable success of the allies on the territory of their dual foes. At least it is very likely to mean that Germany must spare some troops to help defend Cracow. Whether she has reserve forces on which she can call for this purpose nobody knows certainly except the military authorities at Berlin. Lacking such reserves, it may be that she will have to draw upon either the Russian or western frontiers, and any serious drains at those points would be very likely to mean an end to German aggressive fighting there, at least for the present.

Meanwhile it is certain that the warfare is to be carried into the great wheat-growing region of Austria, and that means that even this possible source of an addition to the world's supply of grain for the next year is to be cut off, unless the war quickly comes to an end.

"The dash in the Dardanelles" may only refer to the unprintable language of some of the commanders.

THE GAS SERVICE PLAN.

Nobody will dispute the claim that the proposal of Manager Reed of the water and light department for extensions of the city gas service is in the interests of the people in outlying sections of the city. He wants to have the department pay the cost of connecting gas mains with the piping in the houses, this cost to be made up to the city by the property owner in the form of ten annual payments, plus a service and maintenance charge of twenty-five cents a month.

As Mr. Reed says, there are many families in the city that would use gas if they could afford to have it piped into their houses, but who feel unable to bear that expense at present. Also there can be no doubt that the additions to the business of the department if all these families could become consumers would be worth some extra trouble in going after it.

There is only one doubtful point in the proposal of the manager, and that is the length of time given to pay the city for its outlay. Ten years is a mighty long time, and there is good reason to question whether it is policy to encourage people of moderate means to put ten-year liens on their homes. The existence of the lien would be sure to enter into any effort to sell or otherwise transfer the property, and in case of fire or other accident even within five or six years of the making of the improvement, such a lien would leave the owner with a dead horse to pay for at a time when he might be in the worst possible shape to meet such a charge.

Of course it is impossible to set any figure that would be a usual cost of such connections, but it does not seem as if the amount would be likely to be so great as to require a spread over ten years for its payment. It would be interesting to hear Mr. Reed's reasons for making the time so long. At present it seems as if the same purpose could be accomplished with a much shorter period for payment.

The economy and efficiency of the frogs of the state are not to be interfered with.

IT IS WORTH SEEING.

If you were down town last night you will admit without argument that the style show is worth seeing. If you weren't down, you'll have to take somebody's word for the excellence of the thing, but at the same time take this little tip—it really is worth seeing, and if you don't get down to have a look at it within the next day or so you will be missing something good.

It couldn't have opened more auspiciously. The weather was perfect and the windows and store interiors were elaborately and tastefully decorated. All through the shopping district, up on First street and out through the West end the merchants had entered into the spirit of the thing with a vim, and the result was even more than they had promised. Thousands of people were on hand, and enjoyed the novelty of roaming through stores where everything was set out in the most tasteful and attractive style, but where there was nothing for sale at that time.

One thing the style show has demonstrated is the effectiveness of co-operation among the retailers. It was co-operation that made the style show possible, and it is co-operation that is making it a success. The merchants have worked long and hard and harmoniously, and the result of their efforts is something that is worth going a long ways to see. If you believe that statement, you will be sure to get out and see the display. And if you don't believe it, the best thing you can do is to go and see for yourself. Really, it's worth it.

It is hard just now for the college senior to realize that anybody could regard a diploma as nothing more than a scrap of paper.

RAILWAY MAIL RATES.

Postmaster General Burleson seems to be very sure that railroad influence was responsible for the defeat of the postoffice bill that proposed to change the system of fixing payment for mail carrying from the weight to the bulk method. It may be that Mr. Burleson is right in his general statement, but he would seem to be a trifle mistaken in his application of it.

For example, he says that certain railroads financed a propaganda designed to "mislead" and wrongfully influence the public in an attitude of antagonism to the department. The truth is that the public heard comparatively little about the matter. It was taken care of in Washington, and though there were some reports outside about the condition of postoffice finances, they were such as to prejudice the public, if at all, in favor of any change that would make the postal department deficit disappear.

Mr. Burleson says he is going to bring up his proposal for a change of basis before the next congress. He should certainly do so; for under the operation of the parcel post the question of bulk of mails is much more vital, so far as carriage is concerned, than it ever was before.

Furthermore, by placing the rates on that basis there would be eliminated the old practice of franking several tons of public documents through the mails during weighing time. Public documents weigh like sin, compared with the room they take up, and it would be impossible to pad the mail records in this way under the proposed new system. The only thing that could be done to advantage would be to ship a few cubic miles of vacuums.

It is to be regretted that Postmaster Burleson's plan failed to get through the recent congress, but it will have a better chance next time, perhaps.

By the way, why don't they change the name of the Indiana place to Terror Vote?

Class Repartee.

London Telegraph: An elegantly dressed woman, accompanied by her daughter, was walking down a village street. A couple of men loafing at the door of the public house irritated her.

"Do you know," she asked her companion, in stage tones, "that conscription is coming?"

"'Ave you 'eard, Bill?" followed her retreating footsteps, in similar accents, "that there's a great scarcity of nurses at the front?"

Needn't Wait.

The Colonel Again

By Savoyard.

Washington, March 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Hon. Leslie M. Shaw, statesman and financier, has entered the broad and expansive field of political prediction and opines that the "unified" Republican party will nominate and elect Theodore Roosevelt president of the United States in 1916. A standpatter of the Aldrich-Hanna stripe, Mr. Shaw is persuaded that it will be a mere thing of formality to induce the Colonel to shuck himself of the more threatening vagaries of his "progressive" nonsense and return a welcome prodigal to the fold of the standpatter:

"And when he came to himself, he said, How many hired servants of my father have bread enough and to spare, and I perish with hunger?

"I will arise and go to my father, and will say unto him, Father, I have sinned against heaven and before thee."

And then according to the Hon. Shaw the G. O. P. is to see this here prodigal afar off and have compassion on him and run and fall on his neck and even go so far as to kiss him. The best robe is to be brought forth—viz.: the nomination for president—a ring is to adorn his hand—viz.: a Cortelyou campaign fund collected from the Harrimans, Morgans, Steel trusts, Wool trusts, Coal trusts and things—and the fatted calf—viz.: the presidency—is to be butchered and served up at a feast for the elect of Mammon.

Stranger things have happened, stranger things will happen. But it is scarcely in the timber for the Colonel to be contrite. There's the rub. I don't believe that part of it. He willingly would be, but it is not necessary for him to be, the supplicant. He would be a composite of the elder brother and the prodigal son, and here is Shaw proposing that this holy terror of the household be made the head of the family.

So far as disrobing and casting aside his progressive garments, that is unnecessary, for every moment that Theodore Roosevelt was in the White House, Elihu Root was as much president of the United States as Jefferson Davis was under Pierce, or John Sherman was under Hayes, and Mr. Root is the spoiled darling of Wall Street, the fancy statesman of those precincts. Who doubts that if Roosevelt were chosen president again he would invite Root to be his chief adviser? Not even a marine in the service of politics would question that.

Of course Roosevelt would be allowed to, expected to, and required to thunder in the index. He would run up and down the earth a-threatening and a-cussing of monopoly, but monopoly, as when he was president, would only wink the other eye and reflect, "Our prodigal lives on a miserable repast of sea turtle and champagne and feasts the public on the rich viands made of husks—promises that even the intelligent swine of politics have contempt for."

And the meat in this here cocoanut is abundant and savory and nutritious. Did you notice that in the "off year" of 1914, with the Colonel in retirement, the Progressive party polled above 2,000,000 votes? That is what is pestering the Hon. Shaw. Nor is that all—the Prohibition party got over 200,000 votes. It is notorious that the fusion between these two elements is practically consummated. It is certain that the impossible and unspeakable Sulzer is after the Prohibition nomination, but while the gods are powerless before stupidity, there is a limit to even idiocy, and we may count on it that the Colonel can have the Prohibition nomination if he goes after it.

How does this strike you? Discredited as he was by the returns of 1914, suppose the Colonel musters his 2,000,000 and upwards of Progressives, suppose he reinforce them with the Prohibitionists, at least half a million in gross? Suppose the Colonel has these two nominations "to draw to" when the Republican convention assembles? If it should so turn out, the Colonel, who used to be mighty close to the standpatters, would be very formidable in the Republican convention, for it is a party more of the earth earthy than any other we ever had in our politics.

Whatever shortcomings have characterized the Wilson administration, and I deny that there are many and can maintain that there are very few, even his enemies—personal if he have them, political as there are many—confess that Woodrow Wilson is an exceptionally strong man in every particular, mentally, morally, politically. He is such a man as a great, a brave, a free, a prosperous people would choose as its leader, all conditions being equal. No doubt about that in this world.

Well, the Republicans can't win the election in 1916 with a yaller dog, or a jaybird, or an ash cat for candidate. Where is the man they have got unless it be the Colonel? There is Burleson, a great intellect. He knows some history, and is going on his travels. That is what nominated James Buchanan for president in 1856, and he was elected, too, but the candidates opposing him of all parties were hopeless scrubs. I think the day is past in our history when a man out of the battle stands a chance because he is an absentee. Besides, Burton's party took him out of the senate and gave the toga to a voiceful mediocrity.

They—the Republicans—have got a whole regiment of candidates, each with his lightning rod up. One of the standpatters is fit for the office, but they dare not nominate him—Elihu Root. Fairbanks is more hopeless than Root, for they might as well nominate a railroad as Fairbanks, who was a party to litigation between capital and labor that puts him out of the running—unless the G. O. P. has lost its head irretrievably.

So the Colonel is the only man I can see ahead, and Wilson can beat him out of sight.

And He Played On.

Jacksonville, Fla., Observer: Mr. Kennedy, the organist at the First Baptist church during the Risner meetings, is from Michigan. His skill and fineness of touch in organ work remind one of the old masters. His notes please, soothe, thrill. There is music in his gentlest, delicate notes like that of Apollo's lute, and the full, grand organ climaxes rise and swell with the majesty of thunder and the grandeur of the storm, then die away as softly, as sweetly as the vesper notes of an Eolean harp in the clouds of heaven. His organ seems the abode of a thousand invisible voices, a chorus of nightingales singing in the valley of shadows, or the sound of many waters in faraway somewhere. "If music be the food of love," then, as Shakespeare says, "play on."

Measure for Measure.

Philadelphia Ledger: "Father, how do they measure limburger cheese, by weight or cubic contents?" asked little Rollo, playfully.

"By scentimeters," replied Rollo, Sr.

"Burning Glasses" Were to Cause the End of War

Edgar S. Maclay, in the March number of The North American Review.

While engaged in researches in the British museum library, the writer found a small pamphlet, published in London toward the close of the Eighteenth century, which described an invention of "burning glasses," whereby it was claimed that man was enabled to grasp the "veritable bolts of Jove himself" and hurl them at his enemies. It fills out with convincing amplitude every detail of what was claimed for Dundonald's destroyer. It is not known if Dundonald obtained the ideas for his machine from these "burning glasses," but it is known that the latter were experimented with by English scientists early in the nineteenth century, and results were obtained which fully substantiate Dundonald's claim that any foe, whether on sea or land, would be annihilated by their "terrific power."

The essential idea of this singular device was the arrangement of several hundred mirrors in a great frame, at such angles as to catch and concentrate the rays of the sun on any desired spot. The power of these concentrated rays was so great as to explode any magazine, quickly set all woodwork in a flame, and to cause the instant death of any human being who came within the influence of their scorching breath. It was claimed that so great was the heat generated in these concentrated sun rays, they could be swept along a line of advancing troops, causing each man to drop dead the moment the rays fell upon him.

While difficulties were encountered in adapting "burning glasses" to naval warfare, not one of them was insurmountable. The rolling and pitching motions of water craft were easily accommodated in a manner similar to that employed with "floating" compasses, whereby a degree of stability was acquired sufficient to maintain a direct line with the sun and transmit its concentrated rays to the desired objective. As to the delicate mechanism or fragile nature of these glasses being shattered by hostile shot, it must be remembered that a century ago ordnance was of a comparatively low power. So much so, in fact, that it was the rule rather than the exception for opposing war craft to hammer each other for hours and sometimes days without any being sunk—and the thickness of planks in militant craft then was only about four inches.

It would have been an easy matter to fortify the small space occupied by a frame of "burning glasses" with timbers massive enough to render them impervious to shot—the narrow slit through which the concentrated rays were to be projected against an enemy affording an infinitesimally small target for the cumbersome cannon of those days. With this "horrible" engine of death and destruction thus protected, it was quite possible for a war craft to approach close enough to an adversary to set the latter instantly afire. * * * That these "burning glasses" were known in England at the time Dundonald made his invention is shown in the fact that an English artisan named Penn constructed a powerful lens by which steel and flint were melted like wax, while a ten-grain diamond, after being subjected to this heat thirty minutes, was reduced to six grains. * * * Dundonald's destroyer was thoroughly tested by five of the highest experts then in the British navy—namely, the duke of York, as commander-in-chief of the English army; Admirals Lord Keith and Exmouth, and the two Congreve brothers, for whom the celebrated war rocket was named. The fact that the inventors of these rockets were placed on this board of experts is suggestive that Dundonald's invention was in the nature of "burning glasses," as they were operated somewhat on the principle of rockets.

Boycotting Duluth Papers

Virginia, Minn., Daily Enterprise: There has been more or less talk of boycotting the Duluth newspapers because of their stand on county division. They are direct competitors of the Enterprise, but it does not believe in boycotting them. The Duluth papers would be lacking in public spirit if they did anything else than oppose county division under the circumstances. They are reflecting the sentiment of their home communities which every good newspaper should do and which is the chief reason the Enterprise is a county division newspaper.

The Duluth newspapers have been pretty good friends of the ranges. They have been singularly fair in the county division fight when it is considered that they are opposed to county division. Both of them make the mistake of endeavoring to handle the ranges at long distance. There is a legitimate field on the ranges for the Duluth newspapers. Both of them should maintain range bureaus on the range. Then they would not be open to the charges of inaccuracy that are now so frequently preferred against them and which it is to be regretted are too true and often annoying.

The Duluth newspapers are a big thing for the ranges and the ranges are a big thing for the Duluth papers. As a matter of fact neither could well get along without the other. The Duluth papers should occasionally send their range editors up to look us over and we should invite them to visit us at every opportunity. They do not know us, but they do us a good many favors in the course of a year's time.

Wars on Careless Remarks.

Milwaukee Journal: From Albany, N. Y., is reported a Trace-It-Back club. Some men had been listening to a "they say" story, and one suggested that were the story traced back to its source, not much of it would be left. Another proposed to trace it back and see. The result was so striking, that the men at once formed themselves into a club for the purpose of tracing such things to their source and so preventing much serious mischief from careless and unfounded statements. The club now numbers many members.

A club of that sort could find employment and useful work to do in every community. Members of the Albany club are exceedingly careful now about what they say. Just a hint of doubt about the matter and they appoint someone to investigate. This is sufficient to cause the recall of all that one was not positively sure about. Rash, hasty talk has been the cause of untold unhappiness and needless misery. It is wise to make no statement without having valid reason for believing it true. It would be no bad plan for everyone to be as careful of his speech as if a Trace-It-Back club were going to investigate his statements.

Close to Famous Folk

By Fred C. Kelly.

Washington, March 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—The long arm of coincidence plays many a funny little prank. On more than one occasion it has mixed into the odd career of Edward J. King, who has been elected to the next congress from Galesburg, Ill.

In his early boyhood King was subjected to an itinerant mode of life because his father was continually falling into hard luck and obliged to try first one town and then another. King's father was a carpenter. One day the father was awarded the contract for building the Second Baptist church in Springfield, Mass. He built it all right, and the church is still standing, but in the building of it the contractor went broke, for he was not good at figures and his estimate of the cost had been too low. From then on the father was never out of hard luck.

And today Congressman King is not any better at figures than his father was. He was obliged to do so much moving about from place to place that his schooling was seriously interrupted right at the important period of his life when he was trying to conquer the multiplication table. The result was that he never did get beyond the nines. He knows all the eight-tums well enough—eight-tums eight are sixty-four and all that—but when he gets into the nines he has to stop and figure. Later on he succeeded in getting a degree from Knox college, but he did so without any definite knowledge of that part of the multiplication table lying beyond the nines. Always he has faced that handicap. Ask King right now how many are nine times nine and he would be a little perplexed.

We started to speak, however, of coincidences. A great many years ago young King worked as a waiter for a caterer in Galesburg. He helped to serve a dinner one night in the finest home in Galesburg—the show place of the town. It was the costliest house he had ever glimpsed from the inside and made a deep impression on him.

Time went on and once more King was called to that same fine home, and to perform services. But on the second occasion he went there to draw up the will of the woman who owned the home.

When he was about 8 years old, King went with his father to Galva, Ill., which is also in the district he is now to represent in congress. His father was selling washing machines about the country. They lived at a little hotel in Galva. On this hotel was a cupola where the King boy and another boy used to play. It was a rather dangerous climb, but the two would go there, view the surrounding landscape, and talk of the things they would do when they grew up.

Then King moved with his father to other parts and forgot all about the little chap who had played with him in the cupola. He even forgot the boy's name; all he remembered was that he usually wore a blue sailor suit.

Forty years elapsed and King was running for congress. One afternoon he was holding a conference with Frank Kranz, editor of a paper at Oneida, Ill., and chairman of the Knox county Republican central committee, which was handling King's campaign in that county. King spoke of having once lived at Galva and mentioned that he used to play in the hotel cupola with a little boy in a blue sailor suit.

Kranz grew interested and asked for more particulars.

It came out that he was the little boy in the blue sailor suit.

Lost—a Boy

Not kidnaped by bandits and hidden in a cave to weep and starve and rouse a nation to frenzied searching. Were that the case, one hundred thousand men would rise to the rescue if need be.

Unfortunately the losing of the lad is without any dramatic excitement, though very sad and very real.

The fact is, his father lost him! Being too busy to sit with him at the fireside and answer his trivial questions during the years when fathers are the only great heroes of the boys, he let go his hold upon him.

Yes, his mother lost him! Being much engrossed in her teas, dinners and club programs, she let the maid hear the boy say his prayers and thus her grip slipped and the boy was lost to his home.

Aye, the church lost him! Being so much occupied with sermons for the wise and elderly who pay the bills, and having good care for dignity, the minister and elder were unmindful of the human feelings of the boy in the pew and made no provision in sermon or song or manly sport for his boyishness, and so the church and many sad-hearted parents are now looking earnestly for the lost boy.

—Author Unknown.

I'll Take What Father Takes.

'Twas in the flow'ry month of June,
The sun was in the west,
When a merry, blithesome company
Met at a public feast.

Around the room rich banners spread,
And garlands fresh and gay;
Friend greeted friend right joyously
Upon that festal day.

The board was filled with choicest fare;
The guests sat down to dine;
Some called for "bitter," some for "stout,"
And some for rosy wine.

Among the joyful company,
A modest youth appeared;
Scarce sixteen summers had he seen,
No specious snare he feared.

An empty glass before the youth
Soon drew the waiter near.
"What will you take, sir?" he inquired,
"Stout, bitter, mild, or clear?"

"We've rich supplies of foreign port,
We've first class wine and cakes."
The youth, with guileless look replied:
"I'll take what father takes."

Swift as an arrow went the words
Into the father's ears,
And soon a conflict deep and strong
Awoke terrific fears.

The father looked upon his son,
Then gazed upon the wine.
Oh, God! he thought, were he to taste,
Who could the end divine?

"Have I not seen the strongest fall,
The fairest led astray?
And shall I on my only son
Bestow a curse this day?

No; heaven forbid! "Here, waiter, bring
Bright water unto me.
My son will take what father takes;
My drink shall water be."

—W. Hoyle.

A Spicy Retort.

Puck: "Now, wouldn't you like to walk with your husband to the polls and cast in your vote with his?" asked the city lady of Mrs. Bean.

Mrs. Bean shook her head as she said wearily: "For the land's sake! If there's anything a man can do by himself, let him do it!"

Keeping Up With Minnesota Editors

Press Comments on Current Events.

Obvious.

Albert Lea Tribune: Thousands of men in the Western states are out of employment, so it is stated. Those who have farms in good, old Minnesota, free from all incumbrance, should hesitate a long time before they sell their homes and start for some new and untried section.

A Pardonable Exception.

Tower News: We have never believed in capital punishment, but, when an anarchist shies a bomb at a crowd of innocent people or wrecks a building containing human lives, somehow it comes over us that white heat is not hot enough in which to drop the inhuman brute who shied the explosive. We are but human, y' understand.

Appointment Indorsed.

Albert Lea Standard: Governor Hammond's appointment of Albert Schaller of Hastings as a justice of the state supreme court seems to meet favor everywhere. Justice Schaller is a lawyer of ability and integrity and will justify the great confidence imposed in him by the chief executive.

Sees the Light.

Wahkon Enterprise: We did not support him last fall, but, just the same, we are proud of our new governor.

Brightness Ahead.

Le Sueur News: Congress is of the past, the end of the legislature is in sight and the baseball clubs are in training. There is brightness ahead.

Observing.

Montevideo Leader: A scientist says that too much clothing is unhealthy, but so far as we can see, the women hereabouts are in no real danger.

Make the Law General.

St. Peter Free Press: A bill is now pending before the house of representatives creating the office of "public defender," whose duty would be to appear for and defend all persons charged with a state prison offense, who are unable by reason of poverty to employ counsel. The bill ought to become law, but it ought to apply to the whole state and not be limited to the city of Minneapolis, as the bill contemplates. Every accused citizen is entitled to a fair trial and the state is supposed to see to it that he gets it. This, however, is only a theory; in practice, the state does all it can, through its paid officials, to land the accused behind the bars, while the defendant, too poor to employ competent counsel, is doomed to sit by in silence and take his medicine.

PRAYER.

Grant, Almighty God, that as we have, in this world, to fight continually, not only with one kind of enemies, but with innumerable ones, and not only with flesh and blood, but also with the devil, the prince of darkness—O grant that being armed with Thy power we may steadily persevere in this contest; and when Thou afflictest us for our sins, may we learn to humble ourselves and so submit to Thy authority that we may hope for the redemption promised to us; and though tokens of Thy displeasure may often appear to us, may we yet ever raise up our minds by hope to heaven and from thence look for Thine only-begotten Son, until, coming as Judge of the world, He assembles us for the enjoyment of that blessed and eternal life which he has obtained for us by His own blood. Amen. "CALVIN."

Could I with ink the ocean fill,
Were all the world of parchment made,
Were every reed on earth a quill
And every man a scribe by trade,
To write the love of God alone
Would drain that ocean dry;
Nor could the scroll contain the whole,
Though stretched from sky to sky.
—Anon.

His Love—The merest grass
Along the roadside where we pass,
Lichen and moss and sturdy weed
Tell of His love who sends the dew,
The rain and sunshine too,
To nourish one small seed.

All the worth of living
Is loving, hoping, giving.
Love survives the breath;
Hope grows strong in death
Gifts thy God returns to thee
With increase—through eternity!

Scouts Saved Boys' Lives.

Cleveland Plain Dealer: A life line, made of twelve coats hurriedly pulled from backs of members of a troop of Boy Scouts and tied together, saved a boy from drowning the other afternoon in one of the Shaker lakes.

Frantic cries of the boys, whose adventures had led them to thin ice on one of the upper lakes, attracted attention of the passing troop of scouts. Almost instantly the troop started the work of rescue.

Troop 34 of the Boy Scouts, on a cross-country hike, saw the boys' predicament from the top of the bluff overlooking the lake. The boys tied the sleeves of their coats together, making a long rope. In one end a brick was tied and the improvised life line was thrown out to the drowning boys, who had risen to the surface.

One boy, who was able to swim, had succeeded in reaching shore. The other desperately grasped at floating pieces of ice and was sinking a second time when the life line fell within his reach.

Later, police reached the scene with a pulmotor. By the time the apparatus had been set up for work the scouts had used first aid methods which they had been taught, and both boys were out of danger.

Blankets from the scouts' knapsacks furnished warmth for the exhausted boys, and with the latest means of extracting water from partially filled lungs the scouts completely revived them.

The Hypochondriac.

Everybody's Magazine: There is a cheerful Irish woman on the East side whose husband is a confirmed hypochondriac.

"Good morning, Mrs. Clancy," said a friend, as they met at market. "An' how's the family?"

"They's all doin' well," said Mrs. Clancy, "with the exception of me ould man. He's been enjoyin' poor health now for some time; but this mornin' he complained of feelin' better."

How to Say "Bore" in French.

Louisville Courier-Journal: The French are the most polite people in the world. They don't call a man a "bore." They say he is a "raconteur," and let it go at that.

Twenty Years Ago

From The Herald of this date, 1895.

The city of St. Paul has decided to make an offer to the legislature of Como park as a suitable site for the state university. The property is worth $4,000,000. The offer will be backed by a cash bonus of $1,000,000 from the citizens of St. Paul.

F. M. Kelly of West Duluth has gone to Chicago to conduct the funeral services of R. A. Prescott, in behalf of the Knights of Pythias, of which order the deceased was a member.

Mrs. H. C. Brown is expected to return in a few days from her old home in Canada, where she has spent the winter. Mr. and Mrs. Brown will reside at New Duluth, where Mr. Brown is foreman in Herman's sash and door factory.

Mrs. Frank Fleischman and Mrs. J. C. Clark have gone to Long Prairie, Minn., for a month's visit.

C. L. Smith of the Omaha ticket office is ill with grip.

Capt. Osborne of the firm of Burnham & Osborne has put in a bid for a new scheme for the canal ferry. He has planned a boat of the catamaran style, 75 feet in length and 30 feet beam, with a capacity of eight teams.

Daniel McDonald, a farmer living on section 14, 51-13, a few miles beyond Lester river, was held up and robbed last night by a masked man while returning home from the city, where he had been selling wood. A bullet wound only a couple of inches from his heart gives evidence of the murderous intention of his assailant. McDonald was robbed of $20 in money and a silver watch and chain. For six or seven years McDonald was employed by the A. Booth Packing company as driver of a delivery wagon. He is a single man.

At a meeting of the Duluth Commercial club at the West end last night the normal school question was discussed. The sentiment was it should be built west of the Point of Rocks, and H. Zimmerman, J. W. Preston and F. H. White were appointed a committee to look up a site.

The employes of the Booth Packing company last night gave a supper at the Zenith restaurant in honor of John Coventry, the local manager of the company. A. G. Brown, in behalf of the company, presented Mr. Coventry, with a Knight Templar charm set with precious stones and handsomely engraved.

Duluth temperature at 7 a. m. today, 36 deg. above zero; maximum yesterday, 52 deg. above zero; minimum yesterday, 32 deg. above zero.

John L. Waller, formerly United States consul at Tamatave, island of Madagascar, has been tried before a court-martial by the French military authorities, has been found guilty of being in correspondence with the Hovas, who are fighting the French claim to a protectorate, and has been sentenced to twenty years' imprisonment.

Religions of the Presidents.

Washington Star: The religions of the presidents of the United Stafes, as officially given, show that George Washington, James Madison, James Monroe, William Henry Harrison, John Tyler, Zachary Taylor, Franklin Pierce and Chester A. Arthur were Episcopalians. Andrew Jackson, James K. Polk, James Buchanan, Abraham Lincoln, Grover Cleveland and Benjamin Harrison were Presbyterians. John Adams, John Quincy Adams, Millard Fillmore and William Howard Taft were Unitarians. Martin Van Burean and Theodore Roosevelt, Reformed Dutch, and Andrew Johnson, Ulysses S. Grant and William McKinley, Methodists. James A. Garfield's faith was that of the Disciples, and Thomas Jefferson's religious connection is set down as "liberal," Randall, biographer of Jefferson, having written that though he was a believer in Christianity he was not a sectarian. President Johnson also was not a church member, though a Christian believer, and his wife, whose name was Eliza McCardle, was a member of the Methodist church.

THE OPEN COURT

(Readers of The Herald are invited to make free use of this column to express their ideas about the topics of general interest, but discussions of sectarian religious differences are barred. Letters must not exceed 300 words—the shorter the better. They must be written on one side of the paper only, and they must be accompanied in every case by the name and address of the writer though these need not be published. A signed letter is always more effective, however.)

The Herald has received several communications regarding the candidates for city commissioner. No letters either for or against the candidates will be published in the Open Court.

Several requests have been received for information as to how the date of Easter is decided. The following may answer these questions:

Easter Time.

Thirty days hath September
Every person can remember,
But to know when Easter comes
Puzzles even scholars some.

When March the twenty-first is past
Just watch the silvery moon,
And when you see it full and round
Know Easter'll be here soon.

After the moon has reached its full,
Then Easter will be here,
The very Sunday after,
In each and every year.

And if it haps on Sunday
The moon should reach its height
The Sunday following this event
Will be the Easter bright.

BUYING A PIANO.

To the Editor of The Herald:
Please inform me through the Open Court whether the school board, in a common school district, has the right to purchase a piano for the school, without the consent of the people of the district?

And whether a piano would be classed as school furniture?

MRS. TILLIE LARSON.

Duluth, March 19.

Yes. The law gives the board the power to buy furniture, fixtures and other school appendages.—The Editor.

LOSES HIS VOTE.

To the Editor of The Herald:
A voter moved from Duluth to Superior about ten days previous to the last presidential election, having registered in Duluth. He would not have acquired citizenship in Wisconsin at the time of the election. Would he therefore be entitled to a vote in the precinct of Duluth in which he had registered?

Had the same party moved from one voting district to another in Duluth under the same conditions where would he be entitled to vote?

Would the same ruling apply at elections on local questions, as for instance the recent light election?

J. ITNEY.

Duluth, March 21.

The voter loses his ballot in both cases. He must reside in the voting district for a period of thirty days to be entitled to a vote. The same ruling applies at all elections.—The Editor.

A GOOD ANGLER GONE.

To the Editor of The Herald:
Last Sunday we of Grand Rapids bore to his last resting place a man who will be sincerely mourned, not only here, where all men knew and loved him, but also over three great states wherever the elder brethren of the rod and gun foregather. Theodore S. Powers was not only a good business man, a clean-cut, upright citizen, an American gentleman of the elder—and best—type, but he was more. He was a reincarnation of the kindly, gentle Izaak Walton, if ever reincarnation was. He was a man who stood the acid test of big game trail, duck pass, or boat, and he was by common consent The Old Man, who needed no other name among the brotherhood of sportsmen, and was acclaimed without dissenting voice the dean of that confraternity. Peace be with him in the hither land is the wish of all who knew him; and their speech of him will be as that of Father Izaak of good Sir John: "A good angler, a very honest man and now with God."

Malnutrition

A BABY suffering from malnutrition is simply under-nourished. A well fed child may be poorly nourished by reason of weak digestion or some obscure constitutional disturbance.

Says Dr. Holt in his textbook: "One of the most frequent causes is the pernicious custom of keeping infants in close apartments where the thermometer ranges from 72 to 78 degrees Fahrenheit, and where the greatest anxiety is constantly felt lest the children take cold. Such infants may lose weight, become anemic, and exhibit all the signs of malnutrition where nothing else is wrong except the conditions mentioned."

Same Old Fresh Air Preaching.

Condensed milk, malted milk, various "foods" and similar inadequate substitutes for fresh milk are common causes of malnutrition in babies. There may be a case now and then in which a young baby cannot digest properly modified and wholesome cow's milk, but it is certain that the great majority of instances in which these unscientific substitutes are resorted to would be more successfully managed if the "ready-to-feed" preparations were unobtainable. To be sure, a baby may digest such offerings easily, and even grow fat on the excessive sugar content of the proprietary food, but nevertheless the baby will be less vigorous and have less resistance to disease than he would have if properly nourished.

The under-nourished baby is restless, fretful, irritable, has a poor circulation, cold hands and feet, soft, flabby muscles, often some enlarged glands in the neck, easily upset digestion, subnormal weight and very slow gain if any. He is very susceptible to catarrhal infections, intestinal trouble, whooping-cough and pneumonia.

He never fails to improve if he gets enough outdoor air, no matter how weak and puny he may be. In fact the most effective treatment is outdoor air, with intelligent management of the feeding as a secondary consideration.

Questions and Answers.

Scalp Hygiene Scores: I want to tell you how grateful I am for the advice you gave me about my hair, writes Mary G. The dandruff is not troubling me any more and my hair is growing beautifully. After all, I guess hygiene is better than "hair tonics."

REPLY.

What happened to Mary? She sent a neatly stamped and addressed envelope for a "formula." She got it, but it didn't call for any "eminent specialist's discovery." No, it called for some personal hygiene.

* * *

We Fall Down on a Case of Acne: Your advice on pimples is no good, writes James. I tried it just as you suggested for three weeks and I don't see as I am any better. I am getting discouraged with medicine and doctors.

REPLY.

James, you are quite human. They all grow pessimistic in about that length of time. But read over the letter again—it tells you your case may require vaccine treatment from your family doctor. Anyway, James, we don't promise more than your stamped, addressed envelope entitles you to—good advice.

* * *

Leprosy in the United States: Are there any cases of leprosy in this country at the present time?

REPLY.

Twenty-three new cases were reported in the last year in California, District of Columbia, Louisiana, Massachusetts, Michigan, Missouri, New York, Ohio, South Carolina, Washington and Wisconsin.

Dr. Brady will answer all questions pertaining to Health. If your question is of general interest it will be answered through these columns; if not it will be answered personally if stamped, addressed envelope is enclosed. Dr. Brady will not prescribe for individual cases or make diagnoses. Address all letters to Dr. William Brady, care of The Herald.

POULTRY AND "CASEY JONES."

To the Editor of The Herald:
Do you think that two girls could make a success at raising poultry? If so, kindly give us a few suggestions on how to begin.

Also give us words to the first verse of "Casey Jones." Thanking you in advance. We are,

OLGA MATSEN,
NELLIE STOPNIK.

Biwabik, Minn., March 20.

Yes, if you go into the business carefully and are well informed. Read all the books available in your public library and then write to the Duluth public library for more. Also consult Prof. N. E. Chapman of the state agricultural college. Write to him for advice.

Poultry raising is not a gold mine yielding sudden wealth, but is a business. Go at it in a business like way. Don't invest too much money at the start, but learn by your mistakes.

The first verse of "Casey Jones" as The Editor remembers it, is as follows:

"Come all, gather round, listen here,
The story told of a brave engineer.
Casey Jones was the engineer's name,
On a six-foot wheeler, he won great fame."

—The Editor.

WHO OWNS THE DOLLAR?

To the Editor of The Herald:
In a recent hotel fire a man lost some of his belongings. Next day a boy found a dollar in the ruins. This man's brother took the dollar, claiming it belonged to his brother, he not being the only one stopping at the place. Who owns the dollar?

Yours, A SUBSCRIBER.

Tower, Minn., March 22.

The boy doesn't own it. Whether the man's brother owns it or whether one of the other guests owns it, is something the courts would have to establish but the theory of "finders keepers" is not good law.—The Editor.

COVE OYSTERS.

To the Editor of The Herald:
A says the cove oyster is a separate species. B. says it is a cooked oyster separated from the merchantable fresh oyster on account of size or quality. Which is right, if either?

THAW.

Duluth, March 19.

More than 100 different species of oysters are known, and most of them are merchantable. Local dealers say the cove oysters are smaller oysters, not necessarily of a different species from the large ones. The larger ones are shipped raw, and the smaller ones are canned. Size is apparently the rule for separating them, and not species.—The Editor.

CORNER STORES AND THE SUNDAY TRADE.

To the Editor of The Herald:
Is it not about time that the citizens of Duluth take notice of the present campaign being waged against the small corner groceries and confectioneries by the police department at the command of the Retail Grocers' association?

It looks like a case of lion and mouse, with no prospects of a let-up until the people assert themselves. Recently several proprietors of these stands have been hauled into court and fined for accommodating a customer with say a can of corn or a few eggs which the customer for the sake of economy wished to prepare for himself rather than buy at a restaurant, which latter action is lawful in the eyes of the police department and satisfactory to the Retail Grocers' association. In one of these arrests a "stool pigeon" was employed to make a purchase of a can of corn to be exhibited as evidence had the case been contested. This store had in no manner tried to conceal the fact that it accommodated people who because of unavoidable circumstances failed on Saturday to purchase every article needed for the Sunday dinner, neither had the store been forewarned by any member of the police department or the Retail Grocers' association that these small accommodations would bring arrest and conviction. I am of the opinion that these stores, by selling groceries on the Sabbath prevent many hardships and certainly the favors are appreciated. Also it should be taken into consideration that these stores represent investments of thousands of dollars by their proprietors in Duluth. I cannot believe that their grocery trade on Sunday injures in any way the members of the Retail Grocers' association, who are so busily engaged in putting the little fellow out of business and encroaching upon the liberty of the people of the city in purchasing their food when and where they please on Sunday—restaurant or otherwise.

PULLMAN CONDUCTORS.

To the Editor of The Herald:
Not long ago, while a passenger on a parlor car running to Duluth, my attention was called to a book labeled, "Why Railroad Passenger Fares Should Be Raised," and with other words as follows: "A Frank Talk to the Public and Their Lawmakers." This book was edited and published by E. Pennington, president of the Minneapolis, St. Paul & Sault Ste. Marie Railway company. In this book the said president dealt with every phase of the expenses of his road, the salaries paid, classifying by states, and their positions, such as conductors, brakemen, switchmen, watchmen, even down to office girls and boys, telling of the amount of money paid these different servants of this company, but, for some reason, he left out the porter-conductor, who, to my mind, holds one of the most responsible positions, and has added much to the success of his company.

It may be asked what I mean by a porter-conductor. He is the man who acts for the company in two capacities, porter and conductor, and receives not one man's pay. He may be called also "a watchman of the night." To his care and custody is entrusted the welfare of those who are sleeping in his car, but too often this porter-conductor is overworked, only half rested, and worn out from long hours. When Mr. Pennington in his annual report on salaries paid by his company to employes, mentioned every employe except the porter-conductor, the public may question Mr. Pennington and ask him to explain why the silence on the salary of the porter-conductor? Is it not that he is ashamed to acknowledge the small compensation, under his own signature as president of the company, that is being paid this class of men for the double service they are rendering the passengers of the company in looking after their comforts? There is no other trainman works as long, as many hours, as does the porter-conductor. He is compelled to be on duty from 6 p. m. until 8, 9 and 10 a. m. the following day. He must not close his eyes and take a nap, for this would endanger the safety of his passengers, but must be in full discharge of his duties for fifteen to eighteen continuous hours, and if not, he will be reprimanded or dismissed from the service. I claim that no set of men have given greater assistance to the railroad companies than the porter-conductors, by way of aid to the traveling public. Yet many of these men, after giving the greater part of their lives and strength to the service of the company, are ignored and given no credit even for the good they have done, and are doing, for the improvement of the service and the general welfare of the public, and in building up a large dividend source from the passenger service of their employer's railroad.

My authority in speaking of these facts comes from years of experience, having served this particular company, and other sleeping car companies, in the capacity of porter-conductor. The commission which is to hear the raise-cry of the railroads should compel them to take into consideration its porter-conductor's salary as well, and not make them depend chiefly upon the generosity of the traveling public for their existence.

POEMS ASKED FOR.

The Herald acknowledges with thanks the receipt of the following poems:

"If I Have Tried," "Before It Is Too Late," and "Tell Mother I'll be There," from Mrs. Tillie Anderson of Boy River. The latter is sent "with apologies to E. A. Kulvander who may be pleased to have the whole song."

Requests have been received for the following: "Thinking of Jack, Wishing Him Back, Praying for Those on the Foam," and "Never Shall See Her Sailor Boy, Nor Give Him a Welcome Home," from a Lake Nebagamon subscriber.

Tell Mother I'll Be There.

When I was but a little child, how well I recollect,
How I would grieve my mother with my folly and neglect;
And now that she has gone to heaven, I miss her tender care,
Oh, angels, tell my mother I'll be there.

Chorus.

Tell mother I'll be there, in answer to her prayer,
This message, guardian angels, to her bear;
Tell mother I'll be there, heaven's joys with her to share;
Yes, tell my darling mother I'll be there.

Though I was often wayward, she was always kind and good;
So patient, gentle, loving, when I was rough and rude;
My childhood griefs and trials she would gladly with me share—
Oh, angels, tell my mother I'll be there.

When I became a prodigal, and left the old roof tree,
She almost broke her loving heart in mourning after me;
And day and night she prayed to God to keep me in His care—
Oh, angels, tell my mother I'll be there.

One day a mesage came to me, it bade me quickly come,
If I would see my mother ere the Savior took her home;
I promised her before she died, for heaven to prepare—
Oh, angels, tell my mother I'll be there.

If I Have Tried.
By E. C. Morgan.

If I have tried to do my best
And fail for lack of strength or skill,
If I have brought unto the test
All that I have of worth and will
And then go down unto defeat
I need not fear God's judgment when
I kneel before his judgment seat.

God does not say that we must win,
Nor are the souls of failures lost;
The weakest of us shall get in
If when our barks were tempest tossed
We tried to steer our course aright,
And honest effort in the fight
Is all that God himself will ask.

And so I say, if I have tried
To do my best, I need not fear
When that dark veil is turned aside,
If I have lived up to the right
As I could see it, all is well;
Although on earth I lost the fight,
I'll have a place in Heaven to dwell.

Before It Is Too Late.

If you have a gray haired mother in the old home far away.
Sit down and write the letter you put off day by day.
Don't wait until her tired steps reach heaven's pearly gate,
But show that you love her before it is too late.

If you've a tender message or a loving word to say,
Don't wait 'till you forget it but whisper it today.
Who knows what bitter memories may haunt you if you wait?
So make your loved ones happy before it is too late.

The tender word unspoken, the letter never sent,
The long forgotten messages, the wealth of love unspent.
For those some hearts are breaking,
For these some loved ones wait;
So show them that you care for them,
Before it is too late.

THE STREET IS A DANGEROUS PLAYGROUND

The street is never a safe playground, but if boys must play in the street they should be warned by their parents and teachers not to choose a busy highway. The child is naturally thoughtless. Moments of carelessness cause the bad accidents. It is the duty of parents and teachers to train children to think of "Safety First." Their whole future happiness is at stake, and may be sacrificed to one moment when they "didn't think."

SOAP ON HAIR CAUSES DANDRUFF, SCALP GETS DRY, HAIR FALLS OUT

Girls! Get a 25-cent bottle and try a "Danderine Hair Cleanse."

After washing your hair with soap always apply a little Danderine to the scalp to invigorate the hair and prevent dryness. Better still, use soap as sparingly as possible, and instead have a "Danderine Hair Cleanse." Just moisten a cloth with Danderine and draw it carefully through your hair, taking one strand at a time. This will remove dust, dirt and excessive oil. In a few moments you will be amazed, your hair will not only be clean, but it will be wavy, fluffy and abundant, and possess an incomparable softness and luster.

Besides cleansing and beautifying the hair, one application of Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff; stimulates the scalp, stopping itching and falling hair. Danderine is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. Its exhilarating and life-producing properties cause the hair to grow long, strong and beautiful.

Men! Ladies! You can surely have lots of charming hair. Get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter and try it.

MARMATH, N. D., WILL HAVE COMMISSION FORM

Marmarth, N. D., March 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—Deciding to change from a village to a city form of government, the voters of this place also adopted the commission system of government by o three-to-one vote. It is the first town in the state to never have a mayor and an alderman, as all other towns now having the commission form of government had formerly used the old-fashioned method of city government.

RECIPES OF OUR PIONEER MOTHERS

for the home treatment of disease were wonderfully dependable. True, they knew nothing of drugs, but owed their success to the roots, herbs and barks of the field. It is interesting to note that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, the most successful remedy for female ills we have, was originally prepared for home use from one of these recipes. Its fame has now spread from shore to shore and thousands of American women now well and strong claim they owe their health and happiness to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

The installation will take place at 7:45 o'clock and will be followed by dancing.

Tomorrow evening Keystone Chapter No. 20, Royal Arch Masons, will confer the Royal Arch degree upon a class of candidates. The work will be exemplified by past high priests of the chapter, who will fill officers' chairs for the occasion. The ceremonial will be followed by a lunch.

RAYMOND ROBINS WILL SPEAK HERE

Will Be Brought to Duluth By Endion Men's Club.

Raymond Robins, noted lecturer and social worker, who was defeated for the nomination for United States senator from Illinois last year, will speak at the Auditorium Friday evening, April 2, under the auspices of the Men's Club of the Endion M. E. church. The lecture will be free to the public.

I. K. Lewis, president of the men's club, announced this morning that Mr. Robins, who is making a tour of the Western universities, will visit Duluth a week from Friday. The latter has not stated on which subject he will speak and Mr. Lewis is now endeavoring to get into communication with him in an effort to learn what it will be.

The Men's Club of the Endion church has a meeting once a month and at each gathering the members invite prominent speakers to talk on the subjects of the day. Owing to the fact that the church auditorium is rather small, it was decided to hold the meeting downtown and give the public an opportunity of hearing Mr. Robins.

It is possible that Mr. Robins will make reference to the present municipal campaign and speak on the issues at stake.

NO MONEY IN HAULING COAL

Business Is Unprofitable, Says Agent for Railroad.

Railroads Ask Increase in Rates for Bituminous Product.

Eugene McAuliffe, general coal agent of the St. Louis & San Francisco railroad, so testified today at the interstate commerce commission's hearings of the forty-one Western railroad systems' application for an increase of freight rates on certain commodities. The railroads are asking for an increase in the rate on soft coal, averaging 7.95 cents a ton from mines in certain states west of and including Indiana. From this increase, Mr. McAuliffe testified, the railroads would be able to add $1,226,122 to their annual income.

How much it would cost the consumer if the increase were added to the rail price of coal was figured out. Based on the populations in the state affected, the witness said, each consumer would have to pay about 5 cents a year more for coal.

C. C. Wright, counsel for the railroads originally had asked for an increase on hard coal rates also, but owing to the inability of the roads to prepare their case on this commodity the application as pertains to hard coal would be withdrawn.

Presents Statement.

Mr. McAuliffe presented a statement representing one year's business based on check waybills in seasons of rush and slack traffic on roads which originate 86.5 per cent of the coal originating in the territory.

"The average weighted haul," said Mr. McAuliffe, "is 303 miles while the average gross revenue is $1.48 per ton under the present rate.

"The average increase asked in the western territory is 7.95 cents per ton, which would add about one-fortieth of 1 per cent per net ton mile to the cost of hauling. The exact addition would be .262 mills per net ton mile, .183 mills per gross ton mile and .145 mills per gross ton mile if 90 per cent of the return haul is included.

"The total amount of the proposed increase on roads embraced in the tabulation is $1,080,286 per year. Including all roads affected the total additional revenue per year would be $1,226,122. This represents an increase of only 5.36 per cent and would entail an addition of 5.37 cents per capita yearly to the expenses of the population in the states affected.

States Affected.

Mr. McAuliffe testified that the advance of 7.95 cents per ton applied from mines in Illinois, Indiana, Missouri, Iowa, Kansas, Arkansas, Oklahoma, Western Kentucky and Alabama to points in Iowa, Wisconsin, Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota, Nebraska, Missouri, Arkansas, Kansas, Louisiana, Texas and Oklahoma.

"The popular mind and the railroad baiter should be disabused of the idea that coal, with its heavy carloads and heavy train loads, is a necessary foundation to traffic," said the witness. "It is often said that the railway should haul coal at any price and make its profit on hauling other products. This is not true. The coal movement is spasmodic. Instead of being adapted to filling out our trains it monopolizes almost our entire facilities at the worst season of the year, cold weather.

"On one road alone the bituminous coal hauled amounted to 30.52 per cent of the total revenue tonnage, yet this paid only 11 per cent of the total freight revenue.

Not Carrying Share of Burden.

"Coal is not carrying its share of the burden for many reasons. First, there is an enormous empty haul, the percentage of empty cars to loaded cars being nearly 100 per cent. Secondly, there is the tremendous spread in the volume of business with commissions, states and courts all demanding that we be equipped for the maximum. Thirdly, weather changes or an impending strike may increase the consumption of coal overnight by 25 per cent at the same time that the transportation ability of a road is cut 50 per cent."

TELLS COMMISSION HE WAS "IN ERROR"

Allan Ryan Changes Mind and Answers Questions Put to Him.

Washington, March 23.—Allan A. Ryan, a New York stock broker and son of Thomas Fortune Ryan, the financier, told the senate ship bill lobby commission today he had been "in error" when some time ago he refused to answer the committee's questions about what business brought him to Washington during the last session of congress. At that time the committee gave Mr. Ryan until today to answer its questions and announced that it proposed to invoke a statute which Chairman Walsh thought covered his refusal.

Today, accompanied by his counsel, Mr. Ryan testified that on his visits to Washington he had not talked with senators, although his business concerned pending legislation. He reiterated, however, his visits had "nothing to do, directly or indirectly, with the ship bill."

"Was the same business the occasion of each of your visit to Washington?" asked Chairman Walsh.

"Yes," replied Mr. Ryan.

"Who were the senators or representatives to whom you talked about this matter?"

"I did not talk with any senators about it. I did talk to Representative Flood of Virginia."

The examination of Mr. Ryan was pressed no further and the committee adjourned until tomorrow, when Earl W. Mayo of the Press Service company of New York and Cortland Smith of the American Press association will testify.

STEAMSHIP MAY BE FORFEITED TO U. S.

Proceedings Against German Vessel Will Be Brought By Washington.

Washington, March 23.—Proceedings under the neutrality resolution, passed during the closing days of the last congress, will be brought against the captain and owners of the Hamburg-American liner Odenwald, halted by shots across her bows when she attempted to leave San Juan, Porto Rico, without clearance papers last Sunday. This was made known today at the White House.

Attorney General Gregory said as he went to the cabinet meeting that definite steps would be taken within the next few days.

Forfeiture of the vessel to the United States is among the penalties which may be imposed in case it is established that she attempted to leave port without clearance papers for the purpose of carrying supplies of any kind or men to a belligerent ship at sea.

DECLARE SEIZURE OF DACIA VALID

French Commission Reports and Case Now Goes to Prize Court.

Paris, March 23, via London—A commission of inquiry into the capture by a French cruiser of the American steamship Dacia while on a voyage from the United States to Rotterdam with a cargo of cotton on board has declared the seizure to be valid.

The case now goes before the French prize court, which is allowed two months to hand down its decision.

The Dacia belonged formerly to the Hamburg-American line. She changed her registry and became an American ship after the outbreak of hostilities. Laden with cotton and destined to Germany, she was picked up by a French cruiser and taken into Brest. Two questions have arisen in connection with the Dacia case; one is the validity of the transfer of her registry and the other the disposition of her cargo.

WILL ORDER FOUR BLOCKS PAVED

East Sixth Street and Sixteenth Avenue East Will Be Improved.

Next Monday afternoon the city council will order the paving of Sixth street, between Fifteenth and Eighteenth avenues east, and Sixteenth avenue east from Sixth to Seventh streets.

Commissioner Murchison is preparing a resolution, which he will introduce next Monday, ordering the improvement of East Sixth street and the one block on Sixteenth avenue some time this spring, the work to be done by day labor. An 80-per-cent advance assessment will be levied.

Petitions for the improving of the two streets are now on file with the city clerk, and it is expected that no opposition will develop after the work is ordered. It is estimated that the pavements will cost about $17,000.

HAS A BILL FOR CONVENTIONS

Senator Bray of Wisconsin Introduces Measure in Legislature.

Madison, Wis., March 23.—Senator Bray introduced a bill in the senate today providing for delegate conventions by political parties the second Tuesday of July of election years. The convention is to be based on the unit of 500 voters in an assembly district; will formulate the platform and elect by ballot the state central committee and state chairman.

In presidential years it will choose the electors. Voting by proxy will be prohibited. Delegates to the convention will be chosen in the spring election the first Tuesday in April. Candidates for delegates will be nominated on papers containing 3 per cent signatures of party votes at previous elections, and will be voted for on an official ballot to be provided at each polling place. Candidates for delegate are limited to a disbursement of $50 and each will be required to file a disbursement account two weeks after election. Other provisions of the corrupt practice act apply in the usual way.

Bills Killed.

The senate killed the Bosshard bill prohibiting common law marriages, and the Culbertson bill allowing commission cities to return to the aldermanic form after four years' trial.

The assembly sent to engrossment the Bradley bill to repeal the appropriation of $255,000 for new buildings at the state fair grounds contingent upon Milwaukee county donating certain lands for extension of the grounds.

After an hour's debate the assembly killed the Bennett bill to permit the Goodyear Lumber company of Tomah to remove the timber from certain lands in Vilas county, bought by the state from the company under an alleged misapprehension.

The assembly passed the Doble bill requiring the attendance of children between the ages of 14 and 16 at continuation schools, if not attending other schools.

Both houses adjourned until tomorrow.

The city commission appointed John A. Bardon and W. C. Merrill as park commissioners this morning. They were appointed to take the positions recently resigned by B. D. Merrill and H. W. Dietrich.

REPLY OF UNITED STATES NOT READY

Will Be No Further Correspondence Regarding Foodstuffs Agreement.

Washington, March 23.—President Wilson said today the American government's reply to the declaration by Great Britain and France of an embargo on commercial intercourse between Germany and neutral countries was not yet ready.

It was made clear at the White House that there will be no further correspondence with Germany or Great Britain on obtaining an agreement with reference to foodstuffs and the submarine blockade. The president pointed out to callers today that the United States, of course, had no right to ask the two belligerents to agree to anything as between themselves, but thought it a moral obligation to suggest the means for an agreement.

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST

WILL REPORT ON FRANCHISE

Crookston People Will Hear Report of Committee Recently Appointed.

Question of Solving Water and Light Tangle Is Agitating City.

Crookston, Minn., March 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—This evening a mass meeting of local citizens will be held to hear a report of a committee of three citizens named at a mass meeting some time ago to co-operate with the members of the city council to ascertain the best solution of the water and light tangle.

The franchise of the Crookston Waterworks Power and Light company recently expired and efforts are being made to figure out a satisfactory schedule of charges by the same company.

The franchise contains a provision that if the city did not take the plant over at the expiration of the franchise, it would be automatically renewed for another 30-year period. Claims are made that this provision is invalid, but this is a disputed question. Nevertheless, the waterworks company is willing to make important voluntary reductions, which some claim are more advantageous than for the city to plan taking over the plant later.

CROOKSTON MAN BUYS BADGER PAPER INTEREST

Crookston, Minn., March 23.—W. P. McCausland went to St. Croix Falls, Wis., and closed the deal for the purchase of a half interest in the newspaper and plant of the Standard Press. He expects to leave for there some time this week, accompanied by his family and assume his new duties of the paper. He is favorably impressed with the prospects in his line of work at St. Croix Falls.

JUNIOR SHORT COURSE AT CROOKSTON SCHOOL

Crookston, Minn., March 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Northwest School of Agriculture here will hold its fourth junior short course for boys and girls from the rural schools the week of April 5-10. The regular school course closes on April 2 and immediately after, with all the faculty members present, the junior course will begin. The work is made as interesting as possible and entirely practical, no text books being used. Great enthusiasm is shown by the students and is kept at its highest pitch by contests in grain and corn judging, stock judging, horticultural work, and cooking and sewing. Prizes are awarded for the best work. Excursions to Crookston are included in the daily program.

A large attendance is expected this spring judging by the interest being shown by the county superintendents and rural teachers. All boys and girls between the ages of 12 and 18 are eligible. The cost of the entire week at the school, including room and board, is only $2. No other charges will be made.

WILL FATTEN SHEEP ON CUT-OVER LANDS.

Couderay, Wis., March 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—A. S. French of St. Paul, Minn., who owns and operates several large ranches in Montana, has just closed a deal for 3,000 acres of cut-over hardwood lands north of Winter. He will fence the tract and ship in between 4,000 and 5,000 sheep this spring and pasture them on this land next summer. The erection of large sheep sheds on this land as well as buildings for the housing of the employes will soon be started.

RAISING TOMATOES IN NORTH DAKOTA

Experiment Station Figures Out Points How Culture Is Profitable.

Fargo, N. D., March 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—The results of the tomato experiments at the North Dakota experiment station are being published in Bulletin No. 111, which contains a good deal of interest, and brings out the fact that there are good possibilities for the production of tomatoes in North Dakota in a commercial way.

The yields from the different strains of Earliana, one of the earliest tomatoes, varied from 23 to 38½ tons and the price that is paid for tomatoes for canning usually runs about $10 per ton.

The bulletin shows that the earliest tomatoes are produced on a rather light, warm, sandy soil, but that the largest yield and the most solid tomatoes are secured on a heavy clay soil. The distance apart to plant is given as 4 by 4 feet or 5 by 5 feet. On poor soil thicker planting can be made.

100 Days to Ripen.

The earliest varieties require at least 100 days from the time the seed is planted until the tomatoes begin to ripen and the largest tomatoes are produced in 130 to 140 days after the planting of the seed. In order to get the tomatoes early they need to be started in greenhouse or hot bed. It was found that the tomatoes planted April 6 gave the largest yield. Those planted March 6 came next and the March 26 planting, third. The tomatoes that were planted too early were large and hence were checked when being transplanted. The earliest tomatoes were secured from those planted March 6 and transplanted May 13. However, when transplanted to the field this early it will be necessary to have some protection from frost. Plant forcers are declared fine for this. These are small boxes with a glass top which is set right over the plant and acts very much like having the plant in a cold frame. The plants can also be covered by straw to protect them from early frosts.

NO RACE SUICIDE IN FERTILE, MINN.

Leads All Other Polk County Towns in Births Over Deaths.

Crookston, Minn., March 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—The stork completely distanced the grim reaper in Polk county in 1914, according to the vital statistics just compiled by Clerk of Court Waage, as there were 800 births reported against 335 deaths.

Fertile had the best record of any village, with 18 births against 4 deaths, and Winger the best township record, with 22 births against 3 deaths, though Angus township has the best percentage with 5 births and but 1 death.

In Crookston there were 176 births to 95 deaths, this including the deaths of a number of non-residents at the two local hospitals.

McVILLE, N. D., IS GOING AFTER SETTLERS

McVille, N. D., March 23. — (Special to The Herald.)—Every business man of McVille participated in the annual booster banquet of the McVille Commercial club, in a local hotel. This gathering followed the annual meeting of the club, when E. C. Olsgard was elected president; F. F. Lippert, vice president, and O. U. Tyler, secretary and treasurer.

The club decided upon an active campaign to increase the city's command of the trade from the surrounding district.

STATE LAND SALES IN NORTH DAKOTA.

Bismarck, N. D., March 22. — There will be a sale of state school lands in six counties in June as follows: Mercer county, June 2, 9,158 acres; Dunn, June 4, 11,038 acres; Stark, June 5, 13,707 acres; Burke, June 8, 3,752 acres; Divide, June 9, 17,440 acres, and Williams, June 11, 8,079 acres. One-fifth of the price is payable at the time of sale and the rest is stretched over a period of twenty years with interest at 6 per cent. Some 558,579.25 acres of school land will be leased in April.

FIND TACK IMBEDDED IN GIRL'S APPENDIX.

Harvey, N. D., March 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—A tack was found in the appendix of Miss Anna Hove of Pony Gulch, N. D., when she was operated on at a local hospital.

The girl had been suffering from appendicitis for several weeks before an operation was decided on. How she swallowed the tack is a mystery.

TWO IRONWOOD PEOPLE SLIP, BREAKING LEG.

Ironwood, Mich., March 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—John M. Coumbe, a local merchant, slipped and fell on the ice as he was about to get on a wagon on Day street, sustaining a fracture of both bones of his right leg just above the ankle and will be laid up for several months.

Willie Hooper, a senior in the Ironwood high school, slipped on the ice while going from the Luther L. Wright school over to the manual training school and broke his leg.

BETTER DAIRY HERDS AROUND FLASHER, N. D.

Flasher, N. D., March 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—Dairying is winning its way in this section and recently a shipment of twenty-nine Holstein cattle was received. Of these two are pure bred sires and eight are pure bred cows. The other nineteen were three-quarter breed Holstein cows and heifers. They will form the foundation for the dairy industry in this part of the state. A great deal of corn and alfalfa is now being raised here.

NEW SETTLERS COMING.

Quite Large Immigration Around Milnor, N. D., This Year.

Milnor, N. D., March 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—This section of the state is attracting more immigration this spring than for years. Already during the present month seven families have arrived here and moved onto farms. Three of these were from South Dakota, three from near Luverne, Minn., and the other one from this state. All brought their own livestock and machinery, bringing in thirteen cars of immigrants' moveables. Realty has been active and there are a number of others inquiring for land. It is practically certain seven more farmers will locate here between now and April 15. The country is in splendid condition.

TOO MUCH TALK IS BURGLAR'S UNDOING

Chief Actor in Dickinson, N. D., Burglary Gives Himself Away.

Dickinson, N. D., March 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—Indiscreet remarks in the presence of new found friends proved the undoing of Frank Charles, charged with robbing the Frankenburg pool hall here.

He was arrested at Hardin, Mont., to which place he went immediately following the burglary. Free with his money, he reaped a profit of $153 in the robbery. Charles soon made friends, and it was while celebrating with them that he dropped a few remarks that led to the suspicion that he was implicated in the Dickinson robbery.

When arrested, Charles admitted his guilt, confessing the entire affair.

SEEDING STARTS IN RED RIVER VALLEY

Earliest Wheat Sown in "World's Bread Basket" in Years.

Crookston, Minn., March 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—The first 1915 seeding in the Red River valley began yesterday, when Charles Ditman, in Andover township, southwest of Crookston, started his drags and sowed a few acres of wheat.

While this is not a record date, only once or twice in the history of Polk county has grain been sown at as early a date.

NORTH DAKOTA CHILD IS FATALLY KICKED BY FATHER'S HORSE.

Milnor, N. D., March 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—Running to meet his father, who was coming home driving a team, the 7-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. August Johnson was kicked by one of the horses which became frightened at his approach. The horse struck the boy in the abdomen and some of the intestines were bursted. The lad died soon afterwards.

ALLEGED EMBEZZLER IS HAVING HEARING.

Crookston, Minn., March 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—Louis J. Kramer is today having a hearing before Judge L. E. Gossman of the municipal court on a charge of having embezzled $800 of the funds of the Northern Sign company with which concern he was employed for nearly a year.

Kramer was arrested in Winnipeg by Sheriff Kelly and returned without extradition papers. It is understood that he will claim some of the money was due him, and a settlement may be effected by his father who arrived today.

GOVERNOR WILL SPEAK AT THIEF RIVER FALLS.

Thief River Falls, Minn., March 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—The new Carnegie library building being erected here will be dedicated May 4. Governor W. S. Hammond will deliver the principal address.

Leaves Many Descendants.

Minneapolis, Minn., March 23.—Mrs. Sarah Brin, 80 years old, who had been a resident of Minneapolis for forty years, is dead. Her husband, who died four years ago, was one of the pioneer dry goods merchants of Minneapolis. She leaves six daughters, two sons, twenty-nine grandchildren and two great-grandchildren. The funeral will be at 2 p. m. today at the home.

WISCONSIN BRIEFS

Stevens Point — EarlA. Kyle, aged 26, brakeman on the Soo line, was struck by a bathe chute while switching at Chelsea and ground under the train. He leaves a wife. His parents live at Colby.

Madison—The state railroad commission is preparing a decision which, it is reported, will call for improved street car service in Milwaukee. The decision may not be given out for two weeks, but the matter has been gone over and the commision has decided upon its findings.

Kenosha—The biggest verdict in a personal injury suit ever filed in Kenosha county was returned in the suit of Minnie Extra vs. the Chicago & Milwaukee Electric Railway company. The child is 7 years of age and lost a foot as a result of being run down by a car on the lines of the defendant company. The jury valued her foot at $14,000 and the verdict declared that the cause of her injury had been negligence on the part of the motorman in charge of the car.

Antigo—Peter M. Smith, 24 years old, a brakeman on the Chicago & Northwestern railroad, was killed Sunday morning at Bryant while switching. Smith was about to make a coupling and, slipping, fell between the cars, the wheels passing over his body.

Oshkosh—James N. Dougherty, 50 years old, patrolman for twelve years, died here Sunday afternoon of pneumonia.

Washburn — Notices have been postde throughout the dynamite plant of the E. I. du Pont company to the effect that a 20 per cent increase in wages of all pay roll employes will go into force.

Green Bay—The People's Saving & Trust company of this city, capitalized at $50,000 and with a list of 200 stockholders, including fifty or more bankers of the state, with several from Milwaukee, opened a new banking house here on Monday.

DAKOTA BRIEFS

BY BRUCE.

LIFE is made up of all sorts of phases. She is a complex creature, this old life thing. One man will take mental punishment for years and swing along on the rift of things with a crust of bread, while others, seeking the intangible thing called fame, will suffer the racking tortures that go with bodily pain in the effort to plunge over the goal line.

Kid Lavigne was an undersized French kid down in Saginaw, Mich., when tough souls heaved a sigh of intense relief after a bad night in that lumberjack town. There must have been something in the soul of Kid Lavigne—if prizefighters have souls—that kept crying out for fame, that leered at the subconscious voice that called through the pain and rack of torture to quit.

George Siddons came down to Saginaw and fought some sixty odd rounds with the unknown Saginaw Kid. Siddons was an experienced fighter, with the taste of fame. When they stopped the battle the Saginaw Kid cried bitterly and attempted to wreak his spirit of vengeance on his brother Bill.

Then came the battle with Joe Wolcott. In that battle—we merely repeat a few sordid details—Wolcott knocked one of Lavigne's ears nearly off. The ear hung to the head of the white boy by a thread of skin. Men in the crowd turned from the shambles with faces contorted with disgust. The sight of witnessing a burly negro beat up a poor white boy was one calculated to raise race passions.

But there was something in Lavigne that Wolcott lacked. The world is not composed all of muscle or bulk, despite the theory of Attila the Hun. Deep down in the black a voice cried out with fear and urged Joe to quit; while that subconscious self of Lavigne urged him on, infuriating him and making a demon of a man who was verging on the grim abyss of exhaustion. Lavigne won and climbed to the topmost rung of the ladder of fame. Maybe Thoreau had a man of the same tenacity of mind when he spoke of them breaking a path through the woods. They couldn't keep Lavigne hidden in Saginaw—and that is an awful town for genius to lurk in.

Dick Mansfield was an unknown actor. Maybe fame destined him to become famous, who knows the workings of things. Maybe mentally he was tenacious, unbeatable, as Lavigne was physically. Maybe the inner voice kept urging him on, turning one failure into a hardened ligament of renewed effort.

Mansfield used to carry a warm baked potato around in his pocket to keep his hands warm, speculating the meanwhile on how good it would taste to his ravenous appetite. They could not keep the mental courage of this man down—where others scented failure, he drove out a victory.

In a candle lit barn, back in the old days when the love of victory drove out all thought of money, Jack McAuliffe one night fought on when body and mind ached under the rack of illness. Lining the sides of the ropes that formed the rude ring, was a crowd of thugs, intent to do bodily injury to the fighting Irishman.

From the back recesses of the crowd blows were struck at McAuliffe, whenever he came near the ropes. Once a man swung a club at the head of the fighter. Threats were muttered against McAuliffe, imprecations were hurled out of the semi-darkness upon him.

Cowards quake and shake at the approach of danger. Whether it is cotton thread in the nerves, or a pasty substance, we know not. A hero or a brave man must be an individual of a single purpose. Though death may scurry upon him with clattering wings, he smiles and fights on.

Those thugs in the crowd couldn't make McAuliffe quit. All the time he fought his cool brain was working with the precision of a machine. He circled warily in the center of the ring, fighting his opponent and those waiting to encompass his downfall. Down deep, somewhere in the being of this gallant man, a voice kept singing the ancient prayer of victory—and the voice drowned out the threats of a hundred thugs.

John Milton will never be known particularly as a fighting man, though John got mussy in English politics once or twice; and yet one of the greatest works in the English language was written after Milton was blind, grouping in the black despair of a strange and unkind world.

Geniuses have fought back savagely at life with a crust of bread—and the little voice for companions. The fighter and the mental giant are grim comrades of a grim path of conquest.

For eighteen rounds at Colma Jimmy Britt pounded the bloody features of Battling Nelson. As they led the pride of California weeping to his dressing room, he wailed and cursed at the nightmare of a bleeding and grinning face, that ever pursued him. The face was the memory of the indomitable Nelson. The Poet Heine held an eye open with a palsied hand as he lay on his death bed, writing with the last breath denunciation and hate of his enemies.

No, Bill, you'll find the little militant voice in the souls of many men in many walks of this old pig iron world. Stanley Ketchel wanted to shoot his seconds when they begged the blinded and reeling fighter to let them throw the sponge into the ring. Napoleon Bonaparte strove to achieve greater self mastery in the last days at St. Helena. At Richmond Battling Nelson, reeling, blinded and staggering around the ring, felt his way along the ropes in his grim but ineffectual assault at the triumphant Wolgast. Also Demosthenes juggled pebbles on his awkward tongue long years before fame made a golden circle on his beaming brow.

She is a hard world, but we must be brave.

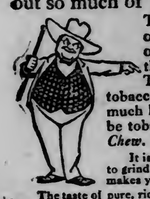
THE GRATEFUL FRIEND MAKES A SPECIAL EFFORT TO THANK THE GOOD JUDGE

I JUST HAD TO GIT HERE SOME HOW, JUDGE, AND TELL YOU HOW MUCH I LIKE THAT REAL TOBACCO CHEW- NEARLY ALL THE FOLKS UP OUR WAY ARE USING IT.
I'M GLAD, MY MAN, TO SEE YOU. YOU KNOW A GOOD THING FOR SURE.

MIGHTY good reasons for a man to feel thankful to the friend who first introduced him to the Real Tobacco Chew.

Tobacco solace and comfort are worth finding and worth passing on to others.

A little chew of pure, rich, mellow tobacco—cut fine, short shred—seasoned and sweetened just enough, cuts out so much of the grinding and spitting.



Take a very small chew—less than one-quarter the old size. It will be more satisfying than a mouthful of ordinary tobacco. Just nibble on it until you find the strength chew that suits you. Tuck it away. Then let it rest. See how easily and evenly the real tobacco taste comes, how it satisfies without grinding, how much less you have to spit, how few chews you take to be tobacco satisfied. That's why it is The Real Tobacco Chew. That's why it costs less in the end.

It is a ready chew, cut fine and short shred so that you won't have to grind on it with your teeth. Grinding on ordinary candied tobacco makes you spit too much.

The taste of pure, rich tobacco does not need to be covered up with molasses and liquorice. Notice how the salt brings out the rich tobacco taste in "Right-Cut."

One small chew takes the place of two big chews of the old kind.

CRACK TEAM FOR DULUTH

Lawrence Duby Will Place Independent Diamond Stars in Field.

Lawrence Duby has completed plans for the organization of a strong independent baseball team. While all of the candidates have not been lined up as yet, it is believed that there will be a number of former Northern leaguers in the lineup when the first game of the season is played.

With a crack independent team at Hibbing, made up of some of the former Northern league stars, such as Jerry Edmunds, George Withers and others, and strong teams at Virginia, Chisholm and other of the range towns, and with the promise of the organization of a crack independent team at Superior, Duby believes that the approaching season should prove a banner one for independent teams.

Some time ago it was stated that some of the Northern league stars would be found in the lineup of the Superior team. Judge Brady has some real stars signed for his Hibbing team. Duby is figuring on staging a series of games for the independent championship of the Northwest. Some of the crack teams of St. Paul, Minneapolis and other towns will be brought here, while all of the range towns will prove able opponents.

NEW LEADERS IN A. B. C. TOURNAMENT

Philadelphia Tops Singles, Detroiters Head Doubles and Chicagoans Fives.

Peoria, Ill., March 23.—Walter Cook of Philadelphia, rolling at the American Bowling congress, yesterday took the lead with a score of 697. F. B. Mample of St. Paul took second place with 675. Cook's score of 697 is the highest ever rolled in the singles at an American Bowling congress tournament with the exception of 699 rolled in 1908 by R. Wengler of Chicago and 705 by Thomas Haley of Detroit in 1910.

New leaders also appeared in the doubles when H. Allen and R. Allen of Detroit shot 1,297. Only once before has this been beaten. In 1909 A. Schwogler and T. Schwogler of Madison, Wis., rolled 1,304.

Late last night in the five-men event, the Barry Ketteler, K. C. team of Chicago took the lead with 2,907. The Lake Forest five of Chicago took eighth place with 2,804.

SPRING BALL GAMES

Charlottesville, Va., March 23.—The Washington Americans defeated the University of Virginia yesterday, 5 to 1. A high wind caused an end to hostilities at the end of the sixth inning. Walter Johnson made his season's debut and during the three innings he worked the collegians secured two hits and their only tally.

Waco, Tex., March 23.—The Cleveland Americans yesterday defeated the local Texas league team, 8 to 4.

Stockton, Cal., March 23.—The Chicago American league regulars defeated Portland of the Coast league, 10 to 6, here yesterday.

Macon, Ga., March 23.—The Boston Nationals defeated the Atlanta Southern association team here yesterday, 13 to 5.

TENNIS TOURNAMENT DATES IN MINNESOTA.

New York, March 23. — The schedule of tournament dates officially sanctioned by the United States National Lawn Tennis association for 1915-16 as given out last night by Robert D. Wrenn, president, included the following: July 24, Deephaven, Lake Minnetonka, Minn., Northwestern championship; Aug. 28, White Bear Lake Yacht club, White Bear Lake, Minn., Minnesota state championship; Aug. 16, Town club, Milwaukee, Wis., Wisconsin state championship.

CURLING MAKING A BRAVE FIGHT

One Game Was Played Last Evening—Curlers to Meet on April 6.

There is still some enthusiasm in the systems of some of the curlers. Last evening Doc Catterson defeated Matzke in a game for the Little & Nolte buttons, taking his opponent down the line by the score of 16 to 12. There are still a number of games to be played for the buttons. With the water running off the floor of the skating rink onto the roof of the curling house, it looks rather dubious for the completion of the games.

The annual meeting of the curling club members will be held on April 6. There are a number of important matters to come up for the consideration of the members. It is stated that some discussion may arise over some of the present rules and regulations of the club.

WILTSE WILL MANAGE JERSEY CITY TEAM.

New York, March 23.—Edward J. Barrow, president of the International league, announced last night that he had signed George Wiltse, formerly of the New York Nationals, to manage the Jersey City team for the coming season.

HUGE PURSE IS OFFERED FOR PACKEY AND MIKE

PACKEY M'FARLAND.

It looks as if Packey McFarland, the Adonis of the ring, and one of the cleverest boxers the game has ever produced, may be enticed into a meeting with Mike Gibbons. Tommy Andrews of Milwaukee, veteran sport writer and boxing promoter, is said to have deposited $25,000 in a Chicago bank to go as a purse for a meeting between McFarland and the wonderful boxer of St. Paul. It is believed that this contest would go down in history as a scientific exhibition. It would also draw a huge house.

WHITE SOX WILL TRAIN AT HOME

Candidates for Team to Report Here April 20.

Candidates for the Duluth White Sox team will report here on April 20 for the preliminary training of the season. The rules passed by the Northern league this season forbid any spring training trips, and for that reason all of the training of all of the teams will be done at home.

O'Brien has a host of youngsters and the weeding out process will require time and patience. The workouts will be done at Athletic park. Fans here will have a great opportunity to study the candidates for the team before the start of the season.

ZENITH FURNACE TEAM ORGANIZED

Many Candidates to Try for Amateur Baseball Pennant.

The Zenith Furnace baseball team has re-organized for the coming season. Last season it defeated a number of the fastest out-of-town teams. The candidates consist of members of last year's team, and also several fast men from other teams of the city. Brown, the heady catcher of the Zeniths, is back from a trip in the north woods and will be in the lineup. McDougall and Guilland will do the throwing.

McDougall pitched a number of no-hit games last season, and Guilland did the throwing for the Patricks, champions of the Commercial league.

Ernest Anderson plays a strong game at first, getting everything; Donald will be on second and is expected to show the brilliancy of former games; Wade is a stone wall at short, and Scanlon is considered the fastest third-sacker in the city.

There are a number of fast outfielders trying for all positions—Doig and Baker of the Board of Trade team and Benda, Ross, Roswold and Nelson, also of fast amateur teams. They would like to arrange games with fast out-of-town teams of the Northwest. For games, address Ernest Anderson, care Duluth Street Railway company.

BEMIDJI FANS PLEASED.

Like Selection of Lloyd Tanner on All-Star State Quint.

Bemidji, Minn., March 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—Although the Bemidji high school basket ball team failed to land the state title, Bemidji fans are jubilant since the selection of Lloyd Tanner as a member of the all-state team, with Ray Johnson, the other Bemidji forward, a close second.

During the past winter these two forwards, the fastest to ever represent the Bemidji high school, have played a wonderful game and have been a real credit to the Bemidji team. It is quite probable that both will play on the high school team next year, and the only man to leave the team will be Fred Graham, who for the past three years has been recognized as one of the best high school basket ball guards in the state.

SKATING AND ROWING— THE SEASONS COLLIDE.

Here it is where the opposing elements of weather run rudely into one another and make violent faces. On Saturday evening of last week Angus Grant, Roy Kent and several other members of Prof. Jimmy Ten Eyck's rowing squad were down at the curling club enjoying a beautiful skate. On Sunday morning Gus Grant, Roy Kent and a number of other hardy young men of Jimmy's squad were out on the waters of the bay in abbreviated rowing costumes, enjoying that beautiful summer sport. Winter—skating—and summer—rowing—met face to face. The running card of the seasons has been jumbled and a collision resulted.

BASKET BALL TO HOLD THE BOARDS

Boys' Department to Stage Tourney in High School Gym.

All winter there have been a large number of boys' basket ball teams in the city all claiming the championship in certain grades and to settle all disputes the cabinet of the boys' department has decided to hold a tournament all next week. Already five teams have entered, including the high school gym team, the Denfeld team, the Columbias and the best of the boys' teams of the city.

The tournament is open to any organized team of the city and each team will be placed in a group of teams as near its ability as possible. There will be a grade for grade school teams and church teams and so on up to the high school teams. The games will be played at the boys' department during the holidays next week and a banner will be given to the team winning the championship.

All entries must be in at the boys' department not later than Friday, March 26, at which time a rally will be held and the grades made. The members of all teams are invited to this rally.

WEST DULUTH BOXER TO MAKE HIS DEBUT

"Battling" Brasky of West Duluth will make his pugilistic debut the night Mandot and Brown clash. The local light is to meet a heavyweight by the name of Ward, who hails from Butte, Mont. The two worthies will provide the semi-windup to the main bout of the evening.

Colle Munro, stanch friend of Pal Brown, passed through Duluth yesterday, en route to Hudson, where Ray Temple and Red Watson meet tonight. Munro stated that Harley Davidson was boxing with Brown and teaching Pal some new footwork.

BRADLEY WINS FROM OLDHAM

Revenge Secured in Return Curling Game—Dinner at St. Louis.

The Bradley rink took revenge last night at the Curling club on the over-confident and ambitious Oldham crew and swamped them to the tune of 16 to 6. Flushed with a victory over Bradley and cohorts last Friday night, when the latter were badly crippled, Oldham hoped to duplicate his former success, but his opponents were too strong.

Sixteen heads were played, each man skipping four heads, and in not a single series was the Oldham crowd in the lead. A large gallery watched the play, which was exciting at all times and at the conclusion of the game. Automobiles were waiting, which conveyed victors and vanquished to the St. Louis hotel, where a most lavish and excellent dinner was served to eight hungry curlers.

Last night ends the season's play at the local club, which has been the most successful in its history, great credit for the same being due to John Oldham, and "here's hoping he's with us again next year," say the curlers.

The players, all of whom later on hugely enjoyed the hospitality of the losers, follow: Laird Goodman, Palmer Harbison, Rudolph Schiller, John Oldham, W. R. Patten, Ray Bishoff, Sam Cleveland and Ralph Bradley.

WILL BUY TEAM.

Federal League Would Avoid Receivership of Indianapolis Club.

Chicago, March 23.—The Federal league will buy the franchise of the Indianapolis club if the stockholders will withdraw their suit to have the club placed in the hands of a receiver, according to President James A. Gilmore, who returned last night from Indianapolis.

"The Federal league will buy the Indianapolis club's franchise provided no receiver is appointed today," said Mr. Gilmore. "This offer was made in Indianapolis last night and we feel that it will be accepted when suitable terms are agreed upon."

Gilmore will return to Indianapolis today when a meeting of the stockholders of the club will be held.

King Withdraws Nags.

London, March 23.—King George has withdrawn all his horses entered for the Lincoln and Liverpool meetings this week. According to the Daily Express, six of the king's horses were entered for twelve events.

HUEY AND DALY TIED FOR BILLIARD HONORS.

Chicago, March 23.—William Huey of Chicago lost his first game last night in the world's three-cushion billiards championship tournament here, and is now tied with John Daly of New York for first place, each having seven victories and one defeat. Charles Ellis of Cleveland defeated Huey, 50 to 41, in 61 innings, his high runs being 11 and 8. Huey ran 6. Daly had reached second place by earlier defeating Lloyd Jevne of Milwaukee, 50 to 39.

John Haman of Minneapolis defeated August Kieckhefer of Milwaukee in the first of yesterday's matches. The score was: Haman, 50; Kieckhefer, 44.

In the second afternoon game, Joe Capron of St. Paul defeated George Moore of New York, 50 to 36.

Fifteen Years for Murder.

Logan, Iowa, March 23.—J. C. Parks, a farmer living near Mondamin, who shot and killed his wife last December, pleaded guilty to second degree murder yesterday and was sentenced to fifteen years' imprisonment. Jealousy is said to have prompted the crime.

TEN EYCK OUTLINES WORK FOR HIS SENIOR SQUAD

Much Sculling Will Be Done By Veteran Oarsmen of Club.

Senior Four Will Enter Both National and International Events.

BY BRUCE.

Jimmy Ten Eyck took his senior oarsmen into a heart-to-heart conference last evening and outlined in tentative plan the work that will start the season and continue as the program until something arises to advise against it.

As previously stated in this paper, the senior four will not be used as a part of the eight during the approaching season. The tentative plan, as outlined by Jimmy, calls for Dave Horak as a candidate for the junior and intermediate singles. Max Rheinberger will go forth in quest of honors in the same events. The Moore boys—Dug and Phil—will be coached for the doubles.

Kent, Hoover and Grant will be sent after junior and intermediate sculling events at the Springfield National, while Kent and Grant will also enter the junior and senior sculling events at the Northwestern. Hoover, having won the senior sculling event at Kenora last season, is ineligible for the junior sculls.

Strong in Sculling.

In addition to sending his men out for the intermediate events, Jimmy has Kent, Hoover and Art Osman in mind for the senior singles. The events open to these men are the quarter mile association event and the mile and a quarter association championship. If a Duluthian should happen to win the association singles championship, he will immediately become eligible for the national championship. Some of the optimistic-minded followers of the boat club are building large faith mansions around the ability of Hoover.

Then there is the quadruple four. This will prove a new and radical departure for Duluth, just as entering the sculling events of the national is something decidedly of an innovation for the members of the progressive Ten Eyck school of rowing.

Kent, Hoover, Osman, Grant and Rheinberger are the men Jimmy has in mind at the present for the quadruple event. As we stated some time back, Ten Eyck is very sure that his crew will be able to wrest the long-held championship from the Charles River Rowing club. Like the restless Alexander of years that have yored, James sighs for more worlds to conquer.

About the Senior Eight.

This brings the program down to the senior eight. From present indications it looks as if the crew will be a decidedly light one; in fact, the lightest senior eight that Duluth has sent forth in years.

Forrestall, Forsell, Hagberg, Hall, Sutherland, Snyder, Troyer, Prudden and Hargraves are the seniors Ten Eyck has in mind for his eight. There is the possibility that Williams and Whiteside, of last year's senior eight, will return from college and try for the crew.

There is also the possibility that some of the junior men will prove formidable enough to win places in the senior boat. Another possibility lurks around the corner—the junior eight may prove faster than the senior boat.

"I have outlined the tentative program," said Jimmy Ten Eyck today, "but of course it may be advisable or necessary to change it later in the season. I told the old men that it might prove necessary for them to go back to the eight, should the men I have decided upon now as candidates prove too light.

"Sometimes it happens that you pay too much attention to sculling and lose out in both sculling and the sweep events. The progress of the sweep men may determine our sculling program. I want the boys to scull and want the Duluth Boat club to win honors in that branch of the sport. But at the same time it would hardly be advisable to weaken our sweep strength to develop a bunch of scullers."

Watch the Senior Four.

Last season at Philadelphia the famous senior four of the local club—the one, by the way, that so easily vanquished the famous Cox Riley crew—won the International four event. There is in addition to this the National four event. In the old days of the association the International event was rowed over a straightaway course, while the National was rowed with a turn. When the straightaway races came into vogue, the two events were kept on the program. There is little difference in them.

The coming season the Duluth senior four, in addition to the sculling work that has been mentioned, will row in both the National and International events. There will be some work for this crew—but the boys are used to it.

As the national champions there is much work cut out for the Duluth crews the coming season. Ten Eyck has got his men going early; this is to be the banner year in the history of the club, if indications mature.

Duluth will be entered in every event of the Northwestern regatta and nearly every event in the Springfield National. No wonder Coach James is eager to get into the swing of the thing. Speaking of material, it should be stated that there are some excellent junior candidates and that some of the seniors may be crowded hard before the season is very old.

WOULD ABANDON SPRING TRIPS AND CLOSE MANY MINOR PARKS

Chicago, March 23.—All local baseball authorities disagreed yesterday as to the suggestion of David L. Fultz of the Baseball Players' fraternity that a board of arbitration be appointed for the warring factions. They agreed, however, that many baseball players will be ouet of a job during the coming season.

Federal league officials approved the plan, but organized baseball men thought it came too late to be effective. They said:

James A. Gilmore, president of the Federal league—"Fultz's idea is all right. Differences could be settled in a short time."

Charles Weeghman, Chicago Federals—"I have been for arbitration from the start. I have never been in favor of court baseball."

Charles H. Thomas, president Chicago Nationals—"The idea is a good one but it comes too late. The Federal league has done all the damage it could to the game, and now it is a survival of the fittest and may the best man win. It will have to be a finish fight."

B. B. Johnson, president of the American league—"Fultz's scheme is an old one but what would be the good of it? We did not start this fight. Fultz is right about a lot of players finding it hard to make a living at the game, but it must be remembered that the men themselves are partly responsible for the ills that have befallen them."

Johnson added that an immediate financial retrenchment was necessary in baseball and suggested that a solution of the difficulties in which club owners find themselves, lies in the abandonment of the spring training season for the majors, and the closing of the parks of five or six of the minor leagues for a few years.

"The national commission has been bombarded for requests for back salaries of late," he said. "These have all come from minor league players who were unable to collect from different clubs last year. If the owners could not pay their men last year, the chances are that they won't be able this year. I advocate the closing of the parks for at least a year.

"There will be hundreds of ball players on the market within a short time and who can afford to pay money for them? The minors? They are strapped. The majors? They have 250 to 300 more than they need.

"The spring training trips have come to be jokes. The clubs are losing something like $3,000 to $4,000 a year on the trips each and getting very little benefit."

OBSERVANCE OF PASSOVER WILL BEGIN MONDAY EVENING

In commemoration of the exodus from Egypt and the forty years of wandering in the desert, the Jews of Duluth will next Monday evening begin the observance of Passover, or Pesach, which will continue for seven days.

During Passover week the Jew eats unleavened bread or matzos, commemorative of the bread baked by the women of Israel on the night of their hurried departure from Egypt, when the dough was not given time in which to rise. In many Orthodox homes there are separate sets of dishes used only for Passover week, because of the difference in food eaten.

In Duluth the members of Temple Emanuel will hold a special Seder service in the vestry rooms next Monday evening, while there will be services at the Adash Israel synagogue on Monday and Tuesday evenings and the following Saturday and Sunday evenings.

Passover commemorates the first event in the Jew's national history and is often called his great "Independence Day." The festival is ushered in by a family service, called the Seder, at which certain symbolic ceremonials are observed. Each participant—and the lowliest is privileged to sit at the table that night—is required to drink four cups of wine, in memory of the four promises made by the Eternal to redeem Israel from bondage.

On the table are the unleavened cakes (matzos), the shin bone of a lamb (roasted on the coals), commemorative of the Taschal sacrifice, a roasted egg, a mixture of apples and nuts, (Charoseth), to symbolize the mortar with which the "Egyptians made bitter the lives" of the fathers, and bitter herbs (Maror), reminiscent of the unhappy days in Egypt.

In song and story, the tale of the oppression and the deliverance is rehearsed. Psalms of thanksgiving (Halleli), strike the keynote of the happy occasion. The services, interrupted for the family dinner, closes with a number of merry folk songs, expressive of the character of the celebration.

APPRAISERS' AWARD RAISED BY JURY

A. F. Kehl Wins Case in Right-of-Way for North Shore Boulevard.

A jury in district court late yesterday awarded August K. Kehl, a verdict for $1,072.50 as damages for an easement acquired by the city over his property for a right-of-way for the proposed North Shore boulevard. Appraisers in condemnation proceedings awarded him $597.43. Kehl wanted $3,000.

The property is located near Palmer's siding, a station on the Duluth & Iron Range railroad between Duluth and Two Harbors. It was visited yesterday morning by the jury in custody of a deputy sheriff.

The case was one of a number of appeal cases which are pending as a result of condemnation proceedings instituted by the city to acquire a right-of-way for a lake shore driveway extending from Lester Park to the Lake county line.

Victor H. Gran appeared in court as attorney for Kehl and the city was represented by Frank Crassweller and William P. Harrison.

BISHOP WILL TAKE ACTIVE PART IN DEDICATING NEW CATHEDRAL

Bishop James McGolrick of the diocese of Duluth will celebrate solemn pontifical high mass at the dedication of the $2,000,000 cathedral at St. Paul on the morning of April 11. Elaborate ceremonies are being arranged, and the head of the local bishopric will take a prominent part in the program, according to the tentative plans outlined by the Right Rev. J. J. Lawler, auxiliary bishop of St. Paul.

Archbishop Ireland will conduct the ceremony of blessing the cathedral at 10 o'clock on the morning of April 11, after which Bishop McGolrick will celebrate high mass. Bishop O'Gorman of Sioux Falls, S. D., will preach the sermon.

Many Duluthians are planning to attend the dedication of the cathedral, as the services will continue for several days, while services for Easter and Holy Week will be held in the new edifice. No invitations have been issued. The seating capacity is 4,000.

Next Saturday evening the gilded cross crowning the dome, 295 feet above the floor, will be illuminated, and the old cathedral bell, which now hangs in one of the turrets of the new cathedral, will sound the "Angelus." This will be the first official indication of divine worship in the edifice.

LAKE AND RAIL LINES CHECKED

Companies Would Advance Rates and Refuse Deliveries Under 50 Tons.

Action Is Blocked Temporarily By the Interstate Commerce Order.

Two moves made recently by the lake-and-rail lines as opposed to the interests of those whom they serve at the Head of the Lakes, have been blocked, temporarily, at least, by order of the interstate commerce commission, and hearings will be held before their final determination can be reached.

One affects Duluth directly and no other point except Superior at this end of the lake route, while the other case affects the Head of the Lakes and territory tributary thereto.

The first mentioned case is the rule promulgated by the Mutual Transit company, the Western Transit company and the Anchor line in which they refuse to deliver freight to receivers in less than 50-ton lots.

This affects every wholesale house in this harbor, and should the rule be allowed to stand, would work havoc with the receiving facilities of every jobber here. Under the old rule, package freighters bringing up the lakes freight for any of the houses having dockage on the bay, would deliver that freight at the warehouse dock of the company to which it was billed.

Under the new rule, now suspended by order of the interstate commerce commission until July 18, on petition of the Duluth traffic commission, freight for any such business house, such as Marshall-Wells, Stone-Ordean-Wells, Kelley-How-Thomson, Gowan-Lenning-Brown, Rust-Parker-Martin and others, which amounted to less than fifty tons, would be unloaded at the boat line's dock, and the house to which it was consigned would have to have it delivered at its own warehouses from there the best it could. Naturally most such transfers would be by rail, and the receiving house would have to pay additional for switching charges, and would be inconvenienced in receiving up-lake stuff and shipping to inland points because of the necessitated lack of rail facilities to and from their houses.

Dock Property Values.

Another serious phase of it, pointed out by G. Roy Hall, traffic commissioner for the Duluth Commercial club, is the effect it would have on dock property values. Mr. Hall declares that the permission of such a rule would almost nullify the dock property advantages enjoyed by Head of the Lakes houses. In this respect, Mr. Hall asserts, the effect would be too far-reaching and too great to figure out on paper until it would have been put into effect, but that it would have a seriously depressing result on values is patent.

With such a rule in force, receivers here would have to undergo the inconvenience and delay, it is pointed ont, of collecting their shipments at the other end of the line to bring it up to the fifty-ton mark, or permitting goods coming to them from eastern points to accumulate for that purpose. In short, it is declared, the rule would entail severe delay and loss in that way, or, if the goods were brought up in less than fifty-ton lots, loss by reason of extra cost of transportation from the boat-line docks to the house of the consignee would be suffered; it would be a loss either way.

Also, the traffic commission members believe, such a rule, applying as it would to the Duluth-Superior harbor alone, in the West, would prove discriminatory and in favor of houses at the Twin Cities and other points which have freight brought from the East lake-and-rail, in view of the fact that no additional charge would be made against them for extra delivery.

Decrease of Spread.

Still another phase of the matter is developed, that being, according to members of the traffic commission, that such a rule would be a roundabout way of decreasing the "spread" of lake-and-rail rates between the Head of the Lakes and the Twin Cities, a thing that the houses in the Twin Cities have been fighting for and which has been denied them by the interstate commerce commission.

The other matter, mentioned as blocking an attempt of the lake-and-rail lines, is in the matter of a 5 per cent advance in rates. Some time ago the interstate commerce commission refused to grant such an increase. On Feb. 15, the lake-and-rail lines issued a tariff, effective April 2, which again included a 5 per cent advance. About ten days ago, G. Roy Hall, traffic commissioner of the Duluth Commercial club, and the traffic commissioner of the Chicago Association of Commerce filed a protest against this attempt to again advance the rates, and yesterday word was received by wire that the rates had been suspended until a hearing could be had as to their reasonableness.

A member of the Duluth traffic commission said today that there is no better ground now than there was before for asking for such an advance, and it is felt certain that it will be turned down by the commission; but the marvel is, it is felt here, that the lake-and-rail lines should return to the charge time after time when the outcome seems to be certain defeat. It is expected that there will be interesting developments when the matter is heard by the interstate commerce commission. The date has not yet been set.

SWITCHMAN AGAIN PLEADS NOT GUILTY

Robertson, Accused of Theft of Copper, Will Stand Second Trial.

George K. Robertson appeared in district court yesterday afternoon and entered a plea of not guilty to a charge of grand larceny in the first degree contained in an indictment returned by the March grand jury. The specific charge is that of complicity in the theft of copper anodes worth $2,000 from a Northern Pacific box car on Nov. 5, 1913.

Robertson, who is a switchman, was tried on an indictment returned by the January grand jury charging the same offense, but the jury disagreed. A second jury was drawn, but County Attorney Greene was unwilling to proceed to trial. The January indictment was dismissed and Robertson was rearrested on the same charge. He was reindicted by the March grand jury.

Robertson is at liberty on a $2,000 bond. It is expected that he will be brought to trial in the near future. Joseph Regali, a switchman, and Zigmund Zalk, foreman in the Duluth Iron & Metal company's yard, were jointly accused of the theft with Robertson. Zalk admitted the crime and made a confession which implicated Robertson and Regali.

FIVE FINED FOR SUNDAY SALES

Police on Trail of Small Grocers Who Stay Open.

During the last two weeks police arrested five small grocers in various parts of the city on charges of violating the Sunday ordinances by remaining open and selling groceries to residents nearby. George Flax, who operates a delicatessen store at 6 West First street, was brought into municipal court yesterday afternoon on a warrant sworn to by Chief of Police C. H. Troyer and paid a fine of $3.50. Two paid fines for similar offenses yesterday morning, and two were brought into court last Monday.

SAY PAVEMENT IS NOT NEEDED

Property Owners Protest Against Work Ordered By City.

For the fourth time this spring property owners have protested against a pavement already ordered by the city council.

When the council convened yesterday afternoon a petition was presented, signed by a majority of the property owners along Commonwealth avenue, protesting against the pavement ordered on Jan. 25 last. The claim is made in the protest that the pavement is not necessary at this time.

Stagnant Blood Given A Quick Impulse

Wonderful Activity Imparted by a Famous Remedy.

The appearance of pimples, boils, skin eruptions and all evidence of impure blood, calls for S. S. S., the famous blood purifier. Cathartics, purges, bowel movers and laxatives won't do.

No amount of bile will destroy certain germs which cause blood and skin eruptions. They are away down deep in the tissues, perhaps in the very marrow of the bones. And such a condition calls for the searching influence of S. S. S. It is indeed a remarkable remedy, since it is taken up by the blood stream and never loses its medicinal influence. On and on it goes, through and through the entire system and always with the same definite action to dislodge germs, destroy their activity and stimulate the liver, lungs, kidneys, bowels and skin to throw them out completely.

It stimulates stagnant blood, provides a rational exhilaration to the nerve centers and thereby the natural functions of the body are aroused to cast out intruders, no matter how strongly intrenched they may be. It refutes the ancient theory that to destroy within us the germs that eat into our vitals calls for drugs that destroy our very existence. Get a bottle of S. S. President Adams Offers $5.00 for His Wife's Beer

John Adams, 2nd President of the United States, was the progenitor of admittedly the most distinguished family in America. In a direct line from him came a President of the United States, a famous lawyer, a famous statesman, a famous writer, a successful artist and numerous other individuals of his lineage who achieved renown.

In a letter dated May 22, 1777, to his wife Abigail Adams, complimenting her on her skill as a brewer of fine lager beer, President Adams wrote: "I would give $5 for a gallon of your beer."

Note:—Professor Atwater is his "History of New Haven Colony" says: "A brew house was regarded as an essential part of a homestead, and beer was on the table as regularly as bread." That beer is a wholesome food is testified by the fact that every American athletic record is held by men whose diet includes beer.

FITGER'S KIESELGUHR FILTER AN INNOVATION IN BREWING

Heretofore all bottled beer was pasteurized, it being the only method known that would "keep" bottled beer. But while pasteurization keeps beer, unhappily it also robs it of that delightful flavor and aroma which distinguishes fresh beer drawn from the wood.

Fitger's Natural Beer, filtered by the Kieselguhr filter,* the first of its kind in America, gives you what is seemingly a contradiction, a natural draught beer in bottles. The Fitger Kieselguhr filtration preserves the full natural character, taste and aroma of the natural beer, as drawn fresh from the wood, and adds a clear and sparkling brilliancy which Kieselguhr unfiltered beer cannot possess.

SAYS LAWYER IS RULER OF WORLD

J. B. Crane Tells Students That Engineer's Day Is Coming.

"The lawyer is the ruler of the world today," declared J. B. Crane, superintendent of the Great Northern Power company, in an address at Central high school yesterday, "but the engineer is the coming man of the age."

"At some time in the not distant future, the engineer will be supreme, just as the lawyer leads today. First it was the warrior, then the minister, and now the lawyer, but the day of the engineer is at hand."

The speaker's topic was "Electrical Engineering As a Vocation." In the course of his address Mr. Crane told of the different branches of engineering work, the study in college, and the opportunities of the boy after he leaves school to follow his profession. This talk was the second of a series on vocational guidance and was given under the auspices of the Schoolmasters' club.

REPENTS TOO LATE TO ESCAPE JAIL

John Swapinski, Wife Deserter, Tries to "Make Up" in Vain.

Confronted by a six-weeks' stay in jail, to be followed possibly by a term at Stillwater, Minn., John Swapinski, age 46, arrested yesterday on a charge of wife desertion, made a desperate effort to adjust his domestic troubles last night.

Mrs. Swapinski, appearing against her husband, told the police that he had been home but about a month in five years, and that he had made no effort to provide for herself and four children. She has been living with her parents in Kenwood for some time.

Wearing a newly acquired Van Dyke, Swapinski appeared Sunday and asked his spouse "to make up," but she refused. He now is more eager than ever to have her relent. After a hearing before Municipal Judge Frank M. Cutting, he was bound over to the May term of the grand jury under $500 bail.

Whyte Funeral.

Funeral services for John Whyte, prominent Duluth lumberman, who died Sunday morning, were held from the family residence, 1631 East First street, this afternoon. Mr. Whyte was 71 years of age and had not been active in a business way for several years, because of illness.

Rev. R. Edward Sayles, pastor of the First Baptist church, officiated, and members of the Masonic order to which Mr. Whyte belonged, assisted in the services. Burial was at Forest Hill cemetery.

Mr. Whyte had been connected with lumber interests of the Upper Great Lakes region since 1878 and since 1900 has been a representative of the Alger-Smith Lumber company at Duluth. He leaves a widow and three sons, two of whom live in Duluth and one in Seattle.

GOGEBIC COUNTY FARM INSTITUTE

Gathering Being Held This Week at Ironwood and Bessemer.

Ironwood, Mich., March 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Gogebic County Farmers' Institute opened at Bessemer yesterday.

Today's and Wednesday's sessions are being held in Ironwood at the Finnish Temperance hall. The merchants of this city, through the efforts of J. F. Kadowsky, county agricultural representative, have contributed liberal prizes for an exhibit of farm products, including poultry. City fanciers may enter their fowls in the poultry class. An interesting program has been arranged for this evening, to which the city people are invited.

The organization of a Guernsey breeders' association will be perfected at the institute.

Following is the program for Tuesday and Wednesday:

Tuesday, March 23.—"Soil Management," Fred L. Dean, Sheridan; "Starting the New Farm," J. F. Kadonsky; question box; music; "Care of the Dairy Cow," Fred L. Dean; "Growing and Harvesting Corn," J. F. Kadonsky; "Community Breeding," W. F. Raven, Marquette; music.

7:30 p. m.—"The Young Man and the Farm," Fred L. Dean.

Wednesday, March 24.—"The Farmer as a Business Man," Fred L. Dean; "Forage Crops of Northern Michigan," J. F. Kadonsky; question box; music; "Efficiency in Farm Management," Fred L. Dean; "Potato Culture," Prof. E. L. Delwiche; round table discussion; "My Experience With the Silo—Filling the Silo, Feeding of Ensilage, Cost of Ensilage."

United States naval officers have developed a colored glass that renders visible the fumes from smokeless powder.

HIBBING WOMAN IS STILL AFTER DIVORCE

Denied Separation Once, Mrs. Carlson Has Resumed Proceedings.

Hibbing, Minn., March 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—Of the eight actions to be tried before Judge Martin Hughes in district court before the present term ends, five are divorce cases, while the other three are civil actions.

Alleging that her husband abused her without provocation, kicked her, spit in her face, called her vile names and often threatened to kill her, Hannah Carlson, again is seeking a divorce from Ernest Carlson of this village. In a former action, affidavits from Peter Ryan, John Corsey and police officers here, were brought in as evidence by the defendant to prove that Mrs. Carlson was a woman of bad reputation and named Louis Jensen, whose wife was awarded a decree of divorce on statutory grounds. In a reply to these affidavits, Mrs. Carlson declares that at no time has she been anything but a true wife to her husband.

The couple were married June 22, 1901. They have two children, aged 7 and 10 years. Mrs. Carlson asks the custody of the children and alimony that the court may see fit.

Says Husband Threatened Her.

Threats of her husband that he would "poison the family and make mush of it," blows in the face before her children and other cruel and inhuman treatment, has caused Mrs. Minnie Anderson to seek a divorce from Emil Anderson of this village, she alleges in a complaint which will be considered by Judge Hughes. One time, she alleges, her husband struck her down before the children and only for the pleading of her 12-year-old girl, she declares he said, he spared her. He is strongly addicted to use of intoxicants, she says.

She asks for the custody of the children, which she declares him unfit for and a suitable allimony. She estimates her husband's worldly goods as valued at $40,000 despite the fact that she claims that he said she must take in washing to support herself and the children.

Married in Cloquet.

Desertion is the grounds for a divorce sought by Clara Belle Boucher, who in a complaint alleges that James Boucher, her husband, left her and four children, ranging in ages from 5 to 12 years. She says he left her on Jan. 12, 1912, and took Beatrice and Catherine, the two youngest, with him. She asks the custody of the children and any allimony which the court may see fit to award her. They were married in Cloquet Oct. 17, 1895.

Statutory charges are preferred in the complaint of Jacob Severnski, who seeks a divorce from Dragotini Severnski, whom he alleges has had unlawful relations with several of his acquaintances.

HIT FORMER EDITOR.

Hibbing Man Who Assaulted One-Time Editor Goes to Work Farm.

Hibbing, Minn., March 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—It took the jury in municipal court but two minutes to find Thomas Finney of the township of French guilty of assaulting William A. Thomas, formerly editor of the Hibbing Sentinel, in the latter's cabin yesterday. Judge T. F. Brady immediately sentenced Finney to the county work farm for forty days.

According to testimony, Finney came over to Thomas' cabin one night and wanted a drink of whisky. When Thomas declared he had none in the cabin, Finney disbelieved him. A quarrel started and Finney immediately precipitated it into a fistic encounter inflicting two discolored eyes on his adversary.

Thomas is now clerk of French township. At one time he was one of the most promising newspaper men in this section of the state.

TOWER BAND PRACTICES.

Melody Makers of Vermilion City Getting Ready for Summer.

Tower, Minn., March 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Tower Commercial club band members had their weekly practice last evening and seventeen members were present, this being the largest attendance for many months. Several former members have rejoined and a few more new members are expected to join in the near future. Some of the members have purchased new instruments, one of them a saxophone.

How To Get Rid of a Bad Cough

A Home-Made Remedy that Will Do It Quickly. Cheap and Easily Made

If you have a bad cough or chest cold which refuses to yield to ordinary remedies, get from any druggist 2½ ounces of Pinex (50 cents worth), pour into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup. Start taking a teaspoonful every hour or two. In 24 hours your cough will be conquered or very nearly so. Even whooping cough is greatly relieved in this way.

The above mixture makes a full pint—a family supply—of the finest cough syrup that money could buy—at a cost of only 54 cents. Easily prepared in 5 minutes. Full directions with Pinex.

This Pinex and Sugar Syrup preparation takes right hold of a cough and gives almost immediate relief. It loosens the dry, hoarse or tight cough in a way that is really remarkable. Also quickly heals the inflamed membranes which accompany a painful cough, and stops the formation of phlegm in the throat and bronchial tubes, thus ending the persistent loose cough. Excellent for bronchitis, spasmodic croup and winter coughs. Keeps perfectly and tastes good—children like it.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, rich in guaiacol, which is so healing to the membranes.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex,"—do not accept anything else. A guarantee of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded goes with this preparation. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

ANOTHER TOWER HOTEL HAS FIRE

Second Blaze Is in Sheridan Hotel Mattress; Soon Extinguished.

Tower, Minn., March 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—This city has just experienced a second hotel fire. The first, last Friday afternoon, destroyed the fine Vermilion hotel at a loss of between $25,000 and $30,000.

The second fire broke out last night about 7:45 in the Sheridan hotel, but fortunately was discovered in time and promptly extinguished. Whether there is any connection between the two fires remains to be seen. When the firemen reached the Sheridan hotel a mattress was found burning in one of the upper rooms. It was extinguished with slight damage to the bed and woodwork of the room.

SLANDER SUIT ENDS IN VERDICT FOR $1

Chisholm Woman Given That Judgment Against Talkative Man.

Hibbing, Minn., March 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—With the settlement of the Nikunen case out of court yesterday afternoon, the work of the petit jury for this term of district court terminated. Judge Hughes dismissed the jurors.

A verdict of $1 was returned by the jury in favor of Miss Wando Zielinska, who demanded $3,000 from Alex Jancaski of Chisholm, who she alleged slandered her.

Ivar Nikunen settled a bill which he owed Martin Nikunen for $62. Martin loaned $103 to Ivar some time ago. Of this amount $13 had been returned. Settlement of $62 included interest on the entire amount.

CORPSE IS DISCOVERED SHATTERED BY DYNAMITE.

Calumet, Minn., March 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—The authorities are puzzled over a sensational find made in a swamp about a mile and a half from here of an unidentified man's body badly shattered by a dynamite explosion. A burned fuse was found. Whether it was a case of suicide with dynamite or murder with that explosive as the weapon has not been ascertained. The clothing and what remains of the features lends color to the belief that the unknown was of Austrian nationality. The death occurred several months ago, the cold of winter having partially preserved the corpse. Undertaker Perrier of Marble took the remains to Coleraine and the deputy coroner there ordered them buried by the county.

PLANS SUMMER RESORT.

Mill City Firm Acquires Suitable Land in Itasca County.

Grand Rapids, Minn., March 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—W. R. Fowler and Joseph Scribner of the Scribner-Kelly Land company of Minneapolis have been making arrangements to have some land they recently purchased on Deer Lake platted into summer resort properties and showing some prospective buyers over the land.

They bought some 1,500 acres of land, which include the lake frontage of about eight miles on Deer and Moose lakes, about twelve miles north of Grand Rapids, and are planning on making it one of the best summer resorts in the country.

Among other things planned is a fine hotel, well conducted and furnished, and for those wishing to get closer to nature and the simple life, cottages and similar accommodations.

Weusswig & Webster, civil engineers, have the contract for surveying and laying out into lots some 1,200 acres, while John S. Siverts has the contract for 300 acres. The surveying will include the laying out of lots, boulevards, streets, etc.

HELD TO CIRCUIT COURT.

Accused Arrested in Virginia, Bound Over at Ironwood, Mich.

Ironwood, Mich., March 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—The examination of Alex Vescotti alias Westcott, charged with the murder of Steve Mraz, resulted in his being held to circuit court.

Vescotti was arrested recently at Virginia, Minn. The row that resulted in the death of Mraz occurred on Aurora street last July.

PARENTS-TEACHERS' CLUB WILL MEET.

Grand Rapids, Minn., March 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Parents-Teachers club members will hold their next meeting at the high school at 3:15 p. m. Friday. It will be in the nature of a business meeting and subjects along that line will be discussed. Following is the program:

Singing, "America;" reading and approval of minutes of previous meetings; concerning federating, (a) resume, "Parents and Education," Mrs. Elizabeth Childe, Mrs. H. C. Lawrence; (b) "Why We Should Federate," Mrs. Elizabeth Atwood, Mrs. C. C. McCarthy; "Looking Forward," Miss Strickler and others; appointing of nominating committee to nominate officers for next year; announcements; social half hour.

Chisholm Class Ball.

Chisholm, Minn., March 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—Plans are being made for the annual junior-senior ball, which is always the most important social function of the school year. The date has not been definitely decided upon, but it is probable that it will occur during the week following Easter.

BRINGS SUIT FOR WORK ON BUILDING

Action Started in Hibbing District Court Involving Alice Property.

Hibbing, Minn., March 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—For plumbing supplies and work for a building at Alice owned by Edward Burbley, Ben Edelstein and Bryan O'Rourke, Carl Schirmer has brought suit in district court here for $125.91. He declared that $14 has been paid for the work and supplies which amounted altogether to $139.96.

In a reply, Edward Burbley declares that he was a minor at the time the work was asked to be done. He says he has sold his interest to M. Gabo and asks to be eliminated from the suit. He says that if he remembers correctly it was agreed that the work should not cost more than $75.

John Olson, in a complaint filed in district court, asks for $1,250, half money received for some property which he alleges he and his son, Henry, owned, and an injunction to restrict the sale of other property which he believes his son has a mind to dispose of. The father declares that up to January, 1907, he and his son were doing business together and that certain property was purchased and that in this property each had half interest. Part of this property, he says, was sold recently for $2,500 and although his son had promised to give him his share, he had not done so. Because of the financial circumstances of his son, he declared, he was inclined to believe that Henry intended to sell the remaining property.

BIG AUDITORIUM DECLARED UNSAFE

Virginia School Board Heeds Advice of Duluth Architect and Closes It.

Virginia, Minn., March 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—The auditorium of the Roosevelt high school, which seats 2,300 and is the largest auditorium on the range, is declared to be unsafe and today the board of education ordered it closed until repairs can be made.

Architect Nystrom of Duluth informed the board at its meeting last night that the pillars supporting the hall are not strong enough to fill the bill and that unless strengthened the floor might collapse some time when there were a lot of people in the hall and cause a great loss of life. The board accordingly ordered the auditorium closed and will take steps to have the supports strengthened. The building was erected about ten years ago.

SCHOOL OFFICERS MEET AT AURORA

Aurora, Minn., March 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—With State Supt. C. G. Schulz present and participating in the proceedings, a meeting of the school boards, clerks and school officials generally of the range is being held here today at the Hearding school. County Supt. Young is also attending. Better methods for school accounting is the chief subject being considered. The visitors were entertained at lunch today by the domestic science department of the Hearding school and the deliberations were resumed this afternoon.

FRANKLIN IS VOTING.

Young Village Adjoining Virginia Holding First Election.

Virginia, Minn., March 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—The young village of Franklin, located just outside the limits of Virginia, where the Franklin, Higgins and other mines are situated, is holding its first village election today. There is only one ticket in the field, which is headed by G. H. Lohneis, candidate for president, and little interest is shown in the election. There are about 100 voters in the village.

Chisholm Church Mission.

Chisholm, Minn., March 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—Announcement was made Sunday by Rev. Father J. E. Schiffrer of St. Joseph's church of a mission to be held for the English-speaking people of the parish between April 18 and 25. The mission will be conducted by priests of the Dominican order.

WOMAN PIGGER WILL CARRY CASE HIGHER.

Virginia, Minn., March 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—Convicted in municipal court today before Judge Carey of running a blind-pig on the South side, near Mesaba avenue, Mrs. Francis Lisnovich was fined $52.50, including costs. The complaint was made by a woman named Kate Hill, who "tipped off" the illegal place to an officer. The Hill woman claimed to have no trouble in getting bottled beer at the place. Mrs. Lisnovich denied the charge and said it was all a mistake. Judge Carey could not see it in that light and fined her. She gave bonds, hired a lawyer and announced her intention to appeal to the district court.

"TIZ" FIXED MY SORE, TIRED FEET

Use "TIZ!" Don't Have Puffed-up, Burning, Aching Feet or Corns.

"TIZ" is the only remedy that draws out all the poisonous exudations which puff up the feet; "TIZ" is magical; "TIZ" is grand; "TIZ" will cure your foot troubles so you'll never limp or draw up your face in pain. Your shoes won't seem tight and your feet will never, never hurt or get sore, swollen or tired. Think of it, no more foot misery; no more burning corns, callouses or bunions.

Get a 25 cent box at any drug store or department store, and get instant relief. Get a whole year's foot relief for only 25 cents. Think of it!

HIBBING CHAMPIONSHIP.

Best Basket Ball Team to Be Settled This Week.

Hibbing, Minn., March 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—The basket ball championship of Hibbing will be decided Wednesday night at the high school gymnasium when the alumni quint will play the town team recently organized, and which comprises some of the best basket ball material in the village.

All of the village players have been practicing diligently for the past six weeks.

Del St. Julien, former high school star, will play the center position. For forwards, Carl Aura, Elmer Nord and George Kohlstad, all players of ability, will be given tryouts. George Harriet, Evered Williams, now a high school player, and William Delahunt will play the guard positions.

CHISHOLM MAN STARTS ACTION.

Hibbing, Minn., March 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—Declaring that he owned the stock and building of a Chisholm plumbing company, operated lately by Joseph E. Cummings and Adam N. Schirmer of that village, Nels A. Nelson has filed a suit for the recovery of the business, accounting under a contract said to have been agreed upon, an injunction to restrain either of the two from disposing of the stock and judgment to determine the title of the property. He declares the value of the stock is $3,000 and that it was leased by the defendants, whom, he alleges, are not living up to their contract.

BLIND PIGGERS WILL APPEAL CONVICTION.

Hibbing, Minn., March 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—Camile De Caigny and Peter Johnson, indicted by the grand jury on the charge of running illegal liquor places in the Vermilion Dam country and convicted on the charge by a trial jury, were sentenced by Judge Hughes yesterday afternoon to ninety days each in the county jail. Both moved for a stay pending appeal and furnished bonds. If a new trial is denied they will carry the case to the supreme court.

MOTHER OF THIRTEEN DIES NEAR COLERAINE.

Coleraine, Minn., March 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mrs. Phila Garner, the wife of James Garner, died at their home in Balsam township Sunday. Mrs. Garner has been ill with cancer for several years and for the last few weeks has been very low. The body was taken to the old home at New Hartford, Iowa, for interment.

Thirteen children were born to the Garners, twelve of whom are living. Of these only four are now at home, James and Don, both grown to manhood, and Etta, age 15, and Phila, age 11. Mrs. David Card, one of the married daughters residing at Faulkner, Iowa, was with her mother during her last illness. Eight years ago the Garner family came to Itasca county, where they settled on a homstead twelve miles north of Coleraine.

VIRGINIA ELKS ARE TO INITIATE NINE.

Virginia, Minn., March 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Virginia Elks are planning on having a rare time tomorrow night when nine candidates will be initiated into the order. Elks from Eveleth and other points are expected to be present.

Returns to Gilbert.

Negaunee, Mich., March 23.—Walter M. Webb, safety inspector for the Republic Iron & Steel company, who spent the past several days here on business at the Hartford and Cambria mines, has returned to his home at Gilbert, Minn.

Helping Brown Train.

Washing Won't Rid Head of Dandruff

The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

Do this tonight, and by morning most if not all of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy, every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop at once, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and never fails to do the work.—Advertisement.

EXPLANATORY NOTES
Observations taken at 8 a. m., seventy-fifth meridian time. Air pressure reduced to sea level. ISOBARS (continuous lines) pass through points of equal air pressure. ISOTHERMS (dotted lines) pass through points of equal temperature. O clear; ◒ partly cloudy; ● cloudy; R rain; S snow; M report missing. Arrows fly with the wind. Shaded areas show precipitation of .01 inch or more in past 24 hours.

The weather man kept his promise and sent fair weather today, with the result that to those who have at least an average coating of flesh, outer wrappings are almost superfluous; to those who daily seek some plan for reducing, they are entirely so; others can take their choice. But the worst of the thing is that the prediction for tonight and tomorrow is either light rain or snow flurries. A heavy rain would do a world of good, but a light rain is only a nuisance.

A year ago today was fine. The sun rose this morning at 6:05 and will set this evening at 6:24, giving twelve hours and nineteen minutes of sunlight.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"Light frost occurred last night at Tampa, Fla., and killing frosts at Jacksonville, Fla., and Raleigh, N. C. The temperature has risen over Saskatchewan, Manitoba, Minnesota, North Dakota, Montana and Idaho, and has fallen over South Dakota, Colorado, Nebraska, Kansas and Central and Northern Texas. Light rain or snow fell during Monday or last night over Alberta, Saskatchewan, Colorado, Kansas, Oklahoma, Missouri, Louisiana, Southern Florida and Eastern states."

General Forecast.

Chicago, March 23.—Forecast for the twenty-four hours ending at 7 p. m. Wednesday:

Minnesota—Partly cloudy tonight and Wednesday, probably showers or snow flurries in north portion; warmer in southeast portion tonight; colder Wednesday and in extreme northwest portion tonight.

Wisconsin — Fair tonight with warmer in west and north portions; Wednesday increasing cloudiness with warmer in east portion.

Iowa—Fair tonight and probably Wednesday; warmer tonight; colder in northwestern portion Wednesday.

North Dakota — Partly cloudy tonight and Wednesday, probably showers or snow flurries in east portion; colder in north and west portions tonight and in east portion Wednesday.

South Dakota—Generally fair tonight and Wednesday; cooler Wednesday.

Montana—Partly cloudy tonight and Wednesday; cooler tonight.

Lower Michigan — Fair tonight, warmer in north portion; Wednesday partly cloudy and warmer.

Upper Michigan—Fair tonight and warmer in east and south portions; Wednesday unsettled, probably local snows in west portion.

VIRGINIA STARTS SPRING CLEAN UP.

Virginia, Minn., March 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—The first tangible sign of spring here beside bock beer and boys playing marbles is the men working on the streets cleaning up the rubbish and debris that accumulated during the winter. The city started thirty men at work yesterday cleaning up the streets. The parks will also be spruced up.

DULUTHIAN FINED IN VIRGINIA COURT.

Virginia, Minn., March 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—Abel Nelson of Duluth, who was arrested by a state forester on the charge of cutting timber from state lands in this locality without posting a description of the land as required by law, pleaded guilty in municipal court today and Judge Carey fined him $25 and costs, which he paid.

NEW APPROACH OF ZEPPELINS GIVES PARIS A SECOND SCARE

inent writers in the Paris press criticize the aerial defenses of Paris. They declare Zeppelins should not have been able to reach Paris Sunday night, which was clear and starlit. The danger of an air fight over the capital with the possibility of the fall of a Zeppelin with its cargo of unused explosives is pointed out.

These views are shared by the deputies representing the Paris district, who decided at a meeting yesterday to make representations on the subject to Premier Viviani.

Details have not been obtained as to the circumstances of the second raid upon Paris which was attempted last night. It is understood that two fleets had planned to bombard the capital, but it is supposed they turned back because of the heavy rain storm when twenty-five miles from the city.

When announcement was made that a raid was impeding, French aeroplane flotillas took the air from the intrenched camps and searchlights were trained upon the sky from every quarter.

After the city firemen once had signalled that the danger was past, a second alarm was sounded because of a report that Zeppelins had been seen flying over the department of the Oise. When they had not appeared at 3 a. m. the bugles sounded the "retreat" and the lights of the city were turned on again.

THREE BRIDES OF SMITH DIED IN BATHS; MURDER CHARGED

rice Mundy, July, 1912; Alice Burnham, December, 1913; Margaret Lofty, December, 1914.

Murder Is Charged.

Smith has described himself as a man of independent means. According to the evidence of Scotland Yard, Smith made use of various fictitious names in his matrimonial ventures. The women he married were found dead a few days after the ceremony. Verdicts of accidental death have been returned, but now certain of the bodies have been exhumed, with the result that the charges of murder have been preferred.

Smith, according to the police, was born in London, the son of an insurance agent, and is 45 years of age. He was married, according to the evidence given at a preliminary hearing, under the name of John Lloyd, to Margaret Elizabeth Lofty at a registry office at Bath in December, 1914. The couple came to London the same day and the next morning the bride was found dead in her bath, her husband calling in a doctor who reported the matter as a result of which an inquest was held. The jury brought in a verdict of accidental death.

Not Right Name.

In February, information having reached the police that Lloyd was not the husband's name, he was arrested and identified, the police say, as George Joseph Smith, who in November, 1913, had married at Portsmouth, Miss Alice Burnham, who a month later also had been found dead in her bath. In this case, too, a coroner's jury brought in a verdict of accidental death.

The police also have had the body of another woman exhumed. This woman, who also died in her bath shortly after her marriage at Herne Bay, was married to a man who gave the name of Henry Williams and who is believed by the police to be George Joseph Smith.

Marshal Sir John French, commander of the British forces in the field, that the war will not be of long duration. In an interview with a French correspondent he says that spring promises well for the allies, and that he believes the Germans are feeling a lack of ammunition.

Italy is preparing rapidly for whatever may result from the negotiations with Austria, now represented as having reached an important stage. A royal decree is soon to be signed, establishing rules designed to suppress spies. Women are to be put to work in the places of men in case of mobilization of the army.

MADE FINAL SORTIE.

An official Russian communication describes the battle which preceded the fall of Przemysl. It is said that the troops left the fortress to the east-ward in a final effort to break through the Russian lines at any cost, but were defeated quickly. Berlin newspapers do not believe the Russian victory will be of great influence on the campaign as a whole, although the fall of the city is described as a "painful blow" to the Austro-German right wing.

Unfavorable weather still prevailed at the Dardanelles yesterday and no further attacks on the Turkish fortifications were attempted. The warships of the allied fleet did not leave their anchorages.

French Statement.

Paris, March 23, via London, 3:45 p. m.—The official communication given out this afternoon by the French war department says:

"The enemy yesterday bombarded Reims. A German aviator dropped bombs on the town and claimed three victims among the civilians.

"In the Champagne region we made slight progress to the east of Hill 196.

"In the Argonne near Bagatelle, the enemy twice delivered violent counter-attacks to recapture the ground he lost on Sunday. Both counter-attacks were completely repulsed."

German Statement.

Berlin, March 23, by wireless to Sayville.—The following report was given out today at the war office:

"Two French night attacks near Carency, northwest of Arras, were repulsed.

"In Champagne German troops successfully blew up mines and repulsed a night attack north of Beausejour.

"Minor French advances near Combres, Apremont and Flirey were without success. An attack against the German positions northeast of Badonviller broke down under the German fire. The enemy sustained heavy losses.

"Hostile aviators again threw several bombs on Ostend. No damage was done to the military establishments but several Belgians were killed or wounded. Northwest of Verdun a French aviator was shot down. A French aircraft manned with two French non-commissioned officers was forced to land near Freiburg. The occupants of the aeroplane were captured.

"German troops are pursuing the Russians who were driven from Memel, East Prussia. The Germans occupied the Russian town of Krottingen, across the border from Memel and freed more than 3,000 Germans who had been dragged away from their homes by the Russians.

"Attacks made by Russian troops on both sides of the Orzyc river, in Russian Poland, were repulsed."

THE HEADACHE OF NERVOUS EXHAUSTION

A feeling as of a tight band about the head is often felt in addition to the pain of a headache that is caused by nervous exhaustion. The ache is generally in the back of the head, rarely in the forehead, and is often accompanied by dizziness.

The way to stop this sort of headache is to stop the cause of it. Overwork, worry and failure of the blood to properly nourish the nerves are the most common causes. Rest and a tonic for the blood and nerves will cause the headache to disappear in most cases.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are an effective tonic for building up the blood and strengthening the nerves. They furnish just the elements that the blood needs to build up the nerves shattered by overwork,—worry, overstudy or excesses. You cannot always rest from school, office or housework when circumstances require but you can always take a tonic that will maintain the strength of blood and nerves. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are just the tonic required.

Mention this paper and we will send you a booklet, "Diseases of the Nervous System free. Address: Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. All druggists sell Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

Item Welcomed By Many Men

This will prove a welcome bit of information for all those who are overworked, gloomy, despondent, nervous and have trembling limbs, heart palpitation, dizziness, cold extremities, insomnia, fear without cause, timidity in venturing and general inability to act naturally and rationally as others do, because the treatment consisting of grain tablets can be obtained and taken without the knowledge of any one. If the reader has any of the symptoms, and decides to try it just go to any large well stocked drug store and ask for three-grain Cadomene Tablets, and then take according to the directions which accompany each sealed tube. The tonic invigorating power is soon felt and the joy of a healthy body experienced. These tablets, originally dispensed by prominent physicians and pharmacists, now are packed with full directions for self administration, so that it is wholly unnecessary to pay a physician for prescribing them.—Advertisement.

CELLS FILLED WITH OFFICIALS

Those Who Opposed Mayor Roberts' Machine Were Incarcerated.

Indianapolis, Ind., March 23.—John F. Nugent, assistant chief of police of Terre Haute, who has been termed "Mayor Donn M. Roberts' slush fund collector," continued his testimony at the trial of the Terre Haute election fraud case today. He has pleaded guilty.

Nugent related his part in the alleged conspiracy in a voice scarcely audible.

"Roberts told me he did not want anybody on the board he couldn't handle," testified Nugent in telling of the part he played in preventing the regularly chosen election board for the Taylorville precinct from serving. "He told me to see Joe Jeffers, get him to select the board and see that it served."

Nugent said Jeffers, who has pleaded guilty, selected the board and "framed the arrest" of the Progressive members and that Roberts ordered the members held in the detention cells.

"Mayor Roberts," continued the witness, "ordered the construction of the detention cells a short time before the election, saying:

"'Well'll have a rush about then.'"

Nugent said the cells were filled the night before election with officials and workers "opposed to the Roberts' machine."

—(Special to The Herald.)—This city yesterday entertained men prominently identified with state affairs, more especially with the development of its natural resources, the following being in the party: C. P. Bull, assistant professor of agronomy at the state university; D. C. Willard, agricultural commissioner of the Northern Pacific railroad; Fred S. Sherman, state immigration commission, and C. W. Glotfelter, president of the Minnesota Crop Improvement association. They were on their way to Baudette, where they will attend a convention of farmers' clubs. They were entertained at a smoker given by the business men of the city here last night.

Will Lecture on War.
At a meeting of Workmen's Circle No. 353, held last night at the Edison hall, plans were made for a lecture to be given by A. Litwak on April 9. The Jewish Socialist local will co-operate with the Workmen's circle in giving the lecture. Mr. Litwak returned from a tour of Europe six weeks ago. His topic will be "The War, the Jewish People and the Poles." The lecture will be given at the Odd Fellows hall on Lake avenue.

Teachers Get Contracts.
C. A. Bronson, clerk of the board of education, has mailed out to the teachers elected to serve during the school year of 1915-16, their contracts for their consideration. They have until next Monday to make up their minds as to whether they wish to accept the offer of position for the next school year.

Wed in Court.
Judge Gilpin in probate court this afternoon officiated at the marriage of Henry A. Lund and Miss Anna G. Egan. Both of the contracting parties are residents of Douglas county, Wis.

Not the Wrestler Petkoff.
Peter Petkoff, named in the account of the conviction in police court yesterday of one Dimitor Georgeff, as having a hole in the back of his head as a result of the fighting ability of the accused, was not Peter Petkoff, the wrestler. The latter was much disturbed when he read the account in The Herald of last night; disturbed that his admirers would think him so "easy" and amazed that there is evidently another Peter Petkoff in the city.

Recommends U. S. Navy.
The training offered in the United States navy was highly commended by George D. Lane of Cloquet, former seamen's apprentice, who was in Duluth today visiting with Peter Coyle, naval recruiting officer at Duluth. Mr. Lane has left the navy because of business inducements, but declares that it is a good place for a young man desiring steady employment with opportunity of advancement. Mr. Lane was at the Great Lakes training station for some time, preparatory to entering the regular service.

Junior High School Bids.
Bids for the junior high school to be erected at the Lincoln school at the West end, will be opened at 1 o'clock on the afternoon of next Monday, by the school board members. It is likely that the contracts for the construction of the new school will be let that day, in view of the fact that the committee on buildings will have gone over the bids and made a report with recommendations.

DIES IN LOS ANGELES.

News Received of Death of Mrs. Cornelia Vanvick.

Mrs. Cornelia Vanvick, 58 years old, a former resident of Duluth, died yesterday at Los Angeles following an illness of nearly two years. Mrs. Vanvick was a resident of Duluth for nearly twenty years, moving to California five years ago.

She leaves two sons and two daughters. They are Peter E. Vanvick, Misses Amelia and Louise Vanvick of Duluth and John Vanvick of Los Angeles, Cal.

The body will be brought to Duluth for burial. It will arrive here Monday. Funeral services will be held Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the First Norwegian Lutheran church, First avenue east and Third street. Interment will be made in Park Hill cemetery.

CASE IS SETTLED.

Father of West Duluth Boy Accepts $350 for Son's Death.

Sippo Salmela, 23 North Sixty-second avenue west, yesterday afternoon accepted $350 from the Duluth, Winnipeg & Pacific Railway company in full settlement of a claim for wrongful death which grew out of an accident at West Duluth last June in which his 5-year-old son was killed.

The youngster was struck and killed by a passenger train while he was crossing the company's tracks at Sixty-second avenue west on June 7, 1914. The father, as administrator of the child's estate, sued the company for $5,000 damages.

The case was settled out of court.

HICKEN COMMITTEE WILL BE NAMED SOON.

Announcement will be made tomorrow of Commissioner Hicken's campaign committee and whether Chris E. Evens and William L. Bernard will remain in the campaign.

Members of the Interchurch council are now organizing the committee to handle Commissioner Hicken's campaign, while Mr. Evens' candidacy is the principal matter under discussion by his friends and those supporting Commissioners Hicken and Murchison.

Mr. Evens said this morning that he will not be able to make any statement until tomorrow and that he is still considering the proposal that he and Mr. Bernard withdraw.

Yesterday afternoon W. H. Smallwood, candidate for municipal judge, filed his second expense statement. According to his report on expenses, he has spent $88.75 from March 15 to March 20 and $43.14 up to March 15, making a total to date of $131.89.

FIFTY MINERS KILLED.

Snowslide Sweeps Away Bunkhouse at Howe Sound, B. C.

Vancouver, B. C., March 23.—Fifty miners were killed and as many more injured early yesterday by a snowslide which swept away several bunkhouses at the Britannia mine at Howe Sound, B. C., according to a dispatch received here. Besides the bunkhouses, part of the aerial tramway of the mine was carried away.

FIRST MAN TO BE MADE MASON IN STATE, DEAD.

St. Paul, Minn., March 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—William S. Combs, 64 years old, first Minnesotan to be made a Master Mason in Minnesota, distinguished in the affairs of the order since 1854, and the man who conducted the first business college in Minnesota, died here today at the home of his son.

PARTNERSHIP CASE WILL GO TO JURY.

A jury in Judge Ensign's division of the district court will retire this afternoon to deliberate upon the question of whether a partnership agreement had been entered into between W. P. King, a local contractor, and Thomas G. Miller, who acted as foreman on a water and gas extension contract secured by King from the city.

If the jury find that there was a partnership agreement a receiver will be appointed by the court to wind up its affairs. If the jury finds that there was no partnership agreement, it will then decide what Miller has coming in wages.

Miller brought suit to recover $375. King, answering, declared that they entered into a partnership deal with reference to the contract in question. This, Miller denies.

ANOTHER BREAK IN FOREIGN EXCHANGE

Lowest Rates Within the Memory of the Oldest Brokers.

New York, March 23.—Another break in foreign exchange quotations today between New York and London brought the rates to the lowest within the memory of the oldest brokers.

The decline was followed by the announcement of the engagement here of $6,300,000 from the gold holdings of the Bank of England at Ottawa, the largest amount in one day since the return movement to this country began and bringing the total up to $24,800,000. This represents nearly one-third of the gold sent from the United States to Ottawa during the early months of the war.

The disturbed condition of the exchange market is attributed chiefly to the enormous purchases of war supplies in this country by the governments of the allies. Exchange on Paris moved today to its highest record, which actually means the lowest as regards the purchasing power of French money here.

MARKET ADVANCES SHARPLY WITH RENEWED BUYING

Fear of Damage to Winter Wheat Leads to Good Upturn.

Flaxseed Bulges on Urgent Call From Crushers and Light Offerings.

May wheat closed 3⅝c up, July 3¼c up and September 3⅜c up. May durum closed 1½c up and July 1½c up.

Oats closed ¾c up at 57¾c for on the track; rye unchanged at $1.11@1.12, and barley unchanged at from 65c to 76c.

At Winnipeg, May oats closed ⅝c up at 64½c bid, and July ¼c up at 64½c bid.

Puts on Minneapolis May wheat closed at $1.44⅛ and calls at $1.50⅜ bid.

Snow's report predicting that severe damage through Hessian flies might be expected over sections of the Southwest and that prospects over areas of the winter wheat territory are not as roseate as had been expected, was the signal for a sharp advance in the wheat market today. At the start the market was weak in sympathy with lower Liverpool prices, and the appearance of considerable selling. An improvement in export inquiry was advised at the seaboard, and at Kansas City it was said that the millers and exporters are competing for offerings of cash wheat on the tables. A substantial foreign call for flour was advised at Minneapolis and other milling points, but it was practically all for the lower grades.

Bradstreets' world's visible supply showed a decrease of 3,831,000 bu in the week, total stocks being reported at 167,746,000 bu against 191,047,000 bu last year. The European visible however, showed a gain of 736,000 bu in the week.

The report of the department of agriculture setting out the possibility of wheat reserves being exhausted before the new season's crop is harvested, if exports are maintained at anywhere near their present ratio, was without market influence. Operators consider that there will be practically no carryover of wheat this year, but they do not fear the placing of an embargo against exports by President Wilson.

Grain receipts at the Northwest markets are regarded as being surprising well maintained. At Duluth today 124 cars were received against 33 a year ago, and at Minneapolis arrivals were 178 cars against 168 last year. Marketings at Winnipeg, are now bulking up heavily today's receipts coming to 692 cars.

May wheat opened ¼c off at $1.46¾, sold off 1c, and then advanced to $1.49½ at the noon hour. July opened ⅛c off at $1.41½, and gained 2⅛c on good buying. May durum opened ½c off at $1.54, and gained 1⅜c.

Strength in Flaxseed.

Rapid changes were recorded in the flaxseed market. At the outset prices sold off to the extent of 4½c on a continuance of the liquidation in evidence yesterday. Support from crushers appeared at the low levels and prices were moved up steadily to substantially over Monday's close. Less favorable advices regarding the prospects of Argentine seed being laid down in this country, was said to have been at the bottom of the upturn. At the close quotations were ⅞@2⅛c up in the day, and the market was easier.

May flax opened ⅜c off at $1.91½ and closed ¾c up at $1.93. July opened 1c off at $1.93 and closed 1c up at $1.95 asked. September opened unchanged at $1.94 and closed 2½c up at $1.96½ asked.

At Winnipeg, May flax closed 1½c up at $1.74⅝ asked and July 1⅞ up at $1.77⅛ asked.

MARKET GOSSIP.

There was no change in the Duluth cash market today. No. 1 northern wheat sold at 4c over May; durum sold at the May price to 1c over for an occasional car, and cash flax sold at 1c under May.

The steamer Calderia is loading wheat at the Great Northern elevator today. She will take on 360,000 bu.

Broomhall cabled from Liverpool: "Notwithstanding the weakness in America and lower closing in Buenos Aires, the market was only moderately affected downward and the general undertone was steady. The market is dull, with undertone steady. The spot market was generally steady, with millers absorbing the offerings and stocks firmly held. Arrivals this week will be lighter. Plates are 6d lower and winters early were 3d lower, with later more firmly held. Indian offers continue firm, and the American visible emphasizes the growing scarcity. Argentina has suffered further damage as to quality.

"Corn was quiet, with spot market dull and inclined lower, with Plate parcels offered at 3d decline. Argentine weather and crop prospects continue excellent and the market here is in a waiting attitude."

European visible: Wheat, 90,020,000 bu, against 89,248,000 bu last week; increase, 736,000 bu.

C. E. Lewis wired from Minneapolis: "We stated a week ago that war news had grown stale and domestic conditions would be of greater influence in making prices. Today Snow says that the hessian fly is more prevalent than usual and that it might develop into a great scare later on. We think any news of this character that would prove detrimental to the growing crop would be followed by a much sharper advance in prices than would come through war news of equal importance. Our supply left for export is so small that the government has called attention to the danger of over-exporting and that means a big demand for Chicago July wheat if anything happens to the growing crop."

* * *

Russell's News of New York says: "Export demand for wheat was reported as slow this morning. Cash wheat offerings from the Gulf are fair, and premiums have narrowed somewhat. No oats demand of importance is claimed although there has been some cash houses buying at Chicago."

Foreign crop summary by Broomhall:

United Kingdom—Weather is favorable, permitting fair progress in sowing.

France—Where seeded the outlook for winter crops is satisfactory and the prospects for the spring crops is good.

Germany—There is a scarcity of snow covering and latest advices considered authentic reports of severe frost damage.

Russia—Snow covering is disappearing and spring seeding has commenced. Reports of the winter crop are generally favorable.

India—Weather is fine for harvesting. The government restrictions are militating against the wheat trade.

Argentina—Weather is now fine, but the consensus of opinion as received here confirms recent rains which greatly damaged the harvested crops.

Australia—Occasional rains are reported and these are beneficial.

Italy—Private advices received here report the increase in acreage is materially larger than given by the government. The condition of the crops is mostly fair to good.

CHICAGO MARKET.

Lower Cables and Fine Weather Cause Wheat Prices to Ease Off.

Chicago, March 23.—Wheat eased off today in sympathy with lower cable quotations and because of fine weather likely to promote the growth of the domestic winter crop. An increase in the European visible supply counted against the bulls, and so also did the lack of any urgency about export demand. On the decline there was some buying on resting orders. After opening ⅝c to ¼c up, the market underwent a moderate general setback and then regained most of the loss.

Reports that Hessian fly had become a menace in many more places than usual tended afterward to bring about a sharp advance. Besides, it was said near the end of the day that export sales at the seaboard would reach 1,000,000 bushels. The close was strong, 2⅛ to 3¾c above last night.

Speculative selling depressed corn. There seemed to be a notable absence of outside inquiry. Opening prices, which ranged from ⅛ to ¼c lower, were followed by an additional sag.

Subsequently the market developed firmness owing to the late strength of wheat. The close was strong, ⅝c to ¾c net higher.

Buying on the part of cash interests made oats relatively firm. Shorts were also active in covering on soft spots.

Provisions were weak with hogs. Packers seemed to favor the selling side.

STRENGTH IN STOCKS

Very Active Trading at Highest Average Level of Year.

Standard Shares Are Most Prominent With Substantial Gains.

New York, March 23.—Leading stocks were again relegated to the background at the opening of today's stock market, while speculative specialties resumed their recent activities. Bethlehem Steel made a new high record at the very outset, selling up to 72 in one lot of 1,100 shares. Gains of 1 to 2 points were registered by other shares of less prominence. Reading's continued heaviness—the stock declining a point in the early dealings—acted as a restraining influence among shares in the railway division and caused a moderate reaction elsewhere.

The market broadened perceptibly with the progress of the morning session and an increase in volume of business, embracing such representative issues as Union Pacific, United States Steel and Amalgamated Copper. Investment shares like Southern Pacific, St. Paul, Great Northern, Lehigh Valley, Baltimore & Ohio and Northwestern also participated to the extent of 1 to 2 points. Bethlehem Steel began to show the effects of increased profit-taking, however, declining 3¾ to 69¾.

Other specialties retained or added to previous gains, with a new high record for Studebaker at 49¾. Additional gold imports were announced. Bonds were irregular.

Bethlehem Steel made a further decline to 68½ during midday, but recovered to 70 in short order. Meanwhile United States Steel, Amalgamated, Reading and other specialties moved to higher levels on renewed activity and increasing breadth of operations.

Very active trading at the highest average level of the year attended today's market operations. Standard shares were most prominent, with substantial advances.

Buoyancy characterized the final dealings, Reading, Steel and Amalgamated extending previous gains. The closing was strong.

UPTURN IS CONTINUED

Steel Mill Operations Now on Basis of 65 Per Cent.

Railroad Inquiry Improves; Prices Show an Advancing Tendency.

Steel mill operations are estimated to be now on a basis of fully 65 per cent, or nearly double that of last December.

War orders continue to be the sheet anchor of the trade, it being reported that practically all of the larger companies are sharing in them. In the aggregate it is mounting up into millions of dollars. The demand from the European belligerents for shrapnel and for steel for the making of that class of ammunition is heavy, and it is conceded that at the prices being obtained it admits of a much larger ratio of profit than the ordinary steel business. The United States Steel corporation is reported to have just sold the French government 8,000 tons of girder rails, 16,000 tons of 16-pound rails for portable tracks and 6,000 tons of steel ties. Barb wire has been sold in considerable quantities recently for export.

Railroad Inquiry Improves.

Inquiry for steel rails and rolling stock equipment from both Eastern and Western rail

SUMMER RESORTS.

PLAN THAT VACATION TRIP NOW.

And spend it on your own camp site at Ne-na-mik-ka-ta, Lake Vermilion. Ne-na-mik-ka-ta (Chippewa for easy portage) is on Pine island. It is located in one of the most desirable spots at Lake Vermilion.

Several people from Minneapolis, St. Paul, Chicago, Philadelphia and other cities have already purchased camp sites, and will build this spring. These camp sites offer a good investment, as lots on our Daisy island tract have increased 50 per cent in value in less than a year.

Duluth people should take advantage of this proposition. They should know about the park, the docks, the beaches, and the people who have purchased. Write or call for full particulars. Names of Duluth purchasers given upon request. Call us up, either phone 516, for appointment with our salesman.

GORDON BILLS TAKEN UP BY THE HOUSE AND BUDGET PLAN PASSED

Measure to Abolish Fish and Game Commission Passed.

Bill Abolishing Oil Inspection Service Also on Special Order.

Sageng's Roadhouse Bill Is Passed By Senate Without Debate.

By a Staff Correspondent.

St. Paul, Minn., March 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—The house shortly before noon took up the special order on the seven Gordon bills, proposing reform in state government by piecemeal as opposed to the wholesale manner of the efficiency and economy bill. The first bill, that providing for a budget system, was passed without debate and by a vote of 118 to 1, Representative Halslett voting no. Then the house got into a wrangle about whether it should proceed with the other bills or wait until the efficiency bill is voted on.

For Thorough Reorganization.

Representative Gunnar B. Bjornson of Minneota said he believed in the principles of the efficiency bill, and was for it in good faith.

"I believe it will come," he said, "if not now, then later. The reorganization should be thorough, that we may have a coherent system of administration. The work should not be done piecemeal, but we should wait until we can bring about a reorganization that will command and deserve public respect."

"The gentleman from Lyon," said Mr. Spooner, "has expressed my sentiments better than I could do myself, and I can only add, that I indorse and adopt his statement."

Representative Knecland said the remaining Gordon bills should be laid over until the efficiency bill is acted upon.

Urged Vote on Bills.

"We have fondled and coddled the efficiency bill long enough," declared

AMERICANS IN DANGER

United States Consul at Tiflis Informs State Department.

Everything Possible Will Be Done to Protect Lives.

Washington, March 24.—American Consul F. W. Smith, stationed at Batum, Russia, and who now is at Tiflis, informed the state department today that American missionaries and refugees were in danger at Urumiah, Persia, where the Turkish consul, Raghib Bey, at the head of 700 Askaris, was recently reported to have led an uprising against the American mission.

Secretary Bryan said that everything possible would be done to protect Americans and refugees from danger, but that as yet no direct steps had been taken.

First Reports March 21.

On March 21 reports first reached this country from Petrograd of the attack at Urumiah. The Turkish consul was reported to have ordered three priests and two deacons to leave the mission and as they were passing through the streets they were insulted and beaten. An American missionary, Mr. Allen, also was reported to have been subjected to insults. He succeeded in sending messengers to Selmas, asking for help.

The message to the state department today gave no details of the peril of the Americans and refugees at Urumiah, nor did it mention Allen.

The nearest American forces are the cruisers Tennessee and North Carolina, in Mediterranean waters, but geographically it is impossible for them to get near the scene.

FARMER PLOWS UP BODY OF A MAN

Wrapped in Blanket and Wound Tightly With Wire.

Sharon, Pa., March 24.—James Culkinan, plowing in a field near here today, unearthed what for a time was believed to be the body of W. T. A. Baer, a wealthy contractor, who disappeared a year ago. Persons who had known Baer, however, refused to confirm the police identification. The skull of the body had been crushed and the body wrapped in a blanket and wound tightly about with wire.

WOMAN GETS A COAT OF TAR AND FEATHERS.

Hugo, Okla., March 24.—Charged with tarring and feathering Mrs. Bird King, a widow of Fort Towson, Okla., Mrs. Charles Rankin and Mrs. Sam Fitzgerald of that town were arrested yesterday and placed in jail here. Mrs. King charges that Mrs. Rankin and her 12-year-old son attacked her, and after throwing her to the ground, sat on her, while Mrs. Fitzgerald, she alleges, applied a coat of tar and feathers.

STEAMER DENVER ABANDONED AT SEA

New York, March 24.—The Mallory line, owners of the American steamer Denver, received a confirmation today of the wireless message sent last night from the steamer St. Louis announcing that the Denver's crew had been taken off and the Denver had been abandoned 1,300 miles east of New York.

This confirmation came in a wireless message from Capt. Avery of the Denver. The message said that the Denver had been abandoned in a sinking condition and that Capt. Avery and his crew were aboard the Atlantic transport liner Manhattan and would reach this port next Saturday.

A somewhat conflicting message which stated that the Denver's captain and his wife were aboard the steamer Megantic was received by wireless today from G. E. Metcalfe, the Megantic's captain, by the White Star line. The message read as follows: "This afternoon rescued captain and wife and thirteen members of crew of steamship Denver, also Capt. Smith of American steamer Aviland. Manhattan has remainder, fifty-six."

There is no mention in maritime records available here of the steamer Aviland. White Star line officials believed that the Megantic's captain referred to Capt. Smith of the American steamer Evelyn, which was sunk by a mine in the North sea. They believed that Capt. Smith was returning home on the Denver, although the Denver usually carried no passengers.

The total of persons rescued, according to the message from the Megantic's commander, is seventy-one.

The Denver sailed for New York from Bremerhaven on March 16, having delivered there a cargo of cotton. She was built in 1901 at Wilmington, Del., was 372 feet long and of 4,549 gross tons.

WOMAN IS KILLED; EIGHT LODGERS HELD.

Chicago, March 24.—Mrs. Anna Kovich was found choked to death in her home today. Eight lodgers in the house were taken into custody, as well as her husband, Samuel Kovich. Finger prints on her neck seemed to indicate the manner of her death.

The body, lying on the floor of her bedroom, was discovered by Nicholas Dodo, one of the lodgers, just as Kovich returned from his night's work. Mrs. Kovich was 19 years old. In a crib near the body her year old baby was sleeping peacefully.

DIVISION BILL BURIED DEEP IN THE HOUSE

Fate of St. Louis County Measure Not Surprise to Anyone.

Size of Vote Against It Rather Staggering to Its Friends.

Little Opposition to Bill Limiting Per Capita Expenditures.

By a Staff Correspondent.

St. Paul, Minn., March 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—The house has left little chance for anybody to doubt that it is against strange and new systems of county division.

Yesterday it beat two such schemes, one in the morning applying to Otter Tail and Polk counties, which fell by the wayside by a vote of 74 to 17, and another in the afternoon applying to St. Louis county, which went down to defeat by the impressive vote of 84 to 32.

There is another one yet to come, Representative John H. Boyd of Crookston having prepared one applying to Polk county alone.

But it seems to be a poor session for new schemes for dividing counties by easy methods that disfranchise a majority of the people of those counties.

The fate of the St. Louis county bill was a surprise to nobody, though the size of the vote against it was rather staggering to its friends. The Duluth members of the house and their many friends, however, had made a very careful check on that body, and the final vote varied very little from their figures.

Ribenack Was the General.

The Duluth delegation has worked hard and intelligently against this bill, and though since all have given their best, it is impossible to discriminate in praise, the credit for the generalship of the campaign in the house against this bill goes by general consent to Representative E. R. Ribenack, the chairman of the St. Louis county delegation. Representatives Bernard, North, Borgen and Nelson worked early and late, and all made good speeches against the bill yesterday afternoon. Representative J. W. Woodfill of Two Harbors was loyal in his neighborliness, and did valiant service in lining up votes against the measure.

The range delegation, which has been led in this fight by Representative S. C. Scott of Hibbing, did its best too; and its defeat is not due to lack of

COUPLE MARRIED SEVENTY-SIX YEARS

Believed to Hold American Record for Length of Married Life.

Freeport, Ill., March 24.—Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Slifer, both 98 years old, celebrated their seventy-sixth wedding anniversary here today. They are believed to hold the American record for length of wedded life. They have three children, the eldest being 75. Mr. and Mrs. Slifer have lived very temperate lives and in the last fifty years nothing except religious meetings have kept them up later than 9 o'clock.

MOST SANGUINARY BATTLE IS RAGING IN THE CARPATHIANS

TROOPS LANDED TO ASSIST FLEET IN THE DARDANELLES

BOMBARDING AGAIN BEGUN

Allied Transports Land Men on the Gallipoli Peninsula.

General Attack to Be Made as Soon as Ships Arrive.

Vessels Now on Way to Reinforce Fleet at Straits.

London, March 24.—A force of allied troops was landed on the peninsula of Gallipoli yesterday from transports in the Gulf of Saros, according to a dispatch from Athens to the Daily Express.

A general attack upon the fortifications of the Dardanelles is to be undertaken immediately on the arrival of further French and British warships now on their way to join the attacking squadron.

The last concerted effort against the Dardanelles positions occurred March 18. This day's action resulted in the loss of three battleships. Reviewing the situation military experts in London and elsewhere have expressed freely their belief that to penetrate the straits the marine forces must be well supported on land. It has been said lately that a strong detachment of French troops was on its way to the Dardanelles.

The Gallipoli peninsula is the northern or European side of the Dardanelles. At its head it is not more than three or four miles wide. If this neck of land were effectively held by the allies, Turkish communication with the strong positions on the peninsula would be impossible.

A dispatch from Athens received by way of Paris says an allied fleet resumed the bombardment of the Dardanelles yesterday.

Bombardment Resumed.

Paris, March 24.—Bombardment of the Turkish fortifications in the Dardanelles was resumed at 10 o'clock yesterday morning by an allied fleet according to an Athens dispatch to the Havas agency. The warships were accompanied into the straits by a number of mine sweepers.

Long Prairie Banker Dies.

Long Prairie, Minn., March 24.—R. H. Harkens, an old resident, died here Monday. He was one of the organizers of the Merchants' State bank, now the First National bank of Long Prairie, and had held several official positions in this village and county.

VIVID DESCRIPTION OF TERRIFIC FIGHT GIVEN BY CORRESPONDENT

Desperate Attempt of Allied Fleet to Reduce Turkish Forts.

Cannonade By Ships and Land Batteries Lasts Seven Hours.

Not a Fortress on Dardanelles Has Been Silenced By Fleet.

Dardanelles, March 18, via Constantinople and Berlin, March 21, and London, March 24.—One French battleship, the Bouvet, sent to the bottom; one British battleship, name unknown as yet to the observers on shore, driven on the beach and battered to pieces, and three other ships of the allies damaged to such an extent that it was found necessary to take them out of action, while on the other side the Turkish forts on the Dardanelles have not been silenced and the losses sustained by the garrison are nominal; these are details of the result of the tremendous efforts made by the allied fleet on March 18 to force the passage of the Dardanelles.

Action Lasted Seven Hours.

The action lasted nearly seven hours, during which time there was a terrific cannonade from the ships of the allies and the Turkish forts. The fire from the warships at times was exceedingly severe, while the Turkish gunners maintained their precision wonderfully, even when they were literally buried in the earth and debris which the exploding shells from the warships threw broadcast over their positions.

The allies put in an appearance at about 11:30 in the morning, throwing their first shells in the town of Chanak-Kalessi. Their vessels at this hour numbered four French and five British battleships. A little later five other British warships entered the bay and the bombardment rapidly became truly terrific and wonderfully spectacular. The correspondent of the Associated Press had taken shelter in Fort Chimenlik, but he was driven out by shells to a position on a hill outside the town. But even this hall already was burning in two places as a result of

LAST HOURS IN PRZEMYSL

Added Details of Surrender of Famous Fortress By Austrians.

City Encircled By Impenetrable Girdle of Russian Works.

"Events culminated in the last few days more rapidly than had been generally expected. The garrison had made a sortie eastward Friday, but Field Marshal Von Tamashy was convinced by it that Przemysl was encircled by an impenetrable girdle of Russian works.

"The Russians attacked Saturday and Sunday from the north and the east, where they had captured the supporting point of Nagorach in December, but the garrison repulsed the at-

IS EXPECTED TO CONTINUE SOME DAYS

Not Yet Reached Point Where Effect Can Be Determined.

Forces From Przemysl May Be Engaged There in Few Days.

Conflict Being Waged With Unusual Fierceness By Both Sides.

Berlin, March 24, by wireless to Sayville.—Reports from the Carpathian mountains indicate that one of the greatest and most sanguinary battles in the campaign is now raging. A special correspondent of the Lokal Anzeiger telegraphs: "The great, bloody battle is now in full swing in the Carpathians. It has not yet reached a point where a definite judgment can be passed on the events at any point. The conflict is likely to be waged some days yet with equal fierceness by both sides.

"The next few days probably will see the released Przemysl investment army engaged in this struggle.

"Conditions to the north of the Vistula river and along the Bug and Narew line appear to have changed little or not at all recently."

Putting Forts in Order.

London, March 24:—The magnitude of the surrender of Przemysl and speculation as to how quickly the Russians will be able to press the advantages derived therefrom in an advance to Hungary and Silesia continued to be the chief topics of discussion in the war news today.

The Russians are putting the fortress in order. They are sending the prisoners to the rear, feeding the starving populace and tending the sick and wound. The task is an enormous one, and so it is presumed that Russia for some time will not be able to divert elsewhere her strength, which for so long has been engaged in front of this stronghold. These men are estimated at six army corps.

Official reports disclose that nothing of importance has occurred in the western arena of war, but unofficial dispatches from Roterdam and Amsterdam say that another German offensive on the western front is impending.

Fighting in Carpathians.

Stubborn fighting in the Carpathians is going on unabated. At the northern extremity of the eastern line the Russians admit they have been thrown back from the East Prussian port of Memel, and they characterize their advance to this point as merely a reconnaissance. Further to the south the Russians claim that the German attempts to take Ossowetz are weakening, a majority of the big German guns having been withdrawn.

The strength of the latest Turkish

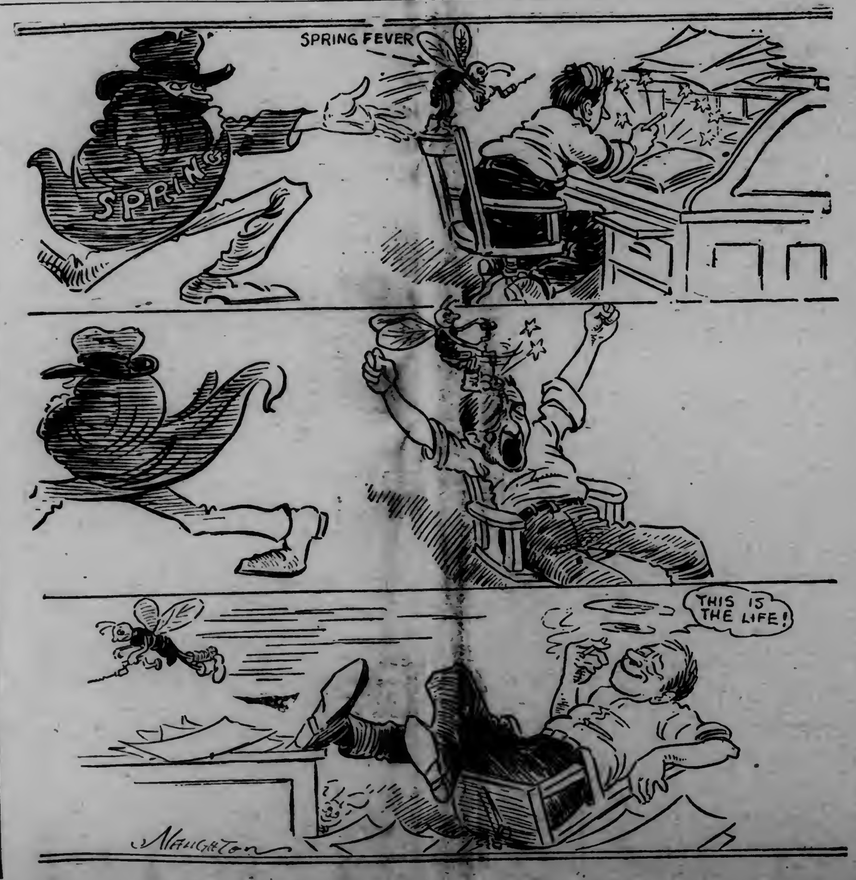
GREECE WILL ACT WITH BULGARIA

Former Will Not Support Triple Entente Except With the Latter.

London, March 24.—According to the newspapers of Athens, Greece will not range herself on the side of the Triple Entente powers by herself, the correspondent of the Exchange Telegraph company says in a dispatch from the Grecian capital. She will take an active part in the war only cojointly with Bulgaria. Isolated intervention on the part of either Greece or Bulgaria, the correspondent continues, would be regarded in Athens as ineffective.

'LONG 'BOUT THIS TIME O' YEAR.



SUMMARY OF THE WAR NEWS

The expected land attack on the Dardanelles fortifications, in conjunction with the operations of the allied fleet, probably will be inaugurated soon. It is reported from Athens that troops conveyed to the Dardanelles on transports were landed yesterday on the Gallipoli peninsula, and that the general attack by land and sea will be made on the arrival of the French and British warships now on the way to reinforce the fleet. Bombardment of the Turkish forts is said to have been resumed yesterday.

It is announced officially at Petrograd that the Germans have virtually abandoned their attempt to capture Ossowets, the fortress on which the invaders centered their efforts to break through the Russian chain of defenses.

Dispatches from Austrian sources state that war with Italy is now regarded by Austria-Hungary as probable. According to these advices, large numbers of Austrian troops are being sent to the Italian border.

A Rome newspaper says that every member of the chamber of deputies is convinced Italy must act energetically, even to the point of facing "a supreme struggle," to realize the nation's aspirations.

GERMAN SUBMARINE BASE IS ATTACKED BY BRITISH AIRMEN

Successful Raid Made on Hoboken Works Near Antwerp.

Believed Considerable Damage Done to Works and Submersibles.

London, March 24.—The British admiralty this afternoon issued a statement saying that a British air raid had been successfully carried out today on German submarines at Hoboken, three miles outside of Antwerp.

The text of the admiralty statement was as follows:

"The following has been received from Wing Commander Longmore:

"'I have to report that a successful air attack was carried out this morning by five machines of the Dunkirk squadron on the German submarines being constructed at Hoboken, near Antwerp.

"'Two of the pilots had to return owing to thick weather, but Squadron Commander Courtney and Flight Lieut. Rosher reached their objective and after planing down to 1,000 feet, dropped four bombs each on the submarines.

Considerable Damage Done.

"'It is believed that considerable damage has been done to both the works and two submarines.

"'The works were observed to be on fire. In all five submarines were observed on the slip.

"'Flight Lieutenant B. Crossley-Meates was obliged by engine trouble to descend in Holland. Owing to the mist the two pilots experienced considerable difficulty in finding their way and they were subjected to a heavy gun fire whilst delivering their attacks.'"

Flight Commander Crossley-Meates of the British aviation service, in consequence of engine trouble, while en route to make an attack on Antwerp, was obliged to land at Kruiningen, according to a dispatch from The Hague to Reuter's Telegram company. The airman was not injured. He will be interned.

FARRELL STANDS FOR ECONOMY AND EFFICIENCY

"Economy and Efficiency" is not an idle catch-phrase. To the man who pays the taxes, the words stand for a movement the success of which will lighten his burden.

James A. (Bert) Farrell believes that a public officer should not only talk of "Efficiency and Economy" but should give effect to the principle for which the words stand.

If Mr. Farrell is elected Commissioner, he hopes to be assigned to the Division of Public Works, but whatever may be his assignment, he will set himself conscientiously to the conservation of the public funds. Every man on the pay-roll in his division will return full value in service for every dollar he receives. The same rule will be applied to all expenditures. Leaks will be sought out and stopped, and expenses in every direction will be held to the minimum consistent with good service to the public.

Mr. Farrell will carry the same rule into the field of legislative work on the Commission as a whole. He will work at all times for economy and efficiency and will endeavor to have the taxpayers given the best possible government at the lowest cost.

If you want real economy and real efficiency in the city government, work and vote for James A. (Bert) Farrell.

C. S. PALMER GETS A LETTER FROM C. S. PALMER

C. S. Palmer received a letter this morning from C. S. Palmer.

And sometime today C. S. Palmer is going to write back to C. S. Palmer.

City Clerk Palmer received a letter this morning from C. S. Palmer, editor of the Fordowner, a motor publication devoted to the interests of owners of Ford automobiles. The latter asks for the list of "jitneys" operating Duluth and how many Ford cars there are in use for this newest form of bus service.

"Our" C. S. Palmer would have thrown the letter away, as no list of "jitney" drivers is kept, but he "just cannot forgo the pleasure of writing to C. S. Palmer for the first time in my life."

REFUSE TO WITHDRAW

Evens and Bernard Will Make Race for Commissionership.

Hicken Men Fail to Eliminate Candidates; Eight Now in Race.

Chris E. Evens and William L. Bernard will both be in the campaign for the city commission.

This announcement was made this morning by friends of Mr. Evens, who said that he will remain in the race, and that Mr. Bernard will also permit his name to go on the ballot. The state legislator, before leaving for St. Paul a week ago, declared that he would drop out only if Mr. Evens withdrew, but that otherwise, he would remain in the campaign.

This means that all the candidates who were nominated for the commission several weeks ago will be in the campaign, and that there will be eight men to vote on for the two offices in the commission made vacant by the expiration of the terms of Commissioners Hicken and Murchison.

Early last week friends of Commissioners Hicken and Murchison started a movement to have both Mr. Evens and Mr. Bernard withdraw. The former was in California and no action could be taken until his return last Sunday, when negotiations were started by supporters on both sides. This morning the announcement was made that Mr. Evens had agreed to accept the advice of his friends and remain in the fight. This, of course, means that Mr. Bernard will also make the run.

Candidates for commissioners have until five days before election day on April 6 to withdraw from the campaign, according to the city charter. However, it is believed that the official ballot will be made out in the following manner:

For Commissioners.
William L. Bernard.
Chris E. Evens.
J. A. Farrell.
W. A. Hicken.
R. E. McFarlane.
Roderick Murchison.
J. L. Norman.
Bernard Silberstein.

For Municipal Judge.

Would Administer Estate.
Mrs. Mary Cerjance, daughter of Mrs. Bertha Bergovich, whose death occurred at Eveleth, March 15, petitioned the probate court yesterday afternoon to grant letters of administration on the estate to John Malevich, 427 Fayal road, Eveleth. Besides the petitioner, Mrs. Bergovich is survived by seven other children. The estate is valued at $3,850.

Window Trimmers Organize.
The window trimmers of Duluth and Superior stores will organize a Twin Ports Window Trimmers' association at a meeting to be held tomorrow evening at the Duluth Commercial club. It is expected that about fifty followers of that profession will be present. The meeting is called for 8 o'clock.

Stereopticon Lecture.
Tomorrow evening at Lakeside Swedish Mission, Forty-seventh avenue east, Rev. H. A. Ofstie, pastor of the Norwegian-Danish M. E. church of the West end, will give a stereopticon lecture on "Scenes of the Life of Christ."

New Traveling Agent.
J. F. O'Shaughnessy has been appointed local traveling agent of the Omaha road to succeed C. F. O'Hara, who recently left the employ of the Omaha to sell automobiles. Mr. O'Shaughnessy was formerly employed by the same railroad in Superior and enjoys the acquaintance of a large number of railroad men at the Head of the Lakes.

Dies in Minneapolis.
Frank A. Hawley, a former well-known railroad man, died a few days ago at the home of his daughter in Minneapolis and the remains were interred in that city on Monday of this week. Mr. Hawley was connected with the old St. Paul & Duluth road as general agent in Minneapolis and when the Northern Pacific took that road over was general agent for the new owners at Minneapolis for some time. He has not been in the railroad business for years, however. Mr. Hawley is well remembered by many Duluthians.

On Annual Spring Tour.
H. S. Lloyd of Buffalo, N. Y., assistant general manager of the Mutual Transit company and traffic commissioner for lake lines, is in the city today on his annual tour preceding the opening of navigation. Mr. Lloyd is looking over business prospects for the coming season. The package freight season is expected to open some time between April 15 and May 1. Lake lines carrying merchandise look for good business for the first part of the season, owing to accumulated freight awaiting the opening, but not very much is expected for later on.

Pays Inheritance Tax.
Walter J. Markham of Virginia today paid $622.02 to the county treasurer as a tax upon his inheritance from the estate of his mother, Mrs. Belle Markham, who died Aug. 26, 1914. Mrs. Markham left an estate valued at $47,851.03, all of which went to her son. The tax was determined in probate court today by Judge S. W. Gilpin.

Clan Scots Night.
This evening Clan Stewart will give another of its popular "guid Scots nicht" entertainments for clansmen and their families at its hall, Fourth avenue west and First street. A dance will be preceded by a musical program in which the following will take part: Mrs. Alex M. McLennan, Miss Anna Morrison, Robert Drummond and James P. Downie.

Elks Attention

Next dance for Elks and their ladies only Thursday, March 25th.

TO KILL ELECTION PAMPHLET LAW

Forecasted By Wisconsin Senate Action on Hanson Repeal Bill.

Madison, Wis., March 24.—The repeal of the election pamphlet law, by which Wisconsin candidates for state and legislative offices may advertise their qualifications to all voters throughout the state is forecast by the action of the senate, which today by a vote of 22 to 8 sent the Frank Hanson repeal bill to engrossment. This vote followed another in which the senate refused to refer the bill, together with the new one by Senator Skogmo, back to the committee for another hearing.

Senator Skogmo's bill, in which Lieutenant Governor Dithman is interested, provides that the election campaign pamphlets shall be abolished and that the primary pamphlet shall be compiled at the expense of the state, no fee being required of candidates. This is intended to induce every candidate, rich or poor, to enter the pamphlet and a wider knowledge of qualifications of candidates given to voters. All candidates of one party shall be grouped and the names listed alphabetically.

Culberson Bill Dead.
The senate refused to reconsider the vote by which it killed the Culberson bill giving commission cities four years time in which to try out the new form of government before they may vote to return to the old form.

Senator Arnold introduced three joint resolutions amending the constitution to allow the state to own and operate farms, factories, workshops, public works and other industries and to give employment to every person applying therefor and also allowing the state to contract public debts for that purpose.

Concurs in Burke Bill.
The assembly concurred in the Burke bill repealing the $50,000 appropriation for a state administration building in Milwaukee and killed a bill that sought to cut the $50,000 appropriation for the state board of health in two.

Two excise bills permitting saloons to open after the close of the polls on election day, and authorizing the state to publish in pamphlet form the statistics of the liquor business in Wisconsin compiled by the industrial commission, were ordered engrossed.

The assembly reconsidered its vote of last week and then engrossed the Zinn bill prohibiting private employment agencies from charging a fee of men seeking jobs, and engrossed the Weber bill prohibiting the employment of deputy sheriffs unless they have resided in the district ninety days. The latter is an echo of the recent Colorado strike trouble.

TWO DAMAGE SUITS ON TRIAL

Laundress Wants $2,800 for Fall on Slippery Floor.

Trial of an action in which Marie Olson is demanding $2,847 damages from John T. Armstead, owner and proprietor of the Acme laundry, for injuries which she sustained on March 5, 1913, when she slipped and fell on a wet floor in the laundry, was begun before Judge Fesler and a jury in district court this morning.

The young woman was employed at the laundry as a sorter. She claims that in walking across a damp and slippery floor, she lost her footing and fell, striking against a box. One rib was fractured, another splintered and one of her legs was badly cut, she says.

In Judge Ensign's division this morning, a jury was drawn to try a cause of action which Ostoja Tomasvich has against Emil Otalich. Tomasvich is suing for $1,000. He claims that while he was a passenger on a bus and was riding between West Duluth and Gary, he was thrown into the ditch by the overturning of the machine. He alleges that he paid 25 cents for his ride and that the proprietor of the bus business is liable.

John H. Norton appears as attorney for Tomasvich and B. M. Goldberg is defending Otalich.

AWARD OF CITY UPHELD BY COURT

Contention of Northern Pacific Road Turned Down By Judge Ensign.

Condemnation proceedings instituted by the city in 1907 to acquire land from the Northern Pacific Railway company for the extension of Railroad street for a distance of two blocks, were brought to an end in district court today when Judge Ensign handed down a decision which upholds the award made by the city board of public works to the railway company in 1909. The company will receive $6,140 and interest, which has accrued since October, 1909.

The proceeding was started for the purpose of condemning an extension of Railroad street, from its present westerly terminus to Garfield avenue for a distance of about two city blocks. The street, as proposed, will extend diagonally through a portion of the railroad yards in the vicinity of Garfield avenue. The award was made five years ago, and the company appealed. Recently the matter was brought on for a hearing.

The railway company contended that it should receive $19,860 damages, that 66,200 square feet of land was taken for the road and that a price of 30 cents a square foot was a fair measure of damages. The court, however, refused to disturb the award as made by the appraisers.

STARKEY HEADS CONSOLIDATED

Elected By Elevator Company Directors to Succeed George Spencer.

At the regular quarterly meeting of the board of directors of the Consolidated Elevator company, held in New York yesterday, H. A. Starkey of Duluth, formerly vice president and superintendent of the company, was elected president and general manager to fill the vacancy caused by the death of George Spencer, which took place recently. No other changes in the company's officers were made.

DISMISSES CHARGE AGAINST MINNESOTAN.

Towner, N. D., March 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—The charge against Edward L. Saxon of Princeton, Minn., charged with arson, and arrested at the instance of the state fire marshal, was dismissed in the district court of McHenry county, the evidence being insufficient to warrant further prosecution.

The arrest of Saxon resulted from an alleged confession by a former employe, Saxon having been engaged in the potato warehouse business at Upham, this county, several years ago, when his elevator was destroyed by fire.

FAILED TO LIVE UP TO AGREEMENT

Biwabik Man Loses Farm for Breaking Faith With Settler.

Lars Olson, Biwabik saloon keeper, failed to live up to his part of an agreement which he and Malkum Anderson, an aged homesteader, entered into five years ago, and as a result he will lose title to the Anderson farm.

In district court today, Judge Ensign handed down a decision in which he held that Olson had broken faith with Anderson and that a deed which the defendant had given Olson on March 29, 1910, should be cancelled of record. The court also found Olson to be indebted to Anderson in the sum of $50.

Anderson, 73, five years ago gave Olson his farm with the understanding that the latter provide him with a good living during the remainder of his days. This, Anderson claimed, Olson had failed to do. He brought suit to have the deed set aside.

GOOD GOVERNMENT COMMITTEE FORMED

Will Handle Campaign of Hicken, Murchison, Bernard and Evens.

About 100 prominent Duluth business and professional men this morning organized the good government committee to conduct a vigorous campaign in behalf of Commissioners Hicken and Murchison and William L. Bernard and Chris E. Evens, all candidates for the city commission.

Offices were opened this noon at 308 and 309 Alworth building and William A. Eaton, who has been appointed chairman of the executive committee and campaign manager, has already been placed in charge. L. U. Young is secretary and Charles Mork, treasurer.

The executive committee, which will handle the campaign, consists of the following members: Frank Crasswellet, W. B. Getchell, T. T. Hudson, Henry Nolte, Marcus L. Fay, R. J. Coole, Watson S. Moore and N. J. Upham.

Mr. Eaton announced this afternoon that a program of meetings is now being arranged and that an active campaign will be waged from now on.

Steamer Baltic Delayed.
Liverpool, via London, March 24.—The White Star line steamer Baltic, due to sail for New York this afternoon, will not get away. She will have to lay up on account of an injury to her rudder received this morning while leaving her dock. Her passengers will be transferred to vessels sailing next Saturday.

SAVES ELDERLY FOLKS FROM BLADDER MISERY

When you're fifty your body begins to creak a little at the hinges. Motion is more slow and deliberate. "Not so young as I used to be," is a frequent and unwelcome thought. Certain bodily functions upon which good health and good spirits so much depend, are impaired. The weak spot is generally the bladder. Unpleasant complications in other organs arise. This is particularly true with elderly people. If you only know how, this trouble can be obviated.

For over 200 years GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil has been relieving the inconvenience and pain due to advancing years. It is a standard, old-time home remedy and needs no introduction. It is now put up in odorless, tasteless capsules. These are easier and more pleasant to take than the oil in bottles.

Each capsule contains about one dose of five drops. Take them just like you would any pill, with a small swallow of water. They soak into the system and throw off the poisons which are making you old before your time. They will quickly relieve those stiffened joints, that backache, rheumatism, lumbago, sciatica, gall-stones, gravel, "brick-dust," etc. They are an effective remedy for all diseases of the bladder, kidney, liver, stomach and allied organs.

Go to your druggist today and get a box of GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules. Money refunded if they do not help you. GOLD MEDAL are the sure, original imported Haarlem Oil Capsules. Accept no substitute.

MOTHER OF THREE DULUTHIANS DIES

County Commissioner Little and Brothers Get Bad News From East.

County Commissioner T. H. Little received word this morning that his mother, Mrs. William Little, died suddenly at her home in Collingwood, Ont., last night. Mrs. Little was 85 years of age, and death resulted from ills attending her advanced years. Three sons reside in Duluth, the other two besides the county commissioner being Richard, residing at 517 Twelfth and one-half avenue east and Robert J., of 26 East Fourth street. She is also survived by her husband and by three other children, George of Park Falls, Wis., Albert of Spanish Mills, Ont., and Mrs. A. S. Irving of Alpena, Mich.

The sons residing in Duluth are uncertain as to whether or not they will be able to attend the funeral until they hear further particulars. Mrs. Little and her husband were pioneers of Collingwood and of Nottawasaga township, and were among the most prominent residents of the community.

Get Koochiching Contract.

International Falls, Minn., March 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—Contractors from all parts of the country entered bids upon the furnishing of material to Koochiching county for culvert work at the office of the county auditor yesterday. The contract was awarded to the Klauer Manufacturing company of Dubuque, Iowa, to furnish material to the amount of $13,000.

NORTH DAKOTA BOY IS DROWNED IN TUB.

Grand Forks, N. D., March 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—Henry Delaney, the 2½-year-old son of Charles Delaney of Arvilla, Grand Forks county, was drowned in a tub of water, his body being discovered by Mrs. Delaney.

The little fellow had been playing about the porch of the residence when the accident happened, the lad stumbling off the porch into the tub, which was full of water.

Lights and Shadows of Police Court

TOO MUCH TERRITORY.

Harry Nelson's Claims to Pugilistic Prowess Pushed Too Far.

HARRY NELSON, age 18, believes firmly that he is a budding Jim Jeffries, but when he starts out to give exhibitions he is inclined to take in too much territory, according to police. Nelson was arrested by Patrolmen Magnuson and Fagerberg last night, charged with disorderly conduct.

He is alleged to have entered a pool hall near Twentieth avenue west and Superior street and issued a sweeping challenge. No one disputed his claim, and so far Nelson was the champion of the world.

From the pool room he went to a dance hall in the adjoining building and repeated his performance, still without any competition. He then returned to the pool hall and threw bricks through the window. A minute later the competition proved too strong and he was on his way to jail.

His case was referred to Probation Officer Hicks.

HELD TO GRAND JURY.

Prisoner Said to Prove Truth of Old Adage About Pitcher.

James Hageganes, age 24, arrested March 19, charged with stealing a suit of clothes and a gun in two visits to a residence at 128 West Third street, was given a hearing before Municipal Judge F. H. Cutting yesterday afternoon and bound over to the grand jury under $300 bail.

When Hageganes attempted to return to the scene of his first theft and take some more articles, he proved the old adage about the pitcher which went once too often to the well.

Richard Funck, recently appointed third assistant county attorney, appeared in municipal court in the Hageganes case, representing the state for the first time in his new capacity.

TOO MANY BIRTHDAYS.

Prisoner Celebrated One Five Times During One Year.

"My birthday comes but once a year, judge," said George A. Pesonen, age 32, in municipal court this morning, "and I thought it would be all right if I would celebrate a little bit."

Pesonen was discovered by Chief C. H. Troyer yesterday afternoon when he was in the midst of his celebration, and placed in a cell at headquarters.

After he had presented his "alibi" in court, it was found that Pesonen had spent eight months of the past year at the city and county work farm, sixty days at a time. In each case, when arrested, he gave the excuse that he was "celebrating his birthday."

No man is entitled to five birthdays in one year, according to Judge Cutting, who sentenced Pesonen to another sixty days.

WIFE SMOKED "PILLS."

Husband Didn't Object Until She Blew Smoke in His Face.

When his spouse smoked cigarettes right after breakfast, he didn't like it, but when she blew the smoke in his face it was too much, and he slapped her, according to the story told this morning by Charles Foster. Foster was arrested by Sergeant Hunter of the West end station on a charge of assault.

The post prandial cigarette was the chief cause of the trouble, declared Foster, although his wife had too many friends, and was accustomed to stay out late at night.

Municipal Judge F. H. Cutting evidently agreed with the prisoner, for sentence was suspended when Foster pleaded guilty to the charge.

TRIED FOR "RESERVED BED."

Lodger Wanted Choice Place on Jail Floor and Is Arrested.

Like the baseball fan who stays up all night to get a good bleacher seat for the next day's game, Michael Busha, age 35, tried to get "a box seat" in the lodgers' room at police headquarters last night without being seen, and was jailed for vagrancy. He pleaded not guilty in police court this morning and will be given a hearing this afternoon.

The "dungeon" has been crowded to the doors with men out of work who are willing to sleep on the cement floor, recently, and Busha has been lucky enough to get two or three square feet of concrete for his own up until night before last.

Busha made a sortie in the direction of headquarters about 6 o'clock, and tried to get by Sergeant Albert Weber and into the basement without being booked. The sergeant heard the door slam, and investigated.

First Norwegian-Danish M. E. church—All the Scandinavian ministers of the West end will speak.

One hundred residents of the West end have organized a Farrell-Silberstein club, and a campaign is to be made, beginning tomorrow, to visit every registered voter living between Garfield and Central avenues.

This announcement was made this morning by M. J. Murray, campaign manager for Mr. Farrell, who also said that a Young Men's Farrell club will be organized tonight at the Farrell headquarters in the Manhattan building.

The new West end organization came voluntarily, Mr. Murray said, and the 100 members propose to make as complete a canvass of that section of the city as is possible. The entire district between Garfield and Central avenues will be divided among the 100 members and each man will be assigned the registered voters living in his territory.

In addition to the organization of the Young Men's Farrell club tonight, there will be a meeting of the Iron workers of the city at the Sloan hall, where all the candidates will speak.

Another big mass meeting will be held Sunday afternoon at the First Norwegian-Danish M. E. church, Twenty-fourth avenue west and Third street, where all the Scandinavian ministers of the West end will speak in behalf of Commissioners Hicken and Murchison, William L. Bernard and Chris E. Evens, candidates for the commission, and Judge W. L. Windom, candidate for re-election as judge of the municipal court.

SPIKE DRIVEN INTO SKULL, BOY MAY LIVE.

Grand Forks, N. D., March 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—Oscar Bondelid, age 10, had a spike driven through his skull yesterday when he fell into the basement of a building in course of construction. His injury, however, is not likely to prove fatal, according to the physicians, although it is of such nature that it is feared it will permanently affect the boy's mind.

INTERNATIONAL FALLS MEN ARE ARRESTED.

International Falls, Minn., March 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—A raid on one of the local saloons Monday night by Sheriff Thomas P. White and deputies resulted in the arrest of Pat McCusick, owner of the place and several others for alleged gambling. The five were brought before Municipal Judge G. S. Langland and the cases continued until today, the defendant being released on bail.

HANGING ON THE OUTSIDE

"Jitney Hangers" the Newest Problem in Transportation Business.

Minneapolis Gets Its First Bus—Twenty Here Now.

Street car straphangers may soon be a thing of the past, but in their place will be jitney hangers.

Any morning now one can see a jitney whirling along, dodging in and out among street cars, trucks and other vehicles, with two or three passengers clinging to the running board with their teeth, and hanging on by their eyebrows.

This latest form of hanger is much more of a pest than the old fashioned straphanger, say jitney patrons, but the habit is here to stay, as long as men are late to work in the morning and see a crowded jitney as their only hope of dodging by the boss. It is the latest transportation problem to face city officials for the custom is a dangerous one.

Duluthians caught the jitney fever sooner than almost any other city in the state. Minneapolis' first jitney started running on a schedule yesterday.

Two more cars, making trips at 20-minute intervals along First street from Fifth avenue west to Twentieth avenue east, were put into commission this morning by J. O. Renning, originator of the jitney bus in Duluth. There are about twenty busses in commission now, it is estimated.

Plans for broadening the scope of this new business were divulged by Mr. Renning when he stated that a garage accommodating between thirty and forty cars would be built for the use of his company in the near future. A site on Twenty-third avenue west and Superior street has been decided upon.

By the middle of the summer the Zenith City will have fifty busses, running on schedules along the main streets, it is believed. The growth of the idea since its inception a little more than two weeks ago has insured its success, say those interested.

LUMBERMEN ARE HOLDING MEETING

J. C. McDonald of Duluth Presiding at Gathering at Buffalo.

Buffalo, N. Y., March 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—J. C. McDonald of Duluth, Minn., is presiding at special meeting of lumbermen assembled here in Iroquois hotel to discuss trade conditions in the lumber business. With McDonald is William O'Brien of St. Paul and Jacksonville, Fla., extensive operator in the Southern lumber field. Hugh McLean of Buffalo is taking care of the reception for the visitors. The meetings are being held behind closed doors and no matters discussed will be made public until after the meeting has concluded, which undoubtedly will be Thursday morning.

the price you have to pay is possibly a greater consideration than the satisfaction of some little whim as to style. That is, if you buy your new Spring Suit or Coat at "charge it" prices. There are no "charge it" prices here, and this fact is reflected in the snappy styles and wonderful qualities at such moderate prices.

Take for instance a suit that arrived today. Made of firm wool Venetian—snappy military style, in the new putty shade. Most stores would feel justified in asking at least $25 for this garment. CHINA GRANTS FIVE DEMANDS

Japan's Conditions Regarding Manchuria Accepted at Peking.

Japs Withdraw Some Articles and Will Reconsider Others.

Peking, March 24.—Five articles bearing on the Japanese demands upon China were initiated as concluded by the Chinese foreign minister, Lu Cheng Hsiang, and Eki Hioki, the Japanese minister, at the conference which was held at the Japanese legation yesterday. The Japanese minister recently suffered slight injuries by a fall from a horse and his condition did not permit him to go to the Chinese foreign office, and for this reason, the meeting was transferred to the legation.

All the articles concern Manchuria. China agreed to the following stipulations:

Stipulations.

First—The Japanese government's consent shall be obtained before a loan is made with a third power involving the pledging of local taxes in South Manchuria.

Second—The Japanese government's consent shall be obtained whenever permission is granted to a subject of a third power to build a railway, or when a loan is made with a third power for the building of a railway in South Manchuria.

Third—If the Chinese government in South Manchuria employs advisers of instructors for political, financial or military purposes, the Japanese government shall first be consulted.

Fourth—The transfer of the Kirin Changshun railway to Japanese control for ninety-nine years.

The fifth article was proposed by China and provides for the continuance of such treaties as are not affected by the present treaty.

The Japanese have conceded the point of a separate discussion regarding East Mongolia and South Manchuria, which were combined in their list of demands.

Progress Made.

In the Manchuria group, the immigration and land ownership clauses have not yet been settled, but definite progress has been made. This is the case also with respect to the mining clause.

The Japanese government has withdrawn what is known as "article 3 of the fifth group," namely the demand for a joint police administration "of important places," throughout China, and also has indicated its willingness, it is announced, to withdraw one or two other articles from this so-called general group.

The Chinese government has received advices confirming the report that 600 additional Japanese troops have arrived at Tsinan, making a total of about 3,000.

Boycotts by the Chinese on Japanese goods are reported from several places in the south, where it is considered that the Chinese are most likely to get beyond the government's control. A Shanghai dispatch says rioting occurred within the foreign settlements Monday night. Japanese theaters and shops were stoned. The police were called out and made some arrests.

exploding shells. In the beginning the range of the British and French gunners was excellent. The correspondent saw a shell land fair on a corner of the Fort Kale Sultanie tower and tear out a large hole in the masonry. This routed out a party of newspaper correspondents who were just about to leave cover.

Houses Knocked to Pieces.

While traversing Chank Kalessi several houses were knocked to pieces by exploding shells. The trip to the town was accelerated by the well-directed shots. While the correspondents were on the way, from several large shells exploded 100 yards away and splinters from them filled the air. This attention from the British gunners was due to the fact that the party of correspondents was moving along in the center of a body of soldiers.

The fire from the warships soon became general. One shell buried itself in the ground close to the group of observers; fortunately in exploding it did no damage. The hillside toward which the correspondents were making their way finally was reached at about 12:30. It was then seen that the British had concentrated their fire upon the forts. The noise of the explosions and the replies of the Turkish batteries were deafening. The area of fire was so extended that at certain times the correspondents were unable to find cover anywhere. A certain vantage point, however, was finally decided upon and from this position the observers looked upon a wonderful assault; the concentrated attack of a large group of modern battleships against well-built and defended land fortifications.

Firing Continuous.

The British ships were firing heavily and continuously. At times the smoke was so thick that it completely blotted out the horizon and totally enveloped the particular Turkish fort under fire. One would get glimpses of the fortifications lifting their higher points out of clouds of gray smoke. The severity of the fire led one to think the fort had been blown away, but time and again the smoke cleared and showed the Turkish position virtually undamaged.

The fire of the Turks was rapid and accurate, so much so that the fire from the allied warships began to be erratic. Many shots flew nigh, while others fell short. One result of this was that the town of Chanak Kalessi, behind Forts Hamidieh and Chemenlik had wide avenues out through it. Fire broke out in the Greek quarter and destroyed a considerable number of houses. In the meanwhile Turkish soldiers were formed into bridges and were successful in keeping the flames down.

Greatest Intensity.

The bombardment reached its greatest intensity at 3:15 in the afternoon, when of a sudden the French battleship Bouvet was observed to be riding low by the stern. The next minute she swung a little to port. At the same moment her after deck disappeared under water. For about two minutes she held in this position, the water nearing her conning tower. Then she settled completely by the stern, her bows clear of the water and pointing toward the sky. The next instant the waves closed over the ill-fated vessel. On shore it was believed that she had struck a mine. Boats rushed to the rescue, but only a few men were saved.

A few minutes later a large Turkish shell was seen to strike the deck of a British vessel. When the smoke of the explosion had cleared away, it was seen that the vessel's foremast had been cut off near the crowsnest and bent to one side. The mast rigging was hanging down in a tangled mass. This same shot apparently also damaged the machinery, for it could be seen that the vessel was experiencing difficulty in gaining the open sea.

Another Vessel Struck.

This was hardly over when another vessel was struck heavily on the deck. She also was obliged to retire under a galling Turkish fire.

But the greatest tragedy came at about 4:45 in the afternoon, when a British warship was so badly damaged that she was obliged to run ashore within range of the Turkish guns. For one hour, until 5:45, warships of the allies stood by and protected their stranded companion with a heavy fire on the Turkish forts, but the coming of night obliged them to withdraw, leaving behind them the fated vessel. The Turkish gunners directed an accurate fire against her, and she was still holding out at the time this dispatch was written. Eight shots were seen to strike this vessel's deck full and square within ten minutes. Nevertheless she continued to return this terrific fire. Her shots had no apparent effect upon the fort.

Turkish Losses Slight.

So far as has been ascertained up to the present time, the Turkish losses today have been one gun jammed by debris, two men killed and fifteen slightly wounded. Other reports on damages have not yet come in, but it is understood that they are very slight.

The fire from all the vessels of the allied fleet came to an end at sundown. Not one gun in a Turkish fort was silenced, in spite of the fact that something between 1,200 and 2,000 shells were fired at the shore positions. To-night Chanak Kalessi is still burning in two places, and there is maintained a fire on the other side of the water in Kilid Bahr. On shore it is felt that the work of today has resulted in a victory for the Turks. The British and French vessels today ventured close enough to come within range of Turkish guns which up to the present time had not been fired.

Turks Score Great Victory.

As details of the engagement became known it is increasingly apparent that the Turks scored a great artillery success. They sent three of the allied battleships to the bottom. The Bouvet was struck by a 14-inch shell above the water line which caused an explosion in her magazine. Later she was again hit by a same caliber missile below the water line.

The battleship Irresistible also was disabled by being hit in a vital part by a shell and she later was literally hacked to pieces by the 5.9-inch pieces of the Dardanelles batteries. She sunk at 7:30 o'clock on the evening of March 18.

A third British vessel, the Vengeance, was damaged by guns of the forts and drifted helplessly toward the entrance to the straits, where her crew was taken off by torpedo boats. This vessel did not leave the Dardanelles waters, nor did any other British vessel enter during the night to bring help, but the ship this morning had disappeared.

Fourth Vessel Struck.

A fourth vessel was struck in a turret and otherwise damaged by a Turkish shell. She also was taken out of action.

The British battleship Queen Elizabeth was hit five times by howitzer shells and the battle cruiser Inflexible was struck four times.

The foregoing is a summary of the reports made during the day by observers who were unable last night to reach the Turkish headquarters. The Associated Press correspondent today visited the forts which had been bombarded. The material damage was slight generally. The casualties on the Turkish side were about twenty men killed and thirty-five wounded.

tack viciously. The Austrian artillery spent its ammunition in every possible way, and meanwhile the most important defensive positions were blown up, as long as the explosives lasted.

"Early Monday morning an officer with a flag of truce went to the Russian headquarters to arrange the terms of surrender. The fortress held out to the end.

Weakness of Soldiers.

"The last sortie revealed strikingly the physical weakness of the ill-fed soldiers, to whose distress sickness also contributed. Bad weather played an ominous role in all stages of the siege and sealed the fate of Przemysl. When the fortress was holding back the Russian advance in September and enabling the Austrian forces to re-establish themselves, the roads became well-nigh impassable. Hence it was necessary to leave the wounded from the battle on the San in Przemysl, instead of transporting them further south. This hastened the exhaustion of the supplies of food and the shortness of the time between the two sieges prevented an ample revictualing.

Surrounded By Works.

"The military value of the fortress diminished rapidly because the Russians had surrounded it with a girdle of works which could be defended with light garrisons. The Russians thus found an opportunity to assemble strong forces for a general offensive and the chances of the Austrian garrison, surprising the besiegers, grew less and less. Nevertheless, the Russian attacks also proved fruitless, and an Austrian counter offensive at the beginning of March was checked at a most hopeful juncture by a return of cold wintry weather, with a heavy snowfall.

"The garrison destroyed the guns, magazines and radio station. The last radiogram from the Przemysl station arrived Sunday at 6:55 in the evening. Shortly afterward the station was blown up by the Austrians. The last dispatch announced that an officer had been sent to negotiate the surrender."

Forty Thousand Killed.

London, March 23.—The size of the garrison at Przemysl and the number of men who surrendered to the Russians greatly exceeded all estimates. According to dispatches received from Petrograd last night the garrison originally consisted of 170,000 men, of whom 40,000 were killed. Just under 120,000 surrendered when the fortress capitulated.

Owing to the blizzard, which is interfering with telegraphic service, no details of the surrender are coming through, but Lemberg reports that for seven days prior to the fall of the fortress, the people of Przemysl had nothing to eat, and the Russians who took in large supplies of provisions were welcomed as liberators.

Dispatches from the same place say that 15,000 persons were found suffering from typhus or cholera and that the work of disinfecting the place is being energetically undertaken. The interior forts, it is said, were found intact with a good deal of ammunition in them.

Austrians Given Credit.

Everywhere in Europe, both in belligerent and neutral countries, the greatest credit is given the Austrians for their long and stubborn resistance, which has greatly delayed and interfered with the Russian campaign in other sections.

Now that the Russians, whose numbers like those of the Austrians must have been greater than was heretofore understood, are no longer under obligation to invest this fortress, a big movement either against Cracow, or in the Carpathians doubtless will be inaugurated. With their northern lines protected by the morass into which the greater part of Poland is converted during the spring months, the Russians are expected to concentrate all their strength against the Austrians and attempt finally to crush them.

One British military critic goes so far as to stake his reputation on the prophesy that Cracow will fall within the next month and that when it does, or before, Austria will endeavor to conclude a separate peace. He is more optimistic than the majority of military critics, who are of the opinion that the Austrians and Germans will likewise make a great effort in the southern field and attempt to prevent the Russians from crossing the Carpathians or reaching Cracow.

Ground Covered With Bodies.

London, March 24.—A Russian correspondent, who set out from Lemberg for Przemysl, upon receipt of news that the fortress had surrendered, sends a graphic account of the conditions prevailing there, which has been transmitted from Petrograd to Reuter's agency.

On the way, the correspondent passed Scheljhinie, where the Austrians made their last desperate sortie three days before. The ground was still littered with dead bodies, which were being removed by ambulances. Further on were seen a pillar of smoke, marking all that remained of the strongest of the outlying forts.

On the other side of the road, were trenches and barbed wire entanglements, with a dozen field guns protruding. Austrian officers, who retained their swords, and their men, were passing as prisoners to the rear.

From Prekopanie, a suburb of Przemysl, a close view was obtained of the center of the town. All the bridges had been destroyed by the Austrians, but the Russians had already constructed a pontoon bridge by which Austrian troops and the inhabitants were leaving the town. The Cossacks were waiting to go in.

Smoked Like Volcanoes.

All around the fortress, burning forts smoked like a circle of volcanoes, while continuous explosions were heard as the Austrians blew up ammunition stores.

Austrian soldiers relate that the commander of Przemysl in his official orders, thanked the people of the town the evening before the surrender for their loyal attitude, and warned them of the coming of the capitulation.

At 5 o'clock the next morning, loud explosions were heard from every part of the fortress, when the Austrians were blowing up the works preparatory to surrender. Then part of the Russian forces threw themselves within the fortifications and by 7 o'clock in the morning the inner sections were in their hands. At the same time, the Austrians shot their horses to prevent them from falling into the hands of the Russians.

In the meantime the Austrian representatives came out to announce the capitulation of the garrison and fortress. The town of Przemysl itself is intact, but the outskirts alone suffering. The large civilian population, chiefly Jews, remained in the town.

advance to the Suez canal is so negligible, according to dispatches reaching London, that British observers find it hard to believe that the forcing of a passage over this waterway has been seriously considered. The British theory is that the Turks, under German officers, are being led on these expeditions to keep the British troops on the alert, to prevent the withdrawal of any forces and to harass the British contingents as much as possible, while never really contemplating an invasion of Egypt.

French Statement.

Paris, March 24, via London, 3:38 p. m.—The following account of yesterday's events at the front was given out this afternoon at the war office:

"A division of the Belgian army has made progress on the right bank of the Yser. Another has captured a German trench on the left bank.

"At Hartmanns-Weilerkopf wo captured the first line of trenches referred to in the preceding communication; likewise a second line. On this section of the front our troops are organizing themselves on the further side of this line. Within a short distance of the summit we captured some prisoners, including officers."

German Statement.

Berlin, March 24, by wireless to Sayville, N. Y.—At army headquarters today the following statement was given out:

"In Champagne there were only artillery duels. In the forest of Le Pretre, northwest of Pont-a-Mousson, the enemy attempted to win back ground gained by the Germans but was repulsed. New attacks by the enemy northwest of Badonvilliers and on Reichackerkopf, broke down under the German fire. Fighting is in progress at Hartmanns-Weilerkopf.

"German troops are pursuing the retreating Russians northward of Memel, East Prussia. They captured near Polangen 500 Russians and took three guns and three rapid firers. Quantities of cattle, horses and goods were stolen by the Russians. Near Laugszargen, southwest of Tauroggen, and northeast of Mariampol, Russian attacks were repulsed with heavy losses for the enemy. Northwest of Ostrolenka several Russian attacks failed. Here we captured twenty officers, more than 2,000 men and five machine guns. Eastward of Plock several charges of the enemy failed.

"The German army expresses cordial thanks to the gallant garrison of Przemysl which after four months of defense full of sacrifices could be overpowered only by hunger."

Austria Looks for War With Italy.

Geneva, via Paris, March 24. — The Austrian government now considers war with Italy more than probable, according to dispatches received here from Vienna. A large number of troops have arrived in the Tyrol and Triest where defensive works are being constructed.

The Geneva Tribune professes to have received advices from Austria to the effect that the dual monarchy might consider the signing of a separate peace with Russia without consulting Germany, offering as a concession to cede to Russia large portions of Galicia.

The Italian government ordered the seizure yesterday at Luino, near the Swiss frontier, of twenty-nine freight cars containing graphite, sulphur and other supplies said to have been destined for the Krupp gun works at Essen, Germany. The Tribune reports that an Italian agent at Luino was arrested on the charge of purchasing the materials.

An uncensored dispatch to the Tribune from the Austrian border states that Austrian military engineers have blown up with dynamite all the buildings between Sugana Pass, in Trent and Lake Guarda on the Italian frontier, which would be in the line of artillery fire. The eastern part of the town of Rovereto is reported to have been abandoned and all the buildings torn down. All persons suspected of pro-Italian sympathies are said to have been sent into the interior to be interned.

Representative Corning of St. Paul. "Let's vote on these bills."

Representative Magnus Johnson, declaring that ex-Governor Eberhart had slapped the farmers in the face by not appointing a farmer on the efficiency commission, said he could not understand the efficiency bill, but that anybody could grasp the Gordon bills and they should be passed.

"There never was presented a better chance," said Representative Frye, "for me to vote the will of my constituents than these bills offered."

The house apparently was disposed to consider at least some of the Gordon bills, and it proceeded to discuss them. In order, they are as follows: Providing for a game and fish commissioner instead of the present commission and executive agent; putting the work of the hotel inspector under the dairy and food commission, putting the fire marshal's work under the insurance commission; putting the custody of state capitol buildings under the board of control; putting the oil inspection work under the dairy and food commission; providing for a general system of inspectors to handle all the work now done by forestrangers, fire marshals, food inspectors, etc.

In taking up the special order, Representative Sam Y. Gordon said this was not a factional move, as he had consulted frequently with supporters of Speaker Flowers. The bills were put in so that something tangible could be done toward economy and greater efficiency.

Before taking a recess the house passed the second Gordon bill creating the office of game and fish commissioner, and abolishing the game and fish commission.

Representative Theodore Christianson's bill abolishing the oil inspection service is also on the special order.

Roadhouse Bill Passes.

The bill by Senator Ole O. Sageng prohibiting county boards from issuing liquor licenses outside of cities and villages passed the senate, 48 to 14, without a word of debate on either side. The house bill is still in the temperance committee and the Sageng bill probably cannot be reached unless it is made a special order.

* * *

The Minnette-Burrows telephone regulation bill is a special order in the senate this afternoon.

The report of the committee on cities recommending for passage the J. M. Harrison bill limiting the expenditure of villages and third and fourth class cities to $25 per capita for municipal purposes was adopted by the house. The committee's motion to make the bill a special order for Monday failed of adoption. Owing to the fact that there was a comparatively light attendance, the motion got 76 votes, 11 less than enough, with 30 votes against it. The bill now goes to general orders, to be considered when it is reached.

The house temperance committee this afternoon voted, 8 to 5, to kill the Larimore joint resolution for constitutional state-wide prohibition. A minority report will be submitted to the house.

* * *

Bill for Soil Survey.

Representatives Bessette and Corning have introduced a bill appropriating $25,000 for a soil survey and to set aside non-agricultural lands for forestry purposes pursuant to amendment No. 9, the forestry amendment adopted last November.

* * *

The following bills came into the senate:

Senator Lende, providing that where several counties have joined on a county tuberculosis sanatorium, any county can withdraw to have one of its own.

Senator Holmberg, joint resolution accepting the terms of the Federal law providing national aid for agricultural extension work.

Senator Palmer, creating the office of controller of the state university and providing for a budget system for its fiscal affairs.

Senator Denegre, authorizing St. Paul to issue bonds of $1,000,000 for bridges, viaducts and docks.

Senators Hegnes and R. C. Dunn, constitutional amendment doing away with the state census.

The senate has advanced to the calendar Senator Nord's bill removing all limitations on the sale of state lands.

The senate, 36 to 30, killed the Benson bill requiring relatives, whenever able, to pay $10 a month towards the support of patients in the state hospitals for insane.

STILLMAN H. BINGHAM.

THREE MURDERERS MAKE THEIR ESCAPE.

Chester, Ill., March 24.—Three murderers and a highwayman escaped from the state hospital for the criminal insane here and have not been recaptured, it became known last night. The men made a key from a tin tobacco box with which they unlocked their cell doors. With another key carved from wood they opened the six-tumbler lock on the outside corridor door. Two of the men were barefooted and thinly clad.

FORMER COMMANDER IS DEAD IN PRISON.

San Antonio, Tex., March 24.—Don Antonio Rabaga, one time prominent as a cavalry commander in the Federal army of Mexico, recently died in prison at Chihuahua, according to a message last night from that place. He was under sentence of execution for the killing of Former Governor Abraham Gonzales of Chihuahua.

After the flight of Huerta from the city of Mexico, Gen. Villa found Rabaga and sent him a prisoner to Chihuahua, where a court-martial gave him the death penalty. On the day set for the execution Villa granted a reprieve and Rabaga was returned to the penitentiary, where his health failed him.

FALL HEIRS TO $20,000 ESTATE

Railroad Man and His Wife Remembered in Will of Former's Grandfather.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph L. Hanify, who run the Mousso hotel at 16 Second avenue west, have just fallen heirs to $20,000, which was left them by Mr. Hanify's grandfather, James Hanify, who died recently at his home in Tama, Iowa. The late Mr. Hanify was a retired farmer and left a large estate.

Mr. and Mrs. Hanify came to Duluth from La Crosse, Wis., four years ago and have been in the rooming house business here since. Mr. Hanify is a railroad man and works for the Missabe road.

Asked this morning as to whether they will continue in their present occupations, Mr. Hanify with the railroad and Mrs. Hanify running the hotel, since they acquired the legacy, Mrs. Hanify laughed and said:

"Certainly; there is too good money in the business to quit for anything like that."

WEST END

MANY WOODMEN HERE FOR MEETING

Northeastern Minnesota Is Well Represented at Gathering.

The big Woodmen meeting this evening at Woodman hall, Twenty-first avenue west and First street, will attract hundreds of members of the order from the northeastern section of Minnesota. Many of them arrived in the city this forenoon and will be present at the conference of camp clerks to be held this afternoon at the Lenox hotel.

The clerks' meeting will be held for the purpose of instruction in woodcraft. The meeting will be conducted by James McNamara of Rock Island, Ill., head clerk of the order. This evening Mr. McNamara will be one of the principal speakers.

Addresss will be given this evening also by Mayor W. I. Prince, State Senator George M. Peterson, William L. Bernard, state representative from the Fifty-ninth district; John L. Sundeen, state deputy for the order, and others. A good musical program has also been planned.

THREE LANGUAGES AT ONE MEETING

Pastors Will Hold Temperance and Political Meeting Next Sunday.

The second temperance mass meeting planned by the pastors of the West end at which campaign issues of the municipal campaign will probably be discussed will be held next Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the First Norwegian-Danish M. E. church, Twenty-fourth avenue west and Third street.

Speakers will address the gathering in three languages. Rev. C. W. R. Wermine, pastor of the Swedish Methodist church, will speak in English; Rev. Swaney Nelson of the Swedish Baptist church will speak in Swedish and Rev. E. Wulfsberg, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church, will speak in Norwegian. A musical program will also be given.

PLAN FOR BANQUET.

Men's Welfare League of Swedish Mission Church Will Celebrate.

Plans for a banquet to be held early in April were made at the meeting of the Men's Welfare League of the Swedish Mission church, Twenty-first avenue west and Second street. The date for the affair will be announced at the next meeting of the club.

Carl Melin, president of the club, announced the following members as the committee in charge of the arrangements: Thore Linne, chairman; Bernard Gustafson, Albin Carlson, John Linden and Carl Nelson.

Vasa Order Entertains.

Sophia lodge of the Vasa order entertained for members of the society at Woodman hall last night. A program of music and addresses was given. Among the speakers were Andrew Horngren, district master of the lodge; H. Alarch of Grand Forks, district deputy of the order; and Joha Heglund of Winnipeg. Several other out of town people were present.

Mrs. Boman Honored.

Mrs. Alfred Boman, 2114 West Sixth street, was pleasantly surprised last evening by a number of her friends in honor of her birth anniversary. Games and music occupied the evening. The guests were: Mrs. Carl Boreen, Mrs. C. Emery Boreen, Mrs. Francis Gilbert, Mrs. John Backman, Mrs. A. Gustafson, Misses Alpha Bononholm, Ebba Bogonholm, Ethel Wedell, Ida Broman, Christine Broman, Esther Fredrickson, Esther Gustafson, Olga Gustafson, Agnes Elstrom and Edith Elstrom.

Bodin-Wickstrom Wedding.

The wedding of Miss Leona Bodin and Gust F. Wickstrom occurred yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the parsonage of the Swedish church, 314 North Twentieth avenue west. Rev. C. W. R. Wermine read the service. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Edith Bodin, and the groom's brother, Axel Wickstrom, was groomsman. The couple will make their home at 2529 West First street.

West End Briefs.

Rev. C. J. Andreen of Chicago will speak this evening at the First Swedish Methodist church, Twentieth avenue west and Third street. The address will be in the nature of a lecture on a trip to Europe.

An institute meeting was held last night by the B. Y. P. U. of the Central Baptist church, Twentieth avenue west and First street. Rev. W. E. Risinger of Minneapolis and Rev. Carl E. Oberg of Duluth gave the principal addresses.

"JOKER" IN CUMMINS LAW DISCLOSED IN THE HERALD JOLTS TRAFFIC EXPERTS

Twin City Shippers Stirred By Impending 10 Per Cent Increase.

"Most Extraordinary Situation in History of Government Regulation."

Railroad Officials Will Go to Chicago for Conference Monday.

By publishing an article on Monday to the effect that through the passage of the Cummins law by congress, forbidding the liability limit by railroads in the matter of freight accepted, shippers of the country would be subject to an increase of 10 per cent in rates, The Herald has evidently created something of a sensation.

Nothing had been carried by other newspapers concerning it, probably because nobody had discovered the "joker" in the law, and The Herald was the first to uncover the story.

Twin City papers last night "played it up" sensationally on a "tip" from Duluth.

G. Roy Hall, traffic commissioner of the Duluth Commercial club, was the one who discovered the effect that the Cummins law will have, and who "dug up the story." In passing, it may be said that this is only one of many vital matters that Mr. Hall has uncovered.

Railroads Have Whip-hand.

In this instance, it may not be optional with the roads as to whether or not they will grant relief to the public, for under the terms of the uniform bill of lading sanctioned by the interstate commerce commission in 1908, which provided for such a liability limit, the enforcement of the Cummins law on July 1 will automatically put into effect the 10 per cent additional rates also provided for in that bill of lading, and which cannot be suspended by the interstate commerce commission.

The roads, according to Mr. Hall, cannot suspend the increase even if they wish to. In view of the fact that they have been trying to get the interstate commerce commission to grant them a blanket increase of 5 per cent in rates all over the country, few expect them to be so generous anyhow. The law has played right into their hands, although it is generally conceded that Senator Cummins of Iowa, the author of the bill, did not so intend, his object, ostensibly, being to forbid the contract shipments of cattle.

Twin Cities Enlightened.

Nothing had been known in the Twin Cities of the drastic features of the Cummins bill before The Herald appeared and in view of the fact that the Twin Cities have been on the opposite side to Duluth in every rate fight, and have studiously ignored everything in rate matters that Duluth has brought up, unless antagonistic notice was given, it is pretty well established here that the Twin Cities can see no good come out of Nazareth—Duluth being Nazareth in this instance—in rate matters.

Stirs Twin Cities.

But in this case the Twin City traffic men are quoted ad lib. It proved to be a sensation in Minneapolis and St. Paul with the result that it is announced under a double column head on the front page that "local and traffic officials of the railways centering here will go to Chicago Monday for a conference of other rail officials on what is regarded as one of the most extraordinary situations in the history of government regulation of railways. The officials will try to determine whether the Cummins liability bill passed by congress gives them power to raise rates 10 per cent throughout the United States."

Since the publishing of the story by The Herald, traffic managers in the Twin Cities are all agog and have been besieging the traffic men of the railroads and wiring to Washington for a thorough interpretation. They are evidently of the same opinion as Traffic Commissioner Hall of Duluth: That the 10 per cent increase will automatically go on after July 1.

According to the Twin City papers, the railroad traffic men there label it "a boomerang bill." In connection with the inquiry going on in the Twin Cities, A. H. Bright, general counsel for the Soo Line, is quoted as saying:

Soo Counsel's Views.

"If this Cummins measure destroys the liability limitation clause, then, of course, there is no longer any making of a low rate on that basis. Automatically the higher rates, in territory where optional rates exist, must become effective with the higher liability of the railroads accompanying them. What Senator Cummins intended to do, I do not know. But what he did is apparent to one who studies the bill. I do not know how it will come out, but what has really happened is that Senator Cummins has put rates up for the roads, which is in every way desirable and proper, indeed essential if the roads are to keep on doing business. But that Mr. Cummins intended to put rates up is hardly probable."

Roads Are Helpless.

Traffic Commissioner Hall, in declaring that the railroads cannot suspend or cancel the increase even if they want to, gives as ground for his statement the fact that that is the only law in existence fixing the rates and that the 10 per cent increase must, arbitrarily, go on, because of the existing law, when the Cummins bill goes in force.

It is expected that some very interesting developments will result, for the effect of the law is so far-reaching that it involves economic conditions for the whole nation and will likely hold premier attention in the business world for months.

During the last two years United States forest officers have killed nearly 9,000 predatory animals, more than three-fourths of which were coyotes.

The Light Bearers of Glen Avon Presbyterian church will meet in the church parlors tomorrow afternoon. Japan will be the subject for discussion.

Year's Literature Is Reviewed.

At the last regular meeting of the department of education and home of the Twentieth Century club, held yesterday afternoon in the library clubroom, the best literature of the year was considered. Mrs. John E. Samuelson read a paper on "Biography and History." She spoke of the great contributions of Russian writers and of the fact that many of the war correspondents are writers who have made names in the literary world.

Mrs. Charles S. Mitchell, whose subject was "Tendencies of Fiction and Poetry," spoke of the change in thought evidenced in literature, a change that is evident when different periods are studied. She illustrated this point by giving examples from American and English writers.

Following Mrs. Samuelson's and Mrs. Mitchell's talks there was an informal discussion.

Mrs. J. H. Crowley was renamed chairman of the department and a committee was appointed to draw up a tentative program for next year. This committee consists of Mrs. J. T. Culbertson, Mrs. T. A. Armstrong and Mrs. M. F. Jamar, Sr.

April Fool Menu.

As a week from tomorrow will be April 1, those who are going to give April fool luncheons and dinners are beginning to plan topsy-turvy menus and decorations and tricks that will suit the day. To put the guests in a proper mood for surprises at the table, they may be given "crackers" containing dunce caps that are to be worn during the meal, and asked to tell their most foolish experiences and most foolish stunts.

The menu should be written on the place cards, so the guests may have some faint idea of what they are eating, for the following hind-side-before list of food is rather disconcerting:

Hot Chocolate.
Cream Puffs. Cup Cakes.
Potato Salad with Greens.
Young Chicken. Baked Potatoes.
Boiled Eggs. Sandwiches.
Bouillon.

However, the menu is not as diametrically opposed to the laws of Mrs. Rohrer as it may seem, for the hot chocolate should be bouillon with whipped cream on top, served in bouillon cups; the cream puffs shells should be unsweetened and filled with creamed chicken; the cup cakes, biscuits baked in cup-cake tins; the potato salad with greens should be creamed potatoes sprinkled with minced parsley; the young chicken, a devilled egg served in a nest of lettuce or water cress, and the baked potato, the shell of a baked potato filled with crab or celery salad. For the last course of this unusual meal the ice cream molded in the form of eggs are the boiled eggs of the menu, and cake sandwiches with fruit and frosting filling are the sandwiches. The last chapter is coffee served in bouillon cups.

Personal Mention.

Mrs. W. A. McGonagle of 9 Oxford street left yesterday for Massachusetts, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. S. G. Sargent of Methuen, Mass. They will go to the home of Mrs. McGonagle's sister, Mrs. Charles T. Woodbury, Fitchburg, Mass., where Mrs. Sargent will remain for the present. Mrs. McGonagle returning to Duluth Easter Monday.

WED AT 10:20 P. M.—CLERK OPENS OFFICE TO ISSUE LICENSE

MRS. JOHN EDWARD BUTLER.

An atmosphere of romance surrounded a quiet Duluth wedding last evening in which Miss Margaret Edith Thompson of this city and John Edward Butler of St. Paul were principals.

They secured a marriage license at 10 o'clock last evening and were married twenty minutes later at the parsonage of the First Methodist church. The wedding was solemnized by Rev. John P. Hoffman.

Miss Thompson, the bride, is a well known Duluth musician. For the last six months she has been studying vocal expression at the Zeigfeld College of Music in Chicago. Prior to that time, she has appeared in concert work in Chicago, Minneapolis and other cities.

The bride is the daughter of Captain and Mrs. Samuel J. Thompson of 320 Fourth avenue west, who are old residents of Duluth having resided here for the past forty-five years. Captain Thompson was a former member of the city police force.

Mr. Butler is the son of one of the for of Butler Brothers of St. Paul, well known stripping contractors on the Mesaba Iron range. Mr. and Mrs. Butler left this afternoon for a wedding trip to San Francisco, where after a two months' visit they will return to Nashwauk, Minn., where they will make their home.

Miss Thompson was called to Duluth only recently on account of the illness of her mother. Mr. Butler joined her here yesterday. They decided to have their wedding solemnized last evening and were accommodated with a license by Alexander Hamilton, a deputy clerk of the district court, who came to the courthouse at 10 o'clock last evening for the purpose of issuing them the necessary permit. Their wedding took place a few minutes later.

THE "CHOKER" HAS RETURNED

Buffalo News: For several years comfortably cut collars have been in vogue—that is, collars cut low in the neck, allowing perfect freedom to the throat muscles.

Now fickle fashion, tiring of this mode, has decided to banish it to fashionable oblivion. In its place comes the "choker," the high collar which binds the throat snugly, fitting high up under the ears.

At the neckwear counters of the fashionable shops you will find all kinds of novelties, all of which command a considerable price. Now the woman whose dress allowance is moderate does not feel inclined to put several dollars into a stock or high ruff just to bring her low-cut blouse up to the present date. And yet transform it she must if she wishes to be in fashion, for to appear in a V-shaped blouse is to proclaim herself passe.

How, then, to make this change without expending an extravagant sum. The answer lies in your sewing room. Any one of the novelties in neckwear can be made at home with the aid of a good pattern, a few yards of lace or linen and a little patience on the part of the sewer. And these trifles, which mean so much to the smartness of one's appearance, can be made very cheaply at home, perhaps without even the expenditure of a cent.

"First" Hopper Already.

Streeter, N. D., March 24.—G. W. Lyman captured a grasshopper while walking through his pasture near here. The hopper was very lively, though it was a young one, its wings not having fully developed. Grasshoppers usually make their first appearance in this section late in May or early in June.

SOME WINDOW DISPLAYS

French & Bassett Co.:
One of the window displays that is attracting great attention on First street is that of the French & Bassett Furniture company. This store, which is known throughout the Northwest for its high class stocks, was presented to advantage by its artistic and elaborate display of furniture. The display of mahogany furniture of the William and Mary period is one of the finest ever shown in the Northwest. Two other windows showing fine drapery fabrics reflect very creditably the distinction that this store enjoys. Equally attractive is the white ivory and enamel chamber set.

Smith & Allen Company:
Another First street establishment that is gaining favor for its fine displays is the Smith & Allen company. Music was furnished during the evening Monday, and the elaborate displays of music goods attracted wide attention and very favorable comment.

Wieland Shoe Company:
The Wieland Shoe company, another of the First street establishments, kept open house Monday evening, and was visited by large crowds. The latest spring styles of footwear were shown, and added greatly to the attractiveness of the street.

Bayha & Company:
One of the most elaborate furniture displays in the city was that of Bayha & Co. at their new quarters on Superior street. The windows showed a splendid chamber set in mahogany, which would be difficult to duplicate. The windows were tastefully decorated, and thousands of people were attracted to go through this store and see the magnificent stocks. Souvenirs were given away to all visitors. Shoppers who visited this store were im-

R. R. Forward & Co.:
The R. R. Forward & Co. store was another of the furniture stores that is making style week a success, both for its attractive window displays and its fine interior decorations. The elaborate stocks are handsomely displayed, and its popularity is increasing each day of the exhibit.

Fitwell Store:
The Fitwell store is showing the latest styles in men's and boys' clothing, and its displays are elaborate and artistic.

Smith Shoe Company:
All the latest styles in footwear are attractively displayed at the Smith Shoe company's store.

A. B. Siewert & Co.:
A. B. Siewert has long enjoyed distinction as an up-to-date men's furnishings merchant, and the very latest styles are shown to great advantage at this store. It is receiving visits from the exclusive dressers of Duluth and surrounding towns.

The Duluth Trunk Company:
Travelers will find the Duluth Trunk company's store a good place to visit during Style Week. Everything that tourists or casual travelers could wish for is on display, and the stocks were never more attractively arranged.

National Store:
The National store, which is housed in one of the attractive corner buildings on Superior street, is making an excellent impression with its fine display of women's and misses' wearing apparel and goods along kindred lines. The windows are attractively decorated and are attracting wide attention.

New York Oriental Store:
There is class and distinction to the display of the New York Oriental store that is making it popular during Style Week. The women of Duluth have been charmed by the dainty and tasteful arrangement of goods and the windows are among the most attractive of all the fashion shops of the city.

Stack & Co.:
The Stack & Co. store is among the most popular shopping centers for women in the city, and new laurels are being added by this company for its hearty co-operation in the Style Week exhibits.

Suffel Shoe Store:
The Suffel Shoe company has a most attractive display of men's and women's footwear and is one of the leaders in its display.

Sorensen Shoe Store:
The Sorensen Shoe store is making a special appeal during Style Week by its excellent display of footwear. This store is always popular, but many new patrons have been acquired this week.

MERCHANTS DELIGHTED

Success of Style Week Surpassing All Expectations.

Merchants Are Lavish in Praise of Public's Response.

The expression of all Duluth merchants regarding Style Week is the same—"The greatest success ever." The co-operation of the merchants, the hearty response of the public, and the artistic triumph of the display men are spoken of with the greatest enthusiasm throughout the city. So enthusiastic have been the expressions from the merchants, that it is well nigh impossible to give the public an adequate idea of the satisfaction that the merchants feel over the results obtained so far. Never before they say has the whole city taken such an active part in any venture, and it means a new era of co-operation on their part. Their liberality and untiring efforts have been amply rewarded and the Duluth public has seen as never before what the merchants here have to offer. Following are expressions from leading merchants:

George A. Gray, Chairman of General Committee:
"The success of the Style Week opening far exceeded our expectations in every way. The merchants have never attempted anything that has enlisted the efforts and co-operation of the whole city as this has done. The people of the East end in large numbers took in not only the downtown exhibits, but went to the West end also, while the people of the West end pursued the same policy in regard to the downtown exhibits.

"The merchants were highly pleased in seeing so many Superior and range people here. Style Week is proving not simply a Duluth event, but one of interest to this city and all the neighboring towns. We hope that the good impression made upon the public may last. We do not want to create any false impressions, and we hope to supply the public with just as good and stylish goods as they have been led to expect to see in the Duluth shops."

Bentley P. Neff, Manager Glass Block:
"Yes, indeed, the Style Show was a great success, and great credit is due the committee of the Retail Merchants' association for its splendid work.

"Yesterday marked the beginning of a new era in retail merchandising in Duluth. Never before in the history of the city has there been such a spirit of co-operation and aggressiveness among the merchants, or such marked evidence of loyalty and good will on the part of the people.

'It was a happy, joyous throng that surged in and out of the different stores last evening and there was no mistaking the feeling of pride the people had in the showing made by the Duluth stores.

"We naturally feel very grateful for the interest taken, because the many thousands of people who watched for the dropping of the curtains, which revealed the results of months of careful planning and hard work on the part of the decorators, and the wonderful crowds that visited the stores in the evening emphasized very clearly that our people are interested, enthusiastic, appreciative and loyal, and this means much for the advancement of retailing in Duluth.

"The merchants of this city are doing their utmost to give the people of this vicinity the best of everything, and such a response as was given last evening will stimulate every one to even greater effort.

"Too much credit cannot be given the papers for their whole-souled, hearty and intelligent co-operation. The publicity given by the press was a big factor in the success of the affair.

"Yes, indeed, the show was a success, and all Duluth, I'm sure, feels proud and pleased with the event. We must start right now planning for another one next fall, for it's just such things as this that will make Duluth metropolitan, united and successful."

A. C. Pearson, Secretary of the General Committee, French & Bassett:
"We are more than pleased with the Style Week opening. The West end, First street and down-town stores were well advertised, and it is doubtful if the Duluth public has ever gained such a good impression of the Duluth stores as they have this week. Shoppers have made the rounds of all the stores and know better now what they can buy here than ever before.

"We hope that merchants will see the advantages of having attractive window and interior displays and keep up the work begun this week. There is no reason why the stores should not be just as attractive every week, and I believe it would be a paying venture and help build up the city. There has been the heartiest co-operation on the part of all the merchants regardless of the kind of goods they sell."

Felix Seligman of the Columbia Clothing Company:
"Co-operation in all lines of human endeavor is the demand of the 'Zeitgeist.'

"There is certainly the freest competition imaginable among the retail establishments of the country. However, associations of merchants are springing up like mushrooms, or to speak in the latest fashion, like jitney cars, mainly to eliminate through friendly co-operation some of the evils of uncontrolled competition, as far as these evils have resulted in customs, which increase overhead expenses and must in the end be borne by the consumer even if the merchant himself should go down in the struggle of making ends meet.

"Duluth has now a strong Retail Merchants' association, and last night's opening of the co-operative Style Show was a fine proof of its cohesion and the friendly rivalry among our enterprising retailers. A stranger walking along Superior street this week and viewing all the fine store windows will certainly carry away a good opinion of the city. It's only another lesson that all the citizens and institutions of a city must work together."

E. A. Silberstein, Silberstein & Bondy:
"Without a doubt Style Week so far has been the most successful event that the Duluth merchants have ever held. The interest and enthusiasm of the whole city has been enlisted, and all of the stores have received much attention. Our store was crowded Monday night, and the congestion was so great that the elevators were unable to carry the crowds. The use of living models at our store was a great success, and we are more strongly convinced than ever that this method of showing ready-to-wear and millinery is the best. We went to considerable expense to decorate our store, and we have received flattering comments upon the window and interior displays. We feel sure that excellent business will result and that all the money spent by merchants will bring good returns.

"Every one of the gowns in our window display with one exception were from Paris models, and the appreciation of our stocks has greatly pleased us."

William N. Hart, Manager Kelley Hardware company:
"The opening of Style Week was one of the most pleasing surprises in our experience. We prepared to accommodate 2,000 visitors during the evening; we received about 10,000. We thought at first that we could give souvenirs to all our guests, but were swamped before 8:30. We gave away 1,700 carnations, 1,000 puzzles, and 1,000 stick pins, but a majority of our visitors had to go away without souvenirs. Our stock of hammocks and porch swings came in handy and were filled by the tired crowds all the evening. We had just readjusted our stocks and opened up the departments on the third floor, formerly occupied as the K. P. hall. This made an adjustment necessary in several other departments, and gave us an excellent chance to show up our new arrangement. Our window displays drew the largest crowds we have ever seen in front of our store."

J. J. Moe, Moe & Son, president of the Duluth Retail Merchants' association:
"While our store is in the West end, we have not felt that Style Week has been a sectional affair. The whole city has united to make it a success in all parts of the city, and we are all more than satisfied with the results. We received thousands of visitors Monday night and gained many patrons to our list. The Third Regiment band played on the streets here, and the whole West end turned out to see the exhibits. We were particularly well pleased to see so many East end people come to the West end, and we feel that the spirit of co-operation has worked out more successfully in this venture than any other ever attempted by Duluth merchants. The stores in this end of the city were all in the show, and the stores were never so attractive. We can't say enough in praise of the Duluth merchants and Duluth people for their part in the exhibit."

Joseph Gidding of J. M. Gidding & Co.:
"Duluth merchants have never been so successful in any venture as the Style exhibit. If anybody had got the idea that the war would curtail the variety of styles for this season, the idea has been dissipated already. The Style exhibit has shown Duluth the finest lot of goods ever seen in the city, and the European styles have predominated with just enough of the American models thrown in to add to the variety. Through our agents in Paris and New York we have been able to secure just as many Parisian models as ever before, and we have considered Style Week a great opportunity to show the public that our stocks are as complete as ever and even more attractive."

Fred Bayha of Bayha & Co.:
"We are certainly more than pleased with the success of the Style exhibit this week. Thousands of people have visited our store, and we believe that the money the merchants have spent will bring the best results possible, both for this week and for time to come. The response of people from Duluth, Superior and the range has been magnificent, and has exceeded our fondest expectations. The Duluth merchants are giving the people here just what they want as near as we know how, and the interest shoppers have shown has been gratifying. The fact that no goods were sold Monday night has more than been made up already by the purchase due to the inspection of stocks. Every feature of the exhibit has been a perfect success."

Peggy Peabody's Observations

Spring Medicine, a Faith Cure.

With the coming of spring there is a great increase in the number of people who seem to think that they are in need of something in the way of medicine or spring tonic, as it is called. It is true, too, that after a long winter of hearty eating and confined living, that the blood and general system may be benefited by some of the old-fashioned remedies of our grandparents, such as the time honored sulphur and molasses.

As a class, American people are given over to taking medicines of all descriptions for both real and imaginary ills. They fill themselves up with all manner of questionable remedies which have a record for curing every ill on the calendar. With a very large percentage who take these spring medicines, the main thing is that they are taking medicine, and the ill is a subterfuge. The faith that they have in some of these patent prescriptions, that are extensively advertised, is often sufficient to work a cure, or what they consider a cure for something that never really existed.

Most of us have heard it affirmed that in a great many cases where doctors are called upon to recommend a certain course of treatment, they more times than one prescribe to ease the mind and not to cure a real physical disability. None exists, in many instances, except that which the imagination and an existence barren of any aim or ambition creates. Though we are familiar with this state of affairs we seldom apply the truth of this in our own cases; nevertheless, most of us have taken our fair share of the harmless candy pills and the sugar and water mixtures which doctors are forced to prescribe for us in order to hold our patronage and their professional reputations.

It is surprising how little genuine sickness there is in this world compared to the amount of the make-believe, to which doctors cater and which furnishes them their greatest means of livelihood. A person must become seriously sick before he can fully comprehend how much of the other kind passes for the real, and as this does not fall to the lot of so very many of us, we go through life nursing our small aches and ills and get a world of satisfaction out of it.

Faith in the wisdom of the doctor who treats our case and faith in the efficiency of a particular medicine or tonic plays no small part in the cure of the many imaginary ills that bother humanity, just as no special object in life and a hum-drum existence tends to create fancied ills until in instances they become real.

TONIGHT'S ATTRACTIONS.

LYCEUM—Baldwin Players in "The Confession."
NEW GRAND—Vaudeville and Motion Pictures.
REX—Photoplay, "A Gentleman of Leisure."

"Within the Law."

With the exception of the Morosco Stock company at Los Angeles, the Baldwin Players will be the first stock company in America to present "Within the Law."

Walter S. Baldwin announced today that "Within the Law" will be the attraction for the week beginning Easter Sunday. Miss Jane Cowl, who gained fame and fortune as the leading woman of the original "Within the Law" company, has recently signed a contract with Oliver Morosco for a term of years. She will spend the summer playing in his stock company at Los Angeles, and in the fall will appear in a new play. Her influence and that of Morosco induced the owners of the play to release it for stock purposes, and Mr. Baldwin got the second rights to it. It has probably been the biggest financial success the stage has known in ten years, and it was not thought that stock companies would be given the rights to it for several seasons to come.

Next week "Little Lord Fauntleroy" will be given for five nights and three matinees, beginning Sunday afternoon. Little Muriel Cole of Minneapolis, who has been seen here on two former occasions, will take the title role, and has already arrived in the city for rehearsals.

This week's bill, "The Confession," is proving a popular one, and despite the Lenten quiet and the near approach of Easter, the attendance has been well maintained. Miss Margaret Lotus is having her first vacation this week, there being but two women's parts in the play.

At the New Grand.

The bill now playing at the New Grand is unusually attractive in its features. There is a wide variety of entertainment and it is all clean and wholesome.

The big act on the bill is that of Ernette Asoria, assisted by Chevalier de Mar and Miss Eliante. The act is called a "terpsichorean bedazzlement," and it is credited by those who have seen it, as being true to name. Miss Asoria is a charming young woman and shows grace and skill as a dancer. Her assistants do able work.

Williams and Sterling in an act entitled "The Bug and the Buggy" offer a pleasing bit of song and chatter.

Loraine and Mitchell in a revolving ladder display with special scenic environment do many thrilling stunts. The young woman in the act is both clever and attractive and the act is unusually good for its kind.

Steve Jayuesz, "king of bunkology," does many clever fake tricks and dispenses a pleasing line of comedy that is mostly impromptu and original.

The photoplays are all good with many excellent features. "A Daughter's Strange Inheritance" tells a story of gripping interest, and the comedy films that follow are real laugh getters.

Result of Wager.

"I bet that I could commit burglary and that the whole police force of this city couldn't catch me," said a rich young society man in his club one day. And just because all his friends laughed at him and were in haste to "take him up" he set seriously about the task of winning his wager.

If this hadn't happened—at least, in the imaginations of the original authors of "A Gentleman of Leisure"—the famous comedy of that name would never have been written; and Jesse L. Lasky's picturization, with Wallace Eddinger in the stellar role would, of course, never have been produced. Which is very good evidence that the most foolish bets are sometimes very much worth while if only to make the world happier by provoking millions of people to harmless laughter. Such is the brief history of "A Gentleman of Leisure" at the Rex today and tomorrow.

Deep Sea Photography.

Native boys and men diving for coins; coral reefs among which lie sunken wrecks that once proudly sailed the main; a deep sea diver laboriously exploring the ocean's floor for lost treasure; a furious bloody battle between two man-eating sharks, and, as a thrilling climax, a fight to the finish between a man and a huge blue shark. To sit in a theater chair and watch these pictures projected on the screen is an easy and cheap way to acquire a knowledge of the floor of the ocean and of all the phases of sea life. The knowledge comes in interesting, weird and often amusing and thrilling form. This opportunity will be given at the Lyric theater March 29 to April 4.

"Safety Last."

The love of adventure—of new sensations—is so strong in the human breast that, at times, it leads to perilous places regardless of any "safety first" consideration. In fact there are some vocations where it is impossible to make good if your actions were always guided, first of all, by anxiety for your personal safety. For instance, any motion photographer on Lyman H. Howe's staff would be considered as poorly qualified for the job unless he is ready to take big chances. For the most interesting and spectacular films are only secured by personal exposure to danger. This is illustrated by scenes photographed within a few feet of the biggest guns of the latest dreadnaught firing "salvos." However serene and majestic these mighty implements look when silent, they inspire a profound awe and fear when standing alongside of them at the moment when they hurl their ponderous shells for miles and miles. The peril is intensified when it is remembered that if a delicate little spring broke in the mechanism, or if the rifle barrel refused to accommodate a shell, he nor anyone else would live to tell the tale in pictures or any other way. The scenes will be presented by Lyman H. Howe at the Orpheum Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

STORK HAS LONG LEAD

Two Births for Every Death in County During 1914.

Three Townships Establish Record of 134 Births to 7 Deaths.

Toivola, Vermilion Lake and Waasa townships, St. Louis county, have little use for undertakers.

They have established a record during the last three years that absolutely gives the lie to all talk of race suicide.

In the three townships during the last three years there have been 134 births and only seven deaths.

In 1912, Toivola established a record with 21 births and no deaths. Vermilion Lake in 1913 did even better. Fifty-eight births were reported as against two deaths.

For 1914, the honors go to Waasa township. Vital statistics of that community show that during the year, fifteen visits were paid by the stork while the grim reaper called but once.

Toivollans and homesteaders of Sturgeon Lake township each reported seven births and no deaths. And in Vermilion Lake during 1914, there were eight new arrivals and one funeral.

While St. Louis county as a whole cannot approach the record attained by the north country homesteaders, her record for 1914 shows that the births outnumber the deaths by 2½ to 1. Dr. H. M. Bracken, secretary of the state board of health, has prepared vital statistics for St. Louis county and has forwarded them to J. P. Johnson, clerk of the district court, who will record them.

Two Births to One Death.

In the city of Duluth, during 1914, there were 2,236 births as against 1,119 deaths. In 1913, the stork made 2,047 visits to Duluth homes while the grim reaper invaded 1,056 times.

The statistics for the county as a whole show 5,510 deaths and 2,248 births. In 1913, there were 5,233 births and 2,254 deaths and in 1912, 4,890 births as against 1,969 deaths.

In the villages of Costin and Mountain Iron and in the towns of Bassett, Fern, Fredenburg, French, Morcom, Northland, St. Louis, Sturgeon and Toivola, no deaths occurred during the year according to the statistics of the state department.

No births were reported from Fredenburg, Fern and Morcom townships. The same report was turned in last year from Fredenburg and Fern.

ROADWAY WILL BE IMPROVED

Work on Commonwealth Avenue Will Be Pushed Despite Protests.

Work on Minnesota Avenue Will Be Completed This Season.

Although property owners along Commonwealth avenue protested Monday against the paving of that thoroughfare, Commissioner Murchison said this morning that the 18-foot roadway would be constructed just the same, and that it would connect with the two-mile highway completed last summer.

"There is great need for the roadway to the suburbs and I am sure there will be no objection to the 18-foot roadway being constructed this coming summer," said Commissioner Murchison. "The resolution ordering the improvement was adopted a year ago and the time limit for objection has since expired. However, the main objection raised by the owners Monday was against the paving of the full width of the street and not against the continuance of the 18-foot concrete road started last summer."

It is planned to construct one mile of the 18-foot road on each side of the two-mile stretch completed last summer, thus bringing it to about Eightieth avenue west on this side and to the south line of Gary at the other end. There is at present an old macadam road from the end of the car line at Seventy-third avenue west to Eightieth avenue, where the new stretch will end.

Commissioner Murchison said this morning that he had heard no protests against the paving of Minnesota avenue and that the work will go ahead. Residents there need some kind of a pavement, he said, as it is impossible for wagons to use the streets on Park Point beyond the end of the present pavement. In addition, he said, the work was requested by petitions presented last year.

"SKY PILOT" WILL SPEAK AT BETHEL

Convert of Late F. E. Higgins Has Taken Up Mantle of Camp Preacher.

Rev. P. R. Peterson of Delano, Minn., one of the "sky-pilots" of the big woods, is at the Bethel conducting mission services with Supt. H. E. Ramseyer. The purpose of these meetings is to help the lumberjack, who has just come to the city from the pineries. The meetings will begin at 7:30 o'clock and they will be held for the remainder of this month and all of April.

Rev. Mr. Peterson spoke at the Marshall-Wells shops this noon under the direction of the Y. M. C. A. on his camp experiences, and will speak to the "Y" Bible class tonight. He is one of the converts of the late F. E. Higgins, the most noted "sky-pilot" of the north woods, who recently died. Mr. Peterson says that he was selling whisky when he met Higgins several years ago, but has been preaching ever since that time.

DESIRE COUNTY OPTION.

"Dry" Advocates Would Close Two Marshall County "Wet" Towns.

Warren, Minn., March 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—Petitions are being circulated in Marshall county asking for a special election under the county option law. On March 30 a big county option convention will be held at the city hall here and every township has been asked to send at least two delegates to this convention. There are now only two "wet" towns in Marshall county, Oslo, with four saloons and Middle River with one saloon.

Ten Years' Misery Ended.

J. T. Chambers, merchant, Jonesboro, Ark., writes: "Foley Kidney Pills cured me of a ten-year standing case of rheumatism. I suffered miserably. A friend told me of being cured; so I used them, and they cured me too." Most middle-aged men and women are glad to learn that Foley Kidney Pills afford a way to escape sleep-disturbing bladder weakness, backache, rheumatism, puffiness under eyes, stiff and swollen joints, and other ills attributed to kidney troubles. Sold everywhere.

TWILIGHT SLEEP SEVERELY CRITICISED

Editor of Medical Journal Denounces Drug as Dangerous.

"Twilight sleep," the German method of aiding women in bearing children, is given a severe arraignment in Child Betterment and Public Welfare, a publication devoted to the interest of the child and social improvement, a copy of which was received this morning by Dr. H. E. Webster, director of the health department.

Dr. G. Frank Lydston, editor of the publication, writes on "Twilight Sleep" as follows:

"The dear public loves to become medically wise. The press is glad to instruct them, and commercial doctors and medical faddists rush to the support of the press. Scopolamine-morphine is a dangerous drug, even in the best hands. It is doubly, aye, trebly, dangerous as a popular fad. Let the women beware of the cheap, self-advertising doctor who seeks patronage through this new fad of painless labor. The aftermath of the 'twilight sleep' craze will be awful. But we will not hear of it. Oh, no. We will make hay while the sun shines, reporting only the good results. Twilight sleep may be the short cut to eternal sleep.

"Scopolamine-morphine is a revived fad of ten years ago, which had its day and went to the garbage heap, where it belonged, so far as its use as a routine method was concerned.

"In passing, here is food for reflection. The doctor who recklessly gives morphine or other narcotics to the adult is a fool—aye, worse, he is a criminal. What shall we say of the doctor who gives narcotic poisons to the child in its mother's womb? Shall we permit unborn infants to be poisoned wholesale? Who knows what the future of the child thus drugged will be? Away with medical fads that taint the blood of helpless, unborn babes!"

NO MENACE IN DRINKING FOUNTAIN

Will Not Cause Protruding Lips, Says Health Director.

Is the human race to develop protruding lips through constant use of the bubbling fountain?

Dr. H. E. Webster, director of the health department, scoffs at the suggestion of a Chicago physician that the practice of drinking from a "spouter" may afflict the race in that way.

Dispatches quote Dr. Truman W. Brophy as having told the members of the Chicago Medical society the other day that the bubbling fountain habit among children had a tendency to produce protruding lips.

"Dr. Brophy's guess is pretty far-fetched," said Dr. Webster this morning. "Look at cornet players. They fail to show any peculiarities in their faces due to the habit. Generation after generation of cornet players might produce some permanent change in physiognomy, but I don't know of any proof that it would. You might as well say that city folks 2,000 years from now would have elongated arms because of the practice of strap-hanging on street cars.

"The bubbling fountain may bubble on."

NEW LAUNCH FOR THE LIFE SAVERS

Capt. M. A. McLennan, commander of the local branch of the coast guard service, announces that he has just received his new launch, the additional equipment for the coast guard station here, promised Congressman Miller last fall. The launch is at Paterson's dock at the foot of Sixth avenue west and is ready for launching as soon as ice conditions in the bay will permit.

The launch is, as yet, unnamed, but Capt. McLennan expects to get a notice to give it a name. She is a staunch and seaworthy craft, built of ⅞-inch timber, and will be used for rescues in the harbor. The boat is 35 feet long with a beam of 6 feet, and was built in Racine. Her engine, which is of Capital make, is of 40-horse power and will give the boat a speed of twenty miles an hour under favorable conditions.

SUPERIOR

"WETS" ORGANIZE FORCES.

Fifty Residents Unite to Carry on Active Campaign.

A meeting of about fifty residents of Superior, held last night, resulted in an organization being perfected for the purpose of campaigning during the next two weeks to keep the city "wet." Fred Wildner, a Superior real estate dealer, was elected president; James Glynn, secretary-treasurer; and J. R. Hathaway, vice president of the league. A systematic campaign is to be carried on in all wards of the city.

Few Voters at Polls.

The primary election in Superior was not much of an incentive to voters yesterday. In many precincts there was no contest for supervisors, all of the incumbents being renominated. There were no other contests.

BACKER MUST "MAKE GOOD."

When Kallas & Argeros, Hibbing grocers, secured a stock of goods from the Stone-Ordean-Wells company, wholesale grocers, a few months ago, they furnished a letter of credit to the wholesalers from William Nicolai, who guaranteed payment of their bills up to $100.

In district court before Judge Dancer today, a jury awarded the wholesale firm a verdict against Nicolai for $104.40 and disposed of a suit brought by the wholesalers against Nicolai to enforce liability under the letter of credit.

Evidence was introduced to show that the Hibbing grocers had purchased goods worth $621.54 and had failed to make any payment except $15.36. The jury was out fifteen minutes.

DISMISSES DAMAGE CASE VS. POWER CO.

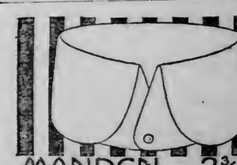
Judge Stanton Will Let Supreme Court Rule on Points Involved.

International Falls, Minn., March 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—Arguments against the motion to dismiss the case of Algot Erieson vs. the Minnesota and Ontario Power company were completed in the district court before Judge Stanton early Tuesday afternoon and the court granted the motion dismissing the case.

Numerous points of law arose upon which Judge Stanton, having no precedent in the matters, did not feel privileged to act. These points will have to be decided by the state supreme court and the cases remaining will then be tried before the district court here.

Responsibility Not Placed.

The court found difficulty in placing the responsiblity for any alleged damage since it is doubtful which, if any, four companies are to blame. The Minnesota & Ontario Power company, the Rainy River Improvement company, the Koochiching company and the Ontario & Minnesota company, Ltd., all possess interests in the territory in question and all have the same president, E. W. Backus. This resulted in a very difficult and tangled situation, which the court decided would be better decided in the supreme court and this action will result in saving of large sums of money to defendant, plaintiff and county. Besides this the court will then have a precedent to act upon in the remaining cases.



BETTER BREEDS IN BELTRAMI COUNTY

Dairy Breeders' Organization Is Formed to Improve Stock.

Bemidji, Minn., March 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—As a result of the recent gathering here of farmers at which there were 100 present, the Beltrami County Dairy Breeders' association has been organized to introduce pure bred stock into Beltrami county and to establish a higher grade of dairy cattle on the farms in this section.

The organization is to be capitalized at $2,100 and the following officers have been named: President, Nels Willet; vice president, C. F. Schroeder; secretary and treasurer, Bueford M. Gile.

The directors will be: A. E. Rake of Bemidji, Peter Narum of Frohm, Alvin Goodspeed of Grant Valley; J. N. Shrivseth of Turtle River and August Jarchow of Helga.

To Capitalize for $2,100.

The plan is to capitalize at $2,100, which will be divided into shares at $3 each and each member is to have as many shares as he has cows. Under this system the territory would be divided into blocks, as many blocks being formed as there would be communities in which fifty shares could be sold. The association would own and control the bulls, which would be distributed every two years.

The meeting disclosed the fact that several of the farmers in the communities where they have pure bred bulls are considering buying a registered cow or two so as to gradually work into pure bred stock and when the question was asked as to how many wanted to buy cows of any kind, five farmers asked for a 2-year-old Holstein heifer, one for two Guernsey heifers and one for a Guernsey bull.

Belgian Relief Ship Endangered By Bomb From Aeroplane.

Washington, March 24.—Acting on advices from The Hague that the steamer Elfland, flying the flag of the Belgian relief commission, had been endangered by a bomb from a German aeroplane off the Dutch coast, Secretary Bryan said today the state department was considering making representations to Berlin.

Secretary Bryan said a message from The Hague declared that representations to the German government already had been made by the Netherlands.

"Similar representations may be made by us," said the secretary.

IRONWOOD FURRIER DAMAGED BY FIRE.

Ironwood, Mich., March 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—Fire broke out in the building occupied by Frank Varga, a furrier, Monday night. Mr. Varga thinks the fire was caused by a defective gas pipe on the main floor. The damage to the furs by fire and water is estimated at from $10,000 to $15,000, with insurance of $2,000.

PROVE GOOD SAMARITANS

West Duluthians Awakened at 2 a. m. By Woman Seeking Shelter.

Little Stranger Arrives While Husband Goes to Hospital for Aid.

Mr. and Mrs. George C. Warmock, 31 North Fifty-seventh avenue west, are hosts to a little stranger that arrived very unexpectedly at their home shortly before 2 o'clock this morning. The little stranger is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Haddad, and was born to Mrs. Haddad while she and her husband were on their way from their home at 1407 West Superior street to Mrs. H. Olson's hospital, 329 North Fifty-eighth avenue west.

Mr. and Mrs. Haddad had left their home shortly after midnight to go to the hospital and on arriving in West Duluth lost their way. After getting off the car Mrs. Haddad was suddenly taken ill and they sought refuge at the nearest house which happened to be that of the Warmocks. The Warmocks were total strangers to the midnight callers, but when the situation was hurriedly explained they were taken in and everything possible done for Mrs. Haddad's comfort. After being given directions where to go, Mr. Haddad went to the hospital for aid and in the meantime the daughter arrived.

Both mother and child are reported to be doing well at the Warmock home.

"This is a most unusual occurrence," is the way Mr. Warmock expressed himself this morning. "We are of course glad to do anything we can for them as long as they are here."

WILL BE APPOINTED DEPUTY FIRE MARSHAL

Announcement is made from St. Paul that M. J. Murray of West Duluth will be named deputy state fire marshal, with headquarters here, most probably. Mr. Murray was secretary of the Democratic committee for this county in the state campaign last fall, and it is acknowledged that he had a very large credit due in the fine majority which St. Louis county gave to Governor Winfield Scott Hammond.

Mr. Murray is a pioneer of Duluth and is one of the best known younger business men in the city. He is popular and his indorsements for office under the Hammond administration were so hearty and widespread, coming from business men and political leaders alike all over the northern part of the state, as to be enviable.

Much pleasure is felt by his friends that he has been remembered by the governor in making up the list of appointments.

West Duluth Odd Fellows Celebrate Anniversary Day.

West Duluth lodge No. 168, I. O. O. F., celebrated last evening at the Odd Fellows' hall, 602 North Central avenue, in honor of the twenty-fifth anniversary of its founding. The program included several short talks and music.

Among the speakers were William H. Palmer, state grand master of the order, and A. L. Bolton, state grand secretary. Among the other speakers were P. J. Borgstrom and W. E. Cowden. Music was furnished by the Odd Fellows' quartet and others.

Royal League Meets.

Plans for the final of a series of dancing parties to be given by the Pocahontas Council No. 319, Royal League, on Monday, April 5, at Dormedy's hall, were made at the meeting of the lodge last night. A committee was appointed consisting of Mrs. Elliott J. Aman, Mrs. Judson E. Smith, Mrs. E. W. F. Boerner, Mrs. H. L. Liberty, Mrs. E. J. Zauft, Mrs. M. J. Murray, Mrs. W. H. Richter, Mrs. C. J. Yoho and Mrs. Frank Winkel.

Installation ceremonies for Mrs. Murray as collector and Mrs. E. F. Briesch as treasurer took place. The ceremony was performed by Mrs. C. S. Palmer, deputy supreme archon. Following the business meeting, members of this council were entertained by the West Duluth Council No. 255, at a "hard time" social. The committee having charge of the social affair consisted of E. J. Amen, Ray Batley, Frank Winkel and H. L. Fedi.

Solberg Funeral.

The funeral service for Mrs. Olen Solberg, who died Friday at Sheldon, Minn., will be held tomorrow afternoon from her home, 113 South Sixty-fifth avenue west, and at 2:30 o'clock from the Gospel hall, Fifty-sixth avenue west and Cody street. Interment will be in the Oneota cemetery.

Dinner for "Dads."

The Boys' Club of the Denfeld high school will entertain at a banquet for their "dads" this evening. Preparations have been made to entertain 130 guests. All details of planning the meal as well as preparing it have been attended to by the members, but the serving will be done by twenty girls from the high school.

The program will include a number of addresses by boys as well as the fathers. Stanley Allen will be toastmaster. The address of welcome will be given by Hugh Myles. "Our Club" will be the subject of a toast given by E. D. Briggs. Rolland Clark will speak on "The Kind of a Dad a Boy Likes," and this will be responded to by Watson S. Moore, who will speak on "The Kind of a Boy a Dad Likes."

Short talks will also be given by S. A. Foster, principal of the school; Dr. I. T. Burnside, William Perrin, Norman McLeod and J. R. Batchelor. The supper will be served at 7:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Strom Dies.

Mrs. Bertha M. Strom, 58 years old, died at her home at Midway this morning following a short illness. She is survived by her husband and six children. The funeral will be held Sunday afternoon from the family home with interment in the Midway cemetery.

Will Entertain Aid.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Elim Swedish Lutheran church will be entertained tomorrow afternoon at the home of Mrs. John E. Mattson, 18 North Sixty-third avenue west. Mrs. Mattson will entertain tomorrow evening for the Young People's society of the church.

SHIPS WILL GUARD NEUTRALITY OF PORT.

Washington, March 24.—Admiral Fletcher, commander-in-chief of the Atlantic fleet, notified the navy department today that the destroyer Warrington left Guantanamo, Cuba, last night for San Juan, Porto Rico, where the steamer Odenwald is held, and should arrive there tonight. Secretary Daniels said it was not planned to send another naval craft to San Juan at present, as it was thought the Warrington and the coast guard ship Algonquin would be sufficient to maintain the neutrality of the port.

COMPLETING THE STEEL PLANT.

The reference to the new steel plant at Duluth, made last week by Judge Gary in his remarks to the stockholders of the United States Steel corporation accompanying the annual report, has naturally aroused much interest. Judge Gary said:

"Construction work on the new steel plant at Duluth, also on the new cement plant at the same place, together with work on the adjoining town site of Morgan Park, progressed actively until the early fall of 1914, when construction operations were materially curtailed because of the severe depression in the iron and steel industry. By the expenditure of about $3,000,000 additional these plants will be ready for operation. It is hoped business conditions may warrant the completion of the work during the current year."

There is no doubt that the Duluth steel plant would have been in operation this year, had not the steel and iron trade been so greatly depressed by the conditions created by the great European war. Many millions of dollars have been expended upon the construction of the plant, which is now so far advanced that a comparatively small amount of work is required to push it to completion.

While Judge Gary does not set any fixed date for completion of the plant he expresses the hope that conditions may warrant the completion of both the steel plant and the cement plant during the present year. In view of the fact that there is a steady improvement in conditions, steel mill operations being estimated to be now on a basis of 65 per cent, or nearly double that of last December, it is safe to conclude that there will be renewed activity at the Duluth plant in the near future and that the spring of 1916 will see it completed and in operation.

It is natural that the people of Duluth should feel somewhat discouraged at times in regard to the steel plant, having waited long for the establishment of the plant and then being hindered by various untoward events from enjoying the great benefits certain to follow its operation. The Herald must confess that it has frequently become impatient because of the delays which have attended the work, and yet a little calm consideration will show that even these delays have had their compensatory features. The steel plant will be vastly greater than was originally planned. With each delay that events have caused, the Steel corporation has revised its plans by increasing the size and scope of the Duluth plant until now it represents an investment of millions of dollars more than it was the original intention to expend at this point, the result being that when the plant is completed it will be practically "the last word" in steel plant construction. Even during the past year, during the latter months of which construction was largely suspended, the report of the Steel corporation shows that the sum of more than four million dollars was expended here.

There are some signs that the war in Europe will come to a close in the near future, and it is very generally believed that the windup of the great conflict will be followed by a general boom in business of all kinds in the United States, and that the steel trade will feel the effect to a very marked degree. These conditions will warrant the active resumption of construction work at the Duluth plant, and the people of Duluth, who have waited so long for the creation of this great industry, will speedily experience the manifold benefits that will attend the operation of the plant.

Come, come! Why all this delay about the robins?

THE HOUSE ACTED WISELY.

The Minnesota house of representatives acted wisely in rejecting the bill for statutory state-wide prohibition, and the friends of prohibition showed their good judgment by not trying to force the fight further than a simple yea and nay vote. Prohibition is one of those issues which are peculiarly susceptible to being turned into traps for honest men, and unless a record is imperative for some reason, it is better to avoid anything like a display of personalities on the subject.

Statutory prohibition is not wanted in Minnesota, whatever may be said of the same sort of legislation in other forms. No prohibition law will or can be enforced unless public sentiment is strongly in favor of its enforcement, and statutory prohibition simply means prohibition that is slapped upon the state without the people being given an opportunity to say whether they favor it or not.

There is only one way in which prohibition or any other similar restriction should be placed on the people of any state, and that is as the result of a direct popular vote in favor of the restriction. That the real friends of prohibition recognize this fact is shown by their failure to make a strong fight for the statutory limitation. They showed good sense by their course, and the house acted wisely in letting the proposed bill die.

By the way, don't forget to boost that second amendment, you know.

LATER LIGHT ON "FREE TOLLS."

Everybody remembers the fight over the Panama "free tolls" proposition, and how bitterly President Wilson and those who stood with him in that fight were attacked. It was one of the most vindictive of the early struggles of the administration, and the bitterness was even carried over into other clashes.

It is refreshing, therefore, to find in the New York Journal of Commerce interpretations of the reports on the first six months' use of the canal, the statement that the result to date is "calculated to demonstrate the economic folly of the agitation for free tolls for American coastwise commerce."

This confession is based on two facts: First, that of the tonnage through the canal for the first six months of operation, fully forty-two per cent, or nearly half, was furnished by this coastwise shipping; second, that the operation of the canal has given an unexpected impetus to trade between the two seaboards of the United States.

Judging from the revenue of the canal for these first six months, its total income for the year will be approximately four and a million dollars, or not less than that, according to the Journal of Commerce. This is below the estimates of cost of operation and maintenance, and it is pointed out that when the expense of clearing away the occasional slides is added to this, the canal is likely to come quite a bit short of paying its own way the first year. But if the free tolls graft had been permitted, these revenues would be only a little more than half what they now are.

Of course things might work out differently if there had been no war. But there is a war, and it appears that President Wilson's determination to keep the national honor unstained has been the means not only of saving the American people from being victimized by the subsidy hunters, but has also served to bring about a demonstration of the economic folly of the agitation against what was the only decent and honorable course we could have adopted.

The Chicago News paragrapher observes that rhubarb pies are better "without the roof." The true lover of rhubarb pie doesn't care a tart whether there's any roof or not.

COUNTY DIVISION DEAD.

It is an established principle of the courts that "he who seeks equity must do equity," and that principle apparently had some influence with the legislature in the determination of the question of an ex parte county division.

The St. Louis county men who were the most active for division on the lopsided plan made a great ado about the injustices they claimed the range country was suffering. They posed as representatives of humble and downtrodden communities, forced by soulless opposition to eke out a miserable existence that their enemies might live in comfort and plenty.

With this plea their only hope for influencing the legislature to take an action manifestly unjust, they were completely routed by the showing made of the true financial conditions in the towns where it is being found possible to bleed private interests. Outrageous conditions were shown to exist, some of them largely as the result of the activities of these same men who were leading the agitation for a division law, and these conditions had their effect on the legislators.

The decision of the legislature should put an end to the county division movement. St. Louis county cannot afford to be stirred up by these agitations, and all parts of the county should now settle down to forward its interests and live together peaceably.

The New Spirit of Business

Editorial in the St. Louis Republic.

Said a man in St. Louis last night:

A great stirring and moving is going on in the land.

The old order changeth, giving place to new. Call it "the new freedom" or "my policies," or what you will, the people at large are astir, groping, seeking for a condition of things which shall be better and happier, which shall give them a greater share, not only of the comforts and material rewards, but of the joys and the recreations of life. It is a movement which is full of promise, and a menace only if ignored, repressed or falsely and selfishly led. Most of it will find expression in politics, in economic and social legislation; some of it will find expression in art.

These words were not spoken by a clergyman or a university president. They were not uttered by an artist, who lives among visions which chisel and brush vainly strive to capture. They did not come from a statesman nearing the end of life and looking over the "happy fields, at rest from fruitfulness." They were spoken by Otto H. Kahn, banker, financier, at the close of a day spent in the consummation of plans for the reorganizing of two great railroads.

The reason Mr. Kahn feels so certain of this great change is that he is a part of it himself. The wine of the new vintage courses in his veins. The message of the new order speaks in his words.

Business has discovered democracy. It long ago discovered the people as consumers and as workers. Now it has discovered how far-reaching and how many-stranded is the network that unites us all. Business has waked up to the opportunity of the brotherhood of man.

Responsibility on the banker's part for the security of the people's money is as old as banking. But to this Mr. Kahn has added a sense of responsibility for the opportunity of the people's leisure. He does not end with them when business hours end. He wants to meet them at the opera after business hours. It is not enough for him that the shopgirl's dollars, paid in at the grating of the savings bank, go to purchase railroad bonds; he wants to know that the opera house, where he spends his own evenings, has a seat for that shopgirl who is helping to finance the country's railroads, and at prices she can afford.

The new note in business is not "welfare;" it is fellowship. Common interests, common enthusiasms. The old, vicious divisions are passing. We are coming closer to each other, and men like Mr. Kahn are leading the way.

When a Man Won't Flirt

E. K. Wooley in the Kansas City Times: "Broadly speaking, men may be divided into two classes," stated my friend the business woman. "Those who are willing to flirt with almost anything that wears petticoats, and those who are deadly afraid that some designing female will attempt to flirt with them.

"And I don't know but I'd rather run up against the flirtatious male than the other kind," speculated she. "You can glare at a masher and e'en stab him with a hatpin or poke him with your umbrella. But you're absolutely helpless before the opinion the other sort of fellow holds about you.

"Now I've got beyond that point where I think that every man who notices me or smiles upon me is in love with me. I've been in the business world long enough to overlook the matter of sex. I'm not always thinking that a man is a man when I talk to him or sit next or opposite to him. I like a lot of men, heaven bless 'em, just as I like a lot of women, and I'd sure hate to see a manless world or have women rule the earth without masculine aid or interference, just as I am opposed to an existence run entirely by man-made rules. I haven't an iota of sex egotism about me. Sex-antagonism isn't one of my characteristics. And so, you see, I'm just plain sensible—a human being regarding other human beings in a simple, friendly, human spirit.

"And yet," snorted my friend, the business woman, "there are men who actually look upon me in that Satan-get-behind-me fashion, simply because I don't blush and stammer and get tongue-tied if a masculine critter speaks courteously to me without a formal introduction and I have the temerity to reply!"

"Well—" I opined, getting ready to dodge, "you are pretty fresh about making new acquaintances. Nobody ever properly introduced me."

"There is a community of holier-than-thous living in a pretty little private park. They've banded themselves into an exclusive set that fattens itself with an idea of its own importance. The women think they are way up in society because some of the items they send to the society editors get printed. The men are the kind who talk of 'my employes,' though about all the employing they do is to employ their time earning what the boss pays them. They're of the genus clerk at about $125 a month—just enough to keep their hands soft and their collars white.

"Occasionally I walk up to their station to wait for the car. Everybody knows my name, and every other place I go I get cheerful good mornings from the men folk who are also waiting for the car, and we chat about things in general. But at this station, if a 'Good morning' is hastily squeezed out for me, it is with the inflection that I must not take advantage of it!

"And when I see any of these fuzzy-minded critters on the car—our gossipy, neighborly suburban morning car, where everybody talks to everybody—there is a mental turning of backs for fear that I might presume upon those inadvertent greetings. They seem to spread out their spiritual skirts so there won't be room for me to sit anywhere near them. Say—" she suddenly demanded, "do I look like a temptress?"

I bowed low.

"You look," said I, "very charming in that new spring hat."

"Get along wid you, I'm busy," giggled my friend, the business woman.

The Effect of War.

War suspends the rules of moral obligation, and what is long suspended is in danger of being totally abrogated. Civil wars strike deepest of all into the manners of the people. They vitiate their politics; they corrupt their morals; they pervert even the natural taste and relish of equity and justice. By teaching us to consider our fellow citizens in a hostile light, the whole body of our nation becomes gradually less dear to us. The very names of affection and kindred, which were the bond of charity whilst we agreed, become new incentives to hatred and rage, when the communion of our country is dissolved.—Burke.

Observing Friends.

Houston Post: "I was surprised to learn that Bonehead had lost his mind."

"What was there surprising in it?"

"Why, that his friends found it out. That's what surprises me."

Tom Briggs and Bill Duff of the Spanish Main

Ellis Parker Butler of "Pigs is Pigs" fame begins the first of a series of boy stories in the American Magazine for March. The story from which the following extract is taken has unusual charm. It is about a very real little boy who has to lie all day in bed with his leg in a plaster cast. His grandmother sits in her rocking chair beside him and together they play a wonderful game.

The little boy put his pencil carefully in his pencil box, closed the box and pushed it away from him on the counterpane. He had been drawing lines, and rough pictures on a sheet of paper for half an hour. Now he folded the paper carefully, only to unfold it again. He frowned as he looked at it.

"Bill, old tar," he said in his thin, childish voice, "what's this here I find?"

"Let me see it, dearie," said the grandmother, adjusting her spectacles and dropping her sewing in her lap.

"You don't say that Grandma," said the boy. "Don't you remember? You say, 'Why, bless my eyes, old feller! Let me cock an eye at it, Tom Briggs'"

"Why, bless my eyes, old feller! Let me cock an eye at it, Tom Briggs!" repeated the grandmother. She took the sheet of paper and held it before her eyes, moving it back and forth to find the proper distance.

"Now you say, 'Tar my topsails, Tom Briggs, if this ain't the map we been lookin' for these twenty years aback,' Grandma."

"Yes, Tar my topsails if it ain't, Tom Briggs," said the grandmother. It's the selfsame map old Peg-Leg Bloody-bones made, showing where he hid the treasure he took from—What did he take it from this time, dearie?"

"You must read it," said the boy. "In the corner of the map."

"'Map of where I hid the treasure took from the galleon "Golden Ind."—Peg-Leg Bloodybones, Pirate of the Spanish Main,' read the grandmother.

"That's right," said the boy. "And blow my buttons, Cap'n Bill, if we ain't lucky to discover this here map.

"We been searching the Spanish Main for that treasure a-many years, and never found trace of it, and here we run across the very map a-laying on the table in this barroom. It do beat all! Bartender, another glass of grog!"

The nurse handed the boy the tumbler of water from her table and he sipped it daintily.

"An old feller like me has to warm his innards a bit when he has big work on hand," said the boy. "Nothin' like a glass of grog to set up old Tom Briggs. When I get a swig of grog in me I'm ready for anything that comes. Thank you, nurse, that is all I want now. And, now Cap'n Bill, let's to work.

"My poor old eyes are getting so bad I can hardly make out what you draw any more, dearie," said Cap'n Bill Duff, wiping her spectacles on her lace edged handkerchief.

"I'll tell you what you can't see," said Tom Briggs. "I can remember, grandma. And, first off, Bill, old feller, we got to get a ship, and here me and you are, stranded in this inn, with hardly a farthing between us, and our sea chests held for board. Now you tell about Red Headed Simon."

"Don't let that worry you, Tom Briggs," said the grandmother. "With that map in hand we need have no fear. You recollect old Red Headed Simon, that sailed with us in the Roaring Bess? He's in port, and he's skipper of the Bess now, and the minute he sees this map he'll join us, ship and all, and he has as pretty a crew of cut-throats as a man would wish to see. Share and share alike is what I say, Tom Briggs."

"All right. You did that very nicely, grandma," said the boy. "And we'll skip most of the rest, because you'll never, never find the hidden treasure this time. We're all on board the Roaring Bess, now, and there's plenty of sea biscuit and grog and tobacco aboard, and we have two long guns mounted forward and a carronade on the poop, and a case of cutlasses in the hold. And you'll be skipper this time, and I'm the mate, and Red Headed Simon is at the wheel, and we're sailing out of Falmouth harbor, and the shot from Pendennis castle has just missed our mainmast and has taken off the head of one of the crew, so we are short handed. So go ahead, grandma. We're in the cabin now, drinking grog."

"Dear me!" said Bill Duff, "I always forget part of the cabin talk. Let me see! Red Head, you rascally dog, I tell you you have steered too far to windward. Look at the map, man!"

"Map your grandmother!" said the boy. "Don't the map say 'Coral Island?' Ain't I sailed to and by 'Coral Island' more times than you've got teeth in your head? Couldn't I sail up to it with my eyes shut in any gale that ever blowed? What do I care for maps?"

"A map is a map," said Bill Duff.

"That's right, Grandma," said the boy. "And I say—of course a map is a map, but it ain't a chart, is it? Your map is all right, Bill Duff, to show us where the treasure is hid on the island, but I don't take no map that Peg-Leg Bloodybones ever scrawled, drunk or sober, to show me the way to Coral Island."

"It is time to have your temperature taken now," said the nurse.

"All right," said the boy. "Sambo, gimme my pipe!"

He allowed the nurse to place the thermometer under his tongue. As it lay there he puffed at it, and when the minute was up the nurse took the thermometer again, glanced at it and placed it in the glass of water.

"Nothing like a good whiff of tobacco to cool a man down when he's getting riled up," said the boy. "The blessed weed calms the nerves, hey, Bill Duff? Gimme a chaw or a smoke when time is irritating, I say."

Childish Faults.

They are such dear, familiar feet that go
Along the path with ours—feet fast or slow
And trying to keep pace; if they mistake
Or tread upon some flower that we would take
Upon our breast, or bruise some reed,
Or crush poor hope until it bleed,
We must be mute,
Not turning quickly to impute
Grave fault; for they and we
Have such a little way to go—can be Together such a little while along the way—
We will be patient while we may.

So many little faults we find!
We see them, for not blind
Is love. We see them, but if you and I
Perhaps remember them, some by and by,
They will not be
Faults then—grave faults—to you and me,
But just odd ways—mistakes, or even less—
Remembrances to bless.
Days change so many things—yes, hours;
We see so differently in sun and showers,
Mistaken words tonight
May be so cherished by tomorrow's light,
We must be patient; for we know
There's such a little way to go.

Close to Famous Folk

By Fred C. Kelly.

Washington, March 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—Dr. Carroll Fox of the United States public health service knows practically all there is to know about fleas. Regardless of whether you keep a dog or do not keep a dog, the chances are that your knowledge of fleas is preposterously scant compared with that of Dr. Fox. He has a full understanding of fleas' habits and characteristics and is almost able to catch the flea point of view. A flea is not always the romping, care-free individual he appears to be. Many fleas are temperamentally wicked—a great deal more wicked than an elephant, for example, even though considerably smaller than an elephant in stature. A flea will move into a community that has never given it the slightest motive for revenge and begin to plot against it, spreading disease by means of germs that it carries about on its person—germs even smaller than itself. That is one of the wicked caprices of many an innocent appearing flea.

It is because of these sinister traits that Dr. Fox of the health service has found it advisable to make fleas a life work. A person who knows just what line of germs a given flea carries in stock is naturally able to tell just how far one should go in shunning the society of that particular flea. The whole proposition is simply a matter of daily routine with Fox. He has little if any more regard for the average flea, personally, than you or I have. He is a serious-minded scientist.

Now, being a serious-minded scientist, Fox is not given to cracking jokes—particularly not about fleas. Yet, a while ago when Fox made the acquaintance of an entirely new genus of fleas, he gave the genus a name that is not untinged with a certain suggestion of humor. The flea was discovered in the dark interior of Africa. Fox has named it the Rooseveltiella!

Somebody asked him how he happened to pick the name of Rooseveltiella for the new brand of flea.

"Well," Fox replied, in substance, "Theodore Roosevelt did a lot of valuable work in the same locality where the flea was discovered and it seemed rather fitting that it should be named after him."

And Dr. Fox was exactly right. When a man has hewed out a place for himself as one of our best known living ex-presidents and has never, so far as one can at this moment recall, had a cigar named after him, it does seem little enough honor that he should be able to round out a busy career by having his name borne by a flea. Whatever one may think about Theodore Roosevelt personally or politically, certainly there is none who would deny him that.

Defense of Feather Beds

Kansas City Star: Uncle Sam has condemned the feather bed.

A recent report of the United States public health service denounces it as insanitary, "with great capacity for evil."

This will not meet with much favor in certain rural districts of Missouri, Arkansas and Tennessee, where it is yet the custom, when a girl marries, for her mother to give her a feather bed.

There are communities within 100 miles of Kansas City where the best bed in the house, in the "spare bedroom," is built of two ticks, the one beneath stuffed with oat or wheat straw, and the one above filled with feathers. If you happen to be an overnight guest at one of those homes you will be shown at bedtime into the room where this leviathan of beds stands in a corner. It is almost as high as an elephant's back, and one needs to use a chair to climb into it. But once mounted upon it you sink into its two-foot thickness of goose feathers, and, no matter what Uncle Sam's health board may say, there is something in a good feather bed that induces sound and restful sleep.

In the old days in Missouri everyone slept in feather beds except the very poorest, and they had mattresses of straw or cornhusks.

There were as many different grades of feather beds as there were classes of people. At the top of the social ladder in the country districts were the "real folks," the prosperous ones who owned broad prairie farms and had many slaves. The heads of those families were colonels and majors. The beds in those homes were stuffed with the softest and flecciest feathers from geese and ducks. No chicken feathers went into one of those beds.

Next in order in the social scale came the "overseer stock," the families of white men hired upon the large farms. Their beds were of chicken feathers.

Next came the "Bluffites," poor families whose unproductive farms were along the rough and stony river and creek bluffs. Fine feathers brought too good a price in the market for them to use to sleep upon and their bedticks were stuffed with wing and tail feathers stripped from the quill. These made a hard, lumpy bed, with sharp protuberances to annoy the sleeper. In those days, if a person slept badly, it was common to say:

"I slept on wing feathers last night."

The lowest social caste was composed of "swamp angels," those who lived in the "bottom" lands along the creeks and rivers. They spent so much money for quinine and other chills and fever medicines that there was nothing left for feather beds, and they slept upon cornhusk mattresses.

In the cities today feather beds are rare. They are so scarce in Kansas City that the chief distinction of a rich woman of the South side is that she has feather beds in her home.

This is the age of the cotton mattress and steel springs and it will be only a few years until the feather bed, that almost swallows its sleepers in its soft grasp, will be a thing of the past, even in remote rural districts.

Casey's Cow Problem.

Middleton, Mo., Chips: Many years ago the problem of Casey's cow was considered rather a tough proposition. It should not, however, prove very difficult for our present day students and mathematicians.

Statement—Casey's cow was standing on a railroad bridge when all at once she became aware of an approaching train. The train was just twice the length of the bridge away from the end, and coming at a ninety-mile clip. The cow dashed toward the train and saved herself by one foot, whereas if she had run the other way she would have lost her race for life by just three inches.

Find length of bridge, the speed of the cow and the point at which she was standing on the bridge.

The above was handed in by a Chips reader. There's a little reward hung up for the three best solutions. Stop fighting the European war and try this.

First Non-Partisan State Legislature

Suggestions and Comments From the State Press.

Not General Enough.

Spooner Northern News: The only objection to the Lennon bill, which provides for the appointment of a public defender to assist those who are too poor to employ attorneys in Hennepin county, is that it does not apply to all counties of the state. It would be a money saver.

A Sensible Bill.

Red Wing Eagle: Representative Lennon of Hennepin county has introduced a bill providing for the employment by the state of a public defender to appear against public prosecutors. Which appears like a sensible proposition. It seems preposterous that the state should pay for persons to prosecute people, without also providing for the paying of persons to defend them.

Thinks They Are Inconsistent.

Mankato Free Press: There are newspapers in Minnesota that rail against the prize fight bill which is now before the legislature, and they appear to be growing more and more hysterical daily over the measure, but they remain silent about football—a rough and tumble "game" in which more young men have been killed or injured than can be recorded in the prize ring. If these newspapers wish to be consistent, they should turn their batteries of indignation and wrath upon football as well as prize fighting.

Little to Destroy.

Le Sueur News: A lot of people, and mostly the liquor element, are expressing fear that the non-partisan legislature will destroy the Republican party in Minnesota. There is little left of it to destroy, except the name, and the followers of the name who are looking for jobs. The ordinary man is looking for good government and does not care who gives it to him.

Partisanship to the Winds.

Montevideo Leader: May every loyal man give loyal support to our president in these ominous times when so much is at stake. Partisanship to the winds. Patriotism demands a sure and steadfast support of our president and his cabinet.

Much for Defender to Do.

Virginia Enterprise: The Minneapolis delegation has introduced a measure in the state legislature providing for a public defender. The general theory is that if there is a public prosecutor in all fairness there should also be a public defender and it is a contention in which the ground is well taken. Under our present system the state, the city or the village, as the case may be, devotes all its energy to one side of the question of the guilt or innocence of persons accused of law violations. That is hardly fair in view of the fact that in the courts below the district court, in villages, cities and towns, there is more often than otherwise in the position of judge and jury persons with scant qualifications for discharging those important duties. The public defender theory might extend much farther than Hennepin county meritoriously. It might extend to the giving of legal advice in every town, village and city to persons who are unable to pay for it, and there are many of them. A public defender no doubt also would stop many cases in their initial proceedings which through incompetency in the courts where they are first instituted hang on, accumulating costs, until they reach a court of competent jurisdiction.

Sympathy.

Hibbing Tribune: If the legislature gets half the letters that the Tribune does hollering for a bigger appropriation for some "needed" project, it has our heartfelt sympathy in its effort to prune expenses. The pruning job is going to be "some job" all right.

Needs Leadership.

Red Wing Republican: Neither the house nor the senate has the leadership necessary to do the most effective work. The days of Staples and Jacobson still stand out conspicuously after fifteen or twenty years have intervened. In late years there has been no one to fill their shoes in the Minnesota legislature.

Just a Moment

Daily Strength and Cheer.

Compiled by John G. Quintius, the Sunshine Man.

"My soul cleaveth unto the dust; quicken Thou me according to Thy word."—Ps. cxix, 25.

A consciousness and a confession of earthly mindedness. And yet withal a desire to rise above that condition. The words describe a soul in a state of depression—clinging unto the dust. This may arise from want of knowledge as to God's way of deliverance, or from lack of faith, or from want of will. Any of these causes will bring us into captivity to the law of sin. The tendency of that law is downward—"unto the dust." But none of God's children need be brought under that law.

But how is it that all believers do not live in the power of this superior law? Because they do not fulfill the conditions. We cannot rise triumphantly above the influences of the world, and rejoice in freedom from the law of sin, unless we are abiding "in Christ Jesus" (Rom. viii, 2). There must be knowledge—"according to Thy word." There must be faith—the conviction that there is "in Christ" the power to deliver. And there must be the willingness to be delivered.—From "Broken Bread."

O heart of mine, be patient!
Some glad day,
With all life's puzzling problems
Solved for aye,
With all its storms and doubtings
Cleared away,
With all its little disappointments past
It shall be thin to understand at last.

Be patient; some sweet day
The anxious care,
The fears and trials, and the
Hidden snare,
The grief that comes upon thee
Unaware.
Shall with the fleeting years be laid aside,
And thou shalt then be fully satisfied.

Recreation.

Otto H. Kahn, in Drama league address: In the course of one of the all too few hours which I have for contemplation, for what Carlyle called "labeling one's thoughts," it occurred to me the other day how significant is the original meaning of the word recreation. Our theatrical managers speak of offering us entertainments, they speak of attractions—a hideous term!—but recreations, recreate, how true a definition in one word of what our pleasures, our leisure hours ought to do for us. To recreate the wasting tissues of our souls, the worn fibers of our brains, to recreate the zest and courage for life, to stimulate, to move, to cheer—that is the purpose of recreation; and art, particularly the art of the stage, has the power to accomplish that purpose.

Twenty Years Ago

From The Herald of this date, 1895.

•••J. C. Crawford, chief operator at the St. Paul & Duluth tower at the West End junction, was held up by two men, but he had no money and they had their trouble for nothing. He was sitting at a table with his back toward the door when the men suddenly entered and one covered him with a revolver.

•••C. Walberg, proprietor of the confectionery store in the Palmer block at West Duluth, died yesterday from typhoid fever. He was a single man, 27 years of age, and came to Duluth with the other sufferers from the Hinckley fire.

•••Charles Iltis went to St. Paul today as a delegate from the West Duluth A. O. U. W. to the meeting of the grand lodge.

•••C. D. Gilfillan has returned from the East. He has been ill with typhoid fever since leaving here.

•••Before Judge Lewis in special term yesterday, Henry E. Harris moved for a new trial in the case of Leonidas Merritt against the Biwabik Mountain Iron company. The suit was for $30,000, and the jury brought in a verdict for $500, which Merritt regards as insufficient.

•••The Duluth Boat club has received a challenge from the Madison university for an eight-oared race to be rowed either at Duluth or Madison. The challenge will be accepted.

•••A petition signed by nearly all of the younger members and many of the older members of the board of trade has been presented to the directors, asking that a large room in the basement of the new building be set aside as a gymnasium.

•••The Typographical union will hold its annual ball in I. O. O. F. hall on April 19. W. J. Ferguson, J. A. Blackwood, W. J. Moran, J. W. Jackson and F. H. Lounsberry compose the committee on arrangements.

Charles E. Vasaly.

Bemidji Pioneer: There is a rumor that Governor Hammond is thinking seriously of reappointing Charles E. Vasaly, chairman of the board of control, whose term expires April 1. On the other hand, there has been a movement started by the Democrats, the purpose of which would be to block confirmation by the senate. Chairman Vasaly has made a good official and there are many citizens of the state who would be pleased to see him continue at the post he has so ably filled.

St. Cloud Times: When Mr. Vasaly was appointed a member of the board of control by Governor Johnson there was some "kicking" on the part of Johnson's friends, who asserted that Vasaly was an opponent of the governor and his wing of the Democracy. Mr. Vasaly has served six years, a part of the time as chairman, and has proven to be a most efficient and valuable member. As a trustee of the Soldiers' home board, the editor of the Times has had opportunity to come in contact with Mr. Vasaly, and we can bear testimony to his excellent work, sound judgment and watchful care of the state's interest. If the board of control is to be retained, as now seems assured, Governor Hammond cannot better serve the state in this particular case than by reappointing Charles E. Vasaly.

THE OPEN COURT

(Readers of The Herald are invited to make free use of this column to express their ideas about the topics of general interest, but discussions of sectarian religious differences are barred. Letters must not exceed 300 words—the shorter the better. They must be written on one side of the paper only, and they must be accompanied in every case by the name and address of the writer (though these need not be published). A signed letter is always more effective, however.)

The Herald has received several communications regarding the candidates for city commissioner. No letters either for or against the candidates will be published in the Open Court.

MORE CRIBBAGE.

To the Editor of The Herald:

In a cribbage game A plays 6 spot; B plays king making 16; A plays 5 spot making 21; B plays 3 spot making 24; A says a "go." B plays two more 3 spots making it 30. What is B entitled to count? Yours truly,

WILLIAM NADEAU.

Mitchell, Minn., March 22.

A Duluthian who admits he is the Northern Minnesota cribbage champion, but whom the editor beats with pleasing regularity when they meet, says "nine." He gets two for the pair of treys, six for the three of the kind, and one for the "go." The only question, of course, is whether he counts both the pair and the three of a kind. The only book of rules we have available dodges this issue, but the above mentioned authority says "nine," and the editor places considerable reliance in him.—The Editor.

CASTING FIRST STONE.

To the Editor of The Herald:

I was going home on the car last night, being perfectly quiet and behaving very decorously reading your family paper and the account of the political meeting, where "the large hall was filled." I did nicely till I got down to where the speaker, trying to avoid mud slinging, reminds his opponent of the Biblical character, Stephen, who was about to be stoned to death for his sins, and of the Christ's stopping the violence by saying: "Let him who is guiltless cast the first stone!" Then I snorted right out loud—in a street car, too—startling my young lady seatmate, who looked around to see if the conductor was handy and then at the window to see if she could get out that way quickly, in case "I was took quickly." Ain't it funny what wrong ideas one gets and keeps? I always thought Stephen was picked out for his job because of his honesty, goodness and wisdom, and a crowd trying to upset his work and "get him" manufactured false testimony, and through perjury secured his conviction, and he was taken out of the city and stoned. And now here you come along, and in your political news I find I was wrong. "The rock throwing was stopped" and stopped by a man "who was dead before this incident occurred!" What happened to Stephen, anyway? Did he repent his sins and get a reprieve?

GROCERYMEN AND CHRISTIANS.

To the Editor of The Herald:

In Friday's issue of The Herald appeared an article by A. L. J., asking what Dr. Hoffman means by a "Christian Merchant," also quoting a retail grocer who made the statement "that no man can be a Christian and be in business."

As a grocer and also a Christian I do not agree with A. L. J. nor my brother grocer. The passage mentioned where Christ drove the sellers of doves out of the temple does not necessarily mean on account of the business end of it, but because that they were in the wrong place.

If it was added up what the grocerymen of this city have on their books helping honest workingmen to tide over the winter, I am sure that the amount would be startling. When one's customers build themselves a house, or buy a lot, or similar things take place, the first man who has to wait for his money is the groceryman. They use the groceryman's money without interest paid and although the amount is $100 or more, they expect a dozen of oranges for a treat on every five dollars paid on the principal.

If the grocer needs any money he might be able to get it at the bank, but he is the one who pays the interest, not the banker, which is legitimate business. The grocer does even more than the Scriptures require: "Do unto others," etc.—he treats other people better than he gets treated himself. The grocer also saves half of his neighborhood the expense of keeping a telephone, surely he is some philanthropist.

The grocer ought to be entitled to a just profit on his labor as well as other workingmen; that business is no snap. The first two years I was in business I worked from 7 in the morning till 10 at night every day except Sunday, which is the Lord's day, in order to make both ends meet, which is far from eight hours. I started in business with two empty hands and a family dependent on me, borrowed all I could on the strength of my life insurance policy, and if A. L. J. thinks that we live in luxury he is at liberty to try it. There is no monopoly on the grocery business in Duluth. Why did not the workingmen support the National Co-operative association, if that is the ideal system?

There is room for more arguments but I guess this will be enough for this time. Can people be called "Christian" who do not pay their just debts? I know people prominent in society and church who in the bottom of their hearts are dead-beats, still they put on plenty of style, the women wearing wavy plumes in their headgears which the groceryman paid for. If anyone is going to get a prominent place in Heaven it will be the Christian groceryman.

Thanking you for your valuable space, I am, respectfully,

A GROCERYMAN.

Duluth, March 21.

MIDDLEMAN IS WORTHY OF HIS HIRE.

To the Editor of The Herald:

With the permission of the editor of the Open Court Column I wish to say a few words in reply to A. L. J., who seems to doubt that a merchant can be a Christian.

A. L. J. undoubtedly means that the groceryman, and therefore all middlemen, are parasites that have organized for the purpose of "withholding by fraud from labor his due." Now either the middlemen are justified or they are not. If one is justified they all are.

Labor is divided into two classes, labor of production, and labor of distribution or exchange. In civilized countries the labor of exchange is a necessity. Let us look at the middleman from a general point of view, not from the producers' side alone.

In a given community, the farmers raise a surplus of a certain product. He can of course market this surplus himself, but finds that some agent or middleman, performing the same service for a number of farmers can market this surplus much cheaper that it could be done by the farmer. In fact, the whole community of farmers can market their whole surplus of a given product for about what it would cost each man to do it himself. The wages of this middleman may be fixed, or he may buy on a margin that will show him a reasonable compensation for the service rendered. The method of paying the agent for his service is not important. The point is: The farmer saves money by having a middleman do this part of the work.

The groceryman who may be the only middleman to handle a certain product, or he may be only a link in the chain of middlemen, buys his wares at the central market in large quantities and owns them at the smallest possible price. He brings them to the door of the consumer and sells them at a smaller price than it would cost the consumer to go and obtain them from the producer. He may have his wages fixed, or he may sell at a margin that will show him a reasonable compensation for his risk and service, that is not important. The point again is: That the consumer buys his wares cheaper from the middleman than he could were he obliged to go direct to the consumer for them. The whole community of consumers may obtain their wares for about what it would cost each man to go direct to the producer for his own needs.

Now Mr. Socialist, does it not appear to you that the middleman is rendering valuable service to both producer and consumer? Does it not appear to you that a coffee buyer, in Brazil, in conjunction with a steamship company, an importer, a roaster, a railway company, and a groceryman are rendering you a service in procuring coffee for you, at a cost of practically nothing compared to what it would cost you to go to Brazil for your own coffee, thereby rendering you a service that justifies their existence. Will you apply to these that "they withhold by fraud from labor its due"? Or can you see that they are performing a necessary service to mankind?

Granted that you believe middlemen are doing a valuable service, is there any good reason why a merchant can not be a Christian?

The middleman is not the cause of the high cost of living. The cause must be sought elsewhere. H. R. B.

POEMS ASKED FOR.

The Herald acknowledges with thanks the receipt of the following poems:

"Nearer, My God, to Thee," from Isaac Lamppa, Jr., of Embarrass.

Requests have been received for the following:

"Casey Jones," from August Hielscher.

Nearer, My God, to Thee.

Nearer, my God, to Thee!
Nearer to Thee!
E'en though it be a cross
That raiseth me;
Still all my song shall be—
Nearer, my God, to Thee!
Nearer to Thee!

Though like a wanderer,
The sun gone down;
Darkness be over me,
My rest a stone;
Yet in my dreams I'd be
Nearer, my God, to Thee!
Nearer to Thee!

There let the way appear,
Steps unto heaven;
All that Thou sendest me
In mercy given;
Angels to beckon me
Nearer, my God, to Thee!
Nearer to Thee!

Then with my waking thoughts
Bright with Thy praise;
Out of my stony griefs
Bethel I'll raise;
So by my woes to be
Nearer, my God, to Thee!
Nearer to Thee!

Or if on joyful wing,
Cleaving the sky,
Sun, moon and stars forgot,
Upward I fly;
Still all my song shall be—
Nearer, my God, to Thee!
Nearer to Thee!

How to Find Out About the Blood

MOST cases of anemia are accompanied with a low blood pressure, but it is not very unusual to find a person with arterial hardening, high blood pressure and anemia.

The older idea that "full-blooded" individuals had too much blood and required bleeding to relieve them is no longer tenable. Most of these cases have, not too much blood, but an abnormally high blood pressure, and as a matter of fact the effects of venesection or bleeding are always very temporary, for the fluid bulk of the blood is promptly restored after bleeding.

Indeed, about the only recognized reason for bleeding a patient nowadays is the relief of acute toxemia or poisoning from one cause or another. Here the indication for removing a pint or more of blood is quite clear, and the result of the operation is often gratifying.

That Deceptive Look.

You cannot tell from a person's appearance whether he or she is anemic. That is, not with certainty. Some persons with a pronounced degree of anemia will show a high color, red cheeks and sparkling eyes, especially under slight excitement. On the other hand, many individuals past 35 have a noticeable pallor without anemia, the pallor being either due to a nervous temperament or to early arterio-sclerosis.

The only way, and the easy way, to determine whether the blood is weak is by an estimation of the hemoglobin and a count of the blood corpuscles under the microscope. Short of these precise methods the diagnosis of anemia is largely a guess and a guess which sometimes proves surprisingly bad. Of course the recognition that a patient is anemic is only half of the diagnosis, for the cause of the anemia must still be searched out. But the exact knowledge gained by methods of precision enables the physician to do something for the patient, if it doesn't actually point the way to the underlying causative factor.

Questions and Answers.

Sweeet Flag Root: Kindly state if chewing sweet flag root is good or bad for the stomach.

REPLY.

It is a mild aromatic and may relieve flatulence or uneasiness from gas. It is feeble and harmless.

* * *

Perhaps a Tapeworm: Butcher writes: I do not over-eat, yet I feel distressed after eating, and am still hungry. A drink of water aggravates the distress. I would join the Bread and Milk club only I hate milk. Is there a good substitute?

REPLY.

Being a butcher you may have a tapeworm. Watch for the segments in the stool. There is no substitute for milk that we know of. If you don't like it you are ineligible for membership in the club.

* * *

Boils and the Blood: Are boils caused by thin blood, or by too rich blood? Has the diet anything to do with boils?

REPLY.

A boil is a local infection of the skin with the ordinary pus germs which are present on everybody's skin. Thick or thin or good or bad blood has little to do with boils. Scrupulous care in the dressing, to avoid reinfection of the skin, and perhaps the use of bacterial vaccines if there is a tendency to recurrence.

* * *

Tuberculosis or Consumption: Please explain what the difference is between tuberculosis and consumption. Is limestone water good or bad for bladder trouble?

REPLY.

Tuberculosis is infection of the lungs or any other organ with the tubercle bacillus. Consumption is the older name for lung tuberculosis far advanced, the stage when wasting is apparent. Limestone water is neither good nor bad for bladder trouble.

BADGER PRIMARY VOTE NOT HEAVY

Interest Keen in Milwaukee; Three Women Named on School Board.

Milwaukee, Wis., March 24.—Complete figures from yesterday's primary election in Milwaukee show that three women were nominated as candidates of the Milwaukee school board. Mrs. Meta Berger, wife of Former Congressman Victor L. Berger, Social Democrat, led the field with 17,352 votes, or a plurality of nearly 4,000 over her nearest competitor. Miss E. H. Thomas, Social Democrat and Mrs. Jane P. Rogers, nonpartisan, were the other women to be nominated. Out of ten nominees, five were Social Democrats.

Only in branch 3 of the circuit court was a Social Democratic candidate eliminated.

In branches 2, 6 and 7 of the civil court, Social Democratic candidates received the highest individual vote.

At the election on April 6, five members of the school board will be chosen from the ten nominees and one judge in each of four courts will be elected, the choice to lie between two nominees for each office.

Yesterday's vote was less than a third of the registration and comparatively few women embraced the opportunity of voting for school directors.

State Vote Light.

The vote cast in the judicial circuits outside of Milwaukee was very light and the returns probably will not be complete before late today.

In the 16th circuit Alexander Reid, Wausau, and in the 19th, James H. Wickham, Eau Claire, incumbents, had no opposition.

In the 10th circuit, six candidates are in the field, two to be nominated, while in the 17th circuit, three candidates are seeking places, two to be nominated.

Fond du Lac Nominees.

Fond du Lac, Wis., March 24.—Herman A. Michler and Robert Haentze, were nominated for mayor of Fond du Lac in the first primary held under the new commission form of government yesterday.

BACK TO BRAZIL GOES N. COHEN

Human Shuttle Whose Home Has Been on Steamer for Nearly Year.

New York, March 24.—Back again to Brazil goes Nathan Cohen, champion sea traveler, who has lived aboard the Lamport & Holt liner Vasari since last May, with admittance denied him both here and in Brazil because of his mental condition. He will sail on his fourth round trip March 27, and, unless all signs fail, he will be back in New York Harbor in six weeks. Then his friends ashore will make a real attempt to have him landed.

Cohen's last sea voyage seemed to benefit him greatly and physicians believe that when the Vasari makes fast to her dock in Brooklyn again, he will be well. Samuel Lippman, the Ellis Island representative of the Hebrew Sheltering and Immigrant Aid society of America, decided today not to risk Cohen's chances of landing with a board of inquiry until he is further improved.

When Cohen lands here—if he is finally permitted to land—the society expects to let him remain ashore long enough to know how it feels to stand on earth, and then to put him aboard another ship and send him to Russia. He has relatives in Russia and wants to go there, Mr. Lippman said. Cohen lived in Russian Poland before he emigrated to Brazil. On the way to Brazil Cohen will be assigned light duties. During the ten months he has been on the sea, Cohen has traveled more than 33,000 miles.

POLICE PLEASED WITH PENSION LAW

Gives Ample Relief to Retired Patrolmen or Their Families.

Duluth police have expressed themselves as being much pleased with the amendments to the police pension law, passed by the state legislature recently. Representative E. R. Ribenack of this city was sponsor for the bill.

Under its provisions police, when pensioned, will receive more than the $40 monthly now allowed. About a dozen members of the force are eligible.

The new law allows the policeman's widow half the patrolman's regular pay with $6 monthly for each child under 16, provided she remains single. The fund will be self-supporting after the first few years, as each officer gives 1 per cent of his wages to the fund.

ADAMS FUNERAL IN CHURCH OF PRESIDENTS

Quincy, Mass., March 24.—The funeral of Charles Francis Adams, who died at Washington last Saturday was held yesterday in the Church of the Presidents, so-called because the bodies of Mr. Adams' grandfather, John Quincy Adams, and his great grandfather, John Adams, are buried beneath it. The services were attended by representatives of Harvard college, the Massachusetts Historical society, Order of Loyal Legion, American Institute of Arts and Letters, and other organizations. Rev. Albert L. Hudson, minister of the church, officiated. Interment was at Mount Wallaston cemetery.

KNIGHTS TEMPLAR INSTALL OFFICERS

Past Master Denfeld Conducts Ceremonies; Large Number Present.

Duluth Commandery, No. 18, Knights Templar, conducted its annual installation of officers last evening at the Masonic temple, the affair being attended by 200 Masons and their women friends.

Robert E. Denfeld, past grand master of Minnesota Masons, and a past commander of Duluth commandery, acted as installing officer, and Jesse Norton assumed the office of marshal for the occasion.

A. D. McIntyre was installed as commander for the ensuing year. Other officers inducted were:

Generalissimo, Walter J. Johnson; captain general, Charles W. Wilson; senior warden, Charles H. Fugle; junior warden, Isaac Black; prelate, Cook Ely; treasurer, John P. Johnson; recorder, A. C. Le Richeux; standard bearer, John Smith; sword bearer, W. E. Kennedy; warden, Maynard W. Turner; third guard, Mason M. Forbes; second guard, James C. Dunbar; first guard, Herbert R. Spencer; sentinel, Henry Van Brunt.

During the installation ceremonies a musical program was given under the direction of Prof. A. F. M. Custance. It consisted of vocal selections by Miss Mabel Messersmith and Mrs. Homer Anderson. La Brosse's orchestra also played.

Woman Suffrage Fails in Maine.

Augusta, Maine, March 24.—Woman suffrage failed to pass in the house yesterday. Although the vote in favor of the resolve proposing to submit to the voters of the state the question of giving women the right to vote, was favored 88 to 90 with three not voting, it fell short of the two-thirds vote required. The senate last week passed the bill by a wide margin.

CLAIMANTS FAIL TO MAKE SHOWING

Milwaukee Stenographer Comes Into Possession of Escanaba Inheritance.

Escanaba, Mich., March 24.—Miss Flora Holt, the Milwaukee stenographer who was principal beneficiary in the $150,000 estate of Miss Vilna McDonald, with her attorneys, William C. Quarles of Milwaukee and S. M. Matthews of Escanaba, on Monday appeared in probate court here to make a formal protest against the $100,000 claim of James R. McDonald of Escanaba.

With the failure of the claimant and his attorney to appear before the board of commissioners, the claim was disallowed. The failure of the claimant to appear, it is said, was done to permit an appeal to the circuit court. If action is taken immediately the case will be heard in circuit court at the April term. Attorney Ryall of this city, who will be assisted by the Martin brothers of Green Bay, is pushing the claim.

Paid All Beneficiaries.

Miss Holt, as executrix, paid all beneficiaries named in the will of Miss McDonald. James R. McDonald was paid $5,000, which amount was named for him. Two former sweethearts of Miss McDonald, together with friends, also received their money. They are: Earl E. Brogan, Cincinnati, $10,000; John and Jane McKay, Oshkosh, $10,000; William Holquist, Marinette, $10,000; Mrs. Harriet Haring, Escanaba, $5,000, and Mrs. Christine Leitch, Escanaba, $2,000.

Miss Holt paid the county treasurer an inheritance tax of $12,692.39.

CITY OF NEW YORK ADOPTS NEW FLAG.

New York, March 24.—The board of aldermen yesterday adopted a flag for the city of New York—three perpendicular bars of blue, white and orange, which bars the colors of the Dutch flag used when New York was New Netherlands. The board also adopted a new city seal, which will appear in blue on the white bar of the flag. The new emblem will be raised on the city hall June 27, the 120th anniversary of the establishment of the board of aldermen. Heretofore there has been no standard city flag, the nearest to this being the mayor's flag.

Celebration Canceled.

London, March 24.—Emperor William has decided to cancel the celebrations planned for April 1 to commemorate the centenary of Bismarck's birth on the ground that the president conditions make such a celebration unsuitable, says a dispatch to the Exchange agency from Amsterdam. A Berlin dispatch, the correspondent adds, asserts that Emperor William and the members of the German government will place wreaths on Bismarck's monument in the Tier Garten in Berlin, but that there will be no ceremonies.

Safety First Winners.

Escanaba, Mich., March 24.—The Peninsula division of the Chicago & Northwestern road headquarters in this city has been awarded the 1914 "Safety First" banner given annually by the line to the division which has the smallest number of accidents during the year. Fifteen divisions competed for the big prize.

REPLIES TO CRITICISMS

Elmer E. Adams Discusses Failure to Pass the Efficiency Bill.

Says It Was Grossly Mismanaged By Spooner and Others.

By a Staff Correspondent.

St. Paul, Minn., March 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—Representative Elmer E. Adams of Fergus Falls has issued the following statement: "Some of the criticism of the members of the legislature for failure to pass the efficiency and economy bill has been so grossly unfair and does so great an injustice to a large number of the members who have been sincerely in favor of the measure, that I trust you will grant me space to give the public some of the reasons why the bill has not been passed by the house up to this time.

"When the contest for the organization of the house was on between the so-called Gordon and Flowers forces, Mr. Spooner held aloof until practically everyone had taken sides and felt that he controlled the balance of power, and as a result of his allying himself with the Flowers forces he secured not only the chairmanship of the committee on appropriations but of the special committee on economy and efficiency which was to have in charge the bill known as House File No. 25. Mr. Spooner not only secured the chairmanship of those committees but he virtually made up these committees, keeping off those that he wanted off and filling them up with men who would not in any manner conflict with his personal program. The members who happened to be for county option, regardless of their experience or qualifications, were submerged as far as possible in the making of all the committees.

Asked Special Committee.

"On Monday, Jan. 11, Representatives Kneeland et al introduced H. F. No. 25 known as the economy and efficiency bill. On the third day of the session, Thursday, Jan. 7, Mr. Spooner introduced a concurrent resolution asking for a special joint committee consisting of fourteen members, nine of whom should be appointed by the speaker of the house and five by the president of the senate, to consider the efficiency bill.

"Fearing that the senate would not be submerged by having a small membership in the committee, on Thursday, Jan. 14, Mr. Spooner introduced another resolution providing for a house committee consisting of fifteen members. This committee was announced by the speaker on Jan. 25, and I at once offered a resolution directing this special committee to report the efficiency bill back to the house not later than Feb. 10. I took the ground that the only way that this bill could be passed by the house was to have it here in the house, considered by the members, gone over in detail until they could thoroughly understand the measure, and the economies which it effected.

"At the instance of Mr. Spooner my resolution was amended, giving the committee until March 2 to report the bill back. A number of public hearings were had—in spite of the failure to have a joint committee—arrangements were made whereby the senate committee sat with the house committee. The first two or three public hearings were well attended, Mr. Spooner presiding. Then the attendance fell off and the honor of presiding was handed over to Senator Duxbury. These hearings were continued and everything that everybody said was taken down and printed and laid upon the desks of the members, but these talks were so voluminous and so little to the point that scarcely anyone found time to examine them. When March 2 arrived Mr. Spooner was unable to report his bill back and then asked for more time, and I granted his request for fifteen days additional in which to report the bill.

Naturally Objected To.

"On Saturday, March 6, the house had decided to adjourn at 1 o'clock until the following Wednesday, and shortly after 1 o'clock, before the house had been dispersed, Mr. Spooner reported back the efficiency bill with the request that it be made a special order for Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock, within an hour after the house had been reconvened and without any attempt on the part of the members to examine the bill or see the amendments which had been adopted by the committee. This was naturally objected to as the house members were opposed to passing any measure without knowing what it contained, and it was made a special order for Monday, March 15.

"In the confusion of the adjournment on Saturday, the 6th inst., Mr. Spooner failed to have his bill read the second time, and it is understood, told the clerk it was unnecessary to print it it being his intention to have it considered from the unofficial folders which had been distributed to the members during the year. Every man who has had any legislative experience knows that this would not be in violation of the rules but was such a ridiculous proposition that it would never be entertained by any sane legislative body. Consequently, when the time for the special order arrived on March 15, and the bill had not had the second reading nor had it been printed, Mr. Warner very properly made a resolution that the special order be continued for one week and that the bill be printed and placed before the members as the rules require. This motion was supported by a large majority of the house, and it was the only sane and orderly way in which to consider the bill.

Grossly Mismanaged.

"The fact that the bill had not been considered up to this time is not the fault of anyone else except Mr. Spooner and those who are associated with him in the management of the bill. It has been grossly mismanaged from a parliamentary and strategical point of view. Another week he elapsed and the bill is not yet in the files of the house. There is still time to have the bill considered and passed if those who are handling it cease to bungle and make an honest effort to pass it. The daily papers have been filled with details about the imaginary enemies of the bill which have not existed and detailing the great power of Mr. Spooner and his great power in the appropriation committee in forcing this bill through the house. No force is required, if when the bill is reached it has the merits which it is reported to have it will be considered and passed.

"The same blunder has been made in regard to the handling of appropriations. For the first time in twenty years the house has not been presented with an omnibus appropriation bill. The committee on appropriations has failed to do this work and between thirty and forty bills carrying two or three million dollars have been sent back into the house as separate bills without the necessary information to enable the house to consider them.

"This legislature may be subject to criticism, but there are a large number of conscientious and intelligent members who want to have the business carried on in an orderly and parliamentary manner."

interest or effort on their part, but to the delay in the preparation of the bill, for which they were not responsible, to the distrust awakened in the house by the reports of lavish public expenditures in certain range communities, and to the association of those held responsible for these expenditures in the campaign for the division of St. Louis county.

The members of the St. Louis county delegation, though sundered throughout the session by the county division issue, have been friendly throughout, and remain so.

Representative Ribenack of Duluth moved that the vote be reconsidered, and asked that his motion be voted down—this in order that a motion to reconsider could not be made by the other side. The hour was late, however, so Representative Murphy of Virginia got away with a substitute motion to adjourn, which carried 53 to 51.

Mayor Victor L. Power and Former Treasurer D. D. McEachin of Hibbing were on the floor, though Mayor Power, who has been ill, left early in the debate.

Murphy Talks for Bill.

The first talk for the bill was made by Representative Charles T. Murphy of Aurora, who explained that the purpose of the measure was to permit the people of the range to determine by vote whether they should organize a new county. The present machinery, he said, is inadequate because Duluth has too many votes to make division under it possible. The purpose of a county is the convenience of its people, and as the present county of St. Louis is not convenient, it ought to be divided. "The county is too big," he said. "It is greater than the combined area of Connecticut and Rhode Island, and has enough area, population and assessed valuation for two counties. There will be no great increase in county expenses because of division. We want division because most of the county is distant from Duluth, and this makes a long journey necessary to reach the county seat. It is fair that we should have such a bill as this, and its enactment would be a measure of justice and fairness."

Opposed by North.

Representative W. J. North of Duluth said that it seemed that Duluth must always have something in the legislature to keep it on the anxious seat.

"Before it was tonnage tax, and now it is this local quarrel," he said, "which never should have been imposed in the legislature. It is true that St. Louis county is 132 miles long. That is a geographical fact and cannot be denied. But it is also true that the northern half is still unoccupied. It is intimated that two counties can get along as cheaply as one. If so, why not divide most of the other counties? The tendency is rather toward larger counties and fewer. The bill leaves the county seat fight to be settled later, and that means a county seat fight. You know what that means. Blood has been shed in county seat fights.

"There is no need of county division. The range has every facility for litigation that Duluth has except on real estate cases. They say there will be no increase in expenses if the county is divided. Nobody will believe that who has heard the figures on the expenditures that prevail in some of the range communities.

"Not long ago, at the instance of the range people, St. Louis county built a handsome courthouse, and it would cost us a 1-mill tax merely to keep that courthouse going if the county were divided.

"The new county is desired chiefly by a certain man who seeks wider fields to conquer. Like Caesar, he is ambitious."

Scott Is Sarcastic.

Representative Scott said sarcastically that it was a shame "the way we are abusing poor old Duluth. What does Duluth do? It does the rest of St. Louis county for all it can get out of it, and Duluth is here now asking you to help it."

Mr. Scott added that Duluth has a majority of the county board and that it uses it to oppress the range. "It takes more than its share of the road money, though the range contributes most of it. If we get a new county we can develop the vacant areas north of the range that Mr. North speaks about.

"It costs a small county less in proportion to operate than large counties. Division will not mean larger expenses, and I am in favor of small counties and many of them because they are more efficient."

Mr. Scott emulated Mayor Power's speech before the committee hearing by discussing the Duluth men who appeared in opposition to county division, saying that they made their money on the range, and that those who used to live there were for division before they moved.

"The officers of the Steel corporation," he concluded, "are the chief opponents of this bill. The legislature should not let a great corporation dictate its action.

"There is no danger of extravagance, because in every place where it prevails the officials responsible for it have been thrown out of office. And if there is extravagance, the legislature can remedy it by passing the bill limiting village and city expenditures."

Harrison's Vigorous Speech.

H. H. Harrison of Stillwater made a vigorous talk against the bill. "The principle of division," he said, "is wrong. The robber wants to divide your purse with you. Duluth will be a great city long after the iron on the range is gone, and will be able, with the farming country, to carry the burden of the county. I am against division because it means more expense and less efficiency. The politicians have tried for fifty years to divide Texas, but, thank God, Sam Houston fixed it so they can't, though it is bigger than Germany or France.

"It's the politicians who want to create more offices who are always urging division. Division is a multiplication of expenses. Instead of dividing St. Louis county, they ought to be proud to have such a great county. The mines will go, and what then is to become of the communities that are living on such an insane scale of expenditures? If you divide St. Louis county, there will be elaborate county buildings and wild expenditures. The bill should be beaten on principle."

Ribenack Talks Effectively.

Representative E. R. Ribenack followed with a strong and earnest and effective talk against the bill.

"Duluth needs no sympathy from the range," he said. "It can take care of itself. Who made the range? Duluth did! I myself, a quarter of a century ago, traveled through the range country afoot, with a pack on my back.

"Why do they want to divide? For plunder, that's why! They talk about Duluth taking more than its share of the road fund. Last year Duluth paid $90,000 into that fund and got back $7,000.

"It is argued that the county should be divided because the range country is a long way from Duluth; yet it is a curious fact that those who live farthest from Duluth, the people of the Vermilion range and the farming districts north of the range, are not for this bill, but against it almost to a man.

"There is no demand for this bill from the people of the range country. The farmers and settlers in all parts of the country are unanimously against it because they know it means higher taxes for both counties, if the county is divided—higher taxes and less work for the development.

"A new county would mean a new set of county officers and a new set of overhead expenses, without achieving any good except for those elected to office and those who would spend the money.

"Largely on the insistence of those who are now pushing county division, St. Louis county paid $650,000 for a courthouse site that would be convenient to the depots, and put $1,000,000 into a new courthouse. The county has a 1,600-acre work farm, a 300-acre poor farm, a county tuberculosis sanatorium, etc. This equipment is ample to serve the county for the next quarter of a century. Yet it would be an intolerable burden to what they propose to leave of the old county, and they would allow a minority of the people of the county to march off with 80 per cent of the taxable property of the county, leaving us to bear the whole burden, without giving us a vote upon it.

"Such a system never yet has been imposed on any county in this country. It is un-American, unfair and contrary to every principle of American government. It is what the Southern states tried when they seceded from the Union. Under this bill, county division could be accomplished simply by depriving a majority of the voters of a voice in the matter. It provides for a vote, not in the whole county, but only in that part of it which it is proposed to cut off into a new county. In that part are about 40 per cent of the people, and about 80 per cent of the taxable property of the county. In that part, too, are the most lavish and extravagant public expenditures to be found anywhere in the world. Will this body vote to disfranchise a majority of the people of St. Louis county?"

Borgen Calls Bill Unfair.

Representative Anton Borgen pointed out that for years Duluth bore the whole burden of the great county of St. Louis, uncomplainingly. "The burden was shifted only a few years ago, and now that Duluth is partly relieved, they want county division. It isn't fair, and I ask you to vote against it."

Speech By Bernard.

Representative Bernard said that Duluth built the first roads and the first railroad to the iron range, and had to pay the bills because there was nothing on the range then to pay them.

"Now," he said, "they want a new county to be dominated by towns that are the most extravagant in the world. The people down here urging division talk as though they paid the taxes. They don't pay 5 per cent of them, yet they talk as though they were paving the streets of Duluth. If a new county were created, when the mines were gone the heavy burden of expense would have to be paid by the settlers."

"If the ranges are such a burden," asked Representative Murphy, "why is Duluth fighting a chance to get rid of them?"

"They are not a burden now," responded Mr. Bernard, "but just as you are getting so you help a little, you want to run away." (Laughter).

Nelson Closes Debate.

Representative E. N. Nelson closed the debate for Duluth. He said that there was no need of county division. It is true that part of the county is some distance from the county seat, but if the range were cut off in a new county, and a new county seat selected there, the same thing would still be true, and at the next session, on the same ground of inconvenience, the range would be asking for still another division.

New Polk Bill.

Representative Boyd's new county division bill, applying only to Polk county, is on the petition plan, only this time he proposes that division shall be brought about by petitions signed by 51 per cent of all the votes of the county.

* * *

There appears to be no particular opposition to the bill introduced in the house by Representative J. M. Harrison and in the senate by Senators E. J. Westlake and Carl L. Wallace, all of Minneapolis, limiting expenditures of villages and cities of the third and fourth classes to $25 per capita yearly. Representative Scott was the only one who appeared in opposition to it at the committee hearing the other night, and his appearance was mainly to explain Hibbing's heavy expenditures. He declared that the bill would not harm Hibbing now and that so far as he knew there would be no opposition to its passage.

St. Louis County Bills Pass.

Senator Charles E. Adams of Duluth yesterday afternoon put the following St. Louis county bills through the senate, there being a general field day on Twin City and Duluth local bills:

Authorizing St. Louis county board to create a city and county work farm for women.

The amendments to the Duluth police pension law, which Representative Ribenack put through the house in the morning.

Allowing the St. Louis county judge of probate to pay his chief clerk $2,400 a year and his assistant clerk $1,500, without increasing the allowance to the office.

The bill allowing Duluth to levy a tax of one-tenth of a mill to build a soldiers' monument.

DON'T WASH YOUR HAIR WITH SOAP

When you wash your hair, don't use soap. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is just plain mulsified cocoanut oil, for this is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap, and beats soaps or anything else all to pieces. You can get this at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.

Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in, about a teaspoonful is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff.—Advertisement.

MOTHERS! IT'S CRUEL TO FORCE OIL OR CALOMEL INTO A SICK CHILD

"California Syrup of Figs" Can't Harm Tender Stomach, Liver, Bowels.

Look back at your childhood days. Remember the "physic" that mother insisted on — castor oil, calomel, cathartics. How you hated them, how you fought against taking them.

With our children it's different. Mothers who cling to the old form of physic simply don't realize what they do. The children's revolt is well founded. Their tender little "insides" are injured by them.

If your child's stomach, liver and bowels need cleansing give "California Syrup of Figs." Its action is positive but gentle. Millions of mothers keep this harmless "fruit laxative" handy; they know children love to take it; that it never fails to clean the liver and bowels and sweeten the stomach, and that a teaspoonful given to-day saves a sick child to-morrow. It should be the first remedy given as it always does good, never any harm.

Ask your druggist for a 50 cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on each bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. See that it is made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.

PARK FALLS THEFTS FINALLY EXPLAINED

Seven School Boys Accused—Five Being Held to Circuit Court.

Park Falls, Wis., March 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—Numerous robberies and petty thefts that have baffled the authorities here for the past six months were finally cleared up yesterday by the local police force. Seven school boys ranging in age from 15 to 20 years had banded together and systematically entered stores, pool halls and freight cars. Hundreds of dollars' worth of merchandise were taken and hidden in a barn in the heart of the city and in the woods nearby. Some of the stores were entered as many as two or three times. The clever manner in which the thefts were conducted is astonishing.

Five of the boys pleaded guilty before the police justice and were bound over to circuit court. The other two escaped.

CUT MUCH TIMBER.

I. Stephenson Lumber Company Closed Successful Season.

Marquette, Mich., March 24.—The I. Stephenson company, which is one of the largest lumbering concerns in the United States and the largest in Michigan, has completed a successful season. Four logging trains, operated night and day, have been busy hauling the company's cut out of the woods to the mills at Wells. The company operates camps in the southern part of Marquette county.

A large part of the cut was taken from along the Austin branch of the Escanaba & Lake Superior railway. The country through which this branch passes is renowned for its timber reserves. The terminal of the branch is located a few miles south of Princeton and Gwinn. The company operated twelve camps on the Austin, Ralph and Kates branches of the E. & L. S. railway, and nearly 1,000 men were employed in the woods. During the hauling season the company's trainmen handled on an average of 200 cars a day. The company got out large quantities of mixed timber, including hardwood, pine, hemlock, Norway pine, balsam and cedar.

DR. SMITH BETTER.

Noted St. Paul Preacher May Survive Kidney Attack.

St. Paul, Minn., March 24.—Although the condition of Rev. Dr. Samuel G. Smith, the noted preacher and prison worker, who was stricken with Bright's disease Sunday is grave, he is reported slightly better today and hopes of his recovery are held out.

VERDICT SET ASIDE.

Supreme Court of Michigan Decides in Favor of Jones & Laughlin.

Iron River, Mich., March 24.—The Michigan supreme court has set aside the verdict that Ernest Benson, formerly employed in the Forbes mine of the Jones & Laughlin company here, secured against Jones & Laughlin for an alleged injury to his back sustained in the mine.

Because of the peculiar manner in which Benson claimed to have sustained his injuries, the case attracted considerable attention on the Menominee range. The shaft, which was under course of construction, was about 100 feet in depth. In coming to the surface Benson climbed up the hanging timbers which projected out from the wall of the shaft and were about five feet apart. He did not fall, but claimed that he strained his back by overreaching. His attorneys asserted the company was liable because it had failed to provide ladders, but other men on the job testified that in view of the nature of the construction of the shaft, ladders were not absolutely necessary.

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST

BILL'S STING ALL REMOVED

North Dakota's Money and Credits Taxing Act Considerably Amended.

Not Believed Measure Will Bear Fruit Expected By Its Authors.

Fargo, N. D., March 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—Moneys and credits in North Dakota, at least the bulk of them, will not be taxed during 1915 and 1916.

Representatives Burgett and Westdahl introduced a measure in the late session providing that moneys and credits be returned on special forms, separate and aside from the ordinary property assessments and that instead of being taxed at the same high rate as other property they would be taxed only at the rate of 2 mills on the actual valuation. As the tax on other property runs from 30 mills in rural districts to as high as 55 mills in some of the larger cities, the low rate of taxation at 2 mills, was expected to be generally acceptable and it was anticipated a great deal of that kind of property would get onto the tax rolls.

The bill started out with several rather radical features, among which were clauses giving the tax commission the power to investigate the conditions and go into details of the private business of individuals and corporations, but it was changed until when finally passed, all its sting were taken out leaving it without effectiveness.

Fear Future Increase.

It is considered hopelessly invalid in that no provision is made for the distribution of the taxes raised under the new law. It also fails to provide any penalty for failure of individuals or corporations to make returns. The natural result will be that its provisions will be entirely ignored. There are many people with moneys and credits who would be willing to report them at the full amount as a result of the low rate of taxation of 2 mills, but they are now afraid to make the reports for fear the law will be knocked out and their reports be used for assesment purposes under the general taxation law and they will be compelled to pay twenty-five times as much taxes as the bill intended.

The county auditors and the assessors are planning their work and they will generally use the new blanks requiring that moneys and credits be separately listed but they do not anticipate that either individuals or corporations will pay much atention to its provisions.

As the measure repeals the old law regarding moneys and credits, this class of property will escape taxation for two years.

"Cure Your Rupture Like I Cured Mine"

Old Sea Captain Cured His Own Rupture After Doctors Said "Operate or Death."

His Remedy and Book Sent Free.

Captain Collings sailed the seas for many years; then he sustained a bad double rupture that soon forced him to not only remain ashore, but kept him bedridden for years. He tried doctor after doctor and truss after truss. No results! Finally, he was assured that he must either submit to a dangerous and abhorrent operation or die. He did neither! He cured himself instead.

"Follow Men and Women, You Don't Have To Be Cut Up, and You Don't Have To Be Tortured By Trusses."

Captain Collings made a study of himself, of his condition—and at last he was rewarded by the finding of the method that so quickly made him a well, strong, vigorous and happy man.

Anyone can use the same method; it's simple, easy, safe and inexpensive. Every ruptured person in the world should have the Captain Collings book, telling all about how he cured himself, and how anyone may follow the same treatment in their own home without any trouble. The book and medicine are FREE. They will be sent prepaid to any rupture sufferer who will fill out the below coupon. But send it right away—now—before you put down this paper.

SPRING BRINGING MANY IMMIGRANTS

New Settlers Are Already Arriving in North Dakota.

Fargo, N. D., March 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—The first three weeks of March brought several hundred immigrants into North Dakota, the majority being people who had concluded deals last fall for the purchase, lease or rental of farms and they have been arriving here and going directly to the farms for spring work. In most instances they brought along their own stock, machinery and other equipment, but some of those living at great distances sold out at home and are patronizing farm auction sales at which they secure what livestock they require and occasionally also secure machinery that is satisfactory.

Big Influx in April.

The biggest influx of settlers is expected during the next three weeks or until April 15. Towns in practically every county of the state report new arrivals and that arrangements have been made for the coming of others at an early date. The week of April 1 will be a busy time.

PRESIDENT GRANTS PARDON TO SAVAGE

St. Paul Man, Convicted Under Mann Act Reported Dying, Freed.

Stillwater, Minn., March 24.—Warden Reid of the state penitentiary here received instructions last night from Washington to release George Savage, the former St. Paul realty man who was sentenced at the latter city to five years' imprisonment after his conviction on a charge of violating the Mann act in transporting a Chicago girl from that city to St. Paul in 1913. Savage recently suffered a paralytic stroke, Warden Reid said, and is in a serious condition. He may be removed from the prison hospital today. Savage's father is said to reside in San Bernardino, Cal.

President Grants Boon.

Washington, March 24.—Touched by word that George Savage, a prisoner in the Minnesota penitentiary, was dying, President Wilson last night signed a pardon and orders immediately were telegraphed to the warden to release the man. Savage was serving a sentence of five years for violation of the Mann act. His sentence began in April, 1914. Attorney General Gregory recently recommended that the pardon be granted on receipt of reports from the prison physician that the man's condition was serious. The district attorney and his assistants indorsed the petition.

Savage was sentenced by the Federal court at St. Paul.

FRIENDSHIP, WIS., MAN SWALLOWS HALF DOLLAR.

Fond du Lac, Wis., March 24.—Charles Meyers, living in the town of Friendship, a few miles west of here, swallowed a 50-cent piece placed in his beer by joking friends and is wondering whether a surgeon will have to remove the money. At last accounts complications had not resulted and Meyers may escape an operation. He drank the beer and money concealed in it when friends bantered him after dropping the coin in the glass unobserved by Meyers.

ONE-ARMED VIOLINIST.

Amidon, N. D., Young Man Is Considered Musical Prodigy.

Amidon, N. D., March 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—Playing a violin skillfully and extracting real music is the unusual feat of Theodore Anderson, a one-armed young man of this place. He is said to be the only one-armed violinist in the world who does more than play variations on one string. Anderson's musical ability is of such striking prominence that he is in great demand for concerts, entertainments and dances in this vicinity and he excels many who claim to be violinists of ability and possess both arms and hands.

When he was only 10 years old Anderson lost his right arm, a short stub being all that remained. Being passionately fond of music, he announced his intention to learn to play the violin. It looked both hopeless and impossible to his friends, but Anderson was confident he could learn and has succeeded.

FOUND MANY VICTIMS.

Wisconsin Woman Sentenced for Swindling Men Through Mail.

Milwaukee, Wis., March 24.—Mrs. Florence Gamble, arrested Saturday near Beloit, Wis., pleaded guilty before Federal Judge Geiger Tuesday to having used the mails with intent to defraud and was sentenced to one year and six months to the Federal prison in Kansas. The woman inserted an advertisement in a St. Paul newspaper announcing that she desired to obtain a husband; that she was a widow with $8,000, two children, a kind and gentle disposition, brown hair and hazel eyes. She received many responses to her advertisement. According to the Federal officials she would insist that railway fare and incidental expenses be forwarded to her before she would consent to making the trip to her future husband's home. In this way, it is asserted, she obtained about $1,000 in the last few months.

BANKERS AT ST. CLOUD.

Sixth District Financiers Meeting in Stearns County Seat.

St. Cloud, Minn., March 24.—More than fifty bankers from parts of the Sixth district are here today for the annual convention. John H. Rich of the Federal Reserve bank, A. H. Turritin, superintendent of banks, and Attorney Fowler of Minneapolis, will deliver addresses. An roundtable on banking subjects is to be a feature. It will be conducted by Guy Hastings of Wadena. A banquet is to be served this evening with W. W. Smith of this city as toastmaster.

Grand Forks Realty Deal.

Grand Forks, N. D., March 24.—A half interest in the Stratford block, located on DeMars avenue, and erected by R. B. Griffith in the fall of 1913, has been sold to Sidney Clark, banker and property owner, for the consideration of $30,000.

Forgery at St. Cloud.

St. Cloud, Minn., March 24.—After obtaining work in the tailor shop of Thomas Urbaniak with a hard luck story, Andy Milford, 35 years of age, is said to have forged his employer's name to two checks that he passed on local saloon keepers and then hurriedly left the city. One check for $16 was passed on a saloon man in the West end and the other for $22.80 on Lambert Rau.

TUBER-GROWING PRIZES OFFERED

Chance for Boys and Girls of Northern Minnesota to Win $300.

Minneapolis, Minn., March 24.—Three hundred dollars in prizes are offered the boys and girls of Northern Minnesota by the Northern Minnesota Development association in the potato contest to be conducted this year under the direction of the agricultural extension division of the state university and the Federal department of agriculture.

The contest will be carried on along the same lines as the acre yield corn contests in other sections of the state. It is open to boys and girls between 10 and 18 years of age living in the territory north of the south line of Pine, Kanabec, Mille Lacs, Morrison, Todd, Douglas, Grant and Wilkin counties. The potatoes to be considered are the Green Mountain or Carman No. 1 and the Rural New Yorker or Carman No. 3. Each contestant will be required to grow one-eighth of an acre of potatoes, do all the work, keep a complete record of operations, write a story of not over 500 words on how he grew his crop, and exhibit fifteen pounds of potatoes at the meeting of the Northern Minnesota Development association at Bemidji Dec. 9 and 10.

Prizes to Be Awarded.

The prizes to be awarded at the Bemidji meeting are:

Individual—Rural New Yorker type—First, $20; second, $15; third, $10; fourth, $5; next ten, each, $2.

Green Mountain type—First, $20; second, $15; third, $10; fourth, $5; next ten, each, $2.

Club, of at least five members to the club—First, $25; second, $20; third, $15; fourth, $10; next twenty, each a banner.

Grand championship prize, $25.

Each boy or girl finishing the contest and exhibiting will receive a club pin.

The contest will be under the direction of T. A. Erickson, state leader of boys' and girls' club work and agent of the department of agriculture. All extension workers, county agents, agricultural high school instructors, county superintendents of schools and rural school teachers will assist in the work. Bulletins will be distributed in a few days giving further details of the contest.

EXHIBIT TRAIN SCHEDULE.

Towns That Will Be Visited in Upper Peninsula.

Marquette, Mich., March 24.—The schedule of the exhibit train of the Michigan Agricultural college, which will not stop in Marquette this year, is announced as follows:

The remainder of the second week will be spent in the Copper country. The stops of the train will vary from one to three hours.

WHY GOVERNOR SIGNED THE VERMILYA BILL.

St. Paul, Minn., March 24.—Governor Hammond sent out many letters yesterday, explaining his reasons for signing the Vermilya bill repealing the Elwell road law. He pointed to the large vote in favor of the Vermilya law, and to the fact that the supreme court in its decision last Friday declaring the Elwell law constitutional, said it was a crude piece of legislation.

FALLING FROM TUB SAVES MAN'S LIFE.

Albert Lea, Minn., March 24.—Falling out of a bath tub after being overcome with gas probably saved the life of County Treasurer Knutson. The noise was heard by his wife, and, with assistance, she succeeded in breaking in the bathroom door in the nick of time. After nearly an hour the physicians brought Knutson to consciousness. Gas had filled the room by escaping from a defective heater.

Bribe Solicitor Sentenced.

Bismarck, N. D., March 24.—John Glatt, former Bismarck merchant, found guilty in Federal court of soliciting a bribe in connection with a bankruptcy case, was sentenced by Judge Booth to six months in the county jail.

North Dakota Editor Dies.

Ellendale, N. D., March 24.—F. S. Goddard, one of the oldest residents of the county, and for thirty years editor of the Dickey County Leader, is dead of heart disease. He leaves a brother at McGregor, Iowa; one at Mason City, Iowa, and a wife and son residing in Ellendale.

PENINSULA BRIEFS

Calumet—Treasurer Jacob Kaiser of the village of Red Jacket has made his tax returns to County Treasurer Bram. Out of a total tax roll of $21,871.62, the unpaid delinquent taxes returned were $1,058.32.

Houghton—C. L. Rowe of Hilldale, county work secretary of the Y. M. C. A. has arrived in the Copper country to devote the remainder of the week to field work in this district. Mr. Rowe was accompanied by George D. Westerman, upper pennisula secretary of the Y. M. C. A.

Marquette—Four prisoners have been brought here to the branch penitentiary from Wayne county (Detroit), as follows: William Gould, alias James H. Walsh, seven to fourteen years for forgery, with no recommended sentence; Joseph Hebard, rape, twelve and a half to twenty-five years, with fifteen years recommended, and Tony and Frank James, from three to fifteen years for robbery, not being armed.

Hancock—Rehearsals for an entertainment to be given the evening of April 8 and 9 by the children of St. Joseph's school, Hancock, in the convent hall have commenced. The children will be assisted by members of the Children of Mary society and St. Aloysius society.

Marquette—Another case of smallpox was reported Monday from one of the Raish lumber camps at Birch. It is the second that has originated there in a few weeks' time. The first patient is being cared for at the Marquette pesthouse.

Houghton—Mrs. Fannie Setterlund died suddenly Saturday evening at her home in Hurontown. Mrs. Setterlund, who was 28 years of age, was seated in her home, amusing her three little daughters. Suddenly she fell forward from her chair to the floor. The children called in their father, and Mr. Setterlund found his wife breathing her last. Heart disease was the cause of death.

Houghton—Mrs. W. B. McLaughlin, who is shortly to leave for an extended visit to Muskegon, has donated to the Keweenaw Historical society a number of volumes from the library of her late husband. Francis Jacker of Jacobsville also has donated to the society a number of monographs on various Indian subjects.

Negaunee—August Schorlimer, age 52, who conducted a dray line here many years, is dead. One daughter, Mrs. Lyman Hester, Miss Nancy, and two brothers, Julius of Chicago and Harold of Roselawn, Wash., survive.

Ishpeming—A postmortem examination of the corpse of John Willsten of this city, who was found dead two days from Republic this week, has been made by Doctors Holm and Burke. They found that death was due to heart disease.

Marquette—The state supreme court has affirmed the decision rendered by Circuit Judge Flanigan in the Marquette county circuit court Feb. 20, 1914, granting a judgment of $3,000 in favor of William Hemmila of Marquette for injuries alleged to have been received while in the employ of the Cleveland Cliffs Iron company.

WISCONSIN BRIEFS

Rhinelander—Girls of the Rhinelander school will wear a uniform of a white sailor suit and a red tie at graduation exercises.

Janesville—Grace Green, Louise Nelson and Esther Halcro, wives of prominent Rockford, Ill., business men, charged with grand larceny, appeared unexpectedly in court here and asked that their cases be postponed from March 24 to April 21, on account of ill health. The request was granted and bail was raised from $500 to $1,000.

Hollandale—James McGinnity, a resident of Iowa county more than seventy years, was buried at Hollandale. Mr. McGinnity is survived by a widow and twelve children. The Rev. J. J. McGinnity, a son, of Milton Junction, celebrated requiem solemn high mass.

Milwaukee—Controller Kotecki on Monday received a check for $673,545.50 from the First National Bank of Milwaukee for the park bond issue delivered to the bank on Saturday. The check includes $660,000 for the face value of the bonds, $13,863 premium and $6,682.50 for interest from Jan. 1 to March 22. From this total is deducted $6,000 deposited with the bid.

Kenosha—Luiggi Aulozzi, 21 years old, is on trial for murder in circuit court here. Aulozzi is charged with the murder of John Luss, a former Somers farmer, shot to death on his farm on Oct. 14 last. Aulozzi has admitted he killed Luss, but declares he shot in self-defense.

Rice Lake—Abner Olsen, assistant postmaster, has resigned, to take effect soon, and about April 15 will begin work with the Hammond-Chandler Lumber company to learn the lumber business and become a stockholder in that corporation.

Chippewa Falls—F. O. Frisbie of the Wood Pulp company at Cornell, gave a banquet to employes. In an address Mr. Frisbie pointed to the progress of Cornell and predicted that within ten years it would have a population of 5,000.

Neenah—H. J. Tuchscherer, Menasha business man, suffered severe injuries to his spine jumping from an automobile when the steering gear broke as the machine approached a bridge near Appleton.

New Richmond—The capital stock of the Intercounty Co-operative Packing company here is to be increased from $250,000 to $300,000.

DAKOTA BRIEFS

Grand Forks, N. D.—Fred McIlraith, who has been with Park, Grant & Corrigan for the past year, left Sunday evening for Rugby, and will handle that territory for the local concern.

Fargo, N. D.—Mrs. Elizabeth Erickson, a pioneer of Fargo, died March 21, age 73. She had been a resident of Fargo since 1887, and leaves four children and numerous relatives. The children are: Knute, P. E. and O. C. Erickson, all of Fargo, and Mrs. Paulson of Richmond, Cal. Mrs. Paulson has arrived for the funeral.

Bismarck, N. D.—Word has been received by Mrs. Budlong of the library commission that her son, L. F. Budlong, who is a student at Harvard, is on the producing staff of two plays to be presented this spring by one of the college organizations. Mr. Budlong is assistant electrician for the dramatic club.

Minot, N. D.—Fifty candidates were initiated into the Knights of Columbus order Sunday afternoon when several hundred members from all over the state gathered at the Elks' home to attend the ceremonies. Grand Forks, Devils Lake, Fargo, Williston, Stanley, Kenmare and the entire northwestern district was well represented.

Grand Forks, N. D.—Grand Forks' oldest locksmith, Charles Fischer, who came to the city in 1895, and who has had quarters in the De Mers avenue shop for over nineteen years, will shortly leave for Clearwater Lake, Minn., where he will engage in farming.

MINNESOTA BRIEFS

Bemidji—Mrs. Orin Bjoring, aged 26, of town of Liberty died March 22 at a local hospital where she was taken for treatment a few days ago. Mrs. Bjoring's death was caused by tumor of the stomach. A husband and one daughter survive. The remains were taken to East Grand Forks for interment.

Grand Marais—The North Shore Cooperage company has been incorporated for the purpose of engaging in the manufacture of kegs, boxes and kindred lines of industry. The officers are: A. M. Anderson, president; D. F. Lindsay, vice president, and O. S. Andresen, secretary. A factory site has been leased on the harbor front near the dock, and work upon the construction of the building will be commenced at once.

St. Cloud—Judge Roeser refused to set aside the verdict of the jury in the case of J. O. McConnell against the City of St. Cloud and grant a new trial. The case involved the price to be paid by the city for the land in the vicinity of Lake George to be used for park purposes. The commission awarded damages for the land east of the Sixteenth line $1,265 which was reduced by the jury to $1,000.

International Falls—G. A. Elder, representative of the Commercial Investment company of Duluth was in the city Monday and bought the bonds of judicial ditches 12 and 13 to the amount of $186,000.

Crookston—James J. Carroll, aged 83, a pioneer, died here March 22. He came here in the early 80's from Wabash county. He was a veteran of the Civil war and was one of the few survivors of the Second Minnesota regiment. Until twenty years ago Mr. Carroll was a foreman of a work gang on the Great Northern, being section boss at Brandon and later at Hilden. He had been a farmer since that time and had built up one of the reliable farms near Dugdale.

Brainerd — The local council of the U. C. T. elected the following officers: Senior counselor, J. C. Higbe; past counselor, L. M. Schulstad; secretary, Edw. Anderson; conductor, C. W. Smith; page, George Anderson; sentinel, George Ryan; executive committee, James Cullen and Mons Mahlum; delegate to grand council at Winona, Paul G. Clarkson; alternate, H. A. Knapp.

Little Falls—Two children of Mr. and Mrs. John Kasper of Swanville are dead from scarlet fever. Leona, aged 11 years, died Saturday morning and Rudolph, aged 2 years and 6 months, died Sunday morning at 2 o'clock. Another boy, 7 years old, is not expected to live.

Fergus Falls—Edward K. Olson, who has been section foreman on the Great Northern in the neighborhood of Ashby, died in this city Saturday night. He was born at Des Moines, Iowa, Jan. 8, 1876. His wife and three children survive.

Stillwater—Frank E. Otis, assistant general freight agent of the Milwaukee road, who has been seriously ill at a Los Angeles hospital since early in the year, left for his home in Minneapolis Sunday night, accompanied by his wife and her sister, Mrs. William Sauntry of Stillwater.

Minneapolis—Frederick T. Price, traveling salesman, whose wife, Mary Fridley Price, died as a result of injuries sustained when she fell from an embankment near the River road to the river bank, a distance of forty feet, filed suit in district court against the city, demanding $7,500 damages.

MOTHER OF SCHOOL GIRL

Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Her Daughter's Health.

Plover, Iowa.—"From a small child my 13 year old daughter had female weakness. I spoke to three doctors about it and they did not help her any. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had been of great benefit to me, so I decided to have her give it a trial. She has taken five bottles of the Vegetable Compound according to directions on the bottle and she is cured of this trouble. She was all run down when she started taking the Compound and her periods did not come right. She was so poorly and weak that I often had to help her dress herself, but now she is regular and is growing strong and healthy."—Mrs. MARTIN HELVIG, Plover, Iowa.

Hundreds of such letters expressing gratitude for the good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has accomplished are constantly being received, proving the reliability of this grand old remedy.

If you are ill do not drag along and continue to suffer day in and day out but at once take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a woman's remedy for woman's ills.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

THE DAILY ROLL CALL; A COLUMN OF SPORTS

BY BRUCE.

AS IN other forms of "big business," an economic wave is sweeping over the affairs of baseball. And precisely like the working of the ebb tide of finance, the economic reform is wreaking its most hazardous effects on the little fellows.

In The Herald of yesterday some sage remarks were found from the rotund oracle of baseball, Byron Bancroft Johnson. Mr. Johnson receives as his yearly stipend $25,000; therefore the word oracle is used in its logical consequence.

War funds are at the disposal of both of the major leagues. The majority of the magnates have some reserve capital to tide them over the lean years. Such is not the case with the little leagues and the small magnate, unless he happens to be a prosperous plute with baseball as an amusing side issue.

Financial reform started with the majors and has extended down to the little minors. The American league has reduced the number of men that will be carried by each club of that organization throughout the season. The National has followed meek and lowly suit. The Feds, the league more or less responsible for all of the financial rocks that have strewn the paths of baseball, are also watching the debit side of the ledger with a keen and scrutinating eye.

Possibly a number of pee-wee leagues will toss up the sponge this season. President Burmeister of the Northern has wisely determined to economize and strike a small town balance by issuing a ukase that the salary limit shall be rigidly observed on pain of a heavy fine for each offending club owner.

All training trips in this league have been abolished as a practice requiring the spending of a lot of dear dough.

The salaries of many of the players have been reduced and the schedule will be framed in such a manner to reduce the traveling expenses to the minimum. While the effect of the expense-reducing crusade of the Northern may result in baseball of a less inspiring character than that of last year, and may possibly result in the influx of a lot of young players with slight experience, at the same time it will be a blessing for the smaller towns of the league.

Grand Forks, Fargo and cities of that size have strained the purses of their backers in the attempt to spend money as prodigally as Duluth and Winnipeg. Stanchfield is authority for the statement that Grand Forks dropped $6,200 last season. Mr. Stanchfield and his associates, according to his own words, were in the game for the sport of it. There might be more exercise and less expense in golf.

Ban Johnson is author of the statement that the present baseball war is to a finish. Some one will have to stand the financial drain. It begins to look as if the little leagues are going to be made to suffer for something that they had no hand in the making.

Champions and Champions.

SPEAKING of pugilism generally brings us back to John L. Sullivan by a direct or devious conversational path. As a champion John was the high peak from which all other boxing champions must be judged.

Yes, lots of faults had John. But his indiscretions were all committed outside of the ring. Sullivan fought on the level and his character was magnetic enough to make him an idol of those who show a keen interest in doings of the ring.

James J. Corbett followed Sullivan—we speak now of the heavyweights—and he, too, despite the fact that some never forgave him for defeating John L., was a popular champion.

Jim Corbett was one of the most popular champions that the game ever developed. Handsome, genial, possessing magnetism in an unusual degree, and a polished man of the world in many ways, the man with the pompadour would have gone down in the annals of the sport as one of its renowned figures, had he not marred his record with several very questionable fights.

Fitzsimmons was never really popular. One of the greatest, if not the greatest fighter that the ring ever produced, the redhead lacked personal magnetism or that dash or initiative, or that intangible something that goes to make popularity.

Jeffries had the size, the look of a gladiator, but was one of the worst mixers in the world. Jeff refused to meet people and acted like a man afflicted with an excruciating case of dyspepsia; but at that he was liked because he looked the ideal ringman, and filled the mind with a perfect picture of a champion.

Philadelphia Jack O'Brien posed for a few short weeks as the champion heavyweight of the world. The brainy Jawn was never seriously considered. Tommy Burns was really a greater fighter than he was given credit for, and yet he, starting the modern practice of money madness, will go down in history of boxing as one of the most disliked champions.

Jack Johnson's color proved an effectual bar to popularity. Added to the fact that it violently upset all ring traditions to have a colored man as champion of the heavyweight class, there was the character of Johnson—bad even for a prize fighter—which made him cordially despised and worked an irrevocable injury to the game.

This brings us down to the impending battle for the title. Should Willard win from Johnson we will go on record as predicting that he will never be a popular champion. Willard is dumb and terribly uninteresting to talk to. A man must have angles and corners to his personality to stand out and hit you in the noticing department. Willard's character is perfectly round and slides off without leaving a scratch.

Luther McCarty would have made one of the most popular champions that was ever produced, had the handsome big lad lived and climbed to the top of the heavyweight class.

This boy was of magnificent physique, was genial, with the singing heart, as the poet has it, and laughed his way into the hearts of the sporting persons. Billy McCarney loved the big fellow like a brother and was broken hearted when he died that ill fated day up in Canada. A writer of boxing once compared McCarty to a Greek god. Not being in a particularly mean frame of mind today, we seek not for a comparison for Jess Willard.

WINNIPEGS WILL ROW

Canadians Will Send Crews to the Northwestern Regatta.

President Ray Higgins of the Duluth Boat club yesterday received a letter from Con Riley of the Winnipeg Rowing club, stating definitely that the Canadians would have a number of crews on the water this year, despite the fact that the grim rigors of war have compelled the enlistment of a large number of the crack oarsmen of the club.

The annual meeting of the Winnipeg Rowing club will be held on March 29. At that time a more definite line will be obtained as to the plans for the coming season. In his letter to President Higgins, Mr. Riley stated that no doubt many of the men engaged in other lines of athletics would come to the rescue of the rowing club and assist in filling the ranks that have been more or less depleted by the heavy enlistment of Canadians.

When the Northwestern regatta was held here some four years ago, the elements interfered somewhat grievously with the events. As the 1915 regatta of the Northwestern will be held here, plans have already been made to circumvent any sinister effect high winds might play.

A course has already been surveyed on the lake, another course at Oatka, and another course that finishes in front of the big grandstand.

HIGH SCORES MARKED UP

Major League Bowlers Resume Play and Show Real Class.

Big Duluths Pull Up on the Park Hotel Pin Men.

The Major league opened up after the big bowling tourney with record-breaking scores. The Big Duluths took three games in a row from the Park Hotel team. The Parks lead the league and the Big Duluths are a close second, only one game behind.

The Big Duluths rolled 1,056 for their third game and the Sharkcrafts also rolled 1,056 for high game. This is the season's record and may stand for some time to come. Weston of the Sharkcraft team rolled the high score for the evening. He got the wood for 268 and came back with 234, a total for two games of 502 pins, but he did not do so well in his last game as he got only 158 and that made a total of 660, or an average of 220 for three games.

Michael of the Big Duluths got the wood for a total of 637, which is one pin above the splendid record he made in the Northern Bowling association tournament. His high score was 237.

Firestone of the Columbias hit the wood for a total of 611 for three games, an average of 204. The Columbias took three straight games from the Three Winners, and the Sharkcrafts won two out of three from the Peoples.

Cubs Sell Johnston.

Chicago, March 24. — President Charles Thomas of the Chicago Nationals has announced that he has sold Jimmy Johnston, outfielder, to the Oakland club of the Pacific Coast league.

DULUTH OARSMEN GET EARLIEST START IN YEARS

LAPSTREAK FOUR.

These pictures show Coach Jimmy Ten Eyck of the boat club dressed in early spring garb. The picture was taken as James was on the firing line at the canal, giving his boys the earliest water workout in years. The other picture is of the lapstreak four. Despite ice, chill and chilly precedent, the boys braved the elements and received the earliest start in years. This looks like a great year for Duluth.

FED FAMILY QUARREL ENDS

Kansas City Retains Its Team and Hoofeds May Go to Newark.

Agreement as to Debts Made With Indianapolis Stockholders.

Kansas City, Mo., March 24.—By an agreement between the officials of the Federal league and the directors of the Kansas City Federal league club, the organization retains a franchise and team in the league. The agreement was announced last night at a jubilee smoker to celebrate the retention of the team.

As a part of the agreement, Nick Gullup, pitcher, who was traded to the Brooklyn team for Players Bradley, Maxwell and Shaw, is to be returned to the Kansas City team and the trade canceled.

The agreement was reached after several weeks of litigation between the local organization and the league officials. The agreement, which is signed by James Gilmore, president, and R. B. Ward and W. E. Robertson of the Federal league, is a legal document of about 600 words. By its terms the Federal league of professional ball clubs waives all alleged causes for the forfeiture of the franchise of the local team, and gives the organization a team upon the same terms as all other members of the league, "without discrimination or unfair treatment of any kind." The local organization agrees to pay, within fifteen days, whatever amount is due the Federal league, including expenses of the spring training camp.

The stipulation is dated March 17 and became effective by its terms on that day, but included a clause which held the actual filing until yesterday.

Indianapolis, Ind., March 24.—The Indianapolis Federal league club was transferred to the league at a meeting of stockholders of the club, and league officials last night. The league assumes all debts of the club. The franchise will probably be transferred to Newark, N. J. The debts of the local organization was said to amount to about $76,000.

Indianapolis club stockholders will retain possession of the local Federal park. The Indianapolis stockholders have a five-year lease on the park used last year, and the league will pay next year's rental, $4,500. The plant is valued at $150,000. Debts amounting to more than $25,000 must be assumed by the board of directors. These debts were contracted by the directors on their own paper.

Receivership proceedings brought by one of the stockholders a few days ago, will be dropped. It was learned at the meeting that Manager Bill Phillips of the local team found it necessary to pay some of last year's training trip expenses out of his own pocket.

After the meeting, E. E. Gates, counsel for the league, said that the sale of the Indianapolis players and franchise had become absolutely necessary because of the involved condition of the finances of the club. James A. Gilmore, president of the Federal league, said that he was pleased at the outcome of the negotiations.

"The proposition submitted to the Indianapolis stockholders was a fair one, and their acceptance of it makes it possible to retain Harry J. Sinclair as a magnate. It would seem that our embarrassing problems have been solved."

ONLY ONE CHANGE.

New Leader in All-Events in American Bowling Congress.

Peoria, Ill., March 24.—Two hundred and seventy teams in the singles, doubles and five-men events will hold the alleys at the American bowling congress today.

St. Louis, Huntington, W. Va., Syracuse, Madison, Mishawaka, Ind., Lexington, Ky., Pueblo, Denver, Indianapolis, Washington, Wis., Chicago, Toledo, Canton, Milwaukee, Hoboken and Trenton make up the day's program.

Yesterday proved an off-day for the bowlers and highly rated teams failed to roll up to their average.

The Barry-Kettler K. of C. team of Chicago, with a score of 2,907, is leading in the five-men event. The Bucktails of South Bend are second with 2,847, and the Bob Plummers of St. Louis third with 2,833.

H. Allen and R. Allen of Detroit, with 1,297, top the list in the doubles; E. J. Kelly and A. Toemmel of Chicago are second with 1,281, and E. Kurleman and C. Brinkman of Cincinnati third with 1,245.

In the singles, Walter Cook of Philadelphia, with 697, is leading, with F. B. Mample of St. Paul second with 675, and P. Wilson and J. Lellinger of Chicago tied for third with 671 each.

Yesterday E. J. Kelly of Chicago ran up a score of 1,870 in the all-events, displacing J. L. Spaulding of Taylorville, Ill., who, with 1,845, had held first place since March 16.

RAY TEMPLE GETS A DRAW

St. Paul Fighter "Comes Back" and Holds Aggressive Red Watson.

Two "Prelims" at Hudson Stopped Because Chicago Fighters Stall.

Hudson, Wis., March 24.—That Ray Temple of St. Paul fought a draw with "Red" Watson the California lightweight, in a ten-round, no decision bout here last night, is the opinion of the majority of newspaper men at the ringside.

While the St. Paul fighter landed more often than Watson, the latter's aggressiveness entitled him to an even break.

In the preliminaries, Mike O'Dowd, St. Paul, outpointed Stockyard Tommy Murphy, Chicago, and Billy Miske, St. Paul, outclassed Eddie Nearing, Chicago, in bouts which Referee Harry Stout stopped in the ninth and sixth rounds, respectively, asserting that the Chicago fighters "were stalling."

JAMES E. TEN EYCK.

National Commission Sued.

Chicago, March 24.—Suit for $1,500 was filed here yesterday in behalf of the Tacoma club of the Northwestern baseball league against the national commission, the members of which are August Herrmann, B. B. Johnson and John K. Tener. The bill alleges that the commission refused to turn over money paid by the Philadelphia and Pittsburg Nationals for two purchased players.

STEECE MAY REMAIN OUT

Deal for Sale of Superior Baseball Club Undecided.

There is a rumor afloat in Superior that A. L. Steece, the Minneapolis insurance man, may not buy an interest in the Superior baseball club. It was stated today that Steece wants all of the stock of the club and that Sommer, while holding the controlling interest, is unable to deliver over all of the stock shares to the Minneapolitan.

Steece was here yesterday, but failed for some reason to get in communication with either Sommer or Herr Blume. It is said that Steece will await the return of John Burmeister to Minneapolis before making any definite move in the negotiations.

O'BRIEN HAS LONG LIST

Raft of Players Will Try for White Sox Team.

The Dook Will Cut His Squad to Reduce Expenses.

Darby O'Brien has a raft of players signed for early spring tryout for the White Sox team. Out of the multitude of candidates there will be but a few chosen. Like the Biblical expression, "Many will be called, but few will be chosen."

The Dook is authority for the statement that he will carry only a limited number of men, so that he can keep his team down on an even basis with the $1,400 salary limit.

One of the prominent candidates for the outfield is Homer Renauld of Proctor. The youth comes well recommended and Darby thinks he may show some real flashes of baseball. Jack Cunningham of Cloquet, brother of George, is another outfield candidate. The veteran Dad Ford will be out, and Freidt, an unknown, will also try for the garden.

Bud Croake will be at first, and the old and reliable Darby O'Brien will be on second. Wolfe will be at short, and Berger and Boland will compete for the far corner of the diamond.

There is a raft of pitchers to choose from. Boley and Barr of Winnipeg are well known in this league. Clarence Grina should have a good year. "Sticks" Bryant of the W.-I. league comes well recommended. Harry Brammell will do the catching.

Following is the complete list of players signed to date:

NEW YORKER GOES INTO FIRST PLACE

Daly Leads in Championship Tournament at Three-Cushion Billiards.

Chicago, March 24.—Charles Ellis, Cleveland, defeated Lloyd Jevne, Salt Lake City, 50 to 39 in 80 innings, in the first of yesterday's billiard games in the world's three-cushion championship. Each made high runs of four.

George Moore of New York defeated William Huey of Chicago, 50 to 43 in the second game in 90 innings. Moore had a high run of 6 and Huey made 3. The first game last night was won by Joseph Capron of St. Paul, who defeated Jess Lean of Chicago, 50 to 46 in 96 innings. Capron made a high run of 6, and Lean made 4.

The tournament record for the best game was broken last night by Alfred De Oro of New York, the champion, who went out in 52 innings, defeating Charles Morin of Chicago, 50 to 32.

LOSES ROCKFORD.

Three-I League Has No Rights There and Baseball May Be Dropped.

Rockford, Ill., March 24.—Charles Farrell, secretary of the National association, has notified President Parsons of the Bi-state league that the Three-I league has no right to Rockford. President A. R. Tearney of the Three-I league was notified also.

Local fans fear this means there will mean no baseball in Rockford this year as the Bi-state league has not aroused much enthusiasm here.

A. A. SCHEDULE WILL BE VOTED ON BY WIRE.

Chicago, March 24.—The American association schedule committee met here yesterday and after spending five hours considering the 154-game chart drawn up by Mike Cantillon and A. Timme left for their homes last night without formally adopting the schedule.

Telegraphic votes on the schedule will be sent to President Chivington today.

Vetoes Betting Bill.

Phoenix, Ariz., March 24.—Governor Hunt vetoed yesterday a bill providing for the establishment of the parimutuel system of betting on horse races in Arizona.

"TIPPERARY" IN CHINESE

Famous Song of British "Tommies," as It Is Sung Amid the White Lights of Canton, Heard in Duluth.

Did you ever hear a Chinese sing?
Did you ever a Chinese tenor sing?
Did you ever hear a Chinese sing "Tipperary?"

If you can answer "No" to any of the above questions you no longer can say that life is but an empty shell and holds nothing more of interest to you.

If you can answer "No" to the third question, you have not begun to live yet.

Ah Sam, recent arrival in Duluth from Canton, China, has a tenor voice and can sing "Ti po lieh li" without a hitch. Chin Ong, head of Duluth's Chinese colony and proprietor of the Mandarin cafe, 103 West Superior street, staged an impromptu concert this morning, the feature of which was Sam's rendition of "Ti po lieh li."

Since the capture of the fortress of Kiao Chow, off the Chinese coast, from the Germans, the Celestials have taken a great liking to the British Tommy Atkins and his marching song has been adopted by the Chinese editors and is sung in Canton.

This is Ah Sam's version of it, given in the Cantonese dialect, with a high-pitched tenor monotone:

"Shi ko yuan lu toa Ti po lieh li
Pi yao ti jih hsing tsou
Shih ko yuan lu toa Ti po lieh li
Yao chien Lei ssu Kwei'rh
Shih ko yuan lu tao Ti po lieh li
Tan wo hsin tsai ra'rh."

Translated this means literally:

"This road is far from Ti-po-leih-li,
We must walk for many days;
This road is far from Ti-po-lieh-li,
I want to see my lovely girl,
To meet again Pi-ko-ti-li,
To see again Lei-ssu-Kwei-rh
This road is far from Ti-po-lieh-li,
But my heart is already in that place."

WOMEN INDORSE AD CLUB'S PLAN

Interesting Talks on Purity in Advertising at Organization's Banquet.

"Objectionable Advertising" and "Truthful Advertising" were the topics of discussion at a meeting of the Duluth Advertising club in the Commercial club rooms last night. Several prominent members of the Housewives' league and the Woman's council were guests of the advertising men, and joined in the discussion.

"We believe that the majority of firms who advertise in this city are truthful," declared W. B. Brinkman of the G. A. Gray company, who was the principal speaker on the subjects, "but there are a few who have laid themselves open to criticism. We want to improve the general standard, because one or two 'ads' not strictly truthful do a great deal to lessen the confidence of the general public in the advertising medium, as well as in the firm."

E. A. Silberstein also gave a short talk along the same line.

Patent medicine advertisements, liquor advertisements, bill board advertising, newspaper advertising and magazine advertising, all were discussed. Mrs. W. S. Woodbridge, president of the Woman's council, led a series of talks by women present on different phases of the advertising situation. Mrs. C. E. Spring, former president of the Housewives' league, Mrs. E. A. Silberstein and Mrs. G. R. Holden also gave short talks.

The stand taken by the ad club was heartily indorsed and the co-operation of the women's organizations was offered in furthering the interests of clean advertising.

Following the dinner a short business meeting was held, and C. H. Mackintosh was elected president, succeeding Alfred Moe, resigned.

KING AND MILLER WERE NOT PARTNERS

Latter May Draw Salary as Foreman of Duluth Contractor.

A jury in Judge Ensign's division of the district court late yesterday afternoon returned a special finding in the case of Thomas G. Miller against W. F. King, when it held that no partnership agreement existed between Miller and King with reference to a city contract for the completion of a gas extension job. Miller, the jury held, was employed by King as foreman of the construction work at a salary of $125 a month.

Miller sued for $375, claiming this amount to be due him for salary. King denied that anything was due Miller as salary, and set us as a defense that a partnership existed between them. He asked the court to appoint a receiver to wind up its affairs.

The jury gave an affirmative answer to the following question: "Did the plaintiff and defendant enter into a contract by the terms of which defendant promised to pay plaintiff $125 a month for services to be rendered by plaintiff?"

The court will now decide what is due Miller under the contract. H. B. Haroldson represented Mr. Miller, and Fryberger, Fulton & Spear, Mr. King.

WILL CARE FOR THE "DOPE" VICTIMS

Willmar State Inebriate Farm Will Open Doors to Them.

Users of "dope" will be cared for at the state inebriate farm at Willmar, according to a letter received yesterday by Police Surgeon Murphy.

Ever since the Federal law went into effect on March 1, victims of drugs have appealed to the authorities for assistance, and it has been decided to send all of these to the farm at Willmar. There the men and women will be given special attention and a cure effected, if possible.

Local authorities are of the opinion that there are few, if any, confirmed users of "dope" in Duluth, but in the Twin Cities the police have come across scores of these victims in the last few weeks.

SUES FOR COMMISSION.

O. F. Christensen Demands $500 for Turning Deal.

Suit to recover $500 as commission in a real estate deal was instituted yesterday afternoon in district court by Oscar F. Christensen against I. J. Poterek. Christensen, doing business under the name of the Anchor Realty company, alleges that on Nov. 14, 1914, he entered into an agreement with Poterek whereby the latter was to pay him a commission if he should obtain a purchaser for a large tract of land in Carlton county. Christensen claims that he interested Jeremiah J. Hagerty in the property and that Hagerty agreed to buy it. On Dec. 10, the property was bought by Hagerty through J. T. Stack.

HOW TO VOTE

Here Are the Rules That Must Be Followed in Marking Ballots on Election Day.

At least 10 per cent of the voters in Duluth are believed to be still ignorant of the rules for voting the preferential ballot.

Hundreds are daily calling on City Clerk Palmer and the various candidates in the present campaign to explain various features of the election laws, showing that many are still unacquainted with the laws and there will be many void ballots on election day, unless voters take a keener interest from now on.

To prevent mistakes on election day, April 6, City Clerk Palmer has prepared a list of rules that voters should learn, so that their ballots will be legal and valid. Here are the more important rules of special interest to every voter in the city:

"Two first choices for commissioners must be voted, or the ballot will be void as to commissioners.

"Don't vote more than one choice for any one candidate for commissioner, as only one choice will count for any one candidate.

"Second choice votes are optional and not obligatory. Either one or two candidates may be voted for on the second choice, but not three candidates. There is no limit to the number of third choices.

"Vote for only one candidate for judge on first choice, and only one on second choice.

"Any distinguishing marks on a ballot make it void.

"If you wrongly mark, tear or deface ballot, return it to the election officers and obtain another.

"First choices must be voted in the first column, second choices in the second column and other choices in the third column.

"There will be blank spaces on ballots, so that each voter may insert any name he wishes.

"Only those who registered on March 10 and 13 are entitled to a vote. Others must file affidavits of their residence, signed by two freeholders of their respective districts.

"A voter must live for a period of thirty days within a district in order to cast a vote. If he has registered and since moved, he loses his vote.

"By failing to vote for the amendments, a voter casts a ballot against it, as every amendment requires three-fifths of the total vote in order to carry.

"Ballots for candidates will be red, while those for the amendments will be of lavender color.

"Polling places will be open from 6 a. m. to 9 p. m."

Sample ballots can be obtained from the city clerk at any time, as 5,000 have been printed for the use of the voters.

RAILROAD IS NOT TO BLAME

Accident at Two Harbors Due to Victim's Own Act.

No responsibility attaches to the Duluth & Iron Range Railroad company for an accident in the Two Harbors railroad yards on July 1, 1913, in which Axel E. Bloomquist, a car checker, lost his left leg below the knee, according to a jury which reported late yesterday afternoon in Judge Dancer's division of the district court. Bloomquist, aged 19, through his guardian, Erick Peterson, sued for $15,000 damages. The jury found for the defendant.

The young man was attempting to cross between the bumpers of two freight cars when several other cars were switched in on the same track. Jesse Van Valkenberg of Minneapolis appeared in the case as plaintiff's attorney and Howard T. Abbott of Abbott McPherran, Lewis & Gilbert represented the railroad company.

DRIVEN OUT BY EARLY FIRE

Five Duluthians Forced to Flee in Their Night Clothing.

Five persons were driven to the street in their night clothes by a fire which caused $300 damage in a frame dwelling at 126 West Second street at 1:50 o'clock this morning.

The origin of the fire was not determined. It started in an unused room in the basement, which is occupied by the family of John Brosky. Three roomers live upstairs. The building is owned by John Priley, 531 West Fourth street. Loss is fully covered by insurance.

Apparatus from engine companies No. 1 and No. 3, with Assistant Chief Wilson, responded.

TO CONDUCT POTATO GROWING CONTEST

N. M. D. A. Will Give $300 in Prizes to Boys and Girls.

A potato-growing contest for boys and girls will be conducted this year by the agricultural division of the state university and United States department of agriculture.

The Northern Minnesota Development association has announced that it will contribute $300 in prizes.

The contest will be conducted under the direction of T. A. Erickson, state leader in the boys' and girls' club work and agent of the United States department of agriculture. He will be assisted by all county agents, county school superintendents and agricultural instructors in the public schools.

The contest will be open to all boys and girls between the ages of 10 and 18 living in the territory north of the south line of Pine, Kanabec, Mille Lacs, Morrison, Todd, Douglas, Grant and Wilkin counties. The potatoes to be used are the Rural New Yorker or the Green Mountain type.

Each contestant will be required to grow one-eighth of an acre, do all of his work, keep a complete record and exhibit fifteen pounds of potatoes at the meeting of the Northern Minnesota Development association at Bemidji, Dec. 9 and 10.

The prizes to be awarded at the Bemidji meeting are:

Individual — Rural New Yorker type—First, $20; second, $15; third, $10; fourth, $5; next ten, each $2.

Green Mountain type—First, $20; second, $15; third, $10; fourth, $5; next ten, each, $2.

Club—At least five members to a club—First, $25; second, $20; third, $15; fourth, $10; next twenty, each, a banner.

Grand championship prize—$25.

RID STOMACH OF GASES, SOURNESS, AND INDIGESTION

"Pape's Diapepsin" Ends All Stomach Distress in Five Minutes.

You don't want a slow remedy when your stomach is bad—or an uncertain one—or a harmful one—your stomach is too valuable; you mustn't injure it with drastic drugs.

Pape's Diapepsin is noted for its speed in giving relief; its harmlessness; its certain unfailing action in regulating sick, sour, gassy stomachs. Its millions of cures in indigestion, dyspepsia, gastritis and other stomach trouble has made it famous the world over.

Keep this perfect stomach doctor in your home—keep it handy—get a large fifty-cent case from any drug store and then if anyone should eat something which doesn't agree with them; if what they eat lays like lead, ferments and sours and forms gas; causes headache, dizziness and nausea; eructations of acid and undigested food—remember as soon as Pape's Diapepsin comes in contact with the stomach all such distress vanishes. Its promptness, certainty and ease in overcoming the worst stomach disorders is a revelation to those who try it.

CHISHOLM WOMAN UNDER ARREST

Admits Placing Infant in Pigsty Where It Was Found Dead.

Chisholm, Minn., March 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—The body of a newly born infant was found in a pig sty yesterday by Toney Lacknor, the nine-year-old son of Tony Lacknor. The boy notified Coroner Dr. A. B. Kirk who called the police and made an immediate examination. He found that the child had breathed. When Day Sergeant Leighty came upon the scene, a large number of the neighbors of the Lacknor's had gathered around the body, all speculating as to how the child came there and to whom it belonged. Among them was Helen Chosen, 24 years of age, who appeared unconcerned when the search for a clue was being made, but when the dead body of the infant was taken away she broke down and confessed that the baby was her own, that it had lived, and that being afraid of the scandal that must occur, she had deserted it as soon as it was born.

Placed Under Arrest.

She was immediately arrested by Sergeant Leighty and taken to the detention hospital where she made a further confession, implicating one Toney Tomin of Ely, as being the father of the child. An inquest was held by Coroner Kirk Tuesday afternoon which proved that the infant had breathed. Assistant County Attorney Funk was communicated with and he will go fully into the matter and place a charge against the girl and man if he can be found. In the meantime the girl is being cared for at the detention hospital.

WILL DIVIDE COST OF BUILDING LINE

Power Company to Join Hibbing in Cost of Alice Extension.

Hibbing, Minn., March 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—The water and light board has agreed to divide the expense of the high tension line to Alice with the Great Northern Power company which will build an extension to Nashwauk this summer. That this line can be used equally as well by both is the contention of village and company officials.

The Great Northern Power company has agreed to pay half the cost of the poles for the line and to direct them. The village will lay its own lines and cross bars for the line. The poles will be about five feet higher than formerly expected. All material for the line which the village has purchased will be bought by the power company at cost, A. C. Underhill, a representative of the company, said last night.

Presents Bill for Chimney.

John E. Kennedy presented a bill at the meeting of the board last night for a chimney which was knocked off his residence by blasting shocks caused while digging the Alice sewers.

Specifications and requirements of an oil engine for generating electric power here, should the board find this advisable, were asked by the Northwestern Equipment company in a communication to the board. It declared that it could offer special figures on an outfit, if this would be desirable.

An injury report of a laborer at the power plant, supposed to have resulted from heavy lifting, was declared by two physicians to be without foundation. Although the man had injuries, the physicians said, they were not caused by lifting, as the man purported. Peter McGrath presented a bill for damages caused to his residence by a leak in a water main. This bill was held over for further investigation.

CASE IS SETTLED.

Action Involving Mortgage Dropped in Hibbing Court.

Hibbing, Minn., March 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—Settlement by attorneys was made in the case of John Olson of Hibbing, who asked $1,250, half money received for property which he and his son owned, yesterday afternoon in district court. The son gave Mr. Olson a mortgage for $1,750, which the father immediately had placed in the name of Henry Olson's aged mother.

John Olson claimed that he and his son purchased some lots in 1907. Each owned half interest in the lots. Recently he found out that a part of this property was sold for $2,500, and as he believed that his son, in whose name the entire property was deeded, intended to dispose of the remainder, referred the matter to the court. The mortgage given to the father is on the remaining property.

HIBBING'S STRONG NINE.

Judge Brady Has Gathered Together Some Good Players.

Hibbing, Minn., March 24.—Manager T. Brady of the local baseball nine points with pride to the players he has signed for the team this year, including five men from the Northern league of last year.

Jerry Edmunds, backstop for Duluth last year, will play with the Hibbing nine. William Wilson, formerly a Northern league pitcher; Jimmy Withers, who twirled for the Duluth White Sox last year; Cy Relger and Antoni Tedisco, last year's pitchers, will comprise the pitching staff. Dave Williams will play his old position at first base. Elmer Nord, William Hooker and Joe McGuirk will vie for the second sack job. D. Brookins will hold down the other bag.

At short Judge Brady has placed Joe Fautsch, who played that position for Winona last year. Fautsch's fielding and batting averages for 127 games were higher than any contemporary in the Northern league last year and it is the opinion of most Northern league players that Fautsch would have gone up to the majors next year had he remained in the Northern this season.

Carroll Booth will try for the left field position. Dwight Booth will try for center field. Robert Gieselman will again attempt to land the right field position.

CHISHOLM GETS NEXT MEETING

St. Louis County Boards of Education Vote to Meet There.

Aurora, Minn., March 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—The meeting of the members of boards of education of St. Louis county held here Tuesday was a very successful gathering, there being sixty-five present, which was almost a record attendance. County Superintendent of Schools N. A. Young and C. H. Barnes, superintendent at St. Cloud, made addresses along educational lines which were both interesting and profitable. A dinner was served the visitors by the members of the domestic science department at the Hearding building which received many compliments from the guests.

System Is Indorsed.

In the afternoon the uniform accounting system proposed by the state department of education was discussed fully and a motion indorsing the system was unanimously passed. N. O. Chapman addressed the meeting briefly along agricultural lines, asking if sufficient inducement was offered along the line of agriculture by the schools of the range and urging that such action be taken.

A vote on the place of holding the next meeting resulted in favor of Chisholm, Chisholm, Buhl and Ely extended invitations for the association to meet at those places.

JITNEY BUS FEE IS HELD ILLEGAL

Virginia Council Refunds $25 Taxed Against Owner of Car.

Virginia, Minn., March 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—City Attorney Montague informed the city council at its meeting last night that the fee of $25 charged James De Bar for operating a jitney bus was illegal and the council ordered the money refunded.

The village attorney was directed to draft a bill to be sent to the legislature providing that the limitation on taxation in certain cities be based upon the Federal census and not on the last "state" census as provided in the bill now pending. There has been no state census for a number of years. The last one gave Virginia only 6,000 population, while the city now claims to have 16,000.

Keep Visiting Nurse.

By a vote of 7 to 2, Harvey and Coffee voting in the negative, the council adopted the recommendation of the special committee consisting of Murray, McGhee and Walsh, that Miss Mollie Burns be retained as visiting nurse at an increased salary of $75 per month. Her pay before was $50. The Associated Charities favored retaining her. A letter was read from Drs. Michelson and Crowe asking that the visiting nurse be placed under the direction of the health department and that none but a graduated nurse be employed. No attention was paid to the recommendation.

NEW ANGORA CHURCH.

Norwegian Lutherans Will Erect Edifice In That Village.

Angora, Minn., March 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—Work will commence here in a few days on a church building for the Norwegian Lutheran congregation. The building will be a frame structure which will cost when completed 21,600.

The Norwegian congregation has long been in want of such a place, as at present they use an old building for church purposes. Rev. J. I. Fadum of Virginia, who holds services at Angora every Sunday, is much pleased with the plan. The First Lutheran church of Angora is the name given the new place of worship.

Only Chimney Fire.

Hibbing, Minn., March 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—A chimney fire at Fred McCombet's home, 102 West Sellers street, brought the truck from fire hall No. 1 and the automobile from No. 2 at 6:30 o'clock last night. When the fire apparatus appeared, however, the fire was out. The alarm was turned in by a pedestrian who saw the flames belching forth from the chimney.

Chisholm Bible Class Banquet.

Chisholm, Minn., March 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—The boys of the Bible class of the M. E. church will be hosts at a banquet at the church parlors this evening, to the girls of the class. The affair will mark the close of a membership contest, in which the young men were the losers.

SUPERIOR GIRL IS UNDER ARREST

Alleged to Have Stolen Many Articles in Virginia Stores.

Virginia, Minn., March 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—Arrested on the charge of shoplifting, Miss Josie Pylenda, age 18, of Superior, is in jail here and if she carries out her announced intention of pleading guilty, her case will come before Judge Hughes at Hibbing Saturday when it is expected she will be sent to a state correctional institution for girls. It is said that the girl had shown rather an incorrigible disposition in Superior and had run away from her home there.

She was arrested yesterday afternoon after the police had located her "cache" in her room and gathered enough evidence to warrant such action. In her room were found twelve silk dresses, some new shoes, lingerie and other women's finery. The girl first denied the charge but later broke down and, according to the police, confessed. She said she came here about two weeks ago with a girl named Susie Wass and that the latter urged her to do the shoplifting, even going to stores and telling her how easy it was to carry away goods. The police are looking for the reputed accomplice, but up to 1 p. m. today had not found her.

First Arouses Suspicion.

It is said that suspicion was first directed toward the Pylenda girl several days ago when she is said to have stolen a pair of shoes from the Minnesota Dry Goods company. It is claimed she examined some shoes then left. Later a pair was missed and the next day a store detective saw them on her feet. The detectives then got real busy and shadowed her with such success that they caught her, they say, in the act of "lifting" a silk dress in Shandling Bros. store yesterday afternoon and arrested her.

Not only the Minnesota Dry Goods company and Shandeling Bros., but Alex Reid's and one or two other establishments claim the plunder found in the girl's room.

PLAN PERMANENT DIVISION CLUB

Some People of Virginia to Call Meeting to Keep Up Fight.

Virginia, Minn., March 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—Despite the one-sided vote against county division in the house at St. Paul yesterday, advocates of the idea are not all mollified and are talking of keeping up the fight. Mayor Boylan, who returned today from St. Paul, criticized Duluth people and newspapers in a caustic interview given out.

It is now proposed to organize a permanent county division club and to call a meeting to be held here soon to perfect a permanent organization and keep up the fight. The outcome of the bill was generally forecasted and yesterday's result did not create much surprise.

WILL PLAY "OTHELLO."

Italian Dramatic Club of Hibbing to Present It in Italian.

Hibbing, Minn., March 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Hibbing Italian Dramatic club, recently organized, will give the first of a series of Shakesperian plays at the Power theater Sunday night when "Othello" will be produced in Italian. Charles Martinetti directed the rehearsals.

The cast comprising thirty persons is as follows: Othello, Antonio Marinelle; Desmonda, Othello's wife, Miss Maria Martinetti; Jago, Efram Bartolletti; Amelia, Jago's wife, Mrs. Angello Avenati; Cascio, Othello's friend, Delmo Befra; Rodinigo, Mike Marinelli; Branzanzio, Piontone Adriano; Montano, Geneso Mattirelle; Lodoviocco, Guido Mattrella; Dolge, Batista Negra; Varlet, Gambricci Vincenzo; Officer, Francesco Birgiucci.

FRANKLIN VILLAGE HAS FIRST ELECTION.

Virginia, Minn., March 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—The first election held in the new village of Franklin, near here, yesterday resulted in the election of the following without opposition:

G. H. Lohneis, president; Joseph Hendy, Delbert Baker and George A. Scott, trustees; J. J. Foster, treasurer; James Mahoney, clerk; W. T. Ryan and R. A. Cronkhite, justices of the peace, and Patrick Maney and Chris Boucher, constables.

Since the question of license was not raised the village will be "dry," as under the law the license question must be passed on by the voters of a new village. The new village includes a portion of the edge of Virginia and reported legal objection to the new village did not develop.

HIBBING BRIEFS.

Hibbing, Minn., March 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—John Calkins of North Tonawanda, N. Y., passed Sunday here as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Scott L. Holtzlander.

Editor E. J. Anderson and daughter, Miss Eileen Anderson, visited in Hibbing en route to their home in Gilbert after a several days' visit with relatives in Grand Rapids.

The Chautauqua Reading Circle held their regular weekly meeting last evening in the club rooms of the public library. The program follows: "The Land and the Landless," Alden, by A. T. Holm; "The State Lands of Minnesota, Past and Present," E. Carl McGinnis; "How European Agriculture is Financed," Popular Science, for March 1, 1915, Miss Theodora Thurber; "Agricultural Institutions in High School, Government Bulletin, 1913," Clifford Meyers.

Mrs. Anton Passard left Sunday for Rochester, Minn., where she will consult the Doctors Mayo.

Miss Clara Barthess, who has been the guest of her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bjornstad of the Nassau location for the past three months, left Tuesday for her home in Grand Forks.

Miss Clara Hanson of Cass Lake, who is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Thomas Fleming has returned from Duluth where she passed the week-end with friends.

James Craine, assistant superintendent, and Robert Mayhew, stenographer at the Bray mine in Keewatin, visited among Hibbing friends Sunday and yesterday.

VIRGINIA NOTES.

Virginia, Minn., March 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mrs. Fred Witte went to Duluth yesterday where she will be the guest of friends for a few days.

S. S. Rumsey and S. W. Tarr of the mechanical department of the Oliver Iron Mining company at Duluth, are in Virginia.

Miss Alice V. Quist, principal of the Franklin school, who has been visiting the schools of the range during the past week, has returned to her duties at the Franklin.

Deming Hannaford, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Hannaford who has been on a touring expedition in the West for the past six months, started yesterday for his home from Los Angeles, Calif.

Mrs. J. G. Trudell and Mrs. H. L. Mitchell of West Virginia entertained yesterday in honor of Mrs. A. W. Mitchell of Forsyth, Mont., who is the guest of Mrs. Mitchell.

Irish Comedy Pleases.

Chisholm, Minn., March 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Irish comedy drama given on St. Patrick's day for the benefit of St. Joseph's church, was repeated Monday night for the benefit of the large number who could not get admittance to the first performance. Music was furnished by the Melody orchestra. Miss Winnifred Hayes gave two vocal numbers and Edward Hageb delighted the audience with two well rendered violin solos.

Delayed By Derailment.

Virginia, Minn., March 24.—The Canadian Northern Flyer from the north was delayed about three hours yesterday by the derailment of a freight train at Sprague, a small station between Baudette and Winnipeg, late Monday. So far as known no one was injured.

Marries Duluth Girl.

Hibbing, Minn., March 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—Miss Rose Polinsky of Duluth and David Bloom of this village were quietly married Sunday evening at 6 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Polinsky, in Duluth, Rabbi Lefkowits officiating. The bridal couple was attended by Mr. and Mrs. H. Bloom, brother and sister-in-law of the groom. Following a brief honeymoon in Milwaukee they will return to Hibbing and make this village their home. Mr. Bloom is employed as manager of the Boston department store.

Waives Extradition.

Arthur B. Pett, wanted in Hibbing to answer to a statutory charge preferred by a 15-year-old girl, will return from Milwaukee without extradition papers, according to word which was received yesterday by the county attorney's office. Deputy Sheriff S. Levy has gone to Milwaukee to bring the prisoner back. When Pett was arrested three weeks ago he refused to return without being extradited. Since, he has changed his mind.

WIDOW OF FAMOUS GENERAL IS DEAD

Mrs. Stonewall Jackson Passes Away After Many Months' Illness.

Charlotte, N. C., March 24.—Mrs. Mary Anna Jackson, widow of Gen. Stonewall Jackson, died at her home here this morning.

Mrs. Jackson was born near this city, July 21, 1831, the daughter of the Rev. Robert Hall Morrison, a Presbyterian minister, and founder of Davidson college. She attended Salem (N. C.) academy and college, finishing in 1849.

Her marriage took place in July, 1857. Jackson then was a major, serving as instructor in the Virginia military institute at Lexington. She became a close student of military tactics and always took an aggressive interest in the fortunes of the Confederate armies. After her husband died of wounds in 1863 she wrote a volume of memoirs of his career.

General and Mrs. Jackson had two children, both daughters. One died in infancy, and the other married William E. Christian. At her death in 1889 she left a daughter, who became the wife of E. R. Preston, a Charlotte attorney, and a son, Thomas Jackson Christian, now a lieutenant in the United States cavalry, stationed in the Philippines.

Mrs. Jackson's last days were spent at the old Jackson homestead in this city. She had been ill for many months and suffered a relapse yesterday.

HOW TO HAVE LONG BEAUTIFUL HAIR

By a Hair Specialist.

It is not hard to stop the hair from falling out and promote its growth if the right means are used. There is no hope for the scalp where the hair roots are dead and the scalp is shiny. However, to those who have not reached this condition, immediate steps should be taken to stop it before it is too late. Here is a simple recipe which you can make at home, that will stop the hair from falling out, promote its growth and eradicate scalp eruptions and scalp humors. To a half pint of water add 1 oz. bay rum, a small box of Barbo Compound and ¼ oz. of glycerine, and apply to the hair, rubbing with the finger tips, two or three times a week. These ingredients can be obtained at any drug store at very little cost and mixed at home. This recipe not only promotes the growth of hair, but darkens streaked, faded gray hair and makes it soft and glossy.

Greatest Event in Woman's Life

All human experience looks back to motherhood as the wonder of wonders.

The patience, the fortitude, the sublime faith during the period of expectancy are second only to the mother love bestowed upon the most helpless but most marvelous creation—a baby.

Women are quick to learn from each other those helpful agencies that aid to comfort, and yet are perfectly safe to use and among these they recommend "Mother's Friend."

It is entirely an external application designed to lubricate the broad, flat muscles and skin that protect the abdomen. It has been in favorable use for nearly half a century and is known to mothers in almost every settled community in the United States who highly recommend it. You will find it on sale in drug stores. "Mother's Friend" is utterly harmless, contains no deadening drugs, very beneficial, very soothing and a wonderful help.

Get a bottle of "Mother's Friend" today at any drug store and write to us for our instructive little book to mothers. Address Bradfield Regulator Co., 313 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga.

SNOW

The sun is having considerable of a struggle today. Clouds hinder its efforts to do its duty, but it has made several brave attempts and sometimes breaks through. However, if the weather man has the right 'dope' there will be little use, for snow flurries and colder weather constitute the prediction. The rain that fell during the night was light and had but little cleansing quality.

A year ago today was mild. The sun rose this morning at 6:03 and will set this evening at 6:26, giving twelve hours and twenty-three minutes of sunlight.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"The temperature has risen somewhat over the Lake region. Central valleys, the Southwest and Rocky mountains. Somewhat colder weather prevails in Western Canada, Montana, Idaho, Oregon and Washington. This turn to colder should reach the Head of the Lakes tonight. Killing frosts occurred last night at Shreveport, La., and Fort Smith, Ark. During the last twenty-four hours light rain fell over Central and Southern Florida, and light rain or snow flurries over Northwestern states."

General Forecast.

Chicago, March 24.—Forecasts for the twenty-four hours ending at 7 p. m. Thursday:

Minnesota—Partly cloudy tonight and Thursday; colder tonight.

Wisconsin—Partly cloudy tonight and Thursday; probably snow flurries near Lake Superior; cooler Thursday in west and north portions tonight.

Iowa—Partly cloudy tonight and Thursday; colder Thursday and in west and north portions tonight.

North Dakota and Montana—Partly cloudy and colder tonight; Thursday fair.

South Dakota—Partly cloudy tonight and Thursday; probably unsettled in south portion; colder tonight.

Lower Michigan—Cloudy tonight, probably local snows in north portion; Thursday partly cloudy.

Upper Michigan—Local snows tonight; colder in northwest portion; Thursday partly cloudy.

SCOTT AND PIUTES ARE GREAT FRIENDS

Chief of Army Staff Entertains Prisoners at Utah Hotel.

Thompsons, Utah, March 24.—Seated at the head of the table, Brig.-Gen. Hugh L. Scott, chief of staff of the United States army, at the little hotel at Thompsons, served four docile and happy Indians at dinner last night. A few days ago these Indians were accounted the leaders of a desperate band of outlaws. The Indians were Old Polk, chief of one of the divisions of the renegade Piutes; Tse-Ne-Gat, son of Old Polk, who is charged with murder, Old Posey, chief of the other division of renegades and a son of Posey, all of the Indians referred to Gen. Scott in their Piute tongue as their Good White Father. The general insisted that the Indians were not prisoners, but "just his boys." The Indians showed keen delight when the general insisted that he and the Indians be given a separate table away from the "white folks."

Not a handcuff, not a shackle, binds these Indians, but the tie of genuine regard for Gen. Scott is such that it would probably take a posse larger than that which United States Marshal Nebeker brought to Bluff to drive them from him.

Perfect Freedom.

After they had eaten the Indians were supplied with cigarettes by Gen. Scott and then permitted to wander about with perfect freedom. The general's only concern was that the Indians might be run over by a train. They had never seen a railway train before and can hardly resist the temptation to get close to the cars. The Indians had their first automobile ride coming from Moab and they are looking forward with eagerness to their first train ride, which will begin when they start for Salt Lake City.

Gen. Scott said: "All the Indians are satisfied. The whites are over their scare and there will be no more trouble from this band of Indians. These Indians are just children, easy to alarm and sometimes hard to appease."

NOT TO BLAME FOR COLLISION

Jury Returns Verdict for Traction Company in Two Suits.

Employes of the Duluth Street Railway company was not responsible for a collision between a street car and a motorcycle at Twenty-third avenue west and Third street on Oct. 1 last.

A jury in Judge Fesler's division of the district court so held this morning. Sealed verdicts, favoring the company were returned in two cases brought by Albert Milostan to recover injuries sustained by his 20-year-old son, Leo Milostan.

On behalf of the boy, the father demanded $5,000 damages. He also sued for $440 on his own account, claiming that he owned the motorcycle which was demolished in the accident. The two cases were tried jointly.

Young Milostan was riding on Twenty-third avenue west on his father's machine when he ran into a street car which was crossing the avenue on Third street. He was knocked unconscious and was in a hospital for five days.

Thomas S. Wood appeared in the case as attorney for the traction company. The attorney for the plaintiff in both actions was Andrew Nelson. The jury reached an agreement last evening at 10 o'clock, but the findings were not opened until court convened this morning.

CUT THIS OUT

OLD ENGLISH RECIPE FOR CATARRHAL DEAFNESS AND HEAD NOISES.

If you know someone who is troubled with catarrhal deafness or head noises, cut out this formula and hand it to them and you will have been the means of saving some poor sufferer perhaps from total deafness. Experiments conducted in England some time ago seem to prove conclusively that catarrhal deafness, head noises, etc., were directly caused by constitutional trouble. It was further brought out that salves, sprays, inhalers, etc., merely temporize with the complaint, and seldom, if ever, effect a permanent cure. This being so, much time and money were spent in perfecting a pure, gentle, yet effective tonic that would quickly dispel all traces of the catarrhal poison from the system. The prescription which was eventually formulated and which has aroused the belief that catarrhal deafness and head noises will soon be extinct is given below in understandable form so that anyone can treat themselves in their own home at little expense.

Secure from your druggist 1 oz. Parmint (double strength), about 75c worth. Take this home and add to it ¼ pint of hot water and 4 oz. of granulated sugar; stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day.

Parmint is used in this way not only to reduce by tonic action, the inflammation and swelling in the eustachian tubes, and thus to equalize the air pressure on the drum, but to correct any excess of secretions in the middle ear.

Every person who has catarrh in any form should give this recipe a trial and free themselves from this destructive disease. —Advertisement.

LAUNDERERS ELECT.

North Dakota Organization Concludes Meeting at Grand Forks.

Grand Forks, N. D., March 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—The annual meeting of the North Dakota Laundrymen's association was concluded here yesterday, the association electing the following officers:

President, A. L. Johnson, Devils Lake; vice president, J. C. Sheppard, Grand Forks, and secretary, O. Hegge, Fargo. The selection of the next annual meeting was left with the executive committee.

J. A. Barkey, president of the National Laundrymen's association, was one of the principal speakers. He maintained that more active co-operation on the part of the state associations with the national body was essential to the success of the latter body.

CARLTON COUNTY "DRY" CAMPAIGN

Movement Started in Cloquet to Submit License Question.

Cloquet, Minn., March 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—As a result of a meeting held in the city hall Monday evening this city will take the lead in a campaign for a vote on license in Carlton county under the new county option law.

Plans for circulating petitions for the election were executed. Rev. W. E. Williams was elected temporary chairman and called for a discussion of the question. Several citizens spoke and a committee consisting of John Mattinen, F. T. Persinger, H. Cox, V. Michaelson and F. Newman was appointed to carry on the work of obtaining signers of the petition until the work was concluded. The committee was also given the power to collect necessary funds for defraying the expenses.

Require 600 Names.

About 600 names are required before the petition can be filed, but the committee will endeavor to have the work completed and the petition filed by April 3. The county auditor is then allowed fifty days after the filing of the petition in which to call an election, so it is expected that the election will come some time in May. Moose Lake has already taken up the work and petitions were sent today to Mahtowa, Barnum and Carlton and they were urged to take up the work immediately. Cloquet will also push the work at Cromwell, Sawyer, Scanlon and Thompson. All necessary money was pledged at the meeting and of the first present thirty signed the petition. The attendance was small, owing to the fact that no notice of the meeting was given other than from the church pulpits. Another meeting will be called at the time the petition is filed.

A WINTER TONIC

Why is it that some people keep well all winter while others, less exposed to cold and damp, suffer with colds, grip, pleurisy, pneumonia and all the ills of the season?

Thin blood and debility are the causes of much sickness in winter. When the blood is thin and there is oxygen starvation in the tissues of the body, poisons are retained that should be eliminated and there is a lowered resistance to disease.

Rheumatism disappears when the blood is built up and does not return if the blood is kept rich.

The after-effects of grip are never cured until the blood is built up.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills enrich the blood and enable it to carry more oxygen, to nourish the starved tissues in debility, to soothe the inflamed membranes in rheumatism, to quiet the nerves in neuralgia and sciatica and to expel the lingering germs after the fever and influenza of grip have passed. All winter Dr. Williams' Pink Pills should be in every house, ready for use. You can get them now at the nearest drug store.

The third edition of the popular little book "Building Up the Blood," has just been published. Write today to the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., for a free copy.

To Have Complexion That Men Admire

"A man may admit, with great sophistication, that powder and rouge are necessary aids to beauty," writes the Countess of Wenick, "yet deep in his heart he dreams of the woman whose loveliness needs no artificial touching up. Women who appreciate this, who give consideration to the masculine viewpoint, avoid using anything that might indicate their beauty is not all their own.

"Such women in increasing number are acquiring the mercolized wax habit. By applying the wax at night as they would cold cream, washing it off in the morning, they secure, and maintain, entirely natural complexions. Their faces exhibit no evidence of having been 'beautified.' Nothing is added to the old complexion—the latter, instead, is discarded. Mercolized wax, procurable at any drug store (an ounce is sufficient), absorbs the devitalized outer skin, gradually, almost imperceptibly. The fresh, clear, satiny underskin which appears, bears a healthy, youthful bloom not comparable with the fixed artificial color." —Advertisement.

NO LOST MOTION

The up-to-date machine shop owner is getting out of the habit of using power to keep a long shaft running when he doesn't want to use the machines it supplies. Too much energy goes into useless motion.

Nowadays he has a separate motor for each machine—direct connected—which applies the power where it is wanted and when it is wanted. Nowhere else.

May we show you how to apply your advertising power in the same way—where and when you want it?

There isn't any secret process about it; it it simply connecting your appropriation with the people you want to reach and not bothering about those you do not want to reach. It is simply focusing energy where it will do the most good—through the local newspaper.

The daily newspapr is the direct link between producer and consumer.

STEAMER IS UNDER SPOUTS

The steamer Jacob T. Kopp, which has wintered in the Great Northern slip, was put under the spouts of the elevator this morning and is taking on wheat. The steamer Caldera, which finished loading wheat at the same elevator this morning, was moved to the opposite side of the slip, where she will remain until navigation opens.

The steamer James Corrigan, which was moved from the Peavey to the Capitol elevator, is still loading wheat. No other moves of steamers are imminent at this time, but several are in prospect.

Inspectors John Monaghan and M. F. Chalk are inspecting the steamers William Livingstone and D. M. Philbin today, and these steamers will likely be loaded shortly in preparation for the big down-lake movement of grain when navigation opens.

Al Abraham Returns From the East in Optimistic Mood.

Al Abraham, president of the Oak Hall Clothing company, who has returned from a month's business visit in the East, is very optimistic about the future and predicts a marked increase in almost every line of business.

"The largest factories in the East are all reopening," said Mr. Abraham this morning, "and manufacturers are looking to the future. They all expect business to have a continuous growth from now on, without any let-up whatever this coming fall or next winter.

"It look for one of the most prosperous years in the past two decades and of course, that means that Duluth will reap its share of the country's growth in business.

"It is surely great to get back to Duluth's real spring weather, after spending several weeks in the foggy cities of the East."

WELL-KNOWN FARGO MAN UNDER ARREST

John Wyman Is Charged With Setting Fire to His Home.

Fargo, N. Y., March 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—Charged with arson, John Wyman, for years prominent as a realty dealer in Mayville and Fargo, was arrested this afternoon. His residence was found on fire recently and firemen claimed on arrival they found holes cut in the walls, kerosene scattered over the house, and fires started in four different places.

Wyman's family was absent and he was alone at the time. His house, one of the best on Eighth street south, was well insured.

Had Financial Trouble.

Wyman has met with financial reverses since his excoriation by a court three years ago when he was sued by an Illinois woman and the court branded him "The John Law" of North Dakota. Recently with his business practically ruined as a result of the notoriety given him by the court, he filed papers in bankruptcy.

He refused to be interviewed today when arrested on complaint of State Fire Marshal Runge who has been here three or four days investigating the case.

TAKEN IN CUSTODY BY U. S. MARSHAL.

Indianapolis, March 24.—Mayor Donn M. Roberts, in addition to the three men sent to jail last night because of alleged tampering with witnesses in the Terre Haute election case, was ordered into custody of the United States marshal today. He was ordered to give additional bond of $5,000 for his appearance to answer the charge of corrupting government witnesses.

RECORDING COMPASS INVENTED BY DULUTHIAN

M. B. Benson Patents Device That Is Heralded as Most Important Affecting Navigation In Years—Convinces Vessel Masters of Its Value.

M. B. Benson, a Duluth man, has just had patented a recording compass, which, marine men who have inspected it, declare is the most important invention affecting navigation that has been perfected in years and so high is its value placed that a company has been formed, headed by G. A. Tomlinson, the well known vessel owner, to manufacture and place on the market these instruments. Mr. Tomlinson regards it as revolutionary in the science of navigation.

Many things are claimed for the compass, a few of which are that it will:

Show officers and wheelsmen of ships every deviation of the vessel;

Leave no excuse to a wheelsman for letting the vessel get out of her course unnecessarily;

Be an absolute check on the wheelsman for every minute that he is on duty;

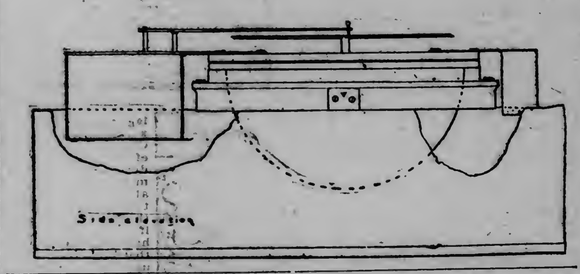
Give the position of the vessel in darkness or fog, to the smallest degree, with relation to the course laid out;

In case of fog, show change of position and time of run out of course.

These are a few of the things that the new instrument shows and all of the time some new use for it is found.

Last Wednesday afternoon Mr. Benson addressed a gathering of vessel masters at the Tomlinson offices in the Board of Trade building and showed a rough model of his compass. As usual, the captains were skeptical; they "were from Missouri." After Mr. Benson had explained the compass, the members of the audience asked a lot of questions. What one did not think about somebody else did, and Mr. Benson underwent a direct and cross-examination by men who know what they were talking about, which would make a more poorly informed man pack up his compass and ask to be excused.

Benson's Recording Compass



M. B. BENSON,
Inventor.

As he answered each question completely not only by word of mouth, but by demonstration, the audience began to warm up. Then they started to inspect the compass model and try to pick flaws. One by one they surrendered. One of them, the most skeptical of the crowd, maintained that a recording compass now on the market and used in some vessels—for there is one, run by electricity—was good enough. As the discussion went on this man grew more silent and more observing, watching and studying the Benson model closely. Suddenly he broke out:

"Great Scott, it's a wonder! Why, say, I'd like to see the wheelsman who can make excuses with this on board his ship. Why it shows everything a captain wants to know about how his ship is going. If I get one of these on board my ship I'll take it to my room with me when I turn in, and whenever I wake up I'll know whether the man in the pilot house is on the job as he ought to be."

That master was the last one convinced. The rest had already been; and marine circles are all agog over Mr. Benson's invention.

What Compass Looks Like.

The cut of the top plan of the compass, shown herewith, shows in a general way, what the compass looks like. The much-lined part is a disk on the compass, and the latter like all compasses, continually points to the north, turning on ball-bearings underneath. The disk acts with it. The outer rims represent the box containing it, and is stationary, turning with the ship. The lines running in from the edge represent the points of the compass, while the circumferential lines represent hours and minutes, the hours being divided into ten-minute periods on the card. These cards fasten to the compass and are changed every six hours. They are numbered and when a trip is completed the captain turns into his owner a complete record of his trip, showing every shift of his ship.

The shifts are recorded by a capillary pen—or, it may be determined to use a stylus on impressionable paper—at the end of the arm which extends over the card from the left side, as seen in the cut. This arm is run by clockwork, so that the matter of time enters into the record as one of the chief features. For instance, in the case of a ship leaving Duluth for the Soo, the pen would be placed on whatever degree of east that the course takes when the ship leaves the harbor. From then on, every swing of the ship would be shown on the card. After reaching Devil's Island, which is usually the first point of the down-the-lakes course, and a new course laid out, the pen's scratching on the card will show it. Should such a thing happen as a man going overboard, and the ship should turn round to go back and get him, and then resume the east-bound course, the card will show a line clear around the card. Should fog be encountered, and the master think it advisable to get a little out of his course to take greater precautions, knowing the time his boat is making, by the recording compass, he can run out so many minutes, pick up a new course, and when he thinks it advisable swing in again, and when the pen hits the line of the old course, as shown on the card, he may resume it without further calculation.

Great Use in Fog.

Fog records are important, for there have been many collisions in thick weather and as a general rule, captains have been blaming the collision on the "other fellow." With the recording compass, there will be a record to show whether or not the ship was on its course, or if it has wandered off, as frequently happens when a wheelsman has no headland or something to go by; and in addition to that, the card will furnish that "something to go by."

The simplicity of the recording compass is surprising. In appearance there is not much more to it than the regular compass used aboard ship, except the time-divided cards, the clockwork, and the extended arm with the capillary pen.

There is another recording compass on the market and is used on some ships. It is operated by electricity, with sixty-four contact posts under the paper, which runs from a cylinder. One trouble with the electrically operated compass is that in the swinging of a ship, until she swings over far enough to attract to the next contact post, the recording needle remains on the old one, while in the Benson compass, there is no such handicap, the pen moving with every minute deviation of the vessel.

Another invention which Mr. Benson has perfected and patented, and which is being placed in some vessels for use this year—and which, by the way, is predicted to be universally used under the new marine laws—is a light signal for use at night or in fogs. The light is electrical and is controlled by the whistle. When the whistle is used to give signals to passing ships, or as warning in fog, the light flashes powerfully as the whistle is blown, giving the long gleams with long whistles, and short gleams with short sounds, the idea being that where wind interferes with the carrying power of the whistle, the light can be seen. It is believed here that this light signal will come very nearly solving the problem of insuring recognition of signals and preventing, to a very large extent, collisions and near collisions that have caused loss of life and property in storms where "the wind blew the sound of the whistle the other way."

Another Invention.

Mr. Benson has quite a number of useful inventions to his credit. One that is being generally used by the Great Northern and Northern Pacific roads is an electrical device for line connection on swing bridges. Mr. Benson, who has charge of the Interstate bridge between Duluth and Superior, found that in case of stress of weather, either too much heat or too much cold, when the bridge had been swung, it would not come back true to the line—in other words the weather, causing contraction and expansion, had warped the structure to some extent. Much bother was caused, and some danger, too, and all efforts to insure quick alignment failed until Mr. Benson studied the thing out. He invented an electrical device which solved the problem, and connection is made, regardless of weather, within ten seconds. The two roads having had, like all roads, a good deal of trouble on swing bridges all along their lines, adopted the device and are now using them everywhere they have swing bridges to contend with.

Returning to the recording compass, a good deal of speculation is indulged in by marine men as to its uses in a submarine for keeping a course for a long distance while navigating under the surface; also on whether or not it can be adapted to flying machines, for use in flying through clouds or fogs. In short, those who have seen the compass believe that its use in surface marine vessels will be by no means its limit.

SPEND FORTUNES ON EQUIPMENT

Then Earn No Profit in Hauling Soft Coal, Says Railroad Man.

Chicago, March 24.—Figures designed to show that the Western railroads spend fortunes annually on equipment to handle soft coal on which they earn no profit, were submitted by J. M. Daly, former general superintendent of the Illinois Central road, who testified today in the interstate commerce commission hearing of the forty-one Western railroads' application for higher rates.

The railroads contend that they should be allowed to increase rates on soft coal an average of 7.95 cents a ton in order to make coal hauling profitable.

"In damage to equipment alone," said Daly, "Central Western coal roads alone would have saved $12,000,000 a year toward maintaining their credit, if repairs to their freight cars could have been held down to the proportions prevailing on non-coal roads in the West.

"From $1,600,000 to $8,000,000 invested in coal cars," he continued, "is standing idle every day. This represents 2,000 to 10,000 cars a day which were not in use through nine months of the year. Bituminous coal requires special equipment, which, in the Western coal fields cannot, be used for other commodities, such as iron ore, lumber, etc. In the East there is a movement of coal to the lakes and of ore back, but out here the return haul is mostly empty. In the East, because of lake traffic, coal moves in the summer; out here it moves in the winter, when operation is most costly.

"Every two years the mines close down, or threaten to, from labor causes. Four of the Western bituminous roads are now in receivers' hands and three are not paying dividends."

The Dr. Lorenz Electro Body Battery is the greatest self-cure for weakness and debility the world has ever known. No drugs, no medicine, no dieting, no unusual demands of any sort, just cease dissipation and this invention will do the work. It sends a stream of vital life into your nerves, organs and blood during the time you are asleep. For the treatment of rheumatism, weak back, nervousness, stomach, liver and kidney disorders and varicocele, it is incomparable. Dr. Lorenz Dry Cell Storage Battery is a high-grade battery, requires no charging with vinegar or acids, is 300 per cent easier applied, gives 400 per cent greater service, and is sold at a low price without added cost for fancy books.

RAILWAYS WILL IMPROVE LINES

Many Men to Be Used; Milwaukee Plans Extensive Program.

Railroads operating in the Northwest are expected to carry through considerable improvement work during the next few months, entailing the employment of large forces of men.

With the prospects of moving a big tonnage of grain during them, if the enormously increased acreage to go under crop this spring is to be taken as an indication, the managements of the roads will, it is said, be compelled to face the necessity of bringing needed betterments to completion that had been suspended during the past two years. While the managements of the various systems aver that there will be nothing done in the way of extensions, it is admitted that trackages and other facilities will require attention.

For a starter, J. H. Peter, superintendent of the Milwaukee road, has announced that an extended program of spring improvements will be carried through in Minnesota. It includes twenty-two miles of additional track between Hopkins and Cologne, Minn. This is a part of the road's program for double-tracking the entire stretch across Minnesota to Aberdeen, S. D., a distance of 285 miles, announced three years ago. The completion of the section now proposed will bring the distance double-tracked up to 180 miles.

Of the remaining 105 miles practically all is graded. As to completing that part of the work, Mr. Foster said no decision had been reached, but that it does not look as if it will be done this year.

Meanwhile the road will begin work on a continuance of its track depression in the city of Minneapolis, on which it has been engaged for three years, and which will have cost $3,000,000 when completed.

The building of the New York barge canal required the construction of forty dams.

BRITISH CRUISERS

Ordered to Refrain From Taking Supplies From Neutral Countries.

Washington, March 24.—All British cruisers, not only in American waters, but in the Caribbean, Pacific and South Atlantic, have been ordered to refrain from taking supplies from neutral countries, in order to avoid breaches of neutrality.

AN EXCUSABLE ERROR.

Philadelphia Telegraph: The conversation turned to modern progression the other night when Senator Nathan P. Bryan, of Florida, recalled the mistake recently made by an old fisherman.

The old fisherman was fishing in the bay one afternoon when a motorboat close by began to sink. The old man merely glanced at it and continued baiting his hook. Another launch came to the rescue.

"Look here, you old wooden head!" indignantly exclaimed the owner of the boat to the fisherman a few minutes later, "didn't you see my boat sinking out there?"

"Why, yes," answere dthe fisherman, a little surprised, "I seen ye all right."

"You did!" almost shrieked the motorboat owner. "Then why in the dence didn't you come to our rescue?"

"Didn't think it was necessary," answered the fisherman. "Thought ye was one o' them new-fangled submarine boats."

CITY NOTICES.

NOTICE OF ELECTION.

I, C. S. Palmer, City Clerk of the City of Duluth, do hereby certify that a General Municipal Election will be held in the City of Duluth on Tuesday, April 6, 1915, for the purpose of electing two commissioners for four years and one judge of the Municipal Court for four years, and for the purposes of voting upon the following propositions:

"Shall the proposed amendment to the charter of the City of Duluth numbered 'One' be ratified?" This amendment authorizes the expenditure by the City of amounts up to $500.00 for work to be done, or purchase of property without formal advertising for bid or award of contract. (This amount is now $100.00.)

"Shall the proposed amendment to the charter of the City of Duluth numbered 'Two' be ratified?" This amendment reduces the minimum requirement under which the Council may allow assessments to be paid in four installments, and permits the paying of sidewalk assessments in installments.

I further certify that the following named persons have complied with all of the provisions of law relative to nominations and acceptance thereof, and are entitled to have their names placed upon the ballot used at said election, as follows:

FOR COMMISSIONERS.

William L. Bernard, Chris E. Evens, James A. Farrell, W. A. Hicken, R. E. McFarlane, Roderick Murchison, Jas. L. Norman, Bernard Silberstein.

FOR JUDGE OF MUNICIPAL COURT.

M. E. Louisell, John H. Norton, W. H. Smallwood, William L. Windom.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and affixed the corporate seal of said City of Duluth, this 22nd day of March, 1915.

C. S. PALMER,
City Clerk, City of Duluth, Minn.
(Corporate Seal of the City of Duluth.)

WHEAT EASY AT THE CLOSE

Market Closes Weaker Under Selling After Good Early Advances.

Flaxseed Bulges Sharply Under Impetus of Strong Crushers' Demand.

Duluth Board of Trade, March 24.—The market moved easy at the close on some selling. All the advance was lost. May wheat closed unchanged, July unchanged and September unchanged. May durum closed unchanged and July unchanged.

Oats closed ⅝c off at 57⅛@57⅝c for on the track; rye 1c off at $1.10@1.11, and barley unchanged at from 65c to 76c.

At Winnipeg, May oats closed ⅝c off at 63⅝c bid, and July ½c off at 64c bid.

Puts on Minneapolis May wheat closed at $1.44½ asked, and calls at $1.49½.

After showing a slightly easier tendency around the opening, the wheat market turned strong today, on further rumors of possible crop damage in some sections of the winter wheat territory. News of that nature is having a greater influence on the grain markets than the war rumors, and it is thought it will be likely to do so for some time to come. Fair export inquiry was reported on the markets today, but it was generally below a working basis. Duluth grain men advised greater interest on the part of Eastern millers, and some business is said to have been put through for May delivery. It was noted that the May future at Duluth set the pace in the way of strength, the market here advancing 1c during the first three hours' trading while the average bulge at other points was around ½c.

Seaboard advices were to the effect that a fair trade had been put through for foreign shipment. Scarcity of steamers and high freight rates are affecting shipments, proof as to that is furnished in the falling off in clearances during the last few days. Just 176,000 bu of wheat and flour was cleared today, whereas last week the daily average was around the 1,000-000 bu mark. Intimations are now coming to hand that Argentine grain will show a big deterioration as a result of heavy rains while harvesting was proceeding. That, it is predicted, will exert a considerable influence on the market later on. Shipping facilities down that way have been improved, judging from a day's cable intimating that sixteen steamers were loading grain at Buenos Aires for shipment to Italy.

May wheat opened unchanged at $1.50⅛, and advanced 1c at the noon-hour. July opened ⅝c off at $1.44, sold up 1⅛c, and then eased off ⅝c. September sold 75c up to $1.14¾.

May wheat opened unchanged at $1.56, eased off ¼c and then moved up to its opening price. Business in it was light.

Sharp Bulge in Flax.

Flaxseed took another sharp upturn as a result of a burst of buying and the execution of short-covering orders. The impetus was furnished in reports that shipments of Argentine seed brought by American crushers down there to this country would be still further delayed. It is also said that the yield in Argentina will fall below the original estimates. Quotations moved up 6c shortly after the start and then eased off on realizing sales. Final prices showed advances of 3@ 4⅜c in the day.

May flax opened unchanged at $1.93, and closed 3c up at $1.96. July opened 3c up at $1.98, and closed 3½c higher at $1.98¼ asked. September opened ½c up at $1.97, and closed 4¾c up at up at $2.01¾ bid.

At Winnipeg, May flax closed 2¼c up at $1.76⅞ asked, and July 2⅝c up at $1.79½ asked.

MARKET GOSSIP.

W. H. Klichll of the Standard Grain company returned today from a six months' vacation and honeymoon trip spent in California. He was married at Seattle, Wash., and from there he and his bride visited along the Pacific coast, remaining some time at San Diego, Cal., and at San Francisco. The fairs at both points are of absorbing interest and crowds are now flocking out to them, he said.

C. E. Lewis & Co. had the following from Chicago: "Liverpool cables were unchanged in the face of a substantial advance on this side. The political situation abroad shows no startling change. Exporters continue to absorb the offerings on all declines. We are rapidly approaching the crop-scare period and advise purchases on all sharp breaks from this level."

Price Current says: "The winter wheat condition continues generally favorable with very few local exceptions in the states of Ohio and Indiana. The ground has been well covered with snow all winter. The spring season for farm work is considered late throughout the entire winter wheat and corn belts except in some localities in Ohio, Indiana and Illinois. Snow still covers the ground in the northern portions of the corn belt, where it would seem that spring planting will hardly begin before April 6. This will be detrimental to early sowing of the oat crop, which is regarded as desirable in order that the oats may mature before the hot July weather occurs. This condition is stated by reporters as being particularly unfavorable for the oat crop in Kansas and Southern Nebraska and will probably result in decreased acreage."

Foreign news summary:

Italy—Further protests to the government have been made against the advancing price of bread which has reached 3d per English pound. The government released 35,000 quarters of wheat for food for the people. It is officially announced that there are sixteen steamers loading for Italy at Argentine ports.

India—In the Punjaub, moisture is very insufficient and heavy windstorms are reported.

Spain—The wheat import duty has been entirely removed. The former duty was 14 shillings per 480 pounds. This is bringing needed importations and serving to relieve the stringency of supplies.

Argentina—Broomhall's agent was cabled relative to the report current yesterday of possible damage from the recent rain. He replied there was an abundant harvest but that 20 per cent loss was reckoned, owing to the prolonged rain.

At Minneapolis the cash market was steady with demand good for the top grades, but slow for low grades. No. 1 northern blue stem sold at 5½@6c over May and velvet chaff at 3@5c over May. There were fair flour sales, but the aggregate business was still small. Cash No. 1 northern wheat sold there at from $1.50½ to $1.54 and No. 2 northern at from $1.47 to $1.51½. Stocks of wheat in the elevators there decreased 620,000 bu in the last four days.

Broomhall cabled from Liverpool: "Market was neglected, as the advance in America yesterday shut out business. Undertone was firm. Cargo market opened firm with sellers asking 6d advance for both winters and Plates, but later it eased and was then nominally 3d higher. Spot market was firm and unchanged. Argentine offers are liberal and India prospects are generally fine and the belief is that India will furnish a good quantity to the United Kingdom with government regulations. Millers continue to take freely and prospective arrivals are liberal.

"Corn was neglected. Prices at the out-ports are below a parity with Liverpool. Parcels are about unchanged. Some unfavorable reports are coming from Argentina. Stocks are increased in the United Kingdom."

At Buenos Aires wheat closed steady on American strength and less favorable crop advices. Freights continue very firm, and accumulations at the docks are pronounced.

CHICAGO MARKET.

Much Selling and Poor Support From Liverpool Sends Wheat Down.

Chicago, March 24.—Wheat prices underwent a setback today owing largely to the fact that the Liverpool market failed to respond to yesterday's strength in America. There was also a good deal of selling here on the theory that the bulge yesterday had in the main eliminated the short interest. Some attention, too, was given reports that the British government had seized all wheat in India, and would endeavor to prevent all inflated profits. After opening ½@⅝c down, the market rallied somewhat, but sagged lower than before.

Signs that large cash sales had been made at the seaboard led afterward to a quick upturn, which was given further impetus by Kansas reports of damages from Hessian fly. The close was nevertheless weak at ⅝c to 1⅛c under last night.

Corn went down with wheat. Selling pressure, however, was light. The opening, which varied from ¼c to ⅛@⅜c off, was followed by a moderate further decline.

Later the market hardened a little in consequence of the advance in wheat. The close was weak, however, at ⅝c to ½c net decline.

Oats turned easy with other grain, but the downward tendency was less pronounced than in wheat and corn. The bears were cautious as a result of continued reports on delayed seeding.

Large receipts of hogs throughout the west acted as a weight on provisions. Selling, though, was not of unusual volume.

STOCKS ARE STILL HIGHER

Rise to the Best Average Prices Since Last December.

Continuance of Broad and Active Trading and Closing Strong.

New York, March 24.—The upward swing of the stock market was resumed at the beginning of today's business, many leading issues and a number of less prominent ones making new high prices for the current movement. Among these were United States Steel, Union Pacific, Southern Pacific, American Smelting, Baltimore & Ohio, American Can, and some of the equipment group, notably American Locomotive and American Car and Foundry in which the rise extended between 1 and 2 points. Bethlehem Steel added another point to yesterday's decline. Trading was again very active with further short covering.

Speculation broadened to a marked degree during the balance of today's morning session, trading in the first hour aggregating about 200,000 shares, with some diminution of activity toward midday. Prices continued to rise, however, the feature being Union Pacific, which was the most prominent stock at an advance of 2¾ points. Taking the morning's best prices as a basis, the level of quoted values was highest of any time since the exchange resumed operations. The fact that dealings centered about the seasoned issues instead of specialties was accepted as an indication of the market's inherent soundness.

Bonds were active and firm.

Absorption of high class stocks continued on an ascending scale in the early afternoon, Atchison rose 2¼ and Union Pacific increased its gain to over 3 points. Minor railway shares were also in demand.

Stocks today rose to their best average prices since last December, on a continuance of active and broad operations.

Profit taking and renewal of short selling caused some substantial recessions in the late trading. The closing was strong.

SUMMER RESORTS.

PLAN THAT VACATION

TRIP NOW.

And spend it on your own camp site at Ne-na-mik-ka-ta, Lake Vermillion. Ne-na-mik-ka-ta (Chippewa for easy portage) is on Pine island. It is located in one of the most desirable spots at Lake Vermillion.

Several people from Minneapolis, St. Paul, Chicago, Philadelphia and other cities have already purchased camp sites, and will build this spring. These camp sites offer a good investment, as lots on our Daisy island tract have increased 50 per cent in value in less than a year.

Duluth people should take advantage of this proposition. They should know about the park, the docks, the beaches, and the people who have purchased. Write or call for full particulars. Names of Duluth purchasers given upon request. Call us up, either phone 516, for appointment with our salesman.

BATTLES IN HOUSE ON WOMAN SUFFRAGE AND PROHIBITION MEASURES

Bill to Let Women Vote for President Is Advanced.

Three Duluth Park Bills Introduced By Senator Adams.

Senate Takes Up Amendments to Workingmen's Compensation Act.

SENATE AMENDS THE COMPENSATION LAW.

St. Paul, Minn., March 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—The senate early this afternoon passed the bill amending the workmen's compensation act, 61 to 1, Senator Jones of Duluth voting in the negative. Jones offered eight amendments to the amending bill, all of which were voted down. The only amendment passed was that restoring the provision of existing law which exempts domestic servants and farm laborers from the operations of the law.

By a Staff Correspondent.

St. Paul, Minn., March 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—By a vote of 65 to 44 the house this morning overturned an adverse report of the elections committee on the bill by Representative Adolph S. Larson of Sandstone to allow women to vote at presidential primaries and elections, and put the bill on general orders.

Mr. Larson allowed his bill for general suffrage to die, a similar bill having been killed by the senate. Senators F. E. Putnam of Blue Earth city and Ole O. Sageng of Dalton this morning introduced in the senate a bill similar to the new Larson bill.

The house elections committee last night voted to indefinitely postpone the bill, but this morning its report was accompanied by a minority report, and he was supported by Representatives John H. Floyd of Crookston, C. L. Sawyer of Minneapolis, H. H. Harrison of Stillwater, C. L. Stevens of Warren and W. I. Norton of Minneapolis.

Representative P. H. Konzen of Hallock, in support of the minority report, said it was a waste of time to consider this bill when so much work awaited the attention of the house, and when the subject has been disposed of in the senate. Representatives Halslet of Butterfield, Robert Carmichael of

HENRY WOLFER IS A LITTLE BETTER

Former Warden Seriously Ill With Typhoid in Florida.

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 25.—The condition of Henry Wolfer, former warden of the Minnesota penitentiary, who is dangerously ill here of typhoid fever, took a turn for the better early today, and the attending physician, Dr. F. W. Wilcox, says he has a good chance of recovery. A weak heart, it is said, makes his condition more serious.

How the former warden contracted typhoid is not definitely known, as there is not another case here. It is believed the disease resulted from eating affected oysters.

FUNERAL IS INTERRUPTED

Motion to Adjourn Prevents Vote on the Efficiency Bill.

House Passes Gordon Bills But Expects Senate to Kill Them.

By a Staff Correspondent.

St. Paul, Minn., March 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—Only the adoption of a motion to adjourn averted the final requiem over the remains of the efficiency and economy bill late yesterday afternoon.

The house had put in the day on the general subject—passing six of the Gordon piecemeal reform bills, killing another and then reviving it for future consideration, killing a bill to abolish state oil inspection, and receiving a resolution providing for an interim commission of house members to study the question and report to the next legislature.

Just as the house seemed about ready for adjournment, Representative Knud Wefald of Hawley, a member of the efficiency and economy committee and of the sub-committee which has the bill in charge, moved that the committee be discharged, and that the bill be recalled from the committee for indefinite postponement.

Representative Gunnar B. Bjornson of Minnesota, one of the staunchest friends of the bill and one of the ablest floor leaders of the house, gave the only obituary speech—a little premature, perhaps, but still an obituary.

"I take it," he said, "that the house is now ready to kiss economy and effi-

AUTHOR OF BILL PASSED REGULATING TELEPHONES

TELEPHONE REGULATION

Minette-Burrows Bill Is Passed By Senate After Lively Fight.

Companies Required to Conect Lines for Long Distance Service.

By a Staff Correspondent.

St. Paul, Minn., March 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Minette-Burrows telephone regulation bill passed the senate late yesterday afternoon, after a battle over amendments that lasted until long after the dinner hour.

The main point of contention was the matter of the burden of proof where one company requests that another connect with its lines for long distance service.

In the bill as it passed the house the burden of proof as to the public necessity of such connection was upon the resisting company. That is, the bill assumed that in the absence of proof to the contrary connection was a public necessity, and it was up to the resisting company to prove that it was not.

The senate committee amended the bill so as to shift the burden of proof upon the company requesting connection. It must prove public necessity before the connection would be ordered.

Provision Is Restored.

Senators Rockne, Holmberg and Benson joined in an amendment, when the bill came up as a special order yesterday afternoon, restoring the provision that was in the bill as it passed the house, and after a long fight their amendment prevailed, 45 to 19.

An amendment restoring the provision of the house bill, that there should be a referendum on the question whether a competing exchange can be established in any community having but one exchange, was defeated.

The bill puts all telephone companies under the regulation of the railroad and warehouse commission as to rates and service, and requires the larger companies to give connections to the toll line business of the smaller ones.

A somewhat similar bill passed both branches two years ago, was vetoed by Governor Eberhart, repassed over the veto in the house, and failed of repassage in the senate. The fight for this bill runs back a dozen years.

OSSOWETZ KEY TO SITUATION

Germans Make Lively Attacks to Prevent Russ Encircling Fortress.

Petrograd, March 25, via London.—The fortress of Ossowetz, where the German bombardment continues, remains today the key to the situation on the German front, according to the best opinion of Russian observers. Both to the north and south of this point, in the Augustowo and the Omoleff regions, respectively, the Germans are developing lively attacks to prevent the Russians from encircling the Ossowetz fortress or from occupying the town of Szczuczyn. This location is directly behind Ossowetz on the East Prussian frontier and its occupation by the Russians would obviously compel the Germans to abandon the siege.

GEN. FRENCH CONFIDENT AS TO OUTCOME

British Commander Says There Is No Doubt of Victory in War.

Declares He Is as Certain as Was Gen. Grant in Civil War.

Associated Press Correspondent Visits General at Field Headquarters.

(From Frederick Palmer, Associated Press correspondent at the front.)

British Headquarters in France, March 25, via London, 12:31 p. m.—It was in the drawing room of the house in which he makes his office that Field Marshal Sir John French, commander-in-chief of the British expeditionary forces on the continent, received the correspondent today and discussed the military situation. Before the conversation was over the British commander, answering a question concerning the result of the war, said:

"Indeed, there is no doubt of the outcome. I was never so confident of victory as I am today. I am as confident as General Grant was when he took command of the army of the Potomac. He kept at it, and so shall we."

On a long table before the British commander were a number of maps and reports. Otherwise the man who directs the operations of the British army in France appears completely disassociated from the details of the different army departments situated in other offices about the town. It was to be observed, however, that the heads of the departments report to Field Marshal French immediately upon a telephone request.

Sir John Looks Younger.

Looking younger than his photographs make him appear, ready and alert, Sir John showed no signs of the strain of the last eight months as he stood before his open grate fire and talked of his campaign and the war.

"What were the most important contributing factors making your retreat from Mons secure against overwhelming odds?" Sir John was asked.

"The dogged tenacity of our little regular army which contested every foot of the ground as we fell back," was the answer.

Never Lost Heart.

"Not once did our soldiers lose heart. They understood that we were not defeated, but making a strategic retreat before heavy odds and that all the punishment which they could inflict on the enemy by a cool and stubborn resistance from point to point was no

Originally Supplied With Food to Last for Six Months.

Thought to Be Limit Which Fortress Could Withstand Siege.

Austrian Relief Army Unexpectedly Drew on City for Supplies.

General Headquarters of the Austrian Army, Tuesday, March 23, via Berlin and London, March 25.—The Austrian garrison of Przemysl subsisted for 134 days on provisions designed to last for eighty days. How it came about that the great fortress was supplied with only this comparatively small amount of provisions is an interesting story which shows how unforeseen events upset the calculations of the Austrians and played into the hands of the Russians.

Przemysl originally was provisioned for the extreme limit which it was thought a modern fortress technically was capable of withstanding a modern besieging army—namely, about six months. At the end of the first stage of the siege the garrison had consumed barely one month's supplies. Then came the heavy fighting between the Austrian relief army and the Russians about Przemysl.

Supply Trains Failed.

The Austrian forces, whose supply trains failed to reach them, drew on the fortress for large supplies of rations. Furthermore, the great numbers of wounded in these battles and the soldiers stricken down by cholera and other diseases could be sent nowhere else.

When railroad communication at last was restored in mid-October, the stores of the fortress had been largely depleted. The railroad was first used to forward urgently needed ammunition. Hence, when the Russian steam roller was unexpectedly set in motion

RAE TANZER HELD FOR GRAND JURY

Woman Who Sued Attorney Osborne Charged With Fraud.

New York, March 25.—Miss Rae Tanzer, who filed a $50,000 damage suit against James W. Osborne, former assistant district attorney of New York, for alleged breach of promise to marry, was held today for the action of the grand jury on the charge of using the mails to defraud.

United States Commissioner Houghton announced that he would hold Miss Tanzer following her examination today. The same bond of $5,000 furnished when the charge was preferred, several days ago, was ordered.

Miss Tanzer burst into tears when the commissioner announced his decision. She was joined by her three sisters, Rose, Dora and Ruth. David Slade, her lawyer, attempted to cheer her but she was not to be comforted and had her cry out in the court room.

SITUATION DESPERATE

Turkish Troops Massacring Assyrian Christians in Persia.

Presbyterian Mission at Urumiah Said To Be in Great Danger.

Tiflis, Wednesday, March 24, via Petrograd and via London, March 25.—Telegrams and letters reaching here from Urumiah, in Northwestern Persia, describe the situation of the American Presbyterian mission stationed there as desperate. Turkish regular troops and Kurds are persecuting and massacring Assyrian Christians.

Doctor Risks Life.

Harry P. Packard, the doctor of the missionary station at Urumiah of the board of foreign missions of the Presbyterian church, risked his life in a successful effort to prevent a frightful massacre at Geogtapa, where 3,000 Assyrians made their last stand. They had fought for three days and all their ammunition was gone. At this juncture Dr. Packard unfurled an American flag

Equinoctial Storms Prevent Resumption of Naval Bombardment.

Attack Will Be Resumed as Soon as Weather Is Better.

Russians Claim First Strategic Fruits From Przemysl Capture.

London, March 25.—Mine sweepers alone maintain naval activity in the Dardanelles, but as the equinoctial storms in those waters seldom last longer than seven days, a resumption of the bombardment is expected at any time, and may possibly take place today. It has been just one week since the last engagement.

Fruits of Capture.

Petrograd reports the first strategic fruits of the capture of the Galician fortress of Przemysl increased violence of the Russian offensive movement against the Carpathians where large captures of prisoners are claimed. The only other item of interest this morning ffrom the eastern front is the Russian claim to have pushed back the Germans on the Pilica river at a point where Field Marshal von Hindenburg, the German commander, is expected to make his new thrust against Warsaw.

On Western Front.

On the western front the Germans have made attacks at Arras and in the Champagne country, but according to official French accounts, without success.

Germany is continuing her aerial warfare on British ships, but apparently without the same measures of success which have been attending her submarine attacks on merchant men.

The diplomatic situation in the near east is still a source of keen interest to observers in London, and the impression is growing among them that Bulgaria must take the first definite step before any other Balkan state will enter the arena.

German Statement.

Berlin, March 25, by wireless to Sayville.—The official communication given out today by the German general army headquarters says:

"With the exception of unimportant engagements on the heights of the Meuse, to the southeast of Verdun, and on Hartmanns-Wellerkopf, which still continue, only artillery duels took place along the western front yesterday.

"In the eastern arena, Russian attacks to the east and to the southeast of Augustowo, near Jednorozek, and to the northeast of Przasnysz were repulsed."

French Statement.

Paris, March 25, via London, 3:40 p. m.—The French war office this afternoon gave out this report:

"In the Champagne district there was yesterday a fairly lively artillery engagement. In the neighborhood of Hill No. 196 we repulsed three German attacks. In the Argonne the German attack at Fontaine failed. At Eparges we repulsed three counter-attacks.

"On the remainder of the front there was nothing to report."

TREMENDOUS FIRE TURNED ON AIRSHIPS

British Invaders Get Away Safely Through Hail of Lead.

London, March 25.—The Rotterdam correspondent of the Daily News in describing the air raid made Wednesday by British aviators on German submarines at Hoboken, near Antwerp, says:

"Immediately after the raiders were sighted, they were subjected to a tremendous fire from all sides. From every part of Antwerp anti-aircraft guns were trained on them and shells burst all about them. Hundreds of rifle shots were fired, but the aircraft went through the hail of lead without a scratch. The noise was terrific and the whole population poured into the streets to witness the spectacle.

"The airmen dropped to within 300 feet of their objective before letting fall the bombs. Nearly every bomb took effect, completely destroying one submarine, and badly damaging others."

KARLSRUHE HIT A REEF

Further Verification That German Cruiser Has Gone Down.

American Sailor Says Part of Crew Is at Bremerhaven.

New York, March 25.—German naval officers at Bremerhaven are quoted by Jesse Boyd as authority for the statement that the cruiser Karlsruhe lies at the bottom of the sea in the West Indies. Boyd, second officer of the American steamer Carib that was sunk by a mine in the North sea, reached here today from Rotterdam aboard the steamship Rotterdam. He said he spent five days at Bremerhaven and through an old-time friend, now an officer in the German navy, obtained positive confirmation of the rumor that the Karlsruhe was no longer afloat.

She went down with the German flag flying from every mast, at her stern and bow, and as she sank the ship's band played martial music, Mr. Boyd quotes his friend as saying. A German bomb sent her to the bottom after she had struck on a reef. As the last flag dipped beneath the water German rifles fired a full salute in her honor—a salute that is fired in the burial at sea of naval officers who have fallen in the fight.

OFFICIALS SILENT ON LANGHORNE

Removal of Military Attache From Berlin Shrouded in Mystery.

Washington, March 25.—War department officials continued their silence today on the reasons for the recall of Major Langhorne, military attache at Berlin, and the case still is shrouded in mystery.

In the absence of Secretary Garrison, acting Secretary Breckinridge would not comment on a published report that the major was recalled because it was discovered that his name was being signed to false dispatches, with intention of having the statements they contained fall into the hands of the allies while the dispatches were in transit by wireless. The report said the United States decided the recall of the major was the best way of solving the situation.

MAY IT REST IN PEACE.

SUMMARY OF THE WAR NEWS

Advices from Petrograd and Berlin today indicate that the struggle in Northern Poland is drawing toward a decisive stage. The Germans, who have been attempting to pierce the Russian line at Ossowetz, are endeavoring to prevent the Russians from advancing to the north and south of the fortress and interposing troops between it and the Prussian border. The official communication from Berlin today states that Russian attacks in this region were repulsed. Petrograd asserts that considerable progress has been made.

Another lull has come along the western battle front. There was spirited artillery fighting yesterday, but only small movements of infantry were attempted.

Dispatches from English sources, based on stories of refugees from the Dardanelles, say that the Turks suffered great losses during the bombardment of March 18.

The battle in the Carpathians has developed into the important phase of the land fighting now in progress on either front. Thus far there are no definite indications which side is gaining the upper hand in the encounter which may decide the mastery of the Carpathian passes, the gateways to Hungary.

A dispatch from Athens says the Turks are fortifying positions near Adrianople in fear of an attack by Bulgaria.

Fighting in Belgium is becoming active once more and it is suggested in London that the Germans have determined on another attempt to break through the allied lines on this section.

HIGH SCHOOL BOYS ENTERTAIN "DADS"

Fathers and Sons Express Views; Good Program Given By Club.

The Boys' Club of the R. E. Denfeld high school entertained at a banquet in the school last evening in honor of their "dads." The affair was attended by about 120 sons and fathers.

The program consisted of short talks from boys and their "dads" as well as several musical selections. The supper was served at 7:30 o'clock by twenty girls of the high school.

Stanley Allen was toastmaster. The address of welcome was given by Hugh Myles, and a short talk on "Our Club" was given by E. D. Briggs. Rolland Clark gave a neat little talk on "The Kind of a Dad a Boy Likes," and this was responded to by Watson S. Moore, who spoke on "The Kind of a Boy a Dad Likes."

S. A. Foster, principal of the school, Norman D. McLeod, secretary of the boys' department of the Y. M. C. A., and J. R. Batchelor, physical director of the boys' department, Dr. I. T. Burnside, William Perrin and others gave short talks.

WILL DISCUSS GARDEN CONTESTS.

The question of whether or not the West Duluth Commercial club shall have charge of a garden contest this year, will probably be brought up at the meeting of the club tomorrow evening. Sentiment as to conducting a contest for the children of the schools appears to be divided.

Some of the members believe that if such a contest is conducted, it should be carried out by each of the schools independent of the club. These men say that any such contest would have the moral support of the club members, and that the club would do all in its power to make such contests a success. Such contests are said to be contemplated in some of the districts.

The club will hold its regular monthly social meeting tomorrow night. Each member is expected to bring a friend to spend the evening. An informal program will be given.

SETTLES CASE FOR $75.

Passenger in Auto Bus Dismisses His Suit for Damages.

When an auto bus owned by Emil Otalich and operating between West Duluth and Gary ran into the ditch on Dec. 7 last, Ostaja Tomasovich, a passenger, was thrown out and injured. He had paid 25 cents for his ride.

Yesterday afternoon Tomasovich collected $75 from Otalich in settlement of his personal injury claim.

The settlement resulted in a dismissal of the suit which was brought to trial in Judge Ensign's division of the district court by Tomasovich yesterday afternoon. Tomasovich demanded $1,000.

After the jury had been selected, the litigants agreed upon a settlement of the claim for $75, after which John H. Norton, plaintiff's attorney, moved for a dismissal of the case on its merits.

R. M. Goldberg appeared as attorney for the defendant.

CURLERS WILL PLAY "JUST ONE MORE" EVENT

If the weather remains as cold this afternoon as it was this morning members of the Western Curling club will play the final event of the season at the club tonight. The event will be a contest for a box of cigars donated by George J. Mallory.

Mr. Mallory is celebrating his birthday anniversary today. Every March 25, since the organization of the club, when ice for curling has been available, this birthday event has been one of the features and brought out many of the members.

Frank H. Wade, president of the club, stated this morning that the thaw of the last week has had little effect on the foundation of the ice. As soon as it began to get cold last night several members of the club hurried to the rink and swept off what loose water there was and this morning the four sheets were said to be in fairly good condition. With the continued cold throughout the day the members expect excellent ice for the contest tonight.

Olaf Peterson Dies.

Olaf A. Peterson, age 59, a resident of Thompson for a number of years, died yesterday afternoon at his home following an illness of a few weeks. He is survived by a widow, five sons and five daughters. They are Carl H., Ernest, Walfred, David, Vernon Peterson, Mrs. Hilda M. Wright, Mrs. Selma Englund and Misses Edna, Matilda and Amanda Peterson.

The body was brought this morning to the Bell Bros.' undertaking rooms, 425 Central avenue, from where funeral services will be held Saturday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock. Services will be held at 2 o'clock at the Third Swedish Baptist church, Fifty-ninth avenue and Ramsey street. Interment will be in Oneota cemetery.

HOME TREATMENT OF WHITE PLAGUE FAILS

State Official Urges More General Use of County Sanatoriums.

Home care of tuberculosis is a failure, according to Dr. A. J. Chesley, director of the division of preventable diseases, Minnesota state board of health, who urges a more general use of the county sanatoriums.

"Because most of us are not millionaires, home care of tuberculosis is a failure in most homes, says Dr. Chesley. "Most of us, from mere lack of cash, cannot give afflicted members of our families the best rest, food and outdoor treatment at home. These are their only hope, and only the best of these are good enough in this disease, and only rich people can get these at their best at home. Furthermore, the danger of spread of infection to others at home is appalling. Dr. H. G. Lampson, investigating the disease in five counties in Minnesota, found 75 per cent of the other members of the family were infected directly from the sick one, when home care was attempted in advanced stages."

STATE HIGH SCHOOL EXAMINATIONS

Rural schools throughout Minnesota are today conducting the first of the 1915 state high school board examinations prescribed by the state department of education. In St. Louis county, according to N. A. Young, county superintendent, the examinations are being held in about 120 schools. The examinations will be resumed tomorrow.

The schedule is as follows:

Today—Spelling, English grammar and American history.

Tomorrow—Arithmetic, eighth grade composition and geography.

Eighth grade pupils are eligible to take examinations in all subjects. Seventh grade pupils are eligible to take examinations only in geography and spelling.

The second of the state high school board examinations will begin May 31.

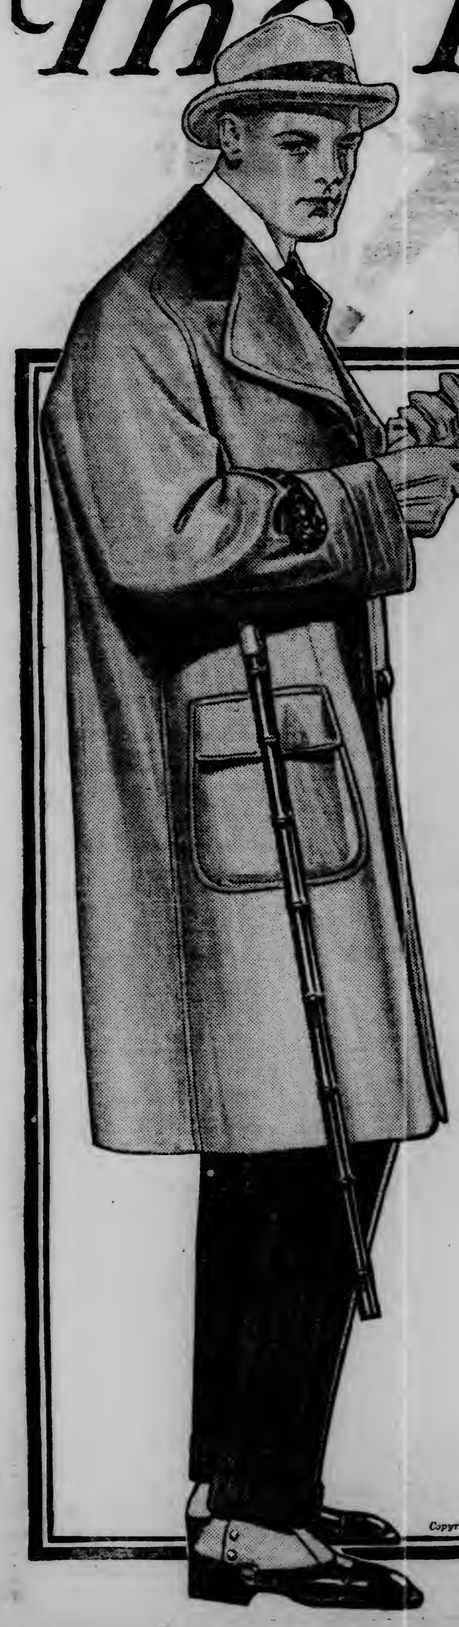
The Klavicle
(By the House of Kuppenheimer)



FORTUNATE man—if your dealer can supply you with a genuine KLAVICLE Spring Overcoat, under the actual Kuppenheimer trade-name and trade-mark, as exclusively designed and tailored by this great House.

The KLAVICLE, as first created and introduced by the House of Kuppenheimer, became at once the sensation of the overcoat world.

It is the most widely imitated overcoat style in America—there being endless attempts or variations in the way of copying the style or the name.

The Kuppenheimer KLAVICLE is a superb coat as interpreted for Spring, with silk yoke and sleeve lining and light skeleton treatment inside.

Its great feature is the absence of all seams in back and arm-hole. The entire sleeves and back cut from one piece of cloth—making a perfect draping, roomy coat that doesn't bind the arms or shoulders—a military idea based upon the Cavalryman's cape.

It has wide collar and lapel, full soft roll; the front buttons through. There are outside patch pockets with flaps.

You must try on this coat to realize how becoming it is, what a dash it has of its own, and how it separates itself from many loose models and "slip-over" coats offered so generally this Spring.

RATES NEED ADJUSTMENT

Railroad Men Continue Arguments for Increase Before Commissioner.

Compare All Rail Haul With That of Lake and Rail.

Chicago, March 25.—Freight rates on coal from Eastern fields shipped West via the Great Lakes, were compared with rates on coal shipped from points in and west of Indiana at the interstate commerce commission hearing of the forty-one western railroads petition for higher rates.

F. B. Townsend, traffic manager of the Minneapolis & St. Louis railroad, testified that the competition caused by the lake movement had been so keen in recent years that the western rates had been reduced until now coal hauling on western roads is unremunerative. His testimony dealt with coal rate adjustments from Illinois and in Indiana mines to destinations in Iowa, Minnesota and South Dakota.

"Since 1901," said Mr. Townsend, "there has been a gradual reduction in western coal rates. The proposed advance of 10 cents a ton would not restore the rates to their former basis. For instance, the rate from Peoria to Hanley Falls, Minn., in 1901 was $3 a ton. In 1906 it declined to $2.80 and has remained there since. Thus the proposed advance would still be ten cents under the rate of 1901.

To Meet Lake Rates.

"The present adjustment to Eastern Iowa and Southern Minnesota originated with the adjustment to the Twin Cities and the desire on the part of the Illinois lines to reach that market in competition with Eastern coal moving from the docks at Duluth and Superior. The latter ports receive annually from 7,000,000 to 9,000,000 tons of soft coal shipped into Minnesota, South Dakota and Northern Iowa.

"Prior to 1889 the rate on soft coal from Northern Illinois to the Twin Cities was $2 and from Duluth $1. These rates were gradually reduced by force of competition between the carriers from Northern Illinois and the carriers from Duluth to the Twin Cities, until the rate finally settled in 1904 to $1.40 from Northern Illinois and 90 cents from Duluth to the Twin Cities. This continued and became the maximum at intermediate points until 1910, when a general advance of 10 cents was made in rates from Northern Illinois to intermediate territory in Iowa and Minnesota, but no advance in the Duluth-Twin Cities rate was made, pending decision by the United States supreme court in the Minnesota rate case.

New Distance Tariff.

"After that decision and upon the passage of the new rate law in Minnesota, the Minnesota state commission prescribed a new distance tariff under which the rate from Duluth to the Twin Cities was advanced to 96 cents per ton and following this the Northern Illinois rate was advanced to $1.50 a ton.

"It is now proposed to advance the rates from Northern Illinois to this territory generally 10 cents a ton with corresponding advances from the various coal fields in Southern Illinois and Indiana, rates from which are fixed on a differential over the rates from Northern Illinois. No advance will be made in rates from Lake Michigan ports to the same territory. We also propose an advance of 10 cents to the western half of Iowa, Western Minnesota and South Dakota east of the Missouri river.

"The rates from Southern Illinois and Indiana are adjusted by the addition of differentials to rates as fixed from Northern Illinois. These differentials are fixed largely to meet commercial conditions and do not represent the increased cost of service. From La Salle, Ill., to St. Paul, for instance, 378 miles, the rate is $1.50. From Herrin, in the Southern Illinois field, the rate to St. Paul is made by the addition of 70 cents over the La Salle rate, making only $2.20 for 649 miles, as against $1.50 for 378 miles."

ALL BATHING SUITS WILL BE CENSORED

Regulations Will Affect Suits for Both Men and Women—Police-Woman to Rule Conduct of Women Bathers.

Probable Ruling on Bathing Suits for Duluth.

Women—Two-piece skirted suits; one-piece bloomer suit of woven material, and knit suits with skirts, are the only types of bathing costume to be recommended.

Men—All men's suits must be provided with a small skirt of proper length. They should be of dark colored material, as white suits will not be allowed.

Bathing suits for men and women and the conduct of women will be censored at the new Fairmont park beach, which will be opened during the middle of July.

Park Manager Henry Cleveland said this morning that the committee of six Duluth women will decide on the above suggestions and that he will recommend skirts for men's suits. Similar rulings have been made in Minneapolis and Chicago; he said, and should be followed here.

In addition, a policewoman will be appointed to take charge of the women's department at the beach, where she will also look after the conduct of the women bathers and see that their costumes comply with the regulations. Too gaudy, too abbreviated, too low-cut and white suits will all be prohibited. Men will also be barred from wearing white suits. A man will be in charge of the other division, and both officials will have to be good swimmers, Mr. Cleveland said.

Within the next few weeks Mr. Cleveland plans to order about 100 bathing suits for use at the beach. Bathers, however, can bring their own costumes, but these must comply with the regulations decided on by the committee of Duluth women, who are now being selected by Mr. Cleveland.

Work on the beach will begin just as soon as the frost is out of the ground and Mr. Cleveland expects to have the beach ready for use by next July. In addition, he will improve Pulaski street, from its intersection with Seventy-fifth avenue, so that automobiles will be able to drive right into the park and at the rear of the beach.

JITNEY JOKE MAKES ITS APPEARANCE

The jitney joke is the latest form of comedy to get into the spotlight, and the Ford car is no longer taking the leading role. Count that day lost when no new jitney joke is sprung.

Sam Miller, former agent for the Saxon car here, but who now is employed at the American Exchange bank, left his little Saxon on Third avenue between Superior and Michigan streets yesterday afternoon. While he was in the bank the jitney joker appeared. Having improvised a large sign, he posted the following inscription on Miller's car:

"Jitney Bus, Fare 3 Cents."

MODERN WOODMEN HOLD BIG MEETING

Nearly 500 Members From This Part of State Hear Head Clerk.

James McNamara of Rock Island, Ill., head clerk of the Modern Woodmen of America, was the guest of honor at a gathering of nearly 500 members of the order held last night at the Woodman hall, Twenty-first avenue west and First street. The gathering followed a class of instruction conducted for the clerks of camps of Northeastern Minnesota, held yesterday afternoon at the Lenox hotel.

Mr. McNamara was one of the principal speakers at the meeting. He spoke on the condition of the Woodmen as being now the best in their history and complimented the membership of this section of the country for its co-operation.

Representatives from every camp of this section of the state were present. Among the speakers were John W. Sundeen of Minneapolis, state deputy of the order; Mayor W. I. Prince, who delivered an address of welcome; C. E. Dice and John H. Norton.

The program included music by the G. A. R. Drum corps and vocal numbers by Dr. J. G. Annand and the Orpheus Singing society. Mrs. F. P. Stevenson gave piano numbers. Refreshments were served.

NO CANDIDATE OF "FORCES OF EVIL"

Silberstein Defies Opponents to Point Out "Black Spot" in Record.

Bernard Silberstein, candidate for commissioner, challenged his opponents to point out "one black spot" in his record as a citizen of Duluth to which they might point as a reason for his being termed as a candidate of the "forces of evil," at a meeting held last night at Sloan's hall. He declared that his opponents were attempting to create the impression that he was the candidate of the evil forces of Duluth, and this he emphatically denied.

Mr. Silberstein assured the voters that, if he was elected, commission form of government would get closer to the people and that a "square deal" would be the rule at the city hall. He denied the issue was one of whether the city would be "open" or "closed," but was one of good government versus partiality and destructive bigotry.

Short talks were made by M. E. Louisell and Capt. W. H. Smallwood, candidates for municipal judge.

GOOD GOVERNMENT CLUB FOR WEST END

Residents Will Meet to Organize for the City Campaign.

A "good government" club with 100 members will be organized this evening at a meeting of citizens of the West end to be held at Sloan's hall, Twentieth avenue west and Superior street. The club will work in the interest of Commissioners Hicken and Murchison and also W. L. Bernard, C. E. Evens and Judge W. L. Windom.

According to plans now being made by leaders in the organization movement, the committee of 100 members will make a thorough canvass of the West end in the interest of these candidates. Every home will be visited and each voter interviewed, according to H. T. Lundgren, one of the leaders.

Several mass meetings to be held in the interest of these candidates will be arranged.

LARGE SUM FOR GARDEN PRIZES

Contributers Will Meet to Determine Nature of Prizes for Children.

Cash and merchandise donations amounting to $116 have been secured by Dr. O. A. Oredson for prizes to be distributed among children of the West end for the cultivating of gardens this year. A meeting of those who donated the prizes will be called in the near future, in order to determine how the prizes shall be awarded.

Dr. Oredson said this morning that he had secured between 4,000 and 5,000 packages of free seeds from the agricultural department at Washington through the courtesy of Congressman Miller. These will be distributed among the children who have made requests for free seeds.

PLEAD GUILTY TO LESSER OFFENSE

Two Youths Are Paroled After Receiving Stern Lecture.

William Singsheim and Floyd W. Hurley, indicted by the March grand jury on a charge of grand larceny in the second degree, were permitted to plead guilty to a lesser offense, that of petit larceny, when they were brought before Judge Cant in district court yesterday afternoon.

They admitted the theft of four sacks of chicken feed belonging to Nelson & Peterson, West end, on Feb. 12. When brought into court a few days ago, they told the court that they wanted to plead guilty but at the same time declared that they had bought the feed from a man whom they had met on the street.

The inconsistent youths were remanded to jail by Judge Cant until they could make up their minds to tell a story which might be reconciled with their plea. The court refused to accept their plea of guilty. Yesterday they made a clean breast of the affair, and the court gave them a lecture and paroled them under Col. F. E. Resche, probation officer. Their cases were continued for sentence until Sept. 1.

"Frankness and straightforward admission of guilt," the court told the boys, "are more manly than evasive attempts to make excuses for wrongdoing, which makes wrongdoing more easy the next time."

A. G. McKnight appeared as attorney for the two young men and Mason M. Forbes, first assistant county attorney, appeared for the state.

TO DISCUSS IMPROVEMENTS.

West End Club Will Also Hear Candidates for City Offices.

The West End Hillside Improvement club will meet Friday evening at the Ensign school, Twenty-third avenue west and Tenth street. The extension of the street railway line from Twenty-third avenue and Tenth street to a point above the Miller's creek bridge at about Sixtieth street, will be discussed.

A committee of the club is said to have recently interviewed the management of the company and to have received assurances that such an improvement would be made under certain conditions. These conditions include the lowering of the grade on Piedmont avenue, between Eleventh and Twelfth street, which is said to be too steep for the operating of cars. Certain improvements would also be necessary on the west side of the creek, which include lowering of a grade at the junction of the Hermantown and Hutchinson roads, at which point the company would build its switches for turning the cars around.

It is expected that the meeting will be attended by several of the candidates for office. An invitation has been extended to them to speak before the gathering.

West End Briefs.

"House Building" will be the subject of a meeting to be held by the boys and girls of the Central Baptist church this afternoon at 4:15 o'clock. Rev. Herbert Ford of the West Duluth Baptist church will have charge of the meeting. This evening Rev. Milton Fish will speak on the "The Country Roadside."

Miss Matilda Nelson, 2225 West Fourth street, will return home Saturday from Monomonie, Wis., where she has been attending the Stout Institute of Domestic Science.

The Rebekah guild of St. Peter's Episcopal church will entertain in the church parlors this evening. The hostesses will be Mrs. Olaf Johnson, Mrs. John Olson and Mrs. W. E. Harmann.

The Young People's Society of the Swedish Baptist church will be entertained tomorrow evening at the home of Mrs. J. A. Johnson, 306 North Fortieth avenue west.

Rev. F. O. Hanson, pastor of the Trinity English Lutheran church, is expected home tomorrow afternoon from a short visit to New Ulm, Minn., and Des Moines, Iowa.

Y. M. C. A. POOL IS TESTED FOR BACTERIA

Water in the Y. M. C. A. pool has 5,000 bacteria per cubic centimeter, according to a test made by the health department.

Several days ago Physical Director Olson of the Y. M. C. A. asked the health officers to test the water in the pool, as it was planned to charge it with calcium chloride, in case a large bacteria count was discovered.

According to Health Director Webster, 5,000 bacteria to the cubic centimeter is a large count, when it is compared with five bacteria to a cubic centimeter of water drawn from an ordinary faucet of city water.

CHICKEN THIEVES GO TO STATE PENITENTIARY

Minot, N. D., March 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—Charles Wilson and Guy Norris of this city were sent to the state penitentiary for chicken thefts.

They pleaded guilty, anticipating short sentences, but Wilson was sentenced to twenty months in the penitentiary and Norris was given two and a half years. The men also were implicated in a house raiding affair at the Ben Olson home, near Minot, several months ago.

MIXING SEED GRAIN IS DECLARED UNSAFE.

Bismarck, N. D., March 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—"Don't mix your durum wheat with other breeds of wheat," is the warning note sounded to the farmers of North Dakota by State Dairy Commissioner R. F. Flint.

Commissioner Flint, in a statement, quotes a letter from a prominent Minneapolis grain buyer, who declares farmers are heavy losers through the plan of mixing grains, because when they do mix their grain they rob themselves of the premium paid for pure durum.

The greatest fault in connection with the mixing of durum comes from carelessness in handling seed grains, and Commissioner Flint advises the farmers to watch this point carefully.

QUIT SNORING

Mrs. Jaschob, 1631 Palmwood Ave., Toledo, Ohio, writes: "When I wrote you for advice I had been sick for three years, and had been treated by three doctors, but did not get well. I was very nervous and had trouble with my throat. Often I could not breathe through my nose, and had pains on both sides of it. I also had pains in the chest and a short cough. I had palpitation of the heart and internal catarrh. My appetite was poor, I was always cold, and had gurgling in the bowels. I took Peruna according to directions, and now feel that I am cured. Peruna has cured me. I have never been as fleshy as I am now, and I do all my work. The pain in the shoulder and chest is all gone. The medicine has done me much good. I shall always keep it in the house."

PARALYZED AND BLINDED IN WAR

Duluthian's Brother Terribly Wounded By a German Shell.

Bruce Patterson, engineer at the contagious hospital, and who resides at 1401 West First street, has just received a letter from his old home in Scotland, telling of the severe wounding of his brother who was at the front in France with the Gordon Highlanders. The latter was recently billetted in a hut close to the fighting line, the location, according to the usual plan, not being mentioned in the letter, and during the night a bomb or shell struck the hut demolishing it. Almost every man in the building was killed and none escaped without injury. Mr. Patterson's brother was terribly wounded. He was found under a door in the debris by the rescuing party. The sight of both eyes was entirely destroyed and his right side was wounded and paralyzed. It is expected that he will recover the use of his right side, but it is feared that he will never recover even partial sight. The young man is now at his home in Scotland.

POLK COUNTY WOULD RETAIN KNUTSON.

Crookston, Minn., March 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—Efforts are being made to retain County Agent A. R. Knutson till next fall, at least. He desired to return to his farm in Ottertail county owing to the resignation of his foreman, but his high class work and popularity among the farmers has lead to a determined movement to induce him to remain at the helm for at least one year. He has been very active in the organization of farmers' clubs, the control of hog cholera, and the organization of boys and girls' corn clubs since his arrival on the job last November.

VESSEL MEN HEAR TALKS

Weekly Lecture Course at Tomlinson Offices Ends for Season.

Wireless Explained and History of Life-Saving Service Given.

At the weekly meeting of lake captains and engineers at the offices of the Tomlinson company in the Board of Trade building yesterday afternoon, the masters in attendance listened to interesting talks by O. R. Redfern, manager of the wireless station on the hill, and Capt. M. A. McLennan, commander of the coastguard station at Duluth.

These meetings have been going on all winter, and are an innovation on the Great Lakes. Yesterday's was probably the last of the season. All have been well attended and much interest has been shown. G. A. Tomlinson, who originated the idea, has been able to obtain the best talent at the Head of the Lakes for the various lectures, which have covered technical subjects in the matter of navigation, an explanation of what the engineer can do under various circumstances, weather matters, astronomy and its value to the mariner, medical aid on board ship, explanation of a recording compass just invented by M. B. Benson of Duluth, and other subjects that proved of great interest to the shipmasters spending the winter here. The attendance has by no means been confined to the masters and engineers of the Tomlinson fleet, but practically all of those at the Head of the Lakes, from all lines, have been present regularly every Wednesday afternoon.

Yesterday, with W. A. Bourke presiding, Mr. Redfern explained the workings of the wireless, and used a large blackboard to illustrate his remarks. The closest attention was given him, and that those present grasped his ideas was shown by the many pertinent questions asked him.

Capt. McLennan confined his remarks to a brief history of the development of the coastguard service. In view of the fact that the old life-saving service and the cutter service have been combined under the name of "coastguard" only this winter, the history of the development of each was listened to with considerable interest. In brief, Capt. McLennan said:

Origin of Service.

"The Massachusetts Humane society, originally founded, in 1878, was a private benevolent society organized to furnish relief to shipwrecked sailors by building huts with life-saving equipment, on the coast of Massachusetts, and it originated its coast service thirty-six years before England organized hers. In 1847 congress made its first appropriation of $6,000 for rendering assistance to those shipwrecked on the coast. In spite of many wrecks and disasters, congress refused to make adequate provision. In 1853, a bill, providing for the increase and repairs of the stations and guardianship of the lifeboats passed the senate but failed to pass the house. In 1869 a bill providing for regular crews of surfmen was defeated in congress, which passed an inadequate bill.

"It was not until 1871 that after the passage by congress of a bill with an appropriation of $200,000 that the United States life-saving service may be said to have its birth. Sumner I. Kimball, the very able general superintendent, at that time in charge of the revenue cutter service, immediately took steps to organize and put on as good a basis as possible the life-saving service, which, at first, was a part of the revenue cutter service. From 1874 to 1880 the United States tried to carry on its life-saving service on the volunteer system, giving each man $10 on each occasion that he was required. The results were so unsatisfactory that in 1880 congress found it necessary to authorize the employment of regular crews.

In Military Matters.

"The revenue cutter service and the life-saving service grew up in one organization and that was a military service. It was fighting for the country before the navy was born, it has done military service in every war, it has acted as a signal corps, and the life-saving service, even when separated from its associate, the revenue cutter service, acted as a signal corps with great success, during the Spanish-American war.

"The two services were in one up to 1878 when Mr. Kimball decided that by separating the two branches, the life-saving service would be more efficiently organized and made more successful."

Capt. McLennan gave figures to show the work that has been done under the now discarded plan, and quoted as indicative of what may be expected under the new combined service, the total work done by the two during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1914, as follows:

Persons actually rescued from peril, 5,238; vessels assisted, 2,147; persons on board such vessels, 10,147; derelicts destroyed, 31; value of vessels assisted, including cargoes, $24,386,191; cost of maintenance and operation of the service for one year, $4,781,947. He added:

"It will be seen that for the expenditure of each dollar for the coast guard there can be expected a conservation of not less than $5.09 of property of the public. Even greater than this can be reasonably expected, and this, without taking into consideration the humanitarian feature."

ciency good-by. But, as a friend of this measure, I for one shall vote no on this motion."

"We can't indefinitely postpone a bill that is not before us," said Representative Girling.

"As a substitute, I move that the bill be recalled from the committee," said Representative Lydiard. "Then when it is before us we can act upon it."

The Funeral Interrupted.

A motion to adjourn, carried by a narrow margin, interrupted the funeral at this point.

This incident followed the conclusion of the special order on the Gordon bills, and after the seventh bill, a merry proposal to create eighty-two general inspectors to handle all the inspection work done by a vast variety of inspectors, game wardens, etc., had been voted down and then resurrected and placed on the calendar subject to amendment.

Representative Knud Wefald of Hawley made the speech that killed this bill—if it had stayed dead.

"The authors of this bill," he declared, "ought to have it copyrighted as the plot for a moving picture comedy. Imagine the lightning changes an inspector under this bill would have to go through. He would start out in the morning as a food inspector. Then he would become an inspector of weights and mensures. He would take a run out into the country to inspect a rural creamery, and dash on into the forests to put out a fire as a forest ranger. While there he would scout around awhile as a game warden, and then at night he would come back to the hotel and be a hotel inspector."

Eighty-Two General Inspectors.

The bill provides for eighty-two general inspectors, to be appointed by the governor at $1,500 each, to handle the work now done by oil inspectors, game wardens, factory inspectors, food inspectors, dairy inspectors, hotel inspectors, deputy fire marshals and inspectors of the department of weights and measures. Originally this Pooh Bah of inspectors was to be a forest ranger, too, but in a lucid interval the house adopted an amendment striking out this feature.

The debate upon it was about the only real excitement the field day for the "Seven Sutherland Sisters" furnished.

When it came up, Representative Paul W. Guilford of Minneapolis proposed to eliminate from it the game wardens and forest rangers.

Representative C. H. Warner of Aitkin, Representative Gordon's lieutenant in this fight, opposed the amendment. He said there would be plenty of inspectors to do all the work necessary. In the five districts of St. Louis, Lake and Cook counties—there is to be an inspector for each senatorial district and a few extra where the area is large—there would be eight inspectors, in Beltrami and Koochiching counties there would be three, and there would be two in the Carlton-Aitkin district. These men could perform all these duties, Mr. Warner declared, especially as game wardens and forest rangers only work part of the year.

Resented by Bessette.

Representative Fred Bessette of Orr, for four years a forest ranger, resented this. He said that he had worked every day of the year, and so had the other rangers.

"The fact that the governor would appoint these inspectors would throw the whole forest service into politics, while now it is under civil service. This seems to me to be a very ridiculous bill."

Representative Thomas Kneeland of Minneapolis, one of the authors of the efficiency bill, threw a little hot shot into the discussion.

"This bill, and these bills," he said, "are merely petty politics by petty politicians, one of whom was unable to get 24,000 votes in the whole state when he ran for governor."

Representative Gordon, assuming this to apply to himself, said that Mr. Kneeland's opinion on whether or not he was a politician was not of interest to the house.

"This bill," said Representative Dwyer of Minneapolis, "is absurd and impossible. You'd have a machinest going up into Northern Minnesota trying to put out a fire or find a section line, and he'd be lost."

"There is only one man in the United States," said Representative C. L. Sawyer of Minneapolis, "who could fill one of the jobs proposed here, and his name is Roosevelt."

The Guilford amendment was defeated, 44 to 56.

Forest Rangers Left Out.

Representative Tom J. McGrath of St. Paul tried to get the factory inspectors excepted from the bill, but his amendment was lost. The house adopted an amendment by Representative Guilford prohibiting campaign assessments being made against the inspectors, and then adopted one by Representative Pratt leaving out the forest rangers.

"As a member of the committee that framed these bills," said Representative Oscar A. Swenson of Nicollet, I am opposed to this bill. It would make a farce out of the state's inspection system."

On final passage the bill got 58 votes, 8 short of passage, with 53 against it. Representative Warner changed his vote to "no" so he could move to reconsider, but Representative McGrath made the motion immediately and asked that it be voted down. But it was carried, and Representative Warner then had the bill put on the calendar subject to amendment. Representative Gordon said that amendments would be offered that would pass the bill.

When the bill taking the control of the state capitol buildings away from the governor and putting it under the board of control came up, Representative Bjornson asked Mr. Gordon who now controls these buildings.

"The governor, I believe," said Mr. Gordon.

"Is there any reason other than a political one for the passage of this bill?" asked Mr. Bjornson.

Representative Warner said he believed the board of control could save $25,000 to $30,000 a year on the care of the two capitols.

"Are the expenses you are talking about those incurred by the present governor, or his predecessor?" asked Representative Dwyer, Democrat.

"They are the expenses of the last fiscal year," said Mr. Warner, "but I have no reason to believe that they will be decreased under the present administration."

The bill passed, 86 to 15.

Expects Senate to Kill Them.

The house, while it passed six of these bills, did not take them very seriously. It expects the senate to kill them, and would not be surprised, if the senate fails to do that, if the governor would veto them as travesty on the economy and efficiency about which there has been so much talk and so little action.

These are the bills that were passed:

1. Providing for a budget, state officers and bureau chiefs to prepare estimates of expenses to be submitted to the governor, the governor to submit the revised estimates to the legislature before Feb. 1.

2. Abolishing the game and fish commission and creating the office of state game and fish commissioner at $2,500 a year.

3. Putting the work of the hotel inspector under the dairy and food commissioner.

4. Putting the work of the fire marshal under the commissioner of insurance.

5. Giving the board of control custody of the state capitols.

6. Putting oil inspection under the dairy and food commissioner.

Representative Theodore Christianson of Lawon made an able speech for his bill abolishing the state oil inspection system, which he declared to be ineffective, expensive and unnecessary. He said that the conditions which prevailed when the office was created no longer exist, and that the department is now useful only as a political machine and is purely a parasite on the body politic. The house, however, failed to pass the bill, the vote being 59 for and 54 against, when it needed 66.

Want Interim Commission.

Just before the house adjourned Representatives Girling, Christianson and Norton offered a resolution providing for an interim commission of seven house members to study the subject of efficiency and economy and report to the next session. The committee is to continue hearings until May 1, 1916, and the appropriations committee is directed to include in the budget an appropriation of $15,000 for its expenses. The resolution is predicated upon the proposition that as it stands, with so many amendments and so much opposition, it is impossible to act on the efficiency bill at this session. It provides that if the senate takes similar action, the house committee is to act in co-operation with the senate committee.

Mr. Girling laid the resolution over by giving notice of debate.

Appropriation Bills.

The house committee on appropriations has submitted to a sub-committee all pending appropriation bills, to consider the items involved, compare them with what the senate finance committee has done, and report. The sub-committee consists of Representatives Larimore, Gordon, Burrows, Knutson and Swenson.

There will be a public hearing Tuesday afternoon before the senate committee on railroads, grain and warehouses on the Lende bill requiring the Duluth board of trade and the Minneapolis chamber of commerce to admit all applicants to membership, and forbidding them to limit the number of their members or to charge over $1,000 for membership. The bill had been introduced by the committee as a committee bill, but it was rereferred for a hearing.

STILLMAN H. BINGHAM.

Of Hastings, Who Has Introduced Bill Empowering Fourth Class Cities to Regulate the Sale of Electricity.

HAS BILL TO REGULATE SALE OF ELECTRICITY

BATTLES IN HOUSE ON WOMAN SUFFRAGE AND PROHIBITION MEASURES

Farmington, C. A. Gilman of St. Cloud and others supported the opposition.

State-Wide Prohibition.

Shortly before noon the house engaged in a similar battle over the Larimore-Davis joint resolution proposing state-wide prohibition by a constitutional amendment, with a majority report of the temperance committee against it and a minority for it. Representative Larimore, in behalf of the motion to put the bill on general orders—from whence it cannot be rescued except by a two-thirds vote to make it a special order—said that a constitutional amendment, involving a vote of the people, is the proper way to solve the liquor question. It would clear the political atmosphere. If the people are not given a right to vote on this question, it will be the issue in the next campaign, and it should be disposed of now by putting it up to the people.

Representative Levy M. Davis of Long Prairie said that with county option the state will be spotted wet and dry, and there will be innumerable blind pigs, so that the state will have all the evils and expense of the liquor traffic without the revenue. Statewide prohibition, he said, is the solution. Both Larimore and Davis voted against county option.

Representative Robert Carmichael of Farmington said the resolution was conceived in iniquity, born in sin, has lived a life of shame and should be allowed to die in the arms of its friends. It is a waste of time, he declared, to spend any more time on temperance measures at this session, and this one was introduced for political purposes.

The minority report on the Larimore resolution was defeated 54 to 60 and the majority report indefinitely postponing the bill was adopted.

Bonding Public Officials.

The house has up as a special order this afternoon Representative Elmer E. Adams' bill providing that the state shall bond all public officials at cost and the bill providing for short-term fire insurance at a pro rata of the regular annual rates plus 10 per cent.

A new county division bill came into the senate this morning, from Senator Buckler of Crookston, amending the present county division law so as to provide that only the question of division shall be submitted to the voters. If a county votes to divide, at the next general election the county seat of the new county is to be selected and officers elected. In the meantime the governor is to select a temporary county seat and a temporary county board.

Duluth Park Bills.

Senator Charles E. Adams of Duluth introduced three Duluth park bills. One authorizes Duluth to exchange park property for other property to be used for park purposes. Another allows the assessment of the cost of parks to the property immediately benefited. The third authorizes the condemnation of shore rights for park purposes.

Senator E. J. Westlake of Minneapolis this morning proposed in a resolution that the heads of state departments be given seats in the senate and a right to participate in discussions when the senate is in committee of the whole. Senator G. H. Sullivan moved that it be referred to the committee on drainage, and the senate lightly adopted the motion.

Regulating Marriages.

The house judiciary committee recommended for passage the Southwick bill regulating marriages, abolishing the common law marriage and requiring five days to intervene between the issuance of the licenses and marriage.

The Murphy-Gill bill, providing for terms of district court at Ely, was recommended to pass by the house judiciary committee.

W. G. Hegardt of the American Exchange National bank, J. W. Lyder, Jr., of the Northern National bank, and H. S. McGregor of the City National bank, all of Duluth, appeared last night before the house committee on banks in support of the bill to allow banks to act as administrators and trustees. The bill is opposed by Twin City trust companies which object to this proposed competition with them.

Workingmen's Compensation.

The senate took up as a special order shortly befores noon today the proposed amendments to the workingmen's compensation act agreed upon by representatives of labor and employers and the state labor bureau.

Senator Richard Jones of Duluth was to offer several amendments, including the following:

To include occupational diseases among the disabilities for which compensation is given.

To reduce the waiting period—before compensation is granted—from two weeks to one week.

To increase the compensation from 50 per cent of wages to 66 per cent.

Provisions of the Bill.

The principal amendments agreed upon, forming the bill before the senate today, are as follows:

Providing that any employer, as to any employe who is exempted from the present law, may, by notice given, elect to accept the provisions of the act. At present domestic servants, farm laborers and railroad employes are exempted. This will enable these employes to come in if they wish. The labor bureau says that many farmers have asked to be allowed to come in under the law, and this provision is for their benefit.

Providing that minors shall have the same power to contract, make election of remedy, make settlements and receive benefits as adult employes.

Increasing the schedule of compensation so that the maximum is $11 instead of $10 per week, and raising the minimum from $6 to $6.50.

Reducing the period of compensation for the loss of an eye and leg, or an arm and an eye, from 400 weeks to 350.

Providing that where an employe receives concurrent injuries resulting in concurrent disability, he shall receive compensation only for the injury which produces the longest period of disability. For instance, if a workman hurts his hand and loses a foot, he will be compensated only for the loss of his foot.

THAT TIRED FEELING

Relieved by Hood's Sarsaparilla, Which Renovates the Blood.

That tired feeling that comes to you in the spring, year after year, is a sign that your blood lacks vitality, just as pimples, boils and other eruptions are signs that it is impure; and it is also a sign that your system is in a low or run-down condition inviting disease. It is a warning, which it is wise to heed.

Ask your druggist for Hood's Sarsaparilla. This old standard tried and true blood medicine relieves that tired feeling. It cleanses the blood, gives new life, new courage, strength and cheerfulness. It makes the rich red blood that will make you feel, look, eat and sleep better.

Be sure to get Hood's, because it is the best. There is no other combination of roots, barks and herbs like it—no real substitute for it—no "just-as-good" medicine.

ITCHING BURNING SKIN IN TROUBLE

Scratched and It Would Burn and Hurt. Spread Larger and Larger. Used Cuticura Soap and Ointment. In Two Weeks Well.

Joppa, Ill.—"I was annoyed both day and night by itching and burning on my leg. The trouble broke out with a rash something like heat, was raw and began to get worse. It itched very badly. I would scratch until the blood would come and then Oh! how it would burn and hurt. It began to spread larger and larger. It would hurt when my clothing touched it.

"I tried several remedies, such as ——— Salve, ———, etc., without success. I had this trouble about ten months before I began to use Cuticura Soap and Ointment. First I would wash the affected parts with Cuticura Soap and then apply the Cuticura Ointment. In two months I was completely well and it has not returned." (Signed) Roscoe Taylor, July 9, 1914.

Cuticura Soap to cleanse and purify and Cuticura Ointment to soothe and heal are most effective toilet preparations.

VILLA ORDERS A MORATORIUM

Suspends Payments for Three Months in Some Parts of Mexico.

El Paso, March 25.—A three months' moratorium suspending the payment of all notes, mortgages and other evidence of indebtedness has been declared throughout the territory of the Villa government. The decree, which was signed by Gen. Villa in Monterey, March 19, was made public in Chihuahua by Francisco Escudero, minister of finance.

Under the terms of the decree, banks are permitted to take legal steps for the protection of their loans by bringing proceedings for the attachment of property of debtors, but no sale of property under court order may be held until after the expiration of the three months stipulated in the decree. All sales already ordered under court decree are postponed for three months.

The Bank of Chihuahua, the official bank of the northern government, is exempted from the operation of the decree.

In promulgating the moratorium, Gen. Villa takes occasion to justify the action as a measure of social defense and for the protection of business interests. The general points to the fact that similar action has been taken in France, Argentina and other countries where conditions are no worse than in Mexico today.

BRAKEMEN FOUND DEAD ON TOP OF CAR.

Denton, Tex., March 25.—The bodies of Joe Jackson and John W. Ryan, brakemen on the Missouri, Kansas & Texas railroad, were found here early today on top of a freight car. Both had been shot and their pockets rifled. Three white men, strangers here, have been detained as suspicious characters. The dead men's homes were at Denison, Tex.

HAD SUPPLIES FOR GERMAN CRUISERS.

London, March 25.—A Reuter dispatch from Madrid says the correspondent of that company at Las Palmas, Canary islands, telegraphs that nothing has been heard of the interned German liner Macedonia since she slipped out of the harbor there March 15, but it is reported that she has sailed in the direction of South America to recoal and reprovision German cruisers.

VICE TRUST DIVIDED $1,250,000 A YEAR.

New York, March 25.—Mortch Goldberg, whose arraignment was on the calendar today in the court of special sessions, is accused of being an official of a vice trust which maintained more than forty resorts in this city, controlled nearly 2,000 inmates and divided $1,250,000 a year profits. The district attorney's office claims to have evidence that this alleged combine paid nearly $400,000 a year to the police for protection.

DETECTIVES SEARCH FOR MISSING AVIATOR.

Chicago, March 25.—Detectives have begun a search for J. B. Roberts, 54, an amateur aviator of New York, who disappeared March 11, after cashing a check for $1,073. W. H. Neeper, president of the French Aeroplane company, whose guest Roberts had been, informed the police of his friend's disappearance after receiving a letter, apparently written by a woman and signed "J. L."

The letter said that Roberts had been found in an alley severely beaten and unconscious, robbed of his watch and pocketbook, but possessed of two $500 bills, one in his hat and the other in a shoe. The writer of the letter said: "We recognized him as a brother in our lodge and we are caring for him."

Mr. Neeper said he feared there was a plot against Roberts.

Nominated in Ashland.

Ashland, Wis., March 25.—Stanley Smith and James Phillips will fight it out between now and April 6 to see who will serve the citizens of Ashland for the next six years as commissioner. Smith and Phillips went through the primaries, with eight candidates in the field, with 1,721 votes cast, neck and neck, Smith getting 361 votes and Phillips 358.

Wounding of Prince Denied.

Munich, via London, March 25.—The report which has been circulated abroad that Crown Prince Rupprecht of Bavaria has been seriously wounded by a shell, is officially denied.

No Session of Committee.

Washington, March 25.—No session of the senate ship bill lobby committee was held today because of misunderstandings among witnesses as to the time they were to appear. The next session will be held Saturday when Col. Roosevelt may testify.

PARALYZED AND BLINDED IN WAR

Duluthian's Brother Terribly Wounded By a German Shell.

Bruce Patterson, engineer at the contagious hospital, and who resides at 1401 West First street, has just received a letter from his old home in Scotland, telling of the severe wounding of his brother who was at the front in France with the Gordon Highlanders. The latter was recently bliletted in a hut close to the fighting line, the location, according to the usual plan, not being mentioned in the letter, and during the night a bomb or shell struck the hut demolishing it. Almost every man in the building was killed and none escaped without injury. Mr. Patterson's brother was terribly wounded. He was found under a door in the debris by the rescuing party. The sight of both eyes was entirely destroyed and his right side was wounded and paralyzed. It is expected that he will recover the use of his right side, but it is feared that he will never recover even partial sight. The young man is now at his home in Scotland.

POLK COUNTY WOULD RETAIN KNUTSON.

Crookston, Minn., March 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—Efforts are being made to retain County Agent A. R. Knutson till next fall, at least. He desired to return to his farm in Otter-tail county owing to the resignation of his foreman, but his high class work and popularity among the farmers has lead to a determined movement to induce him to remain at the helm for at least one year. He has been very active in the organization of farmers' clubs, the control of hog cholera, and the organization of boys and girls' corn clubs since his arrival on the job last November.

VESSEL MEN HEAR TALKS

Weekly Lecture Course at Tomlinson Offices Ends for Season.

Wireless Explained and History of Life-Saving Service Given.

At the weekly meeting of lake captains and engineers at the offices of the Tomlinson company in the Board of Trade building yesterday afternoon, the masters in attendance listened to interesting talks by O. R. Redfern, manager of the wireless station on the hill, and Capt. M. A. McLennan, commander of the coastguard station at Duluth.

These meetings have been going on all winter, and are an innovation on the Great Lakes. Yesterday's was probably the last of the season. All have been well attended and much interest has been shown. G. A. Tomlinson, who originated the idea, has been able to obtain the best talent at the Head of the Lakes for the various lectures, which have covered technical subjects in the matter of navigation, an explanation of what the engineer can do under various circumstances, weather matters, astronomy and its value to the mariner, medical aid on board ship, explanation of a recording compass just invented by M. B. Benson of Duluth, and other subjects that proved of great interest to the shipmasters spending the winter here. The attendance has by no means been confined to the masters and engineers of the Tomlinson fleet, but practically all of those at the Head of the Lakes, from all lines, have been present regularly every Wednesday afternoon.

Yesterday, with W. A. Bourke presiding, Mr. Redfern explained the workings of the wireless, and used a large blackboard to illustrate his remarks. The closest attention was given him, and that those present grasped his ideas was shown by the many pertinent questions asked him.

Capt. McLennan continued his remarks to a brief history of the development of the coastguard service. In view of the fact that the old life-saving service and the cutter service have been combined under the name of "coastguard" only this winter, the history of the development of each was listened to with considerable interest. In brief, Capt. McLennan said:

Origin of Service.

"The Massachusetts Humane society, originally founded, in 1878, was a private benevolent society organized to furnish relief to shipwrecked sailors by building huts with life-saving equipment, on the coast of Massachusetts, and it originated its coast service thirty-six years before England organized hers. In 1847 congress made its first appropriation of $5,000 for rendering assistance to those shipwrecked on the coast. In spite of many wrecks and disasters, congress refused to make adequate provision. In 1853, a bill, providing for the increase and repairs of the stations and guardianship of the lifeboats passed the senate but failed to pass the house. In 1869 a bill providing for regular crews of surfmen was defeated in congress, which passed an inadequate bill.

"It was not until 1871 that after the passage by congress of a bill with an appropriation of $200,000 that the United States life-saving service may be said to have its birth. Sumner I. Kimball, the very able general superintendent, at that time in charge of the revenue cutter service, immediately took steps to organize and put on as good a basis as possible the life-saving service, which, at first, was a part of the revenue cutter service. From 1874 to 1880 the United States tried to carry on its life-saving service on the volunteer system, giving each man $10 on each occasion that he was required. The results were so unsatisfactory that in 1850 congress found it necessary to authorize the employment of regular crews.

In Military Matters.

"The revenue cutter service and the life-saving service grew up in one organization and that was a military service. It was fighting for the country before the navy was born, it has done military service in every war, it has served as a signal corps, and the life-saving service, even when separated from its associate, the revenue cutter service, acted as a signal corps with great success, during the Spanish-American war.

"The two services were in one up to 1878 when Mr. Kimball decided that by separating the two branches, the life-saving service would be more efficiently organized and made more successful."

Capt. McLennan gave figures to show the work that has been done under the now discarded plan, and quoted as indicative of what may be expected under the new combined service, the total work done by the two during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1914, as follows:

Persons actually rescued from peril, 5,238; vessels assisted, 2,147; persons on board such vessels, 10,147; derelicts destroyed, 31; value of vessels assisted, including cargoes, $21,386,191; cost of maintenance and operation of the service for one year, $4,781,947. He added:

"It will be seen that for the expenditure of each dollar for the coast guard there can be expected a conservation of not less than $5.09 of property of the public. Even greater than this can be reasonably expected, and this, without taking into consideration the humanitarian feature."

ciency good-by. But, as a friend of this measure, I for one shall vote no on this motion."

"We can't indefinitely postpone a bill that is not before us," said Representative Girling.

"As a substitute, I move that the bill be recalled from the committee," said Representative Lydiard. "Then when it is before us we can act upon it."

The Funeral Interrupted.

A motion to adjourn, carried by a narrow margin, interrupted the funeral at this point.

This incident followed the conclusion of the special order on the Gordon bills, and after the seventh bill, a merry proposal to create eighty-two general inspectors to handle all the inspection work done by a vast variety of inspectors, game wardens, etc., had been voted down and then resurrected and placed on the calendar subject to amendment.

Representative Knud Wefald of Hawley made the speech that killed this bill—if it had stayed dead.

"The authors of this bill," he declared, "ought to have it copyrighted as the plot for a moving picture comedy. Imagine the lightning changes an inspector under this bill would have to go through. He would start out in the morning as a food inspector. Then he would become an inspector of weights and measures. He would take a run out into the country to inspect a rural creamery, and dash on into the forests to put out a fire as a forest ranger. While there he would scout around awhile as a game warden, and then at night he would come back to the hotel and be a hotel inspector."

Eighty-Two General Inspectors.

The bill provides for eighty-two general inspectors, to be appointed by the governor at $1,500 each, to handle the work now done by oil inspectors, game wardens, factory inspectors, food inspectors, deputy fire marshals and inspectors of the department of weights and measures. Originally this Pooh Bah of inspectors was to be a forest ranger, too, but in a lucid interval the house adopted an amendment striking out this feature.

The debate upon it was about the only real excitement the field day for the "Seven Sutherland Sisters" furnished.

When it came up, Representative Paul W. Guilford of Minneapolis proposed to eliminate from it the game wardens and forest rangers.

Representative C. H. Warner of Aitkin, Representative Gordon's lieutenant in this fight, opposed the amendment. He said there would be plenty of inspectors to do all the work necessary. In the five districts of St. Louis, Lake and Cook counties—there is to be an inspector for each senatorial district and a few extra where the area is large—there would be eight inspectors, in Beltrami and Koochiching counties there would be three, and there would be two in the Carlton-Aitkin district. These men could perform all these duties, Mr. Warner declared, especially as game wardens and forest rangers only work part of the year.

Resented by Bessette.

Representative Fred Bessette of Orr, for four years a forest ranger, resented this. He said that he had worked every day of the year, and so had the other rangers.

"The fact that the governor would appoint these inspectors would throw the whole forest service into politics, while now it is under civil service. This seems to me to be a very ridiculous bill."

Representative Thomas Kneeland of Minneapolis, one of the authors of the efficiency bill, threw a little hot shot into the discussion.

"This bill, and these bills," he said, "are merely petty politics by petty politicians, one of whom was unable to get 24,000 votes in the whole state when he ran for governor."

Representative Gordon, assuming this to apply to himself, said that Mr. Kneeland's opinion on whether or not he was a politician was not of interest to the house.

"This bill," said Representative Dwyer of Minneapolis, "is absurd and impossible. You'd have a machinist going up into Northern Minnesota trying to put out a fire or find a section line, and he'd be lost."

"There is only one man in the United States," said Representative C. L. Sawyer of Minneapolis, "who could fill one of the jobs proposed here, and his name is Roosevelt."

The Guilford amendment was defeated, 44 to 56.

Forest Rangers Left Out.

Representative Tom J. McGrath of St. Paul tried to get the factory inspectors excepted from the bill, but his amendment was lost. The house adopted an amendment by Representative Guilford prohibiting canvassing assessments being made against the inspectors, and then adopted one by Representative Pratt leaving out the forest rangers.

"As a member of the committee that framed these bills," said Representative Oscar A. Swenson of Nicollet, "I am opposed to this bill. It would make a farce out of the state's inspection system."

On final passage the bill got 58 votes, 8 short of passage, with 53 against it. Representative Warner changed his vote to "no" so he could move to reconsider, but Representative McGrath made the motion immediately and asked that it be voted down. But it was carried, and Representative Warner then had the bill put on the calendar subject to amendment. Representative Gordon said that amendments would be offered that would pass the bill.

When the bill taking the control of the state capitol buildings away from the governor and putting it under the board of control came up, Representative Bjornson asked Mr. Gordon who now controls these buildings.

"The governor, I believe," said Mr. Gordon.

"Is there any reason other than a political one for the passage of this bill?" asked Mr. Bjornson.

Representative Warner said he believed the board of control could save $25,000 to $30,000 a year on the care of the two capitols.

"Are the expenses you are talking about those incurred by the present governor, or his predecessor?" asked Representative Dwyer, Democrat.

"They are the expenses of the last fiscal year," said Mr. Warner, "but I have no reason to believe that they will be decreased under the present administration."

The bill passed, 86 to 15.

Expects Senate to Kill Them.

The house, while it passed six of these bills, did not take them very seriously. It expects the senate to kill them, and would not be surprised, if the senate fails to do that, if the governor would veto them as travesty on the economy and efficiency about which there has been so much talk and so little action.

These are the bills that were passed:

1. Providing for a budget, state officers and bureau chiefs to prepare estimates of expenses to be submitted to the governor, the governor to submit the revised estimates to the legislature before Feb. 1.

2. Abolishing the game and fish commission and creating the office of state game and fish commissioner at $2,500 a year.

3. Putting the work of the hotel inspector under the dairy and food commissioner.

4. Putting the work of the fire marshal under the commissioner of insurance.

5. Giving the board of control custody of the state capitols.

6. Putting oil inspection under the dairy and food commissioner.

Representative Theodore Christianson of Dawson made an able speech for his bill abolishing the state oil inspection system, which he declared to be ineffective, expensive and unnecessary. He said that the conditions which prevailed when the office was created no longer exist, and that the department is now useful only as a political machine and is purely a parasite on the body politic. The house, however, failed to pass the bill, the vote being 59 for and 54 against, when it needed 66.

Want Interim Commission.

Just before the house adjourned Representatives Girling, Christianson and Norton offered a resolution providing for an interim commission of seven house members to study the subject of efficiency and economy and report to the next session. The committee is to continue hearings until May 1, 1916, and the appropriations committee is directed to include in the budget an appropriation of $15,000 for its expenses. The resolution is predicated upon the proposition that as it stands, with so many amendments and so much opposition, it is impossible to act on the efficiency bill at this session. It provides that if the senate takes similar action, the house committee is to act in co-operation with the senate committee.

Mr. Girling laid the resolution over by giving notice of debate.

Appropriation Bills.

The house committee on appropriations has submitted to a sub-committee all pending appropriation bills, to consider the items involved, compare them with what the senate finance committee has done, and report. The sub-committee consists of Representatives Larimore, Gordon, Burrows, Knutson and Swenson.

* * *

There will be a public hearing Tuesday afternoon before the senate committee on railroads, grain and warehouses on the Lende bill requiring the Duluth board of trade and Minneapolis chamber of commerce to admit all applicants to membership, and forbidding them to limit the number of their members or to charge over $1,000 for memberships. The bill had been introduced by the committee as a committee bill, but it was rereferred for a hearing.

BATTLES IN HOUSE ON WOMAN SUFFRAGE AND PROHIBITION MEASURES

Farmington, C. A. Gilman of St. Cloud and others supported the opposition.

State-Wide Prohibition.

Shortly before noon the house engaged in a similar battle over the Larimore-Davis joint resolution proposing state-wide prohibition by a constitutional amendment, with a majority report of the temperance committee against it and a minority for it. Representative Larimore, in behalf of the motion to put the bill on general orders—from whence it cannot be rescued except by a two-thirds vote to make it a special order—said that a constitutional amendment, involving a vote of the people, is the proper way to solve the liquor question. It would clear the political atmosphere. If the people are not given a right to vote on this question, it will be the issue in the next campaign, and it should be disposed of now by putting it up to the people.

Representative Levy M. Davis of Long Prairie said that with county option the state will be spotted wet and dry, and there will be innumerable blind pigs, so that the state will have all the evils and expense of the liquor traffic without the revenue. Statewide prohibition, he said, is the solution. Both Larimore and Davis voted against county option.

Representative Robert Carmichael of Farmington said the resolution was conceived in iniquity, born in sin, has lived a life of shame and should be allowed to die 'in the arms of its friends. It is a waste of time, he declared, to spend any more time on temperance measures at this session, and this one was introduced for political purposes.

The minority report on the Larimore resolution was defeated 54 to 60 and the majority report indefinitely postponing the bill was adopted.

Bonding Public Officials.

The house has up as a special order this afternoon Representative Elmer E. Adams' bill providing that the state shall bond all public officials at cost and the bill providing for short-term fire insurance at a pro rata of the regular annual rates plus 10 per cent.

* * *

A new county division bill came into the senate this morning, from Senator Buckler of Crookston, amending the present county division law so as to provide that only the question of division shall be submitted to the voters. If a county votes to divide, at the next general election the county seat of the new county is to be selected and officers elected. In the meantime the governor is to select a temporary county seat and a temporary county board.

Duluth Park Bills.

Senator Charles E. Adams of Duluth introduced three Duluth park bills. One authorizes Duluth to exchange park property for other property to be used for park purposes. Another allows the assessment of the cost of parks to the property immediately benefited. The third authorizes the condemnation of shore rights for park purposes.

* * *

Senator E. J. Westlake of Minneapolis this morning proposed in a resolution that the heads of state departments be given seats in the senate and a right to participate in discussions when the senate is in committee of the whole. Senator G. H. Sullivan moved that it be referred to the committee on drainage, and the senate lightly adopted the motion.

Regulating Marriages.

The house judiciary committee recommended for passage the Southwick bill regulating marriages, abolishing the common law marriage and requiring five days to intervene between the issuance of the licenses and marriage.

* * *

The Murphy-Gill bill, providing for terms of district court at Ely, was recommended to pass by the house judiciary committee.

* * *

W. G. Hegardt of the American Exchange National bank, J. W. Lyder, Jr., of the Northern National bank, and H. S. McGregor of the City National bank, all of Duluth, appeared last night before the house committee on banks in support of the bill to allow banks to act as administrators and trustees. The bill is opposed by Twin City trust companies which object to this proposed competition with them.

Workingmen's Compensation.

The senate took up as a special order shortly befores noon today the proposed amendments to the workingmen's compensation act agreed upon by representatives of labor and employers and the state labor bureau.

Senator Richard Jones of Duluth was to offer several amendments, including the following:

To include occupational diseases among the disabilities for which compensation is given.

To reduce the waiting period—before compensation is granted—from two weeks to one week.

To increase the compensation from 50 per cent of wages to 66 per cent.

Provisions of the Bill.

The principal amendments agreed upon, forming the bill before the senate today, are as follows:

Providing that any employer, as to any employe who is exempted from the present law, may, by notice given, elect to accept the provisions of the act. At present domestic servants, farm laborers and railroad employes are exempted. This will enable these employes to come in if they wish. The labor bureau says that many farmers have asked to be allowed to come in under the law, and this provision is for their benefit.

Providing that minors shall have the same power to contract, make election of remedy, make settlements and receive benefits as adult employes.

Increasing the schedule of compensation so that the maximum is $11 instead of $10 per week, and raising the minimum from $6 to $6.50.

Reducing the period of compensation for the loss of an eye and leg, or an arm and an eye, from 400 weeks to 350.

Providing that where an employe receives concurrent injuries resulting in concurrent disability, he shall receive compensation only for the injury which produces the longest period of disability. For instance, if a workman hurts his hand and loses a foot, he will be compensated only for the loss of his foot.

ITCHING BURNING SKIN TROUBLE

Scratched and It Would Burn and Hurt. Spread Larger and Larger. Used Cuticura Soap and Ointment. In Two Weeks Well.

Joppa, Ill.—"I was annoyed both day and night by itching and burning on my leg. The trouble broke out with a rash something like heat, was raw and began to get worse. It itched very badly. I would scratch until the blood would come and then Oh! how it would burn and hurt. It began to spread larger and larger. It would hurt when my clothing touched it.

"I tried several remedies, such as ——— Salve, ———, etc., without success. I had this trouble about ten months before I began to use Cuticura Soap and Ointment. First I would wash the affected parts with Cuticura Soap and then apply the Cuticura Ointment. In two months I was completely well and it has not returned." (Signed) Roscoe Taylor, July 9, 1914.

Cuticura Soap to cleanse and purify and Cuticura Ointment to soothe and heal are most effective toilet preparations.

VILLA ORDERS A MORATORIUM

Suspends Payments for Three Months in Some Parts of Mexico.

El Paso, March 25.—A three months' moratorium suspending the payment of all notes, mortgages and other evidence of indebtedness has been declared throughout the territory of the Villa government. The decree, which was signed by Gen. Villa in Monterey, March 19, was made public in Chihuahua by Francisco Escudero, minister of finance.

Under the terms of the decree, banks are permitted to take legal steps for the protection of their loans by bringing proceedings for the attachment of property of debtors, but no sale of property under court order may be held until after the expiration of the three months stipulated in the decree. All sales already ordered under court decree are postponed for three months.

The Bank of Chihuahua, the official bank of the northern government, is exempted from the operation of the decree.

In promulgating the moratorium, Gen. Villa takes occasion to justify the action as a measure of social defense and for the protection of business interests. The general points to the fact that similar action has been taken in France, Argentina and other countries where conditions are no worse than in Mexico today.

BRAKEMEN FOUND DEAD ON TOP OF CAR.

Denton, Tex., March 25.—The bodies of Joe Jackson and John W. Ryan, brakemen on the Missouri, Kansas & Texas railroad, were found here early today on top of a freight car. Both had been shot and their pockets rifled. Three white men, strangers here, have been detained as suspicious characters. The dead men's homes were at Denison, Tex.

HAD SUPPLIES FOR GERMAN CRUISERS.

London, March 25.—A Reuter dispatch from Madrid says the correspondent of that company at Las Palmas, Canary islands, telegraphs that nothing has been heard of the interned German liner Macedonia since she slipped out of the harbor there March 15, but it is reported that she has sailed in the direction of South America to recoal and reprovision German cruisers.

VICE TRUST DIVIDED $1,250,000 A YEAR.

New York, March 25.—Mortch Goldberg, whose arraignment was on the calendar today in the court of special sessions, is accused of being an official of a vice trust which maintained more than forty resorts in this city, controlled nearly 2,000 inmates and divided $1,250,000 a year profits. The district attorney's office claims to have evidence that this alleged combine paid nearly $400,000 a year to the police for protection.

DETECTIVES SEARCH FOR MISSING AVIATOR.

Chicago, March 25.—Detectives have begun a search for J. B. Roberts, 54, an amateur aviator of New York, who disappeared March 11, after cashing a check for $1,073. W. H. Neeper, president of the French Aeroplane company, whose guest Roberts had been, informed the police of his friend's disappearance after receiving a letter, apparently written by a woman and signed "J. L."

The letter said that Roberts had been found in an alley severely beaten and unconscious, robbed of his watch and pocketbook, but possessed of two $500 bills, one in his hat and the other in a shoe. The writer of the letter said: "We recognized him as a brother in our lodge and we are caring for him."

Mr. Neeper said he feared there was a plot against Roberts.

Nominated in Ashland.

Ashland, Wis., March 25.—Stanley Smith and James Phillips will fight it out between now and April 6 to see who will serve the citizens of Ashland for the next six years as commissioner. Smith and Phillips went through the primaries, with eight candidates in the field, with 1,721 votes cast, neck and neck, Smith getting 361 votes and Phillips 358.

Wounding of Prince Denied.

Munich, via London, March 25.—The report which has been circulated abroad that Crown Prince Rupprecht of Bavaria has been seriously wounded by a shell, is officially denied.

No Session of Committee.

Washington, March 25.—No session of the senate ship bill lobby committee was held today because of misunderstandings among witnesses as to the time they were to appear. The next session will be held Saturday when Col. Roosevelt may testify.

THAT TIRED FEELING

Relieved by Hood's Sarsaparilla, Which Renovates the Blood.

That tired feeling that comes to you in the spring, year after year, is a sign that your blood lacks vitality, just as pimples, boils and other eruptions are signs that it is impure; and it is also a sign that your system is in a low or run-down condition inviting disease. It is a warning, which it is wise to heed.

Ask your druggist for Hood's Sarsaparilla. This old standard tried and true blood medicine relieves that tired feeling. It cleanses the blood, gives new life, new courage, strength and cheerfulness. It makes the rich red blood that will make you feel, look, eat and sleep better.

Be sure to get Hood's, because it is the best. There is no other combination of roots, barks and herbs like it—no real substitute for it—no "just-as-good" medicine.

EAST GRAND FORKS WOULD FEEL EFFECTS.

East Grand Forks, Minn., March 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—County option petitions being circulated in Polk county soon will have a sufficient number of signers to guarantee an early vote on the question of abolishing the saloons.

The greatest change that will be worked if the "dry" law is adopted will be here as this city has long been the center of supply for the dry state of North Dakota. Hundreds of thousands of cases and barrels of liquor have been shipped during the past few years to North Dakota.

How You Can Quickly Remove Hairy Growths

(Aids to Beauty)

A well known beauty specialist advises this treatment for the removal of hair from the face. Mix into a paste some powdered delatone and water, apply to hairy surface and after about 2 minutes rub off, wash the skin and every trace of hair has vanished. This method is quick and entirely safe. To avoid disappointment, however, it is well to make certain you get genuine delatone.—Advertisement.

GRAND FORKS WILL GREET LA FOLLETTE.

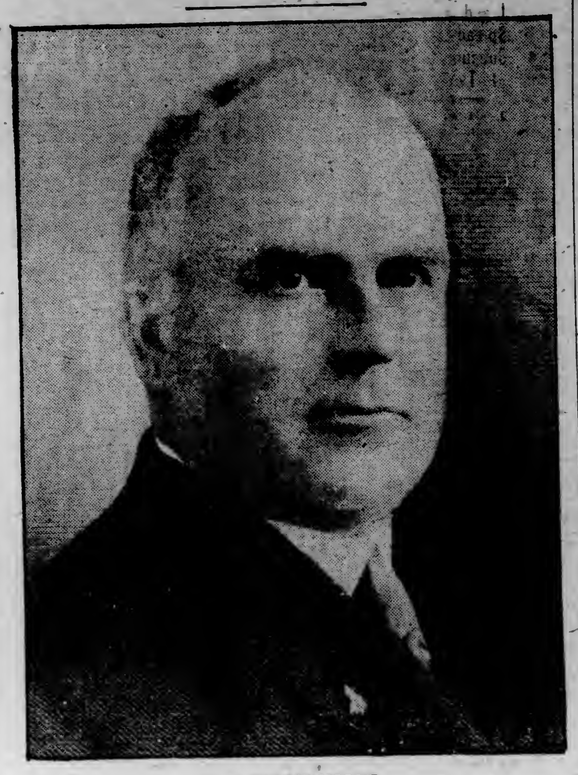
Grand Forks, N. D., March 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—United States Senator R. M. La Follette of Wisconsin, who will speak here Friday evening, will be the guest of the Commercial club at a banquet. It is expected that several hundred will join in the event.

The affair will be entirely non-partisan.

ALLEGED EMBEZZLER IS HELD FOR TRIAL.

Crookston, Minn., March 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—Louis Kramer, charged with embezzlement, waived examination in Judge Gossman's court and was held to the district court under $500 bonds. It is intimated that a settlement will be effected with the Northern Sign company, which lodged the complaint, and the case dismissed before the June term of court.

C. T. FITZSIMMONS IS STRICKEN BY APOPLEXY



C. T. FITZSIMMONS.

Charles T. Fitzsimmons, president of the Fitzsimmons-Palmer Commission company and for twenty-eight years a prominent figure in Duluth's wholesale district, was stricken with apoplexy at 9 o'clock last night, and died at St. Luke's hospital three hours later. He was 51 years old.

Mr. Fitzsimmons had just left his office and was passing the H. J. Kolling & Co. offices at 130 West Michigan street when he was stricken, and fell to the sidewalk, fracturing the base of his skull. He was found a few minutes later by Patrolman Ricketts, who called an ambulance and summoned Police Surgeon I. J. Murphy, Dr. Robert Graham and the family physician, Dr. Peter Kraft.

A widow, two daughters and two sons survive, all of whom live in Duluth. The daughters are Mrs. George Merritt, 2426 East Fourth street, and Miss Mary, and the sons are Charles and Edward, who reside at the family home, 1431 East First street.

Native of Wisconsin.

Born in Sparta, Wis., Nov. 8, 1863, Mr. Fitzsimmons spent his boyhood days there and attended public grade and high schools. Upon the completion of his high school course he entered the employ of a woolen mill in 1880, remaining there for one year.

The following three years were devoted to a study of flour milling methods and in 1883 he engaged in the mercantile business at Burr Oak, Wis., under the firm name of J. T. Scantelton & Co. He retained his partnership for one year, after which he moved to Cataract, Wis., and acquired an interest in a creamery business which was run under the firm name of Fitzsimmons & Atchison.

Early in 1886 Mr. Fitzsimmons moved to St. Paul and engaged in the wholesale commission business with George W. Martin & Co., remaining in that partnership two years. In the latter part of 1887 he came to Duluth, where he started the wholesale fruit produce concern, of which he was president at the time of his death.

The firm name read Martin, Fitzsimmons & Warfield until 1889, when it was changed to Fitzsimmons & Warfield. Later it became the Fitzsimmons-Derrig company, which was the name for several years. In 1906 the name again was changed and the firm became known as the Fitzsimmons-Palmer company.

Mr. Fitzsimmons was president, manager and a director of this firm. He was also general manager, treasurer and director of the R. N. Fernandez Cigar company, a member of the Commercial club, the Masonic fraternity and the Elks.

GARRISON AT PRZEMYSL LIVED 134 DAYS ON FOOD DESIGNED FOR 80 DAYS

again, driving Field Marshal von Hindenburg westward from the neighborhood of Warsaw and the Austrians from Przemysl, provisions had been coming in for the Galician fortress for only ten days. This gave the defenders rations for eighty days.

Relied on Hunger.

These supplies might have sufficed had the Russians resumed their battering tactics, but they placed their reliance on hunger rather than on solid shot to force the capitulation of Przemysl. They built a walled girdle of fortifications about the town, out of reach of the guns of the fortress, and permitted starvation to do its work.

The final sortie of the garrison was a last act of defiance rather than a serious attempt to break through the Russian line, which was virtually impossible for the hunger-weakened force. There was a bare chance that they would be able to cut a way through and effect a junction with the Austrian army in the Carpathians, and when this failed, Gen. Kusmanek, the Austrian commander, received instructions to surrender. When the end came the last crumb had been scraped from the storehouses, and horses as well as other animals had been slaughtered for food.

haven, the naval officer is said to have told Mr. Boyd. The others are still alive—somewhere. Mr. Boyd said he did not want to appear too inquisitive, so did not ask many questions, but he inferred that the men who had not made Bremerhaven were still in the West Indies or had been landed in South America.

Mr. Boyd's friend said he had seen and talked with members of the Karlsruhe's crew at Bremerhaven and volunteered the information that all who had reached Germany were decorated for valor by order of the emperor.

The Karlsruhe struck the reef that proved to be her burying place, according to Mr. Boyd's informant, in December. For some time her crew tried to free her but were unsuccessful. When it seemed certain that she would be found by warships of the enemy and fall into their hands, it was decided, Mr. Boyd said, to destroy her.

Accordingly the crew were taken off and placed aboard one of the captive ships which the Karlsruhe convoyed. A bomb was then placed in a vital spot on the stranded cruiser and from a distance the sailors and officers saw her go down.

For some reason, not clear to Mr. Boyd some of the Karlsruhe's crew were placed ashore at a place not designated. The remainder reached Bremerhaven safely, Mr. Boyd was told.

Mr. Boyd said he had a talk with Lieut. Weddigen, commander of the German submarine U-9, in which the German officer told him Germany was preparing "the greatest naval surprise of the war." Beyond this, he said, Lieut. Weddington was noncommittal.

LOSES PIECES OF BONE—HAPPY NOW

In Avery, Texas, lives Ira Davis, who suffered for years with a chronic sore on his foot which doctors advised would never heal without scraping the bone. Mr. Davis states that one box of Allen's Ulcerine Salve drew out several pieces of bone and lots of pus, and the sore healed up completely.

Allen's Ulcerine Salve is one of the oldest remedies in America and since 1869 has been known as the only salve powerful enough to reach chronic ulcers and old sores of long standing. Because it is so powerful it often heals burns and scalds without a scar in a remarkably short time.

Allen's Ulcerine Salve heals from the bottom up and draws out the poisons. If applied on new cuts and sores it heals in one-third the time that common salves and liniments take.

and advanced between the lines. His act resulted in the saving of all but 200 of the Assyrians, who had been burned in a church.

Refugees at Station.

Fifteen thousand Assyrian Christians have taken refuge under the protection of the American mission station, while 2,000 are at the French mission. A dispatch received at Tiflis from Urumiah yesterday declared that seventy Turkish regular troops had entered the mission, hanged the orthodox bishop, Mar Ella, and four orthodox clergymen, and beat and insulted a missionary named Allen. Shortly before the sixty refugees had been dragged from the French mission and executed in spite of the tearful pleas of the nuns.

Kurds Particularly Cruel.

At Gulpashan the Kurds were particularly cruel. This was the last of a total of 103 Assyrian villages to hold out and it was occupied a month ago. The Kurds ordered all the Assyrian males into the streets, tied them in groups of five, marched them to the graveyard and killed them barbarously to the last boy. Girl babies and older women were then executed with great atrocity, while the younger women were carried away as slaves.

Assyrians Seek Refuge.

As a result of the war, 12,000 Assyrians are taking refuge in the Caucasus, some 17,000 are described as in imminent danger at the Urumiah missions, while 20,000 are dead or missing. Furthermore, much property has been destroyed. The Assyrians fought their assailants bravely, and as long as they had ammunition they were victorious.

The missionaries are untiring in their efforts to help the people and they are spending money to this end freely. In Urumiah they are disbursing the equivalent of $400 daily. Disease is prevalent among the refugees.

The situation at Urumiah already has been taken up with Turkey by the United States. Secretary Bryan has telegraphed Ambassador Morgenthau at Constantinople to seek the protection of the missionaries and the refugees. Precious dispatches from Djulfa, Persia, have described the danger at Urumiah, but none of them has given so much detail as the detail message from Tiflis.

The American missionary station at Urumiah is maintained by the board of foreign missions of the Presbyterian church in the United States of America. The station was established as long ago as 1835; its control was transferred to the Presbyterian board in 1871. The work has gone on there without serious interruptions or mishap to the missionaries. The force normally at Urumiah consists of five clergymen and one physician with their wives and four single women.

GEN. FRENCH CONFIDENT AS TO OUTCOME

less valuable to the ultimate object than if they were advancing. Their confidence that their turn to take the offensive would come remained unshaken. Next in importance was the work of our cavalry in its aggressiveness and alertness in preventing the cavalry of the enemy from getting around us. Our cavalry established a decided superiority over that of the enemy, which was of vital assistance."

"And what to you was the most critical moment of all your campaign in France?" was the next question put to Sir John French. One would not have been surprised if he had said when his reserves were practically exhausted in the battle of Ypres and armentieres to save the channel ports. His answer had characteristic promptness and decisiveness.

Retreat From Mons.

"On the retreat from Mons at Le Cateau. We were in the open country in a very dangerous position and the German ambition for the annihilation of our little army might have been realized if our cavalry had not been equal to its task of covering the flanks of our steady disciplined regulars."

Few Americans probably are as familiar with the campaigns of our Civil war as is Sir John. He has made a thorough study of them and from them he has drawn lessons which he has found helpful in France. He mentioned Stonewall Jackson.

"To me, Gen. Jackson was more like Cromwell than any other leader in history," said the British commander. "A heroic, martial figure, whose wonderful career came to the happy close a soldier desires in the hour of victory. I have followed all his marches and battles with unflagging admiration. He had the religious exaltation of Cromwell, his dash and determination, and his ready strategy and the genius of inspiring his troops with his own indomitable spirit of energy.

"But of all your commanders, Robert E. Lee, in his patience, his resource, his poise, his soundness of judgment and his possession of the qualities of high command in all emergencies, is foremost, in my opinion."

Trench Warfare.

"A good deal has been said about the novel conditions which trench warfare in this war has developed," was the next thing said by the correspondent; "has it changed the qualities required of a soldier?"

"No," he replied. "Human nature remains the same, and it is the man who gives and takes the blows, whatever the nature of his weapons. Courage, discipline and tenacity are still the dominant elements of success."

"And the guns; it has been repeatedly stated that this has become a war of artillery."

"I think there has been an inclination to exaggerate the importance of artillery," Sir John answered. "No doubt, of the three arms, artillery has increased in relative importance. It may take a dozen shells to get one man, and one bullet will get one man. The weapons which decide the day are the rifle and the machine gun, and the infantry is still the queen of battles."

SIR JOHN FRENCH.

Tribute to Enemy.

As a soldier speaking of his enemy, Sir John French was far from deprecating the fighting qualities of the Germans. To the troops of Emperor William he paid a soldier's chivalrous tribute. "But they are no greater than other soldiers," he said. "I attribute their valor and their well disciplined cohesion to the fact that from the cradle they are taught discipline and to worship their emperor and the fatherland and that it is their duty to die for the fatherland when their emperor commands."

"As to the conduct of the Germans, is it as bad as reported?" was asked of Sir John. "Have they consistently broken the rules of civilized warfare?"

For the first time the British commander hesitated before speaking. Evidently, as a soldier, he wished to be entirely just to his enemy.

"Yes," he replied, "in many instances their conduct has been bad, very bad; I know that it has been." This declaration was made with firm conviction.

"But it has varied," the general went on. "It has seemed to depend upon the commanders. If a commander approves of outrages, they occur. Yes, in the main, German conduct depends upon the character of the German generals."

"And the French army; you have been fighting as its ally—for eight months. How does it compare with the German?" the correspondent asked. This seemed a happy question. To it Sir John replied:

French Learn Contrary.

"The French at the start were laboring under the shadow of their disastrous defeat in 1870, which might well have led both the French and the world in general to think that the German military machine was heaven-born and irresistible. The French already have learned the contrary and the world soon must, if it has not. I need not speak of their splendid generalship or their courage in driving the Germans back from the Marne. They have the elan of Napoleon's time, thanks to the spur of renewed confidence. Man for man, they are better than the Germans today and their army has continually improved since the war began, while the German army has deteriorated.

"We have abundant evidence of the Germans' deteriorating on our own front. Their attacks lacked the former vigor and spirit. Neuve Chapelle was an important victory. It proved that with a strong push we could put the enemy out of a well-fortified position and then hold what we gained.

"One of the gratifying things to us," the British commander in chief said in conclusion, "is how well our territorials have done once their period of preparation was over and they had an opportunity. I believe they occupy much the same relation to our forces as your national guard does to yours. They have surpassed our expectations. As for the Canadians, I cannot pay too high a tribute to them."

If You Are Ten Pounds Or More Under Weight

And Want to Put on Flesh.

If you are thin, undeveloped and under weight and would like to quickly put on ten or more pounds of sound healthy flesh between your skin and bones, walk right into Boyce drug store today, step on his penny weighing scales and see exactly what your weight is now. Then step right over to the drug counter and tell the clerk you want six boxes of Sargol the Flesh Builder—a full sixty-day treatment—and begin taking the tablets right away. When the tablets are all gone, go back to Boyce drug store, step on his scales again, weigh yourself once more and if you haven't gained at least ten pounds of good solid, healthy flesh, step right over to the drug counter and tell the clerk you want your money back and he will give it to you cheerfully and promptly. Many thin people say, "I'd give most anything to put on a little extra weight," but when some one suggests a way they exclaim, "Not a chance, nothing will make me plump, I'm built to stay thin." Until you have tried Sargol the Flesh Builder, you do not and cannot know this is true. Sargol has put pounds of healthy "stay there" flesh on hundreds who doubted and in spite of their doubts and we think it will put flesh on you but the only way you or we can ever knew is for you to try it. If you gain the weight its money well spent and if you don't it costs you nothing for Boyce drug store, or for that matter any druggist in Duluth and vicinity is authorized to return every cent you paid if the results do not satisfy you.

Does Your Baby Get Hungry Between Regular Feedings?

The baby should sleep peacefully between feedings—if you feed him regularly. If the baby wakes up and cries fretfully and gnaws his little hands, you are probably not giving him enough to eat. Your breast milk is best, of course, but it may be too thin. Add a feeding each day of the nearest to mother's milk. Later, you can give him two feedings of Nestlé's each day, and then three, until your baby is entirely weaned without trouble or worry.

Don't think that cow's milk can take the place of your breast milk! Over and over again scientists and doctors have told us that cow's milk is too heavy for your baby. Its big, thick curds settle like lead in his little stomach. And cow's milk may bring sickness—even consumption. With the help of medical science, Nestlé's Food has removed all the dangers of ordinary cow's milk for you. The basis of Nestlé's is pure milk taken from carefully examined cows in sanitary dairies—with all the harmful parts modified and with your baby's special needs added—reduced to a powder and packed in air-tight cans, so that no sickness can get near it.

Send the coupon for the big sample can and you will soon find out why the mothers of three generations have used Nestlé's.

NEW ORDINANCE IS AIMED AT JITNEY "STRAPHANGERS"

Jitney "straphangers" are doomed, if an ordinance now under consideration by Commissioner Hicken, head of the public safety division, passes in the city council.

Ever since Sunday jitneys running up and down Superior street have been carrying passengers, who hung onto the running boards, while the cars themselves were overloaded. Of course, "jitneying" is a novelty at present and many of these "straphangers" jump on for a short ride just for the fun of it, but Commissioner Hicken is afraid of serious accidents resulting from such a practice and he is considering an ordinance regulating the crowding of jitneys.

Commissioner Hicken has asked City Attorney Clapp to prepare an ordinance to the effect that jitneys must not have more passengers than a car can comfortably seat and that no one must be allowed on the running boards at any time.

"It is for the safety of these passengers themselves," said Commissioner Hicken this morning, "that we propose to introduce an ordinance regulating the jitneys. If a driver attempts to go between two other vehicles or past a street car, he is apt to crush a passenger standing on the running board, while a sudden stop at any corner or back of another vehicle may throw the person off the car altogether and cause him serious injury."

Commissioner Hicken said today that he will take the matter up with the other commissioners at the council meeting next Monday afternoon.

RESINOL A SAFE SKIN-REMEDY

You need never hesitate to use Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap. There is nothing in them to injure or irritate the tendered skin. Resinol is a doctor's prescription which for twenty years has been used by careful physicians for eczema and many other itching, burning, unsightly skin affections. They prescribe Resinol freely, knowing that its soothing, healing action is brought about by a medication so bland and gentle as to be suited to the most delicate skin—even of a tiny baby.

Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap stop itching instantly, and speedily heal skin humors, pimples, sores, boils, burns and piles. All druggists sell them. For samples write to Dept. 20-R, Resinol, Baltimore, Md.

A GOOD WAY TO SHAMPOO.

Shampoo with Resinol Soap, rubbing its lather thoroughly into the scalp, so as to work in the soothing, healing Resinol medication. This almost always stops dandruff and scalp itching, and keeps the hair alive, thick and lustrous.

FORMER DULUTHIAN VICTIM OF ACCIDENT.

Robert D Strong, an old-time Duluth newspaperman, is in a hospital at Jacksonville, Fla., recovering from injuries he suffered in a recent automobile accident, according to word received here. His right hip and left ankle were broken, his back wrenched and his body bruised. Mr. Strong was engaged in newspaper work here during the boom days, and afterwards returned and conducted a news bureau service in the Manhattan building for some time. Subsequently he went West, working on papers in various cities, but later went to Chicago, where he worked on some of the big dailies. Some time ago he left Chicago and became editor and proprietor of the Lake Worth Herald at Lake Worth, Fla.

"Bob" Strong, as he was known here, will be remembered by many Duluthians.

TRADE RUNS MORE FREELY

Duluth Jobbers Increase Their Volume of Sales Over Northwest.

Heavy Shipments Being Arranged for After Opening of Navigation.

Confidence continues to grow in Duluth wholesale and manufacturing circles. Orders for immediate shipment are reported to be making a favorable comparison with last year in most lines, but owing to the uncertainty injected into the situation through the war, a conservative policy is still being pursued by retailers in placing future orders.

On that score early warnings are thrown out by manufacturers that retailers may experience difficulty in getting their reorders filled a few months hence, especially in the event of any developments materializing in the direction of peace in Europe. It is said that the factories are holding their outputs down closely to the orders on their books, so that comparatively small supplies will be available to take care of any extra demand that may intervene.

Grocery Prices Firm.

Trade in grocery lines is considered satisfactory for the season by the Barthe-Martin company of this city and the Twohy-Elmon Mercantile company of Superior. Quotations are firm through the list, with an upward tendency in some directions.

Sugars are being quoted by jobbers here at $6.36 and $6.41 per 100 pounds, and their market is strong at that basis, in view of the strength in raws. There has been no change in coffee prices, but advances are thought extremely probable in trade circles. Europe is said to be paying almost any price asked by Brazilian dealers for supplies, and stocks in that country have been materially reduced through the heavy sales made recently.

Flour remains on about the same basis as a week ago at $7.75 a barrel, and prices in rolled oats and all cereals are firm.

With a couple of exceptions the market in everything in dried fruits is strong. Dried peaches are cheap, and there is said to be practically no market for dried pears. Few price changes have come about in canned fruits and vegetables. Canned corn is up slightly, but other lines are as they were. A heavy sale in salt fish has been met with during the Lenten season. Quotations in that line are regarded as reasonable.

Weather Helps Drygoods.

Business in drygoods is said by F. A. Patrick & Co. to have been quickened materially through the incoming of mild weather. It is regarded as gratifying that some re-orders in spring goods are already beginning to come in, and salesmen are reported to be booking a fair volume of business in seasonable lines and futures.

F. A. Patrick, who has just returned from a trip to New York where he was in consultation with purchasing agents of some of the European belligerents, expresses himself as confident that his house will be awarded a proportion of any contracts that may be placed in mackinaw or knitted goods lines. Army buyers are undecided upon their policy in placing orders as yet the opinion being held in some quarters that the war will come to a termination before next winter. Unless the indications point more directly towards peace, it is believed that they will proceed to contract for further woolen goods within the next few weeks.

Taking a line on the volume of business on their books, the Kelley-How-Thomson company, and the Marshall-Wells Hardware company are arranging for heavy shipments of hardware staples from here over the West on the arrival of the first boats after the opening of navigation. The market trend is still upward in iron and steel products. A 5 per cent advance was made this week in fencing, and eave troughing and conductor pipe is also up 5 per cent. Sisal rope has been advanced a cent a pound.

Stationery Trade Good.

The booking of a good volume of orders in building and roofing papers and notions was advised by the Duluth Paper & Stationery company. Orders in those lines are said to be the best at this season in the history of the house. Its salesmen have also been meeting with success in general paper and stationery lines.

Shoe Business Normal.

Operations at the Northern Shoe company's factory were reported to be fully normal, and, with sufficient future orders in hand to assure activity for some time ahead, the company's management is feeling comfortable regarding the situation.

Salesmen are now on the road with their new fall shoe samples after their recent visit to headquarters.

Furniture Outlook Improves.

"Our furniture sales are better, and the prospects appear satisfactory," said C. E. De Witt of the De Witt-Seltz company. Trade over the West is picking up, he averred, and reports from salesmen are generally encouraging.

A. B. Seltz was reported to be meeting with good results in a trip over the Michigan Copper country.

A WARNING TO MANY

Some Interesting Facts About Kidney Troubles

Few people realize to what extent their health depends upon the condition of the kidneys.

The physician in nearly all cases of serious illness, makes a chemical analysis of the patient's urine. He knows that unless the kidneys are doing their work properly, the other organs cannot readily be brought back to health and strength.

When the kidneys are neglected or abused in any way, serious results are sure to follow. According to health statistics, Bright's disease, which is really an advanced form of kidney trouble, caused nearly ten thousand deaths in 1913, in the state of New York alone. Therefore, it behooves us to pay more attention to the health of these most important organs.

An ideal herbal compound that has had remarkable success as kidney remedy is Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great Kidney, Liver and Bladder Remedy.

The mild and healing influence of this preparation, in most cases, is soon realized, according to sworn statements and verified testimony of those who have used the remedy.

If you feel that your kidneys require attention, and wish a sample bottle, write to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. Mention this paper; enclose ten cents and they will gladly forward it to you by Parcels Post.

Swamp-Root is sold by every druggist in bottles of two sizes—50c. and $1.00.

WINNERS IN THE SEAL COMPETITION

Seven Cities and Towns Win Prizes in Monster Sale.

Washington, March 25.—Winners of pennants offered by the American Red Cross and the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis for the best per capita sale of Red Cross seals in 1914, as announced from headquarters here today, are: Garden City, N. Y., in class A, population 500 to 2,000; Sewickley, Pa., in class B, population 2,000 to 8,000; Charleston, W. Va., in class C, population 8,000 to 25,000; New Rochelle, N. Y., in class D, population 25,000 to 60,000; Troy, N. Y., in class E, population 50,000 to 150,000; Rochester, N. Y., in class F, population 150,000 to 500,000; and Pittsburg in class G, population over 500,000. Larchmont, N. Y., Burlington, Wis., Corning, N. Y., Jamestown, N. Y., Fort Wayne, Ind., Buffalo, N. Y., and Brooklyn, N. Y., are winners of second places in their respective classes.

In the pennant competition, which was designed to stimulate the sale of Red Cross seals during December, cities and towns all over the United States took part, each competing in its own class. The largest per capita sale recorded was in Garden City, N. Y., where 22,535 seals were sold in a population of 1,100 or 20.49 seals for each resident. Brooklyn had the largest total sale of any city in the country, their record being over 2,800,000 seals. New York, Rochester, Buffalo and Pittsburg were the only other cities that sold over 1,000,000 seals.

The reports up to March 1 indicate that the sale in the entire country will exceed 52,000,000 seals, an increase of 7,000,000, or 15 per cent, over 1913.

BIG EXPOSITION IS DEDICATED

Vice President Marshall Represents President at San Francisco.

San Francisco, Cal., March 25.—Vice President Thomas R. Marshall, representing the president of the United States, formally dedicated yesterday the Panama-Pacific international exposition. Standing beneath the great arch of the Tower of Jewels, the vice president addressed a vast concourse of people who crowded the Court of the Universe.

Mr. Marshall spoke with solemnity and was constantly halted by applause. Especially was this the case when, referring to the Panama canal, he voiced regret "that this altruistic work was a real or seeming defect in the charge of an injustice done a sister republic of the south."

"Let us not be too much dismayed this day by reason of that fact," said he. "The American people are wise and they know he is not wise who is not just."

Charles C. Moore, president of the exposition, introduced the first three speakers, United States Senator James D. Phelan of California, Chester H. Rowell, representing Governor Johnson, and Mayor James Rolph, Jr., the latter expressing the hope to the vice president that the message he would forward to the president would be "California has done well." President Moore called for three cheers when Mr. Marshall was introduced.

The impressiveness of the scene was added to by the scores of foreign representatives, officers of the army and navy in full dress uniform.

PUBLISHERS' SECOND TRIAL.

Bismarck Pair Again Facing Federal Jury for Misusing Mail.

Bismarck, N. D., March 25.—Taking of testimony began today in the United States district court, Judge Booth presiding in the third trial of Sam Clark and C. H. Crockard, publishers of a monthly magazine here, who are charged with sending obscene literature through the mails. Their first trial ended in a disagreement, and the verdict of guilty in the second was reversed by the circuit court of appeals, which ordered a new trial because only certain parts and not the whole of the magazine alleged to have contained the obscene article had been introduced as evidence.

TAKEN TO "PEN."

Koch, Damage Suit Swindler, Begins Indeterminate Sentence at Stillwater.

Christian F. Koch, recently convicted of defrauding the Duluth & Iron Range Railroad company out of $1,000 on a fake personal injury claim, was taken yesterday to Stillwater penitentiary by Sheriff John R. Meining. Koch was sentenced by Judge Pesler under the indeterminate plan. He will serve from one to fifteen years as punishment for the crime of grand larceny in the first degree.

Koch's swindling operations have extended over a period of years and several Western railway companies have been victimized. Koch's method is to pretend paralysis of his legs. This he does so skilfully that physicians have often been deceived after applying the usual tests to him.

Chicago Asks Rev. F. E. Plumb to Establish Gospel Mission.

New Institution Will Accommodate 1,500 to 2,000 Men Daily.

Copying methods used successfully in Duluth for nearly two years, Chicagoans have asked Rev. Frank E. Plumb, Duluth evangelist, to install an enormous mission in that city and care for thousands of "down-and-outers," and other unemployed. Rev. Plum returned from the East yesterday, following conferences with Chicago business men and philanthropists, and will start the Chicago mission at once.

Aside from a mission now operating in Minneapolis, Rev. Plumb's gospel mission, known to many Duluthians by its sign "Jesus saves," is the only one of its kind in the world, as far as is known.

The evangelist is planning an establishment which will accommodate between 1,500 and 2,000 men, and expects to give them three meals a day—without cost.

"I have done it here in Duluth for nearly two years," Rev. Plumb stated, "and I don't think it will be nearly as hard in Chicago as it is here."

Since the mission was founded here Rev. Plumb and his converts have fed more than 70,000 men who were down and out, and have given a night's lodging to many times that number. Work of preparing meals and caring for the mission is done by volunteers, who work without compensation. The food is given by wholesale and commission houses daily, and consists of vegetables and fruit that is ripe, but which cannot be shipped or handled by grocers.

Rev. Plumb's records show that since Nov. 1 nearly 30,000 men have been fed. The record for March so far shows a list of 4,019, with about 200 being added daily.

His Chicago mission, as planned, will care for many times the number handled here. One commission broker has promised a car load of potatoes daily, and many other fruit, vegetable and wholesale houses have been pledged to give equal amounts.

The only expense incidental to a place of this kind, according to Rev. Plumb, is the rent, lighting and heating.

Meals furnished the men consist of a vegetable stew, well prepared and palatable, bread, fruit and buttermilk. Portions are limited by the amount a man can eat only.

Chicagoans have expressed themselves as believing that this mission will be one of the most important steps taken for the care of the unemployed ever started in that city. At the present time no missions, or Salvation Army home, or municipally operated lodging house attempts to feed the men, unless it is provided for by private bequests.

CITY PLAN PROPOSED.

Grand Forks Commercial Club to Engage Expert on Subject.

Grand Forks, N. D., March 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—The organization of a civic committee for the purpose of working out a comprehensive city plan has been determined upon by the Commercial club—the committee representative of every civic industry.

The club already has engaged the services of a prominent city plan expert, who will be here within a few weeks, when steps will be taken toward bringing about the adoption of a permanent plan for building up the city.

This movement has been under consideration for several years, assuming special significance within the last few months, however, because of the contemplated construction of a $225,000 high school—bids for which already have been called.

Under the city plan scheme that will be worked out, little remains for consideration, because the county courthouse, city hall and federal building, already are permanently located.

BRAINERD TO ENTERTAIN MACCABEES OF STATE.

Brainerd, Minn., March 25.—Brainerd is preparing for the Ladies of the Maccabees state convention to be held here on Wednesday, April 21, Mrs. Jessie K. Fager, deputy supreme commander, who holds membership in the Brainerd hive, has been in the city conferring with the various committees.

This will be the first time in the history of the state order that the convention was held outside of the Twin Cities and Duluth.

RED RIVER VALLEY GETS SOME SNOW.

Crookston, Minn., March 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—After good weather for weeks, the expected March disturbance arrived yesterday, a combination of a high north wind and a considerable snowfall. It froze quite hard during the night and indications are that no more seeding will be done this week. Following the shift of the wind to the south, however, general seeding operations will be rushed.

SOCIETY ◘ WOMEN'S CLUBS ◘ MUSIC ◘ THE DRAMA

IF THE 3,900 tickets for each of the three concerts that will be given by the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra, under the auspices of the Duluth Curling club, June 4 and 5, are all sold the orchestra will give a fourth concert free. A capacity house will represent the largest audience for a musical event ever known in Duluth. If the 3,900 seats will not be sufficient to accommodate the crowd and the additional number of persons who wish to attend is sufficient to warrant it, balconies will be built. A stage will be built for the musicians.

It has been three years since Duluth has had a visit from the Minneapolis orchestra, which, under the direction of Emil Oberhoffer, has come to rank as one of the first in the country.

Literature Department Will Hold Its Last Meeting.

Lundmark-Olson Wedding.

Miss Elizabeth Lundmark and David W. Olson were married last evening by Rev. Swaney Nelson of the First Swedish Baptist church at the home of the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. John E. Lundmark, 2115 Woodland avenue.

Miss Clara Person was the bridesmaid and Gust Norquist was the best man. Clarence Lundmark, cousin of the bride, played the "Lohengrin" wedding march as the processional. Miss Lillian Bergman sang "A Perfect Day" by Carrie Jacobs Bond and Miss Emily Tupper played piano selections during the evening.

The bride wore a white crepe de chine gown trimmed with lace. The skirt was in tunic effect over an accordion plaited flounce. Miss Person was gowned in pale blue and carried pink Killarney roses.

Pink tulips formed the centerpiece at the table where covers were laid for twenty-five immediate relatives. A reception followed the dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Olson will make their home in this city.

Mrs. Barker Is Honored.

Mrs. E. Frank Barker of 2401 Lake avenue south has been invited by Admiral Baron Uri to attend the reception that will be given tomorrow evening in honor of the president and directors of the Panama-Pacific International exposition.

Colby-Gustafson.

Miss Adeline Ruth Colby, daughter of Fred Colby, and Albin Frank Gustafson were married Monday evening in the presence of immediate relatives by Rev. George E. Silloway at the parsonage of Grace M. E. church. The wedding was kept a secret until last night.

The bride wore pink satin and carried pink and white roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Gustafson will make their home in the West end after April 1.

Girls' Teams Will Play.

The annual girls' basket ball tournament of the University of Minnesota will take place Saturday night at the Armory. This is the only public appearance of the teams during the year. Play will be for the Woman's Athletic association cup that must be won two years in succession for permanent possession. The freshmen and sophomores, who have made the best showing, will battle in the finals and the juniors and seniors will play a preliminary game.

Each team will have a corner of the Armory decorated in its colors. The games will be preceded and followed by a grand march of the team members and there will be an exhibition of fancy dancing and a musical program by the Euterpean club. General dancing will conclude the evening's entertainment.

Gabrilowitsch Injured a Finger at Concert.

Ossip Gabrilowitsch injured one of his fingers while giving his concert here Monday evening. As he went at once to New York for treatment, he was forced to postpone his concert that was to have been given at Grand Forks last evening.

His manager, Louden Charlton, offered April 12, or any date between May 4 and May 10, for the Grand Forks engagement, and May 6 was chosen. This will necessitate a special trip to Grand Forks, but the pianist has signified his willingness.

Matinee Musicale Invites Federated Club to Concert.

The Matinee Musicale has invited the members of all the federated clubs in the city to the concert that will be given Monday evening, April 5, at the First Methodist church. This program will take the place of the one that was to have been given next Monday afternoon at Pilgrim Congregational church. The date was changed on account of Holy week.

CHIPPEWAS ATTEND PROGRAM OF THEIR MUSIC AND LEGENDS

Among those who heard Mrs. Stella Prince Stocker's lecture-recital on "Indian Myths and Melodies" at the First Methodist church yesterday were two full-blooded Chippewas, Rev. and Mrs. F. H. Pequette of Sawyer, Minn., who came to Duluth to hear how a white woman would present their traditions and music. Both were enthusiastic about the sympathetic realism with which she gave their songs and legends and Rev. Pequette said, "Mrs. Stocker gave this Indian lecture in the true spirit of our people and we were delighted with the way she sang and played our music. The Chippewa accent was correct and it all seemed very real to us, even the way the feathers on her head would shake when she sang songs with the 'hi yi:'"

At the close of Mrs. Stocker's music-lecture Mr. Pequette, who is a Methodist missionary among his people, added to the pleasure of the afternoon by telling the story of Manabush, closing with the Song of the Ducks in Chippewa. Mrs. Stocker transcribed this song and has added the new melody to her collection.

Local Legends.

In her talk yesterday, Mrs. Stocker called special attention to the legends which refer to this part of the country. She told stories of the arbutus and the pictured rocks, and the legend of the origin of the grand medicine ceremony, the scene being laid in Madeline island. Among the musical illustrations especially enjoyed were the Blanket song and two of the songs the Indians gave at their outdoor performance of their Hiawatha legend.

Her program closed with the tragic Ghost dance of the Omahas and the wild Ghost dance of the Quinis. The general barbaric effect of the Quini dance was heightened by the accompaniment of tom-tom and war rattle played by Miss Olive Kreitter and Miss Myrna Pressnell.

Mrs. Stocker will repeat her lecture soon at Sawyer, where her audience will be composed largely of Chippewas.

Mrs. Pequette brought four Indian headdresses, two Indian aprons and two sashes of solid bead work that were worn by the hostesses for the social hour that followed the program. The hostesses were: Mrs. John Carson, Mrs. Joseph Brown, Mrs. L. A. Larsen and Mrs. J. E. Goodman. Those who presided at the tea tables were: Mrs. Harry Hurdon, Mrs. John Hoffman, Mrs. A. C. Taylor and Mrs. W. D. Underhill. Those who assisted were: Miss Lois Fee, Miss Vera Bronson, Miss Perle Reynolds, Miss Gertrude Ellison, Miss Olive Kreitter and Miss Esther Brown.

Grand's New Bill.

A particularly attractive program is promised for the week-end engagement at the popular New Grand this afternoon.

Headlining the bill is the well-known and much heralded Belle Oliver, the Tetrazzini of ragtime, in her latest popular hits.

The famous Idanias troupe, five attractive young women, offer an European gymnastic exhibition.

Rice and Franklin, in a new comedy skit, "Won By Ten," have succeeded in framing up twenty minutes of good, clean and enjoyable singing, dancing and comedy chatter.

The Musical Macks, in their diversion, "A Night in California," play any number of musical instruments and infuse plenty of comedy that keeps their audience in an uproar.

The Hearst-Selig News this week contains many views of interest from all over the world as well as an additional style review of the latest gowns and hats posed by Lady Duff Gordon.

The photoplay feature is the two-reel subject, "Retribution." One of the Helen Holmes railroad stories, "The Night Operator at Bruxton;" a comedy, "Father's Timepiece," and a Western play complete the program.

"Movies" Under the Sea.

For their first venture in making moving pictures under the sea, the Williamson brothers went to the Bahama islands because of the crystalline clearness of the West Indian waters, and the great variety of marine life there. The brothers themselves were amazed at the brilliant, fascinating and often thrilling results which their camera recorded. These under the sea pictures, when exhibited in New York, caused the greatest sensation ever achieved by the cinematograph industry.

The photographer sat in a chamber with a glass front, from fifty to one hundreds fathoms under water, connected with a barge on the surface, and turned the crank as the varied life of the sea passed in review before the camera's eye. Queer animals that look like vegetation (in reality coral formations), great man-eating sharks battling for food, with a final thrilling fight between a man and a shark for the climax. These are a few of the features of these sensational motion pictures coming to the Lyric theater March 29 to April 4.

NOW MANAGES THREE THEATERS.

H. E. Billings, former manager of the Orpheum theater, was in Duluth today visiting friends. While in Duluth the time and efforts of Mr. Billings were consumed in the management of one theater; in Minneapolis, where the former Orpheum manager is laboring at the present time, he is in charge of two theaters and another theater is being made ready for him.

"Minneapolis is a great city and one of the best theater towns in the West," said Mr. Billings today. "I have charge of the new Palace, one of the most beautiful theaters in the West. I have also charge of the Garrick, while the old Bijou is being remodeled and will be converted into a moving picture house under my management.

"I sure do miss the host of friends I made in Duluth. It is a real pleasure to return here and meet some of the persons who made my stay in Duluth so pleasurable and made it a genuine regret to leave."

Preparing Answer.

Washington, March 25.—President Wilson continued work today on the final draft of the note to Great Britain on the order in council. It is expected to go forward to London probably tomorrow.

TONIGHT'S ATTRACTIONS.

LYCEUM—Baldwin Players in "The Confession."
ORPHEUM—Lyman H. Howe's "Travel Festival."
NEW GRAND—Vaudeville and Motion Pictures.
REX—"A Gentleman of Leisure," Photoplay.

The Trial Scene.

One of the best pieces of work that the Baldwin Players have done during their engagement in Duluth, is the trial scene in "The Confession," which is being shown at the Lyceum this week. A young man is on trial for murder. His brother, a young Roman Catholic priest, knows the prisoner is innocent, as the real murderer has confessed to him and received absolution. The priest is prevented by his oath to the church, from disclosing the confession, and is forced to see his brother held for a crime of which he is innocent, when one word from him would clear the young man and cause the arrest of the real criminal. Homer Barton, as the young priest, does some very effective work, and the trial scene as a whole is well staged and acted.

Next week "Little Lord Fauntleroy" will be the attraction. It will open Sunday afternoon and run for five nights, with a special matinee on Thursday, giving way to "Potash & Perlmutter" on Friday and Saturday. Little Muriel Cole, the Minneapolis child actress who has been seen here on two former occasions, will take the title role. She has already arrived in Duluth with her mother, and has begun rehearsals for the part.

Following "Little Lord Fauntleroy," the Baldwin Players will be seen for one week in "Within the Law." This will be but the second time this play has been seen in stock in America.

The Leopard and His Spots.

There is an old saying that "a leopard can't change his spots," and this seems to be as true of the characteristics of human beings as marks on the hides of wild animals.

When "A Gentleman of Leisure," the chief character played by Wallace Eddinger in the photo dramatization of the same name, starts out to commit burglary on a bet, he takes a real crook into partnership so that he may proceed with professional dexterity. But, so to speak, the crook can't stop "crooking." So Eddinger finds himself in the positively ridiculous position of continually trying to keep his own "pal" from stealing everything he can put his hands on, regardless of place or ownership. The "pal" quite naturally, can't see why a man should commit one robbery and not commit others.

Peggy Peabody's Observations

Common Sense Physical Culture.

How thoroughly the average person seems to have pinned his or her faith to physical culture as a system of exercise. After they feel that they are all run down they turn to the gymnasium or a few dumb bell exercises taken privately in their bedrooms. Several young women have written me asking advice on the matter.

First of all, I have noted that the desks of several typewriters whom I have seen busy at their tasks are not adapted to the work. Sometimes the chairs in which they sit are anything but suitable for the duties they have to perform, and more often than not, the whole cause of discomfort, round shoulders, hollow chests and all are due to the fact that those who sit at these desks and in these chairs are either unconscious of this cramped position or are too lazy to adjust them to their needs and convenience. They do not seem to count comfort in this respect of enough consequence.

A few exercises taken in spare moments will not very materially help round shoulders or an anemic condition, especially if one is to continue sitting in the position which brings these ills about. The first step in mind is to determine to sit up straight, and to get the full benefit of one's breathing capacity. This holding oneself upright is a habit that may be formed, and only when a round-shouldered person has decided to adopt this habit is she on the road to recovery from a practice that detracts both from health and appearances.

The determination to stand straight, with shoulders thrown back and chest thrown out and up, is the main thing. Then comes constant watchfulness lest one lapse into the old careless manner of walking or working in a position that is best described as huddled up. It may take some little time to either sit or stand properly without having to give the matter some little thought and attention.

While trying to sit and stand in the right way, one should try to cultivate the habit of deep breathing. This can be done on the morning walk to the office or to the train, and on the return at night. This, if followed faithfully, and with the idea of bettering the health of the body, will become second nature—a habit, in short, that it will be almost impossible to lose, once it is formed, and of great benefit to the entire system.

"GUID SCOTS' NICHT"

"St Patrick" Was a Scotsman Just the Same" Scores Hit With Clan Stewart.

Clan Stewart gave another of its notable entertainments, known as a "guid Scots nicht" at its hall, Fourth avenue west and First street, last evening, and a very enjoyable evening was passed. A dance followed a musical program. The latter was taken part in by Miss Anna Morrison, Mrs. Alex M. McLennan, Dr. J. G. Annand, William Mather and James Downie.

At the clan meeting on St. Patrick's night, Mr. Downie arranged to the tune of "The Wearin' O' the Green" verses of his own composition entitled "St. Patrick Was a Scotsman Just the Same." It was a hit, and last night he duplicated the triumph when he sang the number by request. It is pretty well established, so far as delving in the dim past is possible, that Ireland's patron saint was born in Scotia, but Mr. Downie seemed to clinch the argument, it is believed, in his assertions, which in verse form, follow:

"A lad was born in Scotland, many years ago;
But why he went to Ireland—well, that we do not know.
Ireland then was over-run with bannshees, snakes and frogs,
And he used the whole blamed shootin' match
For flingin' up the bogs.
Sure he wore a Stuart kilt,
As a piper had renown,
And when the bannshees heard the lilt
They fled to County Down;
Then the Irish claimed him,
Put Saint before his name;
And though he died in Ireland,
He's a Scotsman just the same.

"He liked his porridge daily, and of scones he ate a few,
Oat cakes to him were fruit, they say, and so was haggis, too;
Scotch broth he liked at dinner time,
Scotch whisky was his drink,
And, they say, once on a time he was skip of a curling rink.
When Patrick first did see the light
That blustery winter morn,
He started talking Gaelic,
For in Lewis he was born,
With a Gaelic speech he put his rule,
His name went down to fame;
And though his name was Patrick,
He's a Scotsman just the same."

A Man's Attire

Clothing may not make the man but the right kind will help him a whole lot.

A man properly attired has more self confidence. He has more punch. He can do bigger things.

To dress well need not mean extravagance.

Good taste counts fifty per cent, and the choice of proper attire is largely a matter of discrimination.

The man setting out to get the best he can afford in the matter of clothing will do well to become an advertising reader.

The better grade clothing manufacturers and the good stores are newspaper advertisers.

It is their business to help men dress well — and they thrive as they please their customers.

STEAMSHIP NORTHERN PACIFIC.

The steamship Northern Pacific of the Great Northern Pacific Steamship company, left Philadelphia today on her initial trip through the Panama canal to San Francisco. Her length is 524 feet, depth 50 feet, beam 63 feet, draft 21 feet. She has 26,000 horse power, and has triple screw propellers driven by Parsons turbines, oil burners. The ship has accommodations for over 800 passengers and a crew of 200, and has five decks. A speed of 24.72 knots per hour has been developed, which makes this boat one of the fastest ocean liners flying the United States flag. After reaching San Francisco, she will be placed in regular service between San Francisco and Astoria, Or.

RESULTS OF STYLE WEEK

Displays and Decorations Will Be Continued Friday and Saturday.

Duluth Merchants Get New Vision of Better Future for City.

Style Week ends officially today, but the Duluth merchants will keep up their displays and decorations throughout the week and shoppers will be attracted in large numbers to the shopping centers.

The last three days, which have been the opening of the spring and summer season, have been marked by unusual interest on the part of the public. Merchants say that the preliminary events on Monday evening when no goods were sold have brought them excellent returns. Many of the window displays of Monday evening brought immediate sales Tuesday morning, which proves that "window shopping" brings results to the merchants.

Another effect of the style exhibit that will bear permanent results was the great interest of shoppers in First street and West end stores. It shows that Duluth is expanding, and is no longer a city of one street, however long that street may be. First street has some of the leading stores of the city and the West end went into the Style Show with a vim that made the whole city take notice. It is also to the credit of the Superior street merchants that they did all they could to advertise other streets and sections of the city, which showed remarkable liberality on their part. It can be truthfully said that all of the merchants worked for the growth and expansion of the whole city, for the big dealer and the little dealer. They have also worked to secure the display of good merchandise and do all in their power to boost truthful advertising. The displays of goods shown have given Duluth and surrounding towns a new opinion of this city as a shopping center, putting it on an equal footing with Minneapolis and St. Paul as to quality, style and variety of merchandise. Duluth people now feel that they can buy in their home city anything that they need.

None of the merchants had any complaints to make today and all are confident that the good results obtained during Style Week will be felt for years to come. A Style Show next year is now assured and the merchants declare that their next meeting will be a love feast.

For everybody with corns, there is in every drug store in the land one of the real wonders of the world, and that's "GETS-IT" for corns! It's the first and only corn-cure ever known that removes any and every corn or callus without fail, without fussing with thick bandages, toe harnesses, corn-swelling salves, irritating ointments. It's applied in 2 seconds—bing, bing—2 drops, the work is done, the corn shrivels up, your corn agony ends and the corn leaves forever! All the limpting, the pains that dart to your heart's core, the crucifixion of having to wear shoes over screaming corns, the danger of blood poison from making them bleed by using knives, razors and scissors—are gone at last! "GETS-IT" is the new way, the sure, simple, painless way. Try it for corns, callouses, warts and bunions.

Lights and Shadows of Police Court

SOLD SUIT TWICE.

Henry Boyer "Got Away With It" But Not Very Far.

IF HENRY BOYER went to war, he would come back laden with battle flags and wearing the iron cross, according to Police Lieut. N. U. G. Terry. Boyer's success would not be attributed so much to his bravery as to his business acumen, further says the lieutenant.

To date Boyer is one of the few men who have been able to sell a thing twice and get away with it—and he didn't get very far away.

Last November he sold a suit of clothes to Henry Roy, 703 West Superior street, and then went to Roy's room, stole the suit, it is alleged, and sold it to a second-hand dealer for $5.

Roy finally found his raiment in the second-hand store, aided by Lieut. Terry, and waited for Boyer to return and claim it. He returned yesterday.

When arraigned before Municipal Judge F. H. Cutting this morning Boyer pleaded not guilty of petty larceny. He will be given a hearing March 26.

SHOES NOT MATES.

So George Smith Was Arrested When He Tried to Pawn Them.

When George Smith, age 38, stole a pair of shoes from the sidewalk display of a store at 504 West Superior street yesterday afternoon, he was careless enough to pick out shoes that were not mates, and this proved his undoing.

He took the odd right and odd left boot across the street to a pawnshop at 507 West Superior street and tried to sell them.

"Sure, they're mine," he said, when asked if he had been wearing them himself.

The clerk investigated, and Smith was arrested by Patrolman Olson and Honnold. He will be given a hearing this afternoon in municipal court.

ANOTHER FRANK SEYMORE.

Prisoner Proves He Is Not Old Offender and Gets Off Lightly.

Frank Seymore, age 42, single, a resident of Canada, who protested vigorously when sentenced to sixty days at the workfarm Tuesday, and said he objected to suffering for another's misdeeds, has been identified as another Frank Seymore, and released upon the payment of a $5 fine.

Both Seymores gave their ages as 42, said they were unmarried, and that their homes were in Canada. One of them is an old offender, while the other is a novice.

"I've never been in jail before in my life," he said, when charged with third offense drunkenness. His statement was found to be true, and fifty-five days were sheared from his first sentence.

MAY BE IN ENGLISH NAVY.

Charles Lovett, Seaman, Wanted as an Heir to Estate.

While his brother in Bradford, Mass., is searching for him, so that he may have a part of an estate left him by parents, Charles Lovett, a seaman, is believed to be fighting, under the Union Jack, helping the British cousins retain their title of mistress of the seas.

Lovett, a native of Novia Scotia, is known among sailors on the Great Lakes, but when Chief of Police Troyer started a search for him yesterday, it was reported that he had left the Great Lakes, and that he was believed to be on the high seas.

John Lovett, a brother, wants the police to find Charles, who has not been heard from for years, he says.

CLOSES WITH HIGHWAYMEN

Frank H. Frerker Refuses to "Throw Up His Hands."

Puts Up Stiff Fight, But Two Robbers Make Their Escape.

Hold-up men accosted Frank H. Frerker, 822 East Second street, near his home about 11 o'clock last night and after a desperate struggle, were frightened away by the approach of other pedestrians, leaving their would-be victim lying in the street.

Badly cut and bruised about the face and head, Mr. Frerker exhibited a torn and blood-covered suit of clothes at headquarters this morning, when he attempted to give the police a description of his assailants.

Mr. Frerker, who is a well known wholesale liquor dealer, was on his way home. He was walking east along First street, and the two men confronted him near the corner of Ninth avenue, as he was about to turn up the hill, with a command to "Throw up your hands."

Instead of complying he grappled with the nearest of the two men, and the pair lost their balance, falling into the street. After rolling around for a minute the second thug joined in the struggle, but Mr. Frerker continued to fight, calling for help.

Aroused by his cries, other pedestrians ran to his assistance, but the thugs made good their escape.

He was unable to give the police a very good description, as the spot was shaded by buildings and so dark that features could not be distinguished. He believes that they were both young men, he stated.

After going to his home, where his cuts were dressed, he telephoned headquarters. Police so far have discovered no trace of the pair.

MARINE

MORE ICE IN THIS END OF THE LAKE

Field at Whitefish Point Also More Extensive Than Last Week.

Weather bureau reports indicate that there is more ice over the extreme Western Lake Superior and less over the central and eastern portions, although the fields, this week, are more extensive from Marquette east to Whitefish point than was reported last week. The main channel in St. Mary's river is open at Sault Ste. Marie, but there is no material change in the condition from there to Detour.

The ice at the Straits of Mackinaw remains stationary and is twelve inches in thickness, two inches less than last year at this period. In Huron there are no fields reported off Detour, but from Presque Isle south to Thunder Bay island the fields extend beyond vision; south of Thunder Bay island there is open water and fields extend from Harbor Beach to near Port Huron.

The ice has been running freely from Lake St. Clair during the week. In Erie the fields remain along the south shore from Sandusky eastward to Buffalo, but the ice is not heavy; no fields are reported along the north shore.

In comparison with the same period last season there is more ice over extreme Western Lake Superior, not so much over the central portion and about the same over the eastern portion but not as heavy. The ice in St. Mary's river is not as heavy. There is less ice in Lakes Michigan, Huron, Erie and Ontario.

Details follow as to Lake Superior:

Duluth—Harbor ice is 33 inches in thickness; open water in Duluth entry canal thence to Sixth avenue west; the field ice in the lake extends beyond vision.

Two Harbors—Harbor ice 15 inches in thickness; telephone reports from north shore points indicate that the ice field extends from Duluth to Tofte, a distance of 93 miles; Grand Marais, Minn., reports no ice fields in sight.

Port Arthur, Ont.—Harbor ice 22 in thickness; it is drifting some and the outer edge has moved out, leaving about fourteen miles from the docks to open water in the lake.

Whitefish Point—The ice in the bay ranges from 9 to 18 inches and is solid; the fields in the lake are moving in and out with the wind and apparently are more extensive than last week.

Sault Ste. Marie—Harbor ice is 21 inches in thickness; open water in the channel; the ferry made its first trip on the 20th.

COAL CHARTERS SLOW.

Not Much Activity Shown By Shippers in Vessel Demand.

Lake coal shippers are not doing as much chartering this season as heretofore, and contracts show it. Only a few contracts have been reported this year, and while it was expected less contracting would be done, because of long-time contracts made the last two years, the market has hung back.

Two ship managers have closed contracts for a block of bituminous coal to go to Lake Superior at 30 cents. Each will get 200,000 tons, 400,000 tons in all. One of the leading lake shippers will not make written contracts, but will portion out the coal shipped by the company as it becomes evident how much the company will move.

LAST CONCERT OF THE SEASON

Temple Band Will Take the Place of Usual Organ Numbers

The last free concert of this season will be given at the Masonic temple next Sunday afternoon.

In place of the usual organ numbers, selections will be played by the Temple band, under the leadership of Charles Helmer. The vocal numbers will be rendered by the Scottish Rite quartet, who will sing two request numbers, Verdi's "Lord God Almighty" and "Songs of Yore," an arrangement of old-time favorite melodies. The "Palms" (Faure), will be sung by C. O. Applehagen and the quartet. Charles Helmer will give a cornet solo, "I Hear You Calling Me" (Marshall), with pipe organ accompaniment. The speaker of the occasion will be E. K. Coe, venerable master of the Lodge of Perfection, who will give a short talk on "Our Responsibilities." The concert will begin punctually at 3 o'clock.

WOULD SETTLE ESTATE.

Italian Consul Files Petition in Case of A. Bernabel.

Attilio Castigliano, Italian consul with headquarters in Duluth, today petitioned the probate court for letters of administration on the state of Antonio Bernabel, who died, aged 55, at Father Point, Quebec, Can., on May 29, 1914. Bernabel, at the time of his death, was a resident of St. Louis county. He left an estate valued at from $300 to $600 and consisting of life insurance. The sole heir is a mother residing in Italy.

HOPE FOR SETTLEMENT.

Crookston's Difference With Water Plant May Be Adjusted.

Crookston, Minn., March 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—No definite action was taken as a result of the citizens' mass meeting to consider the waterworks, power and light problem further than to instruct the citizens' committee to continue the negotiations with the Crookston Waterworks Power & Light company, looking towards a reduction in rates, the company having agreed to substantial reductions in hydrant service. It is believed a satisfactory basis of settlement will be reached.

TELL PEOPLE ABOUT IT.

There are twenty towns and villages in St. Louis county in which not a single death occurred during 1914.

Does that mean anything to you? It ought to. At least it ought to recall to your mind the fact that there is no healthier section of the United States than this state of Minnesota, and no healthier section of Minnesota than St. Louis county.

There are regions in this country of which diseases of one kind or another seem to be natural products. There are regions where the air never seems to be entirely free from contamination of one sort or another. But Minnesota is free from all such troubles. Some diseases are unknown here, though they prove a scourge in other parts. Other diseases that appear to follow humanity everywhere seem to lose much of their power here.

Do you know, you St. Louis county people, that you are living in a region and a climate that is second to none in the country for vigor and healthfulness? If you don't know that, wake up and realize it. And when you have got that far, go still farther and tell folks about it—mention it in your letters to outsiders. There is climate enough here to accommodate a few more comers, and there's no need of seeming stingy with it.

Various states are figuring up the cost of their recent legislatures on a basis of so much per statute. How long before we can do that in Minnesota?

THIS FROM ELIHU ROOT!

Ex-Senator Root's speech before the members of the Union league of Philadelphia was unquestionably one of the first fruits of that secret conference held a few weeks ago by Chairman Hilles of the Republican national committee and that choice lot of "manufacturers and business men who are interested in seeing the Republican party restored to power," to use Mr. Hilles' own words.

The names of the conferees were not given to the public, but it was admitted that they were members of the various associations that are interested in and working to restore high tariff rates. And that in itself means that they were men who are trying to get the United States government to adopt again the policy of high protection and privilege that finally led to the Payne-Aldrich tariff outrage.

The mission of the Republican party was Mr. Root's theme, and he declared that mission to be in part "to restore confidence in business." The phrase is a little vague, leaving the reader in doubt as to whether business is to have its own confidence restored, or whether the public is to be taught to have confidence in business men and their conduct.

If the former is the meaning, the mission is already being accomplished in spite of the Republican party. And if the second interpretation is right, Mr. Root should be awakened to the fact that business men and interests are themselves reassuring the public to a great extent by their adoption of a policy of frankness and publicity in things affecting the public, in place of the policy of secrecy and half-truths that were necessary under Republican administrations to keep the public from learning the extent to which private interests were being favored at public cost.

Part of Mr. Root's talk, as reported in the Associated Press dispatches, is distinctly disappointing, coming from such a source. He is quoted thus, relative to the "necessity" of electing Republicans to office:

> It is a question again of preserving the Union. The first thing is that the business men of America should become vocal. Talk, agitate and explain. . . . If the men who elected McKinley will rally to the standard the task can be accomplished.

This is not the language people have a right to expect from a man who has served in the cabinets of two presidents and been an honored member of the United States senate. It is the language of the demagogue, the "rank" dyed-in-the-wool party man, the politician-for-revenue-only. None but the overexcited political windjammer is expected to declare that the election of any one party is necessary "to preserve the Union."

"Talk, agitate and explain," are the words attributed to the speaker. Men who talk much have little opportunity to do real work; agitation is the very thing business interests have denounced; and a "hard times" cry that has to be explained to the people before they can believe there is any good reason for such a cry is plain "bunk" on the face of it.

Mr. Root pleads for a "fight to the last ditch against increased governmental regulation of business." Has he so soon forgotten the pronouncement of President Wilson, agreed to by the leaders in both houses of congress, that the program of business legislation was completed, and that from now on industry and commerce should be given a period of rest and opportunity to take advantage of the new conditions of certainty and freedom?

Elihu Root has won a reputation for ability and statesmanship. It is too bad to see him, in his advancing age, lose that reputation in a striving for political success for a party that has already been repudiated by the American voters.

Have you any neighbors who try to tell you how glorious the spring air is in the early morning?

IT IS UP TO THE HOUSE NOW.

With the senate's passage of the Sageng anti-road house bill, it is up to the house to determine whether the state is to have the benefits of this plan. The bill takes away from county commissioners the power to license saloons outside the limits of cities and villages, and it would be an advantage to the state if it were to become law.

Under the licenses granted by county boards, different sections of the state have seen lawless drinking places come into existence and flourish. They are located beyond the authority of the city or village police, and frequently in localities where it is difficult for the county officers to reach or control them. They become stopping places and hangouts for gangs that ought to be dispersed, and they prove the means of spreading lawlessness and crime.

Minnesota still licenses the liquor traffic, but that is no reason why the road house, with its constant menace and growing influence for evil, should be permitted. The Sageng bill would put an end to that kind of place. It is to be hoped the house will reach the measure and pass it.

The phrase "vote early and often" was more than a figure of speech in Terre Haute.

THE RATES ON COAL.

The public may be pardoned if they look askance at the request of the railroads for permission to increase their rates on coal in the territory west of and including Indiana. Everything that affects coal affects nearly everybody, and it seems to affect nearly everybody in just about the ratio of five to one compared with the effect on the coal itself.

The carriers say that the heavy expense involved in handling coal is the reason for their request for permission to raise rates. All they want, they say, is to add 7.95 cents a ton to the rate for carrying soft coal, and they assert that by the time this increase reached the consumer it would amount to only five cents a ton.

As to the expense of handling, it will be news to the average man that there has been any increase in the expense of handling coal. It has always been supposed that it cost something to get the stuff from the mines into the cars, and that it cost something to haul the cars to their destinations and unload them there. Maybe the railroads had thought all this was being done without cost, and have just learned that it isn't. Or maybe the cars are getting old and more of the coal leaks out than used to be the case.

But when it comes to the railroads' assuring the public that an eight cent increase in rates will shrink to only five cents when it gets to the consumer—that is going a bit far.

In the first place, how can the railroads promise what the rate to the consumer will be unless they propose to sell to the consumer? There have always been denials ready whenever it was charged that the railroads were themselves in the coal business.

In the second place, consumers have not forgotten that when the price of coal at the mines was raised five cents a ton, the increase amounted to twenty-five cents a ton by the time the coal reached the consumer's bin. So it will be pretty hard to convince them that a similar rule would not apply this time.

People have got over a good deal of the railroadphobia that spread over the country epidemic-fashion a few years ago. They have got to the point where they want the railroads to get justice. But anything that involves tampering with the price of coal arouses instant suspicion, and if an increase in these rates is granted, people will want to know exactly why it is done.

The Tariff and the War

By Savoyard.

Washington, March 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—The French poet Moliere exhibited to mankind an immortal miscreant, one Tartuffe, and it was supposed and proclaimed that this scoundrel, who

"Accused himself for having, while at prayer,
In too much anger, caught and killed a flea,"

had very close commune with heaven, and that none of us bad folk could enter those pearly gates without a pass signed by him. There were dolts to believe in him and scamps to promote him, and such it ever was, is, possibly ever will be, among men and women so long as sin abides in this wicked world we live in.

Had there been no intellectual imbeciles and no moral perverts here, the devil would have been a demon out of a job long ago. He never casts his net except in water where there are gudgeons eager to be victimized, never sows his seed except in soil infested with vipers with fangs for the unwary. And hence the lie was born in the world to make trouble for all the sons and daughters of Adam and Eve.

Republican chieftains insist that the deficit in the revenues is not due to the awful and deplorable war in Europe, but to the Democratic tariff. How boundless the contempt for the intelligence of the people a publicist must have to make that statement! Here is a struggle that has taken at least 12,000,000 able-bodied men from gainful pursuits and entered them on the work of destruction. The lives thus sacrificed on the altar of Moloch number more than a million; the cripples are reckoned several times as many—hundreds of thousands of them for the rest of their lives dependent on the charity of their families or the aid of their governments. The devastation of property, the waste of opulent communities, is enormous, amounting to billions of our money.

And to say that such a fearful war, participated in by half of mankind—states owning more than half the wealth of the world—has not injuriously affected the treasury of such a great commercial country as ours is not only stupid, but criminal. It has curtailed our importations enormously, and, as a consequence, our customs revenues have fallen off. That made inevitable a supplemental tax law, and direct taxation, such as this, is always unpopular.

Our exports vastly exceed in value our imports. According to the protective tariff dogma that makes an ideal condition, and if that were true our country would be in the best fix at this moment in all its history, for excess of exports over imports was never so great as now. If such an idea is sound Mexico ought to be a very opulent country and England a hopelessly poverty-stricken country, for, during the three-score years last past, the balance of trade has been "favorable" in Mexico and "adverse" in England. Yet England had money to loan at low rates of interest all these years and Mexico was a chronic borrower at extortionate rates of interest.

If a merchant in New York ships abroad a cargo of domestic merchandise, worth at that port $50,000, and exchanges it for foreign merchandise, worth in New York $75,000, possibly he would be satisfied with his venture; though statesmen of the standpat Nelson W. Aldrich school hold that such a transaction is ruinous to our country. We have exported only $50,000 worth of stuff and imported goods to the value of $75,000. Thus the "balance of trade" is "adverse" to us in the amount of $25,000, the amount of our loss. Frightful! Horrible! But if that merchant keeps it up he will get rich as sure as the devil is a hog. And the country will likewise prosper by such ventures—the more of 'em the better.

After Great Britain and her colonies, Germany was our best customer, the latter country third, Canada being second. Trade with Germany is enormously decreased and constantly diminishing. France was an excellent customer and our imports from that country are comparatively small. The same is true of Russia, of Austria, of Italy, of all the states of Europe. When the Underwood tariff was forged it was on a calculation that Europe would remain at peace. That is the only honest way to test the measure. No fair-minded man will argue otherwise. But Tartuffe is abroad in the land, and he is a standpat Republican. Tartuffe asserts that the war in Europe has nothing to do with the case. Well, there are fools who agree to that as there were fools to credit that battle between the hypocrite and that flea quoted in the foregoing.

Now what is the Republican party going to do with the income tax? That is going to be a mighty live wire in 1916. The cream of the Republican press is clamoring for its repeal. Senator Root would expunge it from the tax law. The vociferous William Alden Smith:

"He is a marvelous talker—one who finds
The art of saying nothing with many words.
You can't make head or tail of his discourse,
And what you listen to is only noise."

But the Hon. Smith rails at the income tax. The Democrats are committed to it. What stand will the Republicans take?

There can be no dodging. Our electorate is grown too intelligent. The G. O. P. must come right up to the trough on the income tax proposition.

Civilization's Onward March.

From Mrs. B. M. Bower's latest book, "The Flying U's Last Stand": Progress is like the insidious change from youth to old age, except that progress does not mean decay. The change that is almost imperceptible and yet inexorable is much the same, however. You will see a community apparently changeless as the years pass by; and yet, when the years have gone by and you look back there has been a change. It is not the same. It never will be the same. It can pass through further change, but it cannot go back. Men look back, sick sometimes with longing for the things that were and that can be no more; they live the old days in memory—but try as they will they may not go back. With intelligent, persistent effort they may retard further change considerably, but that is the most they can hope to do. Civilization and time will continue the march in spite of all that man may do.

A Query from Secretary Redfield.

William C. Redfield in the Atlantic Monthly: "Because private capital could not afford to build the Alaskan railways and take the risk of no profits for long years, were they not to be built at all? Shall we now leave Alaska undeveloped, save only so far as private capital can see an immediate profit to be made by developing just so much of it as will soon pay dividends?"

Jingo Judases

Editorial in the Pittsburg Dispatch.

The war has had many effects on the American people—mental as well as material. It revealed to us, as by a lightning flash, our fundamental interdependence with the rest of the world, disabusing our minds for all time of the notion of our impregnable isolation. But perhaps the strangest effect, in the light of history and national spirit, has been the conviction brought home to us of the folly and wastefulness of war. The world-madness has done more to precipitate peace sentiment in the United States than all the preachments and propaganda of years. Our fortunate aloofness has enabled us to view the European conflict with judicial calm, to analyze the petty ambitions of princes and statesmen, to pity the misled patriotism of the peoples who are squandering their life blood and mortgaging their future generations for a paltry price. To us it is given to see clearly what is hidden from the blood-blinded nations abroad. We can admire their courage and devotion to their ideals while seeing for ourselves how suicidal is their struggle. Nothing they can gain can possibly compensate them for what they are sacrificing, and anything they ought to gain should have been attainable by common sense as easily as by cannonade.

It is this realization that has made for peaceful sentiment in America. Europe is a demonstration of the folly of not counting the cost. For our part, we propose to count the cost before embarking in war. It is not cowardice, but common sense. Actually it requires a higher moral courage than the brute courage that impels to war. We have to school ourselves in repression at irritating acts which in a less sober frame of mind would have hurried us into retaliation. But we are convinced that if we have patience and bide our time we can secure anything we could hope to obtain by resorting to force; that, too, without sacrificing American lives or burdening ourselves and our children unborn with the debts of war.

This we believe to be the sober judgment of the great bulk of the American people today. It is, therefore, difficult to have patience with the sensation-mongering jingo organs which for more personal profit seek to inflame the war spirit in this country. Their frenetic clamor about the national honor, their frenzied waving of the flag, are no more than a bid for notoriety and pennies. Never again, it is hoped, will it be possible for a yellow journalist to boast that he made this country go to war. If there is to be any warmaking by Americans hereafter, which God forbid, it will be decreed by the sound, sober judgment of the nation, not stampeded by sensationalists.

It is undoubtedly true that the warring nations have torn international law into scraps of paper—for the time being. But what are we to do about it? Plunge into war against the allies because of Britain's blockade of the sea, and thereby make ourselves allies of Germany and Austria, or leap into war with Germany over the submarine blockade and thereby play into the hands of the allies? Either way, we should be certain to lose far more than we could gain, without altering the situation of which we complain. But if we content ourselves for the moment with placing our protests on file, when the war is ended and international law resumes its sway, we shall be able to demand and secure justice and redress.

Meantime, any man or newspaper that endeavors to stir up jingo sentiment in this country, who seeks to have us embroil ourselves, is a menace to the nation and should be branded as a mad dog, a pest and a pestilence. Judas betrayed the Savior for thirty pieces of silver. For a few coppers these sensation-mongers would betray their country.

Parents and Schools

Milwaukee Journal: Do you know what your children are doing at school? They get much more out of their school life when you interest yourself and inform yourself about their work and play. So large a part of a child's life is spent in the school room; so many of the influences which form his character are at work there that you cannot afford not to understand them. If you know the teacher, you are less likely to blame her if anything goes wrong; sometimes you are less likely to blame the boy or girl. But, anyhow, you need to know the aims and ideas and plans of the teacher; for understanding creates interest on both sides.

Our public education costs a good deal in dollars; it is very cheap if the child gets the right kind of education. And it is the duty of fathers and mothers to see that he does. As a nation we do not value the benefits of school training lightly, but we are perhaps inclined to take for granted that all our boy needs is to be sent to school and the rest is assured. What he really needs is the knowledge that we understand and believe in the work he is trying to do there; that we will not always blame him when anything goes wrong, but are not going to blame anyone else without reason, and perhaps most of all, that we believe that if he does his school work well, he is really laying the best foundation for whatever it is that he hopes to do in life.

Boy Tells of Farm Success.

Clifford Jones in the Breeders' Gazette: I am 12 years old and expect to become a farmer. My father owns a farm of eighty-seven acres. My brother is 14 years old. We both work hard in the spring and summer and in the winter we go to school. Next year father is going to rent eighty acres. We have four good work horses and everything we need in farm machinery.

I own fifteen hogs and feed and take care of them. Father furnished them feed for one-third of the profit. My brother and I expect to enter the boys' corn contest, so that will help us to feed our hogs. A year ago one of father's sows laid on one of her little sow pigs and injured it. He gave it to me and I cared for it three weeks, then my brother wanted to trade for it, so we traded. The sow pig I got was a runt, but I did not care. In a week or two my uncle gave my brother and me two pigs apiece.

We milked four cows and fed the pigs all the milk they wanted, but we raised only two sow pigs. My sow farrowed nine good pigs last fall. My other sow had eight pigs, but four of them died. I want to make them weigh 200 pounds before I sell them.

I traded one of my sows for one of my father's pure bred gilts, which he is going to have registered. I am going to try to raise nothing but pure bred stock. CLIFFORD JONES.

Is She a Jitneyette?

Milwaukee Free Press: Eighty-one jitney busses are now licensed to do business in Milwaukee. Seven permits were issued at the city clerk's office yesterday. One woman, Mrs. Frank Seeky, secured a license, the fourth to a woman driver in the city.

Yarns From Washington

By Fred C. Kelly.

Washington, March 25.—(Special to The Herald.—The day after congress adjourned Ed. Keating of Colorado entered on what—considering that he is a congressman—was an odd form of vacation.

Accompanied by his wife, Keating became a Washington tourist. He has been in Washington almost constantly for the last two years, but has had no time for sightseeing. Always he had intended to do sightseeing on the morrow, but with unfailing regularity has put it off. He lived at a hotel near the capitol and the office building and the line of least resistance was a little path between these three points. Until he became a Washington tourist, the other day, Keating knew little more about the nation's capital than if he had remained out in Colorado.

Within an hour after congress adjourned Keating had locked up his desk and his office for the season, and was studying a nice, fresh, new, 25-cent guidebook. His wife already had a kodak, but at Keating's suggestion she got a carrying case and strap and slung the outfit over his shoulder in true tourist fashion.

"It seems to me," remarked Keating, "that most of the tourists I have seen on Pennsylvania avenue wore light-colored spats. We must have some spats."

By the next morning Keating not only had his spats, but in other respects had entirely ceased to look like a congressman. Even the expression on his face had changed. There is a sort of open-eyed, wondering look goes with the tourist. Keating had it.

"Well, I suppose the first thing we ought to see," suggested the congressman to his wife, "is the capitol."

"The wha-a-t?"

"The capitol," repeated Keating. "I've been in it, of course, several hundred times, but have always had something on my mind. Many's the time when I've seen guides pointing out the historic paintings to tourists that I had curiosity to know what they were about, but I always figured that I could just as well wait until I wasn't quite so busy."

So they hired a guide and were shown about the capitol. The guide, learning that Keating was a congressman, seemed to take especial pains to give them every courtesy. Keating asked numerous questions and even went so far as to jot a few facts and figures down in a little book. Never was there a more painstaking or enthusiastic tourist.

Then they climbed aboard a big rubberneck wagon and listened to the megaphone man as he pointed out the homes of the nation's great men.

After that they went up in the Washington monument. Keating had seen it a thousand times or saw it from the window of his hotel room, but never before had he been up close to it.

Oh, they took in everything—the tomb of George Washington at Mt. Vernon, the Lee mansion at Arlington, the bureau of engraving—even the pension bureau, because Keating is on the pension committee. Every little while they paused to buy souvenir postcards to send home to friends.

And every place the Keatings went they were accosted by hack drivers and proprietors of sightseeing autos. During his two years in congress Keating was never once noticed by these persons. That was because he had not previously been a tourist and he lacked the tourist expression.

Spring's Awakening

John Burroughs, "Signs and Seasons": Thoreau, as revealed in his journal, was for years trying to settle in his own mind what was the first thing that stirred in spring, after the severe New England winter—in what was the first sign or pulse of returning life manifest; and he never seems to have been quite sure. He could not get his salt on the tail of this bird. He dug into the swamps, he peered into the water, he felt with benumbed hands for the radical leaves of the plants under the snow; he inspected the buds on the willows, the catkins on the alders; he went out before daylight of a March morning and remained out after dark; he watched the lichens and mosses on the rocks; he listened for the birds; he was on the alert for the first frog ("Can you be absolutely sure," he says, "that you have heard the first frog that croaked in the township"); he stuck a pin here and he stuck a pin there, and there, and still he could not satisfy himself. Nor can anyone. Life appears to start in several things simultaneously. Of a warm, thawy day in February the snow is suddenly covered with myriads of snow fleas looking like black new powder just spilled there. Or you may see a winged insect in the air. Or the self-same day the grass in the spring run and the catkins on the alders will have started a little; and if you look sharply, while passing along some sheltered nook or grassy slope where the sunshine lies warm on the bare ground, you will probably see a grasshopper or two. The grass hatches out under the snow, and why should not the grasshopper?

And There Was Light.

Judge: Mr. Picklelilly came home from his club one morning about 5 o'clock. He entered his happy home, crept up the stairs softly, so as not to awaken his spouse, then felt for the switch to turn on the electric light. He could not find it and in the darkness stumbled over a chair.

"What's that?" came a voice from the bed.

"Where in the deuce are the lights in this house?" snarled Picklelilly, trying to put a bold face on the matter.

"Lights!" cried Mrs. Picklelilly scathingly. "Pull up the blinds."

The House of Life.

To what old friend or foe
Do I this hostel owe?
This prison-house, no presence knows but mine.
Part bestial, part divine;
This house wherein oft shine
The lamps of dream, the taper-glow
Of thoughts; where ghosts glide to and fro—
Old ghosts of hate and love, that sunder
The silence with their breathings low;
And, pale with wonder,
Hope and Despair, with footsteps swift or slow,
Pace in the darkness, its chief chamber under
And come and go
Around the living clock that beats below.

I fancy He who willed it,
And out of silence drew
This house of joy and rue,
And with the darkness filled it,
Thought, in His Heart's high essence,
The wisest thing to do,
For me as well as you,
Was, in the walls he builded
To hide somewhat the clew
That leads us to His presence
Above the starry blue.

Northern Minnesota, Land of Opportunity

Chorus of Minnesota Boosters.

Governor a New Champion.

Virginia Enterprise: The development of Northern Minnesota has a new champion. It is none other than Governor Hammond, who has returned to the capitol from a visit to this region more firmly than ever committed to a program of state development through the medium of good roads, state aid in opening up undeveloped and inaccessible sections and firm faith of its future.

Governor Hammond is to be congratulated on thus early in his administration aligning himself so progressively on the matter of state development. His action is especially pleasing coming at a time when there is a considerable clamor for the abolishing of the office of the state immigration commissioner and his department, whose business it is to advertise Northern Minnesota. Minnesota has too many things to advertise to prospective settlers, and it is being too well done and has been too well begun to be abandoned now. If anything the appropriation for this department should be increased rather than abolished.

The attacks on the Elwell and the Dunn good roads laws and on the department of immigration are ill-advised. The fact that they have been fostered in a section of the state that is little concerned with state development and has slight knowledge of the needs of the situation, together with the fact that the governor has become a champion of state development, are both significant as convincing proof that the state should let well enough alone in the matter of the road laws and legislation which has to do with the upbuilding and conservation of Northern Minnesota's interests.

Acquiring Sense.

Menagha Advertiser: From all sides come reports of new settlers coming in and of farm lands being purchased at higher prices than ever before. It truly looks as though the endless multitude of land seekers who have been flocking to every boomed piece of wilderness of the West during the past few years had at last turned their attention to Central and Northern Minnesota, which offers more to the homeseeker than any state west of here.

Wealth Above Ground.

Roseau Times: The country around Warroad will be exploited for coal and it is possible that valuable coal fields will be found. Warroad does not, however, need to look for mines under ground. The developed and undeveloped farm lands of that section will yield the riches of gold mines and furnish homes of comfort and plenty to a people whose surroundings will be far superior to the miner and whose prosperity will make Warroad a city of activity and importance in Northern Minnesota.

Had It on Minneapolis.

Bemidji Sentinel: Last week Minneapolis was plowing around in a couple of feet of snow while in Northern Minnesota the robins continued to sing (or twit, whatever it is a robin does) merrily. So Bemidji joins the fails in giving Minnie the ha ha.

Converted!

Grand Rapids Independent: Even the "Don't-do-as-I-do-but-do-as-I-tell-you" fellows are coming to Northern Minnesota. P. V. Collins has purchased 160 acres of land near Akeley, and will do some farming there.

Have Something to Boost.

Winnebago Enterprise: We believe that the average resident of Southern Minnesota can learn a lesson in boosting from the average resident of Northern Minnesota. The people up north do not know what a hammer looks like. They boost their country in and out of season, and the results are making themselves manifest.

Just a Moment

Daily Strength and Cheer.

Compiled by John G. Quintius, the Sunshine Man.

So shall ye know that I am the Lord your God dwelling in Zion, my holy mountain; then shall Jerusalem be holy, and there shall no strangers pass through her any more.—Joel iii, 17.

The prophet intimates that the favor of God had been so hidden during the afflictions of the people that they could but think that they were forsaken by God. His word ought indeed to be sufficient for us in the greatest evils; for though God may cast us into the deepest gulfs, yet when He shines upon us by His word it ought to be a consolation abundantly availing to sustain our souls.

There is a two-fold knowledge, the knowledge of faith, received from His word, and the knowledge of experience as we may say, derived from actual enjoyment. The faithful ever acknowledge that salvation is laid up for them in God; but sometimes they do not by actual enjoyment know God to be their Father. The prophet, therefore, now treats of real knowledge when he says that they shall know that they have a God. How are they to know this? By experience. This passage teaches us that though God should not put forth his hand manifestly to help us, we ought yet to entertain good hope of His favor; for the prophet spoke of this end, that the godly might, before the event or the accomplishment of the prophecy should come, look to God and cast all their cares on Him.—"Edward."

"I sat and thought of my shattered plans,
The things I had tried to do,
For disappointment in one and all
Had followed them through and through.
"Put an 'I' where you placed the 'D,'
For Disappointments in earthly plans
Are His appointments for thee."

The Building of a Farm Home.

Breeders' Gazette: A man who settled upon a piece of land made it into an orderly farm. His crops were always good and his animals throve, but the main work that he accomplished was the rearing of a family of fine children, each one of whom are given an education.

It was a well filled farmhouse while the youngsters were small and, naturally, as they grew the house became crowded. He then set about building a new dwelling. The old one was moved across the road; the farm teams made an excavation for a cellar. Then came the concrete foundation walls, and soon there uprose the framework of the new house that the family in council had planned.

Eventually from under the hands of the workmen emerged the completed house with its bath, open fires, cheery living room, sunny kitchen and sleeping porches. It was a snug fit all around and the family enjoyed it; all reveled in the unaccustomed comforts of a well-planned, well-built house. The owner has since died, leaving a son and daughters on the farm, with no one dreaming of moving to town.

Twenty Years Ago

From The Herald of this date, 1895.

•••A few nights ago Solomon Johnson, a homesteader at Horse Shoe lake, near Grand Rapids, Itasca county, was shot and killed by some unknown assassin, who fired through a window at Johnson, who was sitting in his house with his wife and children.

•••A municipal campaign is under way in Superior. James H. Agen is the Republican nominee for mayor. P. J. Eckstrand for treasurer, H. E. Ticknor for comptroller, H. A. Austin and A. B. Lusk for constables. The Democrats and Populists have fused, with the following ticket: Mayor, Rev. C. S. Starkweather; treasurer, P. J. Eckstrand; comptroller, Simon Klovdahl; constables, Fred Douglas and John Doherty.

•••Duluth temperature at 7 a. m. today, 34; maximum yesterday, 51; minimum yesterday, 35.

•••A movement has been started to secure the selection of a delegation by the next Republican state convention that will support Senator Cushman K. Davis for the nomination for president.

•••This morning the new business office of the Marshall-Wells Hardware company was occupied for the first time. It is on the first floor and is 50 feet long and 100 feet wide.

•••John Clyne has been awarded the contract for constructing an open culvert from Michigan street to First street in Twenty-sixth avenue west, which is the bed of Miller creek. His bid was $5,348.

•••J. A. Mannheim and Matthias Haug have sold 125 feet on the northwest corner of Fourth street and First avenue west, on which there is a two-story double store building. The purchaser is the Homestead Building & Loan association, and the consideration is $31,700.

•••Marriage licenses have been issued to William S. Douglas and Katherina Florence Woodland, W. E. Bennett and Mrs. Sarah Berry, and Frank Goldman and Mary Feldman.

•••Mr. and Mrs. William Abrahamson were given a surprise party yesterday afternoon at their home, in honor of the third anniversary of their marriage. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Gust Levine, Mr. and Mrs. N. Summerfield, Mr. and Mrs. H. Cohn, Mr. and Mrs. J. Levine, Mr. and Mrs. B. Edelmann, Mr. and Mrs. I. Abrahamson, all of Duluth, and Mr. and Mrs. M. Marcus, Mr. and Mrs. I. Cohn and Mrs. S. Summerfield of West Superior.

Was Learning Early.

Cleveland Plain Dealer: A friend whom we have learned to trust tells us that he overheard this conversation between two women in a department store the other day. He says that these ladies were discussing their children and as he has children of his own he had to listen. And he was rewarded:

"You think that your little girl is much brighter than your little boy, do you not?" asked one.

"Why, no," answered the other. "I think that the boy is ahead, if anything. He learns his lessons much more easily."

"But you said that the girl learned to read at an earlier age than the boy did."

"Yes—but that was because she hated to miss the bargain sale advertisements in the papers."

TELL PEOPLE ABOUT IT.

There are twenty towns and villages in St. Louis county in which not a single death occurred during 1914.

Does that mean anything to you? It ought to. At least it ought to recall to your mind the fact that there is no healthier section of the United States than this state of Minnesota, and no healthier section of Minnesota than St. Louis county.

There are regions in this country of which diseases of one kind or another seem to be natural products. There are regions where the air never seems to be entirely free from contamination of one sort or another. But Minnesota is free from all such troubles. Some diseases are unknown here, though they prove a scourge in other parts. Other diseases that appear to follow humanity everywhere seem to lose much of their power here.

Do you know, you St. Louis county people, that you are living in a region and a climate that is second to none in the country for vigor and healthfulness? If you don't know that, wake up and realize it. And when you have got that far, go still farther and tell folks about it—mention it in your letters to outsiders. There is climate enough here to accommodate a few more comers, and there's no need of seeming stingy with it.

Various states are figuring up the cost of their recent legislatures on a basis of so much per statute. How long before we can do that in Minnesota?

THIS FROM ELIHU ROOT!

Ex-Senator Root's speech before the members of the Union league of Philadelphia was unquestionably one of the first fruits of that secret conference held a few weeks ago by Chairman Hilles of the Republican national committee and that choice lot of "manufacturers and business men who are interested in seeing the Republican party restored to power," to use Mr. Hilles' own words.

The names of the conferees were not given to the public, but it was admitted that they were members of the various associations that are interested in and working to restore high tariff rates. And that in itself means that they were men who are trying to get the United States government to adopt again the policy of high protection and privilege that finally led to the Payne-Aldrich tariff outrage.

The mission of the Republican party was Mr. Root's theme, and he declared that mission to be in part "to restore confidence in business." The phrase is a little vague, leaving the reader in doubt as to whether business is to have its own confidence restored, or whether the public is to be taught to have confidence in business men and their conduct.

If the former is the meaning, the mission is already being accomplished in spite of the Republican party. And if the second interpretation is right, Mr. Root should be awakened to the fact that business men and interests are themselves reassuring the public to a great extent by their adoption of a policy of frankness and publicity in things affecting the public, in place of the policy of secrecy and half-truths that were necessary under Republican administrations to keep the public from learning the extent to which private interests were being favored at public cost.

Part of Mr. Root's talk, as reported in the Associated Press dispatches, is distinctly disappointing, coming from such a source. He is quoted thus, relative to the "necessity" of electing Republicans to office:

> It is a question again of preserving the Union. The first thing is that the business men of America should become vocal. Talk, agitate and explain. • • • If the men who elected McKinley will rally to the standard the task can be accomplished.

This is not the language people have a right to expect from a man who has served in the cabinets of two presidents and been an honored member of the United States senate. It is the language of the demagogue, the "rank" dyed-in-the-wool party man, the politician-for-revenue-only. None but the overexcited political windjammer is expected to declare that the election of any one party is necessary "to preserve the Union."

"Talk, agitate and explain," are the words attributed to the speaker. Men who talk much have little opportunity to do real work; agitation is the very thing business interests have denounced; and a "hard times" cry that has to be explained to the people before they can believe there is any good reason for such a cry is plain "bunk" on the face of it.

Mr. Root pleads for a "fight to the last ditch against increased governmental regulation of business." Has he so soon forgotten the pronouncement of President Wilson, agreed to by the leaders in both houses of congress, that the program of business legislation was completed, and that from now on industry and commerce should be given a period of rest and opportunity to take advantage of the new conditions of certainty and freedom?

Elihu Root has won a reputation for ability and statesmanship. It is too bad to see him, in his advancing age, lose that reputation in a striving for political success for a party that has already been repudiated by the American voters.

Have you any neighbors who try to tell you how glorious the spring air is in the early morning?

IT IS UP TO THE HOUSE NOW.

With the senate's passage of the Sageng anti-road house bill, it is up to the house to determine whether the state is to have the benefits of this plan. The bill takes away from county commissioners the power to license saloons outside the limits of cities and villages, and it would be an advantage to the state if it were to become law.

Under the licenses granted by county boards, different sections of the state have seen lawless drinking places come into existence and flourish. They are located beyond the authority of the city or village police, and frequently in localities where it is difficult for the county officers to reach or control them. They become stopping places and hangouts for gangs that ought to be dispersed, and they prove the means of spreading lawlessness and crime.

Minnesota still licenses the liquor traffic, but that is no reason why the road house, with its constant menace and growing influence for evil, should be permitted. The Sageng bill would put an end to that kind of place. It is to be hoped the house will reach the measure and pass it.

The phrase "vote early and often" was more than a figure of speech in Terre Haute.

THE RATES ON COAL.

The public may be pardoned if they look askance at the request of the railroads for permission to increase their rates on coal in the territory west of and including Indiana. Everything that affects coal affects nearly everybody, and it seems to affect nearly everybody in just about the ratio of five to one compared with the effect on the coal itself.

The carriers say that the heavy expense involved in handling coal is the reason for their request for permission to raise rates. All they want, they say, is to add 7.05 cents a ton to the rate for carrying soft coal, and they assert that by the time this increase reached the consumer it would amount to only five cents a ton.

As to the expense of handling, it will be news to the average man that there has been any increase in the expense of handling coal. It has always been supposed that it cost something to get the stuff from the mines into the cars, and that it cost something to haul the cars to their destinations and unload them there. Maybe the railroads had thought all this was being done without cost, and have just learned that it isn't. Or maybe the cars are getting old and more of the coal leaks out than used to be the case.

But when it comes to the railroads' assuring the public that an eight cent increase in rates will shrink to only five cents when it gets to the consumer—that is going a bit far.

In the first place, how can the railroads promise what the rate to the consumer will be unless they propose to sell to the consumer? There have always been denials ready whenever it was charged that the railroads were themselves in the coal business.

In the second place, consumers have not forgotten that when the price of coal at the mines was raised five cents a ton, the increase amounted to twenty-five cents a ton by the time the coal reached the consumer's bin. So it will be pretty hard to convince them that a similar rule would not apply this time.

People have got over a good deal of the railroadphobia that spread over the country epidemic-fashion a few years ago. They have got to the point where they want the railroads to get justice. But anything that involves tampering with the price of coal arouses instant suspicion, and if an increase in these rates is granted, people will want to know exactly why it is done.

The Tariff and the War

By Satyagrl

Washington, March 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—The French poet Moliere exhibited to mankind an immortal miscreant, one Tartuffe, and it was supposed and proclaimed that this scoundrel, who

"Accused himself for having, while at prayer,
In too much anger, caught and killed a flea,"

had very close commune with heaven, and that none of us bad folk could enter those pearly gates without a pass signed by him. There were dolts to believe in him and scamps to promote him, and such it ever was, is, possibly ever will be, among men and women so long as sin abides in this wicked world we live in.

Had there been no intellectual imbeciles and no moral perverts here, the devil would have been a demon out of a job long ago. He never casts his net except in water where there are gudgeons eager to be victimized, never sows his seed except in soil infested with vipers with fangs for the unwary. And hence the lie was born in the world to make trouble for all the sons and daughters of Adam and Eve.

Republican chieftains insist that the deficit in the revenues is not due to the awful and deplorable war in Europe, but to the Democratic tariff. How boundless the contempt for the intelligence of the people a publicist must have to make that statement! Here is a struggle that has taken at least 12,000,000 able-bodied men from gainful pursuits and entered them on the work of destruction. The lives thus sacrificed on the altar of Moloch number more than a million; the cripples are reckoned several times as many—hundreds of thousands of them for the rest of their lives dependent on the charity of their families or the aid of their governments. The devastation of property, the waste of opulent communities, is enormous, amounting to billions of our money.

And to say that such a fearful war, participated in by half of mankind—states owning more than half the wealth of the world—has not injuriously affected the treasury of such a great commercial country as ours is not only stupid, but criminal. It has curtailed our importations enormously, and, as a consequence, our customs revenues have fallen off. That made inevitable a supplemental tax law, and direct taxation, such as this, is always unpopular.

Our exports vastly exceed in value our imports. According to the protective tariff dogma that makes an ideal condition, and if that were true our country would be in the best fix at this moment in all its history, for excess of exports over imports was never so great as now. If such an idea is sound Mexico ought to be a very opulent country and England a hopelessly poverty-stricken country, for, during the three-score years last past, the balance of trade has been "favorable" in Mexico and "adverse" in England. Yet England had money to loan at low rates of interest all these years and Mexico was a chronic borrower at extortionate rates of interest.

If a merchant in New York ships abroad a cargo of domestic merchandise, worth at that port $50,000, and exchanges it for foreign merchandise, worth in New York $75,000, possibly he would be satisfied with his venture; though statesmen of the standpat Nelson W. Aldrich school hold that such a transaction is ruinous to our country. We have exported only $50,000 worth of stuff and imported goods to the value of $75,000. Thus the "balance of trade" is "adverse" to us in the amount of $25,000, the amount of our loss. Frightful! Horrible! But if that merchant keeps it up he will get rich as sure as the devil is a hog. And the country will likewise prosper by such ventures—the more of 'em the better.

After Great Britain and her colonies, Germany was our best customer, the latter country third, Canada being second. Trade with Germany is enormously decreased and constantly diminishing. France was an excellent customer and our imports from that country are comparatively small. The same is true of Russia, of Austria, of Italy, of all the states of Europe. When the Underwood tariff was forged it was on a calculation that Europe would remain at peace. That is the only honest way to test the measure. No fair-minded man will argue otherwise. But Tartuffe is abroad in the land, and he is a standpat Republican. Tartuffe asserts that the war in Europe has nothing to do with the case. Well, there are fools who agree to that as there were fools to credit that battle between the hypocrite and that flea quoted in the foregoing.

Now what is the Republican party going to do with the income tax? That is going to be a mighty live wire in 1916. The cream of the Republican press is clamoring for its repeal. Senator Root would expunge it from the tax law. The vociferous William Alden Smith:

"He is a marvelous talker—one who finds
The art of saying nothing with many words.
You can't make head or tail of his discourse,
And what you listen to is only noise."

But the Hon. Smith rails at the income tax. The Democrats are committed to it. What stand will the Republicans take?

There can be no dodging. Our electorate is grown too intelligent. The G. O. P. must come right up to the trough on the income tax proposition.

Civilization's Onward March.

From Mrs. B. M. Bower's latest book, "The Flying U's Last Stand": Progress is like the insidious change from youth to old age; except that progress does not mean decay. The change that is almost imperceptible and yet inexorable is much the same, however. You will see a community apparently changeless as the years pass by; and yet, when the years have gone by and you look back there has been a change. It is not the same. It never will be the same. It can pass through further change, but it cannot go back. Men look back, sick sometimes with longing for the things that were and that can be no more; they live the old days in memory—but try as they will they may not go back. With intelligent, persistent effort they may retard further change considerably, but that is the most they can hope to do. Civilization and time will continue the march in spite of all that man may do.

A Query from Secretary Redfield.

William C. Redfield in the Atlantic Monthly: "Because private capital could not afford to build the Alaskan railways and take the risk of no profits for long years, were they not to be built at all? Shall we now leave Alaska undeveloped, save only so far as private capital can see an immediate profit to be made by developing just so much of it as will soon pay dividends?"

Jingo Judases

Editorial in the Pittsburg Dispatch.

The war has had many effects on the American people—mental as well as material. It revealed to us, as by a lightning flash, our fundamental interdependence with the rest of the world, disabusing our minds for all time of the notion of our impregnable isolation. But perhaps the strangest effect, in the light of our history and national spirit, has been the conviction brought home to us of the folly and wastefulness of war. The world-madness has done more to promote peace sentiment in the United States than all the preachments and propaganda of years. Our fortunate aloofness has enabled us to view the European conflict with judicial calm, to analyze the petty ambitions of princes and statesmen, to pity the misled patriotism of the peoples who are squandering their life blood and mortgaging their future generations for a paltry price. To us it is given to see clearly what is hidden from the blood-blinded nations abroad. We can admire their courage and devotion to their ideals while seeing for ourselves how suicidal is their struggle. Nothing they can gain can possibly compensate them for what they are sacrificing, and anything they ought to gain should have been attainable by common sense as easily as by cannonade.

It is this realization that has made for peaceful sentiment in America. Europe is a demonstration of the folly of not counting the cost. For our part, we propose to count the cost before embarking in war. It is not cowardice, but common sense. Actually it requires a higher moral courage than the brute courage that impels to war. We have to school ourselves in repression at irritating acts which in a less sober frame of mind would have hurried us into retaliation. But we are convinced that if we have patience and bide our time we can secure anything we could hope to obtain by resorting to force; that, too, without sacrificing American lives or burdening ourselves and our children unborn with the debts of war.

This we believe to be the sober judgment of the great bulk of the American people today. It is, therefore, difficult to have patience with the sensation-mongering jingo organs which for mere personal profit seek to inflame the war spirit in this country. Their frenetic clamor about the national honor, their frenzied waving of the flag, are no more than a bid for notoriety and pennies. Never again, it is hoped, will it be possible for a yellow journalist to boast that he made this country go to war. If there is to be any warmaking by Americans hereafter, which God forbid, it will be decreed by the sound, sober judgment of the nation, not stampeded by sensationalists.

It is undoubtedly true that the warring nations have torn international law into scraps of paper—for the time being. But what are we to do about it? Plunge into war against the allies because of Britain's blockade of the sea, and thereby make ourselves allies of Germany and Austria, or leap into war with Germany over the submarine blockade and thereby play into the hands of the allies? Either way, we should be certain to lose far more than we could gain, without altering the situation of which we complain. But if we content ourselves for the moment with placing our protests on file, when the war is ended and international law resumes its sway, we shall be able to demand and secure justice and redress.

Meantime, any man or newspaper that endeavors to stir up jingo sentiment in this country, who seeks to have us embroil ourselves, is a menace to the nation and should be branded as a mad dog, a pest and a pestilence. Judas betrayed the Savior for thirty pieces of silver. For a few coppers these sensation-mongers would betray their country.

Parents and Schools

Milwaukee Journal: Do you know what your children are doing at school? They get much more out of their school life when you interest yourself and inform yourself about their work and play. So large a part of a child's life is spent in the school room; so many of the influences which form his character are at work there that you cannot afford not to understand them. If you know the teacher, you are less likely to blame her if anything goes wrong; sometimes you are less likely to blame the boy or girl. But, anyhow, you need to know the aims and ideas and plans of the teacher; for understanding creates interest on both sides.

Our public education costs a good deal in dollars; it is very cheap if the child gets the right kind of education. And it is the duty of fathers and mothers to see that he does. As a nation we do not value the benefits of school training lightly, but we are perhaps inclined to take for granted that all our boy needs is to be sent to school and the rest is assured. What he really needs is the knowledge that we understand and believe in the work he is trying to do there; that we will not always blame him when anything goes wrong, but are not going to blame anyone else without reason, and perhaps most of all, that we believe that if he does his school work well, he is really laying the best foundation for whatever it is that he hopes to do in life.

Boy Tells of Farm Success.

Clifford Jones in the Breeders' Gazette: I am 12 years old and expect to become a farmer. My father owns a farm of eighty-seven acres. My brother is 14 years old. We both work hard in the spring and summer and in the winter we go to school. Next year father is going to rent eighty acres. We have four good work horses and everything we need in farm machinery.

I own fifteen hogs and feed and take care of them. Father furnished them feed for one-third of the profit. My brother and I expect to enter the boys' corn contest, so that will help us to feed our hogs. A year ago one of father's sows laid on one of her little sow pigs and injured it. He gave it to me and I cared for it three weeks, then my brother wanted to trade for it, so we traded. The sow pig I got was a runt, but I did not care. In a week or two my uncle gave my brother and me two pigs apiece.

We milked four cows and fed the pigs all the milk they wanted, but we raised only two sow pigs. My sow farrowed nine good pigs last fall. My other sow had eight pigs, but four of them died. I want to make them weigh 200 pounds before I sell them.

I traded one of my sows for one of my father's pure bred gilts, which he is going to have registered. I am going to try to raise nothing but pure bred stock. CLIFFORD JONES.

Is She a Jitneyette?

Milwaukee Free Press: Eighty-one jitney busses are now licensed to do business in Milwaukee. Seven permits were issued at the city clerk's office yesterday. One woman, Mrs. Frank Seeky, secured a license, the fourth to a woman driver in the city.

Yarns From Washington

By Fred C. Kelly.

Washington, March 25.—(Special to The Herald.—The day after congress adjourned Ed. Keating of Colorado entered on what—considering that he is a congressman—was an odd form of vacation.

Accompanied by his wife, Keating became a Washington tourist. He has been in Washington almost constantly for the last two years, but has had no time for sightseeing. Always he had intended to do sightseeing on the morrow, but with unfailing regularity has put it off. He lived at a hotel near the capitol and the office building and the line of least resistance was a little path between these three points. Until he became a Washington tourist, the other day, Keating knew little more about the nation's capital than if he had remained out in Colorado.

Within an hour after congress adjourned Keating had locked up his desk and his office for the season, and was studying a nice, fresh, new, 25-cent guidebook. His wife already had a kodak, but at Keating's suggestion she got a carrying case and strap and slung the outfit over his shoulder in true tourist fashion.

"It seems to me," remarked Keating, "that most of the tourists I have seen on Pennsylvania avenue wore light-colored spats. We must have some spats."

By the next morning Keating not only had his spats, but in other respects had entirely ceased to look like a congressman. Even the expression on his face had changed. There is a sort of open-eyed, wondering look goes with the tourist. Keating had it.

"Well, I suppose the first thing we ought to see," suggested the congressman to his wife, "is the capitol."

"The wha-a-t?"

"The capitol," repeated Keating. "I've been in it, of course, several hundred times, but have always had something on my mind. Many's the time when I've seen guides pointing out the historic paintings to tourists that I had curiosity to know what they were about, but I always figured that I could just as well wait until I wasn't quite so busy."

So they hired a guide and were shown about the capitol. The guide, learning that Keating was a congressman, seemed to take especial pains to give them every courtesy. Keating asked numerous questions and even went so far as to jot a few facts and figures down in a little book. Never was there a more painstaking or enthusiastic tourist.

Then they climbed aboard a big rubberneck wagon and listened to the megaphone man as he pointed out the homes of the nation's great men.

After that they went up in the Washington monument. Keating had seen it a thousand times or saw it from the window of his hotel room, but never before had he been up close to it.

Oh, they took in everything—the tomb of George Washington at Mt. Vernon, the Lee mansion at Arlington, the bureau of engraving—even the pension bureau, because Keating is on the pension committee. Every little while they paused to buy souvenir postcards to send home to friends.

And every place the Keatings went they were accosted by hack drivers and proprietors of sightseeing autos. During his two years in congress Keating was never once noticed by these persons. That was because he had not previously been a tourist and he lacked the tourist expression.

Spring's Awakening

John Burroughs, "Signs and Seasons": Thoreau, as revealed in his journal, was for years trying to settle in his own mind what was the first thing that stirred in spring, after the severe New England winter—in what was the first sign or pulse of returning life manifest; and he never seems to have been quite sure. He could not get his salt on the tail of this bird. He dug into the swamps, he peered into the water, he felt with benumbed hands for the radical leaves of the plants under the snow; he inspected the buds on the willows, the catkins on the alders; he went out before daylight of a March morning and remained out after dark; he watched the lichens and mosses on the rocks; he listened for the birds; he was on the alert for the first frog ("Can you be absolutely sure," he says, "that you have heard the first frog that croaked in the township?"); he stuck a pin here and he stuck a pin there, and there, and still he could not satisfy himself. Nor can anyone. Life appears to start in several things simultaneously. Of a warm, thawy day in February the snow is suddenly covered with myriads of snow fleas looking like black new powder just spilled there. Or you may see a winged insect in the air. Or the self-same day the grass in the spring run and the catkins on the alders will have started a little; and if you look sharply, while passing along some sheltered nook or grassy slope where the sunshine lies warm on the bare ground, you will probably see a grasshopper or two. The grass hatches out under the snow, and why should not the grasshopper?

And There Was Light.

Judge: Mr. Picklelilly came home from his club one morning about 5 o'clock. He entered his happy home, crept up the stairs softly, so as not to awaken his spouse, then felt for the switch to turn on the electric light. He could not find it and in the darkness stumbled over a chair.

"What's that?" came a voice from the bed.

"Where in the deuce are the lights in this house?" snarled Picklelilly, trying to put a bold face on the matter.

"Lights!" cried Mrs. Picklelilly scathingly. "Pull up the blinds."

The House of Life.

To what old friend or foe
Do I this hostel owe?
This prison-house, no presence knows but mine.
Part bestial, part divine;
This house wherein oft shine
The lamps of dream, the taper-glow
Of thoughts; where ghosts glide to and fro—
Old ghosts of hate and love, that sunder
The silence with their breathings low;
And, pale with wonder,
Hope and Despair, with footsteps swift or slow,
Pace in the darkness, its chief chamber under
And come and go
Around the living clock that beats below.

I fancy He who willed it,
And out of silence drew
This house of joy and rue,
And with the darkness filled it,
Thought, in His Heart's high essence,
The wisest thing to do,
For me as well as you,
Was, in the walls he builded
To hide somewhat the clew
That leads us to His presence
Above the starry blue.

Northern Minnesota, Land of Opportunity

Chorus of Minnesota Boosters.

Governor a New Champion.

Virginia Enterprise: The development of Northern Minnesota has a new champion. It is none other than Governor Hammond, who has returned to the capitol from a visit to this region more firmly than ever committed to a program of state development through the medium of good roads, state aid in opening up undeveloped and inaccessible sections and firm faith of its future.

Governor Hammond is to be congratulated on thus early in his administration aligning himself so progressively on the matter of state development. His action is especially pleasing coming at a time when there is a considerable clamor for the abolishing of the office of the state immigration commissioner and his department, whose business it is to advertise Northern Minnesota. Minnesota has too many things to advertise to prospective settlers, and it is being too well done and has been too well begun to be abandoned now. If anything the appropriation for this department should be increased rather than abolished.

The attacks on the Elwell and the Dunn good roads laws and on the department of immigration are ill-advised. The fact that they have been fostered in a section of the state that is little concerned with state development and has slight knowledge of the needs of the situation, together with the fact that the governor has become a champion of state development, are both significant as convincing proof that the state should let well enough alone in the matter of the road laws and legislation which has to do with the upbuilding and conservation of Northern Minnesota's interests.

Acquiring Sense.

Menagha Advertiser: From all sides come reports of new settlers coming in and of farm lands being purchased at higher prices than ever before. It truly looks as though the endless multitude of land seekers who have been flocking to every boomed piece of wilderness of the West during the past few years had at last turned their attention to Central and Northern Minnesota, which offers more to the homeseeker than any state west of here.

Wealth Above Ground.

Roseau Times: The country around Warroad will be exploited for coal and it is possible that valuable coal fields will be found. Warroad does not, however, need to look for mines under ground. The developed and undeveloped farm lands of that section will yield the riches of gold mines and furnish homes of comfort and plenty to a people whose surroundings will be far superior to the miner and whose prosperity will make Warroad a city of activity and importance in Northern Minnesota.

Had It on Minneapolis.

Bemidji Sentinel: Last week Minneapolis was plowing around in a couple of feet of snow while in Northern Minnesota the robins continued to sing (or twit, whatever it is a robin does) merrily. So Bemidji joins the falls in giving Minnie the ha ha.

Converted!

Grand Rapids Independent: Even the "Don't-do-as-I-do-but-do-as-I-tell-you" fellows are coming to Northern Minnesota. P. V. Collins has purchased 160 acres of land near Akeley, and will do some farming there.

Have Something to Boost.

Winnebago Enterprise: We believe that the average resident of Southern Minnesota can learn a lesson in boosting from the average resident of Northern Minnesota. The people up north do not know what a hammer looks like. They boost their country in and out of season, and the results are making themselves manifest.

Just a Moment

Daily Strength and Cheer.

Compiled by John G. Quinlin, the Sunshine Man.

So shall ye know that I am the Lord your God dwelling in Zion, my holy mountain; then shall Jerusalem be holy, and there shall no strangers pass through her any more.—Joel iii, 17.

The prophet intimates that the favor of God had been so hidden during the afflictions of the people that they could but think that they were forsaken by God. His word ought indeed to be sufficient for us in the greatest evils; for though God may cast us into the deepest gulfs, yet when He shines upon us by His word it ought to be a consolation abundantly availing to sustain our souls.

There is a two-fold knowledge, the knowledge of faith, received from His word, and the knowledge of experience as we may say, derived from actual enjoyment. The faithful ever acknowledge that salvation is laid up for them in God; but sometimes they do not by actual enjoyment know God to be their Father. The prophet, therefore, now treats of real knowledge when he says that they shall know that they have a God. How are they to know this? By experience. This passage teaches us that though God should not put forth his hand manifestly to help us, we ought yet to entertain good hope of His favor; for the prophet spoke of this end, that the godly might, before the event or the accomplishment of the prophecy should come, look to God and cast all their cares on Him.—"Edward."

"I sat and thought of my shattered plans,
The things I had tried to do,
For disappointment in one and all
Had followed them through and through.
"Put an 'H' where you placed the 'D.'
For Disappointments in earthly plans
Are His appointments for thee."

The Building of a Farm Home.

Breeders' Gazette: A man who settled upon a piece of land made it into an orderly farm. His crops were always good and his animals throve, but the main work that he accomplished was the rearing of a family of fine children, each one of whom are given an education.

It was a well filled farmhouse while the youngsters were small and, naturally, as they grew the house became crowded. He then set about building a new dwelling. The old one was moved across the road; the farm teams made an excavation for a cellar. Then came the concrete foundation walls, and soon there uprose the framework of the new house that the family in council had planned.

Eventually from under the hands of the workmen emerged the completed house with its bath, open fires, cheery living room, sunny kitchen and sleeping porches. It was a snug fit all around and the family enjoyed it; all reveled in the unaccustomed comforts of a well-planned, well-built house. The owner has since died, leaving a son and daughters on the farm, with no one dreaming of moving to town.

Twenty Years Ago

From The Herald of this date, 1895.

A few nights ago Solomon Johnson, a homesteader at Horse Shoe lake, near Grand Rapids, Itasca county, was shot and killed by some unknown assassin, who fired through a window at Johnson, who was sitting in his house with his wife and children.

A municipal campaign is under way in Superior. James H. Agen is the Republican nominee for mayor, P. J. Eckstrand for treasurer, H. E. Ticknor for comptroller, H. A. Austin and A. B. Was Learning Early.

Cleveland Plain Dealer: A friend whom we have learned to trust tells us that he overheard this conversation between two women in a department store the other day. He says that these ladies were discussing their children and as he has children of his own he had to listen. And he was rewarded:

"You think that your little girl is much brighter than your little boy, do you not?" asked one.

"Why, no," answered the other. "I think that the boy is ahead, if anything. He learns his lessons much more easily."

"But you said that the girl learned to read at an earlier age than the boy did."

"Yes—but that was because she hated to miss the bargain sale advertisements in the papers."

INTENTIONAL DUPLICATE EXPOSURE

THE OPEN COURT

(Readers of The Herald are invited to make free use of this column to express their ideas about the topics of general interest, but discussions of sectarian religious differences are barred. Letters must not exceed 300 words—the shorter the better. They must be written on one side of the paper only, and they must be accompanied in every case by the name and address of the writer though these need not be published. A signed letter is always more effective, however.)

The Herald has received several communications regarding the candidates for city commissioner. No letters either for or against the candidates will be published in the Open Court.

TRADING WITH EUROPE.

To the Editor of The Herald:

May I ask the readers of The Herald, kindly, how does this country, or any other country, expect to keep peace with the warring countries, if it is going to furnish or is furnishing either side or both sides war materials, contraband or otherwise, when both belligerents are bitterly against or oppose any nation furnishing those materials or even foodstuffs to their enemies, and when both belligerents made proclamations to blockade such movement of commodities, supplies and foodstuffs? Can this country or any other country reasonably expect to keep peace with either side of the war when they repeatedly seize or sink our merchant vessels? Consider the probabilities or possibilities under those conditions, and then answer. I often hear a man say that this country can get along without trade with the other countries, but it doesn't seem to be the case at present. Why could we not get along by trading with the neutral countries only, at least during the European war, and be made secure from complication with the warring countries? If this is not plain enough suppose this country should be shipping war supplies and even foodstuffs to Germany, could we reasonably suppose that England, France and Russia would not interfere? Supposing we ship war and food supplies to England, France and Russia, could we expect that Germany would not interfere? What will be the most likely cause if we were drawn into war? Reckless trading or greed, at the expense of millions of lives, perhaps. Your friend,

CHAS. A. WAKEFIELD.

Cass Lake, Minn., March 22.

JITNEY SERVICE.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Will you please permit me in the columns of your valuable paper to reply to the article by Mr. Phelps in criticism of the jitney service and in favor of the Duluth Street Railway company?

About two weeks ago the writer invested several hundred dollars in the purchase of new automobiles in an endeavor to try out the jitney 5-cent service here in the city for the following reasons:

First, to ascertain if it was a commercial success, as naturally we are all interested in making a success of our endeavors, both financially or otherwise. Secondly, to have an opportunity to give the poorer people of Duluth, who cannot afford an automobile, the pleasure of taking their family on a half hour's ride at a cost of not to exceed 10 cents per person, making a round trip over the scheduled route, which the jitney cars cover.

The jitney service is a new thought to Duluthians and the service undoubtedly has proved an innovation in expediting the transaction of business.

This letter is not antagonistic to Mr. Phelps, the street railway company, or anyone else, but only is an endeavor to place before the people of Duluth the advantages that we have to offer in saving time to those who are compelled to travel to and fro about the city, as also, as previously stated, to give the working man or his family an opportunity to enjoy an automobile ride in the bright sunshine and open air.

It also will cause a 50 per cent saving of time to our patrons.

We feel certain that, speaking for the operators of the jitney motor cars, if Mr. Phelps cares to enter into a controversy in the Open Court columns of your paper, we are prepared with statistics to show that there are always two sides to a question. This has been proven in a great many of the Western cities which are accustomed to doing things rapidly and quickly. Very respectfully,

J. O. RENNINGS.

Duluth, March 22.

"SAFETY FIRST."

To the Editor of The Herald:

Have we got to wait until we have some one killed before putting a limit on the amount of people these jitney busses carry? Where is our public safety man? Thanks for space. Yours truly,

F. E. PRATT.

Duluth, March 22.

PETRIFACTION.

To the Editor of The Herald.

Is it possible that a potato can change into a stone and if so, is it common in Minnesota?

How many years would it take for a potato to change into a stone?

A pupil of our school found a stone that looked like a potato ready for planting. It is cut in such a way that it does not look like a common stone. It has two "eyes" and has a shallow, sharp cut in it.

Thanking you in advance, I am, yours truly.

CURIOUS.

Zim, Minn., March 23.

Petrifaction, commonly called "turning to stone," is produced by the infiltration of water containing dissolved mineral matter which replaces the organic material particle by particle, sometimes with the original structure retained. The length of time it takes depends entirely on conditions. The Editor has never heard of a potato being petrified but there are fossil plants and trees, and it does not seem impossible that a potato might have undergone such a change.—The Editor.

LAWS AND CHECKERS.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Will you be kind enough to print in your columns, outlines of the Elwell and Dunn road laws? Also, if one single man (in a game of checkers) jumps to the king row does the move stop there or can he then jump backwards as a king. Must he be crowned? Thanking you in advance I am yours truly.

D. L. YOUNG.

Deerwood, Minn., March 22.

The Elwell road law, repealed this week, provided for road construction according to the ditch law, the cost to be borne one-half by the state, one-fourth by the county, and one-fourth assessed against benefited property; it also provided for the issuance of bonds without referendum, and that payments might be distributed over a term of twenty years.

The Dunn law codifies the various road laws, provides an annual tax of 1 mill for state roads, to be so distributed that each county shall receive not more than 3 nor less than 1 per cent of the total levy; authorizes an annual county levy of 3 mills and a town levy of 15 mills for roads, and makes a compulsory town levy of 1 mill for dragging roads. It also provides that all road expenditures over $100 by town or county, outside Hennepin, Ramsey and St. Louis counties, shall be under the control of the state highway commission.

In your checker game the man must be crowned before it can be jumped back, and an opponent's move must intervene between the plays.—The Editor.

ALFRED NOYES AND THE MAN OF MODERATE MEANS.

To the Editor of The Herald:

With propriety a man may place within the closed doors of his own home such elegancies as his purse can afford. But there is a class of things, irreplaceable and not to be duplicated, unique and of great value, which no man may with propriety or a clear conscience—though he can do it perfectly legally—shut away from public access; for such things as by their very character, the rightful heritage of civilization. Generally, this principle has been duly recognized, quite as much, too, in monarchical countries as in republics. The ready access afforded the public to the Pitti and the Uffizi galleries in Florence, J. P. Morgan's treatment of most of his art treasures, and, closer at hand, the liberal opening by T. B. Walker of Minneapolis of all his paintings to the people, are illustrative examples of the general and increasing recognition of this principle.

This principle applies as truly to great persons as to great paintings and statuary.

Alfred Noyes has been invited by the Collegiate Alumnae to our city. With little doubt, he is the greatest poet writing in the English language today, assuming that Rudyard Kipling's writing days are nearly past. Those who have read critically even half of his work will hardly question this assertion. To hear and see him would be worth more than to have heard and seen all the other attractions offered this year by the Collegiate Alumnae.

"Ah, did you once see Shelley plain,
And did he stop and speak to you,
And did you speak to him again?
How strange it seems and new!"

The price of a seat to Alfred Noyes' readings is $1.50. One dollar and fifty cents is clearly a demarking price between what the wealthy only can afford and what all but the wealthy must forego, because they cannot afford the admission. Moreover, the fixing of such a charge by the Collegiate Alumnae spells plainly their views of the culture and social conditions in Duluth. It tells that these ladies prefer to have a small, exclusive, wealthy audience to hear Mr. Noyes, to having a large inclusive audience of persons admitted at such a price that the admission fee should exclude no one who values real culture, and this rare opportunity to hear a truly great poet.

If it be urged that the object of the Collegiate Alumnae is to raise money for scholarships, I answer: do they think that it would not be altogether feasible to sell tickets at various prices, according to the location in the hall, so that those who can and wish may, by purchase of the higher priced seats, further their project of providing scholarships, and persons of moderate means and students could have seats that they can afford? Every student of English in the city ought to be afforded the opportunity of listening to Mr. Noyes, and if afforded such opportunity, not one should miss his readings.

If the arrangement now provided by the Collegiate Alumnae means to assume that culture and wealth in Duluth are synonymous, I reply that those acquainted with Duluth society are aware that such is not the case.

Viollet Le Duc, the greatest French architect of the nineteenth century, asserted pointedly that Louis XIV wrought irreparable injury to France by seeking, with such considerable success, to make literature and art the exclusive possession of the court and the nobility. Is not something like this what the Collegiate Alumnae of Duluth are, in effect, doing, even if not with deliberate intent, with the world's greatest living master of English, Kipling alone excepted? Respectfully,

C. W. JEROME.

SAMPLE BALLOTS.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Will you please publish the following questions and your answers thereto in the inquiry column of your paper?

1. Can a person confiscate official ballots and distribute them as sample ballots; even if he marks "sample" on the top of them with an indelible pencil?

2. What is the penalty for such an offense?

3. Can a person legally run for an office with such a charge pending against him?

4. Can a sample ballot be of the same color as the official ballot?

Thanking you in advance, I beg to remain yours for law and order.

AN INTERESTED SUBSCRIBER.

Ely, Minn., March 23.

These are questions of law and cannot be answered here. If you think there has been a violation of the law you should place the case before the county attorney.—The Editor.

AUCTIONEERS.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Kindly answer the following question: Must an auctioneer have a state auction license in order to conduct a sale? Can a non-resident from another state conduct an auction sale in this state or county?

Thanking you for your space, I beg to remain, very truly yours, G. B.

Duluth, March 22.

No person is permitted to conduct a public auction without securing a license.—The Editor.

POEMS ASKED FOR.

The Herald acknowledges with thanks the receipt of the following poems:

"Paddle Your Own Canoe," from J. B. Carlson of Duluth.

"The Two Orphans," from E. M. F. of Hibbing.

Requests have been received for the following:

"The One-Legged Goose," from P. A. of Duluth.

"My Childhood's Happy Home Down on the Farm" and "The Soul of the Violin," from Mrs. Elbert H. Reid of Farris, Minn.

Paddle Your Own Canoe.

I have traveled about a bit in my time,
And of troubles I have seen a few,
But found it better in every clime
To paddle my own canoe.
My wants are small, I care not at all
If my debts are paid when due,
I drive away strife in the ocean of life,
While I paddle my own canoe.

Chorus:

Then love your neighbor as yourself
As the world you go traveling through;
And never sit down with a tear or a frown,
But paddle your own canoe.

I have no wife to bother my life,
No lover to prove untrue,
But the whole day long with a laugh and a song
I paddle my own canoe.
I rise with the lark and from daylight to dark
I do what I have to do.
I'm careless of wealth if I've only the health
To paddle my own canoe!

It is all very well to depend on a friend,
That is if you've proved him true
But I'll find it better by far in the end
To paddle my own canoe.
To borrow is dearer by far then to buy
A maxim though old still true,
You never will sigh if you only will try
To paddle your own canoe!

If a hurricane rise in the midday skies,
And the sun is lost to view
Hold steadily by with a steadfast eye
And paddle your own canoe.
The daisies that grow in the bright green fields
Are blooming so sweet for you;
So never sit down with a tear or a frown,
But paddle your own canoe!

ANOTHER "JITNEY" STORY.

Woodsmen Take Possession of Private Car Standing By Curb.

The "jitneys" are beginning to make inroads on private cars and will necessitate the placing of a provost guard with every auto standing at the curb, if the wishes of a certain city salesman, owning a Ford, are carried out.

The salesman had spent some time at a certain West Duluth store, going over the war situation and discussing other things of interest before receiving an order, and it was while on his way out of the store, he discovered the fine display of pickles in the show window—when, behold, another discovery!

For there in the rear seat of his Ford were two mud-covered "pickled" woodsmen — who were very indignant because they had waited close onto an hour for that "d—— gatnay" to take them downtown.

HEALTH TALKS

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

Thyroid a Two-Edged Sword

EVERYONE knows that a dose of poison sometimes saves life when administered as an antidote. And no intelligent person would swallow a poisonous antidote unless he felt pretty sure that he needed it.

There are certain conditions in which the normal secretory activity of the thyroid gland is wanting, and one of the symptoms of inactivity of the thyroid gland may be an excessive gain in weight. When the thyroid secretion is practically absent the individual suffers with a characteristic group of mental and physical signs known as myxoedema. When the thyroid gland secretes its hormone or ferment into the blood in an insufficient quantity, the symptoms are less pronounced, though very characteristic, and the condition is called partial or incomplete myxoedema.

A Draft on the Vital Fire.

The chief function of thyroid secretion is to regulate or control oxidation or metabolism in the body. When oxidation or burning of nutritive material or fuel occurs at a slower rate than normal, fat piles up and all functions become depressed or diminished. For instance, the pulse is slow, the body temperature below normal, the mind dull and drowsy, the digestion poor, the skin dry and inactive, and the patient sleeps too much and shows an unusual disinclination to work or play.

Provided the heart and kidneys are perfectly sound the weight may be reduced and the other symptoms cleared up by treatment with thyroid hormone itself. But it is an antidote, a two-edged sword, capable of producing the most serious and sometimes fatal results when carelessly used. That is why the United States government recently issued a warning to the people about the patent obesity remedies which contain thyroid. It is a powerful remedy which is safe only under the continuous supervision of a responsible physician.

Questions and Answers.

The Spring Tonic: Would you recommend sarsaparilla as a spring tonic? Is sulphur and molasses a good blood purifier to take in the spring?

REPLY.

If you will explain why one should require a tonic or blood purifier in the spring more than at any other time of the year, we'll be thankful. Remember, no fair springing any almanac jokes about humours and impurities in the blood—whatever that may mean. Sulphur is a laxative, nothing more. Sarsaparilla is a flavor. If you mean the patent sarsaparillas which come in the guise of medicines—they are absolutely superfluous luxuries.

* * *

Yankee Treatment: What is the safest treatment for an ulcerated tooth?

REPLY.

The yank-ee method, by a good dentist. And the sooner the abscess is drained the better.

* * *

The Purpose of Drops: Please explain why drops are necessary in the eyes in order to have an accurate fitting of glasses.

REPLY.

Up to forty years drops must be used before testing the eyesight, in order to temporarily put at rest all involuntary focusing effort (strain) and permit the examiner to determine precisely what the eyes can do without any strain or effort on your part. Without drops this important element in the examination must be guessed at. After 40 or 45 the power of accommodation (focusing) is so reduced that drops may not be necessary.

* * *

Corsets: Is a very low corset as hygienic to wear as a high one?

REPLY.

The lower the better for health. None at all is best.

Building Better Babies

means a better crop of stalwart men to grapple with the problems of war or peace—and they cannot be built with books and sermons alone. The best food for growing boys and girls is because it contains every element the human body needs for building sound teeth, strong muscle and good brain, prepared in a form that is easily digested. Better than porridges for youngsters and grown-ups.

Two Shredded Wheat Biscuits, heated in the oven to restore crispness, served with hot milk or cream, make a complete, nourishing, satisfying meal at a total cost of five or six cents. Also delicious with fruits. TRISCUIT is the Shredded Wheat Wafer, eaten as a toast with butter or soft cheese, or as a substitute for white flour bread or crackers.

This Week's Sunday School Lesson

Written for The Herald By Rev. J. S. Kirtley, D. D.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON, MARCH 28.

Review for the Quarter.

FOREWORD.

We have passed over a period of several hundred years, perhaps 300. We have followed the fortunes of the chosen race from the death of the great Joshua, successor to Moses, through the period of the judges and the revolution that initiated a reign of kings. We have seen the people degenerate into folly, cowardice, idolatry, like the nations who were placed in the promised land and more distant nations. The patience of God who was determined to carry out His purpose with them is very great. Certain characters stand out in bold relief against the general historical background. Our review will be mainly a study of those characters.

THE LESSONS.

1. JOSHUA.—The lesson on God's patience with Israel, Judges ii, 7-19, shows us the great warrior and colonist reaching old age with honors and a strong influence over the people. Here are three facts, two of which are brought out in the lesson. The people had not done a thorough job of driving out the nations that lived in the land, with the result that they corrupted the morals of Israel, with idolatry and all its attendant horrors of lying and unchastity. Read the first chapter of Judges to learn it in detail. The second fact is that as long as Joshua lived the people were not much corrupted by those neighbors. He had at the first called them to an assembly and put the issue before them—"choose ye this day whom ye will serve"—and they pledged themselves to worship God. That convenant had a binding effect on their conduct. But his watchfulness and his personal weight influenced them still more powerfully. The third fact is that as soon as he died they went over pell mell into the most abandoned practices of their neighbors and that brought down on them the punishment of God. He would chastise them by letting some enemy enslave and exact tribute from them till their repentance was deep and acute and agonizing and then He would raise up a man who would deliver them and become their ruler, or judge. That went on for hundreds of years.

2. DEBORAH, together with Barak. Judges iv:23-v:22.—Deborah was the fifth of the judges and the only woman ever to hold that position. Of course after the people had been delivered by a good leader who then became judge they soon fell into rebellion again and God allowed another enemy to subjugate them. The nation under whose rule they had fallen this time was that of the Canaanites of whom Jabin was king and Sisera the military leader. Deborah had become a leader because of her strength of character, executive skill, wisdom and devotion to the general cause. She organized the campaign, secured the aid of Barak who went on condition that she would go with him. She was led by God; she asked for so many men from certain tribes where the enemy was most severe; she assembled them; she gave the signal, when the enemy was at the right point; they routed the enemy. The family of the Kenite had gone over to Jabin and had given out information where Israel was encamped. God turned that piece of treachery to the advantage of Israel. Sisera thought he could get a little rest in Heber's tent but his wife was true to her old friends and killed him as he lay asleep.

3. GIDEON. Judges vi:11-14, and chapter vii.—They had now fallen under the yoke of the Midianites, Arabs from the southeast, who came over by the thousand at harvest time and carried away the crops of the Israelites. The latter were badly whipped. They stayed in secure places and only crept out now and then to do a little harvesting. God chose Gideon, a manly, courageous, devoted man of great self-control, and power of concentration. Gideon called and thirty-two thousand responded. They were too many for two reasons—they couldn't work in a stratagem and would claim all the credit. It was reduced to 300, by eliminating those who were afraid, then those who were not worked up and in perfect trim. There were 300 who had such devotion, self-control and intensity they couldn't even stop to get a drink of water but scooped it up with their hands as they ran and lapped it up as a dog laps. The stratagem was to surround the enemy at night, wake them out of a sound sleep with shout and flashes of light suddenly coming out of their dark lanterns, till the enemy thought that each torch and each trumpet represented a whole company, as usual, were panic stricken and, mistaking their own men for enemies, slew each other.

4. SAMSON.—This lesson tells of his birth. Judges xiii:3-25. The Philistines were the oppressors this time. God raised up this strange man Samson. A very imperfect man he was but God uses that kind as well as the better kind. God begins with ancestors in selecting men for special work. This child was promised to his parents, was consecrated to God in the Nazirite vow that he should never shave nor cut off his locks. The long hair had no strength in itself, but was a sign of devotion to a purpose. He was a jolly giant, fond of a good time. He married a Philistine woman and that gave him access to the Philistines, which he improved to destroy many of them. Later she was taken from him and he began to pay attention to another woman who was his undoing, but not till he had crippled his enemies.

5. RUTH. Ruth 1.—It is a beautiful story this, of the family who went over to the country of Moab when there was famine in Bethlehem, where the sons married Moabite women, where the father and the two sons died, leaving three widows. It was natural that Naomi should want to return home and that she should not expect the other two widows to go with her. It was natural that both should love so good a woman as Naomi and hardly to be expected that one should be determined to follow her home. But Ruth did. Three motives for doing so are apparent—love for the great, good woman herself on her own account; love for her as connected with her lost husband; love for the God whom Naomi worshipped. Ruth illustrates many of the womanly virtues for us.

6. SAMUEL. 1. Sam. iii: 1-13, 19, 20.—This is the call of Samuel. He had been given to his mother in answer to her prayers, had been consecrated to God, had been, as soon as he was old enough, put in the hands of Eli, the old priest and judge. Birth, training at home and by Eli, and temperament united in fitting him to receive the call to be a prophet and leader. He was an unswerving patriot, with intensity mingled with judicial poise, acuteness, together with sympathy, boldness and modesty. Eli had failed to keep his sons from prostituting their office as his assistants. God would call another man to lead.

7. ELI. He and his sons meet a tragic death. 1. Sam. iv: 1-18.—The Philistines were harrying them. Israel took the ark of the covenant into battle, which alarmed the enemy, but stirred them to greater effort, till they defeated Israel, killed the two sons of Eli and carried off the ark. Israel would use the ark merely as a talisman. God allows them to suffer defeat with a purpose. The news of his sons' death prostrated old Eli and, falling from his seat, he met his death.

8. SAMUEL AGAIN. 1. Sam. vii.—This time he is a grown man. He has ruled since Eli's death. The people are ready for victory and he leads them to dash at the Philistine enemy till the latter is driven off with great disaster. Many years did Samuel reign in peace and with prosperity. But the people were never satisfied. They are again ready for a revolt. They can't stay obedient and contented long.

9. SAUL.—We have the two lessons about this striking king. I. Samuel ix, 17-10:1 and I. Samuel 11. The first tells of the anointing of Saul and the next of his crowning. Bear in mind two things—that the people were obsessed with the idea that they must have a king and be in the fashion, for all the other nations had kings and looked down on a people who had only God for their king, even though Samuel was His representative. Their plea was that Samuel would soon be gone and they would be in a bad way. It distressed Samuel and, as he always did, he went to God with his trouble. God assured him they had rejected not Samuel but God. The other thing to bear in mind is that God was going to let them have their way and let them break their backs. He granted the request, but told them the hardships it would inflict on them. We know how Samuel found the handsome young man and anointed him as token of his choice by God. Saul goes on home, is called to the throne by the choice of the people, soon wins a battle for Gilead against the Amonites and wins his people.

10. JONATHAN.—Saul has lost. He has grown conceited, selfish, headstrong. He offered sacrifice, outraging God's law and disobeying His prophet. He came near slaying his noble son Jonathan, who has won a victory by a stratagem, under the direction of God. He is told his fate. He is desperate.

WHEN DULUTH PEOPLE

Publicly Testify, It's Evidence Not to Be Ignored.

When residents of Duluth are willing to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills in this paper, is there any good reason to try a kidney backache or bladder remedy that is not as well recommended?

Mrs. W. W. Montgomery, 307 Chestnut street, Duluth, says: "I suffered from kidney and bladder trouble. It hurt me to bend over and the pain in my back was dull and heavy. I was often so bad I could hardly move or rest at night and couldn't do my housework. Doan's Kidney Pills relieved me and since then, I have used them when I have had to. They have always fixed me up all right in a short time."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Montgomery had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

LATIN PUPILS WILL MOURN FOR DIDO

Central Seniors Will Give Play Written By Prof. Custance.

The annual mourning over the demise of Dido will take place tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock in chapel by the seniors of the Central high school. That is the seniors who study Latin under Prof. A. F. M. Custance will take part in this annual event. Each year when the class reaches that part of its lesson dealing with Dido's demise the students have doings to show how badly they feel over the event. This years Mr. Custance has written "Dido Up-to-Date," and it will be presented tomorrow morning. It is said to be one of the wittiest things Mr. Custance has written. Those taking part are:

ADDITIONAL SPORTS

SELECTING THIRD MAN IN THE RING

Fourteen Names Submitted to Johnson and Willard—Little Betting.

Havana, Cuba, March 25.—Selection of a referee for the heavyweight championship fight on April 4 between Jack Johnson and Jess Willard was brought up today. To each of the pugilists was submitted a list of fourteen names from which it is expected the referee will be chosen. The list contains the names of the best known referees in the United States, including Charley White, Billy Roche and Sam Austin of New York; Jack Welsh of San Francisco; Billy Roeap of Philadelphia; Ed Cochrane of Kansas City, and Otto Floto of Denver. Johnson and Willard studied the list, but expressed no preference and it probably will be a week before the choice is made.

There is considerable interest in the betting, but thus far comparatively few wagers have actually been laid. The largest to date is $1,400 on Johnson to $600 on Willard.

SPORTSMEN PLEASED.

New North Dakota Game Refuge Law Generally Satisfies Nimrods.

Fargo, N. D., March 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—The game refuge section of the new North Dakota game laws, effective July 1, is attracting favorable comment in the state and is expected to prove especially popular with bird lovers and sportsmen.

The measure is drastic in its punishment of persons who attempt to shoot on the game refuges, making it a penalty to even carry firearms on the refuges and the penalty is mandatory on courts to impose both fines and imprisonment. Some men will not mind paying fines, but if they know they must serve prison sentences in addition they will exercise more restraint.

FED SCHEDULE NEXT.

Also Some Trades for Players Will Be Considered in New York.

Chicago, March 25.—Adoption of a schedule probably will be made when the Federal league magnates gather in New York tomorrow, President Gilmore said before he left Chicago. He was accompanied by Thomas Gilmore, secretary; C. C. Madison of the Kansas City club and William Walker of the Chicago club. A big three-cornered trade involving players of the Brooklyn, Newark and Kansas City clubs may be arranged, it was said.

Kansas City, Mo., March 25.—No negotiations looking toward the exchange of positions between George Stovall, manager of the Kansas City Federal league club, and William Phillips, leader of the Indianapolis club, have been entered into, according to D. J. Haff, attorney for the local club. Mr. Haff announced today that Conrad Mann, vice president, will represent the local club at the scheduled meeting and will go prepared to negotiate for trades in players.

MAY PLAY WITH FORKS.

Former Winnipeg Pitcher May Be Loaned By Cincinnati Reds.

Grand Forks, N. D., March 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—Stanley Dougan, formerly pitcher for the Winnipeg Maroons of the Northern league, now owned by the Cincinnati Reds, may be seen in a Grand Forks uniform during the coming year. Dougan is hardly considered ripe for the big show.

Dougan was one of the star Northern men of last season, having a record of two no-hit games to his credit.

YOUNG MEN WILL ORGANIZE CLUBS

Will Enter City Campaign for Murchison and Hicken.

Several organizations of young men will be formed within the next few days by friends of Commissioners Hicken and Murchison.

It was announced this morning from the campaign headquarters of both Commissioners Hicken and Murchison that an effort will be made to enlist a majority of the young men voters and that organizations will be formed so that they can conduct an active campaign from now on.

In addition, W. A. Eaton, campaign manager for the Good Government club, is arranging the committee of 100, who will start next Monday and make a complete canvass of the entire city. These men, he said this morning, will see every voter who registered on March 10 and 13 last.

Capt. G. H. Vrooman, whose name has been connected with one of the campaign committees, said this morning that he is not taking part in behalf of any of the candidates and that the use of his name was not authorized.

Shoots Self and Wife

St. Paul, Minn., March 25.—Clayton Smith, age 43, a carpenter, shot and probably fatally wounded his wife, and then fired a bullet into his own brain at their home here yesterday. Smith recently had been arrested on a charge of wife-beating.

"It's Just the Bank Note Idea"

You've noticed the notes issued by the bank. Big, across the face of the note, appear the words, "The First National Bank of Duluth, Minn., will pay to the bearer on demand." That's the promise of the bank. Not quite so conspicuous, but still there, are the words, "United States of America," and the assurance that the Government stands back of the bank. We stand back of the Stein-Bloch label with a responsibility and integrity as sound as the banker's. That's why our name and label appear on

Stein-Bloch Smart Clothes

But just as the banker wants the added indorsement of the Government on his note, so we want the Stein-Bloch label on the clothes we sell.

The Stein-Bloch label was the first clothing label ever registered in America. It stands for "Sixty Years of Knowing How."

It is sewed under a little strip of lining material just below the hanger. You have to turn the strip up to see it, but when you do see it you know it's a Stein-Bloch. The knowledge you have of us—the knowledge you have and the knowledge we have of Stein-Bloch clothes—form an interlocking bond of confidence in the absolute superority of Stein-Bloch Smart Clothes.

SUPERIOR CANNOT ORDER A RECALL ELECTION

Attorney Gives His Opinion Regarding Powers of City Commission.

The Superior city commission cannot legally order a recall election, according to an opinion filed this morning by Corporation Attorney H. V. Gard. The opinion was filed with the city clerk and based on the contention of the city clerk that the petition asking for the recall of Mayor J. S. Konkel was incomplete.

It is probable that the petitioners will now start a mandamus suit in the district court to compel the city commissioners to approve the petition and order the election, according to opinion expressed by men back of the movement.

"DRYS" WILL BE ACTIVE.

W. C. T. U. Will Enter Campaign for Prohibition.

At a joint meeting of members of the Superior Women's Christian Temperance unions held yesterday afternoon action was taken to participate extensively in the campaign to make the city "dry." The city will be covered as far as possible with pamphlets advocating prohibition, and committees from the societies will work in each of the wards during the election. It was also planned to use stereopticon pictures to be shown at mass meetings held by the "drys."

CITY WILL URGE NEW OR IMPROVED VIADUCT.

The city of Superior will start action with the Wisconsin railroad commission for the immediate rebuilding or strengthening of the Twenty-first street viaduct. The Northern Pacific, Great Northern and South Shore railroads will be made parties to the suit. The strengthening of this viaduct is wanted by the city in order that the street railway company may be compelled to operate the large double truck cars between the city proper and Billings park.

BUYING NEW HAT STARTS DIVORCE SUIT.

Being chased down the streets of Itasca and having her face slapped after she had purchased a new hat with money that he had given her to "buy anything her little heart desired" is made grounds for a divorce action by Mrs. Dorothy Daoust, age 18, against her husband, August E. Daoust, which was started in district court yesterday. Mrs. Daoust, being a minor, the action was started by her mother and guardian, Mrs. William Isard.

"Threat" Causes Arrest.

Julius Janitz was arrested yesterday on complaint of John Unitis, who claims that the former had threatened him. The threat grew out of a charge made by the former that Unitis had misinterpreted testimony given by the former at a recent trial. Janitz pleaded not guilty to the charge and trial was set for Monday. Bail was placed at $300, which was furnished.

TO CONDUCT NEW MISSION CAMPAIGN

H. Campbell Smith of New York Addresses Duluth Ministers and Laymen.

H. Campbell White of New York, at a luncheon this noon at the Commercial club, addressed a large gathering of clergymen and laymen of the city churches, representing the Laymen's Missionary Movement, with headquarters in New York city, in the interest of another national missionary campaign such as that of five years ago, during which Duluth was visited. The meeting today proved to be an enthusiastic one for most of those present had involved themselves in the former campaign and expressed the belief that it was the greatest forward movement in religious matters that the country has ever seen.

It was decided to hold a similar campaign here next January, probably from the 20th to the 26th, such as that of five years ago, and the matter was turned over to the Inter-Church council to organize and enlist the services of all of the churches outside of the council, both in Duluth and on the ranges.

Today Mr. White gave a short address on the main objects of the campaign, which are:

"To consider new world conditions and America's enlarged responsibility; to study the missionary progress of recent years; to project plans looking toward the accomplishment of the whole missionary duty; to emphasize the adequacy of the gospel to meet modern social conditions; to increase the spiritual power and efficiency of the local church; to secure the general use of the best methods of missionary education and finance, and to inspire laymen to take their part in the extension of the kingdom of Christ."

VETERANS TO CELEBRATE.

Will Give Appomattox Day Program on April 9.

Appomattox day, April 9, will be observed by the G. A. R. veterans of Duluth as the semi-centennial anniversary of the end of the Civil war.

Orders have been received here by the local posts calling for a special observance of the day and a joint committee, headed by Dr. Charles M. Wilson, has been appointed to make arrangements for a program on the evening of April 9. The services will take place in Memorial hall.

It was on April 9, 1865, that Gen. Lee surrendered to Gen Grant at Appomattox courthouse, and the fiftieth anniversary will be fittingly observed throughout the nation. The order from the headquarters of the G. A. R. asks that schools and churches hold special exercises and that flags be displayed throughout the city.

BOOSTERS IN BIG MEETING

Gathering at Baudette Starts Movement for Developing That Section.

Immigration Commissioner Fred Sherman and Others Among Speakers.

Baudette, Minn., March 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—This section of Minnesota was given a fine boost by the big boosters' meeting held here Tuesday afternoon and evening at the Lyceum theater to arouse interest in the settlement and development of this part of Minnesota.

The speakers were Fred D. Sherman, commissioner of immigration; D. E. Willard, development agent of the Northern Pacific; Prof. C. P. Bull of the University of Minnesota; Frank T. Wilson of Stillwater, Charles W. Glotfelter, president of the Minnesota crop improvement association, and Mector Baxter, president of the Minnesota & Manitoba railway. The theater was packed to the doors at both meetings and the speakers met with most cordial receptions by audiences composed of farmers and townspeople.

Farmers' Clubs Participate.

The meetings were held under the auspices of the board of trade and various farmers' clubs in the district loaned their assistance. A special train from the west brought in a big contingent and it was the biggest gathering of farmers that ever assembled in this village. The speakers were introduced by C. R. Middleton.

After the addresses a get-together meeting was held in the board of trade rooms, where lunch was served by the domestic science girls and a number of the ladies of the village, and an opportunity was given the citizens to meet the distinguished visitors.

Development topics made up the addresses and the several hundred people in attendance were enthused to a remarkable extent by the speakers. All expressed themselves as more than satisfied with the meetings, which will undoubtedly be of marked benefit to the whole section.

ROMANCE IS NIPPED.

Wisconsin Pair Halted at La Crosse on Presumable Elopement.

La Crosse, Wis., March 25.—What had every indication of being an elopement was stopped by the police here yesterday when Rose Capek, aged 15, and Edward Leach, aged 20, of Friendship, Wis., were taken from an early morning Northwestern train.

A telephone message notifying the authorities here that a runaway boy and girl were on a Westbound train was received early in the morning. The couple were taken off the Northwestern train which arrives here at 5:20 a. m.

In the possession of Leach were found a pass and railroad ticket from Friendship to Sioux City, Iowa. The boy and girl were taken to central police station, where the are being detained pending the arrival of the latter's father.

The girl told officers at the station that she had become tired of living in a home where conditions were not to her liking, and she finally decided to leave with young Mr. Leach. The journey to Sioux City was planned several days ago.

Although the boy and girl would not disclose their plans it is believed they intended to be married upon reaching Sioux City.

CASCARETS FOR COSTIVE BOWELS, HEADACHE, COLDS

Get a 10-cent box now.

Turn the rascals out—the headache, biliousness, indigestion, the sick, sour stomach and bad colds—turn them out to-night and keep them out with Cascarets.

Millions of men and women take a Cascaret now and then and never know the misery caused by a lazy liver, clogged bowels, or an upset stomach.

Don't put in another day of distress. Let Cascarets cleanse your stomach; remove the sour, fermenting food, take the excess bile from your liver and carry out all the constipated waste matter and poison in the bowels. Then you will feel great.

A Cascaret to-night straightens you out by morning. They work while you sleep. A 10-cent box from any drug store means a clear head, sweet stomach and clean, healthy liver and bowel action for months. Children love Cascarets because they never gripe or sicken.

GAMBLERS FINED IN BORDER CITY

Proprietor of Game Will Carry His Case Into District Court.

International Falls, Minn., March 25.—Five men arrested in the raid on a gambling room in the basement of a local saloon Monday night were brought into the municipal court yesterday. Three of them pleaded guilty and were fined the maximum amount, $20, with an alternative of ten days in jail. Two others, the owner of the saloon where the gambling took place, and a man found there on the night of the raid, entered pleas of not guilty and their trials held. Sheriff Thomas White, Deputy Sheriff Hugh Van Ettan, Pat Kusick, the defendant; former manager, G. Saville, and J. R. Murphy, were the witnesses in the case. It developed that Murphy had a verbal lease of the saloon basement and the defendant's attorney argued that on that account Kusick did not have control over that part of the building. However, the court ruled that the defendant still was in control of the basement and that he was responsible for any illegal business of that nature carried on there.

Will Take Appeal.

Kusick was found guilty and fined $100. He immediately announced that an appeal would be taken and the court granted a stay of execution of thirty days.

The other man arrested on a charge of gambling was dismissed because of lack of evidence to show that he was engaged at it at the time.

Sheriff White brought in some $35 in cash, several decks of cards, and poker chips which were taken in the raid.

COURT ADJOURNS UNTIL NEXT JUNE

District Court Will Then Be Resumed at International Falls.

International Falls, Minn., March 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—Judge Stanton of the district court and the court reporter, Lee La Baw, left last evening for Bemidji.

The damage case of Algot Erickson vs. M. & O. Power company having been dismissed and the undecided points in regard to such matters as the case had to contend with having been sent up to the state supreme court for decision, there can be nothing further done at present.

The regular term of court will convene in June and it is expected that the matter of overflow damages will again be taken up then.

SOON TO HAVE PHONE.

Farmers in Leman Vicinity to Have International Falls Line.

International Falls, Minn., March 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—Progressive farmers in the vicinity of Lowman and Birchdale, anxious to have the best and most modern conveniences that are afforded to the older and more highly developed farm communities, have recently organized a telephone company and built up-to-date farm lines in all parts of their country. Not satisfied with the present system of getting on the line with the rest of the telephone world, which is the expensive and unsatisfactory way through Fort Frances, Ont., the company is now at work making connection along the American side of the Rainy river with the Backus line of this city and in a very few days they will be able to talk with International Falls people over the best of lines for the nominal fee of 25 cents.

NO REFERENDUM IN NORTH DAKOTA.

Fargo, N. D., March 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—The threatened referendum petitions against some of the measures enacted at the recent legislative session may never be circulated. For awhile it seemed certain the referendum would be invoked against some of the measures.

BRAINERD HEARING TEMPERANCE TALKS.

Brainerd, Minn., March 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—Dr. Frithjof Werenskjold of Chicago is addressing church meetings at the Norwegian-Danish Lutheran and Bethlehem Norwegian Lutheran churches and at the Citizens State bank hall in Norwegian and English in the interests of the temperance movement. Peter Fosness of Duluth has accompanied Dr. Werenskjold and in behalf of the grand lodge of the Independent Order of Good Templars has perfected arrangements for the various meetings in Brainerd.

W. G. Calderwood, former candidate for governor on the prohibition ticket, will speak here Sunday afternoon for the "dry" movement, replying to the arguments of C. A. Windle of Chicago, and in the evening will speak for men only on "The Proof of the Pudding."

COUNTY AGENTS MEET.

Are Discussing North Dakota Work With Director Cooper.

Fargo, N. D., March 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—Preparing for their 1915 work the county agents of the North Dakota Better Farming association are spending a part of the week with Director Cooper of the Federal and state experiment station here.

The work of the county agents is being gradually extended to cover a wide range of effort and has reached a point where, in addition to the county agents, state-wide experts are engaged to assist the county agents in conducting certain specialized campaigns. New features are being added to the work of the agents in addition to the duties they have been performing in the past.

DARNELL MAKES PLEA.

"Marrying Parson" of Kenosha Denies White Slave Charge.

Milwaukee, Wis., March 25.—Rev. James Morrison Darnell, the "marrying parson" of Kenosha, indicted by the Federal grand jury on the charge of violating the Mann act, was arraigned before Judge Geiger in Federal court yesterday and pleaded not guilty. He was placed under $5,000 bonds which he is attempting to raise today. His father, Milton H. Darnell, was present with him in court, leaving last evening for his home in Peoria. When informed about the infidelity charge that had been filed against him in his home town, Mr. Darnell was much angered, saying:

"They would never have attempted any such thing had I been there. I am going straight to Peoria and show those people that I am as sane as anybody," and declared that he was going to make things mighty warm for somebody."

Asked as to bail for his son, Mr. Darnell said that the latter had not a dollar in money or property, contrary to published reports, but predicted that "James" would not be in jail very long.

No date has been set for the trial of Darnell, but it will be some time next week, according to the district attorney.

MONTANA MINE OFFICIAL KILLED.

Butte, Mont., March 25.—C. S. Blake, superintendent of the Florida Giant mine in the southern part of the state, was instantly killed late Tuesday by a premature explosion of giant powder.

Dr. E. M. Wilson of Twinbridges, a guest of Mr. Blake, was severely hurt, and may die.

BLUE MINE WILL CLOSE AT NEGAUNEE.

Negaunee, Mich., March 25.—Officials of the Oliver Iron Mining company have announced that the Blue mine here will be shut down the end of this month, the ore depesits being exhausted. The mine has been active for twenty-three years but the number of men employed has been lessened considerably for some time past because of the shrinkage of ore. The mine is owned in fee by the Breitung estate.

How to Have the Best Cough Remedy and Save $2 by Making It at Home

Cough medicines, as a rule contain a large quantity of plain syrup. A pint of granulated sugar with ½ pint of warm water, stirred for 2 minutes, gives you as good syrup as money can buy.

Then get from your druggist 2½ ounces Pinex (50 cents worth), pour into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with sugar syrup. This gives you, at a cost of only 54 cents, a full pint of really better cough syrup than you could buy ready made for $2.50—a clear saving of nearly $2. Full directions with Pinex. It keeps perfectly and tastes good.

It takes hold of the usual cough or chest cold at once and conquers it in 24 hours. Splendid for whooping cough, bronchitis and winter coughs.

It's truly astonishing how quickly it loosens the dry, hoarse or tight cough and heals and soothes the inflamed membranes in the case of a painful cough. It also stops the formation of phlegm in the throat and bronchial tubes, thus ending the persistent loose cough.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, combined with guaiacol, and has been used for generations to heal inflamed membranes of the throat and chest.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex," and don't accept anything else. A guarantee of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this preparation. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

EAU CLAIRE SCHOOL PRINCIPAL CALLED

Prof. Jack, Who Figured in Trouble With Students, Dies.

Eau Claire, Wis., March 25.—Prof. F. M. Jack, principal of the Eau Claire high school, died here yesterday after a long illness. Prof. Jack had been ill ever since the high school trouble last fall when he reprimanded Miss Florence Blood for the manner in which she wore her hair and which brought a demand for a public apology and later a "strike" by some of the students.

WOMEN'S CLUB MEETING.

Plans Outlined for State Gathering in Minot Next Fall.

Valley City, N. D., March 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—Plans for the next annual meeting of the North Dakota Federation of Women's clubs to be held in Minot, Oct. 12 to 15, were discussed at a meeting of the executive committee, held here.

The several convention committees were named, and plans were laid by which it is expected that between 400 and 600 delegates will be attracted to the gathering.

One of the prospective convention features is the consideration of women's suffrage—a topic that has become acute again through the refusal of the state legislature to pass the constitutional amendment covering that question.

New clubs were admitted to membership as follows: Women's Literary club of Fairmount; Women's club of Velva; Parents-Teachers club of Marion; Rural club of Grace City; North Dakota Nurses' association; Women's Literary club of McClusky, and Literary club of Pettibone.

BADGER MACCABEES ELECT.

John W. Brown of Stevens Point Chosen Great Commander.

Fond du Lac, Wis., March 25.—The state convention of Maccabees in session here Tuesday and Wednesday elected officers as follows: Great commander, John W. Brown, Stevens Point; great record keeper, Albert J. Bruce, Milwaukee; great past commander, A. J. Sutherland, Eau Claire; great lieutenant commander, Matt Stutz, Tomahawk; great medical examiner, W. B. Coffeen, Green Bay; great sergeant, F. J. Dellefield, Ashland; great master at arms, James Stewart, Milwaukee; great first master of guard, J. E. F. Burgwardt, Marinette; great sentinel, Leo Reitmann, Milwaukee; great picket, W. D. Noble, La Crosse; executive board, J. L. Mertlle, Wautoma; Fred Redditz, Eau Claire, and Bert Horton, Oshkosh.

FORMER SLAVE DIES.

Joe Harron, Character at Iron River, Mich., Passes.

Iron River, Mich., March 25.—A slave in pre-civil war days, Joe Harron, a negro, who had been a character in this section for years, died a few days ago in an old cabin near the Buckholz mine he built when he first came to this section thirty-five or forty years ago. Harron escaped from his slave owner during the war and served in the Union army as hostler for an officer who after the war brought him North to Green Bay, Wis. Eventually the old negro drifted up this way and had lived a precarious existence in this section many years.

PHOTOGRAPHER SCARED.

Grand Forks Man, Snapshotting in Mexico, Looks Into Soldier's Gun.

Grand Forks, N. D., March 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—Photographing war scenes in Mexico may have its humorous features, but Sherman Schlosser of Grand Forks fails to see the joke.

While Schlosser was in Juarez he attempted to picture a scene—a soldier, on guard duty, being the central feature of the picture.

Looking through the finder of his camera, Schlosser thought he detected unusual movements on the part of the soldier, and looking up he found himself gazing into the barrel of the soldier's rifle.

Schlosser quickly forgot all about taking pictures—and also abandoned his camera to the tender mercies of the greaser.

DAKOTA BRIEFS

Aberdeen, S. D.—Mrs. Pearl Fitch has entered suit against William J. Wagner, a saloonkeeper, asking $2,000 damages and charging that her husband, David E. Fitch, an insurance solicitor, was made incapable of making a livelihood or supporting his family because of the excessive use of liquors sold him by defendant.

Dickinson, N. D.—County superintendents of schools from each of thirteen counties on the Missouri slope are meeting here to draw up plans for a teachers' summer school. This is the first action in connection with the installation of the new normal school granted Dickinson by the legislature.

Cando, N. D.—In district court today a jury awarded Mrs. Myrtle Stevens $458.33 in her suit against Mrs. Emma King for slander. Both are well known women of Ellsbury, in Towner county.

Huron, S. D.—A movement to change the city government of Huron from the commission plan back to the aldermanic was decisively defeated Tuesday, the total vote for the commission being 752 and for the aldermanic form 263.

Fargo, N. D.—T. A. Quirk and family have returned from an extended trip to California, where they took in the Panama-Pacific exposition at San Francisco. Mr. Quirk said California is certainly a nice place, but he is glad to get back to good old North Dakota.

Forbes, N. D.—At a Farmers' institute meeting held here the Tri-County Fair association of Forbes was organized for Dickey, Brown and McPherson counties. The following were elected: President, O. L. Schulstad; vice president, G. B. Howell; secretary-treasurer, L. E. Turner; directors, A. S. Marshall, D. D. Moore.

Northgate, N. D.—Work in building the Presbyterian church here, near Flaxton, has begun, and the opening will probably take place sometime in June. Governor Hanna has promised to be there at that time.

Fargo, N. D.—L. R. Johnson, who for the past seven years has been in charge of the "plug" department of the American Tobacco company in North Dakota, has recently been appointed to the position of general sales manager for the state.

Grand Forks, N. D.—Dr. Robert Gammon, Western secretary of the Congregational Sabbath School and Publication society, will conduct an institute at Grand Forks Saturday and Sunday. Dr. Gammon is conducting a series of meetings in the state.

Portland, N. D.—Governor L. B. Hanna spoke here Monday night at the opera house on his visit to Norway. The governor went to the Academy, and the governor contributed his services. The lecture was fine and a very good house was out to hear it. The people appreciated the governor's generosity.

Miller; highway overseer, Hans Norby; board of review, Nels Johnson; Messrs. Comstock and Norby were unopposed.

Ishpeming—Ishpeming, as well as other Marquette county towns, will be visited by the Milwaukee Merchants' and Manufacturers' association, which will make a tour of the Upper Peninsula the first of June. A special train of ten cars has been chartered by the party and will leave Milwaukee May 31.

Marquette—George E. Webster, general manager of the Lake Superior Iron and Chemical company, sailed Saturday from New York for England where he will spend about a month transacting business for his company.

Houghton — Mrs. Amelia Frances Bowden, an aged and respected resident of the Isle Royale location, died Monday. She was 84 years of age and the end was due in part to this ripe old age. The deceased was born in England and came to Nova Scotia about thirty-five years ago and later came to Ironwood and here.

Calumet—Well known educators of the Upper Peninsula will be judges on thought and delivery at the sub-district oratorical contest to be held at the Calumet theater on April 2. For judges of thought and composition, Miss Flora Hill of the Northern State Normal and Professors Hollister and Brum of the University of Michigan have been selected and for judges of delivery three public school superintendents have been chosen, Prof. Duffield of Ironwood, Prof. Reed of Wakefield and Prof. Silvernale of Menominee.

Beacon Hill—Herman Stelow, the Beacon Hill submarine diver, assisted by Anton Sretter of Freda, went to Houghton Sunday and rescued Al Wittig's automobile from the bottom of Portage lake.

Marquette—Division No. 4, Anojent Order of Hibernians, has begun preparation for its annual Easter Monday ball, to be held in Fraternity hall Monday evening, April 5. The Hibernians plan to make the event the most important affair of the spring social season.

Negaunee—Emeryck Sedlock of this city, who has been in the United States Army the past year and a half, was on March 9 promoted from the rank of private to that of corporal of Company H, Eleventh Infantry, at Douglas, Ariz.

Ishpeming—The laying of concrete for the foundation of the new postoffice building has started. The frames for the footings, pillars, etc., are about completed. Foreman Driscoll expects to begin laying brick within the next week or ten days.

Marquette—Peter Hansen of the Rosen & Hansen Fish company of Gnonagon, who were engaged in commercial fishing here last season, is in the city. The firm will commence spring fishing as soon as the harbor is clear of ice.

Daggett—The erection of a Methodist Episcopal church here will begin as soon as the frost is out of the ground. The building will be of brick veneer, 30 by 45 feet, and will cost about $1,800. Of this amount $1,000 has been donated.

WISCONSIN BRIEFS

Plainfield—Informed by wire of the death of her father-in-law, Joseph Weinbauer, at Grand Rapids, Mrs. Frank Weinbauer took the train for that city. Arriving there she was met at the station by the man she believed dead. The telegram was a mistake.

Oshkosh—William Bartknecht, four years at the Green Bay reformatory, Julius Hundt, four years at Waupun state prison, is a result of these two young men's attempt at highway robbery on March 5. They attempted to rob Charles Reed of this city.

La Crosse—Joseph Campbell Perkins, better known as Judge Perkins, is dead at his home here after a short illness at the age of 71 years. Judge Perkins was the only colored man ever elected to an office in this county. Fifteen years ago he became justice of the peace of the town of Campbell.

Oshkosh—Pike spawn was gathered, commencing on Wednesday, at Butte des Morts. The work was done under the supervision of James Nevin, superintendent of the state fish hatcheries. The spawn was placed in the hatchery at this city.

Madison—Charles A. Veder of Mauston filed with Secretary of State Donald a withdrawal from the judicial contest in the seventeenth circuit. This leaves but three candidates in the field, Judge James O'Neill, the incumbent; Assemblyman E. W. Crosby of Neillsville and Clinton G. Price of Mauston.

Neenah—T. D. Phillips, pioneer business man and Winnebago county coroner, is at the Clark hospital critically ill with pneumonia. Heart complications have set in.

DANDRUFF MAKES HAIR FALL OUT

25 Cent Bottle of "Danderine" Keeps Hair Thick, Strong, Beautiful.

Girls! Try This! Doubles Beauty of Your Hair in Few Moments.

Within ten minutes after an application of Danderine you can not find a single trace of dandruff or falling hair and your scalp will not itch, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair, fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—growing all over the scalp.

A little Danderine immediately doubles the beauty of your hair. No difference how dull, faded, brittle and scraggy, just moisten a cloth with Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. The effect is amazing—your hair will be light, fluffy and wavy, and have an appearance of abundance; an incomparable lustre, softness and luxuriance.

Get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, and prove that your hair is as pretty and soft as any—that it has been neglected or injured by careless treatment — that's all — you surely can have beautiful hair and lots of it if you will just try a little Danderine.

BY BRUCE.

SOMEONE was naming the world's wonders in scientific glove work. There was Jem Mace, Young Griffo, Joe Gans, Jim Corbett, Jack McAuliffe—and there is Mike Gibbons Please don't forget Jack Johnson.

How good Jack Johnson is, or what his disposition is, which is highly important, is an exceedingly difficult matter to decide; but the ornate fact remains that the big smoke was one of the greatest ring generals and one of the greatest of all great boxers.

When the Johnson-Burns fight pictures were showing at a local theater, the exhibitor, who had witnessed the fight in Australia, gave some interesting explanations as the film was reeled off.

During part of the fight, as the exhibitor explained, Johnson was engaged in conversation with Hugh McIntosh, who as some of you may recall, promoted and refereed the fight, thereby setting a glittering precedent for Tex Rickard.

Johnson would be talking with McIntosh when Burns would start a blow. With a precision astounding and seemingly propelled by intuition, a black arm would shoot out and block the blow, or that grinning countenance would bob out of the way of the glove.

A correspondent of the London Times perched his camera on the edge of the ring and endeavored to get the fighters in focus. The all-seeing eyes of the big black spied the proceeding. Picking the pudgy Burns up as if he were a child, Johnson carried him over and planted him in front of the newspaper man.

"There now." said Johnson. "There is the chance foh you to take a picture."

Like others we would like to see Johnson beaten—if we were satisfied that the black was within ring years of his prime. The only fascinating wrecks we have ever heard of are old English mansions.

Because Johnson is black it is no just reason why he should not be entitled to rank among the great fighters. The smoke begged Jeffries for a fight when the boilermaker was in the very heyday of his career. Some persons say when Jeff was at his best he would have broken Johnson in twain—well Jeffries sure did have the chance to try.

Some wize gazabes who have traveled around a bit and looked in and out of places on several sides of the world, declare that the Havana cantata has a queer look; be that as it may, the fact remains that Johnson in his prime could have licked a whole room full of fighters of the Willard stripe. Those kind are made to order for the smoke.

In Australia there was an old master of boxing—we have forgotten his name—who made his boast that no boxer could hit him on the nose. Many had tried and none had succeeded in reaching his proboscis.

This bold and confident gink invited Johnson to lam away at his nasal organ. Bang! the senegambian whacked the master of the manly art on the nose. It was so easy. That left of the black is one of the greatest weapons that the ring has seen. Yes, and Peter Jackson and Jim Corbett had some lefts; some lefts is right, boy.

Welsh Booked at Hudson.

MIKE COLLINS, who has leaped into the big league class of boxing promoters of this country, phoned here the other day that he has practically closed negotiations for the appearance of Freddy Welsh at Hudson.

Whether the genial and gentlemanly Mike will pit Ray Temple or Red Watson against Harry Pollock's Welsh citizen, has not as yet been determined.

Watson is a glittering card in the Twin Cities. The stocky and sturdy redhead is one of those kind of glovemen who compels the other fellow to fight in literal defense of his life. It would be worth traveling all of the intervening miles to witness the mentally alert and physically lithe and speedy Welsh do a delicious ring tango before the lusty rushes and full-armed swings of the Watson youth.

Also Collins is working on a bout in which Mike Gibbons and Jack Dillon will be the principals, if the "papers are signed."

As in the case of Gibbons and McGoorty, such a bout would draw the boxing bugs from miles around and would pack the large arena at Hudson to the roof. Collins is a nervy youth who is not afraid to spend real money; a sportsman who will gamble on any proposition that promises him half a chance to win.

After the remarkable showing Jack Dillon made against Gunboat Smith, his appearance in the same ring with Gibbons would set the Northwest gabbing over the result of such a meeting.

The husky Indianapolis boxer has beaten Jim Flynn at his own cherished game—that of standing toe to toe and slugging, and supplemented this meritorious ring performance by decisively whipping the gunner. The all absorbing question as to what a ring greyhound of the Gibbons type could do against a sturdy fighter of the class of Dillon, is one that would draw a swarm of fans to Hudson to see answered.

Mike Collins is expected at the Head of the Lakes in the near future, by and by, and may know at that time some definite result of the ambitious plans he is working on.

Michigan Aggies' Schedule.

East Lansing, Mich., March 25.—The baseball schedule for Michigan agricultural college calls for eighteen games, eleven of which are to be played at East Lansing. The schedule includes three games with the University of Michigan and two with Notre Dame.

THEN MY FRIEND SIMPSON CAN TELL YOU SOMETHING INTERESTING.
I'VE TRIED THEM ALL, AND THE REAL TOBACCO CHEW SATISFIES. GIVE IT A QUALITY TEST, THAT'S ALL.

A MAN never forgets his first introduction to the little chew that satisfies. Let him get the comfort of the Real Tobacco Chew and it's good-bye to the big wad for all time. More than that, he's glad to share the discovery with his friends.

A little chew of pure, rich, mellow tobacco—cut fine, short shred—seasoned and sweetened just enough, cuts out so much of the grinding and spitting.

Take a very small chew—less than one-quarter the old size. It will be more satisfying than a mouthful of ordinary tobacco. Just nibble on it until you find the strength chew that suits you. Tuck it away. Then let it rest. See how easily and evenly the real tobacco taste comes, how it satisfies without grinding, how much less you have to spit, how few chews you take to be tobacco satisfied. That's why it is The Real Tobacco Chew. That's why it costs less in the end.

It is a ready chew, cut fine and short shred so that you won't have to grind on it with your teeth. Grinding on ordinary candied tobacco makes you spit too much.

The taste of pure, rich tobacco does not need to be covered up with molasses and licorice. Notice how the salt brings out the rich tobacco taste in "Right-Cut."

One small chew takes the place of two big chews of the old kind.

ALL-STAR HOCKEY TEAM PICKED FROM CITY LEAGUE

Mythical Septet Chosen By Managers of Six Amateur Teams—"Beany" Brown and Ray Bartlett of Universals Are Unanimous Selections.

All-Star Hockey Team.

Players.	Position.	Teams.
Hedberg	g	Northerns
Bartlett	p	Universals
Clark	cp	Northerns
Dahlstrom	cp	Two Harbors
Parsons	c	Central High
Nelson	rw	Northerns
Brown	lw	Universals
Olson	r	Big Duluths
Sullivan	r	Two Harbors

At a meeting yesterday of the managers of the six teams of the Duluth Amateur Hockey league an all-star team was selected from among the players of the league. This is the first time an all-star team has been selected, and the men chosen for the various positions of the mythical team were selected only after the most careful consideration upon the part of the managers.

"Beany" Brown of the Universals and Ray Bartlett of the same team were given a unanimous vote. The playing of these boys has been of the stellar order all through the season.

Hedberg of the Northerns received the votes of five managers for goal. This boy has played a corking game from the start of the year until the final game was played in the curling rink. Zireth of Two Harbors received the other vote for the position.

Parsons, the speedy Central player, received five votes for center position. This kid's work the past season has been of the sensational order. In every game played by the hilltop boys, Parsons has figured in a conspicuous manner.

Curly Harris, the little star of the Universals, who has worked so well with Brown, received one vote for the position.

Tie For Cover Point.

"Ham" Dahlstrom of Two Harbors and Nobby Clark of the Northerns each received three votes for the position of coverpoint. Both of these boys were pillars of strength to their teams all throughout the season. Both players were of the rushing, aggressive style of play, while both were similarly stars on defense and strong at back checking. Opinion was so evenly divided as to the relative merits of the two players that it was decided to give them both places on the mythical team.

In the case of rover there was another divided vote as to the player most entitled to the honor of being called the best player in the league in that position.

Gust Olson of the Big Duluths and "Shorty" Sullivan, the little speed demon of the Two Harbors team, each receiving three votes. Here also it was decided by the managers to give each of the players a place on the team.

Both Olson and Sullivan have been a tower of strength to their teams. Olson has been in the thick of the fray with the clothiers, his work often featuring the play of that team; while it rarely happened that Sullivan did not figure in the stellar light for the railroad town septet.

Olson was perhaps the biggest part of the Big Duluth forward line, while Sullivan's speed and remarkable ice covering ability, made the railroad gang a difficult team to defeat.

Brown Stands Alone.

As has been stated, "Beany" Brown received all six of the managerial votes for left wing position. There seems not a semblance of doubt in the minds of the managers but that little Brown was away and far the best wing in the league. As to the right wing position, there was some dispute. Nelson of the Northern was finally chosen. This boy has played a steady and consistent game all season and has shown no weak spots, if his standard of play has been below that of Brown.

Did the weather permit of an exhibition game being played against the curling club septet, managers of the Duluth Amateur Hockey league would like mighty well to see the all-stars go into battle with the Linderites. It is believed with a short spell of training that the pick of the amateur league players, real stars nurtured on local rinks, would give the Linderites a real argument.

In passing it might be mentioned that the season that came to a close in a recent blaze of glory has been by far the most successful in the history of city hockey. Despite the fact that the games were crowded off in a rather out of the way place, and despite the fact that contests were staged in bitterly cold weather in an open rink, a loyal following has stood by the efforts of the officers of the local league and by their loyalty enabled the league to achieve a real success.

It is believed that another season will bring about a change for the better, regarding an enclosed rink. The amateur league is rapidly becoming a power in hockey circles, and with the quality of its game increasing each season, and a greater interest being engendered among followers of the game, it is believed that the time is not far distant when the Duluth Amateur Hockey league will be on a par with the city league of Winnipeg.

JOHNSON AND WILLARD PREPARING FOR THEIR MATINEE MEETING

Havana, Cuba, March 25.—Jack Johnson and Jess Willard have settled down to the regular routine of training in preparation for their fight for the heavyweight championship of the world on April 4. Constant rains confine their work chiefly to indoor training. The champion has his headquarters in the gymnasium at the stadium and the challenger is training at the suburb of Miramar. Both men are charging admission fees to their quarters, which are visited every afternoon by hundreds of Cubans and Americans.

Boxing is a novelty to the natives, although the tourists appreciate the fine points of the sport.

The Americans are interested chiefly in Johnson's condition. The champion appears to be in surprisingly good form. He weighs 233 pounds, and in the ten days before the fight, expects to reduce his weight to 215 pounds. He is a trifle fat at the hips, although his weight is not excessive, considering the amount of time left for training and the moist Cuban climate. He works in heavy clothes and perspires profusely.

Johnson's exercise yesterday consisted of shadow boxing, work with dumbbells and eight rounds of boxing with no intermission with Dave Mills, Colin Bell and Bill Scott, all heavy, fast men.

Johnson's wind was excellent and his old cleverness in hitting, blocking and clinching was evident. His judgment of distance was a trifle short, but he said this would be rectified by practice. He was as confident and good natured as is usual with him.

Willard, after his long period of training at El Paso, is going an easy pace, taking up about the same routine as Johnson. His road work is lighter than the champion's. His wind is good and his form is improving. His best work is with Jim Savage.

The ticket sale opened yesterday. Thus far there has been no betting.

Warm weather yesterday gave Jack Johnson and Jess Willard the first opportunity in several days to work in the open air. Both pugilists drew crowds of people who were anxious to see them at work.

Willard has developed a good straight left. His wind is only fair. His sparring partners landed freely yesterday and despite the fact that they are smaller men, the challenger was easily thrown off his balance in the clinches. Willard hits a terrific blow when he lands, but is still far from a finished boxer. During the morning Willard did six miles of road work.

Johnson likewise took a six-mile run. The champion boxed nine rounds with Bob Armstrong, Colin Bell and Dave Mills without intermission. Johnson declared that he could fight today if necessary, and said in another week he would be in perfect condition.

Americans have begun to bet in favor of Johnson, offering small sums at 11 to 5. Thus far there is only a fair demand for seats at the championship fight.

ATTELL GETS ANOTHER CHANCE AT KILBANE.

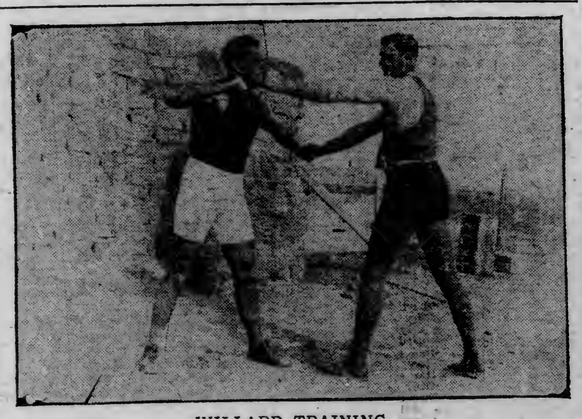
Seattle, Wash., March 25.—Abe Attell, who arrived here last night, received a telegram from his manager in New York informing him that he had arranged for Attell to meet Johnny Kilbane, featherweight champion, in a twenty-round championship bout in New Orleans, the last week in June. The exact date will be set later.

Kilbane will receive $5,000 and Attell 30 per cent of the receipts.

Princeton Wins.

Princeton, N. J., March 25.—Princeton opened the baseball season here yesterday with a 3 to 2 victory over Gettysburg.

BIG KANSAS COWBOY WORKING FOR "SMOKE"



WILLARD TRAINING.

This picture shows Jess Willard and "Tex" O'Rourke, one of his sparring partners, boxing in preparation for the coming world's championship fight. O'Rourke is a large man, so the unusual height of Willard will be appreciated by comparing his towering stature with O'Rourke. Willard has tremendous strength and this may prove an obstacle for Jack Johnson to overcome.

MAY CHANGE SCHEDULE

Northern League Magnates Not Satisfied With Season's Card.

Harry Blume, W. J. Sommer and Ted Finch of Virginia will probably leave for Minneapolis today or tomorrow for a conference with John Burmeister. The Northern league president is expected back today or tomorrow from Louisiana, where he has been profit inspecting on his oil wells, and with his return some schedule changes are contemplated.

Three pool days come in succession. Owner Blume is going to register a strenuous objection to this. Also Fort William claims that it has too many games in May and an insufficient number on the home grounds later in the season.

These matters will be dragged before the attention of President Burmeister and it is possible that some readjustments will be made in the schedule before that interesting document is released for public inspection.

TIES WORLD'S MARK IN BOWLING EVENT

Remarkable Scores Made in Upper Peninsula Contests at Marquette.

Marquette, Mich., March 25.—Some remarkable scores were rolled in the annual tournament of the Upper Peninsula Bowling association, in progress here the last fortnight. In taking first prize in the five-man event the Big Lakes team of Lake Linden spilled 3,035 pins. The score is declared to have tied the world's record.

Officers of the association say that higher scores have been rolled by five-man teams, but not in tournament. Other first prize winners and their records were: Three-man event, McCulloch, Talo and Saline of Diorite, 1,727; doubles, Jenks and Manes, Marquette, 1,258; singles, Dan Fisher of Hancock, 657; grand average, Keuhl of Marquette, 199.88. All the games were bowled on newly-installed regulation alleys, equipped with automatic pin spotters. The pins were new and of the standard tournament make. Bowlers from all over Upper Michigan competed.

The tournament of next year will be held at Lake Linden. A. A. Barbeau, captain of the Big Lakes team, is the new president of the association. Frank G. Jenks of Marquette is vice president and A. A. Brockway of Lake Linden, secretary and treasurer.

HARRY STOUT CHOSEN TO REFEREE CONTEST

Milwaukee Man to Be Third Man in Ring When Mandot and Brown Clash.

Harry Stout will be the third man in the ring when Brown and Mandot clash. Mr. Stout hails from Milwaukee and is chiefly noted for wearing silk shirts. Young Gentilla, a Duluth amateur wrestler, will go on against Joe Lanners of Hurley, Wis., in one of the preliminaries, while Battling Stuart, another Duluth youngster, will oppose Carl Hegland of Superior for four rounds in the curtain raiser. The semi-windup will trot out "Battling" Gladski of Duluth, an unknown boxer, and Joe Ward of Butte, Mont.

A letter received yesterday stated that no contest will be staged between Freddy Welsh and Mandot.

HUEY CROWDS DALY FOR TITLE LEAD

Close Race for Championship in Three-Cushion Tournament.

Chicago, March 25.—William Huey of Chicago last night defeated Alfredo De Oro of New York, 50 to 33, in sixty-two innings in the world's championship three-cushion billiard tournament and thereby all but overhauled John Daly of New York for the lead. Daly has won eight games and lost one, while Huey has won eight and lost two.

Huey will play Daly today and a victory would put him in the lead, while a defeat would virtually eliminate him from the championship. In last night's game Huey made a high run of 6 and De Oro 5.

August Kiekhofer of Milwaukee defeated Charles Ellis of Cleveland, 50 to 37, in sixty-six innings in the first game yesterday. Kiekhofer ran 10 and Ellis 6.

John Daly of New York beat Charles Morin of Chicago, 50 to 47, in eighty-five innings. Daly ran 6 and Morin 4.

BASEBALL TEAM IS ORGANIZED AT BAUDETTE

Baudette, Minn., March 25.—Baudette has organized its baseball team for the season. Charles Nubbins has been chosen as captain and manager; W. L. Noonan, president; T. J. Clauson, treasurer; and L. F. Backett, secretary. The team will be composed of local players as well as a few salaried men. Enthusiasts of Baudette are working on a plan to form a league that will include Baudette, International Falls, Fort Frances, Warroad and Roseau. In the event of the league being formed week-end games will be played throughout the season.

No Impurities Can Retain A Foothold—They're Driven Out.

The action of S. S. S. the famous blood purifier, is direct from the moment it enters the stomach. Unlike food that must be acted upon by the digestive juices, S. S. S. goes at once into the blood, and in less than five minutes has traversed the entire circulation.

It now rapidly spreads its medicinal action in the fine network of blood vessels and is like giving the blood a thorough bath, to overcome eczema, blood risings, boils and other eruptive conditions. It can not harm any part of the system. It does not lodge in the joints as do mercury, arsenic and other minerals frequently to be found in blood remedies. It is a natural medicine for the blood, just as essential to health if germs have gotten the upper hand as is nutritious food if after a spell of sickness the body calls for nourishment. Wherever you go you are sure to meet some one who used S. S. S. for the blood and is a willing witness to its wonderful power to overcome blood troubles. You can obtain S. S. FEDERAL PLAYER TRADES JUMBLED

New York, March 25.—As the result of the transfer of the Indianapolis club of the Federal league to Newark, and the return of the Kansas City team to that city, a tangle involving players of the Brooklyn, Newark and Kansas City clubs has developed. The make-up of all three clubs is likely to undergo a change, it is said, when the league officials meet here on Friday to adopt a schedule, promulgate the transfer, and settle disputes.

The contract for the construction of the Newark ball park, which calls for an expenditure of $60,000, was awarded yesterday.

Valdosta, Ga., March 25.—Telegrams to William Phillips, manager of the Indianapolis Federal league club, in training here, said all of the Indianapolis players will be transferred to the Newark Federal club with the exception of Benny Knauff, an outfielder, and Cy Falkenberg, a pitcher. These two, it was said, would be sent to the Brooklyn Federals. Phillips left for New York last night to confer with league officials.

After Giant Discard.

New Orleans, La., March 25.—Richard Carroll, business manager of the Brooklyn Federal league club, left the Brooklyn training camp at Browns' Wells, Miss., yesterday for Dallas, Tex., it was said, to sign several recruits who will be dropped by the New York Giants at the end of the training season. It was said, too, that Carroll might negotiate with Outfielders Robertson and Bescher.

Promoting Another League.

Chicago, March 25.—Charles Moll, vice president of the Wisconsin-Illinois league, has opened negotiations here for a six-club league to include Rockford, Racine, Oshkosh, Green Bay, Marinette and Menominee were suggested as the other cities to make up the circuit.

WORLD'S ROWING TITLE MAY BE SETTLED ON COAST

National Rowing Association Planning to Send Picked Squad to Compete in Big Event; Duluth Oarsmen Will Likely Be Among Those Chosen; Ten Eyck After Race With Crack College Crew.

BY BRUCE.

Word was received here yesterday that the National Association of Amateur Oarsmen would in all probability send a picked bunch of oarsmen to the Pacific coast to compete for the world's rowing championship. In that event it is very likely that the Duluth Boat club will have at least one or two crews in the invading squad that will seek laurels on the Western slope of the country.

Here is another little item that will interest followers of sport in this city—Jimmy Ten Eyck, with the active co-operation and assistance of President Ray Higgins and other officers of the club, is endeavoring to land a race with one of the crack college crews of the country. The winner of the Poughkeepsie classic is naturally preferred. For many seasons followers of sweep rowing have vaguely speculated as to the result of a meeting between a crack college crew and a crew representing the average speed of an athletic or boat club organization. Duluth stands today at the very pinnacle of boat club rowing in the United States. It is one of the vaulting ambitions of Jimmy Ten Eyck's career to secure an eight-oarded contest with Cornell or Columbia.

Should Duluth meet and defeat one of these crack collegiate crews—say boy, the fame of the local crews would spread to the uttermost parts of the country.

World's Title in Prospect.

As plans are being framed at the present time, the Panama-Pacific exposition people may arrange for a world's championship rowing contests. If the big event is arranged for, Ten Eyck is of the belief that it will be by far the largest rowing event ever held in the United States and will bring together the strongest crews from every section of the United States, Canada and possibly England.

And should a world's titular rowing contest be staged, the crews of the little old Dutch Boat club would be found right there, for, brother, staging a world's title event without the local crews as competitors would be like staging a modern production of Hamlet with the melancholy Dane absent from the cast.

Should the American Association of Amateur Oarsmen send a picked squad of its choicest representatives to the coast to meet the pick of the nation's crack sweep men and scullers, it will be an added incentive for Duluth to go to Springfield this season with the best squad that has ever boarded a rather bound for the scene of a big regatta.

Ten Eyck is laboring with an energy born of enthusiasm. Always a hard worker, whose methods have yielded greater net results than obtained by any other rowing coach in the United States, Jimmy this season is going about his work with the determination to eclipse even the brilliant showings of former years. When you stop to consider that Duluth has won more victories in the same space of time than any club in the United States, the magnitude of the self-imposed task can be gleaned.

The senior eight will require a lot of work. The senior four is a machine. This year the latter crew should be even faster than last year. But if local oarsmen go to the Pacific coast, Duluth will want an even development of crews, and to develop all of his crews to the high requirements of national rowing competition, is the work that James E. Ten Eyck is already set upon.

M'CARTY'S SLAYER GETS TASTE OF K. O.

New York, March 25.—Al Reich of this city, former amateur heavyweight champion, knocked out Arthur Pelkey of Chicopee, Mass., in the third round of a ten-round match here last night.

A left to the face and a right cross to the jaw sent Pelkey down for a count of nine in the third. He arose and boxed for another minute, but a left hook on the head and several rights and lefts to the aw ended the contest. Each weighed 206 pounds.

Welsh Wins at Windsor.

Windsor, Ont., March 25.—Freddie Welsh, lightweight champion, outpointed Patsy Drouillard of Windsor, who claims the Canadian championship in that class in an eight-round bout here last night. Welsh had everything his own way for five rounds. In the last three the Canadian carried the fight to the champion and earned an even break in those rounds.

FAVORITE WINS BIG LINCOLNSHIRE EVENT.

London, March 25.—Viewlaw, the favorite won the Lincolnshire handicap, the first big event of the British racing season. Lord Annamdale and Polycrates were second and third respectively. Twenty-three horses ran.

The Lincolnshire handicap of 1,500 sovereigns, is for 3-year-olds and upwards and was run over the straight mile course. The betting was 6 to 1 against Viewlaw, 8 to 1 against Lord Annandale and 100 to 7 against Polycrates.

Play for Championship.

Pinehurst, N. C., March 25.—Mrs. Roland H. Barlow, Merion Cricket club, Philadelphia, and Mrs. W. J. Faith, Wykagyl club, New York, won their matches yesterday in the semi-finals of the United North and South amateur golf tournament for women, and today will play for the championship.

Baseball Games.

Charlottesville, Va., March 25.—The University of Virginia defeated the Washington Americans 3 to 1 yesterday.

Savannah, Ga., March 25.—The New York Americans defeated the Savannah South Atlantic league club here yesterday 9 to 5.

UNEMPLOYED EASY VICTIMS

False Promises of Jobs Entice Them to Part With Cash.

Caution Against Swindlers Issued By Duluth Police.

Swindlers who approach unemployed men and secure money under promises of a "job," are reaping a harvest in Duluth, according to police, who receive complaints daily from laborers who have been buncoed out of their money, thinking that they were paying part of a railroad fare.

With the lumber season over and the marine season not yet open, there are more unemployed men in the city than at any other time of the year, and most of them have a few dollars left from their winter's "stake," say detectives.

Prospect of securing work appeals to many of them so much that it is comparatively easy for a smooth operator to "clean up" large sums, judging by complaints made during the last few days at headquarters.

Several "suckers" were caught yesterday by a good looking young man dressed in the last mode, and wearing a natty spring overcoat. Frank Lepins, a laborer from Iowa, en route to the range, thought he had a job on a farm in Montana, but discovered that he was out $10, the largest part of his "roll," when the affable stranger stepped into a Superior street hotel and failed to come back.

Lepins surrendered the $10 to be used as part of his fare to Montana, where he was to work on a farm owned by the young man's brother. Police have taken steps to warn laborers against this type of swindler, who is expected to be active here during the next two or three weeks, until the marine season opens.

MORE PENALTY ON PERSONAL TAX SOON

Delinquent List Turned Over to Sheriff for Collection April 6.

On April 6, County Treasurer George H. Vivian will turn over the list of delinquent personal property taxes to the sheriff's office for collection. The 1914 taxes became delinquent on March 1, last, at which time a 10-per-cent penalty attached. When placed in the hands of the sheriff for collection other costs and fees will be added.

In St. Louis county there are approximately 3,000 delinquent personal property taxpayers this year. The total including the tax imposed on money and credits amounted to $28,973.46. Of the total number of delinquents, 1,920 reside in Duluth and 1,080 in other portions of the county.

The number of delinquents this year exceeds that of the preceding year by 1,000.

Albany, N. Y., March 25.—The bill intended to provide pensions for widowed mothers passed the assembly yesterday, 129 to 8. It previously had passed the senate and now goes to the governor for signature. The governor said he was undecided whether he would sign the bill. The bill would provide that child welfare boards shall be appointed in every county of the state and in the larger cities.

MISSIONARY WORK IN NORTHWEST STATES

Rev. I. O. Ferris, in Charge of S. S. Work, Makes Annual Report.

During the year 1914, the American Sunday School union opened 236 new Sunday schools in the district comprising Minnesota, North Dakota and Montana, according to an annual report of Rev. John O. Ferris of Minneapolis, which has just been issued.

The three states are districted so that a local missionary will have charge of from five to nine counties, over which he travels to organize Sunday schools and preach in new settlements and schoolhouses of older districts. Mr. Ferris, who is in general charge, has a competent force of men in each state.

Mr. Ferris reports that during the past fiscal year these "religious pioneers" have opened 236 Sunday schools, where 7,348 puplis have been enrolled for weekly systematic study. 1,578 visits were paid to schools in operation; 2,656 public addresses and sermons were delivered to people who seldom hear a service except when some home missionary gives it to them; 2,066 Bibles and testaments were distributed, $2,000 worth of Sunday school literature was sold, and considerable was given away.

"These church forerunners," says the report, "made 17,612 visits to homes for religious conversation and prayer, and as a crowning glory to it all, more than 650 persons confessed Christ as their Lord and Master. To make these schools more permanent sixty-three became regular preaching stations for pastors of various denominations. Christian Endeavor societies have been organized, prayer-meetings established and three churches built. For the present year the bend of missionaries will be increased to meet the ever-increasing calls for Sunday school and rural religious service."

WHAT DYSPEPTICS SHOULD EAT

A PHYSICIAN'S ADVICE.

"Indigestion and practically all forms of stomach trouble are, nine times out of ten, due to acidity; therefore stomach sufferers should, whenever possible, avoid eating food that is acid in its nature, or which by chemical action in the stomach develops acidity. Unfortunately, such a rule eliminates most foods which are pleasant to the taste as well as those which are rich in blood, flesh and nerve building properties. This is the reason why dyspeptics and stomach sufferers are usually so thin, emaciated and lacking in that vital energy which can only come from a well fed body. For the benefit of those sufferers who have been obliged to exclude from their diet all starchy, sweet or fatty food, and are trying to keep up a miserable existence on gluten products, I would suggest that you should try a meal of any food or foods which you may like, in moderate amount, taking immediately afterwards a teaspoonful of bisurated magnesia in a little hot or cold water. This will neutralize any acid which may be present, or which may be formed, and instead of the usual feeling of uneasiness and fullness, you will find that your food agrees with you perfectly. Bisurated magnesia is doubtless the best food corrective and antacid known. It has no direct action on the stomach; but by neutralising the acidity of the food contents, and thus removing the source of the acid irritation which inflames the delicate stomach lining, it does more than could possibly be done by any drug or medicine. As a physician, I believe in the use of medicine whenever necessary, but I must admit that I cannot see the sense of dosing an inflamed and irritated stomach with drugs instead of getting rid of the acid—the cause of all the trouble. Get a little bisurated magnesia from your druggist, eat what you want at your next meal, take some of the bisurated magnesia as directed above, and see if I'm not right."—Advertisement.

The Doctor's Advice by Dr. Lewis Baker

The questions answered below are general in character, the symptoms or diseases are given and the answers will apply in any cases of similar nature.

Those wishing further advice, free may address Dr. Lewis Baker, College Bldg., College-Ellwood streets, Dayton, O., enclosing self-addressed stamped envelope for reply. Full name and address must be given, but only initials or fictitious name will be used in my answers. The prescriptions can be filled at any well-stocked drug store. Any druggist can order of wholesaler.

"Young Woman:" "For several years I have doctored for distressing stomach symptoms, such as sour stomach, belching, accumulations of gas, heart-burn, drowsiness after eating, sleeplessness, coated tongue, bad breath, inertia, and I am getting thin and weak, my complexion is poor, and so far have not been improved by the medicines I have taken."

Answer: Your need is medicine to aid digestion, overcome dyspepsia and tone up the stomach, liver and bowels. I advise you to take "double-four stomach and bowel medicine," sold in sealed packets, by druggists, with complete directions.

Miss Adele writes: "My hair is coming out, my scalp itches and dandruff is very annoying, and I want something to cure these conditions.

Answer: For hair and scalp troubles I have never found anything to equal the beneficial results of a thorough treatment of plain yellow mineol. It is cooling, cleansing and invigorating, and thousands now use it regularly as a hair and scalp tonic.

Henry J. C. writes: "Something seems to be wrong with my system and I don't know what it is. I have huge puffs under my eyes, my eyes are bloodshot in morning and my feet and ankles are swollen. Sometimes I have chills and feel weak and tired most of the time."

Answer: Your eliminating organs, such as liver and kidneys, are in need of treatment. Begin taking balmwort tablets at once. Get them in sealed tubes with full directions of any well-stocked druggist.

G. M. C. asks: "Please relieve me of a coated tongue, foul breath, headache, constipation and general ill health."

Answer: If habitually constipated, you should take three-grain sulpherb tablets (not sulphur) and arouse the organs which eliminate waste material from your body. These tablets purify the blood and improve the health by acting on the liver, kidneys and bowels. Obtain in sealed tubes with full directions.

"Sarah" says: "Can anything be done for one who is bothered with rheumatism. If so, please reply."

Answer: You can be relieved of your rheumatism if you take the following: Mix by shaking well and take a teaspoonful at meal times and at bed-time and you will soon be relieved. Comp. essence cardiol, 1 oz.; comp. fluid balmwort, 1 oz.; syrup sarsaparilla comp., 5 ozs.; wine of colchicum, one-half oz.; sodium salicylate, 4 drams; iodide of potassium, 2 drams.

Miss Bertie L. asks: "What remedy can you recommend to reduce obesity safely? I want to reduce about thirty pounds."

Answer: I rely on five-grain arbolone tablets as being the most effective and convenient treatment to reduce abnormal fat. Druggists supply this in sealed tubes with complete directions. After the first few days a pound a day is not too much reduction.

Mrs. M. D. D. asks: "Do you think it is possible for me to increase my weight from 97 pounds to about 125 pounds?"

Answer: Yes, I believe that the regular use of a special tonic tablet will do this for you as it has for thousands of others. Ask your druggist for three-grain hypo-nuclano tablets in sealed package with full directions. Take them for several months to get the full benefit.

"Ray" writes: "Can a sufferer from bronchial troubles be relieved? Doctors do not seem to help me, what would you suggest?

Answer: To relieve chronic cold, sore throat bronchitis, I would advise the use of concentrated essence menthol-laxene. Purchase this at any drug store in 2½ oz. packages and mix according to directions given on bottle and you will very shortly be relieved of all bronchial trouble. This will not only relieve, but will correct, and is very pleasant to take.

M. G. W. asks: "What can one do for a bad catarrhal condition? I have suffered a long time and am unable to find relief. In addition to catarrh in throat and nostrils, I am also affected with pelvic catarrh (or leucorrhea).

Answer: A good tonic and builder such as three-grain hypo-nuclane tablets should build up your vitality, while using antiseptic Vilane powder for local treatment. Get either a two or eight-ounce package of the powder and complete directions with package will tell you how to use.

John C. L. writes: "I find my natural strength and nervous system failing me. I do not recuperate as of yore. My food and rest seem not to benefit me as they should. Am weak, despondent and unable to perform the duties which were assumed earlier in life, while my ambition for work and pleasure is slowly going."

Answer: I think a powerful, harmless tonic and nervine medicine will rejuvenate and restore the functions of digestion, assimilation and elimination by invigorating the nervous system. Obtain three-grain cadomene tablets, packed in sealed tubes, and take as per directions accompanying.—Advertisement.

On the Better Road Above You

When tires go wrong, through faults which Goodyear tires avoid, remember there's a better road above you. On it are some 400,000 users to whom Goodyears brought content.

Let each rim-cut suggest our No-Rim-Cut feature—the best way known to combat it.

Let each needless blow-out suggest our "On-Air" cure. At a cost to us of $450,000 yearly, it wipes out a major cause.

Let each loose tread remind you that our patent method reduces this risk 60 per cent.

Let each puncture remind you that our All-Weather tread is tough and double-thick. And each skid suggest its sharp, resistless grips.

No Other Ways

No other ways so well combat these troubles. And no other tire employs one of these methods.

That's why Goodyears hold the highest place. That's why men last year bought 1,479,883—about one Goodyear for every car in use.

Reduction No. 3

On February 1st we made our third big price reduction in two years. The three total 45 per cent. Yet we retain every costly, exclusive feature. And we spend $100,000 yearly to discover other betterments. We can and do give most for the money because of our matchless output.

You'll find that Goodyears mean less trouble, less cost per mile. The following Goodyear Service Stations will supply you:

WORLD'S STARS ENTERED IN BIG PENNSYLVANIA U. EVENTS

Philadelphia, March 25.—Every intercollegiate champion now in college is entered in the University of Pennsylvania's relay races and special sports to be held here on April 23 and 24, according to an announcement made today by the university athletic authorities.

Meredith, Pennsylvania, the winner of the quarter mile championship; Speiden, Cornell, mile champion, and Hoffmire, Cornell, the winner of the two miles, will be in their respective relay races. Braun, Dartmouth, the high hurdle champion, will run in that event while Ferguson, Pennsylvania, the low hurdle champion, will be seen either in the low hurdles or in one of Pennsylvania's relay teams.

Beatty, Columbia, the winner of the shot put; Oler, Yale, winner of the high jump, and Nordell, Dartmouth, in the broad jump, the other champions now in college, will be in those events at the relay races.

The real feature of the presence of these men will be in their meeting the best athletes of the Middle West and of the Pacific slope. Baranclk, Chicago, the Western conference intercollegiate champion, will be in the 100-yards dash as well as Drew of the University of Southern California. The latter is the holder of the world's record at 9 3-5 seconds. He has a wonderful record of having beaten 10 seconds for the 100-yards on eighteen different occasions.

The Eastern hurdlers will find themselves opposed by Kelly of Southern California, the Olympic champion, and the world's record holder. Ward of Chicago, who was second to Kelly last year at the relay races, and Cronley of Virginia with a 15 2-3 seconds record, are the other men who will oppose Braun of Dartmouth.

The field events will also find the present champions opposed by some of the very best men in America. Oler of Yale, the present champion of the high jump, will meet Richards or Cornell, the Olympic champion. There will also be four or five other men in the high jump, who have done over 6 feet 1 inch.

BLASTING ROUTS TENANTS.

Duluth's rock pile has heaped another burden on the city.

Yesterday afternoon Benjamin Goldberg, attorney for Aaron Shapiro, filed a claim with the city clerk for $2,000 damages as the result of blasting going on at the rock pile since May 1, 1913. The claim will be referred to City Attorney Clapp.

Mr. Shapiro claims that because of the blasting he is now unable to obtain tenants for his dwelling at 1330 West Superior street, and that as a result he has suffered a loss of $2,000 within the last twenty months.

NEXT THREE WEEKS WILL BE MOST CRITICAL OF YEAR FOR DULUTH'S UNSKILLED LABORERS

LODGERS AT THE BETHEL.

Duluth will have more unemployed men to care for during the next two or three weeks than at any other time this year, and probably more than at any previous time in the city's history. This is the opinion of men in charge of the relief work being done at the various missions and lodging houses throughout the city.

It is estimated that more than 800 men are sleeping in free beds, or on floors, and eating free meals, daily, in the city. With this record number being cared for, about 200 are being turned away nightly, and are sleeping in box cars or beside buildings.

"We've been 'swamped' for some time," declared Rev. H. E. Ramseyer, of the Bethel mission, Mesaba avenue between First and Superior streets west. "We are turning away from 100 to 150 men every night, and are unable even to give them floor space where they can sleep. The situation is about as bad as it ever has been, I believe."

At the Gospel mission, Lake avenue south near Superior street, between 150 and 200 men are sleeping on the floor in one small room, with newspapers for bedding, and are eating stew at 6 o'clock every morning as the day's meal.

At police headquarters more lodgers have been reported during the last ten days than almost ever before. The record for one night, made last fall, was 156 men on the basement floor at one time. The daily record recently has averaged over the 140 mark.

Reason for Conditions.

Although business conditions are as good in Duluth, as in any city in the United States, according to travelers, a combination of circumstances has brought an unusually large number of laborers to the head of the lakes for the opening of the navigation season.

Men from the lumber camps are coming in and seeking employment for the summer months, while the dock laborers and marine men have not yet been given work. The mines on the range have not been started and the prospect for a considerable amount of railroad construction work is favorable. Many men have also been attracted in the city by reports of Duluth's efforts to handle the problem of unemployment.

"Business men and Duluth people generally have no conception of the work these missions are trying to do, and under what handicaps they are working," declared W. J. McCabe of the Board of Trade and director of the Bethel mission.

"At the Bethel we are trying to feed the men who come to us, and although our expenses are low, comparatively speaking, the problem of purchasing food alone is a serious one."

The Bethel has beds for 250 men, and lately 200 more have slept on the floor. The men begin to gather shortly after 6 o'clock, in order to be sure and get a place where they can sleep protected from the elements, even though they have to sleep on the floor, according to Rev. Mr. Ramseyer.

While other large cities of the country have taken steps to care for the unemployed, Duluthians, ignorant of the fact that so many men in this city are destitute, have made no attempt to provide for them. The picture shown above of 200 men sleeping on the floor at the Bethel, recently was shown on the Board of Trade floor and brought donations from many grain men who could not conceive of conditions of that kind.

It has been suggested that the churches be opened, so that the men otherwise uncared for may have a place to sleep, without hunting beds in boxcars or beside buildings in the wholesale district. This plan, with others, is being considered by business men, with a view of providing relief during the next two or three weeks, until the marine season opens and conditions are alleviated.

WORKING TO GET SANATORIUM AID

County Officers Urged to Unite in Anti-Tuberculosis Work.

County Auditor Odin Halden has received a letter from Dr. H. M. Bracken, secretary of the state board of health, in which all county officers are urged to work to get an adequate appropriation from the legislature for state aid to counties in the establishment and maintenance of tuberculosis sanatoriums. Similar letters have been sent to other county auditors of the state.

"Many counties have taken the preliminary steps for the establishment of a county or district sanatorium," says Dr. Bracken. "One-half of the cost, up to $50,000, is to be paid from state funds, the other half from the county funds. In counties not provided with sanatoriums, tubercular persons who are endangering their associates must be cared for in accordance with the resolutions of the state board of health, adopted July, 1914:

"'Whereas, tuberculosis is now recognized as a communicable disease,

"'Therefore, be it resolved, That a case of open tuberculosis must be isolated either in a sanatorium or at home.

"'Resolved, That all early cases shall be so cared for as to prevent the disease from reaching a state that becomes dangerous to others, if possible.'

"Sanatorium care is better as a rule than home care and always less expensive. For example, in Le Sueur county, the tax for each eighty-acre farm for one case cared for in a sanatorium would be 62 cents a year, while the tax necessary to provide for suitable isolation and care of each case at home eighty-acre farm.

"In a county sanatorium, the expense of caring for the tuberculous rests on the state and the county. If there is no county sanatorium, the expense will rest upon the township or village or city, as the case may be, and the county."

CLUB WILL PROVIDE GIRLS' RECREATION

Y. W. C. A. Organizes Pupils of Franklin School for Many Activities.

The demand for recreation among girls has led to the organization of a girls' club at the Franklin school. Girls in that district and others will be enlisted in the ranks. It is planned that athletics, sewing, cooking, music and dramatics shall form a part of the program to be carried out at home and at the school building. Miss Edna L. Thatcher, secretary of the girls' department of the Y. W. C. A., and Miss Ida Dodd, head of the extension and educational department, are perfecting the organization.

Much enthusiasm over the work is being aroused at the Franklin school, and a name for the club is being sought. Girls having a suitable name to suggest are asked to do so. The first hike of the club will be held during Easter vacation, which will be the week following Friday, April 2.

WANTS PAY FOR 1,150 POUNDS OF LAW

Attorney Sues for Books Destroyed in Northern Pacific Fire.

A jury was drawn in Judge Cant's division of the district court today to try a cause of action which J. Harry Harris, colored attorney, has against the Northern Pacific Railway company.

Harris made a shipment of law books and office furniture from Seattle to Duluth. The consignment was destroyed in the fire which razed the company's Duluth freight shed on the night of Oct. 11, 1914.

The attorney holds the railway company liable for $10 per hundred weight, having released the company from liability in excess of that figure when he turned over the goods for shipment. The shipment weighed 1,151 pounds.

Harris came to Duluth last fall to engage in the practice of law. B. M. Goldberg appears in the case as his counsel and J. A. A. Sinclair of Washburn, Bailey & Mitchell is in court for the railway company.

WOULD LEGALIZE CERTAIN SALOONS

Wisconsin Assembly Passes Stemper Bill Applying to Baker Law.

Madison, Wis., March 25.—After an hour's debate the assembly today, by a vote of 48 to 37, passed the Stemper bill legalizing saloons outlawed by the Baker bill, after first refusing to postpone indefinitely the bill by practically the same vote. A reconsideration of the vote will be asked.

Before Speaker Whittet could place the bill on its official passage, Assemblyman Axel Johnson moved a call of the house, which was ordered. At 12:05 the call was raised. A motion to adjourn failed. Another call of the house was moved by Carl Hansen, but was refused. A recess until tonight likewise was not favored. The bill then was voted upon.

This was excise day in the assembly.

The house killed the Frederick bill prohibiting the transportation of liquor into dry territory by a vote of 62 to 25 and the Frederick bill for a half mile dry zone around the National soldiers' home in Wauwatosa, 62 to 38.

The committee on fish and game reported for passage the Potts bill for a closed season for quail in the state until 1921. The state affairs committee reported the Bradley woman suffrage bill for passage. The same committee favorably reported the Bichler resolution, extending sympathy to President Wilson in this hour of trial, and the Skogmo resolution to call a conference of neurtal powers of the world to attempt to settle the war in Europe.

The senate passed the Huber bill expediting the settlement of estates. The Buchler bill, abolishing the second-choice feature in primary elections was recommended for passage.

"RAISES" NOT FORTHCOMING

Many School Teachers Disappointed When They Receive Contracts.

Some of the teachers in the public schools are looking over their contracts for the school year of 1915-16 rather ruefully before signing or not, for many of them expected to receive increases in their salaries and did not. The teachers have been under the impression that when the contracts were issued last year, a promise was made that they would be given an increase this year. When the school board, on March 5, held its regular monthly meeting, the committee on teachers reported the names of the teachers whom the committee recommended for the next school year, and it was announced that teachers who had not received increased salaries last year were raised this year, and it was also recommended to leave the maximum and minimum salary limits as they are, which are $950 and $600, respectively.

The teachers, however, seem to have received the impression that the entire salary list was to have been increased for next year's work. However, according to C. A. Bronson, clerk of the board, and R. E. Denfeld, city superintendent, such was not the case, nor do the records of the board show such a promise. This year the contracts for next season call for a raise of $60 a year in about two-thirds of the cases, and except in a few cases, where salaries have been raised because of unusual merit on the part of the teacher, only those receiving salaries from $60 to $80 per month are raised.

Simple Way to End Dandruff

There is one sure way that has never failed to remove dandruff at once, and that is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, common liquid arvon from any drug store (this is all you will need), apply it at night when retiring, use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve, and entirely destroy, every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.—Advertisement.

NEW STYLE 1915 FORDS

REMEMBER FULLY EQUIPPED

Don't let our competitors tell you otherwise. They will misrepresent the facts to you, as they have done before. Don't let them fool you.

Compare these figures of cost after operating the first season of 7,500 miles with any car on the market, as an illustration: If a Ford 5-passenger, FULLY EQUIPPED with new style Cowel or Funnel dash, electric lights, top, glass front, speedometer, side and tail lamps, horn, pump, jack tools, tire repair kit, etc., costs $490 f. o. b. factory, less rebate $430 net, with any car selling at $695 with the same equipment, summed up as follows, you can readily see that your saving would be in dollars a very considerable sum. Can you afford to throw away your money recklessly?

Ford Net Cost f. o. b. factory.		Any Car $695 f. o. b. factory.
$430.00		$ 695.00
.....	Tire cost, 7,500 miles.....	58.40
34.00	Gasoline cost, 7,500 miles...	62.00
3.60	Oil cost, 7,500 miles.....	7.20
100.00	Depreciation, 7,500 miles...	345.00
25.80	Interest on investment, 6%.	41.70
$593.40	Total cost end first season..	$1,209.30
330.00	Net asset end first season...	350.00
$263.40		$ 859.30

Therefore, by deducting $593.40 from $1,209.30, being the total cost on each car at the end of the first year, the

REWARD $615.90

is yours, with practically no tire trouble, about one-half gasoline cost, one-half oil cost, much lower depreciation, lower interest on original investment, and last but not least, $265, the difference in first cost, tucked away safely in the bank to draw an interest earning for you.

Consider this argument carefully and place your order now. Don't wait if you expect a delivery.

JURY WILL DECIDE DAMAGE ACTION

F. A. Smith Asks $5,909 of Traction Company for Injuries.

Whether or not Ford A. Smith is entitled to recover damages from the Duluth Street railway as a result of a collision between his team and wagon and a street car on the evening of Oct. 8, 1914, will be a question for a jury in Judge Dancer's division of the district court to decide this afternoon.

Smith is suing for $5,909.30. For injuries to himself, he asks $5,000 for medical expenses, $100; for lost time, $450 for injury to his horses, $175; damage to dray, $19.80; for loss due to dray being put out of commission, $150 and for damage to harness, $14.50.

Smith was driving westbound on Superior street when he was struck by a car going in the same direction. The night was dark and foggy, according to the testimony. The accident occurred near Thirty-third avenue west.

Thomas S. Wood, attorney for the traction company, argued the case to the jury just before the noon adjournment of court. He contended that Smith was entirely to blame in the matter as he failed to use ordinary caution while driving on the track.

John Jenswold, Jr., attorney for Smith talked to the jury after the noon adjournment, after which Judge Dancer delivered the charge.

ON THE IRON RANGES

BOND ISSUE IS PROPOSED

Chisholm Burdened With Floating Debt, Will Seek Some Relief.

Council to Meet With People Saturday and Discuss Proposition.

Chisholm, Minn., March 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—"Men are peddling village warrants everywhere and no one is willing to cash them. The banks are overloaded with this paper, and I would recommend that a bond issue of say $250,000 be put before the people at once."

This declaration was made to the village council yesterday afternoon by J. J. Hayes, who painted a gloomy view of local financial conditions, so far as handling of village paper is concerned. President Fugere agreed the condition was not the best. A few weeks ago the voters turned down a bonding proposition. Trustee Mahne suggested that the council call a mass meeting, "the sooner the better." Trustee Ulrich said that the council would receive $80,000 next month, and that would help out a little. Trustee Graham said that he was not against issuing bonds.

It was then decided to meet again Saturday evening at 8 o'clock and ask the people to suggest a way out of the difficulty at that meeting. President Fugere wanted to know how much the village was in debt. Deputy Recorder Drew obtained the figures, which showed an indebtedness, including the present payroll, of $508,854.87.

Denies Chisholm's Extravagance.

Trustee Mahne wanted the council to take up the statements appearing in the daily papers in reference to the enormous expenditures of range civic bodies, more particularly those referring to Chisholm. He wished to deny the charges of extravagance. Trustee Ulrich thought the matter should be dropped.

Recorder Culver introduced a motion to the effect that none but naturalized citizens be retained or placed on the village payroll, and that those working for the village outside of common laborers be required to sign an affidavit that they were citizens of the United States. The resolution was supported by Trustee Mahne and carried, all voting yea except Trustee Graham.

Applications for the position of assistant health officer were received from Lawrence Kovacevich and Andrew Haglund, the latter being appointed on motion of Trustee Ulrich, supported by Antone Mahne. Applications for sexton's job were received from James Walker, James Whelan, Jack Rice and H. E. O'Brien. The appointment was held over.

Appointed Dog Catcher.

Louis Brobnick was appointed dog catcher.

Court Officer Talboys, Humane Officer Brown, Assistant Humane Officer Lee Rell and Assistant Poor Commissioner Mrs. Mark L. Harris were all reappointed at the same salaries as paid last year.

John Pikkerainen was appointed fireman at the incinerator plant.

George W. Blevin was granted permission to run a pop corn wagon.

Rev. Mr. Stidd of the M. E. church, asked permission to have the church lowered to grade as that given the builders at the time the structure was erected was wrong; referred to the streets and sewers committee.

The following committees were appointed by President Fugere:

Streets and sewers—Ulrich, Graham, Culver.

Cemetery—Fugere, Ulrich, Mahne.

Purchasing—Ulrich, Culver, Fugere.

Sub-auditing—Mahne, Culver, Ulrich.

Eddie Fay of the Chisholm Engineering company offered to do the engineering work of the council in lieu of the board employing a regular engineer. Such plan was adopted.

Chief of Police Bergeron's application for a lock for the police station was referred.

The claim of Mike Jurich, for $60 for a broken arm sustained by slipping on a village sidewalk, was allowed. It was also decided to give the injured man a job.

Abolish Light Inspectors.

The office of light inspector was abolished after an extended discussion, the sense of which was that the police should look after the lights.

Liquor license renewals were granted to Frank Hren and Coggiola Bros.

The personal bond of Assessor George Rice was returned and Mr. Rice instructed to secure surety bonds for $1,000. The bonds of A. H. Kieffman, justice of the peace, and Mike Jurich, constable, were accepted.

The pay of the judges and clerks of election was reduced from $15 and $10 to $10 for the First precinct and $6 for all other precincts.

A bill for $50 from Former Chief of Police Donahue for services of two private detectives was laid on the table.

Joe Elich put in a claim for damages to his house, alleged to have been caused by careless blasting. The claim was referred to the village attorney.

Recorder Culver recommended Ernest Drew as his deputy. It was moved by Graham and seconded by Ulrich that Mr. Drew be appointed at the same salary as last year, $150 per month. The motion carried unanimously.

Many Seek Food.

Poor Commissioner Talboys, when asked about the condition of the village poor, said that conditions were bad, no less than twelve applications a day on an average being made to him for food by men with families. Many of the men had not done any work since last fall. He recommended that something be done to give them work until the mines opened up.

FIRE DESTROYS FARMER'S HOME

Dwelling Near Two Harbors Goes Up in Smoke; Nothing Saved.

Two Harbors, Minn., March 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—Fire completely destroyed the dwelling of Joseph Mgette, a farmer living one and one-half miles west of the city, yesterday afternoon. The building and household furnishings were a complete loss and for a time it looked as though the barns and sheds might be destroyed also, but luckily the wind was in a favorable direction and neighboring farmers who congregated at the fire was able to save the other buildings. The fire is thought to have originated from an over-heated stove.

Mrs. Myette Alone.

Mrs. Myette, who was alone at home, had gone out to a neighbor's a few minutes before the fire was noticed by one of the Myette children who was playing in the yard. She immediately gave the alarm but before aid could arrive the house was wrapped in flames and could not be entered. The house was a frame structure and burned rapidly and with nothing to check the flames made an unusual sight from the city.

The house was valued at $1,500 and the house furnishings were valued at about $400. It is reported that Mr. Myette carried a little insurance. At the time the fire broke out Mr. Myette was working in the woods and knew nothing of his misfortune until he came home for supper and found his home a smoldering bed of ashes.

STOMACH UPSET?

Get at the Real Cause—Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets.

That's what thousands of stomach sufferers are doing now. Instead of taking tonics, or trying to patch up a poor digestion, they are attacking the real cause of the ailment—clogged liver and disordered bowels.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets arouse the liver in a soothing, healing way. When the liver and bowels are performing their natural functions, away goes indigestion and stomach troubles.

If you have a bad taste in your mouth, tongue coated, appetite poor, lazy, don't care feeling, no ambition or energy, troubled with undigested food, you should take Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color. They do the work without griping, cramps or pain.

Take one or two at bedtime for quick relief, so you can eat what you like. At 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

The Olive Tablet Company, Columbus, Ohio.

NASHWAUK COUNCIL MAKES APPOINTMENTS

President Reifel Assures People He Will Work for Village Good.

Nashwauk, Minn., March 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—The new village council held its first meeting last evening. The hall was crowded with citizens who stayed until 12 o'clock, following the various important questions that came up.

Village President H. T. Reifel gave a short opening address to the people stating that he would work for the interests of the village and its people, and that he believed in honesty and fair play in all things and to everybody.

The naming of the different committees was the first matter taken up. The appointments were as follows: Chief of police, Arthur White; patrolmen, Vincent Bianchini and John Koski; street commissioner, James Hayes; health officer, Dr. M. F. Hayes; city attorney, John C. Lewis.

All salaries were set at about the same as last year, with but few exceptions. The meeting wound up by appointment of a committee of four men by the president to investigate and report at the next regular meeting, the conditions and the people of the village, as to their wanting a city hall, which is and has been sorely needed here. The question will be brought before the council at the next regular meeting.

BIG HIBBING WELL BEING CONSTRUCTED

Giant Water Producer Expected to Be Realized in Range Village.

Hibbing, Minn., March 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—A giant well, probably one of the largest in Minnesota from a producing standpoint, is being developed here by the Lange & Bowler company in connection with the extensive waterworks system being installed. About 1,500,000 gallons of water daily is being developed from the well. M. E. Layne, one of the contractors says all the water needed will be secured before work is finished.

He said four crews will be put on the work day and night. New pumps for the testing of the well and which may be used permanently have been sent for and are expected in the village at any time. Two of the crews will confine their activities entirely to the testing of the wells, Mr. Layne said.

Gravel Formation Favorable.

As experts usually find that where ever there is gravel formations an abundance of water may be developed. Mr. Layne said the drilling for water has been carried on in the regions where most boulders are found and for this reason there has been considerable delay in the progress of the work. Now, however, it is expected that this will be greatly obviated.

The Layne & Bowler company has installed an irrigating system from underground water flows, in many parts of the west.

MAY START BUHL LODGE.

Members of Order of Moose Sanguine About Undertaking.

Buhl, Minn., March 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—J. H. Geraghty, director of the Loyal Order of Moose for the state of Wisconsin and Minnesota, was here Tuesday looking over prospects for establishing a lodge here and seemed to be greatly impressed.

There are more than thirty members of the lodge here who pay dues at Virginia, Chisholm or Hibbing branches. If a charter were opened here, local members would join. It is also believed that a larger membership from here could be obtained were this done. An application for a local organization is now being circulated for signers.

ENGINEER WILL SPEAK.

A. E. Anderson to Discuss Commission Form at Virginia.

Virginia, Minn., March 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—A. E. Anderson, assistant chief engineer of the Oliver Iron Mining company with headquarters here, will be the speaker at the meeting of the Range Engineering society, which is to be held this evening in the club rooms of the public library. The subject of his address will be, "The Commission Plan of Government and the Commission-Manager Plan."

DULUTH CLUBS TO BE REPRESENTED.

Virginia, Minn., March 25.—(Special to The Herald)—Both the Duluth Rotary and the Duluth Commercial club will send delegations to the good roads meeting to be held here next Saturday, under the auspices of the Virginia Commercial club. They will use their efforts to have every member of the board of county commissioners and as many as possible of the county officers present. This information was received by Secretary Thomas Gill in letters from the secretaries of both organizations.

ALDERMAN GOING TO MANAGE RANGE BAND.

Virginia, Minn., March 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—E. F. Murray, alderman from the first ward, has been elected and accepted the management of the recently organized American Federation of Musicians' band of Virginia, which will be known as the Union band. The band has already been engaged to furnish music for the Range Volunteer Firemen's tournament, which will be held here Aug. 10, 11, 12 and 13 next. The new band is under the direction of S. De Bacco and held its first rehearsal Sunday.

VIRGINIA K. OF P. WILL AID BELGIANS.

Virginia, Minn., March 25.—At the last meeting of Northern Light Lodge Knights of Pythias, a resolution to furnish the Belgian relief committee a box of food for the relief of Belgian babies, was passed. A mite-box is to be placed in the lodge room at each meeting hereafter and donations are to be received from the members. It is proposed to raise enough funds for the purchase of two or more boxes each month.

HIBBING WOMAN'S MOTHER IS CALLED.

Hibbing, Minn., March 25.—Mr. and Mrs. Swan Johnson have gone to Spicer, Minn., to attend the funeral of Mrs. Johnson's mother, Mrs. A. Samuelson. Mrs. Samuelson is survived by her aged husband and three daughters, and also one sister in Spicer and two brothers in Sweden. About a week ago Mr. and Mrs. Samuelson celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary.

EVELETH EGG WEIGHING QUARTER POUND LAID.

Eveleth, Minn., March 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—Axel Anderson, a member of the sophomore class of the high school, is proud of his flock of White Leghorns. From his sixteen hens he often receives as many as fifteen eggs a day.

Last Monday when Axel went into his coop to gather the eggs he found one that weighed 4½ ounces, was 8¼ inches in circumference around the long way and 6¾ inches in circumference the other way.

Axel is one of the most enthusiastic poultry raisers in the city and is proving to his friends that poultry raising pays. He records all his receipts and expenses and his records for the last few months show that the receipts far exceed the expenses.

TO AID BELGIANS.

Matinee Will Be Given Saturday at Theater in Chisholm.

Chisholm, Minn., March 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—Under the auspices of the Women's club a matinee will be given at the Philo theater Saturday, the proceeds to be turned over to the Belgian Relief committee. Mr. Ploof has donated the use of the theater for the afternoon and an interesting program of motion pictures has been arranged.

Saturday's matinee will be the first of a series which will be given to raise funds to aid in the Belgian relief work. Mr. Ploof of the Philo theater and Mr. Cummings of the Rex theater have promised the alternate use of their theaters for matinee performances to be held once each month.

CHISHOLM LIKES PICTURES EXHIBITED.

Chisholm, Minn., March 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—Quite a number of parents and children attended the exhibition of educational pictures at the library Tuesday evening. Slides on Germany were the first shown, including typical street and home scenes, public buildings, etc. A short explanation of each slide was given by Miss Fannie Strub.

The pictures were secured by Superintendent J. F. Vaughan through the department of visual extension of the University of Wisconsin. Exhibitions are given at the library on Tuesday afternoons for the schools and arrangements have been made to use them on Tuesday evenings for the benefit of the general public.

VIRGINIA FUNERALS.

Virginia, Minn., March 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—The funeral of Axel Lambert, a woodsman, who died in a local hospital Monday, was held this afternoon by the county.

Rev. Father Senger officiated at the services held yesterday afternoon from the Polish Catholic church for the infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Anton Shokle, 1003 North Second street, who died Tuesday evening from convulsions.

Rev. Hugo Thorene of the Swedish Lutheran church officiated at the last rites held this afternoon from the family home for Lawrence Bernhardt, 14-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Lennartson, 109 Second street, who died yesterday morning of pneumonia.

The county yesterday afternoon buried Mike Koski, a woodsman, who died Sunday. He belonged to the Socialist band which took part in the funeral.

FAIR

The threatened snow flurries predicted for Duluth were evidently shouldered off onto less favored communities, but last night the clouds, tried for a while, to spill a little rain. The colder weather cameas per schedule but it was nothing to be alarmed about. And fair weather is the card for tonight and tomorrow, with chilly attachments.

A heavy snow fell a year ago today. The sun rose this morning at 6:01 and will set this evening at 6:27, giving twelve hours and twenty-six minutes of sunlight. The thirteen-hour day will start on Easter Sunday.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"Decidedly colder weather prevails throughout the entire Northwest, Rocky mountains and the Lake Superior region. Zero temperature occurred last night in Saskatchewan, Manitoba and Northeastern North Dakota. Charleston, S. C., reported light frost, and Raleigh, N. C., killing frost. Light snow or rain occurred during Wednesday or last night in most of the Northern states."

General Forecasts.

Chicago, March 25.—Forecasts for the twenty-four hours ending at 7 p. m. Friday:

Minnesota—Fair tonight and Friday; colder in southeast portion tonight.

Wisconsin—Partly cloudy and much colder tonight; Friday fair with colder in southeast portion.

Iowa—Partly cloudy tonight and Friday; colder tonight.

South Dakota—Fair in east, probably snow in west portions tonight and Friday.

Montana—Generally fair in north, probably snow in south portions tonight and Friday.

Lower Michigan—Local snows and much colder tonight; Friday partly cloudy, colder in east portion.

Upper Michigan — Cloudy tonight, colder in east portion; Friday fair.

DOZO DAVADOVICH WAS MURDERED MAN

Body Torn By Dynamite Found Near Calumet, Minn., Identified.

Grand Rapids, Minn., March 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—The body found in a swamp near Calumet, north of here, a few days ago with evidence of death having been caused by a dynamite explosion has been identified as that of Dozo Davadovich who disappeared Dec. 19, with money on his person and is believed to have been murdered.

On the body was found nothing but a pearl handled knife. He had evidently been killed by dynamite as part of his body was torn to pieces. The murderers then placed his cap on his head and tried to burn the body, but in this had not succeeded. The victim had been staying at the boarding house of John and Tony Rokovena and many of his associates were pretty rough characters.

County Attorney Stone was in Calumet Tuesday to make investigations. There is little hope of capturing the murderers so long after the murder has been committed, but two suspects have been arrested.

HOLMAN'S FIVE SALOONS ARE FORCED TO CLOSE.

Taconite, Minn., March 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—The five saloons at Holman, a little settlement half a mile from here which have been supported mostly by local patrons, are out of business today, all having been ordered to close by Indian department officers. There were just eleven votes cast at the last election in Holman, or two for each saloon. The saloon keepers promptly complied with the order and shipped their goods back to the breweries and wholesale houses.

FOOD QUESTION

Settled With Perfect Satisfaction.

It's not an easy matter to satisfy all the members of the family at meal time, as every housewife knows.

And when the husband can't eat ordinary food without causing trouble, the food question becomes doubly annoying.

An Illinois woman writes:

"My husband's health was poor, he had no appetite for anything I could get for him, it seemed.

"He suffered severely with stomach trouble, was hardly able to work, was taking medicine continually, and as soon as he would feel better would go to work again only to give up in a few weeks.

"One day, seeing an advertisement about Grape-Nuts, I got some and he tried it for breakfast the next morning.

"We all thought it was pretty good although we had no idea of using it regularly. But when my husband came home at night he asked for Grape-Nuts.

"It was the same next day and I had to get it right along, because when we would get to the table the question, 'Have you any Grape-Nuts' was a regular thing. So I began to buy it by the dozen pkgs.

"My husband's health began to improve right along. I sometimes felt offended when I'd make something I thought he would like for a change, and still hear the same old question, 'Have you any Grape-Nuts?'

"He got so well that for the last two years he has hardly lost a day from his work, and we are still using Grape-Nuts."

Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Red, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs. "There's a Reason."

COHASSET PLANT HAS BEEN SOLD

Company Headed By Hastings, Minn., Man Is Now in Charge.

Grand Rapids, Minn., March 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Superior Woodenware company's plant at Cohasset has been sold. The deal was completed yesterday and the plant stands in the name of H. L. Steward of Hastings, Minn., who will act as the managing head when operations begin. With Mr. Stewart will be associated F. A. Simmons, also of Hastings, who will attend to the outside business for the new owners.

The plant was built in 1907 and owned by the Cohasset Hardwood Manufacturing company, a corporation. These owners were succeeded by the Minnesota Woodenware company. The Superior Woodenware company succeeded the last named corporation and carried on the business under the active management of F. H. Thompson of Fort Dodge, Iowa. After Mr. Thompson's death, the factory was closed down and last January the Superior Woodenware company went into bankruptcy. A. L. Thwing of Grand Rapids has been acting as trustee for the creditors and it was from him that the new owners secured possession.

ITALIAN CONSUL VISITING RANGE

Interviewing Fellow Countrymen, But Says Visit Is Social.

Virginia, Minn., March 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—Italian Consul Castigliano of Duluth, who is on the Mesaba range today meeting fellow countrymen and others, declines to discuss the possibility of Italy getting into the big war. He said his trip on the range was purely social. He was at Eveleth last night and came here today.

It has been reported that he was checking up the Italian reservists in this section with a view of notifying his government how many men would be available in case Italy needed more soldiers, but he declined to confirm or deny such a report.

EVELETH SOPHOMORE PREPARES LUNCHEON.

Eveleth, Minn., March 25.—(Sneclal to The Herald.)—A luncheon was given Wednesday afternoon at the high school by Florence Robb of the sophomore class. She was assisted in the serving by Eleanore Shea. The menu follows: First course—Escalloped potatoes, veal croquettes, rolls and cream celery. Second course—Fruit salad and wafers. Third course—Sherbet, cake and coffee.

The guests were: Mesdames J. A. Robb, J. C. Poole, V. E. Boardman, C. W. More, Dan C. Shea and F. C. Talboys of Aurora.

SUPERIOR GIRL STILL IN REPENTANT MOOD.

Virginia, Minn., March 25.—(Special to The Herald.) — Josie Tylenda, the Superior girl arrested here Tuesday afternoon on the charge of shoplifting in which she is said to have collected a valuable amount of silk dresses and other loot from local stores, is still in the custody of Judge Carey in default of $500 bail fixed yesterday after she waived examination. She is somewhat calmer but is still considerably wrought up over the affair and expresses herself as being willing to go before Judge Hughes at Hibbing next Saturday and plead guilty. It is expected the judge will send her to the girls' home, Sophie Wasa, also of Superior, who is alleged by the Tylenda girl to have prompted the latter in her thieving operations, has not been located although the police are trying to find her and if she is caught she will be charged with being an accessory before the fact.

Eveleth Ladies' Aid Elects.

Eveleth, Minn., March 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Ladies' Aid of the Presbyterian church met Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. M. Sheehy, and the annual election of officers took place. Mrs. Joseph Schoenling was elected president; Mrs. W. H. Harvey, first vice president; Mrs. John Folski, second vice president; Mrs. Harry Sherman, secretary, and Mrs. R. M. Cornwell, treasurer.

Buhl Lodge Dance.

Buhl, Minn., March 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Buhl Scandinavian lodge gave the third of a series of social dances at the Cromberg hall last night. The next attraction will be a necktie social and dance given some time in April.

The Mills concert orchestra's next dance will be held April 9 at the village hall.

DOZENS OF AMERICANS KILLED IN THE WAR.

Ottawa, Ont., March 25.—"The Canadian people will be amazed to learn," declared Gen. Hughes, minister of militia, in parliament last night, "that already more than two dozen Americans with the first Canadian contingent, now on the battle line, have fallen and hundreds and hundreds more are in the Canadian regiments fighting bravely."

FRENCH WOMAN SHOT FOR ACTING AS A SPY.

Luneville, France, March 25—Marguerite Schmitt, a French woman sentenced to death as a spy after being courtmartialed was shot yesterday after the troops of the garrison had been drawn up to witness the execution. By her own admission at her trial the woman accepted 200 francs ($40) from the Germans to enter the French lines and obtain information.

WHAT NEURASTHENIA IS

Neurasthenia is a condition of exhaustion of the nervous system. The causes are varied. Continuous work, mental or physical, without proper vacation periods, without proper attention to diet and exercise, also worry over the struggle for success, are the most common causes. Excesses of almost any kind may produce it. Some diseases, like the grip, will cause neurasthenia. So also will a severe shock, intense anxiety or grief.

The symptoms are over-sensitiveness, irritability, a disposition to worry over trifles, headache, possibly nausea.

The treatment is one of nutrition of the nerve cells, requiring a non-alcoholic tonic. As the nerves get their nourishment from the blood the treatment must be directed toward building up the blood. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills act directly on the blood and with proper regulation of the diet have proved of the greatest benefit in many cases of neurasthenia. A tendency to anemia, or bloodlessness, shown by most neurasthenic patients, is also corrected by these tonic pills. Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

Two useful books "Diseases of the Nervous System" and "What to Eat and How to Eat" will be sent free by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., if you mention this paper.

MORE MILLIONS IN WAR ORDERS

Russia to Spend $80,000,000 for Ammunition; Manufacturers Reap Harvest.

Orders placed by the warring European nations for war materials and supplies during the last week are estimated to have reached scores of millions of dollars. It is said by manufacturers that they have in fact been more numerous than at any time since the war started.

The Russian government is understood to have arranged to spend upwards of $80,000,000 for ammunition alone, mostly shrapnel. The New York Air Brake, Westinghouse Air Brake and the Canadian Car & Foundry companies have all shared in that business with expectations of more to follow.

France has placed some good orders with the United States Steel corporation for rails and ties and in addition a heavy tonnage of shrapnel shell has been contracted for by that government in the Pittsburg district.

Among other orders reported for ammunition material is one for 5,000 tons of steel rounds, placed by a Brooklyn firm against shrapnel orders from Great Britain, and 14,000 tons of steel rounds ordered in the Philadelphia district for export to France. The Four Wheel Drive Automobile company of Clintonville, Wis., has recently received orders for 130 army trucks and the Prime Steel company has booked orders for parts for 350 automobiles.

Activity in steel products is said to have spread out so extensively as to include other metal working lines. The brass mills of the country are very busy with ammunition material and American copper producers are profiting from the burst of demand from that quarter and from abroad.

The Iron Age says of the machinery market: "The pressure of demand which can be attributed directly or indirectly to the war is as great as ever. Big deals in the types of tools required to make munitions of war are frequent. The Bethlehem Steel company is out with another list of over 100 turret lathes, some of them of extra large spindle capacity." From Chicago it is reported that Russia and France have placed orders with Joseph T. Ryerson & Co. for 250 turning lathes, 91 turret lathes, 18 friction saws and several hundred machine tools of various kinds. The caliber of the shells to be manufactured here or abroad has increased, judging from the inquiries for machines capable of turning out 10-inch and 12-inch projectiles.

A contract with the French government to furnish 26,000 cavalry and artillery horses is said to have been closed by a Kansas City firm. It will involve between $5,000,000 and $6,000,000.

OBITUARY

Lady Margaret Lindsay Huggins, widow of the late Sir William Huggins, the astronomer, and well known for her scientific work, died in London March 25.

Morgan Robertson of New York, an author and writer of poetry, was found dead in his room at a hotel at Atlantic City March 24. He had gone to the shore to recuperate from a nervous collapse and seemed to be improving. Death was due to heart failure. He was 65 years old.

IS BANKRUPT.

Boston, March 25.—Fremont B. Chesbrough, a lumber merchant, filed a petition in bankruptcy today, his schedule showing liabilities of $727,176, and assets of $720,125.

The assets consist chiefly of stock of the Chesbrough Lumber company, Duluth Steamship company, Manitowoc Drydock company and Bay City bank, all Michigan corporations.

Secured claims amount to $590,596. The principal secured creditors and their claims are: Detroit Trust company, $179,000; Guardian Trust & Savings Bank of Toledo, Ohio, $140,000, and Merchants' National bank of this city, $75,000.

REQUEST OF U. S. IS REFUSED BY BRITAIN.

London, March 25.—The British government has refused the request of the United States that an American consular officer be permitted to take station at the port of Kirkwall in Scotland, to report on American cargo ships detained there. The reason for the refusal is that a similar request has been denied others interested in shipping detained in the Orkneys.

The United States has experienced great difficulty in obtaining information concerning ships detained at Kirkwall for the past three months.

WHEAT AGAIN TURNS WEAK

Market Declines, With Falling Off in Exports and Some Selling.

Flaxseed Turns Weak After Showing Early Strength; Business Light.

May wheat closed 1¾c off, July 1⅝c off and September 1⅝c off. May durum closed 1c off and July 1½c off.

Oats closed ⅞c off at 56¼@56¾c for on the track; rye unchanged at $1.10@1.11, and barley 1c off at from 65c to 74c.

At Winnipeg, May oats closed ⅝c off at 63¼c bid, and July ⅝c off at 63⅝c bid.

Puts on Minneapolis May wheat closed at $1.42⅝ and calls at $1.47¾.

An easier tendency was shown in the wheat market today, and trading was quiet. At the start prices sold off 1⅜c from yesterday's close on the spreading of more peace rumors. The market then firmed up moderately with buying by Duluth operators who have been prominent in the export trade.

No business was reported as having been worked for export locally, and the call from Eastern millers was also said to be merely nominal. The trade is said to be showing a disposition to go slow in the way of increasing their commitments at present in view of possible foreign developments, and buying on an immediate requirements basis is the rule. A good cash inquiry for the best grades of wheat is advised on this market, but the off-grades are being found difficult to dispose of. Attention is drawn to the fact that there is at present 2,600,000 bu of sample grade wheat in the elevators at the Head of the Lakes, and with millers holding back from lightweight grain, some merchandising efforts. It is thought, may be requisite in disposing of it. It is estimated, on the other hand, that 7,000,000 bu of the 12,000,000 bu wheat supplies in the elevators here have been marketed without taking into account milling requirements, and that two-thirds of the grain in the Fort William and Port Arthur houses has been sold. That is leading the trade to predict a tight situation in spring wheat later on.

Primary receipts are now running light, being reported at 624,000 bu today. Arrivals here came to just 36 cars against 32 last year, and at Minneapolis there were 134 cars against 288 a year ago.

May wheat opened ⅜c off at $1.50, sold off 1c more, and stood at $1.49½ at the noon hour. July opened ¾c off at $1.43⅝, and declined ½c more. Trading in durum was limited, and the market in it weak. The May future opened ½c off at $1.55½, and weakened ½c more.

Flax Weak at Close.

Flaxseed was comparatively strong as a result of good inquiry in a couple of quarters, but the volume of trading put through was comparatively light. The market turned easy toward the close and final prices showed fractional declines.

May flax opened unchanged at $1.96 and closed ¼c off at $1.95¾ asked. July opened unchanged at $1.98¾ and closed ¼c off at $1.98 asked. September opened unchanged at $2.01¼ and closed 1¼c off at $2 asked.

At Winnipeg, May flax closed ⅝c up at $1.77½ asked and July ½c up at $1.80 bid.

At Buenos Aires, flax closed ½c up and London unchanged.

MARKET GOSSIP.

The cash differentials in the Duluth market were unchanged today. Cash No. 1 northern wheat sold at 4c over May; durum at the May price and cash flax at 1c under May. There was a good inquiry for the top grades of wheat, but the lower grades were slow of sale, with mills and elevators both fighting shy of lightweight stuff.

P. E. Olson of the North Dakota Grain company, who is now on a trip over the Northwest, writes in a letter from Fargo, N. D., that with a continuance of the present weather conditions, farmers in the Red River valley will begin seeding in about ten days.

Minneapolis cash market was easier with demand good for top grades, but slow for lower grades. No. 1 northern blue stem sold at 4½@5¼c over May and velvet chaff at 2½@4c over May. Flour sales were reported moderate. Some export business in low grades of flour was rumored. Cash No. 1 northern wheat sold there at from $1.48½ to $1.52½ and No. 2 northern at from $1.44½ to $1.50. Stocks in elevators at that point decreased 720,000 bu in the last five days.

C. E. Lewis & Co. had the following from Chicago: "With peace rumors on one side and crop scares on the other, the grain market traders are having a very hard time trying to make up their mind as to whether they are coming or going. Until we have something of a definite nature, however, believe it will be profitable to the trade to treat wheat, corn and oats as a scalping proposition and advise extreme caution about selling on the breaks and buying on the bulges."

Broomhall cabled from Liverpool: "The market was dull and easier American cables were offset by the firmness in Buenos Aires and talk of lighter Argentine shipments. Spot market was dull but steady, with cargoes and parcels offered early at 3@6d decline, but later these steadied.

"Corn—Easier American cables, weakness in Buenos Aires and pressure of nearby cargoes and free distant offers helped to create a bearish sentiment."

Condition of grain in France on March 1 was: Wheat, 68 per cent; rye, 72 per cent and oats, 70 per cent. Year ago: Wheat, 71 per cent; rye, 73 per cent and oats, 6 per cent.

Foreign crop summary:

France: Weather is more favorable for field work and the crop outlook where planted is generally favorable. Farmers are still complaining of the scarcity of labor.

Russia: There has been a rumor current that 80,000,000 bu. of wheat and rye has been accumulated at South Russian ports for exportation at the opening of the Dardanelles. This is declared by Broomhall's agent to be erroneous and he figures the amount as not exceeding 8,000,000 bu. Prices throughout the empire are hardening.

Roumania: Stocks of corn are large and a large amount is awaiting exportation. Weather is favorable for the new crop wheat.

Australia: Plowing and sowing for the new wheat crop is progressing favorably with ample moisture.

Hungary: Weather unfavorable over the area seeded to grain and this is comparatively small. Freezing and thawing is general.

Broomhall's international wheat review says: British markets have ruled very dull throughout the past week as merchants, millers and bakers are awaiting further developments. Stocks are moderate and continue to decrease. After further investigation I confirm my estimate of requirements of Belgium and Holland given last week, that these countries will need 2,500,000 bu. weekly for the remainder of the season unless a substitute is used. The United Kingdom requirements I estimate to be above normal or probably 4,500,000 bu. weekly during the remainder of the season. The Indian situation is attracting general interest. The government intends to take any profit between international and Indian prices, the latter being kept artificially low. The price at which the government will commence purchase is not yet announced, but will be relatively high compared with the later prices, the government in this way is hoping to steadily reduce prices and regulate export trade in the interest of the native consumer. The Indian harvest is progressing satisfactorily and the quality is very good."

CHICAGO MARKET.

Rushes to Sell Wheat Give Downward Swing to Prices.

Chicago, March 25.—Rushes to sell gave a decided downward swing today to the wheat market here. Indefinite rumors that an early ending of the war might be looked for appeared to have most to do with the prevailing bearish sentiment. Support was so poor that little attention was given to the steadiness of quotations at Liverpool. After opening unchanged to ¾c lower, prices dropped to as much as 1¾c under last night before a reaction set in.

Generally favorable crop reports counted later against the bulls, little being heard of Hessian fly. Besides, export demand was slack. The close was weak at 1⅛@1⅜c net decline.

Corn tumbled with wheat. Longs unloaded, and there was considerable short selling. The opening, which varied from ⅛@¼c to ½c down, was followed by a material further setback.

Subsequently rallies were feeble. The close was weak, ⅞@1c under last night.

Weakness was fully as pronounced in oats as in other grain. On the break, however, representatives of seaboard houses took to the buying side.

London Stock Exchange.

London, March 25.—American securities provided the feature on the stock exchange today. Business broadened and there was a very large number of markings in Union Pacific, United States Steel and Erie. Several stocks reached the price of July last and enabled the liquidation of various loans. Much of the buying, it was said, was for New York account. The market closed firm, a shade under the best.

Chicago Livestock.

Chicago, March 25.—Hogs tended downward in price today, owing to receipts being more numerous than at the corresponding time a week ago. Cattle were comparatively scarce, but sheep and lambs were plentiful, especially the plain and heavy sorts.

Hogs—Receipts, 23,000; dull, shade under yesterday's average; bulk, $6.55@6.65; light, $6.45@6.70; mixed, $6.45@6.72½; heavy, $6.20@6.70; rough, $6.20@6.35; pigs, $5.25@6.20.

Cattle—Receipts, 3,000; firm; native steers, $5.85@8.80; western, $5.35@7.40; cows and heifers, $3.00@7.75; calves, $6.50@10.00.

Sheep—Receipts, 10,000; slow; sheep, $7.10@8.15; yearlings, $7.85@9.15; lambs, $7.50@9.85.

South St. Paul Livestock.

South St. Paul, March 25.—Hogs—Receipts, 4,200; steady; range, $6.50@6.65; bulk, $6.55@6.60. Cattle—Receipts, 1,300; killers, steady; steers, $4.50@7.75; cows and heifers, $4.50@6.40; calves, 25c lower, $4.00@9.50; stockers and feeders steady, $4.25@6.90. Sheep—Receipts, 100; steady; lambs, $4.00@9.25; wethers, $5.25@7.50; ewes, $3.00@7.25.

New York Money.

New York, March 25.—Mercantile paper 3½. Sterling exchange, strong; 60-day bills, $4.7750; for cables, $4.8015; for demand, $4.7965. Bar silver, 50½c; Mexican dollars, 38½c; government bonds, steady; railroad bonds, strong.

Time loans, easy; 60 days, 2¼@2½; 90 days, 2¼@2⅝; six months, 3@3¼.

Call money, steady; high, 2; low, 1¾; ruling rate, 2; last loan, 2; closing bid, 1⅞; offered at 2.

ADVANCES WIPED OUT

Stocks Move to Higher Levels But Fall Back Later.

Profit-Taking and Short Selling Bring About Reaction.

New York, March 25.—Reading was the only issue of importance to show a loss at the opening of today's market, all other prominent stocks, as well as numerous inactive ones, recording gains. These ranged from mere fractions to a point or more, Baltimore & Ohio and Louisville & Nashville as well as Third Avenue, making greatest advances. General motors rose two points, but specialties were less conspicuous than heretofore. Prices were inclined to ease by the end of the half hour, except Bethlehem Steel, which rose a point.

Trading fell away during today's morning session, dealings in the first hour being little more than half of yesterday's total of 200,000 shares. Such irregularity as the course of prices denoted was ascribed mainly to recurrent foreign selling of Union Pacific and United States Steel. In the main, however, the list was distinctly firm, some of the international group, notably Union Pacific, Southern Pacific and Baltimore & Ohio selling above yesterday's high quotations. According to report, the professional element had renewed its bearish activity, assuming this position on the theory that the market was entitled to a reaction on technical grounds.

Bonds were firm.

Increased strength was shown in the early afternoon when buying of the leaders was resumed on a broader scale at higher prices. Union Pacific, Reading, Atchison and St. Paul were the chief features.

Representative stocks moved to higher levels today, but fell back later under the weight of profit-taking and short selling.

Much of the early advance was lost in the final dealings, Reading, Steel and Amalgamated showing increasing pressure. The close was firm.

SUMMER RESORTS.

PLAN THAT VACATION
TRIP NOW.

And spend it on your own camp site at Ne-na-mik-ka-ta, Lake Vermilion. Ne-na-mik-ka-ta (Chippewa for easy portage) is on Pine Island. It is located in one of the most desirable spots at Lake Vermilion.

Several people from Minneapolis, St. Paul, Chicago, Philadelphia and other cities have already purchased camp sites, and will build this spring. These camp sites offer a good investment, as lots on our Daisy island tract have increased 50 per cent in value in less than a year.

Duluth people should take advantage of this proposition. They should know about the park, the docks, the beaches, and the people who have purchased. Write or call for full particulars. Names of Duluth purchasers given upon request. Call us up, either phone 516, for appointment with our salesman.

SENATE DROPS FINAL CURTAIN FOR SESSION ON COUNTY DIVISION

Healy-Griggs Bill Unanimously Killed on Report of Committee.

Scott Introduces Bill for Erection of Courthouse at Hibbing.

Also Wants Investigation of Expenditures By Range Villages.

NORD BILL ON STATE LANDS PASSES SENATE.

St. Paul, Minn., March 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Nord bill, removing all limitations on the sale of state lands, passed the senate, 36 to 20.

After a turbulent two-hour fight, the house defeated the Teigen bill prohibiting future trading in grain, 52 voting for the measure and 68 against. Then a motion to reconsider carried, 76 to 41, and the bill was laid on the table.

By a Staff Correspondent.

St. Paul, Minn., March 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—The final curtain for the session fell on the St. Louis county division movement this morning when the senate unanimously killed the Healy-Griggs county division bill by adopting a report of the committee on towns and counties recommending it for indefinite postponement. The bill has been resting in committee, awaiting the action of the house on the Scott bill.

St. Louis county would be required to build a courthouse at Hibbing in addition to the one at Virginia under the terms of a bill introduced in the house this morning by Representative S. C. Scott of Hibbing. It amends the range district court act so to apply to Hibbing the provisions under which the county built a courthouse at Virginia. The bill was referred to the committee on towns and counties.

Wants an Investigation.

Representative Scott has prepared a resolution providing for a committee of five house members to investigate the expenditures in the iron range communities and report at the next session of the legislature. The resolution carries an appropriation of $2,500 for expenses. Mr. Scott had intended to introduce the resolution this morning, but withdrew it, and will probably make it a joint resolution providing for participation by the senate.

Another attempt to make a special order on the bill limiting the per capita levies of villages and small cities to $25 was made in the house this morning, but it lacked seven votes of the necessary two-thirds, getting 80 to 34 against it.

Besides Representative Scott of Hibbing, the motion was opposed by Representatives Bjorge and Bendixen on

RUSSIANS URGE NEUTRALS TO ACT

Petrograd Newspapers Refer to "Dwindling Chances of Austria."

Rome, March 26, via Paris—Certain warnings appearing in Russian newspapers after an announcement of the fall of the Austrian position at Przemysl have attracted the close attention of Italian readers. They refer mostly to the "dwindling chances of Austria" and say that neutral countries should seize the opportunity now presented to them.

The Birgewja Viedomosti of Petrograd, says the capture of Przemysl is as important as would be the fall of Constantinople. Austria is doomed, this paper declares, and she will be obliged to sue for peace. When this happens the intervention of countries now neutral will be most difficult; Austria, even beaten by Russia, would still find means to resist Italy and Roumania. So if these latter countries defer action, the cost later of what they desire will be just so much the greater.

The Petrograd Courier says the fall of Przemysl means the neutrals must act now or never.

The Messaggero has published an article regarded as inspired which intimates that Italy cannot gain her desires by an adherence to neutrality. "The feeling in Austrian circles," this paper says, "is that the country would rather give Galicia to Russia, and so conclude a peace, than give Trent and a part of Istria to Italy for the sake of Italian neutrality. Were this done it would remove the nightmare of a Russian invasion of Austria, and leave Austria free to fight to the death against Roumania and Italy."

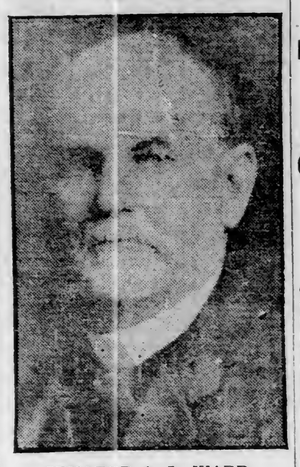
SUBMARINE SINKS STEAMER DELMIRA

British Ship in Trans-Atlantic Trade Victim of Warfare.

London, March 26.—The steamer Delmira has been sunk by a German submarine off Boulogne, in the English channel. The members of the crew were given ten minutes in which to leave the vessel. Subsequently they landed on the Isle of Wight.

The Delmira was a British steamer 2,011 tons net. She was engaged in the Transatlantic trade and arrived at Havre from St. John, N. B., on March 14. She was built in 1905 and was under command of Capt. Lovelace.

WOULD PUT CURB ON VILLAGE EXPENDITURES



SENATOR A. L. WARD
Of Fairmont.

FAVORED BY COMMITTEE

Bill to Limit Per Capita Expenditures Recommended to Senate.

Suffragists Are Happy Over First Victory of the Session.

By a Staff Correspondent.

St. Paul, Minn., March 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—The senate committee on taxes and tax laws, Senator William S. Dwinnell of Minneapolis chairman, yesterday afternoon voted unanimously to recommend for passage the Wallace-Westlake bill limiting the expenditures of villages and cities of the third and fourth classes to $25 per capita.

The only criticisms made of the bill in the committee were to the effect that it was entirely too liberal; but the advocates of the bill said that it went as far as they cared to go under the circumstances.

The bill is a copy of the similar measure introduced by Representative John M. Harrison of Minneapolis, and now before the house, and before the senate committee recommended it for passage it amended it as the house committee did, so as to provide that if there is no state census this year any community affected by the bill can have a census taken by the state tax commission. This change is made in the interests of communities like Virginia and International Falls, which, though above the proposed limit when the figures are based on the 1910 census, will be well under it when the present population is taken as the basis.

Has Heard Enough.

The hearing was brief. W. D. Bailey of Duluth had started on an extended exposition of the expenditures that have prevailed in a few of the range communities, but he had hardly given half a dozen examples when Senator A. L. Ward of Fairmont broke in.

"Is this bill intended to remedy the conditions you speak of?" he asked.

"It is," responded Mr. Bailey.

"Then for heaven's sake," exclaimed

ITALY AND AUSTRIA UNABLE TO AGREE

Von Buelow Said to Have Resigned Role of Mediator.

Rome, via Paris, March 26—Efforts of Prince von Buelow, the German ambassador to bring about an agreement between the Italian and Austrian governments regarding the cession of territory have definitely failed according to the Agenzia Nationale which says it is informed that when the last courier from Vienna brought to the ambassador Austria's final terms they were of such a nature that he did not consider it worth while to submit them to the foreign office here. It is reported that Prince von Buelow has resigned the role of mediator.

25 CENTS U. S. MONEY WILL BUY THREE VILLA DOLLARS.

Mercedes, Tex., March 26.—Forty-five hundred Villa soldiers today were opposite the Mercedes pumping oil out on their way to Matamoros to give battle to the Constitutionalists. Officers and men feel confident they will capture Matamoros in the next few days.

Villa currency is being traded here freely at three Villa dollars for 25 cents American.

SERIOUS FIRE AT CROOKSTON

Combined Loss Placed at About $36,000; Well Insured.

Crookston, Minn., March 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—The most disastrous fire which Crookston has suffered in ten years this morning completely gutted the Masonic temple, which comprised the entire third floor of the Wallace block, which was owned by the Masons; gutted the Skaren tailor shop and deluged the offices of Doctors Hodgson, Morely and Norman and Former County Attorney E. O. Hagen, entailing a combined loss of about $36,000.

The fire originated in the Skaren tailor shop, probably from an electric iron, which later caused the explosion of a gasoline tank. It was the most desperate fire the fire department had to combat in years, the flames shooting up the light walls, which formed regular smokestacks.

The actual damage from the fire was confined chiefly to the Skaren tailor shop and the Masonic temple on the third floor. The losses are fully covered by insurance, with the exception of the rooms of Conductor Frank Ingles, H. W. Chambers and John Colby. Colby barely escaped in his night shirt.

The losses were as follows: Masonic lodge, $6,000; Knights Templar, 2,150; Commandery, $1,000; A. F. Skaren, $3,000; S. A. Wallace building, $5,000; stock, $8,000; Dr. Hodgson, $12,000; Dr. Norman, $1,200; Dr. Morely, $600; E. O. Hagen, $1,000; H. W. Chambers, $400.

Neither Colby nor Chambers, who occupied adjoining rooms, heard the explosion and might have been cremated, had it not been for the thoughtfulness of the night clerk of the Hotel Crookston, who saw the fire in the tailor shop just across the street, a second before the gasoline tank exploded, blowing out the front of the shop.

He sent a call boy to arouse Chambers and Colby, both of whom were sound asleep. On hearing the cry of "fire" Chambers grabbed one suit of clothes, just as his window crashed in and Colby was able to barely make his escape in his night robe.

CRITICIZED ELDER'S TRIP TO UNDERWORLD.

Elgin, Ill., March 26.—Elder I. B. Trout, Sunday school editor of the Brethren Publishing company, and general secretary of the Brethren Sunday school board since it was organized thirty years ago, resigned yesterday following an argument with the general corps of the Brethren Publishing company over a book he wrote on "Social Conditions." Material for the book, Mr. Trout said, compelled him to visit the Chicago underworld.

Opponents of his writings, in demanding Trout's resignation, asserted he had taken a young woman into his home and bought her expensive plumes and fine clothes. Mr. Trout said he would reply to these charges in a few days.

RUSSIAN TROOPS RELIEVED AT PRZEMSYL MAKING VIOLENT ATTACK IN THE CARPATHIANS

DESPERATE BATTLES ARE CONTINUOUS

Unofficial Reports Claim Great Victory for Russ at Uzsok.

Formidable Position Taken By Storm, Austrians Losing 5,000.

Vienna Admits Attacks But Says Enemy Has Been Repulsed.

London, March 26.—As has been predicted by military observers since the fall of Przemysl, Russia is now directing her chief offensive against the Austrian front on the Carpathians. In the north, between the Niemen and the Vistula rivers, the Russian forces are making little effort to advance, evidently being content to hold Field Marshal von Hindenburg in check, but desperate fighting is taking place in the Carpathians where the Russians are thrusting back the Austrians along the Dukla and Uzsok line.

Unofficial reports via Bucharest credit Russia with a great victory at Uzsok, while Petrograd officially claims an important success in the capture of fortified positions near the Lupkow pass. These formidable positions were taken by storm with the Austrians losing machine guns and over 5,000 prisoners. Unofficial reports also credit the Russian army with further successes in Bukowina.

Offensive Important.

Vienna admits the importance of the Russian offensive in the mountain passes, but at the same time declares the fierce attacks on these positions have been repulsed.

Politically no decisive move has been made to increase the number of the combatants, but it is freely rumored that the mission at Rome of Prince Von Buelow, the German ambassador, has failed so completely that all negotiations between Austria and Italy have been suspended. Roumania impressed by the fall of Przymysl, is said to be contemplating immediate action on the side of the allies.

VIOLENCE CONTINUED BY TURKISH TROOPS.

Tiflis, Russia, March 25, via Petrograd, March 26.—Turkish troops have committed further acts of violence at the American mission in Urumiah, Persia, according to a message received by the local viceroy from Gordon Paddock, the American consul at Tabriz.

Mr. Paddock transmits a message from Missionary Robert M. Labarce at Urumiah to the effect that the Turkish consul at Urumiah forced his way into the mission compound with a number of Turkish regular troops and removed some Assyrian Christian refugees who were then massacred.

The Turks also beat and insulted the American missionaries.

"MILLIONAIRE HOBO" INHERITS $250,000

JAMES EADS HOW.

James Eads How, the "millionaire hobo" has at last got some part of a million dollars. He has inherited $250,000 from his mother who died recently. Mrs. How was worth a half million. She left the estate in equal parts to Louis and James, her two sons; but she provided that only one-half of his share should be given to James (or Eads as he is better known) and that the remainder should be held in trust for him during his lifetime.

WARSHIPS IN THE STRAITS

Dreadnaughts Enter to Give Protection to Mine Sweepers.

Fire at Forts to Which No Reply Is Made.

London, March 26.—The British battleships Queen Elizabeth and Agamemnon and the cruiser Cornwall entered the Dardanelles straits Wednesday night to protect mine sweepers, according to a dispatch to Reuter's Telegram company from the island of Tenedos dated Thursday. At 10 o'clock the Turkish artillery at Erenkui fired fived shells, and the forts at Kilid Bahr also fired. The British vessels replied with twenty rounds. To this the Turks made no reply.

From midnight until morning the mine sweepers continued their work without disturbance, the correspondent says, and with very satisfactory results.

British naval officers who participated in the operations last week in the Dardanelles, cables the correspondent at Athens of the Reuter Telegram company, have expressed the belief that but for floating mines the narrows of the Dardanelles would have been forced March 18, the day the allied fleet so fiercely bombarded the Turkish forts on either side of the narrow waterway.

It is the opinion of certain British officers, the correspondent goes on, that the forts themselves would not be able to bar the passage of the straits.

Fullblood Redskin Punished.

Bismarck, N. D., March 26.—Daniel Coldhand, a fullblood Sioux Indian, pleaded guilty to unlawful cohabitation in Federal court and was fined $100, which he paid, and was sentenced to thirty days in the county jail.

ALL EFFORTS TO LOCATE HER PROVE FUTILE

Worst Submarine Disaster in World's Naval History Feared.

May Have Struck Rock or Had an Internal Explosion.

Commander and at Eighteen Men on Board Vessel.

Washington, March 26.—Trapped at the bottom of Honolulu harbor, under at least thirty-five fathoms of water, probably more, the United States submarine F-4 lies helpless with her commander and at least eighteen men, in what is feared to be one of the worst submarine boat disasters in the world's naval history.

More than twenty-four hours of every effort known to naval practice to raise the sunken boat or get a signal from her crew have failed. Her marker buoy, which should come to the top to mark her resting place in such an emergency, has failed to appear; the surface of the water at thirty fathoms is covered with a film of oil from the submarine's tanks.

Navy department officials fear one of two calamities—that the F-4 struck a rock and that her crew was drowned in the inrushing waters, or that there was an internal explosion.

While hope for the men has not been given up, the gravest fears are entertained that they may have been lost in the first submarine boat disaster of the United States navy.

Disappeared Thursday Morning.

On the face of the meager official reports from the Honolulu naval station, which said the F-4 disappeared at 9:15 o'clock yesterday morning after making a dive during maneuvers and that constant grappling and diving has failed to locate her definitely, naval officers fear the boat may have slipped over a ledge on the volcanic rock bottom of the harbor into some deep pocket out of reach of help.

The diving record of a man is 240 feet; the world's diving record of a submarine—made by an American boat, the F1, a sister ship of the F-4, is 283 feet. If the F-4 by accident or otherwise, has gone deeper, it is feared the tremendous pressure of the waters has crushed her shell.

Although fitted with the latest device in safety air locks through which a man can be shot to safety at as great a depth as thirty-five fathoms,

THINK SUBMARINE U-29 HAS BEEN SUNK

British Admiralty Issues Official Statement to That Effect.

London, March 26.—The British admiralty stated last evening that they thought the German submarine U-29, which recently sank four British and one French steamer in the English channel and damaged three other vessels, had been sunk with all hands.

The text of the official statement follows:

"The admiralty has good reason to believe that the German submarine U-29 has been sunk with all hands."

The German submarine U-29 displaced 800 tons and was one of the largest and fastest of the German undersea boats.

Two weeks ago the U-29 made a record raid of the Scilly islands and in the channel, sinking four British steamers and one French steamer and damaging three other vessels.

The submarine was chased by patrol boats, but she proved too elusive for them and when the steamers tried to ram or escape they found that the submarine was a much faster boat than her slater craft.

The German commander gave the crews of most of the steamers time to leave their vessels, and in some cases towed them in lifeboats to passing steamers in which the seamen were taken to port.

THE CROSS ROADS.

SUMMARY OF THE WAR NEWS

Another British merchantman has been sent to the bottom as a result of Germany's submarine warfare. The steamer Delmira was torpedoed in the English channel, after the crew had been permitted to quit the ship.

Infantry attacks were made by both French and German troops yesterday. Each side reports the other's attacks repulsed.

The status of military operations in northern Poland remains in question. Little is known except that a battle of importance over a long front is under way. Petrograd dispatches convey the idea that the Germans have all but abandoned their attempt to break through the Russian line and penetrate to the Warsaw region from the north. Today's official Berlin statement says the Russians were defeated in engagements to the east of Augustowo.

Attempts to arrange a settlement of the differences between Italy and Austria apparently have met with no success. A Rome newspaper states that Prince von Buelow, German ambassador at Rome, has abandoned his efforts to bring about an agreement.

In the Balkans there are increasing signs of unrest. A Bucharest dispatch says the fall of Przemysl has increased the popular demand in Roumania for intervention on the side of the allies. The relations between Turkey and Bulgaria also have become uncertain. Field Marshal von Der Goltz has left Constantinople for Sofia, Bulgaria, and Gen. von Sanders has gone to Adrianople, near which defenses are being erected to guard against a possible attack by Bulgaria.

Although severe weather continues at the Dardanelles, efforts by the allied fleet to clear the straits of mines are being made. Turkish forts fired on mine sweepers Wednesday but ceased the attack after two British battleships opened on them.

No confirmation has come from Austrian sources of the Russian claim to a great victory in the Carpathians.

HOLY WEEK IN CHURCHES

Palm Sunday Will Inaugurate Series of Special Services.

Good Friday and Easter Sunday Climax of the Week.

Holy week begins on Sunday, and in the churches where this period is made one of special worship each day will be crowded with services until Good Friday. Then one day of rest from special service intervenes after which the joyous festival of Easter is celebrated on Sunday in commemoration of the resurrection of the Christ from the tomb.

The observance of the coming week will be marked chiefly in the churches of the Catholic, Episcopalian and Lutheran denomination. In other churches the midweek will be practically barren of services except the usual prayer meeting in the middle of the week, and, in some cases, special observance of Good Friday.

However in the Catholic and Episcopal churches elaborate services will be held. At the Catholic cathedral the celebration of Holy week will begin with early mass on Sunday morning, Palm Sunday, one of the great festivals of the Christian world. Mass will be sung each day, but the chief celebration of Holy week begins on Maundy Thursday and on that night tenebrae is celebrated. The most solemn of services take place on Good Friday in observance of the day on which Christ was crucified, and Easter Sunday will be a day of praise.

In Trinity Episcopal cathedral and St. Paul's Episcopal church there will be services every day, morning and afternoon. In each on Thursday beginning at noon and lasting until 3 o'clock, the great three-hour service will take place in commemoration of the agony on the cross. During the three-hour service seven addresses will be given, the keynote of each being one of the seven last words from the cross. The services at Trinity cathedral throughout Holy week will be conducted by Bishop Morrison and the vicar of the cathedral, Rev. Thomas W. MacLean.

At St. Paul's Episcopal church, services will begin with regular Sunday worship and confirmation by the bishop at the vesper services. The services at St. Paul's up to and including Good Friday will be conducted by Rev. I. P. Johnson, missioner, and former rector for years of Gethsemane Episcopal church of Minneapolis.

CAR OF A PARSEVAL AIRSHIP

One article "made in Germany" is now in use by the British navy in the fight against Germany. It is a Parseval airship. It is called The Lady of the Air and it was built by the Luftfahrzeug-G. m. b. H. in Germany in 1913. The details of the Zeppelin airships have been kept as secret as possible by the Germans; but the details of the Parseval ships are, of course, known to them—in fact some of these airships are in use in Germany. Russia and Turkey, too, have one Parseval each. The English Parseval carries a motor of 360 horse power.

JUSTICES IN DOUBT IN THE THAW CASE

Not Sure Whether New York Has Right to "Pounce" on Prisoner.

New York, March 26.—Two justices of the appellate division of the supreme court agreed today that there was a doubt in their minds whether the state of New York would be within its rights in "pouncing" on Harry K. Thaw, after his acquittal here on the conspiracy charge on which he was extradited from New Hampshire and returning him to the state hospital for the criminal insane at Matteawan. They were Justice Ingraham, presiding, and Justice Scott. To voice their views, they interrupted Franklin Kennedy, special deputy attorney general in charge of the state's case against Thaw, while he was arguing before the appellate division against an appeal taken by Thaw's counsel from a decision of Supreme Court Justice Page refusing a motion to return Thaw to New Hampshire.

Counsel for Thaw already had presented their arguments, which were based on the contention that Thaw, having been extradited from New Hampshire to answer a charge of conspiracy and having been freed of that charge, should be returned forthwith to the state from which he was extradited.

Mr. Kennedy then began his argument, contending that even though Thaw had been acquitted, the fact remained that he was now within New York's jurisdiction and that as the original commitment upon which he was sent to Matteawan still was valid, he should be returned there.

LONG SHOT HORSES WIN STEEPLECHASE.

Liverpool, March 26.—The grand national steeplechase, run here today, was won by Ally Sloper. Jacobus was second and Father Confessor, third. Twenty horses started, but only nine finished. The betting was 10 to 8 against Ally Sloper; 25 to 1 against Jacobus, and 10 to 1 against Father Confessor.

The grand national steeplechase, a handicap was for $15,510 to the winner. The race was run over a course of four miles and 856 yards.

WILL NOT SUBPOENA COL. ROOSEVELT

Washington, March 26.—Col. Roosevelt has not accepted the invitation to testify before the senate ship bill lobby committee on the ground that he has no information on the subject of the investigation except such as is available to the public generally.

Chairman Walsh called a conference today to decide whether to issue a subpoena for the colonel.

After a brief meeting the conference decided the colonel would not be called, but that a telegram from him would be put in the committee's record.

In the telegram received today the colonel said he had no information except what appeared in the congressional debates and testimony before committees.

ROBBER WHO KILLED DETECTIVE ARRESTED.

Philadelphia, March 26.—Jacob C. Miller, the youthful robber who last night shot and killed a detective and probably mortally wounded another while they were taking him to a police station, was arrested on the outskirts of the city today as he was waiting to board a freight train for New York. Three detectives came upon him suddenly before he could offer resistance with the big automatic revolver which he did the shooting last night.

At city hall the prisoner admitted the shooting and objected when some cigarettes were taken from him. "I know you got me and I am going to the chair," Miller said, "but I want some smokes while I am waiting."

Miller is 21 years old and a former sailor in the navy.

CROWN PIANO SALE

The genuine Crown piano is one of the most famous American leading pianos on the market, sold by the largest dealers in this city and all over the world as a leader and on the one-price system. These instruments were especially selected thirty days ago and shipped to me for thirty days' trial, to stand the test with many other leading makes of pianos and player pianos, to enable me to choose one of the very best makes for the leader in our new store. Now our store is overloaded with the highest priced pianos on the market and no room for the medium grade instruments which sell the best. I am up against it. Our two floors are over-loaded and I have no canvasser, no sales manager, no agents, no music teachers to send after you. But, believe me, they do not work for nothing. They all make a big thing out of you. Come down yourself and buy without any of them, then I will have no commission to pay and all of their profits are your own and a great big discount beside, and the best selection in the city to choose from. What do I care. Thirty days are up and I have to return some of the best makes if not sold no matter how good the instruments may be. I can not handle all the leading makes of instruments in the country. Come down and see these beautiful instruments as you will not believe what great bargains you will get now unless you see them, and what do I care, pay me the freight and drayage and pay the balance to the manufacturer in cash or monthly payments. What do I care after I get my freight money back. Do not buy cheap, shop worn instruments at any price now when you can buy new and specially selected American leading standard makes for less money than dealers usually charge for the cheap pianos. Sale and selection of real high grade new pianos may never come again in a lifetime. Do not put off piano buying at this time. Call at once. Time is really up now on some of these.

Write today if you cannot call.

LONG SHOT HORSES WIN STEEPLECHASE.

Liverpool, March 26.—The grand national steeplechase, run here today, was won by Ally Sloper. Jacobus was second and Father Confessor, third. Twenty horses started, but only nine finished. The betting was 10 to 8 against Ally Sloper; 25 to 1 against Jacobus, and 10 to 1 against Father Confessor.

The grand national steeplechase, a handicap was for $15,510 to the winner. The race was run over a course of four miles and 856 yards.

WILL NOT SUBPOENA COL. ROOSEVELT

Washington, March 26.—Col. Roosevelt has not accepted the invitation to testify before the senate ship bill lobby committee on the ground that he has no information on the subject of the investigation except such as is available to the public generally.

Chairman Walsh called a conference today to decide whether to issue a subpoena for the colonel.

After a brief meeting the conference decided the colonel would not be called, but that a telegram from him would be put in the committee's record.

In the telegram received today the colonel said he had no information except what appeared in the congressional debates and testimony before committees.

ROBBER WHO KILLED DETECTIVE ARRESTED.

Philadelphia, March 26.—Jacob C. Miller, the youthful robber who last night shot and killed a detective and probably mortally wounded another while they were taking him to a police station, was arrested on the outskirts of the city today as he was waiting to board a freight train for New York. Three detectives came upon him suddenly before he could offer resistance with the big automatic revolver which he did the shooting last night.

At city hall the prisoner admitted the shooting and objected when some cigarettes were taken from him. "I know you got me and I am going to the chair," Miller said, "but I want some smokes while I am waiting."

Miller is 21 years old and a former sailor in the navy.

CROWN PIANO SALE

The genuine Crown piano is one of the most famous American leading pianos on the market, sold by the largest dealers in this city and all over the world as a leader and on the one-price system. These instruments were especially selected thirty days ago and shipped to me for thirty days' trial, to stand the test with many other leading makes of pianos and player pianos, to enable me to choose one of the very best makes for the leader in our new store. Now our store is overloaded with the highest priced pianos on the market and no room for the medium grade instruments which sell the best. I am up against it. Our two floors are over-loaded and I have no canvasser, no sales manager, no agents, no music teachers to send after you. But, believe me, they do not work for nothing. They all make a big thing out of you. Come down yourself and buy without any of them, then I will have no commission to pay and all of their profits are your own, and a great big discount beside, and the best selection in the city to choose from. What do I care. Thirty days are up and I have to return some of the best makes if not sold no matter how good the instruments may be. I can not handle all the leading makes of instruments in the country. Come down and see these beautiful instruments as you will not believe what great bargains you will get now unless you see them, and what do I care, pay me the freight and drayage and pay the balance to the manufacturer in cash or monthly payments. What do I care after I get my freight money back. Do not buy cheap, shop worn instruments at any price now when you can buy new and specially selected American leading standard makes for less money than dealers usually charge for the cheap pianos. Sale and selection of real high grade new pianos may never come again in a lifetime. Do not put off piano buying at this time. Call at once. Time is really up now on some of these.

Write today if you cannot call.

Farrell Declares Murchison Overlooked City's Interests in Paving Repair.

Brisk Meetings Held at Polish Hall and at Duluth Heights.

Before 700 voters in the Polish hall and in the old fire hall at Duluth Heights, J. A. Farrell, candidate for commissioner, declared last night that Commissioner Murchison, head of the public works division, had permitted the ten-year guarantee on the East Superior street pavement to expire and that he could have compelled the contractor to resurface the pavement during 1913 without any cost to the city.

Mr. Farrell first spoke at the Polish hall, where addresses were also delivered by Bernard Silberstein, candidate for commissioner, and M. E. Louisell, John H. Norton and Captain W. H. Smallwood, candidates for municipal judge. H. H. Brown spoke at the Polish hall in behalf of the second amendment, while E. L. Kimball explained it to the voters at Duluth Heights.

Following the Polish hall meeting, which was attended by about 500 voters, Mr. Farrell went to the fire hall at Duluth Heights, where 200 voters were waiting for him. His address in part follows:

Change Not Productive.

"One of the principal reasons why the city of Duluth re-wrote its charter and voted out the old aldermanic system and voted in the new commission form of government, was the inefficiency of the public works department. A city contractor would undertake a contract for the construction of street pavement and would sign a rigid guarantee and give bonds for the faithful performance of maintenance duties for a period of five or ten years. The duty of the board of public works was to see that the provisions of the guarantee were performed by the contractor.

"I do not believe I am slandering the defunct board when I say, that during all the years of my connections with the engineering department of the city of Duluth, under the old system, the provisions of the maintenance guarantee clause for street improvement has never been enforced to the letter. That maintenance guarantee clause where tar macadam pavements were laid was very rigid and after describing minutely just how repairs should be made, stated that the work would be considered as repaired by the city, where one-half inch of daylight could not be seen under a four-foot straight edge when turned in any direction on any part of the top of the pavement; the repairs were to be made even to the entire recoating of the whole of the paved area, if necessary, before the expiration of the guarantee period. Of course, we all know under the old system that this maintenance was never done, but it was surely expected under the new form of efficient city government, that this gross neglect of an obvious duty on the part of the public works department, especially as both construction and maintenance of city works was administered by the same commissioner, would be abolished, and that the taxpayers' right to the full value of their money's worth would be insisted on.

"Has the new form of city government made good in this respect, or has it failed? Look for yourselves. East Superior street, between Sixteenth and Twenty-third avenues east, was paved in 1903 under a ten-year guarantee. The ten-year period expired in 1913. Was that street recovered with tar macadam, put on in such a manner as not to allow daylight to be seen under a four-foot straight edge moved in any direction on the surface of the pavement? I will venture to say that at the expiration of the guarantee period a straight edge moved in any direction on any part of the East Superior street pavement would show nearer six inches of daylight under it, and in many instances more than that. In fact, this street, instead of being left in a state of good condition and repair as called for in the contract, at the end of the guarantee period was left a ruin unfit for other than slow and bumpy travel with large areas of exposed stones having no covering or binding tar whatever upon their surface.

"Why was the contractor or the bonding company who backed his guarantee not compelled to repair this street? That repairs were perfectly practicable cannot be denied, since Twenty-third avenue, built and guaranteed and the guarantee run out, was repaired at the taxpayers' expense by the spreading of a surfacing of pea stone tar macadam quite successfully, so that it is in good condition now, four years after its repair.

Charges Neglect.

"Now what I want to emphasize is that the repairs on East Superior street were due to be made while the present public works department was in power and such proper repairs were not made. I do not know what excuse the public works department would give for this obvious neglect of its duty, but I suppose it would contend that the street was not properly built to stand the traffic imposed on it in the first place, or that it did not cost enough to warrant the city insisting upon its maintenance and repair rights. At least these used to be the invariable arguments of the old board of public works when chided for not compelling guarantee obligations. But in this case, as in others of a similar nature, the first duty of the public works department is to the citizens of the city which elects them to office and to the taxpayers who have paid their good money for public improvements. Nor could it be urged that enough money had not been paid for the East Superior street paving as the price of this work was something over $1.50 per square yard, which is more than any other of the large tar macadam jobs on crushed stone base cost.

"The case of Fourth street, between Mesaba avenue and Sixth avenue east, is in all respects similar to the East Superior street work, inasmuch as that no proper or adequate repairs as called for in the contractor's guarantee were had when the guarantee period ran out. A straight edge turned on 100 places on the Fourth street pavement would show many inches of daylight between its under side and the top of almost any part of the road surface and there are many other pavements in precisely the same condition as those above noted. I can assure you that if I am elected to the office of commissioner of public works, full value will be insisted on for every dollar of taxpayer's money expended not only in the construction and strict supervision and inspection of works, but also in the full and satisfactory maintenance of all guaranteed streets, and that I shall know no friends among either contractors or bondsmen who do not carry out to the fullest extent all of their obligations to the city of Duluth."

For Clean Government.

Mr. Silberstein reiterated his statements that both he and Mr. Farrell stand for clean government and that charges to the contrary are malicious and untrue.

"I stand for good government and clean government," declared Mr. Silberstein.

"Commissioner Hicken and his forces have no monopoly on righteousness. I have a family in Duluth and as much at stake here as any man.

"Real Americanism means absence of religious distinction and race prejudice in judging every man," said Captain Smallwood. "I hope Duluthians will be moved by no narrow considerations in the coming election. I hope the broad gauge man is supplanting the narrow one as completely as the broad gauge railroad supplanted the narrow gauge one."

Similar talks were made by both Mr. Norton and Mr. Louisell. Walter Johnson presided at the meeting.

BEMIDJI GIRLS IN BREAD CONTEST.

Bemidji, Minn., March 26.—(Special to The Herald.) Girl students of the high school have entered the bread contest recently and already 127 have signed for entry. About fifty more are expected to sign within the next few days, making the total number more than 175.

The prizes for this contest will amount to $25 and will be given by the Crookston Milling company, the Bemidji Elevator & Milling company and Lien Bros., representatives of the Crookston Milling company in this city. The first two will give $10 each and the latter $5. The first prize will be $5, that of $3 the third, $3; the fourth $2 and the next eleven, $1 each, and the winner in this contest will be pitted against the county championship aspirants, should there be any. If there are no prizes this girl will represent Beltrami county at the Minnesota State fair, at which place the winner is awarded either a trip to the World's fair at San Francisco or a trip to Washington.

The flour to be used in this contest will be furnished by the Beltrami Elevator & Milling company and the Crookston Milling company. The yeast and other necessaries will be furnished for the first baking by the high school and the others must be furnished by the students.

DOLL BACK TO TOWN WHERE IT WAS MADE.

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)

Berlin, March 1. — After being shipped from the little town of Gera clear across the Atlantic to Cincinnati and then back again, a gayly dressed little doll that was manufactured in the German village has come, through a belated "Christmas celebration," into the possession of one of the children of a doll maker.

The doll was included in a big shipment of Christmas gifts from German-Americans in the United States to poor children here. In unpacking the case, one woman, a native of Gera, was struck by the familiar look of the doll, which bore the inscription, "Made in Germany." Investigation showed it to have been manufactured in the town to which it had been shipped back from Cincinnati as a gift.

ITALY EXTENDS ITS EXPORT PROHIBITION.

Rome, March 25, via Paris, March 26. —A royal decree has been promulgated extending the prohibition of exports to include all metals, sulphate of aluminum, cement, stearin, paraffine, ceresin and all materials for tanning.

The Italian government on Feb. 8 prohibited the exportation of all foodstuffs except fruit, vegetables, milk and butter. The order included everything which might be used to feed cattle and other animals or poultry.

WILL DEDICATE ORGAN.

Instrument Formerly in St. Paul's Church, Duluth, Installed at Virginia

The pipe organ that was used in the old St. Paul's Episcopal church, at Lake avenue and Second street, up to the time the parish moved its place of meeting to the new church at Seventeenth avenue east and Superior street, has been set up in St. Paul's Episcopal church in Virginia and will be dedicated tonight. Rev. A. W. Ryan, rector of St. Paul's church of Duluth, and A. F. M. Custance, organist of the Duluth church, went to Virginia this afternoon to take part.

Mr. Custance will open the meeting with an organ recital and Dr. Ryan will make a dedicatorial address. The ceremony of blessing the organ will be conducted by the rector of the church, Rev. H. J. Wolner.

WILL BE GIVEN TIME TO REMOVE BUILDINGS.

Spooner, Minn., March 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—Hector Baxter, attorney for the Canadian Northern Railway company in the matter of the trespass cases involving the squatters on the Old Baudette location, states that those now on their will be given a reasonable time to remove their buildings in case he is given due notice. Summons was served on a large number of other residents of that part of town on Monday, who were not made defendants at the time of the first service.

MILLIONS PAID FOR RELIEF OF DISTRESS.

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)

London, March 12.—Up to March 1 the Prince of Wales' national relief fund paid out approximately $7,000,000 for the relief of distress among the families of soldiers and sailors. The total number of households relieved through the Soldiers' and Sailors' Families association was 500,000. Through other channels, grants were made to 6,000 widows, 11,000 children, and 3,000 other dependents of soldiers and sailors, who have died.

Deputy Auditor Resigns.

International Falls, Minn., March 26. —(Special to The Herald.—Deputy County Auditor Charles Sheeran has resigned and will depart from the city as soon as his successor is able to take charge of the work. Mr. Sheeran has been offered an exceptionally attractive proposition to engage with a real estate firm at Beaver, Minn., and decided to accept it, thereby going into business for himself. He has been in the office of the county auditor here for eight years, having been at this place when the county was formed, and has a host of warm friends about the city who wish him success in the fullest measure.

Every Man Read This

This treatment is said to have acquired a wonderful reputation throughout the East, owing to its peculiar propensity to fortify the nerve force and generate health and a consequent personal magnetism, so essential to the happiness of every normal human being. It is claimed to be a blessing to those who are physically impaired, gloomy, despondent, nervous, or who have trembling of the limbs, dizziness, heart palpitation, cold hands and feet, insomnia, fear without cause, timidity in venturing and general inability to act rationally as others do. Also of vast benefit to writers, professional men, office workers and the victims of society's late hours and over-indulgence in wines, liquors, etc.

By obtaining the treatment at some well stocked pharmacy, no one need know of another's trouble, while the treatment has been widely prescribed and dispensed heretofore by physicians and pharmacists, the grain tablets are so prepared with full directions for self administration that it is wholly unnecessary to pay a physician for prescribing them. Just ask for three-grain Cadomene tablets, begin their use and soon all the joy of a healthy body, sound nerves and strength will be felt.

WILL WORK FOR SECOND AMENDMENT

Home Builders' League Organizes to Campaign for Assessment Relief.

The Home Builders' league was organized at the Commercial club last night to canvass the entire city in behalf of the second amendment to be voted on at the regular election on April 6.

The second amendment provides for a reduction in the minimum required in the payment of assessments for street improvements in four annual installments and also permits the paying of sidewalk assessments in annual installments. As an amendment requires three-fifths of the total vote cast, the members of the Home Builders' league propose to work from now until election day, so that a sufficient number of voters will cast a ballot on the charter change.

Combined Banks' Officers.

Minneapolis, Minn., March 26.—The officers of the consolidated First National and Security banks, which will be called the First and Security National bank, will be as follows:

Chairman of the board, F. M. Prince; president, F. A. Chamberlain; vice presidents, C. T. Jaffray, Perry Harrison, A. A. Crane, J. S. Pomeroy, Donald Mackerchar, Fred Spafford and H. A. Willoughby; cashier, George A. Lyon; assistant cashiers, P. J. Leeman, Stanley H. Bezoier, George Lawther, John G. Maclean, J. G. Byam, Walter A. Meacham.

WILL STOCK TWIN LAKES WITH FISH FRY.

Arrangements have been made by Park Manager Cleveland to stock Twin Lakes with croppies, yellow perch and sunfish, so that youthful fishermen will be able to enjoy angling right in the city. Twin Lakes were improved last fall and winter and work on the new dam and bridge is almost completed. Mr. Cleveland plans to have the park property at this point improved and seeded early this spring and within a few weeks expects to receive a shipment of fish fry from the government. Twin Lakes lie along the boulevard, between Fourteenth and Sixteenth avenues west.

Change Not Productive.

"One of the principal reasons why the city of Duluth re-wrote its charter and voted out the old aldermanic system and voted in the new commission form of government, was the inefficiency of the public works department. A city contractor would undertake a contract for the construction of street pavement and would sign a rigid guarantee and give bonds for the faithful performance of maintenance duties for a period of five or ten years. The duty of the board of public works was to see that the provisions of the guarantee were performed by the contractor.

"I do not believe I am slandering the defunct board when I say, that during all the years of my connections with the engineering department of the city of Duluth, under the old system, the provisions of the maintenance guarantee clause for street improvement has never been enforced to the letter. That maintenance guarantee clause where tar macadam pavements were laid was very rigid and after describing minutely just how repairs should be made, stated that the work would be considered as repaired by the city, where one-half inch of daylight could not be seen under a four-foot straight edge when turned in any direction on any part of the top of the pavement; the repairs were to be made even to the entire recoating of the whole of the paved area, if necessary, before the expiration of the guarantee period. Of course, we all know under the old system that this maintenance was never done, but it was surely expected under the new form of efficient city government, that this gross neglect of an obvious duty on the part of the public works department, especially as both construction and maintenance of city works was administered by the same commissioner, would be abolished, and that the taxpayers' right to the full value of their money's worth would be insisted on.

"Has the new form of city government made good in this respect, or has it failed? Look for yourselves. East Superior street, between Sixteenth and Twenty-third avenues east, was paved in 1903 under a ten-year guarantee. The ten-year period expired in 1913. Was that street recovered with tar macadam, put on in such a manner as not to allow daylight to be seen under a four-foot straight edge moved in any direction on the surface of the pavement? I will venture to say that at the expiration of the guarantee period a straight edge moved in any direction on any part of the East Superior street pavement would show nearer six inches of daylight under it, and in many instances more than that. In fact, this street, instead of being left in a state of good condition and repair as called for in the contract, at the end of the guarantee period was left a ruin unfit for other than slow and bumpy travel with large areas of exposed stones having no covering or binding tar whatever upon their surface.

"Why was the contractor or the bonding company who backed his guarantee not compelled to repair this street? That repairs were perfectly practicable cannot be denied, since Twenty-third avenue, built and guaranteed and the guarantee run out, was repaired at the taxpayers' expense by the spreading of a surfacing of pea stone tar macadam quite successfully, so that it is in good condition now, four years after its repair.

Charges Neglect.

"Now what I want to emphasize is that the repairs on East Superior street were due to be made while the present public works department was in power and such proper repairs were not made. I do not know what excuse the public works department would give for this obvious neglect of its duty, but I suppose it would contend that the street was not properly built to stand the traffic imposed on it in the first place, or that it did not cost enough to warrant the city insisting upon its maintenance and repair rights. At least these used to be the invariable arguments of the old board of public works when chided for not compelling guarantee obligations. But in this case, as in others of a similar nature, the first duty of the public works department is to the citizens of the city which elects them and to the taxpayers who have paid their good money for public improvements. Nor could it be urged that enough money had not been paid for the East Superior street paving as the price of this work was something over $1.50 per square yard, which is more than any other of the large tar macadam jobs on crushed stone base cost.

"The case of Fourth street, between Mesaba avenue and Sixth avenue east, is in all respects similar to the East Superior street work, inasmuch as that no proper or adequate repairs as called for in the contractor's guarantee were had when the guarantee period ran out. A straight edge turned on 100 places on the Fourth street pavement would show many inches of daylight between its under side and the top of almost any part of the road surface and there are many other pavements in precisely the same condition as those above noted. I can assure you that if I am elected to the office of commissioner of public works, full value will be insisted on for every dollar of taxpayer's money expended not only in the construction and strict supervision and inspection of works, but also in the full and satisfactory maintenance of all guaranteed streets, and that I shall know no friends among either contractors or bondsmen who do not carry out to the fullest extent all of their obligations to the city of Duluth."

For Clean Government.

Mr. Silberstein reiterated his statements that both he and Mr. Farrell stand for clean government and that charges to the contrary are malicious and untrue.

"I stand for good government and clean government," declared Mr. Silberstein.

"Commissioner Hicken and his forces have no monopoly on righteousness. I have a family in Duluth and as much at stake here as any man.

"Real Americanism means absence of religious distinction and race prejudice in judging every man," said Captain Smallwood. "I hope Duluthians will be moved by no narrow considerations in the coming election. I hope the broad gauge man is supplanting the narrow one as completely as the broad gauge railroad supplanted the narrow gauge one."

Similar talks were made by both Mr. Norton and Mr. Louisell. Walter Johnson presided at the meeting.

BEMIDJI GIRLS IN BREAD CONTEST.

Bemidji, Minn., March 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—Girl students of the high school have entered the bread contest in earnest and already 127 have signed for entry. About fifty more are expected to sign within the next few days, making the total number more than 175.

The prizes for this contest will amount to $25 and will be given by the Crookston Milling company, the Beltrami Elevator & Milling company and John Falls, representative of the Crookston Milling company in this city. The first two will give $10 each and the latter $5. The first prize will be $5; the second, $4; the third, $3; the fourth, $2, and the next eleven, $1 each, and the winner in this contest will be pitted against the county championship aspirants, should there be any. If there are none, this girl will represent Beltrami county at the Minnesota State fair, at which place the winner is awarded either a trip to the World's fair at San Francisco or a trip to Washington.

The flour to be used in this contest will be furnished by the Beltrami Elevator & Milling company and the Crookston Milling company. The yeast and other necessaries will be furnished for the first baking by the high school and the others must be furnished by the students.

DOLL BACK TO TOWN WHERE IT WAS MADE.

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)

Berlin, March 1. — After being shipped from the little town of Gera clear across the Atlantic to Cincinnati and then back again, a gayly dressed little doll that was manufactured in the German village has come, through a belated "Christmas celebration," into the possession of one of the children of a doll maker.

The doll was included in a big shipment of Christmas gifts from German-Americans in the United States to poor children here. In unpacking the case, one woman, a native of Gera, was struck by the familiar look of the doll, which bore the inscription, "Made in Germany." Investigation showed it to have been manufactured in the town to which it had been shipped back from Cincinnati as a gift.

ITALY EXTENDS ITS EXPORT PROHIBITION.

Rome, March 25, via Paris, March 26. —A royal decree has been promulgated extending the prohibition of exports to include all metals, sulphate of aluminum, cement, stearin, paraffine, ceresin and all materials for tanning.

The Italian government on Feb. 8 prohibited the exportation of all foodstuffs except fruit, vegetables, milk and butter. The order included everything which might be used to feed cattle and other animals or poultry.

WILL DEDICATE ORGAN.

Instrument Formerly in St. Paul's Church, Duluth, Installed at Virginia

The pipe organ that was used in the old St. Paul's Episcopal church, at Lake avenue and Second street, up to the time the parish moved its place of meeting to the new church at Seventeenth avenue east and Superior street, has been set up in St. Paul's Episcopal church in Virginia, and will be dedicated tonight. Rev. A. W. Ryan, rector of St. Paul's church of Duluth, and A. F. M. Custance, organist of the Duluth church, went to Virginia this afternoon to take part.

Mr. Custance will open the meeting with an organ recital and Dr. Ryan will make a dedicatorial address. The ceremony of blessing the organ will be conducted by the rector of the church, Rev. H. J. Wolner.

WILL BE GIVEN TIME TO REMOVE BUILDINGS.

Spooner, Minn., March 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—Hector Baxter, attorney for the Canadian Northern Railway company in the matter of the trespass cases involving the squatters on the Old Baudette location, states that those now on their will be given a reasonable time to remove their buildings in case he is given due notice. Summons was served on a large number of other residents of that part of town on Monday, who were not made defendants at the time of the first service.

MILLIONS PAID FOR RELIEF OF DISTRESS.

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)

London, March 12.—Up to March 1 the Prince of Wales' national relief fund paid out approximately $7,000,000 for the relief of distress among the families of soldiers and sailors. The total number of households relieved through the Soldiers' and Sailors' Families association was 500,000. Through other channels, grants were made to 6,000 widows, 11,000 children, and 3,000 other dependents of soldiers and sailors, who have died.

Deputy Auditor Resigns.

International Falls, Minn., March 26. —(Special to The Herald.—Deputy County Auditor Charles Sheeran has resigned and will depart from the city as soon as his successor is able to take charge of the work. Mr. Sheeran has been offered an exceptionally attractive proposition to engage with a real estate firm at Benson, Minn., and decided to accept it, thereby going into business for himself. He has been in the office of the county auditor here for eight years, having been at this place when the county was formed, and has a host of warm friends about the city who wish him success in the fullest measure.

Every Man Read This

This treatment is said to have acquired a wonderful reputation throughout the East, owing to its peculiar propensity to fortify the nerve force and generate health and a consequent personal magnetism, so essential to the happiness of every normal human being. It is claimed to be a blessing to those who are physically impaired, gloomy, despondent, nervous, or who have trembling of the limbs, dizziness, heart palpitation, cold hands and feet, insomnia,—fear without cause, timidity in venturing and general inability to act rationally as others do. Also of vast benefit to writers, professional men, office workers and the victims of society's late hours and over-indulgence in wines, liquors, etc.

By obtaining the treatment at some well stocked pharmacy, no one need know of another's trouble, while the treatment has been widely prescribed and dispensed heretofore by physicians and pharmacists, the grain tablets are so prepared with full directions for self administration that it is wholly unnecessary to pay a physician for prescribing them. Just ask for three-grain Cadomene tablets, begin their use and soon all the joy of a healthy body, sound nerves and strength will be felt.

WILL WORK FOR SECOND AMENDMENT

Home Builders' League Organizes to Campaign for Assessment Relief.

The Home Builders' league was organized at the Commercial club last night to canvass the entire city in behalf of the second amendment to be voted on at the regular election on April 6.

The second amendment provides for a reduction in the minimum required in the payment of assessments for street improvements in four annual installments and also permits the paying of sidewalk assessments in annual installments. As an amendment requires three-fifths of the total vote cast, the members of the Home Builders' league propose to work from now until election day, so that a sufficient number of voters will cast a ballot on the charter change.

WILL STOCK TWIN LAKES WITH FISH FRY.

Arrangements have been made by Park Manager Cleveland to stock Twin Lakes with croppies, yellow perch and sunfish, so that youthful fishermen will be able to enjoy angling right in the city.

Twin Lakes were improved last fall and winter and work on the new dam and bridge is almost completed. Mr. Cleveland plans to have the park property at this point improved and seeded early this spring and within a few weeks expects to receive a shipment of fish fry from the government.

Twin Lakes lie along the boulevard, between Fourteenth and Sixteenth avenues west.

BECKER'S FATE RESTS WITH COURT OF APPEALS

Albany, N. Y., March 26.—The fate of Former Police Lieut. Charles Becker, who twice has been sentenced to be electrocuted for instigating the murder of Herman Rosenthal, now rests with the court of appeals. Arguments on appeal from the second judgment of conviction were completed before that body yesterday.

Should the court of appeals decide adversely to Becker, his next recourse would be a request for executive clemency to Governor Whitman, who as district attorney of New York county, prosecuted him, or an appeal to the United States supreme court on the ground that his constitutional rights had been violated.

TOLSTOI'S WIDOW OWNS MANUSCRIPTS.

London, March 26.—The Times announces that the four years litigation to decide the ownership of Tolstoi's manuscripts has just ended with the Russian senate's final decision in favor of Tolstoi's widow, who thereupon has presented the fine collection of manuscripts heretofore held in the Moscow historical museums, as a free gift to the Roumiantiov museum of Moscow. She also consents to the Petrograd academy of science taking photographic fac-similies of all the manuscripts and publishing, without fee or royalty, a complete edition of Tolstoi's works.

STATE SUPREME COURT DECISIONS

St. Paul, Minn., March 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—The following decisions were rendered today by the Minnesota supreme court:

ST. LOUIS COUNTY.
Order Reversed.

George B. Norris, et al, appellants, vs. Boston Music company, respondents—

1. If the contract under which the owner delivers personal property to another to sell contemplates that the title shall never pass to the other, and imposes no obligation upon him ever to pay the purchase price, it does not constitute a conditional sale of the property.

2. A contract under which the owner delivers property to another to sell, and which provides that the title to the property shall remain in the owner until sold to an actual purchaser, and that all property not so sold, and the proceeds of all sales, shall be returned to such owner, and which imposes no obligation upon the other party to pay the purchase price for any of the property, constitutes a bailment with power of sale and not a conditional sale.

3. A bailor may pursue his property and reclaim it, even in the hands of a good faith purchaser from or under the bailee, unless estopped by his own conduct from causing loss to such purchaser. And this is equally true where property is consigned to a factor to sell, who wrongfully disposes of it to satisfy his own debt.

4. Where the owner ships property to a factor and the factor wrongfully executes a bill of sale therefor to one having notice of his wrongdoing, and thereafter such vendee sells to another to whom he exhibits his bill of sale, and who without the production of the bill of lading, and without knowing or inquiring the source of the factor's title, and without knowing or inquiring by whom or on what conditions the property had been shipped, takes it while still in the car in which it had been shipped to the factor, the owner is not estopped from reclaiming his property.

Order reversed. TAYLOR, C.

HENNEPIN COUNTY.
Judgment Affirmed.

Casper A. Ackeret, respondent, vs. City of Minneapolis, appellant; Aloysius J. Ackeret, minor, etc., respondent, vs. City of Minneapolis, appellant—

1. In establishing, caring for and maintaining streets, highways and public parks, municipalities act in their governmental and not in their proprietary capacity.

2. Cities and villages are liable for injuries resulting from dangerous conditions in their streets; but, with this single exception, municipalities are not liable in damages for negligence in performing their governmental functions, unless such liability has been imposed by statute.

3. A city that constructs and maintains walks and footpaths in its parks which are used as thoroughfares in passing from one part of the city to another is liable for injuries resulting from dangerous conditions in such walks caused by the negligence of its employes.

4. A notice given by a parent of a claim for injuries sustained by his minor child which contains the essential information required by the statute is sufficient, although it fails to state specifically that the parent claims damages on his own account and also as the statutory representative of his child, and fails to make an apportionment between the two of the amount claimed.

5. A father who is supporting the family may maintain an action for loss of the services of a minor child without joining the mother as a party plaintiff.

Order and judgment affirmed. TAYLOR, C.

SETTLE'S PLAN IS INDORSED

Proposed Playground System Gets Hearty Support of Rotary Club.

Budget of $12,000 Asked; Committee Will Urge Appropriation.

Tentative plans for a recreation and playgrounds system in Duluth as outlined by T. S. Settle, field secretary of the Playgrounds and Recreation Association of America, received enthusiastic encouragement and support from members of the Duluth Rotary club assembled last evening at the Holland hotel for their monthly dinner.

The Rotarians passed a resolution instructing members of the club's civic committee to wait upon the board of education and city council to urge that appropriations for the support of the work be made.

Following the banquet, Mr. Settle, who has made a survey of the city, gave an illustrated lecture and explained in some detail the proposed plan for Duluth. To carry out the work in accordance with his suggestion would necessitate a budget of $12,000. The speaker placed emphasis on the need of trained supervisors for the playgrounds and various recreation centers.

At the conclusion of Mr. Settle's talk, several members of the club expressed sentiments in favor of the proposed plan and among other things declared that Duluth could not well afford to pass upon an opportunity to provide recreation spots and playgrounds for the young and old of the city.

J. J. Heelan, Chicago, inspection supervisor of the Aetna Life Insurance Company of Hartford, also gave an interesting illustrated talk before the Rotarians on "The Prevention of Accidents." A number of slides were shown and explained by the speaker, who related how unnecessary accidents in industrial life might easily be averted and efficiency at the same time be promoted. The talk was the first of a series which Mr. Heelan is planning to give in Duluth. He will talk before a number of other business and civic organizations along the same line.

At last evening's meeting, it was also decided to send a good road's committee to attend a joint meeting of the Virginia, Etwabik and Eveleth commercial clubs to be held at Virginia tomorrow for the purpose of discussing with members of the St. Louis county board the matter of dividing the county's special road fund among the various commissioners' districts during the coming year.

The county commissioners, County Auditor Halden and County Engineer E. K. Coe have been invited to attend and discuss with the delegates assembled the matter of the apportionment recently made. C. Pentilla, commissioner from the Sixth district, claims that his district was slighted by the board when the road melon was cut.

GERMAN SUBMARINE SINKS DUTCH STEAMER

Dover, March 26.—The Dutch steamer Medea was sunk off Beachy Head yesterday morning by the German submarine U-28. She carried a cargo of oranges and was bound from Saloniki for London.

Name in Big Letters.

London, March 26.—The admiralty in reporting the sinking of the Medea by the U-28 says:

"The ship was flying the Dutch flag and had a Dutch crew aboard. Her name 'Medea Amsterdam' was painted in large letters on her sides. The ship's papers were taken by the Germans who refused to return them."

The Medea was stopped by the submarine and the crew were given fifteen minutes in which to leave the vessel. They did so and the submarine then fired several shots at the steamer, which remained afloat for an hour. The crew rowed about in their boats until picked up by a destroyer, which brought them to Dover.

The trawler Alphrecht was attacked by a submarine today. A torpedo passed within ten feet of the fishing boat while she was crossing the channel. A British patrol boat chased the submarine which, however, escaped.

FIVE SONS OF FRENCH SCHOOLTEACHER KILLED

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)

Paris, March 10. — A school teacher of the department of Deaths is credited with the painful glory of having the largest number of children among the dead on the field of battle. Of his seven sons in the army, five have been killed and one of the others has been wounded.

State's First Orchardist Dies.

Helena, Mont., March 26.—Captain J. V. Stafford, a pioneer who arrived here in 1864, died at the home of his son near Winston. He is said to have been the first man to start a commercial fruit orchard in Montana. He joined the California gold rush in 1852 and then returned to Iowa, twelve years later crossing the plains to Montana. In 1898 he joined the rush to the Klondike. He is survived by three grown children.

MANY HOME-SEEKERS ARE NOW LOOKED FOR

Rush of Land-Seekers Expected to Fort Yates, N. D., for Land Opening.

Fort Yates, N. D., March 26.—(Special to the Herald.)—This place has already begun to make arrangements for the expected rush of landseekers during the first ten days of May, when the Indian allotment lands will be disposed of. On May 17 the unoccupied public lands will be thrown open for homesteading.

The sale and the homesteading is expected to bring hundreds of settlers. Sioux county, which was organized last fall, needs many settlers and much development.

The Indian allotment lands are supposed to be more desirable than the unoccupied public lands, and had the selections been made by white men this would have been true. While the allotment lands were the cream of the selections in some respects, it frequently happened that in making the selections the Indians were governed by other considerations than merely securing the most fertile quarters adapted to agriculture. Sometimes wood, running water, hay and other considerations were the influencing factors. This land will be sold one-fourth down and the rest in three annual payments. The purchasers need not reside on the lands and are not required to make improvements. For these reasons it will be in great demand.

Fine Unoccupied Land.

The unoccupied lands to be thrown open for settlement May 17 are in many respects as fine as can be found anywhere in the state. The homesteaders must pay $5 per acre for these lands, then comply with the homestead requirements regarding the establishment of residence.

That there will be a rush of eager homeseekers seems a foregone conclusion and the residents on the reservation expect a great era of development this year.

LIMITS GUN-TOTING.

New North Dakota Anti-Alien Gun Law Pleases Sportsmen.

Fargo, N. D., March 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—The anti-alien gun law, enacted as a part of the new North Dakota game measure, is expected to be an important factor in the protection of game and song birds. It makes it a crime for a foreign-born resident who has not applied for citizenship and who has not been a resident of the state continuously for a period of three years to possess either a shotgun or a rifle.

It is not aimed at the settlers in this state, as they usually apply for citizenship at once, it is largely for the purpose of preventing the large foreign railway track gangs from ruthlessly slaughtering game.

The law gives the officers the right to search their camps and cars and confiscate all shotguns and rifles held by men who are not entitled to them within the law. The sportsmen believe the measure will assist greatly in the protection of the game and the civil authorities feel there will be fewer bloody tragedies in the railway camps if the gangs are not permitted to have shotguns in their possession.

NORTH DAKOTA EDUCATOR PASSES.

Ashley, N. D., March 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—County Supt. of Schools F. N. Fullerton is dead. He was widely known among the educators of the state and in this section. He was a resident of McIntosh county for a number of years. He had been suffering with diabetes for some months and spent the greater part of the winter in the South.

MISSOURIAN TO WAR.

Passes Through Duluth on Way to Fight With Allies.

Crookston, Minn., March 26.—Frank Bain, a former British subject, now an American citizen, owner of a fine farm in Missouri, has established a record for loyalty to his mother country by voluntarily going back to fight under the lion and the unicorn. He came north through Duluth and stopped here to visit a sister, while on his way to Winnipeg, where he will enlist.

"I have been thinking this matter over all winter," said Mr. Bain, while here, "and finally I could reach no other decision than it was my duty to go back and fight for the country where my parents and relatives still reside. While I am a full-fledged citizen of the United States and shall continue to be, I still have a warm spot in my heart for England, my native land, and it occurred to me that I could render no better service than to volunteer in the British army. I am 30 years of age, and unmarried, therefore having no close family ties that need to hold me here.

"The only thing that bothered me about leaving was that 100-acre farm I own and operate down in the 'show me' state. At first I couldn't quite reconcile the idea of going away and taking chances on the farm being properly run, especially in view of the excellent prices now paid for all kinds of agricultural products, and the strong likelihood of the prices going up right along. But I felt the call to duty, as I interpreted my feelings, and go to the front I must. I have left the farm in good hands and hope for the best."

Cass Lake Boy Killed.

Cass Lake, Minn., March 26.—While Victor Niels, 13-year-old son of Julius Niels, banker and lumberman, was coasting down hill in a dump cart near the sawmill office Wednesday, he fell over the front of the cart and was fatally crushed under the wheels of the vehicle. He died an hour later.

WADENA BANKER IS CHOSEN PRESIDENT.

St. Cloud, Minn., March 26.—Officers elected at the meeting of the Sixth District Baankers' association here were:

President, G. G. Hastings, Wadena; vice president, R. W. Withington, Brainerd; secretary, A. A. Fitch, Royalton; treasurer, C. L. Atwood, St. Cloud; members of executive committee, W. H. Lord, Foley, and H. J. Cater, La Porte; member state executive council from district, George Hanscom, St. Cloud. A meeting place remains to be selected.

WEST END

ORGANIZE FOR THE CAMPAIGN

Good Government Club Indorses Five Candidates for City Offices.

Hicken, Murchison, Bernard and Evens Favored—Precinct Work.

At a meeting, attended by seventy-five residents from various parts of the West end, held at the Sloan hall, Twentieth avenue west and Superior street, last night a Good Government club was formed. Plans were made for an immediate canvass of the entire West end from the Point of Rocks to the ore docks, in the interest of Commissioners Hicken and Murchison, W. L. Bernard and C. E. Evens and Judge W. L. Windom, all of whom were indorsed at the meeting.

"The canvass will be made under the direction of two chairmen in each of the precincts. These will have from five to fifteen assistants. Every home is to be visited in the interest of the candidates indorsed by the club.

H. O. Hanson was elected chairman of the club; C. A. Lindau, vice chairman, and H. T. Lundgren, secretary. The following were appointed chairmen of the various precincts: Twenty-sixth, C. J. Lindquist and August Gustafson; Twenty-seventh, Gust Hjelm and L. K. Holam; Twenty-eighth, August Bodin; Twenty-ninth, Ed Rudberg and C. A. Lindau; Thirtieth, Fred W. Erickson and Herman Olson; Thirty-first, Gust Hjerpe and Daniel Donaghy; Thirty-second, Charles E. Dice and C. F. Spence, and Thirty-third, B. E. Wellberg and P. T. Gorman.

Short talks were given by Chris E. Evens, candidate for commissioner, and A. E. McManus, as well as a number of the men present.

JITNEYS CUT IN ON TAXI BUSINESS.

"Jitney" busses are too accommodating to please some people. Those complaining are not the patrons, but the taxicab drivers.

Taxi drivers say the jitneys are now beginning to cut in on their business and the result may be that a war will develop between the two classes of auto owners catering to the trade of the public. The basis of complaint of one driver is that some of the "jitneys" are carrying passengers to almost any point they wanted to go, providing a small additional payment is made.

Last evening one of these busses carried three passengers to West Duluth for an additional 15 cents each. Another bus is said to have carried four people to Superior and collected only "two-bits per" for the trip.

"We usually get a dollar a passenger for a trip like that," said the complaining taxi driver this morning. "We don't mind their cutting in on the street car company but when they start doing anything like that there has got to be a halt. These 'jitney' drivers are entirely too willing to carry people anywhere they want to go."

PREPARE FOR CONVENTION.

District Lodge of Vasa Order Will Meet Here Next Week.

Andrew Horngren, district master of the Vasa order, is making preparations for the annual meeting of the district lodge to be held in Duluth under the auspices of the Adolph and Siljan lodges on March 23, 24 and 25 The place for holding the convention has not been fully decided on, but will be arranged for by a committee from these two organizations.

The district lodge includes the entire state of Minnesota, North and South Dakota, Montana and Northern Wisconsin. It is expected that there will be more than 500 visiting members of the society in the city during the days of the convention.

BUSY MEETING LIKELY.

Candidates Will Speak Before Hillside Club; Other Business Scheduled.

The meeting this evening of the West End Hillside Improvement club is expected to attract practically every resident of the vicinity. The meeting will be held in the Ensign school, and one of the features will be talks by various candidates for commissionerships and for judge of the municipal court.

At the business meeting the club will discuss the proposed extension of the street railway line from Twenty-third avenue west and Tenth street to Sixteenth street. Plans for securing signatures of property owners on Piedmont avenue for the proposed lowering of the grade for a distance of about two blocks will be made. The grade will have to be lowered, it is said, before the extension can be made.

WINS POOL TITLE.

Street Car Men Championship Goes to R. C. Eubank.

R. C. Eubank is winner of the street car men's pool championship in the tournament that has been going on during the last two weeks at the clubrooms of the street car house. Mr. Eubank won seven out of eight games played and made a high run of twenty-four during the play. The standing of the men and their high runs are given as follows:

	Won.	Lost.	High Run.
R. C. Eubank	7	1	24
E. J. Reilley	6	2	17
H. G. Richman	5	2	14
G. E. Barker	4	3	22
J. Ditali	4	3	17
J. O. Peterson	2	3	13
E. L. Anderson	2	4	16
W. P. Wallen	1	5	12
O. Grinden	0	2	14

A series of games will now be played between Mr. Eubank and William Johnson, the latter being the winner of the office men's tournament. Mr. Johnson won all eight games played in the latter.

West End Briefs.

At a meeting of young people this afternoon at 4:15 o'clock, at the Central Baptist church, Rev. Herbert Ford will speak on "The Shepherd." This evening Rev. Milton Fish will speak on "The Basin of Water."

Rev. F. O. Hanson, pastor of the Trinity English Lutheran church, will speak on "Passion of Our Lord" at the services to be held in the church this evening.

W. J. Moe of Sheyenne, N. D. is a guest at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John J. Moe, 2207 West Third street.

Mrs. J. A. Johnson, 306 North Fortieth avenue west, will entertain this evening for the Young People's Society of the Swedish Baptist church.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Second Presbyterian church, 1515 West Superior street, will entertain this evening at a musical in the church parlors. A program of several numbers has been arranged.

Mr. and Mrs. Willard Scott of West Baden, Ind., are spending a week visiting relatives in this end of the city.

Let Thoren do your repairing at Economy Shoe works, 204 Twentieth avenue west.

Government Enjoined.

Bismarck, N. D., March 26.—United States District Federal Judge W. F. Booth in Federal court granted the injunction brought against the government by the Bismarck Water Supply company, in which arguments the plaintiff prayed that the government be not permitted to cut off the water supply to the old site of Fort Lincoln and complained that since Fort Lincoln was abandoned the government was allowing them a minimum charge of $1 a month rental.

GETS LETTER FROM PRUSSIA

Writer Says Germany Does Not Fear Famine Before New Crop.

Duluthian Predicts Great Exodus to Europe When War Ends.

In a letter received from the Rev. Polomski of Pestlin, East Prussia, John Gonska of this city is told of some interesting and intimate news of war conditions in Europe.

According to the statement of the writer of the epistle, Germany has captured to date 477,000 Russian prisoners and Austria holds 230,000 Russians. The letter also states that Germany has 237,000 French prisoners and 37,000 Belgian prisoners. Germany has 19,000 English prisoners, and Austria, according to the letter, has 50,000 Serbians in the prison camps. The minister's estimate of the number of French soldiers killed during the war is 400,000.

In another part of the letter it is declared that, while the people of the German nation may be placed on short rations before the harvesting of the new crop, there will be no real danger of famine. It is the belief of the minister that England is becoming very uncomfortable over the submarine attacks.

There is evidently no thought of peace nor is there a lack of confidence in the ability of the Germans to win.

In another letter received from Austria by Mr. Gonska, it was stated that soldiers are being drafted into the Austrian army from the ages of 16 to 62 years.

"There will be a tremendous outpouring of travel from this country to Europe at the close of the war," said Mr. Gonska. "Many of the residents of the United States with relatives in Europe will go over there immediately upon the declaration of peace, in the hope of finding their relatives or ascertaining whether they are alive.

"A man in Duluth received a letter the other day from his wife. At the start of the war she was living in Russia near the German boundary. The letter was mailed from a place near the Caspian sea. The letter was written with the back of a man for an impromptu desk, so densely were the marching people wedged in. The man here will go to Europe at the close of the war in the hope of finding his wife. She has already lost her two children."

DR. SMITH IS DEAD.

Noted Clergyman and Social Reform Worker Passes in St. Paul.

St. Paul, Minn., March 26.—Dr. Samuel G. Smith, clergyman, author and social reform worker, died at his home here last night after a few days' illness of acute Bright's disease. He collapsed last Sunday evening, but had showed some improvement until last night, when he suffered a relapse.

Dr. Smith, who was born in Birmingham, Eng., March 7, 1852, had been president both of the American Prison association and the National Conference of Charities and Corrections. He was founder and pastor of the People's church here and for many years was head of the department of sociology and anthropology at the University of Minnesota. Dr. Smith had been married twice and his second wife and five children survive him.

ORDERS ROAD BUILT.

Cass County Board Acts Favorably on Two Elwell Propositions.

Walker, Minn., March 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Cass county commissioners held a special meeting here last Tuesday, when a hearing was held on Elwell roads No. 81 and 83. A large delegation of interested Cass county taxpayers were on hand from various towns in the interest of these roads and they all went home very much satisfied with the outcome, as the roads were passed and bids ordered published for the sale of bonds. These roads were projected before the repeal of the Elwell law and are protected by amendments.

Good Weather for Colds.

March is a month when school children and adults catch cold because of slush and changeable weather. Foley's Honey and Tar Compound is a reliable stand-by at this season for coughs, colds, croup, la grippe. C. T. Lunceford, Washington, Ga., writes: "I have used it for six years and it never has failed. I think it is the best remedy made for coughs and colds." Sold everywhere.

GAS! GAS! INDIGESTION, SOURNESS, SICK STOMACH---PAPE'S DIAPEPSIN

Here's Relief! In Five Minutes Your Upset Stomach Feels Fine.

If you feel bloated after eating and you believe it is the food which fills you; if what little you eat lies like a lump of lead on your stomach; if there is difficulty in breathing after eating, eructations of sour, undigested food and acid, heartburn, brash or a belching of gas, you need Pape's Diapepsin to stop food fermentation and indigestion.

It neutralizes excessive acid, stomach poison; absorbs that misery-making gas and stops fermentation which sours your entire meal and causes Dyspepsia, Sick Headache, Biliousness, Constipation, Griping, etc. Your real and only trouble is that which you eat does not digest, but quickly ferments and sours, producing almost any unhealthy condition.

A case of Pape's Diapepsin will cost fifty cents at any pharmacy here, and will convince any stomach sufferer in five minutes that Fermentation and Sour Stomach is causing the misery of Indigestion.

No matter if you call your trouble Catarrh of the Stomach, Nervousness or Gastritis, or by any other name—always remember that relief is waiting at any drug store the moment you decide to begin its use.

Pape's Diapepsin will regulate any out-of-order stomach within five minutes, and digest promptly, without any fuss or discomfort, all of any kind of food you eat.

NATURE POTENT IN HEALING WOUNDS

Surgery Upon the Battlefield Is Becoming Very Conservative.

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)

Berlin, March 1.—Surgery upon the battlefield, according to a well known physician, Dr. Ziegelroth, is becoming more and more a matter of "back to nature." The doctors, military and civil, who are tending the wounded in the west, are discovering, not without some surprise, how potent a factor nature is in healing wounds.

Amputations are resorted to only in cases of utmost necessity, and surgeons are acting with the greatest conservatism where previously limbs were severed quickly when certain symptoms appeared. The conservatism appears to be rewarded by recoveries that ordinarily would have been considered impossible. Ordinary wounds are dressed with antiseptic bandages, and then are not rebound any more than necessary. The healing is being left to efficient nature.

The civil practitioners in the western field, according to Dr. Ziegelroth, are engaged in a friendly but spirited contest with the military physicians, and are giving extraordinary service. Men who in ordinary life have a "golden practice" are enduring all the hardships of the field without a murmur, and good-humoredly contest for bundles of straw upon which to sleep in barns and stables. The snoring of fellow physicians seems to bother them more than the artillery fire.

LOW PRICES IN VEGETABLES

Greenstuffs and Fruits Selling Cheapest for Season in Years.

Market in Butter and Eggs Is Now Slightly Higher Here.

Local produce dealers aver that they are in a position to assure the trade a wide range of everything in fruits and vegetables for Easter and that prices will average up the lowest in several years at this period.

Arrangements have been made to bring on liberal supplies from Louisiana, Florida and California, and with favorable growing weather ruling in the producing areas, the quality of the edibles offering will be exceptionally good.

Oranges, apples and grapefruit are the features today, according to the Fitzsimmons-Palmer company and the Stacy-Merrill Fruit company. Oranges have declined on account of heavy receipts, but with the cleaning up of present stocks and shipments now on the way, a recovery is expected. Apples are firm, and with the rapid clearing up of supplies dealers predict advances within the next couple of weeks. The choice in the barrel fruit is now practically down to only one variety, the Ben Davis. A wider choice is, however, offered in box apples. Grapefruit prices have gone up materially on account of smaller shipments and a marked increase in consumption. As it is the fruit is selling considerably cheaper than in other seasons.

Strawberries will be a luxury for the Easter trade, due to shipments having been delayed through frosts in Louisiana. Large receipts are, however, looked for within the next two weeks, and the market will be on a more reasonable basis.

Greenstuffs Supplies Good.

Dealers are well supplies with all kinds of greenstuffs from California and Louisiana, and the quality is said to overage up better than in the last four or five years. A marked reduction is noted in head lettuce quotations. A good call is reported for celery, attributable to the good quality of the stock being shipped from California.

A sharp advance has been made in cabbage owing to state-grown stocks becoming cleaned up. New cabbage from Texas is expected on this market next week. Choice Minnesota potatoes are firm at 50 cents a bushel and higher prices are predicted to materialize any day. It is said that a larger proportion than expected of the tuber supplies in the Northwest are off grade.

Butter Market Up.

Creamery butter has been advanced 1 cent and is now quoted at 29@31 cents a pound. From advices received by the Bridgeman-Russell company and the Victor Produce company, the Eastern markets are strong and a considerable demand from down that way is being met with here. A further moderate advance is thought likely, but it is not believed that there will be any material changes in prices as the make of the creameries is increasing. Exports to England are said to have already become a factor in the situation.

Eggs Dearer Too.

Eggs have also gone up 1 cent, and are now quoted at 20@22cents a dozen. Country receipts of eggs have largely increased, but their comparative cheapness as a food product has brought about a marked gain in their consumption.

Meats Prices Firm.

With receipts of live poultry limited to a few coops daily, the market in poultry is dependent upon frozen stock, and little improvement in that condition is expected before another month. Heavy live hens are slightly higher today and frozen heavy hens are also up 1 cent a pound, at 18@19 cents.

In meats, the market in pork and veal is strong with each up ½ cent a pound. Quotations elsewhere through the list are being firmly held.

BOYS' DEPARTMENT ACTIVITIES

The popular Friday night program at the boys' department Y. M. C. A. this week will be of special interest to all boys interested in manual training, and the committee will open the entertainment to all boys, whether members of the boys' department or not.

A set of fifty colored views entitled "Forestry and Manual" has been secured from the United States forestry department. These will show the principal forest regions of the United States, the various kinds of trees, cruisers' camps, portable sawmills, lumber crews at their camps, cutting trees and scaling logs. The views and lectures will be very instructive and will give boys an opportunity of seeing where the wood they work comes from and the methods of making it into the finished product.

A grand rally of all the teams going into the city championship basket ball league will be held at 7:30. All teams planning on entering the tournament must get their teams registered Friday night. The league will be the first of its kind in the city. The plan is to hold it every year and in this way give every team in the city a chance to get into a championship series. There will be three divisions and each champion will receive a banner suitably worded.

DROVE RUSSIANS FROM FARM HOUSE

But They Had Violated Orders and Court-Martial Followed.

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)

Dortmund, March 1.—From Heilsberg comes the story of a little reserve division detailed to guard a bridge—and nothing else—against possible Russian attack. Presently the news that Russians had occupied a farm house nearby reached the men, and agitation was begun at once to leave the bridge they were guarding and attack the Russians.

The more conservative argued that they would be court martialed as remiss in their duty if they left the bridge, but majority sentiment prevailed, the division made a sortie, and drove the Russians from the farm house. And then, just as the conservatives had argued, all were haled before the court martial, with predictions freely made that they would be imprisoned.

The major himself tried the case, looked serious when he heard the charge, found them guilty of leaving their post, and as penalty—promised to recommend them for the Iron Cross.

MONEY READY FOR SCHOOL

Bonds Delivered to Minneapolis Firm—Board May Draw Cash.

Funds for Lincoln Junior High School, Third in Duluth.

Within a day or two, should the school board need it, the money for erection of the junior high school at the Lincoln school building will be available. The sale of bonds to Wells & Dickey of Minneapolis has been completed and the bonds were sent to the Minneapolis firm yesterday by registered and insured mail.

The bond firm had its attorney examine the law and the proceedings of the meeting at which the bonds were awarded, look into the validity of the election authorizing them, etc., and then notified the officials of the board of education to forward the bonds and to draw on them for the $99,000 due, the bond firm having deposited the balance in the form of a certified check as a guarantee along with the bid. The bid of Wells & Dickey was for par value, accrued interest and a premium of $1,125.

With this part of the affair completed, all that remains is for the school board to award the contract for the building, which will likely be done at the special meeting called for next Monday afternoon at 1 o'clock for that purpose. The plans have been ready for some time and the specifications have been available for bidders since March 9.

The school to be built will take just about the full amount of bonds sold, as there will be added to the Lincoln school a large assembly room and the other class rooms necessary for the conduct of a junior high school.

Completed Next Fall.

It is expected that the new building, while desired for the next school year, will hardly be completed before Oct. 1, and perhaps not then, although some contractors express the idea that they can get the work done in time for the opening of the next school year, which will be September. The school will relieve, to a large extent, the growing congestion in West end schools, for it will take the seventh and eighth grades out of them, those grades, together with the first-year high school students, forming the clientele of the junior high school.

This will be the third junior high school established in Duluth. The others are the Washington school, at Lake avenue and Second street, and the Irving at West Duluth. Both of these have been very successful and, in the opinion of Supt. Denfeld, have shown the wisdom of their establishment, for they serve to put the grade pupils into high school work without the radical change felt by a jump from the eighth grade into a new atmosphere, which frequently causes nervousness and uncertainty for a time, and a consequent degree of falling off in good work.

Mr. Denfeld believes that the time is not far distant when a fourth junior high school will have to be built for the East end of the city and that perhaps other parts of Duluth will grow to such an extent as to warrant their residents demanding such an improvement in educational equipment.

MINNESOTA CLUB AT ANN ARBOR U

N. A. Cook and J. F. Boyle of Duluth Among the Officers.

Ann Arbor, Mich., March 26—(Special to The Herald.)—The Minnesota club, whose organization has just been perfected, is the newest of campus societies at the University of Michigan. Its membership is composed of the forty-six students from the Gopher state. Of this number, seven are women, and they will be honorary members.

The officers of the new club are: President, John F. Scott of St. Cloud, who is a junior law student; vice president, Levi N. Hall, senior law of Minneapolis; treasurer, Nathan A. Cook, sophomore engineer, Duluth; secretary, Joseph F. Boyle, senior law of Duluth. A social committee will be appointed by the president soon. Plans are being laid for a smoker for the men to be held before the spring vacation next month.

AUTO BUSSES IN BERLIN REDUCED

May Disappear Entirely Owing to Shortage of Gasoline.

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)

Berlin, March 1.—The automobile omnibusses, which in the streets of Berlin have shrunk in number from 325 operating on thirteen lines to 83 on six lines, since the war began, may disappear entirely, owing to shortage of gasoline.

The company which operates the big autos has been restricted to a supply of 100 barrels per month—one-half of what it is now using. It has appealed to the police to allow the use of at least fifty barrels more than this, and if this is not granted will have to reduce its lines to three, all operating along the Friederichstrasse. It is even anticipated that operation will cease entirely, and that the old-time horse-drawn vehicles will once more hold complete sway.

LOW PRICES IN VEGETABLES

Greenstuffs and Fruits Selling Cheapest for Season in Years.

Market in Butter and Eggs Is Now Slightly Higher Here.

Local produce dealers aver that they are in a position to assure the trade a wide range of everything in fruits and vegetables for Easter and that prices will average up the lowest in several years at this period.

Arrangements have been made to bring on liberal supplies from Louisiana, Florida and California, and with favorable growing weather ruling in the producing areas, the quality of the edibles offering will be exceptionally good.

Oranges, apples and grapefruit are the features today, according to the Fitzsimmons-Palmer company and the Stacy-Merrill Fruit company. Oranges have declined on account of heavy receipts, but with the cleaning up of present stocks and shipments now on the way, a recovery is expected. Apples are firm, and with the rapid clearing up of supplies dealers predict advances within the next couple of weeks. The choice in the barrel fruit is now practically down to only one variety, the Ben Davis. A wider choice is, however, offered in box apples. Grapefruit prices have gone up materially on account of smaller shipments and a marked increase in consumption. As it is the fruit is selling considerably cheaper than in other seasons.

Strawberries will be a luxury for the Easter trade, due to shipments having been delayed through frosts in Louisiana. Large receipts are, however, looked for within the next two weeks, and the market will be on a more reasonable basis.

Greenstuffs Supplies Good.

Dealers are well supplied with all kinds of greenstuffs from California and Louisiana, and the quality is said to overage up better than in the last four or five years. A marked reduction is noted in head lettuce quotations. A good call is reported for celery, attributable to the good quality of the stock being shipped from California.

A sharp advance has been made in cabbage owing to state-grown stocks becoming cleaned up. New cabbage from Texas is expected on this market next week. Choice Minnesota potatoes are firm at 50 cents a bushel and higher prices are predicted to materialize any day. It is said that a larger proportion than expected of the tuber supplies in the Northwest are off grade.

Butter Market Up.

Creamery butter has been advanced 1 cent and is now quoted at 29@31 cents a pound. From advices received by the Edman-Russell company and the Victor Produce company, the Eastern markets are strong and a considerable demand from down that way is being met with here. A further moderate advance is thought likely, but it is not believed that there will be any material changes in prices as the make of the creameries is increasing. Exports to England are said to have already become a factor in the situation.

Eggs Dearer Too.

Eggs have also gone up 1 cent, and are now quoted at 20@22cents a dozen. Country receipts of eggs have largely increased, but their comparative cheapness as a food product has brought about a marked gain in their consumption.

Meats Prices Firm.

With receipts of live poultry limited to a few coops daily, the market in poultry is dependent upon frozen stock, and little improvement in that condition is expected before another month. Heavy live hens are slightly higher today and frozen heavy hens are also up 1 cent a pound, at 18@19 cents.

In meats, the market in pork and veal is strong with each up ½ cent a pound. Quotations elsewhere through the list are being firmly held.

BOYS' DEPARTMENT ACTIVITIES

The popular Friday night program at the boys' department Y. M. C. A. this week will be of special interest to all boys interested in manual training, and the committee will open the entertainment to all boys, whether members of the boys' department or not.

A set of fifty colored views entitled "Forestry and Manual" has been secured from the United States forestry department. These will show the principal forest regions of the United States, the various kinds of trees, cruisers' camps, portable sawmills, lumber crews at their camps, cutting trees and scaling logs. The views and lectures will be very instructive and will give boys an opportunity of seeing where the wood they work comes from and the methods of making it into the finished product.

GAS! GAS! INDIGESTION, SOURNESS, SICK STOMACH---PAPE'S DIAPEPSIN

Here's Relief! In Five Minutes Your Upset Stomach Feels Fine.

If you feel bloated after eating and you believe it is the food which fills you; if what little you eat lies like a lump of lead on your stomach; if there is difficulty in breathing after eating, eructations of sour, undigested food and acid, heartburn, brash or a belching of gas, you need Pape's Diapepsin to stop food fermentation and indigestion.

It neutralizes excessive acid, stomach poison; absorbs that misery-making gas and stops fermentation which sours your entire meal and causes Dyspepsia, Sick Headache, Biliousness, Constipation, Griping, etc. Your real and only trouble is that which you eat does not digest, but quickly ferments and sours, producing almost any unhealthy condition.

A case of Pape's Diapepsin will cost fifty cents at any pharmacy here, and will convince any stomach sufferer in five minutes that Fermentation and Sour Stomach is causing the misery of Indigestion.

No matter if you call your trouble Catarrh of the Stomach, Nervousness or Gastritis, or by any other name—always remember that relief is waiting at any drug store the moment you decide to begin its use.

Pape's Diapepsin will regulate any out-of-order stomach within five minutes, and digest promptly, without any fuss or discomfort, all of any kind of food you eat.

NATURE POTENT IN HEALING WOUNDS

Surgery Upon the Battlefield Is Becoming Very Conservative.

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)

Berlin, March 1.—Surgery upon the battlefield, according to a well known physician, Dr. Ziegelroth, is becoming more and more a matter of "back to nature." The doctors, military and civil, who are tending the wounded in the west, are discovering, not without some surprise, how potent a factor nature is in healing wounds.

Amputations are resorted to only in cases of utmost necessity, and surgeons are acting with the greatest conservatism where previously limbs were severed quickly when certain symptoms appeared. The conservatism appears to be rewarded by recoveries that ordinarily would have been considered impossible. Ordinary wounds are dressed with antiseptic bandages, and then are not rebound any more than necessary. The healing is being left to efficient nature.

The civil practitioners in the western field, according to Dr. Ziegelroth, are engaged in a friendly but spirited contest with the military physicians, and are giving extraordinary service. Men who in ordinary life have a "golden practice" are enduring all the hardships of the field without a murmur, and good-humoredly contest for bundles of straw upon which to sleep in barns and stables. The snoring of fellow physicians seems to bother them more than the artillery fire.

RICHMAN'S UNITED CLOTHES

Now is the time to buy your Spring Clothes

ALWAYS $10

YOU do not pay us a penny more for your clothes now at the beginning of the Spring season than you'll pay us if you wait 'till after the 4th of July, for we have no so-called "sales." The man who buys his clothes for Easter is not overcharged and made to pay for a reduction to be given another man who waits for a "sale" at the end of the season.

You have your unrestricted choice of any suit, Topcoat, Balmacaan, or Raincoat in our store for $10.

There is no possible chance for one man to pay a penny more or a penny less than another.

Our Price Is Always $10

Our business has been built up by selling good, honest, serviceable all wool clothes at an honest price.

We have never made any exaggerated, improbable claims for United Clothes. We have just told about them in plain words—consistently advertising the saving to you of the middleman's profit of $5 to $8.

"Direct from our factory to you" used by us, means exactly what it says. We make every garment in our own Cleveland factory, located at 1289-1299 West 9th street, and we sell them direct to you in our own store at 20 West Superior street, for always $10. There is only one small manufacturer's profit added to the actual cost of production. Therefore we say:

Just Two Profits—Yours and Ours —No Middleman's

Our Spring Styles of Suits, Topcoats and Balmacaans are now complete and there is no store in the United States which can show you as varied an assortment for $15, $18 & $20 combined as we display at our one and only price of $10.

There is no difference whatever between our clothes for $10 and the clothes which are sold in retail stores for $15 and $18 except in the price. The materials are all-wool of every conceivable style and color effect. The clothes are faultless in fit and the workmanship throughout is guaranteed. If for any reason a garment is not satisfactory, we will cheerfully refund your $10—there are no ifs or ands or buts to our guarantee. It's simple. The money is yours for the asking at any time.

THIEF VISITS CITY SCHOOLS

Four Teachers in Different Building Lose Their Purses.

Police Believe Daylight Burglar Made Calls on Motorcycle.

Four purses belonging to four school teachers were stolen from four separate school buildings late Wednesday and early Thursday by a thief, who started at the west end of the city and worked eastward, visiting each school as he came to it.

Officers have advanced the theory that the daylight burglar used a motorcycle, and rode east from Twenty-sixth avenue west to First avenue east.

About noon Wednesday, Miss Anna B. Nelson, 101 South Nineteenth avenue east, a teacher at the Monroe school, Twenty-sixth avenue west and First street, went to the cloakroom and discovered that her purse was empty. It was hanging as she had left it, but the contents, including about $1 in change, were missing.

A little later Mrs. Harriet M. Hoover, 2 Munger terrace, principal of the Adams school at Eighteenth avenue west and Superior street, missed her small handbag, containing between $3 and $4 in silver, a souvenir teaspoon, a bankbook and other articles.

Miss Edith Scovell, a teacher at the Jackson school, Fifth avenue west and Third street, missed her handbag, containing a gold necklace, some Great Northern Power company deeds, a checkbook and some change, about an hour later.

The fourth theft was reported by Mrs. Lillian Downs, 205 North Eighteenth avenue east, principal at the Nettleton school, Sixth street and First avenue east, shortly before the other victims telephoned the police. Mrs. Downs also was robbed of her handbag, which contained $2 in small change and some checks.

Police later found Mrs. Downs' purse, empty, behind the storm door at the front entrance to a residence at 130 East Fifth street, a short distance from the school.

AGED DULUTH RESIDENT DIES

Mrs. Katherine Pastoret Succumbs at Home of Her Son.

For forty-four years a resident of Duluth, Mrs. Katherine Pastoret, widow of Michael Pastoret, former wholesale dealer, died at the home of her son, P. G. Pastoret, 1408 East Third street, last night. She was 77 years of age.

Mr. and Mrs. Pastoret came to the Head of the Lakes in 1871, and the husband was for many years in wholesale and produce business here. He retired several years ago.

Mrs. Pastoret is survived by three sons and two daughters. The sons, all of whom live in Duluth, are: P. G. Pastoret, Michael Pastoret, Jr., and J. T. Pastoret. The daughters are Mrs. J. G. Dorsey of Minneapolis and Mrs. J. J. Crowe of Ironton.

Funeral services will be held Monday morning at 8:30 o'clock from the German Catholic church, Third avenue east and Second street, with interment at Calvary cemetery.

Federal Jury Disagrees.

Bismarck, N. D., March 26.—The Federal court jury, in the case where the government charged that Fred Schmidt of Fort Rice conspired with the assistant postmistress for the wrongful use of government funds, was unable to agree and was excused by the judge yesterday, after having been out since early Wednesday afternoon. It is rumored the vote stood 9 to 3 for acquittal. Gen. Hildreth, attorney for the government moved for a new trial.

WOMEN WHO ARE ALWAYS TIRED

May Find Help in This Letter.

Swan Creek, Mich.—"I cannot speak too highly of your medicine. When through neglect or overwork I get run down and my appetite is poor and I have that weak, languid, always tired feeling, I get a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it builds me up, gives me strength, and restores me to perfect health again. It is truly a great blessing to women, and I cannot speak too highly of it. I take pleasure in recommending it to others."—Mrs. ANNIE CAMERON, R.F.D., No. 1, Swan Creek, Michigan.

Another Sufferer Relieved.

Hebron, Me.—"Before taking your remedies I was all run down, discouraged and had female weakness. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and used the Sanative Wash, and find today that I am an entirely new woman, ready and willing to do my housework now, where before taking your medicine it was a dread. I try to impress upon the minds of all ailing women I meet the benefits they can derive from your medicines."—Mrs. CHARLES ROWE, R. F. D., No. 1, Hebron, Maine.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter wil be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

MYSTERY OF A KERCHIEF.

Policeman Thought Stanley Schulz Had Too Much Money at 3 a. m.

DROP the handkerchief is a children's game and should not be played around office buildings at 3 o'clock in the morning, as Stanley Schulz, aged 22, discovered to his sorrow.

Just as the mystic hour of three was tolled from the chimes in the high schol towner this morning, Schulz pussy-footed from the Providence building entrance, Fourth avenue west and Superior street.

He crept around the corner of the building, glanced furtively in all directions and then dropped the handkerchief. He took something from the handkerchief before he dropped it, however, as Patrolman Boland observed, and the patrolman's curiosity got the better of him.

He investigated, found seven $10 bills neatly rolled up in Schulz's pocket, and arrested him.

Schulz told Chief Troyer that he had hidden the money before being arrested some time ago, when he was sent to the work farm for sixty days. Upon being released from the "farm," however, he waited a month before digging up his buried treasure.

Police now are looking for the owner of the handkerchief, which had a letter "I" or "J" embroidered in one corner. Schulz is an old offender.

JITNEY DRIVER FINED.

Pays $10 in Jitneys for Exceeding the Speed Limit.

Jitneys should be allowed to go as fast as street cars, according to Amos Buckley, aged 27, first jitney driver to be arrested for exceeding the speed limit, who was brought into municipal court this morning. This contention did not ward off a $10 fine, which was paid in nickles and dimes, the receipts of Thursday's business.

"There's no use in having jitneys if they can't go as fast as street cars," declared the prisoner, who contended that the cars often traveled twenty-five miles an hour. He was arrested last night by Patrolman Noren.

N. Y. STYLES FOR POLICE.

New Caps Are Patterned After Styles of Metropolis.

If clothes make the man, and headgear can be called clothes, Duluth's police are fully as efficient as those of little old New York, for the new caps, to be worn by the "coppers" this spring, are exact duplicates of the style worn along Broadway and Fifth avenue.

Installed under the regime of Former Commissioner Rhinelander Waldo of New York, these caps can be distinguished by two stripes of blue braid. The caps now worn by guardians of Duluth's peace have one blue stripe.

When the first spring bonnet arrived at headquarters this morning, Capt. A. G. Fiskett wanted to see how it looked when worn and found it necessary to call in Sergeant John Englert, as no officer at headquarters wore a seven and three-eighths size.

The visor extends farther over the eyes than the cap now worn, and is an adaptation from the type used by army officers.

Duluth's "foinest" will make their first official appearance in the new bonnets on spring inspection day, late in April.

CHOP SUEY MYSTERIES.

Chinese Cook Tells Court Secrets of Oriental Dishes.

Mysteries of chop suey making were fully explained in Judge W. L. Windom's division of the municipal court this morning, by witnesses in a case of Lum Hay vs. Gee King. Hay is a cook and formerly made chop suey, chow main and other interesting concoctions in the Oregon restaurant, West Superior street.

Hay is suing King for $112 alleged to be due him for wages. Chop suey artists are worth at least $60 a month, in his estimation. King, in a counter claim, wants to be paid for three months' board at $5 a week, which he says he furnished the cook.

John Norton, candidate for municipal court judge, is appearing before his competitor, Judge Windom, as the defendant's attorney, while G. A. E. Finlayson represents the plaintiff.

Keep Your Lungs Strong

This advice is doubly important with the knowledge that every three minutes some one in the United States succumbs to consumption and many refuse to realize they are afflicted until it is too late.

It is after colds or sickness, from overwork, confining duties or when general weakness exists that tubercular germs thrive because the resistive powers of the body are weakened.

Only with fresh air, sunshine and abundant rich blood can one hope to arrest their progress, and the concentrated fats in Scott's Emulsion furnish fuel for rich blood, and its rare nourishment helps strengthen the lungs while it builds up the forces.

If you work indoors, tire easily, feel languid or run-down Scott's Emulsion is the most strengthening food-medicine known and is free from alcohol or stupefying drugs. Avoid substitutes.

BLEW MR. WARD'S $2.

But Prisoner's Limited Capacity Brought Him Suspended Sentence.

Supt. Fred Ward of the joint county and city work farm, touched by a story of poverty, gave Peter Carlson $2 yesterday, when Peter finished a sixty-day sentence, and the new owner of the $2 promptly staged a party. He was arrested again last night, after being out of the tolls for nearly thirty-six hours, charged with eighth offense drunkenness, and sentenced to another sixty-day term.

When Judge Cutting asked him where he got his liquor, "Pete" replied that the $2 was enough, and that he still had most of it left. His lack of capacity evidently was a point in his favor, as he will be paroled upon a promise to leave the city.

FIELD DAY FOR COOKS.

Chinese Figure in Proceedings Before Both Municipal Judges.

While Judge W. L. Windom was trying a case involving a Chinese cook who specialized in chow mein in municipal court this morning, Judge F. H. Cutting, in the adjoining room, was hearing evidence in a disorderly conduct case where Mike Hendrick, ago 33, gave a Chinese cook a black eye instead of paying for his meal.

Hendrick entered a West Michigan street cafe, asked for chop suey, seemed to like the dish served him, but reneged when asked to pay for it. He was fined $40 and will serve thirty days at the work farm in default of payment.

DECLARE MISSING MAN IS AT MINOT

Son of Duluth Hotel Man Said to Be Peddling Wares on Farms.

Henry Clark Coe, son of a Boston millionaire, and son-in-law of Allan Ainsley, who, up to a short time ago, was manager of the St. Louis hotel of this city after Boston interests had taken it over, is believed to be in North Dakota, not far from Minot.

Word was received at Minot from New York is to the effect that the young man has been seen peddling wares from farm to farm between Minot and Bonnybrook and that he was seen in a hotel at Carpio. A telegram from Minot says that most of the people at Carpio are out hunting for the man, for whom a reward of $250 has been offered. Coe is believed to be mentally unbalanced. He left his home and bride in Boston on Jan. 30, and completely disappeared. It was thought at first that he had been foully dealt with, but later the impression grew that he had wandered away. The Burns Detective agency is working on the case. Coe is 22 years of age and was married to Mr. Ainsworth's daughter only recently.

THIS JURY CARES NOT FOR MEALS

Returns Verdict in Time to Go Home for Lunch.

Jurors who find it impossible to agree to anything until after they have eaten at least one meal at the county's expense, did not sit on a case which has been on trial in Judge Cant's division of the district court.

And when a jury reported to Judge Cant a few minutes after the noon adjournment of court today, it occasioned some surprise.

"The court takes notice of the fact," said Judge Cant, in discharging the jury from further consideration on the case, "that while the jury reached an agreement after the noon hour, it did not consider it imperative that the county should furnish the jurors with dinners."

The jury reported a verdict for $115.10 with interest since Oct. 11, 1914, in favor of J. Harry Harris and against the Northern Pacific Railway company. Harris is an attorney. He sued for damages at the rate of $10 per hundred pounds for 1,151 pounds of freight which had been destroyed by fire in the company's warehouse in this city last October. The property, consisting of law books, clothing and furniture, had been shipped from Spokane.

In Judge Dancer's division of the court, a sealed verdict which was opened this morning awarded Ford A. Smith $818.45 damages against the Duluth Street Railway company for injuries received by himself and his team of horses and for damages to his dray and horses as a result of a collision which occurred on the evening of Oct. 8, 1913, at Thirty-third avenue west and Superior street. Smith sued for $5,909.30.

Yeggs Rob Postoffice.

Doland, S. D., March 26.—Yeggmen dynamited the postoffice safe in this place Wednesday night. They secured $1,000 worth of stamps and made their escape on a handcar stolen from the railroad company. There was no money in the safe.

Ex-Postmaster's Kidney Trouble Gone.

W. T. Azbell, ex-postmaster of Edwardsport, Ind., writes: "I suffered with severe trouble with my kidneys and back. I tried different remedies without relief. First bottle of Foley Kidney Pills gave me relief." Sluggish and inactive kidneys fail to eliminate waste matter from the system, and backache, rheumatism, sore muscles, aching joints and bladder ailments result. Foley Kidney Pills are safe and prompt in action. Sold everywhere.

AGED DULUTHIAN DIES.

Mrs. Eliza Cochran Summoned After Short Illness.

Mrs. Eliza Cochran, age 77 years, a resident of Duluth for twenty-three years, died suddenly early this morning at her home at 1607 East Superior street. Mrs. Cochran was the widow of James Cochran, former president of the Western State bank of West Duluth, who died in February, 1913.

Mrs. Cochran is survived by two children. They are Mrs. L. A. Barnes of West Duluth, and Robert L. Cochran of Shafer, N. D. Three grand children, daughters of R. L. Cochran have been living with her during the last two years.

The funeral will be held tomorrow at 12:15 p. m. from the residence. The body will be taken to Whitehall, Ill., for interment.

SALOON MEN UNDER BONDS.

Brookston Dealers Held for Illegal Liquor Sales.

Duluth is not the only city with officials on the lookout for illegal liquor selling, as was proved in municipal court yesterday afternoon when Joseph Provost and F. J. McMahon, saloon keepers of Brookston, were arraigned before Judge F. H. Cutting, charged with selling liquor on Sunday.

They were brought to Duluth by Deputy Sheriff John McDonald earlier in the day. Both pleaded not guilty and were released under $100 bail, to appear for a hearing April 7.

IS RESULT OF STYLE SHOW

Window Display Men of Two Cities Organize an Association.

Object Is to Make the Store Windows More Attractive.

As a direct result of the showing made during Duluth's first style show week, window display men of Duluth and Superior last night met at the Commercial club and formed the Twin Ports Association of Display Men. There are twenty-seven charter members of the organization, which is affiliated with a national association, and they represent many of the larger stores of the two cities.

J. E. Hopkins of the George A. Gray company was elected the first president of the new club; A. E. Ortquist of the Tower Clothing company is vice president; H. J. Maki of the Columbia Clothing company is treasurer; and R. P. Johnson of the Floan & Leveroos company secretary.

During the meeting, which lasted for more than three hours, B. J. Millward of the Mannheimer Bros.' St. Paul store; M. W. Kegley of Chicago and John J. Moe of Duluth gave addresses.

All three men heralded this new organization as an important factor in the commercial activity of the city, and stated that style shows given from now on would be influenced to a large extent by the association.

Co-operation and its value was emphasized by Mr. Moe in his address, one of the principal ones of the evening. He impressed upon the new members the value of giving assistance and encouragement to other members, and to encourage the exchange of ideas as the best method of development.

Mr. Millward, who is a member of the Twin City Association of Display Men and one of the best known window decorators in the Northwest, gave the local men various "tips" on the formation of the organization.

"There is a real need for an association of this kind," he said, "as this style show, just closed, shows. There are about forty display men in the two cities, I understand, and they should be able to make considerable progress in this field."

He promised that features secured by the Twin City association would be sent to Duluth and Superior for the education of display men here.

Mr. Kegley, the Minneapolis representative of the Curtis-Leger Fixture company of Chicago, assured the new members of his desire to help in promoting the interests of the association in every way possible.

Success for the organization was predicted by Bentley P. Neff of the Glass Block company in a letter read by A. McDonald of the same firm. Mr. Neff wrote that business men appreciated the efforts put forth to make the displays distinctive during the recent style show.

The trustees of the association, chosen last night, are F. Johnson of the Lightbody-Wingate company, Barney Martin of the Suffel Shoe company and A. McDonald of the Glass Block store. The entertainment and publicity committees, to be appointed by President Hopkins, will be composed of two sections, one from Duluth and one from Superior.

REAL "BRONCHO BUSTER" IS HERE FOR THE "Y" CIRCUS

Ed Gudger, known in the circus world as "Texas Jack," who has been a professional broncho buster for the last eighteen years, will be the star performer at the "Y" circus to be given at the association gymnasium, April 8 and 9. The dates have just been changed.

Texas Jack will have just time enough to play for the "Y" boys before leaving Denver, where he will join the Buffalo Bill riders for the coming season. His riding stunt here is expected to be thrilling and extremely hazardous for anybody except a veteran rider. A mule, with gentle eye but a vicious temper, which is owned by a farmer beyond Lakeside, will be Texas Jack's victim. This animal is said to be so vicious that its "master" will not risk entering its stall and throws corn into its feed box from a safe distance. Texas Jack will ride this untamed beast and guarantees to master it.

Texas Jack has been in Duluth some time recovering from an injury received in a race last fall. When seen today he told of some thrilling experiences.

"I began riding horses at the age of 7," he said, "and succeeded in mastering a horse in the back lot that had never been ridden. So great was my success that I obtained a place with Buffalo Bill's circus the same season, and have been with that show for eighteen years except for short engagements with Barnum & Bailey, Ringling Brothers, John Robinson and other circuses. I beat the world's riding record on points four years ago in Oregon when I rode Cheyenne. I made 97 points while the world's record at that time was only 86."

He tells of many narrow escapes, one of which was a race with a herd of 300 crazed cattle in an Arizona sand storm. Two of the cattle had to be shot to check the mad rush toward a canyon nearly 100 feet deep. At another time Texas Jack was thrown from his horse at New Hampton, Iowa, where he fell upon a bottle opening up his side several inches.

Another stunt along the comedy line will be staged by the giant employment secretary of the "Y," S. W. Harris, and L. Eacobacci, a midget, who will do a band-organ monkey turn.

The clowns are to be: Julius Ritchie, Harold Hein, Warren Jamar, Laurence Duby, Harold Thomas, Lincoln Brown, Rudolph Lilja, Frank Frankowsky and A. W. Anderson.

J. B. CRANE,
Ringmaster.

Peter Petkoff, the wrestler, will act as the strong man, and J. B Crane will be ringmaster.

REFUSED TO RECALL MAN FROM THE ARMY.

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)

Birmingham, Eng., March 12. — The war office has refused the request of the Birmingham chamber of commerce that Horace Gee, of Redditch, an expert maker of needles for the boot trade, be permitted to withdraw from the army and return to his bench.

According to a question in the house of commons, Gee's employers said his services were so badly needed that they were unable to fill an order for 30,000 shoes for the army.

EASTER VACATION BEGINS; WILL END APRIL 5.

With the close of school today Easter vacation begins. The schools will not open for the last lap of the school year until a week from next Monday, and in the meantime about 14,000 pupils and 450 teachers will be left to their own devices so far as "booklarnin'" is concerned. As to the teachers, those whose homes are in reasonable distance will likely spend the vacation at home, others will visit nearby friends or remain in the city and rest.

BISHOP FOX LEFT ESTATE TO CHURCH.

Green Bay, Wis., March 26.—The last will of the late Bishop Joseph J. Fox was filed in probate court yesterday. The bulk of his possessions is left to the diocese wherein he had labored for many years as priest and prelate. A sum of $300 was left to each of his surviving relatives, two brothers, three sisters, one niece and one nephew, and the remainder of the property and money was willed to the diocese of Green Bay, to be used at the discretion of the next bishop, especially for Catholic educational work. The estate is valued at between $25,000 and $30,000.

SOCIETY WOMEN'S CLUBS MUSIC THE DRAMA

MISS MARIE MERRILL, who entertained the ushers of the Merrill-Sears wedding party and an equal number of young women informally at luncheon at the Country club today, entertained informally at dinner last evening at her home, 2626 Greysolon road. At the table were: Miss Merrill, Miss Betty Merrill, Miss Nannie Turrish, Francis P. Sears, Fred Wolvin and Miron Bunnell. Mr. Sears will entertain the men of the wedding party at dinner at the Kitchi Gammi club this evening at 8 o'clock.

Much interest centers about the wedding of Miss Merrill and Mr. Sears that will take place tomorrow afternoon at Trinity cathedral. Bishop J. D. Morrison will perform the ceremony, assisted by Dr. Thomas W. MacLean. A reception will follow at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas D. Merrill, 2626 Greysolon road.

Richard Sears of Boston will be his brother's best man and Robert Treat Paine of Boston, cousin of the bridegroom, will be the head usher. Ronald Lyman, Herbert Lyman, cousins of Mr. Sears, and George Child, all of Boston, and Fred Wolvin and Miron Bunnell of Duluth will be the ushers.

Among the out-of-town guests for the wedding are Mr. Sears' sisters, Miss Anna Sears and Miss Evelyn Sears and Miss Penelope King of Boston.

As Mrs. Sears, Miss Merrill will occupy one of the few private houses built by Bullfinch, one of the architects for the capitol at Washington. This building is at 85 Mount Vernon street.

Practice Groceries Introduced in Portland Schools.

Groceries have been started in some of the grade schools of Portland, Or., to cultivate correctness, courtesy and the art of buying and selling. Pupils supply their arithmetic in making change and computing prices and learn the denominations of money and the metals of which the coins are made. They apply their geography in determining the places where the products are grown, and their nature study in a biological examination of the cereals, vegetables and spices.

Each store is equipped with shelves and counters made by the boys in the manual training classes. Most of the articles on sale are dry groceries, such as cereals, crackers, spices, canned goods, flour and sugar, and were given to the schools by wholesale dealers and manufacturers.

The store is open twenty minutes a day for business that is transacted with paper "coins" that are counted as carefully and guarded as well as if they were real currency.

Annual Meeting of Glen Avon Church.

At the annual meeting of Glen Avon Presbyterian church last evening, Thomas Gibson was re-elected trustee and George Tupper, W. H. Pryor, Arthur Hanford and David Barnes were elected elders. Reports of all the church societies were read.

The business meeting was followed by a social hour, with Mrs. M. C. Harvey in charge, assisted by Mrs. W. J. McCabe, Mrs. H. Hanford, Mrs. W. O. Sherwin and Mrs. W. W. Lawrence.

Will Entertain Board Members at Luncheon.

Mrs. George S. Richards of 212 Sixteenth avenue east will entertain the members of the executive board of the Matinee Musicale at a buffet luncheon following the board meeting that will be held at her home Monday morning at 11 o'clock.

Will Repeat Cantata.

The pupils of the Adams school will repeat the cantata, "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs," at French hall this evening.

Woman's Auxiliary.

The Woman's Auxiliary of St. Peter's Episcopal church was organized at a meeting held yesterday in the guild hall of the church. Mrs. W. E. Jones of Trinity cathedral assisted in the organization. The officers elected are: President, Mrs. C. E. Lonegren; secretary, Mrs. M. M. Smith, and treasurer, Mrs. William Laughton. Meetings will be held the last Tuesday of each month.

Mrs. Jones read a paper on "Missions in Alaska," Mrs. Lonegren spoke on general missionary work, and Miss May Bark gave a group of piano numbers. Mrs. Lonegren, Mrs. Arthur Farrar and Mrs. W. E. Harmana were the hostesses.

The next meeting will take place at the home of Mrs. Lonegren, 502 North Twenty-third avenue west, Tuesday afternoon, April 27.

NEW SPRING STYLES AS POSED FOR THE HERALD PHOTOGRAPHER

AN EVENING GOWN.

This picture shows one of the handsome evening gowns displayed by the I. Freimuth store during Style Week. It attracted wide attention among the great crowds of "window shoppers."

The gown is one of the 1915 Parisian models. It is of peach colored taffeta and exemplifies the new draped skirt. It is charming because of its quaintness and graceful lines. The underdrape is of chiffon, trimmed with gold lace and beads. It is gathered slightly about the waist with a narrow gold band. It has a bodice and shoulder straps of beaded gold lace.

BIRDS AND FLOWERS ARRIVING

Pussy Willows Bring Out the Bees—Evening Grosbeaks Are Numerous—Robin and the Wax Wing Expected Daily.

One of the dearest delights of spring is the coming of the birds and flowers.

Both are now making their appearance in and around Duluth. From now on until nature has put on her complete wardrobe of new spring colors there will be almost daily arrivals.

Pussy willows are already putting forth their fuzzy heads and are one of the first harbingers of springtime. Just over the hillside the willows are beginning to respond to the sun and warmer winds. Strange, however, as it may seem to many, the bees are the first to discover the pussy willows for this blossom when about ripe offers the bee the first source for the summer's honey supply. S. George Stevens says that the bees from his hives were out as early as last Sunday, and returned laden with sweets. As soon as the bees begin to bring in honey the queen begins to lay eggs and the swarming season is not far distant.

Among the other flowers that make their appearance early and which are usually ushered in with the first early showers is the trailing arbutus, which is, perhaps, the most popular blossom of all in the Northern woods. This flower has its natural habitat in and around Duluth, and Park Point was once a garden spot for this sweet-smelling pink and white flower. It is sometimes called the May flower, but this name is so often confused with the anemone that Mr. Stevens considers it best to cling to the name trailing arbutus.

Pull Up Roots.

In connection with this flower, Mr. Stevens said he wished to make an earnest appeal to Duluthians not to pull up the roots when picking the blossoms. Many of the wild flowers are rapidly disappearing just because botanists and others pull up the roots and leave no plant for the next season.

Among other flowers that will soon appear are the hepatica and spring beauty, and the adder tongue, which renders so attractive any little spot near the water's edge where the sun shines freely, will soon be pushing its head through the remains of last year's foliage.

Many kinds of ground pine will also appear soon and will give a refreshing touch of green to the spring's new garb.

As for the birds, they have already begun their flight to the Head of the Lakes. The evening grosbeak, a pretty bird of yellow and black, is here in great numbers and may be seen around the mountain ash trees hustling for ash berries. The large crop of mountain ash berries grown here has been well advertised among the feathered folk, and robins and other birds fond of this food have made Duluth a feeding ground. The robins stayed here until late last fall, feeding on berries, and the crop is now well nigh exhausted. Mr. Stevens urges Duluthians to spread seeds under the mountain ash trees so that the birds will be well fed and entice larger numbers of their kin to come early next year.

The robin may be expected almost any morning now when the weather warms up a little. The cedar wax wing is another early bird that is now winging his way to this section.

SACRED CANTATA.

"The Seven Last Words of Christ"

PILGRIM CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH, Sunday, 4:15.

DIDO DOES NOT DEIGN TO DIE

Tradition Is Reversed By Central High School Students This Year.

"Dido Up-to-Date" was given with eclat this morning in chapel at the Central high school and a good deal of mirth was created among the students and guests present at the affair. A. F. M. Custance, instructor in Latin at the Central school, is author of the sketch, which is a burlesque on the Virgil version of the death of Dido, and it proved a very decided hit. Miss

Miss Mary McGonagle.

Ralph McCarthy.

Ruth Saxine, who was in the title role, reversed the usual "finish" of Dido. Instead of tucking herself in on a funeral pyre and the other members of the cast piling their books on her to make the blaze good, she took other means of getting back at her faithless lover, Aeneas, by continuing to live and make love to somebody else. Ralph McCarthy as Aeneas, seemed to feel just awful about it. Every part in the cast was well taken.

Leonard Young, principal of the school, gave a short address before the playlet was given, in which he declared that the Dido event was partly mythical, partly traditional, and partly historical.

The passing of Dido is an annual celebration at the school. When the senior class reaches that point in its study of Latin, the stunts are performed, and this period has become one to be looked forward to by students, friends and parents alike, for there is bound to be fun in the performance. The cast of the playlet was as follows this morning:

Dido, Ruth Saxine; Aeneas, Ralph McCarthy; Auna, Helen Strachan; Barce, Vina Walz; Achates, Gordon Hegardt; Mars, Robert Zuger; Rumor, Bertha Blair; Andromache, Mildred Turner; ghost, William Craig; guards, Homer Collins, Horace Craig, William Harrison; mourning maidens, Vivian Anderson, Charlotte Dunning, Greta Ferguson, Mary McGonagle, Dorothy McKay, Louise Southwick, Edna Freimuth, Eugenie Le Richeux, Theresa Idzarek.

NURSES WILL BE GUESTS OF PATIENT

Because a certain modest Duluthian had an attack of appendicitis recently the nurses at both St. Luke's and St. Mary's hospital will have an opportunity to hear the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra free.

The Duluthian recently left his appendix at St. Mary's hospital in a most successful and comfortable manner. He was so grateful for the treatment he received there and had such a cordial feeling toward the nurses who ministered to his comfort that he cast about in his mind for some treat to give them. When he heard of the engagement of the orchestra for June 4 and 5 he promptly ordered twenty-five tickets for the course of concerts, and presented fifteen of them to St. Mary's hospital and ten to St. Luke's. He felt that he probably would have been just as well treated at St. Luke's and the mere accident of his going to St. Mary's should not result in discrimination. Accordingly the nurses of both hospitals were included and the tickets will permit every nurse to hear at least one concert. Those on night duty may attend the matinee. The only provision he made was that nobody but the nurses should know his name.

The advance sale for the concerts has been so heavy that it is believed that none of the 3,500 seats will be left for the general sale. It was at first thought that 3,900 seats would be available, but the provisions for aisles wide enough to allow for perfect safety and the space needed for the platform will cut down the number to about 3,500 and the plan of the curlers is to dispose of all of these in advance.

FORTUNES MADE FROM FEATHERS

The Companion: The development of the ostrich-rearing industry in South Africa is being regarded with the greatest satisfaction by people in other countries interested in the business. There is scarcely a homestead in South Africa where one will not hear people talking of the profits of ostrich farming, and there is no doubt that judicious investment in this business is productive of sound profit. In twelve months 547,709 pounds of ostrich feathers, valued at $7,500,000 was exported from South Africa, and these figures are steadily rising.

As a matter of fact, this really wonderful export industry has been the cause of the distribution of upward of two million pounds among the population of the Cape. And even though the output is still increasing, and promises to increase at an even greater rate later, this marvelous market still bears up, says the East African Standard.

The ostrich-rearing industry has established hundreds, even thousands, of persons on the land who could never have succeeded without its aid, for ostriches can be reared on pasturage and naturalized veldt which would be quite insufficient for cattle. And the difference between driving live stock to markets, across mountains and plains, is vast when compared with the fact that a year's crop of feathers from an ordinary holding can be taken out in a Cape cart drawn by a pair of horses.

According to the latest results which have been obtained, it appears that a good plucking bird fed on lucern can generally be depended upon for three crops of feathers in two years, and as an acre of lucern will easily carry three birds, the profits, say, at $25 to $35 per plucking, are quite sound, taking one season with another.

And ostrich farmers in South Africa have now acquired such a knowledge of the birds that by judicious selection and mating they are able to send feathers to market which command very high prices. It is found that birds thrive best, are freest from diseases, and give the strongest and richest feathers when subjected to varied food and conditions—which is one of the secrets of successful ostrich farming.

Changes in Parasols.

Washington Star: The quaint styles of parasols used from 1820 to 1830 have again appeared. Shirrings, puffings, pipings, cordings and knife-pleatings are used in a variety of ways, to emphasize ribs, to outline gores and to form borders. Many odd shapes and rich color combinations are seen. Plain, severe styles, the most prominent being the sand tones, are seen only with tailored dresses. There is a tendency to combine materials. In dressy, fancy models, the sand tones are combined with bright colors. For instance, in one model of brilliant red there is a border and a piping between the shirred gores, in a rich sand color verging on gold.

A smart parasol developed in contrasting colors has a row of shirring between the gores, producing a leaf-like effect. A very pretty parasol has a border of sheer crepe in a contrasting color, looped in each section and caught with a flat button effect. Battleship gray is a favorite color, being used alone in tailored designs, and in combination with the new reds and blues in elaborate designs.

Many striking shapes are seen. Among these is one with wide gores of richly colored material and narrow portions in stripes or checks. A cluster of shirring appears at the edge. Of special interest is the return of flat Japanese and Chinese effects, both plain and richly embroidered. Japanese prints are in both silk and cotton. Many Japanese designs have dark borders, with here and there a delicate bit of hand embroidery in gold. Sometimes odd-looking velvet birds in orange and blue tones are appliqued over the inside surface of the parasol.

Peggy Peabody's Observations

The Mistress and the Servant.

The following self explanatory note reached me recently: "The problem of domestic service would be easily solved if the mistresses of our households would form a union, the basis of which would be not to pay an ignorant, careless domestic the wages that a skilled, faithful one deserves. The scale of wages should be in proportion to the services rendered. Once such a system is established, we shall have effort on one side and appreciation on the other."

Rather a simple way out of the difficulty if it could be proven practicable. I find that most women in search of servants have to take about what they can get, whether they pleased them or not, or whether capable or incapable. The hiring of a girl is not left to the mistress of our modern establishments. It is the cook, the second girl or the general housework girl who decides whether she will or will not accept your offer of a comfortable home, light work and good wages.

The union idea with a scale of wages is a splendid one, if it could be put into working order. There is a servant girls' union in Chicago and maybe in other large cities. The members demand certain wages, specified privileges and what not, and without doubt have little difficulty in obtaining what they ask. Members of this union are, I believe, competent in their lines and guaranteed to give satisfaction. It is needless to say that they are paid the highest wages.

If mistresses of homes were one and all first-class homekeepers, knowing how everything should be done, it might be an easier manner to establish this union of housewives who could not be prevailed upon to hire a maid and pay her a certain wage unless her services were worth it. But women are not in all instances cleanly or capable in the conduct of their homes, and furthermore some of them do not know how a home should be run. What would be very unsatisfactory to one mistress would pass with another as very acceptable work.

To get the servant question on a more satisfactory basis we must begin with the mistresses and see that they are thoroughly taught the various branches of housekeeping. Only then can they train and keep servants successfully. They also need, at least many of them do, to be more human and sympathetic in their treatment of the stranger woman, less fortunate in her life, who comes to help them make their homes comfortable and happy. That will have a very helpful influence on the question.

DIDO DOES NOT DEIGN TO DIE

Tradition Is Reversed By Central High School Students This Year.

"Dido Up-to-Date" was given with eclat this morning in chapel at the Central high school and a good deal of mirth was created among the students and guests present at the affair. A. F. M. Custance, instructor in Latin at the Central school, is author of the sketch, which is a burlesque on the Virgil version of the death of Dido, and it proved a very decided hit. Miss

Miss Mary McGonagle.

Ralph McCarthy.

Ruth Saxine, who was in the title role, reversed the usual "finish" of Dido. Instead of tucking herself in on a funeral pyre and the other members of the cast piling their books on her to make the blaze good, she took other means of getting back at her faithless lover, Aeneas, by continuing to live and make love to somebody else. Ralph McCarthy as Aeneas, seemed to feel just awful about it. Every part in the cast was well taken.

Leonard Young, principal of the school, gave a short address before the playlet was given, in which he declared that the Dido event was partly mythical, partly traditional, and partly historical.

The passing of Dido is an annual celebration at the school. When the senior class reaches that point in its study of Latin, the stunts are performed, and this period has become one to be looked forward to by students, friends and parents alike, for there is bound to be fun in the performance. The cast of the playlet was as follows this morning:

Dido, Ruth Saxine; Aeneas, Ralph McCarthy; Anna, Helen Strachan; Barce, Vina Walz; Achates, Gordon Hegardt; Mars, Robert Zuger; Rumor, Bertha Blair; Andromache, Mildred Turner; ghost, William Craig; guards, Homer Collins, Horace Craig, William Harrison; mourning maidens, Vivian Anderson, Charlotte Dunning, Greta Ferguson, Mary McGonagle, Dorothy McKay, Louise Southwick, Edna Freimuth, Eugenie Le Richeux, Theresa Idzarek.

SACRED CANTATA.

"The Seven Last Words of Christ"

PILGRIM CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH, Sunday, 4:15.

NURSES WILL BE GUESTS OF PATIENT

Because a certain modest Duluthian had an attack of appendicitis recently the nurses at both St. Luke's and St. Mary's hospital will have an opportunity to hear the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra free.

The Duluthian recently left his appendix at St. Mary's hospital in a most successful and comfortable manner. He was so grateful for the treatment he received there and had such a cordial feeling toward the nurses who ministered to his comfort that he cast about in his mind for some treat to give them. When he heard of the engagement of the orchestra for June 4 and 5 he promptly ordered twenty-five tickets for the course of concerts, and presented fifteen of them to St. Mary's hospital and ten to St. Luke's. He felt that he probably would have been just as well treated at St. Luke's and the mere accident of his going to St. Mary's should not result in discrimination. Accordingly the nurses of both hospitals were included and the tickets will permit every nurse to hear at least one concert. Those on night duty may attend the matinee. The only provision he made was that nobody but the nurses should know his name.

The advance sale for the concerts has been so heavy that it is believed that none of the 3,500 seats will be left for the general sale. It was at first thought that 3,900 seats would be available, but the provisions for aisles wide enough to allow for perfect safety and the space needed for the platform will cut down the number to about 3,500 and the plan of the curlers is to dispose of all of these in advance.

FORTUNES MADE FROM FEATHERS

The Companion: The development of the ostrich-rearing industry in South Africa is being regarded with the greatest satisfaction by people in other countries interested in the business. There is scarcely a homestead in South Africa where one will not hear people talking of the profits of ostrich farming, and there is no doubt that judicious investment in this business is productive of sound profit. In twelve months 547,709 pounds of ostrich feathers, valued at $7,500,000 was exported from South Africa, and these figures are steadily rising.

As a matter of fact, this really wonderful export industry has been the cause of the distribution of upward of two million pounds among the population of the Cape. And even though the output is still increasing, and promises to increase at an even greater rate later, this marvelous market still bears up, says the East African Standard.

The ostrich-rearing industry has established hundreds, even thousands, of persons on the land who could never have succeeded without its aid, for ostriches can be reared on pasturage and naturalized veldt which would be quite insufficient for cattle. And the difference between driving live stock to markets, across mountains and plains, is vast when compared with the fact that a year's crop of feathers from an ordinary holding can be taken out in a Cape cart drawn by a pair of horses.

According to the latest results which have been obtained, it appears that a good plucking bird fed on lucern can generally be depended upon for three crops of feathers in two years, and as an acre of lucern will easily carry three birds, the profits, say, at $25 to $36 per plucking, are quite sound, taking one season with another.

And ostrich farmers in South Africa have now acquired such a knowledge of the birds that by judicious selection and mating they are able to send feathers to market which command very high prices. It is found that birds thrive best, are freest from diseases, and give the strongest and richest feathers when subjected to varied food and conditions—which is one of the secrets of successful ostrich farming.

Changes in Parasols.

Washington Star: The quaint styles of parasols used from 1820 to 1830 have again appeared. Shirrings, puffings, pipings, cordings and knife-pleatings are used in a variety of ways, to emphasize ribs, to outline gores and to form borders. Many odd shapes and rich color combinations are seen. Plain, severe styles, the most prominent being the sand tones, are seen only with tailored dresses. There is a tendency to combine materials. In dressy, fancy models, the sand tones are combined with bright colors. For instance, in one model of brilliant red there is a border and a piping between the shirred gores, in a rich sand color verging on gold.

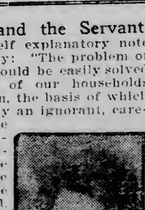
A smart parasol developed in contrasting colors has a row of shirring between the gores, producing a leaf-like effect. A very pretty parasol has a border of sheer crepe in a contrasting color, looped in each section and caught with a flat button effect. Battleship gray is a favorite color, being used alone in tailored designs, and in combination with the new reds and blues in elaborate designs.

Many striking shapes are seen. Among these is one with wide gores of richly colored material and narrow portions in stripes or checks. A cluster of shirring appears at the edge. Of special interest is the return of flat Japanese and Chinese effects, both plain and richly embroidered. Japanese prints are in both silk and cotton. Many Japanese designs have dark borders, with here and there a delicate bit of hand embroidery in gold. Sometimes odd-looking velvet birds in orange and blue tones are appliqued over the inside surface of the parasol.

Peggy Peabody's Observations

The Mistress and the Servant.

The following self explanatory note reached me recently: "The problem of domestic service would be easily solved if the mistresses of our households would form a union, the basis of which would be not to pay an ignorant, careless domestic the wages that a skilled, faithful one deserves. The scale of wages should be in proportion to the services rendered. Once such a system is established, we shall have effort on one side and appreciation on the other."



Rather a simple way out of the difficulty if it could be proven practicable. I find that most women in search of servants have to take about what they can get, whether they pleased them or not, or whether capable or incapable. The hiring of a girl is not left to the mistress of our modern establishments. It is the cook, the second girl or the general housework girl who decides whether she will or will not accept your offer of a comfortable home, light work and good wages.

The union idea with a scale of wages is a splendid one, if it could be put into working order. There is a servant girls' union in Chicago and maybe in other large cities. The members demand certain wages, specified privileges and what not, and without doubt have little difficulty in obtaining what they ask. Members of this union are, I believe, competent in their lines and guaranteed to give satisfaction. It is needless to say that they are paid the highest wages.

If mistresses of homes were one and all first-class homekeepers, knowing how everything should be done, it might be an easier manner to establish this union of housewives who could not be prevailed upon to hire a maid and pay her a certain wage unless her services were worth it. But women are not in all instances cleanly or capable in the conduct of their homes, and furthermore some of them do not know how a home should be run. What would be very unsatisfactory to one mistress would pass with another as very acceptable work.

To get the servant question on a more satisfactory basis we must begin with the mistresses and see that they are thoroughly taught the various branches of housekeeping. Only then can they train and keep servants successfully. They also need, at least many of them do, to be more human and sympathetic in their treatment of the stranger woman, less fortunate in her life, who comes to help them make their homes comfortable and happy. That will have a very helpful influence on the question.

BIRDSEYE VIEW OF DARDANELLES, CONSTANTINOPLE AND THE BOSPORUS

The cross mark in the narrow part of the Dardanelles shows the vicinity in which two British and one French battleships were sent to the bottom. Turkish forts line both sides of the Dardanelles, the sea of Marmora, and the Bosporus. The allied fleet is shown to be up in front of Kilid Bahr, which, at last reports, was still replying to the heavy bombardment of the battleships.

the men on the F-4 apparently have been unable to use them and that fact, coupled with the fact that they have not released their marker buoy, makes officials fear the worst has happened.

Searching For Boat.

Honolulu, March 26.—Wireless messages early today from vessels searching for the missing submarine F-4 which was submerged at 9:15 a. m. yesterday and which has not yet reappeared, state that the work is progressing but that there is nothing definite to report. The fate of the twenty-six men aboard the submarine is still a matter of conjecture and grave apprehension.

The shore off which the F-4 is believed to be lying on the ocean bed, is steep and shelves to a precipitous drop. If the submarine lies in thirty-five fathoms of water, it is beyond the reach of divers and it is feared, will only work deeper to the dropping off point.

Divers Unconscious.

Divers yesterday descended to a depth of 196 feet, which is a local record, and were drawn up unconscious.

Relatives of members of the crew here are frantic for news. James M. Hoggett, electrician of Macedonia, Mo., who was on shore leave, is the only member of the crew known to have escaped.

Other submarines stationed here are engaged in searching the ocean bed for the missing F-4, while the naval tug Navajo and other vessels are grappling for the submarine. Shortly after midnight the Navajo and the tug Intrepid reported their lines fast at a depth of thirty-five fathoms to what was believed to be submarine F-4. Other vessels of the submarine fleet immediately went to the spot to investigate.

The flotilla of submarines stationed here were engaged in target practice early yesterday near the harbor entrance when the F-4 was submerged. The three other divers of the F-4 type noted the disappearance, but no real apprehension was felt for her safety until several hours had passed.

Lieut. Alfred L. Ede was in command of the F-4 during yesterday's target practice.

No Hope at 120 Fathoms.

Washington, March 26.—If the submarine F-4 is sunk in 120 fathoms of water—720 feet—as Honolulu dispatches report, naval officers have no hopes whatever that any of her crew is alive. At such a depth, they say, the submarine must be crushed and full of water.

Early today the navy department received this dispatch from Commander Charles E. Smith, commanding the First submarine division of the Pacific fleet off Honolulu:

"F-4 left tender at 9 a. m. for submerged run March 25. Failed to return to surface. Entrance of harbor is thirty fathoms of water covered with fuel oil. Diving and dragging."

Commander Smith's mention of the entrance of the harbor being covered with oil created grave alarm at the navy department. It was feared that the F-4 had struck a rock, although it was pointed out that Lieut. Ede might have blown out the vessel's oil to lighten her burden.

Equipped With Signal.

But the alarm of officials was increased by the omission in Commander Smith's report of any reference to a signal from the submerged craft. She was equipped with a marker buoy attached to the outside of the submarine and capable of being released from within. As no mention was made of the appearance of the marker buoy, officials concluded it has not come to the surface.

The usual diving radius of a submarine is between 150 and 200 feet. The world's record for diving, made by the F-1, a sister ship of the sunken F-4 in San Francisco bay two years ago, is 283 feet, at which depth she remained for ten minutes and cruised at a speed of six knots. At that depth the hull creaked and groaned under the tremendous pressure and Lieut. James B. Howell, her commander, reported that the water seeped through the seams.

Only One Dispatch.

Early today the navy department was without full information from Rear Admiral Moore and merely had one brief dispatch saying the F-4 had gone down and had not returned and the offer from Commander Smith.

Commander Smith's dispatch mentioning a thirty-fathom depth gave some hope that the F-4 might not be more than 180 feet down, in which case there might be a chance for the rescue of her crew if the work were done promptly.

Particularly Fortunate.

Until the present time the United States navy has been particularly fortunate with its submarines. Not a life has been lost in their operations, although some of the ships have sustained minor accidents, such as are not uncommon to the hazard of submarine maneuvers. European navies, however, have had several serious accidents, in which submarines have gone to the bottom and, with their crews, never have been recovered.

It was pointed out today that American submarines have one feature of construction intended to meet just such an emergency as confronts the F-4. On their outer skin are large eyes into which grappling hooks, being trained from rescue ships on the surface may catch and the sunken craft may be hauled into shallow water or to the surface.

The waters of Honolulu harbor, where the F-4 lies, have volcanic rock formations at their bottom, with tall sharp peaks and deep, narrow pockets. The fear is that the F-4 may have fallen into one of the latter.

Gravely Endangered.

While naval officers of course have not given up hope for the F-4, the reports thus far received convinced them that the lives of the crew were gravely endangered if not already lost.

The fact that the marker buoy apparently had not appeared on the surface was considered as very serious. Naval officers said the only operation necessary to send the marker to the surface to give searchers the exact location of the submerged vessel was to turn a wheel.

Some of the submarine experts have a theory that the F-4 may have struck a rock and that the waters may have rushed in before the crew could release the marker. Others of the experts counted an explosion as among the possibilities, and thought the presence of oil on the water might be one indication of that. The oil, however, might have been released by the crew to lighten the ship.

Submerged Twelve Hours.

Several years ago one of the earlier type of submarines was submerged off Newport, R. I., for twelve hours, and grave fears were entertained, but she reached the surface with the crew in good condition.

The fact that the F-1 had been submerged successfully to a depth of 283 feet and withstood the test was considered a favorable indication for the recovery of F-4, provided she is not in 720 feet of water, as first reported. Statistics of the hydrographic office show the waters of Honolulu harbor to be generally 300 feet deep, but a short distance from the entrance to the harbor there is a precipitate decline, where the depth reaches 1,800 feet. The greatest depth on naval records to which divers have successfully ventured is about forty fathoms. That was at the wreck of the Empress of Ireland, which sank in the St. Lawrence river.

Lieut. Ede in Command.

Lieut. Alfred Louis Ede, junior grade, in command of the F-4, is 28 years old. His home is at Reno, Nev. He was graduated from the naval academy in the class of 1908, and most of his service has been on the Pacific coast. He was first on the West Virginia, later on the torpedo boat Tuxton, and in 1913 on the Alert under instruction in submarines. July 14, 1914, he took command of the F-4 and went immediately to Honolulu. The lieutenant was married just before sailing for Honolulu, where his wife is.

The F-4 was fitted with the latest improved air locks in her conning tower, enabling her men to escape and rise to the surface in as much as thirty fathoms of water. The fact that none has appeared leads to the belief that the boat lies much deeper.

RUSSIAN TROOPS

steamer Medea by a German submarine has caused much uneasiness in Holland, where the people already are irritated by the recent capture by Germany of two Dutch merchantmen.

Various reports represent the allied fleet as again entering the Dardanelles, but as official confirmation is lacking, it is believed the movements of the allied warships have been limited to an effort to cover the operations of mine sweepers.

German Statement.

Berlin, March 26, by wireless to Sayville.—Army headquarters today gave out a report on the progress of the war reading as follows:

"On the heights of the Meuse, southeast of Verdun and near Combres, the French yesterday again attacked strongly in an attempt to take the German position, but after a determined engagement they were repulsed.

"The fighting at Hartmann's-Weilerkopf still continues.

"The Russian attacks on the lakes to the east of Augustowo have been repulsed."

French Statement.

Paris, March 26, via London, 3:30 p. m.—The official statement given out today by the French war office says:

"Yesterday was calm along the greater part of the front, with almost continuous rain. Attempted attacks by the enemy between the Meuse and the Moselle were easily and immediately repulsed.

"The enemy made two attacks at Bois de Consenvoye and Bois des Caures, northward of Verdun, three at Eparges and two at Bois Le Pretre."

Henry A. Withers, gunner's mate, first class, San Diego, Cal. Charles A. Withers, brother, same address.

In making public the list, as shown by the navy department records corrected up to March 7, officials pointed out that it was probable that some of the men had since been transferred from the F-4 and that other men not mentioned in the list had been transferred to that vessel, as numerous changes are constantly being made in a submarine flotilla. The department has cabled to Honolulu for a correct list of the men on board the F-4.

Senator Ward, "why need we listen to any more?"

Mr. Bailey had continued only a few minutes longer when Senator Robert C. Dunn of Princeton interrupted.

"Mr. Bailey's figures are very interesting,' he said, "but for one I have heard enough to convince me ten times over. The bill is reasonable—only too reasonable. I move that it be recommended to pass."

Which the committee did unanimously.

Not a New Idea.

Edward C. Gale of Minneapolis, who spoke first in behalf of the bill and stated that it had been introduced at his instance, pointed out that the idea of limiting public expenditures is not new. There are limitations now that apply generally, like the limti of 2 mills on village levies. But while these limitations are adequate for most of the communities, when extraordinary valuations occur as in the communities having valuable mines within their boundaries they are meaningless. For instance, he said, Hibbing with all its extravagance has never yet levied the 2 mills the law allows it to levy.

Mayor D. Baillie of Duluth, who followed Mr. Gale, was presenting the figures he gave the house committee on cities last week when the committee decided it had heard enough to convince it, and unanimously approved the bill.

Several of the committee members thought the limitation should be much more rigid than that proposed in the bill, and Senator George H. Sullivan of Stillwater suggested that there also be a limit on indebtedness. However, the advocates of the bill said they were content with the very easy limitation it proposes, and no such change was made in the bill.

Second Choice Voting.

The Holmberg bill abolishing the second choice feature of the primary election system and providing a simpler and more practical method of conducting contests on state offices was recommended to pass yesterday afternoon by the senate committee on elections. The vote was 4 to 2, Senators Sageng and Lende objecting to the abolition of the second choice feature.

An examination of the roll call by which the Larimore-Davis resolution for state-wide prohibition was beaten in the house yesterday will disclose the fact that many county optionists joined with the liberal element defeating it.

Moreover, they consider the defeat of the resolution to be a victory for temperance.

They feared that if state-wide prohibition were thrown into the arena it would so complicate the issue as to prove a veritable backfire against county option.

For instance, in counties where the county option outcome is close, they declared, it would be argued that there is no use worrying much about county option, "for pretty soon we shall have a chance to vote the whole state dry."

"That whole thing would leave wet many of the close counties," said Representative C. H. Warner of Aitkin, an ardent county optionist who voted against the Larimore-Davis resolution, yesterday afternoon. "The way to get prohibition is to give county option a chance to dry up as much of the state as it can. Then state-wide prohibition can be adopted. The chances are that it would fail now, and that it would simply hamper the working of the county option law."

Suffragists Happy.

The suffragists are happy over their first victory of the session, in overturning an adverse report of the elections committee on the Larson bill to allow women to vote on president. The fight for this bill was led by Mary D. McFadden, formerly of Duluth.

The Larson bill proposes for Minnesota something like the plan adopted in Illinois, where the suffrage was extended to women on all offices not fixed by the Constitution. No constitutional amendment is necessary to do this, and if the bill passes it will give the women of Minnesota a chance to vote on president at the presidential primaries and the general election next year.

The adoption of the minority report on the Larson bill only put it at the foot of general orders in the house, which, with the list more than 300 bills long, is a long, long way from a safe position. However, there is a chance that it will be reached, and a chance that it will be passed. A similar bill in the senate is fathered by Senators Putnam and Sageng.

Victory for North.

Representative W. J. North of Duluth won another victory yesterday on the bill which he and Representative P. H. Konzen of Hallock introduced to provide public school education for children who are deaf, blind, of defective speech and of subnormal mentality. The senate committee on education unanimously recommended it for passage. It has already passed the house. Provision is made in the bill for state aid of $200 per pupil where local schools provide special educational facilities for such children. In no school in the state is there such provision now.

The house yesterday afternoon unanimously passed the bill for short-term fire insurance rates, a measure demanded by merchants all over the state. The bill provides that the short term rate shall be a pro rata of the regular annual rate, plus 10 per cent.

* * *

The bill by Representative Elmer E. Adams of Fergus Falls providing that the state shall bond all public officials at cost was killed by the house yesterday afternoon. Sharp opposition having arisen, Mr. Adams moved that his bill be put at the head of general orders so that it could be considered again and amended. His motion failing, Mr. Adams moved the indefinite postponement of his bill, which prevailed.

Jones on Compensation Act.

Senator Jones of Duluth, who waged a lonely fight in the senate yesterday on the bill amending the workmen's compensation act according to an agreement between labor and employers, got 22 votes on two of his eight amendments, but that was twelve votes less than enough. Regarding his fight on the bill, Mr. Jones said last night:

"I offered eight amendments to the workmen's compensation law because I was convinced that the proposed amendments of the conference committee did not materially improve the law so far as helping the injured workman is concerned. At least two-thirds of the amendments proposed by the conference merely clarified the language of the old law, but if the house adopts the senate bill there will be no real increase in the maximum and minimum compensation to be paid injured employes. The big majority of injured will not be affected by the maximum clause and the minimum is increased only 50 cents per week.

"Nor is this a real minimum because the bill provides that if an injured employe is receiving less than $6.50 per week at the time of the injury, then he shall receive as compensation the amount of his wages. Ohio has a minimum of $5, but this is a real minimum. No injured person receives less than this amount and the industrial commission has the right to review a case and, if they decide that the injured workman's earning capacity would increase were it not for the injury, they may readjust the compensation.

"My amendments proposed to decrease the waiting time from two weeks to one week. At present an injured man does not receive compensation for the first two weeks in his injury. It is estimated that three-fourths of the injured in Minnesota are under two weeks' duration and this amendment would make our law the equal of the Ohio law in this respect.

"Another amendment proposed to increase the compensation from 50 per cent of the daily wages to 66 2-3 per cent as is being paid under the Ohio and New York laws, and the laws of several other states.

"The reason I voted against the bill on its final passage was because I believe thoroughly in the principle of state insurance and I now have a bill before the employers' liability committee providing for a system of state insurance, and which I expect will be reported out in a few days."

The senate finance committee last night heard Senators Adams of Duluth and Vibert of Cloquet on the Jay Cooke state park bill and will act on it later. The members seemed favorably impressed.

Representative Knud Wefald of Hawley was expected during the day to make the motion discharging the efficiency and economy committee from further service, which will probably be adopted and which means the end of the bill.

More New Bills.

The following bills came in:

Representative Parker, limiting the pay of town treasurers to $50 a year; Representatives Haislet and Swenson, limiting the pay of town treasurers to $40; Representative Southwick, providing for public school instruction in agriculture, domestic science, manual training and commercial training, and granting special state aid therefor; Representatives Girling, Larimore and Lydiard, authorizing the bringing of actions against the state; Representative North, the three Duluth park bills introduced yesterday by Senator Adams; Representatives Hauser and Scott, providing for a state teachers' insurance and retirement fund; Representative Woodfill and Senator Adams, regulating the taxation of costs in the Two Harbors municipal court.

* * *

Representative A. F. Tiegen again tried shortly before noon to advance to the calendar his bill forbidding future trading in grain. Representative Swenson, to get rid of it, moved to suspend the rules and put the bill on final passage, and his motion prevailed. The house then took up the bill.

STILLMAN H. BINGHAM.

DRUNKENNESS

is a curable disease, which requires treatment. The ORRINE treatment can be used with absolute confidence. It destroys all desire for whiskey, beer, or other intoxicants. Can be given in the home. No sanitarium expense. No loss of time from work. Can be given secretly. If after a trial you fail to get any benefit from its use your money will be refunded.

ORRINE is prepared in two forms: No. 1, secret treatment, a powder; ORRINE No. 2, in pill form, for those who desire to take voluntary treatment. Costs only $1.00 a box. Come in and talk over the matter with us. Ask for booklet.

GERMAN MARSHAL GOES TO BULGARIA

Gen. Von der Goltz Leaves Constantinople Where He Has Been for Months.

London, March 26.—The Exchange Telegraph company has received a dispatch from Athens saying that Field Marshal von Der Goltz, who has been in Constantinople for some months past, representing German military interests, has left the Turkish capital for Sofia, Bulgaria. At the same time Gen. Liman von Sanders, the commander of the Turkish forces in Europe, has left Constantinople for Adrianople.

Field Marshal von Der Goltz was the first military governor of Belgium. He was sent to Constantinople from Belgium the latter part of 1914 to advise in the matter of the conduct of the Turkish campaign. Gen. von Sanders has been identified with the Turkish army for several years.

The departure of these two officers from Constantinople, one for Sofia, the capital of Bulgaria, and the other for Adrianople, the second most important city in European Turkey and not far from the Bulgarian frontier, indicates some sudden development in the Balkan situation which is causing Turkey concern.

A dispatch under date of March 21 from Athens said the Turks were fortifying Lule Burgas, forty-five miles southeast of Adrianople, and other places in the fear of a possible attack by Bulgaria. A Turkish army at Lule Burgas is being trained by German officers.

MADE MILLIONS IN TIMBER LANDS

John Stewart, Pioneer Lumberman, Dies at Aurora, Ill., Age 89.

Aurora, Ill., March 26.—John Stewart, millionaire owner of great tracts of timber lands throughout the northwest died here today aged 89 years.

He gave a granddaughter, Mrs. Esther Stewart Richards a check for $100,000 as a wedding present in 1913. In the same year gifts of lands to relatives totalled upwards of $1,000,000.

Mr. Stewart laid the foundation of his wealth in acquiring Wisconsin timber lands in the years just preceding the Civil war.

Mr. Stewart was a member of the Illinois legislature for several terms. His son, T. B. Stewart, is now a member of the upper house of that body.

Mr. Stewart got his start when, as a young man of 22, he walked 400 miles from St. Charles, Ill., to Wausau, Wis., to get a job in a sawmill paying $16 a month, $8 a month more than he was receiving as a wood chopper at St. Charles. He lived frugally at Wausau and in a year bought his first tract of timber for almost nothing.

TO INQUIRE INTO DEATH OF GIRL

Alleged Head of "Church of Kingdom of God" in Custody.

Alliance, Ohio, March 26.—An inquest into the death of Miss Amy Tanner, follower of the "Church of the Kingdom of God," cult, was to be put under way by Coroner Douds this afternoon. It was expected that by that time an analysis of the contents of the stomach which had been sent to a state chemist at Columbus, would be completed and its results made known. Meantime P. A. George, alleged head of the cult, was held in custody in the city jail here, though no serious charge as yet had been placed against him.

It is alleged that Miss Tanner was in a dying condition when officials who had been watching the "brotherhood home" the dwelling place of the cult, raided it, and, using such force as was necessary, removed the young girl to a hospital where she died yesterday.

George is quoted by the police as having styled himself "interpreter of the voice of God" and this they assert was sufficient for holding him on a charge of suspicion pending the result of the autopsy on the body of Miss Tanner.

DO NOT WANT THE CARGO UNLOADED

Owners of Grain on Wilhelmina Will Oppose Proposed Action.

London, March 26.—The solicitor of the treasury today sent a letter to the attorneys of the American steamer Wilhelmina, saying that because of complaints concerning delay in the hearing of the case of this vessel before a prize court, application would be made to the prize court to unload the cargo of the steamer and sell such part of it as was deteriorating.

Such action will be opposed by the attorneys for the Wilhelmina for the reason that the W. T. Green Commission company of St. Louis has kept the cargo of grain, flour and food products on the ship for a period of six weeks at an expense of $42,000 that it might be ready for immediate shipment to Germany in the event of a favorable decision by the court.

NEW BATTLESHIP IS READY FOR ARGENTINA.

Philadelphia, March 26.—The battleship Moreno, built on the Delaware river for the Argentine republic, left here today for Hampton roads, where a reception will be held tomorrow. After the festivities there the Moreno will return to Delaware bay for additional fuel and will later proceed to Buenos Aires. Before leaving here the battleship took on twenty-eight carloads of smokeless powder.

NO CONTRABAND ON STEAMER FINLAND.

Rome, March 25, via Paris, March 26.—A dispatch from Genoa says the steamer Finland, which was accompanied there from Naples by customs officials who suspected the cargo aboard contained contraband of war, has been released after a five days' search as no contraband was found.

The New Styles in Shoes

Fashion has been making some fantastic changes in the styles of footwear.

And still more are to come.

Some of these are founded on an economic condition due to topsy turvey conditions at many sources of supply.

Now the new lasts and leathers for spring are being shown—and these are being told about in our advertising columns.

No news is more important to the man or woman who wants to be well dressed than "shoe news."

WHAT ABOUT THE JITNEYS?

Only a few weeks ago Duluth heard of the "jitney bus" as something that had sprung into being in other cities and was invading one part of the country after another. Today the invasion has reached Duluth in full force, and so common are the cars that are being used in this traffic that it seems as if they pass certain corners during part of the day at the rate of about one a minute.

Of course they have aroused a deal of comment, and of course this comment is divided for and against them. They are called "the poor man's auto" and "the people's friend," and various other names that indicate them as caterers to the whole public as against favoring any class or interest. And although the fact of novelty undoubtedly enters into their present use to some extent, there can be no question that they are cutting into other forms of traffic, principally, of course, that of the taxicabs and the street cars.

But there are serious problems connected with the arrival and steadily increasing number of the jitneys. That they may interfere with older established lines of transportation will interest the general public but little. But there are other things to consider than the protection of established interests, and among these is the safety of the public, both those who travel in the jitneys and those who do not.

Anybody who has seen one of these small, light built cars with from nine to eleven people jammed into it or hanging on the outer parts of it, and rushing up or down the street, needs nothing more than a single sight of that kind to convince him of the danger in the present methods of operating the jitneys. The breaking of a running-board, an unexpected jolt of the car, a sudden setting of an emergency break, or even a nervous relaxation of one person's grip—any one of these things, not to mention the ever-present possibility of skidding, would be almost sure to mean at least one death and perhaps half a dozen.

It doesn't need—what was seen on First street one day this week—the spectacle of a loaded jitney swinging around a corner on two wheels to convince the observing man or woman that these vehicles, in some hands, are dangerous both to those in them and those nearby. Just because a machine has the word "jitney" stuck on it somewhere, and is habitually used to carry passengers, does not make it any less dangerous when carelessly driven than if it had no sign and carried nobody for money.

Briefly, the jitney needs regulation. It uses the streets more than any other car, and continually uses the same section of the streets; and in its frequent trips to and fro it constitutes a greater menace to foot traffic than do other cars. These, and the further fact that it uses the public highway for purposes of public service for private gain, lay it open to regulation beyond that imposed on private cars in general. And the irresponsibility shown by some drivers, either of their own or of others' cars, makes early action on the subject necessary.

A bill now before the legislature provides certain restrictions, and empowers city authorities to impose others that may be needed owing to local conditions. Some modifications of that bill, especially as regards the bonds required and the liabilities covered by those bonds, might be advisable.

The jitney, whatever opposition it may meet on one ground or another, is a legitimate business venture, and as such is not to be legislated out of existence. But neither the street car service nor the steamboat service nor railway nor electric nor any other public service has the right or should expect to be permitted to be run haphazard, with no definite and competent responsibility to employes, patrons and the public.

That the jitney has a legitimate field for service nobody can or will try to deny. But that field is not yet established in Duluth, at least, and it is the duty of the authorities to try to determine that field, and limit the jitneys to it. That is the only way to guard the public from what is growing to be a serious proposition.

Now they tell us Shakespeare never was a butcher's apprentice—which seems like a mean advantage to take of the packers just when they are so rushed with war orders.

UP AND AT 'EM.

Later reports are that the killing of an American in Mexico City by a gang of irresponsibles was accompanied by the tearing and partial lowering of an American flag.

What better excuse could we ask than that for jumping aboard a horse, grabbing a few machine guns and shrapnel in one hand and an aeroplane and a submarine in the other and going down there to murder the whole Mexican people?

There's no government to which we can look for satisfaction. There's no likelihood of being able to identify the guilty ones. There's nobody responsible to anybody else. So it's a case of everybody or nobody so far as revenge is concerned.

Meanwhile we have in this country anywhere from a hundred thousand to a million husky, strong, capable young fellows whom we would just as soon have butchered and left unburied on Mexican soil. There are from a hundred thousand to a million women in the United States who would like to see husbands, sons, brothers or fathers slaughtered by reckless "Greasers." We have in our national treasury a few dollars that we couldn't use to better advantage than to murder a few Mexicans, and we have almost unlimited powers of increasing our national debt in order to murder a few more, and pay from five to twenty dollars a month to the American women who might be left dependent on account of the muss.

So let's not wait a minute. War and waste and murder and blood—that's the proper program. Then the next time some irresponsible gang of bandits in some other part of the world sees an American flag and an American citizen, said gang will promptly laugh at and spit on the one and laugh at and spit the other. And it will serve 'em both right for belonging to such a fool nation as we would have shown ourselves to be.

Did you ever try to cultivate the dandelion as a means of discouraging it?

STRAW BALLOTS.

The Herald is not publishing the results of "straw ballots" on the popularity of the several candidates in the present city campaign. Some complaints have been made to the effect that publication of the results of votes of this kind had been refused. Such requests will continue to meet with refusal, whoever may be favored in the results of the different "votes."

Somebody has said that straw ballots get their name from the proverb that "straws show which way the wind blows." If that is true, the name was given by somebody who knew nothing about straw ballots. They show no more about general popular sentiment than a thermometer in your home shows about the temperature in the middle of the street forty blocks away.

You can regulate the temperature in your home. Also, you can regulate the company where you take a straw vote. You can invite a dozen or more men whose wishes you know to meet at a given place, and when they get there you can take a straw vote—and it will mean just the fact that these men met where you wanted them to and did what you knew they would do. And it won't mean a bit more than that.

Straw votes are being taken here and there in the city, sometimes with one man favored, sometimes with another. They may interest those who take part in them—to others they are neither significant nor interesting. Nobody familiar with the method will be influenced by them—they are not news—they mean nothing—and they get nowhere.

If he were a few years younger his associates would be very likely to dub him "Piute Scott."

"BY SEPTEMBER THIRTIETH."

Close on the optimistic predictions of early victory by the leaders of the allied armies, comes an offer by Lloyds to insure goods, for a premium of 75 per cent, against damage resulting from the war after Sept. 30. It may be there is some ground for confidence in the fact of such insurance, but the rate is rather high for that confidence to be very great.

To be sure the allies have been gathering new forces and resources in the months of comparative idleness, getting ready for what Tommy Atkins has forenamed "the big push." Things seem to be fairly ready for that "push," so far as the allies are concerned, and Kitchener sticks to his prediction of "real war" after the first of May.

The thing that casts doubt on the success of all these plans is the fact that we know little or nothing of what the Germans have been doing all this time. Occasional stories have been current that seemed to indicate discouragement or privation among them, but these have all come through unfriendly hands, whatever the accredited source of their origin. And is it not an accepted practice for training camps, during secret practice, to send out "bear" stories about conditions and progress?

Maybe the Germans are to be crushed by Sept. 30—and maybe they are not. As an impartial guess, based on partial information, we would be tempted to favor the latter possibility. England has given the world to understand that the war is not to stop short of the thorough crushing of Prussia. It does not seem reasonable that such a feat could be accomplished, even with extraordinary successes attending the allied armies, in the space of five months, during which the fighting would be carried on upon German soil and under surroundings in every way advantageous to the Germans.

On the other hand, the German forces are so hemmed in that their success in the war by the end of that time does not seem reasonable, either.

As nearly as can be guessed, the best chance for the end of the war within the next few months lies in the possibility that the men who are doing the fighting will get sick of it and quit en masse. And that seems quite as unreasonable as any other idea.

And the chances are that more than half Europe never even heard of Gen. Scott.

A Humorist in Gardening

Joseph Addison: I am one, you must know, who am looked upon as a humorist in gardening. I have several acres about my house, which I call my garden, and which a skillful gardener would not know what to call. It is a confusion of kitchen and parterre, orchard and flower garden, • • • mixed and interwoven with one another. • • • My flowers grow up in several parts of the garden in the greatest luxuriancy and profusion. I am so far from being fond of any particular one, by reason of its rarity, and if I meet with any one in a field which pleases me, I give it a place in my garden.

By this means, when a stranger walks with me, he is surprised to see several large spots of ground covered with ten thousand different colors, and has often singled out flowers he might have met with under a common hedge in a field or in a meadow, as some of the greatest beauties of the place. The only method that I observe in this particular is to range in the same quarter the products of the same season, that they may make their appearance together, and compose a picture of the greatest variety.

There is the same irregularity in my plantations, which run into as great a wilderness as their natures will permit. I take in none that do not naturally rejoice in the soil; and am pleased when I am walking in a labyrinth of my own raising, not to know whether the next tree I shall meet with is an apple or oak, an elm or pear tree. • • • You must know • • • that I look upon the pleasure we take in a garden as one of the most innocent delights in human life. A garden was the habitation of our first parents before the fall. It is naturally apt to fill the mind with calmness and tranquillity, and to lay all its turbulent passions at rest. It gives us a great insight into the contrivance and wisdom of Providence, and suggests innumerable subjects for meditation. I cannot but think the very complacency and satisfaction which a man takes in these works of Nature to be a laudable if not a virtuous habit of mind.

Quakes Are Beneficial.

Boston Transcript: Frank A. Perret of the Carnegie geophysical laboratory of Washington and of the Springfield Volcanic Research society was a passenger aboard the White Star liner Celtic, which arrived recently from Italian ports and the Azores. He said:

"There's an earthquake every three and a half days throughout the world, yet it may be possible to protect cities against their effects. Mount Etna is getting ready for an eruption which can be predicted to a certainty and lives saved. I had three months' warning that Vesuvius was about to be active. I will admit, however, that I hurried to the crater at least twenty-five times before the actual eruption occurred.

"Boston would not suffer materially from an earthquake shock like that which wrecked Avezzano, Italy, and destroyed 44,000 lives within a district of about twenty-five square miles," said Mr. Perret, "because the dwellings and buildings in this vicinity are of a construction that ordinarily withstands shock.

"Italy is due to have another earthquake in about ten years and by that time buildings there may be in better shape. Those in Messina and Avezzano could not be better devised to go to smash when the earth's crust gets rocking. The structures are of masonry that crumbles. Brick and iron would be much better and wooden houses, like the Boston cottage of the man of moderate means, would be reasonably immune.

"Earthquakes really are beneficent, because they relieve the pressure and strain when Nature is adjusting the earth in process of cooling, thus avoiding after a long interval a tremendous break that would destroy all life. Here in New England instruments are recording shocks frequently. Yet there is no fear that sections of New England will be devastated, principally for the reason that the earth's crust has become set. It seems to me that instruments can be devised that will indicate activity, the forerunner of a disturbance, so that the public may be informed several months in advance. Existing instruments have made it possible to calculate with a fair degree of accuracy the locality and approximate time of an earthquake."

Mr. Perret lived near the crater of Vesuvius for three months while studying the volcano. He will return to Italy after short stays in New York and Washington.

About Frank James.

W. R. Rose in the Cleveland Plain Dealer:

No, Myrtle, Frank James, who has just died in Missouri at the age of 74, was not a relative of Henry.—Boston Globe.

No, he was a brother of Jesse, whose sentences would have been longer than Henry's if the authorities could have caught him.

The Whistle

A Letter Written to Mme. Brillon by Benjamin Franklin.

I received my dear friend's two letters, one for Wednesday and one for Saturday. This is again Wednesday. I do not deserve one for today, because I have not answered the former. But, indolent as I am and averse to writing, the fear of having no more of your pleasing epistles, if I do not contribute to the correspondence, obliges me to take up my pen; and, as Mr. B. has kindly sent me word that he sets out tomorrow to see you, instead of spending this Wednesday evening as I have done its namesakes, in your delightful company, I sit down to spend it in thinking of you—in writing to you and in reading over and over again your letters.

I am charmed with your description of Paradise and with your plan of living there, and I approve much of your conclusion, that in the meantime we should draw all the good we can from this world. In my opinion we might draw more good from it than we do and suffer less evil if we would take care not to give too much for whistles. For to me it seems that most of the unhappy people we meet with are become so by neglect of that caution.

You ask what I mean. You love stories and will excuse my telling one of myself.

When I was a child of 7 years old my friends, on a holiday, filled my pockets with coppers. I went directly to a shop where they sold toys for children; and being charmed with the sound of a whistle that I met by the way in the hands of another boy, I voluntarily offered and gave all my money for one. I then came home and went whistling all over the house, much pleased with my whistle, but disturbing all the family. My brothers and sisters and cousins, understanding the bargain I had made, told me I had given four times as much for it as it was worth; put me in mind what good things I might have bought with the rest of the money and laughed at me so much for my folly that I cried with vexation; and the reflection gave me more chagrin than the whistle gave me pleasure.

This, however, was afterwards of use to me, the impression continuing on my mind, so that often when I was tempted to buy some unnecessary thing, I said to myself, "Don't give too much for the whistle," and I saved myself money.

As I grew up, came into the world and observed the actions of men, I thought I met with many, very many, who gave too much for the whistle.

When I saw one too ambitious for court favor, sacrificing his time in attendance on levees, his repose, his liberty, his virtue and, perhaps, his friends, I have said to myself, "This man gave too much for his whistle."

When I saw another fond of popularity, constantly employing himself in political bustles, neglecting his own affairs and ruining them by that neglect, he pays, indeed, said I, too much for his whistle.

If I knew a miser, who gave up every kind of comfortable living, all the pleasures of doing good to others, all the esteem of his fellow citizens and the joys of benevolent friendship, for the sake of accumulating wealth, poor man, said I, you pay too much for your whistle.

When I met with a man of pleasure, sacrificing every laudable improvement of the mind, or of his fortune, to mere corporeal sensations and ruining his health in their pursuit, mistaken man, I said, you are providing pain for yourself, instead of pleasure; you give too much for your whistle.

If I see one fond of appearance or fine clothes, fine houses, fine furniture, fine equipage, all above his fortune, for which he contracts debts and ends his career in a prison; alas! say I, he has paid dear, very dear, for his whistle.

When I see a beautiful, sweet-tempered girl married to an ill-natured brute of a husband, what a pity, say I, that she should pay so much for a whistle!

In short, I conceive that great part of the miseries of mankind are brought upon them by the false estimates they have made of the value of things and by their giving too much for their whistles.

Yet I ought to have charity for these unhappy people, when I consider that, with all this wisdom of which I am boasting, there are certain things in the world so tempting, for example, the apples of King John, which happily are not to be bought; for if they were put to sale by auction, I might very easily be led to ruin myself in the purchase and find that I had once more given too much for the whistle.

Adieu, my dear friend, and believe me ever yours very sincerely and with unalterable affection.

Limitations of Poker

New York World: The French writer who draws an interesting comparison between war and the great American game of poker admits when he comes to the aeroplane, by means of which belligerents find what kind of cards the enemy holds, that the parallel is faulty. Having made this discovery, the wonder is that he did not abandon his study altogether.

War as now conducted is becoming less and less like poker every day. Poker is a game in which much skill and craft may be displayed, but when played by persons equally skillful and crafty its results depend chiefly upon chance. To win in such a contest of wit and nerve it is necessary to have cards, and, except as trickery, which in our far Western states used to be a capital offense, is resorted to, there is only one way to get them, and that is by luck.

It must be a denatured poker that they have in Europe if anybody can see a resemblance between it and the methodical trench-fighting that is now going on in France and Belgium. There have been poker contests that lasted for days at a time, but they always had a spectacular end and somebody was put to rout. Antagonists in war now face each other for months and neither side makes a cleanup.

While we cannot tell as yet just what the final effect of the aeroplane upon war is going to be, we know without any ifs and ands what it would do to poker. If a commander in the field draws three army corps from the reserves, his enemy knows at once the strength of every battalion. In the select American poker-playing society of an earlier day, knowledge of that kind when an adversary drew three cards would have been adjudged unneutral, in violation of international law, contrary to civilization and subversive of human rights. Sure-thing war may be carried on in that hideous fashion, but not poker, in which nothing is sure until you have the stakes in your hand.

Crisis Involved.

Philadelphia Public Ledger: "Are you familiar with the motives of Blink's play?"

"Yes; he needed the money."

Seeing America First

By Fred C. Kelly.

By going about the thing quietly and systematically, it is possible to have a lot of fun and harmless amusement out of the New York system of Extra Charges in restaurants.

New York is—naturally—the home of the Extra Charge. But like many another thing of a vicious or silly nature that gets its start in New York, the Extra Charge is making headway in other cities—just as did the eyebrow-mustache, the tango craze, and kindred misfortunes.

Charging 10 cents extra for the small bits of bread, or one small drop of cream for coffee or dessert, is a form of practical joke that would grow tame to anybody except a New York waiter. And it is the unabated zest of the waiter to see how the joke will work on each newcomer that gives the guest the opportunity to derive fun from an otherwise dull situation.

I remember going with a New York friend into the dining room of a big hotel there a year ago—just after the practice of charging 10 cents extra for bread first became vogue.

The food prices were extremely reasonable when considered from the point of view of the man running the hotel. That is, they were reasonably high—high enough to give him a chance to make a profit, even if he wished to give each guest a bite of bread entirely free of charge.

I noticed these prices, but what I did not notice was that my friend did not eat any bread. Instead he kept shoving the bread plate over toward me. It contained two cute little rolls, each about the size of an infant's fist. Now I rarely eat bread, but just to fill in the time while waiting for the approach of other food, broke the end off one of these wee rolls and gently, casually, masticated it.

Later I saw my friend exchange a funny little glance with the waiter and the waiter put something down on his pad with the air of a spring poet jotting down a new phrase. That one little bite of bread cost me, of course, 10 cents.

But it was cheap at the price, for I have worked the joke on various others since then, and, what is more to the point, I have had the fun of keeping jocular waiters from working it on me.

You sit down at a table in any of the so-called first-class New York eating places and a waiter places a bread dish, with two rolls on it—nobody seems to know why there are always just two—after which he lurks about to see what will happen. If you pick up one of the little rolls and eat a piece of it, or even if you mutilate it by breaking off a bite and do not eat it, an expression of fiendish satisfaction sweeps over the waiter's features. He has worked his joke and is happy. Your meal costs you 10 cents extra.

But if you know about the prank and gaze about at other diners in a preoccupied manner, as if you hadn't noticed the handy proximity of the two little rolls, the waiter will become as nervous as a witch.

In the biggest hotel in New York the other day, the waiter lurked about with a dotted line running from one eye to the bread dish and the other eye on me, until he was scarcely able to control his emotions. Three times within five minutes he came over and hospitably shoved the two little buns a trifle closer, lest I might have overlooked them. When I still manfully refrained from touching them, he leaned over and inquired confidentially:

"Don't you care for bread, sir?"

If you would completely exasperate a waiter just wait until he asks if you don't care for bread and then give him a non-committal reply.

Tell him that you have not entirely made up your mind yet whether you are going to eat bread or not. Explain to him that on some days you will not eat so much as a crumb, and that, on the other hand, without a moment of warning you will often be seized with an impulse to pick up a little roll and eat it—or part of it. Let him think that even while you talk to him this impulse may strike you. Keep him in suspense as long as possible.

By the time you have reached the dessert course without breaking any bread, he will resignedly remove the two little rolls to a side table and his face will wear an expression of mortification and despair that cannot but fill you with a deep sense of joy.

A Watchword of the Fleet.

(For purposes of recognition at night a small squadron of Elizabethan ships, crossing the Atlantic, adopted as their watchword the sentence: "Before the world—was God.")

They diced with death. Their big sea boots
Were greased with blood. They swept the seas
For England; and—we reap the fruits
Of their heroic deviltries!
Our creed is in the cold machine,
The unhuman devildome of brain,
The bolt that splits the midnight main,
Loosed at a lever's touch; the lean
Torpedo: "Twenty Miles of Power;"
The steel-clad dreadnoughts' dark array!
Yet . . . we that keep the conning tower
Are not so strong as they
Whose watchword we disdain.

They laughed at odds for England's sake!
We count, yet cast our strength away.
One admiral with the soul of Drake
Would break the fleets of hell today!
Give us the splendid heavens of youth,
Give us the banners of deathless flame,
The ringing watchwords of their fame;
The faith, the hope, the simple truth!
Then shall the deep indeed be swayed
Through all its boundless breadth and length,
Nor this proud England lean dismayed
On twenty miles of strength,
Or shrink from aught but shame.

Pull out by night, O leave the shore
And lighted streets of Plymouth town,
Pull out into the Deep once more!
There, in the night of their renown,
The same great waters roll their gloom
Around our midget period;
And the huge decks that Raleigh trod
Over our petty darkness loom!
Along the line the cry is passed
From all their heaven-illumined spars,
Clear as a bell from mast to mast,
It rings against the stars:
Before the world—was God.

Hobson's Choice.

Ohio State Journal: It would be interesting to meet Capt. Hobson personally and frankly tell him that you didn't exactly approve of his course at all points, just to see whether he'd decide that you were the secret agent of some foreign power or merely a victim of alcoholism.

Orthodox.

First Non-Partisan State Legislature

Suggestions and Comments From the State Press.

Something of a Boost.

Elk River Star-News: One doesn't know what those insiders down at St. Paul may think of a non-partisan legislature, but to an outsider it looks as though the statesmen are more prompt in responding to the demands of the public than any legislature within one's near remembrance.

Pertinent Questions.

Montevideo Leader: We wonder if the legislature will really do anything about lowering the taxes for the people. Of course there was a great hue and cry about high taxes before and during the late campaigns, but was it intended for anything more than campaign purposes? And if so, what, and which, and how, and why?

Applying Economy.

Warroad Pioneer: The legislature shows signs of economizing on public improvements, instead of on private snaps.

Alluding to Whom?

Red Wing Eagle: One good thing about Alabama is that its legislature meets only once in four years. There are those who think the state would be better off if it never met. And there are other states to which this idea might apply.

A Warning.

Baudette Region: The Minnesota legislature is now engaged in the festive pastime of making life miserable for the railroads. It might be at better work. Minnesota requires hundreds of additional miles of railroads, but they will never come until the companies are assured of a square deal. Making corporations the "goats" of freak legislation just because they are big will eventually prove a detriment to the whole state.

As to Gun-Toters.

Tower Weekly News: Should some of our legislators get a bill passed to forbid the construction and use of hip-pockets it would affect the range gun-toter the same as St. Patrick once upon a time did to some other things of a like nature.

Don't Rush Them Through.

Warren Register: The state is not necessarily the worse off because the legislature has passed few laws thus far. But we don't want to see it repeat its performance of four years ago, when, after dilly-dallying through three-fourths of the session, it passed hundreds of bills, practically without consideration, during the last three weeks.

Double Benefit.

Greenbush Tribune: There is a bill now before the legislature requiring every independent school district to publish its proceedings and also a bill compelling the county to publish the personal property tax list. Naturally these bills, if they become law, will benefit the printer, but would also be of much benefit to the public, especially the bill relating to personal taxes.

Just a Moment

Daily Strength and Cheer.

Compiled by John G. Quintius, the Sunshine Man.

Gratitude consists in a watchful, minute attention to the particulars of our state, and to the multitude of God's gifts, taken one by one. It fills us with a consciousness that God loves and cares for us, even to the least event and smallest need of life. It is a blessed thought, that from our childhood God has been laying His fatherly hands upon us, and always in benediction; that even the strokes of His hands are blessings, and among the chiefest we have ever received. When this feeling is awakened, the heart beats with a pulse of thanksgiving. And all our whole life is thereby drawn under the light of His countenance, and is filled with a gladness, serenity and peace which only thankful hearts can know. —H. E. Manning.

I have some good advice for you,
My merry little man.
'Tis this: where'er your lot is cast
O do the best you can!
And find the good in everything,
No matter what or where;
And don't be always looking for
The hardest things to bear.

O do not stand with idle hands,
And wait for something grand,
While precious moments slip away
Like grains of shining sand!
But do the duty nearest you,
And do it faithfully,
For stepping stones to greater things
These little deeds shall be.

In this big world of ours, my boy,
There's work for all to do.
Just measure by the golden rule
That which is set for you;
And try it with the square of truth
And with the line of right;
In every act and thought of yours
O keep your honor bright!

Billy Sunday Draws His Pay.

Philadelphia Dispatch in the Des Moines Register and Leader: A motor truck drew up to Billy Sunday's tabernacle tonight and three big policemen, three armed guards and two assistants piled sack after sack of jingling coins and crisp bills and checks into it for transportation to the vaults of the Land Title & Trust company.

Billy Sunday had drawn his pay. Three times today while Sunday was preaching there was that same scene. Thousands of dollars in checks, in government notes, in gold and in silver were being carried through the city's streets.

Those envelopes held checks—checks for all sorts of amounts. There may have been checks in four figures—nobody but the writers of such checks and the officials of the Land Title & Trust company as yet know to a certainty.

Sunday's sermon in the afternoon to men only, "The Moral Leper," brought 405 converts down the aisles. Two hundred and ninety-three came at night when he preached "Devil's Boomerangs; or Hot Cakes Off the Griddle," his well-known baseball sermon, also to men only. His sermon, "Promises," in the morning, netted 404 penitents, both men and women.

Scots Disliked Potatoes.

London Chronicle: Potatoes were long regarded with suspicion in England as productive of fevers and leprosy, but the most determined opposition to the tubers was encountered in Scotland. When Macdonald of Clanranald, in 1743, bought seed potatoes for his tenants they objected to planting them because the potato found no mention in the Bible. Even at a later period the general attitude was that of George Bachop, who, when his wife tried to induce him to eat potatoes, contemptuously replied: "Tatties! Tatties! I never supt on them a' my days and winna the nicht. Gie them to the herd, and get me rowans."

Twenty Years Ago

From The Herald of this date, 1895.

•••Charles W. Hoyt of West Duluth, with Mayor Lewis, President B. F. Howard, City Attorney Page Morris and others, left today for St. Paul carrying a petition from the city council to the legislature praying for the abolition of Municipal Court No. 2 at West Duluth. Petitions for and against the abolition of the court have been signed by many people at West Duluth. The trouble has been caused by Judge Himebaugh taking advantage of a legal technicality and refusing to make way for his successor chosen at the recent election.

•••Duluth temperature at 7 a. m. today, 22; maximum yesterday, 39; minimum yesterday, 33.

•••At the city council meeting last night, Mayor Lewis announced the appointment of William B. Welles as the successor of Capt. Farrell on the board of public works. Aldermen Cox and Ash were named as members of the board of health. At the request of the board of education, Gilbert Boyd was appointed a special policeman at the Central high school without pay. The council elected Dr. Graham and Fred Kugler as citizen members of the board of health. Alderman L. D. French was voted the job of completing the condemnation proceedings record in the city clerk's office at a salary of $3.50 a day. The salary of Fire Chief Black was increased from $2,000 to $2,500 a year.

•••The annual meeting of the Duluth and Superior Vessel Owners and Agents association was held in Capt. La Salle's office yesterday afternoon, and the following officers were elected: President, J. T. Rose; vice president, D. A. Christy; treasurer, J. P. Gordon; executive committee, Alexander McDougall, F. N. La Salle and Harry Hurdon.

•••At the meeting of the Unity club last night, "Coin's Financial School" was given a warm discussion which lasted until nearly 11 o'clock. Capt. C. C. Teare and Frank E. Searle took issue on the question in 30-minute papers, and following their discussion the audience became involved in a debate which did not lack for speakers, and all sides of the question were reviewed by men who saw it from different standpoints. The speakers included C. E. Lovett, O. H. Simonds and L. J. Hopkins.

•••The accumulated snow and ice had dammed up a culvert on Piedmont avenue and Fourth avenue west, and until yesterday the water was fifteen feet deep and covered quite an area. Last night the street gang let loose the water, but it clogged up again. About 11 o'clock this morning another opening was made and the water poured through with such force and rapidity as to cause a diminutive Johnstown flood. Several cellars were flooded, sheds and barns inundated and a roaring torrent sent down the dry creek bed towards the northeast.

Politics Not for Father.

New York Sun: According to Dr. Hadley of Yale, "the man who makes politics a profession and has a wife and children will have the choice of doing that which is not quite right and staying in office or doing that which is right and getting out of office, permitting his wife and children to starve."

The statement is somewhat large and professional, but if taken as solemn truth, the moral seems to be that politicians should be bachelors.

Fair Enough.

Washington Star: "What do you mean when you say you are going to establish a protectorate over us?" asked the weaker government.

"We mean," replied the stronger, "that we are going to protect ourselves as far as possible against any further annoyance on your part."

THE OPEN COURT

(Readers of The Herald are invited to make free use of this column to express their ideas about the topics of general interest, but discussions of sectarian religious differences are barred. Letters must not exceed 300 words—the shorter the better. They must be written on one side of the paper only, and they must be accompanied in every case by the name and address of the writer though these need not be published. A signed letter is always more effective, however.)

The Herald has received several communications regarding the candidates for city commissioner. No letters either for or against the candidates will be published in the Open Court.

THE CORNER STORES.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Have just read an article in the Open Court touching upon the Sunday trade at the little corner stores, and subsequent arrests and convictions at the hands of our police department. While I respect the police department and Commissioner Hicken for their efforts toward maintaining law and order, I really cannot see any reason for their attitude toward these stores. I am one of, I believe, scores of people who find the corner delicatessen a very convenient place at which to purchase a little Sunday evening lunch, and in the summer hardly a Sunday morning passes but what one of these stands accommodates me with a supply with which to camp all day at one of our parks, after waking up Sunday morning and finding the day an ideal one for camping.

Would it not be better to apply the rule of reason in this case? These fellows opernte those places for a livelihood; they are accommodating us, and their profits on a few 10-cent sales are not enormous. Surely they are entitled to them for their favors. Let's get over these fool ideas. Bury the hatchet and live and let live. There is nothing to be gained by such arrests and they only arouse ridicule and contempt. Do it for Duluth. W. A.

REPLIES TO CRITICS.

To the Editor of The Herald:

I acknowledge with thanks the explanation by "A Groceryman" of what a "Christian merchant" is. I never realized before what a good samaritan the grocery store proprietor was. Now please excuse my inquisitiveness, but there are a few things in his letter that I do not get quite clear. He says that Christ drove the money changers and sellers of doves from the temple because they were in the wrong place. Now, if it was such a good legitimate business, why should Christ overturn their tables and scatter their wares? Was He angry at the men or their business? It seems that if both men and business were all right, the temple should not have become contaminated by them. Now, speaking of deadbeats, every time one beats a groceryman, does he dig down in his pocket to make up the loss, or does the man who does pay have to make up the loss in added profits? As to maintaining a telephone, why a Socialist believes in free speech, so if this profit system prevents him from having a telephone in his home, do you blame him for wanting to save car fare? H. R. B. from Askov, Minn., has Socialist tendencies. I am sure any Socialist will agree with him that the producer and consumer must have a middleman and we have decided that Uncle Sam is the man. He comes well qualified. He operated a food distributing station during the construction of the Panama canal and did a business of upward of a million dollars a month. Regarding H. R. B.'s question of who would transport coffee from Brazil, does he think the United States would hold it in the Arbuckle warehouses in New York, along with sugar and all the other commodities, until the price got beyond reach of the consumer? "Mr. Groceryman" is not wholly to blame for the high cost of living, but he contributes to it by his unsystematic methods. Just suppose the government were to establish postal stations every three or four blocks along the street and that the carriers had no established route, would that have a tendency to cheapen the rate?

Now, "Mr. Christian Merchant Groceryman" must certainly know as well as we that the co-operative grocery is still in operation and being supported by working men as well as himself. The reason for the change of location is also well known to him. If not, ask most any commission man and he will tell. Yours truly, A. L. J.

'TIS THE WRONG WAY TO TIPPERARY.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Irish-Americans consider the so-called song entitled "'Tis a Long Way to Tipperary" as vile, vulgar caricature of their race—a product of the cheap London music halls, which manufacture filthy red light literature.

The subjoined verses have been written by a member of the Irish Literary society of Chicago for the millions of American homes that exclude such silly doggerel:

Up to Tipperary came an Englishman one day,
Ribbons flying from his cap and madguards half the way;
With three Vs upon his sleeve and shillings in his hand,
He wanted Irish boys to go and fight for Saxon Land.

Chorus—

'Tis the wrong way to Tipperary—'tis the wrong way, you know;
'Tis the wrong way to Tipperary, when recruiting you must go.
Good-bye English army, farewell friend and foe;
'Tis the wrong, wrong way to Tipperary, for our boys won't go.

Tommy wrote a letter unto Kitchener net day,
Saying, "h'Irish won't h'enlist, no matter what h'I say;
Answer not by telegraph, nor lay the blame on me;
They'll recognize your writing on the telegram, you see."

Chorus—

Kitch'ner wrote to Tommy, and what do you think he said?
"You can't fool the Irish now, nor are they easily led.
They will fight in front of us, and cover our retreat;
Just promise them Home Rule again and safety by our Fleet."

Chorus—

Ireland needs her boys at home, to battle for her rights;
They fought too long, alas! and won the other fellow's fights;
Curragh's, "Kicks" and King's Own Troops, they'll not forget for years.
My soul! we never doubted you—brave Irish Volunteers.

Chorus—

If you want a fighter, who was looking for a fight,
Call on Mr. Carson, for you know it's his delight.
Bluff and bluster he put forth, and to him you did cling;
Now, Irish boys will stay at home, and this is what they'll sing.

Chorus—

Duluth, March 25. M.

POEMS ASKED FOR.

The Herald acknowledges, with thanks, the receipt of the following poems: "Fallen Leaf" and "Package of Old Letters" from Mrs. C. H. Byles of Hibbing.

Requests have been received for the following: "As I was roaming for pleasure one day, who should I spy but a fair Indian maid. If you will agree, sir, to stay here with me, I'll teach you the language of the pretty Maumie,' etc., from a Two Harbors reader; "Cheyenne" and "Only a Railroad Brakeman" from a Proctor subscriber.

Fallen Leaf.

Far away in the sunny meadow,
Where the noble prairie lies,
Dwells the fairest Indian maiden
Ever seen by mortal eyes.
She whose eyes are like the diamonds,
Daughter of the warrior chief,
Sought to seek her home in autumn
So they call her Fallen Leaf.

Chorus.

Fallen Leaf the breezes whisper
Of the spirits' early flight,
Far away in the lonely wigwam
There is a world of woe tonight.

Through the deep and tangled wildwood,
All alone one summer day,
Came a cowboy, worn and weary,
From his long and dreary way.
Weeks passed by and still he lingered.
"Gentle Fallen Leaf," he cried,
And with a smile of love she promised
Soon to be his woodland bride.

One bright day the cowboy wandered O'er the prairie all alone.
And the maid she watched and waited,
But his fate was never known.
With the summer leaf she faded,
With the autumn leaf she died,
And they closed her eyes in slumber
By the lonely river side.

FUNERAL WILL BE HELD SATURDAY

Masons Will Have Charge of Services for C. T. Fitzsimmons.

Business associates and scores of young men who called Charles T. Fitzsimmons their best friend will pay their last tribute tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock. The services will be held from the Masonic temple, and will be under the auspices of the Duluth commandery, Knights Templar, of which Mr. Fitzsimmons was a member.

During his twenty-eight years on "commission row" Mr. Fitzsimmons proved a kindly friend who was always ready to offer a helping hand. Through his practical good samaritanism Mr. Fitzsimmons gave many a young man a start in business and most of them have not forgotten, as the scores of messages received by relatives since his death testify. Duluth has dozens of business men who owe their success at least partially to a "lift" given them early in their career by Mr. Fitzsimmons.

Mr. Fitzsimmons was a close friend of Bishop J. D. Morrison of the Duluth Episcopal diocese, was a member of Trinity cathedral and was a large contributor to many local charities.

He had been ill for some time previous to his death and several weeks ago was given treatment at a Battle Creek, Mich., sanatorium. The remains will be taken to Sparta, Wis., and buried in the family lot.

DARING BELGIAN BLOWN TO PIECES

Killed Trying to Smuggle English Newspapers Into Brussels.

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)

Rotterdam, March 10.—Brussels' supply of English newspapers, which have to be smuggled across the border on account of the German prohibition against their importation, has been curtailed by the violent death of a daring Belgian who had for many weeks brought in 200 copies a day. He had made friends with a Bavarian sentry who, it is said, for a consideration, closed his eyes to the armful of papers which the Belgian carried. A few days ago, however, the sentries were changed, and the Belgian was unable to persuade the Wurtemburg guard to let him pass. Waiting until nightfall, the newspaper man crawled under the barb wire defense, and in so doing exploded a mine, which literally blew him to pieces.

BOAT TOO BIG FOR ROCKERS

President Wilson Has Confidence in Calm Stabilizers of Nation.

Counteract Influence of Those Who Try to "Rock the Boat."

Washington, March 26.—Full confidence in the great body of calm people of the nation who serve as "stabilizers", when the excited ones try to "rock the boat" in these perilous days, was voiced last night by President Wilson in an address before the Baltimore conference of the Methodist-Episcopal church, South, in annual session here.

The president appealed to the nation for support in administering his office, saying, "If I can speak for you I am powerful; if I cannot, I am weak." He said it was possible for a people to be impartial "when a quarrel is none of theirs." Referring to the danger to missionaries in some of the foreign lands, of which he said he had thought much of late, he added.

"Wars will never have any ending until men cease to hate one another, cease to be jealous of one another, get the feeling of reality in the brotherhood of mankind, which is the only bond that can make us think justly of one another, and act righteously before God himself."

Bishop Warren A. Candler of Atlanta in introducing the president, declared that the members of the conference were behind him as patriots. Secretary Daniels occupied a seat on the speaker's platform during the session.

Values Churches.

The president said in part: "I value the churches of this country as I would value everything else that makes for the stability of our moral processes. There are a great many people; not so many that they give me any particular concern, but nevertheless, a great many people, who, in the language of the day, are trying hard 'to rock the boat.' The boat is too big for them to rock. They are of such light material that they cannot rock it very much, but they are going through the motions and it is just as well for them to look around once in a while and see the great body of steadfast, self-possessed Americans not to be hurried into any unconsidered line of action, sure that when you are right, you can be calm, sure that when the quarrel is none of yours, you can be impartial, sure that the men who spend their passion most will move the body politic the least, and that the reaction will not be upon the great body of American citizens, but upon themselves.

Must Sustain President.

"I need not tell you that the president by himself is absolutely nothing. The president is what the American nation sustains and if it does not sustain him then his power is contemptible and insignificant. If I can speak for you and represent you, in some sense hand on the moral forces that you represent, then I am indeed powerful. If I cannot, then I am indeed weak. I shall hope and believe that I go away from here sustained, as Bishop Candler has so generously said, by your prayers. I shall hope you shall feel that I am also sustained by your confidence."

SPAIN TO OBTAIN SUPPLY OF GRAIN

Will Import Oats and Wheat From the United States.

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)

Madrid, March 6.—The Spanish government is taking steps to secure an adequate supply of grain until the next harvest. Its procedure will be similar to that which other countries have been obliged to adopt. It will take over a number of Spanish-owned vessels, and use them to convey cargoes of wheat and oats from the United States to Spanish ports, principally Barcelona.

Rates of freight by ship to Spanish ports have increased in consonance with those of neighboring countries. The increase has in fact been rather more pronounced than to some French ports. For example, it is nearly 10 per cent cheaper to ship grain from the United States to Marseilles than to Barcelona, because ship owners give a preference to cargoes destined to Marseilles, where they are fairly certain of being able to unload without delay.

GREAT SARA BRIDGE OPENED TO TRAFFIC.

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)

Calcutta, Feb. 20. — The great Sara bridge, on the Ganges river, has been opened to traffic, thus inaugurating direct railway passenger communication across the river.

The bridge is the largest ever constructed by British engineers, with the possible exception of the Forth bridge in Scotland. The work was begun in 1908. The structure has a total length of 5,900 feet, and consists of fifteen main spans and six land spans. The cost is nearly $16,000,000.

DYNAMITER HORN IS TAKEN TO BOSTON.

Portland, Me., March 26.—Werner Horn was taken to Boston last night to be tried in the Federal court on charges that he transported explosives on passenger trains, in connection with the attempted destruction of the international railway bridge at Vanceboro.

Unsuccessful efforts were made by Horn's counsel to obtain a writ of habeas corpus from the two United States court judges here yesterday. Judges William L. Putnam and Clarence Hale both declined to grant such a writ. The transfer of the prisoner to Massachusetts was directed by Judge Putnam at the conclusion of a hearing on the application of the district attorney for an order of removal.

Daniel T. O'Connell of counsel of Horn told the court that his desire for the release of the prisoner was due to his confidence that he could be successfully defended here in the extradition proceedings instituted by the Canadian government on account of damage to the bridge. An extradition warrant issued some time ago at the request of an officer from Ottawa was held in readiness for service, had Horn been released by habeas corpus proceedings.

Grandson to Kaiser.

London, March 25.—The duchess of Brunswick, formerly Princess Victoria Louise, daughter of Emperor William, gave birth to a son this afternoon, according to a dispatch from Brunswick received by Reuter's agency by way of Amsterdam.

The marriage of Prince Ernest August of Cumberland and Princess Victoria Louise took place at Berlin on May 24, 1913. Their first son was born March 18 last year.

HORRID PIMPLES KILL DIMPLES

But Stuart's Calcium Wafers Will Remove the Unsightly Blemishes in So Short a Time as to Seem Almost Impossible of Belief.

The crowning beauty of a woman is her skin. She may have only ordinary features or even a coarse, heavy contour of face, but if she is the possessor of a fine, colorful skin, showing vigorous health and a pure blood, she will grow attractive to every eye.

The Girl: "Betty has a pretty face and cute dimples, but the pimples are horrid."
The Man: "Stuart's Calcium Wafers would remove them in a jiffy."

The great trouble with the majority of women is that they try to remove pimples by outside treatment, such as greases, massage, cosmetics, electricity, etc. These methods will not cure nor even temporarily remove pimples and facial disorders.

The difficulty is generally impure blood. The blood is a stream of waste matter filled with poisons. Its color is black or blue or brownish cast, instead of ruby red, as it should be.

The best color always comes in youth, of course, but all the cosmetics in the world will not bring back the color if your blood is diseased or filled with impurities which it cannot remove or throw off.

Go to your druggist, whoever he may be, and he will give you a box of Stuart's Calcium Wafers, price 50c.

USING SOAP SPOILS THE HAIR

Soaps should be used very sparingly, if at all, if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is just ordinary mulsified cocoanut oil (which is pure and greaseless), is cheaper and better than soap or anything else you can use.

One or two teaspoonfuls will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get mulsified cocoanut oil at any pharmacy, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.—Advertisement.

Wooltex Tailored Suits and Coats in Fullest and Finest Assortments now

IT is most gratifying to make the important selection of a new spring suit or coat while our collections of Wooltex garments are at their height; for naturally we cannot undertake to keep continuously in stock such a large variety of models as is now on exhibition.

Every day you wait shortens the time of service which the new garment will give you, and likewise every day you wait takes off something of the enjoyment of possessing the new styles while they are at their height.

Women who have been to see the Wooltex exhibition express their delight over the moderateness of the prices that are marked on garments of such excellence and refinement.

The hand-tailoring at the vital points in the apparel, which gives permanency to the shapeliness of the garment, is a Wooltex feature of added cost in the production, which it seems amazing to secure at such moderate prices.

If you have not yet seen our full spring exhibition of Wooltex garments, come at the first moment you can, whether you anticipate buying or not. An equally hearty welcome if you come only to see the new styles.

Suit No. 1720

THE picture illustrates Wooltex suit No. 1720—a very effective youthful model, which is equally becoming to all slender women. The jacket is in Pole effect, moderately full, with smart pockets on both jacket and skirt. Materials are checks, poplin and covert.

MINISTERS FORM CIVIC LEAGUE

Scandinavian Pastors Will Work for Betterment of City.

An organization to be known as the "Scandinavian Interchurch Civic League of West Duluth" was formally organized yesterday afternoon at a meeting of several of the pastors of Scandinavian churches of this end of the city held at the home of Dr. J. A. Krantz, 706 North Fifty-sixth avenue west. Plans for two mass meetings to be held in the interest of civic betterment were planned, one of which will be held next Sunday.

This meeting will be held at Our Savior's Norwegian Lutheran church, Fifty-seventh avenue west and Wadena street, at 3 o'clock. Addresses will be given in English, Norwegian and Swedish. Rev. B. L. Opdahl, pastor of the church will speak in English; Rev. Eugene Nelson of the Bethany Norwegian Danish M. E. church will speak in Norwegian, and Rev. K. A. Lundin, pastor of the Third Swedish Baptist church will speak in Swedish.

It is expected that resolutions indorsing certain candidates for election on April 6 will be presented for approval. The pastors would not give out the nature of these proposed resolutions, nor intimate who the candidates to be approved are.

The other mass meeting will be held in the Swedish Mission church, Fifty-ninth avenue west and Greene street on Sunday afternoon, April 4. Speakers will address this gathering also in three languages.

Rev. Mr. Krants was elected president of the new organization and Rev. Mr. Nelson secretary. Another meeting of the organization will be held next week.

CURLING DIES HARD.

West Duluth Club Members Play Mallory Birthday Event.

Playing for cigars donated by George J. Mallory in honor of his birthday anniversary featured the curling at the Western Curling club last night. Four games were played, following which the cigars were passed around.

The following were the scores: Mallory, 8, Ittis, 5; Donald, 6, R. F. Wade, 7; F. H. Wade, 3, Quinn, 11; Evered, 8, Zauft, 8.

This evening it is planned to wind up the Commercial club event. Six-end games will be played. The play will be as follows:

	8 p. m.	9 p. m.	10 p. m.
Olson
F. H. Wade
Zauft
Mallory
Quinn
Judson
		R. F. Wade

In addition to this game at 9 o'clock the Kriedler rink will play any rink not playing at that time for the club championship buttons.

WEST DULUTH GIRLS WILL PLAY AT PROCTOR

The West Duluth girls' basket ball team will play a game Tuesday afternoon with the Proctor girls' team at the Proctor Y. M. C. A. gymnasium. The game will be called at 2 o'clock.

The West Duluth girls' team has been organized about six weeks and has so far played fast ball. In a recent game with the Duluth Central girls' team the latter won by but a small margin.

Both teams are said to be fast and a good game is looked for, according to basket ball fans. Harry Ross, one of the players of the Denfeld high school team, will referee the game. The following is the way the two teams will line up:

West Duluth—		Proctor—
Ethel Hambly	c	J Bonnivier
Bessie McKinnon	rf	Bernice Ashback
Louise Olson	lf	Rachel Braden
Annie Bomnier	rg	Evelyn Simkins
Ruth Braden	lg	Thela Stewart

Subs: West Duluth—Alice Dunn, Helen Brown and Katherine Gardner. Proctor—Louise Gilderman.

SELL CANDY TO RAISE MONEY FOR FLAG.

The sale of candy held yesterday and Wednesday by the girls of the Irving school resulted in netting the sum of $9 with which the girls will purchase a silk flag for the assembly hall. The sale was held because of a refusal of the school board to furnish the money to buy the flag.

Children of the school were liberal purchasers of the sweets. The candies were put up in packages selling for a penny, two pennies and nickels. One little fellow to show that he was "the proper kind of sport" spent a whole dime at one time for the candies. The candies were made by the girls at their homes.

Zenith Lodge, Royal Neighbors, Plan Anniversary Program.

The twenty-fifth anniversary of organizing Zenith Lodge No. 1027, Royal Neighbors, will be celebrated this evening by its members at the Great Eastern hall, 210 North Central avenue. The celebration will be featured with a banquet to be followed by a musical program and a number of short talks.

Among the speakers will be oracles of lodges at the Head of the Lakes. Members of the committee in charge are: Mrs. F. J. Hantz, chairman; Mrs. William Mathews, Mrs. J. O. Winton, Mrs. Edward Smyrage, Mrs. Hattie Hosner, Mrs. A. R. Armstrong, Mrs. Henry Hill, Mrs. Clara Dalter, Mrs. Martha Walrath and Mrs. Josephine Wick.

CANVASS EVERY HOME.

Unregistered Voters Will Be Instructed How to Vote.

A thorough canvass of West Duluth will be made in the interest of J. A. Farrell and Bernard Silberstein by 100 volunteers according to action taken at the meeting of the Silberstein-Farrell club of West Duluth last night. The meeting was well attended, and the club had little difficulty in securing the volunteers.

A number of short addresess given by members featured the meeting. Confidence was expressed that the two candidates indorsed by the club would be elected.

Workers were selected to canvass every home in the districts and to ascertain whether there were any unregistered voters. These will be instructed how to get affidavits so that they may vote on election day.

GIRLS' CLUB ENTERTAINS

Women of City Give Interesting Talks to Young Folk.

The Denfeld High School Girl's club entertained informally yesterday afternoon at the school. Short talks by visitors featured the meeting. Among those who spoke, were Miss Thatcher of the Y. W. C. A., Mrs. Porter, Mrs. Dinsmore, Miss Teckler and others. The committee members in charge of the entertainment were Misses Marcella Harold, Leona Granger, Louise Olson, Helen Brown and Katherine Gardner.

The club has been organized about four months and has taken an active interest in school work. The officers of the club are Miss Bessie McKinnon, president; Miss Rose Harris, vice president; Miss Viola Tascoe, treasurer, and Miss Ethelyn Hambly, secretary.

Will Erect Parsonage.

At a meeting of the trustees of the St. Paul's German Lutheran church, Fifty-fifth avenue and Elinor street, a contract for the construction of a parsonage to be built near the church will be let. The proposed parsonage will cost about $4,000.

The congregation owns four lots facing Central avenue on this corner. The proposed parsonage will have nine rooms and a full basement. It will be thoroughly modern in every way. The parsonage will be occupied by Rev. William Schmidt, who recently took charge of the work of the congregation.

Club Plans Smoker.

Because of the smoker planned for this evening the business session of the West Duluth Commercial club will begin at 8 o'clock sharp, according to announcement made this morning. It is expected to complete all of the business before 9 o'clock.

A feature of the meeting tonight will be addresses given by Mrs. Leisure and Mrs. O'Donnell of the Woman's Council, who will appear before the club in the interest of the proposed free dental clinic for schools. The women's organizations will try to induce the club to indorse the proposed free clinic.

West Duluth Briefs.

Edgar W. Lynch of Minneapolis and V. H. Jacoby of Fairmont, Minn., former West Duluth residents, are in the city. They came to Duluth to attend the annual meeting of coal salesmen of the Zenith Furnace company. A banquet at the Kitchi Gammi club featured the close of this meeting last night.

Have you seen the beautiful new spring suits at the Boston Store, especially priced at $15.00. Better look them over, it will pay you.

The Citizens' State bank is open for all banking business from 6 to 8 p. m. Saturday evening.

Friday.
Bricklayers' hall—West end rally; J. A. Farrell and Bernard Silberstein, speakers.

Supporters of Commissioners Hicken and Murchison and the Good Government committee yesterday sent out letters to voters throughout the city, urging them to cast their first choices for the incumbents and their second choice ballots for Chris E. Evens and William L. Bernard. This, it was announced this morning, will be the slogan of those behind the campaign for the four candidates.

The letter follows:

"The Good Government committee is urging that all voters who are in favor of continuing the policies advanced by Hicken and Murchison to vote for the following candidates for commissioners, as follows:

"Vote for Hicken and Murchison in the first choice column.

"Vote for Evens and Bernard in the second choice column.

"If any voter prefers to do so, he can vote for Evens and Bernard in the first choice column and for Hicken and Murchison in the second choice column.

"These men stand for good government.

"You can best insure defeat of the opposition to Hicken, Murchison, Evens and Bernard and what they stand for by voting your first choice for two of them and your second choice for the other two of them.

"Your failure to vote your second choice may cause the defeat of the two whom you prefer to have elected and more certainly the defeat of the cause of good government."

WILL PREPARE FOR MIDSUMMER DAY

Swedish-American League Will Meet to Arrange Program.

The Swedish-American league, which is composed of representatives from the various Swedish and Swedish-American societies and organizations of Duluth, will hold its meeting at Bachelors' hall next Monday to arrange the midsummer festival, an annual celebration held by the Swedish people. Nothing will be left undone by the league that might contribute to the success of this event.

These conferences have much to do with strengthening the harmonious relations of the various organizations and the league hopes to make this midsummer festival the biggest ever held at the Head of the Lakes.

FREIGHT RATES ON FRUIT TOO LOW

Railroad Men Tell Why They Should Have an Increase.

Chicago, March 26.—Present freight rates on perishable fruit and vegetables in the West were described as abnormally low and as tending to impoverish the railroads, in the testimony of J. S. Hershey of Galveston, Tex., general freight agent of the Gulf, Colorado & Santa Fe railroad, given in the western rate case.

"It is more profitable to the western railroads to transport a gaspipe than a watermelon or a cabbage," said Mr. Hershey, whose testimony was directly concerned with requested rate increases from Texas points to interstate destinations on carload lots.

Increases asked by the railroads on fruit and vegetables include 10 cents on strawberries, 8 cents on peaches, canteloupes, tomatoes and onions, and 5 cents on cabbage, potatoes and watermelons.

The witness said if these increases are granted, the roads will receive $135,000 additional income on shipments from Texas.

SUPERIOR

SALOON FIGHT STRENUOUS.

Petition for Referendum Vote Is Certified By Clerk.

The petition for a referendum vote on the question of whether Superior shall be wet or dry, which was filed yesterday afternoon with the city clerk, was this morning certified to by City Clerk Emmet McKeague. The petition contained 617 signatures, or about 200 more than was necessary to make it legal.

The issue will be brought up at the election on March 6. If the issue is successful, it will put out of business about 150 saloons on July 1. A strenuous campaign will be made by both sides.

WILL ASK COURT TO ORDER RECALL ELECTION

W. P. Crawford, counsel for the recall petitioners, will make preparations at once to institute mandamus proceedings to compel the city commissioners of Superior to order the recall election, according to an announcement made this morning by the attorney. It will probably be several days before the proceedings are started, owing to the necessity of drawing up the papers to the suit. The contention of the recallers is that the petition contained the proper number of signatures, while the city clerk claims that the petition is about 300 short of making it legal.

ALLEGE AMERICAN DEFAMED UNION JACK

F. C. Henton, American Born, Is in Jail at Fort Frances, Ont.

International Falls, Minn., March 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—F. C. Henton, now in the Fort Frances jail, who was arrested at Atikokan, Ont., was employed by the Canadian Northern railroad and is alleged to be a strong pro-German. He was taken to Fort Frances by the military department. He is, said to be American-born and of Dutch descent, but as an alien has not registered his nationality. He is said to have defamed the British, and, if the charges are proven, will probably be deported as an undesirable. The matter has been laid before the American consul at Winnipeg.

"KID COPS" IN NEW YORK

City Boys and Police as Friends—Neighborhood Safety and Health Promoted By the "Junior Police Force."

(Exclusive Service The Survey Press Bureau.)

"Folks have the idea we're rearing a bunch of toughs and gun men down here on the East Side. We got to show 'em they're wrong."

This is the reason why Capt. John E. Sweeney of the Fifteenth police precinct, New York City, has organized the "Kid Cops" in the most congested tenement district in the world. Capt. Sweeney knows the East Side and the East Side youngsters. For twenty-nine years he has watched the mimic warfare between the boys who shoot craps, build bonfires on the pavement or play baseball in the seething streets and the policeman who try to stop all of this.

Capt. Sweeney thinks it high time these old enemies understood each other. He wants the boys to find out that policemen weren't created to chase youngsters, his own patrolmen to learn that small boys weren't born to pester the police, and people in general to know what a fine lot of citizens in the making are growing up in these crowded tenement homes. So he has recruited the junior police force and Commissioner Arthur Woods has given sanction to this latest effort in line with his own plans for preventing as well as punishing crime. "Cheesit, the cop" may yet slip from the vocabulary of the East Side.

Just as a police district is divided into precincts, so the Fifteenth precinct stretching from Rivington street to Fourteenth street, from Fourth avenue to Avenue B, has been divided into twelve zones under supervision of the junior police. Each zone is in charge of a captain appointed by Capt. ("Commissioner") Sweeney. The captains choose their own officers, a lieutenant and two sergeants, and a squad of twenty-one patrolmen is selected from applicants. There are now about three hundred on the force, and as these prove their efficiency the number will gradually be increased from the 200 or more names on the waiting list. "We started to organize last August," said Capt. Sweeney, "and now we have a crowd waiting in front of the station every afternoon trying to get on the force."

Junior Police Pledge.

Each member is required to pass a physical examination and to learn the pledge of the junior police before his application for membership is considered. These tests passed, he may become the proud owner of a nickel badge with his number in the force upon it.

There are four varieties of badges for the four grades of officers, each modeled after the insignia of the city police. Capt. Sweeney has donated the badges himself and fears he may go "broke" if the force swells its membership much further.

The pledge, which must be kept in order to retain the badge, is: "I promise on my honor to do my duty to God, to my country, and to obey the law; to obey the motto and the rules and regulations of the junior police force of the city of New York; to keep and never misuse my junior police badge, and to surrender it upon demand to the chief of the junior police." And the motto which makes this pledge more than a formula of words requires that every officer "be honest, be trustworthy, be loyal, be helpful, be polite, be obedient and be brave."

"Tips" for Big Cops.

Daily reports of work done or "tips" to the senior force are dropped for Capt. Sweeney in a report box at the Boys' club on Avenue A and Tenth street and superior officers meet with their chief every Tuesday night. At these meetings the boys are made familiar with the municipal ordinances regarding cleanliness of streets, fire prevention, etc., which they have set out to enforce as well as the duties and organization of the New York police. Public School No. 63 has provided a drill room and drill masters for the squad twice a week and the junior officers may give drills themselves at the school every day.

The youthful "guardians of peace" are trying to teach the responsibilities of citizenship to the young and old of the West Side. They help keep streets clean, fire escapes cleared, garbage cans in proper condition. Their list of duties reads—"Make special effort to perform (such) duties at your own homes. See that your parents and relatives do not violate the laws and ordinances."

The members of each squad are assigned to a daily tour of inspection of the tenements in the 7,018 blocks comprising the zone. Since the population in this part of New York is very foreign, and the inhabitants do not understand such city laws, for example, as those against encumbrances or obstructions on fire escapes, the boys find that much of their work consists in explaining the municipal ordinances. When the explanation is made, the law is usually obeyed, and Capt. Sweeney thinks these "inspection tours" not only give the junior police a helpful field of work, but result in more justice than hauling an ignorant Yiddish matron into the magistrate's court, where she is likely to be fined $10.

Cutting Out Street Evils.

Besides this effort to quicken health and safety on the East side, the junior police are the sworn foes of crap-shooting, swearing, chalking sidewalks, bonfire building and cigarette smoking by minors. "For instance," points out Capt. Sweeney, "since the force was formed, we have had few complaints about street bonfires, whereas we used to have a hundred a night sometimes. We expect to save the city thousands of dollars in asphalt."

The "kid cops" avoid bullying and being bullied in enforcing the law. They carry no billies and boast no "strong arm squad." If they can't gain their purpose by being "polite" and "helpful," in accordance with their motto, they report to the senior force. They are instructed to call the regulars when older boys are causing trouble. "Squealing" has become the virtue of "loyalty to the force."

"There's just one trouble with the juniors," sighed Capt. Sweeney, "they all want to be detectives. They want to ferret out plots just like the fellow who slinked into my office the other day with something bundled up under his coat and a mysterious whisper. It turned out to be a diagram of a candy shop where trap doors in the floor made him suspect a band of thieves. We have to discourage this sleuthing. This force is going to make the East end clean as a whistle and a healthier place for the kids, but if you haven't sense, you can always carry a good thing too far."

CHINESE STUDENT WINS TOWNSEND PRIZE AT YALE

CHEG CHENGSU HENRY WANG.

A Chinese student has just won the annual Townsend prize at Yale. This prize which is given for oratory is open to the junior class. The theme chosen this year was "China and the European War" in which Chengsu Henry Wang had a natural advantage. One of the contestants whom he defeated was Morris Hadley, a son of the president of the university.

ALFRED LE RICHEUX, Recorder.

Mrs. Beere, Actress, Dead.

London, March 26.—The death was announced in London today of Mrs. Bernard Beere, the actress, after an operation for peritonitis. Mrs. Beere, who was born in 1856, made her debut in London in 1877. She was twice married, her last husband being H. C. S. Olivier.

DIRECTED AGAINST DISCRIMINATIONS

Bill Introduced in Wisconsin Legislature to That End.

Madison, Mich., March 26.—The first attempt at this session to enact anti-discrimination legislation was seen today in the introduction through the senate committee on judiciary of a bill applying certain provisions of the Federal anti-trust act to the sale of commodities within Wisconsin.

This subject was covered by two of these bills in the 1913 legislature, all of which had hard sledding, Speaker Hull's measure being the only one to survive. Today the bill is directed at such discriminations as tend "substantially to lessen competition," and to create a monopoly in any particular business. Damages in three times the loss suffered are made recoverable.

Senator Bulcher attacked the "Mary Ann" or second choice law as a "Chinese puzzle," complicated and ineffectual. Election officials everywhere detest it, he said. Action on his bill to abolish it was postponed.

Adverse Report.

The Julius Hansen bill, abolishing the state athletic commission, received an adverse committee report, and the Hedding bill, empowering the commission to revoke licenses of clubs for cause, with an amendment excluding fourth-class cities from the law, was favorably reported.

The assembly passed the Heim bill, legalizing the Sunday operation of moving picture shows, baseball and other amusements, the vote being 62 to 18.

Bills Killed.

The following bills were killed:

Grunewald, requiring lights at night on bicycles and horse-drawn vehicles in country districts; Kent, requiring election of school boards in all cities; Cretney, admitting graduates of all high schools to the university by diploma.

The assembly committee on transportation reported for indefinite postponement the joint resolution asking congress to take action to prevent the interstate commerce commission putting into effect the 2½ cents per mile passenger rates on railroads.

Both houses adjourned until Monday evening.

JURY DRAWN IN LAND CONDEMNATION CASE.

A jury was drawn in Judge Dancer's division of the district court today to try another of the appeal cases growing out of the city's condemnation proceedings to acquire a right-of-way for the proposed north shore boulevard from Lester Park to the Lake county line. The appeal is that of Ovedea Gunderson who owns a tract of land one mile north of Palmers, a station on the Duluth & Iron Range railroad. The proposed boulevard cuts across the Gunderson tract. The owner is appealing from the award made by the appraisers appointed by the court in the condemnation proceedings.

ON THE IRON RANGES

MINNESOTA S. H. & E. F. TO MEET AT HIBBING

Gathering to Be Held Saturday With Twenty Delegates Attending.

Hibbing, Minn., March 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Minnesota district lodge of the Scandinavian Aid and Fellowship society, S. H. & E. F., will meet here tomorrow. District officers and about twenty delegates will be in attendance.

The delegates are Gust Anderson, C. J. Carlson, Anna Rudin of Duluth; Fritz Gustafson, John A. Nelson of Cloquet; Frank Strand, Carin Olson of Two Harbors; Andrew Sund of Ely; John Nelson of Tower; Otto Bengtson of Virginia; Gunnar Olson of Eveleth; Albert Johnson of Buhl; Gust Nelson of Biwabik; Swan Anderson of Aurora; Andrew Haglund of Chisholm; Andrew Dahlberg of Hibbing; Frank Rosberg of Cuyuna; Herman Thelin of Crosby.

The president of the district lodge is Henry Erickson of Virginia and the secretary, Edward Strand of Eveleth.

Secretary of the supreme lodge, Oscar W. Samuelson of Cloquet and Louis Levine of Duluth, who is marshal of the supreme lodge, and deputy collector of internal revenue for this district, will also attend. The president of the supreme lodge, Eric Hager of Iron Mountain, Mich., is expected to arrive from Ironwood, Mich., where the Michigan district lodge is in session.

Comprise Nineteen Lodges.

The Minnesota district lodge is composed of nineteen local lodges, having a membership of 1,885 with resources of $64,030.15. The lodges in Eveleth and Virginia each own fine brick buildings used for lodge purposes. The Duluth local lodge has the largest membership, over 400 members and more than $6,000 cash in the treasury.

The Hibbing lodge is No. 30, "Hoga Nord," or "Highest North" and had a membership of exactly 100 with $2,537.23 cash on hand at the last report on Jan. 1. Meetings are held first and third Saturdays of each month in Rood hall, 310 Third avenue.

Officers of the local lodge are Andrew Dahlberg, president; Amanda Johnson, secretary; Chas. Wenberg, financial secretary; Frank O. Wahlquist, treasurer.

Oldest Scandinavian Lodge.

The S. H. & E. F. is the oldest Scandinavian fraternal organization now in existence in the United States, having been founded about forty-five years ago in Ishpeming, Mich. Similar organizations sprang up on the Menominee, Gogebic and Mesaba iron ranges and a supreme lodge was instituted and incorporated under the laws of Michigan in 1888. Until about 1908 the activities of the order were confined to the Lake Superior region and no attempts made to spread over more territory, but since then a number of new lodges have been organized in several western states and British Columbia. There are now a total of sixty-four active lodges and a membership of more than 6,000, with cash resources of about $140,000.

During the year 1914 there was paid in sick benefits $19,131.14, in funeral benefits $9,000 and miscellaneous $20,-070.62, a total of nearly $50,000. Since 1900 there has been paid funeral benefits of approximately $82,000, sick benefits $175,000 and for miscellaneous $203,000, making a grand total of almost one-half million dollars. Previous to 1900 accurate figures are not available.

ELECTRIC LINE TO NASHWAUK BUILDING

Great Northern Power Company Extending System From Hibbing.

Hibbing, Minn., March 26.—(Special The Herald.)—Electricians are working on the electric line of the Great Northern Power company now being extended from Hibbing to Nashwauk.

The company and the village will divide the cost of the construction of the high-tension line to Alice, which will mean a saving of nearly one-third what it originally would have cost each one.

The Great Northern Power company only recently received the contract to furnish electricity to Nashwauk. The company is now negotiating with village officials to have its contract renewed here. Nothing, however, will be done until the new council and water and light board are organized. The village officials will consider the advisability of generating its own power before the proposition of the power company will be accepted.

HIS MONEY SOON GONE.

Lumberjack, Attracted By Hibbing White Lights, Repents in Court.

Hibbing, Minn., March 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—Loneliness of woodsmen life, the lure of the city and the frenzied spending of money when lumberjacks reach town with their "wad" were graphically told by John Kelly, aged 66, to Judge Brady in municipal court when arraigned on a charge of being drunk.

Kelly told Judge Brady that he came into the village yesterday morning with $150.

"Do you know how much money you had last night when you were arrested?" Judge Brady asked.

"Mus' have had some jitneys," Kelly replied.

"You had $9," Judge Brady offered.

"Whew!" ejaculated Kelly, "I must have been going some. But then, Yer Honor, it wuz awfully lonesome in that lumber camp and I had to do something. I always realize that I am a failure after I have failed and I also know that alcohol is not good for the human system, but I think of that the day after always."

Kelly and Ole Collins, also arrested for being drunk, were given suspended sentences.

FIRE DAMAGE CASE STILL BEING TRIED

Grand Rapids, Minn., March 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—The case of the Gilbert Land company vs. the Minneapolis & Rainy River Railway company for fire damages, continues to hold the boards in district court.

Only a few witnesses have been examined to date, each witness being kept on the stand several hours.

A. J. Farrell, who won a similar case against the same company because of the same fire a year or more ago was the first witness of importance, and he told of the fire, its alleged origin, and the manner in which it spread.

Other witnesses who were on the ground at the time of the fire were James Gracy, a "piece maker" of Deer River, Fred Nelson, a cedar and tie contractor; J. E. O'Connell, logger; Mike Rading and Louis Malette, farmers.

They are only a part of the plaintiff's witnesses, and those to come will probably occupy as much or more time, as their testimony will cover not only the extent of the fires, but estimates of the timber on the 6,000 acres in litigation. It is expected that the case will occupy the attention of the court and jury for the next two or three weeks, unless some unexpected developments occur.

BIBLE CLASS BANQUET.

Young Women of Chisholm M. E. Church Are Host.

Chisholm, Minn., March 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—The boys of the Bible class of the M. E. church proved themselves royal hosts Wednesday evening, when they entertained the young ladies of the class at a banquet at the church parlors. About sixty-five guests sat down at the tables, which were tastefully decorated in the colors of the class, red and white. J. T. Hopper, teacher of the class, was toastmaster.

Following the banquet there was a program, including a violin solo by Edward Hagen; recitation by Miss Bessie Syme; toast, "Our Teacher," Henry Tomfohr; vocal selection, Mrs. William Anderson; toast, "Our Boys," Miss Leta Higbee; vocal solo, Miss Sidna Lewis; toast, "Our Girls," Carl Johnson; talk, "Value of Bible Study," Miss Black; toast, R. J. Lostetter; trio, Miss Lundring, Miss Lewis and Mrs. Goodhame; toast, Miss Sidna Lewis, president; toast, Miss Benson; laughing duet, Arleigh O'Neil and John T. Hooper. Rev. Mr. Stidd gave a pleasing talk to the young people.

BOWLING TOURNAMENT.

Seven Teams Expected to Enter Hibbing Competition.

Hibbing, Minn., March 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—Seven teams have made application to Earl St. Julien for entrance in the bowling tournament and indications are that it will be one of the most hotly-contested ever held in the village.

It is expected that the baseball players will enter a team. According to William Wilson, pitcher, there is material among the players to form two strong team. Many will compete in the doubles, which, it is expected, will be the most thrilling game of the tourney.

Three teams from Chisholm, it is expected, will take part.

GIVEN "HUSKY" DOG.

International Falls, Minn., March 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—Louis Wiley, manager of the Victoria hotel, yesterday received one of the "husky" dogs from Jack Hughes, who recently made his famous dash from Fort Chippewyan, Can., to Chicago, the dog being one of the three that finished in the run. Hughes is at Virginia and his friends expect to see him here in a few days. The dog is a real "husky" and said to be three-fourths wolf.

YARD BEING BUILT.

Great Northern Putting in Terminals at Quinn-Harrison Mine.

Grand Rapids, Minn., March 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Great Northern railroad has let the contract for the construction of a railroad yard at the Quinn-Harrison mine and work has started this week.

The yard will consist of four tracks, two of which will lead to the washing plant.

STEAM MAINS ARE TO BE EXTENDED.

Eveleth, Minn., March 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—The steam mains on Grant avenue will be replaced the coming summer by the Home Electric & Heating company with new and larger pipes. The main has been in use since the steam plant was installed and the pipes have deteriorated until steam can no longer be delivered economically through them.

The main extends from Jones street to Grove street on Grant avenue and it will be entirely replaced. It is probable that the work will be done by contract. New mains will be laid by a different system and will last for a much longer period.

It is also possible that other improvements and extensions will be made by the company the coming summer.

For Jewish Consumptives.

Eveleth, Minn., March 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—Solomon Sax, who is a national director of the Jewish Consumptives' Relief society has received the tenth annual report of the society. The report shows the work done by the organization at its sanatorium at Denver during the year and includes a financial statement for the year. The report shows that $31.50 was contributed by Evelethians for the work.

Called to Binghamton, N. Y.

Two Harbors, Minn., March 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—John Shea, roadmaster for the Iron Range railroad, left Thursday for Binghamton, N. Y., where he was called on account of the death of a relative.

AGED WOMAN IS FATALLY BURNED

Mrs. John Leary Perishes in Destruction of Home at La Prairie.

Grand Rapids, Minn., March 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—Fire last evening destroyed the home of C. A. Buell at La Prairie, a farming community two miles from here, and Mr. Buell's mother-in-law, Mrs. John Leary, age about 65, is believed to have perished, as she was alone in the house at the time and has not been seen since the fire.

The Buell family went to an entertainment at the schoolhouse last night and left Mrs. Leary, whose health was not very good, at home. She was in bed when they left about 8 o'clock. Shortly afterward smoke was seen issuing from the basement. The neighbors quickly gathered, but it was impossible to quench the fire, and the building burned to the ground. Mrs. Leary has not been seen since last night, and it presumed she was carrying a lighted lamp into the basement or cellar under the kitchen and fell, starting the fire. As the smoke was first seen coming from the basement, that theory is supported. The ashes are being searched today in the endeavor to find something to definitely indicate she perished, but up to noon no such discovery had been made.

SHERIFF ASKED TO LOCATE HUSBAND

Mrs. William Bovostead of Kinney wants Sheriff John R. Meining to help her find her husband.

In a letter to the county official official received today, she recites that she has not seen her spouse since eleven months ago when he sent her to visit with her daughters in Lockport, Ill. She claims that he told her at that time he would try to look up a new location in which to make a home.

She heard from him twice while at Lockport, she says, but for the last few months has been unable to find trace of him. When she returned to Kinney, she met with no success in discovering his whereabouts and does not know whether he is living or dead.

They were married at Biwabik in November, 1912, the letter states.

THREE ESTATES WILL BE SETTLED

Three city lots in Virginia valued at $2,000 comprise the estate of Isaac Makl, who died at his home, 109 Oak street, Virginia, on March 13 last, aged 34. Today his widow, Aurora Makl, petitioned the probate court for letters of administration. The estate will be divided between the widow and an adopted daughter, aged 4.

Mrs. Flina Anderson, 703 Second street, Virginia, also petitioned the court for appointment as administratrix of the estate of her late husband, Edward Anderson, who died March 6 last, aged 43. The estate consists of two city lots valued at $1,000 and personal property to the extent of $100. The widow will share with a 13-year-old daughter in the estate.

Victor Salehi, who died at Gilbert on March 12 last, made a will on Feb. 17 in which he bequeathed all of his property consisting of real estate in the village of Gilbert worth $1,000 to his wife, Mary Steh. The instrument was filed for probate today with a petition in which the widow asks that she be granted testamentary letters

WEDDING IS SURPRISE.

Two Harbors Couple Quietly Wed, Fooling Their Friends.

Two Harbors, Minn., March 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—Miss Leila Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Brown of this city, and Theodore Sullivan were quietly married here yesterday at the parsonage of the Swedish Lutheran church by Rev. Mr. Nelander. The marriage was a complete surprise to the friends of the couple. Both are very popular here, having made this city their home with their parents for many years. Mr. Sullivan is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Sullivan and is a switchman for the Iron Range railroad in the local yards.

EVELETH INTERESTED.

Outcome of Two Licenses Held Up Absorbs Attention.

Eveleth, Minn., March 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—There is speculation as to the disposition the city council will make of the liquor license applications of Frank Steblay, J. J. Thibaut, and Dominic Jerome when they are taken up at the next meeting, Mayor Saari recommended at the last meeting that they be refused and the applications were laid on the table until the first April meeting.

Public sentiment is said to be with Mayor Saari in his crusade for law enforcement but many dislike to see the licenses refused at this time, believing that the violations which the mayor reported will not continue, especially since the saloon men in question own the buildings which they occupy.

Discuss Charity Work.

Virginia, Minn., March 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mesdames Otto Poirier and Mrs. Benjamin Stone are hostesses at a social gathering being held this afternoon in the Associated Charities headquarters in the Fitger building. The work of the association is being discussed and plans for the future made.

OCH! BACKACHE! RUB LUMBAGO OR PAIN FROM BACK

Rub stiffness away with small trial bottle of old, penetrating "St. Jacob's Oil."

Ah! Pain is gone!

Quickly?—Yes. Almost instant relief from soreness, stiffness, lameness and pain follows a gentle rubbing with "St. Jacobs Oil."

Rub this soothing, penetrating oil right on your painful back, and like magic, relief comes. "St. Jacobs Oil" is a harmless backache, lumbago and sciatica cure which never disappoints and doesn't burn the skin.

Straighten up! Quit complaining! Stop those torturous "stitches." In a moment you will forget that you ever had a weak back, because it won't hurt or be stiff or lame. Don't suffer! Get a small trial bottle of old, honest "St. Jacobs Oil" from your druggist now and get this lasting relief.

WHARTON WILL SPEAK.

Eveleth, Minn., March 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—Eveleth Eagles, aerie No. 1181, will hold memorial services next Sunday afternoon at the auditorium. James A. Wharton of Duluth will deliver the principal address. The complete program is as follows:

Selection, Tobin's orchestra; tribute, W. W. Bush, worthy president; invocation, Chaplain Harry Sullivan; selection, quartet, W. D. Ellsworth, Victor H. Parks, C. U. Jenkins and R. M. Dungan; "Our Duties Today," Timothy Shea, past worthy president; vocal selection, Miss Inez Davey; roll call of honored dead, C. U. Jenkins, secretary; selection, quartet; address, James A. Wharton; selection, orchestra.

VIRGINIA PIGGER IS MULCTED $50.

Virginia, Minn., March 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—Chief of Police Owen Gateley scored again yesterday against local blind piggers when he had Obred Rokocich haled into municipal court and fined $50 and $6.74 costs for running an illegal liquor joint. The accused was charged with selling one bottle of beer to Millie Rabich.

Millie Rabich and Fred Lockovich appeared against the defendant, their testimony being given through Charles Turine as interpreter. Rokovich did not plead guilty but the evidence was considered conclusive. This was the second conviction of the week in which the chief made the arrest.

The appeal asked for by Attorney S. S. Dahl in the case of the State vs. Mrs. Francis Luzzavich, who pleaded guilty to and paid a fine of $50 and costs on a blind pig charge Monday, was granted by Judge Carey.

The contention of Attorney Dahl is that the defendant did not understand what charge had been placed against her and that she did not have advice in the trial.

SCARLET FEVER AT TWO HARBORS.

Two Harbors, Minn., March 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—Three new cases of scarlet fever are reported: Lydia Erickson, age 12 years; Ingvald Alm, age 13 years, and Edith Scott, age 10 years.

Grand Rapids Style Show.

Grand Rapids, Minn., March 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—A style show by the merchants of Grand Rapids at the Grand theater here last night proved a most successful affair. Late styles of millinery and ready-to-wear goods were shown on the stage worn by young ladies of Grand Rapids, each bringing much applause from the large audiences.

Alice Infant Buried.

Hibbing, Minn., March 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—The funeral of Rafael Nasi, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Gust Nasi, of Alice, who died yesterday, was held today.

Heads Virginia Band.

Virginia, Minn., March 26.—William McDonald, clerk at Mayor Boylan's office, was elected president of the Virginia City band at a regular rehearsal meeting. Former President Louis Brau has resigned on account of his removal to Bemidji.

CO-OPERATION IN CREAM SHIPPING

Meeting to Be Held at Waldo, Lake County, to Discuss Plan.

Two Harbors, Minn., March 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—Tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock there will be a meeting at the Waldo town hall when matters of vital importance to the farmers in this vicinity will be considered. If the plans on foot are carried out and a permanent organization perfected, the ultimate outcome will be of great importance to the farmers in this vicinity.

It is proposed to organize a cream-shipping association of all farmers and dairymen who have one quart and upwards of cream for sale two or three times each week. The plan is to have some person collect the cream and make the shipments, practically the same method used by all co-operative creameries.

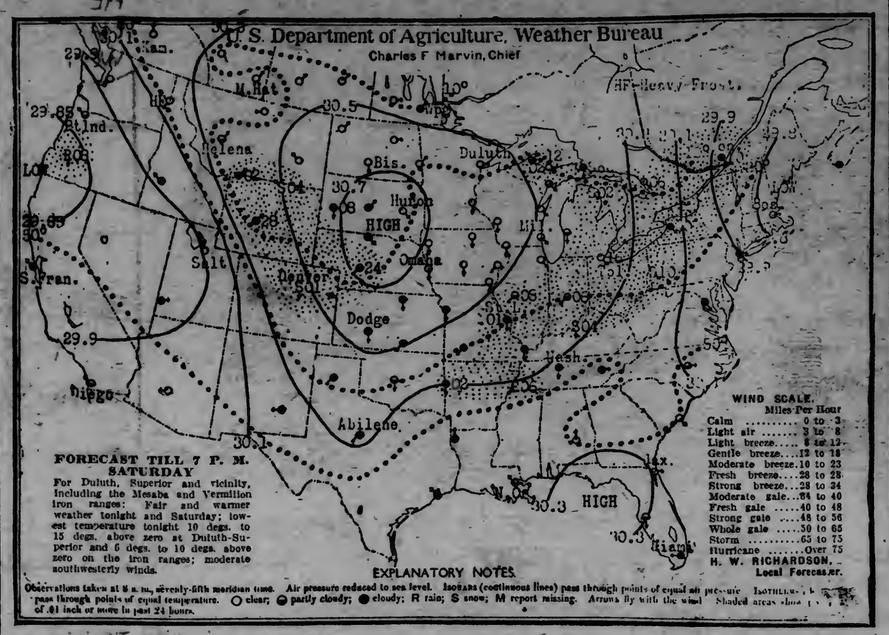
There is not sufficient cream for sale in this vicinity to maintain a creamery, but with a co-operative collecting and shipping association operating in the territory tributary to Two Harbors all farmers with but one or two cows will be able to profit in the cream business.

Propose Rural Route.

It has been thought by some that perhaps the men who carry the mail over the rural routes three times per week could be induced to handle the cream-collecting business also. It will be endeavored, at the meeting tomorrow evening, to make this arrangement, as it would be much cheaper than it would be to put a man on the job for the express purpose of collecting the cream. A ready market for the cream is assured, providing some sort of arrangement for the collection can be made.

This is one of the many recent movements to aid the farmers in this vicinity to market their produce and thereby help them to realize more profit from their land. At the recent institutes held in this county many encouraging suggestions were offered the farmers by various speakers, all emphasized the fact that farming is a real business in this section and not a fruitless drudgery as some people are inclined to think.

OFFICIAL MAP OF THE WEATHER



FORECAST TILL 7 P. M. SATURDAY

For Duluth, Superior and vicinity, including the Mesaba and Vermilion iron ranges: Fair and warmer weather tonight and Saturday; lowest temperature tonight 10 degs. to 15 degs. above zero at Duluth-Superior and 5 degs. to 10 degs. above zero on the iron ranges; moderate southwesterly winds.

EXPLANATORY NOTES.

Observations taken at 8 a. m., seventy-fifth meridian time. Air pressure reduced to sea level. Isobars (continuous lines) pass through points of equal air pressure. Isotherms (dotted lines) pass through points of equal temperature. ○ clear; ◑ partly cloudy; ● cloudy; R rain; S snow; M report missing. Arrows fly with the wind. Shaded areas show [illegible] of .01 inch or more in past 24 hours.

The weather gods are getting good again, and the sun is shining as brightly as one could wish. But last night was cold enough for real winter, and those who have taken off storm windows in the first enthusiasm over the arrival of spring, had a shivery time of it in dressing this morning. Fair and warmer weather is promised.

Heavy snow fell a year ago today. The sun rose this morning at 5:59 and will set this evening at 6:29, giving twelve hours and thirty minutes of sunlight

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"Much colder weather prevails in Eastern Canada, the lake region, Ohio, Upper Mississippi and Lower Missouri valleys, Rocky mountain states and Eastern slopes. Zero temperature occurred last night at Port Arthur, Ont., Sheridan, Wyo., and at some places in Northeastern Minnesota. The temperature is rising over Manitoba, Saskatchewan and North Dakota. During the last twenty-four hours light snow or rain fell over the St. Lawrence, Ohio and Middle Mississippi valleys, the Eastern lake region and Rocky mountain states."

General Forecasts.

Chicago, March 26.—Forecasts for the twenty-four hours ending at 7 p. m. Saturday:

Minnesota and North Dakota—Fair tonight and Saturday; rising temperature:

Wisconsin—Fair tonight and Saturday; rising temperature Saturday and in west portion tonight.

Iowa—Fair tonight and Saturday; slowly rising temperature.

South Dakota—Partly cloudy tonight and Saturday; rising temperature.

Montana—Generally fair tonight and Saturday; warmer tonight.

Lower Michigan—Fair, continued cold tonight and Saturday.

Upper Michigan—Fair, continued cold tonight; Saturday fair, not so cold.

GOOD SAMARITAN ACT COSTS VIRGINIAN SHOES.

Virginia, Minn., March 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—Theodore McGuire, a well known local bartender, does not believe it always pays from a material standpoint to be a good Samaritan. He tried it last night and today is minus a pair of shoes. He got acquainted with a down-and-outer last night and in a spirit of friendliness asked the fellow to his room to spend the night. This morning McGuire's guest and the pair of shoes the host left beside the bed were missing. McGuire will not prosecute.

ROAD MEETING TO BE HELD SATURDAY

Auditor Halden and Other Officials to Attend Virginia Gathering.

Virginia, Minn., March 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—County Commissioner Charles Penttila, Secretary George Perham of the Eveleth Commercial club, and D. Freeman of Eveleth, a member of the committee appointed by President M. A. Murphy of the local Commercial club, to act with Chairman D. C. Reed and R. L. Griggs of this city, to make arrangements for the meeting of farmers and business men of the Sixth commissioner's district, met here yesterday noon in the office of Mr. Griggs in the First National bank building, and discussed the roads program for the coming year.

The committee went over the matter of roads needed, ascertained what the roads will cost, and what fund is needed and will present the figures to the visiting county commissioners and County Auditor Odin Halden at the meeting here tomorrow.

The meeting tomorrow will be held in the Moose hall and not in the curling rink as was first planned. Commissioners Little, Penttila and County Auditor Halden have accepted the invitation and it is believed that Commissioners O'Niel and McMahon will also attend.

JOHN RUSSELL DEAD.

Stockholder in Chisholm Electric Company Called in Indiana.

Chisholm, Minn., March 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—Word was received by R. M. Hesket, manager of the Chisholm Electric company, that John Russell, one of the stockholders of the local company and a frequent visitor to Chisholm, died last week while at Linton, Ind., of nervous prostration, brought on by business worry and mental depression. Mr. Russell was well known here, making many friends during his periodical visits, one of which took place only a month ago. He was interested in many light and power plants throughout Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota.

SHORT ON BOYS.

Not Sufficent to Make Up Cast of Chisholm Class Play.

Chisholm, Minn., March 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—An English comedy, "Our Boys," has been chosen as the senior class play and rehearsals will begin as soon as the copies of the play arrive. The cast includes ten characters, four female and six male. The girls will be chosen from among the members of the senior class, but as there are only two boys in the class of 1915, there will be four parts to go to whatever high school boys manifest ability.

HELD ON GRAVE CHARGE.

Man Will Be Brought From Illinois on Complaint of Aurora Girl.

At the request of Sheriff John R. Meining, police at Johnston City, Ill., today arrested Matt Dragicevic, alias Matt Dragich, who is wanted at Aurora, this county, on a serious charge preferred by Barbara Thomas, a 17-year-old girl. The complaining witness resides in the town of White.

Dragicevic will be brought back from Illinois and held for the grand jury, which will convene at Virginia for the April term of the district court. A deputy sheriff will leave this afternoon to bring the prisoner back to the range.

Chisholm Irish Club.

Chisholm, Minn., March 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—The latest political club to be formed is the Irish club, as the outcome of the recent election in which descendants of the Emerald isle claim to have been neglected. A committee has been appoined to draft by-laws and a constitution and at an early date a meeting of charter members will be held. Others in town are stirring up interest in a club to be known as the American Protection association, but bears no relationship in membership or sentiment to the now defunct organization of twenty years ago.

Transforms Complexion; Wins Social Favors

"Had I been unable to transform my complexion so quickly, so completely, by an unique process I had just learned of, I never could have attended the Charity ball." A certain social favorite, a picture of loveliness at the great event, told me this. "I had been much run down," she said. "When I beheld myself in the mirror after a night's troubled sleep, I saw I was becoming heavy-eyed and pale. I could not take, and attend the ball, the long rest my physician advised. A friend suggested I get an ounce of mercolized wax at the druggist's and use it as I would cold cream. I did—the result is apparent. In a week I had a new complexion. The wax took off the old skin so gradually, there was no discomfort. Now you see the fresh, bright underskin, with its youthful glow and expression.

"The worry lines and wrinkles, which had become quite numerous, I removed very easily by simply bathing my face every morning in a harmless lotion made by dissolving an ounce of powdered saxolite in a half pint of witch hazel. You see the result—my skin as smooth and firm as a schoolgirl's."—Allen Cooper in Home Queen.

HAVE YOU HAD THE GRIP?

The debility and depression following an attack of the grip is not a fancied disorder. "Post-grippal neurasthenia" is the medical name for this condition and its seriousness is recognized by all medical writers.

One authority says: "Broadly speaking, every victim of the grip will suffer from post-grippal neurasthenia also. Lowering of nervous tone, with increased irritability is the most striking effect of the disease, with languor of mind and body, disturbed sleep and vague pains in the head and elsewhere."

Every sufferer will recognize the symptoms. What is the remedy?

After the fever has passed and the influenza has subsided the diet should be more liberal but be limited to articles easily digested; rest and sufficient sleep are essential and Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are the only medicine required in most cases. This treatment should be continued until the patient is completely restored to normal health and spirits. It is a specific treatment and rarely if ever fails.

Send today for the booklet "Building Up the Blood." It is free if you mention this paper. Address the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

WILL PUMP WATER FOR KINNEY VILLAGE.

Chisholm, Minn., March 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—R. M. Heskett, manager of the Chisholm Electric company, has signed a contract with the village of Kinney whereby his company will pump the village water supply for five years. The work will be done by three engines, one being of 60-horse power, one of 20-horse power and the other of 10-horse power. These engines and other equipment make a very complete system. The water is taken from a well of the purest water and the flow is sufficent to cover all needs, both as to domestic purposes and for fire protection.

CATHEDRAL TEAM TO PLAY GILBERT.

Gilbert, Minn., March 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—The basket ball team of the local high school defeated the Mountain Iron team handily Tuesday evening and will play the Cathedral high school team of Duluth tonight. As the Gilbert team ranks high with those in the state and the Duluth team is also a good one, a fast and exciting game is expected.

Chisholm Baseball Meeting.

Chisholm, Minn., March 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—Manager Tramontin of the local baseball club has issued a call for baseball players and fans for Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the council chambers of the village hall. The meeting will decide whether the village is to have a ball team this year.

Chisholm Infant Buried.

Chisholm, Minn., March 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—Joseph, the 8-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. R. Polich of Maple street passed away Wednesday after a short illness. Funeral services were held yesterday afternoon from St. Joseph's church, Rev. Father Schiffrer officiating. Interment was made in Calvary cemetery.

Chisholm Senior Is Strong.

Chisholm, Minn., March 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—John Lipovetz, senior in the local high school, made a remarkable record in the semi-annual strength test, held in connection with the regular gymnasium work. He scored 930.5 points, the next closest mark of 667 points being made by Howard Lott.

Gilbert Church Aid Sale.

Gilbert, Minn., March 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Ladies' Aid Society of the Presbyterian church will hold their annual Easter sale and exhibition Saturday afternoon and evening, April 3, in the old Gilbert cash store building. There will be a display of useful and attractive needle work, of growing ferns and plants and cut flowers. The sale will open at 2 o'clock and lunch will be served at 3.

Cloquet vs. Rapids.

Grand Rapids, Minn., March 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Grand Rapids Athletic basket ball team is booked for a game against the Cloquet Y. M. C. A. team at the local high school gymnasium this evening.

CAN'T BEAT "TIZ" WHEN FEET HURT

"TIZ" for Sore, Tired, Puffed-up, Aching, Calloused Feet or Corns.

"Sure! I use 'TIZ' every time for any foot trouble."

You can be happy-footed just like me. Use "TIZ" and never suffer with tender, raw, burning, blistered, swollen, tired, smelly feet. "TIZ" and only "TIZ" takes the pain and soreness out of corns, callouses and bunions.

As soon as you put your feet in a "TIZ" bath, you just feel the happiness soaking in. How good your poor, old feet feel. They want to dance for joy. "TIZ" is grand. "TIZ" instantly draws out all the poisonous exudations which puff up your feet and cause sore, inflamed, aching, sweaty, smelly feet.

Get a 25 cent box of "TIZ" at any drug store or department store. Get instant foot relief. Laugh at foot sufferers who complain. Because your feet are never, never going to bother or make you limp any more.

YOUR SICK CHILD IS CONSTIPATED! LOOK AT TONGUE

If Cross, Feverish or Bilious Give "California Syrup of Figs."

No matter what ails your child, a gentle, thorough laxative should always be the first treatment given.

If your little one is out-of-sorts, half-sick, isn't resting, eating and acting naturally—look, Mother! see if tongue is coated. This is a sure sign that its little stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with waste. When cross, irritable, feverish, stomach sour, breath bad or has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, sore throat, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the constipated poison, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of its little bowels without griping, and you have a well, playful child again.

Mothers can rest easy after giving this harmless "fruit laxative," because it never fails to cleanse the little one's liver and bowels and sweeten the stomach and they dearly love its pleasant taste. Full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups printed on each bottle.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrup. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs;" then see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company."

OPENING OF NEW ARMORY

Fine, New Crookston Building, Costing $36,000, to Be Formally Opened.

Leading Military Men of State to Participate in Exercises April 5.

Crookston, Minn., March 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—On Monday evening, April 5, the formal opening of Crookston's new armory will take place. There will be addresses by four of the leading military men of the state, followed by a grand ball.

Prior to the formal opening on April 5, there will be an informal opening on Thursday evening, April 1, to which the general public is invited. The completion of the magnificent new armory marks the successful conclusion of several years of splendid effort on the part of Company I, M. N. G. After a hard campaign, city bonds in the sum of $15,000 were voted, to which the state added another $15,000, and to this Company I has added a substantial sum in cash and assumed indebtedness, which combined amounts to over $6,000, bringing the cost of the building with furnishings up to over $36,000. It is expected to reduce the indebtedness the company has assumed very materially by the sale of tickets to the formal opening. It will be possible to hold the Scandinavian saengerfest here the coming July and similar events.

The armory is 142 feet deep and has a frontage of seventy feet of dark brown pressed brick. On the main floor is located the drill hall or auditorium 91x57 feet and a stage 20x57 feet with beautiful and complete scenery upon which any play can be staged. On the first floor is also located two officers rooms and two company rooms equipped with toilets, etc., and at the rear and on two sides a balcony provides seats for 400 people, which with the auditorium seats provide for 1,200 people, for which folding opera seats have been provided, and on big occasions 400 extra chairs can be used increasing the capacity to 1,600 without crowding.

On the second floor is located the non-commissioned officers' quarters and rooms for the regular army instructors.

Gym in Basement.

In the basement is located the gymnasium 36x50 feet, fifteen feet high gymnasium lockers, company lockers, shower bath room, three bowling alleys, quartermasters' quarters and the steam heating plant.

The stage is equipped with a fourton elevator so that stock can be brought on the stage for stock shows, etc., and ample room is provided for big affairs of any kind, including graduation exercises, saengerfests and conventions.

A feature of the auditorium is the absence of all posts to obstruct the vision.

The bowling alleys will be open to the public, and public gymnasium classes will be organized in the near future as soon as all the equipment purchased has been installed, thus providing one of the important Y. M. C. A. features until such time as a Y. M. C. A. can be supported, which will probably not be until several congregations have constructed new church buildings.

Opening Exercises.

The program for the formal opening on Monday evening, April 5, is as follows, beginning at 8 o'clock:

"America," sung by the audience, with accompaniment by the Citizens' band; address of welcome, Mayor Thomas Morris; addresses by A. D. Stephens and Martin O'Brien of Crookston; vocal selection, Mrs. E. B. Cannan; address, Brig.-Gen. Fred B. Wood, St. Paul; address, Col. Frederick E. Resche, Duluth; address, Maj. Franklyn W. Matson, St. Paul; vocal solo, E. R. Montgomery, Grand Forks; address, Col. H. V. Eva, Duluth; "Star Spangled Banner," sung by audience and accompanied by Citizens' band; 9:30 p. m., grand march, opening the ball.

Thursday Evening's Program.

The program for the informal opening, Thursday evening, April 1, beginning at 8 p. m., to which the public is invited and admitted free is as follows, including music and five-minute addresses: "America," sung by audience and played by Citizens' band of Crookston; address of welcome, Mayor Thomas Morris; addresses by Alderman John J. Kelly and S. S. Sivertson, president of the Crookston Commercial club; vocal selection, Pompadour Trio; addresses, Alderman P. Snyder and E. O. Hagen; vocal selection, Miss Agnes Gunderson; addresses by Messrs. Allen McKinnon and James Hanson; vocal selection, Viking chorus; address, N. S. Davies, secretary Minnesota Red River Valley Development association; "Star Spangled Banner," sung by audience, accompanied by Citizens' band; tour of inspection of the building.

LARGE CLASS IS TO BE GRADUATED

Large Class Will Be Given Diplomas at Crookston Farm School.

Crookston, Minn., March 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—The ninth annual commencement of the Northwest School of Agriculture will be held next week. A large class will be given diplomas. A recital will be given tomorrow evening in the Auditorium as the opening feature of the commencement, assisted by a mixed chorus and glee club, with Miss Grace Gunderson as director.

The baccalaureate exercises will be held Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, the address, "The Higher Purpose," being delivered by Rev. Paul B. Albert. On Wednesday evening the class play, "Mrs. Briggs of the Poultry Yard," will be given at the auditorium. The class exercises will be held next Thursday morning, April 1, at the auditorium. The commencement exercises proper will be given Thursday afternoon in the auditorium with President George E. Vincent of the University of Minnesota delivering the address to the class. The program for the commencement exercises next Thursday follows:

CIVIL WAR VETERAN OF CASS LAKE DIES.

Cass Lake, Minn., March 26.—Louis Hayes, aged 76, a veteran of the Civil war, died at his home Thursday. He had been ill two weeks as the result of a surgical operation performed in an attempt to relieve him of an intestinal trouble.

Mr. Hayes came here fifteen years ago. His widow is the sole survivor. As a volunteer in the Civil war he had been a member of Company K, Seventy-sixth regiment, Illinois infantry.

BADGER ELK HERD REPORTED DYING.

Madison, Wis., March 26—From causes unknown here, all of the herd of nearly thirty elk, consigned from Wyoming to the state game farm in Vilas county, are either dead or dying. This news was conveyed by the chief ranger in the reserve to State Game Warden John A. Sholts. Two or three died upon arrival, and the rest have followed one by one until the entire herd has been nearly exterminated.

LICENSE IS ISSUE IN SAWYER COUNTY

Several Places in Badger Community to Vote on Liquor Question.

Couderay, Wis., March 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—The license issue is the principal one in the spring election on April 6 in Sawyer county. Hayward, the county seat, will vote upon it; Exland, where it was tied last year, will vote again on it this spring, and Radisson and Couderay will also make it their principal issue.

The "drys" in Birchwood, in Washburn county, near here, will again try to oust the saloons. Two years ago the village went "dry" and last year "wet." The sentiment is pretty evenly divided in all these places.

SMOTHERS TO DEATH WHEN SOD HOUSE FALLS.

Killdeer, N. D., March 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—When the sod roof on the homestead shack of Rev. Jd Hatfield, who resided on a claim near here, collapsed, he was buried underneath a mass of poles and dirt and smothered to death. The inquest indicted the affair was entirely accidental.

MINOT YOUTH HAS WIRELESS OUTFIT

Is Able to Pick Up Messages From Points Very Remote.

Minot, N. D., March 26.—Max Kemper, the young son of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Kemper of this city, has erected himself a wireless outfit near his home on the south hill.

One of the wireless poles is 75 feet high and another towers 108 feet over the ground. The poles are 350 feet apart and six aluminum wires, which catch the sound waves, are spanned between them.

Young Kemper has made the study of wireless telegraphy his hobby and those who know him call him a genius in the wonderful science. The young wizard has made some inventions of his own in connection with his wireless apparatus and has erected a shed in which he spends many hours at his favorite sport.

Besides communicating with wireless stations all over the state of North Dakota, he has picked up messages from the great government station at Arlington, Va., 3,000 miles distant; from Grand Forks, Kansas City, St. Louis and many other points in the United States.

FIND LIQUOR IN CELLAR.

Indian Agents Make Sensational Raid of Bemidji Man's Home.

Bemidji, Minn., March 26.—Special Officer L. W. Carlson and Deputy Special Charles Benson made a sensational raid of a private home here Wednesday in search of contraband liquor in accordance with provisions of the "dry" Indian treaty. They discovered and confiscated wines, whiskey and champagne, valued at approximately $200, in the cellar of the residence of Matt Thome, Fifth street and Irvine avenue. Thome was formerly in the saloon business here.

The officers upon introducing themselves went directly to the cellar of the residence, finding a barrel containing thirty-five gallons of port wine and a keg in which they found five gallons of blackberry cordial. In suit cases well hidden were found four pints of champagne and ten quarts of imported wine. In a small hole beneath the flooring of the cellar the officers found thirty-seven quarts of whisky. The entire "plant" was destroyed.

"DRY" COUNTY TO VOTE.

Although Isanti Has No Saloons, People Will Vote Again.

Cambridge, Minn., March 26.—A petition containing about 600 names calling for an election to be held under the provisions of the new county option law, was filed on Monday with County Auditor Smith.

There have been no licensed saloons in Isanti county during the past three years, and the vote at the coming election is expected to show a large majority against granting license for the sale of liquor in Isanti county.

WANTS TO COME BACK.

Native American Who Became British Subject Must Show Officials.

Crookston, Minn., March 26.—Ted Heidrich, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Heidrich of this city, who is a naturalized citizen of Canada, will be forced to prove that he is American born before he is allowed to come back to Crookston. Seven years ago he went to Winnipeg in search of work at his trade of carpenter. He received employment, settled down in the Canadian city, and became a citizen. Lately he wished to return to America to farm land near Kennedy, Minn. He reached the border of the United States and was halted by the soldiers who now have him on probation. He must prove that he was born here before he is allowed to return.

Mr. Heidrich of this city, has made out affidavits and sent a copy of the birth certificate, and states that he expects to see his son back in his native country before the first of April.

ADMITS FIRING HOUSE.

Chippewa Falls Woman Said She Wanted to Raise Money to Get Away.

Chippewa Falls, Wis., March 26.—After State Deputy Fire Marshal Charles Good of Ashland had examined a mysterious fire which broke out last Friday in the residence of Thad Gardner, he ordered the arrest of Mrs. Gardner, aged 32.

Taken to District Attorney Jenkins' office, the woman confessed and said she wanted to sell her place for $1,000 so that with her husband and two children she could move to Minnesota. She could not sell the house and decided to burn it to get the insurance of $1,700.

After setting fire to the house in four places, she took her two children, and, in night clothes, ran barefoot through the snow to neighbors at 2 o'clock in the morning. By shutting all the doors and windows, the house did not burn.

Mrs. Gardner is in jail awaiting sentence. Her husband was not at home at the time of the fire.

KILLS HIMSELF WHEN SENTENCED TO PRISON

Negaunee, Mich., March 26.—David Murray, age 28, who was a resident of Negaunee prior to twenty years ago and who had since made his home in Montana, committed suicide in the county jail at Butte, Mont., recently. He had been convicted of highway robbery and had been sentenced to from twenty-five to fifty years in the penitentiary. He cut his throat with a razor on the day he was to have been taken to prison.

Ada—At the meeting of the Ada band the old officers were re-elected for another year. Reports read showed the band to be in a good condition financially. Following are the officers: President, C. R. Snyder; vice president, S. E. Olson; secretary, M. Bang; treasurer, J. Rindahl; member of board, J. Roesch.

International Falls — Charles L. Sheeran, who for eight years has served Koochiching county as deputy auditor, has resigned. He will leave soon for Benson, Minn., to engage in the real estate, insurance and loan business with Leo McDermott.

Bemidji—The local Elks will initiate a large class April 1 when the following will be taken into the lodge: Thomas Johnson, C. J. Woodmansee, R. C. Hayner, P. A. Kreuger, Lee Allen La Baw, S. B. Webster, Ray Dennis, Dr. George Doran, A. S. Harland and A. E. Stallings.

Crookston—Crookston merchants report that a large number of Polk county farmers and citizens of neighboring towns spent Tuesday in the city trading in the local stores and attending to other business matters.

Little Falls—Peter Pratt, formerly of this city, was badly injured Tuesday forenoon while working in the woods near Onamia, a tree limb falling on him. A message said that the limb struck him on the back of the head, but that he has been taken to Onamia for medical treatment and that the injury is not as serious as was at first supposed.

Isanti—Potatoes have been received in large quantities on the Isanti market this week. Prices Wednesday: Triumphs, 70 cents; Ohios, 50 cents; Burbanks, 28 cents; Rose, 25 cents and 27 cents.

Pine City—At the meeting of the county board the application of John J. Johnson of Nickerson, for refund of $250 in liquor license paid by him was granted.

Stillwater—Walter A. McKellar, private secretary to Warden Reed of the Minnesota state prison, left Tuesday for the East and will sail Thursday from Philadelphia on the steamer Northern Pacific for San Diego, San Francisco and the Panama-Pacific exposition.

Boy or Girl? Great Question!

This brings to many minds an old and tried family remedy—an external application known as "Mother's Friend." During the period of expectancy it is applied to the abdominal muscles and is designed to soothe the intricate network of nerves involved. In this manner it has such a splendid influence as to justify its use in all cases of coming mother-hood. It has been generally recommended for years and years and those who have used it speak in highest praise of the immense relief it affords. Particularly do these knowing mothers speak of the absence of morning sickness, absence of strain on the ligaments and freedom from those many other distresses usually looked forward to with such concern.

There is no question but what "Mother's Friend" has a marked tendency to relieve the mind and this of itself in addition to the physical relief has given it a very wide popularity among women.

You can obtain "Mother's Friend" at almost any drug store. It has helped a host of mothers to a complete recovery.

It is prepared only by Bradfield Regulator Co., 301 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga.

THROUGH THE PERISCOPE

VIEWING THE MANY STRANGE CRAFT THAT SAIL THE SPORT SEAS.

BY BRUCE.

COLIE MUNRO of Chisholm, firm friend and occasional adviser of P. Lawrence Brown, changed trains here yesterday en route home from the tempestuous doings at Hudson, at which point Red Watson and Ray Temple did an exceedingly animated ten round tangle for the delectation of some of the fight fans of the Twin Cities.

"Brown is in shape for Mandot, and expects to make a great showing against the French boxer," was the initial statement that the gentleman from Chisholm got out of his system. "Pal has Billy Whalen of the Gibbons camp working with him. We figure that Whalen is just the boy to give speed to Pal. Speed is what the Jackpine kid will need against Joe. As Harley Davidson says, Brown has had all the building up and all the strength-producing exercise he needs—what he wants more than anything else, is speed."

Those who have followed the career of the range boxer will agree in all of the essentials with the statement of Colie Munro. Footwork, more pep in his left, and some bloocy blooey stuff with his right should work well against Mandot.

Mandot's record indicates extreme speed but not the possession of a knockout wallop. Here is another little angle to the impending tilt—if Pal has a real punch and can get to the baker boy, he might rise to exceeding fame in one bright evening by stretching the New Orleans lad for the fatal count.

That terrific puncher, Leach Cross, laid Joey low, and Bud Anderson also has a K. O. to his credit over the French market boxer. These defeats would indicate that Mandot cannot assimilate the gaff with the same surprising ability of Brown or Wolgast or some of the other twenty members of the lightweight brigade.

Mandot possesses a lot of class at that; as a boxer he is one of the real stars of the aspiring chasers of the title held in the illusive grasp of that famous gent from Pontypridd, Wales. If Joe performs to form in the coming gallop, he will carry the prominent citizen of the range country along at an exceedingly lively gallop and may pile up a lead on points.

Let us say that working with a lad of the brilliant boxing stripe of Billy Whalen is a course likely to polish up the boxing of Brown—and is a course that he should have adopted sometime back.

That's all right, Harley, glad to do anything we can. Drop us a line.

Concerning Connie's Cunning.

NAPOLEON BONAPARTE was considered quite the rage in spring and fall war fashions until the Duke of Wellington cut into the running at Waterloo. In a similar strain it might be stated that one Cornelius McGillicuddy was photographed and paragraphed and lauded as the greatest and latest craze in big league managers.

As Wellington doused some of the brightly burning candle lights of the fame blaze of little Nap, so has George Stallings smoked up the throne room of the house of Mack.

The impending season promises to prove the test of the ability of the reputed cunning and resourceful Mack to take a wrecked baseball club onto the diamond and make it behave in a big league manner. Idols get rusty and slim and shivering youths rise out of the obscurity of the bushes and make fickle hussies out of us all. It required six years for John McGraw to climb back into the pennant winning class after the wonderful Chicago Cubs had swept the Giants off their feet by the speed of their attack. Also for four seasons the Athletics were kept out of the pennant winning class after Mack had copped the oriflamme back in 1905.

Now, the big question is, Can Mack, falling back on the second line of players he has been training these passing years, aspire to the high place in the nation's baseball councils that has been his these many years?

Should the Athletics cop a pennant without the sturdy aid of Messrs. Collins and Baker, not to mention the services of Bender and Plank, idol worshipping as an institution will receive a rude slap on the wrist.

Darby O'Brien, Optimist.

LOSSES aggregating the lopping off of the sterling services of Blancke, Brackett, Edmunds, Ezell, Withers, Bond, Cunningham and that quintessence of pep, James Esmond Collins, seem not in the least to dim the hopes or expectations of Darby Patrick Thomas O'Brien.

"I'll have a better team than last season," ays the Orator. Will he? "I have all the ball players in the world on my list. I have a lot of youngsters that will make good this season." The Dook will have to have some promising material to fill the shoes of Brackett, Bond, Collins, Cunningham, Ezell and Blancke.

These boys were some players for a class C league—some players indeed. One of the tragic aftermaths of winning a pennant in the sticks is the drain the accomplishing of such a feat brings down on the playing strength of a club.

A pennant winning team in the bushes generally has some rising stars, and the big league scouts, ever on the scurrying search for talent that may be hiding under a bushel, are quick to seize upon these players.

True it is that Herr Blume realized handsomely in the kale of the realm for the services of his players—and true it may prove that the local management will stumble into hard and troubled labors in assembling a collection to replace these sweet and fragrant performers.

WHITE OUTFIGHTS CROSS IN NEW YORK

Ghetto Dentist Well Shaded By Chicago Lightweight Boxer.

New York, March 26.—Charley White, Chicago lightweight, outfought Leach Cross of New York in a 10-round bout here last night, White getting the honors in five rounds and Cross in two while three were even. The weights were announced as Cross, 131½; White, 129.

Both men fought deliberately, trying hard for a knockout. The bout started slowly, but Cross' aggressiveness earned him the first round. The second was even and White earned the third when a right cross to the jaw shook Cross up. In the fourth Cross was kept busy defending himself, but he held White even in the next round. Cross took the sixth. The local boy became aggressive again in the seventh, but a fast rally gave the round to White. The eighth was even, although a left hook brought the blood from White's nose.

The ninth was the hardest fought round, White dealing out severe punishment. The final round brought frequent mix-ups, with Cross a trifle wild.

BILLIARDS

Philadelphia, March 26.—Willie Hoppe, professional billiard champion, was defeated by Joseph Mayer, the national amateur title-holder, in the opening game of their handicap match at 18.2 balk line billiards here last night. Mayer ran out his 300 in the thirteenth inning, while Hoppe, who was playing 400, had scored only 206.

Chicago, March 26.—William Huey of Chicago went into the lead in the world's three-cushion billiard championship tournament here last night, defeating John Daly of New York 50 to 35 in sixty-seven innings. Huey had a high run of 9 and Daly 5.

By defeating Alfredo De Oro in the afternoon game, George Moore of New York is tied with Daly for second place. Moore won 50 to 35. Moore had a high run of 6 in seventy innings. De Oro played sixty-nine innings and made a run of 5.

BREAKS RECORD IN PIN SINGLES

Pueblo Man Smashes Bowling Mark That Has Stood Five Years.

Peoria, Ill., March 26.—W. H. Pierce of Pueblo, Colo., last night broke the American Bowling congress record in the singles when he rolled 711. The spurt taken by Pierce came near the end of a listless day's bowling. He rolled 276, 226 and 209 in his three games. Only once before in the history of the congress has the 700 mark been reached. In 1910 T. Haley of Detroit rolled 705 and up to last night this was the record for the singles. Other changes were made in the singles when H. Grotjahn of Chicago went into third place with 696.

In the doubles, H. Allen and R. Allen, Detroit, lead with 1,297; the five-man event is headed by the Barry-Kettlers, Chicago, with 2,907, and E. J. Kelly, Chicago, with 1,870, tops the all events.

PLAYERS AND GAMES

St. Louis, Mo., March 26.—Bob Bescher, New York National outfielder, yesterday became a member of the St. Louis Nationals, completing the deal in which Pitcher W. D. Perritt went to the New Yorks.

Miller Huggins, manager of the local Nationals, announced he had received a telegram from Manager McGraw of the New York team accepting the St. Louis club's offer for Bescher, but he refused to make known the terms of the deal.

Bescher is now at the training camp of the New York club in Texas.

Oakland, Cal., March 26.—The Oakland team of the Pacific Coast league defeated the Chicago Americans 7 to 0 yesterday.

Lakeland, Fla., March 26.—The Louisville American association team defeated the Chicago Nationals here yesterday, 7 to 1.

Fayetteville, N. C., March 26.—The Baltimore Federals won from the Fayette college here yesterday, 8 to 2.

PHANTOM MATCHED TO BOX M'FARLAND

MIKE GIBBONS.

STAR BOXERS ARE MATCHED

Mike Gibbons and Packey McFarland Will Meet in Milwaukee.

Welsh and Bat Nelson to Scrap—Jack Welch Havana Referee.

Chicago, March 26.—Articles were signed here yesterday for a ten-round bout to be staged within sixty days between Mike Gibbons and Packy McFarland.

The fighters agreed to weigh not more than 145 pounds at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. The agreement signed today was the first admission ever made by McFarland that he has grown into the welterweight division. Heretofore he had insisted he was a lightweight.

Gibbons is a contender for the middleweight championship. The fight probably will be staged in Milwaukee.

Detroit, Mich., March 26.—Announcement is made here that Freddie Welsh, lightweight champion, has signed articles in Windsor, Ont., for a ten-round match with Battling Nelson, in Havana, on April 4, the bout to serve as a curtain raiser for the Johnson-Willard fight. The affair is for a purse of $2,000.

Havana, Cuba, March 26.—"Battling" Nelson won the decision last night over Jimmy Freyer in the twenty-fifth round.

Havana, March 26.—Jack Welch of San Francisco has been named as referee for the Johnson-Willard fight. He was selected at a meeting of the principals and promoters last night, and the promoters sent a cablegram to him asking his acceptance. The proposal to name a substitute or an alternate was deferred until word should be received from Welch.

Johnson has shortened his schedule, finding that he is losing weight too fast because of the climatic conditions. Willard worked harder, however. He showed excellent footwork and unusual snap in his punches.

Plans have been completed for stands at the Manino race course to accommodate between 20,000 and 30,000 people. There has been a good sale of cheaper seats to Cubans.

BASEBALL SCHEDULES

New York, March 26.—Federal league club owners gathered here today to ratify a playing schedule and adjust disputes rising from the transfer of players. Pending the legal settlement of the controversy over the Kansas City franchise, two sets of schedules had been prepared, one with Kansas City in the circuit and the other without. Court ruling, which kept the Kansas City franchise in Kansas City, however, leaves the league free to adopt a schedule without further delay.

Interest centered in the arrangements for the transfer of the Indianapolis club to Newark.

Chicago, March 26.—New delay in the adoption of an American association schedule was occasioned by the discovery of several errors in the draft as drawn up by the committee at its meeting here. The errors, which were described as minor by President Chivington, will make necessary, perhaps, a revision by the committee of certain parts of the chart.

CHOSEN LEADER OF THE CENTRAL QUINT

"YID" O'BRIEN.

WILL EVEN UP AN OLD SCORE

High School Senior Indoor Nine Will Meet the Faculty.

Both Teams Will Practice Strenuously Until Game Is Played.

An ancient custom is about to be revived at Central high school. As a result of the faculty team claiming so much prowess on the indoor baseball field, the members of the senior class indoor squad have challenged their more dignified elders to a game of indoor baseball, to be played in the gymnasium of the Y. M. C. A. on the afternoon of Friday, April 9.

This, the senior "studes" assert, will be a grand opportunity to square up for the four years of misery that the pedagogues have forced upon them. The younger players intend to make the best of their one lone chance to get even. They say that it is going to be an awful slaughter. They are taking no chances, however, and the team will be put through some strenuous practice in the next two weeks. The students will be enjoying a vacation all next week because of Easter, and the members of both squads intend to take this opportunity to "limber up" indoors as well as out. Several ambitious candidates from the senior class have announced their intention of trying out for the team and many more will be out in the next few days. Among those who are already "in training" are Kerr, Scrivens, Hoopes, Parsons, Stenberg, Reed, Collins, Bartlett, Duncan, Gunderson, Troyer and Moore.

The faculty warriors, despite the many threats of their juniors, do not intend to allow the "kids" to put anything over on them. For some time the faculty team has been engaging in practice games and it has perfected a good combination with which it expects to "mop up the floor" with the seniors. Some of the faculty "bears" who are expected to shine in the contest are O'Brien, Glyer, Schilling, Young, Carmen, Geiger, Gregory, Lawson, Blair, Holmes, Taylor, Burkes and Benson.

O'BRIEN TO HEAD BASKET TOSSERS

Athlete Is Honored By "D" Students of Central High School.

At a meeting of basket ball "D" men of Central high school yesterday, Sherman "Yid" O'Brien was chosen to captain the 1915-1916 squad of basket tossers.

Due to injuries received during the football season, O'Brien did not come out for basket ball this year, although he was a member of last year's team. Last season, as a freshman, he captained his class team and because of his fine showing in the interclass series he was chosen for the school squad, landing a regular berth at center. This season, however, he was not able to play. He is a junior next year, and if he is able to play he should make a great showing. Those who were allowed to vote in the selection of captain for next year were: Capt. Schelin, Scrivens, Taylor, Karon, Moore, Farah and Shaw. These men all received their "D" this year. O'Brien, not having played this season, did not vote. Four of the regulars graduate this year, leaving only Karon of the first squad for next year's five. Shaw proved a wonder as sub forward in the games in which he participated and Farah, when used, played a great game at guard. These two men, together with O'Brien, should round out a strong team. Only one position is left open, but there will be a great many men out for this place. Some of the old men will have to fight hard to retain their positions.

QUINTS WILL CLASH AT "Y"

Disbanded High School Team Will Play Season-End Game.

"Y" League Stars Still Looking for Few More Contests.

Although the basket ball season is virtually over, the Y. M. C. A. Commercial league stars are planning on a few games before the season closes. Physical Director Olson of the Y. M. C. A., who is backing the team, has arranged for a game tonight with the Central high school quint, to be played at the Y. M. C. A. The baseball season is some time off yet, and the basket ball enthusiasts will be able to see a few mores games before the outdoor game starts.

The high school team has recently completed a very successful interscholastic season, and although the team had disbanded, most of the men have agreed to play against the league stars tonight. The contest this evening will undoubtedly be a fast one and will probably attract a large gallery.

The Y. M. C. A. Commercial stars are looking for a few more games. Any city team that has not yet disbanded could be taken on. A contest with either the Two Harbors, Virginia or Proctor teams would be especially welcomed, in fact any good outside aggregation that is still in the field. Communications should be addressed to Mr. Olson at the local Y. M. C. A.

The line-up for the game tonight will be as follows:

Y. M. C. A. Stars—	High School—
Boerner	Shaw, Karon
Foryzink, Smith	Scrivens
Dworshak, Becker	Moore
	Solheim
Beck, Wisted	Taylor
Burnett

Wins Golf Championship.

Pinehurst, N. C., March 26.—Mrs. Ronald H. Barlow, Merion Cricket Club, Philadelphia, won the thirteenth annual United North and South amateur golf championship for women here yesterday, defeating Mrs. W. J. Faith, Wykagyl club, New York, 2 up and 1 to play. Mrs. H. R. Stockton, Plainfield, N. J., won the championship consolation medal.

Big Alaska Dog Race.

Nome, Alaska, March 26.—The all-Alaska sweepstakes race for dog teams, the classic sporting event of the North, has been set for April 14. Seven entries are already in sight for the race, which will be run over the snow trail from Nome to Candle and return, a distance of 412 miles.

M'FARLAND AND GIBBONS ARE SCIENTIFIC MARVELS

Match Between Them Will Bring Together the Two Greatest Boxers of the Present Day—Chicago Boy Has Been Compared to Gans—Winner Will Be Proclaimed Greatest Glove-man of Present Day.

BY BRUCE.

Both Packey McFarland and Mike Gibbons are splendid young business men. It is reported that Packey and Mike met in Chicago something like a year ago. Gibbons asked McFarland for a bout, so the story goes. "You and I want to fight after we are all through fighting all of the others," is the reputed answer of McFarland.

It is true that the loss of the meeting that seems assured by the news of today will mean the loss of a lot of prestige by one of the two fighters. If Gibbons decisively defeats the stockyards Irishman, the fans throughout the country will declare that McFarland was beaten by the first real fighter of his own size that he has met in years; and should the peerless Mike run into a pugilistic squall, comparisons to Ryan, Dempsey and Kid McCoy will die of inanition.

Starting as a lightweight and as a rugged puncher the sound reasoning brain of Packey McFarland quickly figured the ring game at its present valuation upon the part of many of the boxers that came into the game since the debut of the natty looking Chicagoan.

Packey knocked them dead when he started; then he figured that it was foolish and quite profitless to go in and slug and thus be forced to retire at a comparatively early ring age because of broken hands, when the golden path to fame and dollars could be trodden just as effectively by making his opponents look like a lot of suckers.

It was after this process of reasoning that the Irishman started to develop cleverness. Under the instruction of the veteran Harry Gilmore, McFarland has become one of the cleverest boxers in the world—whether the cleverest in the world, the coming contest may serve to largely determine.

Compared to Joe Gans.

Only old and experienced followers of the ring game realized and properly appreciated the marvelous cleverness of Joe Gans. The Baltimore negro had everything—and this statement is literal in its application.

Joe could feint, was a master at countering, blocking and taking instant advantage of an opening with either hand. While here last winter Marty Forkins, a wise and experienced sporting man, compared Packey McFarland to Gans.

"McFarland has everything that Gans had, save the punch," said Forkins. "Gans could always hit, even right up to the last. McFarland is a fighting machine. He has the greatest left hand in the world. If he ever fights Mike Gibbons he will make Mike look just as bad as Gibbons made Clabby appear. You may doubt me, but let me tell you that one afternoon in a New York gymnasium McFarland made Eddie McGoorty look like a fool with the gloves."

For the most part McFarland has been meeting men smaller than himself. The stockyards boy is not a boxers' boxer; by that statement we mean that Packey is not liked or admired by the members of his own profession.

Nelson, Wolgast and others have told the writer in unstinted terms their opinion of the clever chap from the stockyards district. Whether a tinge of jealousy impelled their viewpoint or not, it is difficult to state.

On the other hand, Mike Gibbons is intensely respected for his fighting ability by practically every boxer in the game.

When Eddie McGoorty met "Young" Mahoney, the 46-year-old plumber, at Superior some time back, he came to these parts almost directly from New York and almost immediately after his meeting with Gibbons in the Garden. In view of the fact that Gibbons made the worst showing of his career in this bout, McGoorty might have been expected to have made light of the ability of the St. Paul boy.

"You bet your life Gibbons can fight," was the reply of McGoorty to questions by local newspaper men. This estimate of Gibbons was enthusiastically concurred in by Marty Forkins, who was at that time managing McGoorty.

"Don't let anyone tell you this sucker can't fight," continued McGoorty. "And don't think he can't hit. Mike is one of the greatest in the world."

Compare this to the statement of Bat Nelson regarding McFarland.

"Take half of his fights and throw them in the waste basket," said the Dane. "They figured them out with a pencil. Who did he ever lick? Who did he ever fight his size? Say, a flue guy! Some four-flusher."

The Real Test to Come.

If McFarland meets Gibbons the real test as to his ability will be made. If McFarland wins he will be proclaimed on all sides as the greatest boxer of the past decade; and if Gibbons wins

Tuxedo Keeps You In Good Trim

Christy Mathewson, lovingly known as "The Old Master," is probably the greatest pitcher baseball has ever known. This wonderful athlete is noted for his clear-headed common sense, his quick wits, perfect physical condition, and absolute control over his nerves. His use and endorsement of Tuxedo prove that this inspiring and healthful tobacco is helpful to mind and body.

he will add new laurels to his name and added luster to his fame.

When Peter Jackson and young Jim Corbett met, two master boxers matched their remarkable skill and science. The superlative in a boxing sense was likewise witnessed in the meeting between young Griffo and Jack McAuliffe. Tommy Ryan and Kid McCoy were another illustrious pair that matched the greatest boxing skill in the world. The same was true of the meeting between Corbett and McCoy. If McFarland and Mike Gibbons are lugged into the same ring, present day boxing fans will witness the two greatest boxers of their day match their skill.

If McFarland is not respected by the boxers, he is one of the greatest box office cards before the public. A brainy boy, possessing personality and magnetism, the Chicago Irishman has got the money, which was what he set out to accomplish. If McFarland outpoints Gibbons the world will sit back and gasp and then with a slight start begin wildly to rave over the wonderful skill of Packey.

OARSMEN TAKE REAL WORKOUT

Ten Eyck's Pupils Row on Cold Water of the Bay.

Jimmy Ten Eyck had his men out on the water again yesterday. Despite the cold weather the boys got some real work out of the lapstreaks. The current had cleared quite a wide path and the boys were less hampered by floating ice than on the initial water trial of the season.

The following crews were out.

Stroke, Emerson; 3, Shearer; 2, Swanson, and bow, Sutherland.

Stroke, Hall; 3, F. Johnson; 2, Mapp, and bow, Paleen.

Stroke, Vincent; 3, Sperry; 2, Burnett, and bow, Haley.

Stroke, Arneson; 3, D. Moore; 2, Rheinberger, and bow, P. Moore.

Stroke, Prudden; 3, A. Grant; 2, A. Olson, and bow, Nelson.

Singles, Forsell, C. Moore, Hoover, Hagberg and Kent.

Track Team Goes West.

Champaign, Ill., March 26.—The University of Illinois track team, holder of the Western college conference championship, left last night for Berkeley, Cal., to hold a dual meet with the University of California team April 3. The meeting will be the first in which a conference team has competed with a California team on the Pacific coast.

LEEK EMBLEM OF WELSH GUARDS

Red Dragon to Appear Emblazoned on Regimental Colors.

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)

London, March 12.—After a long dispute as to the comparative claims of the red dragon, the leek and the daffodil as the emblem of the new Welsh addition to the Grenadier Guards, the decision has been made in behalf of the leek. This vegetable, described by Shakespeare in Henry V as an honorable badge of service, has been long associated with the Welsh troops, and was worn recently by Welsh soldiers in their caps on St. David's day.

Other points settled are that the red dragon shall appear emblazoned on the regimental colors and the motto shall be "Cymru am Byth," meaning "Wales Forever." Wales is the last section of the United Kingdom to be honored by a regiment in the brigade of guards, whose duty it is to guard the royal abodes in peace times. England, Scotland and Ireland form the other regiments.

USE OF TOBACCO IS ONE RESULT OF WAR.

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)

London, March 12.—The use of tobacco within the confines of the British war office and admiralty is one of the innovations which war has wrought in the official etiquette of London. Prior to August 3, neither of these great public offices gave official sanction to the fragrant weed.

But with the war came work all round the clock, and the solace of pipe and cigarette was permitted to the night workers. Heads of departments as well as juniors puffed and were comforted, thradually the use of tobacco spread to the day side, until now the smoker has gained a complete victory over the old traditions.

HEALTH TALKS

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

Minor Surgery Versus Dangerous Experiments

SMALL moles, wens, sebaceous cysts, warts and obstinate local blemishes of various kinds can be treated in numerous ways and with more or less success, but in this day of painless, aseptic surgery the knife is the most certain, least destructive and easiest way in which you can be freed from such annoyances.

There are chemical caustics which will destroy all tissue, healthy or not, which they touch. You can have your lesion destroyed that way if you wish, but you must realize that the danger of infection and the certainty of pain and the slowness of healing after such crude and uncontrollable applications are details which follow, whether you will or not.

Pastes Often Cause Blood Poisoning.

Now and then a skin cancer—epithelioma, as doctors call it—is permanently cured by some such local application. But in the great majority of cases the cancer "paste" or "salve" not only proves a dismal failure, but irritate the little growth to such a degree that it assumes a malignancy which it scarcely showed before, and the victim promptly passes beyond hope of a complete recovery. However, these pitiable failures are soon forgotten; only the remarkable exception is remembered, and the exception is heralded far and wide, to the great injury of many a poor sufferer who stakes his all on a most desperate gamble with death or worse than death.

The time to get rid of these blemishes is now. Now, while they are benign, small, easily removed. If you wait you have no assurance that your wart or mole or wen or other obstinate blemish will not undergo cancerous degeneration sooner or later. Minor surgery is painless, safe, sure. Why waste time or money on anything else? The best treatment is the cheapest, however you regard the question.

Questions and Answers.

Serious Effort to Turn 'Em: In one of your talks I think you suggested that it is a good habit to turn a few summersets each day. Are you serious about it, and would you advise a woman of 43 to do it?

REPLY.

Whenever a doctor suggests anything in the line of treatment outside of a vial he is apt to be misunderstood. Age is no bar—though it will take several weeks of practice to learn to turn 'em at 43. They are great for indigestion.

What a High Pressure Indicates: I am a man of 47. My health has always been good until recently. I do an office business. Feeling below par, I consulted my doctor. He found my blood pressure 150, 165, 180 and 170 at different times. The urinalysis, chemical and by microscope, was each time negative. I am nervous, not sleeping well, conscious I have a heart. What would such symptoms indicate?

FORMER PAYMASTER IS SENTENCED TO PRISON.

Paris, March 26.—Col. Francois Des Claux, former paymaster-general in the French army, charged with stealing military stores, was convicted yesterday and sentenced to seven years' solitary confinement and military degradation. His name was ordered removed from the list of the legion of honor.

Madame Bechoff, the wife of a German, in whose house the stolen goods were found, also was declared guilty by the court-martial, and was sentenced to two years' imprisonment. A soldier named Verges, who was accused of aiding in the thefts, was given a one-year sentence. All the other defendants were declared not guilty.

WILL CONFER RITE DEGREES

Masons Will Begin Annual Easter Week Reunion Monday.

Many Members Will Take Part—Obligatory Feast on Thursday.

Scottish Rite Masons of Duluth and vicinity will conduct ceremonials and confer degrees at the Masonic temple next week, in observance of the annual Easter week reunion of the rite.

This year the reunion starts on Monday with a four days' session, while heretofore the ceremonies have begun on Tuesday of Easter week.

It is expected that fully 700 members of the rite will be present during the sessions and particularly at the "Maundy Thursday feast obligatory" at the temple on Thursday evening, April 1.

The various degrees of the rite will be conferred upon a large class of candidates during afternoon and evening sessions which will be held daily.

Edward K. Coe, venerable master of North Star Lodge of Perfection No. 6, and chairman of the reunion committee, has announced the following schedule for the week:

Conferring of Degrees.

Monday—North Star Lodge of Perfection, 10:30 a. m. to 2:30 p. m., candidates to be at the temple for necessary preliminary work; afternoon, 2:30 to 5:30 o'clock, work and communication of fifth degree, Perfect Master C. A. Bronson presiding; night, at 8 o'clock, fourteenth degree, perfect elu, by officers of North Star Lodge of Perfection No. 6.

Tuesday—A. T. C. Pierson chapter, Rose Croix, H. W. Cheadle, thirty-third degree, wise master, 9:30 a. m., knight of the eagle, fifteenth degree, Burr Porter presiding; afternoon, 2:30 o'clock, prince of Jerusalem, sixteenth degree, G. W. Small presiding; night, 8 o'clock, eighteenth degree, Rose Croix.

Wednesday—Zenith Council of Kadosh, Clyde W. Stilson, K. C. C. H., preceptor, 9:30 a. m., communication; 10 a. m., twenty-first degree, Prussian Knight, John H. Hearding presiding; communication at 11:30 a. m.; afternoon, 2 o'clock, twenty-fifth degree, Knight of the Brazen Serpent, Guy W. Small presiding; communication at 4 o'clock; 8 o'clock, thirtieth degree, Knight Kadosh.

Thursday—Duluth Consistory No. 3, at 9:30 a. m., thirty-first degree, inspector inquisitor, R. B. Knox presiding; afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, thirty-second degree, master of the royal secret, R. B. Knox presiding; 6:30 p. m., feast obligatory for knights Rose Croix and the extinguishing of the mystic light.

Relighting of the lights Easter Sunday at 3 p. m., auditorium, Masonic temple.

PURE NEGRO JOINS COLDSTREAM GUARDS.

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)

London, March 12. — James Slim, a pure negro and a native of Jamaica, has enlisted as a private in the Coldstream Guards. Before the war, it would have been impossible for a negro to join a white regiment in England, let alone one of the proudest and most famous of the crack regiments. The fact of Slim's acceptance is a strong indication of the democratic effects of the war.

Slim was in France when the war broke, and joined the French foreign legion. Wounded in battle, he was sent to a hospital where he expressed the wish to join Kitchener's new army. Word was sent to Kitchener with the result that he was allowed to enroll in the Coldstreams. Slim is now training with the reserve battalion at Windsor.

DESERTIONS DECREASED

Smaller Number of Desertions From the United States Navy.

Twelve Enlisted Men Received Commissions During Last Year.

From The Herald Washington Bureau.

Washington, March 26.—Desertions in the United States navy are only one-third as great as they were two years ago according to a statement of Secretary Josephus Daniels. Reports from Atlantic, Pacific and Asiatic fleets show that during a period of one month only 90 of the 53,342 men in the navy deserted, while the average number of desertions in 1913 was 210 monthly. During the month in which 90 deserted, leave was granted to enlisted men on 252,222 occasions. Leave was overstayed in 1,446 instances.

"Modification of the regulations governing discharges has reduced the number of desertions to the extent shown by these figures," says Secretary Daniels. "It has enabled the closing of two prisons and reduced the number of men in confinement from 1,751 to 1,032 in one year. It is now the practice of the department to dismiss as undesirable for further service men who habitually break or overstay liberty, instead of imprisoning or fining them as was the practice heretofore."

More Humane System.

Secretary Daniels said the two prisons to which he referred are the Disciplinary barracks at Puget Sound and the Naval prison at Boston. "We hope," he said, "to abolish the Disciplinary barracks at Port Royal, Va. as soon as the men there complete their service." While testifying before the house naval committee during the last session of congress, the secretary said: "I think this will make a far more humane system and it will reduce the expenses probably $500,000 per year after the system is in full operation."

Secretary Daniels said today that he attributes the smaller number of desertions and the increased number of re-enlistments in the navy to changes in the methods of punishment and increased educational opportunities. Congressman Small, whose home state is the same as that of the secretary, says: "There can be no reasonable doubt their enlistment was due solely to the more certain opportunity they now have for advancement and the encouragement and assistance that are lent them by the navy to make the most of their chances. The enlisted strength of the navy has been increased by 5,670."

Men Get Commissions.

Secretary Daniels said that the policy of educating enlisted men while they are aboard ship has made it possible for a number to get commissions as ensigns. During the last year twelve enlisted men received such commissions, while under the last Republican administration only three passed the mental tests necessary. Mr. Daniels is proud of the fact that thirteen enlisted men have qualified for commissions in the pay corps. Heretofore none was taken from the ranks. Under the provisions of an act, adopted at his suggestion, it is now possible to appoint fifteen enlisted men a year to the naval academy, if they can pass the entrance examinations.

"When a man enlisted under the old scheme," said Mr. Daniels, "he was sent to a naval training station and instructed for four, five or six weeks. Now he is taught six months before he is sent aboard ship. His instructions continue there. Under the order prescribing a school period on board ship for men who have not completed two years' service in the navy, 40 per cent of the total force afloat, or 16,600 men, are under instruction in academic branches, while 3,960 more, who do not come under the compulsory clause, are taking the course voluntarily; 1,560 are taking a correspondence course, 356 are preparing for warrant rank, and 85 are studying for entrance to the naval academy. About 50 per cent of the enlisted force, or 25,200 men, are being instructed in professional or technical subjects."

Not Detrimental to Efficiency.

Mr. Daniels does not believe his changes have been detrimental to the efficiency of the navy as a fighting machine, nor to its discipline. "Desertion," he told the house naval committee, "is punished now as heretofore. The difference is that if a man who has been absent over leave, even for prolonged periods, surrenders to the naval authorities, he is given the benefit of the doubt on his first offense and is not tried for desertion, provided there is sufficient time remaining on his current enlistment for him to work through his probationary period. Formerly men who were absent over ten days, even though they surrendered, were usually tried for desertion."

The detailed statement of the navy department concerning recent desertion reports from the various fleets shows that in December only three men deserted fom the Asiatic fleet, and two of these surrendered of their own volition. Leave was granted on 18,638 occasions. It was abused in 89 instances, but no man in the fleet had to be discharged because of breaking liberty.

"In the Pacific fleet during January," says the navy department statement, "13 men deserted, and liberty was overstayed in 193 of the 32,248 instances in which it was granted. Nineteen men were discharged for liberty breaking, a percentage of .0059."

"HOUSE-CLEANING" WEEK.

Plans Will Be Made for Entire City at Meeting.

Business men and representatives of various civic organizations will meet at the Commercial club this evening to complete plans for "house-cleaning" week in Duluth.

Preliminary plans were made at a recent meeting, when Dr. H. E. Webster, director of public health, told of methods for cleaning and painting the city as the individual houses are cleaned. H. H. Beckwith of the Kelley-How-Thomson company is in charge of arrangements for the second meeting.

Mayor W. I. Prince is expected to attend the conference, together with other city officials and prominent business men interested in "washing Duluth's face" before the coming of summer.

Samuel Adams, the acknowledged Father of the American Revolution, who threw overboard the first chest of tea in Boston Harbor, was a Boston Brewer.

Roger Williams, founder of the State of Rhode Island was interested in the brewing industry.

George Washington, our greatest patriot, and "First in the hearts of his countrymen", had a brew house on his Virginia farm, Mount Vernon.

Major General Putnam, U. S. A., the hero of Bunker Hill, was a brewer. His tavern, the "General Wolfe", was the favorite headquarters for the patriot soldiers and statesmen during our War of Independence.

Six signers of the Declaration of Independence were brewers or indirectly interested in the brewing industry.

WHY FITGER NATURAL BEER IS A "DRAUGHT BEER IN BOTTLES"

The Kieselguhr filter is a new invention which "keeps" beer in bottles and gives to bottled beer the same, full natural character, taste and aroma of the finest of draught beer drawn fresh from the wood.

Our finest, natural draught beer is filtered through Kieselguhr or diatomacions earth, the diatomes of which are so small (20,000,000 to the cubic inch), that no yeast germs can pass through. Fitger Natural Beer is thus not only a "draught beer in bottles," but a draught beer brilliantly clear of every bit of impurity.

It has always been recognized that pasteurization, the process in common use for keeping bottled beer, changes the character and ruins the flavor of the natural beer. The artificial heat kills the troubleous yeast germs but it does not rid the beer of them, consequently pasteurized beer cannot be as clear or brilliant as Fitger Natural Beer.

Fitger Natural Beer is made regardless of cost. In substance and in brewing, it is the equal of any beer in the world, imported or domestic. In purity, clarity and brilliancy there is no beer in the world that equals

LEEK EMBLEM OF WELSH GUARDS

Red Dragon to Appear Emblazoned on Regimental Colors.

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)

London, March 12.—After a long dispute as to the comparative claims of the red dragon, the leek and the daffodil as the emblem of the new Welsh addition to the Grenadier Guards, the decision has been made in behalf of the leek. This vegetable, described by Shakespeare in Henry V as an honorable badge of service, has been long associated with the Welsh troops, and was worn recently by Welsh soldiers in their caps on St. David's day.

Other points settled are that the red dragon shall appear emblazoned on the regimental colors and the motto shall be "Cymru am Byth," meaning "Wales Forever." Wales is the last division of the United Kingdom to be honored by a regiment in the brigade of guards, whose duty it is to guard the royal abodes in peace times. England, Scotland and Ireland form the other regiments.

USE OF TOBACCO IS ONE RESULT OF WAR.

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)

London, March 12.—The use of tobacco within the confines of the British war office and admiralty is one of the innovations which war has wrought in the official etiquette of London. Prior to August 3, neither of these great public offices gave official sanction to the fragrant weed.

But with the war came work all round the clock, and the solace of pipe and cigarette was permitted to the night workers. Heads of departments as well as juniors puffed and were comforted. Gradually the use of tobacco spread to the day side, until now the smoker has gained a complete victory over the old traditions.

HEALTH TALKS

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

Minor Surgery Versus Dangerous Experiments

SMALL moles, wens, sebaceous cysts, warts and obstinate local blemishes of various kinds can be treated in numerous ways and with more or less success, but in this day of painless, aseptic surgery the knife is the most certain, least destructive and easiest way in which you can be freed from such annoyances.

There are chemical caustics which will destroy all tissue, healthy or not, which they touch. You can have your lesion destroyed that way if you wish, but you must realize that the danger of infection and the certainty of pain and the slowness of healing after such crude and uncontrollable applications are details which follow, whether you will or not.

WILL CONFER RITE DEGREES

Masons Will Begin Annual Easter Week Reunion Monday.

Many Members Will Take Part—Obligatory Feast on Thursday.

Scottish Rite Masons of Duluth and vicinity will conduct ceremonials and confer degrees at the Masonic temple next week, in observance of the annual Easter week reunion of the rite.

This year the reunion starts on Monday with a four days' session, while heretofore the ceremonies have begun on Tuesday of Easter week.

It is expected that fully 700 members of the rite will be present during the sessions and particularly at the "Maundy Thursday feast obligatory" at the temple on Thursday evening, April 1.

The various degrees of the rite will be conferred upon a large class of candidates during afternoon and evening sessions which will be held daily.

Edward K. Coe, venerable master of North Star Lodge of Perfection No. 6, and chairman of the reunion committee, has announced the following schedule for the week:

Conferring of Degrees.

Monday—North Star Lodge of Perfection, 10:30 a. m. to 2:30 p. m., candidates to be at the temple for necessary preliminary work; afternoon, 2:30 to 5:30 o'clock, work and communication of fifth degree, Perfect Master C. A. Bronson presiding; night, at 8 o'clock, fourteenth degree, perfect elu, by officers of North Star Lodge of Perfection No. 6.

Tuesday—A. T. C. Pierson chapter, Rose Croix, H. W. Cheadle, thirty-third degree, wise master, 9:30 a. m., knight of the eagle, fifteenth degree, Burr Porter presiding; afternoon, 2:30 o'clock, prince of Jerusalem, sixteenth degree, G. W. Small presiding; night, 8 o'clock, eighteenth degree, Rose Croix.

Wednesday—Zenith Council of Kadosh, Clyde W. Stilson, K. C. C. H., preceptor, 9:30 a. m., communication; 10 a. m., twenty-first degree, Prussian Knight, John H. Hearding presiding; communication at 11:30 a. m.; afternoon, 2 o'clock, twenty-fifth degree, Knight of the Brazen Serpent, Guy W. Small presiding; communication at 4 o'clock; 8 o'clock, thirtieth degree, Knight Kadosh.

Thursday—Duluth Consistory No. 3, at 9:30 a. m., thirty-first degree, inspector inquisitor, R. B. Knox presiding; afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, thirty-second degree, master of the royal secret, R. B. Knox presiding; 6:30 p. m., feast obligatory for knights Rose Croix and the extinguishing of the mystic light.

PURE NEGRO JOINS COLDSTREAM GUARDS.

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)

London, March 12. — James Slim, a pure negro and a native of Jamaica, has enlisted as a private in the Coldstream Guards. Before the war, it would have been impossible for a negro to join a white regiment in England, let alone one of the proudest and most famous of the crack regiments. The fact of Slim's acceptance is a strong indication of the democratic effects of the war.

Slim was in France when the war broke, and joined the French foreign legion. Wounded in battle, he was sent to a hospital where he expressed the wish to join Kitchener's new army. Word was sent to Kitchener with the result that he was allowed to enroll in the Coldstreams. Slim is now training with the reserve battalion at Windsor.

DESERTIONS DECREASED

Smaller Number of Desertions From the United States Navy.

Twelve Enlisted Men Received Commissions During Last Year.

From The Herald Washington Bureau.

Washington, March 26.—Desertions in the United States navy are only one-third as great as they were two years ago according to a statement of Secretary Josephus Daniels. Reports from Atlantic, Pacific and Asiatic fleets show that during a period of one month only 90 of the 53,342 men in the navy deserted, while the average number of desertions in 1913 was 210 monthly. During the month in which 90 deserted, leave was granted to enlisted men on 252,222 occasions. Leave was overstayed in 1,446 instances.

"Modification of the regulations governing discharges has reduced the number of desertions to the extent shown by these figures," says Secretary Daniels. "It has enabled the closing of two prisons and reduced the number of men in confinement from 1,751 to 1,032 in one year. It is now the practice of the department to dismiss as undesirable for further service men who habitually break or overstay liberty, instead of imprisoning or fining them as was the practice heretofore."

More Humane System.

Secretary Daniels said the two prisons to which he referred are the Disciplinary barracks at Puget Sound and the Naval prison at Boston. "We hope," he said, "to abolish the Disciplinary barracks at Port Royal, Va. as soon as the men there complete their service." While testifying before the house naval committee during the last session of congress, the secretary said: "I think this will make a far more humane system and it will reduce the expenses probably $500,000 per year after the system is in full operation."

Secretary Daniels said today that he attributes the smaller number of desertions and the increased number of re-enlistments in the navy to changes in the methods of punishment and increased educational opportunities. Congressman Small, whose home state is the same as that of the secretary, says: "There can be no reasonable doubt their enlistment was due solely to the more certain opportunity they now have for advancement and the encouragement and assistance that are lent them by the navy to make the most of their chances. The enlisted strength of the navy has been increased by 5,670."

Men Get Commissions.

Secretary Daniels said that the policy of educating enlisted men while they are aboard ship has made it possible for a number to get commissions as ensigns. During the last year twelve enlisted men received such commissions, while under the last Republican administration only three passed the mental tests necessary. Mr. Daniels is proud of the fact that thirteen enlisted men have qualified for commissions in the pay corps. Heretofore none was taken from the ranks. Under the provisions of an act, adopted at his suggestion, it is now possible to appoint fifteen enlisted men a year to the naval academy, if they can pass the entrance examinations.

"When a man enlisted under the old scheme," said Mr. Daniels, "he was sent to a naval training station and instructed for four, five or six weeks. Now he is taught six months before he is sent aboard ship. His instructions continue there. Under the order prescribing a school period on board ship for men who have not completed two years' service in the navy, 40 per cent of the total force afloat, or 15,600 men, are under instruction in academic branches, while 3,960 more, who do not come under the compulsory clause, are taking the course voluntarily; 1,560 are taking a correspondence course, 356 are preparing for warrant rank, and 85 are studying for entrance to the naval academy. About 50 per cent of the enlisted force, or 25,200 men, are being instructed in professional or technical subjects."

Not Detrimental to Efficiency.

Mr. Daniels does not believe his changes have been detrimental to the efficiency of the navy as a fighting machine, nor to its discipline. "Desertion," he told the house naval committee, "is punished now as heretofore. The difference is that if a man who has been absent over leave, even for prolonged periods, surrenders to the naval authorities, he is given the benefit of the doubt on his first offense and is not tried for desertion, provided there is sufficient time remaining on his current enlistment for him to work through his probationary period. Formerly men who were absent over ten days, even though they surrendered, were usually tried for desertion."

The detailed statement of the navy department concerning recent desertion reports from the various fleets shows that in December only three men deserted fom the Asiatic fleet, and two of these surrendered of their own volition. Leave was granted on 18,638 occasions. It was abused in 89 instances, but no man in the fleet had to be discharged because of breaking liberty.

"In the Pacific fleet during January," says the navy department statement, "13 men deserted, and liberty was overstayed in 193 of the 32,248 instances in which it was granted. Nineteen men were discharged for liberty breaking, a percentage of .0059."

"HOUSE-CLEANING" WEEK.

Plans Will Be Made for Entire City at Meeting.

Business men and representatives of various civic organizations will meet at the Commercial club this evening to complete plans for "house-cleaning" week in Duluth.

Preliminary plans were made at a recent meeting, when Dr. H. E. Webster, director of public health, told of methods for cleaning and painting the city as the individual houses are cleaned. H. H. Beckwith of the Kelley-How-Thomson company is in charge of arrangements for the second meeting.

Mayor W. I. Prince is expected to attend the conference, together with other city officials and prominent business men interested in "washing Duluth's face" before the coming of summer.

America's Most Famous Brewers

MAKERS OF AMERICAN HISTORY ALSO MAKERS OF BEER

William Penn, Quaker, founder of the State of Pennsylvania, and of the city of "Brotherly Love," had a brew house at his home, Pennbury Manor, and was also interested in brewing as an industry.

Samuel Adams, the acknowledged Father of the American Revolution, who threw overboard the first chest of tea in Boston Harbor, was a Boston Brewer.

Roger Williams, founder of the State of Rhode Island was interested in the brewing industry.

George Washington, our greatest patriot, and "First in the hearts of his countrymen", had a brew house on his Virginia farm, Mount Vernon.

Major General Putnam, U. S. A., the hero of Bunker Hill, was a brewer. His tavern, the "General Wolfe", was the favorite headquarters for the patriot soldiers and statesmen during our War of Independence.

Six signers of the Declaration of Independence were brewers or indirectly interested in the brewing industry.

WILLIAM PENN
In 1666

Pennsylvania was ceeded to Penn in return for money his father had lent King Charles. Under his government his domain enjoyed extraordinary prosperity.

WHY FITGER NATURAL BEER IS A "DRAUGHT BEER IN BOTTLES"

The Kieselguhr filter is a new invention which "keeps" beer in bottles and gives to bottled beer the same, full natural character, taste and aroma of the finest of draught beer drawn fresh from the wood.

Our finest, natural draught beer is filtered through Kieselguhr or diatomacions earth, the diatomes of which are so small (20,000,000 to the cubic inch), that no yeast germs can pass through. Fitger Natural Beer is thus not only a "draught beer in bottles," but a draught beer brilliantly clear of every bit of impurity.

It has always been recognized that pasteurization, the process in common use for keeping bottled beer, changes the character and ruins the flavor of the natural beer. The artificial heat kills the troubleous yeast germs but it does not rid the beer of them, consequently pasteurized beer cannot be as clear or brilliant as Fitger Natural Beer.

A. Fitger

FITGER Natural Beer

"A Draught Beer in Bottles"

Fitger Natural Beer is made regardless of cost. In substance and in brewing, it is the equal of any beer in the world, imported or domestic. In purity, clarity and brilliancy there is no beer in the world that equals

REMEMBER FULLY EQUIPPED

Don't let our competitors tell you otherwise. They will misrepresent the facts to you, as they have done before. Don't let them fool you.

Compare these figures of cost after operating the first season of 7,500 miles with any car on the market, as an illustration: If a Ford 5-passenger, FULLY EQUIPPED with new style Cowel or Funnel dash, electric lights, top, glass front, speedometer, side and tail lamps, horn, pump, jack tools, tire repair kit, etc., costs $490 f. o. b. factory, less rebate $430 net, with any car selling at $695 with the same equipment, summed up as follows, you can readily see that your saving would be in dollars a very considerable sum. Can you afford to throw away your money recklessly?

Ford Net Cost f. o. b. factory.		Any Car $695 f. o. b. factory.
$430.00		$ 695.00
.....	Tire cost, 7,500 miles.....	58.40
34.00	Gasoline cost, 7,500 miles...	62.00
3.60	Oil cost, 7,500 miles.....	7.20
100.00	Depreciation, 7,500 miles...	345.00
25.80	Interest on investment, 6%.	41.70
$593.40	Total cost end first season..	$1,209.30
330.00	Net asset end first season...	350.00
$263.40		$ 859.30

Therefore, by deducting $593.40 from $1,209.30, being the total cost on each car at the end of the first year, the

REWARD $615.90

is yours, with practically no tire trouble, about one-half gasoline cost, one-half oil cost, much lower depreciation, lower interest on original investment, and last but not least, $265, the difference in first cost, tucked away safely in the bank to draw an interest earning for you.

Consider this argument carefully and place your order now. Don't wait if you expect a delivery.

MEXICANS INSULT AMERICAN FLAG

Pulled Half Way From Staff of Home of McManus.

Washington, March 26.—When Mexican soldiers, members of the revolutionary command of Emiliano Zapata, attacked and murdered John B. McManus, an American citizen residing in Mexico City, the American flag which flew on its staff over his home was torn and pulled half way down the pole, according to a statement issued yesterday by William J. Bryan, secretary of state. Mr. Bryan said the insult to the flag was reported by the Brazilian minister at Mexico City at the time of the murder of McManus, and he added that an investigation is under way. Reparation for the insult has been asked from the Zapata authorities, the statement said, but thus far no reply has been received.

Mr. Bryan explained that the Brazilian minister, in reporting McManus' death March 11, mentioned only the fact that the American flag was flying over the house. The next day he sent a further report referring to the desecration of the flag.

Another inquiry from the state department as to what this meant, brought an explanation on March 16 that an American committee which investigated the occurrence reported to him that "following a fusillade which preceded the general entry of the Zapatistas into the house, the flag was badly torn by the Zapatistas and dragged half way down the pole."

The same committee, the minister reported, had submitted to him a photograph of the house and flag. It became known that several foreign flags had been violated recently at Manzanillo, among them the American flag over the house of an American ranchman. When the matter was called to the attention of General Carranza he denied the truth of the reports of the American and British consuls.

An expression of regret for the killing of McManus already had been received from General Palafox, the Zapata commander, with a promise of indemnity for the family and punishment for the slayers if apprehended.

FRECKLES

February and March Bring Out Unsightly Spots. How to Remove Easily.

The woman with tender skin dreads February and March because they are likely to cover her face with ugly freckles. No matter how thick her veil, the sun and winds have a strong tendency to make her freckle.

Fortunately for her peace of mind the recent discovery of a new prescription, othine—double strength, makes it possible for even those most susceptible to freckles to keep their skin clear and white. No matter how stubborn a case of freckles you have, the double strength othine should remove them.

Get an ounce from Boyce drug store or any druggist and banish the freckles. Money back if it fails.

BIG DAM SAID TO HAVE BROKEN

Great Wall of Water Rushing Toward Ellensburg, Wash.

Ellensburg, Wash., March 26.—An old government dam at Lake Kaches broke today, according to reports received here. It is also reported that a wall of twenty-five feet of water is running towards Ellensburg. An unconfirmed report says that Cleelum and Eastern are under water. Residents along the river here have been ordered to vacate.

Horn Case Continued.

Boston, Mass., March 26.—Werner Horn was arraigned in the Federal court today on indictments charging illegal transportation of explosives from New York to Vanceboro, Me., where he attempted to destroy the international railroad bridge. On the representations of his counsel that he was not prepared to plead, the proceedings were continued until April 5.

QUEEN OF GREECE IS SISTER OF THE KAISER

QUEEN OF GREECE.

Queen Sophia of Greece is a sister of the emperor of Germany and that relationship is complicating the position of Greece in the European mixup. The Greek cabinet resigned a few days ago because they wanted to enter the war on the side of the allies. They reason that if Greece is not in the war she will fare badly in the division of territory when it is over, and Premier Venizelos was anxious to "get on the band wagon." Queen Sophia, however, has enough influence with her husband to keep him from going against Germany. Queen Sophia was born in 1870.

Serious in Albania.

Rome, March 26, via Paris.—The situation at Durazzo in Albania would again appear to be serious, according to dispatches coming to Rome. The insurgents are bombarding the port and threatening to destroy it if the consular representatives are not successful in persuading Essad Pasha, the Turkish provisional president, to leave the country.

Several cannon shots during the bombardment struck the residence of Essad Pasha. Docks and public buildings also suffered.

Russ Defeat Reported.

Kept Company Intact.

During the Lenten season the Baldwin Players have made a record that has been equaled by but few stock companies in America.

Before the beginning of Lent Mr. Baldwin stated that he would be willing to lose $1,000 during Lent in order to keep the company intact and well organized for the spring and summer months. He counted on the attendance falling off materially during the six weeks previous to Easter, but he was unwilling to follow the example of nearly every other stock company in the country and close for those six weeks. The majority of stock companies closed in February or early in March to reopen after Easter, but Mr. Baldwin preferred to take the chance of losing money. Instead of that, however, the company has shown a small balance on the right side of the ledger throughout Lent, and is preparing to open on Easter Sunday with the biggest production of its season, "Within the Law," which will be seen in stock for the second time in the United States.

"I am not afraid of next week," said Mr. Baldwin. "'Little Lord Fauntleroy' is bound to be a popular bill. 'The Confession' this week has been an excellent drawing card, and many of our patrons have told me that it is the best thing we have done for weeks. But the big point is that we have come through Lent and have not lost the money I expected to lose, and we are ready for the biggest season of stock Duluth ever saw. Beginning on Easter Sunday we will give some plays, the like of which have never been seen in stock any place."

The Howe Pictures.

The new United States fleet will be seen in review at the Orpheum tonight when Lyman H. Howe will present his remarkable reproduction photographed by authority of Secretary of the Navy, Josephus Daniels. The average civilian reads now and then of progress made and the increased efficiency of the navy, but at best he can only realize in a most vague way how tremendous are the strides that have been made even in the last few months. These are so great that it has kept even naval experts busy to "keep up to the minute," and this film is now presented in order to give the general public an opportunity to realize the amazing efficiency attained. An idea of the swift progress made, is indicated by the fact that what is known today as the United States fleet is equal to about three fleets like that which Roosevelt sent to girdle the globe a few short years ago. For instance, the Wyoming, with its sister ship, the Arkansas, on both of which Howe's camera men made their homes for months, are easily the equal in fighting power of any ten of the battleships that sailed around the world; yet, mighty as they are, there will be in the fleet which will sail through the Panama canal at least four ships as far ahead of the Wyoming and Arkansas as these ships are ahead of the minor dreadnaughts which were considered so formidable a few short years ago, such as the Michigan or Connecticut.

"Immense!" I congratulate you," said Rear Admiral Badger upon viewing this remarkable reproduction.

Style Films at Grand.

Manager Phelps of the New Grand theater joined with the style week enthusiasts by showing two films of fashion pictures displaying the latest spring styles in gowns, coats and millinery. One of the films was posed for by Lady Duff Gordon of the famous Lucile studio of New York, and the other by the artists of the Essaney Film corporation at Chicago. About fifty models were shown and were greatly admired by the women.

The vaudeville and photoplays of the new bill offered many attractive features. The whole show was of a very entertaining nature. Heading the show is Miss Belle Oliver, the "Tetrazinni of ragtime," in her latest song hits. Miss Oliver got a hearty welcome yesterday. Sophie Tucker, singing coon songs, has little on Miss Oliver singing ragtime. She has the ragtime personality.

The Idanias troupe consisting of five girls and a male assistant do a European gymnastic act with many difficult features. Rice and Franklin in a comedy skit entitled "Won By Ten," present an act of song, dance and chatter that wins them instant favor. The Musical Macks in "A Night in California" offer a clever musical act, playing on a great variety of instruments and injecting a lot of wholesome comedy into their act.

The film features in addition to showing the newest fashions in women's wearing apparel, include several excellent photoplays. The Hearst-Selig News shows current events of interest rfom all parts of the world. The film feature is a two-reel subject called "Retribution." Helen Holmes appears in another of her thrilling railway episodes, "The Night Operator at Bruxton." A comedy and a Western photoplay round out the bill.

Submarine Photography.

A history of the ocean and description of its physiography, its botanical gardens, coral reefs and strange animal life are fully shown by Capt. Charles Williamson's invention of the collapsible submarine tube, in which his sons used to get their under-the-sea motion pictures which the Universal Film company will present at the Lyric theater March 29 to April 4.

The age of the world may be determined from a geological study of the crusts and the strata at the bottom of the sea. The great initial step towards obtaining the material for such a history has been taken in these submarine pictures. They are marvels in clear photography, varied in their fantastic under-sea landscapes and thrillingly absorbing in many of the incidents shown. Native Bahamans diving under many fathoms of water, deep-sea divers searching the sunken wrecks of ships for treasure, men diving for sponges, many varieties of queer fish life, a battle between sharks, and a hair-raising fight between a man and a shark will be shown March 29 to April 4 at the Lyric theater.

Railroad Men Made "Rule G."

When P. D. Tabler, manager of the Blazon Producing company, and A. W. Rice, its director, said they meant to produce a great railroad picture without a fake in it, the motion picture folks laughed and railroad officials said they were crazy. "Rule G" is the picture, and regardless of all the good-natured knocks before the picture was built, every one, including the doubtful ones, admits it has created a sensation in the film world, depicting railroad life, train operations, train accidents as they actually are.

It is the aim of every motion picture to put over one big "punch" in each picture. "Rule G" contains six episodes, either of which might qualify as a "punch" big enough to make the picture a success. The Railway Employes' Magazine for December contains the complete story of "Rule G," and says as follows: "It is a common saying that when a railroad picture comes on the screen, the railroad man goes out to smoke until it is out of the block." It will be seen Friday and Saturday at the Rex.

Sampeck Boys' Clothes

Our spring offerings are here and we feel our selections will justify our old reputation of showing the new models, fabrics, shadings and the most complete assortments of Boys' Clothes to be found in Duluth.

In using superlatives when recommending to you Sampeck Boys' Clothes as the best, we do only what the leading boys' clothes shops of the entire country do.

Mothers and fathers will be glad to know that SAMPECK clothes are made under the best and most healthful conditions in bright sanitary workrooms.

These Sampeck Suits are cut with a liberality for growth and body expansion. There is no pull or restraint at any part of the body which instills CORRECT POSTURE, head up, chest out and shoulders back.

This season's SAMPECK productions have soft roll collars and lapels like the men's clothes, another great improvement.

In metropolitan centers they charge more for these high-grade clothes than we do here. Prices here from $5 and $6.50 up.

Three new SAMPECK models arrived yesterday, beauties every one of them.

The Larned

Yoke back. Box pleats front and back. Belt sewed on. Inserted pockets. Soft roll collar and lapels. Cuffs on sleeve. Black, white and tan combination mixtures.

The Dunlop

Soft roll collar and lapels, belt sewed on. Patch pockets buttoning down. Form-fitting back. Blue and tan plaids in homespuns. A handsome model, indeed.

The Touchard

This fine model, too, has soft roll collar and lapels. Inserted pockets with button-down flaps. Sewed-on belts and form-fitting back. Black and white Scotch mixtures.

CLOQUET EIGHTH GRADE PREPARES DINNER.

Cloquet, Minn., March 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—The members of the eighth grade cooking class demonstrated their ability along their line of endeavor last evening when they prepared and served a four-course dinner in the domestic science rooms of the Lincoln high school. The guests were another division of the eighth grade domestic science pupils. The young hostesses received much praise. Miss Beatrice Parks, a senior in the high school is instructor of the class.

Aitkin Holy Week Services.

Aitkin, Minn., March 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—During holy week services will be held in the Moveum theater every day at noon. Rev. A. L. Richardson of the Methodist church and Rev. W. E. Hammond of the Congregational church will be in charge and music will be furnished by the choirs of both churches. Services were held there last year and were very successful.

KURDS KILL ALL MEN IN PERSIAN VILLAGE.

New York, March 26.—All the men at Gulpashan, a large village near Urumiah, Persia, have been shot by Kurds, the women violated, an American missionary beaten and sixty-five refugees taken from the French and American missions have been hanged on gibbets erected in the mission yards, according to a cablegram received here today by the Presbyterian board of foreign missions.

Complaint Dismissed.

Washington, March 26.—Complaint of the Northern Pine Manufacturers' association that the Chicago & Northwestern and other railroads charge unreasonable rates on lumber from producing points in Wisconsin, Minnesota and Michigan to points in Iowa, Nebraska and Missouri, was dismissed today by the interstate commerce commission.

In Norway only about 3.4 per cent of the total surface of the country is cultivated.

A Substitute for Meat

ANY expert chef will tell you that a macaroni base is the ideal substitute for meat. Creamettes is more tender than ordinary macaroni and cooks in less than one-third the time.

A package of Creamettes will give you nearly twice as much food value as a pound of beefsteak at less than one-half the cost.

Creamettes is made from the creamy parts of Durum wheat and has a rich new flavor of its own.

Try it with cheese, with ham, with bacon, with tomatoes, with chicken or with nuts.

CITY NOTICES.

NOTICE OF ELECTION.

I, C. S. Palmer, City Clerk of the City of Duluth, do hereby certify that a General Municipal Election will be held in the City of Duluth on Tuesday, April 6, 1915, for the purpose of electing two commissioners for four years and one judge of the Municipal Court for four years, and for the purposes of voting upon the following propositions:

"Shall the proposed amendment to the charter of the City of Duluth numbered 'One' be ratified?" This amendment authorizes the expenditure by the City of amounts up to $500.00 for work to be done, or purchase of property without formal advertising for bids or award of contract. (This amount is now $100.00.)

"Shall the proposed amendment to the charter of the City of Duluth numbered 'Two' be ratified?" This amendment reduces the minimum requirement under which the Council may allow assessments to be paid in four installments, and permits the paying of sidewalk assessments in installments.

I further certify that the following named persons have complied with all of the provisions of law relative to nominations and acceptance thereof, and are entitled to have their names placed upon the ballot used at said election, as follows:

FOR COMMISSIONERS.
William L. Bernard, Chris E. Evens, James A. Farrell, W. A. Hicken, R. E. McFarlane, Roderick Murchison, Jas. L. Norman, Bernard Silbersteln.

FOR JUDGE OF MUNICIPAL COURT.

MARKETS BREAK SHARPLY ON MORE PEACE RUMORS

Wheat Slumps on Heavy Selling; Especially Weak Near Close.

Flaxseed Holds Comparatively Steady on Liberal Buying By Crushers.

Duluth Board of Trade, March 26.—The market was weak at the close on a fresh burst of selling on war news. May wheat closed 2¾c off; July, 2½c off, and September ⅞c off. May durum closed ¾c off and July 1½c up.

Oats closed ⅞c off at 55⅝@55⅞c for on the track; rye, 2c off at $1.08@1.09, and barley 1c off at from 64@73c.

At Winnipeg, May oats closed 1½c off at 61¾c bid, and July 1⅝c off at 61⅝c bid.

Puts on Minneapolis May wheat closed at $1.38¾, and calls at $1.44½ bid.

All the "dope" was on the bearish order in today's market and quotations again weakened substantially. Argentine shipments are heavy, reaching an aggregate of 5,192,000 bu for the week as compared with 1,844,000 bu a year ago, and the visible wheat supply down there was reported at 10,488,000 bu, compared with 1,680,000 bu last year. The general impression among traders here is that Argentine holders are selling at below the parity of the American markets.

There were also further peace rumors involving Turkey and Austria in circulation today, and that tended to cut off export inquiry for the time being. The market at Duluth broke to the extent of 2¾c in the May future during the morning, and firmed up again on short covering demand. So far as known no export or Eastern millers' business was put through here today. Sales of two lots of spring wheat for export were reported locally yesterday afternoon.

To show the urgency of the call for deliveries of much of the grain recently sold, it is to be mentioned that over 70,000 bu of No. 1 northern and 12,000 bu of winter wheat, was loaded out of Great Northern elevator S yesterday for all-rail shipment to the seaboard for export. It is said that vessel charterings have been made for practically everything now in the elevators at the Head of the Lakes, and predictions now are that the supply situation here will be extremely tight after May 15. Arrivals at the elevators are expected to be lighter a couple of weeks from now as farmers will soon be in the midst of their spring seeding work. Reports on that score are conflicting, but it is estimated that supplies above seeding requirements now on farms over the Northwest must be light. Interior elevator men say that durum in particular is a scarce commodity as growers took advantage of the high prices ruling some time ago to realize.

May wheat opened 1½c off at $1.47½, sold down to $1.45¾, for low and stood at $1.47⅛ around the noon hour. July opened 1¾c off at $1.41, eased off ¾c more, and then firmed up to its opening figure. May durum opened 1c off at $1.54 and held there. July opened 1c off at $1.50½ and declined ½c more.

Flax Breaks at Close.

Flaxseed was strong at the start on steady bidding by crushers and moderate advances were recorded. Some of the oil men were reported to be short of seed to cover contracts, and to be endeavoring to quietly pick up sufficient to cover their requirements. The market turned weak at the close and declines of it were shown in the day.

May flax opened ¼c off at $1.95½, and closed ¼c off at $1.95½ asked. July opened unchanged at $1.98, and closed ½c off at $1.97½ asked. September opened unchanged at $2, and closed ½c off at $1.99½.

At Winnipeg, May flax closed ½c off at $1.77 asked and July unchanged at $1.80 asked.

C. E. Lewis & Co. had the following from Chicago: "Export business in flour has shown a decided improvement during the past two days. Both local and country mills have made fair sales. This business has been of a spasmodic character, however, all winter, foreigners taking what they needed for immediate requirements and then dropping out of the market for an indefinite period."

Minneapolis cash market was a little steadier, with a better demand for all wheat. No. 1 northern blue stem sold at 5c to 5¾c over May, and velvet chaff at 2½c to 4½c over May. There were fairly good export flour sales. Cash No. 1 northern wheat sold there at from $1.46 to $1.49½, and No. 2 northern at from $1.41½ to $1.47. Wheat stocks in Minneapolis elevators decreased 800,000 bu in the week.

According to a compilation of the New York Journal of Commerce, there are 85 vessels belonging to the allies and neutrals and 39 German or Austrian boats in the Black sea, the latter, of course, not being available. Most of the available boats are small, from 1,000 to 2,000 tons, only a few being over 2,000 tons.

Broomhall cabled from Liverpool: "The market was inclined to be influenced by easy American cables and weakness in Buenos Aires. Plates were offered at 1½@2d decline and winters at 3@4½d lower. Spot market was comparatively steady, with millers absorbing and stocks decreasing. The general demand is now quiet.

"Corn was under pressure with weakness in cargoes which are 6@9d lower. Spot market was heavy. An early movement of new Argentine corn is expected."

At Buenos Aires wheat closed weak on realizing on free arrivals and lowered export bids. Corn was weak with large port arrivals and continued excellent new crop prospects.

* * *

Modern Miller says: "Alternate thawing and freezing over the greater part of the winter wheat belt has retarded the crop but there is generally good moisture and soil conditions. There are comparatively few reports of damage from any cause and the crop appears to be in good condition in some sections. There is a tendency to overestimate the acreage."

* * *

Russells News, New York, says: "Export demand in the wheat market has this morning been limited, although there has been some buying by foreign houses and some in close touch with the market think that there is evidence of English buying. Interest in corn continues very limited, but the continued liberal clearances show that more business is being done than reported. There appears to be an absence of confirmation of the large business in oats reported from the West, and the inquiry today appears to be limited."

CHICAGO MARKET.

Predictions of Heavy Argentine Shipments Has Weak Effect on Wheat.

Chicago, March 26.—Predictions of heavy shipments from Argentina to Europe and especially, Great Britain had a weakening effect today on the wheat market here. There were estimates that forwardings from Buenos Aires would average as much as 5,000,000 bu weekly, the most part to Liverpool. The fact that domestic crop reports were generally favorable tended also to give the market a downward slant. Opening prices, which varied from ⅛@½c lower, were followed by an additional decline.

Rumors that Turkey had broken with Germany led to a decided fresh downturn, but the market rebounded when the news was not confirmed. The close, nevertheless, was weak, 1½c to 3⅞c under last night.

Corn suffered from slowness of cash demand. Moreover, sympathy with the weakness of wheat counted against the bulls. After opening ⅛c to ¼@⅜c off, the market made a further moderate descent before beginning to react.

Subsequently aggressive selling by pit traders burdened the market a great share of the time. The close was weak, ⅜@¾c net lower.

Bearishness of other grain brought about considerable unloading of oats. About the only buyers were shorts.

Provisions eased off, influenced mainly by the action of the cereal and hog markets. Trade, however, was small.

London Stock Market.

London, March 26.—The American section was the most active on the local stock market today, the whole list participating in the movement. Union Pacific, Erie and Missouri Kansas & Texas had the most markings. The market closed steady in shade under the best.

ADVANCES IN STOCKS

Market Strong Despite Further Profit-Taking and Foreign Selling.

Reading's Strength and Bethlehem Steel's Weakness Are Features.

New York, March 26.—Prices again moved upward in the early stages of today's market, the activity centering mainly around the railway shares, in which further gains of 1 to 3 points were made. Atchison was a distinct feature, its excellent statement of earnings for February contributing to its advance. Other issues of strength included the Pacifics, Baltimore & Ohio, Louisville & Nashville, Reading and New Haven. American Smelting, which opened with some heaviness, soon reversed its position, showing a substantial gain. Bethlehem Steel was strong, but United States was relatively heavy.

Gains were largely cancelled before noon mainly as a result of recurrent profit-taking and the continued heaviness of steel, which was freely offered by brokers with out of town connections. There were indications that important speculative interests were abandoning the industrial shares for the better known railway issues. The market position of the latter group has materially improved recently by reason of the better returns submitted by some of the leading roads. Among the specialties California Petroleum common and preferred were especially weak. Cables from London conveyed fresh intimations of peace negotiations. Bonds were firm.

The market lost little of its recent strength today, despite further profit taking and foreign selling.

The strength of Reading and weakness of Bethlehem Steel were the principal features of the final trading. The closing was strong.

SUMMER RESORTS.

PLAN THAT VACATION
TRIP NOW.

And spend it on your own camp site at Ne-na-mik-ka-ta, Lake Vermilion. Ne-na-mik-ka-ta (Chippewa for easy portage) is on Pine island. It is located in one of the most desirable spots at Lake Vermilion.

Several people from Minneapolis, St. Paul, Chicago, Philadelphia and other cities have already purchased camp sites, and will build this spring. These camp sites offer a good investment, as lots on our Daisy island tract have increased 50 per cent in value in less than a year.

Duluth people should take advantage of this proposition. They should know about the park, the docks, the beaches, and the people who have purchased. Write or call for full particulars. Names of Duluth purchasers given upon request. Call us up, either phone 516, for appointment with our salesman.

Record Vote on Efficiency and Economy Bill Probable Monday.

By a Staff Correspondent.

St. Paul, Minn., March 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—Charging that under 30-year-old regulations the Upper Mississippi reservoirs are uselessly hampering the development of one of the best sections of the state, Representative C. H. Warner of Aitkin this morning introduced in the house a resolution asking congress to relieve the conditions complained of by bringing the reservoir regulations down to date and making them accord with present conditions. Congress is asked to make it so that at least 25 per cent of the capacity of the reservoirs shall be conserved to serve agricultural interests and prevent floods. His resolution sets forth that the rules in force were made long before the country was settled and provide that waters shall be stored until the full capacity of the reservoir is reached; that under these rules the water has been raised from eight to sixteen feet above surrounding lake levels, flooding meadows, laying waste thousands of acres, making the drainage of surrounding lands difficult and retarding the development of a wide area. Moreover, holding water in reservoirs up to full capacity probably would during a period of unusual rainfall result in making the system [illegible] On Mr. Warner's motion the resolution was laid over till Monday.

Bankers Have About Concluded Arrangements for Heavy Credits.

New York, March 27.—Conferences among bankers here, it was announced today, have brought near conclusion arrangements for the extension of credits to Great Britain, France, Italy and other countries, in addition to the $10,000,000 loan to Germany.

The French credit, it is expected, will be the first to be closed. The amount has not been definitely fixed, but may, it is said, be as large as $50,000,000.

The English credit, it is said, may be twice as large as that of France. Negotiations are in progress for a loan to Russia in addition to the $25,000,000 she recently obtained. Italy is likely to obtain a credit.

Need of State Developing Lands in Northern Minnesota Shown.

Attempt to Increase Railroad Passenger Rates Has Failed.

By a Staff Correspondent.

St. Paul, Minn., March 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—The passage by the senate yesterday of the Nord bill removing all limitations on the sale of state land was a victory for Northern Minnesota, even though there is hardly the slightest probability that the bill at this late date in the session can be put through the house and become a law.

It is a victory because it opened the way for the boosters for Northern Minnesota and state development, Senator Leonard H. Nord of International Falls, Senator P. H. McGarry of Walker, Senator D. P. O'Neill of Thief River Falls and others to show up the need that the state of Minnesota, the largest land speculator in the commonwealth, devote more attention to developing its great estate in Northern Minnesota.

Senator Ole O. Sageng of Otter Tail county gave the opportunity for this disclosure when he opposed the bill by saying that it was wrong to turn the state's opportunities over to land speculators.

St. Paul, Minn., March 27.—(Special to The Herald.) —Representative Knud Wefald of Hawley, the farmer-wit and philosopher of the house whose sage comments on the legislature have amused and interested the members on many occasions, has written an allegory on the passing of the efficiency and economy bill and the rise of the Gordon bills, which follows:

"Whoever knew that Gordon had seven sisters? He has been very successful in taking care of them. Six of them were just betrothed to the state of Minnesota, but the seventh came out of the engagement ceremony sick and at the present writing is in the hospital undergoing treatment. He hopes, however, to present her to the state as soon as her mental condition has improved some. The papers say about them that the first and favorite one was not very smart; the next five were feeble-minded and the seventh one a raving maniac. Still the legislature favorably considered the first six and consented to give the seventh one a chance when she came out of the asylum.

RUSSIANS DRIVEN FROM EAST PRUSSIA

Last of Invaders Have Been Chased Across the Border.

Berlin, March 27, by wireless to Sayville.—The Russian offensive movement against the East Prussian territory to the north of Tilsit came to its end last Friday night with the expulsion of the last Russian from the province.

The invaders were thrown back across the border to a point in front of Polangen. The Russians were at Krottingen and Jakubow.

Steps have been taken to guard the inhabitants of this district against further invasion of this kind.

Cavalry played a great part in driving the Russians out of East Prussia. The reason was that a heavy fog made the use of artillery and infantry very difficult.

Although the damage done by the invaders in this district is considerable, it is not as great as had been feared and reported.

GEN. VON KUSMANEK PRISONER IN RUSSIA.

RUSS AGAIN HOLD GATES TO HUNGARY

Believed Germans Will Make Supreme Effort to Check Advance.

Fall of Przemysl Has Had Depressing Effect on Austrians.

Little Activity Is Manifest in the Western Theater of War.

London, March 27.—Russia today for the third time holds the gates to Hungary, and British observers are virtually united in the expectation that the Teutonic allies will make a supreme effort to prevent the forces of Emperor Nicholas from again pouring onto the Hungarian plains.

Meager reports from Vienna indicate that there is some depression in Austria on account of the fall of Przemysl, but on the other hand the papacy denies that this has resulted in overtures from Emperor Francis Joseph to obtain the intervention of the pope on behalf of a separate peace.

The fall of the Austrian stronghold in Galicia also has had the effect of increasing the possibilities of sudden development in the near eastern situation, but so far Italy and the Balkan states are still stubbornly "sitting on the fence."

The only advance of the allies along the western front consists of the capture by Belgian forces of a farm to the north of St. George.

In England the labor unrest again has manifested itself. In this connection the belief is growing that the government soon will take some measures to restrict drinking.

French Statement.

Paris, March 27, via London, 3:10 p. m.—The French war office this afternoon gave out this report:

"During the night of March 26-27 the Germans bombarded Arras. Fire broke out in Arras, but was quickly extinguished. The fighting has been going on at La Boiselle under conditions favorable to the French.

"In the Argonne district in the vicinity of Bagatelle there has been bomb throwing from one line to the other, although no infantry attack has taken place.

Much Excitement Over Rumored Departure Friday Night.

Washington, March 27.—Naval officers here are confident that the next two or three days will see the Prinz Eitel Friedrich interned. It is reported that the time allowed the vessel for repairs will expire within that limit.

The case of the Eitel is compared to that of the German gunboat Geier at Honolulu. The Geier's commander did not voluntarily intern, but contended that the time allowed—ten days—to make his vessel fit for sea was not sufficient. It was pointed out by naval officers that commanders of belligerent warships rarely intern voluntarily, because of their national pride and the possible effect of such an act on their own records.

Should Capt. Thierichens, commander of the Eitel, choose to put to sea in the face of allied ships off the Virginia capes, the presence of British merchant ships at Newport News might necessitate further suspension of time to the German war vessel to remain.

SUBMARINE IS SLOWLY COMING TO SURFACE.

Honolulu, March 27.—The United States submarine F-4, submerged in the deep waters outside the harbor since early Thursday, is being slowly raised today. It is thought probable by the rescue workers the craft will be brought to the surface within a few hours.

Honolulu, March 27.—The lost submarine F-4 which has been located outside the harbor entrance, should be raised late this afternoon if all goes well, according to a statement made by Capt. of the Yard Duffy last night. Duffy says he believes there is a fighting chance to save the lives of the men imprisoned in the submarine on the ocean floor.

The dredged California, dispatched from the Pearl Harbor naval station in response to a radiogram, reached the scene at midnight, but did not begin work immediately. The dredger will work with the Alert, mother-ship of the submarine flotilla. The pontoon system probably will be used to raise the F-4. Chains will be passed under the bow and stern of the submerged submarine, the dredger sunk into the water and the chains tightened. The water will then be pumped out of the dredger, causing her to rise higher in the water, thus providing lifting power to raise the submarine.

After a night of unremitting labor, those in charge of the fleet of vessels engaged in raising the United States submarine F-4 from the ocean floor outside the entrance to Honolulu harbor, where it was submerged Thursday, believed they were nearing the end of their task. Practically all hope of saving the twenty-one men trapped has been abandoned.

Mareno, Belonging to Argentina, Makes Bad Start From Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, March 27.—The new Argentine battleship Moreno, which sailed from here yesterday for Hampton roads, collided last night with a barge off New Castle, Del., thirty miles down the Delaware river from this city. The barge was sunk and the Moreno went ashore where she remained fast until 7:30 a. m. today when she floated. The Moreno proceeded down Delaware bay apparently uninjured, and is expected to pass out to sea during the day.

The Moreno anchored at Deep Water Point yesterday waiting for high tide. She got under way about sundown and met the tug Mars towing a string of three coal barges in ballast from Boston to Philadelphia.

Bargemen declared today that the steering gear of the Moreno was working badly with the result that the battleship and the barge Enterprise collided. The Enterprise had a hole stove in her side and slowly settled in the river. Her crew went aboard one of the other barges.

Tugs from Philadelphia had no trouble in pulling the Moreno off today.

STYLE WEEK PRIZES GIVEN

Silberstein & Bondy Win First Prize for Best Trimmed Window.

Gray Store Is Second—Essay Contest Winners Announced.

Decisions were rendered today in the prize essay and prize window trimmers' contests for style week. The committee gave the Silberstein & Bondy store first prize of $25 for the best trimmed and decorated window and George A. Gray Co. second prize of $10. The Gray store window also was the subject of the second prize essay written by Mrs. Milton Gibbens. Mrs. W. P. Logan won the first essay prize of $25 and Miss Agnes Peterson won third prize, $5.

The committees had considerable difficulty in coming to a decision as to the best trimmed and decorated windows. Several were considered exceptionally good, but the Silberstein & Bondy and George A. Gray windows were selected as having the best combination of excellent points. Simplicity, beauty and selling power were considered.

Winners of the prize essay contest on "The Beauty and Selling Power of Best Decorated Window in Duluth" follow:

First prize, $25, won by Mrs. W. B. Logan, 419 Seventh avenue east, "The Kelley Hardware Window;" second prize, $10, Mrs. Milton Gibbens, 310 East Sixth street, "George A. Gray's Baby Window;" third prize, $5, Miss Agnes Pearson, "Kelly Furniture Company's Window."

The committee which decided the winners consisted of Miss Frances Earhart, Mrs. C. S. Mitchell and Miss Elizabeth Olcott.

The winning essays follow:

First Prize Essay.

"A look into Kelley Hardware company's east window makes going to the Style Show worth while. Here, originality has thrown a glamour of attraction over the homely tools of kitchen drudgery by showing how they would look in the place of beautiful materials used in the making up of spring millinery.

"Their mission of bringing a smile will not be confined to the present, for no woman will ever use one of those various articles without thinking of the saucy look it had upon some creation in that window. The iron dishcloth, heretofore an implement of a hated task, will come to her mind as the filmy veil draped upon the side of a knobby tin hat, and the smile, which always lightens labor, is sure to follow. The brushes, as she cleans the dirty bottles, will remind her of the nifty pompons upon the "pall beauty," and the feather duster will bring thoughts which will make it seem as though the Bluebird was assisting with the dusting.

"So the good housewives, when in need of anything which a strictly up-to-date hardware store supplies, are sure to wend their way to Kelley Hardware company.

At the store of George A. Gray.

"It's artistic.

"The rich dark hangings in the background, contrasting with the lighter flowers and the soft color of the cherry blossoms accentuate the ivory whiteness of the infant furniture displayed, and attract the eye.

"The life-like figures in the foreground are so skillfully posed as to compel attention. Admiration for the wearing apparel follows.

"The baby figures attract the children—they attract mothers and fathers—interest follows.

"Each dainty article for baby is so placed as to suggest its practicability in the home. A wash bowl, a bar of sanitary soap, a towel on a rack; other articles equally alluring—you can fairly hear the baby coo.

"The quaint wardrobe with its little hangers tells mother how carefully she can keep baby's filmy dresses and how easily she can get them. Incidentally the spring styles for babies are carefully suggested.

"This window with it's dainty coloring and clever arrangement of objects speaks of home thoughts and heart's desires secretly shared by both men and women. You felt them too—didn't you?"

Third Prize Essay.

"The window which the Kelly Furniture company displayed in Duluth's first Style Show may not have been the most beautiful among the many various windows, but it was the most attractive for me. This was the only store which endeavored to produce a natural effect of every-day life.

"Their window illustrated a living room, at one end of which was a fireplace with a cheery fire blazing in the grate. Before the fire stood a woman in a brown dress, such a dress as was quite in keeping with the homelike idea carried out in the entire window. A little girl was comfortably curled up on a big roomy davenport directly before the fire. In the foreground stood a library table, some big, comfortable living chairs and a bookcase.

"The charm of this window lay in its nearness to true life. Could a better way of advertising be found than this—the displaying of one's goods in a manner as similar as possible to their intended use?"

PUBLICITY FOR "DEAR OLD DULUTH"

Jannus Uses "Lark o' Duluth" in Flights at San Diego Fair.

Duluth is being advertised to all the visitors at the San Diego fair, according to word received here from Duluthians in the California city.

Roger Jannus, who flew the Lark o' Duluth here all of last summer, is now making daily flights in San Diego and in addition, is carrying passengers every afternoon.

Mr. Jannus is using the Lark o' Duluth in his flights, and every time he goes up in the air, thousands below see the aircraft flying about with the large letters, "Lark o' Duluth," printed on the lower wings.

"Some ad for dear old Duluth," writes one admirer.

MILITARY SITUATION IN EGYPT DESCRIBED.

Cairo, Friday, March 26, via London, March 27.—An official statement on the military situation in Egypt was issued as follows today:

"The British losses in a skirmish in the desert ten miles to the east of Kubri on March 22 were three men killed and sixteen wounded. The enemy left on the field about fifty men killed and carried away nearly all his wounded. Aeroplane reconnaissances show that this Turkish force has retreated to Nekhl."

SPRING STYLES FOR MERE MEN

SOME CLASS EH!
WHEN HE STARTED OUT SUNDAY WITH HIS CANE HE WAS ALL RIGHT 'TILL -

GOING TO BE A HARD SUMMER FOR THE DECK TAILOR - HEY, JIM YUH WORKIN' FOR THE TELEPHONE COMPANY?
CANE
CHECK SUIT
2 HE RAN INTO A BUNCH OF HIS FRIENDS -
THE LATE STYLE OF DERBY HAT GOES WELL WITH A LONG FACE - WHITE SOX WITH BLACK POLKA DOTS -
CLOTH TOP SHOES
STYLES AIN'T NO TREAT TO HIM -

AS THE CARTOONIST VIEWS THE NEW STYLES.

Silk suits, regimental stripes for ties, white hose with black polka dots, suits with big plaids, alternating stripes for flannel suits and rough canes instead of the polished kind are among the real spring and summer novelties for "mere man."

Although the fashion edict says that silk suits will be worn, Duluth merchants are of the opinion that in Duluth they will be confined solely to night wear. Pajama suits, of course. However, it is expected that the ultra-fashionable will wear the "suits of silk" at many of the popular summer resorts throughout the country and at golf and tennis tournaments, where the season's styles are always on display—if not tennis or golf.

There is a gay mixture of colorings in suitings. Clothes have made so much noise in recent years that there is no such a thing as a loud suit any more. However, the suits will be heard, just the same.

Big plaids and overplaids, Scotch tweeds and ginger-bread effects will contribute largely to the spring raiment of the man of fashion. Broken checks and the Tartan plaids all hold over and will be popular as ever this summer.

Double-breasted, two-button coats with long broad lapels and peaked collars will be worn about the same length and breadth as last season. Oh, yes, they will be as tight and, maybe, tighter. Patched pockets will predominate. Trousers will have a closely tapered tendency and, except for the young man, who must have cuffs, they will have plain bottoms.

Modified Norfolks.

Norfolks will be greatly modified this year, retaining only the pleated backs, with the belt eliminated.

Soft felt hats in pearl gray, browns, greens and blues will vie for popularity with the new cloth "bonnets" in tweeds or homespun. The latter will no longer be known as a storm hat, but will be worn this year on all occasions. The old Alpine block, popular about five years ago, is to be revived. Caps will be as popular as ever and are to be made so that they can be rolled up and placed in a pocket and carried like a handkerchief.

Shoes will not change, except that cloth tops will be made in all colors. The "tramper" is a new shoe this year for those who walk a great deal. There are many new styles for dancing, golfing and other special purposes.

Silk shirts will be as popular again this year as they were last and there is to be the greatest variety of colors imaginable. Wing collars are receiving favor, but they will be worn only until the extreme warm weather sets in. The long pointed collars are fast being displaced. For warm weather soft collars, in almost any style, color or shape, will be available this year.

Regimental stripes for ties are the latest. Each arrangement suggests one of the European army divisions, so that the wearer can express his innermost sympathies by wearing one of these ties, suggesting, for instance, the "Tenth Hussars," "Inniskillings," "Berkshire Yeomanry" or the "Medical Staff." The last named would bear "red crosses," in all probability.

White hosiery will be worn to a considerable extent, while the new kind will carry small black polka dots.

Duluth is rapidly becoming a "cane" city, according to local dealers, and the "stick" will be more popular this summer than ever before. Rough natural effects promise to dominate over the polished kind and, as a result, trimmings will be out of place and gold and silver adornments will be confined closely to "dress sticks."

Lights and Shadows of Police Court

THIEF CAUGHT ERE THEFT IS KNOWN

LAW enforcement methods have been highly perfected, it is claimed by city officials, when the police are able to arrest a thief before it is known that a crime has been committed.

Stanley Schulz, age 29, was seen prowling around the Providence building, Fourth avenue west and Superior street, early Friday morning, and was arrested by Patrolman Noren. He had $70 in his pocket and was scantily clad.

A few hours later Carl Kopski, a laborer, living in a rooming house at 115 West First street, came to headquarters and reported that he had been robbed of $75.

In a search for the remaining $5, which still was missing, Detectives Herman Toewe and Fred Bradley arrested Louis Peokoski, a friend of Schulz's, who produced the "five spot" and admitted his knowledge of the affair.

They will be given a hearing before Municipal Judge F. H. Cutting Monday.

SALO SAILS AMUCK.

Blue Jacket Interned When He Joins the Belligerents.

Charles Salo, age 32, sailer, went on a voyage last night, turned belligerent after a few hours of neutrality, was interned, forced to pay indemnity and released.

Salo hoisted his battle flag after maneuvering in front of a West Michigan street saloon for some time, with a friend and sailed into the bartender. The bartender countered with a submarine attack, and Salo was repulsed with a casualty or two.

Undaunted, this terror of the dry seas, next "opened fire" on his friend, emerged with colors flying, ported his helm slightly, and veered into Patrolman Link.

"Drunk and disorderly—$17.50 or fifteen days," said his honor. The fine was paid.

CONSIDERATE OF FAMILY.

Gentleman Thief, Arrested, Refuses to Give Real Name.

William Griffin, aged 36, gentleman thief, who persists in stealing articles, but who refuses to give his real name lest it "reflect on his family," was arrested in Superior yesterday by Detectives Herman Toewe and J. L. Bradley of Duluth and W. A. Lead of Superior. He is charged with the theft of several overcoats from the Y. M. C. A. and the public library.

He refused to waive extradition and will be held in Superior on a fugitive warrant until extradition papers are secured by the Duluth officers.

On Jan. 13, Griffen stole two suitcases from the lobby of a West Superior street hotel and returned to the desk with papers found in the grips, valueless to him, but of considerable value to the owner. Throughout his trial, and while serving a sixty-day sentence at the work farm, he refused to give his real name.

CAN'T RESIST SHOW WINDOWS.

George Peck Arrested for Theft From Big Duluth Store.

When George Peck, age 17, sees an attractive display in a store window it is almost impossible for him to resist a temptation to return to the place and try to steal some of the articles, he told police yesterday. He lives at 515 North First avenue east.

When neighbors were searching for some glass to mend a broken window with Friday morning they found a pile of shoes and clothing under one corner of their house and notified the police.

The goods were identified as those stolen from the Big Duluth clothing store about two weeks ago, and the Peck boy, when arrested, admitted to Chief C. H. Troyer that he had broken into the store and taken them.

Peck produced a clipping from The Herald of March 4, telling of the burglary, which he had evidently carried in his pocket since the offense was committed. Referring to a list of the stolen articles as given in the newspaper story, he pointed out to detectives where the store employes had miscounted in reporting their loss.

He will be taken before District Judge Bert Fesler Monday and sentenced to the reformatory for burglarizing the store of Ralph Maretta, 32 East Fourth street, on Jan. 3. Sentence was suspended for one year by the judge when Peck was arraigned after his first offense.

RECORD IN LODGERS.

More Than 200 Sheltered at Police Headquarters for Night.

One hundred and eighty-eight men slept on a cement basement floor at police headquarters last night, and each man occupied a space about fifteen inches wide and six feet long, except two, who are said to have rested standing.

This is the largest number ever accommodated in the lodgers' room, according to police. The next best record was made early in the winter, when 156 were cared for during one night.

Lieut. E. H. Barber, in his report, stated that they were packed in "in layers" and that every conceivable nook and corner of the room was occupied. The room proper is 50 feet by 32 feet, and has an adjoining room 12 by 32 feet.

More than 200 men were given a place to sleep protected from the elements, according to Lieut. Barber, who stated that several were placed in jail after the lodgers' room had become so crowded that it was impossible to find room for more of them.

WILL SEE EVERY YOUNG MAN IN CITY

About 100 Hicken Supporters for Good Government Committee.

The Young Men's Good Government club was organized last evening to work in behalf of Commissioners Hicken and Murchison and Judge Windom, candidates for re-election.

About 100 young men met in the headquarters of the Good Government committee at the Alworth building, and after discussing the issues in the present compaign, indorsed the present incumbents and organized to work in their behalf. The new organization proposes to see every young man in Duluth between now and election day.

Fred Buck was elected president of the committee, while W. A. Pryor was named vice president; Cavour Hartley, secretary, and D. H. Lewis, treasurer.

CITY CANDIDATES HAVE SPENT $1,019

Capt. Smallwood and Judge Windom File Second Statements.

Candidates in the present municipal campaign have spent a total of $1,019.43, according to the statements filed with City Clerk Palmer up to noon today.

Up to last Saturday the candidates had spent a total of $898.73, and during this week Capt. W. H. Smallwood and Judge W. L. Windom, both candidates for municipal judge, filed their second statements, bringing the total above the $1,000 mark. Capt. Smallwood filed his statement last Tuesday and Judge Windom yesterday afternoon.

Capt. Smallwood has spent a total of $131.89, according to his two statements on file with the city clerk, while Judge Windom's expense to date is $121.06.

J. A. Farrell, candidate for commissioner, still leads with an expense of $226.84.

Next Saturday is the last day on which candidates must file their expense statements.

Capt. John N. King, 90, a veteran of the Mexican and Civil wars, died at Jacksonville, Ill., March 26. During the Civil war he received a commission as captain, which bears the signature of Abraham Lincoln and Edwin M. Stanton.

Capt. Patrick J. Carmody, Civil war veteran and prominent race horse owner ten years ago, died at St. Louis March 26. Carmody was 79. Death was due to nephritis.

Hugh Ryan, prominent Milwaukee attorney, former United States court commissioner and son of the late E. G. Ryan, at one time chief justice of the supreme court of Wisconsin, died at Milwaukee, March 26, of arterio sclerosis at the age of 67.

Mrs. Elizabeth Patton, of Appleton, Wis., heir and widow of the late A. W. Patton, millionaire pioneer paper manufacturer, died in Texas, March 26. The cause of death is not known. Mrs. Patton left for Texas about three weeks ago.

John McTammany, 70, a pioneer in the manufacture of mechanical musical devices and well known in musical circles as a writer, died at Stamford, Conn., March 26 after a long illness. He obtained the patent for the first voting machine to be used at an election. It was first employed in 1886. He also was the inventor of the system now in use by the United States government at Washington in tabulating census returns.

DEFECTIVE PAGE

DISTRIBUTION OF 1914 TAXES

Apportionment of County Fund Being Made By Auditor.

Treasurer's Office Has Collected $706,884 Since First of Year.

Apportionment of taxes collected on personal property for the year 1914 and a small amount in back real estate taxes will be made by County Auditor Odin Halden either late this afternoon or Monday. Deputy L. A. Marvin, in charge of tax matters, has been busy during the last week spreading the apportionment on his books. As soon as this work is completed, treasurers of the various cities, towns and villages of the county may draw upon County Treasurer Vivian for the amounts apportioned to each tax district.

The county treasurer's office since Jan. 1 last has collected $706,884.21 in current personal property taxes, which will be distributed at this apportionment. In addition $19,191.16 in real estate taxes collected since October, 1914, apportionment was made together with a few thousand dollars in other back taxes will be distributed. A considerable portion of the amount will go to the state. The village of Hibbing and the city of Duluth will also get a large share.

Taxes are apportioned on the books of the county auditor and county treasurer three times every year, February, May and October. The actual distribution of the money, however, does not take place until the months of March, June and December. Of the three tax apportionments, the May distribution is always the heaviest.

As a rule, the February apportionment, which is actually made in March, disposes of the personal property tax collection, the May apportionment the first half of the real estate taxes and the October apportionment the last half. The May apportionment, however, also includes all taxes on mortgages and deeds which have been paid into the county treasury between Jan. 1 and June 1. It is larger than the October apportionment because many taxpayers pay all of their real estate taxes at once instead of exercising the privilege of paying them in two installments.

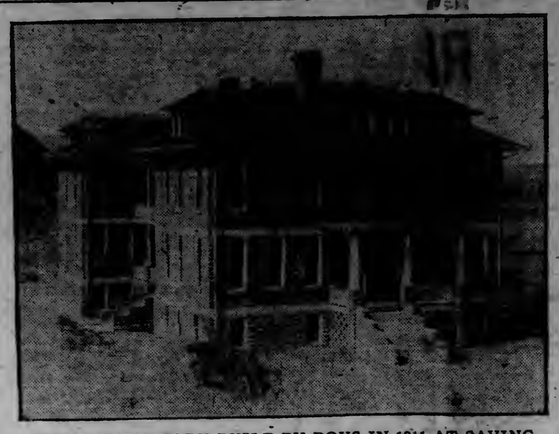
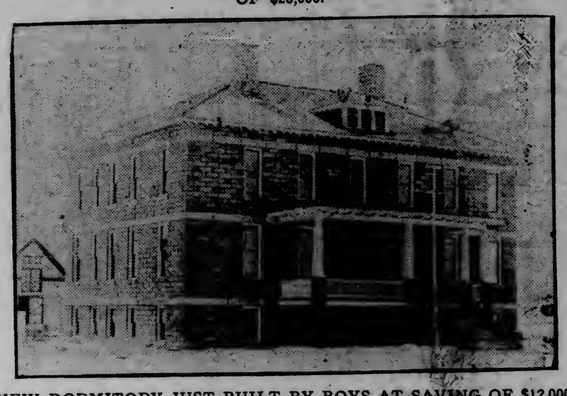
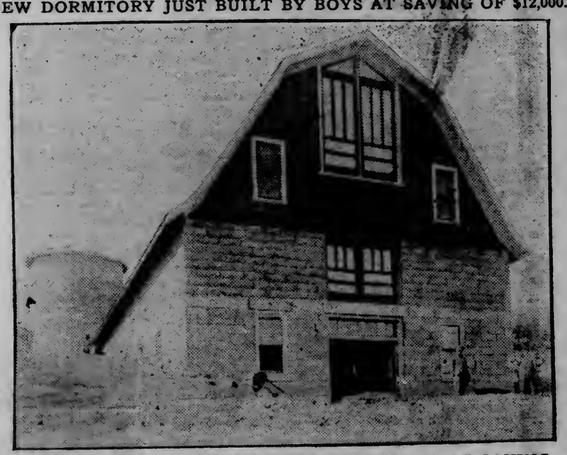
NORTH DAKOTA REFORM SCHOOL BOYS' BUILDING



GIRLS' DORMITORY BUILT BY BOYS IN 1911 AT SAVING OF $20,000.



NEW DORMITORY JUST BUILT BY BOYS AT SAVING OF $12,000.



CONCRETE BARN AND SILO ERECTED IN 1912 AT SAVING OF $5,000.

Mandan, N. D., March 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—The announcement made this week by Supt. J. W. Brown of the state reform school here that he had resigned effective June 1 next, after being at the head of the institution since coming here in April 1902 from the Minnesota reform school at Red Wing, has caused no little surprise, and led to telling what has been done since he took hold. Mr. Brown who is now 68 says that he has spent forty-five years in the business of training boys and girls and he believes he is entitled to a rest.

J. W. Brown was born in Washington county, Maine, April 27, 1847, attended the University of Maine, and took a position with the state training school which was situated near Portland in July 1871. Six years later he came west and was employed in the Minnesota state reformatory when it was opened at St. Paul. For twenty-five years he was in the Minnesota work, going to Red Wing when the school was built there. It was in April, 1902, that he was named superintendent of the North Dakota school.

Tried New Tactics.

The school here has been a boys' school, it has been built by them and of them. It was one of the first in the nation where different tactics were tried. They succeeded and the boys who have "graduated" are now without exception making good, so the records show.

The North Dakota reform school was established in 1902, when a main building costing $20,000 was erected by the state. From that beginning buildings have been erected which now represent over $100,000, all of which have been built by the boys.

Besides the buildings named, the boys have erected concrete block chicken houses, root cellars, machinery sheds, and installed a $20,000 water plant with a great 80,000-galon reservoir on a high hill back of the barns.

"Yes, I think the boys have learned at least the rudiments of house building," says Mr. Brown.

Tackle Farming.

"However we have turned our attention to farming too, and in the future the boys will have more to work with for the state has appropriated enough money to purchase another half section, which will give us a total of 500 acres. I believe that here in North Dakota, which is 98 per cent an agricultural state, farming should be taught."

The boys have excellent opportunity to learn the right methods of farming, for located on the adjoining land is the second largest experimental farm in the United States, operated by the United States government.

"It will be hard to replace Mr. Brown," said R. S. Lewis of the board of control. "I doubt if we can find another man in the country who can work the wonders Brown has with his meager state allowance."

FLOWERS FOR EASTER SUNDAY

Never Such an Abundance of Fine Plants—Everything From Modest Violets to the Regal Lily.

"If thou of fortune be bereft,
And in thy store there be but left
Two loaves —Sell one and with thy dole
Buy hyacinths to feed the soul."

Posing in long-handled, elaborately trimmed wicker baskets, members of the kingdom of flowers are preparing for the coming week, the most important one of the entire year for them.

From the regal lily to the shrinking violets the floral beauties are getting ready for Easter day, when every man, woman and child in Duluth will want one, so that the world may know they are happy.

"Never before in my years of experience have I seen such an abundance of fine plants as we have this year," said one florist this morning.

And a glance at any florist shop window will bear out his statement, for the flowers all are there. The jonquils and daffodils, with their yellow splendor, are vying with the narcissus and hyacinths, while the tulips look on disdainfully from their corner of the window. The azaleas also are the recipients of many admiring glances from pedestrians and a large English primrose, with its beautiful little blossoms, is sure to be seen.

Above all the rest towers the lily, seemingly conscious of the fact that Easter is its time of the year, and that during Easter week it is supreme in the flower world.

Despite the fact that Easter is earlier this year than usual, and with the exception of 1913 earlier than for several seasons, flowers are in excellent condition.

The florists are praying for sunshine and a clear sky on Easter, so that the flowers can illuminate the entire city with their resplendency, but even if it is cold, the buds and blossoms will be worn by every person and displayed in almost every home.

POPULAR CLOQUET WOMAN PASSES.

Cloquet, Minn., March 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mrs. John Nelson died at her home here on Seventh street Friday forenoon. Mrs. Nelson had been sick only about a week when blood poisoning set in, death resulting. Mrs. Nelson was 36 years old and leaves six children and a husband. She was born in Sweden in 1878 and at the age of 2 years came to Cloquet where she has been ever since. She was well known and liked by a large number of friends and acquaintances.

ODENWALDO LIBELED BY U. S. MARSHAL.

Washington, March 27.—United States Attorney Brown at San Juan, Porto Rico, reported today that he had libeled the German steamer Odenwald and that the ship is now in custody of the United States marshal. This is the first step in proceedings to have the Odenwald confiscated for an alleged violation of American neutrality by attempting to leave San Juan without proper clearance papers.

RED CROSS MEMORIAL

Cornerstone of New Building Is Laid in Washington.

President Wilson and Ex-President Taft Take Part in Exercises.

Washington, March 27.—President Wilson and Former President Taft took part today in the ceremonies of laying the corner stone of the new Red Cross building which is to be erected as a memorial to the women of the Civil war.

The new building is to be one of a group of stately structures—the Corcoran art gallery, the Pan-American building and the Memorial hall of the Daughters of the American Revolution—facing the wide sweep of grounds back of the state department and White House.

The building and site, provided by government appropriation and private subscription, will be turned over in perpetuity to the American Red Cross. Here the organization will make its permanent home, and the building will house all of the administrative officers in charge of Red Cross work. The plans and construction are under the control of a commission headed by President Wilson, with Secretary Garrison, Senator Luke Lea and Representative Slayden as members.

The commission has at its disposal $800,000, of which $400,000 was appropriated by congress on condition that the Red Cross raise an equal amount by private subscription. The additional sum was made up by the following subscriptions: James A. Scrymser, $100,000; Mrs. Russell Sage, $150,000; Mrs. Edward H. Harriman, $50,000; the Rockefeller foundation, $100,000.

Will Be of White Marble.

The new building, like most of the others in the stately group about it, will be of white marble and the general design of the structure, its facade, columns, etc., will be on classic lines. A parked terrace will raise the building above the street level, and wide marble steps will lead up to the entrance. A row of twelve Corinthian columns of white marble will stretch across the entire front of the structure, the capitals supporting the copper finished roof. Two massive bronze entrance doors are one of the striking features of the architectural plans.

Within the high-arched vestibule a flight of broad marble stairs will lead to the second and third floors. On the stairway landing a marble tablet will be placed bearing the following inscription:

"A memorial built by the government of the United States and patriotic citizens to the women of the North and the women of the South, held in loving memory by a now united country, and that their labors to mitigate the sufferings of the sick and wounded in war may be forever perpetuated, this memorial is dedicated to the service of the American Red Cross."

On this landing will also be placed three allegorical busts in white marble, representing Faith, Hope and Charity. All of the decorations will be marked by dignity and simplicity.

Quarters for All Branches.

The extensive working quarters on the three floors of the building will be equipped to accommodate all the branches of the Red Cross, with its varied activities in peace and war. On the first floor a large assembly room and library will take up all of one side of the building, and will afford a meeting place for the large gatherings of the organization. The central committee of the Red Cross will have special quarters. The war, national and international relief boards will each have rooms particularly fitted for their special work. The army surgeon in charge of hospital field units and the onrollment of doctors, the first aid instruction department, the nurses' enrollment bureau, and town and country nursing service, and the Christmas seal division will all be quartered according to their needs.

Of the $800,000 available for the memorial, $357,000 was expended by the commission in the purchase of the site. The entire block surrounding the structure was acquired and it will be laid out in parking, gardens and suitable approaches. Under the contract for the construction of the building it will be completed and ready for occupancy by April 20, 1916.

RED CROSS TO COMBAT TYPHUS IN SERBIA

Nish, Serbia, March 27, via London.—Charles J. Vopicka, the American minister to Serbia, has informed the Serbia government that the American Red Cross society, acting in conjunction with the Rockefeller commission, purposes to send to Serbia a fully equipped medical commission to combat the existing insanitary conditions in the country where typhus and other contagious diseases prevail. This commission will be under the direction of Dr. Richard P. Strong, director of the Harvard school of tropical medicine. The Serbian government has gratefully accepted Mr. Vopicka's offer.

VILLA BEGINS SIEGE OF MATAMORAS, MEX.

Cavalrymen Open Fire on Town Across Border From Brownsville.

Brownesville, Tex., March 27.—The Villa siege of Matamoras, the Mexican town opposite here, began about noon today. Cavalrymen opened heavy rifle fire on the breastworks west of Matamoras near the Rio Grande.

Simultaneously the cavalry, totaling 5,000 men, began spreading to surrounding the city on the west and south. A Villa officer told The Associated Press correspondent that artillery is due to reach the firing line some time this evening.

Villa forces can attack from only two directions, west or south. Attack from the west apparently would not endanger Brownsville, but attack from the south, if the guns overshot, would tend to rake street and sidewalk traffic here, as the streets lie almost in direct line of such fire.

Villa cavalry, advancing from the west today continued to pour into a ranch four miles from Matamoras. Villa infantry and artillery men, claimed to number 3,000 reported to be advancing to support the cavalry, are apparently still beyond a zone of fifty miles outside Matamoras.

SUPERIOR

BETTING THAT SUPERIOR WILL BE DRY AFTER ELECTION.

That Superior will go dry by a majority of 600 votes is said to be an even bet in Superior. Bets to that effect are said to have been offered, with no takers. It is also said that there have been bets of two to one made that the city will go dry, with no reference as to the majority.

"This appears to be a peculiar election," said a Superior man this morning. "The 'dry' forces appear to have all kinds of money to spend in the campaign and are spending it liberally in advertising and other ways, and their boosters appear to have plenty of ready money to bet on the results. Contrary to former days, the 'wet' element appears to be hedging, and instead of being liberal spenders, are appearing to hang on to what cash they have with a firm grip."

High School Team Wins.

The Superior high school basket ball team overthrew all precedents last night by drubbing the normal quintet by a score of 30 to 22. The game was one of the fastest that has been played this year at the Superior high school gymnasium. The high school team started in the lead and maintained it all the way through the game. The first half ended in a score of 15 to 13.

GRAND VIZIER TAKES ACTION

Turkish Official Orders Subordinates to Protect Christians in Persia.

Acts on Representations Made By American Ambassador.

New York, March 27.—The grand vizier of Turkey has issued instructions to his subordinates that all inhabitants of the mob-ridden section of Persia, including the thousands of Christians in the vicinity of Urumiah, must be protected, according to advices received from the state department today by the Presbyterian board of foreign missions.

Reports from Urumiah made public yesterday, announced that the large village of Gulpashan had been destroyed, its men shot and women outraged and that sixty-five refugees had been taken from the French and American mission compounds and hanged on scaffolds erected in the French mission yard. A massacre impends, according to this message, which had been delayed in transit, and was several days old when made public.

The communication from the state department was signed by Robert Lansing, counselor of the department, and was written under date of yesterday.

Grand Vizier Acts.

"Mr. Lansing advises us," said George T. Scott, assistant of the board, "that Ambassador Morgenthau at Constantinople, had communicated to the grand vizier the request of the state department for protection of Americans in the vicinity of Urumiah. The grand vizier, the letter says, expressed the belief that the reports of outrages there were inaccurate and told Mr. Morgenthau he would immediately instruct his subordinates to protect all inhabitants of the section, including, of course, the Christians.

"Mr. Morgenthau's cablegram, the letter says, was dated March 24, but did not reach the state department until yesterday."

"The Germans have abandoned important war material and left numerous dead on these battlefields. The French losses were inconsiderable.

"A German aviator dropped several bombs on the town of Willer to the northwest of Thann. Three little children were killed."

German Statement.

Berlin, March 27, by wireless to Sayville.—The German general staff today gave out the following report:

"In the Vosges the French yesterday evening occupied the top of Hartmanns-Weilerkopf, on the edge of a height held by German troops.

"French aviators yesterday threw bombs on Bapaume and Strassburg without doing any military damage. In Bapaume eleven Frenchmen were killed and twenty-two severely wounded.

"A French aviator was compelled to come to the ground at a point northwest of Arras, and we dropped a few bombs on Calais.

"Russian troops who started from Tauroggen to loot Tilsit have been repulsed near Laugszargen, and were driven back over the Jediorupa river.

DECISIVE ACTION BY ITALY ON ENTERING WAR IS NOW IMMINENT

the exception of Turkey, which grew out of the second Balkan war.

Prince George of Greece is leaving Italy for Athens to support the policy of his brother, King Constantine, for the continued neutrality of his nation, in opposition to the faction which favors intervention on the side of the allies.

Dispatches reaching Paris from Athens say the Turkish forts at Dardanus and Kilid Bahr, on the Dardanelles, have been destroyed and that batteries which attacked mine sweepers have been silenced by two battleships of the allies. British and French warships are said to have taken transports to the Gulf of Smyrna, on the coast of Asia-Minor.

Notwithstanding the reported successes of the British in repelling the Turkish invaders of Egypt, the Turks have not been expelled from the country. An official statement from Cairo says that a skirmish occurred on Tuesday, with small losses on both sides.

Reports continue to come in of important Russian successes in the Carpathians. Swiss newspapers publish dispatches that the Russians have defeated the Austrians in several engagements along the front from Bukowina to Western Galicia.

TEN THOUSAND SHELLS FIRED AT PRZEMYSL IN TWO HOURS

and the ground for miles around trembled as though rent by an unending series of earthquakes.

Red With Bursting Shells.

All night long the sky was red with the bursting of shells. The cannonading reached its greatest intensity between 4 and 6 o'clock in the morning. It is safe to say that nobody in either army slept that night, although they were accustomed to weeks of bombardment. During these two hours 10,000 shells were fired.

Before dawn a scouting division of Russians drove back the Austrians who were in occupation of the outlying positions and after a sharp engagement occupied the Austrian trenches. Backing up this movement, the entire Russian army facing the Austrians, began to close in on them. As this advance was made, the Austrians from all sides retired to the protection of the fortress.

Blow Up Forts.

Suddenly telegrams began reaching Russian headquarters from various points, declaring that the Austrians were blowing up their forts. At the same time the Austrian fire slackened to a certain extent, and above the roar of the artillery could be heard the deep roar of explosions from within the fortress.

The Russians continued advancing, the men running forward among exploding mines. Occasionally rifle firing was heard.

Towards 8 o'clock in the morning of March 22 white flags began appearing over the tops of the Austrian forts. The Russian fire thereupon ceased. Then a group of Austrian officers under a flag of truce appeared making its way from one of the forts in the direction of the Russian headquarters.

Soon from all directions Austrian divisions appeared, walking quietly toward the Russian ranks. The officers bore their arms, but the soldiers were mostly unarmed. Others were observed throwing away their rifles as they came on. These Austrian troops spoke in friendly and kindly tones to the Russian soldiers and saluted the Russian officers.

Separated By River.

The River Vichora, a tributary of the San, separated the Russians from the Austrian forts on one section of the front. At this point the railroad bridge had been blown up and the Russians had difficulty in crossing. The men made their way as best they could over the remains of the wrecked bridge, while the Cossacks swam their horses. The correspondent of the Associated Press crossed with the Cossacks.

A notable feature of the advance was that all of Przemysl was covered with heavy clouds of smoke. Loud detonations continued and it was evident that the Austrians were destroying the remainder of their ammunition.

In the suburbs of Przemysl many horses recently killed and still saddled were seen as the Russians came in.

Discussion of the terms of surrender occupied the entire day.

In the meantime and until evening the sound of explosions from within the fortress continued.

All day long soldiers straggled from the fortress without arms. They were rounded up and taken to Russian headquarters.

No civilians were permitted to enter Przemysl on the 22nd.

TIME ALLOWED GERMAN CRUISER FOR REPAIRS IS SAID TO BE NEARLY UP

of a merchant ship flying the flag of its adversary."

It was reiterated that Commander Thierichens never had replied to repeated requests of the United States port authorities as to the time required to intern, and the conclusion is that naval experts, after examining the Prinz Eitel, set a time for him to make his cruiser seaworthy.

Cruiser Closely Guarded.

Newport News, Va., March 27.—With armed guards on her pier and aboard her ready to challenge anyone approaching without a pass, the German auxiliary cruiser Prinz Eitel Friedrich still was tied up at the local shipyard early today, despite last night's persistent reports that Commander Thierichens had been ordered to leave by midnight or be interned for the war.

While the German converted cruiser Prinz Eitel Friedrich remained tied up at her pier here last night and the lieutenant in charge of her declared she would not now attempt to put to sea, there was an unusual stir at Fortress Monroe and at Fort Wool. Searchlights flashed across the waters of Hampton Roads and a submarine and three destroyers of the United States navy were anchored in the roadstead. All soldiers at the forts were said to have been ordered in and the big gun crews and mine companies sent to their stations.

There was no official explanation for the activity, but it was said precautions probably were being taken to prevent the Eitel leaving without giving the notice required under international law.

Extends Watch.

Shortly after midnight the garrison at Fortress Monroe extended its watch overland. A special bicycle patrol left the fort and proceeded up and down the beach.

The fort still was actively on the alert. The three destroyers and one submarine observed off the port earlier in the night, steamed several miles up Chesapeake bay toward Thimble light and sent up a dozen rockets. The fort answered with signal lights.

It was learned tonight that the Eitel's commander had settled a number of accounts in Newport News. The cruiser still was tied up to the shipyard pier, its interior brightly illuminated.

Heard at Washington.

Washington, March 27.—Rumors from Newport News reached Washington late yesterday that the Prinz Eitel Friedrich, the German sea raider docked there for repairs after her commerce-destroying cruise, was preparing to depart. One report said the cruiser actually had left her dock at the shipyard and was putting out to sea to escape or bid defiance to British and French warships patrolling beyond the Virginia capes.

All these stories were proved groundless, however, as the Prinz Eitel was at her dock and repair work was said still to be in progress.

FIGHTING CHANCE FOR MEN ON SUBMARINE F-4

tow the submarine to shallow water was abandoned, the navy tender Alert was dispatched to the scene and it was decided to raise the damaged craft by means of the crane with which the tender is equipped.

It was planned to pass heavy chains about the hull and then hoisting operations were to begin.

The Alert is anchored in 160 feet of water, 500 feet from the resting place of the submarine, and it is now planned to draw the hull to the Alert's anchorage, where divers may operate.

Located in 300 Feet of Water.

The F-4 was located yesterday afternoon. To lift the little vessel to the surface, it was found necessary to send to the Pearl Harbor naval station for a derrick and crane.

Rescue vessels dragging the ocean bed with grappling hooks chanced on the stricken craft at a depth of 300 feet. Making fast to the F-4 the naval tug Navajo and the steamer Makaala began to tow their find—they were not certain that it was the submarine they had hooked—toward shallow water. Quantities of oil came to the surface, proof that it really was the lost vessel. Soon afterward, a submarine marker buoy, described far below the water, removed all doubt that the F-4 had been found.

Time of Release Not Known.

When the marker buoy had been released by the disabled boat there was no means of determining. If the signal was given after the grappling hooks of the rescue vessels took hold, then the crew, or at least some of them, were still alive.

For more than an hour the tug and steamer struggled with their unwieldy burden. Soon afterward, it became apparent it would be impossible to tow the submarine near enough to shore to bring her to the surface, and a hurry call was sent to the naval station for a wrecking ship.

Naval authorities admitted they had given up hope for the submarine's crew. However, resuscitating apparatus has been dispatched to the scene and every effort will be made to develop any spark of life while may remain. The general opinion is that the vessel's plates were sprung through the immense pressure of the water at a depth of fifty fathoms, and that the two officers and nineteen enlisted men aboard have perished.

Vessels in the vicinity which are equipped with submarine signal apparatus continued to send out signals, but no answer came.

Revision of Ship's List.

Washington, March 27.—A revision of the official list of the ship's company of the F-4, issued at the navy department last night, added the names of Ensign Timothy A. Parker, Frederick Gilman, first class gunner's mate, and Frank N. Herzog, second class electrician. The names of James M. Haggett and Albert Mellien were eliminated, corrected records showing that these men were not on board.

VICTORY FOR THE BOOSTERS

permit it to spend its money to develop its own holdings. If you will, this would put more money in the state treasury, and more good to the state as a whole, than anything else that possibly could be devised. At the same time, it would benefit those who need it most—the homeseekers.

"The state has always pursued a childish policy in land affairs. It has sold most of its timber, and reserved the mineral rights on its land, but it has taken utterly no steps either to develop its land holdings or to help others to develop them.

"I expect the revolving fund amandment, which permits the legislature to set aside $250,000 to be used in reclaiming and developing state lands, to pass at the next election. Then I shall be here talking for the very thing Senator Sageng contends for—that the state, instead of private speculators, shall develop the state lands and get the benefit of such development."

Must Be Done on a Broad Scale.

Senator Nord, in urging the passage of his bill, said that in his county there are large areas of state land that are swampy.

"These lands," he said, "cannot be developed in 160-acre tracts or in 320-acre tracts. The work must be done on a broad scale. Either the state must do it, or the land must be sold in large tracts to colonization companies that will avail themselves of the opportunity the state is neglecting. As it appears that the state is determined to do nothing, I am proposing this bill removing the limitations on the sale of state land so that private capital can do what everybody will agree needs to be done."

The bill passed, 36 to 20. Representative H. J. Miner of International Falls has introduced a similar bill in the house.

* * *

Will Not Raise Rate.

The attempt to increase railroad passenger rates from 2 cents per mile to 2½ cents has failed, so far as this session of the legislature is concerned.

The senate committee on railroads, grain and warehouse yesterday afternoon voted to recommend for indefinite postponement the bill by Senator E. J. Westlake increasing the rate.

However, the committee members were rather tender in their method of killing the bill. They said that they did not believe that such action should be taken until there had been a thorough investigation of passenger rates so that the change could be justified.

The railroad men present pointed out, later, that this was precisely what the railroad men had said when the 3-cent rate was cut to 2 cents eight years ago—that the change should not be made arbitrarily, but on exact knowledge and after investigation.

* * *

No report was made to the senate yesterday by its temperance committee on its action recommending for indefinite postponement the Gandrud bill for statewide prohibition by constitutional amendment. However, the report will be made about Tuesday, with a minority report signed by Senators Gandrud, Lobeck and Vermilya, recommending the bill to pass. The bill probably will be killed by the senate, thus ending this issue for the session, as it has already been decided by the house.

Against Future Trading.

Representative A. F. Teigen's bill prohibiting all future trading in grain, killed by the house yesterday and then revived by a motion to reconsider, is not dead yet.

The motion to put the bill on the calendar was made by Representative Theodore Christianson of Dawson, a member who thinks along original lines and who has on many occasions shown a faculty of clearheaded insight. Mr. Christianson's motion was made in order that there might be a chance to amend the bill. He was opposed to it, and voted against it, in the original form, because he felt that it went too far and would accomplish more harm than good.

It was presumed by many members when the motion was made, that the purpose was to devise some way of making a distinction between hedging by traders or millers and pure speculation—between legitimate future trading and illegitimate.

"There is no such purpose," said Mr. Christianson yesterday afternoon, "because that is an absolute impossibility. Hedging is necessary, and to have hedging you must allow trades in futures. No law could be devised that would draw the line between legitimate hedging and pure speculation.

"But it is possible to draw a line between future trading by those who actually own the grain to be delivered or who are actually and legitimately in the grain business, and those who are not in the grain business who buy or sell futures for a gamble on the rise or fall of the market. And that is what I propose to attempt by the amendment. I shall offer to the Teigen bill. I shall not attempt to prohibit future trading, but I shall attempt to limit it to those who are in the grain business. That, I think, will remove most of the abuses of the future deal, and at any rate it is as far as the law can go and accomplish anything."

Rural Trolley Lines.

The Carmichael bill allowing rural trolley lines to use urban tracks was recommended for passage yesterday afternoon by the house committee on transportation.

The bill provides that rural lines can come into communities, and that where the companies are unable to agree on a proper basis of compensation for the urban company the dispute shall be decided by the railroad and warehouse commission.

The purpose of the measure, as stated by its author, is to encourage the development of rural trolley lines.

The house committee on towns and counties yesterday afternoon put out recommendation the unique proposal by Representative John W. Panke of Waseca that candidates for county and legislative offices shall bid on the salaries to be paid—that is, that every candidate shall state in his filing affidavit what salary he will be willing to accept, and that if he is elected he must work for that salary.

Some of the members of the committee thought that possibly the candidates for an office might combine and fix the salary of the victor at $10,000 a year; but the committee, after examining this unusual proposal, decided to turn it over to the house and let it decide what ought to be done with it.

The house committee on towns and counties yesterday afternoon voted to report for passage the senate bill by Senator James Johnston increasing the pay of town overseers while engaged in road work from $2 to $3 per day.

AVOID SPRING ILLS

Purify and Build Up the Blood with Hood's Sarsaparilla.

In the spring your blood needs cleansing and enriching. You feel poorly, and there is more or less eruption on your face and body. Your appetite is not good, your sleep is broken, and you are tired all the time.

You need Hood's Sarsaparilla. It is the one safe and effective tonic that has stood the test of forty years. It makes the pure red blood that will make you feel better, look better, eat and sleep better. It is the old standard tried and true all-the-year-round medicine for the blood and the whole system.

Ask any druggist for Hood's Sarsaparilla, and insist on having it. Nothing else acts like it, for nothing else has the same formula or ingredients, and so there is no real substitute. Get it today.

the Minette-Burrows telephone regulation bill, and provided for a conference committee of five to meet a similar committee from the senate. This is the first conference committee of the session. Representative Southwick, when the bill came in, moved to concur in the senate amendments. He had opposed the referendum provision giving communities the right to pass on whether competing exchanges shall be admitted—the provision for which the house is sticking. He said the main result wanted was state regulation and physical connection. These the bill provides as it stands and the referendum provision makes it a hybrid.

Representative Minette, as a substitute, moved that the house do not concur in the amendment striking out the referendum. He said the people of a community should have the right to say whether they want competition or not. The telephone trust, he says, wants this referendum stricken out, and its lobby is busy.

Representative Carmichael thought the issue of small importance, and that the main features would not be risked because of it.

Representative Burrows, joint author with Minette, opposed the motion for non-concurrence, saying the house couldn't afford to risk all by a split between the two houses.

Representative Spooner said there was no danger. If the senate won't come over, then the house can still concur and save the bill.

Efficiency and Economy.

Action on efficiency and economy was postponed to Monday on account of the light attendance. Representative Wefald probably will move then to discharge the committee and kill the efficiency bill, so as to get a record vote.

A new resolution providing for a joint senate and house committee to report on efficiency and economy to the next legislature is being prepared, and will be introduced Monday by Representative Girling, Christiansen and Norton.

Range Expenditures.

Representative Scott's new resolution for an investigation of the expenditures in range communities will also come on Monday, when it will take the form of a joint resolution providing for a committee of two senators and three representatives and appropriating money for their expenses. Representatives Bjorge and Bendixen, old time tonnage taxers, are earnestly supporting Scott's move.

The house committee on towns and counties has recommended for passage the Scott bill requiring St. Louis county to build a third courthouse at Hibbing.

Roadhouse Bill.

Representative Guilford gave notice of a motion to recall the roadhouse bill from the temperance committee. This gives the committee till Thursday to report, after which, if it fails, any member can call out the bill.

ALLEGORY BY WEFALD

house for old Minnesota, and Warner, who has negotiated the business end of the deal, says that they will bring order into the household, save thousands of dollars where there now is waste and bring such prosperity as only has been heard of in the fairy tales.

Might Not Sanction Union.

"It is intimated that the governor, being a bachelor and not able to value any one's sister as he should, might refuse to sanction the union. In that case Gordon will go before the people and demand satisfaction for this insult to his sisters' honor and Warner will take charge of the breach of promise suit, on shares. It will be the biggest suit of the kind the people ever sat in judgment on.

Meantime Spooner has not been so successful with his ward, the prince Efficiency and Economy, that was a pretender to the throne of Minnesota. The story of this young prince, when it once becomes known, will be the most intricate to unravel, deeper in mystery and fuller in intrigue than anything ever heard of.

"As Gordon triumphantly announced the engagement of his sisters, a cry went up to find out whether or not the prince was dead or alive, whether he was lying in a hospital or a morgue, but the mob, drunk with the prelude of the marriage feast, would not listen.

Sad, Sad Story!

"The story of the prince is a sad, sad story. Who was he and whence came he? What was his mission? Nobody knows.

"Supposedly the son of the last king of Minnesota that fell in the primary battle last June, he came with a retinue of thirty wise men and was left in the charge of one of the brightest men in Minnesota. His arrival was heralded far and wide, he was given the right-of-way over all others that sought the favor of Minnesota.

"There was such a charm about his name and they say now that he was christened before he was born. Now all that is left of him is his name and around his name there is and will be more fight than there has been over anything in Minnesota. Gordon tried to steal it for his sisters to give them rank of princesses, and the vulgar hold it up to scorn and mockery.

"Those that had sworn to place him on the throne but deserted him, now want to keep him locked up in the tower, like the man of the iron mask. They do not even want to find out whether he is dead or alive. If he is yet alive they do not want to nourish him. If he is dead they do not want to bury him; and he who was made chief in his name now turns pale when you mention his name.

"If he should be buried there will be no decorations on his grave, for Gordon has stolen his Flowers.

The Good Die Young.

"They say that the good die young. That is some consolation. But his foster father and guardian is not to be consoled. After having done all he could do, under the circumstances, according to his best understanding, the rumor has gone out that he let the young prince die from neglect. And that is not true although Adams, the political Dr. Hornbrook of the legislature, said so in his statement in The Herald, March 24, in which statement he declared that he could have saved him had he been called into the case.

"Pride Mr. Spooner made mistakes and the gravest mistake, perhaps, was that he did not call in Dr. Adams. He would at least have made the death struggle short. But they were mistakes of the head and not of the heart. Spooner was so wrapped up in the child that he could not for a long time understand that the child was ailing. He dreamed and built castles in the air for him and he could not understand that there anywhere was any danger. Had not the legions and the chiefs all sworn him fealty?

"But as he was training the prince in the ways of the courts and the thirty wise men from time to time explained his lineage and his heritage, the sky was clouding and the plotters were busy. The brewers brewed poison for him, the demagogues told the rabble that he was the son of the Steel Trust and of the university, but his foster-father could not yet hear the cry of 'crucify him.'

"Then the prince began to ail. He showed signs of insanity, but his guardian could not believe it. Night after night he walked the floor with him and his grief was intense. The time for presentation at the court drew nigh and he knew then that the prince was not in shape for presentation. Bjornson tried to console him. He sounded the public to find out how the prince would be received. The rabble shouted 'crucify!' and the bureaucracy set up impossible demands. The army was in mutiny, nobody could tell how many daggers were ready for him.

Sick Unto Death.

"On the memorable 22nd day of March the old Roman carried the prince into the forum. Spooner was sick at heart and the prince was sick unto death. Dr. Adams could smell it a long way off. The bureaucracy set up countless demands, Spooner conceded several demands of the proletariat, then Warner with merciless denunciation began to read the indictments.

"Like a lion the old Roman turned on his enemies but there was only salvation in retreat. Sick and sore he carried his ward from the forum. The prince was unconscious, the bodyguard dismayed and no one thought of Dr. Adams. He might have saved him, but nobody knew, for his manifesto was not published in The Herald until the last act of the drama was played.

"That is, the last one that is played so far, for the burial is yet to come. Meanwhile the stage was set for the entry of the seven sisters and they have since danced the dance of the seven veils, to the great amusement of the representatives, and found great favor with them. The people have had a Roman holiday and to them it matters not whether Gordon and Warner are happy or Spooner gloomy.

"But it was too bad that our Dr. Hornbrook was not given a chance to ply his art."

SPANISH PRESS IS CRITICIZED

Marquis De Lema Condemns Campaign Against Portugal.

Madrid, March 27, via Paris.—Marquis De Lema, the foreign minister, has come out in open and severe criticism of that portion of the Spanish press which is conducting a campaign against Portugal.

These newspapers, the foreign minister declares, are willing to distort facts, a course which in time is bound to destroy the amicable relations existing between the two countries.

After the cabinet meeting yesterday Premier Dato denied that the call of 30,000 men to the colors was the result of discord with any nation whatever.

"Spain," the premier said, "will continue to guard a most absolute neutrality."

Indictment Quashed.

Chicago, March 27.—The indictment charging Julius Rosenwald, the philanthropist, with evading certain taxes due Cook county, was quashed today. Judge McDonald held that the indictment was under a law of 1872 and that this law was repealed by a new law effective in 1898.

STOOP SHOULDERS

By DR. SAMUEL G. DIXON, Commissioner of Health for Pennsylvania.

Atlas bore the weight of the heavens upon his head and hands, according to a Greek myth, but those of mankind who carry the burden of life, too often let it rest upon their shoulders. Stoop shouldered men and women by the thousands are to be found among the followers of sedentary occupations. Nine out of ten when the subject is mentioned will square away their shoulders and say, "I'm getting a little careless about that." Then they make a momentary resolve that they will brace up and overcome the fault. That it is a fault and one that has a distinct bearing upon health there is no question.

No system of physical culture is complete which does not include exercises which teach erect carriage and deep breathing. One of these is impossible without the other. In this lies the chief ill effect of stoop shoulders.

To maintain good health we should use our lungs to their normal capacity at all times. The proper purification of the blood through oxygenation requires ample breathing. Drop your shoulders forward and then try to take a full breath; see how impossible it is to do so in that position. Breathing with the shoulders forward and the breast bone depressed is only partially accomplished. The lower portion of the lungs cannot be emptied and instead of receiving a supply of fresh air they will be filled with residual air.

To work, sit or walk day after day with the shoulders hunched forward, means that the lung capacity is lessened just so much and a corresponding loss of vitality results.

Such a posture also permits the sagging of the diaphram, a resulting displacement of the abdominal organs and leads to serious digestive disturbances.

Do not resort to shoulder braces or other mechanical means to correct stooping shoulders. These are but makeshifts which do not remedy the real trouble. Make the mental effort necessary to keep the body erect. By maintaining proper posture the muscles can be strengthened and made to do their work of holding the body upright.

When children exhibit a tendency to grow stoop shouldered parents and teachers should see to it that they are given physical exercises to correct the fault.

Working People's Dentists

Who Do Scientific Dentistry at Working People's Prices

YOU HAVE AN OPPORTUNITY NOW TO HAVE YOUR TEETH PUT INTO FIRST-CLASS CONDITION

Why not decide today to have our expert graduate and registered dentists fix your teeth? Thousands of Minnesota's public are visiting these offices each year, and they can tell you the kind of work we do. If it's a filling, a crown, a plate or some bridgework, come to us. A written guarantee to all.

FILLINGS

Gold, Enamel and Alloy, $1.00 up. Silver and Cement Fillings, 50c up.

When the New Method Dentists fill your teeth they do it carefully and take all the time necessary to do it correctly. They use the very best materials and we guarantee them to stay filled. Perhaps you have a small cavity now in one of your teeth; if so, you should not wait another day, but should come here now and allow our experts to fill it. It costs less while the cavity is small.

BRIDGEWORK

GOLD OR PORCELAIN, $3 TO $4.

Don't be impressed that because you have one or more teeth missing that they cannot be replaced without wearing a plate. New Method bridgework specialists can put in teeth without plates for those open spaces, and they will be made to fit substantially and look and feel like natural teeth. It requires expert dentists to do this kind of work, and we assure you that we have them associated here. Our work is guaranteed.

CROWNS

GOLD OR PORCELAIN, $3, $4 AND $5.

Have you allowed your teeth to become too badly decayed to hold fillings, or broken off? Our crown specialists can put on a gold crown, or one of porcelain, that will look exactly like your natural teeth. Regular heavy gold or porcelain crowns are fitted in such a way as to be substantial and therefore stand the strains, and are very reasonable at $3, $4 and $5. These crowns are guaranteed by us.

SET OF TEETH

GUARANTEED AT $5, $8 AND $10.

Do you want a set of teeth made so they will fit accurately? You also want them to feel good, look natural and be serviceable. Our sets do not drop down when in use; they will not hurt the gums. We make them from Gold, Aluminum and Rubber. We buy our porcelain teeth to make these plates in lots of 150 to 500 sets at a time, and our plate experts make up ten plates while the average dentists make only one. Why not come to us for not only high-grade work, but also for lower prices, made possible by our buying power? We guarantee these plates.

BIG MEETINGS FOR SUNDAY

Churches of West Duluth and West End Active in Campaign.

Addresses Will Be Given By Pastors in Three Languages.

POLITICAL MEETINGS.

Tonight.

Jackson school—Civic Center Welfare league; all candidates.

Sunday, 3 P. M.

First Norwegian-Danish M. E. church—All the Scandinavian ministers of the West end will speak.

Our Savior's Norwegian Lutheran church—West Duluth ministers will speak.

Wednesday.

Kalamazoo hall—Young men's rally; Bernard Silberstein, speaker.

Thursday.

Dormedy hall—West Duluth rally; Bernard Silberstein, speaker.

Friday.

Bricklayers' hall—West end rally; J. A. Farrell and Bernard Silberstein, speakers.

Two big mass meetings in churches of the West end and West Duluth tomorrow afternoon are the most important features of the municipal campaign scheduled.

These meetings will be open to the public and are both in charge of the ministers in the respective sections of the city. Two weeks ago the Scandinavian ministers of the West end organized and decided to hold three mass meetings in behalf of Commissioners Hicken and Murchison and Judge Windom. Last Sunday the first of these meetings was held, while the remaining two will be held tomorrow and Wednesday of next week.

On Thursday afternoon the Scandinavian ministers of West Duluth organized in a similar manner and the first meeting will be held tomorrow, while the last is scheduled for Sunday afternoon, April 4, preceding the election.

The West end meeting will be held at the First Norwegian-Danish M. E. church, Twenty-fourth avenue west and Third street, where addresses will be delivered in three languages. Rev. C. W. R. Wermine of the First Swedish M. E. church will speak in English; Rev. Swance Nelson of the First Swedish Baptist church in Swedish, and Rev. E. Wulfsberg, St. Paul's Lutheran church, in Norwegian.

The West Duluth meeting will be held at Our Savior's Norwegian Lutheran church, Fifty-seventh avenue west and Wadena street, where addresses will be delivered by Rev. B. L. Opdahl, pastor of the church, who will speak in English; Rev. Eugene Nelson of the Bethany Norwegian-Danish M. E. church, in Norwegian, and Rev. K. A. Lundin, Third Swedish Baptist church, in Swedish.

Another important meeting is scheduled for this evening at the Jackson school, where all the candidates have been invited to speak before the Civic Center Welfare league.

MINNESOTA MAN STIRS PHONE WORLD WITH INVENTION

Perfects Device Preventing "Listening in" on Party Lines in Either City or Rural Systems.

Franklin W. Adsit Completes Decided Improvement to the Alexander Graham Bell Invention, Revolutionizing Party Line Methods.

Announcement of "Lock Out" Made on Anniversary of the Birth of the Telephone March 10, 1876—Story of Both Discoveries Similar—Over $250,000 in Orders Secured, Creating Large Industry.

To a young Minnesota man, Franklin W. Adsit by name, belongs the honor and wealth now being showered upon him as a result of his perfecting, after seven years of hard study and work, the most practical and valuable improvement on the telephone made since the telephone itself was discovered.

ANNIVERSARY OF TELEPHONE.

Two weeks ago last Wednesday was the thirty-ninth anniversary of the telephone. Thirty-nine years ago, on March 10, 1876, Alexander Graham Bell made the telephone actually "talk" to Thomas Watson, his co-worker. Bell had worked seven long years on his idea with little to show for his labor except a mass of theory. One day Dr. Charles Blake said to Bell, "Why don't you use a real human ear?" Bell jumped at the idea, and Dr. Blake cut an ear drum, together with its associated bones, from a dead man's head. Bell arranged these in an old human skull, attached a straw to the ear drum and placing at the other end of the straw a piece of moving smoked glass. Bell shouted loudly into the ear, and with glee noted that the vibrations of the ear drum made tiny marks with the straw upon the blackened moving glass. Could anything be more ghastly or absurd? How would you have interpreted the gruesome joy of this pale-faced young man with flashing black eyes, who stood earnestly singing, then whispering, then shouting into a dead man's ear? And this all happened in Salem, too, the very home of witchcraft and superstition. Ghoulish it was, but the wizard then and there visualized, for the first time, the art of actually reproducing the vibrations of the human voice, resulting in perfecting the telephone theory.

BOTH TWENTY-NINE YEARS OLD.

On his 29th birthday Bell secured, as a result of seven years' hard work, United States Patent No. 174465, known as "the most valuable single patent ever issued in any country."

As a singular coincidence, on his 29th birthday, Franklin W. Adsit, living then on a farm near Belview, Minn., received United States Patent No. 986260, which telephone experts predict will ultimately become almost as valuable as Bell's original document.

Another remarkable coincidence in a chain of striking circumstances, making a strange similarity between the experience of Bell and Adsit, is the fact that Adsit also worked seven years, almost to the day, on the perfecting of his idea.

A Natural Genius.

They tried to make a Minnesota farmer out of young Adsit, but finally considered him a hopeless case after he had repeatedly let the horses on his cultivator wander along at will, plowing up rows on rows of corn while he, in a trance, sat intently "watching the wheels" of the machine he was driving. Adsit appears the ideal inventor. He is a futurist, a mechanical poet, a dreamer; albeit a practical one, who sees, always, a different and better way of doing the things now done, and a positive genius in the matter of formulating and creating new ideas and new methods independent of, and often directly at variance with, established mechanical methods.

The Adsits are prominently recorded in the geneology of the famous Barbour and Stanford families, the members of which are noted for many extraordinary achievements. Mr. Franklin W. Adsit, the inventor of the telephone instrument here described, is a close relative of the late Leland Stanford of California, who gave the famous Stanford university to his state, fathered the historic Silver bill in the United States senate in '63, and as a crowning achievement to his active life, put the first railroad across the Rocky mountains, a supposedly impossible undertaking, ranking as the greatest engineering feat of that age and comparable today with the building of the Panama canal.

The Adsit device is what is known in the telephone world as a "lock-out." It is a small instrument measuring approximately five inches by five inches by three inches, and when attached to a party line telephone gives absolute private service to all subscribers on that line. It prevents the neighbors from over-hearing the private conversation of other subscribers. It also saves all "code" ringing which is so annoying, and permits of full 100 per cent talking strength at all times. This full talking efficiency makes it no longer necessary for the subscriber to crack the pottery on the pantry shelf with the volume of tone required to carry on a conversation on the old style rural party line. This wonderful invention also gives the inter-communicating feature, making it possible for one subscriber on the line to call up another subscriber on that line without the aid of central.

A device somewhat similar to that used on the rural line and embodying the same principle is made to apply to city party lines so that relief is promised to the city party line subscriber as well as the long-suffering rural patrons.

A Dream Come True.

A lock-out system for rural and party lines allowing a person to carry on a conversation in privacy without interruption, has been the day dream of experts since the telephone was invented.

When all the bells on a line ring, as in the case today on rural party lines, many people are tempted to "listen in." Some are always "butting in" and "rubbering," while others monopolize the line with talk of the day's washing and why the jel didn't jell, while the local banker is tearing his hear and using strong language in an endeavor to get the gossipers off the line so that he can close an important business transaction with his brother banker in the next township.

Is Serious Question.

While many of these "line fights" have their comical side, some are more serious. In one community in Wisconsin a religious war between the Catholics and Methodists has been carried on for months and finally reached the courts, all brought about through a supposedly private conversation, which was overheard on a party line. A more serious instance was that of a farmer who lived fourteen miles from town. One night a case of severe illness suddenly developed in the family, a case of private nature, something one would not want to mention publicly. The doctor's "code" is a familiar ring to every one, and when it is sounded practically everybody on the line sneaks in on the wire to find out who is talking, desiring to be in possession of the latest neighborhood "sick" news. Knowing this, the man who in this instance desired the doctor, simply called him on the phone and asked him to visit his house. The doctor drove the fourteen miles in the middle of the night and found the nature of the case extremely urgent, and was then forced to drive back the fourteen miles to secure the necessary medicines and instruments. He was then forced to again drive the fourteen miles before he was able to bring to the poor suffering patient the much needed relief.

Had this line been equipped with the new invention the doctor could have been called in strict privacy. All other subscribers would have been "locked out" and could not have heard a word of the conversation in any manner and the nature of the case could have been immediately explained in private and the doctor could then have taken along, on the first trip, the necessary medicines and instruments.

This is only one incident of where private conversation on party lines is extremely desirable. There are many others and the need is practically universal.

Device Is Simple.

One of the most remarkable features of the whole proposition is the fact that the technical description of this device is so simple and the practicability of the machine so evident from the models exhibited at the three national and three state conventions, where it has been shown, that over a quarter million dollars in both actually signed and trial orders have been booked by the company. This business has come from the telephone companies, covering practically every state in the Union.

As an indication of the popularity of the invention a big Chicago moving picture concern has laid a plot and "filmed" the new device in actual operation, on a rural line, embodying in the movie, as can easily be imagined, a great deal of humor, pathos, tragedy and human interest, resulting in a feature film which is in great demand throughout the rural communities.

The new device is not only an improvement in the service to subscribers and a money making proposition for the telephone company, but it is also a means of advancing the moral tone of any community in which it is operated. The possibilities of its uplifting influences are plainly evident when one considers the demoralizing effect on young boys and girls, acquiring from their parents the habit of "listening in" on a party line. They not only hear conversations of a nature unsuited to any but adult ears, but it is also quite often the first step toward petty theft, for, in the last analysis, eavesdropping is stealing, say the psychologists.

Thought Not Feasible.

When Mr. Adsit first put his lock-out device on the market and the telephone world found it was simply a little attachment and not a telephone, they wouldn't believe it. "It can't be did," was the general verdict. Everybody knew party lines were not "right." Everybody said they could not be made "right" at a cost the telephone companies could afford to pay. Everybody thought it would require a special telephone, a special line, and a special central, to operate a satisfactory "lock-out" system. Nobody dreamed it could be done by a simple little attachment fastened by three small screws onto the front or side of the same phones now in use.

Basic Patents Granted.

A large number of patents, thoroughly covering all phases of the apparatus, have been granted and others applied for. Some of these patents are of a basic nature, which can not be used by any other company, in this line of endeavor. In fact, the Adsit interests have an absolute monopoly in the lock-out field and the demand for this kind of service is world-wide.

By this it can be seen why the telephone world is today agog over the startling announcement that through this wonderful invention they can now easily equip their party and rural lines and give the greatly desired private service to all subscribers; and this, without the necessity of removing or replacing one dollar's worth of their present equipment.

Gets World-Wide Notice.

The new Lock-Out is being given a liberal quantity of publicity in many of the leading newspapers and magazines throughout the country. The Literary Digest just gave the new invention a thorough write-up, covering one whole page. The well-known financial writer of the Saturday Evening Post, Mr. Will Payne, spoke in the highest terms of the new invention in a recent issue of the Post. Newspapers throughout the country and all trade journals in the telephone field are giving this new acquisition to the telephone world the heartiest welcome.

The new invention has attracted world-wide attention. Even in these troublesome war times, inquiries have come to the company asking for full particulars of the new device from such far-away places as Australia, Japan, China, New Zealand, South Africa, England, Norway, Nova Scotia, Brazil, Porto Rico, Panama, Canada, Bermuda, Alaska and Mexico.

The company reports actual and prospective orders amounting to over a quarter of a million dollars and the end is not yet.

This wonderful business harvest is but a repetition of the history of other improvements in the telephone world. Since the invention of the art of telephony, nothing in connection with the telephone has ever been allowed to wear out. The mammoth New York City system has been rebuilt three times in the last sixteen years. What, with repairs and inventions, and new construction the Bell Company alone spent $425,000,000 from 1900 to 1911.

Any improvement in the telephone world has called for instant adoption. The distribution of speech by mechanical means cannot be too much improved, say the telephone men. The public are calling for greater speed and more service yearly, daily, hourly—no matter the cost. It has been demonstrated times without number that if any new contrivance can make the art of telephony more satisfactory such invention contains within itself the germ of a great commercial possibility.

Strange as it may seem, notwithstanding the fact that the same wonderful commercial possibilities possessed by the telephone are embodied in this new lock-out invention, some of the capitalists of the Northwest overlooked at first the opportunity to become financially identified with the project. Just as Chauncey Depew turned Alexander Graham Bell out of his office forty years ago, even threatening to have him arrested if he returned, so were the Adsits for some time refused financial assistance.

Similar to Bell.

When Alexander Graham Bell stood, thirty-nine years ago last Wednesday, in his dingy little workshop in Boston and heard the startled cry of his co-worker, Thomas Watson, answering him from the basement over the rough iron wire of the first crude telephone, who could have foreseen the massive business structure backed by the investment of more actual capital than has gone into any other industrial enterprise of the world? Who could have imagined the mammoth corporation with over 56,000 stockholders, 12,000 of whom own less than five shares each, a majority of whom are women, and each and every one the possessor of a fortune made from this one timely investment alone?

As an indication of the rapidity with which fortunes have been made in the telephone world is cited the very interesting story of Mr. George Balch of Detroit, Mich., who, on May 12, 1877, on reading of the discovery of the telephone, went to Boston and made a deal with Mr. Bell for the exclusive rights to sell the telephone in the State of Michigan. Although Balch never spent a cent in promoting the use of the phone, in fact he did nothing with his right whatever, yet ten months afterward was able to sell his lease for $255,000 cash.

Some well-posted telephone men aver that an exclusive territorial right to dispose of the new Adsit invention will ultimately prove almost as valuable.

There are two men in Minneapolis today who had the opportunity of buying Bell Telephone stock at $10 per share. Had they made but a small investment then, they would have been multi-millionaires today, as the last quotation on this stock was something like $5,800.00 per share, and none for sale. Financial experts around the Duluth Board of Trade have figured that the Adsit stock will be of the same character and that even a small amount invested in this company will mean that either the stock will be worth nothing or make the fortunate investor disgracefully rich.

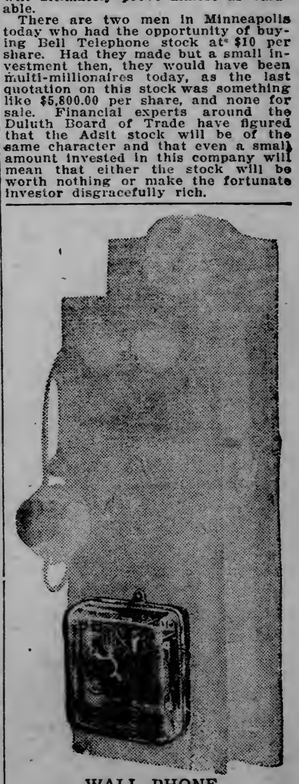
AS THE DEVICE LOOKS.
This Shows the Adsit Lock-out Attachment—It Is Simple, Having Few Working Parts.



WALL PHONE.

And today the Adsit enterprise seems to suggest this same promise. It is predicted that, as in the case of the original telephone, the new Adsit lock-out will, within a few years, by the magic of modern business methods, produce another colony of new rich, a coterie of typical American millionaires.

At the start the Adsit idea met with the same cold reception given the telephone. Later, since it has become a demonstrable reality, investors are beginning to realize the wonderful possibilities. Fairly satisfactory facilities, sufficient, at least, to produce the new machines on a moderate scale, have been arranged for in Minneapolis and while the company states the present output is limited, plans are already under way to enlarge their plant to permit of a greater number of instruments being available within the next 90 days.

The public demonstrations of this new invention which are given daily at the office of the company on the ninth floor of the McKnight Building, are creating a great deal of interest, not only in electrical and scientific circles, but also among the shrewd investors throughout the entire state, and especially on the range.

SONORA TOWN LOOTED BY MEXICAN CAPTORS.

Douglas, Ariz., March 27.—Colonel Manuel Samaniego, who captured Moctezuma, Sonora, March 16, looted the town, according to advices received here, and continued eastward with plunder valued at $25,000. Ranches owned by Americans suffered mostly, every head of livestock and even fowls being killed or carried off.

M. G. Medina, judge of the first instance of Moctezuma, was executed. His court clerk, Leopoldo Herrera, and Cornelio Avezu, a wealthy citizen, also were shot, after the Maytorena garrison fled. Ten citizens of the town were killed in the fighting, Samaniego lost forty-eight of his force and eight wounded.

At American Wells, southeast of Hermosillo, the Sonora state capital, one American and nine Mexicans are reported to have been killed.

GOMPERS WORKING FOR PEACE IN CHICAGO.

Chicago, March 27.—Samuel P. Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, and Thomas Williams, head of the building trades department of the organization, attended a conference of union labor leaders here yesterday in an effort to bring about peace between warring factions and prevent a threatened tie-up of building operations in Chicago May 1, when a number of agreements with contractors expire.

The threatened tieup would affect more than 100,000 workmen in thirty-four trades. The lathers and plasterers already are on strike.

The dispute grows out of the faction led by F. Albert, business agent of the Lathers' union, objecting to an agreement proposed by the Chicago Building Trades council.

President Gompers and Thomas Williams listened to statements from both sides in the controversy in executive session. Then President Gompers addressed the conference urging peace and at his suggestion a committee of ten was named in an effort to settle the dispute.

Mr. Gompers intended to leave for New York last evening, but announced he would remain until Sunday in the hope of bringing the factions together in a peace agreement.

Michigan Debaters Win.

Madison, Wis., March 27.—The University of Michigan' debating team last night defeated the representatives of the University of Wisconsin here with the affirmative of the proposition that labor unions should be exempt from construction as combinations in the restraint of trade.

DISMISSED FOR LACK OF EVIDENCE

Attempt to Collect Commission on Land Sale Falls Through.

Judge Fesler in district court yesterday granted a motion to dismiss an action brought to trial against I. G. Potorek by Oscar F. Christensen, in which the recovery of $500 as commission on a real estate deal was sought. O. S. Andresen, attorney for the plaintiff, made the motion to dismiss on the ground that the evidence that had been introduced did not conform with the pleadings.

Christensen, doing business under the firm name of the Anchor Realty company, claimed that he had been engaged by Potorek to obtain a purchaser for a tract of land owned by the latter in Carlton county. He alleged that he interested J. J. Hagerty in the proposition and that the latter agreed to buy it. Later Hagerty purchased the property through J. T. Stack, who had obtained an option from Potorek. Christensen sued to enforce payment of the commission.

Evidence introduced yesterday was to the effect that Christensen agreed to sell the property prior to Dec. 1, 1914, and that the actual sale by Stack to Hagerty was not made until some time later.

BELGIUM THE BATTLEGROUND

Dr. Lefkovits Regards Afflicted Country as Innocent Bystander.

"Belgium, for the last 2,000 years, has been the victim of the criminality and stupidity of the European nations," declared Dr. Maurice Lefkovits at Temple Emanuel last evening, in his lecture on "Belgium, the Innocent Bystander." This was the tenth lecture in the series on "Nations at War."

"That country has been used as a battle ground by the armies of Caesar, King Clovis, the Dutch Burghers and the people of Spain. Her people have suffered for centuries and today her cup of misery is overflowing."

Next Friday, Rev. R. Edward Sayles of the First Baptist church will deliver the sermon at Temple Emanuel in the absence of Dr. Lefkovits.

FROM ROBERTS ESTATE.

Minnesota to Get $653 Tax From Late Field Marshal's Holdings.

St. Paul, Minn., March 27.—When Field Marshal Roberts, England's war hero, died in France last November, he was the possessor of 1,578 shares of Great Northern and affiliated stock. Request was received by the state legal department for their transfer.

Lord Roberts left a lengthy will, a copy of which has been filed with the attorney-general. It disposes of an estate amounting to nearly $400,000. His Great Northern holdings were valued at $79,000.

Because of the extensive division of the estate, Minnesota will only receive a tax of $653.13 from his holdings here.

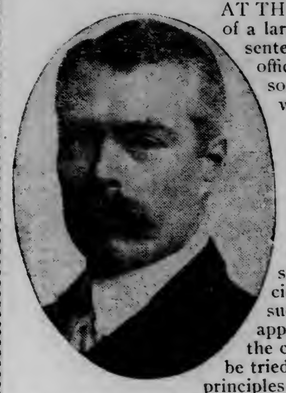
Inserted by John H. Norton in behalf of himself, candidate for Judge of Municipal Court. Amount to be paid, $13.44.



AT THE EARNEST SOLICITATION of a large number of my friends, I consented to become a candidate for the office of Municipal Judge. In doing so, I entered upon this campaign with a realizing sense of the responsibility that attaches to this important office. While this court is limited in its jurisdiction, yet, nevertheless, in ninety-nine cases out of a hundred it is the court of last resort for the reason that the amount involved in the controversies are usually so small and, in many instances, the circumstances of the litigants are such that they cannot afford an appeal. It is just as important that the cases tried in this tribunal should be tried according to the fixed rules and principles of the Common and the Statute law, as cases involving larger amounts.

I have been a resident of the City of Duluth for twenty-five years, during which time I have been engaged in the active practice of law. For six years I served as County Attorney for St. Louis County, and during my practice as a lawyer, have had a large experience in dealing with all classes of cases, both civil and criminal. And while County Attorney, did my utmost to see that the laws were enforced and yet I never persecuted anybody and always gave the defendant the benefit of the doubt.

I believe that it is the duty of a Judge to try cases fairly and impartially; to make decisions in accordance with law and justice; to not be prejudiced, either for or against any person or classes of persons; and to exercise the "judicial discretion" in such a way as to preserve, so far as possible, equal and exact justice between litigants at all times and under all circumstances; and that a Judge should never be an advocate for either side in a lawsuit before him.

The records of the Municipal Court show that in 1914, there were over two thousand civil cases, a hundred and fifty of which were contested. I believe that if the electorate of this city see fit to elect me to fill this office, that I will be able to preserve the rights of the parties and the dignity of the court according to established usage of centuries in such a manner as to merit the approbation of all.

NEW SYSTEM IS FAVORED

Trades Assembly Indorses Expert's Plan for Playgrounds.

Jones' Employment Bill Indorsed; Theater Off Non-Union List.

Members of the Trades Assembly, at a regular meeting at their hall, 418 West Superior street, last night, heard T. S. Settle, playground expert, in a talk on the recreation system outlined for Duluth, and J. P. Neal, attorney, who spoke in favor of the second amendment, to be voted on at the coming spring election.

Following Mr. Settle's talk, which pointed out the advantages of playgrounds and recreation centers and which was illustrated by stereopticon slides prepared by the Playground and Recreation Association of America, the assembly indorsed the expert's plan.

Committees from the organization will confer with the school board and the city commissioners in behalf of the system as outlined by the New York man.

In response to a request from various members, Attorney Neal explained the second amendment, which provides for a reduction in the minimum payment on assessments from $25 to $15 for every twenty-five foot lot. Under the present system, which requires a landholder to pay assessments in a lump at the high rate now prevailing, the smaller holder is at a disadvantage because of lack of capital.

"It will be much easier for the working man to buy land and hold it, if this amendment is passed," declared Mr. Neal, "as it will give him a much better chance to meet payments."

Senator "Dick" Jones' bill providing for employment agencies was indorsed heartily by the assembly, following a committee report on the legislation. It was also reported that the Grand theater, West Duluth, had been removed from the "non-union" list.

Representatives of the bartenders' local announced that in the future their members would wear small buttons, instead of the cards formerly carried, for identification purposes.

In the report on general conditions, made by representatives of a majority of the twenty locals in Duluth assembly, it was discovered that activity prevailed in some branches of the trade, while others were quiet. Members of the building trades reported business dull, as customary at this time of the year.

HOUSE RECALLS ONE GORDON BILL

Stated Many Voted for the Bill Under Misapprehension.

By a Staff Correspondent.

St. Paul, Minn., March 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—The house voted, 69 to 53, to recall from the senate the bill putting the state fire marshal's duties under the commissioner of insurance, one of the Gordon seven plan passed by the house the other day. It was stated by the author of the motion that many voted for the bill under a misapprehension.

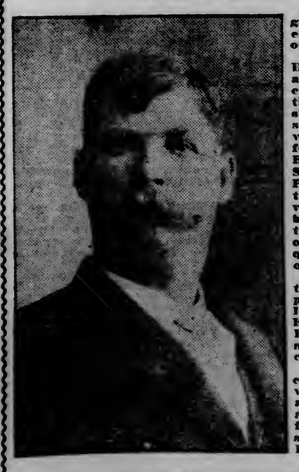
R. E. MCFARLANE,
Candidate For Commissioner.



At the earnest solicitation of a great number of my friends, I have entered into a campaign for the office of City Commissioner.

In coming before the voters of Duluth, I realize the responsibility attached to such office, and if elected, and should be assigned to the Public Works Division, will state I have had practical and personal supervision of such class of work for thirty years. I have had full charge of the Bridge and Building Department of the Lake Superior Division of the Northern Pacific Railway company for twenty-two years, up to August, 1913, which comprised steel and wooden bridges, concrete, stone, sewer, water works and paving, and many other kinds of construction not required in the public works division of the city.

I have lived in Duluth more than twenty-five years, and am a taxpayer. I stand for Enforcement of Law and Order, Economy in Public Expenditure, Business Efficiency, Fair and Impartial Treatment for all classes and all sections of the city.

I ask all my friends and supporters to work in my behalf. To those who do not know me, personally, I ask you to investigate my record and practical ability, as a candidate for the office of Commissioner, and solicit your support, if you believe I can honestly serve you.

CLAIM VERDICT WAS EXCESSIVE

New Trial Is Asked in Petruschke-Frey-Kamerer Suit.

Judge Fesler of the district court this morning listened to arguments for and against a motion for a new trial of the action brought against J. J. Frey and his sister, M. Kamerer, by Charles J. and Mary C. Petruschke which recently resulted in a verdict for the plaintiffs in the amount of $3,750. The court took the matter under advisement.

James A. Wharton, who appeared as attorney for Mr. Frey and his sister, argued that the verdict was excessive and not in accordance with the evidence or the law of the case. He asked that it be set aside and a new trial granted. N. B. Arnold, attorney for the Petruschkes, appeared in opposition to the motion.

Mrs. Kamerer is the owner of the Grand hotel premises at Fifty-third avenue west and Ramsey street and her brother is agent for the property. The Petruschkes, tenants, were put out about a year ago under ejectment proceedings. The owner sued for rent. The Petruschkes counterclaimed for repairs made and when the case came to trial it was decided in their favor.

After they had been ousted, the Petruschkes instituted suit against Mrs. Kamerer and her brother for $13,050 damages for alleged malicious prosecution of the civil actions. The jury found that the defendants had acted maliciously in bringing and prosecuting the actions to recover the rent and to eject the tenants from the premises.

CARRIED "KNUCKLES."

Buele Bijnovich Sent to Work Farm for Twenty Days.

Buele Bijnovich was arrested shortly before midnight last night on a charge of carrying concealed weapons. He was found to be carrying a pair of brass knuckles. In police court this morning he pleaded guilty to the charge and Judge Lanners imposed a fine of $20 and costs or twenty days at the city and county work farm.

Not having the money it was a case of Hobson's choice.

Curling dies hard at the rink. Ice is still in good shape and at least three games are expected to be played this evening. One of these games will be for the club buttons which will be defended by the Kriedler rink.

"The game will be played as long as the ice lasts," said F. H. Wade, president of the club this morning. "As long as the ice remains as it is curling will be good sport. We expect quite a number out tonight to play practice games."

CELEBRATES ANNIVERSARY.

Zenith Lodge Royal Neighbors Now Twenty-Five Years Old.

The twenty-fifth anniversary celebration of the institution of the Zenith camp, No. 1027, Royal Neighbors, was attended by about 250 members of the order last night at Great Eastern hall. Speeches by prominent members of the lodge, a drill by the degree staff under the direction of Mrs. Irene Hill, captain of the team, musical numbers, and a banquet made up the evening's entertainment.

A number of members of the order from Duluth, Superior, New Duluth, Proctor and Sandstone attended the ceremonies. Short talks were given by visiting oracles, among whom were Mrs. Bert Erickson of Dewey camp, Mrs. Holland of Park camp of Superior, Mrs. Gustafson of Greysolon camp, and Mrs. Carrie Dibbel, district deputy of the order. The address of welcome was given by Mrs. A. R. Armstrong, oracle of the Zenith camp.

Ath the banquet, Mrs. T. J. Hatz, chairman of the committee in charge of the celebration, presided. A feature was a large "birthday" cake presented to the lodge by Mrs. J. O. Winton, past oracle of the lodge.

ACCUSED OF "BLIND PIGGING"

Proctor Baker's Place Is Raided and Beer Is Found.

The first arrest for operating a "blind pig" in Proctor occurred yesterday when the village marshal raided the shop of W. B. Harris and arrested Harris on a charge of selling liquor. It is claimed that a large number of empty beer bottles as well as a suit case of "fulls" were found on the premises.

The place is said to have been under suspicion for some time past. Since the village went dry, unusual activity is said to have been going on at Harris' and investigations resulted in Chief of Police McTaggert making the raid.

Harris was arraigned before Justice of the Peace L. D. Cole, but the hearing was postponed until Monday morning at 9 o'clock. He was released on $300 bail. Harris is proprietor of the Proctor Bakery and is alleged to have used a room in the back part of his shop for disposing of the lojuor.

GOOD GOVERNMENT COMMITTEE FORMED.

At a meeting of residents of the Thirty-fourth voting district held last night at the Merritt school a "good government" committee of fifty voters was organized. John Dodin was elected chairman; J. P. Daly, vice chairman, and Harry Merritt, secretary.

Action was taken to canvass every voter of the district in the interest of Commissioners Hicken and Murchison as well as for W. L. Bernard and C. E. Evens. The work of canvassing the district will begin early next week.

BIG FIGHT PUT OVER ONE DAY

Cuban President Requests That Easter Sunday Be Not Desecrated.

Havana, Cuba, March 27.—The fight between Jack Johnson and Jess Willard, which had been scheduled to take place here on April 4 for the heavyweight championship of the world, has been postponed until Monday, April 5.

The postponement was due to a request made by President Menocal of Cuba. In a letter to the fight promoters he said that great objection had arisen in Cuba and the United States to the fight taking place Easter Sunday, a holy day, and he requested that the event be postponed until the day following.

A meeting of the principals and promoters was at once held, and the request of President Menocal was acceded to.

The promoters were assured that at least 5,000 more people would attend any day other than Easter. The date originally was set for Saturday, April 3, but it was changed to Sunday at the request of several Havana associations. Americans here are surprised at the opposition in Cuba to holding the fight on Easter Sunday.

It is evident that Johnson had some inkling of this trouble over the date, for he has slowed up his training noticeably in the last two days. Both pugilists say the change will not upset their training, as they have had a full week's notice.

Light road work was the only feature for the forenoon at the two camps.

It is probable that Monday, April 5, will be made an unofficial holiday, Havana merchants and others reciprocating in this manner for the change in date.

KITCHI GAMMI TOURNEY ENDS

The finals in the billiard tournament of the Kitchi Gammi club were played off yesterday between A. W. Taussig and Carl Luster, the latter winning out from a handicap from Taussig, who was scratch man.

All of the best players of the club have been entered in the tournament and some very good games have resulted. So successful has the tournament been this season that the directors of the club are planning for several more next season.

TEN YEARS' TIME FOR GAS PAYMENTS

Council Will Adopt Resolution to Aid Poorer Property Owners.

At the regular council meeting Monday afternoon the commissioners will adopt a resolution authorizing the ten-year time limit for the payment of gas connections so that poorer property owners may have the advantages of gas in their homes, and in addition will order the 1915 dog, wheelage and peddler tags, award several contracts and order the construction of two sanitary sewers.

Reed Explains Plan.

Last week Manager Reed of the water and light department explained his proposed plan of aiding several hundred property owners, principally in West Duluth and Lakeside, by allowing them ten years in which to pay for gas connections in their homes. The plan was received favorably by the commissioners, and Commissioner Merritt, head of the division of public utilities, was instructed to prepare a resolution covering this time extension.

The resolution, which will be introduced Monday, follows:

"Resolved, That the commissioner of public utilities be and is hereby authorized to make arrangements for the extension of credit to gas consumers covering the installation of gas service for a period such as may be approved by him or arranged with the consumer, not exceeding ten acres, and covering sums not exceeding $50 in amount, for each service. Payments to be made by the consumer or the owner of the premises to be not less than 25 cents per month, to cover rentals and maintenance of the service until the principal is paid."

An ordinance will be introduced appropriating $191.20 for the purchase of dog, wheelage and peddler tags to be used this year and a resolution will be introduced awarding the contract to the National Stamp and Printing company of this year on their bid of $191.20.

Miscellaneous Matters.

Mayor Prince will introduce an ordinance accepting the offer of C. Francis Colman to purchase lot 10, block 1, and lot 16, block 2, Colman's addition and ordering the city treasurer to execute the necessary deed on payment of $500 for the lots, now owned by the city.

The paving of Sixth street, from Fifteenth to Eighteenth avenues east, and Sixteenth avenue, from Sixth to Seventh streets, will be ordered Monday afternoon. The improvement of the two thoroughfares will cost about $18,000.

Sanitary sewers will be ordered constructed in Pizarro alley, from Sixty-first to Sixty-second avenues west, and in Commonwealth avenue, from the present outlet to Crestline court and in Crestline court to Ninety-eighth avenue west, extending along the latter avenue to Reis street.

Commissioner Merritt will introduce a resolution awarding the contract for lead pipes to the Duluth Plumbing Supplies company on its low bid of $1,160.

Mayor Prince will introduce an ordinance appropriating $150 for the purchase of a vacuum cleaner for the public library, and Commissioner Murphy will introduce an ordinance awarding the contract for furnishing the city with two oil spraying machines to the Studebaker Corporation on its low bid of $439.

GAS EXPLODES.

Fire Causes Damage Amounting to $150 to Residence.

Following a gas explosion, fire caused $150 damage to a frame dwelling at 16½ West Second street shortly after 7 o'clock this morning. The place is owned by the Hoopes-Kohagen company and the loss is covered by insurance.

Mrs. Frank Pirley, who with her husband, resides there, stated that the flames were caused by gas from a leaking pipe. Apparatus from headquarters and No. 3 responded, with Assistant Chief Wilson.

INDORSED BY ENDEAVORERS

Union of Church Societies Behind Hicken and Murchison.

Bert N. Wheeler Speaks on Their Law Enforcement Record.

All the Christian Endeavor societies in Duluth at their first quarterly rally in the Glen Avon Presbyterian church last night unanimously indorsed Commissioners Hicken and Murchison and Judge Windom, all candidates for re-election in the present municipal campaign.

Bert N. Wheeler, the principal speaker of the evening, spoke on the issues in the present political fight in an address on "Civic Righteousness." He laid special emphasis on the claim that both J. A. Farrell and Bernard Silberstein, candidates for the commission, had failed to go on record for law enforcement in the campaign of two years ago, when questions were put to all the candidates by the Stirrup club.

Mr. Wheeler declared this morning that the indorsement of the incumbents was not accomplished under his leadership and denied the report to that effect. He said that he was invited to address the Christian Endeavorers and that he has no floor rights in that body, not being a delegate from any church.

Mr. Wheeler's address follows in part:

"When the first census was taken in 1790—but 3 per cent of the population was in cities of 5,000 or over and 97 per cent lived in the country and there was no large city. Now practically 40 per cent live in large cities. Folks have rushed together in large cities. This resulted in many problems of housing, sweat shops, of labor conditions, of social evil and poverty. The very rapid growth of wealth and the organization of trusts in liquor, tobacco and vice has made the problems of municipal government almost unsolvable. President Eliot said, in view of these facts 'Municipal Government is the Great American Failure.'

Cost of Liquor.

"We buy liquor in the United States at the rate of $4,000 per minute. Drunken parents suffocate 3,000 babies in bed every year. A thousand drunken husbands murder their wives every year. We send victims of liquor into eternity at the rate of one every five minutes and most of them come from the cities.

"Eight years ago Duluth ran wide open saloons—all night—all day Sunday. A few men tried to make government less of a failure in Duluth. They persevered and at the last election law enforcement was the popular platform. Two questions were asked at that time of all candidates as follows:

"'Will you, if elected, use your best endeavors to pass and enforce an ordinance prohibiting the granting or renewing of a license to sell intoxicating liquors in any building in the city for a period of one year from the date of conviction of any person for the violation of any liquor law or ordinance in such building?

"'Are you in favor of the abolishment of the so-called 'Red Light district?'

"The Hicken liquor ordinance was drafted and passed in answer to that question and the attitude of the city administration on the social evil is the answer to the second. The attitude of Commissioners Hicken and Murchison on these questions is a public record. They deserve reelection. What was the attitude of Messrs. Farrell and Silberstein on these questions? They are on record as opposed to both. Have they 'done anything since to warrant a belief that they have changed?. Did either of them campaign for the Hicken liquor ordinance? Has either commended the safety department for recent raids on disorderly houses? What does 'reasonable law enforcement' mean?

"Let the people remember the text 'By their fruits ye shall know them.' It seems to be more applicable than 'The stoning of Stephen.'"

LOSS OF THREE GERMAN STEAMERS ANNOUNCED

Stockholm, March 27, via London.—The loss in the Baltic of three German steamers, the Bavaria, the Germania and Koenigsberg, all laden with iron ore, is announced today in the newspaper Social Demokraten.

The Bavaria went down March 15 with her entire crew. The cause of her sinking is not revealed. No details of the destruction of the other vessels are given.

COMPLETES ASSESSMENTS.

Assessor Scott Finishes Roll for Ninth Street Paving.

City Assessor Scott has completed the assessment roll for the paving of East Ninth street, from Seventh to Fourteenth avenues east, and he will submit it to the council at the regular meeting next Monday afternoon.

On the engineer's estimate of $31,434.10 for the entire pavement of concrete, the city will pay $3,550 for street intersections and $4,850 for storm sewers, while property owners will pay $23,034.10, according to the assessment levy.

An 80-per-cent advance assessment of $18,427.28 will be levied on the property owners this spring.

DENNISON, O., MAYOR'S HOUSE IS DYNAMITED

Dennison, Ohio, March 27.—Friction between the local population and residents of the foreign quarter of this city is believed to have caused the attempted destruction of the home of Mayor W. A. Pittinger early today, when a dynamite bomb was exploded, tearing a hole in the front of the house. The mayor was absent. His wife and daughter were in the house but were uninjured.

CHRIS E.
EVENS
Candidate for City Commissioner

My interest in this election is in behalf of the cause of good government for Duluth. By "good government" I mean a government free from the domination of any special interest. I believe Duluth has such a government at this time, and it is because I believe my candidacy will be of some service in continuing this state of affairs that I am in the field.

FARRELL STANDS FOR LAW ENFORCEMENT

James A. (Bert) Farrell believes in the enforcement of the laws—fairly, impartially, rigidly. He believes that the public officer who fails to respect the laws he is in duty bound to enforce violates his oath and is not faithful to his trust.

If Mr. Farrell is elected, no one may expect special privileges from him; no one need fear discrimination at his hands. He believes that the provisions of the city charter, the ordinances and the state laws should be adhered to by the commission in all cases. Laws and ordinances should be enforced or repealed.

Two years ago, Mr. Farrell conducted a vigorous campaign. He received a sufficient number of votes for election but a technical provision of the city charter, sustained by a three-to-two decision of the supreme court, invalidated a sufficient number of votes to defeat him. Mr. Farrell's views have not changed since that time. All those who voted for him two years ago may do so now with the same confidence; he hopes that others have looked up his record and will support him in this election.

IF YOU WANT A COMMISSIONER WHO BELIEVES THAT PUBLIC CONFIDENCE IS ENTITLED TO THE RETURN OF FAITHFUL SERVICE, VOTE FOR JAMES A. (BERT) FARRELL.

MUNICIPAL ELECTION APRIL 6.

Proposed Amendments

To the City Charter of the City of Duluth,

TO BE VOTED UPON AT THE

General Municipal Election, April 6, 1915

Amendment One.

Amend Section 31 of the Duluth City Charter so as to read as follows:

"Section 31. In all cases of work to be done by contract, or of the purchase of property of any kind, when the amount involved is more than $500.00, unless the Council by an emergency resolution shall provide otherwise, it shall advertise for bids in the official paper of the city. When such probable expenditure shall be more than $500.00 and less than $1,000.00 in amount, such notice shall be published once in said official paper, and when more than $1,000.00, the same shall be published in at least two issues of said paper. Contracts shall be let to the lowest responsible bidder, and purchases shall be made from the responsible bidder who offers to furnish the article desired for the lowest sum. The Council may, however, reject any and all bids; and nothing contained herein shall prevent the city from contracting for the doing of work with patented processes, or from purchasing patented appliances. The Council shall regulate the making of bids and letting of contracts by ordinance."

Amendment Two.

Amend Section 68 of the Duluth City Charter so as to read as follows:

"Section 68. As soon as said assessment is confirmed, the Council shall insert in the official paper of the city a notice briefly describing the improvement for which the assessment is made, and stating that the assessment is payable at the treasurer's office at any time within forty (40) days from the publication of said notice, and that unless the same is so paid within said forty (40) days, or an application is made to the Council for the extension of the time of payment, as herein provided, within thirty (30) days after the publication of said notice, a penalty of ten (10) per cent will be added to such assessment. Within said thirty (30) days after the publication of said notice, upon application in writing to the Council by any owner of real estate against which the assessment is made, when such assessment exceeds fifteen dollars ($15.00) for each four thousand (4,000) square feet of property benefited by the improvement, and upon payment to the treasurer of twenty-five (25) per cent of such assessment, and when the remaining portion of such assessment does not exceed the assessed valuation of such real estate, and when the applicant waives all defenses and questions as to the legality of such assessment, whether such defenses be interposed in proceedings by the State for collection of general taxes, or otherwise, the Council may, by resolution, extend the time for paying the remaining portion of such assessment into not exceeding three installments, payable in one, two and three years from the first day of October next following the date of the passage of such resolution. In case such assessment is made between October first and December thirty-first, and the applicant is granted an extension of the time within which to pay the same, the first installment of such extended assessment shall be due and payable on the first day of October next thereafter. Each of said installments of extended assessment shall bear interest at the rate of seven per cent (7%) per annum from the date original assessment would be payable without penalty. Such installments of extended assessments, together with the accrued interest thereon to the first Monday in January following, shall be considered to be delinquent under the next section of this charter when they shall severally become due and payable, but not before. Any such installment of extended assessments may be paid at any time prior to its maturity, with interest to date of payment only. The ownership of any property upon which application for extension of assessment is made hereunder shall be determined according to the records in the office of the Register of Deeds of Registrar of Titles of St. Louis County."

DEFENDANT IS GIVEN VERDICT

Laundry Employe Fails in Effort to Obtain Personal Damages.

A verdict for the defendant was returned late yesterday afternoon in district court before Judge Fesler in the personal injury suit brought by Marie Olson against John T. Armstead, proprietor of the Acme laundry.

The young woman brought suit to recover $2,847 damages. She claimed that while she was employed as a linen sorter at the laundry on March 5, 1913, she slipped and fell against a box. One rib, she alleged, was fractured, another splintered and one of her legs badly cut. There were no eye witnesses to the accident and doctors who testified at the trial disagreed as to whether or not there were any evidences that she had fallen and injured herself.

A. E. McManus of this city and W. M. Steele of Superior appeared as attorneys for Mr. Armstead and Kenney & Kenney represented Miss Olson.

HENION IS RELEASED.

Dominion Authorities Turn Loose Man Held at Fort Frances.

Fort Frances, Ont., March 27.—F. D. Henion, a native born American, an employe of the Canadian Northern railroad arrested at Atikoken, Ont., and brought here to jail by the military authorities charged, it is said, with defaming the British cause in the war, was released last night after American Consul General Ryder of Winnepeg had interceded in his behalf. Henion will return to the United States.

TWO FATALLY BURNED

Sheboygan, Wis., March 27.—Henry Roerbink and his daughter, Wilma, aged 11, were fatally burned yesterday, the result of a fire which started from the ignition of a kerosene stove at their home, near the village of Oostburg.

Anna, 13, another daughter, was badly burned about the head and arms, but succeeded in tearing off the burning clothing. She will live. Bell, 15, jumped through a window, having saved herself.

Chris E. Evens—W. A. Eaton.

J. A. Farrell—M. J. Murray, 418 Manhattan building.

W. A. Hicken—W. A. Eaton.

R. E. McFarlane—James Maghan, no headquarters.

Roderick Murchison—Z. D. Scott, 301 Alworth building.

J. L. Norman—Albert Parent, 407 Columbia building.

Bernard Silberstein—F. C. Elston, Phoenix building.

For Municipal Judge.

M. E. Louisell—Handling own campaign.

John H. Norton—Handling own campaign.

W. H. Smallwood—A. F. Conley, 415 Palladio building.

W. H. Windom—Handling own campaign.

On Monday candidates in the present municipal campaign will enter the last week of the fight that promises to get hotter as election day approaches.

With the election but ten days away, more than a score of political organizations are working in all sections of the city. Meetings are being held daily and political workers are making house-to-house canvasses to see all the registered voters in Duluth.

Two big mass meetings are scheduled for tomorrow afternoon in the West end and at West Duluth. The Scandinavian ministers of the West end will address the voters at a meeting to be held at 3 o'clock in the First Norwegian-Danish M. E. church, Twenty-fourth avenue west and Third street, while several West Duluth ministers will speak at Our Savior's Norwegian Lutheran church, Fifty-sixth avenue west and Elinor street.

On Thursday evening Bernard Silberstein and J. A. Farrell will address the West Duluth voters at a rally to be held in Dormedy hall, while on Friday evening Raymond Robins of Illinois will give a free address at the Auditorium under the auspices of the Men's Club of the Endion M. E. church. A West end rally will be held the same evening at the Bricklayers' hall, Nineteenth avenue west and First street.

During next week candidates and their managers will send out campaign literature to all the voters and for three or four days the mails will be swamped with cards, letters and circulars.

WILL CONTINUE TO ENFORCE BIRD LAW

U. S. Supreme Court Will Render Decision on Protective Measure.

Duluthians who are interested in the protection of bird life need not be discouraged because of the recent decision of Federal Judge Pollock of Topeka, Kan., in which he declares the Federal law for the protection of migratory birds to be unconstitutional. Another case is pending now before the United States supreme court. In the meantime the law will continue to be enforced.

The following statement has been issued by President John B. Burnham of the American Game Protective association:

"Conservationists need feel no alarm over the Kansas decision. The supreme court of the United States now has before it on appeal a case from Arkansas in which the constitutionality of the law will be finally passed upon. That case lacks certain important elements, favorable to the sustaining of the law, which the Kansas case, which will be incorporated with it, will provide. In a sense, then, Judge Pollock's decision is a welcome one to those who are working to avert the destruction of the wild life of the country.

"The Kansas decision is the third that has been rendered by Federal judges on the law. In Arkansas, Judge Jacob C. Trieber on May 23, 1914, held the measure unconstitutional, while in South Dakota, Judge J. D. Elliot on April 18, 1914, held it constitutionaal. It is to be remembered that the law is in full force and effect and will doubtless be vigorously enforced by the United States bureau of biological survey everywhere in the United States, with the exception of the jurisdictions of Judges Trieber and Pollock.

"The solicitor general of the United States has asked the supreme court for an early consideration for the test case as is possible, but it may be that it will not be reached before next fall. We are hoping to have it passed upon this spring.

"The Federal law provides protection not only for game birds but for most of the country's most valuable song and insectivorous species as well."

COUNTY OPTION WILL BE VOTED ON IN POLK.

Crookston, Minn., March 27.—That a petition signed by the required 25 per cent of the voters of Polk county will be filed with Auditor Welte in the near future was the information brought back by delegates from Crookston who attended the meeting of the County Option league at Fertile on Wednesday.

The "drys" claim to have the sufficient number of signers to insure a special election to vote on the question of liquor license under the new law.

NORTH DAKOTA BARON DIES NEAR HILLSBORO.

Hillsboro, N. D., March 27.—Baron von Steinwehr, aged 61 years, one of the leading stockmen and farmers of the state, died at his farm home near Hillsboro Thursday night of pneumonia. He was sick but a few days. He owned 3,000 acres of choice land and his farm residence was designed along expensive lines.

He was the son of Gen. von Steinwehr, who organized a regiment of his own and fought on the Union side in the Civil war, retiring with the rank of major-general.

WEST END

CANDIDATES ARE HEARD

Evens Urges First Choice Votes for Murchison and Hicken.

Wants Only Second Choices Himself—Farrell and Silberstein.

Before one of the largest crowds that has attended a campaign meeting at this end of the city this year, speeches were made at the Ensign school last night by J. A. Farrell, Bernard Silberstein and Chris. E. Evens, candidates for commissioners, and by W. H. Smallwood and M. E. Louisell, candidates for municipal judge. Mr. Evens spoke more in behalf of Commissioners Hicken and Murchison than for himself, asking only for second choices for himself if the voters were willing to give them.

"The present administration has been thorough in keeping its pledges for law enforcement," said Mr. Evens. "It has lived up to every promise made along that line. This is something that no previous administration had done. We now know what it will do. The commissioners may have made mistakes in some things but there is no man so perfect that he will not. We have had glittering promises from other candidates in previous campaigns but as far as I can recollect none have fulfilled these promises as well as the present commissioners."

Mr. Evens touched on the municipal propaganda of the commissioners' stating that Commissioners Hicken and Murchison had lived up to the pre-election promises in attempting to acquire the Edison Electric company. The voters he said should stand by men who have carried out the wishes of the public.

Farrell Challenges Defamers.

J. A. Farrell invited any one present to discredit his statements that he stood for a clean government and law enforcement or to prove any assertion that he stood for a "wide open" policy or was a candidate for the "forces of evil."

"I don't like this grinding of knives behind curtains," declared Farrell. "Statements have been made about me that are not true, and some of my detractors are right here in this room. I affirm that I stand for clean government. I have lived in Duluth many years and I do not believe there is anything against me. If anybody wishes to dispute me, out with it right here. This cut-throat method under cover of secrecy is not a square deal."

Mr. Farrell told of his experience as civil engineer and stated that he believed he was fully qualified to handle the duties of the office. He also charged that there were certain extravagances in the present administration of the public works department that should be discontinued, among these the employment of an excess number of "experts," and that the head of the department had not a firm hold on the reins of the government. Bernard Silberstein defended his position as to city government. He said:

"Don't be deluded into thinking this a question of open versus closed town. It is not. We have decided the question of law enforcement for all time in Duluth and no man can change our order of things. Our opponents are raising this issue under covet merely to cloud the real issue of economy, efficiency and fitness for office as against extravagance, fads and autocracy.

Against One-Man Government.

"I oppose one-man government in Duluth," he continued. "It is not necessary for me to name the man. We have had government by five separate commissioners instead of real commission government. I find I am in good company in my appeal to voters to realize their opportunity in this election to get American government instead of autocratic rule.

"If I am elected, citizens will get a hearing and a square deal at the city hall. There will be no more discourteous treatment of taxpayers, and no more punishment without a hearing.

"I charge that taxes are soaring. The rate may not go up noticeably, but valuations are being increased as rapidly as possible. The question is: how long can Duluth stand an extravagant administration that gets further and further from the people? If I am so fortunate as to be chosen a city official, I guarantee that the city will soon feel the effects of business administration and economy. Those who do not have to earn money and never have had experience in the trials and necessities of business life cannot appreciate the value of a dollar."

W. H. Smallwood said that the reason he is running for municipal judge was that he believed Judge Windom has had the job long enough, and now that he is the owner of a farm, he should get on it and devote his declining days to farming.

Mr. Louisell said that both Judge Windom and John H. Norton should go farming; that these men had been in public office so long now that neither should be elected. He said he has lived in the city a long time and believes he is qualified for the office.

SEEK NEW ROUTE FOR EXTENSION

Lowering Piedmont Avenue Grade Considered Too Expensive.

A route for an extension of the street car line west and above the Ensign school, which can be prepared at a lower cost than it was take to lower the grade of Piedmont avenue, will be investigated by members of the West End Hillside Improvement club, according to action taken at its business meeting last night. A committee of the club reported that in an interview with the management of the company that such an extension would be made if the grade on Piedmont avenue was lowered.

The car line ends now at Twenty-third avenue and Tenth street and the switches for turning the cars are located in front of the Ensign school. The location of these switches, which necessitates considerable moving of cars at this point, is said to make it dangerous for children attending the institution. Recently an accident at this corner resulted in the death of a small boy attending the school.

Members of the club will seek to have the line extended by going around one of the blocks of the hillside. This will make it necessary for the car to back up in turning around. The lowering of the grade on Piedmont avenue is not in much favor owing to the heavy cost to the property owners on the street. A report will be made of the investigation at the next meeting of the club.

Pastor Is Ill.

Rev. George E. Silloway, pastor of the Grace Methodist church, Twenty-second avenue west and Third street, is reported ill at his home, 310 North Twenty-second avenue. He will be unable to preach at the services tomorrow.

The pulpit will be occupied tomorrow morning by Rev. H. S. Burt of Superior and in the evening the sermon will be given by Rev. William Forney Hovis, pastor of the Endion M. E. church.

MARQUETTE LIKES COMMISSION FORM

City Making Commendable Showing Under That Form of Government.

Marquette, Mich., March 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—Marquette has been governed by a commission of five members, each a prominent business man, for a little more than a year. During that period the tax rate has been cut several dollars and there have been retired $35,000 of municipal bonds, some in advance of maturity. Now it is announced that a reduction of $40,000 in the bonded indebtedness is to be made the present year, and this with a tax rate no higher than that of 1914. For the support of all departments, including the schools and the public library, there is to be raised a total of $262,807.

The Tax Levy.

The estimated revenues of the city are placed at $138,001, leaving only $124,806 as the amount of the tax levy. Both the electric lighting and power plant and the water works are owned and operated by the municipality, and each is a money earner, notwithstanding the rates charged for the service are believed to be the lowest in the state. It is figured that this year the electric plant will earn $70,900 and the water works $32,000. Another important item of revenue will be $18,-20 derived from liquor licenses.

FOR PAVING MATERIAL.

Dollar Bay, Mich., March 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—"Stamp sand," so-called, of which there are many millions of tons in the Michigan Copper country, is becoming to be extensively used in the manufacture of paving material, principally in the form of concrete and asphalt blocks.

Last year 25,000 tons from the dumps at the old Franklin stamp mill at Grosse Pointe were shipped to a Cleveland, Ohio, concern. The material was found so satisfactory that this year the same company has contracted for 50,000 tons. Much of the blocks to be made from it will be used in street construction in the Ohio metropolis.

TONSILITIS, SORE THROAT, CHEST COLDS CAN BE CURED OVER NIGHT

THEY VANISH QUICKLY IF GOOSOLINE IS RUBBED IN

When the throat tickles, when it hurts to draw a long breath, when you feel as if a knife were stuck in your side, it's time to draw out the congestion that would soon become worse. Nothing is known that possesses more merit in such cases than Goos-olene. Rub liberally over the sides and chest. Rub it hard. The warm, soothing effect of Goos-olene will be apparent in five minutes. Nothing like it for quick relief. Takes the soreness out of the throat in one rubbing, breaks up the chest cold, draws out the inflammation, stops the cough quickly. Rub it on for rheumatism, it drives the pain right away. For babies use Goos-olene No. 2. Specially prepared for and commonly called Baby Goos-olene, in sanitary tubes. 25c and 50c at all drug stores. Goos-olene Company, Superior, Wisconsin.

EASTER WEEK.

A week from tomorrow will be Easter. The Lenten period is nearly over. In the churches and other organizations preparations are under way to celebrate the event on which is based the Christian's belief in a life beyond the grave.

What has the Lenten season brought to you? Have you, in these last weeks, gained any clearer knowledge of yourself or your relation to the greater influences of life? Can you truthfully say that you are more nearly "in tune with the infinite" than you were when the fast closing season was begun?

In other times men strove for holiness, for sanctification, through prolonged periods of mortification of the flesh and of renunciation of human companionship. Today they realize that faith without works is indeed dead, and that works are impossible to the recluse. Even those old-time places of seclusion, the convent and the monastery, today open their doors to permit those who study within them to mingle with the rest of the human race as givers of aid and comfort.

Seven days remain of the time of year set apart for formalities connected with the Christian faith. Can you do better than to give at least a part of that time to a self-searching in order to clear away some of the obstructions to your spiritual growth and development? Even a trifle more light gained in that time will enable you to enter into the Easter ceremonies with a deeper realization of their significance and a clearer vision of the truths they are meant to emphasize.

To some extent, though it be but a few moments each day, practice the theories of the recluse of other ages. It will make you better fitted and more ready to do that work which is the evidence by which alone can be shown the living, vital quality of your personal faith.

All set for the last heat of the Easter Hat Handicap!

HARRY THAW'S MENTAL STATE.

While I cannot discuss our verdict, you may say this: The jurymen were unanimous in the belief that Thaw is sane. Of course they could not incorporate that opinion in the verdict, as the court ruled that it was improper and would have no effect. But had the court not ruled to that effect the jury would gladly have stated its belief in Thaw's sanity.

That statement was made to a New York Times reporter by a member of the jury that acquitted Harry Thaw of the charge of conspiracy to escape from Matteawan asylum for the criminal insane. It raises the rather interesting question as to whether anybody at any time really believed Thaw ever was actually insane.

When Thaw was tried for the murder of Stanford White, it looked like a sure case of the electric chair for him. Whatever might be said of the character of the man he killed, Thaw was in no position to make a straight plea of "the unwritten law," for whatever wrong Evelyn Nesbit had suffered at White's hands had been done before Thaw even became interested in the girl.

How to escape the death penalty was the chief question before Thaw, and the fact that he did escape it was due only to the fact that his family had the money to hire a lawyer clever enough to think up an excuse sufficiently plausible to satisfy members of the jury. But even with such help it was necessary for Thaw to make some sacrifice, and he chose life in a madhouse to death in the electric chair.

Having made the choice, he was not satisfied with it. He has been trying in one way or another to get out ever since he was sent there. In fact, the attitude of himself and his family at the time of his sentence showed that they had hoped the plea of insanity would be so far recognized as an excuse as to let him off entirely. Recently he got out, and now his great endeavor and hope is to stay out of the asylum.

If it weren't for Thaw's money he would have gone to the chair. If his money had all been spent to avoid that, he would be in Matteawan yet, or if he managed to get out, he would promptly have got back. His escape from the death penalty was due to an exercise of the prerogatives of the rich. Now he wants to prove that wealth also brings with it the privilege of changing your mind if you find your former choice didn't result as you had hoped it would. And yet if he is really sane, he should not be kept in an insane asylum.

Now comes the report that the Turks wanted to abandon Constantinople, but were prevented by the Germans. Unless the world has been badly mistaken in the character of the Turks, the Germans didn't have much trouble in preventing such a move.

FOR THE HOME BUILDERS.

One of the most important lines of work for any city is the encouragement of home building. The man who owns his own home is more vitally interested in city and other public affairs than the man who rents. Furthermore, he will do more to keep his section of the city in good shape. He comes nearer to being an ideal citizen than he would be likely to if he hadn't a constant, material, personal interest in public affairs and the general welfare.

Duluth has done many things to encourage home building, but there is one point that has been overlooked. That is the burden sometimes laid on the home builder in matters of local improvement. The city charter as it stands today establishes a lot the size of 25x140 feet as the unit of assessment payments, and the sum of twenty-five dollars as the minimum that can be paid in instalments. The provision alone sounds reasonable, but when coupled with the fact that nearly all the home building in Duluth today is restricted to lots fifty feet wide and often more than 140 feet deep, the present charter provision works serious hardship on many persons.

Under the present system, the wage earner, the man of small means, who buys on the instalment plan or who is building his own home, is compelled to pay in cash within forty days any assessment for sewer or sidewalk or other street improvement work that does not exceed fifty dollars for a lot 50x140 feet. If the lot is a hundred feet wide, he must pay on these terms any assessment up to a hundred dollars.

That means a serious burden for the man of small means. It frequently means that he cannot afford to have a sewer put in, even though it be necessary for sanitary purposes. And if the city should order that work done, he would be helpless, and would face the penalty of having his home sold for taxes. At the same time the man who wants an expensive pavement laid before his property can have that work done by the city and will be given three years to pay for it.

In order to remedy this situation, it is proposed to amend Section 68 of the city charter so as to allow assessments to be paid in instalments if they exceed fifteen dollars on a lot 25x160 feet, or thirty dollars on a fifty foot lot. The amendment has been approved by the city council and the charter commission, and by nearly every civic and commercial organization in the city, and it should have the support of every voter.

The state law provides that no amendment to the charter of a city of the first class shall be declared adopted unless it receive three-fifths the number of votes cast at the election where it is presented. In other words, six out of every ten voters must vote for the second amendment in order to carry it.

It is to the interest of every person who would see Duluth grow and develop that this second amendment be adopted. Vote for it yourself, and remind others to do so.

This movement in favor of "seagoing" submarines has something the same sound as "flying airships."

THEY WILL GET RESULTS.

An event of importance to Northern Minnesota was the meeting at Baudette last Tuesday. It was featured by an attendance that packed the local theater at each session, and enthusiasm was boundless. Men from other parts of the state—men who are constantly at work on the problem of state immigration—were present and told the people of the work heretofore done and that now in process or being planned, and their reports gave those who heard them a clearer insight into what it means to boost a state.

But interest and big meetings and all that won't do the work all by themselves. The interest must be sustained, and the co-operation that finds expression in a generous attendance must not lag. The way these northerners took hold of the question as presented at Baudette indicated that there would be no diminishing either of interest or co-operation. And so there is reason to expect big things from that section in the way of encouragement of immigration.

There can't be any real enthusiasm where there is absolutely nothing to enthuse over. But where there are soil and climate and opportunities such as exist in the northern part of this state, enthusiasm comes readily to the surface. Keep your eye on these men who met at Baudette. They know at first hand the resources and benefits of Northern Minnesota, and they are now in position to work with men who are experienced in spreading the kind of knowledge these northerners have. The combination is bound to get results, which will show in an increasing number of good settlers in the northern section.

Nothing doing on the jitney hat at this time o' year.

PEACE BY TAXATION.

There is one point that the advocates of a big army and a big navy never bring to the front, and that is the source of the money that goes to foot the bills. The thing they always harp on is that if we are known to be so strong that we could "whip our weight in wildcats" nobody would dare to tackle us.

There is only one way that any nation can support a big army and a big navy, and that is by spending big sums of money. And the only way any nation can raise big sums of money is by levying big taxes.

All of which leads to the logical conclusion that the nation that taxes its people the heaviest can be the strongest both on land and sea—and in the air and under the water.

But why waste all this money on armies and navies when the very knowledge that we could have them—that we have the price—would be an effective factor in keeping the peace? Why not have the nations just agree to levy taxes heavy enough to support the biggest kind of armies and navies, and keep the money in the national treasury ready for use? Then, about every so often, some international auditors could go over the books of the different nations and announce their findings.

Then, if two nations wanted to declare war on each other, they could just compare finances, and the one that had the most ready cash would be declared the winner in the war, the point in dispute would be settled on that basis, and the whole thing could be started all over again.

Armed peace? Bosh! Peace by taxation—that's the thing. And by not having war there would be just that many more men left alive to pay taxes and that many fewer pensions to pay, and everybody would be happy and contented.

Now that the Panama-Pacific exposition has been dedicated by the vice president, the world may draw a good, relieving breath and go on about its business.

SCHOOL BOYS.

It seems likely, in view of a recently developed trend in public affairs, that a couple of generations from now the term "school boy" will raise an entirely different mental picture from what it ever has before. Not that there has been any opprobrium attached to the name, but it is usual to think of a school boy as an irresponsible kind of a young animal, who lives in a world apart from that of his elders, and whose chief aim and accomplishment is to play baseball and other games where he isn't wanted, and to raise Cain once in a while.

With the introduction of more practical courses in the public schools there is growing up an appreciation of what a boy amounts to and what he can do. And it is only fair to say that the boys themselves are welcoming the change, and are appreciating the opportunities offered them to get in touch with the everyday affairs of life.

Two striking examples of this new school activity have come to light recently. One is the inauguration of a "Spanish translation service" in the high school of Chattanooga, Tenn., which is proving a distinct help to the business interests of that city. A course in practical Spanish has been added to the curriculum, and whenever a Chattanooga firm has correspondence with some Latin American house (and correspondence of that kind is growing since the war began) the correspondence is taken in hand by the high school boys and translated. Then the American firm's reply is translated. By this means a definite and decidedly valuable service is rendered the business men, and at the same time the school boys are given some first hand information as to the conduct of extensive business interests.

Another bit of public work is being started by the boys in the industrial school at Fond du Lac, Wis. These lads are being shown around the manufacturing and other establishments of the city and are taking notes and preparing articles descriptive of these plants. The articles thus prepared are to be put into type by the boys themselves, and will be published in booklet form direct from the school printshop. The result will be a publication that will attract attention from the nature of its origin, and the contents of which will do much to advertise the city. Meanwhile the boys who do the work will be accumulating some valuable information regarding their home place and its industries.

These and other plans that are being taken up here and there throughout the country are putting the school boys of today into a class never before thought of. That the change is a good one will hardly be disputed. The extent to which it will become beneficial to all concerned will be limited only by the ability and foresight of those who direct the work.

The Republican bosses are convinced that they would like to win in 1916, whether they are likely to or not.

BABIES BY LEGISLATION.

Americans have been criticized as "trying to do everything by law," but the French are going the Americans considerably better just at present. The Academy of Moral and Political Sciences has, in all seriousness, asked the French government to secure legislation that will help to repopulate the country after the war.

It is a serious question for the European nations. Scientists estimate that not less than two million men will be killed in the struggle. Who are to take their places? Even though each one left a child surviving him, not all these children would be boys, and the productive qualities of the several nations must suffer correspondingly.

In France, whose birth rate has been for some years lower than its death rate, the question is especially pressing. So the academy has taken the matter up, and is seeking some means of encouraging reproduction. And the first thing it has hit upon is the series of laws relating to families.

First of all it would have the French people adopt as a domestic motto, "At Least Three Children for Every Family." Then, in order that observation of the motto might not become burdensome, the scientists would make special economic provisions for families where the thing was lived up to. Some of the reasoning is given as follows in a Paris letter:

> As the law now stands, it is asserted, the larger a man's family is, the more taxes, duties and other contributions he is obliged to pay to the state. The academy asks the reversal of this.
> It asks also the immediate revival of an old law which was suppressed in 1885. It provides that every family with seven children had the right to have at least one of these brought up at the expense of the state. The academy insists that even a larger application of this law would be justifiable under the present conditions.
> The academy also asks that all employment under the government be given under graded scale to fathers of the largest families. Scholarships and other help from the state is urged on behalf of the children.

Some of the things in this French letter are as true today in America as in France. For instance, that "the larger a man's family is, the more taxes, duties and other contributions he is obliged to pay to the state." It is supposed to be a good thing for the state for every man to have a large family, but until the adoption of the income tax law, which makes the exemption greater for the man with a family than for the man without one, there was no statutory recognition of that service. It has been the same with that as with other taxes—the more a man makes his property worth, the more he is penalized for his industry.

There can be no doubt that the repopulation question is going to bulk large in Europe after the war. It will be interesting and instructive to see how it is met in the different countries.

Since the real death of King Menelik, good old Queen Dido is the most regular decedent we have, with Villa a close second.

CHINA'S CASE.

A well meaning chap who hasn't the least idea of being a jingo, and who wouldn't approve of anything even approaching jingoism, has come forward with this remark:

"Look at China. She has to give in to Japan, just because she hasn't got the emergency force ready to fight for what she thinks she ought to have."

Now we don't know how accurately China's military equipment is known to this chap. We tried to find out by asking him, but he evaded the question. He seemed to feel sure, however, that China was not keeping up enough of a military establishment to defend herself. And maybe he is right, if comparative figures on standing armies are to be the determining factor.

But there is another and more vital reason why China must go to any lengths to placate Japan; and that is that her people are not united. There are factions and factions, and outside of all the factions in the republicanism there is a considerable party of royalists who are looking for a good chance to restore the Manchu dynasty to power.

It is not inconceivable that in case of war, Japanese agents might make some sort of a deal with the members of the Manchu family by which the latter would be returned to power, under terms giving great advantages to the Japanese. But whether such a deal transpired or not, there is such bitter division among the people that the new government would be very foolhardy indeed to risk an armed conflict at this time.

China is a shining example, right now, of the operation of the saying "united we stand, divided we fall." If she could present a front of unity among her people, Japan's demands might have met with a different answer in some respects.

Some states are even going so far as to consider popular ownership of legislatures.

MARS IN HIS OLD HAUNTS.

A good deal has been said and written since the war began about the battles that have made these same localities famous in other centuries. One after another of the various regions has been written up, but until the fall of Przemysl, there was comparatively little attention paid to Cracow, though it is one of the most battle-scarred places of them all.

Cracow has been in six battles or sieges big enough to get special mention in history, and now seems to be due for a seventh baptism of fire and sword that ought to satisfy it for all time to come.

Cracow goes back so far into history that the time of its foundation is not certainly known, but back in 1241 A. D. it was in the way of an invading horde of Mongols, who promptly destroyed it and passed on. The place was gradually rebuilt, and nineteen years later the Mongols came again and once more laid it low, after which it had a rest for twenty-one years, when it was paid a third and last visit by men of that same race.

It was the Germans who restored and rebuilt the place after the first and second destructions, but the last time it fell to another race. In 1320, just thirty-nine years after its last fall under Mongol attacks, we find it jumping into prominence as the capital of Poland. Meanwhile it had grown stronger, and was now defended by a huge wall of the ancient kind.

As the capital of a strong nation it got more than a little attention, both military and commercial, but the location was not all that could be desired, and in 1610 Warsaw was made the Polish capital. But even then Cracow had a prestige not easily overthrown, and for more than a hundred and fifty years after Warsaw became the capital, all the Polish kings continued to go to Cracow to be crowned, and were carried there to be buried.

But Cracow's days of war were not yet over, for when the Swedes made their terrific raids in the Seventeenth century, Cracow was captured twice—once in 1655 and again in 1702—and half a century or so later it was stormed by the Russians, in 1768.

It was in 1795 that Cracow became a part of Austria, and today it is one of the principal cities of its section of the dual monarchy, though from 1815 to 1846 it was the capital of a small, semi-independent state. Meanwhile the early fortifications, erected after the raids by the Mongols, have practically disappeared, the city's defenses today consisting of a chain of powerful modern forts. Cracow's population is close to a hundred thousand—about the same as that of Camden, N. J., or Dallas, Tex., or Salt Lake City, Utah.

Mars has been absent from some parts of the earth for a long time, but he seems to be making up for it now by paying riotous visits to some of his old haunts.

There are well authenticated reports to the effect that the allies' claims that the war soon will end in their favor are disputed by the German officials.

Dedicate Poem to Bernhardt.

New York Tribune: Paris—Sarah Bernhardt, after a slight relapse, is once more on a fair way to recovery, and is already busy with her plans for the future. She sits up on her couch, reading newspapers and the thousands of letters and telegrams that reach her from all parts of the world, except Germany and Austria. Recently she recited to her son some lines entitled "To Sarah," which Edmond Rostand composed and dedicated to the creatress of "La Princess Lointaine," "La Samaritaine" and "L'Aiglon," the day after her recent operation. The poem, roughly translated into free verse, runs as follows:

TO SARAH.
By Edmond Rostand.

Thou whose genius has been one heroism unbroken,
Fail not to envy the role of those
Who, fighting to defend height or valley,
Each moment fall.

"That wound," thou didst exclaim, "I must have for myself,
Since they struggling yonder have it, too,
And suffering may bring me close to death!"

But a wing on each shoulder wilt thou retain,
For thee one heel alone dost suffice
To stamp the earth and set it aquiver!

To the winds of the headland may you hoist your sail,
We need a Samothrace—
When it assailed the muse,
The steel gained a victory!

Yarns From Washington

By Fred C. Kelly.

Washington, March 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—Shortly after the adjournment of congress, a certain Southern senator walked up to Representative Finley of South Carolina and began to bewail the fact that he had not been able to have two more clerks added to his committee at the last moment.

"Why do you want more clerks now with congress adjourned?" asked Finley. "They would just draw pay and have nothing to do until next December."

"Well, you see," explained the senator, "I was going to use them during the summer as field hands on my farm."

This in a letter to Congressman Gordon of Ohio from a young man who desired some free garden seeds: "If the government seeds grow as well as those on sale in the stores, I shall be glad to speak a kind word for the government among my friends."

When ex-Congressman Edward W. Townsend was a budding writer out in San Francisco he used to seek exercise and recreation at the Olympic Athletic club. He fell in with a young bank clerk who was also taking boxing lessons. Both were good boxers, but the bank clerk worked at it more diligently until he began to surpass Townsend. In fact, he gradually acquired such skill that Townsend lost interest in boxing with him. The sport was too wearing on his features. And nobody could blame Townsend for losing interest. Because the young bank clerk was James J. Corbett.

The worst signature in the next congress belongs to George Holden Tinkham of Boston. When Tinkham writes down his name it not only fails to look like anybody's signature, but falls entirely short of looking like anything else. Imagine a silhouette of the most mussed up raveling you ever saw and you have only a slight notion of non-commital appearance of Tinkham's handwriting.

Congressman James Gallivan of Boston took the part of Buttercup, once upon a time, in an amateur production of Pinafore. He was about 10 years of age and was an extremely cute and cunning youngster, particularly after he had been rigged up in a flaxen wig and doll clothes. Moreover, he was the hit of the show on the opening night. He was the only player who didn't forget his lines. The stage manager made a great fuss over him.

At once little James became proud and strutty and decided to follow the stage as a profession. He could shut his eyes and see a picture and a piece about himself in the New York Clipper; and the piece began: "He got his start as a theatrical star at an amateur performance in Boston."

He went home and told his parents that after he became famous he would not forget his father and mother but would see that they got passes to all the shows.

At the second performance there was a slight change in the situation. All the players who had forgot their lines the night before took a brace and did not forget their lines. But little James Gallivan, the hero of the opening night, forgot the words of his song the first time up. He ran off into the wings sobbing boisterously and refused to be comforted. They rang down the curtain and the future congressman then and there quit the theatrical profession flat.

Just a Moment

Daily Strength and Cheer.

Compiled by John G. Quintus, the Sunshine Man.

Heavenly Father, make me like Him who, though He was rich, yet for our sakes became poor, that many, through His poverty, might be made rich. Help me to deny myself, so as to give joy and comfort to those less favored than I am; and may I learn how much more blessed it is to give than to receive.—B. F. Meyer.

I did not know thee in the wilderness, in the land of great drought.—Hosea xiii, 5.

He says: "I have manifested myself to thee from the land of Egypt, from thy very nativity. Thou didst then begin to live, and to be some sort of people, when I stretch forth My hand to thee." The people were redeemed on this condition that they should devote themselves wholly to God. As we are at this day Christ's, and no one of us ought to live according to his own will, for Christ died and rose again for this end, that He might be the Lord of the living, and of the dead; so also then, the Israelites had been redeemd by God, that they might offer themselves wholly to Him. If this one God was sufficient for redeeming His people, what do the people now mean, when they wander and seek aid here and there? for they ought to render to God the life received from Him, which they now enjoy, and ought to acknowledge it to be sufficiently safe under His sole protection. We learn that the worship of God does not consist in words, but in faith and hope and prayer.—C. E. Edwards.

Sometimes it seems a marvel how we can ever smile again, so often life seems to shrivel into a failure and a nothingness.—F. W. R.

There is one distinct rule that we can lay down for ourselves, and that is this, to do the good that lies before us, and to leave the evil which is beyond our control to take care of itself. In this world the tares and the wheat grow together, and all we have to do is to sow the wheat.—Wells Springs.

Hen Sat Crossing Ocean.

B. F. Thorpe in Farm and Fireside: The plan of shipping the sitting hen and her eggs in the same container has been tried with a good degree of success in a few instances that have come to my attention. One of these was a shipment from Europe. A poultryman not wishing to assume the long range risk of sending his exceptionally valuable eggs on a two weeks' ocean and rail journey unattended decided to get a dependable broody hen well settled down to work in a crate and ship the entire hatching outfit by express.

This brooding hen shipment reached New York with biddy snug on the job. The crate was transferred to an express car and in a little less than two weeks reached its destination without an egg broken. Some days later a good hatch of vigorous chicks was the outcome of this experiment after a voyage of about 3,500 miles by land and water.

This plan, I believe, is a coming one for eggs of near gold value. A crate with a hen in and on is a danger signal that counts.

SATURDAY NIGHT TALK

The Line of Least Resistance.

Physical nature and human nature are much alike in their quest of the line of least resistance. Water runs down hill because it follows the easiest way, and men do likewise. There is something in us that craves softness and ease. Four-fifths of the inventions of the age are designed to save us from exertion. It is the era of the automobile with rubber tires and deep cushions. And now the hardy chauffeur need hardly move a muscle to start, stop, or light his car. It can all be done by turning a switch or pressing a button.

To do a thing in the easiest way may mean to do it in the worst way. How often the easiest way represents work that must be pulled out and done over again. The easiest way in morals, moreover, may prove in the end the hardest way. One who always follows his natural impulses is likely to land in the penitentiary. Most criminals began by simply doing the thing that was easiest. They continue to go down because that is the path of least resistance. And it is a slippery slide for fair. To borrow some of the ancient wisdom of Josh Billings: "When a feller gits goin' down hill it dus seem as tho evrything had bin greased for the okashun."

Man has it over nature in that he can beat the downward pull of gravity. Water must go down hill, but man need not. It isn't necessary for him to do the easiest thing. Billy Sunday tells how, on a Sunday afternoon long ago, he left his baseball mates sitting on a curbstone in Chicago and followed some Salvationists down to the Pacific Garden mission. To pull away from that crowd, some of them jeering at him, was not the easiest, but the hardest thing to do. It took a lot of grit. If he had followed the line of least resistance and stayed with the "bunch" we should never have heard of him.

Business men sometimes choose the line of least resistance. They adopt short cuts to success. They scheme to arrive quick and without the struggle and patient endeavor that others know. Often, indeed, their meteoric careers are interrupted by the police—but not always. Sometimes they "get by." But always they forfeit the real rewards of life—a clear conscience, the joy of honest achievement.

There are boys and girls in school who choose the line of least resistance. They slide through on someone else's work, copying answers from the pupils next them and stealing translations from the "trots" in which someone else has done Latin into English for the benefit of lazy students. It is the easiest way. The pupil may get a diploma, but he loses the only thing he went to school for—training in attention, judgment and diligence.

We need not envy one who has a smooth and easy time. One "born with a silver spoon in his mouth" must take care. The spoon may choke him later on. The rich and pampered people are under the greatest temptation to make pure waste of their faculties. They may simply vegetate, or spend all their years in vapid amusements or aimless travel. Only exceptionally strong personalities can still amount to something after having been born to ease and luxury.

It is the live fish that swim upstream. Some of the greatest souls have found life the toughest struggle. It is written "To him that overcometh will I give to eat of the tree of life." It is the reward of heroism.

The hero is not fed on sweets,
Daily his own bread he eats.
Chambers of the great are jails,
And head-winds right for royal sails.

THE PARSON.

As You Make It.

THE PROPOSED PARAMOUNT

By SAVOYARD

Washington, March 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—The political pot is boiling early and the campaign of 1916 is already opened. Early in March Chairman Hilles of the Republican national committee appears to have begun the "fat-frying" at the aristocratic kitchen known as Delmonico's. There he mobilized a corps of manufacturers "to discuss" the situation and take orders for the good of the state. Among those at that Belshazzar feast was one Wood, president of the American Woolen company of Boston. He ought to yield a deal of "fat." Likely he did, or will.

Mr. Wood is not unknown to the public. He is the gentleman who, according to scrutiny on the part of impertinent and depraved congress, pays a certain class of his employes $7 a week and they are expected to feed, shelter, clothe and educate their families on that munificent wage—all that under the Dingley and Payne tariffs. That was the testimony. It is a matter of record. Mr. Wood is rated at twenty times a millionaire.

Now what was this opulent wage of $7 a week for? Wood said it was to sustain "the dignity of American labor" and maintain for it "the standard of American living." I have not a doubt that he is sincere. There are many honest men—those who would scorn to pick a pocket—who actually believe that it is to the advantage of all that a few have special advantages and that the many hew wood and draw water for 'em.

It was this here Wood who, some years ago, appeared before the National Wool Growers' association out on the Pacific coast and made a plea that they stand for a tariff duty on wool. His argument was that such duty would advance the price of wool. Now, he was the most extensive purchaser of wool in the Union. Here was a Greek bearing a gift telling the fools who hearkened to him that it was best that he expend more for the raw material that he was bound to have.

It was true, but at the same time it was a deception. He knew that if there was a tariff duty on wool the duties under "Schedule K," prohibiting foreign competition with his goods, would be maintained. That was what he was after—the preservation of the monopoly he enjoyed, though paying starvation wages to his labor.

I wish every wool-grower would read, ponder and digest a speech of the late Frank Hurd on the wool tariff. To get anything like satisfactory results in the output of wool mills, wools from various countries must be mixed—which shows that so far as concerns Schedule K, Almighty God himself is a free trader. And so with free wool the manufacturer gets his foreign wools cheaper and thus has more money to lay out for American wool, and that is the sole and only reason why the price of American wool has advanced under the Democratic tariff that put foreign wool on the free list. Wool is the only article of merchandise a tariff on which cheapens the domestic product.

Then, you ask, why is not Wood for that? Because the Underwood tariff makes him compete with the foreign wool spinner—though the duty on foreign woolens under the Democratic tariff is much too great. Here is the game of the Woods and things—tax our raw materials and give us a monopoly of the domestic market. Then we, to preserve our monopoly, will dump our surplus abroad for what it will fetch. That is what made our numerous multi-millionaires. That is how Wood got to be so rich off the labor of heads of families to whom he paid the munificent wage of seven dollars a week.

The vital cog in the wheel of a protective tariff is a duty on raw materials. Here is a great ado about our manufacturers capturing the South American trade. England, Germany, Belgium, Holland, great manufacturing countries, have free raw materials. How are our manufacturers going to capture trade from them if they are taxed on raw materials? It is absurd.

I'll tell you. They propose to make such great profit from foreign competition, that they hope to capture South American trade by "dumping" their surplus down there. That is the only policy they have. They even avow it.

But it is doubtful if the shepherds will again join with the weavers to make a robber Schedule K. From what I hear the wool people of the trans-Mississippi are very well satisfied with the policy of free wool, which has swelled their gains at least 4 cents a pound for their produce. And without the aid of the wool-growers of the West the monopoly wool-spinners like Wood will be powerless to restore Schedule K as it was in the Payne bill, even though the Republicans should sweep the country in 1916.

The Democratic party and the Wilson administration welcomes the tariff as the paramount in 1916. And in this connection I am bold to advance the criticism that the Democrats of the senate in the session just closed did not bring the Republican side to a vote on the resolution of Gallinger to re-enact the Payne-Aldrich monstrosity. We should thus have disclosed to the people the attitude of Borah, Cummins, Norris, Bristow and that set on that proposition.

HEALTH TALKS

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

The Masquerading Gallstone

IT IS a pathological fact, established by years of observation in institutions here and abroad, that about one in every eight women and one in every thirty men beyond middle age have gallstones in the gall-sac. It has always been the opinion of experienced physicians and surgeons that only a minority of these individuals have trouble from their gallstones. But recently the observers of large experience have altered this teaching. It is now believed that the "innocent" or symptomless gallstone is a myth. When gallstones are accidentally discovered in the course of operation for some other condition, like appendicitis, it appears that careful review of the patient's history invariably brings to light some past illness which was obviously due to the gallstones.

"Acute Indigestion" Is One Alias.

The colls of gallstone disease is most intense in the pit of the stomach, and there is a manifest reason why it is often mistaken for "gastritis," "acute indigestion" or "nervous dyspepsia." Spontaneous relief of the attack is accompanied by a feeling of movement of gas or by vomiting. The patient, and sometimes his doctor, is apt to misinterpret the state of affairs and attribute the relief to the fact that gas is belched or passed along, or to the vomiting.

X-ray photographs of these cases of masquerading gallstones may clear up the diagnosis. Not every gallstone, however, makes impression on the X-ray plate.

For the delectation of our healthy readers, and as a gentle warning to those with alleged stomach complaint, it should be repeated with emphasis that a pain "in the stomach" sufficiently severe to demand an opiate or hypodermic for relief is so suspicious that the doctor is justified in thinking his patient has a great gall to rout him out that way at 3 o'clock in the morning.

Questions and Answers.

Good Drinking Water: Would you recommend distilled water as a drinking water? Is it purer than natural water? Is it better for rheumatism than city water?

REPLY.

So long as the natural or tap water is known to be uncontaminated, we should prefer it to distilled water. Distilled water is purer than natural water in the chemical sense. It is neither better nor worse for "rheumatism" than other drinking water.

• • •

We Plead Not Guilty: Some time ago I think you recommended Sulpherb tablets for constipation. Where can I obtain them?

Not guilty. You confused our column with somebody's disguised advertisement. On the rare occasions when we suggest a remedy you may be sure there is no joker in the item.

Common Sense About Catarrh: Mrs. F. W. L. writes: For I don't know how long I had been buying this and that advertised "catarrh cure," thinking it was a disease. What you wrote me in that letter has done wonders.

Glad you are pleased with your investment of a stamped addressed envelope.

Fever Is a Favorable Thing: Please suggest what would be good to lower the fever when a child has sore throat, indigestion and the like.

REPLY.

Don't lower the fever—it is a favorable sign. Treat the cause of the illness and the fever will disappear in due course.

• • •

Castor Oil Unnecessary: Why do you object to castor oil for children? I supposed that was a tried and true remedy.

REPLY.

So it is, in very rare instances. It is a much abused dose. The more you give the more constipated the patient becomes. That's the reason it's prescribed in diarrhoea.

Dr. Brady will answer all questions pertaining to Health. If your question is of general interest it will be answered through these columns; if not it will be answered personally if stamped, addressed envelope is enclosed. Dr. Brady will not prescribe for individual cases or make diagnoses. Address all letters to Dr. William Brady, care of The Herald.

IN THE LITERARY WORLD

On the Mrs. Wiggs Order.

AMARILLY OF CLOTHES-LINE ALLEY. By Belle K. Maniates. Boston: Little, Brown & Co. $1.00 net.

If you like "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch," you will like Amarilly. Not that Amarilly has been left by an eccentric husband to take care of a passel of children. Oh, no. In fact, Amarilly is nothing but a child herself when you first meet her, as she is helping to scrub up the Barlow stock theater. As luck—or Providence—would have it, she sees part of a dress rehearsal by the company, and becomes so interested that she is given a ticket so she can see the whole show. That settles it, for Amarilly makes up her mind that the stage is her forte, and that nothing is going to keep her off it.

And nothing does, though the lack of an education threatens at first to prove a serious hindrance. But that finally is overcome by the aid of the counterpart of the rich girl who is reconciled to her lover through the agency of Mrs. Wiggs.

The book is a series of simple events, charmingly told and all linked together by Amarilly's interest in them and your interest in her. It isn't a long story, and it will do a good evening's work by making you feel more hopeful yourself.

Pretty and Pleasing.

THE PRINCESS AND THE CLAN. By Margaret R. Piper. Boston: The Page company.

The ways of a girl with a boy are every bit as mysterious if less direct in their seriousness as those of a man with a maid, and they furnish material for a much prettier story. Here we have a girl whose life is being robbed of all naturalness and enjoyment through the non-comprehensions of well-meaning relatives, but who is saved from the tortures of the situation through the kindness of a whole-hearted Scottish clergyman and his wife. The Wallace family (that of the clergyman) calls itself the Clan, and the boys who make up the Clan are exceedingly human and natural boys. That, in fact, can be said of every character in the book.

Wholesome, interesting, well told—all those words fit well into a description of "The Princess and the Clan." It is a splendid story for young folks of from 12 to 16 years.

Real People in Bible History.

JESUS: A PASSION PLAY. By Max Ehrmann. New York: The Baker & Taylor company. $1.00 net.

It is the common experience of mankind that anything even remotely connected with religious thought or experience or development takes on automatically a character of sanctity. To the average Christian there is an element of unreality or at least of the superhuman in everything connected with the life of Christ. It is well, therefore, that such a book as this should come to the attention of the world. It treats the people of the time of Christ as living, natural persons. It gives remarkably vivid pictures in the setting of the different scenes and the action of the different characters, and it is doubtful whether any other means could give a more rational conception of how Christ and his followers were viewed by those with whom they came in contact.

Five scenes are given—the cleansing of the temple, disputations in the temple, Gethsemane, the trial before Pilate and the resurrection. There are points at which the action drags in the reading, though this would be overcome to a great extent in any acting of the scenes.

In the cleansing of the temple the conception is vastly different from that shown in the time-honored illustrations that portray Christ with a strand of rope roundly belaboring the money changers. This is a scene in which a rough and tumble fight develops between the followers of Christ and those of the people who disapprove of the desecration of the temple on the one hand, and the money changers and dealers in pigeons and sacrificial animals on the other. Christ himself takes little part in it except in his denunciation, and the author carefully prepares for the active part the people themselves take in the event.

It is not at all likely that the author ever expected his work to be staged. There are some features of it that would mean much difficulty, to say the least. But he gives a valuable interpretation of the life and thought of the time of Christ, one that should be of considerable help to the Bible student in visualizing the scenes which are here worked out.

For the Growing Boy.

THE YOUNG RIVAL INVENTORS. By Gardner Hunting. Boston: Little, Brown & Co. $1.00 net.

Imagine the Oliver Optic stories with the elements of self-pity and "near-mollycoddlism left out, and you have the general character of "The Young Rival Inventors." There is no unjust and oppressive tyrant of a parent or guardian, either. Nobody is being imposed upon by somebody who is stronger than himself or to whom he has to knuckle down. It is just a good, straightforward, wholesome, thoroughly enjoyable story, with plenty of action by real boys; and it gets somewhere. Further than all this, it has the rare quality of stirring a youngster up to do something practical if he can.

Briefly, the story is that of three boys who set out to earn a little money by making practical use of the knack one of them has of thinking up simple and useful things they can make themselves. Right at the start they find themselves running counter to the interests of some other lads in the same town, and it is through the rivalry of these two "firms" that the story is developed. Then there are Roy Kepley, Fishin' Jimmy and a houseboat that figure markedly in the story.

"The Young Rival Inventors" is a corking good story for boys of from 12 years old up.

It'll Make You Cheer Up.

HOMEBURG MEMORIES. By George Fitch. Boston: Little, Brown & Company. $1.25 net.

If you've ever lived or been in a town of less than 2,500 people you know Homeburg. And you'll know it better than ever—and wish you could go back there for a visit—after you have read those "memories." Homeburg is some place, at that—where the arrival of the 4:11 train is the big event of the day, usually; where everybody runs to every fire; where there is nothing you don't know about everybody in town, and nothing about you that everybody in town doesn't know; where woman suffrage gets a real, practical application long before there is a woman admitted to the sanctity of the booths where the ballots are marked; and where you can call up Central and leave with her any message you wish for anybody in town, and know that Central will find that person and deliver the message.

George Fitch is known throughout the country for his skill in handling everyday subjects, and in Homeburg he seems to have struck something just to his liking. At least he will make it to your liking before you get through with it. And the fact that the memories are called up by the things the speaker sees and hears in New York City only adds to the enjoyment of it all.

There are many books recommended as cures for the blues, but "Homeburg Memories" is one of the few sure to live up to that recommendation.

Holmes vs. Moriarty.

THE VALLEY OF FEAR. By Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. New York: George H. Doran company. $1.25 net.

Is it ten years since the last Sherlock Holmes story? It doesn't seem possible, and yet the publishers assure us there has been nothing in that line since the publication in 1904 of "The Return of Sherlock Holmes." This is the first full sized novel dealing with the great detective and his work since "The Hound of the Baskervilles," published in 1902.

Of course it is crime—murder—that calls out the powers of Holmes, and of course, too, he starts his work from the rooms in Baker street, with Dr. Watson as his friend, biographer and admirer. You wonder as you read the first few pages just how seriously Doyle is going to take this new appearance of his great character, for there are phrases now and again in which he seems to be laughing quietly either at Holmes or himself or possibly both. But before long he gets back into the spirit of the game and gives you the same old line of deduction and of puzzling the police—but with a denouement entirely unexpected unless you make a special study of the development of the story.

Following his own example in "A Study in Scarlet," he brings his characters to America in the second section of the book, and gives a sufficiently vivid picture of the workings of a secret order among the men in "the largest coal and iron mining district in America." It is a terrific picture he paints of what transpires in the Vermisan Valley, and reveals a power of description that to many will be a surprise.

And finally comes the recognition of the presence in the affair of the hand of Professor Moriarty. An Englishman demands of Holmes, "Do you say that no one can ever get level with this king devil?" And Holmes replies:

No, I don't say that. I don't say that he can't be beat. But you must give me time—you must give me time!"

Which the reader can take as he pleases as to the chance of further stories dealing with Holmes and the professor.

The Octopus Again.

STANDARD OIL OR THE PEOPLE? By Henry H. Klein. New York: Henry H. Klein, the Tribune building. 25c.

According to Mr. Klein, the country is tighter than ever in the grip of Standard Oil. Rockefeller and his associates own or control nearly everything in America, including the officials, and the people are being enslaved from day to day. There is only one thing that can be done and that is for President Wilson to secure a "constitutional enactment" limiting private wealth to $10,000,000. Then everything will be divided all over again, nobody will be rich and everybody will be happy. Incidentally the government will have, then, to take over and operate all the big enterprises, and whenever a newspaper doesn't do what the men then in charge of the government want, they can spank said newspaper and put it out of business.

IF WAGE EARNERS KEPT ACCOUNTS

Business Methods Applied to Workers' Budgets

By SCOTT NEARING,
University of Pennsylvania.

(Exclusive Service the Survey Press Bureau.)

The American workingman who is struggling to support a family on a wage ranging from $2.50 to $3 a day, might glean a great deal of useful information by comparing his method of accounting with that of any well-managed modern business.

Let us test the sufficiency of the wage paid to the "average" wage-earner if workers' earnings and expenditures are analyzed in terms of up-to-date business practice.

Cease for a moment to think of the worker as a human being, and look upon him as a part of the mechanism which produces a livelihood for mankind. Whether the worker is compared to an individual machine, like a loom, delivery wagon, office desk; or to an individual plant like a cotton mill, retail store, steel plant, the economic significance of the matter is the same.

Such industrial units represent an investment of capital on which the business man expects a return.

The Human Investment.

The worker, like the industrial unit, represents an investment. The expense to home, school, and city that were involved in his bringing up must all be charged in as a part of the cost or investment necessary to put the worker into condition to do his share in the world of industry.

The industrial manager, after having written down his investment, next decides how much he must allow for depreciation. His machines wear out. Perhaps in ten, perhaps in twenty years, he will need a new loom, wagon, or desk. Therefore he sets aside each year out of the proceeds of the business, a sum sufficient so that at the end of, say twenty years, there will have accumulated an amount equal to the cost of a new loom, wagon, or desk. In this way capital automatically perpetuates itself.

The worker may with justice charge depreciation against his services. He, too, has a limited term of usefulness. He, too, must look forward to a day when he can no longer be employed in industry. Business should provide for the depreciation of its human units in the same way that it provides for the depreciation of its mechanical units.

Worn Out Machines and Men.

Insurance is a legitimate charge for the human as well as the other parts of the business investment. But there is a difference. The machine, used up, is tossed on to the scrap heap. The man, used up may live for a dozen or a score of years, during which he requires support. Therefore the sum charged off for depreciation and insurance in the case of the worker must be sufficient to cover not only ordinary wear and tear—sickness and accident—but in addition, they must provide a fund for support after the period of active work is over.

There is beside these charges for investment, depreciation and insurance, the charge for upkeep. Unless a unit of capital can be kept in good working order, it is useless, because it can take no further part in the productive process. The upkeep charge is a first charge, because the very existence of business depends upon it.

The upkeep charge for human beings is likewise of primary importance. Good health and sound physique are universally necessary. Therefore they should be paid for before any of the other charges of life are met. Since the demands of society and the behests of human nature operate alike to compel a man to support his family at the same time that he supports himself, the upkeep charge in the case of workers must cover family, as well as individual, upkeep.

Wages and Living Costs.

A number of investigators have tried recently to make a scientific analysis of the cost of maintaining in physical health a family unit of a man, wife and three children under 14. For New York the cost was set at $900; for Pittsburg, $1,000; for Buffalo, $850; for Chicago, at $800; and for Fall River at $750. Apparently, therefore, it requires from $2.50 to $3 per working day ($750 to $1,000 a year) to provide physical health for a family of five. The comparison of this standard with the wages actually paid by the leading American industries in the northern and eastern sections of the United States shows that a large proportion—perhaps two-thirds, perhaps three-quarters—of the adult males who are gainfully occupied in industry receive less than enough to support a family of five in decency. On the face of it, the present rate of wages is insufficient, in many instances, to cover even the first charge which ordinary business practice makes against an investment—the charge for upkeep. Where the amounts paid in wages are inadequate to allow for reasonable upkeep, they obviously fail to provide against the other charges for investment, depreciation and insurance.

Justice would require that the wage cover, above upkeep, enough for depreciation and insurance, varying with the wage of the individual and the character of the occupation. Nor would this charge be negligible. Indeed, in many businesses where the human hazards are high, it would usually amount each year to at least a tenth of the total investment.

Furthermore, the worker might legitimately claim an annual return in the form of interest on the investment, varying from 5 to 6 per cent in low-hazard, long-life occupations, to a much higher per cent in high-hazard, short-life occupations.

Modern Bookkeeping for Workers.

It is unnecessary to proceed with this discussion. The prevalence of wage rates below $1,000, and the general impossibility of providing for more than bare family upkeep charges on amounts of less than $1,000, prove beyond question the economic inadequacy of vast numbers of wage rates.

Strictly speaking, the great body of male American wage-earners receive no "income." They receive a wage which provides bare family upkeep. In their accounts is no mention of those stabilizing and regulative charges which modern business men have learned to demand as a right—depreciation, interest and dividends. Workers should take account of such charges, study business bookkeeping and apply the result of their knowledge to their own family affairs. The business man receives "income" after he has met his running expenses and paid his fixed charges. The ordinary worker with a family makes, in a great majority of cases, bare running expenses.

Each growth of intelligence among the workers brings one step nearer the day when they will place their budgets on a scientific basis. Each advance step presses toward a standard of return for labor at least as stable and soundly based as that now secured on capital.

In the Churches

TOMORROW, with the observance of Palm Sunday, and its attendant special services, Holy Week or Passion Week will be ushered in, and for the next six days, in Catholic and Episcopal churches, especially, there will be services daily, and in some, several times a day. Other Protestant churches have also arranged special meetings to be held during the week, but not so generally as the two denominations mentioned. In such other churches as have planned to celebrate the great week of the Christian religion, commemorating the crucifixion of the Savior, in most cases the special meetings will be featured by special addresses on the period.

Maundy Thursday will be one of the chief days of observance, and Good Friday will be another. In some of the churches Holy Saturday will also be marked by special services, but in most of them Saturday will be spent in preparation for Easter Sunday, when observance of the celebration of the rising of Christ from the dead will be general among churches of all denominations.

The great three-hour service in Trinity Episcopal cathedral and in St. Paul's church will be on Good Friday from noon to 3 o'clock instead of on Maundy Thursday as previously reported.

Methodist.

First—At the First Methodist Episcopal church, John W. Hoffman, minister, regular services will be held at 10:30 a. m. and 8 p. m. The subject of the morning sermon will be "Responsiveness to Christ" and that of the evening "And Peter." The musical program for the day follows:

MORNING.

A LOG CABIN DESIGN

At this time of the year Duluthians are contemplating the erection of log cabins on various acre tracts near the city. The designs shown above provide for a cabin of ample room and light. The large living room with its open fireplace is very cheerful and roomy. Full directions for the erection of this building will be given to Herald readers. As these buildings are generally erected by day labor, it is almost impossible for the architects to give an approximate cost of same.

UNIVERSITY OF MINNESOTA

Minneapolis, Minn., March 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—The new officers for the Y. W. C. A. for next year were elected at the regular meeting this week. Maude Briggs, a member of Kappa Alpha Theta, was elected president; Lucy Howe of Phi Beta Phi was elected vice president. The other officers chosen were: Caroline Wallace, secretary, and Ethel Hoskins, treasurer. With the exception of Miss Howe, who is a St. Paul girl, the new officers are from Minneapolis.

Wednesday marked the beginning of the commencement season of the school agriculture which will continue until Wednesday, March 31, when the twenty-sixth annual commencement will take place in the auditorium of the main building. The last seven days will be busy ones for the young students before they return to their farms to put into practical use the things they have learned here during the winter. On Wednesday, the graduating class was given a reception by President and Mrs. Vincent. The class exercises were held in the auditorium Friday. Dean and Mrs. A. F. Woods will give a reception to the graduating class, alumni and faculty members on Saturday. Rev. A. L. Crandall will deliver the commencement sermon Saturday afternoon. The senior class play will be given on Monday; Tuesday will be alumni day and Wednesday will be commencement day. Dr. Cyrus Northrop will deliver the commencement address.

Col. Howard T. Lambert has resigned from the active command of the First Cadet infantry and Maj. Theron G. Methvyn of Minneapolis has been promoted to fill the vacancy. Col. Lambert will act as colonel and brigade inspector. Capt. Thorgny Carlson of the bugle corps has been promoted to the grade of major, inspector of small arms practice, vice Maj. Rollman, resigned.

KILLS SELF WHILE FAMILY LOOKS ON

Rutland, N. D., March 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—Nels Gager, a farmer living near here, slashed his throat with a razor in the presence of his wife and children. He cut a gash seven inches long and bled to death before physicians could care for his injuries. Gager was sent to the state asylum about twenty years ago and was discharged later as cured. Just before he committed suicide he called Mrs. Gager into a room and told her he wanted to talk with her as evil influences were at work. Picking up a razor he stepped into the yard and cut his throat with his wife and children looking on, helpless to prevent.

S. DOWER CELEBRATES.

Former Duluthian Has Large Family Present on 80th Birthday.

Staples, Minn., March 27.—S. Dower, Sr., formerly of Duluth, celebrated his eightieth birthday Tuesday, with all of his children present, five sons and eight daughters. The gathering was held at the E. E. Greeno residence, where Mr. Dower makes his home.

The health of Mr. Dower, Sr., has been failing fast of late, and another meeting, under similar circumstances, it is feared, is not likely again.

The sons and daughters are: Mrs. John Weston, Mrs. Edith Greeno, Mrs. Ernest Greeno, Mrs. Nettie Tuttle, A. J. Dower, of Staples; John Dower, William Dower, Mrs. James Boyd, Mrs. Nellie French, S. J. Dower, of Wadena; Mrs. M. Gadeway and Sam Dower of Pillager, and Mrs. Joel Bayer of Payette, Idaho.

MILL CITY BOY IS ACCUSED OF FORGERY.

Grand Forks, N. D., March 27.—An 18-year-old boy who says he is A. O. Junkin of Minneapolis, son of C. D. Junkin of that city, is in jail here on a forgery charge, preferred by a local merchant.

Junkin cashed a check for $85, supposedly signed by his father, but the name, it is charged, was forged. The hearing will take place Monday.

A. O. Junkin is the son of Charles D. Junkin, superintendent of the St. Anthony & Dakota Elevator company, at Minneapolis. Mr. Junkin said, in Minneapolis, he had not seen the boy for about three weeks, when he left Minneapolis to go to North Dakota.

WANTS CLUBROOMS FOR WORKINGMEN

Dr. Gebauer Suggests Remodeling Armory When Vacated.

Proposing that the old National Guard Armory on First street and Second avenue east be remodeled into a clubhouse for the working man as soon as the new home of the militia is ready for occupancy, Rev. George R. Gebauer, pastor of the First Unitarian church, is strongly in favor of providing a place where laboring men may be allowed to congregate.

His plan conforms in many respects to the system used in London, where clubrooms on the coffee house plan are provided.

"The Armory would be an ideal place," he said this morning. "If shower baths were installed in one end of the building and other bathing facilities provided, and the remaining space divided off into libraries, reading rooms, cardrooms, etc. This downtown recreation room is needed badly, and this is a good opportunity to provide one at small expense.

"The first thing to have in the clubroom would be a large sign, telling the men that they were free to do as they liked, and that they could smoke or play cards or read. There should be no badge of charity attached and no organized religion. The laboring man believes religion and religious people are synonymous with a lot of undesirable sentiment.

"There is no use in telling a man not to do a thing, unless you can provide an acceptable substitute," he concluded, "and when we establish a club of this kind in Duluth, we shall have taken the first constructive step, instead of falling back on the word 'don't.'"

TREADING BLITHELY IN THE WAKE OF THE SPORT NEWS OFFERING

Pal Brown Pursuing Sensible Methods in Preparation for Mandot—Jimmy Ten Eyck Going to Send Duluth Scullers After National Title—Police Will Guard Against Pugilistic Fake at Havana—Clabby and Gibbons.

BY BRUCE.

PAL BROWN surely has the opportunity of his career to gain fame and quick access to instant recognition from matchmakers in various parts of the country in the coming cantata with Joe Mandot. Should Pal drop the gay lad from the French market district of New Orleans, he would be clustered in the minds of the followers of pugilism with Welsh, Ritchie, White and several other of the leaders of the lightweight brigade. Brown won a moral victory over Red Watson by holding the demoniac redhead to an even gallop in ten rounds; should he come through and put Mandot away, he will achieve the crowning victory of his career.

In the preparation of Brown for the majority of his former contests those who have grimly masqueraded in the guise of trainers and handlers have allowed the Jackpine Kid to run miles and more miles on the road. This is considered rather an obsolete method of training in the best modern pugilistic circles. What Brown needs and has needed for sometime, if the observation of men qualified by experience to pass judgment is correct, is boxing and a lot of boxing with fast and clever men.

It is only within recent months that Pal has made much use of his left. Every competent follower of pugilism knows that the left is the most effective weapon in the art of boxing. A lad with the reach of Brown possesses exceptional opportunity for effective work with the port whip. A good left opens the way for a solid right, and it is by boxing with real boxers that a fighter learns the rudiments of his trade.

Little Billy Whalen, a pupil in the Mike Gibbons St. Paul school of pugilism, is a boxer excellently fitted to polish up the ring work of Pal. Working with Whalen should put Brown on edge for Mandot and should send him into the forthcoming fray tuned to stride along with a boxer as fast and clever as the French Market lad.

Looking the Scullers Over.

DURING the last few seasons James E. Ten Eyck has accomplished wonders with the sweep men of the Duluth Boat club. In the comparatively short space of time Jim has been the coach of the Minnesota Point club the D. B. C. has strode majestically to the front as the greatest rowing organization in the United States. No club in the history of the amateur rowing sport in this country has succeeded in winning so many national championships as the local club in so short a period of competition. Now Jim is going to start after the sculling titles.

Last year at Philadelphia Kent and Osman won the intermediate doubles. Last season on the historic old Rat Portage course, where some of the greatest professional scullers of the world have competed for championships, young Hoover made the followers of the rowing game in the Northwest fairly gasp with astonishment by not only winning the junior singles, but rounding out this meritorious feat by going forth and treating the great Snapper Culver to a disastrous beating in the senior singles.

There is the ancient saying of the prophet being kicked off his own front porch and being obliged to run to neighboring villas for consolation and cheer. When Jimmy Ten Eyck quietly confided to some of the officers of the Duluth Boat club that his boys could win the national eight-oared event, a smile of defiant and aggressive disbelief played around the corners of the mouths of some of the listeners. Old precedent, a grim fellow at the best, was on the side of the doubting Thomases.

Well, to cut the discourse short. Duluth won and has repeated the initial winning. That is a bit of American rowing history. Therefore when Ten Eyck stated yesterday that he believes that he has several scullers in line for the national title now held by Bob Dibble of the Dons, there is less cause for doubt than for fervent and brilliantly budding hope.

What Jim Ten Eyck has set out to accomplish in the past he has gone through with. He stands today as the most promising rowing coach in the United States. Courtney of Cornell, Wray of Harvard, the elder Ten Eyck of Syracuse—who, by the way, was offered the Yale coaching job—and Rice of Columbia stand forth more prominently in the East, simply because of the fact that they have been associated for a space of years, especially in the case of Courtney and the elder Ten Eyck, with big colleges where a multitude of candidates trot forth each season.

It is our opinion that the younger Ten Eyck stands today as the greatest rowing coach in America. This opinion, it is quite needless to state, is shared by many who have followed his methods with discerning eye. Jimmy Ten Eyck put Duluth on the national rowing map—because he knows his business and because he has been working with some of the best and gamest boys in the country. In the sweep events Duluth holds an unrivaled position; just watch what Duluth does in the sculling events this season.

Doings Down in Havana.

THE punch was put in one of the fight news stories out of the picturesque city of Havana recently when it was stated that Alfred Vanderbilt has reserved a bunch of ringside seats for a number of his select friends and was en route to the Cuban metropolis on his palatial private yacht.

It is said that the friends that the young New York multimillionaire is taking along to view the meeting between Johnson and the huge Kansas white hope represent an aggregate coin denotement of over $200,000,000. Gee! it's great to be rich.

Added news paprika comes in the tabloid dispatch which says that Cuban police, aided and abetted by the government troops, will be marshaled in ringside seats to see that no fake is pulled.

President Menocal is determined to have the fight decided on its merits. After some of those comic opera bouffe revolutions the witnessing of a real fight upon the part of some of the Cubies should come as a refreshing innovation.

More power to Menocal, although we have never met the gentleman.

Gibbons and Clabby Again.

A MERE trifling amount of $2,500 stands between Messrs. Clabby and Gibbons and Promoter Tortivick of New Orleans and a twenty-round meeting between the two illustrious middleweights.

We refer to $2,500 as a mere trifling matter only when speaking of pugilists—kindly get that clear.

Clabby is satisfied with a guarantee of $5,000 for his end. Hearing that Clabby was guaranteed that amount, Michael Gibbons immediately demanded $7,500 for his end. Who says Gibbons needs a manager?

GUN CLUBS IN TOURNEY

Duluth and Superior Shooters to Compete for Prizes.

A three-cornered club shoot has been arranged between the Superior Gun club, the Central Gun club and the Northwestern Gun club, both of Duluth. The first match for the prizes, three handsome gold watches, will be competed for on the Northwestern traps, April 11. The following Sunday the match will be held at the Central Gun club traps, and on April 25 the final round in the tournament will be shot off over the traps of the Superior Gun club.

Rules of the contest provide for 1,000 birds to be shot at during each of the three contests. This will make a total of 3,000 birds that the score will be decided upon. The club having the highest total number of birds to its credit will be declared the winner at the end of the final contest. The three shooters having the highest scores in the winning club team will be awarded the watches.

Good Season Anticipated.

The greatest season in the history of Duluth trap shooting is looked for during the season that is about to open. Both the Central and Northwestern Gun clubs have secured a number of new members during the winter months. Active preparations are being made at the present time for a number of contests, while a big tournament to include all of the gun clubs of the Northwest is an event that is being planned on for midsummer.

AMATEUR WRESTLERS TRYING FOR HONORS.

South Bethlehem, Pa., March 27.—Cornell, the present title-holder, qualified five men for the final round of the eleventh annual intercollegiate wrestling meet in the preliminary and semi-final rounds last night. Pennsylvania and Lehigh each qualified three men, Princeton two and Columbia one. Cornell secured three points toward her final score on falls, Pennsylvania two and Lehigh one. The final round will be held today.

Culbertson of Cornell, the 115-pound titleholder, was the highest point winner, throwing both of his opponents. He will meet Kirkhuff of Lehigh in the finals. The latter won a decision from Culbertson in the recent dual meet.

Dorizas of Pennsylvania, the heavyweight champion, threw Longstreth, Princeton, and will meet Klemert of Cornell, former intercollegiate champion in the final round.

Galloghy, of Cornell, the intercollegiate 158-pound titleholder, won a decision from George Sawtell of Lehigh in nine minutes. He will meet Stattler of Pennsylvania in the finals today.

Chicago, March 27.—K. Bassetts of Gary, Ind., will meet H. Torp of Chicago in the finals of the 115-pound class wrestling tryouts today for the Panama-Pacific international championships under the direction of the A. A. U. committee. Torp defeated C. Miellinos of the Greek-American A. C. of New York in the star bout of the class.

H. H. Jenkins of Pittsburg, holder of the 145-pound title, will meet "Tim" Madigan, Minnesota, present champion in the 135-pound class and V. V. Vuen, will meet F. Canning in the 125-pound class.

ONE OF DULUTH'S BASKET BALL STARS

"TONY" FORYZIAK.

Foryziak is not only the captain of the Kelleys, winner of the Commercial Basket Ball league championship for the past season, but is also one of the cracks of the city, having been chosen on the all-star team. During all of the last season this lad has played a remarkably fast and consistent game.

TOMMY ANDREWS OFF FOR HAVANA

Milwaukee Sport Writer Says Brown Has Great Chance.

Tommy A. Andrews, the well known Milwaukee sport writer and veteran fight promoter, wrote here yesterday that he was intending to be present on the evening when Pal Brown and Joe Mandot clashed, but that he is leaving this evening for Havana, Cuba, to be present when Jack Johnson and Jess Willard fight for the heavyweight championship.

"Brown has the opportunity of his life to spring to fame," says Andrews. "This is the first time that Brown has had the opportunity of meeting a boxer of the fame and standing of Mandot, and should Brown win he will be recognized as one of the leading lightweights of the country."

Andrews is the man who is reported to have practically landed the Gibbons-McFarland contest, which should prove the greatest drawing card that has ever been staged in the West.

LEAGUE COACH FOR GOPHERS

Denny Sullivan of Northern Circuit Will Aid Varsity Men.

Many Novel Features for "U" Carnival; All Athletes Active.

Minneapolis, Minn., March 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—If the Minnesota baseball team is not in shape for its first game on April 14 it will not be the fault of the coaching system. Denny Sullivan, who tutored the Gopher team in 1913 and who is now manager of the Fort William club of the Northern league, is coming here about April 10 to help Coach Thomas in handling the youngsters. The coming of Sullivan will be a great help to the team in Thomas' estimation, as he says it is almost impossible for one man to coach a young squad in so short a time.

Gopher diamond candidates are working hard these days. The nearest thing to a regular outdoor practice so far attained this year was staged Tuesday noon. Nearly thirty eligible men turned out in uniform on Northrop field, and if the fact that the diamond was half covered with water was overlooked, it was a regular workout.

Candidates for Team.

Among those looking for infield jobs are Capt. Pennington, Dietrich, Lawler, Quist and Hedge. Pennington played in the outfield last year, Lawler and Dietrich will probably be stationed at short and second base, respectively, while Hedge is a candidate for the third sack. Quist is a prominent candidate for first base; Mundy, Longly and Darganel of last year's team are back on the job this year, while Petraborg has also joined the squad in recent practices. But it is the pitching department that is giving Coach Thomas the most worry. Anderson, Henry, Diepenbroch and Young are working overtime in order to get into shape. The new coach intends to put the men through regular training stunts daily. The early day workouts will begin with batting practice to be followed with a general warming up for all the fielders, pitchers and catchers.

On two days of the week, Coach Thomas will get up a team of ineligibles and freshmen for a little game. Manager McBean is trying to arrange early practice games to be played before the regular playing begins. The outdoor hitting cage was put up Wednesday and the men are getting their first real training for their batting eyes. The field is still in a rather wet condition.

Track Men Are Active.

The Minnesota track men are in no way discouraged by the showing at Evanston. All track men were out on the cinder path Monday. The relay team, which came in third at Evanston is working harder than ever in the hope of placing in the Drake relay on April 17. Thirteen teams have already been entered in the university class and fourteen in the college event.

Even co-eds have caught the baseball fever. The women are planning to have a team of their own this season. The athletic department has granted the use of one of the diamonds on Northrop field to the girls on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays from 4 to 6, beginning after the Easter recess. Coach "Frosty" Thomas has promised to help the co-eds develop the team. The co-eds will practice under the direct supervision of a member of the women's athletic department. They will wear the regular blouse and bloomer gymnasium suits, and the work in baseball will be accredited as baseball training. If enough display interest in the sport there will be a tournament for the university championship.

Girls to Entertain.

President Vincent and members of the university faculty will be guests of the Women's Athletic association at the girls' annual basket ball tourney in the armory tonight. The tournament is the largest event of each year in co-ed athletics. The affair will be opened with a burlesque parade around the armory. All of the eight teams in the tournament will take part in the procession, and each class will present a stunt. The semi-final and final matches of the tournament will be played, and in the interval there will be dancing by members of the girls' gymnasium classes. The dancing numbers will include aesthetic and Russian dances, under the direction of Miss May Kissock, assistant women's physical director. The preliminary basket ball matches of the tournament will be played off this week.

The much neglected freshman track man has come into his own. It has not been the policy of Minnesota to pay much attention to the freshman, but rather to let him learn through his own initiative. Last year some attempt was made in the right direction when numerals were awarded to six track men, for work done in the freshman meet last spring. The results were not gratifying, and the new system is the result. Freshmen this year will have an opportunity to compete in three outdoor meets: the all-university, the all-freshman and freshman-sophomore, coming one after the other during April and May. On the basis of work done in these meets, graded according to the point system numerals will be awarded. Coach Frank believes that these numerals will be keenly sought and will do much toward the development of the track system. The freshmen have already shown their ability in indoor meets, and with the advantage of expert coaching and an outdoor cinder track, they should develop into a worthy bunch of numeral men.

Spring Athletic Carnival.

April 17 is the date set for the spring athletic carnival, which according to the committee in charge, is to be the novelty of the year in the carnival line, corresponding in importance to the all-university circus held two years ago. The athletic carnival is distinctly a social event and is not an athletic contest. It is an entertainment based upon the year's athletics. While every line of sport will in some way be recognized, there will be no serious competition. Burlesque games and races will be arranged by members of the different teams. Feature races, girls' basketball, mock football, tumbling and clog dancing are among the hasty sketches of the committee on entertainment. The dance from 10 to 12 o'clock will complete the evening. Madigan, the amateur lightweight wrestler, will exhibit his prowess. A general good time based on athletics is the plan of the committee, and no pains will be spared to make the affair a success, in an entirely different way from the numerous social affairs, which begin and end in dancing.

Feeling that the inter-fraternity basketball and handball tournaments tend to overemphasize brute strength and physical ability, unduly at the expense of intellectual development, a group of fraternity men have conceived the idea of a bridge tournament. Academic and professional fraternity men are all invited to join in this tournament.

Miners Win at Handball.

The miners, who won the intramural hockey championship this year, have gained further distinction by annexing the title of intramural handball champions. The game, which concluded the series, was played Tuesday afternoon, giving the miners a score of eight matches out of twelve. The next in line were the medics, with six games won and six games lost, while the engineers and academics were tied for third place, each having been successful in five games out of twelve played. Two teams of two men each were entered from each college. The best individual work was done by the miner duet composed of Sam Aronson and Sam Kulberg and the academic pair, Abrahamson and Ott, each of whom were victorious in five games out of six.

DULUTH SCULLERS BEING FORMED FOR CHAMPIONSHIP

Kent, Osman and Hoover Will Be Entered in Senior Events at Springfield With the Hope That They Win Right to Compete in National Titular Event; Dibble Present Champion, Sure to Compete.

BY BRUCE.

Ned Ten Eyck won the Amateur national sculling title back in 1896. Ned is the older brother of Jim and is the only American who ever won the diamond sculls. Back in those somewhat remote years a brother of the coach of the Duluth Boat club won the title, and now Jimmy is busily engaged in pointing his scullers for the capture of the same title.

Not only did the brilliant Ned Ten Eyck drag down the title in the year mentioned, but he also won it during the successive years of 1897, 1898, 1899, 1900 and 1901. This truly wonderful oarsman, the son and grandson of two of the pioneer oarsmen of America, retired when in the height of his prime —because there were no other amateurs to race; retired unbeaten and with the brilliant record of never having been defeated during his career.

In 1902 C. F. Titus won the title, and in 1903, 1904 and 1905 the amateur sculling championship was won by S. E. Greer. Titus came back the following season and won back the emblem. In 1907 Harry S. Bennett won the title and in the following season Greer came forth from semi-retirement and defeated all contestants.

John O'Neil of Halifax copped the premier sculling event of the country in 1909. William Marhoff was the champion the following year and in 1911 E. B. Butler, the brilliant sculler of the Argonauts won the mile and a quarter association championship with comparative ease. Butler repeated his success the next season. In 1913 and last season Bob Dibble of the Dons took down the title.

The Duluth Opponents.

Ten Eyck is figuring at the present time on starting Roy Kent, Art Osman and "Nervy" Hoover in the senior sculling events at Springfield. Should any of these boys win the association championships and thus be eligible to enter the national championship event, it is most likely that John B. Kelly of the Vespers of Philadelphia, Dibble of the Dons and possibly Butler and Fred Shepperd of the Harlem Rowing club will be the men the Duluthians will be opposed to.

The Quadruple Four.

Back in 1905 the quadruple four event was won at Baltimore by the Seawanaka Boat club. For many years this prize has come to be considered the individual property of the Riverside Rowing club. Ten Eyck believes he can drill four scullers into beating this aggregation and is directing his efforts to that end at the present time.

Kelly and Smith are the present double scull champions. The Duluth Boat club will have an entry in this event, possibly Osman and Kent, and here is another contest on the national program the outcome of which will be observed with special interest by local followers of the rowing game.

WELSH WILL BE THIRD IN RING

Johnson and Willard in Good Shape for Fight.

Havana, Cuba, March 27.—Jack Welsh of San Francisco has cabled the promoters of the fight between Jack Johnson and Jess Willard, for the heavyweight championship of the world, that he accepts the position of referee offered him and that he will arrive here April 2 and meet the principals the following day to give them their instructions.

Johnson and Willard, after a morning of road work, followed their usual afternoon training routine before large crowds of spectators. Willard worked the harder of the two men yesterday. His wind and endurance both seemed good. Both plan to have hard workouts on Sunday, when holiday crowds are expected to visit their training camps. Johnson will begin "drying" out next Tuesday. He is now within ten pounds of ring weight.

Willard is now down to 242 pounds. He plans to lessen his training program after Sunday. The same physician who examined Johnson Thursday went over Willard yesterday and reported that organically the white man is in excellent shape.

EDISONS ENTER FIELD.

Electric Company's Ball Team Has Some Fast Players.

The employes of the Duluth-Edison Electric company held a meeting yesterday noon for the purpose of forming a baseball team. Edwin Norstad, the popular pilot was chosen to lead them. There is plenty of material employed by the company and a fast team is expected. Some of the city's well known ball players will be seen in the lineup. Walter Blaski, the Eagles' crack first baseman, and Adam Schaeffer, pitcher of the same team, will be in the lineup. The Edison team will join the Commercial league as its members do not have to work on Saturday afternoon. Some of the men who will try for the team are: W. Blaski, N. Baker, J. Heltz, E. Norstad, B. Burke, G. Mitchell, B. Higgins, W. Gooder, A. Schaeffer, C. Lyons, F. Kohl, F. Quinn, G. Gebeau, E. J. Meagher, E. Holmes, J. Sedarholm.

Britton Defeats Lewis.

New York, March 27.—Jack Britton of Chicago, lightweight, easily defeated Ted (Kid) Lewis of England in a ten-round bout here last night. The Englishman had a shade the better of the first three rounds, but Britton thereafter was greatly his superior. Both men were over weight, Britton weighing 141 and Lewis 144½.

STALLINGS TRIED MOST PLAYERS OF ALL PILOTS

Miracle Man Broke League Record in the Number of Recruits He Used to Build the World's Champions.

(By Ernest J. Lanigan.)

George Tweedy Stallings, miracle man and master builder, it develops, is the possessor of more than one National league managerial record. The big chief is the lone leader in the elder organization to make a clean sweep of the world series and he also has the distinction of having tried out more athletes in one season than any of his contemporaries, esteemed or otherwise. The first year George of Georgia was in command of the Braves he used no less than forty-six pastimers, fourteen of these men being pitchers, seven being catchers, thirteen being infielders and twelve being outfielders. Previously the greatest number of players tried out in any one season by a National league manager was forty-five. Clark Griffith gave opportunities to this number of players when he was managing the Reds in 1909, and J. Faxon Graham Tinker, commanding the same combination four years later, equaled the Old Fox's mark.

The club rosters of the National league from 1906 on show that in the last nine years 2,355 players have been tried out—an average for each campaign of 263. The high-water mark was reached in 1913, when Secretary John Arnold Heydler had to keep the records of 308 athletes. In 1907 only 221 men got into championship combats. That next year, when the Nationals had their finest scrap, the three-handed affair between the Giants, Cubs and Pirates, 230 players were flung into action.

It is Secretary Heydler's opinion that the fans will relish seeing fewer players in the line-ups this year. In a letter to the writer he says:

"I am very glad to know that you think well of the National league legislation. I am sure the player-limit and the non-recall waiver will prove a splendid thing for baseball, despite the criticism directed against the reduction. I believe the public will appreciate games in which fewer players participate. It was no unusual thing last year to have sixteen or eighteen men in a game of ball, which, of course, is a travesty on a game calling for nine players on a side."

John J. McGraw though he has a raft of players with him in Marlin, never has fractured any National league records for trying out talent. The Little Napoleon used twenty-eight men when he won the pennant with the Giants in 1911 and 1912, and thirty-two when he repeated in 1813. Last year he slung thirty-three pastimers into championship action, thus setting a new record for the club in this respect. In nine seasons the Giants have tried out 259 players, Roger Bresnahan, Leon Ames, Charley Herzog, Hank Gowdy, Beals Becker, Dick Rudolph, Ernest Shore and Heinie Groh are former McGrawites now working with other big clubs of organized ball.

The Superbas, in nine campaigns, have given opportunities to 260 men. In 1906, 1907 and 1908 the number of players on Charles Hercules Ebbets' payroll was the same—twenty-four—but it got up to the three dozen figure in 1911 and never has been any higher. Few of the men the Brooklyn managers have let escape now are in demand. Pitcher Elmer Knetzer of the Pittsburg Rebels is one of them. Sheldon Lejeune, noted long-distance thrower, drew a blue envelope from Bill Dahlen four years ago. Pittsburg is trying him out this season.

Feds Like Phillies.

Philadelphia has used 277 men in the last nine seasons, their high figure being thirty-nine, tried out in 1912. The Federal league is a favorite place for former Quakers, these men who once wore Quaker livery now being on the rosters of clubs in the Gilmore organization: Tom Seaton, Ad Brennan, Earl Moore, Howard Cammitz, Joe Plinneran, Otto Knabe, Mike Doolan, "Runt" Walsh, Van Duncan, Tom Downey and Fred Jacklitsch. Harry Coveleskie and Harry Hoch, portsiders on the Philadelphia pitching staff in 1908, are now with American league clubs. George McQuillan is a Pirate, Sherwood Magee a Brave, Charley Dooin a Red and Hans Lobert, Bill Ritter and George Chalmers Giants.

The Cubs, from 1906 to 1914, inclusive, used 281 men. The last year the Taft-Murphy club was led by Peerless Leader Chance forty players were employed. When Frank was winning pennants in the Windy City he never had to call on more than twenty-seven athletes. There were twenty-three Cubs in 1906, twenty-four in 1907, twenty-six in 1908 and twenty-seven in 1910. Bruins now identified with other major league clubs are Pat Moran, Johnny Evers, Fred Luderus, Tommy Leach, Bill Sweeney, Pat Ragon, "King" Cole, "Rip Zip" Hagerman, Ensign Cottrell, Grover Lowdermilk and Fred Mollwitz.

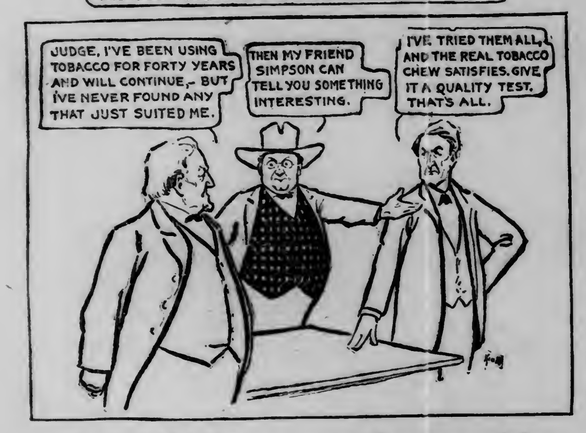
The Pirates had tried out 307 men in nine seasons. They never got to the two-score mark until last year, and then they went by it by one. In 1909, which was the year the Corsairs finished in front, twenty-nine pastimers broke into the box scores. Tommy Leach, "Cozy" Dolan, Arthur Butler, "Rube" Robinson, Jack Miller, Owen Wilson, Dan Moeller, Beals Becker, Ensign Cottrell, Walter Rehg, Sherrod Smith, "King" Cole, Bobby Byrne and Roy Wood are former Pittsburgers now identified with other big league teams.

Always Many Braves.

The athletes used by the Braves in nine seasons total 314. Miracle Man Stallings, as previously shown, set one record the first year he was doing his master builder act by trying out forty-six men. Nineteen hundred and thirteen was the season in question, and among the men who then worked in Boston for the first time were Dick Rudolph, Bill James, Paul Strand, George Davis, Eugene Cocrchan, Bert Whaling, Fred Mitchell, Charley Schmidt, Oscar Dugey, Charley Deal, Leslie Mann and Joe Connolly—a pretty good haul for one year. Former Braves with other major league teams are Bill Sweeney, Charley Herzog, Beals Becker, Hub Purdue, Arthur Butler, Wilbur Good, Arthur Bues, Tom Griffith and Jay Kirke.

With a player limit fans will get a chance to become better acquainted with the men on the teams. So will the managers.

THE GOOD JUDGE'S FRIENDS ARE SPREADING THE NEWS NOW.



JUDGE, I'VE BEEN USING TOBACCO FOR FORTY YEARS AND WILL CONTINUE,- BUT I'VE NEVER FOUND ANY THAT JUST SUITED ME.
THEN MY FRIEND SIMPSON CAN TELL YOU SOMETHING INTERESTING.
I'VE TRIED THEM ALL, AND THE REAL TOBACCO CHEW SATISFIES. GIVE IT A QUALITY TEST. THAT'S ALL.

A MAN never forgets his first introduction to the little chew that satisfies. Let him get the comfort of the Real Tobacco Chew and it's good-bye to the big wad for all time. More than that, he's glad to share the discovery with his friends.

A little chew of pure, rich, mellow tobacco—cut fine, short shred—seasoned and sweetened just enough, cuts out so much of the grinding and spitting.

Take a very small chew—less than one-quarter the old size. It will be more satisfying than a mouthful of ordinary tobacco. Just nibble on it until you find the strength chew that suits you. Tuck it away. Then let it rest. See how easily and evenly the real tobacco taste comes, how it satisfies without grinding, how much less you have to spit, how few chews you take to be tobacco satisfied. That's why it is The Real Tobacco Chew. That's why it costs less in the end.

It is a ready chew, cut fine and short shred so that you won't have to grind on it with your teeth. Grinding on ordinary candied tobacco makes you spit too much.

The taste of pure, rich tobacco does not need to be covered up with molasses and licorice. Notice how the salt brings out the rich tobacco taste in "Right-Cut."

One small chew takes the place of two big chews of the old kind.

GRAIN TRADERS PLAY BILLIARDS

A billiard tournament is in progress between traders of the Duluth Board of Trade. There are some real cue sharks among the grain men and some very interesting games are looked for during the course of the tourney. The following games have been played to date:

George F. Foster, 50; E. H. Harbison, 42.

Earl White, 50; R. A. Bissonette, 47.

F. Falk, 50; W. H. Hellier, 44.

W. R. McCarthy, 50; W. Joyce, 46.

H. J. La Bree, 50; B. V. Lucemore, 0. (Forfeit.)

W. Starkey, 50; W. W. Bleecher, 40.

Second Round.

White, 50; Foster, 42.

McCarthy, 50; Falk, 49.

Starkey, 50; Lucemore, 40.

The three winners will play off the contest with a Round Robin affair early next week.

OLDHAM IS JOYFUL; CURLING IS POSSIBLE.

John Oldham defeated Dr. Catterson last evening in a curling contest for the Little & Nolte buttons. The genial John had his opponent down, 15 to 7, at the end of the game.

A continuance of the present sharp weather may result in some more games being played. The ice is fine and those wishing to have a farewell twirl at the roaring game before little riverlets run down the sheets had best come out while the coming out is good.

TAME AT TOURNEY.

Two Shifts and No New Marks Set at Peoria Contest.

Peoria, Ill., March 27.—Yesterday was an off day for bowlers at the tournament of the American Bowling congress.

In the singles and doubles, only three shifts were made in the ten leaders and at no time during the day's bowling were the top-notchers in danger of being displaced by their opponents.

In the fives the Barry Ketteler team of Chicago is still leading with 2,907.

In the doubles, H. Allen and R. Allen of Detroit hold the lead with 1,297.

W. H. Pierce of Pueblo, Colo., who broke the American Bowling congress records in the singles by making 711 Thursday, had little competition yesterday.

DOOK AFTER PEG PLAYERS

Darby Would Sign the Pick of Last Year's Maroon Team.

Darby O'Brien has had lines out for Swalm, Baker, Kirkham, Kirke and Bachant of last year's Winnipeg team. In answer to his inquiries but one reply has been received. Kirkham, the crack outfielder of the Maroons, wrote that he wanted $200 per month to play with the Sox. According to the present ideas of the local management, there is small chance that Kirkham, star though he is, will be seen in a White Sox uniform.

There may be some difficulty engendered over the signing of some of the Winnipeg players of last year. The team belongs to Pulford, according to the decision of the Northern league and the board of arbitration of the Association of Professional Baseball Clubs. If Pulford does not sign these players, they may be free agents; but should Pulford declare that he is going to make use of them, there will be one of those queer technical points of baseball law.

Just why Horace Webb should allow other club managers to attempt to pick the stars of the Winnipeg team is something that appeals to some followers of the game as peculiar.

President John Burmeister of the Northern league is expected back in Minneapolis today. Several entanglements of the schedule will be taken up when large John throws open his roll-top desk.

MOSTLY TALK AT FEDERAL MEETING

Some Changes in Players—Stovall May Be Deposed.

New York, March 27.—All Federal league clubs were represented at the special meeting held here for the purpose of adopting a playing schedule. President Gilmore and E. E. Gates of Indianapolis, the league's legal adviser, said last night that the transfer of the Indianapolis club to Newark, N. J., had been ratified and that the greater part of the session had been taken up in discussing legal matters in connection with the Indianapolis-Newark transfer, as well as the retention of the Kansas City club in Kansas City.

President Gilmore announced that Pitcher Fred Falkenberg would remain with the Newark club, but Benny Kauff, outfielder, would play with the Brooklyn Federals. First Baseman Kechnie, the former Pittsburg and New York American player who had been holding out for better terms, signed a Newark contract yesterday. Both Kauff and Falkenberg had been slated to go to Brooklyn.

The arrangements as to the disposal of players seemed to be satisfactory to Harry Sinclair and P. T. Powers, the owners of the Newark club, but the question of an exchange of Managers George Stovall and William Phillips between Kansas City and Newark, while under discussion, was not settled. It was said on good authority that Phillips would manage the Newarks and Stovall probably would play first base under him, leaving an opening for a new manager for Kansas City. It was said that the disposition of these two managers would be settled today.

According to President Gilmore's statement the playing season will begin April 10, the date originally announced. The schedule will be made public in a few days before that date, he added.

ST. LOUIS TEAMS OPEN BALL SEASON

Cards Have Changes But Browns Are Veterans in Spring Series.

St. Louis, Mo., March 27.—The St. Louis Nationals and the local club of the American league were ready for the opening game of the annual spring series today. In the National's lineup several new faces will be seen, while the Americans most likely will present a team of veterans.

With Manager Huggins out of the game because of slow conditioning, Butler, who worked at shortstop last season, will go to second base. Dar-linger, a recruit, will work at short. Long, another new man, will start in left field and Dolan will be shifted to center.

Manager Rickey announced that in all probability he would send a team of veterans into the first game for the first few innings at least.

Probable batteries—Nationals, Niehaus and Snyder; Americans, Wellman and Severeid.

Atlanta, Ga., March 27.—The Boston Nationals defeated the Atlanta Southern association team 5 to 1 here yesterday.

Houston, Tex., March 27.—The Cleveland American regulars defeated the Houston Texas league club 4 to 3 yesterday.

New Orleans, La., March 27.—The New Orleans club of the Southern association defeated the Detroit Americans here yesterday 6 to 4.

Jacksonville, Fla., March 27.—The Philadelphia Nationals defeated the Athletics here yesterday 13 to 6.

Tampa, Fla., March 27.—The Chicago Cubs defeated the Louisville American association team 5 to 1 here yesterday.

BILLIARDS

Philadelphia, March 27.—With a high run of 240 in last night's contest, Willie Hoppe, the professional champion, forged ahead of Joseph Mayer, the amateur title holder, in their five-block handicap match at 18.2 balk-line billiards. Hoppe ran 484, bringing his total for the three blocks played to 1,200, while Mayer gathered 239 for a total of 839.

Mayer's highest run was 84 and his average 19 11-12; Hoppe averaged 40 4-12.

Chicago, March 27.—Three men are tied for first place in the world's championship three-cushion billiard tournament, the last game of which was won on last night by John Daly of New York, defeating Alfred De Oro, 50 to 46 in eighty innings. Daly had a high run of 4 and De Oro made a 5.

William Huse of Chicago and George Moore and John Daly of New York will now have to play two post-series games to decide the championship. Each has won nine games and lost two.

LOOK FOR BREAKING OF TRACK RECORDS.

Chicago, March 27.—Records are expected to fall tonight in the sixth annual indoor track and field meet held under the auspices of the Northwestern university. Solomon Butler, a negro representing the Rock Island, Ill., high school, who equalled the world's record for sixty yards in the trials last night, will compete in the dashes, high hurdles, broad jump and shot put. He is expected to lower national amateur records in at least two events.

Track stars from thirty-eight preparatory and high schools in the Central West will compete.

MOORHEAD GETS IN LEAGUE AGAIN

Will Co-operate With Fargo in Maintaining Team.

Fargo, N. D., March 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—Moorhead will co-operate with Fargo in a team to represent both towns in the Northern baseball league this year. It was a joint affair last season but in the fall Moorhead announced it would not participate this year and Fargo was going it alone, intending to make a new park at the state fair grounds, when the Moorhead Commercial club held a meeting and asked that last year's arrangement be renewed.

All games will now be played in the Moorhead park.

Fitwells to Meet.

The Fitwell Baseball team will hold a meeting at the West Duluth Athletic club rooms, 230 North Central avenue, March 31, at 8 o'clock. Preparations will be made for the coming season. Candidates for the team are urged to be present.

PLACED ON PAROLE.

Count, Convicted in Milwaukee of Forgery, Given Another Chance.

Milwaukee, Wis., March 27.—Count Curt Von Knoblesdorf, convicted of forgery here and sentenced to serve two years in Waupun, was placed on parole for two years by Governor Philip on Friday. When sentence was pronounced last week, the count swallowed poison, which he had smuggled into his cell and for several days hovered between life and death in a local hospital.

Influential Milwaukee citizens and attorneys made pleas for clemency and offers of permanent employment were made should pardon be granted.

The count, after floating several bogus checks in Milwaukee recently, fled the city in company with a Milwaukee woman and was apprehended in St. Paul, from which place he was brought for trial.

Wisconsin Stock Regulation.

Madison, Wis., March 27.—Governor E. L. Philip yesterday issued a quarantine proclamation declaring that no cattle, sheep, goats or swine shall be shipped into Wisconsin from any state through an infected state, where such shipments originate or pass through an infected state except such animals as are consigned to Milwaukee or Cudahy yards for immediate slaughter.

FROM A COAL MINE TO THE WORLD'S BATTING TITLE

Jake Daubert Had a Difficult Task of Convincing Big League Magnates of His Worth as a Budding Baseball Star.

Jake Daubert had quite a time of it endeavoring to convince magnates that he was a fit person to cover first base. He, himself, probably did not have an idea that it was in him to shine on the diamond. He was a common everyday boy, born in Llewellyn, Pa., on May 4, 1885, and there were no hootings of owls or whirrs of martens at his birth. Llewellyn is truly a prosaic little town, and from its name one can imagine that it was founded and filled by and with Welshmen, mostly coaldiggers.

Well, even the Welsh weere infected with baseball before they could light their second pipe. So it came to pass that the Wyoming Valley league was formed, and Daubert strutted before the people as a pitcher for the Lykens, Pa., team. In a moment of inspiration during the bubbub of the season, Jake left the stone (it must have been a stone instead of a rubber), and walked over to the first base. From that time, 1906, to this he covered no other position. Furthermore, he twice has been the batting champion of the National league.

In 1907 he secured a berth with the Marion, Ohio, team of the Ohio and Pennsylvania league. He was then a big boy, full of health and ambition, and with people depending on him for support. Pay at Marion did not come as regularly as his contract called for, and Jake finally made up his mind, in order to fill the mouths at home, to go back to digging coal. He was the best player on the team, and his loss would probably mean the disbandment of the Marion crowd. Therefore, Oswald Wollenwebber, the head of the club, collected enough money to square accounts with Daubert and hold him in line. Marion, by the way, finished absolutely last in the race that year, and it was the second and last year of its connection with O. & P. league.

Paid $1 to Clinch Bargain.

Late in 1907 the Cleveland club took a fancy to Jake and made a proposition for the purchase of his services. Marion, proud of its mainstay and determined to hold him to the end of the season, agreed to sell his release to Cleveland for $1,200, and Cleveland paid $1 down to clinch the bargain. Marion also demanded a player in addition to the cash, and was given Scotty Ingerton, for 1908 delivery.

In 1908 Marion cast its lot with the Ohio State league, but Ingerton was not on its list of players. He drifted among the minors until 1911, when the Chicago National league team got him from Altoona and immediately traded him and Pitcher Frank Pfeffer to the Boston National league club for Dave Shean. Scotty finished the season with the Braves as general utility man, and it was his only year in the big league. In 1913 the Boston club released him to Indianapolis, of the American Association. He remained with the Hoosiers until May 15, 1913. Then his release was sold to the Louisville club for $3,000 and he is still with the Colonels.

Daubert reported to the Naps in 1908, but never played a championship game with them. He went South with them for spring practice, but there was really no need for his services. George Hickman, Bill Hinchman, Larry Lajoie and Henry Bemis played the corner. Daubert was sent to the Nashville team, for which he played the entire season of 1908.

In 1909 Cleveland recalled him from Nashville, but once again neglected him, as Stovall was still on the list. Jake was sent to the Toledo club of the American Association, an adjunct to the Naps, and there he played first base as well as he could until the end of May, when Jerry Freeman was secured from the Washington club. Now, Jerry had made quite a reputation with the Senators in 1908 and was considered the best in his class. However, in 1909, he showed signs of going back, and was entirely eliminated when Washington got famous Jiggs Donahue in a trade with the Chicago American league club. In that trade Washington secured Donahue, Nick Altrock and Clifford Cravath in exchange for Bill Burns, the pitcher.

Jake Loses First Base Job.

Freeman, who is nowhere now, ousted Daubert out of his job at Toledo. Jake went South, joined the Memphis team, and became the leading batter and the leading first baseman of the Southern association. Cleveland had given up all claim to his services, and so Brooklyn stepped in and drafted him for 1910.

Bill Dahlen, who was one of a number of managers of the Brooklyn team in 1908, took hold of the Brooklyns in 1910, and he it was who captured Daubert. Tim Jordan had been the first baseman of the Dodgers since 1906, and was regarded as one of the best in the land. A few years previous to 1910 the New York National league club was reported to have offered Brooklyn a large sum of money for the services of Jordan and Outfielder Harry Lumley, the amount figuring somewhere between $8,000 and $10,000. In 1910, however, Tim did not play a game at first base for Brooklyn, Daubert being placed at that station right from the start, and has not left the corner since.

Jordan, early in May, was released to the Toronto club, but did not join the Canucks until 1911. Lumley was let go three weeks after Tim drew his release, and went to Binghamton as manager. This shows the mutability of baseball. Neither of these one-time stars could have left the National league or passed by the American league unless every club of both organizations waived claim to their service, and not a club wanted them.

Lumley Does Much Traveling.

Jordan has been playing with the Torontos ever since and is at present on their reserve list of 1915. Lumley had a more varied experience. He was with Binghamton in 1910 and 1911. In 1912 Brooklyn recalled him, probably to save him from being drafted, and then shot him back to Binghamton, where he was relieved of the management early in the season, but continued to play in the outfield. In 1913 he was with no less than three clubs. He began with Binghamton, was released to Troy, and finished the season with Scranton. His anatomy assumed undue proportions and seriously interfered with his work. After his Scranton experience he dropped out of the orbit altogether.

There are at present only five men on the team who were members of the Dodgers when Daubert joined them in 1910. They are John Hummel, Nap Rucker, Zach Wheat, Otto Miller and Jack Dalton. Hummel is the oldest man in point of service. He became a Dodger on Sept. 12, 1906, coming from Holyoke. He was placed at second base, but it cannot be said that John ever held any position permanently. He is undoubtedly one of the best utility men the game ever had, playing with equal skill any position in the infield or the outfield.

Rucker is the second oldest man. He joined the Brooklyns in 1907, being drafted from the Augusta club of the South Atlantic league.

Nearly three years later, on Sept. 11, 1909, Zach Wheat played his first game with the Brooklyns. He was put into left field, a position he has occupied continuously since.

Miller and Dalton joined the Brooklyns, the same year with Daubert, Miller coming from Duluth and Dalton from Des Moines.

Yale Leads in Gymnastics.

New York, March 27.—Yale won the annual intercollegiate gymnastic championship at the Columbia gymnasium here last night with a score of 18 points. Princeton finished second with 12 points, and the University of Pennsylvania, third, with 9 points.

Flush Your Blood Get it Cleansed

Remarkable Remedy That Works All Through Your Body

When you put a tablespoonful of S. S. S. into your stomach it gets straight into your blood. In less than five minutes it has become a wave of restorative influence wherever the blood has circulated. Does this read like magic? But it is absolutely true. Those powerful digestive juices in the stomach can not change the medicinal effect of S. S. S. The liver can not burn it. The lungs, skin and kidneys excrete it only after S. S. S. has set in motion millions of cells and nerves to throw off the countless germs that have infested every part of the body. And as S. S. S. continues to battle those troublesome pests that gather in the form of pimples, boils, eczema, acne, catarrh, rheumatism and other so-called blood disorders, it rouses into action a myriad of strange but well-understood corpuscles called luecocytes that actually devour or change or convert disease germs so they are readily and quickly cast out of the body. It is probably the best appreciated blood medcine known. You will find S. S. S. on sale in nearly every drug store in the U. S. Get a bottle today. And if your case is peculiar, write to the Medical Department, The Swift Specific Co., 105 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. It is conducted by a noted physician.

The Motor World

WAR BIG HELP TO AUTO TRADE

Tourists Will See America in Automobiles Next Summer.

Hugh Chalmers Gets Flood of Mail From Prospective Tourists.

Mars has motorized the gentle art of taking vacations.

Hugh Chalmers, president of the Chalmers Motor company of Detroit, declares that his mail bags are jammed with letters from car owners who assert that instead of taking their annual trips to Europe this year, they are going to have a look at America from the tonneaus of their touring cars.

"The ignorance of America on the part of some of these prospective tourists," observed the Detroit motor magnate with a chuckle, "is something pathetic. Many of them look forward to prowling about among American motor trails back of the steering wheel with all the naviete and artlessness of children about to cross the threshold of some fairy land.

"They will find their homespun vacationing on the great American playground all and more than they are looking forward to. Judging from the floods of mail I am receiving, not only most of these who usually go abroad for summer touring, but many of those who usually spend their vacations at inland summer resorts or on the seashore, are planning to go cross country motoring instead this year.

"The democratizing influence of the motorized vacation will prove great. It is one thing to whirl across the continent in the seclusion of a Pullman. It is another thing to cross by easy stages in your car, pausing to dicker for grub, gasoline, or a lodging for the night at a farm house, ranch house, or some cross-roads inn. Every motorist who crosses the continent in his car for a visit to the expositions on the Pacific coast will return home an incomparably better American for having undertaken the jaunt. Democracy is a matter of getting acquainted."

The manly questions with which Chalmers owners are deluging the Detroit factory regarding motor trails, costs of various tours, service stations and accommodations along different routes, indicate an unprecedented touring year in this country.

Europe's war has brought the simple outdoor life into the greatest vogue in years, according to the testimony of hosts of Chalmers owners.

CADILLAC PROVES THEORY.

Tire manufacturers' theory that, among other things, continuous pulling power from the motor, and ability to start a car without a jerk, contribute to longer tire wear, seems to have been proved by a Cadillac eight demonstrator in Los Angeles, Cal.

The fact that this car has been run 6,200 miles on the same set of tires, without a single change, puncture or blowout, is regarded by the Los Angeles tire men as one of the greatest demonstrations of many seasons.

The tires show but little evidence of their long service; and if their appearance is to be relied upon they are good for several thousand miles over and above the 6,200 miles of service they have already contributed.

This showing is remarkable considering that this Cadillac is a seven-passenger model, and has been used almost exclusively for demonstrating. Almost without exception, it has carried seven passengers on the demonstrating trips, and it has been driven into the hills to show its action on heavy grades. Heavily loaded, it has also been driven at high speed, and the runs it has made have been far from easy, so far as the tires are concerned. It has also made one very fast round trip between Los Angeles and San Diego.

1915 CHALMERS LIMOUSINE

One of the handsomest cars seen on Duluth streets this spring is the 1915 Chalmers limousine, seven-passenger model. This car is on exhibition in the showrooms of the Mutual Auto company.

HAYNES ORDERS EXCEED CAPACITY

Five Carloads of Machinery Are Received to Enlarge Plant.

"Five carloads of new machinery have just been received by the Haynes Automobile company, Kokomo, Ind.," states M. W. Turner, local distributor of America's first car. "Orders for the Haynes light six cars have increased to such an extent that the capacity of the factory has been taxed to the limit, and additional equipment has become imperative. The factory is again running twenty-four hours a day.

"The crowned fenders, which have heretofore been purchased from outside sources, will now be made entirely within the Haynes factory, in conformity with the policy of the Haynes company of manufacturing the complete car. The new fender-making equipment consists of presses and rolls for forming the crown or convex surface. The most economical method of producing such fenders is that of rolling the fender proper and pressing the ends.

"The drop forging department has also been increased in capacity. Drop forgings are used in the chassis of the 1915 Haynes light six models to the exclusion of castings. New drop forge hammers have been installed to handle the increasing demand for forgings.

"The Haynes Automobile company is enjoying the most prosperous season it has ever experienced. With the exception of a short time in January, the factory has worked overtime since last October. The number of cars actually sold and placed in the hands of owners during February is over three times that of any preceding February. Not only is the number of cars sold larger, but there is far wider distribution of the Haynes cars over the United States. In spite of the European war, new distributors have contracted for Haynes cars in The Hague, Holland, Copenhagen, Denmark, and Dunedin, New Zealand.

"These facts indicate, of course, the extreme popularity of the Haynes light six. Our prospects were never brighter and we anticipate a record-breaking spring business."

PERFECT BALANCE FOR AUTOMOBILES

Buyers Are Apt to Overlook Vital Points, Says Hudson Chief.

(By Roy D. Chapin, President Hudson Motor Car Company.)

Experienced motorists are well aware of the many advantages secured by the purchase of a perfectly balanced automobile.

To the first buyer, or to the man who has not given the matter much thought the subject of proper balance often does not appeal. He is apt to select a car from superficial motives. Too much stress often is laid upon mere color, finish and relatively less important details. And the really vital points are apt to be overlooked. One buyer wonders why the car he selected is a "tire eater" or a "gasoline drinker" as such cars are dubbed by the motorwise. Another cannot understand how his neighbor drives safely and confidently over wet and slippery roads with never a skid or slip.

The answer to many of these questions is found in balance. A properly balanced car has its weight evenly distributed on all four tires. There is no wobbling or swaying in its motion. Tires all wear evenly and gradually. Because of the absence of jerk or jolt the motor is enabled to do its work far more effectively. A car has little tendency to "skid" when all four wheels grip the road with equal pressure.

Howard E. Coffin, the designer of the Hudson sixes has been called a "crank" on balance. Yet those who know realize that it is this very fact of accurate balancing of his cars that has made them such excellent performers on all classes of road surface. This practically perfect balance, combined with light weight and well proportioned power has much to do with the satisfaction that all Hudson users find in their cars. Not many motor car salesmen are well informed on this subject of balance. Buyers must not expect much information from the average salesman. Yet the thing is so perfectly clear and logical, once it is brought to a buyer's attention that he is very sure to think of it in considering the purchase of a car, especially when the car he is offered very plainly is lacking in this important requisite.

NOTED SPEED KING GETS PROMOTION

Georges Boillot Is Made Lieutenant and Given Important French Position.

Paris, March 27.—Georges Boillot, who, since the outbreak of the war, has been a military motorist on the headquarters staff of the French army, has been made a lieutenant and put in charge of a motor convoy carrying provisions and ammunition to the front. Victor Rigal, another member of the Peugeot team, has received the same promotion and also is in charge of a motor convoy. The story that Boillot has been chauffeur to Gen. Joffre and was dismissed for daring is a myth. The Peugeot champion has been on the headquarters staff, but has never driven the head of the French army, Jules Goux is driving the military governor of Belfort.

Jean Chassagne, the Sunbeam champion, has just been transferred from the wheel of a motor truck to a military post at the Clerget aeroplane motor factory, where he is engaged in tuning up motors for the flying brigade of the French army. Chassagne underwent all his military training in the French navy, doing battleship, destroyer and submarine service. Beyond a certain age ex-navy men are drafted into the French army, and it is in virtue of this role that Chassagne was at first made an army truck driver.

Another crack racer who is at the wheel of a motor truck is Louis Wagner, twice winner of the Vanderbilt cup and second in last year's French grand prix. Arthur Duray, runner-up in the last Indianapolis race, now is on the president's motor staff, and directly attached to Minister Viviani, whom he carries on trips to the front in a 30-horse power Turcat-Mery car.

Albert Guyot still is in the Argonne district, driving the general in command of the Fifth army corps. He is handling a 20-horse power Panhard limousine. Guyot has been in active service on the front for seven months, during which time he has not had a single hour's leave and never has been sent farther to the rear than the railhead.

PLANS TO STAGE 1,000-MILE RACE

Speedway Director Will Continue His Arrangements Despite Ridicule.

Indianapolis, Ind., March 27.—"This isn't the first time the speedway has been laughed at," said A. C. Newby, a director of the Indianapolis motor speedway, when informed that certain drivers were laughing at his plan to stage a 1,000-mile race for winning makes of cars, on the ground that Marmon and National were out of the racing game, while Peugeot and Delage could not participate because of the war.

"They laughed at us," continued Mr. Newby, "when we built our track. They laughed again when we announced a prize of $50,000. We are quite content to let them laugh, therefore. When we get through we'll have the last laugh, as usual."

The race will be run, says Mr. Newby, provided his plan is accepted, of course, in place of the regularly scheduled event in 1917 or 1918. No less than five teams may be entered, probably more. The title of the event will be "Speedway Winners' Invitational Futurity." At the time it is held it is anticipated that all the car builders eligible will be back in the racing game, also that the war will be over so that foreign entrants may compete.

BETTER EQUIPMENT FOR MANUFACTURE

Franklin Agent Tells How Best Results Are Obtained.

"Better equipment and better results," says Joseph T. Peacha, Jr., local agent for the car, "are constantly the object of the Franklin manufacturers. Instead of having to correct defects due to the process, the defects are being eliminated by changing the method of doing the work. Franklin manufacturing is opposed to doing things twice when once will bring the desired results, if done properly.

"Probably no better illustrations of the extent to which this policy is carried can be made than the improved equipment in the paint shop, where not only better work is obtained than by less modern methods, but production is greatly facilitated.

"Franklin painting, except, of course, the varnish, is applied throughout by air brush, a process that has the quality of distributing the paint uniformly over the entire surface, and not thick one place and thin another, as must naturally result from the use of the old hair brush method. The varnish coat of the Franklin is applied in a way that eliminates brush marks, and gives the closest approach to a mirror finish, that is possible to obtain.

"New drying ovens in the enameling department are about to be installed, at a cost of $12,000, for the sole purpose of bettering the quality of the work and making the operation easier to perform. The japan will cover the surface evenly, with the absence of all runs. Dust marks will be eliminated, and the old-style rubbing operation will be done away with, on account of the cleanliness of the coat and its uniformity.

"It might seem that the old method served its purpose. It does in its own way, for the quality of Franklin work has always been up to a high standard. But there is a better process, and that is what the Franklin manufacturing department wants. They are willing to throw out the old equipment and put in the new just to get the right kind of work."

BALANCE IN AUTO TIRES.

Make-up More Important Than Amount of Rubber.

What makes a tire give big mileage?

This question is always the go-ahead signal for warm discussion among motorists and tire men. Users of tires are beginning to ask themselves this question and are looking for the correct answer with increasing insistence because they realize that it is possible to pay for needless materials in a tire.

As a matter of fact mere extra weight of rubber will not give extra mileage. Neither will added layers of fabric necessarily add more miles of service. If an over balance of rubber is used, the carcass of the tire will give out long before the tread is worn down and the motorist finds several pounds of rubber on his hands which he cannot use—and which he paid many dollars for.

On the other hand if extra plies of fabric are used in a tire they have to be paid for, but the tread will be gone long before the carcass, and the money for extra carcass is wasted.

The real, long mileage tire is the tire with perfect balance between carcass and tread so that as much or more mileage is given as any extra thick tire could give, without costing the motorist so much.

PLANT WORKS NIGHT AND DAY

Demand for Studebakers Taxes Capacity of Five Factories.

Using every possible man that efficiency will permit in the five Studebaker automobile factories at Detroit, the company is forced to work some departments at night to keep up with the demand for cars. Not only is the American demand far larger than at the same time a year ago, but orders from both England and Australia far exceed those on file at this time last year. Reviving business conditions in Canada have caused an influx of orders to the Canadian factory at Walkerville, Ont., and 200 additional men have been added to the force there.

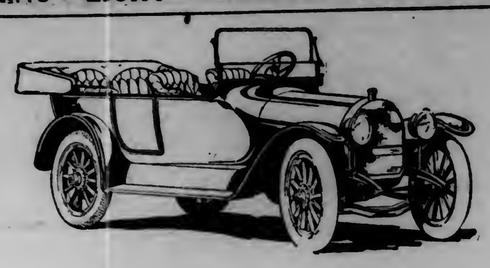
"The present situation, demanding maximum production, is gratifying in the extreme," said E. R. Benson, vice president in charge of sales of the Studebaker corporation, in commenting on the necessity of night work. "We are crowding every department to get 100 per cent production and 100 per cent efficiency. Just now we are turning out over 200 automobiles a day, and still we are not able to catch up with our orders.

"In a sense, we were prepared for the jitney bus demand, which, originating in the west, is now sweeping the country. We already had a body adapted to the economical carrying of passengers. But we were not prepared at first for the great number of orders that have been pouring in upon us from excited dealers who are being pushed for immediate delivery by men who want to get the cream of this business with our twelve-passenger bus. Fifteen of these vehicles were sold in Kansas City in one week. Other western centers of population were not far behind.

"The demand for another Studebaker type—the delivery wagon—is indicative of better business conditions and the further development of a new system of freight transportation. We have found on inquiry that these are for suburban and even interurban use, as well as for city delivery purposes. All an enterprising man needs is a machine to work up a profitable business in the handling of lighter freight. It can be done more cheaply and more expeditiously by the auto than by any other means. The men who are first in the field, of course, will monopolize the better routes and the good roads. Perhaps that accounts in part for the present rush to buy Studebaker machines.

"As for touring cars, it seems as if everyone in the country is trying to buy at the same time. I believe the great advertising of California expositions with the attendant publicity given the trans-continental highways may have a great deal to do with the automobile activity. Out of 600 stations on the Lincoln highway, about 500 are the homes of Studebaker service stations."

KING "EIGHT" ARRIVES IN THE CITY



THE NEW KING.

Yesterday afternoon Joseph T. Peacha, Jr., manager of the Interstate Auto company, received the first eight-cylinder King to arrive in the city. This is the second type of the new eight-cylinder cars to arrive in Duluth.

Here is what the King factory officials say about their new "eight:"

"With its added four cylinders, the body is only two inches longer and wider than it was last year, and the wheelbase and tread remain the same, namely, 113 and 56 inches respectively. The keynote of the car is its simplicity, which is particularly noticeable in the motor, and is a feature sure to commend itself to the purchaser.

"The engine is the V type, with two blocks of four cylinders each, set at 90 degrees to each other, the design being L head with the intake manifold and heads integral with each block.

"In carrying out the definite purpose of producing a car which should be in the highest degree simple, convenient, low in price and economical in operation, no sacrifice has been made of strength and stability, and the whole construction is that of sturdiness and dependability, which has always been noticeable in the King. The V type motor permits a construction with few parts and eliminates stresses."

COLLEGE MEN GIVE CARS TO RED CROSS

Yale and Harvard Students Sink Rivalry in Common Cause.

Despite the intense rivalry which prevails between Yale men and Harvard men at all times and places, and which annually breaks out in full fury about the middle of each November, the students of the two great universities have united on one subject.

They have between them presented seventeen new ambulances to the American Red Cross society, to be used in alleviating the sufferings on European battlefields.

This act is a significant testimony to the sterling character of the American college man, and to his capacity for the understanding and execution of the broadest principles of humanity.

The formal presentation of the automobiles took place at the headquarters of the society in Washington, D. C.

The bodies are mounted on Ford chassis, which insure lightness and durability in the rough traveling with which they will meet. Each car is designed to carry three men.

Khaki is used as a covering material throughout, and the side, rear and front curtains are of the same material. Regulation stretchers form a part of the equipment of each ambulance. On the sides of each machine are large canvas signs bearing a red cross and the words, "The American Red Cross Society." Above the cross is the word "Neutrality."

The name of the university presenting the car is on the body in prominent letters. Twelve of the machines were presented by Yale students and five by Harvard undergraduates.

OVERLAND COMPANY SETS NEW RECORD

Cars Valued at $330,185 Shipped to Actual Buyers in a Day.

As a strong indication of the upward trend of business conditions in this country, the Willys-Overland company points to the remarkable record in shipments which recently has been made at the big Toledo factory.

On Monday, March 1, the first day following the biggest month so far experienced by the Overland company, 302 cars, valued at $330,185, were shipped to actual purchasers. This is the largest number of shipments that ever left the Overland factory in a single day. Of the total number of cars, 87, valued at $128,325, were of the Overland six-cylinder model, for which the demand is steadily increasing.

To carry the one day's shipment of motor cars, 102 large freight cars were required, making a solid train measuring 4,742 feet, or almost a full mile in length.

Although February contained only 24 actual shipping days, the Overland company's records show a total business exceeding that of last October, which had 27 shipping days and which was previously the company's record month. The increase in average daily shipments was 20 per cent. Shipments for the month were 31 per cent greater than those of February, 1914, and double those of the same month two years ago.

CREDITORS GET DIVIDENDS.

Receiver for Four Bankrupt Companies to Make Issue.

Detroit, Mich., March 27.—The creditors of four bankrupt motor car manufacturing concerns are receiving or will shortly receive dividends from the Detroit Trust company, receiver for the concerns. The creditors of the Lozier Motor company are to receive a first dividend of 5 per cent, which will total about $160,000; the first dividend to the creditors of the American Volturette company will be 10 per cent and total about $50,000. A fourth dividend of 5 per cent has been ordered paid to creditors of the Flanders Manufacturing company, making the total to date 50 per cent or about $500,000. Application was also made to the court to pay a final dividend to the creditors of the Warren Motor Car company, making a total of 20 per cent or about $80,000.

DOUBLE AID FOR AUTOMOBILE MEN

Rittman Discovery and Decision in Broken Wheel Case Cited.

"Two developments that vitally concern automobile owners are the Rittman discovery and the decision of the United States court of appeals in the broken wheel case," says J. T. Peacha, Jr., local agent for the KiselKar.

"Through the 100 per cent or more increase in the production of gasoline, which the Rittman discovery seems to assure, the cost of motor fuel should proportionately decrease. It therefore seems certain that we will have eight or nine cent gasoline, which means an immense aggregate saving to the motorists of America.

"And yet this reduction will, more than anything else, emphasize the comparative unimportance to the individual owner of fuel cost. While it will remove the only plausible argument that makers of underweight cars have been able to advance, it will turn the attention of the prospective buyer, who rightly looks for an economical car, to the really important maintenance items of repairs and depreciation.

"The decision in the broken wheel case seems to settle one thing—that the assembler of a car is not necessarily responsible in damages for an accident due to a defective part manufactured by some one else. If this is sound, the purchaser of an assembled car must look to a great many different concerns for safe and satisfactory operation of his automobile. This is distinctly a boost for the manufactured car, the car all of whose important parts are built in the plant of the company whose name the vehicle bears."

LINES TO CO-OPERATE.

Jitney and Traction Company to Interchange Passengers.

Portland, Or., March 27.—What is believed by General Manager Hild of the Portland Railway Light & Power company to be the first traffic agreement so far entered into between a trolley system and a jitney bus company has just been made, the contract having been signed by the street car company and the Auto Bus company for the interchange of business in the east side district.

By virtue of the contract, the jitney and the street cars will interchange passengers upon a transfer basis. The jitney busses will serve a considerable residence district now without street car service, and frequent bus service will be maintained to offer rapid transit to the street car line. The contract runs for two years.

Harroun expects to show the foreigners something in the way of speed this year, his cars already being practically fit.

GET TORSION MACHINE.

Dodge Brothers Install a Rare Testing Machine.

"We have just installed a new torsion machine in our laboratory the only duplicate of which is owned by the Japanese government," says F. E. McCleary, chief metallurgist for Dodge Bros. "This machine is known as a torsion automatic, autographic tester, and so far as I know, is the only one in existence with the exception of the one sold to Japan, and now being exhibited at the Panama-Pacific exposition.

"The new machine is designed expressly for measuring the torsion or twisting strength of steel used in the manufacture of moving parts. The distinctly novel part of the machine is the autographic attachment which records in ink on a graduated chart the torsion curve of the particular part under test. Formerly this measurement was calculated more or less accurately by an attendant, but the new device not only does away with human attention, but is absolutely correct in every particular. The collection of twisted steel crankshafts, connecting rods and other parts, which form part of Dodge Bros.' exhibit at the Chicago show, are the work of this machine, and testify as to the remarkable uniformity of its operation."

MOTORCYCLE NOTES

One of the most interesting motorcycle trips made last fall was a 600-mile run into the Catskills by a party of Brooklyn riders. Equipped with tents, sleeping blankets and cooking utensils, the cyclists headed their machines for the mountains. After a couple days of riding they found an ideal camping spot in the foot hills of the Adirondacks, about ten miles from Lake George, and only a short distance from a small town where they could obtain supplies. Here they spent about a week fishing, resting and exploring the hills.

• • •

In order to demonstrate to the Canadian war department the utility of the motorcycle for military purposes, the Toronto Motorcycle club is planning a relay race from Windsor to Ottawa, a distance of 400 miles. It is proposed that the riders deliver a message from Windsor to the minister of militia, Samuel Hughes, at Ottawa. Canada is considering the establishment of a military motorcycle corps which, it is hoped, will develop into a Dominion-wide organization.

• • •

Every motorcyclist in Maryland is invited to participate in what is to be one of the biggest endurance runs ever staged in the East. Howard A. French, a dealer of Baltimore, is promoting the event, the details of which have not yet been completely worked out.

• • •

Lewis Bradbury, a wealthy ranch owner near Monrovia, Cal., uses a motorcycle altogether for making hurried cross-country trips.

• • •

An interesting motorcycle hill-climbing contest was recently made at St. Louis, Mo., when a number of riders chugged up a 60 per cent grade, some of them even carrying tandem passengers.

• • •

Motorcycles are to take the place of twenty horses which were recently auctioned off by the Pittsburg police department.

• • •

A large number of special delivery carriers of the Brooklyn postoffice are using motorcycles.

• • •

C. Glidersleeve of Woodhaven, L. I., says he has ridden his motorcycle 8,500 miles and has yet to pay his first dollar for repairs.

• • •

Reports show that there are practically 7,000 motorcycles being used by rural mail carriers in the United States.

NEW STYLE 1915 FORDS

REMEMBER FULLY EQUIPPED

Don't let our competitors tell you otherwise. They will misrepresent the facts to you, as they have done before. Don't let them fool you.

Compare these figures of cost after operating the first season of 7,500 miles with any car on the market, as an illustration: If a Ford 5-passenger, FULLY EQUIPPED with new style Cowel or Funnel dash, electric lights, top, glass front, speedometer, side and tail lamps, horn, pump, jack tools, tire repair kit, etc., costs $490 f. o. b. factory, less rebate $430 net, with any car selling at $695 with the same equipment, summed up as follows, you can readily see that your saving would be in dollars a very considerable sum. Can you afford to throw away your money recklessly?

Ford Net Cost f. o. b. factory.		Any Car $695 f. o. b. factory.
$430.00		$ 695.00
.....	Tire cost, 7,500 miles.....	58.40
34.00	Gasoline cost, 7,500 miles...	62.00
3.60	Oil cost, 7,500 miles.....	7.20
100.00	Depreciation, 7,500 miles...	345.00
25.80	Interest on investment, 6%.	41.70
$593.40	Total cost end first season..	$1,209.30
330.00	Net asset end first season...	350.00
$263.40		$ 859.30

Therefore, by deducting $593.40 from $1,209.30, being the total cost on each car at the end of the first year, the

REWARD $615.90

is yours, with practically no tire trouble, about one-half gasoline cost, one-half oil cost, much lower depreciation, lower interest on original investment, and last but not least, $265, the difference in first cost, tucked away safely in the bank to draw an interest earning for you.

Consider this argument carefully and place your order now. Don't wait if you expect a delivery.

This is the original of its type.
It is the lightest 7-passenger Six.
It is Howard E. Coffin's Light Six.
It is the Light Six chosen by 10,000 owners as the finest car built of its type.

No Uncertainty—No Risk

This car is a four-year evolution, and every detail shows the resulting refinements.

It was tested and perfected for two years before the first model came out.

Last year's model has been driven two seasons in the hands of 5,000 owners. And 5,000 this-year models have met every kind of road test.

Nearly every motorist in America knows that this car is right. Cars around him have proved it.

You know that this car is staunch.
You know that no errors exist in it.
You know how it will serve you by how it has served 10,000 others like you. And those are the things you want to know when you choose a new-type car which alters old-time standards.

The HUDSON Six-40 looks its supremacy. You can see it in finish, in beauty, in countless niceties. No HUDSON model has ever added such luster to this name. But where it excels above all is in confidence engendered by millions of miles of tests.

And HUDSON service excels in ways that will surprise you. Let us tell you what it comprises.

FARMERS' SHORT COURSE SUCCESS

While Not Largely Attended Much Good Is Gained From Talks.

Grand Rapids, Minn., March 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—The farmers' short course, which closed here this afternoon, was not as well as attended as it should have been, but all who attended praise the good work done and the useful knowledge gained.

The subjects treated were corn and potatoes, judging, types and varieties and diseases of potatoes, making spray mixtures, plant breeding. In these subjects Mr. Corwin and Mr. Bergh were the instructors. Another interesting subject discussed was, "Feeding for High Production," the instruction being given by Raymond Sisler. On Friday afternoon and this afternoon work for the ladies was given at the high school by Miss Norton.

The sessions for the men were given in the vacant storeroom in the Hughes block. About twenty-five were enrolled, with an average attendance of between fifteen and twenty.

The exhibits in the corn and potato show were not numerous, but all were good.

In the poultry show there were some twenty pens with three birds each exhibited. Fred W. Thias of the Agate Bay Poultry yards, Two Harbors, was the judge.

Supt. Bergh Lectures.

Last evening, partly in connection with the short course, the Grand Rapids Farmers' club held a meeting at which the principal feature was an illustrated lecture by Supt. Otto I. Bergh of the North Central experiment farm here on the experiment stations he visited while on a tour of Europe last summer. The lecture, as well as the scenes shown, was much enjoyed. The ladies' quartet, consisting of Mrs. H. C. Lawrence and Misses Ashton, Benton and Lemere, rendered a couple of songs and Miss Florence McIntyre livened the meeting with a few numbers on the piano. A very fine lunch was served, following which a get-together hour was enjoyed.

ELY FIREMEN DO SOME GOOD WORK

Prompt Action Prevents Home of Mrs. Hegforce From Being Burned.

Ely, Minn., March 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—Fire which started from a defective chimney did $600 damages yesterday afternoon to the residence and bathrooms of Mrs. Johanna Hegforce. That the whole building was not destroyed was due to the prompt arrival of the fire department and their persistent work in reaching the flames, which were mostly located in an enclosure and reached with difficulty.

Fire Recalls Tragedy.

The fire brought to mind the death of Mr. Hegforce, who was intasnlly killed while building the house. Mr. Hegforce did all his own wiring and was electrocuted by a live wire.

BY BIWABIK PUPILS.

Entertaining Program Rendered in Grade School Auditorium.

Biwabik, Minn., March 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Biwabik pupils gave an interesting program in the grade school auditorium Thursday evening, under the direction of Miss Cora Henrn, instructor of music in the schools.

The auditorium was crowded to its fullest capacity and all speak very highly of the cantata.

The program follows: Waltz, Roses and Orchids" (K. L. King), high school orchestra; "Old Glory" (G. E. Oliver) and "I Love the Stars and Stripes" (Jessie L. Gaynor), fourth, fifth and sixth grade pupils; kindergarten band, kindergarten pupils; solo and concert singing, first and second grade pupils; folk dances, seventh and eighth grade girls; "Our Music Lesson," second grade pupils; "Doll's Lullaby," first grade girls; "The Rally" (S. T. Paul) and "The Call to Arms" (G. A. Veazie), seventh and eighth grades; "I Love You Truly" (Carrie Jacobs Bond), high school girls' glee club and orchestra; march, "Columbian" (K. L King), high school orchestra.

D., where he will engage in carpenter work and contracting, and Mr. Hadden is offering his place for sale, and will also go to the same place.

BURNED WOMAN'S BODY IS FOUND

Charred Remains of Mrs. Leary Taken From Ashes of Home.

Grand Rapids, Minn., March 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—Burned beyond recognition the body of Mrs. John Leary, who perished in the destruction by fire of the home of her son-in-law, C. A. Buel, with whom she lived at La Prairie, two miles from here Friday night, was recovered about 3 p. m. yesterday by firemen working under the direction of Fire Chief Lofberg of this village.

The woman met death, as stated in Friday's Herald, being fatally burned apparently when she attempted to carry a lighted lamp into the cellar while alone in the Buel home, the balance of the family being absent at an entertainment at the schoolhouse. They had left her in bed as she was not feeling well and it is supposed she attempted to visit the cellar with a lighted lamp when she fell, the lamp exploded and the house caught fire. Too weak from illness or overcome with fright the aged woman, she was nearly 80, was unable to save herself.

When the fire was first discovered flames were issuing from the basement indicating the fire started there and this gave rise to the theory Mrs. Leary fell with a lighted lamp.

Mrs. Leary Absent.

When the family returned from the schoolhouse, Mrs. Leary was not among those gathered about the burning premises. Search was immediately begun, but no trace of her could be found. An ineffectual effort was made to enter the ruins, but it was impossible to make more than a superficial examination until late yesterday.

When Chief Lofberg arrived from Grand Rapids his men cleared away the smoldering debris and made their way into the cellar. Digging among the embers they discovered burned bits of clothing and finally uncovered the body at the foot of the stairway.

The house was owned by Mrs. Leary. It was a two-story frame structure. Mrs. Leary carried a small policy of insurance on it.

Was Known to Duluthians.

Mrs. Leary was well known to a number of Duluth residents. She came west from her home in Collingwood, Ont., when her daughter was married to Mr. Buel, and since the death of Mrs. Buel has remained in charge of the children. Her son, John Leary, formerly an electrician in Duluth, is now in Williston, N. D. Mrs. Leary was close to 80 years of age.

WINTON MAN RESTS IN ELY CEMETERY.

Ely, Minn., March 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—Jalmer Turinen, aged 29 years, was buried yesterday from the Laing Hardware company rooms. Turinen was a resident of Winton and leaves a wife and three children. Death was due to chronic heart disease. The funeral was conducted by Rev. Jacob Harvi and interment took place in Ely cemetery.

Men Serve Supper.

Grand Rapids, Minn., March 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—The men of the Presbyterian church served an oyster supper at the Hughes block last evening. The supper is alleged to have been cooked by the men and it was served by them in the most approved style. A large crowd took occasion to visit the hall and partake of the unique spread put up by the men. This was the second such supper served by the men and they are planning to make it an annual event.

DR. BUDD IS GIVEN FINE TESTIMONIAL

Masons Present Two Harbors Man With Loving Cup and Best Wishes.

Two Harbors, Minn., March 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—More than 100 Masons, nearly all members of the local lodge, gave Dr. J. D. Budd a farewell banquet at the Commercial club rooms last evening at 6 o'clock. Dr. Budd has sold his interests here and April 1 will leave for a tour of the East. Later he will return to Duluth to make his future home. The banquet and reception which followed were impressive, as Dr. Budd is one of the oldest local Masons, being one of four living charter members of the lodge. He was the first master of the lodge when it was organized here twenty-five years ago and has always taken an active part in its work.

The banquet was followed by a well arranged program of music and song.

Duluth Men Speak.

Edward W. Conliff, worshipful master, was toastmaster. Short talks were made by A. Headley of this city, who was initiated into the lodge with Dr. Budd; Nels S. Hillman, Col. Ayres of Duluth, Al. Overman of Duluth, W. B. Woodward, W. A. Doerr, B. F. Fowler, Rev. A. F. McKee and Dr. J. D. Budd.

The lodge presented Dr. Budd with a handsome loving cup, the presentation being made by B. F. Fowler. Dr. Budd was very much moved and responded in a very feeling manner. He told of the close relationship which had grown between himself, and the lodge during the many years that he was a member of it and reciting many fond reminiscences of the early days of the lodge and of the progress made by it in the later days. The banquet was served by the Eastern Star.

ZENITH MINE WILL BE FIRST SHIPPER

Harbors at Two Harbors Being Put in Shape for Starting Boats.

Two Harbors, Minn., March 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—The ice on the lake opened yesterday noon, and, with the high wind which was blowing, soon began to move, and this morning there is no ice in sight except close to the shore and this rapidly being broken up and drifting away. As far as the eye can see both up and down the shore no ice is to be seen.

This morning the tug Torrent began pushing the ice out of the harbor, and at present a boat would have no difficulty entering the harbor and docks. The indications are that navigation will open considerably earlier this year. The Zenith mine at Ely wants to start shipping as soon as possible, as the stockpiles are full and there is no place to put the ore which is being mined daily.

S. H. & E. F. DISTRICT MEETING BEING HELD

Large Gathering of Members of Scandinavian Society in Hibbing.

Hibbing, Minn., March 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—Hibbing today is host to many members of the district lodge, S. H. & E. F., which at 9 o'clock this morning opened its third annual convention. Altogether more than 300 persons are in attendance.

Convention headquarters are at the Rood hall, where sessions this morning and this afternoon occupied the attention of local members and guests. Much important business is slated for transaction. Following the final session this afternoon, officers for the ensuing year will be elected. Delegates to attend the grand convention at Escanaba, Mich., June 1, will be appointed. Considerable discussion has taken place on the justice of a demand by the district lodge that it be given a rebate on money put into the general fund of the supreme organization.

Banquet in Evening.

Members of the local lodge have made elaborate preparations for the banquet tonight. An attractive program of short speeches and musical numbers has been arranged. Several comic songs by Edward Strand and Frank Rosberg will feature the program. An exceptional program will be given following the banquet at the Central hall tonight.

Andrew Dahlberg, president of the local lodge, will preside. Miss Sigrid Wenberg will give a piano solo. Henry Erickson of Virginia will give a short talk. Gust Anderson of Duluth will give a comic reading. Frank Rosberg of Cuyuna will sing several selections.

One of the features will be a speech by Grand President Erick Hager on the general condition of the order and the proposed consolidation with the Scandinavian Brotherhood of America.

Edward Strand of Eveleth, considered something of a humorist, will be on the program. Louis Levine, supreme marshal, will talk on the social features offered by the association. Addresses will also be given by Frank Strand of Two Harbors, Fritz Gustafson, Cloquet; and Oscar W. Samuelson. Mr. Samuelson will talk on "The Value of Advertising."

Among the officers of the grand lodge here for the convention are, Oscar W. Samuelson of Cloquet, secretary of the supreme lodge; Louis Levine of Duluth, marshal of the supreme lodge; Erick Hager, Iron Mountain, Mich., grand president, arrived today.

Delegate's Wife Dies.

As John Nelson, delegate from Cloquet, was about to take the train to Hibbing yesterday, his wife died after an illness of one week. Alfred Norman was called upon immediately to take the place of Mr. Nelson.

Resolutions of condolences for Mr. Nelson and family were adopted at this morning's session. Mr. Nelson is a former president of the Cloquet lodge.

Enthusiasm has been expressed in favor of a proposal offered by Grand Secretary O. W. Samuelson to have the society adopt the English language in place of the Scandinavian.

Discussion on the proposed consolidation of the Scandinavian Aid & Fellowship Society and the Brotherhood of America has been given considerable prominence at the convention, and indications are that a resolution indorsing the movement will be passed. Erick Hager of Iron Mountain, Mich., grand president, and Secretary O. W. Samuelson of Cloquet, have urged that this be done.

The Brotherhood of America has more than 200 branch lodges. It total membership is more than 18,000. Its field is mainly in the Eastern states. The S. H. & E. F. has a large membership in the Western states. Some of the strongest lodges are in Pacific coast cities. It also has active lodges in Canada.

START EXCAVATING FOR TWO HARBORS BANK.

Two Harbors, Minn., March 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—The excavation for the basement of the new Commercial State Bank building was started yesterday by a St. Paul builder. The bank will be built on the lot west of the present Commercial bank and will cost approximately $15,000. It will be a one-story building of brick and stone, with massive marble pilasters in front. The interior will be finished in the latest up-to-date manner, with marble fixtures, etc. The work on the building will be rushed and it is expected that it will be completed early in the summer.

A DAGGER IN THE BACK

That's the woman's dread when she gets up in the morning to start the day's work. "Oh! how my back aches." GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules taken today ease the backache of tomorrow—taken every day ends the backache for all time. Don't delay. What's the use of suffering? Begin taking GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules today and be relieved tomorrow. Take three or four every day and be permanently free from wrenching, distressing back pain. But be sure to get GOLD MEDAL. Since 1696 GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil has been the national remedy of Holland, the government of the Netherlands having granted a special charter authorizing its preparation and sale. The housewife of Holland would almost as soon be without bread as she would without her "Real Dutch Drops" as she quaintly calls GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules. This is the one reason why you will find the women and children of Holland so sturdy and robust.

GOLD MEDAL are the pure, original Haarlem Oil Capsules imported direct from the laboratories in Haarlem, Holland. But be sure to get GOLD MEDAL. Look for the name on every box. Sold by reliable druggists in sealed packages at 25c, 50c and $1.00. Money refunded if they do not help you. Accept only the GOLD MEDAL. All others are imitations.

UNTRIED CASES ARE CONTINUED FOR TERM.

Hibbing, Minn., March 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—All cases scheduled for the recent term of district court here which were not disposed of were yesterday continued. V. L. Power was counsel in most of them and as he has not been in the village this week because of the county division fight, they were continued. Mayor Power returned home last night.

Five of the cases continued were divorce actions. Two were civil actions.

Cloquet Beats Grand Rapids.

Grand Rapids, Minn., March 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Grand Rapids Athletic association basket ball team went down to marked defeat in a close game here last night at the hands of the Cloquet city team, the score being 22 to 25 in favor of the visitors. The game was fast and hard fought all the way through, and was watched with much interest by the fair-sized crowd that gathered to witness the game.

Dedicate New Organ.

Virginia, Minn., March 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—The organ installed in the local Episcopal church, which was formerly in a Duluth church and was remodeled, was formally dedicated last night, Prof. A. F. Custance of Duluth furnishing the organ music, while Dr. A. W. Ryan of Duluth and Rev. F. C. Coolbaugh of Hibbing spoke.

MANY ATTENDING ROAD CONVENTION

Auditor Halden and Some of Commissioners at Virginia Gathering.

Virginia, Minn., March 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—The meeting or convention held here today of range business men and farmers to protest against the allowance of money made by the county board for road work in the Sixth district is well attended. Over 100 were present in Moose hall when President Murphy of the Commercial club opened the meeting and stated its object.

Among those present were County Auditor Odin Halden, Commissioners Little, McMahon, Pentilla and County Surveyor Coe.

An committee consisting of R. L. Griggs, D. C. Reed of Virgina and F. Freeman of Eveleth presented an array of statistics to show that not enough money is spent in this section on roads. Several of the farmers also chimed in and claimed their sections were not well remembered in expenditures.

Following an adjournment for lunch another meeting is being held this afternoon and it is predicted the meeting will bear fruit.

Final Two Harbors Game.

Two Harbors, Minn., March 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—The last basket ball game of the present season will be played at the Y. M. C. A. gym this evening between the Aurora high school team and the local high school five. The locals will line up as follows: Richards, forward; Cleveland, forward; Johnson, center; Knutson, guard; Haugstein and Irwin, guard.

ALPENA MINER WILL TACKLE METROPOLIS.

Virginia, March 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—Disgusted with mining conditions here because of the season does not open up as rapidly as he expected Joseph Sakol, for many years employed at the Alpena mine, left today for New York, where he expects to find work and get ahead. He took his family along, despite advice of his friends that he better remain here.

First Virginia Straw Hat.

Virgina, Minn., March 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—Despite the chilly breezes that circulated in this section yesterday an employe of the Rainy Lake mill surprised his friends by appetring on the street during the afternoon wearing the first straw hat seen here this year. He said summer should be here and proposed to prove it, but the cold wind kept blowing.

Sawed Much Wood.

Grand Rapids, Minn., March 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—C. A. Smith, who last fall bought a wood saw rig, reports a very good winter's work, considering that he got his machine late. He says that he sawed in the neighborhood of 500 cords of four-foot wood. He is about through with the wood-sawing in town.

Missabe Railroad Is Building Spur.

Virginia, Minn., March 27.—Work on the loading platform for automobiles in the yards of the Missabe railroad just north of the station near Chestnut street, will be commenced in a few days. The material has already been gathered there. A spur will be laid and the platform built so that a car can be unloaded from either the side or the end of the car.

Virginian Dies.

Virginia, Minn., March 27.—William Manley, about 35 years of age, who has been employed in the Patrick Sullivan buffet for about twelve years, died yesterday at one of the local hospitals after a few days' illness of pneumonia. His mother and sister, who reside at Biwabik, were at his bedside when he passed away.

Hammond May Come.

Grand Rapids, Minn., March 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Parents-Teachers club has received a letter from Governor W. S. Hammond, who was asked to come here and address the club next summer, stating that if possible he would come.

Soudan Postmaster Fined.

Tower, Minn., March 27.—Postmaster John Williams of Soudan paid a fine of $25 and costs in a local court here this week after pleading guilty to having game meat illegally in his possession. Joe Korpi and Charles Johnson, both miners, pleaded guilty to a charge of having moose meat in their possession and each paid a $25 fine.

LOCAL MOOSE SHOW LARGE INCREASE

Double Membership in Year; Officers and Delegate Chosen.

Otto W. Perleberg has been chosen delegate to the national convention of the Loyal Order of Moose at San Diego, Cal., in July, by Duluth Lodge No. 505, of the order.

One of the largest and fastest growing fraternal organizations at the Head of the Lakes, the Moose order now has nearly 2,000 local members, according to officers of the Duluth lodge. The number has doubled in the year past, as on March 1, 1914, the membership rolls contained but 1,000 names.

Three hundred members attended the last regular business meeting, when officers for the coming year were elected. The latter are:

R. A. Meisner, past dictator; E. A. Sable, dictator; Daniel Bellmeur, vice dictator; John Conway, prelate; Edison Graham, inner guard; A. Arnson, outer guard; George Gray, treasurer; Carl Schau, secretary; William Anderson, trustee, (one year); Max Stein, trustee (two years); Del Dassow, trustee (three years); William Murphy, sergeant-at-arms.

ORDERED FROM TOWN.

Inmates of Questionable Thief River Place Forced to Leave.

Thief River Falls, Minn., March 27.—Acting upon the orders of Mayor Lars Backe, Chief of Police Berge and Patrolman Warner raided a house on South Duluth avenue, occupied by Mrs. Gurina Fjeld and her two daughters, Gena and Clara, and arrested the three women. Mrs. Fjeld was charged with operating a house of ill-fame, and the two girls were charged with being inmates of a disorderly house.

Mrs. Fjeld, when arraigned in court, desired a lawyer. No lawyer appeared and after hearing the evidence of the policemen who made the arrest, Judge Tarrant found the defendants guilty and sentenced them to ninety days each in the county jail. A stay of sentence was granted, giving them until Thursday morning to leave the city.

COSTIVE BOWELS, HEADACHE, COLDS TAKE CASCARETS

No Headache, Sour Stomach, Bad Cold or Constipation By Morning.

Get a 10-cent box now.

Furred Tongue, Bad Colds, Indigestion, Sallow Skin and Miserable Headaches come from a torpid liver and clogged bowels, which cause your stomach to become filled with undigested food, which sours and ferments like garbage in a swill barrel. That's the first step to untold misery—indigestion, foul gases, bad breath, yellow skin, mental fears, everything that is horrible and nauseating. A Cascaret to-night will give your constipated bowels a thorough cleansing and straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep—a 10-cent box from your druggist will keep you feeling good for months. Millions of men and women take a Cascaret now and then to keep their stomach, liver and bowels regulated, and never know a miserable moment. Don't forget the children—their little insides need a good, gentle cleansing, too.

FORECAST TILL 7 P. M. SUNDAY
For Duluth, Superior and vicinity, including the Mesaba and Vermilion iron ranges: Partly cloudy weather tonight and Sunday; slightly warmer tonight with lowest temperature about 25 degs. at Duluth-Superior and 20 on the iron ranges; moderate to fresh southwesterly winds.
EXPLANATORY NOTES

WARMER

Save for a raw wind, the warmer weather promised got here and in shelter the air is fine. The sun is having the time of its life to break through the clouds and seems only partly successful. A promise of only partly cloudy weather and warmer temperature seems fair for Sunday.

A year ago today was sunny and fine. The sun rose this morning at 5:57 and will set this evening at 6:30, giving twelve hours and thirty-three minutes of sunlight.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"The temperature has fallen rather decidedly over Northern Louisiana, Tennessee, Virginia and North Atlantic states, and has risen over most of Canada, the lake region, Northwestern states and the Rocky mountains. Light rain fell during Friday or last night over North Carolina, Tennessee, Southern Arkansas, Northern Louisiana, Northern California and Southwestern Oregon, and light snow over Manitoba and Central Nebraska."

General Forecasts.

Chicago, March 27.—Forecasts for the twenty-four hours ending at 7 p. m. Sunday:

Minnesota—Fair tonight and Sunday; warmer tonight.

Wisconsin—Fair tonight and Sunday; rising temperature.

Iowa—Fair tonight and Sunday; warmer tonight and in east and central portions Sunday.

North Dakota—Fair tonight and Sunday; warmer in south portion tonight.

South Dakota—Fair tonight and Sunday; slightly warmer tonight.

Montana—Fair tonight and Sunday; not much change in temperature.

Lower Michigan—Fair tonight and Sunday; warmer in central and east portions.

Upper Michigan—Generally fair tonight and Sunday; warmer tonight in east portion.

'CLEAN-UP' FOR CITY PLANNED

Civic Clubs and Officials Promise Co-operation in the Work.

Many Prizes Are Offered; Mayor Will Issue Proclamation.

Plans for a "clean-up and paint-up" campaign to be launched in Duluth about May 15 were formulated last evening at the Commercial club at a meeting of representatives from six civic organizations and suburban clubs. E. W. Russell was selected as chairman of the campaign committee and given power to appoint the necessary committees.

Addresses favoring the plan were made by Mayor Prince, Commissioner Murchison, L. A. Simonson and W. L. Smithies. The mayor expressed himself as heartily in accord with the movement and spoke of the need for enlisting the services of every civic organization in the city. He promised co-operation of the city officials.

Commissioner Murchison declared that he was interested in the movement and made assurance that the public works department of the city would assist in every way possible to carry on the work.

Mr. Simonson said that the West End Commercial club had already indorsed the movement and had promised $100 in prizes to the school children in the West end to be distributed for the best-kept yards. Mr. Smithies spoke briefly in favor of the movement.

Delegates were present from the Gary Improvement club, Woodland Neighborhood club, Park Point Improvement club, Oneota and Hazelwood club and the West End Commercial club.

The date for the campaign to start will depend somewhat upon weather conditions. It will be announced later by Mayor Prince in a proclamation.

The Duluth Paint and Oil club appropriated $50 to further the "clean-up and paint-up" campaign at a meeting held Thursday evening in the Builders' exchange rooms. Other matters of local interest were discussed at the meeting. The annual banquet and election of officers will take place on April 8.

NOT OPERATIVE UNTIL NEXT YEAR

Lifeboat Section of Seaman's Law Does Not Apply in 1915.

Word comes from Washington that Great Lakes ship owners will not have to equip their vessels with lifeboats and liferafts called for by the new seamen's law until the opening of navigation in 1916. Attorney General Gregory let it be known the department of justice is of the opinion that no section of the law becomes operative until Nov. 4, despite the fact that the date July 1, 1915, appears in the lifeboat section of the law.

Within a few days the attorney general will forward to the department of commerce an opinion sustaining the contention of the Great Lakes owners that the new law does not become operative in time to cover any part of the 1915 navigation season.

CLOQUET MEETING OF EASTERN STAR

Many Duluthians Attend School of Instruction in Nearby City.

Cloquet, Minn., March 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—The local chapter of Eastern Star held a school of instruction yesterday afternoon in Masonic temple. About thirty-five visiting delegates were here from Duluth, Two Harbors and Tower. Miss Lena Archibald, for twenty-five years a teacher in the local schools and a charter member or the local chapter, gave the welcoming address, which was responded to by Mrs. Susan Woodfill of Two Harbors. The Euclid chapter of West Duluth exemplified the initiation and the Cloquet chapter that of voting. At 6 o'clock dinner was served in the banquet hall. The tables were decorated with yellow flowers and the decorations of the hall carried out the same effect. Plates were laid for 126. The visiting delegates were: Mrs. Hannah McCline, worthy matron; Thomas Burnside, worthy patron; Mrs. Flora Clark, Emily Burnside, Mabel Johnson, Pearl Boerner, Ella Keyes, Mildred Ross, Ruth Wallinder, Martha Frankiln, Anna Oreck, Grace Murray, Minnie Everett, Judge and Mrs. H. W. Lanners, Anna Futter, Marie Wallinder, Sarah Weinstein, Ethel Karon, Louis Oreck, Mrs. W. H. Keeler, Mrs. Jessie Martin, Mrs. Elsie Bailey, all of Duluth; Mrs. Alice Kitto, Mrs. Emily Hewitt, Tower; Mrs. Edith McPhee of Knife River.

The officers were: Mrs. Lillian Graham Bell, worth grand matron, St. Paul; Charles A. Bronson, worthy grand patron, Duluth; Mrs. Fannie Sheean, deputy grand matron, Cloquet; Mrs. Mary C. Taylor, grand secretary, Minneapolis; Mrs. Susan Woodfill, grand elect, Two Harbors; Mrs. Ida Canfield, past grand organist, Cloquet.

Unconscious Under Bridge.

Neche, N. D., March 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—Unconscious from falling from the bridge, William Laviolette of this place was found under the Great Northern bridge spanning the Pembina river here. William and Israel Barthlette, who were last seen with Laviolette, are under arrest, but both say that when they left Laviolette he was walking across the bridge.

Robbers Get $4,000.

Chicago, March 27.—Eight masked robbers early today entered the mail order house of Babson Bros., felled the watchman, John Kastory, with an iron bar, bound him to a chair, blew open two safes and a vault and escaped with more than $4,000. Kastory's wounds were superficial.

HAIR COMING OUT?

Dandruff causes a feverish irritation of the scalp, the hair roots shrink, loosen and then the hair comes out fast. To stop falling hair at once and rid the scalp of every particle of dandruff, get a 25-cent bottle of Danderine at any drug store, pour a little in your hand and rub it into the scalp. After a few applications the hair stops coming out and you can't find any dandruff.

AN EASY WAY TO GET RID OF SKIN-TROUBLES

A Baltimore doctor suggests this simple, but reliable and inexpensive, home treatment for people suffering with eczema, ringworm, rash and similar itching, burning skin troubles.

At any reliable druggist's get a jar of resinol ointment and a cake of resinol soap. These will not cost a bit more than seventy-five cents. With the resinol soap and warm water bathe the affected parts thoroughly, until they are free from crusts and the skin is softened. Dry very gently, spread on a thin layer of the resinol ointment, and cover with a light bandage—if necessary to protect the clothing. This should be done twice a day. Usually the distressing itching and burning stop with the first treatment, and the skin soon becomes clear and healthy again. For trial of resinol ointment and resinol soap, free, write to Dept. 21-R, Resinol, Baltimore, Md.

MISS Marie Musgrave Merrill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas D. Merrill, and Francis Philip Sears of Boston were married this afternoon at 3 o'clock at Trinity cathedral by Bishop J. D. Morrison, assisted by Dr. Thomas W. MacLean.

An unusual musical program was given by Isabel Pearson Fuller, organist; the harpist of the Theodore Thomas orchestra of Chicago and the vested cathedral choir of forty voices. Before the ceremony Gounod's "Meditation" on the organ and harp, the prelude to Wagner's "Lohengrin" as an organ solo and Handel's "Largo" on organ and harp were given.

The vested choir advanced down the aisle singing to organ accompaniment Barnby's "O Perfect Love" as the processional. Following the choir came the head usher, Robert Treat Paine of Boston, cousin of the bridegroom, and the ushers, Ronald Lyman, Herbert Lyman and George Child of Boston and Fred Wolvin and Miron Bunnell of Duluth. The ushers were followed by the bride's only attendant, her sister, Miss Betty Merrill, preceding the bride who entered with her father. The bridegroom and his brother, Richard Sears of Boston, met the bride at the chancel.

The bride wore a gown of silver tissue veiled in point d'Alencon lace with a lace train. Her tulle veil was arranged with orange blossoms and she carried an ivory prayer book.

Miss Betty Merrill wore a Lucile gown of pink tulle made in 1830 style and trimmed with garlands of small flowers of various hues. Her flat Leghorn hat was trimmed with a green velvet band and small flowers. She carried an arm basket of varicolored flowers.

During the ceremony Isabel Pearson Fuller played softly the introduction to the second act of Wagner's "Tristan and Isolde." The march from Wagner's "Meistersinger" was the recessional.

A color plan of green and white was carried out in the cathedral by palms and Easter lilies. Tall standards of lilies, tied with green and white tulle, were arranged along the central aisle.

Reception Follows.

The wedding was followed by a reception for seventy-five guests at the home of the bride's parents, 2626 Greysolon road. In the drawing room pink climbing roses on a white trellis formed a background for the receiving line and similar trellises were used at the windows. The library was decorated with pink lilies and the dining room with white lilacs and Ophelia roses. Asparagus fern was used on the stair railing and in the lower hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Sears will go to Hot Springs, Va., and will take a horseback trip from there. They will be at home after April 15 at 85 Mount Vernon street, Boston. The house they will occupy is one of the few private buildings by Bullfinch, who was one of the architects of the capitol at Washington.

In addition to the ushers the out-of-town guests were: The bridegroom's sisters, Miss Anna Sears and Miss Evelyn Sears of Boston; Mrs. Merrill's brother, Harrison Musgrave, and his son, Harrison Musgrave, Jr., of Chicago; Mr. Merrill's brother, Dwight Merrill, Mrs. Dwight Merrill and the Misses Virginia and Eulalie Merrill of Seattle, Wash.; Mr. Merrill's brother-in-law, Clark Ring of Saginaw, Mich.; Mrs. E. T. Buxton and Miss Barbara Buxton of St. Paul and Miss Penelope King of Boston.

ATTENDS SIXTIETH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY OF HIS PARENTS

MR. AND MRS. R. L. KERR AND FAMILY.

A. A. Kerr of Duluth has just returned from Monmouth, Ill., where he attended the sixtieth wedding anniversary of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Kerr of that city. Several brothers and sisters were present, among them being Mrs. F. S. Foster of Beloit, Wis.; Miss Helen Kerr of Monmouth; R. G. Kerr, Chicago; A. M. Kerr, Waterloo, Iowa; John R. Kerr, Chicago, and A. A. Kerr, Duluth.

The Duluth man's parents were married at Brechin, Scotland, sixty years ago. Although both the father and mother have passed the four-score mark, they are still robust and in perfect health.

STYLES IN CHILDREN'S HATS REFLECT THOSE FOR "GROWN-UPS"

The popularity of quaint mushroom hats for little folks continues. Child-like adptations from grown-up styles are shown but they are not as becoming or as suitable in most cases as the simple hat with drooping brim that requires very little trimming. For these shapes tuscan braids and pliable leghorns are used, trimmed with ribbon shirred, folded or quilled around the crown or with small flowers. A frill of lace on the brim, with small flowers scattered over it, is another style trimming used for the small shapes.

Streamers play as important a part on children's hats as on the hats of grown folk, varying in length from the short "Rollo" tabs to those that reach almost to the waist.

Dark blue serge, black and white shepherd plaid, and moire in both dark and light shades are used for children's coats. Most of the coats are plain. Collars and cuffs of white wash materials, often the only pretences at trimming, are made of linen, batiste or pique, either plain or embroidered. Rose or light blue linen collar and cuff sets braided in white are used on some of the coats.

NEW YORK

Peggy Peabody's Observations

Ignore the Male Flirt.

The girl who had just come a third of the way across the United States in a railroad train was relating her latest experience. Her journey had not been at all agreeable owing to the presence of a man on the train who had insisted on paying her attentions which were unwelcome and annoying. He persisted in his advances long after she had made it plain to him that his attentions were obnoxious and that she considered them an affront to her womanhood.

The young woman was fully capable of taking care of herself or else she would not have traveled such a great distance alone. Heretofore she has stoutly maintained that if a woman will tend strictly to her own affairs her pathway will be unmolested and untroubled, but now she does not feel quite so sure of her ground.

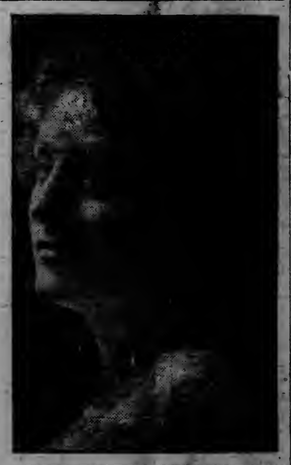
There is no question in my mind but that this young woman conducted herself as a woman should. She says herself that she thinks the man was first piqued by her indifference and contempt for him and his attentions. When he found that he could not worm his way into her good graces he evidently determined to become as annoying as he could. He devoted himself to marking her for comment among the other passengers, until finally a woman traveling with her husband noted the girl's distress and at once became her protector.

I know this girl thoroughly and so believe her story. Ordinarily I am of the opinion that strict attention to one's affairs will save annoyance of this description. A walk along any of our thoroughfares or a ride in any of our cars makes apparent the fact that there are plenty of men willing and anxious to go more than half way in forming acquaintance with women. In the long run they have to be encouraged. I have seen men ogle women until I have yearned to have some great, strong man interfere and give them what they deserved—a sound thrashing.

On the other hand, I have noticed that they did not generally persist unless there was some answering smile or sign from the women that seemed to indicate that they were pleased with this tribute to their charms, or at least not offended by the man's impudence. When a woman absolutely ignores the advances of these flirts they do not weep over it or yet persist. No, indeed, they simply transfer their attentions to some one who looks as though they might be willing to reciprocate.

If women did not pay any attention to this class of men, either by look or word, they would immediately forsake them and look for more promising victims. You will find this true in the greater number of cases, with few exceptions.

MISS REYNOLDS WILL BE BRIDE OF A. J. FREY



MISS GLADYS REYNOLDS.

Mrs. Fred Reynolds of 1530 East First street announces the engagement of her daughter, Mary Gladys, to August J. Frey. The wedding will take place this summer.

NEWS OF DULUTH'S WOMEN CLUBS AND MUSICAL CIRCLES

MUSICAL APPRECIATION HAS HAD RAPID GROWTH

Artists Have Met With Cordial Reception in Duluth This Season—Review of Past Week's Activities in Club Circles and Forecast of Week to Come.

THEY are simply music mad in Minneapolis," is an expression that is frequently heard from Duluthians who return from the Flour City after a trip to hear an orchestra concert, or some other musical attraction.

But those who remember conditions in Duluth ten years ago and ponder on conditions as they are today, might say the same of this city.

Ten years ago a musician who was sufficiently advertised to class as a curiosity, was greeted with a crowded theater. Paderewski, or Nordica, or Kubelik "drew." Musicians who might be of nearly equal merit but lacked the widespread notoriety of these artists, did not stir a ripple of interest.

Last Monday evening Ossip Gabrilowitsch appeared in a piano recital in Duluth. A piano recital is generally believed to be what Robert Haven Schauffler in "The Musical Amateur," calls "dry stuff." Moreover, Gabrilowitsch is not a musical curiosity. He ranks as one of the great pianists of the present day, but carries no $50,000 insurance policies on his fingers and has no other claims to notoriety, unless it be that he married the daughter of Mark Twain. Yet despite this handicap, he attracted an audience that filled the First Methodist church and which listened with real pleasure to a program that contained two sonatas.

Again, the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra is coming for three or possibly four concerts in June. More than two months in advance of the concerts ,the subscriptions promise to speedily exhaust the supply of 3,500 seats. Duluth is apparenly fairly well along the road toward "music madness" itself.

The answer is not far to seek. Duluth's old-time musical triumvirate of Horace W .Reyner, T. W. Hugo and Stephen H. Jones, began the work. The Matinee Musicale has carried it on in a big way. Mr. Hugo and his free Masonic concerts have been quietly, but surely, building up a big following for musical attractions. Duluth's own orchestra profited from the missionary work done by these other agencies, and did some work of its own this past season. But the fact remains that during the season just closed the orchestra scored a real financial and artistic success, and the Matinee Musical gave the most brilliant and successful series of artists' recitals the city has known.

DULUTH WILL BE REPRESENTED AT NATIONAL D. A. R. CONVENTION

MRS. SAMUEL M'KNIGHT GREEN.

MRS. WILLIAM CUMMING STORY.

MRS. WILLIAM CUMMING STORY of New York city, president general of the Daughters of the American Revolution, will be a candidate for re-election at the convention that will be held in Washington next month. Before her election she was defeated twice by Mrs. Matthew T. Scott of Bloomington, Ill. Mrs. Story will be opposed by Mrs. George Thacher Guernsey of Independence, Kan.

Among the candidates for the office of vice president general is Mrs. Samuel McKnight Green, a Tennesseean, who lives in St. Louis. Mrs. Green has been indorsed unanimously by the Missouri D. A. R.

Daughters of Liberty chapter of Duluth will be represented at the convention by Mrs. Henry P. Davis, who spends much of her time in Washington. Mrs. Davis is the alternate for Mrs. S. R. Holden, the regent.

NOTED COLLEGE MALE CHORUS WILL GIVE CONCERT IN DULUTH

WILLIAM WRIGLEY.

CARL LINDEGREN.

DULUTH music lovers will be given an opportunity on April 6 to hear the Wennerberg Male chorus of Augustana college, Rock Island, Ill., which will give a concert at the First Swedish Lutheran church, Sixth avenue east and Third street. This organization is making its twelfth annual tour, and has made a trip of 2,000 miles this season. Several other Minnesota cities will be visited besides Duluth. This chorus is said to be one of the leading organizations of its kind in the country. It is under the able direction of Professor J. Victor Bergquist.

Professor Bergquist besides being a director of recognized ability, is also an organist and pianist of considerable note. His solo numbers are a strong feature of the concert. He is a composer of several widely known oratorios, which have been produced very successfully. Other soloists are Carl Lindegren, basso-cantante; William Wrigley, violinist, and Lawrence Lundberg, piano accompanist.

DUBOIS CANTATA WILL BE GIVEN AT PILGRIM CHURCH ON PALM SUNDAY

THE Palm Sunday vesper service of Pilgrim Congregational church will begin with an organ recital at 4:15 o'clock by Faith Helen Rogers, who will play the introduction and "Good Friday Spell" from Wagner's "Parsifal." The regular quartet choir with assisting soloists and the Pilgrim vesper chorus will sing Theodore Dubois' cantata, "The Seven Last Words of Christ."

The words of Christ will be given by the tenor and baritone soloists, John Koneczny and George Suffel. Mrs. Walter Adams will sing the prophetic introduction and Miss Florence Hyland will assist. The choruses are perhaps the most dramatic features, portraying the tumult of the mob and supplementing the solos with descriptive text. Mrs. Wayne E. Richardson, the organist at the Unitarian church, will play the piano accompaniment and Miss Louella Gleason, the organist at Pilgrim, will preside at the organ.

Last year Pilgrim church followed the custom of many large Eastern churches in giving the cantata Palm Sunday. The audience was so large and so deeply moved by the pathos of the words and the spiritual interpretation of the musical setting that it was decided to repeat it this year.

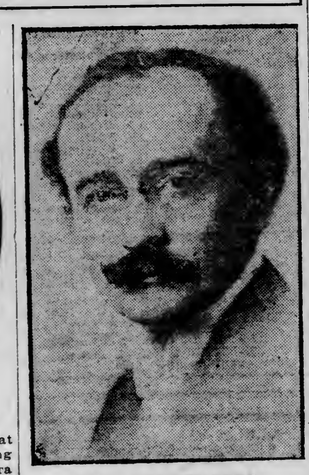
COMING SYMPHONY CONCERT AROUSES WIDE INTEREST HERE

BISHOP JAMES M'GOLRICK.



EMIL OBERHOFFER.

"I have been delighted to learn that the Duluth Curling club is bringing the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra here for a June festival," said Bishop James McGolrick yesterday, in discussing the forthcoming series of concerts. "The Minneapolis symphony is one of the finest musical organizations in America today, and I hope that it will be greeted by capacity houses at each of its appearances here. Mr. Oberhoffer, conductor of the orchestra, I regard as one of the ablest conductors of the country, and he has gathered about him a group of musicians every one of whom is an artist.

"I have known Mr. Oberhoffer personally for years, and know the efforts and great personal genius that he has devoted to building up the musical organization of which Minneapolis is so justly proud. I hope that every music lover in Duluth and the cities and towns near us will show their appreciation of the enterprise displayed by the Duluth curlers in bringing the orchestra here."

Advance Subscriptions.

In a letter to the secretary of the Duluth Curling club, Col. H. V. Eva, secretary of the Duluth Commercial club, writes: "I am delighted beyond measure with the manner in which advance subscriptions are reaching you for the June festival by the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra. You are setting a fine example in bringing such an organization and in making the prices for the concert series within the reach of everyone. Signed, H. V. EVA."

"Duluth lovers of good music may rest assured they are going to hear, in the magnificent building of the enterprising curling club, the finest program ever given in the Zenith City by a symphony orchestra," writes Carlo Fischer from Minneapolis. "It is both original and enterprising for an organization like the curling club to be sufficiently catholic in its energies to devote time and hard work to a symphony concert, and it is interesting to note, at this end of the route how genuinely interested are Emil Oberhoffer and all the members of the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra in the concert to be given later in the season in the great curling club building in Duluth. Mr. Oberhoffer is already considering the program, which he especially desires to make a perfect one, and the men who have played with the orchestra in Duluth, are arousing expectations in their confreres who have never been in the Zenith City.

Orchestra Greatly Improved.

"It is some time since the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra played in Duluth, and everyone concerned is particularly eager to make a good impression on the city, which has always received the orchestra cordially. Nearly fifty concerts have been given this season in Minneapolis. Eight fine symphony concerts with world-famous soloists, have been given this season in St. Paul and the orchestra desires to include in the same season a concert in every way worthy of Duluth.

"That the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra is far stronger this year than ever before, is not a report based upon the possibly too-partial opinions of Minneapolis people whose patriotism might color their feeling in the matter. This improvement is so marked that it has been mentioned in every out-of-town criticism received by the orchestra during its recent tour. One prominent critic wrote: "Excellent as the Minneapolis orchestra has been for five or six years, it has made giant strides during the last year or so and, with its now select personnel of really great artists, it need not fear comparison with any symphony orchestra in the world."

DESIGNS COSTUME FOR WOMEN PIANISTS

ETHEL LEGINSKA.

ETHEL LEGINSKA, the pianist, has designed a costume for her concert appearances that she says is not an affectation but her solution of the dress problem for women pianists. In Muscal America she says:

"I have contemplated just such an innovation for some time but it was not until recently when I played in a hall that was a veritable ice-box that I arrived at my decision thereafter to wear common sense clothes that would keep my arms and shoulders warm and at the same time leave room enough for perfect freedom of the arms. For, at this concert, my fingers were like icicles and I was forced to leave the platform between the numbers of a group to warm them."

The costume designed by Miss Leginska is not only comfortable, but artistic as well. The skirt is of black cloth. The vest of black brocaded silk is a charming contrast to the white silk shirt that shows above with a soft white collar and cravat. The cuffs are similar to those of a man's negligee shirt. Over this is a soft black velvet coat.

election of officers for next year and reports from the officers, chairmen of departments and chairmen of committees.

HOPE OF THE DRAMA.

Child Must Be Educated to Enjoy Good Things.

EDUCATION of the child to enjoy and expect good things is the only hope of the American drama," declared Mrs. Charles S. Mitchell in a talk on "American Drama and Dramatists" before the members of the Twentieth Century club in the library club room yesterday afternoon. The meeting, held under the direction of the literary department of the club, will be followed by one more during April, when the season's program will come to an end.

Mrs. Mitchell's talk, which was an interesting one, dwelt mostly on the importance of the drama today and the fact that nearly all plays are built around women. She also mentioned the fact that there are very few matinee idols any more.

Mrs. H. N. McHarg read "Children of Earth," by Alice Brown, the play which won the Winthrop Ames $10,000 prize several months ago.

The program for the next meeting will be announced within a few days. Mrs. Mary Adeline Nelson will be the reader.

Matinee Musicale Activities.

THE last formal program of the Matinee Musicale has been postponed from Monday afternoon, March 29, at 8:15 o'clock, ning, April 5, at 8:15 o'clock. This will not be a request program.

The large auditorium of the First Methodist church will be used to enable members of the Matinee Musicale to invite their friends and prospective members. The board of directors has extended invitations to the following clubs: Woman's council, Twentieth Century club, Daughters of Liberty and Greysolon du Lhut chapters of the D. A. R., Outlook club, Saturday club, Cecilian society, King's Daughters, Ladies' Literature class, Lester Park Literary club, Woman's Auxiliary of the St. Louis County Medical association, Linnaea club, Association of Collegiate Alumnae and the West Duluth W. C. T. U.

The board of directors of the Matinee Musicale will meet Monday, March 29, at the home of the president, Mrs. George S. Richards, 212 South Sixteenth avenue east.

The annual election of officers and the reading of reports from the various departments of the club will take place Tuesday afternoon, April 6, at 3 o'clock in the assembly hall of the Y. W. C. A. This meeting will be open to all members.

QUARTERLY MEETING.

Glen Avon Church Members Indorse Candidates for Commission.

MORE than 200 persons attended the quarterly meeting of the Duluth Christian Endeavor union last evening at the Glen Avon Presbyterian church.

Bert N. Wheeler gave a temperance address and R. Buchanan Morton was heard in an organ selection from "Tannhauser." The Glen Avon society entertained following the meeting.

The union indorsed the resolution adopted by the International council indorsing W. A. Hicken, R. Murchison, W. L. Bernard and C. E. Evens for city commissioners, and Judge Windom for the municipal court judge at the coming election.

On April 3 at the First Presbyterian church, the union will have charge of a concert which will be given by the Macalester College Glee club of St. Paul.

At 6:30 o'clock Easter morning a sunrise service will be held at the Pilgrim Congregational church.

MONEY FOR LUNCHES.

Housewives' League Will Sell Candy and Flowers at Matinee.

MEMBERS of the Housewives' league will sell a doll between the acts of "Little Lord Fauntleroy" at the special matinee Tuesday afternoon, while homemade candy and flowers will be sold by some of the young girls' clubs.

The special performance of the Baldwin Players in "Little Lord Fauntleroy" is to be given for the benefit of the Irving school district, where the Housewives' league is serving penny lunches among the school children.

The proceeds from the various sales during the show will be placed in the fund for the penny lunches.

Duluth Drama Study Club.

THE Duluth Drama Study club will complete the reading of Andreyev's "Anathema" at the meeting Thursday morning at 10 o'clock in the library clubroom. Mrs. M. Cook will speak on "The Symbolism in 'Anathema.'"

The spring causerie on "The Oriental Drama," that was to have been given by the club April 8 and to which the members of the Friday club of Cloquet had been invited, has been postponed indefinitely on account of the illness of Mrs. J. C. H. Engel who is in charge of the program.

Junior Guild of St. James.

THE children of St. James' orphanage, who will sing at the 10:30 o'clock Mass at the Sacred Heart cathedral Easter will be the guests of honor at the annual entertainment given by the Junior Guild of St. James. Luncheon will be served at the cathedral auditorium and in the afternoon. E. A. Mooney will show stereopticon pictures suitable for children, the junior orchestra and the junior boys' glee club will give musical numbers and the children of the orphanage will sing choruses.

Miss Marie Craig is chairman of the entertainment committee and Miss Margaret Comstock and Miss Marion Worley are chairmen for the luncheon committee.

Week's Activities.

Many club meetings of interest have been held during the week that is closing.

At the meeting of the art history class of the Twentieth Century club that was held Monday afternoon Miss Gertrude Carey was re-elected chairman for next year. It was decided to study Egyptian art from the beginning next season and a committee was appointed to make out a program.

At the meeting of the department of education and home of the Twentieth Century club Tuesday afternoon Mrs. J. H. Crowley was re-elected chairman for next year. The best literature of the year was reviewed by Mrs. C. S. Mitchell who spoke on "Tendencies of Fiction and Poetry" and Mrs. John E. Samuelson who spoke on "History and Biography."

At the meeting of the Ladies' Literature class held Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. E. Rockwell the study of "Faust" under the leadership of Rev. George R. Gebauer was continued. At the next meeting that will be held at the home of Mrs. Guy Diehl the first part of the play will be concluded. At the last meeting Dr. Gebauer will lecture on the second part of the play. The program for next year's work, that will continue the study of German literature, is being made out.

"Pageantry" was the subject at the meeting of the Lester Park Literary club Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. U. S. Villars. Mrs. Robert Dryer was the leader of the program and Mrs. Villars spoke on "Pageantry of Other Days."

The Evening Drama class, with Miss Bertha Mendelson as leader, took up "Fanny's First Play" at the meeting held Wednesday evening at the Holland hotel. The class has decided to hold a social meeting Wednesday evening, April 7.

American drama was studied at the last meeting of the year of the literature department of the Twentieth Century club held yesterday afternoon in the library clubroom. Mrs. C. S. Mitchell spoke on "American Drama and Dramatists," and Mrs. H. N. MacHarg, chairman of the department, read from Alice Brown's play, "Children of Earth."

A debate on "Resolved, That Prohibition Should Come Through National Legislation" was given at the meeting of the Central W. C. T. U. yesterday afternoon at the Y. W. C. A. A musical program was given before and after the debate.

At the meeting of the Saturday club, held this afternoon in the library clubroom, Mrs. R. Spiegel, the leader, spoke on "Hugo Munsterberg," and Mrs. Cora N. Stevenson on "Psychology."

Y. W. C. A. Vespers.

Miss Marjorie Morrow will give Tolstoi's "Where Love Is There Is God Also" and Miss Alice Forsell will sing at the Y. W. C. A. vespers tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock.

The members of the hospitality committee are Misses Grace Stevenson, Myrtle Clark, Mabel Train, Mae Fairbanks and Marie Grinolds. The members of the lunch committee are Misses Carrie Mitchell, Rose Super, Anna Gustafson, Fern Brown, Ida Schwartz, Clara Bartholdi and Alice McMeekin.

Program Postponed.

The program of the spring causerie of the Duluth Drama Study club, which was to have been given April 8, has been indefinitely postponed, owing to the illness of Mrs. J. C. H. Engel, who was to have had charge.

"Messiah" Is Sung.

Miss Esther Osborn, soprano, and quite well known in Duluth, was one of the leading soloists in Handel's "Messiah," given last night at Minneapolis by the Oratorio society of the Minnesota college. Miss Osborn visited here a short time ago and was heard in private recital. Albert Lindquist, who was soloist with the Svea Glee club at its concert here last December, was the tenor soloist at the oratorio last evening. Miss Ada Dahlgren, contralto, and Gustav Holmquist, basso, were the other soloists. A chorus of 300 voices and an orchestra gave the oratorio.

The Coming Week.

During the coming week several clubs will hold their annual meetings.

Mrs. George S. Richards will entertain the members of the executive board of the Matinee Musicale at a buffet luncheon Monday, following a meeting of the board that will be held at her home.

A special board meeting of the Twentieth Century club will be held in the library clubroom Monday afternoon at 1:45 o'clock, followed at 2:30 o'clock by the annual meeting of the club.

The annual business meeting of the Ladies' Literature class will be held in the board room of the library Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. A regular meeting of the Bishop's club will be held in the Bishop's club rooms Tuesday evening. This meeting will be open to men.

The Duluth Drama Study club will continue the study of Russian drama at the meeting Thursday morning at 10 o'clock in the library clubroom.

The regular monthly meeting of the Woman's council will be held Friday morning at 10 o'clock in the library clubroom.

The annual meeting of the Saturday club will be held next Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the library clubroom.—E. F.

Ladies' Literature Class.

The Ladies' Literature class will hold its annual business meeting Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the board room of the library. The program for next year will be decided upon at this meeting.

Indiana University Club.

The quarterly meeting of the Indiana University club will be held Saturday evening, April 3, at 8 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Thompson, 825 East Seventh street.

Novelties in Easter Gifts.

Brooklyn Eagle: Most people, even those who live in apartments, like to have growing things in the springtime, and the little packages of seeds in envelopes, decorated with Easter greetings, make very charming little gifts. Boxes filled with gladiolus bulbs that will grow in the garden in summer into great long spikes of beautiful flowers, are also decorated with Easter greetings.

Among the card novelties little hand-painted Easter bonnets, gay with fluttering bits of ribbon and tiny artificial flowers, are among the most attractive. These bonnets are on high stands, just as they appear in the millinery shop, and would make charming place cards for an Easter luncheon. There are, of course, a number of new designs in Easter cards, artistic and beautiful in the extreme. Some decorated with spring blossoms, daffodils, narcissus, pink and white apple blossoms. Some very odd cards were of a soft gray-blue decorated with white Easter bunnies. Engraved cards to send with gifts may be had also, and these usually contain some pretty, appropriate verses.

Among the fascinating new wooden toys there are a number of things that will delight the heart of the little people at Easter. Yellow chicks, some of them half emerging from their white shells, others all the way out and running about energetically on their sturdy little feet; gaily colored ducks that flap their wings, and one fellow who bends over and eats out of a round wooden bowl and wags his wooden tail with delight while he is doing it. For the tiny baby a bath bunny, a doll-with bunny head and a vegetable sponge body that swells up in the water, would make a most delightful Easter gift.

Nothing is more cunning for the decorations of an Easter table than the downy yellow chicks with great bows of yellow ribbon tied coquettishly under their chins. Some of these are large enough to occupy the important position at the center of the table, while smaller ones are suitable as favors and can be placed at each place with the name cards in their yellow bills.

NOYES SEES LIFE AS THE GREAT ADVENTURE

The following extract is from the North American Review of last July:

"Alfred Noyes acknowledges his debt to Kipling, and like him, is content to rub elbows with the rougher part of life. He is wanting in Tennyson's conventionality, but he handles his rough themes when he chooses them a trifle more delicately than Kipling. As an example of this may be quoted his delightful poems, Bacchus and the Pirates and Forty Singing Seamen.

"The plea for simplicity, childlike reverence and heroic loyalty to those ideals we discover to be our own is the keynote of Alfred Noyes' philosophy and his message to our chaotic and groping age. The world is a region of wonder and romance, where every man is embarked on a great adventure, a joyful adventure, the end of which is mystery, but the manful voyaging of which is the only thing worth while. This is wonderfully expressed in the song 'Marchaunt Adventurers,' from the 'Tales of the Mermaid Tavern.' Noyes not only believes with Kipling that life is worth living, but that men can live to the fullest and for a purpose—the pursuit of an idea. Such philosophy, with its greatness and simplicity, is an antedote to the cynicism of Bernard Shaw and his school. Noyes has bigger, more human feeling to convey than Shelley or Keats, as he writes of the joy and greatness of human loyalty and strenuous endeavor. It is in this he is nearest Browning. His imagery is rare, his rhythm splendid and his message is a twentieth century message of spiritual truth."

Mr. Noyes will close the lecture course of the Association of Collegiate Alumnae Tuesday evening, April 6, when he will lecture and read from his poems at Pilgrim Congregational church.

NORMAL SCHOOL NOTES

Mr. Bohannon attended a state board of education meeting in St. Paul this week.

• • •

Miss Agnes Crulkshank has resumed her work in school after a long absence on account of illness.

• • •

Mrs. G. W. C. Ross, a former member of the faculty, visited school on Thursday.

• • •

At the house-meeting of the dormitory girls at Torrance hall on Wednesday evening, Miss Porter read two of Alfred Noyes' poems, "A Forest of Wild Thyme" and "Peace and War."

• • •

Miss Frances Waugh returned to school this week after several weeks' absence on account of the illness of her sister.

• • •

Mrs. Howard Strong of Minneapolis and Mrs. C. F. How were visitors at the school on Friday morning.

• • •

Miss Birch entertained the senior class, for whom she is counsellor, at a sewing party in the drawing room on Friday afternoon. Refreshments were served and the afternoon ended in dancing.

• • •

The freshmen team challenged the sophomore third-year team to a game of basket ball on Friday evening. A large number of the girls attended the game.

Munger Club Meets.

Members of the Munger Improvement club held a regular meeting last evening.

The choice of a pavement for Ninth street has not yet been made, but a mass meeting of the property owners will be held in the near future to decide the question. A report of progress on the Chester park bridge plan was presented. At the next meeting of the club a representative of the city park department will be present.

PARTICIPANTS IN CLASS PLAY AT THE CENTRAL HIGH SCHOOL

NINE-DAY REST FOR STUDENTS

Easter Vacation Last of Year; Honor List Shows Good Results.

Rapid Progress Made on Class Play; Cadets to Get Uniforms.

The students of Central high school will enjoy their Easter vacation all next week—the last important vacation of the year. Including Saturdays and Sundays, the rest continues nine days, and the pupils will return on Monday, April 9. The spring grind, noticed especially by the seniors, will then begin.

As during the week before, the social life of the school this week has been rather quiet. The school was livened up somewhat yesterday by the "Death of Dido." When the students return after the vacation the spring activities will be resumed. The most important event during April will be the senior class play, April 16 and 17.

The second month of the second semester was concluded yesterday, when the reports were finished and the cards given out. The honor roll was prepared, and showed that 151 pupils were especially successful in their studies during March. The freshmen scored the most, as usual, getting a total of 62 on the two lists. Marks of 90 or above in at least four subjects entitle one to consideration in the "A" group, while percentages of 90 or more in at least three subjects classes a student in the "B" division.

A compilation of he number of pupils in each class on both lists shows that there were 151 honor students for March. The freshmen take the honors in both divisions, due to their the greater number of members. The juniors are second, the seniors come third, and the sophomores bring up the rear. There were 65 "A" pupils and 86 in the "B" list. A complete summary of the number of students in each class on each roll is given below:

	"A" list.	"B" list.	Total
Seniors	19	11	30
Juniors	8	24	32
Sophomores	12	15	27
Freshmen	26	36	62
Totals	65	86	151

"Electric Engineering as a Vocation" was the subject of a talk given in chapel before the boys of the school Monday morning by Mr. Crane, superintendent of the Great Northern Power company. He came at the request of T. F. Phillips, chairman of the boy's vocational guidance committee. Mr. Crane emphasized the greatly increasing importance of the engineer in the modern world of industry.

"In ancient times," declared the speaker, "the warrior was the sovereign among men; in medieval ages, the theologian; in modern history, the lawyer; and in times to come, the electrical engineer. To accomplish a certain result, the engineer cannot, like the lawyer, refer to some ancient saying or act; he must put his own inventive genius to its best ability. The world is coming to realize that he is the most valuable link in constructive industry."

A great part of Mr. Crane's talk dealt with the college trained electrical engineer and the results accomplished by many of them upon leaving school. The use of interesting figures greatly strengthened the speaker's points.

As a result of the Lamb's club deciding to increase its membership limit from thirty to forty-five, about thirty boys put their names on the waiting list, and thus made application for membership in the organization. It was only necessary to select fifteen more members to reach the new total. The club members admitted thirteen of the applicants by vote yesterday, and the other two will be chosen at the next meeting. Several boys were disappointed in seeking admittance to the club, but because of the large number of those on the waiting list, many could not be accommodated. As soon as vacancies appear those next on the waiting list will be voted upon. The club is desirous of procuring only active and ambitious members. If a member is absent from one meeting without showing an excuse, he is dropped from the club. The members at present are all especially live, and it is hoped that the new ones will be as good.

The members of the club have become especially interested in the drama, "The Silver Box," by Galsworthy, and from which Mr. Rasey, the advisor of the club, has read one act at each of the last two meetings.

After Easter the business meetings will become less frequent, and more attention will be paid to the production of plays. The members of the club have been given plays to produce with the help of a few of their fellow members. These will be held Friday afternoons in the assembly hall. The sketches will be short but interesting, and most of them will be in the comedy line. The plays will be given before the student body, free of charge. The club has not as yet definitely decided on the date for its next benefit night or nights. May 3 and 4 have been mentioned, although not agreed to by all, and the play has not been determined either. The trial scene from "Pickwick Papers" have been hinted by several.

Under the direction of Prof. Rasey of the English department, work on the senior class play, to be given on the evenings of Friday and Saturday, April 16 and 17, is progressing very rapidly and prospects for exceptionally successful results appear unusually promising. The proceeds from the sale of tickets for the play are the main source of funds for the printing of the Zenith, and thus the play is really something of a benefit. The success of the Zenith depends upon the "turnouts" each night.

Mr. Rasey is more than pleased by the ability demonstrated by his youthful proteges and believes that they will be able to produce such a difficult piece of work as "She Stoops to Conquer" with the best of success. This play is seldom put on by stock companies for the reason that it cannot be thoroughly rehearsed in one week. It is a play that requires considerably more mental effort than the popular stagings of today. Its humor is not formed from slang phrases, but has withstood time and criticism for about 150 years. The masterful hand of Goldsmith has produced a play that may be thoroughly enjoyed and appreciated by anyone, and it is believed that the people of Duluth, as well as the students, will avail themselves of this opportunity to see a play which is so decidedly different and which has proved such a wonderful success.

The members of the senior class were asked to hand in a list of their activities throughout the four years, to be used in connection with the individual "writeups" in the Zenith. These will be checked up by Editor Coe and members of his board in the next few days. The "copy" for the Zenith is practically all in now and work on the annual is going on rapidly in the manual training printing department under the able supervision of Mr. Rankin.

• • •

Those of the senior class who expect to go away to school next year were asked to hand their names to Miss Taylor during the last week. Application blanks will be made out for these persons in the near future and they will be advised generally as to what to prepare for. The seniors are requested to make a decision as to their going away to school next year soon after Easter.

• • •

An effort is being made to have the college board examinations given in Duluth this year. Heretofore those from Duluth who wished to take them have been forced to go down to St. Paul. There are several in the senior, as well as some of the other classes, who are especially desirous of having the examination given in Duluth, in that they may more conveniently take them. These examinations are very much more strict than those of the state high school board and more value is attached to them. A mark of 75 is especially good. Entrance to almost any college can be had by passing the examinations demanded by the college that it is wished to enter.

• • •

The members of the Industrial club, composing junior and senior boys of the manual training department, enjoyed their first inspection trip of the season, last week, when a visit to the Clyde iron works was made. A complete tour of the plant was made by the boys and they were instructed as to the various methods by members of the firm. This initial trip proved exceedingly popular and it is planned to have it followed by several others in the near future. The boys all greatly benefited by the trip, gaining many hints of iron work which they had not formerly understood.

• • •

The junior class "hop" committee is busy arranging for the class "closed" party and dance, to be given April 9, the first Friday after vacation. It is planned to have it a "grand" success, and to this end the members of the committee are working hard. It is thought that there will be an unusually large attendance and that the affair will be the most successful that the class has ever undertaken.

• • •

The members of the senior class were given their final chance to obtain class pins this week, when the last order was completed. This was the second order that has been sent in this year, and several students who did not get pins on the first list took advantage of the second opportunity to secure them. Stanley Laskey had charge of the pins.

• • •

Instead of the regular spelling lessons in all classes during the twenty-minute period Tuesday morning, a singular examination, for which Mr. Denfeld was responsible, featured. It was a "quiz" to test the knowledge of the students in the correct spelling of local terms—that is, the names of various important firms, of schools, avenues, streets and other terms pertaining to Duluth. Some of the students turned in especially good papers, while others were alarmingly poor. The examination was the same for all four classes of the school. Such mistakes as "Martial Weles," "Garfield Avenue," and several others surprised the eyes of the correctors. On the whole, however, the results were more than satisfactory.

On the afternoon of April 9 the seniors and faculty will clash in their "grudge" contest of indoor baseball. Already both teams have begun active training in "limbering up" and it is expected that the game will be one long to be remembered. It is the cause of a lot of merriment on both sides—although after the contest only on one side. The seniors express their desire of getting even with the pedagogues for tortures inflicted in classes, but the latter aggregation says that such will not be the case.

Company B of the second cadet corps, drilled Wednesday, and Company A Thursday. Following the close of school yesterday the members of both companies held a business meeting. When it was learned that rifles could not be obtained from the government unless the squad was uniformed, it was decided to get the suits as soon as possible. Several bids were received by Lieut. Jones, but the one from the local army store appeared to satisfy the boys the most, and it was accepted. It is expected that within a week or two, both companies will be in completely uniformed. The rifles, each with 120 rounds of ammunition, will then be procured. Drill will be held next week as usual—Company B on Wednesday, and Company A on Thursday.

The organization of an orchestra among the music enthusiasts of the Washington Junior high school was perfected some time ago and their first performance made yesterday. It was a decided success and one which augers well for the popularity of the organization throughout the remainder of the year. Miss Billings, the present leader, has arranged for the appearance of the orchestra for several different occasions. It is quite probable that they will appear at Central high for various occasions, thus greatly increasing their popularity.

WILL SPEAK FOR SCOTTISH RITE MEN

Rabbi Lefkovits Receives Invitation From Masons of Baltimore.

Dr. Maurice Lefkovits, rabbi of Temple Emanuel, has received the signal honor of being invited to deliver the Maundy Thursday oration for the Scottish Rite Masons of Baltimore, Md., next Thursday evening. He will leave for Baltimore next Tuesday afternoon.

Two years ago Dr. Lefkovits spoke to the local Scottish Rite Masons at their Maundy Thursday feast and reports of the address spread to the other bodies and the invitation to speak in the Maryland metropolis came several weeks ago as a result.

His absence from the local pulpit next Friday evening will be filled by Rev. R. Edward Sayles of the First Baptist church.

DR. RICE COMING HERE IN APRIL

Former Methodist Pastor Will Speak at Unveiling of Wesley Pictures.

Rev. Merton S. Rice, D. D., of Detroit, Mich., formerly pastor of the First Methodist church of Duluth, will be here on the evening of April 13 to deliver the principal address at a Wesley banquet to be given at the First church, in connection with the unveiling of the Wesley pictures. These comprise a life-sized picture of John Wesley, the founder of Methodism, and two smaller pictures, one each, of Charles Wesley and Susanna Wesley.

It is expected that there will be a big demand for admission, for Dr. Rice was one of the most popular pastors who has ever lived in Duluth.

TEMPLE BAND WILL PLAY AT FINAL SUNDAY CONCERT

Duluth's second season of free Sunday concerts will come to a close tomorrow afternoon, when the Temple band will play at the Masonic hall at 3 o'clock.

There will be no special organ numbers tomorrow and a program of music will be rendered by the band under the direction of Charles Helmer. The Scottish Rite quartet will be heard in several numbers and the address of the day will be delivered by E. K. Coe, venerable master of the Lodge of Perfection, who will speak on "Our Responsibilities."

The Scottish Rite quartet will sing two request numbers, Verdi's "God Almighty," and "Songs of Yore," an arrangement of old-time favorite melodies. "The Palms," by Faure, will be sung by C. O. Applehagen and the quartet, and Charles Helmer will render a cornet solo, "I Hear You Calling Me," by Marshall, with pipe organ accompaniment.

CHARLES HELMER.

LADY PAGET IS DEAD IN SERBIA

Wife of Sir Ralph, English Secretary, Succumbs to Typhus.

New York, March 27.—The death in Serbia of typhus of Lady Paget, wife of Sir Ralph Paget, third assistant secretary of foreign affairs in England, was confirmed in cablegrams received here by Madame Slavko Grouitch, leader of the Serbian relief movement in this country. Lady Paget was stricken with the disease at Uskob, where she was the head of the hospital established there by the Serbian relief committee in England.

Lady Paget had been active in relief and hospital work in Serbia from the time of the first Balkan war, when her husband was British minister at Belgrade. She was head of a hospital for Turkish prisoners, maintained by the Kolo Serbka Sistra (Circle of Serbian Sisters) and during the war with Bulgaria took charge of an English hospital for Serbian soldiers. In August, 1913, her husband was transferred to London and Lady Paget was relieved in her work by Madame Grouitch.

At the outbreak of the present war, Lady Paget was in this country. She became active in raising funds here, and later in England for Serbian relief, and in November headed a party of fifty nurses and doctors who went from England to Serbia on a transport.

"Lady Paget was not a mere figure head in the work," Madame Grouitch said. "She did the actual work of a nurse in the hospital."

Madame Grouitch said that she also had received word today of the death from typhus at Nish of Madame Lukovitch, president of the Circle of Serbian Sisters and wife of a Serbian general.

FITZSIMMONS FUNERAL FROM MASONIC TEMPLE.

Funeral services for Charles T. Fitzsimmons, prominent Duluth commission man, who died March 24, will be held from the Masonic temple at 4 o'clock this afternoon. The Duluth commandery, Knights Templar, of which Mr. Fitzsimmons was a member, will have charge of the services.

The pallbearers will be W. T. Smith, J. W. Lyder, Jr., and Dr. Peter Kraft of Duluth and James D. Redpath, George C. Sherman and S. G. Palmer of the Twin Cities.

Following the funeral the body will be taken to the old family home at Sparta, Wis., for burial.

Best cup of coffee on earth at Haley's.

Measles Close Normal.

Valley City, N. D., March 27.—The Valley City normal school was closed Thursday on account of an epidemic of measles. All pupils left for their homes. There are eleven cases of the disease in school and it will remain closed until after the Easter vacation.

Fall on Spike Fatal.

Grand Forks, N. D., March 27.—Aaron Bondelid, aged 10, died here Thursday evening, after a fall in which he pierced his head with a spike. His skull was fractured and the brain pierced.

"Y" BOYS PLAN DAILY PROGRAM FOR THEIR EASTER VACATION

The boys' department of the Y. M. C. A. will be busy during the Easter vacation, which commences Monday. Every committee planned some special activity. 5:20—Sunday club lunch.

This afternoon the members of the boys' department are making a visit to the American Carbolite company at West Duluth. Tonight at 7:30 there will be a series of baseball games.

Sunday at 3 o'clock the Knights of Sir Galahad will meet and J. A. McGaughey will be the speaker. All boys in the city under 15 years and over 12 years are cordially invited. Every member that brings a new boy tomorrow will receive a picture of Sir Galahad.

The Sunday club will meet at 4 o'clock and W. J. McCabe will be the speaker and Gordon Hegardt, leader. Ernest Paulson will give a cornet solo, and the boys' department orchestra will give a musical program. At 5:30 the committee will serve lunch in the Dutch kitchen. All boys over 15 years are invited.

DRAMA VAUDEVILLE MOTION PICTURES

COMMENT ON PLAYS AND PLAYERS — WHAT THE PRESS AGENTS PROMISE

BETTER things, or at least a wider choice of attractions, seem to be in prospect for Duluth theatergoers. For several weeks the only entertainment, aside from the motion picture houses, has been offered by the stock company and popular priced vaudeville.

But next week will bring one of the recent comedy successes, "Potash & Perlmutter" to the Lyceum and on Easter Sunday the Orpheum will reopen with a promise of "full Orpheum shows."

The future of the Orpheum probably rests on the six or eight weeks that remain of the spring season. It is generally believed that the circuit "cheated a little," in the slang of the profession, on the Duluth bills. Too frequently the Duluth theater was given an Orpheum bill minus a real headliner, and featuring some act that was given second or third position in the bigger theaters. At times there was little to choose between the bills and those shown at a popular priced vaudeville theater like the Grand. The result was disaster. The circuit now promises Duluth all the regular headliners, and if it keeps its promise there is every reason to believe that the Duluth theater can be made to pay. It will run for six or eight weeks and then close for the summer months, to reopen on the same plan late in August, if the experiment is a success.

The reopening of the Orpheum theater will leave Duluth without a first class theater available for road attractions. The situation has not caused any worry this season, because there were few road attractions to book. With the Orpheum dark there was always the chance to book stray attractions there, as was done in the case of the Lyman Howe pictures, but only two road attractions are now in sight for the spring months. They will be seen at the Lyceum.

How this situation will be adjusted next season remains to be seen. Duluth has supported a first class theater playing the best traveling attractions six nights a week in the past, and should be able to do it again, with a greatly increased population. But the Baldwin Players seem to be a fixture at the Lyceum. They have a firmly established place, and with the list of plays Mr. Baldwin has for the summer months, their popularity is not likely to diminish.

What readjustment will take place next fall depends on the success of the Orpheum experiment and of the summer engagement of the stock company.

* * *

New productions in New York this week were: "The Doctor's Dilemma," one of George Bernard Shaw's comedies which is familiar to many Duluthians in book form, presented by Granville Barker: and "Alice in Wonderland," a dramatization of Lewis Carroll's famous story.

New York is bemoaning the absence of many well known stage favorites. Here is what a writer in The Times says:

"Mention of Maude Adams brings to mind the fact that she has not played on Broadway since first the curtains rose last August, and it is a melancholy task to have to report that there is no present prospect of her playing here before the snow flies again.

"Indeed, when the history of this theatrical season comes to be written, there will be some strange gaps in it. Lively, varied, and interesting as its activity has been, it is curiously true that in its chronicle no part will be taken by many of the players who hold the warmest spots in the hearts of American theatergoers. Forbes-Robertson, of course, was not expected. E. H. Sothern has passed the stage entrance by since the season began. Julia Marlowe has been missing from the footlights, and it may be that we shall never see that gifted and delightful actress play again. Mrs. Fiske, whom some of us consider the most brilliant player on the American stage, has not graced it with her presence save for a few faltering fall weeks on the road. Laurette Taylor has deserted us for London, where Peg and her dog, Michael, have been cheerfully at work all winter. David Warfield and George Arliss have labored in other vineyards, and Miss Adams has known only the plaudits of the road."

SCENE FROM "LITTLE LORD FAUNTLEROY,"
Which Will Be Presented for the First Five Days of Next Week By the Baldwin Players at the Lyceum.

special matinee will be given Thursday in addition to the regular matinees Sunday and Wednesday.

Little Muriel Cole has been brought to Duluth for the week to appear in the title role. She has been seen here on two former occasions, as Mary Jane in "Mary Jane's Pa" and as "The Littlest Rebel." The little girl has many admirers in Duluth and she is expected to add to the list next week.

Herbert Barton will be seen in the part of the crabbed old grandfather, a rather unusual role for him, and Miss Doris Olsson will be "Dearest," the little boy's mother.

* * *

Big preparations are already being made for the week of April 28. For the week beginning with Easter Sunday the Baldwin Players will present "Within the Law." This is the highest royalty play yet presented in Duluth and Mr. Baldwin is planning to make it the banner production of the season. "Within the Law" was but recently released to stock companies and the Duluth company will be the second one to play it. It is now being played in Los Angeles by the Morosco company, with Miss Jane Cowl as the leading woman. She played the part for two seasons in New York and it was largely owing to her influence that Mr. Morosco was able to secure its release. Mr. Baldwin promptly secured the rights to it for Duluth.

ABE AND MORRIS AT THE LYCEUM

Montague Glass' "Potash and Perlmutter" Booked for Friday and Saturday.

Ever since Montague Glass wrote the first "Potash and Perlmutter" story, there developed a strong desire to see Abe and Morris on the stage. The two partners had become international favorites when Manager A. H. Woods presented them, two seasons ago, at the Cohan theater, New York city, and their reception was an ovation. "Potash and Perlmutter" broke all records for runs and for receipts long before Mr. Woods, in answer to insistent demands from the theatergoers of the rest of the country, determined to break the apparently endless engagement, but now, at last, this most delightful of all comedies is to be seen at the Lyceum on next Friday and Saturday matinee and night. The event promises to be a notable one in local theatrical history. From the minute that it was announced that the Lyceum had secured "Potash and Perlmutter" as the big attraction of the season; applications for reservations began pouring into the boxoffice, and there is every indication that this city will add another to the enviable records of the production.

Briefly, the story of "Potash and Perlmutter" deals with the trials and tribulations of those most lovable of partners, who risk their all to save from a Russian prison a co-religionist, who has been falsely accused of bomb-throwing, but who, through their very self-sacrifice, secure the services of the greatest cloak and suit designer of her day—Ruth Goldman—a young woman who is described as having "a business head like Andrew Carnegie and a form like Lillian Russell." For three acts the fortunes and misfortunes of the partners are carried forward amid a perfect gale of laughter that drowns the occasional tear. Although containing a thousand laughs, the play is full of deepest heart-interest, and, although he does not appear on the program, the busiest character of all is little Cupid.

The scenes are laid, first, in the somewhat shabby downtown office and workroom of the firm, then in its handsome Fifth avenue establishment and, finally, in the home of Abe Potash. No play has ever been put on the stage with greater attention to detail. For many weeks the members of the splendid company that will be seen here visited the cloak and suit districts of New York in order to thoroughly familiarize themselves with the true atmosphere, while in the meantime Mr. Woods' scenic artists and carpenters were making absolute reproductions of salesrooms and workshops, so that the audience is literally transported to actual scenes of Montague Glass' famous stories from which the play was dramatized. The result proved well worth the time and expense involved, for the audience actually lives with the characters as the wonderfully absorbing plot is carried on to a happy ending.

In the company to be seen here will be such New York favorites as Lou Welch, Jules Jordan, Edward Shoben, Thomas J. Tempest, Joseph Sterling, Fred Fleck, Jr., J. Woodford Ray, W. H. Leyden, J. Irving Southard, Robert Barber, Jane Fearnley, Katherine De Barry, Jean King, Mildred Barker, Ethel Brice, Dolly Gray and Mabel Vanette.

COMEDY PLEASES GRAND PATRONS

Show of Unusual Worth Booked for Coming Week.

Patrons of the New Grand are being royally entertained this week by an exceptionally good bill of vaudeville and photoplays.

The big laughing and applause hit is stunning Belle Oliver. Miss Oliver has a snappy, entertaining combination of song and comedy. She has ideas of entertainment of her own, works with the speed of the wind, makes every point count and so far as class and cleverness is concerned is in a class by herself. All through her allotted twenty minutes she has her audience rocking with laughter.

Rice and Franklin have a clever comedy skit, "Won By Ten," which is brimful of wit and good, wholesome comedy. Miss Franklin has an excellent voice, which she uses to advantage.

CLERGYMEN ARE INVITED

Baldwin Players Would Have Them See "Little Lord Fauntleroy."

Ministers of Duluth will be guests of the Lyceum management next week when the Baldwin Players will appear in "Little Lord Fauntleroy."

Mr. Baldwin has written the following open letter to the clergymen of all denominations:

"The storm of criticism which has grown out of the production recently of a large number of so-called sex plays in the main is justified, but it would be a mistake on that account to ignore entirely the fact that the drama has always been and always will be a positive educational and moral force.

"The literature of the stage contains many fine examples of direct appeal to the better nature of men and women and there are innumerable productions in which a wholesome moral is driven home. Into this class falls the dramatic version of Mrs. Frances Hodgson Burnett's beautiful story, 'Little Lord Fauntleroy,' which will be produced by the Baldwin Players at the Lyceum theater next week.

"This story, as you know, is inspirational in the extreme. Any boy who sees the play is bound to be a better boy as the result of his experience and even grown-ups are benefited by seeing a presentation of the touching story of the devoted and manly little son of a doting mother.

"There are many such plays and it will be the purpose of the management of the Baldwin Players to revive some of them from time to time. It will ever be the policy of the management of the Lyceum theater and the Baldwin Players to be guided only by the best traditions of the stage, and you will always find it safe to attend yourselves or to advise others to attend.

"With this aim in view we cordially extend to the clergy of all denominations interested in the movement for pure and wholesome amusement an invitation to attend the performances of 'Little Lord Fauntleroy' as the guests of the management. Seats will be gladly furnished upon application.

"'Little Lord Fauntleroy' will be presented for but five days next week, owing to the appearance of a road attraction for Friday and Saturday. A

COMMENT ON PLAYS AND PLAYERS — WHAT THE PRESS AGENTS PROMISE

BETTER things, or at least a wider choice of attractions, seem to be in prospect for Duluth theatergoers. For several weeks the only entertainment, aside from the motion picture houses, has been offered by the stock company and popular priced vaudeville.

But next week will bring one of the recent comedy successes, "Potash & Perlmutter" to the Lyceum and on Easter Sunday the Orpheum will reopen with a promise of "full Orpheum shows."

The future of the Orpheum probably rests on the six or eight weeks that remain of the spring season. It is generally believed that the circuit "cheated a little," in the slang of the profession, on the Duluth bills. Too frequently the Duluth theater was given an Orpheum bill minus a "real headliner, and featuring some act that was given second or third position in the bigger theaters. At times there was little to choose between the bills and those shown at a popular priced vaudeville theater like the Grand. The result was disaster. The circuit now promises Duluth all the regular headliners, and if it keeps its promise there is every reason to believe that the Duluth theater can be made to pay. It will run for six or eight weeks and then close for the summer months, to reopen on the same plan late in August, if the experiment is a success.

The reopening of the Orpheum theater will leave Duluth without a first class theater available for road attractions. The situation has not caused any worry this season, because there were few road attractions to book. With the Orpheum dark there was always the chance to book stray attractions there, as was done in the case of the Lyman Howe pictures, but only two road attractions are now in sight for the spring months. They will be seen at the Lyceum.

How this situation will be adjusted next season remains to be seen. Duluth has supported a first class theater playing the best traveling attractions six nights a week in the past, and should be able to do it again, with a greatly increased population. But the Baldwin Players seem to be a fixture at the Lyceum. They have a firmly established place, and with the list of plays Mr. Baldwin has for the summer months, their popularity is not likely to diminish.

What readjustment will take place next fall depends on the success of the Orpheum experiment and of the summer engagement of the stock company.

* * *

New productions in New York this week were: "The Doctor's Dilemma," one of George Bernard Shaw's comedies which is familiar to many Duluthians in book form, presented by Granville Barker; and "Alice in Wonderland," a dramatization of Lewis Carroll's famous story.

New York is bemoaning the absence of many well known stage favorites. Here is what a writer in The Times says:

"Mention of Maude Adams brings to mind the fact that she has not played on Broadway since first the curtains rose last August, and it is a melancholy task to have to report that there is no present prospect of her playing here before the snow flies again.

"Indeed, when the history of this theatrical season comes to be written, there will be some strange gaps in it. Lively, varied, and interesting as its activity has been, it is curiously quiet just in its chronicle no part will be taken by many of the players who hold the warmest spots in the hearts of American theatergoers. Forbes-Robertson, of course, was not expected. E. H. Sothern has passed the stage entrance by since the season began. Julia Marlowe has been missing from the footlights, and it may be that we shall never see that gifted and delightful actress play again. Mrs. Fiske, whom some of us consider the most brilliant player on the American stage, has not graced it with her presence save for a few loitering fall weeks on the road. Laurette Taylor has deserted us for London, where Peg and her dog, Michael, have been cheerfully at work all winter. David Warfield and George Arliss have labored in other vineyards, and Miss Adams less known only the plaudits of the road."

SCENE FROM "LITTLE LORD FAUNTLEROY,"
Which Will Be Presented for the First Five Days of Next Week By the Baldwin Players at the Lyceum.

Little Muriel Cole has been brought to Duluth for the week to appear in the title role. She has been seen here on two former occasions, as Mary Jane in "Mary Jane's Pa" and as "The Littlest Rebel." The little girl has many admirers in Duluth and she is expected to add to the list next week.

Herbert Barton will be seen in the part of the crabbed old grandfather, a rather unusual role for him, and Miss Doris Olsson will be "Dearest," the little boy's mother.

* * *

Big preparations are already being made for the week of April 28. For the week beginning with Easter Sunday the Baldwin Players will present "Within the Law." This is the highest royalty play yet presented in Duluth and Mr. Baldwin is planning to make it the banner production of the season. "Within the Law" was but recently released to stock companies and the Duluth company will be the second one to play it. It is now being played in Los Angeles by the Morosco company, with Miss Jane Cowl as the leading woman. She played the part for two seasons in New York and it was largely owing to her influence that Mr. Morosco was able to secure its release. Mr. Baldwin promptly secured the rights to it for Duluth.

INTENTIONAL DUPLICATE EXPOSURE

cent an offering above the ordinary. A beautiful setting and varied electrical effects make the act a pleasing one to the eye as well as the ear.

The famous Idanias troupe, fiv attractive young woman and a man, offer a European gymnastic exhibition with plenty of thrilling and hair-raising feats.

"Retribution," a two-reel subject, replete with intense situations and exciting action is the feature photoplay. "Father's Timepiece," a comedy, and one of the Helen Holmes stories of railroad life, "The Night Operator at Bruxton," are other photoplays on the program.

The Hearst-Selig News carries many interesting scenes from all over the world, including two distinct style reviews of the latest modes in gowns and hats. One of the reviews is posed by Lady Duff Gordon in the Lucile establishment of New York city.

On Monday the new bill promises to equal if not eclipse the present excellent entertainment.

Headlining the new bill is dainty Frances Dyer, singing comedienne. Miss Dyer is endowed with an excellent voice and a magnetic personality. Handsome gowns and a variety of song numbers make her offering one to be enjoyed.

Archi Onri, assisted by Miss Dolly, offers a novelty in juggling eccentricities. Archie Onri is said to be a juggling genius, and his offering is unique and original.

One of the comedy surprises of the season is claimed for Gaines and Brown in their singing, talking and dancing diversion. Both are comedians of rare ability and their comedy is of the contagious kind.

The Four Flying Valentines in a daring and thrilling casting exhibition with an element of comedy that is refreshing, completes the vaudeville part of the bill.

The photoplay feature, "The Hermit of Bird Island," is in three reels and tells a romantic story in a delightful manner. "Postponed," a comedy; "When the Fates Spin," a drama, and one of the George Ade fables, "The Fable of the City Grafter," and "The Unprotected Rube" complete the bill.

NAVY FILMS AT ORPHEUM

Big guns that hurl 1,400-pound projectiles twenty-five miles from the newest superdreadnaughts of the new United States navy constitute one of the interesting films to be presented at the Orpheum theater tonight and tomorrow matinee and night by Lyman H. Howe. They were photographed by Howe's camera men by the authority of Secretary of the Navy Josephus Daniels.

The battleships of even a few short years ago were mere pigmies compared to present day prowlers of the deep. These 14-inch guns are what the nation under stress of war would have to pin its faith to. It is true that the results of the tests shown in this film are kept strictly secret in departmental archives, but naval experts say they surpass all expectations. Confidence in their terrific power is not misplaced. The series also shows 12-inch guns in action. Even these are so powerful that a projectile weighing 980 pounds will penetrate more than two inches of armor plate at distance of two miles. Another phase of our naval armament is disclosed by long-range views of new torpedoes—about 20 feet long, 18 inches wide and costing $2,500 apiece. They, too, can be depended upon for absolute accuracy for more than two miles. The big guns can be fired every two minutes, but even the largest battleship cannot carry more than 80 or 100 rounds for each gun. Howe's reproduction of our navy is so comprehensive that it comprises all types of fighting crafts, such as the ordinary destroyer, which with only its 4-inch guns can easily sink a merchantman, and the light cruisers with their 8-inch guns can as readily sink the destroyer. "The mosquito fleet" is the term usually applied to them, but this cognomen would seem more appropriate for the submarines, which are also shown.

Howe travelers will also visit what, at first sight, might well be regarded as a governmental edifice, museum or university. Indeed, it well deserves to be considered as a university that stands for all that is progressive and practical, rather than for theory. In reality it is a manufacturing plant of vast proportions and one that owes its great success to the initiative, increased efficiency and consummate skill and organization of an army of more than 6,000 men and women. It is the plant of the National Cash Register company at Dayton, Ohio, and the innumerable processes, operations and machines employed in manufacturing the product as shown in this reproduction are of absorbing interest.

Native life in the Philippines is another feature of remarkable interest, showing the strange customs of different tribes and how these same tribes have been led to civilization by Uncle Sam. Unique customs, strange scenes, strange dances and the swift march of progress are all vividly illustrated. It is an astonishing object lesson showing how these people have been redeemed from savagery. One portion, in particular, was secured at great personal risk, showing the last head-hunt that ever occurred in Bontoc. This portion never has been and never can be duplicated, as head-hunting has now ceased.

ORPHEUM SHOWS RETURN.

Big-Time Acts and Prices Will Be Back Easter Sunday.

It is to be real Orpheum vaudeville and no substitutes, at the Orpheum theater beginning with the re-opening of the playhouse on Easter Sunday, when a full program of seven high class acts and the celebrated Orpheum travel pictures will be offered at regular Orpheum prices. In compliance with the demand of Duluth theater-goers, who have pledged their support to the theater, the Duluth Orpheum is again back in the fold of the Orpheum circuit and will offer the complete Orpheum show with none of the big features or headline acts eliminated. It is a guaranteed statement from the Orpheum offices that the Duluth house is to get the same acts that play the Minneapolis and St. Paul Orpheum theaters regardless of how big or how high salaried those acts may be. With this arrangement, the future of the Orpheum in Duluth is put squarely in the hands of Duluth theater-goers, as every effort is to be made to keep the shows up to the highest standard of merit each week.

The opening bill has a host of good things to offer, among them being "Ideal," said to be the champion woman swimmer and diver of the world, whose exhibition of swimming and diving in a huge glass front tank is an act that holds unusual interest.

Cross and Josephine, in another Orpheum headline act, are on the bill, back in America after a four-months' run at the Empire theater, London. They are classed among America's favorite musical comedy stars.

Miss Louise Galloway assisted by John Butler and company appears in Edgar Allen Woolf's latest success entitled "Little Mother." Dorothy Brenner and Bernard Wheeler in a musical sweetmeat entitled "The Candy Booth," add another good feature to the bill.

Other good features that will go to make up the opening bill will be James Thompson and company, presenting "The Burglar's Union," an unusually funny black-face offering. Hal and Francis in a song hit entitled "The Stock Farm," and Ethel and Emma Hopkins," dainty singers of dainty songs, and the famous Orpheum travel pictures. Added to this list of good numbers will be the excellent Orpheum orchestra, which insures an evening's entertainment equal to any and better than the majority of the Orpheum theaters on the entire circuit.

The old scale of Orpheum prices will prevail, 10, 25, 50 and 75 cents, while matinees will be 25 and 10 cents.

NOTED STARS AT REX.

Organ Programs Are Popular; Film Shows High Class.

An unusually strong show is booked for the Rex for Sunday. The work of Miss Faith Helen Rogers and Mrs. McKindley has been greatly enjoyed the last week and a very fine organ program is announced for the coming week.

Grace Miller White, the author of "The Valley of the Missing," the latest box office attraction, wrote "Tess of the Storm Country." "The Valley of the Missing" is very much on the same order—that creeps in close to your heart. By an odd coincidence the star and author bear the same name. Jane Miller, while scarcely out of her teens, has appeared in support of Madam Nazimova, Mrs. Fisk, Maud Adams and other famous dramatic stars. Jane Miller will make her first appearance in Duluth at the Rex Monday and Tuesday.

Elsie Janis will be the Rex Wednesday and Thursday, where "The Caprices of Kitty," a Bosworth feature program, will be shown. Disguising herself in strange costumes, visiting her artist fiance, and driving her racer at sixty miles past speed limit are some of her caprices.

"Sunshine Molly," produced by the Smalleys, is something the Rex management will offer. It is full of tender little scenes, beautiful camera work and a world of human interest. It is a story of the oil fields and tells of a man's strong passions that are turned from chaff to wheat under the spell of a good woman's sunny smile and happy, thoughtful ways. The picture is magnificently staged. One scene shows the burning of the entire oil field. "Sunshine Molly" will be at the Rex next Friday and Saturday.

SUBMARINE FILM AT LYRIC.

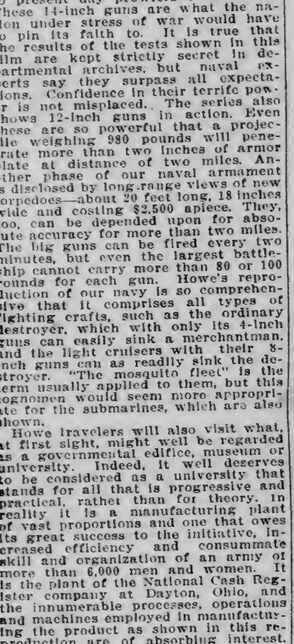
Picture Reflects Knowledge Derived By Wonderful Invention.

Duluth theatergoers have seen at either the Rex or the Lyric many of the finest productions in the motion picture world, and the cost has never been considered. One of the biggest things in filmdom and the only one of its kind today, is the Williamson submarine picture, "Under the Sea." Arrangements have been made to show this at the Lyric for one whole week beginning March 29 and closing April 4.

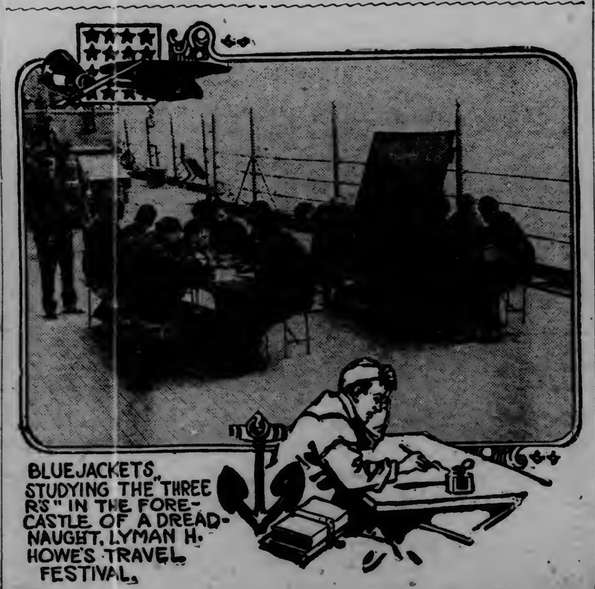
An important advance in knowledge of the sea, has been obtained by Capt. Williamson's wonderful invention. Government experts report that they have tested the invention in the Norfolk navy yard, and with this submarine tube men can descend hundreds of feet under water, (far beyond the uttermost limit of any diver) and remain there for hours without danger or discomfort, exploring and photographing the strange depths of the ocean and its teeming life. Popular Mechanics, the Scientific American and American magazines all carry from one to two pages of descriptive matter regarding this wonder of the age.

In addition to the educational and scientific values in this "under-sea" picture, it is full of thrills and daring fights with the man-eating monsters of the deep. In this hundred miles of travel under the sea, beautiful valleys, meadows and gardens that vie with our own landscapes are seen on every side.

SCENE FROM "POTASH & PERLMUTTER," At the Lyceum Next Friday and Saturday, Matinee and Night.



SCENE FROM THE "SUBMARINE MOVIES," Coming to the Lyric Next Week.



"THE LURE" AT ZELDA.

White Slave Film Will Be Shown Three Days.

Lew Fields in "Old Dutch" ends a very successful engagement at the Zelda theater tonight. Fields is known all over the country as one of the greatest comedians, and he is at his best in this production.

A complete change of program will be presented tomorrow, including the ninth episode of "The Exploits of Elaine," entitled "The Death Ray." It seems that every episode gets more exciting and interesting, and while there is a continuation, each one is a story in itself.

Manager Mistachkin has contracted with the World Film corporation, to present next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday the five-act Schubert production, "The Lure." Mr. Mistachkin has issued notices that children under 16 will not be admitted during the showing of this film. "The Lure" has been indorsed by many reform workers. It is intensely dramatic, telling the story of a working girl who is employed in a department store, who must out of her poor earnings support an invalid mother and herself. While in the store at her counter she makes the acquaintance of a stranger, who leaves a card, with the assurance that if the girl wants to earn a little extra money, she may call evenings at the address given on the card. Later, when the doctor advises that the girl's mother has but one chance of life, and that is by going to a different climate, the girl is discharged from the department store. They are left absolutely penniless. She remembers the stranger and the card, believing that she can do a little sewing in the evening, or house work, and decides to call at the address. Scene after scene of the greatest interest follow in the most rapid succession. This presentation encircles the silent partner, who happens to be a prominent politician, also a few men of the "higher-up" class, as well as a banker's daughter.

WAR FILM AT SUNBEAM.

"Stonewall" Jackson in Civil War Scenes Will Be Shown.

"Stonewall Jackson's Way," the story of the warfare participated in by that great general in the Confederate army, told in pictures, is the offering at the Sunbeam theater for Sunday. To those familiar with American history there is no need of telling of the brave and valorous deeds of this great soldier, and to those who are not, it might be said that there were few generals on either side that displayed such, marvelous knowledge of the war game as did this able Confederate leader.

This film deals with the fighting done in Virginia during this great struggle for supremacy between the North and the South, and is filled with interesting scenes of the many battles that were fought. Especially do the striking scenes of nightfall stand out in this picture, which is the work of Emmet Campbell Hall. Another number in the Patsy Bolivar series that has to do with Patsy at college is an added attraction for tomorrow. Monday and Tuesday the Vitagraph company will present an attraction that is especially adapted for holy week entitled, "Daughters of Israel."

Easter Sunday will witness the presentation at the Sunbeam of a masterpiece in motion picture annals when the film entitled "Judith of Bethulia," will be shown.

"Ziegfeld Follies."

The announcement that the famous "Ziegfeld Follies" will be presented at the Lyceum in April has aroused an unusual interest among local playgoers and the engagement gives every promise of being a record-breaking one. "Ziegfeld Follies" is the largest and most prosperous musical entertainment in the world. In addition to a large chorus made up of famous Ziegfeld beauties, there are 150 entertainers employed in the presentation of the work. The cast will include Bert Williams, Leon Errol, Vera Michelena, Louise Meyers, Ed Wynn, Arthur Deagon, Anna Pennington, Stella Chatelaine, Herbert Clifton, J. Bernard Dyllyn, C. Morton Horne, Johnny Dove, Kay Laurell, May Carmen, Gladys Feldman, Jean Barnett, Lottie Vernon, Addison Young, Harold Dunham, Dorothy Newell, Dal Vayne, Arthur Rose, Dorothy Godfrey and numerous others.

The salaries demanded by certain musical performers who were approached by vaudeville interests have given the latter a bad case of staggers. Geraldine Farrar is said to have made the moderate demand of $1,000 per performance, whereas Fritz Kreisler was willing to accept $800. Sembrich and Melba were willing to sacrifice themselves at the rate of $6,000 and $5,000 per week respectively.

The appearance of Mrs. Pankhurst in London vaudeville failed to cause any commotion. It is stated that her remarks were applauded only by those of her followers who were present. Her talk is claimed to have contained nothing startling outside of the promise to renew suffragette activities as soon as the war is over.

* * *

That wise Amsterdam war correspondent has informed London that all of the Berlin theaters will close April 1. If this news is as correct as the rest of the stuff this correspondent has sent to London Berlin theater-goers have no especial cause for worry.

* * *

Calve broke all records at the Palace, New York, for attendance during her first week in the vaudeville field.

* * *

Lawrence D'Orsay, the well-known English actor, will soon be seen in the two-a-days, utilizing a sketch by Salisbury Field.

* * *

"My Aunt," an English farce, is being done over to suit American taste by Tom Gray for Ned Wayburn, who will make the production under the title of "She's In Again." The piece was originally French, having formerly been adapted for the English stage. Ada Lewis is to have the principal female role, the premiere to take place about the middle of April.

* * *

The combined all-star production of Charles Frohman and David Belasco is to be a revival of "The Celebrated Case." It is to be acted by a company composed of well-known stage luminaries, among whom are Nat Goodwin, Otis Skinner, Helen Ware, Florence Reed, Elita Proctor Otis, Minna Gale Haines and Beverly Sitgreaves.

It is rumored that the last Winter Garden show, "Maid in America," is to be withdrawn as soon as its successor can be gotten ready for production. "Maid in America" is said to have been a disappointment financially.

Margaret Anglin will again be seen on the Pacific coast in Greek plays this summer, the place being the same where she made her big success before in the same kind of a repertoire, the Greek theater of the University of California, at Berkeley, Cal. Miss Anglin hopes to be able to appear in the same plays in New York in the fall.

* * *

Margaret Anglin has accepted an offer to organize and star at the head of a special company which is to play at the Tricentenary Shakespearean festival, the latter to be held in St. Louis in 1916. The festival is to start in May of that year. The company is also to appear in other cities after its St. Louis engagement.

* * *

"The Sea Wolf," dramatized from Jack London's thrilling story by Joseph Noel and Guy Bolton, has been completed. Charles Dalton will be seen in the leading role.

* * *

"Omar, the Tentmaker" experienced its five hundredth anniversary recently at Cleveland, Ohio. It was made the occasion for a banquet tendered the star of the production, Guy Bates Post.

* * *

Frederick McKay will shortly put on a new one, "The Tricky Mrs. Trevor" by name. In the cast will be Vincent Serrano, William Raymond, Muriel Morris, Kate Mayhew and others.

* * *

A. H. Woods has secured for production a new satrical farce by J. B. Larrie and George B. Hill, two newspaper men. It is entitled "Who Am I?" and is said to be a satire on the modern burglar play.

* * *

Jane Cowl has entered upon a contract with Oliver Morosco, by virtue of which the latter will take care of her interests for a term of years. For the present Miss Cowl will appear in stock at Morosco's Los Angeles theater, the Burbank.

"Who Laughs Last"—

THE young man who fritters away all his money for fun and pleasure is apt to have reason to rue his course as he gets along in years.

The young man who is wise, though he has his pleasures and amusements, makes it a point to spend only what he can afford and to have a savings account and make regular deposits. In the end he becomes independent—and of him it may be said "who laughs last laughs best."

DYNAMITE IN COAL WORK OF ENEMIES.

Kief, N. D., March 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—A Russian farmer named Johns, living near here, had unusual experiences as a result of the efforts of enemies to assassinate him. His stove blew up and, thinking that a small piece of dynamite used in the mines might have been left in the coal, he purchased a new stove. It went the same way. He then began an investigation of his coal bin and found several small "bombs" made by placing dynamite in small steel pipes colored to imitate coal.

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST

NEW ROCKFORD IS SELECTED

Will Entertain Next Meeting of North Dakota Telephone Association.

L. D. Richardson of Fargo Re-elected President; Fargo Man Secretary.

Grand Forks, N. D., March 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—The board of directors of the North Dakota Telephone association yesterday afternoon selected New Rockford as the place for the 1916 meeting of the association.

New Rockford's invitation to the association was presented by deelgates from that city, and though there were several other invitations, New Rockford had the real strength.

This is the first time that the convention has chosen a city in that section of the state for its annual meeting, and it is anticipated that a large number of new telephone managers will, as a result, become interested in the organization.

L. D. Richardson of Fargo, was re-elected president; W. H. Wilson of New Rockford, vice president, and H. Livermore of Fargo, secretary and treasurer.

TRAMP ATTACKS BENEVOLENT WOMAN

Throws Her to Floor After Being Fed, But Is Captured.

Grand Forks, N. D., March 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—Frank Shyka, a transient, was put in jail here yesterday, charged with assaulting Mrs. Jacob Hollweger, at the Hollweger farm home near Emerado.

While Mrs. Hollweger was giving him a meal, he suddenly attacked her, throwing her to the floor, but her cries attracted her husband, who arrived with a revolver in his hand. Shyka escaped.

The day following Shyka made another visit to the farm, and was captured by Hollweger and his sons.

FARMERS DRAGGING NORTH DAKOTA FIELDS

Fargo, N. D., March 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—Farmers of the central and western counties of the state are doing considerable preliminary spring work. No cases of seeding have yet been reported but hundreds of farmers in different counties have started dragging their fields.

The farmers in the Red River valley will be delayed somewhat in getting on the fields as the snow has not entirely disappeared. It was going rapidly until the cold snap Thursday and has not melted much until today.

INDIANA MINE IS NOW SHIPPING ORE.

Iron Mountain, Mich., March 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Indiana mine is the first mine in the district to commence shipping ore. Loading was commenced last Monday. The daily output, about 125 tons, is being shipped to the Thomas Furnace company at Milwaukee, operators of the property. Supt. Richards recently increased his force to sixty men. The new compressor is in operation and giving good satisfaction. The inflow of water has increased somewhat and is now estimated at about 700 gallons to the minute.

RAINY RIVER REGIMENT.

Movement to Organize Militia in Fort Frances District.

Fort Frances, Ont., March 27.—A movement is on foot here by the local officers of the militia to apply to headquarters for the necessary permission to organize a Rainy River regiment composed entirely of men from this part of the district.

"As it is now," said Adjutant Stethem, "we have contributed 230 men for active service, all of whom are scattered here and there in several other regiments, thus losing their identity as members of the Ninety-eighth regiment. Some are in the Ninetieth Rifles of Winnipeg, others are in the Twenty-seventh battalion, and in this way our district is not recognized in any press dispatches or at headquarters.

"If we had a regiment of our own that could go as a unit we would then get some credit."

FLOODWOOD FIRE.

City Drug Store and an Adjoining Building Burn.

Floodwood, Minn., March 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—Early yesterday morning a fire broke out in the living rooms of Dr. Miurhead in the City drug store and spread so quickly that the entire building burned down to the ground, also the adjoining dwelling occupied by the Bachelors club. The loss on the drug store building was about $4,000 and about $6,000 on the stock. There was but $3,000 or $4,000 worth of insurance on the building.

RECORD BUTTER PRODUCER.

Holstein Cow, Owned in New Jersey, Leads Whole World.

Delavan, Wis., March 27.—The world's record for butter fat production has been broken by Pinderne Hollingen Fayne, a Holstein cow, which, in one year produced 24,612.8 pounds of milk, containing 1,116.05 pounds of butter fat, according to the announcement here of the Holstein-Friesian Advanced registry office. The cow proved herself the best butter-fat producer of any breed in the world, according to the registry office.

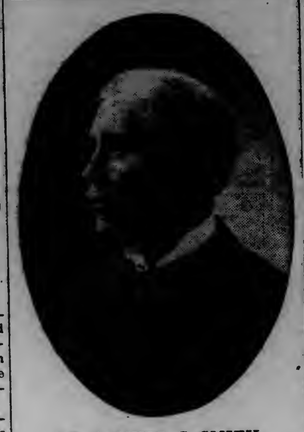
The animal is owned by the Somerset Holstein Breeding company of Somerset, N. J. The test was made under the supervision of the New Jersey state agricultural college.

BADLY BURNED RESCUING FAMILY.

Tower City, N. D., March 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—Lewis Betts narrowly escaped after rescuing his wife and two children from their burning home here.

Betts was awakened after the flames had burned about the only stairs in the house, and it was necessary to escape by way of the roof of a small lean-to. He had one hand quite badly injured.

DR. SMITH'S FUNERAL WILL BE HELD MONDAY



DR. SAMUEL G. SMITH.

St. Paul, Minn., March 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—The funeral of Dr. Samuel G. Smith, pastor of the People's church of this city and well known as a platform orator, sociologist and prison worker, who died March 25, will be held from the People's church Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Members of the church have expressed a desire that the body lie in state in the church between 12 and 2 p. m. Monday.

Dr. Addison Moore, Schnectady, N. Y., a warm friend of Dr. Smith for many years, will conduct the funeral services. Dr. Moore formerly was a pastor of Woodland Park Baptist church and last year, while Dr. Smith was absent in England, he filled the pulpit of People's church during the summer.

James W. Smith, son of Dr. Smith, who is living on a farm near Hughesville, Md., is in poor health and it is considered doubtful if he will be able to come to St. Paul.

Mrs. Smith, who is critically ill, bore the news of her husband's death with fortitude.

PENNINGTON COUNTY TO VOTE ON LICENSE.

Thief River Falls, Minn., March 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—Petitions are being circulated for a county option election to determine whether Pennington county shall license saloons or not. The idea germinated at a meeting of the Civic league last week when officers were elected and plans formulated to bring the question to a vote. About 600 signatures will be required to the petition and it is claimed these will be easily secured.

PURSE SNATCHER HELD.

Lumberjack Who Tried Big City Stunt in Hurley Bound Over.

Hurley, Wis., March 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—Matt Mattson, a lumberjack, was held to the circuit court this week on the charge of larceny in attempting to snatch Mrs. Noskonviac's purse from her hand on Main street Monday. Alex Kesto, charged with larceny from the person, pleaded guilty and was fined $25 and costs. Being unable to pay the fine he was given a sentence of thirty days in the county jail.

LANGDON, N. D., TO HAVE AUDITORIUM.

Langdon, N. D., March 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—Following a mass meeting here a committee was selected to see what could be done regarding an auditorium for Langdon. The first idea was to secure a lot next to the courthouse and erect an auditorium 120x140 feet and one story high, but the owners of the three-story building here used for a theater have made such a liberal offer that many people believe it should be purchased and remodeled to fit it for use as an auditorium with club and public library rooms and other necessary provisions for public meetings. It is proposed to raise money by a popular subscription.

CHRISTIAN SCIENTISTS ARE NOT AFFECTED.

Calumet, Mich., March 27.—The recent decision of the Michigan supreme court anent the practice of medicine without a license and which is expected to have such a wide effect in restricting chiropractors from practicing in this state does not affect Christian Science in the least, according to a letter received here from headquarters of the Christian Scientists at Detroit.

"STRIKERS" EXPRESS REGRET.

Eau Claire Youths Grieve at Principal's Passing.

Eau Claire, Wis., March 27.—The funeral of Principal F. M. Jack of the high school was held yesterday afternoon under Masonic auspices. A feature was the presence of all the pupils who recently "went on strike" because the principal had criticised the manner in which one of the girl students wore her hair. Several of the boys who were leaders in the strike expressed keen regret at the home of the deceased for having added pain to that already borne by the instructor.

HAZEL CHEESE FACTORY.

Farmers in Pennington County Community Form Organization.

Thief River Falls, Minn., March 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—Farmers living in the vicinity of Hazel have formed a company to build and operate a co-operative cheese factory with the following directors: Swan Wiberg, Irvin Wallace, Aug. Rose, O. J. Peterson and William D. Riegert.

The number of farmers who have subscribed for stock in the new enterprise were 230 cows. These have been secured with very little effort and it is estimated that at least that many more can be secured. The farmers in the vicinity of Hazel are some of the most prosperous in Pennington county, and with them backing an enterprise of this kind it is sure to be a pronounced success.

HURLEY WOMAN BURIED.

Last Rites Are Held for Mrs. James Vickers, Pioneer Resident.

Hurley, Wis., March 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—The funeral of Mrs. James Vickers, a pioneer resident, who died this week of Bright's disease and complications, was held this morning from the Presbyterian church, Rev. George Thompson officiating and interment was made in the Hurley cemetery.

Born in Finland of Swedish parents sixty-five years ago. She came to this country with her parents when young and located in Ishpeming, where she married James Vickers in 1882.

Mr. and Mrs. Vickers came to this range about twenty-eight years ago and for the last nineteen years have lived here. Besides her husband she is survived by a son, Martin Vickers, editor of the Montreal River Miner; a daughter, Mrs. Edwin Mathews of Underhill Center, and a sister, Mrs. Peter Soderberg of Crystal Falls. She was a member of Lake Lavina hive, Ladies of the Maccabees.

WEAKER TONE IN MARKETS

Wheat Sells Off on More War Rumors and Quiet Inquiry.

Flaxseed is Up Firm at Start, But Turns Easy Near Close.

Duluth Board of Trade, March 27.—The wheat market ruled weak today as a result of lower Liverpool cables and efforts of operators to even up their trades over the holiday. Apprehensions were entertained over the possibility of bearish war developments in the markets during the next few days and, according to reports from the seaboard, there was nothing doing in export business, Liverpool being influenced by cheaper Argentine offerings. It was, in fact, intimated that Argentine grain had sold there on a basis of 7c below the American markets. Operators, on the other hand, point that it is difficult to get a line between the two markets in view of the impossibility of determining the relative grades of wheat.

At Kansas City, wheat was off in the distant futures owing to the excellent crop prospects. Cash wheat there closed 1c lower. So far reports regarding the winter wheat outlook have been uniformly favorable, but it is contended that the whole situation in many districts might be altered in a week. The time is coming for crop damage rumors and something calculated to give the market a bullish turn might spring up almost over night.

May wheat opened ¾c off at $1.45, sold up largely on short covering to around $1.46, and then eased off near the close on a burst of selling to $1.44¾, or 1c down from yesterday. July was relatively stronger than the near future. It opened ¼c up at $1.40½ and closed ½c off at $1.40¼ asked. September opened ½c up at $1.21½ and closed ½c off at $1.11½ asked.

Durum was weak, with lack of interest in it especially marked. May durum opened ½c off at $1.54 and closed 2¼c off at $1.52. July opened 1c off at $1.52 and closed 2c off at $1.51.

Flax Weak at Close.

Flaxseed showed strength at the start, and fractional gains were recorded. The impetus came in the appearance of buying in small lots by crushers. That demand satisfied, the market sagged and the close was easy, with declines of ½@1c showing. May flaxseed opened unchanged at $1.95½ and closed 1c off at $1.94½ bid. July opened unchanged at $1.97½ and closed 1c off at $1.96½. September closed ½c off at $1.99 bid.

At Winnipeg, May flaxseed closed ½c off at $1.76½ bid, and July 4c off at $1.76.

The market in oats was again weak closing 1¼c off at 54¼@54¾c for on the track. Rye closed unchanged at $1.08@1.09, and barley unchanged at from 64c to 73c.

At Winnipeg, May oats closed ½c off at 61¼c bid and July ½c off at 61¼c bid.

Puts and Calls.

Puts on Minneapolis May wheat closed at $1.36⅞. Calls on Minneapolis May wheat closed at $1.43⅝.

Broomhall cabled from Liverpool: "The wheat market was influenced lower by the weakness in America and lower Plate offers. Plate is offered freely at 6d decline, while American winters are more steadily held. Spot market was comparatively steady with a good demand and arrivals are only meeting urgent request. India offers are firm. Peace rumors were current and the aspect of the political situation appears more favorable, but general supplies are inadequate for the world needs. Traders are conservative and therefore buying is limited.

"Corn—Easier. American cables and weakness in Buenos Aires together with pressure in near Plate cargoes and favorable weather in Argentina, caused free offers, with spot market weak and cargoes offered at 9d to 1s lower."

* * *

In Great Britain the weather is unfavorable for seeding and also for the development of the new crop. The acreage will not be as large as expected.

Russian supplies of food grains are plentiful and prices are cheaper to consumers than before the war. Weather conditions are favorable.

CHICAGO MARKET.

Signs of Activity on Part of Exporters Rallies Price of Wheat.

Chicago, March 27.—Signs of activity on the part of exporters rallied the price of wheat today after a sag at the start. The weakness early was due to lower quotations at Liverpool, but the fact soon developed that yesterday's decline in America had been mainly responsible for the setback abroad. Buying on the fresh break here was traced for the most part to houses that usually act for the seaboard. After opening unchanged to 1⅛c lower, the market rose to well above last night's level all around.

Strength, however, was only brief. Spreaders did a good deal of selling of May and buying of September as a result of the wide difference of price between the two deliveries. The close was unsettled at ⅛ to 1⅛c under last night.

Favorable weather gave the bears an advantage in corn. Shorts were about the only buyers. Opening prices, which ranged from ⅛c to ⅜c lower, were followed by an additional downturn.

Commission house selling was of an unusually persistent sort. The close, notwithstanding, was steady, at ⅜ to ⅝@½c net decline.

Oats suffered from liquidating sales by holders. Pit traders were also free sellers.

Provisions were steadied by firmness in the hog market. Leading packers bought.

FURTHER ADVANCE IN SHATTUCK STOCK

Issue Has Big Bulge—Work to Be Resumed at Mine.

Mining stocks were strong and the trading active at Boston for a Saturday session. A large volume of business was put through, and higher quotations were recorded through the list in spite of the absorption of liberal realizing sales.

Shattuck was the feature, selling up $3.75 a share at $28.50. It closed $2.75 up at $27.50. The impetus was furnished in the official statement that operations will be resumed at the property in a few days.

Calumet & Arizona closed $1.25 up at $61.50, Alaska Gold a shade up at $34.63, Butte & Superior unchanged at $47.25, Greene-Cananea unchanged at $29, Granby 50 cents up at $72, Lake 75 cents up at $11.50, North Butte $1 up at $27.87, and Mass a fraction off at $8.12.

At New York, Amalgamated Copper closed 50 cents up at $62.12, and Anaconda unchanged at $28.75.

In the Boston curb list, as reported to Paine, Webber & Co., Chief Consolidated sold at 95c, Davis Daly at $1.06@1.12, Southwestern Miami at $1.75@1.50, United Verde Extension at $3.12@3.18, First National Copper at $1.87, Houghton at $2.25@2.63, and South Lake at $6.25.

Alex Scott closed at $4.25 bid, Cons. Coppermines at 98c bid, Interstate Callahan at $10 bid, and Cliff at 28c bid.

Copper exports for the week ended March 26, from New York, were 5,633 tons, decrease, 4,475 tons; for March to date, 25,103 tons was shipped, a decrease of 15,443 tons.

American Smelting profits for 1914 were $11,603,000. The showing for last year was below that of 1913.

A Boston wire said: "President of the Shattuck-Arizona Copper company wires that, at a meeting in Duluth, the directors decided to resume operations at the property in Bisbee."

* * *

While in Butte last week, W. P. Heimbach, president of the Butte-Alex Scott company, instructed Supt. Charles J. Stone to begin shipping at once. At the same time Mr. Heimbach closed with the Anaconda Copper company very satisfactory arrangements for the treatment of the Scott ores. The mine is said to be in excellent shape for sustained production for an indefinite period.

Taking advantage of the shut down of the mine, made necessary on account of the low price of copper metal, incident to the European war, the company has repaired its shaft for the entire depth, and the superintendent reports to Mr. Heimbach that it is as good as any in the Butte camp today.

Referring to the situation in mining stocks, Skillings' mining and market letter today says: "Conditions well calculated to cheer the investors and the speculators on the constructive side of the market have prevailed during the past week. Favorable response was made to advancing prices of copper. The market is forced to absorb considerable long stock, representing profit taking as a rule, on the bulges, but this appears to be a real market, and standard issues rally strong after each recession. It appears safe enough to take advantage of all weak spots. The bond market is active and higher, which is considered a good sign. Business is on the upturn, and the uncertainty which was felt in all directions on account of the great war, has quite disappeared."

Midway Horse Market.

Minnesota Transfer, St. Paul, Minn., March 27.—Barrett & Zimmerman report: The general trade condition is not quite as good as in the earlier part of the week, but the demand remains rather fair. The clearance for the day was quite satisfactory, several local deliveries and shipments to five out of town points being made. Receipts about fifty head of farm and draft stuff. Prices rule as follows:

Drafters, extra	$160@205

ITS STRENGTH IS REGAINED

Stock Market Overcomes Reactionary Tendencies of Past Few Days.

United States Steel at Highest Since Dividends Were Suspended.

New York, March 27.—Reactionary tendencies of the past day or two were overcome today, the market regaining all its strength of the midweek and mounting in numerous instances to higher levels. Trading was very extensive and again included some of the specialties, General Motors gaining 8 points on rumors of disbursements to shareholders. Bethlehem Steel was the outstanding feature, however, advancing 8¾ points to 76, or 3 points above its record price on publication of the annual statement showing earnings of over 30 per cent for the common stock. Reading and United States Steel were the most conspicuous leaders, the latter selling at its highest since dividends were suspended. The closing was strong.

Bonds were firm.

TRADE REVIEW

New York, March 27.—Bradstreet's says: Distributive trade has expanded in the northern half of the country this week, the features being better weather and the nearer approach of Easter. In addition, sentiment as to the outlook has been benefited by a slight speeding up of manufacturing industry and the enlarged speculation at higher prices in cotton and securities. War order business, however, still remains the strong point of the entire situation.

The great basic facts of soil and crop conditions favor the growing of large crops in this country the coming year. Prices of all agricultural products except cotton are still flattering.

It might be pointed out that the reports as to employment are rather better than of late. Building shows more signs of life, though gradual improvement only is reportable and lumber stays depressed. There is more life visible in the cotton goods industry, a reflection partly of the sharp advance in the raw material; wash fabrics have sold quite freely for summer wear; wool and woolens seem quieter, and there is a better feeling voiced by official observers in the silk trade.

Bank clearings for the week aggregate $2,892,223,000, a decrease of 6.4 per cent from last week and 8.6 from the corresponding week last year.

Business failures for the week number 375, compared with 299 in the like week last year. Business failures in Canada for the week were 62 compared with 46 last year.

STATEMENT OF RESERVE BANKS

Washington, March 27.—Gold coin and certificates in the vaults of Federal reserve banks decreased about $3,000,000 during the past week, according to the statement of their condition March 26, issued today by the Federal reserve board. The statement shows:

Resources: Gold coin and certificates, $242,168,000; legal tender notes, silver certificates and subsidiary coin, $22,098,000; total, $265,266,000.

Bills discounted and loans: Maturities within thirty days, $8,715,000; maturities within sixty days, $14,514,000; other, $7,454,000; total, $31,683,000.

Investments, $21,579,000.

Due from Federal reserve banks: Items in transit, $5,573,000; all other resources, $9,110,000; total resources, $333,211,000.

Liabilities: Capital paid in, $36,105,000; reserve deposits, $288,217,000; Federal reserve notes in circulation, (net liability), $8,889,000; total liabilities, $333,211,000.

Gold reserve against net liabilities, 82.1 per cent. Cash reserve against net liabilities, 91.0 per cent.

Cash reserve against liabilities after setting aside 40 per cent gold reserve against net amount of Federal reserve notes in circulation, 92.6 per cent.

New York Money.

New York, March 27.—Mercantile paper, 3½ per cent; sterling exchange steady; 60-day bills, $4.7750; for cables, $4.8025; for demand, $4.80. Bar silver, 49½c; Mexican dollars, 38c. Government bonds steady; railroad bonds firm.

London Stocks.

London, March 27.—American securities recorded further gains today on buying for New York account. Transactions were most frequent in Canadian Pacific, Union Pacific and Erie. The closing was firm.

Chicago Livestock.

Chicago, March 27.—Demand from small packers and from some of the shippers brought about an upturn today in the hog market. Prices for cattle and for sheep and lambs were hardly more than nominal.

Hogs—Receipts, 8,000; strong, 5c above yesterday's average; bulk, $6.65@6.75; light, $6.55@6.77½; mixed, $6.50@6.80; heavy, $6.30@6.75; rough, $6.30@6.45; pigs, $5.40@5.45.

Cattle—Receipts, 100; steady; native steers, $6.00@8.80; western, $5.50@7.50; cows and heifers, $3.00@7.85; calves, $6.75@10.25.

Sheep—Receipts, 500; steady; sheep, $7.15@8.25; yearlings, $7.90@9.25; lambs, $7.50@9.85.

Scientists have estimated that more than 15 per cent of the earth's crust is composed of aluminum.

ADSIT GENERAL ELECTRIC COMPANY

COMMON STOCK

A Minnesota Manufacturing Corporation (Single Liability). Authorized Capital $300,000.00. Par value $100.00.

The Company owns, outright, the only practical method of supplying private telephone service on all present Party Lines, both City and Rural. Such service is made possible through a simple, moderate priced attachment, called a "Lock-Out." The device is adaptable to any style phone. There are 5,000,000 telephones in the United States today demanding this equipment. The Company has an absolute monopoly with a worldwide field.

The prospects of this Corporation closely parallel that of the original Bell Telephone Company whose stock was offered in Minneapolis at one time for $10.00 per share, and which today is worth over $5,800.00 per share, and none for sale.

There is enough business, in actual orders now on hand, to return better than 11% on the money invested. Conditional orders now booked equal 27½% net earnings.

Present demand for machines far in excess of the supply. Some orders 90 days old. Additional capital being used to increase manufacturing facilities to the point where shipments can be made promptly.

The allotment of a small amount of this stock for public subscription presents probably the greatest opportunity offered in recent years to moderate sized investors of the Northwest.

This security is recommended as an investment containing great potential possibilities of sudden enhancement of value—yet safe and conservative.

Further information, or a complete demonstration of this "Lock-Out" device given all applicants at the main office of the Company, 926 McKnight Building, Minneapolis, Minn.

DEPOSITORIES:

MERCANTILE STATE BANK, Minneapolis.
SCANDINAVIAN AMERICAN NATIONAL BANK, Minneapolis.
STATE BANK OF BELVIEW, Belview, Minnesota.

Price per share, $105.00.
Mail subscriptions filled strictly in the order of their receipt.

If oversubscribed, shares will be allotted pro-rata and surplus remittance returned on delivery of stock

FIRST HOLE IS SELECTED

Drilling to Start on Lands Owned By Brainerd City.

Wilcox Mine Has Shipped Already 1,500 Tons This Season.

Brainerd, Minn., March 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—Brainerd is excited over the prospects of mineral discoveries on the lands which Judge G. W. Holland gave to the city. On Thursday, in the presence of the city engineer and city council members, the first hole was spotted for the drill which John R. Harrington and associates of St. Paul and Hibbing have placed on the first tract, situated immediately northeast of the Northern Pacific railway shops. Two other tracts, smaller than this, are located in Southeast Brainerd. Mr. Harrington has an option to drill, and if satisfactory may call for a mining lease from the city.

On the South side, a mile from the postoffice, the Brainerd-Cuyuna Iron company has its shaft down about 130 feet. When the proper depth is attained, drifting will be carried on about 100 feet to the ore body and it is confidently believed the mine may do some shipping this year.

Shipping From Wilcox.

At the Wilcox mine, at Woodrow, about six miles east of Brainerd, shipping is under way. At the present time the daily output is a little over 100 tons and some 1,500 tons have been shipped to the Head of the Lakes. The Paterson Construction company, it is said, has entered into a new mining contract with the Canadian-Cuyuna Ore company and will operate the mine. Railway men are sanguine that the mine, when in full operation, will produce thirty cars, or a train of ore daily for shipment. All ore has been sold before a pound was hoisted out of the ground.

Farther east from Brainerd, at Klondyke, along the Northern Pacific railway tracks, the Klondyke Iron company is prospecting. Moe Bros. are operating the drill. Of five holes put down, four are said to have located iron. It is reported that two more drills are soon to be put in south range territory by this company.

Drilling Is Active.

The Seafield Exploration company has put a drill on the southeast quarter of the southeast quarter of section 2, township 46, range 28, on the property belonging to the Manganese Iron company. The Great Northern Exploration company is having its drill work superintended by Ben A. Mizen. They are operating on section 3, township 46, range 29. Hole No. 2, on the "Campbell East Forty," has shown up some fine ore running 65 per cent, it is reported. The surface is shallow and the property may be made a pit mine. Two of the properties adjoining the Great Northern Exploration company land are to be stripped this year and both pits will come right up to the line of their property. The Combination Iron company is drilling at Cedar Lake and Frank A. Edson of Deerwood is in charge of the work. The Hale-Bradley Exploration company is drilling for the Pioneer Development company of St. Paul in the Rice river country, near Aitkin.

May Have Concentrator.

The Inland Steel company, it is reported, may put in a concentrator plant of small capacity to be used for test purposes. A shovel is operating at the Armour No. 1 mine property, which is being converted into a pit mine. The Pennington people are doing the work of stripping. At the Armour No. 2 mine of the company, an underground proposition, ore is being hoisted and stockpiled. At the Thompson pit mine of the Inland Steel company a shovel is at work. All properties of the Inland Steel are expected to ship heavily this year. The Rowe pit mine of the Pittsburg Steel Ore company has its sandsucker and a pump at work. The pit is being cleared preparatory to mining. The Hill Crest pit mine property is receiving equipment, including a sand pump and hydraulic work will be carried on there, water being taken from the Black Hoof lake.

At the Iron Mountain mine the new boiler house has been completed and the pumps were started up. However, it was discovered that the submerged pumps were not working satisfactorily and another pump has been shipped in, and is now on hand, to be placed in the shaft for service. It is thought the shaft will be clear of water in a few days. The new shafthouse, built in sections, will soon be raised. Mining timber is being hauled to the mine every day. Fourteen men are employed and more will be added when the water is cleared from the mine.

Drilling Near Manganese.

The Seafield Exploration company, which is doing the exploration work for the Duluth Land & Timber company in section 29, near Manganese, has moved its drill about 900 feet to the south and is now working in the third hole. It is said that the Cuyuna Central Iron company, which has been drilling in section 27 until about two weeks ago, will again put its drill to work in a few days.

Transfers made include the following: Adams Security company and others to the Minneapolis, St. Paul & Sault Ste. Marie railway, part of the southeast quarter of the northwest quarter of section 5, township 46, range 29, being a right-of-way deed; James Ingram to E. H. Schwanke, the south half of the southwest quarter of section 3, township 136, range 29, for $2,000; Thomas Keating and others, an easement deed to the Soo line, covering a strip 100 feet wide across the southwest quarter of the northeast quarter of section 11, township 46, range 29.

President Culbertson of the Cuyuna-Sultana Iron company is in Minneapolis in conference with stripping contractors. If the contract is let by April 1, ore can be shipped on quite a liberal scale beginning Sept. 1. A steam shovel would be installed and the drag-line method used, uncovering an ore body 100 feet wide and extending along the northern portion of the forty.

KEATING GOLD MINE SHOWS GOOD ROCK

Butte, Mont., March 27.—Gold values ranging as high as $300 a ton are reported to have been uncovered on the 1,000-foot level of the property of the Keating Gold company at Radersburg. These values are said to obtain in a block of ground which has been opened for a distance of thirty feet, with a width of about five feet.

Shipments of around sixty-five tons daily are being made to the Washoe smelter of the Anaconda Copper company, the gold values ranging from $8 to $30 a ton. With the completion of a proposed narrow gauge railroad from Toston, on the line of the Northern Pacific railroad, work on which it is planned to begin about June 1, it is expected to increase daily shipments possibly up to 300 tons. This narrow gauge line will be eleven miles in length. At the present time the Keating company is leaming its rock at a cost of $2 per ton.

The construction of a concentrator is also under consideration by the Keating directors. A large tonnage of low-grade ore has been put in sight, the shipment of which, direct to the reduction works without treatment, is unprofitable by reason of the expense incident to transportation.

BUTTE-DULUTH RECEIVERSHIP IS A FRIENDLY PROCEEDING

Property Can Now Be Operated at Substantial Profit.

Joseph B. Cotton Says Tonnage at Giroux Runs Into Millions.

Butte, Mont., March 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—The appointment of Charles M. Everett, secretary-treasurer of the Butte-Duluth Mining company, as receiver of the company, was a friendly proceeding in the district court, brought in behalf of an employe of the company, to whom there was due $500 in wages, and the Provident Securities company of Delaware, holder of three-fourths of the stock of the company. The Butte-Duluth entered upon a policy of expansion and development just about the time the European war started, and ever since then the company has been under heavy expense and limited income. An agreement was made with the miners to take 50 per cent in cash and 50 per cent in due bills, with the result that they have constantly been threatening trouble for the company and have prevented a reduction in the working force which has been too large for economical operations. Capt. Wolvin, the genius at the head of the Butte-Duluth, like all other operators, has been hoping for and looking for an improvement in the general situation. The heavy expenditure for reconstruction of the mill and electrolytic plant was continued, and extensive development work was carried on. Instead of getting better, conditions grew worse. The selling agency for Butte-Duluth copper advanced on its output less than the cost of production, and financial matters continued to grow worse until the miners threatened attachment suit on their due bills. Capt. Wolvin was absent from the city, but his representatives concluded that friendly receivership proceedings would be the better policy, as it would conserve the interests of all creditors and permit the continuation of operations.

Will Operate at Profit.

The result has been as anticipated. The mining force has been reduced about 60 per cent, and the men who were kept on the company payroll, through the charitable sentiment of Capt. Wolvin, during the stress of financial conditions, have been prevented from attaching the property, and Receiver Everett will continue to operate, which he can do at a substantial profit to the company. The failure of the Anaconda company to take up the option on the Butte-Duluth was a disappointment to many stockholders, but it is asserted that other interests immediately took the option and for two weeks have had experts on the ground examining the mine and plant. The identity of the new option holders has not been disclosed. In the receivership proceeding it was disclosed that the floating debt of the Butte-Duluth is about $250,000, in addition to the bond mortgage of $500,000. Of the floating debt, it is estimated that between $50,000 and $60,000 consists of debts that are subject to the lien laws of the state and which will stand as preferred claims. Following these will be the mortgage of $500,000, and then the balance of the floating indebtedness of about $100,000. Of the $250,000 in floating debts, all was due, with the exception of $25,000, when the receivership action was started. The company paid $200,000 for the property which it is developing and operating, and there is some comment on the fact that while the company has been producing and selling copper for a year or more, it is now in debt $750,000. The company, it now appears, defaulted in its interest payment of $7,000 due in December. It is also stated that there has been a default on the bonds, under the terms of the mortgage.

Have Faith in Wolvin.

The Butte-Duluth was largely financed by Butte men who had been associated with Capt. Wolvin in the promotion and development of the Butte & Superior Copper company, and who have great faith in his genius and ability. "We have but one object in view, and that is to protect every single creditor and shareholder and give a chance for the property to be placed on a sound basis, pay up debts as soon as possible and save as much as possible to the stockholders," said Joseph B. Cotton, of Duluth, counsel for Capt. Wolvin. The action taken in part is meant the avoidance of many suits that were certain to be brought. Capt. Wolvin was down in Texas, where he has extensive interests, which were neglected while he was devoting his time to Butte-Duluth. The trouble in Mexico had greatly imperiled his interests in Texas, and he was compelled to leave Butte at a critical state of the Butte-Duluth. The Butte-Duluth was organized by Capt. Wolvin, who has done more for the development of the mineral resources of the Butte district than any other man since Marcus Daly. The property of the company consists of the Brundy group of claims, which are now being mined and upon which the big leaching and electrolytic plant is situated, and a group of undeveloped copper claims in the North Butte district, situated near the property of the Butte & Superior. Receiver Everett has suspended all construction work and will devote his time to mining and making copper until the company is on a sound basis and can be handed back to the stockholders.

Some of the employes have started bankruptcy proceedings in the Federal court, but this step will be vigorously fought by the company.

Consolidated Coppermines.

Twenty-six million tons of copper ore have been developed in the Giroux mines of the Consolidated Coppermines company, and efforts are being made to raise funds with which to continue development work, it being the confident expectation that at least 60,000,000 tons can be readily developed, according to Joseph B. Cotton of Duluth, counsel for the Cole interests and director of many of his companies, who was in Butte in connection with the financial troubles of the Butte-Duluth Mining company.

"E. F. Gray, general manager of the Giroux and also of the Consolidated Coppermines company and the Butte & Ely, is busily engaged in attempting to raise the necessary funds to proceed with the development work at the Giroux's property," said Mr. Cotton. "Mr. Gray is one of the most efficient men in his line, and he is the man who put Nevada Consolidated on the map. He has opened up so far in the Giroux properties about 26,000,000 tons of ore and expects to be able to develop ore bodies there to the extent of 60,000,000 tons, which would place the property in a position that would require no further financing. The situation as to the Butte & Ely is splendid. The company has its resources well invested and is making money right now through the income from the money it has loaned. The Butte & Ely property is a small one, of 210 acres, and adjoins the property of the Nevada Consolidated. A part of the known ore body in the Butte & Ely is a part of the Liberty pit ore body of the Nevada Consolidated. The property lies in such a way that we will probably be able to make a very profitable arrangement with the Nevada Consolidated later to handle the ore from the Butte & Ely. They also require access to the Butte & Ely property to carry on successfully their operations of the Liberty pit.

Market Conditions Prevent.

"Just now there is nothing doing, of course, because of the general market conditions. When the war started, Nevada Consolidated cut down its production along with other copper mining companies to about one-half. In order to operate, the company was not compelled to take any ore from the Liberty pit. When conditions get back to normal, however, we believe there will be a good opportunity to make the arrangement I have suggested. With the small amount of property owned by the Butte & Ely, it would not be wise for the company to go into the work of putting up a mill or operating on a scale that in reality requires millions and can only be carried on by companies of varied and extensive interests. Under these circumstances we will merely wait until such a time as the property can be handled to the best advantage and the ore can be turned to advantage either through the Nevada Consolidated or through the Giroux and Consolidated Coppermines company. With the Giroux the situation is different. It has several hundred acres of mining ground, and it has extensive ore bodies which we believe the development will show runs into a couple of hundred million tons of ore. It has, in conjunction with the Coppermines company, a splendid water power, capable of development to be used right there. It is probable that with the development of the ore bodies and the experiments now being carried on generally in the flotation process that later it will be possible for the Giroux to handle its own ores by that process and a plant will be installed. But all that, too, must wait the return of normal conditions when the required funds can be secured for financing it."

Anaconda.

With the resumption of work at the Pennsylvania and Buffalo mines, the Anaconda company is again employing about 7,000 men in the mines in Butte. It is estimated that by May 1 the company will have 8,000 working, as it is proposed to resume work in the High Ore and the Bell and Diamond mines by that date. By that time the East Butte will also be working again, employing 500 men, and with the 1,100 at the Butte & Superior, 500 in the North Butte, 500 in the Elm Orlu and about 200 in other mines, there will again be employed in the Butte mines by May 1 about 11,500 men. It is announced that the East Butte mines will start up April 15 and the smelter on May 1. The Butte-Alex Scott will also resume mining April 1, and it is expected that the Tuolumne will resume development work about May 1. If conditions continue to improve during the next three months all the mining companies of Butte will be in operation under normal capacity again, and the prediction of mining men is that if the expectations of an unusual demand for copper follows the end of the European war there will be a famine in the metal and the copper industry will experience a boom the like of which has never been known.

With resumption of work in the Pennsylvania and Buffalo mines the Anaconda company has added about 900 tons of ore per day to its output. The company's operating mines now include the Anaconda, Pennsylvania, St. Lawrence, Steward, West Gray Rock, Orginal, Badger State, West Colusa, East Colusa, Leonard, Tramway, J. I. C., Berkeley, Silver Bow and Buffalo—fifteen of the company's producing and operating mines. Those still closed are the High Ore, Bell and Diamond, Moonlight, Mountain Con, Neversweat, Mountain View and Belmont.

East Butte.

When the East Butte resumes operations the capacity of the mill and smelter will have been greatly increased. Extensive repairs and changes have been made during the six months that the property has been shut down. The smelting plant has been entirely changed and is practically new. One of the two blast furnaces has been entirely rebuilt and its capacity increased from 300 tons to 500 tons per day. The other blast furnace has a capacity of 300 tons, and this makes it possible for the company to handle 800 tons of ore per day at the smelter. The old ore bins have been replaced by larger ones at the railroad track, so that the ore can be handled direct. The crushing and screening arrangement has been entirely overhauled and improved. The smaller jigs have all been replaced by two large Hancock jigs, and an elaborate system of slime treating tables have been put into place for operation and settling tanks installed. These improvements will enable the company to make a large saving. The same principles involved in the large plant at the Washoe smelter have been followed in the construction of the new features by the East Butte. The East Butte is also experimenting with the flotation process, which will be resumed with the resumption of work by the company. A force of men has been employed during the past month in making repairs in the mine and getting the levels in shape for mining. Mining will be confined to the levels between the 600 and 1,500. When the smelter closed the company was producing about 1,250,000 pounds of copper per month. The date for the resumption of operations in the mine has been fixed for April 15, and the smelter will probably be started up by May 1. About 500 men will be employed.

Butte & Superior.

F. S. Janney of Salt Lake, associated with the metallurgical department of the Butte & Superior, was in Butte a few days ago, and after an inspection of the Butte & Superior property left for Alaska with Col. Jackling for an inspection of the Alaska Gold company's property. Speaking of the Butte & Superior and its stock market attitude, he said: "I cannot account for the failure of the stock to rise, but attribute it entirely to influences affecting stocks entirely apart from the regular business of the company. It seems as if the more money we make the lower the stock goes, but just what reason there is for it I cannot say. The company is doing a splendid and very profitable business at the present price of spelter."

CHURN DRILLING TO START SOON

Option on Butte-Duluth Property May Be Exercised.

Butte, Mont., March 27.—Arrangements have practically been completed by Receiver Everett of the Butte-Duluth Mining company to permit the Eastern interests that have an option on the property to go ahead with the experiments and now will begin at once the churn drilling to find out the depth and quality of the ore on the Butte-Duluth ground.

There is nothing in either the bankruptcy proceedings nor in the receivership that will interfere at all with this. The option on the property was given before the application for a receiver was made and, of course, should the option be exercised it would provide the funds required to care for all the preferred claims and the mortgage and would automatically dispose of the other proceedings.

Capt. Wolvin is still at Texas City, where he was called some weeks ago by his interests in the large carrying lines there. He is not able to get away, although exceedingly anxious to get back to Butte at the earliest possible moment.

No intimation has been given yet as to the identity of the parties holding the new option, but they are going on with the experimenting and it is said that should their investigations prove satisfactory, they will take over the property.

MASS MAKING FINE SHOWING

Present Rate of Production Slightly Over 1,000 Tons Daily.

Allouez in Splendid Condition on Surface and Underground.

Houghton, Mich., March 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mass has been drilling through good grades for 160 feet up from the sixth level, about 600 feet southwest from shaft "B" in the old Evergreen mine on the Evergreen lode and has not yet entered the water but these good cores show that there is thero some excellent stoping ground, that will be taken out when the water above is drained off. It is expected that the drill meet the water at any time. The thin partition on the Butler lode separating the two parts of the lode has been found everywhere that the lode has been opened, but the ground beyond has not been profitable except on the lower levels. A five-ton skip is replacing one of two and one-half tons capacity at shaft "B" and this will hoist double, of course, the quantity of rock. The other shaft now in operation, "C", has been already equipped with the larger skip. The amount of underground selection that gives the best results here is about 20 per cent a standard that has been adopted at the conclusion of a long period of experiments. The rate of production is slightly over 1,000 tons daily, but it is expected that this will be increased in a few days. Assuming the cost at 12 cents as against 13.52 for 1914 and the yield that of the present time, about 15.5 pounds a ton, with this rate of production the output of refined copper for the year would be almost 5,000,000 pounds and at the price of 17 cents a pound the profits almost $200,000. The only construction that can be forceen now is that of a new smokestack for one of the boiler houses.

Allouez.

Allouez is shipping about 1,450 tons a day or, for the twenty-six working days of the present month, 39,150 tons, which is about normal. This rate of production with a cost of 10 cents and yield of 18 pounds, both conservative figures, at the price of 17 cents for the metal will return to the company about $5.76 a share. The tonnage can be increased when desired. The construction costs this year will include no items of any amount. The mine is in splendid condition both on the surface and underground and is being developed most systematically, and great reserves are being provided by the extension of drifts to the boundaries and to a line midway between the two shafts. One drift will eventually have a length of three-quarters of a mile. No stoping, or taking out of rock, will be done until the boundaries or the dividing line between the shafts has been reached. Moreover all of this development is paying a good profit.

Calumet & Hecla.

Calumet & Hecla has just been trying out with most satisfactory results the Carr bit which cuts about 30 per cent more ground and which will bore through our native copper much faster than any of the other drills in use. The bit is what is called a single bit, as it has only one cutting edge, which has an angle of 120 degrees and the gauge, or length of the cutting edge, is equal to the distance from one shoulder to its diagonal shoulder. The bits here in common use are the four-point crossbit, or the star bit and the six-point, or rose bit, and this on a different principle is really a return to the original bit of the hand drill which was used by all the old timers here when they began to mine, as it was the only bit then employed. It is one of the knives that are being constantly used in whittling down the cost and will affect an appreciable saving.

South Kearsarge.

South Kearsarge will last, according to very reliable information, at least four years and possibly longer. There is considerable ground remaining unstoped at No. 2 on the southern side, a part that has always been the leaner, but much more at No. 1 shaft, where the ground has been richer than the average here. It is the intention to extend at the proper time No. 1 shaft into the Centennial, as in the latter a strip of ground sufficiently wide for a shaft and shaft pillars is being left standing directly beneath it.

North Kearsarge.

North Kearsarge's No. 1 shaft is now hoisting 1,000 tons daily, which will make a total for the three mines of about 4,500 tons daily. This mine is only in the beginning of its career, as it will, after No. 3 resumes hoisting and more ground is developed, double its present tonnage and as it is best ground is yet not scratched. It will be ascending in value as fast as South Kearsarge is descending.

Old Osceola is, of course, earning money at the present price of copper. When the new rock house is completed at No. 3 the yield will be increased and also the production.

Ahmeek.

Ahmeek will equip each of its new stamps with its own regrinding plant, by providing each stamp with six Hardinge conical tube regrinding mills and the proper number of Wilfley tables. This equipment at each stamp will completely treat all the tailings at that stamp and its wash just as thoroughly as is done at the regrinding mills of the Calumet & Hecla, thus affecting a saving in costs and a great gain in convenience. The same equipment will gradually be added to the wash at each of the four stamps in the older part of the mill. The first stamp of the new part of the mill and the fifth of the whole mill has been already set up, and its tables are in position, and the jigs will come from the shops in about two or three weeks, thus making it ready for operation in about seven or eight weeks. Another stamp is being set up and can be put into commission soon after the first. The latter, however, is all that will be needed for quite a while, as it can easily take care of the rock that is stamped Sunday nights and that coming from Nos. 3 and 4, North Ahmeek, since the work there is all in the line of development and since there was only being hoisted four to five cars a day from each shaft when the work was stopped at the beginning of the war. The Allis-Chalmers low pressure turbine, 2,000 kilowatt, will be tested in a few days and when put into commission will furnish electricity for all of the machinery, except of course, for the stamps by whose exhaust steam it is actuated. The mill is being run to its full capacity every weekday and Sunday nights beginning at 7 p. m.

Hancock.

Hancock is working 100 men underground, all that can be employed until the Franklin mill starts up, probably about the middle of next month, as the bins at the mine only hold 1,500 tons and those at the mill are filled with Franklin rock. Drifts are being driven at the thirteenth, eighteenth, thirty-ninth, forty-fourth, forty-ninth and fifty-third levels, and the ground is of the same good grades as when the mining operations were stopped at the beginning of the war. The daily tonnage at the time of the shutdown was 260 tons, but this rate will be rapidly increased when the mill goes into commission.

Porcupine Mountain.

Porcupine Mountain explorations have just made their best showing on the White Pine or Nonesuch lodes of the Nonesuch shales in the core of the third hole which was drilled 500 feet east of the shaft. Manager Close, who has just returned from the explorations, states that the first lode was about eight feet wide, but was not so good in values as the third sixteen feet wide which disclosed excellent grades, and that the intervening shale which in the second hole had perhaps the best copper, here in its width of six feet was rather poor. The whole length of the hole, 296 feet, however, in every inch showed some of the metal. In several other places good copper was encountered. The lodes have been passed through twice previously, first by a crosscut at the depth of eighty-five feet, thirty feet west of the shaft to the length of forty-five feet, the crosscut being extended by the diamond drill, and secondly by the diamond drill at the shaft as described before. A fourth hole will be bored 500 feet east of the second and will have a depth of about 400 feet. Trenching is being done to the west of the shaft showing the lodes to continue, the work being done by the force previously employed underground.

Mohawk.

Mohawk will have ready for operation in the early fall a steel rockhouse at No. 3 shaft, the contract having been awarded to the Wisconsin Bridge & Iron company, who erected that at No. 6 about a year and a half ago. The new rockhouse will be not quite so high as that at No. 6, but is designed along the same general lines and will have over ten times the bin capacity of the house now in use, which was only put up as a make shift until the shaft's tonnage should demand a full sized structure. This will be the only construction cost of any moment for the year. The quite high recovery of 79 per cent is now being made of the copper at the Mohawk mill.

New Arcadian.

New Arcadian is cutting through an excellent quality of rock on the northern drift at the 900-foot level. A good indication that there is good ground below this level is shown by the fact in continuing along through a very good grade a slip or slight fault was met with and that intsead of, as happens in many cases, the ground below being lean, it is richer than that above, the two sides of the slip yielding as good, if not the best, rock yet encountered in the mine. A lode has just been passed through 250 feet from the shaft to the east with a width of about twelve feet, and although revealing all the characteristics of a good amygdaloid, it possesses but little copper. This was at first thought to be lode discovered by the No. 4 diamond drill hole at the New Baltic, but an examination of that core shows that they do not closely correspond, but two or three more cuts will determine the matter, as No. 8 conglomerate lies close under the lode found by the drills. It has been given as a fact at times that the No. 1 lode, that on which the mining is now being done, is the old Arcadian lode, but careful geological study demonstrates that the Arcadian lode is quite a distance west. In the crosscut east from the end of the southern drift this level at the distance of fifty feet the lode, opened at the same distance by the crosscut from the shaft with good copper was traversed, but only a little of the metal was disclosed. The drill was turned to the northwest from the drift and the lode which had been lost was found, but as in the whole length from the shaft was almost barren. All the other openings are in the good average of the lode.

Quincy.

Quincy will not resume exploring at Shaft No. 9 for some time, as it is only expending the money that is absolutely necessary to keep up the work of taking out the largest production possible, which is pretty close to 3,500 tons a day, or 101,700 for a month of twenty-six working days. Estimating conservatively with a yield of sixteen pounds a ton and 10 cents a pound for cost this rate of production for the year would give a profit of $9.80 a share at the price of 15 cents a pound. Below the fifty-first level north at No. 8 shaft there are two or three levels that have been extended north about 2,000 feet out of the 2,600 feet to No. 9 and the copper has averaged very good, so that the good ground at the bottom of the mine is found at the extreme north end of the openings.

COEUR D'ALENES IN FOR BIG YEAR

Great Revival of Mining in That Section Is Expected.

Wallace, Idaho, March 27.—There are indications that the present year will witness a wonderful revival in mining in the Coeur d'Alenes, and which will assume proportions within the next year or two such as have never before been experienced. While the curtailment of mineral production, with the exception of zinc mines, still continues, the market for both lead, silver and copper is steadily improving which if maintained must before long reach a point that will justify a resumption of normal production. The present improved prices are due solely to the foreign demand created by the war and this demand will continue as long as the war lasts. Then will come the period of reconstruction in Europe which will create a demand for the metals such as the world has never known, and the United States must for a long period be the main source of supply. The amount of lead, zinc and copper required during this period will be far in excess of that consumed in the manufacture of munitions of war. By that time there will probably be a great change in the industrial situation at home, for the American people cannot live much longer in this state of business depression and industrial inactivity.

There must be a change, there must be provided employment for the millions of idle men, and it must come about through a real demand for products of American labor, and not, as a temporary movement to tide over an emergency and relieve the bread line. The hundred million Americans provided the best market for their own products and this is going to be restored.

Thus with supplying the demands of war, the still greater demands that will come with peace, and the restoration of the home market, the outlook for the miners of lead, zinc and copper faces the most flattering future that has ever been presented in the history of these industries. Add to these the further fact that there is more ore in sight in the Coeur d'Alene district than there has ever been before, and it is easy to understand the optimism that is everywhere present.

REAL ESTATE NEWS

INQUIRY FOR REAL ESTATE SHOWS REMARKABLE ACTIVITY

Dealers Have Hands Full in Taking Care of "Prospects."

Important Deals Reported for East and West Ends.

Inquiry was never more active for all classes of Duluth properties than at present, in the opinion of local realty operators.

The fine weather of the present week is said to have conduced to a marked quickening in inquiry and dealers have found their hands full in taking care of "prospects." While no large deals have been reported of late, a substantial number of transactions in residence properties were put through and it is understood that negotiations are under way in some important propositions. The signing of agreements covering sales of two modern East end homes was advised by one office today. The passing of deeds in a West end business frontage and of a property in West Duluth to be utilized as a factory site is expected within a few days.

Judge Gary's Statement Helps.

The confidence of operators in the immediate and prospective realty investment future in Duluth is growing. The recent statement of Judge E. H. Gary, chairman of the United States Steel corporation's board of directors, that if the improvement in the industrial situation continues as hoped for, the Minnesota Steel company's plant here will probably be carried through to completion during the present year, is being given much attention. This is the first definite official announcement regarding the local plant since construction work upon it was closed down early last August, shortly after the outbreak of the European war, so that its importance is therefore fully appreciated.

Increased interest in residence properties in the eastern sections of the city and the West end was reported by H. H. Jungck of the N. H. Upham company. Earnest money was received on sales of three lots in the West end, and contracts were entered into for the sale of two houses now under construction in Waverly Park.

Stryker, Manley & Buck sold three lots at Ingleside Park, and inquiry was reported for house properties in all sections of the city.

* * *

The Ebert-Walker company has received earnest money on the sale of a 40-acre farm near Knife River, Minn. A 60-acre parcel in Aitkin county was also disposed of to a local investor.

* * *

A. W. Kuehnow, president of the Gary Land company, reported the sale of four lots in Gary Central division to an investor from Steubenville, Ohio, who visited the city especially to make a study of the realty situation at first hand. A Gary lot was sold to a Fergus Falls, Minn., buyer today. Substantial improvements are expected to be put through in Gary roadways during the early summer. These will include an 18-foot road on Gary street from the steel plant gates through Gary First and Second divisions.

* * *

The Hoopes-Kohagen company advised the receipt of earnest money on the sale of a West Duluth house property. As the spring season advances the office is meeting with increasing inquiry in its Park Drive addition. Further improvements in the way of sewer and water service extensions are to be proceeded with there.

* * *

Charles P. Craig & Co. sold a 10-acre tract of land on the Jean Duluth road to a buyer who proposes to improve immediately.

* * *

Richardson, Day & Cheadle reported an increased inquiry, especially for lands and medium priced lots. They effected sales during the week as follows: Eighty acres in section 10-51-13; 16 2-3 acres in section 21-51-16, and a 50-foot frontage on Eighth street between Eighth and Ninth avenues east and a lot and a quarter block in Superior.

CONTRACTS AND PLANS FOR BUILDING BECOME NUMEROUS

Operations Increase and More Activity Is Indicated for Year.

Growing Business Causes Expansion By Several Leading Firms.

Building operations in this city and district are assuming gratifying activity. Architects are busily engaged upon proposals, and considerable work is being passed out for figures.

The letting of the contract to McLeod & Smith yesterday for a large reinforced concrete addition to the warehouse of the Rust-Parker company on Lake avenue south, to entail an expenditure of over $25,000, was the feature of the week. The new structure will be 50 by 90 feet in size, three stories and a basement, and it will form an extension on the south side of the present plant. The foundation will be on a scale to admit of other stories being added later on. The contractors will commence driving the piling for the foundation as soon as the ground will permit and it will be pushed through to completion at the earliest date possible.

The building of this extension is regarded as gratifying in affording evidence of the progressiveness of Duluth's wholesale establishments. It was only four years ago that the present warehouse of the Rust-Parker company was erected, and at that time it was thought to be of sufficient size to cover the requirements of the house for several years.

Proposed Apartment House.

Another pleasing development in the building trade comes in the intimation that W. F. King has under consideration the erection of a modern twenty-four apartment house on the south side of Jefferson street, to entail an investment of approximately $50,000. It will be the largest structure of its kind in the city.

Erection of the proposed new factory for the John Wahl Candy company on West Michigan street, to cost about $30,000, is to be proceeded with at once. The general contract has been awarded to Jacobson Bros. J. J. Wangenstein is the architect.

Permits issued at the building inspector's office during the week were mainly in connection with home-building proposals and improvements. They were thirty-seven in number, covering work estimated to cost $31,368.

* * *

A good batch of work was reported in hand by P. M. Olsen, architect. The list of plans in preparation includes the following: A summer home for W. T. Wright at Solon Springs, Wis.; for remodeling the residence of A. G. Nelson at West Duluth and a steel clad machine shop of fireproof construction for the Dell Development company on Garfield avenue. Bids are also being taken by Mr. Olsen on a two-story frame house for W. I. Poole at Fifty-seventh avenue east and Huntingdon street. Its cost is estimated at $4,000.

* * *

George H. Lounsberry has completed his general contract for remodeling the exterior of the Barrett & Zimmermann building on First street west. With reinforced concrete floors in the basement and on the first story, the premises are now fireproof throughout. Three of the four stores have been leased, and the basement floor has been taken to the Duluth water and light department and the Zenith Telephone company. The latter company will use it as a repair and storage department.

* * *

The general contract for the E. F. Zimmerman home on Princeton avenue, Waverly Park, has been awarded to the Hanford Construction company at $6,500. The plans were prepared by Arthur Hanford, architect. The same company is also the general contractor for a house for L. Smith at 1115 East Fifth street.

Holstead & Sullivan, architects, are receiving bids for the erection of two shacks at Nopeming sanatorium to accommodate six patients. Their joint cost is estimated at $6,000.

That office has in preparation plans for a stucco two-flat building to be built for K. W. Bergeron at Third street and Twenty-eighth avenue west. Plans are also being prepared by the firm for a six-room frame house on a stone foundation for Nels Almquist at Third street and Twenty-seventh avenue west, to cost about $7,000 and for a tile and stucco home for N. H. Gillespie on Sixth street, between Twenty-seventh and Twenty-eighth avenues east, to cost approximately $8,000.

Plans for a new two-story and basement brick school at Carlton, Minn., are being prepared by E. P. Broomhall, architect. The cost of the structure is estimated at $35,000.

Bids upon the proposed school at Fertile, Minn., are due at the office of that architect by April 5.

Gustafson & Olson have been awarded the contract for a flat building for John Dahl at Fifth street and Fifth avenue west. The structure will cost about $7,000. P. M. Olsen is the architect.

* * *

Harry Pearson & Son have obtained the contract through P. M. Olsen for a frame garage at the residence of M. Goldberg at 1507 East Third street.

* * *

Arthur Hanford has prepared plans for re-modeling the home of Martin Hoffs in Hunter's Park, to cost about $1,000.

* * *

H. M. Miller has obtained the general contract for two houses for E. McCue on Fifth street, near Seventeenth avenue west.

* * *

Fawcett & Robinson are the general contractors for a house to be built for the Lakeside Land company. Archibald McDougall will install the plumbing and C. F. Wiggerts & Son the heating. The plans were prepared by Arthur Hanford.

* * *

The time for receiving bids on the W. C. Agnew home in Congdon Park has been extended by F. W. Perkins, architect, up to March 31.

* * *

Ground will be broken in a few days for a frame dwelling for S. Morterud on the south side of Howell street, Waverly Park. It will cost $3,000.

* * *

Plans for the proposed new school at Bruno, Minn., will go out for figures on April 3 from the office of Kelly & Williams, architects.

* * *

Sharp competition is expected for contracts in connection with the new Lincoln junior high school. The bids upon it will be opened next Monday.

* * *

F. W. Perkins, architect has plans in preparation for a handsome home to be built in Congdon Park for G. H. Spencer.

* * *

A modern new home is to be built for Harry Hurdon on Third street near Second avenue east. The plans are being prepared by Anthony Puck, architect.

* * *

The contract for a Finnish Methodist church at Aurora, Minn., has been awarded to J. Knutl, at $6,000. Anthony Puck is the architect.

* * *

E. P. Shurick, architect, is building a frame home at Pape street and Fifty-eight avenue east. The contract has been awarded to De Caigny & Pape.

Appointed by Hanna.

Bismarck, N. D., March 27.—Fred Swetvoid of Oakes has been appointed by Governor L. B. Hanna as a member of the board of trustees of the Ellendale normal school. Alfred White of Dickinson and Dr. E. J. Walsha of Minot have been appointed members of the livestock sanitary board vice F. S. Goddard of Ellendale and T. B. Dawson of La Moure, both deceased.

State Storehouse Burns.

Faribault, Minn., March 27.—A storehouse at the Minnesota School for the Deaf was destroyed by fire yesterday. The institution barn was damaged. The loss is $2,500.

Your Ideal Realized

FOR some years you have been looking for or at least longing for a beautiful home, one in which the finish was like that of a high-grade piano; where the floors were of the same excellent quarter sawed oak finish, highly polished; where the walls were all finest of oil finish put on by an expert; where in the evening you could enjoy the luxury of a beautiful wood fireplace.

You hate to move on account of cleaning some one else's home so you could live in it.

Now, wouldn't you like to move into such a home and in such elegant condition that you would not need to even sweep out the basement; enjoy the benefit of a splendid hot water heating plant; a beautiful yard where there would be no more fixing, no more assessments; a dining room with the loveliest of hand decorated walls; a place where you just put in your furniture and sit down to luxury and comfort; and where you could have such a view as tourists travel miles to see?

"It costs a lot of money to have such a home," you may say. But, if we can show you a home with eight lovely rooms, with all the good things we have mentioned and many more, wouldn't you just jump at the chance to get it for $7,000?

Call us quick and see this exquisite home before it is too late. You'll wait many years before such a bargain will again be offered to you.

ANNOUNCEMENT!

NEW POLICY OF CONCENTRATION FOR PROMPT RESULTS

We believe that what you all want is Service.

SERVICE to the buyer means to find the house or other property he desires and can afford to buy. Our aim is to give each inquiry quick attention and to offer the inquirer prompt and courteous service. We want to here no one. Every prospect a friend, if not a buyer.

SERVICE to the seller means to make known what he has to sell and to find an early buyer.

Advertising goes a long way so we advertise. This, however, is costly and to make certain that it will result to our mutual benefit we will advertise exclusive listings only. The past week's experience (our first) resulted in the sale of several lots, the taking of an option on another and the sale of several lots.

Right now we have more prospective East end buyers than good East end houses listed. Same is true of West end.

Mr. Seller, let us know what you have to sell.
Mr. Buyer, we are at your service.

SUMMER RESORTS.

PLAN THAT VACATION
TRIP NOW.

And spend it on your own camp site at Ne-na-mik-ka-ta, Lake Vermilion. Ne-na-mik-ka-ta (Chippewa for easy portage) is on Pine island. It is located in one of the most desirable spots at Lake Vermilion.

Several people from Minneapolis, St. Paul, Chicago, Philadelphia and other cities have already purchased camp sites, and will build this spring. These camp sites offer a good investment, as lots on our Daisy Island tract have increased 50 per cent in value in less than a year.

Duluth people should take advantage of this proposition. They should know about the park, the docks, the beaches, and the people who have purchased. Write or call for full particulars. Names of Duluth purchasers given upon request. Call us up, either phone 516, for appointment with our salesman.

TORREY BUILDING. PALLADIO BUILDING.

—WHITNEY WALL CO.—

We manage four of Duluth's most modern and popular office buildings. All are centrally located between Third and Fifth avenues west.

SERVICE reigns supreme in our buildings.

NO BETTER OFFICES found anywhere.

NO KICKS—Kicks or complaints are very seldom registered at this office, but when they are they get immediate attention. This is one big reason why our offices please.

CLEAN OFFICES that are kept clean is what you get when renting from us.

MADE-TO-ORDER OFFICES. We make offices to suit tenants. Any arrangements desired can be had by inquiring of us.

RESULTS—We believe all our tenants are satisfied tenants. Why not join the crowd by seeing us at once or calling us on either phone, and we will show you what we have to offer in either the Palladio, Manhattan, Torrey or Providence office buildings.
